City Proclamation Asks Observance Of Good Friday

One of the saddest ironies of the year is the continued exposure during holy week of the unholy shenanigans among men in high places of the government. While the season emphasizes the story of Christ's sacrifice for humanity the crime and graft exposures emphasize how little regard our nation has for His teaching or sacrifice.

The United States claims to be a Christian country. It proudly proclaims that its constitution is founded on Christian principles of justice and human equality. It boasts a fine set of laws based on a reasonable balance of right and responsibility. But it operates in a way that is pitifully remote from the real spirit of Christianity. It grabs greedily for every privilege and liberty but shuns the duties that are associated with them.

A brief glance at our method of dispensing justice provides a convenient example. The rights of the accused are carefully protected. Proof must be conclusive and legal procedure must be completely in order before a man can be declared guilty. All of which is commendable and fine.

But is our country quite as diligent about protecting the rights of innocent people? Does it try to assure compensation to the man who has been robbed or cheated? Does it try to make up in some way to taxpayers when corrupt politicians and influence peddlers waste or steal billions in tax money?

We don't have to study the situation long to realize that we Americans are badly out of tune with the spirit of holy week. We pay feeble lip service to Christ for re-instating us in Divine favor but we conveniently ignore our obligation to cooperate in the Redemption by observing the Redeemer's standards.

Our deficiency is apparent in ever so many ways, from the top brackets of government to the level of the average person. It is seen in the criminal influence in politics. It is seen in the gouging industrialist who extracts an unfair profit, in the loafing laborer who does not give an honest day's work for his day's pay. It is seen in the current trend to grab as much as possible out of the public purse, in a general decline of moral standards, in the absurd policy that God must be banished in order to avoid favoritism to any one religious group.

This Friday is Good Friday, the anniversary of man's redemption by the agony and death of Jesus Christ. It is a fitting occasion for us Americans to ponder whether our individual or collective habits are in harmony with the wishes of Him who made the supreme sacrifice. Are we cooperating with Him? Are we living according to the standards He laid down for us?

In a religious sense those are all important questions because, as every real Christian knows, they have a vital bearing on his eternal destiny.

But it so happens . . . and here is the point that some of our worldly-wise people would do well to consider carefully . . . that cooperation with Christ has an equally vital bearing on temporal welfare.

That fact derives from the fact that the rules of life taught by Christ were the rules of the Creator . . . the only rules under which humanity can function in harmony. History pages are crowded with cases of men substituting their own rules for those of the Creator, and every incident carries its corresponding story of failure.

It's simply a fundamental truth, whether the intellectual smart alecs admit it or not, that we happen to be living in God's world and we make a mess of things when we fail to run it His way. Common sense should have told us that from the very beginning. A glance at current trends certainly should tell us now. No matter whether we act on expediency or principle the answer is the same. Christ's

In a proclamation issued this week, Mayor John J. Hoffman, designated Good Friday, March 23, as a day of special reverence and called on all citizens of Muenster to observe it accordingly.

The proclamation requests that all business houses close their doors and suspend business between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock so that employers and employees can attend church services.

The mayor also asks that activity on the streets be kept down to a minimum.

In the past Muenster has been respectful in its observance of Good Friday and he asks that the record be carried through again this year.

PTA Will Present "Skeleton" Mystery As Library Benefit

It's going to be spooky and creepy at the Muenster High auditorium next Thursday and Friday nights, March 29 and 30, when members of the PTA present their 3 act mystery comedy "The Skeleton Walks." Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

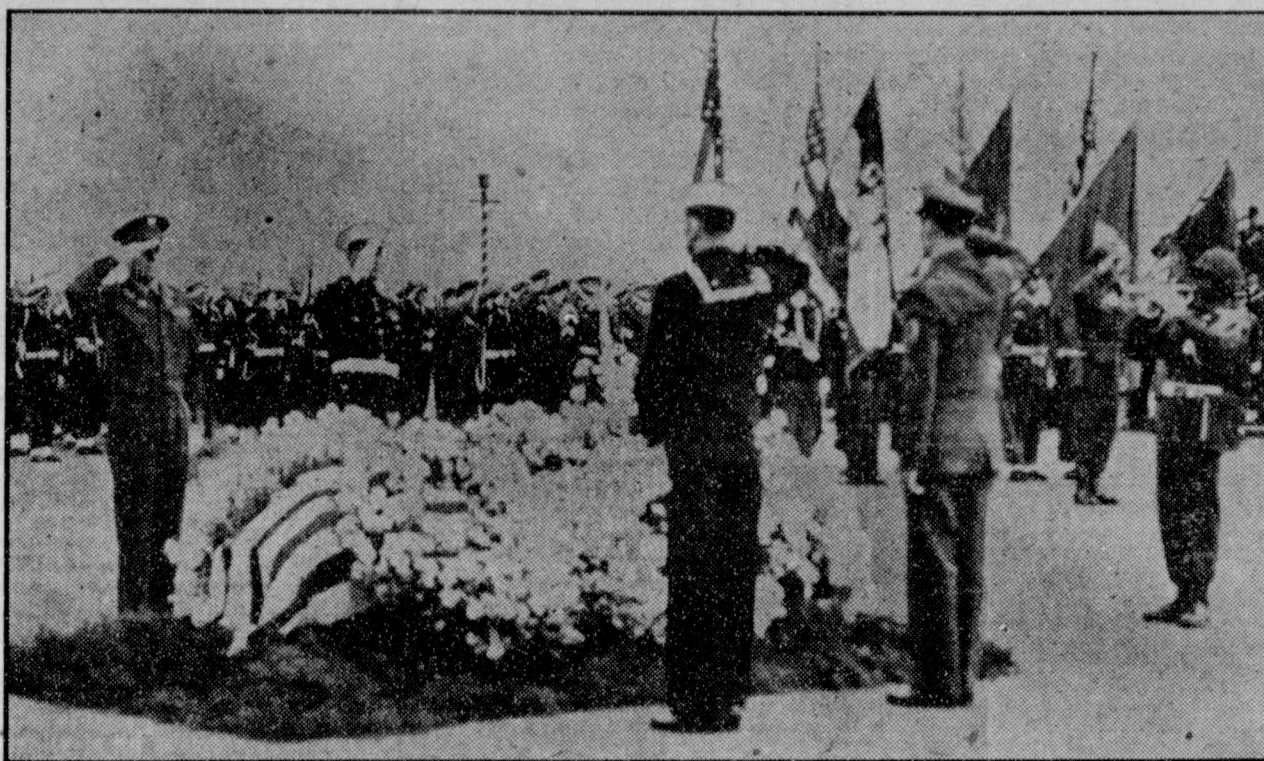

The presentation is a benefit program to raise funds for library books, which will be selected from current lists of best sellers. The organization's purpose is to acquire a collection of books which will be popular with the general public as well as the students.

Members of the cast are Ed Helton, Weldon Cowan, Ray Coe, Donald Lehnertz and Mesdames Ervin Hamric, Ray Evans, J. C. Trachta, Ralph Maglaughlin, Herbert Meurer and M. F. Milner besides the mystery character who will be the skeleton.

An added attraction for the program is a repeat performance of the womanless square dance which was presented in the auditorium last fall.

Mrs. Callie Baumhardt spent the weekend in Wichita Falls with her children.

The Norbert Hoedebecks and two children spent Friday and Saturday in Scotland with her parents, the A. J. Preschers, and brought their little son, Randy, back home with them. He had been with his grandparents for the past five weeks.

HONORING THE FALLEN—As a ship bearing the first 50 American war dead to be returned to the U. S. from Korea left Yokohama recently, an honor guard stood and saluted. At center is an empty flower and flag-draped casket symbolizing all Americans who have died in the Korean War.

Community Drive For 1951 Red Cross Nets $477 to Date

Still on schedule and still in sight of its $600 quota, the local Red Cross drive to date has reached a total of at least $477.25. That figure was revealed Wednesday as the fund's current deposit but no information was available as to the amounts collected but not turned in by the several solicitors. It is known however that a fair percentage of prospective donors both in the city and the rural area have not been contacted to date. Normal response from them is expected to (Continued on Page 7)

Tractor-Implement Agency Moves Into Lawn Mower Plant

A move now in progress transfers the location of the local Ford tractor and Dearborn implement agency from the old Stoffels building on Main Street to the former lawn mower factory on East First Street.

Most of the business, including office and shop equipment, parts and some tractors and implements were moved Tuesday and the agency started Wednesday getting those items arranged in their new home. A few remaining implements are to be transferred later. The move virtually brings a close to the lawn mower business in Muenster. At this time one employee is still on the job completing and crating several mowers that were taken over by the local bank in the recent liquidation of the Muenster Manufacturing Company.

Since the liquidation Tractor Sales and Service, owned and managed by Hugh Jackson, purchased the mower factory real estate and machinery from the bank. Some of the equipment will be used for tractor repair work and the other machines will be offered for sale unless appropriate work for them develops in the near future.

The half block of vacant ground on the site will be used as demonstration and experimental plots.

The move also changes original plans to erect a new building on Main Street for the tractor agency. Since adequate space has been acquired the new building will not be needed.

Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer, Mary, Albert and Norbert, the Ben Voths and children, the Arnold Rohmers, the Alois Rohmers, the John Sickings and family and the Werner Beckers and family, the Joe Hoenigs and the Alfons Hoenigs.

Frank J. Hess, 69, Community Leader And Pioneer, Dies

Death Saturday afternoon ended the long active career of Frank J. Hess, 69, retired farmer and outstanding citizen of the community. He had lived here for more than 60 years.

His funeral at 9 a.m. Tuesday was a fitting tribute to almost half a century of service to his parish and community. Scores of persons from Cooke county and more distant places joined hundreds of Muenster friends in attendance at the last rites.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder officiated at the requiem mass in Sacred Heart church and at the burial in the local cemetery. Six sons of Mr. Hess were bearers and George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hess was active in the community until his health began to fail last November. He underwent surgery but his decline was rapid and since the latter part of January he spent most of his time in bed.

Born in Germany on April 21, 1881, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Hess, he came to the United States with them when he was one year old. The family first settled in Saint Louis, Mo., later moved to Tipton, Mo., and Olpe, Kansas, then in 1889 migrated to Cooke county settling at Gainesville where they lived for about a year. In 1890 they moved to Muenster and Mr. Hess had lived here ever since.

As a youth young Frank showed promise of leadership and when the Saint Aloysius Society was organized he became its secretary. From then on his life was one of a willing worker for both parish and community betterment.

He married Miss Mary Haverkamp on May 1, 1906, and farmed north of town until about 10 years ago when he retired from active farm work and moved to town to reside on North Main Street. He was the father of eight sons and one daughter.

Other plans are less definite, however it is fairly certain that the customary dinner for knights and ladies will be held at noon in order to leave ample time for a party at night.

As usual arrangements will be made to entertain visiting ladies while the initiation is under way. Detailed plans for the program will be completed before the end of the week. Councils participating in the initiation are Muenster, Gainesville, Denison, Sherman and Pilot Point. Combined they expect to have about 50 candidates.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

Washington, D. C., March 16—The House this week approved one Administration proposal but defeated two others. The House approved the President's recommendation for reorganizing the RFC. This plan sets up a one-man Administrator in the place of a five member board of directors which now runs the RFC. It also sets up a loan policy board and a review policy board. The Review Board would have to give particular study to all loans in excess of $100,000.

The House defeated a reorganization bill under which the President could create new agencies or shift old ones almost at will. I voted against this bill, because the President now has authority to reorganize agencies. I do not want him to have authority to create any new and unnecessary boards such as the FEPC. If he needs to set up some defense agency not already authorized, he can ask for the specific authority, which if deemed necessary by the Congress, would of course be granted.

Another Administration proposal which 8 of us Texans opposed, while 12 favored, was a so-called 3 billion dollar defense housing bill. This bill would give the Administration the right to spend 3 billion dollars in building government defense housing and community facilities wherever the planners and spenders might desire. The measure would have been extremely inflationary. Preserving the value of the dollar is now one of our most important problems, and if defense areas become crowded, that is one of the sacrifices and inconveniences necessary. Some defense housing may become necessary, but most of us are not willing to authorize 3 billion dollars worth of same at this time. We already have provisions for military housing and FHA financing of private housing.

The current issue of United States News has some interesting statistics on the value of the dollar. If a dollar was worth 100 cents in 1900, it was worth 77 cents in 1915; 46 cents in 1930; 44 cents in 1945, and 31 cents today. The following table shows comparative prices of some defense items:

	1945	Now
Fighter	$53,000	$218,000
M. Bomber	185,000	2,500,000
B. Bomber	629,000	3,500,000
Transport P.	85,000	514,000
Heavy trans. P.	260,000	1,800,000
Light tank	39,562	126,029
Medium tank	47,339	200,000

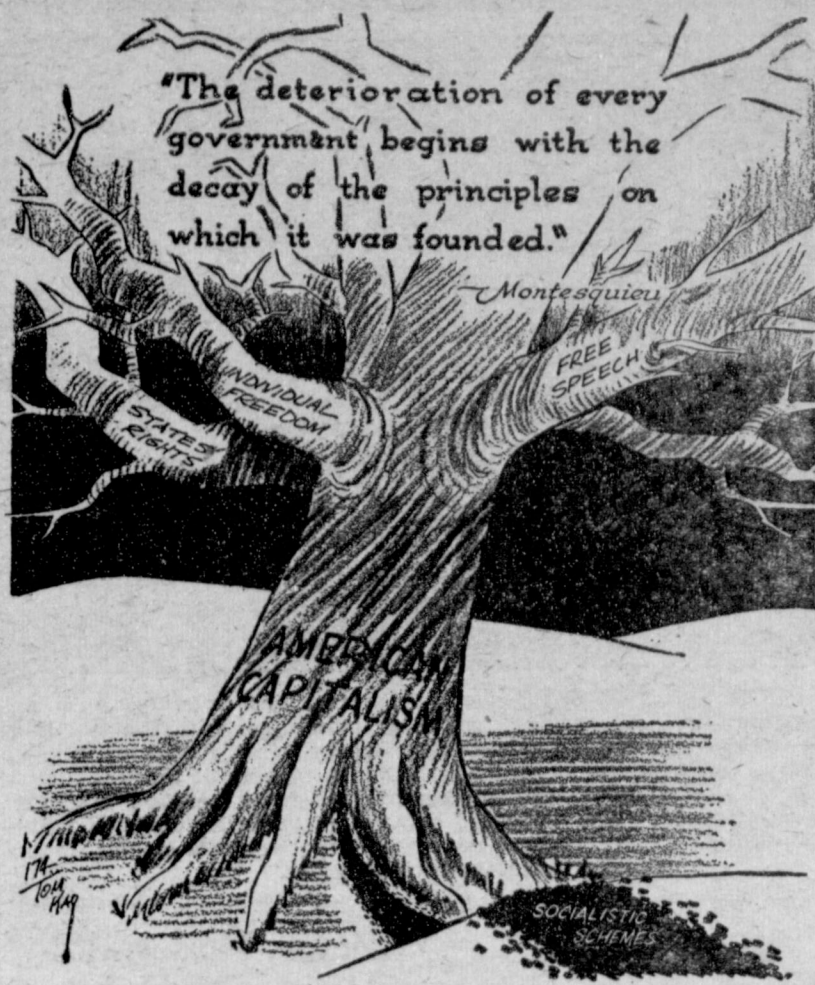

Thus, it becomes evident that this country must resort to drastic expedients to restrain inflation and to hold costs down from further skyrocketing.

The Armed Services Committee of the House has at last completed writing and has reported to the House, a Universal Military Training and Selective Service Act. Four amendments adopted in the Committee would: (1) Allow any registrant to demand the right to serve in a segregated unit. (2) Authorize Congress to stop inductions without the consent of the President. (3) Terminate the Selective Service program after three years. (4) Require the release of recalled reservists after one year of service if they are veterans of World War II.

I especially hope that we will be able to retain the amendment giving an inductee the right to serve in a segregated unit if he wishes. Sometime ago, at the behest of the leftwing groups in this country, the President issued an executive order abolishing all segregation in the Armed Forces. Even most negroes would doubtless prefer serving in colored units. Social and morale problems would be best served by segregation.

These Textbooks Sew Good Seeds

On the day we returned to America after 11 years in the Orient, and travels through Asia and Europe, our two daughters, my wife and I walked joyously along the wondrous streets of New York City. Singing in our hearts were the immortal words of Sir Walter Scott: "Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, 'This is my own my native land!'" We all agreed then and there we'd never again take the blessings of America for granted — its freedoms, its great opportunities for all citizens, its friendly Christian spirit, its incomparable progress.

But unfortunately not all Americans can see the rest of the world and how truly fortunate, by comparison, we Americans are. And in the 14½ years since our return to our "native land", I've observed in my travels around the country that a great many teachers have never realized the importance of inculcating native pride and love of country in the hearts of our children. Believe it or not, I have actually been in a few schools in which American patriotism was frowned upon as "not in step with world citizenship."

The Youngstown Books

People in the Youngstown (Ohio) area of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley are doing an outstanding job teaching their children real American citizenship, stimulating love of country and even love of and pride in their own great industrial area which embraces one Pennsylvania and three Ohio counties. The school authorities have joined with business and industry, employee and parent-teacher groups to carry on a unique textbook and teaching program. The project was conceived and has been spearheaded by the Industrial Information Institute of Youngstown.

Five textbooks have been written and placed in the schools and others are to come. They reach down to the third grade and up through high school. The 30 school systems of the area use the texts. They were written by a Youngstown English teacher, Howard C. Aley, under the supervision of a board composed of 17 school superintendents and two representatives of local industry. The books now in use are: "Interesting People of our Community," "Our Neighbors Tell Us about Their Work," "Exploring Our Neighborhood with Our Friends," "The Beginnings of Our Community," and "Working Together We Serve the World."

The Important Facts

From these textbooks and the enthusiastic teachers who direct their use, the child begins at eight years of age to learn the important facts about the settling of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley, its great progress through 125 years, and what made that progress possible. He learns about the founding of many of the area's 700 diversified industries and what made them grow. He learns about local natural resources and the development of machines to process them.

He learns the colorful story of steel and about the interdependence of capital and labor in the American system. He learns that a single steel plant in the Valley is valued at $270,000,000 — "three times as much money as was deposited in all the 42 banks in the four county area in 1940" — and that 12,390 people have money invested in that steel plant. From the textbooks and in subsequent school tours of the area, he gets acquainted with his "neighbors" — industrial executives, professional people, steel workers, artisans, craftsmen. At first hand he sees how American business and industry operates.

A Lively Pride

Aided by this unique textbook and teaching project, the school children develop a deep and lasting pride in their Valley and an appreciation for the American free enterprise system that brought about its growth. "Bill" and "Nancy" and "Grandpa" are principal characters in one of the primary grade books.

"Don't people ever move from our community to other places, Grandpa?" asks Bill.

"Why, of course they do," Grandpa says. "Sometimes their work takes them to far-away places. But they never forget our neighborhood. Wherever they go, they tell about it."

"What do they tell about it, Grandpa?" Nancy asks.

"They tell that our community is one of the greatest places in the world. They tell about the opportunities they found here. And, most important, they tell about the fine people who live in our community. . . they say that they wish they might come back here to work and live."

This "Grandpa" (and similar textbooks) ought to be in the classrooms of every region in America!

RIVER UNDER A RIVER—This was a welcome sight for farmers of California's southern San Joaquin Valley. Thirsty crops in the valley will soon be receiving a plentiful supply of water from the 153-mile-long siphon which is shown here as workmen neared its completion recently. The man-made river will carry waters of the Friant-Kern canal under the stream bed on its way south from Friant Dam, near Fresno, to the San Joaquin farmlands.

CDA COURT PLANS COMING BENEFIT EVENTS

At their regular March meeting members of the local court Catholic Daughters of America initiated plans for benefit affairs to help in building up their contribution to the new church fund.

Listed as coming events are a silver tea for members, and a social for members and their husbands and for Knights of Columbus and their ladies. Mrs. Albert Wilde is chairman of the tea and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski is in charge of arrangements for the party. Another event in which the court will share sponsorship with the Knights of Columbus is the annual July Fourth observance.

Committee reports revealed that mission work done recently includes 25 rolls of hospital bandages, and that old sheets and other white linen material are needed for this project. Mrs. Ben Hellman is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski announced that she is preparing a shipment of clothing and literature for needy missions and would like more of these items to include in the shipment.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel read a letter from Chaplain Duffy state prison chaplain, appealing for Catholic magazines and Mrs. Swirczynski had a letter from Sheppard AFB soliciting approved comic books for the men at that base. Persons interested in contributing literature and comics can leave them with Mrs. Swirczynski.

Mrs. Lawrence Roberg presided during the business session and members voted to send contributions to two Indian missions, one at Marty, S. D., and the other at Belcourt, N. D.

Mrs. Maurice Pagel won the attendance prize.

Can't stop now!

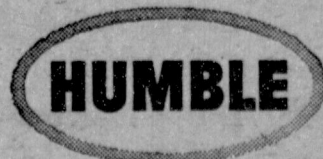

The daily needs of the American people for oil are at an all-time high. When you add to these the needs of the defense program, you find that U. S. oil production is greater than ever before in history.

The men who search for oil did their part in supplying this record demand 10, 20, even 30 years ago.

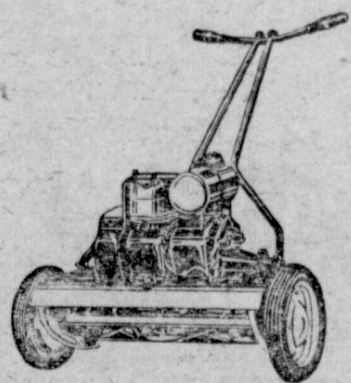

But they can't stop now. The search for oil must be continuous, so that the U. S. will have oil for you and your neighbor and for the country's needs in the years ahead. This year's oil discoveries may be producing oil for the vehicles, the flying machines, the industries of the year 2000!

The oil companies look so far to the future because it takes about 10 years fully to develop an average oil field. Then, if production is efficiently managed in accordance with conservation practices, the field continues to produce for another thirty or forty years, or even longer.

This foresight provided the vast quantities of oil required for World War II, and it has established the reserves the nation needs for the emergency of 1951. There is no time, now, to search for the oil we need today; it must be — it is — instantly available.

GOOD HEALTH

1. AT WHAT AGE ARE ACCIDENTS MOST LIKELY?

3. WHERE DO AMERICANS LIVE LONGEST?

2. AGAINST WHICH DISEASES CAN YOU BE IMMUNIZED?

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. The two most dangerous periods for accidents are between the ages of one and four and again after 65. Most accidents occur in the home; one third in the dining room or kitchen; about one fourth on porches or in the yard and one fifth in living or sleeping rooms. People over 65 should be especially careful and among other things should not climb ladders. People of every age can prevent accidents by using normal precautions.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. The most common immunizations are against typhoid and paratyphoid fever, diphtheria, lockjaw, whooping cough, spotted fever, typhus fever and smallpox.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. According to a recent survey, the life expectancy of the residents of Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota is greatest. This applies to both the male and female population of those states. In all three states the women live, on the average, between three and four years longer than the men.

The trouble with most of us is that our necessities are too luxurious and our luxuries are too necessary.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know folks, one thing this Nation could do, is sit down with its chin in its hand, un-lax, and think. We been so busy with speed and fun that we had to farm-out our thinking. We need a complete mental over-haul, valve grind and oil change. Every mamma and papa could take a week off, take a squirt into tomorrow, figure out at which end of the horn they are coming out if they keep on accepting the ideas of our hired horn-rimmed theory gentry.

Now don't just look out the window or say Uncle Josephus is not talking to me. And this goes not only for mamma and papa, it goes for the Commercial Club trustees, and for the hungry and sometimes half lazy book review and lunch club listeners. Here is how it works.

AWAITING THE ENEMY—From a hill overlooking the Han River and the wide plains before the South Korean capital, Seoul, these UN troops were able to watch a large area in their search for signs of the enemy. The soldiers silhouetted here have just finished digging their foxholes and appear to be prepared to strike at anything that might approach.

THAT'S MINE?—Pop Penguin bent over for a closer look at his new-born son at the London Zoo, but wasn't convinced that it was his offspring. As the little fellow took his first steps, his Daddy couldn't help but wonder how any self-respecting Penguin could permit himself to be seen in a scraggly dark suit instead of a tuxedo.

A heavy Govt. thinker shows up. He says, would you nice nice people like a Federal gift toward a dandy swimming pool, airport, dam across Salt Creek. Hot zizigetty, and how, is the answer.

So you get the pool and the Salt Creek dam and the airport. And right there is where you look under the shell, and the gift dinero you are gazing at, it looks familiar. It should, it is the very cash money that Sambo took from you down at his income tax emporium. Tomorrow will not be so cheerful, it will be drab, maybe even dreary, if more thinking caps are not gotten out, dusted off, and donned.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

So Sorry

"(Socialism is) the weakest of all bulwarks against Communism. They (the Socialists) lead people up the garden path to the brink of the precipice and then turn around and say, as they tumble over; 'We are very sorry; we never meant to go so far.'"

—Winston Churchill

No Television!

We can understand a government telling somebody on relief to forego luxuries if he wants relief. But we can't imagine the equitable administration of it.

The Utah State Welfare Commission says people on relief in Utah will have to get along without television sets.

That makes sense. But is the same government going to tell the same people not to frequent taverns, not to smoke, not to own an old car, not to burn electric lights, not to plant irises in the front bed, not to buy Wisconsin cheese?

Relief, of course, is not a real function of government. A government's function is to govern. It is not charity. When a government attempts quasi-governmental functions, it runs into troubles. It can not administer or enforce. The realm is too broad. The man in Utah who can't have a television set probably has a neighbor on relief who has a 1951 convertible. Where and what is the dividing line?

Change in Status Must Be Reported, Says Draft Chief

AUSTIN.—Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, today reminded all men registered with local draft boards that the law requires them to report any change in personal status to their respective boards.

"Young men have asked us by telephone and letter just what changes are required to be reported," General Wakefield said. "Generally, anything which may have a bearing on classification should be reported."

The state director pointed to the following things which would be regarded as a change of personal status:

1. Change of address. This is a change in the address at which a man expects to receive his mail.
2. Change in marital status. If a man marries, he should advise the local board of the name of the person he marries, the place and date of marriage, and name of county in which the marriage is recorded. If he has children, date and place of birth should be named, and place where birth is recorded. If he becomes separated, divorced, or his wife dies, this should be reported.
3. Change of job. The local board should be advised only if this is a permanent change.
4. Change in physical status. If a man has had a serious injury or has otherwise acquired a physical defect, it should be reported. It should be reported whether it is permanent or temporary.
5. Students. If a man becomes a student in a school, college, or university, this fact should be reported.
6. Members of armed forces reserves or National Guard. If a man enters any of these, he should advise the local board, giving date of entry and name of organization.
7. Rejections by the armed forces. If a man has attempted to volunteer for the army, navy, air force, or any other branch of the armed services and has been rejected, he should advise the local board.

Much of this information is vital in determining proper classification of any man. The law requires men to keep local boards advised about such matters. All such information, if submitted by letter or card, must be signed by the man himself.

She claimed he married her for her money . . . and he claimed he earned it.

THE REWARD IS PEACE

By JOSEPH M. HANLY, C. S. P.

A young Canadian chaplain tells the story with reluctance and nausea. It took place in a concentration camp in Holland, in a man-made hell. There he saw a young priest of thirty. His hair greyed, his back bent, his mind and senses all but gone. The mentors of the camp had unwittingly made him a living memorial to Nazi fiendishness and hatred. They had cut off his hands. They had gorged out his eyes. His shaved head was etched with purple scars—grim witnesses of the savage beatings that he had endured. They had reduced him to a mumbling idiot, yet the one thing they were after they could not deprive him of.

Over and over he kept mumbling the words: "Jesus, Jesus, Jesus." They could take all but Christ from him. The chaplain ends his story by saying: "You know, it made me love Christ more. What a tremendous manly personality He must possess to inspire men to suffer such things for His sake." Yet who is this Christ that inspires so many sacrifices? He was a Man who walked the dusty roads of Palestine. He knew the heat of the day, the sweat of labor, the refreshing cool of evening. For all of that,

He was never commonplace. The crowds adored Him. They followed Him from place to place. His enemies hated Him with an unholy hatred. They harassed Him unceasingly. They finally crucified Him. They could not take Him for granted any more than we can. We claim to be fighting for human rights and democracy, which are the fundamental tenets of western civilization. But the basis for these tenets is the teaching of Christ about the dignity of man, about the eternal and immortal destiny of every human soul. When we fight for that, we fight for Christ.

Christ walks down the corridors of time calling the Magdalens from their pits of sin and swamps of degeneration. He walks preaching His message. Those who love Him, love Him even unto death. The martyrs prove that. Those who hate Christ will stop at nothing to be rid of Him. The Communist persecution of Christianity is an example of that. What Christ was yesterday, He is today. He will be forever—because He is God. We have to be for Him or against Him. If we choose Christ, the reward is peace.

Air-Filled Tractor Tires Pull Better

COLLEGE STATION.—Air-filled tractor tires operate more efficiently and economically in sand and loam than tires filled either partially or fully with water. This was the conclusion of a report made by the Division of Farm Machinery, U. S. Department of Agriculture and a tire manufacturing company, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A&M College.

He says three identical tires were tested under 12 drawbar loads on the two types of soils.

NO MUSS, NO FUSS
When you do your washing at the

Huchttons Laundry
Telephone 17F12

All tires carried equal weight, but the method of applying weight differed.

One tire was filled to capacity with water, another was filled to the top of the rim with water and the third tire was fully inflated with air. Wheel weights were then used to equalize the total weight of each tire.

Tests in sandy soil showed that at 1,000 pounds drawbar pull there was little difference in the performance of the tires that were filled partially and fully with water. Both were considerably less effective than the air-filled tire.

Maximum drawbar pull for the air inflated tire was 1133 pounds as compared to 1085 pounds for the partially filled tire and 1050 pounds for the water-filled tire. In loam soil, the air inflated tire proved to be equally superior.

A farm lad who took a job in the big city returned home a few months later to report he was flat broke in spite of the big pay. He said, "Most of my money I spent on women and whiskey. The rest I just wasted."

AREA-WIDE EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

You are invited to join those who will gather at sunrise this Easter Day, in a beautiful outdoor setting near Wichita Falls, to engage in an area-wide service of worship.

Religious leaders of various denominations will conduct the service, which is cordially open to all residents and guests of this area, as a supplement to the regular Easter observances in your own church.

Crestview Memorial Park, where the service is to be held, is located on the Archer City road approximately half a mile from the junction of that road with the Jacksboro Highway. To reach the park from Wichita Falls, one drives out the Jacksboro Highway, which begins at the south end of Scott Street, and turns right on the Archer City cut-off.

It is suggested that you arrive just prior to sunrise, which will occur at 6:31. As you approach the service, you will enter an atmosphere of quiet, filled by soft organ music conducive to meditation.

The horizon, as the sun appears, will be broken only by a barren cross, erected for the occasion to invite reflection upon the event which we commemorate on that day.

There are many who have expressed the desire for Easter Sunrise Services in this area, similar to those which have proved so inspirational and significant in other localities. It is the purpose of this service to fulfill that desire, and, as we celebrate the triumph of life over death as exemplified by the Resurrection, to help deepen our faith in the ultimate realization of the will of God in these troubled times.

New Winter-Hardy Oats Now Available

COLLEGE STATION.— A new bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station reports the development and characteristics of Mustang, a new winter-hardy oat variety which is now available to Texas farmers.

Winterkilling is a hazard in the production of fall-sown oats in Texas, often causing the loss of several thousand acres and this new oat variety was developed in an effort to overcome this hazard.

Mustang is approximately 25 percent more winter-hardy than the present commercial varieties. Planting this new oat should aid in reducing the loss from winterkilling.

Mustang is also resistant to crown (leaf) rust, and it is suitable for grain production in Central and North Texas, and for winter pasture in South Texas.

Farmers may obtain a copy of this bulletin, 728, by writing to the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

New Process Cuts Rebuilding Price For Asphalt Roads

A new process for rejuvenating old asphalt roads and streets may save cities and counties up to 50 per cent in their street repair bills.

Developed by the Shell Oil Company, the new process uses a big portable machine and an asphalt rejuvenating compound made from petroleum.

The old asphalt is ripped up, one lane at a time, without seriously interfering with traffic. It then is ground up in the portable machine, mixed with the softening compound and put down again.

It can be replaced cold, whereas new asphalt has to be laid hot. There is an additional big saving: At present all old asphalt is thrown away.

The new process not only will save money in the care of old asphalt roads and streets, but is expected to give asphalt a new competitive advantage in its rivalry with concrete for new roads.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Grueiling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year . . . it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars . . . the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run . . . A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 54.587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon . . . a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Christ Suffers Again

By THOMAS MERTON

All over the face of the earth the avarice and lust of men breed unceasing divisions among them, and the wounds that tear men from union with one another widen and open out into huge wars.

Murder, massacres, revolution, hatred, the slaughter and torture of the bodies and souls of men, the destruction of cities by fire, the starvation of millions, the annihilation of populations and finally the cosmic inhumanity of atomic war: Christ is massacred in His members, torn limb from limb; God is murdered in men.

Souls Divided

His physical Body was crucified by Pilate and the Pharisees: His mystical Body is drawn and quartered from age to age by the devils in the agony of that disunion which is bred and vegetates in our souls prone to selfishness and to sin.

The history of the world, with the material destruction of cities and nations and people expresses the division that tyrannizes the souls of all men.

Even the innocent, even those in whom Christ lives by charity, even those who want with their whole heart to love one another, remain divided and separate.

Peace By Annihilation

There are two things which men can do about their pain of disunion with other men. They can love or they can hate.

Hatred recoils from the sacrifice and the sorrow that are the price of the resetting of the brook.

Thomas Merton is author of Seeds of Contemplation a New Directions Book.

en bones of harmony. It refuses the pain of reunion. It identifies the agony with the other men whose presence causes agony in us by reminding us of our disunion.

Christ Unites Men

Hatred tries to cure disunion by annihilating those who are not united with us. It seeks peace by the elimination of everybody else but ourselves.

But love, by its acceptance of the pain of reunion, begins to heal all wounds.

It is principally in the suffering and sacrifice that are demanded for men to live together in peace and harmony that love is perfected in us.

For Christianity is not merely a doctrine or a system of beliefs: it is Christ living in us and uniting men to one another in His own Life and unity. "I in them and Thou, Father, in Me, that they may be made perfect in One. . . . And the glory which Thou hast given me I have given them, that they may be One as we also are One."

"He that loveth not abideth in death."

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL and many of them indicated that they recommend the HADACOL formula to patients who are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

"I was down in Florida for the past month. I had no energy so several members of my family told me to try a bottle of HADACOL. My sister, who is a nurse, was taking a bottle so I tried a bottle. I feel fine since taking HADACOL. I do private duty here. I am 50 years old."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful HADACOL feeling."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—While the defeated Germans of World War II can get any kind of meat they want, and as much of it as they can afford, their conquerors, the British, are now undergoing the severest meat rationing they have ever faced. As the inset shows, one person's weekly ration of meat in Great Britain can fit into a match box. In contrast, the butcher, above, in a West Berlin meat shop has all the meat his customers desire and more.

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are beginning their spring offensive in the battle against soil erosion. The big guns in the battle are sweet clover and cover crops and soil conditioning and grassed waterways to handle terrace water safely so that terraces can be built to protect cultivated slopes.

The district-owned combination grain-fertilizer drills have been kept busy seeding soil building legumes on the farms around Muenster. These crops of sweet clovers and alfalfa will serve as a cover crop to keep a green tent over the land and protect it from beating rains and at the same time the roots will penetrate plow pans and increase the water intake capacity of the soil. These crops are also noted for their ability to enrich the soil and make it more productive for following crops.

Some of the district cooperators who are seeding soil improving crops of sweet clover or alfalfa on their farmland are George Gehrig, Ed Cler, Thomas Sicking, Buddy Reiter, J. W. Hess, Oscar Walter, Ed Sicking, Herman Danglmayr, H. J. Fuhrman, Bill Becker, Joe Hesse and John A. Rohmer.

On other fronts the battle to stop erosion was being carried forward by the sodding and seeding of waterways to handle excess terrace water. The district bermuda grass sprigging machine that can plant two acres to grassroots in an hour has been making the rounds and accomplishing in hours the jobs of sodding that used to take days. Bruno Fleitman used the sprig machine to sod a waterway through a field on his home place. Alfred Bayer and W. H. Endres used the machine to plant bermuda grass in natural drains that will serve as terrace outlet areas. Ed Knauf also planted 8 acres, that is to be used as terrace outlet, to bermuda grass. The waterways will be fenced and included in with the pasture.

Other waterways were being seeded to K. R. Bluestem. Wm. Becker has seeded this aggressive grass on a strip bordering his field. When the grass is well established Becker will change the ends of his terraces to empty on the grass strip instead of in the road ditch. Herman Zimmerer has just completed the seeding of 15 acres to King Ranch Bluestem on the farm he operates for Danglmayr Brothers. The grass will serve as pasture and terrace outlet area. George Gehrig has seeded K.R. on part of his cultivated land. Tony and Martin Trubebach used the district grass seed drill to put native grass seed on approximately 40 acres of land that is to be used for pasture. Martin also seeded four acres to the faster growing King Ranch Bluestem.

The Judgment of a Solomon

Six young housewives living in the same apartment building fell into a dispute of such magnitude that it resulted in their being haled into court. When the case was called they all made a concerted rush for the bench and, reaching it, broke into bitter complaints at the same moment.

The judge sat momentarily stunned, as charges and counter charges filled the air. Suddenly he rapped for order.

When quiet had been restored, the patient magistrate said quietly "Now, I'll hear the oldest first."

That closed the case.

Quakers are gentle, calm folk. One such awoke one night to find a burglar systematically looting the house. Gun in hand, he quietly walked toward the man.

"Friend," he said, "I would not harm thee nor any man for the world, but thou standest where I am about to shoot."

The burglar fled.

Frank J. Hess ---

he was a grain buyer and cotton grader and buyer here for about seven years in the 1920's. He was also interested in dairying and helped organize a dairy herd improvement association in the county and brought in the first registered Jersey cattle.

His enthusiasm also led him into the oil business and he was a drilling contractor taking part in developing production north of the city.

In partnership with the late A. G. Hutton, Mr. Hess contracted for the Muenster City Water System in 1932 and had the system, a $33,000 project installed. Hess and Hutton also drilled the FMA water well which provided the city's water supply until the city drilled its own well.

He was instrumental in organizing the Farm Labor Union here in 1922 and was one of the initial directors. This organization later developed into the present Farmers Marketing Association.

He served as secretary for the Muenster Mutual Fire Insurance association for more than 23 years, reluctantly retiring from office last December when failing health forced him to give up that work.

McCORMICK Tillage Tools

No. 9-A Tractor Disk Harrow

Tillage Tools must be plenty rugged to stand the tough job of preparing seed beds. They must also be soundly engineered to do the job right. You'll find both characteristics in McCormick Tillage Tools.

Take, for example, the rear gangs on the No. 9-A tractor disk harrow. Notice how they are "cross-draft" connected. That shows real engineering "know-how." The rear gangs can't skid in tough soils or when turning corners. They're always in position to split the ridges ahead and give you a 100 per cent job of disking.

It's that way all through the entire line of McCormick Tillage Tools. You'll find weight where weight is needed—quality construction and sound engineering. You can depend upon every tool to do its job right.

Come in and see the long-lasting, good-working McCormick Tillage Tools we have on hand.

Convert your tractor to LP Gas (Butane-Propane)

MAKE YOUR DOLLAR

Work Harder,
Go Farther

Save up to 40% on your fuel costs

LP gas is more efficient, delivers more power per fuel dollar.

Save on oil and maintenance costs.

LP gas burns clean. It does not dilute oil, hence prolongs the life of your crankcase filling. It leaves no sludge to foul up the engine and cause excessive wear.

Increase your power and performance

Your tractor starts easier on LP gas, runs smoother and actually delivers more horsepower.
