Gainesville Plans Super Party for 100th Birthday

Perhaps Harold Stassen has the proper method of dealing with Russia. His suggestion is to let it be known that we will in the future appraise the real cause of Russian inspired aggressions by expendable stooges and hold the Kremlin itself responsible for the action.

Along with quite a number of others in this country Stassen maintains that our present course is futile and suicidal. While we sacrifice the flower of our manhood in an effort to restore order all over the world Russia waits calmly for the day when we will be over-extended and an easy conquest for its growing hordes.

We're spinning our wheels when we try to keep peace that way. We're like a doctor treating sores all over the body when he ought first to clear up the patients blood stream. We're piddling away time and effort on the world's sore spots when we ought to do something about the source of infection.

On that theory, Stassen says let Russia understand, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that we know who is the cause behind every bit of communist aggression anywhere in the world and that the price of her own safety henceforth is to see that no more of her henchmen will get out of hand. In plain words, if any communists perpetrate another Korean incident we will consider it as a declaration of war by the Kremlin itself and a sufficient cause for us to start scattering atomic bombs over Russia.

We are aware of course that any mention of using the A-bomb causes many to shudder. In fact, it is also true that much of the sentiment against A-bombs is a result of Russian inspired propaganda. By their usual standard of contemptible treachery the Pulituro gangsters have sought to arouse world antagonism against our most potent weapon even while they make every effort to develop equal or greater strength in the same weapon. They make no objection to any weapon in which they happen to possess superiority.

There's another way of appraising the A-bomb's merits, however. Though terrible in the locality where it hits, it has the potential of knocking out the enemy in a hurry. In the end it may shorten the war and eliminate a great deal of agony and bloodshed. And after all, why is the effect of one A-bomb more terrible than the combined effects of hundreds or thousands of regular bombs?

Another point. We don't consider the Russians as qualified to preach to us about humane warfare. The atrocities of their slave camps and the Korean war indicate the communist standard of mercy. Regardless of all that has been propagandized to the contrary, we have every right to use the A-bomb if Russia does not stop her policy of world enslavement.

On the same day that Stassen made his statement, other and far better advice was given in the little town of Necedah Wisconsin. For the sixth time Mrs. Anna Van Hoof of that community claims to have had an apparition urging humanity to end the present world strife by prayer. According to reports the gist of her message Tuesday was "Pray, for the time is short."

Of course there are many who consider the apparitions as hallucinations. Whether they are is not a matter for this column to decide. However, a few general points in this connection are worth considering. Miracles are not impossible to Almighty God and history cites thousands of cases of them. By the most rigid standards of logic we must admit that the apparitions in Wisconsin can be genuine, and if so, that the advice given came directly from God. That would make it about the most dependable advice anyone can look for.

Whether or not anyone chooses to accept the apparitions as real, the fact remains that the advice is mighty good. From the way (Continued on Page 10)

Hundreds of Gainesville citizens are busy these days making preparations for the city's 100th birthday party to be held in connection with the annual Cooke County Fair Sept. 4 to 9 inclusive.

Highlights of the celebration will be an elaborate Centennial spectacle, named "Progressorama," which will depict the city's 100 years of history since the townsite was staked Aug. 15, 1850. The spectacle will be presented on an outdoor stage more than 300-feet long, and 550 persons will be in the cast. Keith Gingles, former New York and Hollywood actor, is directing the production.

The 3,000 seat baseball park in the fair grounds will be the scene of the pageant, with 1,500 circus seats added for the three-night showing, Sept. 4-5-6.

On Thursday night, Sept. 7, the first performance of the fair's championship rodeo will be unrehearsed by the Ponder Rodeo Assn., and nightly shows will be presented through Saturday, Sept. 9.

A Labor Day parade will open the fair, and will feature transportation modes from the earliest days to the present, from covered wagons and stage coaches (Continued on Page 9)

Hornets Play Ten Teams This Year; Seven At Home

Muenster High School's Hornets will have ten football games this year, seven of them at home. Coach Doyle Hood announced the schedule late last week after matching a game with the Saint Mary's Mustangs to fill the last open place on the schedule.

Hood also announced that the Hornet training season will open on Sept. 1, the workouts to be held at night until Sept. 12. Less heat and more time were the reasons for deciding on night practice.

The season's schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 15 Era, here.
- Sept. 22 Whitesboro, here.
- Sept. 29 Valley View (of Iowa Park), here.
- Oct. 6 St. Mary's, here.
- Oct. 13 Bryson, here.
- Oct. 20 Pilot Point, there.
- Oct. 27 Alvord, there.
- Nov. 3 Boyd, here.
- Nov. 10 Anna, here.
- Nov. 17 Saint Jo, there.

Of the 10 only four are conference games. They are Valley View, Bryson, Alvord and Saint Jo.

Muenster Cinches Number 2 Spot In T & O Baseball Loop

Muenster cinched second place in the T&O baseball league Sunday by winning 10 to 5 in the second of a 2 game series with Bowie, but it will not know whether it has sole claim to the position until next Sunday's game with Nocona.

As the record stands now, Muenster and Bowie each have 1 game to play. Muenster faces a real test in undefeated Nocona while Bowie gets credit for a free victory, conceded by Capps when it quit the league last week. By beating Nocona Muenster has sole claim to the Number 2 position. By losing it falls into a tie with Bowie.

A strong fifth inning put the game on ice for the local boys here Sunday. The contest went scoreless until the fifth when Bowie pushed over 3 runs. Muenster tied the count in the second half of the inning with a 3 run rally, then blasted Bowie's hopes in the 6th with 5-hit 5-run slugfest. After that the game settled down again. Bowie got 1 each in the 7th and 9th. Muenster added 2 in the 8th but did not need its last inning turn at bat. Total hits were Muenster 14, Bowie 12.

FIRST AID ON THE FRONT—While clouds of smoke billowed from this heavily-bombed South Korean village, an Army medic ministered to this machine gunner, wounded in the arm. When the medics first reported to the battleline, they were unarmed. They began carrying pistols, however, when they became the favorite targets of the ruthless North Koreans.

Wettest Summer Record Sustained By Two Inch Rain

This summer's record as one of the wettest in community history was sustained at noon Wednesday when the hardest rain of recent months poured down almost 2 inches of water in less than an hour.

The official reading on Steve Mosler's US Weather bureau gauge at 1:45 was 2.01. That was 20 to 30 minutes after the heavy rain had settled down to a drizzle. According to Mosler's guess over ninety five percent of the rain fell in the one hour period following 12:30. It was a first class gully washer filling drainage ditches all over town and giving Main street a thorough flushing. At the low point in front of Owens Grocery the water was several inches over the curb and sidewalk.

With the month barely half over, the rainfall for this August is only one hundredth of an inch short of doubling the heaviest in the past four years. Added to 1.57 on the 1st and .21 on the 6th, Wednesday's rain brought the month's total to 3.79. Totals for the entire month for the last 4 years are .76 in 1949, .08 in 1948, .55 in 1947 and 1.90 in 1946. Records before 1946 are not available here.

About the saddest man in town since the downpour is Superintendent Weldon Cowan. After waiting weeks for the ground to dry west of the new school building he had a grader at work Wednesday morning moving dirt to make room for 8 inches of gravel on the bus driveway. Then came the rain and made a pond out of the intended driveway.

... And More Rain
Another soaker Wednesday night... after the above story was set in type. The reading at 7 Thursday morning showed 1.20 for a total of 3.21 during the 24 hour period bringing the month's total to date to 4.99.

Miller Buys Texaco Station From Probst

William J. Miller is the new owner-operator of the Texaco Service Station at the intersection of Main Street and the highway. He bought the business last Saturday from Ted Probst who closed it about two weeks earlier because of failing health.

Probst has been told by his doctor that he must have complete rest for at least six months. The order was given when he returned home after spending two weeks in a Gainesville hospital with a heart ailment.

The station continues to serve as Muenster's bus depot, and also retains Leonard Bindel as assistant operator.

Since Monday illness is preventing Nurse Dorothy Hartman from being on duty for her usual routine at the local clinic and is confining her to her home.

Werner Cler underwent surgery at veterans hospital in McKinney Friday and is recovering normally. He may be permitted to return home this Saturday, according to his wife, his mother Mrs. Charles Cler and his brother, Ray Cler, who visited him Tuesday. Werner has been a patient at the V. A. hospital for three weeks.

Muenster CYO Unit Entertains Ft. Worth Group Here Sunday

In the interest of reorganizing the Muenster CYO unit and stimulating activity of the membership, Fort Worth's junior Catholic Youth Organization spent Sunday afternoon and evening here for a special program consisting of a business session and a social. Headquarters for the rally was the K of C hall. Some 50 teen-agers accompanied by chaperones and their spiritual director, Rev. Fintan Oldham, O.S.B., made the trip to Muenster in a school bus.

The business session opened the program with officers of the visiting unit explaining the purpose and objectives of the organization. They pointed out that the CYO aids in promoting both the spiritual and the social activities of modern youth. It encourages the frequent reception of the sacraments and other acts (Continued on Page 2)

10 Men Notified To Be Ready For Early Induction

With at least ten men already subject to call and four more due to report for physical exams Friday, this community is beginning to feel the effects of the nation's mobilization program.

According to reports reaching the Enterprise, seven of the former 1-year men, who have been on a reserve status since they left the service, have been advised that they are subject to recall on short notice. Most of them have already responded to an order to report at Fort Worth and complete their records regarding changes in address, dependency, marriage and other up to date information. Included in the group are C. L. Sutton Arnold Knabe, Leo Becker, Leonard Walterscheid, Leonard Hartman, Henry Felderhoff and Buddy Yosten.

At least three became eligible for induction in the community's first draft call. They are Alois Sicking, Urban Rohmer and Charles Davidson. All took their physical exams at Dallas last Friday and received notice that they are subject to call.

Four more have orders to report for physical exams at Dallas on Friday the 18th. They are Robert Bayer, Wilfred Luttmer, Alvin Fuhrmann and Tony Rohmer.

Nocona Noses Out Ruffnecks 6 to 5 In Playoff Opener

Muenster's Ruffnecks started strong but finished one run weak Tuesday night in the first game of the Cooke-Montague softball playoff series. Nocona won 6 to 5 on its home field.

The Ruffnecks played one of their best games of the season and led the count until the sixth when Nocona cashed in the winning run on a wild throw to second. They started with a 3 run first inning and added 2 in the fifth. Nocona scored 1 each in the second and third and 2 each in the fifth and sixth.

Other games of the week were the 9 to 7 win over Saint Jo here last Thursday night and the 13 to 3 loss to the Hot Shots (colored) at Denison Friday night. The first was a good ball game. The second was mostly an exhibition of fumbling and horseplay.

Contests scheduled for the coming week are Nocona here Thursday, Hot Shots here Friday. Nocona there Tuesday and Nocona here Thursday.

A. T. HOEHN OBSERVES 74th BIRTHDAY SATURDAY

A dinner Saturday, August 12, honored A. T. Hoehn in observance of his 74th birthday. His son-in-law and daughter, the Ed Clers, entertained for the occasion.

Other members of the family joining in extending best wishes and many happy returns were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoehn of Dallas, who spent the weekend here, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoehn and children of Nocona.

Death Claims Ben Bengfort, 51 Year Lindsay Resident

Bernard H. (Ben) Bengfort, 62, a resident of Lindsay for 51 years, died at his home Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. He had been ailing for about two weeks but his condition was not believed to be serious until early Wednesday morning when he suddenly took a turn for the worse. Members of his family believe he suffered a heart attack.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete Wednesday night pending word from his children in California and Oregon but will be held in St. Peter's church with burial in the parish cemetery.

Mr. Bengfort was born in Festina, Iowa, on Sept. 22, 1887, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bengfort, and moved to Lindsay with them when he was 11 years old. He attended school there and took up farming as his work. He continued farming after his marriage to Miss Clara Herr of Muenster in February 1911.

Survivors are his wife; six daughters, Mmes J. W. Fleitman of Muenster, Joe Frank of Canyon, Huey Long of Klamath Falls, Oregon, and Leroy Kelting of San Diego, Calif.; Miss Patricia Bengfort of Lindsay and Miss Margie Bengfort of San Diego; three sons, Hugo, Ray and Ed of Lindsay, and two brothers, Joe and John Bengfort of Lindsay.

50x100 Building To Be Constructed By Tractor Agency

Preliminary plans are now under way for another new building for the business section of Muenster. It is the future home of the newly established Tractor Sales and Service and will be located at Main and First, diagonally across from the bank.

It will be a 50X100 brick building. Construction is due to begin as soon as materials and labor are available. Plans are under consideration now.

Preparing for the building the company last week end cut down two large trees and put skids under an old frame building which is to be moved to the southeast corner of the lot. The ancient building at the front of the lot, which is now being used as the tractor agency's office, will not be moved. It will not interfere with the new construction.

Opening of Hunt's Store Due Next Week

The long delayed opening of Hunt's Store, in the building formerly occupied by Trachta Drug, is due to materialize within the next week or two. T. A. Hunt of Saint Jo, owner and manager, said this week that he expects to finish interior work and receive most of his merchandise by then. Slow deliveries due to present emergency conditions account for most of the delay to date.

The new business will be a general merchandise store specializing in men's and ladies' ready to wear, shoes and dry goods.

Mrs. Virginia Carter and children of Lubbock are here for a visit with her relatives of the Gehrig families.

CDA ENDORSES PLAN TO HELP SPONSOR BENEFITS FOR NEW CHURCH FUND

At their regular meeting Friday night members of the local court Catholic Daughters of America enthusiastically endorsed the plan which proposes that the court and the Knights of Columbus jointly sponsor benefit entertainments for the new church building fund. At the same time the court initiated plans for a dance for this purpose to be held in September.

Mrs. Lawrence Roberg, grand regent presided, and committee chairmen gave reports. Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel advised that the soap-for-overseas project was progressing and that soap had been made twice. The committee would prefer mailing a large amount of soap in a shipment and so still solicits the makings. Mrs. Weinzapfel said her facilities are available to any group of women who desire to make soap for this purpose.

Hostesses for the August social, on Thursday the 24th, were announced. They are Mmes. Herman Dangelmayr and Val Fuhrmann and they will entertain in the church basement beginning at 8 p.m.

The jack-pot drawing for the attendance prize presented Mrs. John Wieler's name. Since she was absent the amount was increased and was held over for the next meeting.

From 9:15 to 9:30 the assemblage joined in the "Rosary For Peace" recited over Station KRLD.

After the business Mrs. Ben Hellman asked members to write the names of former pastors and assistant pastors on slips of paper one of which would be drawn to receive a quilt she made recently and wished to present to a priest who had been here. The drawing resulted in Rev. John Walbe receiving the quilt. It is an improved nine-patch design and Mrs. Hellman mailed it to him Saturday.

United States Has Poor Voting Record

How many people (including yourself) do you know who failed to vote the last time they had a chance to exercise that great democratic privilege? Well, there are a lot who did not vote—many too many—as an organization called American Elections has discovered in a survey covering the last five Presidential elections. It discovered that: In 1932 only 56 per cent of the qualified voters voted; in 1936 only 63 per cent of the qualified voters voted; in 1940 only 66 per cent voted; in 1944 only 57 per cent voted, and in 1948 only 51 per cent voted.

"As Free Men, We Proclaim"

Recently, this column mentioned that in my travels around the country there had been observed the beginning of "an awakening of significant proportions" at the grass roots. People in the cities and towns visited were telling me they'd begun to realize the fuller import of things happening in our nation and were anxious to do something to help safeguard the American way of life.

Since writing the column, many further signs of the awakening have been observed. There has been evidence too that a great many people have begun actually to do something to safeguard liberty against internal encroachment. I've just received in my mail a most inspiring piece of evidence. It was sent to me by an Ohio friend. It is a full page advertisement published in the July 3 issue of the Advertiser Tribune, of Tiffin, Ohio, an industrial city of 18,000.

Another Like It

This advertisement reminded me in many ways, of the historic document I viewed one winter's day two and a half years ago in a coach of the Freedom Train. It was the original Declaration of Independence. Reading that great declaration of freedom and seeing the scrawled signatures of men like John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson filled me with mixed emotion—tingling pride and reverent gratitude. Now I have experienced a kindred sensation while reading this advertisement that came in the mail. It carries a great proclamation and affixed to it are the penned signatures of 410 people declaring themselves gloriously free.

It must be passed along. Here it is:

"As Free Men We Proclaim—
 "Our Belief in the divinity of God, the dignity of man and the destiny of our country.
 "Our Belief that man shall live by the sweat of his brow.

Getting On Record

"Our Belief in a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.
 "Our Belief that a man should live within his income and pay his honest debts, and that our government should operate on the same sensible basis.
 "Our Belief that under the American Way of Life we already have a higher standard of living than any other governmental system has ever offered—let alone delivered.
 "Our Belief that as free men, proud of our achievements and jealous of our rights, there is no place in our midst for communists, fellow travelers and other cranks who by wild accusations and empty promises would lead us down the trail to political and economic slavery.
 "Our Belief that it is our duty as free men to speak out in defense of our American way of Life and to go on record to that end. . . May God be with us."

Declaration For 1950

The signatures penned to this document were not those of members of the Sons of the American Revolution. Nor was it a politically inspired advertisement. All the people who signed it are industrial workers—men and women employees of an industrial hearth manufacturing company, Basic Refractories, Inc., with plants at Maple Grove and Bettsville, Ohio. I'm informed that one of the workers got the idea for the advertisement, discussed it with some of his fellows and found spontaneous response. The workers themselves wrote the proclamation and paid for the ad. The company had no part whatsoever in the project.

What a grand thing it is! It is passed along here as an inspiring example for people in every community in America who want to do something for their country. If enough people would thus publicly pledge themselves to actively support such a sound American credo no harmful movement or trend arising within our nation could ever badly injure or menace our freedom. These industrial workers in Ohio have given us a splendid 1950 Declaration of Independence.

Eliminate Side Shows

"The world's greatest give-away show in Washington needs watching. It is up to us to point out the fallacy of such spending. It is up to us to prove that private initiative and private enterprise has been the goose that laid the golden egg of plenty in this land; that it is still work and manpower that produces."

Sure Death To Freedom

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know, good people, the way the news reads, we have cause for running an anxious hand across our brow and cogitatin' on howcome we been such a sucker. How-come we have stood for the rattlin' around in big places of small people. How-come we have permitted the term "big business" to be blusteringly used as meaning "dreadful business."

And now, when trouble looms, what happens. We ask the big gun makers, the big TNT makers, the big iron foundries, to pass the ammunition, and quick. You don't make big steel in a teakettle. You gotta have big steel plants. And these big plants—which will now come to the rescue—are the very ones that have survived the sniping of our Govt., which has been chipping away at all private ventures via anti-trust and anti-this and anti-that, by a swarm of pestering socialist-minded talent who smell something wrong in any business that has been able to succeed or survive.

We would be in a pickle—and how—if we were depending on teakettle plants for the big stuff we need. If we would now learn to listen to such able Americans as that old "Soreback," Senator Byrd of Virginia, suh; and renovate top to bottom—our Govt., we would be showing a wholesome tinge of George Washington-type horsesense.

Yours with the low down,
 Jo Serra

Peace

Two women in railway car argued about the window and at last called the porter as referee. "If this window is open," one declared, "I shall catch cold and will die." "If the window is shut," the other answered, "I shall certainly suffocate." The two glared at each other. The porter was at a loss, but he welcomed the words of a man with a red nose who sat near. Said he: "First open the window. That will kill one. Next, shut it. That will kill the other. Then we can have peace."

SLEEPERS BY THE DOZEN—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Colberg and three of their children slept in the family car after being evicted from their ten-room frame house. Seven other Colberg youngsters, exhausted by the ordeal of moving from their house in Chicago, slept in the homes of neighbors. The family of 12 were evicted so that their property can be used for commercial purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Rice of Yarnaby, Okla., were here Sunday to spend the day with their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hess and family, and to make the acquaintance of their new granddaughter.

BIG KILLER

Human discourtesy is the biggest killer on the highway; specifically, failure to dim lights at night when 60 per cent of all fatalities occur. Failure in the vehicle, such as a flat tire, accounts for less than 5 per cent.

The greatest killer, thus, is that which is most easily remedied—human misbehavior. One of the great ironies of this Age on Wheels is the courteous, charitable, considerate human mind which becomes discourteous, uncharitable and inconsiderate behind the wheel.

The challenge in safety is not mechanical but psychological. All the gadgets and automatic safety devices in the world can not offset the nut at the wheel. —Dallas News

Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District News

DISTRICT SUPERVISORS

J. W. Hess, Muenster V. W. Redman, Saint Jo
John Rice, Collinsville Ed Blackmon, Bowie
Willard Kemplin, Valley View

It seems that summer has finally arrived in the Muenster area and the fields are getting dry enough so that plowing can be started to prepare the land for fall seeded crops. Some of the cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are taking advantage of this dry period to get terrace lines marked off and construction started on terraces that will protect their fields from further soil and water losses.

A diversion terrace has been staked for Charlie Clayton that will serve a dual role. The diversion will keep water from a pasture hillside from washing across the field and will also add more water to the recently built stock pond on the Clayton farm.

Gary Hess is using farm equipment and the island method of terrace construction to build nearly a mile of terraces. The terraces will empty onto the waterway that was sodded to Bermuda grass last year. The waterway has a good cover of grass and will safely dispose of the terrace run-off.

Bill Lutkenhaus is also using farm machinery to construct two terraces that will give added protection to his field. Bill used his tractor and plow to build a diversion terrace to cut the hill water off of his field last year. The terraces empty onto pasture sod.

Dick Harris of Tyler Bluff is constructing one-half mile of terraces to protect one of his bottomland fields from further soil erosion.

The short dry period has also aided farmers in their related clover seed harvest. The beating rains have teamed up with some very clover-hungry grass hoppers to deprive the farmer of most of his clover seed, but there is still some seed being harvested. C. C. White of Hood has combined approximately 1500 pounds of Madrid sweet clover seed. Joe Magee and Bill Otto have also completed their harvest of Madrid and Alfred Sicking has already harvested his crop of Biennial White sweet clover.

DHIA Top Producers Include Sicking and Paul Fisher Herds

High producing herds in the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association include Thomas Sicking's cows in second place and Paul Fisher's in third place. Top producers for the month were the cows belonging to Henry Frasher of Gainesville.

John Hoffman, technician for the association, released the regular monthly production bulletin last Wednesday.

Summary for the month: 12 member herds tested; number of cows in milk, 244; number of cows dry, 44; number of cows producing 40 pounds of butterfat or over, 45; average pounds of milk per cow, 620; average pounds of butterfat per cow, 25.

Thomas Sicking's 28 cows came in for second place with an average of 750 pounds of milk with a test of 4.3, and a B. F. content of 32. Fisher's 22 cows averaged 660 pounds of milk testing 4.5 and having a B. F. content of 30.

Four Muenster members owned 17 cows producing 40 pounds of B. F. or over as follows:

C. A. Fisher, 1, 44. Paul Fisher, 8, 44 to 46. J. W. Fleitman, 1, 44. Thomas Sicking, 7, 40 to 57.

HARE-SPLITTING ACCURACY—Harvest time means hunting time for members of the South Downs archery club in Brighton, England. In an effort to check the rabbit pest, the skilled archers bring bows, arrows and steady hands to the outlying farms where they take up strategic posts. When the reaper passes, the rabbits run, and the bows go "Twang!"

to late model vehicles.

The Frank Buck Memorial zoo in Fair Park will be dedicated the same day, and a bronze plaque bearing the likeness of the late Gainesville native will be unveiled with members of the famous "bring 'em back alive" hunter's family in attendance. The zoo has recently been expanded to accommodate a number of additional animals which are to be exhibited for the first time on opening day Sept. 4.

Carnival midway will feature the Bill Hames Shows all week, and County Agent B. T. Haws says there will be strong competition for awards in the beef and dairy cattle, sheep, hog, poultry, field crops and women's home economics divisions of the fair.

Gainesville's growth has been divided into six periods during the century. Gainesville was a tiny village of less than 100 souls until the John Butterfield stage route from St. Louis to San Francisco, established a stop here, one of three on the 600-mile route through Texas, in 1858. The town boomed and was the mail call for cattle drivers on the Chisholm and other cattle trails.

The eventual decline of the cattle boom caused civic leaders to encourage farming, with German colonists being moved in from midwestern states, causing large landowners to cut their ranches into farms. Cooke county soon became known as the "banner agricultural county of Texas."

Lack of soil conservation knowledge and practices led to an agricultural decline, and the bringing in of the county's first oil well near Callisburg in 1924 caused people to lose further interest in farming and think of oil development. Today 45 percent of all taxable values of Cooke county are in oil properties.

With an economy based on farming, ranching and oil, the post-World War II period has led to a new era of prosperity for Gainesville.

Building permits for the past three years have exceeded a half million dollars annually, postal receipts have been at a peacetime high, and several new man-

3 County Flocks End Egg Contest

Three Cooke county flocks of hens crossed the finish line at the end of last month—concluding a 10-month, statewide egg laying contest. The three flocks of 313 hens slowed down in the home stretch laying an average of 16.8 eggs each, 1.8 fewer than in June and 4.2 fewer than in May.

The 117-hen flock owned by Mrs. F. S. Piott of Gainesville led the county trio by laying 2,216 eggs, an average of 18.9 per hen. This flock was also first in June.

Placing second in both June and July were Meinrad Hesse's 86 hens averaging 18.7 per hen in July with 1,612 eggs. The birds averaged 21.1 in June.

The other flock competing to the end of the contest is that owned by Ted Neu of Gainesville. These 110 hens laid 1,431 eggs, an average of 13 per hen, in July. They averaged 14.5 in June.

Prize-winning owners of the state's best producing flocks in various size groups will be announced soon. The annual contest was sponsored by the Texas A&M College extension service.

Eleven flocks were entered in the contest when it opened last September in Cooke county.

Better Purpose

"Have you got a picture of yourself?"
"Yes, why?"
"Then let me use that mirror, I want to shave."

Manufacturing enterprises have swelled local payrolls.

During the past two years the city has also built a $100,000 swimming pool, a $45,000 municipal baseball park for the only Class B professional baseball team in a city of less than 12,000 population in the nation; and a $215,000 grammar school is nearing completion.

Gainesville also voted this year to return to the city manager form of government after a two-year return to the old aldermanic form.

"We've got a lot to celebrate on our 100th birthday," Mayor Henry Lynch said as he rubbed the heavy beard he is growing to advertise the historic spectacle.

HOLY NAME BOYS HEAR LEAGUE REPORT, DISCUSS LABOR DAY OBSERVANCE

Plans for their Labor Day observance, and a report on the meeting of the Catholic State League held recently at Lindsay furnished a full night's program for members of the Holy Name Society Monday.

Delegate Jerry Fuhrmann gave an excellent detailed report on the convention proceedings and Father Andrew lead a discussion of plans for the Labor Day program. The young men and young women of the parish will sponsor the observance which features a picnic at the City Park on Sunday, the third, and a dance in the K of C hall on Monday, the fourth.

On the spiritual side, President Teddy Gremminger, in a brief address encouraged members of the Society to receive Holy Communion on the First Saturday of each month in a body and to spend some time in meditation on the mysteries of the rosary.

Lynette Walterscheid spent the past week in Dallas with her aunt, Clara Richter.

Just like the market, our prices rise and fall. BUT . . .

They are usually higher than the market

On an average we have 7 or 8 big packer buyers at every sale. They want your stock and they are ready to bid high for it. That's why our price level is almost always above the market quotation.

Last Saturday, in spite of falling prices, we had one of our best sales. More and more sellers are realizing that their best livestock market is here in Muenster.

Ultimate in Human Welfare

If men are not creatures of soul, as well as of body, they are not better than the field mule, harnessed to the plow, whipped and goaded to work, cared for in the measure of his cost and value. But too often, today, we incline to describe the ultimate in human welfare as a mule's sort of heaven—a tight roof overhead, plenty of food, a minimum of work and no worries or responsibilities. If I doubted that man is something more than a mere educated animal I should personally be little concerned in the question of war or peace.

—General Dwight D. Eisenhower
ber will return to God and pray devoutly. Real or imaginary, that's a vision well worth praying for.

Another vision she said was too horrible for words and she declined to describe it, at least for the present. It was a preview of what to expect if humanity does not change its ways. Well, the description is hardly necessary anyway. We can imagine what to expect if Godlessness takes over the world. So again, real or imaginary, deliverance from such a vision is well worth praying for.

things are shaping up nowadays it seems that nothing short of Divine Intervention will be able to prevent a terrible world wide catastrophe. Human cussedness is getting more and more rampant. Big shots and little shots continue on their merry way in complete disregard of Divinely prescribed standards. Expediency and force have replaced principles. The game of life is getting rough because we have been playing it by our own rules instead of those laid down by the Creator.

With smug self justification many of us are inclined to point the accusing finger at Stalin, Hitler and a few others as the cause of this mess. But we'd better count our own faults too. When we consider that half our country's population profess no religion whatever and that quite a large percentage have little regard for the commandments, we should realize that we too have contributed to the trouble. The same applies to people in plenty of other nations.

Serious thought along that line lends greater credence to the genuineness of the Wisconsin apparition. If we believe in a kind and considerate God we can easily believe that He would employ such a means to offer helpful advice. We can easily believe also that if enough people are interested and follow His advice and seek His help He will employ some means to change the present course of events.

One of the apparitions related by Mrs. Van Hoof showed Christ parting the iron curtain and an immense multitude, with Stalin conspicuously in the foreground, all approaching Him from the other side. That, she said, is the promise if a sufficient num-
