

Practically every soil conservationist in Muenster's Sacred Heart parish got a pleasant surprise last Sunday when the pastors announced they had designated the day as Soil Stewardship Sunday and devoted their sermons to the moral side of soil conservation. And if there are any persons in the parish not yet convinced of the economic soundness of conservation, perhaps those messages from the pulpit will help them realize that the subject also involves the matter of sacred Christian duty.

Nothing is more obvious than the fact that soil and all other natural resources were placed here by the Creator for the use of all generations, hence that a present owner is only a temporary custodian in the Divine plan. The land from which a farmer today produces his living is intended to serve that same purpose for thousands of years into the future.

From that it follows that the present owner who permits his soil to deplete or disappear is actually failing in his duty to coming generations. He is failing in a stewardship that has been entrusted to him by his Creator.

The parable of the talents seems to extend the moral aspect even farther, into the principle of soil improvement. Like subjects of the parable who merited special rewards by increasing their talents, custodians of the land merit Divine favor by increasing the productivity of their soil. The whole theory fits harmoniously in the Christian principle that goods of this earth were placed here for mankind to use and develop for the greater glory of God. The more man does toward bringing out the wonderful potentialities placed at his disposal in natural resources the more he is achieving toward reaching his temporal destiny as a creature of God.

By that standard it would seem that a farmer's temporal success should be measured more by his improvement of the soil than by the fortune he has acquired by merely using it. The man who gets rich by wearing out his land has accomplished little in the eternal plan. But the man who improves constantly and leaves to posterity a better field than he started with will merit the reward of a good steward.

Serious thought on the subject leads to an inevitable conclusion. Soil conservation is moral as well as economic. It harmonizes with Christian principle as well as common sense.

Rating the top spot on our list of the world's stinkiest stinkers are those Russian double crossers who slipped over that slick swap of sterile Soviet sables for good American minks.

In case you haven't heard the story, one of the Stalinist fur fanciers learned about some super fancy minks that contemporaries over here were developing by cross breeding. So he proposed to swap a dozen Russian sables for as many minks that would be suitable for breeding stock.

The American fur man was elated. He had visions of building a wonderful market in sable fur, and of course jumped at the proposition.

In due time all was arranged and a dozen robust, prolific minks were ceremoniously exchanged for the twelve beautiful sables. Then the American settled back to await the development of his fortune. But nothing happened. Months and months passed and not one single little sable arrived. Finally the owner got worried and called a veterinarian to determine if possible what the trouble was. Then came the awful discovery that every varmint in the bunch had been sterilized.

At first the incident seems kinda amusing, doesn't it? Beats the best they used to tell on old-time horse traders. But about the time your first smile begins to wear off you begin to realize that it was one of the loudest, most contemptible tricks you ever heard of... a horrible example of the kind of integrity you

Muenster Parish To Have Memorial Services Sunday

Memorial services to honor the war dead of this community will be held after the 8 o'clock mass Sunday instead of on Memorial Day next Tuesday. In keeping with a custom established here during the past several years, local pastors and VFW officers arranged to have the ceremony on Sunday so as not to interfere with urgent farm work.

According to a report this week from Steve Moster, VFW chairman in charge, the ceremony will begin with a procession from church to the cemetery. At the cemetery the attendance will gather first at the crucifixion group, place a bouquet at the foot of the cross and recite prayers, then proceed to the service men's graves.

The ceremony there will consist of lowering the colors to half mast, placing flowers on the graves, an address by Father Anthony Schroeder, a song by the choir, salvo by the rifle squad and taps.

The order for the procession is as follows: colors and guards, rifle squad, cross bearer and 2 acolytes, children having a part in the service, service men in uniform, immediate relatives of the deceased, priest and 2 servers and other people. Going to the cemetery and returning the group will recite the rosary.

The high school graduates are Neil Fisher, Bernard Luke, Harold Knabe, Theodore Owens, Douglas Robinson and Mitchell Wolf. Eighth grade graduates are Ann Grier, Nellie Pearl Winchester, Maxine Johnson and Delbert Walterscheid.

The program is as follows: Processional by Margie Kathman, Invocation by Father Anthony Schroeder, Chorus by Junior students, Salutatory by Harold Knabe, Piano Solo by Jeanette Fisher, Address by Lewis Rigler, Awarding of honors by Weldon Cowan, Awarding of diplomas by J. Howze Area Crops Wiped Out By Hail

A long narrow strip across the north part of the county took a terrific beating in a vicious hailstorm that struck between 6 and 7 last Thursday evening.

The worst damage was inflicted in the old Camp Howze area where, according to reports about 100 acres of crops were completely wiped out. Some farmers who are said to have sustained a 100 per cent crop loss are Joe Zimmerer, Henry Kuhn, Johnny Schmidtkofer, Albert Mosser, Joe Bengfort, Henry Voth, Tony Voth and Julius Sandman. Others of the vicinity also said to have been wiped out were not identified.

Meanwhile practically all farms on the strip, which extends from near the county's west line to Callisburg, sustained varying degrees of damage ranging from slight to total loss.

Other property also received punishment. Chunks of ice, some reported as big as four inches in diameter, broke windows and tore through car tops and tin roofs.

In the immediate Muenster area a few stones fell but no serious damage has been reported.

Electrification Day Attendance Hurt By Good Weather

Good weather and urgent farm work combined to put a crimp in the rural electrification day program and the annual Cooke County Electric Cooperative meeting here Monday.

Because of the ideal working conditions following several weeks of bad weather, farmers by the hundreds elected to pass up the affair and stick with their crops.

Only a small group attended the meeting, however a fair percentage of them were on hand to see displays before and after the horse show Sunday and again at the street dance Monday night.

High spots of the annual meeting were the re-election of all directors for another term, a report by Manager Ed McKinney and an address by B. W. Chesser of REA headquarters of Washington.

The directors re-elected are President Al Wiesman, Secretary J. A. Klement, Vice-President Jack Crownover, J. C. O'Brien, Joe Bengfort, Melvin Felty and Tom Skinner.

John J. Hoffman, mayor of Muenster, opened the meeting with a short address of welcome in which he referred to the co-op's extensive growth during the past 11 years. He recalled that when lines were first energized on April 25, 1939, the system had only 315 members on

Relax Installing Air Conditioner

Effective no later than Sunday, and perhaps as early as Thursday night, the Relax will be an air conditioned theatre.

Manager "Wimpy" Kathman disclosed Wednesday that the air conditioning unit has been installed and tested and the only job remaining was to finish the ducts directing refrigerated air into the theatre. With luck, he said, the workers can finish that job by Thursday and they are reasonably certain they will have it ready for the expected large crowd Sunday when the theatre shows "Guilty of Treason," the story of Cardinal Mindszenty and the Communists.

3000 Gather Here Sunday for Seventh Annual Horse Show

A crowd estimated at 3,000 persons and more than a hundred horses were here Sunday for the annual horse show sponsored by the Muenster Saddle Club.

Measuring up to the fine standards of previous years, the show presented 98 horses in 13 events besides a colorful array of rigging and costumes.

From the spectators' standpoint it was the most delightful ever because for the first time they were able to see the show in solid comfort. Seats along one side of the Gainesville Community Circus tent, which was leased for the two day program combining the horse show and electrification day, were all reversed to face out instead of in and the side flap was lifted out of the way. Most of the spectators sat there and the remaining several hundred were in cars, the grandstand or roaming about the grounds.

The champions of the show were both from Nocona, Traveller, belonging to Don King won the grand championship trophy and a wrist watch presented by Browning Jewelry of Gainesville. Pepper belonging to Obe Tettleton took the reserve champ prize and a pair of boots given by Tommy Cheaney's boot shop. Both champs are quarterhorses.

Prizes this year were the finest ever given in the Muenster horse show. The first place prize in each event was a bronze horse mounted on a hardwood pedestal. The next three prizes for each event were ribbons.

Judges were Monte Foreman and Don Thompson of Roswell, N. M., and the announcer was Bud Townsend of Henrietta. He spoke over the Gulf sound truck which was brought here for the Diplomas were conferred on thirteen graduates of Lindsay High School and grammar grade certificates were received by eleven eighth grade pupils Sunday evening, May 21, at Lindsay Parish Hall.

County Superintendent Hubert H. Moss awarded the diplomas and certificates.

The commencement address was given by Carroll F. Sullivan, County Attorney. Mr. Sullivan was lavish in his praise of the Community of Lindsay and spoke words of advice and encouragement to the graduating class. He said that true nobility and genuine happiness is in service to others. The profuse applause of the large audience was evidence of sincere appreciation.

The program included the Processional, "Praise Ye the Father" (Gounod); "Awake, Arise" (Seymour) High School Chorus; "Calissons Go Rolling Along" (Continued on Page 10)

Next on the program is a gala dance beginning at 9 and featuring the Carl Kassel orchestra of Durant, Okla. All members of the two organizations and their guests are invited to attend.

Sunday's program begins with attendance at the Muenster parish memorial service for war victims following the 8 o'clock high mass. After that the registration booth at the K of C hall will be open again for the benefit of any member of either organization who did not register the previous day. At 10:30 the Auxiliary will hold a special meeting in the new school gymnasium.

The next big event is a joint banquet of the two groups and their guests in the PTA lunch room. '50 Grain Harvest Begins This Week

This community's annual harvest season, now slowly getting under way, is due to develop into beehive activity by the middle of next week. All over the area the color of grain is turning and, unless weather interrupts, binders will be active in many fields before the end of the week.

At least one field has already been cut according to a report received at the Enterprise. Herman Luttmmer has one field of oats in shocks. More extensive cutting is now in progress around Lindsay.

Reports also reveal that many farmers are harvesting oats crops with mowers and balers this year. The reason is that they expect to salvage more value as a hay crop than as a grain crop from the short, thin stand.

District Activity Praised by Walser At Awards Dinner

In an inspiring address before some 250 farmers and business men of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District, Paul H. Walser, state conservationist of Temple, declared last Thursday night that conservation farmers are this generation's counterpart of the heroes of the Alamo. Their efforts, he said, are directed toward preserving and improving the heritage for which the Texas immortals gave up their lives in 1836, the big difference being that today's heroes are faced with a more abundant life whereas the others were faced with death.

Walser was featured speaker at an awards banquet sponsored by district bankers at the Turner Hotel in Gainesville. Special honored guests there were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Inabinet of Rising Star who were recently honored at the Soil Conservation awards dinner sponsored by the Fort Worth Press as having done the state's best job of restoring productivity to a worn out farm. Interviewed by radio announcer Jerry Talley they gave a delightful account of their experience in converting a piece of Texas desert into a garden spot. Their remarks, crammed with humor and wisdom, can be summarized in the slogan "Take care of your land and it will take care of you."

Walser especially complimented the fine spirit of cooperation existing in this district. To his knowledge, he said, it is the only one in the nation in which bankers and editors or any other groups of non-farmers have organized to assist in conservation work. "It reveals vision and a commendable acceptance of responsibility."

Awards at the dinner were given to the outstanding conservation farmer of 1949 and to the outstanding conservation group of farmers in each of the five zones. Winners in the Muenster zone were Tony Walterscheid and the Trubenbach group. Prizes in all added to $500, a $50 savings bond to each winning farmer and $50 in cash to each winning group.

Others recognized were the five "Farmers of the Month" for 1950 to date and members of the Sherman grass judging team which placed fifth in a statewide contest last fall. Each team member and the coach received a bill-fold with his name engraved.

Duties of Master of Ceremonies were shared by Claude Jones of Gainesville and L. O. Gardner of Sherman.

Was Big Day For Parochial Pupils

Last Wednesday, May 17, annual "Picnic Day" for Sacred Heart school, proved enjoyable to students and faculty, with a trip to Lake Texoma for the high school, and a track contest, games and a picnic lunch for grade schoolers on the school grounds.

Immediately after attendance at Mass the 50 high school students, Sisters Theresina, Eymard and Celestine, and half a dozen roommothers boarded Muenster Milling Company's big truck for the drive to Burns Run pleasure resort. There the fun began with a wiener roast and continued through games, swimming, kodaking and hiking. Arthur Felderhoff, who drove the truck, and his wife, were special guests. The group returned to Muenster at about 6 p.m.

With the high schoolers off and away, grade school pupils, from the first through the eighth grade, began their program for the day on the campus. A picnic lunch followed games and during the afternoon the key note of entertainment was a series of track events on the football field. Added attractions were arranged by roommothers and consisted of a grab bag, ice cream and cold drink booth, and a candy and gum stand.

The annual day for recreation is arranged through cooperation of the P-TA, the faculty and homeroom mothers. A large number of parents and pre-school age children joined in the grade school's fun.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Rice of Yarnaby, Okla., were here to spend Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Bill Hess and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stinnett have as their guests since Wednesday his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morton and two sons of Purcell, Mo.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM

With the closing of the school term just around the corner a number of local girls are again making efforts to organize a softball team. Their organizational meeting will be held Friday at 5 at the ball park. All girls interested in playing are invited to be there.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 20.
 —The most important action taken in the Congress this week was the Senate's defeat of cloture. This means the Senate refused to cut off debate, i.e., eliminate filibuster. This in turn means that Southern Senators will not permit the enactment of F.E.P.C. during this session of Congress. To many, filibuster seems foolish. However, the filibuster is often the only way in which a minority can defend itself against a majority. In this instance the filibuster is the only weapon Southerners have to use against the immoral, hypocritical drives to enact the so-called civil rights proposals which both Republican and Democratic Parties have been writing in their platform to get the minority group votes in the big cities of the big states.

The House this week passed a bill "amending and supplementing the Federal Aid Road Act—to authorize appropriations for continuing the construction of highways." It provides $500,000,000 per year for the next two years. It divides the funds on the same basis as the 1944 Act. $225,000,000 goes to Federal aid highway projects (this means the main highways); $150,000,000 goes to the Federal aid secondary highway system (this means farm-to-market roads), and $125,000,000 goes to projects on the Federal aid highway system in urban areas to be used for the purpose of widening streets, viaducts, etc., in building highways through our cities. I voted for this bill. On my desk as a part of the propaganda for the road bill is an interesting booklet published by the National Highway Users Conference, Incorporated, entitled "The Highway Transportation Story". In this little booklet appears the following data: We have 350,000 miles of rural highways, i.e., primary state highways; 214,000 miles of secondary and farm-to-market roads; 2,373,000 miles of local rural roads; 316,000 miles of city street and highway; 70,000 miles of roads within federal reservations. The American Way QUEER-DEAL ECONOMICS

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

Last December the Richmond Times-Dispatch printed a cartoon of two pictures. One showed a farmer leading a fat hog to market, ring in the hog's nose, and Uncle Sam's hand offering the farmer nice fat subsidies for the hog. The second showed the farmer, with the ring in his own nose, being led home by the hand of Uncle Sam holding the rope of government controls.

The American Farm Bureau has frankly denounced the newly-offered Brannan Plan, supported by President Truman, as a real basis for regimentation of the farmers at a staggering cost to the tax-payers. Looks as tho-

United States has 78% of the world's cars and 52% of the world's trucks. In America there is one vehicle for every 3.6 persons. In England, one for every 18 persons. elsewhere in the world, one for every 222 persons. We have 35,500,000 passenger cars, 8 million trucks, and 200,000 buses, etc. Highway transportation accounts for a business volume of 30 billion dollars annually. Trucks serving agriculture have increased 60% since 1941. In 1934 one out of 10 farms had electricity; now 4 out of 5 have electricity. Rural carriers travel 1,495,000 miles a day. In the 3 months period, March 15 through June 15, 1949, more than 300,000 students visited Washington by bus.

From the looks of the buses on the Capitol grounds at this time, more students will probably visit Washington this year than last.

A lady complained to me this week that she had sponsored two DP's—a father and his son—into this country. Within six months of her taking these folks, the father died of cancer and the son had to be admitted into an insane asylum. Dozens of similar instances have been brought to my attention. Still, we are told that DP's are carefully screened.

I have several letters from home asking me what my campaign plans are for this summer. I have none, as yet, and have been too busy to think of campaigns. I do not intend to leave my post of duty while Congress is in session. Following the adjournment of Congress I will return home immediately and open Congressional offices in the Federal Building in Wichita Falls. Our office here in Washington is never closed.

Following adjournment of Congress, I shall visit all parts of our District. A Congressman should know the wants, hopes, fears and aspirations of all of those whom he seeks to serve. His actions, of course should always be used on the old platitudinous democratic maxim of the greatest good for the greatest number. The greatest good should of course take into consideration both spiritual and material values, not alone for this generation, but also for succeeding generations.

My wife has just called to say that our youngest daughter, Melissa, has the mumps.

ugh the nose is already in the ring, and some of the farmers know it, even though not all of them have been pulled yet.

But it is the economics of the Queer Deal that really gripes us.

Take potatoes, for instance—if you can find any to take. First, the government makes its supported price so high that people cannot afford to buy the spuds, and farmers are at the same time encouraged to produce so many potatoes that the government finds itself with a tremendous surplus on hand, nearly fifty million bushels for this last year alone. A recent report to Congress revealed that a farmer in Minnesota had received $1.46 a hundred for a total of 160,000 pounds of potatoes sold to the government, and then bought back the same potatoes from the government for one penny a hundred pounds. Wouldn't you like to trade money with the government, giving one penny for one hundred and forty-six pennies? That's where some of your taxes go.

The very sacks in which the potatoes were delivered to the farmer cost the government more than ten times as much as the farmer paid for the potatoes and sack together. To call this a "scandal" is putting it mildly. On top of that, we imported about 15 million bushels of potatoes from Canada during the same period.

Consider now the case of eggs. The government bought them, as many as five million dozen a week and stored them in dark caves until there were more than 200 million dozen of them, which the government was unable to sell at prevailing prices. That's a lot of eggs. You could start laying them down, one at a time, next to each other in a line from Los Angeles to Hawaii and go around the world four times, winding up in New York City with the last egg in your hand. What a lot of EGGS.

At the same time, we were buying eggs from China, about 90 million dozen equivalent, in dried form, according to the Congressional record of February 7, 1950. Later we dried our own eggs, at a cost of about $1.20 a pound and sold them at 40 cents a pound.

Then our beneficent government bought thirty million cans of Mexican meat at about 80 cents a can and offered it for sale a little later at 15 cents a can. About fifty million pounds of shelled peanuts cost the government 16½¢ a pound and were sold later for just half or 8½¢ a pound. (Congressional Record of February 2, 1950.)

That's where more of your taxes go. What a game!

Of course, these are a mere, pitiful handful of samples. Between the State Department and the Agricultural Department, with an election coming up, trying to win farmers with high prices and hidden nose rings, at the same time promising industrial regions higher standards of living, meaning lower prices, with potatoes for workers only one hundred and forty-six times as costly as potatoes for pigs—life certainly can be interesting and be made even more so.

That's the kind of economics, out of the same book, that urges deficits, inflation and growing Federal debt as a boon to business and progress for the masses. It is in keeping with the philosophy that urges government controls to insure freedom to the individual, would make us strong by denying us the use of our faculties, and finally defeat communism abroad by establishing its roots firmly in our own soil.

God help us! Perhaps we need a Noah to build us an ark for saving the remaining vestige of economic truth from being engulfed in the flood of Queer Deals.

Rice will grow in the United States in bottomlands of the Mississippi River Valley, on the Louisiana and Texas Gulf Coasts, and in California.

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone—and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted—refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play center-field himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire—what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return, the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view—like his personal preference for beer or coffee—and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

Nocona Rallies to Beat Ruffnecks 6-3

The Nocona boys were rough on the Ruffnecks Tuesday night knocking them out of a tie for second place all the way down to fourth in the league standing. It was a game the local fellows apparently had in the bag until about five things happened in the fifth inning to net the visitors 5 runs. Two hits along with 3 errors changed the score suddenly from 3-1 to 3-6. That was all of the scoring, but it was enough.

The other game of the week was a 3-0 victory over Saint Jo here Wednesday night of last week.

League standings are as follows:

REV. THOMAS WEINZAPFEL MAKES TRIP TO ROME

Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel, pastor of St. John's church at Valley View, left last Thursday for a pilgrimage to Rome, Italy, in connection with the observance of the Holy Year.

In New York, Rev. Weinzapfel joined Rev. John Mitchell of Henrietta and on Sunday at 1 p.m. they left by air for Rome being due to arrive there Monday evening.

In Rome they will join the Rev. Thomas P. Staton and Rev. Arthur Hughes of Dallas, and the group of four will visit various European countries by automobile.

Father Weinzapfel expects to be back at his duties about July 1. During his absence the Rev. Albert F. Nobel, I.H.M., superior, located at Marydale in Dallas, is in charge of the parish.

Walter Nortman Seeds 8 Acres To Chinese Red Peas

Walter Nortman of the North Lindsay conservation group is using Chinese Red Cowpeas as a soil improving crop on his tight, slowly permeable soils that are not suited to clover. He has just planted 8 acres of peas in 3-foot rows at about 30 pounds per acre. Plans are to give the peas one or two cultivations so as to increase the growth of vines. He planted about 25 acres of peas in 1949 after small grain from which he harvested the seed he has planted this year.

Chinese Red Cowpeas are a quick growing variety that will mature seed in about 60 to 70 days. This quality makes them ideal to use as a soil improving crop following oats or early varieties of wheat. The usual practice is to harvest early grain, one-way or plow the land as soon as possible and then either drill in the peas or plant with planters in three-foot rows. Since Chinese Red Cowpeas mature more evenly than most varieties

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Esker announce the birth of a 9 pound son, Charles David, at the local clinic on Thursday, May 18. Also welcoming the new baby are his brother and sister, Henry and Barbara Jean. The infant's christening service was held Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Al Kleiss as godparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kupper are the parents of a 9 pound boy, Phillip Werner, their second son, born Thursday, May 18, at the local clinic. The maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Endres, were baptismal sponsors at the baby's baptism Tuesday. The paternal grandfather is Joe Kupper of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walterscheid announce the arrival of Chris Earl, at M&S hospital on Monday, May 21. The 7½ pound boy is the first grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Howard of Oklahoma City became the parents of a son, their second boy, on Thursday, May 18, at the local clinic. The baby's name is Clifford Wayne. Mrs. Howard is a granddaughter of Mrs. S. M. Kidd of Muenster with whom she will stay after she leaves the clinic until Mr. Howard comes here to accompany her home.

The motorcyclist, crouched grimly over the handlebars, raced upward along a mountain trail. The mountain boy, having never seen such a sight, ran for his muzzleloader. Barefooted, he crept out on a rocky precipice and waited. When the motorcycle popped into view, far below, the boy aimed and fired.

they may be successfully combined.

Technicians, of the Soil Conservation service recommend that an application of at least 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate or its equivalent per acre be plowed in ahead of seeding or put in with the seed at planting time. Although not always necessary, the small amount of inoculant is a good insurance of a successful crop of peas.

Hesse Flock Leads County in Current Egg Laying Contest

Still leading Cooke county flocks in an egg laying contest is Meinrad's Hesse's flock of 120 hens who came out on top for the month of April with an average of 22.6 eggs per hen, or a total of 2,716 eggs. Ranking first also in March, the Hesse hens averaged 26.5 eggs for that month.

Reports on the five county flocks entered in the 10-month contest sponsored by the A&M college extension service, are released monthly after being received by County Agent B. T. Haws.

The average bird of the 562 contest hens worked a five-day week in April and laid an egg every working day. Last month the hens averaged 20.35 eggs apiece for a total of 11,439 eggs. The March average was 22.3.

Close behind the Hesse flock was the 126-hen flock owned by Mr. and Mrs. F.S. Piott of Gainesville. These hens laid 2829 eggs, an average of 22.5.

Records on the others flocks are:
 S. P. Durham, Rosston, 84 hens, 1,772 eggs, average of 21.1 per hen.

Henry Simmels, Pilot Point, 112 hens, 2,276 eggs, average 20.3.

Ted Neu, Gainesville, 120 hens, 1,846 eggs, 15.4 average.

The contest began Oct. 1 and will continue through next July 1.

PARTY COMPLIMENTS VIRGINIA WALTERSCHEID

An informal miscellaneous shower Thursday afternoon complimented Miss Virginia Walterscheid, bride-elect of Ed Schneider. The party was given by Misses Bernice Henschel, Della Rose Herr and Dorothy Walterscheid in the former's home.

The party rooms were attractively decorated with spring flowers emphasizing the blue and white color scheme chosen by the bride-elect for her wedding.

Games provided entertainment for the guests. The contests were concluded with the awarding of prizes to Mrs. Edna Gremminger and Miss Margie Kathman who presented them to the honoree. She also opened and displayed an assortment of lovely and useful gifts from the guests.

During the late afternoon the hostesses served a delicious refreshment course, the confections thereon repeating the color combination selected for the occasion. Fourteen former classmates and close friends were guests.

CORRECTION

In last week's Enterprise in the account of the Garden Club's flower show the name of Mrs. Joe Luke was inadvertently omitted as a member of the flower show committee and as an assisting hostess. The Enterprise regrets the oversight and is glad to make the correction.

BULCHER HD CLUB HEARS TALK ON DEEP FREEZE

"Choose a good product, work rapidly, and follow carefully the recommended steps in preparing food for the deep freeze", advised Mrs. Fern Bruce, county home demonstration agent, when she addressed women of the Bulcher club in a regular meeting in the community building.

She displayed containers and papers suitable for use in storing foods in the deep freeze and explained their advantage as she talked on the subject "Preparing Foods for the Deep Freeze".

Mrs. Jesse Shields, president, was in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Newby, chairman of the community improvement organization gave a report on plans toward finishing picnic grounds.

The next meeting will be on June 1 with Mrs. Ernest McElreath as hostess.

MORE THAN 400 ATTEND SHILOH HOMECOMING

Rev. Lee Morris, former pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, preached to a large appreciative audience at the homecoming celebration on May 14. An estimated crowd of between 400 and 500 persons attended the morning services and the dinner at noon on the lawn.

Pinch of Cotton Is Perfect Dental Aid

A Nebraskan recently wrote the National Cotton Council to announce that he had found the perfect dental aid—a little pinch of cotton.

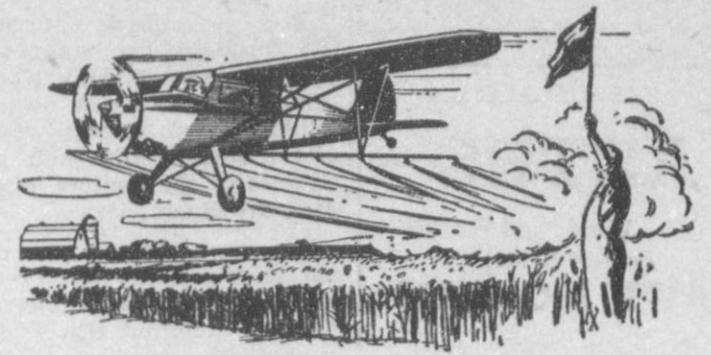

Here is what he told the cotton people: "When I was 50 years old, I had all my teeth extracted. Since then I have paid out many thousands of dollars for dental pads and powders to hold my plates in place.

"For the past 15 years I used nothing but a little pinch of absorbent cotton. I bought a roll that cost $1 and it will last me five years. I use a new bit every morning. The results are wonderful.

"Please pass this information on to other unfortunate people so they can benefit from a pinch of cotton, too."

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Grammer of Electra and his sister, Mrs. Jack Robinson of Kamey, spent the weekend with their parents, the M. H. Grammers and Thad Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kaden of Gainesville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stelzer for a 6 o'clock dinner Sunday after they attended the Horse Show.

Lindsay School Chatter

By Viola Kuhn
These have been rather busy days for the juniors and seniors of Lindsay School, with final tests coming up, play practice, and the hundred and one other things that seniors have to do before leaving their beloved Alma Mater, therefore, the neglect in writing up the weekly "chatter."

May 3, 4, and 5, were test days for the high school students. They tried to put on paper in three days what it took them a year to learn; no wonder some came the next day with headaches.

May 7, was the crowning of Our Blessed Mother, Queen of the May. Emma Grace Stoffels laid the beautiful crown of white carnations upon the Blessed Virgin's head. Her six attendants were Mildred Fleitmann, Clara Bell Fleitmann, Alma Louise Kubis, Mary Elizabeth Kubis, Anita Fuhrmann and Viola Kuhn. Carolyn Schmitz carried the crown and Lorine Voth and Jolene Zimmerer were flower girls.

May 11, the Junior-Senior Prom was held in the new Lindsay Hall. Decorating the hall and making other preparations for the dance was not a task but a pleasure. Sponsors for the dance were Mr. & Mrs. Albert Kubis and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerer.

May 14, the seniors, a little nervous, went through their last practice of the annual play, "Dad for a Day," a three-act comedy. They wish to thank the many friends and patrons who witnessed the play that evening.

Monday 15, Senior Day, was enjoyed with a good, old-fashioned picnic at the park—wieners and all that goes with it.

The "Lucky Thirteen," (graduates) are lucky all the way around — they are the first to graduate in the new Parish Hall.

The Senior Class of Lindsay High School wish to thank The Muenster Enterprise for printing this "school chatter" all through the year—they enjoyed writing it and they will the pleasant task to the seniors of '51.

Texas poultrymen last year lost 24 percent of all laying hens in their flocks during the hens' first year of production. Poultrymen who suffer such flock losses are burning or burying their poultry profits with these dead hens. Practicing good management, sanitation, feeding and disease and parasite control on the farm can cut these losses.

Confetti---

can expect from the Moscow mob. For this wasn't the old horse-trader stunt of palming off a worthless animal but rather of rendering a good animal worthless just to prevent the other person to get his money's worth out of the deal.

In the realm of international affairs this is a mere trifle, but the principle is far from a trifle. In fact yours truly is of the opinion that it is big enough to rate a bit of top level beefing and retaliation. It seems altogether proper to tell the Russo skunks that since this is a sample of their kind of dealing we don't care to have any more dealings of any kind. What's more, the column thinks that this incident along with a million or so of others rates a mention in the nation's little black book... for settlement on that eventual day when the Kremlin boys come to their inevitable fall.
