Mrs. Sam Richey, Marysville Pioneer Passes August 18

Mrs. Sam Richey, a resident of the Marysville community for many years until 1945, passed away at her home in Gainesville Friday morning. She was 76 years old.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Methodist church with Rev. Cyrus Barcus, pastor, officiating, and burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Richey, the former Dorothea Johanna Marie Gimple, was born in Germany on June 16, 1874, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gimple, and came to the United States with them when she was 11 years old. The family settled at Malvern, Ark., and moved from there to Paris, Texas, when she was 17. She married Sam Richey in Lamar county on Oct. 14, 1892 and they moved to Marysville where they farmed. When they retired from active work five years ago they moved to Gainesville.

Surviving relatives are her husband; five sons, J. D., H. H., and J. H., of Muenster, W. F. of Saint Jo, and R. F. of Sivelles Bend; five daughters, Mmes. Bessie Gaston and Tom C. Binford of Gainesville, O. H. Dennis of Dallas, R. B. Clements of Bethany, Okla., and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs of route 3, Muenster; one sister, Mrs. Rudolph Guess of Kansas, and one brother, Ed Gimple of Paris; 23 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Large Group Pays Final Tribute to Mrs. Alex Murrell

One of the largest crowds that has ever gathered for a funeral service in Gainesville, was present Sunday afternoon at First Methodist church at 4 p.m., for last rites in tribute to the memory of Mrs. Gerry Murrell, 48, wife of Alex Murrell, 1202 Lindsay street, who succumbed to a lengthy illness Saturday at 1:30 a.m.

The altar was banked with a profusion of flowers, said by florists to be one of the largest floral offerings ever seen at a funeral service in Gainesville.

Back orders which florists were unable to fill because of lack of flowers, will provide fresh flowers for Mrs. Murrell's grave each week and for First Methodist church, for several months.

Mrs. V. C. Barcus played strains from "The Blue Danube," as the services opened, this being Mrs. Murrell's favorite number which was always played during her twilight act in the Community circus.

A lengthy procession moved from the church to Fairview cemetery, where Mrs. Murrell was buried beside her mother, Mrs. E. G. Finnie, who passed away in 1945.

She was born July 26, 1902, in Cooke county and was educated in Cooke county rural schools graduating with the class of 1922, and Gainesville high school. She was married to Mr. Murrell October 1, 1923, and the couple had resided in the Murrell home on Lindsay street.

She had been a member of the Methodist church since girlhood and for more than 20 years had taught a children's class in the Sunday school of First church. She was one of five original members of the Community circus, still active in the organization, started in 1930.

During world war II, she worked in the post office at Camp Howze by day, and served as a nurse's aid evenings. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Hobby Horse club, and the Tuesday Book club, and was southwestern representative of the Shetland Pony Journal.

At the time she became ill, she was in charge of the advertising department of The Daily Register. She had undergone two operations since the first of the year.

FORMAL CEREMONY DEDICATES WINDTHORST GRATITUDE SHRINE

Citizens of Windthorst, joined by clergy and other visitors from a wide area and soldiers from Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, gathered Tuesday morning to dedicate a shrine they built in gratitude to Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

Auxiliary Bishop A. Danglemayr of Dallas officiated at the ceremony and Rev. Francis Zimmerer, former pastor of the Windthorst church, who left to enter the chaplain's corps in 1943, delivered the dedicatory sermon.

The shrine was built as a memorial of thanks to the Blessed Virgin Mary because all 64 young men of St. Mary's parish who went off to war returned safely when the fighting was over.

Rev. John Mitchell of Henrietta celebrated the first mass in the grotto following the ceremony.

Among speakers were Rev. Patrick O'Neill, professor from St. Bernard's College in Alabama, who spent two summer months completing the grotto and shrine, and Rt. Rev. Edward Burgert, pastor of the parish.

The grotto, a half shell built of stone and concrete, is located in front of the church. Inside is a white marble statue of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, imported from Italy. The altar is built of granite from the Wichita Mountains.

After the ceremony ladies of the parish served dinner in the K of C hall.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder, Muenster pastor, Rev. Conrad Herda, Lindsay pastor, and Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel, Valley View pastor, were among members of the clergy present for the dedication.

Gainesville Buzzes With Big Plans for Centennial Party

GAINESVILLE, Tex. Aug. 18—Gainesville is busy these days with plans for the observance of its Centennial birthday, Sept. 4 through 6th.

More than 300 Gainesville citizens are working on committees, headed by Wayne Wallace, local theater manager to put on a show in Gainesville bigger and better than anything they have ever done before.

Known nationally for its Community Circus, Gainesville is lopping together elements of the circus, the county fair, and topping off with a 2-hour long historical pageant to out do itself this year.

The historical pageant, in which more than 500 of the Gainesville folks will be cast, will be performed on the local baseball field before an estimated 4500 people each of the three nights. Producing the pageant will be the John B. Rogers Co., producer of the Ft. Worth Fiesta and the recent Kansas City Centennial.

More than 15,000 personal letters have been sent out by Wallace to Texas and Oklahoma dignitaries, inviting them to Gainesville for the Celebration.

School Board Sells Valley Creek School

The old Valley Creek school, which has been a dead weight to the Muenster school district since the annexation a year ago was sold last Friday for $4500. The purchaser is Carl Lewis of Sherman who intends to salvage the useful materials.

Although the building's actual value is much higher the school board was pleased to accept $4500, which was the highest bid received since the building was offered for sale some months ago. It is too far away to be used and because of rock construction it was impractical to move. As long as it remained on the school board's hand it was nothing but an expense item. . . for insurance and repairs.

Clarice, Margaret Mary and Therese Schad of Gainesville visited here during the past week with their grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Horn.

Rev. Andrew Wewer Appointed Pastor Of Arkansas Parish

Rev. Andrew Wewer, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart church, since December 1, 1949, will leave next week to assume duties as pastor of the Morrison's Bluff, Ark., parish. Father Andrew came here from Corpus Christi College to replace Rev. John Walbe who left in November to enter a hospital and who has since become assistant in a Little Rock, Ark., parish.

Father Anthony Schroeder, stated Wednesday that he had no official word from his superiors as to who would be his assistant but that he expected such information soon.

Election Will Be Held in City Hall

A custom of many years standing will be broken Saturday when the North Muenster voting box will be held in the city hall instead of the old public school. Probably this is the first county-wide election not to be held in the school since it was built.

Election Judge Joe Luke announced the change this week after learning that furniture had been moved out of the building. He favored the city hall over the new school because it is more conveniently located for most voters.

For the benefit of rural voters who may not know the place, it is the first door north of Wiese Jewelry.

As usual, Luke said, polls will be open from 7 to 7 Saturday. The same applies to the South Muenster box which will be located in the Morrison elevator with Paul Fisher as election judge.

The ballot is a mere trifle as compared with that of the first primary. Voting will take only a jiffy, as long as it takes to cross off seven or eight candidates.

South box voters will vote on 5 state and 2 county offices and north box voters will get one additional vote. . . on the candidate for commissioner of Precinct 4.

News of Sick And Injured

Since last Thursday Mrs. R.M. Zipper is a patient at St. Vincent's hospital in Sherman for medical treatment.

Della Rose Fette daughter of the Joe Fettes, had her tonsils removed at the local clinic Tuesday.

Werner Cler was dismissed from veterans hospital in McKinney Saturday following treatment and surgery and is up and around since he is at home. He says many thanks to all who remembered him with cards and letters and other kindnesses while he was hospitalized.

Range Team Asked To Demonstrate at Ft. Worth Meeting

The Cooke county 4-H range management team, composed of Ray Luke of Muenster and Lee Wolf of Gainesville, has been invited to give its demonstration at the Texas Livestock Roundup in Fort Worth on November 2.

The team won first place in range demonstration competition at the state 4-H Roundup at College Station last June. County Agent B. T. Haws is the coach. The demonstration consists of showing illustrations and giving discussions of good practices and results in range management.

The Texas Livestock Roundup is sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Livestock interests in Fort Worth.

Gainesville Youths Crash Tuesday in Jake Horn's Plane

Two young men of Gainesville Donald Farr 22 and Jimmy Flowers 19, lost their lives and Jake Horn lost his airplane in a crash on the Stark ranch north of Gainesville about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

According to one witness who said that he saw the accident from a distance of about a mile, the pilot apparently lost control of the machine after making a loop. The plane came out of the loop in a spiral dive and plunged to the ground, he said. Fire broke out immediately after the crash completing the destruction of the plane and burning the bodies severely.

Horn's plane was a 2-place Piper Cub. It was not covered by insurance.

The youths leased it at the Gainesville airport about 15 minutes before the fatal accident. Unable to furnish a plane at the time, the airport management called Horn and arranged the lease for the two pilots.

Kitchen Shower for Benedictine Sisters Planned for Aug. 31

The customary community-wide pantry and kitchen shower for the local Benedictine Sisters will be held on Thursday, August 31, in the parish lunch room beginning at 2 o'clock. Members of the Saint Anne's Society, the sponsor group, planned the event at their meeting Sunday night and invite every lady in the community to attend.

In addition to food items such as canned goods and non perishable items, cash gifts are welcomed. The money will go into the Sisters' pantry and kitchen fund.

All attending are also reminded to bring a covered dish for a supper to be served after a social hour.

To avoid duplication of food the committee on refreshments has prepared a list of items for the meal, using the alphabet as a guide as follows: those whose surnames begin with A through E, cake or pie; F through I, potato salad; J through S, meats (chicken, ham, roast); T through V coffee; W through Z, salads and relishes.

Anyone desiring further information is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Joe Hoenig, president of the sponsor group.

The shower, combined with a social hour, also provides an opportunity for parents and teachers to get acquainted and for women of the community to visit with each other.

Football Players Will Be Insured Against Injuries

For the first time in the history of the community the football team this year will be insured against injuries. Coach Doyle Hood stated this week that he has secured a policy which will provide medical attention for injuries sustained in games or practice during the coming season. Thirty players will be insured under the policy.

To complete the deal each player must pass a physical exam. Accordingly Coach Hood asks that all players report to the public school Monday night, August 28.

PEP SQUAD NOTIFIED TO ASSEMBLE MONDAY FOR GROUP PICTURE

Muenster High girls who expect to be on the pep squad during the football season are expected to report at the school Monday night, Aug. 28.

The purpose of the pre-school meeting is to receive their uniforms and have a group picture taken. Coach Hood said this week. The picture is wanted early so that it can be included in football programs which will be printed in the near future.

Gossett Advises He'll Be Here for School Dedication

In spite of a crowded schedule demanded by urgent business in Washington, Representative Ed Gossett will be here Monday Sept. 4 to participate in the dedication ceremonies at the new public school building. In a telegram to Superintendent Weldon Cowan this week he confirmed his original acceptance made several months ago.

Cowan still has not learned definitely however, whether Governor Allan Shivers will accept a similar invitation. Some months ago he said he will attend if his schedule permits, but efforts to check this week revealed that the governor is on vacation until Sept. 1. Cowan expects to locate him and receive his answer within the next few days.

Other plans for the dedication ceremony are not complete. Cowan said it will begin at 10 and last about 2 hours.

August Competes For Wettest Month Record This Year

Traditionally dry August is getting wetter and wetter. With a total measure of 7.56, it is already crowding the year's record, and with more rain forecasted it stands a strong chance of being the wettest so far for 1950. Previous high marks are 7.71 in July and 7.64 in May.

Continued rain this week promoted the month to the really wet class. Starting about dawn Monday, it registered .10 by 7 o'clock. Continued rain until 9 added .29. Then clouds cleared, but came back Monday night and spilled .88 more.

Tuesday the story was the same. Continued rain after the 7 a.m. reading added .14 before skies cleared and a blustering rainstorm through the night amounted to 1.12.

Strong winds accompanied Tuesday night's rain. Reports reaching the Enterprise indicate that at least three trees were broken. . . at Joe Fisher's, Mrs. August Friske's and on the highway right-of-way west of town. Many trees had limbs broken off and some small buildings were blown over. No injuries or serious damages were reported.

Gratifying indeed is the news that American propaganda strategists are planning a campaign to counteract the barrage of hokey that has been spewing from Moscow for the past several years. If our nation ever expects to win the friendship and confidence of people in other parts of the world it had better start soon to convince them that we are not imperialistic war mongers as accused by the reds. . . and then go on to prove just who has been the arch-villain of world affairs.

It has been said that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Well, we've taken our liberty for granted and neglected to be alert to the subtle scheme which was intended to alienate us from the friendship of other nations and leave us standing alone at the time selected for our annihilation. We have been too self sufficient and independent. Drowning in our complacent assurance that we were okay anyway and not giving a hoot if other people were silly enough to believe kremlin concocted lies about us, we permitted the red smear campaign to go on and on until the greater part of the world was convinced that we are a gang of monsters.

In a feeble way we tried to do something about it. Congress appropriated funds for the Voice of America, which was intended to tell our story to the world. But it failed to notice that a clique of Benedict Arnolds in the State Department had engineered a double cross and broadcast a lot of stuff that did this country more harm than good. Like praising Wallace as the champion of the common man in America, and twisting news to leave the impression that screwball socialistic schemes are the only salvation for the country's slipping economy.

Is there any wonder that Russia has been so successful in its propaganda conquest? When our feeble and misguided efforts in many cases amounted to actual verification of the red line, what can anyone expect? Were it not for the fact that a few better informed people exist in those other countries we'd be the objects of even greater contempt and mistrust than we are.

Accordingly our gratification over the new policy to tell the world our side of the story must first be limited by one condition. Before cheering let's ask for assurance that the propaganda will be the real American story and not just a revised edition of the Voice of America broadcasts. Let's see that the world hears the truth. Send out a barrage of facts that will expose the Russian line as a pack of lies and re-establish confidence in our own aims and ideals.

The material is at hand in unlimited quantity. We can call on the world's common sense, for instance, to consider the facts of Korea and then decide who is the aggressor. We can tell them to compare the war machines of Russia and America and decide which is the war monger. . . or living conditions in the two countries and decide which has the better economic system. . . or the size and methods of police forces to determine which offers more freedom. . . or the trend of balloting to decide which has free elections. We can tell the daily story of UN proceedings to prove that Russia's delegate is guilty of deliberate falsehood every time he claims to strive for peace. We can prove by Russia's persistent and indiscriminate use of the veto power that it has no regard for other nations' wishes or rights. . . by the demonstrations of its hirelings everywhere that it is totally devoid of decency, justice, integrity, mercy or any other virtue known to man.

Of course it will take more than words to win this propaganda campaign. While telling the world we also have to show it. To be really effective we ought to unload some of the socialistic ballast from our ship of state and then proceed to give the world a first class exhibition of how things can be accomplished by free men operating (Continued on Page 10)

Progress In Medicine

A child living down the street from our house was ill with pneumonia. The infection had developed from a cold. The fever climbed and congestion appeared. But nobody in our neighborhood got excited, not even the parents. The doctor was called. Penicillin and one of the sulfonamides were administered. The doctor came away from the bedside cheerily confident. There was absolutely no cause for undue anxiety, he said. The father went back to work, the mother to her housework. Sisters and brothers went back to play.

The incident harkened memory to the occasion some 30 years ago when another child had fallen critically ill with pneumonia. Then our town was aroused. A specialist was rushed in from a distant city; oxygen equipment was flown from the State capital. There followed many anxious days for everyone who knew the family. The crisis came. The child died. In the 30 years since then the American medical profession has erected some remarkable milestones in life saving and health building.

Pneumonia Whipped

As the doctor drove away from our neighbor's house I hailed him down to discuss the miracle of this now commonplace victory over pneumonia. He said his young patient had bronchial pneumonia—the milder type—and would be completely free of infection within 48 hours. Then he said an amazing thing. He has a big practice and I happen to know he spends hours each week in public health clinic work and on charity calls, yet he said he'd not seen a single case of lobar (deep-seated) pneumonia in the past three years!

What had become of this one time major killer? Penicillin and the sulfas, now administered routinely in all upper respiratory infections, had done such a wonderful job, he said, the disease just never had a chance any more to get to the critical lobar region of the lungs. This doctor believes also that the general use of these great drugs has killed off a lot of the pneumococcus organisms and rendered far less virulent the spores still alive.

Other Diseases Concerned

The stilling of the deathhand of pneumonia is but one of the many victories recorded in the recent past by American medicine—physicians, surgeons, nurses, researchers and pharmaceutical manufacturers. A baby born in America today has a life expectancy of nearly seventy years, at least fifteen more than could have been expected thirty years ago. Most of the major disease killers have been concerned and rendered far less potent by our medical men, and surgery has advanced to almost unbelievable capabilities.

Local and state medical societies, working with hospitals, businesses, industries and citizens, are constantly expanding insurance plans which bring good hospitalization, medical and surgical services within the reach of most Americans. By next January approximately 75,000,000 will be covered by plans which pay an average of 80 per cent of hospital expenses; 40,000,000 will be enrolled in plans which pay the major portion of surgical fees, and about 25,000,000 will be enrolled in year-round medical care plans.

Voluntary vs Compulsory

For the price of a package of cigarettes a day, any American family can be free from worry over financial difficulties arising from illness. An example of what industry and a great many businesses are doing in co-operation with their employees and the medical profession is Bethlehem Steel's program which provides 70 days full hospital care for its 125,000 employees and their families—at a cost of $2.95 per month, half paid by the company, half by the employee.

In spite of the rapid, wholesome growth of such voluntary medical care plans and the magnificent progress made by our medical profession in its battle against the major disease killers, there are a few people who wish to establish a politically-controlled compulsory health program and socialize the profession of medicine. Their spokesmen use the same lure used by England's Socialists. The English people got "free" medicine—and, to boot, a taxheavy, freedom-crushing, stagnating Socialist "austerity" that has reduced the nation virtually to beggary.

Just 3 Minutes

Reader's Digest recently published a little item by Don Wharton called "It Could Happen Here," which said: "When a patient enters a certain doctor's office in North Carolina and sits down for a consultation, the physician unobtrusively reaches across his desk to a three-minute hourglass. Without a word, he turns it over and starts the sand running. The consultation proceeds as usual—not a word about the hourglass until all the sand has run into the lower half. Then the doctor points at it and says: 'Three minutes. If we had socialized medicine your time would be up. In England today three minutes is all the time a doctor can give to the average call. Just three minutes.'"

Socialized medicine is mass-production medicine. Each doctor is given a panel of patients, and it is so large in number that it is impossible for him to take the time needed for careful diagnosis and treatment. The fact that the service is "free", leads many patients to call on the doctor whether they need attention or not, on the theory that they might as well get what is coming to them. So more time is unnecessarily consumed—and the patient who is really ill is given quick, inferior service.

Moreover, overworked doctors have no time for study and research. Their education becomes static. Practice becomes routine and mechanical. Preventive medicine is given less and less attention. And so, inevitably, the standards of health deteriorate. We don't keep on the alert and Yes, it can happen here— if stop it.

CHRISTIANITY AND CAPITALISM

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

Many times I have been asked if I believe private, competitive enterprise is compatible with Christianity. My answer has always been, "Yes." How did I arrive at this conclusion? Many things convince me that private enterprise is compatible with capitalism.

To begin with, man is placed here on earth with a somewhat higher status than that of a mere animal; he is given freedom of choice. God never forced man to accept God. The thing distinguishing him from the animal, that makes him a little bit lower than angels, and qualifies him to become the Son of God, is the fact that he is given freedom to choose for himself. He may choose to worship. He may choose not to worship. And whichever he does, he accepts the consequences of the choice that he makes. The same thing applies to his life under capitalism.

Again, under both Christianity and capitalism, we find man is entitled to enjoy the fruits of his labor. This is emphasized in the Master's teaching. The 25th Chapter of Matthew and other passages of the Bible make this perfectly clear. The laborer is worthy of his hire and he is entitled to enjoy the fruits of that work. So private property is endorsed under both systems; under both a man may actually own things.

Along with that ownership goes a responsibility, stewardship. A man can use his freedom and property rightly or wrongly, and take the consequences. Under Christianity it is made perfectly clear that he is given a stewardship. He is accountable to someone for the way in which he uses the gifts he was given—his abilities, powers and the materials that we call natural resources.

Under the capitalistic system, the individual is likewise responsible for the way in which he uses that which is his. If he uses it rightly he is let alone, but if he uses it wrongly he is subject to punishment.

In the case of Christianity, we have a God whose laws are immutable, unchanging. We may have different notions as to these laws, because God has not completely revealed Himself for human understanding. But it is God who metes out justice and who later metes out mercy and understanding. He does not, however, do away with justice completely, even in the interests of mercy. A God who denied justice would be unmerciful to those to whom justice was denied, even though it might look like mercy to the offenders. The Christian recognizes both justice and mercy, and the justice is acquired or provided for through the power of a Supreme Being.

On the other hand, under our economic system we secure that justice or order from government, under which we establish the kind of conditions which make it safe for people to exercise their freedom without destroying that of other people. But behind that there must be a sanction and the sanction that is recognized behind the capitalistic system itself is God.

Perhaps you may raise your eyebrows at an economist recognizing God as the final sanction behind the laws governing economics. I do know that the process of economics is governed by competition, by operation of natural laws, and that somewhere there is a Power who sees that right is finally done. One has only to read enough history to know that invariably our sins catch up with us.

On the common basis of freedom of choice, the recognition of private property and contract, the recognition of an ultimate Power or sanction to enforce justice and maintain order, Christianity and capitalism are thoroughly compatible. Both recognize the same fundamental principles.

IT'S TIME for BROOKS! Because...

Something must be done now about the runaway cost of our state government—a cost which has increased more than 500 percent in the period between 1935 and 1950. Aside from the cost of World War II, the cost of the Federal government did not increase that much during the same period.

With the State plunging wildly towards a financial crisis, the Lt. Governorship is a business rather than a political office. It needs a business man with a business viewpoint.

Only by the election of a business man can the people of Texas be assured of a direct and vigorous attack on this runaway cost, useless waste, and needless extravagance in our State government.

Only a business man who has not been a part of the system which spawned this era of waste and extravagance can give the problem that searching inquiry and impartial analysis needed now. Pierce Brooks is that man.

The next Lt. Governor of Texas should be above any internal friction, beyond all cross currents of politics, and completely judicial when clashes of personalities arise among members of the Senate. He must be in a position to treat them all alike, to be fair to each, and also to be true to his obligations to the people. Pierce Brooks meets these tests.

Pierce Brooks is the only candidate completely free from the entangling alliances, political obligations, cliques, clans and groups which grow up when men stay in office too long.

The Lt. Governor to be elected in 1950 should not come from the confused atmosphere of the State government, but direct from the people with a program for the people. Pierce Brooks is such a man.

In these crucial times the next Lieutenant Governor should be answerable to the people of the State and not to any group of special interests that has made millions of dollars off the taxpayers.

Healthful Send-off Assures Better and Happier Schoolwork

AUSTIN.—Parents, has your child had a physical examination this summer? Next month he will be starting to school, and if he is in good health he will have a happier, more profitable year. It's up to YOU to give HIM a healthful send-off, says Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

After he has his check-up by the family doctor, be sure to take him to the family dentist. Teeth are mighty important, and decayed ones often cause a heap of trouble. They may start infection in other parts of the body. Strong, healthy teeth add attractiveness to appearance and personality. Help your child to grow up with good teeth. . . see that he has a dental examination twice a year.

Sometimes children need glasses and their parents don't realize it. An examination by an eye specialist is important. A child who needs glasses, if taken to an eye physician now, will have time to get used to them before school.

When children are grouped together in a classroom, they expose each other to communicable diseases. Has your child been immunized against diphtheria and smallpox? Does he know he should use only his own drinking glass? Does he know he should avoid boys and girls who are victims of colds? Do you keep your child at home when he shows signs of a cold?

Plenty of exercise and recreation, the right kinds of foods daily, and 12 hours of sleep a night, are necessary for a child of elementary school age.

Get your child an appointment for a check-up. . . the first day of school is not far away!

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER HONORS BETTY WALTER

Miss Betty Walter, bride elect of Edward Sicking, was honored guests at a party and miscellaneous shower last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Ray Klement with Miss Rose Sicking as co-hostess.

Decorations in the party rooms carried out the bridal theme and the refreshment table held as a centerpiece a doll dressed as a bride. Shower gifts were grouped around a varicolored bouquet on the gift table.

After the honoree opened and displayed her gifts the hostesses served refreshments to 25 guests.

The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville, will be married to Mr. Sicking, in St. Mary's church at Gainesville on August 31.

Wife (angrily): "And I suppose you expect me to believe that you came straight home from the office?"

Husband: "Sure did; just like the crow flies."
Wife: "Yes, so I see; stopping frequently for a little corn."

ST. ANNE SOCIETY TO HELP CYO AT LABOR DAY PICNIC

Members of the Saint Anne's Society, meeting Sunday night, agreed to assist the local youth societies in sponsoring their annual Labor Day observance on Sept. 3, by helping in the sandwich stand. A committee volunteered to meet with officials of the CYO group to complete their plans.

Other business at the meeting, at which Mrs. Joe Hoenig, president, presided, consisted of further discussion in regard to a day of recollection for women of the parish, and plans to prepare and served breakfast next Sunday for members of the Saint Joseph's Society following the 8 o'clock mass.

Members also planned the customary pantry shower for the local Benedictine Sisters and set the date for Thursday, Aug. 31.

Convention Report

An added feature of the session was a report by Mrs. H. J. Fuhrmann on the recent Catholic State League convention at Lindsay. Her excellent report covered the entire three-day meeting with special details on the sessions of the Women's section.

Rev. Fathers Anthony and Andrew, who were special guests at the meeting were presented with quilts as a token of appreciation for their interest and help in the activities of the society. The quilts were made by the Mission Sewing Circle and were presented by Mrs. Ben Hellman.

Mrs. Albert Hess won the attendance prize, a plastic holy water font. About 50 members were present.

Texas is Political Stepchild Because Of 1-Party System

DALLAS.—Ralph W. Currie, Republican nominee for governor of Texas, predicted Tuesday that the state will always remain a political stepchild under its current one party system.

Currie, in an address before a Dallas civic luncheon group, said that neither Democratic nor Republican national party leaders appreciated Texas because of its tight laced party lines.

The GOP candidate for governor declared that although Texas ranks sixth in the electoral college strength, "She is ignored by major parties. One because she is 'in the bag.' The other because she is hopeless."

He added, "that state of affairs would evaporate like the dew before the morning sun if Texas but once began to assert herself."

Business Leader With Great War Record Tells How Hadacol Has Rebuilt Him Physically

Was run-down, weak, after service in South Pacific due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin

Mr. Donald Hedburg, who resides at 1812 Parker in the fashionable Riverside District of Wichita, Kansas, has been an up-and-coming executive member of the staff of the great Wichita Eagle newspaper for over four years.

Mr. Hedburg has an enviable record of combat with the U. S. Army in the South Pacific in World War II. He is very active in civic affairs. And just as he was anxious to pitch in and do a job during the war—he now wants to help his fellow citizens who (like he was once), are physically run-down and weak due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin in their systems.

Here is Donald W. Hedburg's witnessed statement: "When I returned from service, I faced the problem of rebuilding myself physically. I was in a general run-down condition.

"In my present capacity of advertising salesman for Kansas' greatest newspaper, The Wichita Eagle, it's absolutely necessary that I have plenty of vitality—'get up and go.' I had real cause to worry. Nothing seemed to rebuild me constitutionally. Then a friend of mine on the national staff told me about HADACOL—he asked me to try at least five bottles. I'm on my fourth bottle and already I feel like my old self. I look forward to a day's work and go home—play with the children—work in the yard—fish until midnight! Thanks again to HADACOL, energy and vitality once again course through every fiber of my body. You bet, I too, am now a missionary for this great new HADACOL."

Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin—but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to help maintain good health and physical fitness.

If you are a victim of neuritis, pains, certain stomach and nervous disturbances, constipation, insomnia or a weak, run-down condition due to such deficiencies, HADACOL will start you on the road to feeling better often within a few days. Thousands upon thousands of records of grateful men, women and children proved this to be so.

Many Doctors Recommend It

HADACOL is recommended by many doctors not only to their patients but to members of their own families who have such deficiencies. Before giving up hope—you owe it to yourself to at least give HADACOL a chance to help you. Why keep dragging yourself around feeling "half-alive" when it's so easy to have that wonderful HADACOL feeling that everyone is talking about! Trial-size bottle, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes.

that city Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nieball and son, Billy, joined by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nieball and daughter, Patsy of Dallas, went to Odessa for the ceremony.

He was said to be recovering satisfactorily when his parents left Tuesday but will remain in the hospital at least a week; after that he will be confined to bed for six weeks. His wife remained with him but their little daughter accompanied her grandparents to Muenster for a visit.

Guests in the Needham home Thursday were Weldon and Ralph Woodruff of Secora, N.M., who are visiting relatives in Cooke county while on a vacation trip.

under the free enterprise system.

Incidentally, that suggests another propaganda campaign that might very well be waged here at home. Perhaps Americans would show more concern and make greater effort in the current crisis if they were told bluntly just what the score is. A barrage of truth would be far better for the public morale than the misleading assurances, or silence in the face of national danger, that have characterized Washington politics for the past several years. Americans are bewildered and they have a right to be set right. They resent Washington's blunders of omission and commission and they resent having their future security entrusted to leaders who have already demonstrated their incompetency.

It has been said that if a lie is big enough it will be believed. Hitler said so. Stalin still says it. But we know better. Lies cannot withstand the constant bombardment of truth. Our only trouble in the past is that we did not spread enough of the truth.

So let's have the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. It's a weapon more potent than our atomic bomb. That's why the Kremlin is trying so hard to outlaw it... along with the atomic bomb.
