

In business they say the best way to deal with a hot competitive salesman is to hire him. From one of the reports released in Washington last week it seems that the same principal applies to politics.

Relative to the current discussion over a proposed UN military force for Europe, the administration apparently would be pleased to turn the command over to Ike Eisenhower.

Normally we would be inclined to cheer over this recommendation. As a man of unquestioned integrity and ability, Ike would certainly be well qualified for the job, probably better qualified than any other that could be found.

But in view of other circumstances we are inclined to consider the proposal more as political strategy than anything else. It is generally conceded that Ike on the 1952 Republican ticket would have a fair chance of becoming our next president. Naturally the Democratic don't want him in the race and they would feel much more comfortable if they succeeded in tying him down with some other big job.

Yours truly for one hopes that General Ike will pass up that offer and save himself for the office that millions of Americans want him to occupy. As things stand now all he has to do is give the nod and he's practically a cinch for the GOP choice . . . and the nation's choice. He hasn't agreed to run yet, but there has been more than a little talk to the effect that he is available if sufficient public support lines up on his side.

If such talk is reliable it is by far the brightest ray of hope in this nation's future. Eisenhower is the nation's best prospect as a political and economic savior to lead this country out of the chaos into which it has been drifting.

His convictions are made up of the kind of ideals which made this nation great. He believes with our forefathers that individual opportunity rather than Washington-provided security is the way to real human welfare. He believes in sound financial standards rather than deficit spending. He believes in the greatest possible degree of personal liberty, along with corresponding personal responsibility, rather than present policy of official regulation and pampering.

Along with all that he seems to have a more realistic understanding of subversive elements in and out of politics, and seems much less inclined to dismiss shocking cases of communist activity as mere red herrings. Aside from his own personal convictions in the matter, there is also the very distinct advantage of not being obligated to the left wing fringe for political support.

There are good and practical reasons why we have been shocked by the administration's handling of communist exposures in recent years. The pink fringe has given valuable support to the administration, so it has been expedient for the administration to show all possible favors to the pink fringe. The only trouble is that while certain persons in the administration thought they were using the pinks to their own advantage the facts have revealed that the pinks used the administration.

Well, it is a known fact that communists and socialists will not support General Ike. He will owe them no gratitude in the first place, and judging from his brand of thinking we can safely assume that he will grant them no quarter.

This isn't intended to imply that Eisenhower is the only man who would make us a good president. There are quite a number whose principles coincide very closely with his and probably would do as well in the executive office. But how many of them could win? That's the big problem.

That's why yours truly believes that General Ike should by all means save himself for the big race of 1952. He's the right kind of guy and popular besides. He's the nation's best bet to defeat

City Gets Grader For Street Work

Beginning in the near future the City of Muenster will settle down to a systematic street improvement and maintenance program.

A used maintainer recently purchased is due to be delivered some time this week and a truck load of concrete culvert sections has just been received.

The city's plan, according to Steve Moster is to use the concrete to replace wood construction in all future bridge work.

The same plan applies to the use of the maintainer. As bad spots can be reached the city intends to make improvements which will eliminate future troubles. Most of that will be accomplished by cutting deeper drainage ditches and building up the road bed where water now floods the street surface.

The maintainer offers an advantage also in regular street maintaining work. Hereafter the city can do the job when working conditions are best instead of waiting until precinct machinery is available. An earlier plan to soak streets ahead of the machine was abandoned because of the expense.

Hesse Brothers to Compete in Dallas Fair Turkey Show

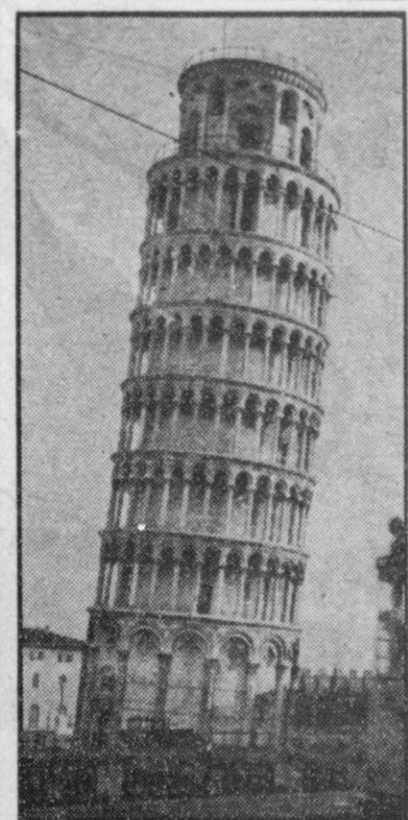

Among exhibits at the State Fair poultry show this year will be 20 turkeys entered by two Muenster 4-H Club boys, Paul and Thomas Hesse. Each will exhibit 10 birds, 5 toms and 5 hens.

According to County Agent B. T. Haws, who assisted the boys in entering the turkeys, the birds will be taken to the fair on Oct. 6 and judged on Oct. 7. After that they will be sold at the regular State Fair Turkey sale.

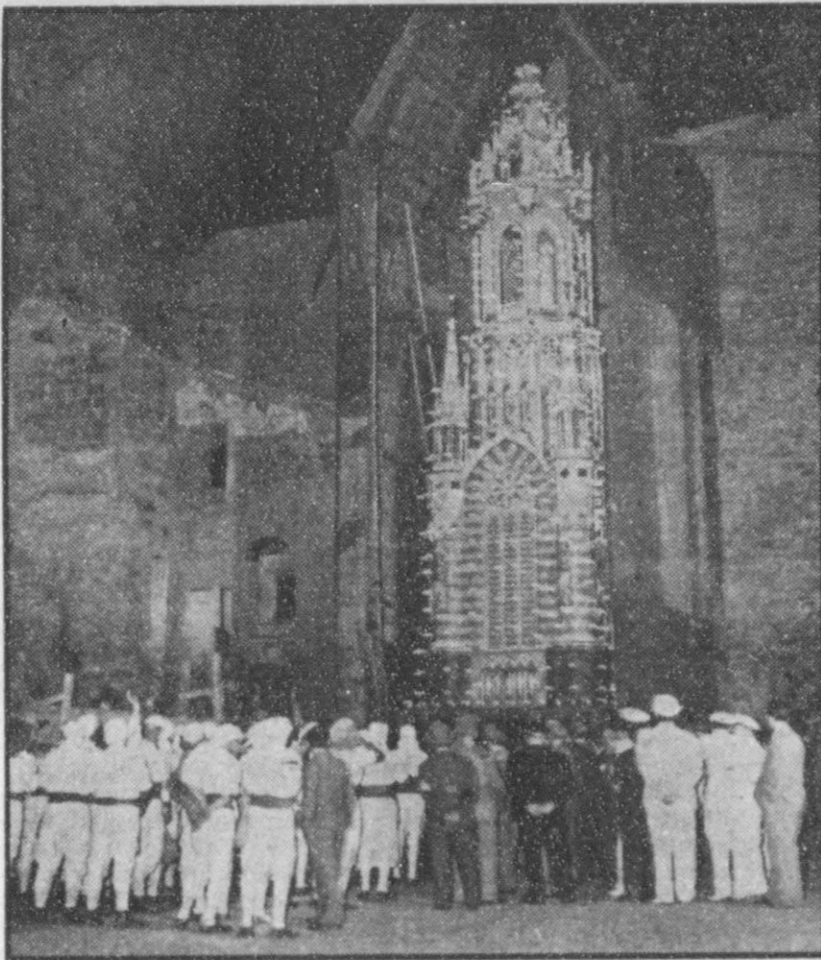

In entering statewide competition the brothers are seeking new and greater honors for the flock which has already won two blue ribbons in the Cooke County fair. The two winners in that show however will not go to Dallas. They were sold at the sale following the county poultry show.

The brothers can boast another fine record with their flock, County Agent Haws said. Of the 35 poulters originally received from the Muenster Hatchery they raised 32.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Otto of Wichita Falls attended the Valley View picnic Sunday and enroute home stopped here to visit the J. H. Ottos.

GROUND - BOUND? — The Italian government has appointed a special commission to save the world-famous Leaning Tower of Pisa, now tilting at an alarming rate as a result of the action of underground water upon the landmark's foundation. Authorities fear that the 175-foot structure, which has been on creaky footing since 1298 A. D., will be known as the Topped Tower of Pisa unless the commission comes through with an 11th hour rescue plan.

COLORFUL PAGEANTRY — White-costumed men of Viterbo, Italy, prepare to carry the "macchina," a church-like structure containing a statue of St. Rosa and adorned with hundreds of lights, on the annual mile-long procession through the town. The saint has been honored each year since 1664 when Viterbo escaped a severe epidemic, presumably through her intercession.

Muenster Smashes Lightweight Era Gridders 31 to 6

The power of Muenster's driving Hornets was too much for Era's lightweight Gridders as the local boys outscored their visitors 31 to 6 in the season opener here Friday night.

Taking over after an Era fumble in the second play of the game, Coach Hood's proteges uncorked their offensive with a bang and marched 24 yards in 4 plays for their first marker in the opening minutes of the contest.

The superiority in that drive was evident during almost all of the game except on a few occasions when the Muenster system fouled up as a result of typical early-season miscues. Lack of coordination, poor passing, fumbles behind the scrimmage line, and infractions of the rules caused

Adults to Organize Homemaking Class

First call for adult homemaking classes is Tuesday night, Sept. 26, at 8 o'clock in the homemaking department of Muenster high school.

Announcing the classes this week, Miss Ruby Kelly extended an invitation to all ladies interested in metalcraft, leather tooling, upholstery, slip cover work and other home arts subjects.

Local Nine Trims Rosston Team 15-1

In their first game of the season with their old favorite opponents of Rosston, the Muenster baseball team went on a hitting spree here last Sunday and chalked up a 15 to 1 victory. Occupied with the T&O schedule until lately the local boys were not able to accept the Rosston challenge before. They will go to Rosston Sunday for a return game.

Mike Luke backed up to tight support had no trouble pitching the entire game. Casey Jones started for the visitors and Robert Felker relieved him.

Style Show Presents New Fall Fashions And Sewing Entries

Handsome well-made garments, attractive models, soft music and appropriate commentary, presented on a flower bedecked stage, combined to make the Charm Shop's sewing contest and style show an interesting and entertaining event. About 40 persons took part and some 300 witnessed the program in the school auditorium last Thursday night.

Judging, modeling and awarding of prizes took place in four sewing contests: one each for the senior and the junior members of the Future Homemakers of America classes and two for adults with one featuring pre-school age children's garments and the other presenting ladies' suits or dresses.

Mrs. Jesse Mitchell as commentator, introduced the model, gave information on the garment and filled in with clever ad libbing during the program. Miss Juanita Weinzapfel presented muted piano selections, the numbers being appropriate for the occasion at which the dresses might be worn.

Out of town judges selected winners of first, second and

More Rain

Another rain Tuesday boosted the moisture content of this super-saturated community by .51 inch and continued the delay of urgently needed farm work.

The shower brings Muenster's total rain measure for the month up to 4.64 and the year's measure to date to 43.19 inches, well above the average rainfall for a full year.

Elm-Red District To Sponsor Grass Judging Contest

Supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district, meeting on September 14, made plans for the district's annual grass judging contest. It will be an event of Sept. 30 in the New-some Daugherty Memorial High school in Gainesville beginning at 9 a.m.

Three counties in the district and 19 vocational agriculture departments have been invited to enter teams in the contest. Teams this year will be composed of four contestants each, and each VA department or county agent may enter only one team.

Contestants will be required to identify 50 plants and score them as annual or perennial; cool or warm season plants; climax decreaser, climax increaser or invader; and grazing value as good, fair or poor.

The three high teams and the three high individuals will receive awards. Teams and their coaches will be guests of the supervisors for a noon luncheon on the day of the contest, and for other program features.

Supervisors at the meeting were J. W. Hess, chairman and Ed Blackmon of Bowie, Willard Kemplin of Valley View, and John Rice of Sherman.

Hornets Face Hard Fight Here Friday With Whitesboro

Though confident that his Hornets will pull through with the top score, Coach Doyle Hood said this week that the boys will face a tough test when they play the Whitesboro Bearcats here Friday night.

He bases his estimate of Whitesboro's strength on the game with Saint Jo last week in which the Bearcats played the Panthers on even terms for the full 60 minutes but lost 7 to 0 on a fumble.

Though slightly lighter than the Muenster team the Whitesboro club is fast and relies to a great extent on passes, Hood said. Unless they have changed considerably in the past week they can be depended on for fast, open style of play.

Something else to expect is a fighting spirit to avenge the 26-12 defeat handed them by the Hornets here last year in one of the most thrilling and action-packed contests of the season. Statistics on first downs and total yardage favored the Bearcats in that game but Hornet defense in the crucial moments prevented the visitors from cashing in on their gains. With the memory of that game still in mind the Whitesboro boys will have plenty of incentive to cut loose with their best performance.

Muenster players likewise recall that they have no cinch and will have to turn in a powerful game to keep their record clean.

Coach Hood said Wednesday that all but two of his players are in fine condition for the game. Those two have minor injuries which will not keep them out of the lineup.

VFW Will Sponsor Park Dedication And Picnic Sunday

A big party sponsored by the Muenster VFW post next Sunday will dedicate the new city park and raise money for the park maintenance fund.

The benefit picnic is scheduled to begin about 11 o'clock and will be interrupted at 2 for the dedication ceremony. An added feature beginning at 8:15 is a free dance on the recently finished 40x80 concrete platform. The Hogan Brothers will play for it offering music for both square dances and regular dances.

Concessions will have a variety of games, hot dogs, iced drinks, and ice cream. Special for the kiddies is free peanuts.

In case of bad weather the picnic and dance will be transferred to the K of C hall.

Dedication of New Pilot Point Church To Be Held Sunday

Muenster's Sacred Heart Parish this week received a general invitation from Father Paul Charcut of Pilot Point to attend the dedication of the new St. Thomas Church next Sunday at 3. Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr will officiate at the service and Msgr. J. T. Gulczynski, rector of Sacred Heart Cathedral of Dallas, will give the dedicatory sermon.

The new church measures 118x42 and has a seating capacity of 475. It is built of brick and tile reinforced with steel. The marble altar and baptismal font were imported from Italy.

Original contract bids on the building and furnishings exceeded $125,000, so members of the parish decided to do the job themselves under the supervision of Father Charcut. They donated more than 2,400 days of work to the project assisting materially in holding the cost down to less than half of the original bid. The church is debt free.

Meeting Dates Set For 4-H Club Boys

The first week of each month will be meeting week for Muenster 4-H club boys during the present school year.

He will meet with the Lindsay club on first Thursdays at 9 a.m.

Others participating in the exhibit are Julius Hess and Henry Fleitman of Lindsay and Jerry McDaniel of Gainesville. Fleitman will enter two heifers and the other boys will enter one each.

B. T. Haws, county agent, stated this week that the animals will be entered on October 15 and remain on exhibit for one week before judging.

Nuptial Thursday Unites Rose Sicking And Alois Rohmer

Miss Rose Sicking, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sicking, and Alois Rohmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer, exchanged marriage vows Thursday morning, Sept. 21 in Sacred Heart church. Rev. Henry Felderhoff of Cleburne, uncle of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass at 8:30.

Anthony Luke, organist, presented the traditional wedding marches and remained at the organ to assist the church choir in rendering music for the mass.

Dahlias, marigolds and greenery decorated the altar before which the couple exchanged their vows and baskets of gladioli adorned the sanctuary.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white bridal satin designed with a fitted bodice topped with a sheer yoke studded with seed pearls. The long, fitted sleeves came to points over her hands and the extremely full skirt, worn over a hooped petticoat, extended into a cathedral length train. Her tiered finger tip length veil fell from a wreath of valley lilies, and she carried her flowers, and orchid and stephanotis, on top of a white prayer book. The book was borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed Sicking. For something old and blue she carried a rosary belonging to her mother. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Ray Klement attended her sister as matron of honor and Urban Rohmer was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Klement wore turquoise blue net over satin. The dress featured a moulded bodice, cap sleeves, and a full skirt over hoops. She carried burgundy mums and wore burgundy pom pom mums in her hair.

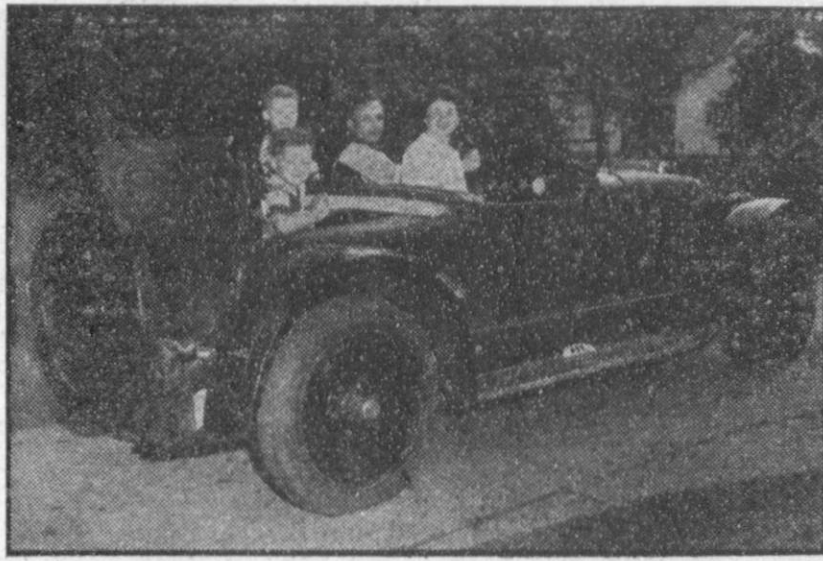

Mothers of the couple wore white carnation corsages with their costumes.

The wedding breakfast was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rohmer with Mrs. Rohmer and Mrs. Ben Voth as co-hostesses. The bride's colors of white and blue predominated in table appointments and in floral decorations used in the home.

In the afternoon an informal reception honored the couple in the home of the bride's parents where Miss Helen Hess registered more than 100 guests in the bride's book. A buffet supper at 5 and a dance in the K of C hall are concluding the day's festivities.

The bride's table was laid with white linen and was centered with a tiered wedding cake flanked with blue tapers. Summer flowers were used in decorating the Sicking home.

When Mr. and Mrs. Rohmer leave on their wedding trip Mrs. Rohmer will be wearing a brown gabardine suit with brown and chartreuse accessories and the orchid she carried at the wedding. After their return they will be at home in this city. He is in the oil well drilling business here. Both are natives of Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school. During World War II he served in the army for four and a half years and saw action in the European theatre for about 19 months with the corps of engineers.

GOOSE STILL HONKS—When Thomas Bowes bought an estate in Dundee, Ill., he received an unexpected dividend: a 1918 Willis-St. Clair "Grey Goose" roadster. Shown with his wife and two sons, Bowes pumped up the car's tires, boosted the battery and, without bothering to change the auto's original gasoline and oil, stepped on the starter. With a honk of delight, the "Grey Goose" rolled out of the garage for the first time in 22 years.

GIFT SHOWER HONORS BRIDE OF THIS WEEK

Complimenting Miss Rose Sicking, a bride of this week, Mmes. Arnold Rohmer, Ben Voth, Henry Spaeth and Ed Knauf, were co-hostesses for a party and miscellaneous gift shower in the Rohmer home Thursday night.

Gladioli and roses, along with other summer flowers, adorned the party rooms where the hostesses directed clever pencil and paper games and contests. Winners, Misses Helen Hess, Cecilia Sicking and Dorothy Rohmer, presented their awards to the honoree.

As the guests entered they placed their presents on the buffet which held a doll bride and carried out the bride's colors of blue and white. Miss Sicking received a corsage of red roses through courtesy of the Blossom Shop as she arrived.

The hostesses served delicious refreshment plates at the close of the party. Present from out of town was Mrs. Boyce Gordon, (Agnes Rohmer) of Collinsville.

Convention theme was "The Holy Year — of Great Return and Great Forgiveness". Rt. Rev. Msgr. W. J. Bender, moderator of the Dallas diocesan council, delivered the principal addresses on both days. "Morally speaking, these are the worst days since the deluge", he said in his Tuesday address. Most Rev. Bishop Joseph P. Lynch spoke at the noon luncheon Monday.

Mrs. Jack Wolf, president of the Dallas diocesan council, spoke at the opening session Monday, urging "not moaning but action", as advocated by the Holy Father in his Christmas address of 1942.

Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel of Valley View was one of the speakers at a social in St. Anne's club Monday night.

The K of C hall was convention headquarters and the program each day began with Mass. More than 200 delegates, along with other women from deaneries in the diocese, were present.

Mrs. Weinzapfel also attended a board meeting Sunday

Solon Cites Expense In Keeping President

WASHINGTON — It takes about $3,500,000 a year to keep President Truman and his family in the style befitting the head of the world's richest nation, Rep. Earl Wilson (Rep.) of Indiana, told his neighbors in Southern Indiana.

In a weekly newsletter, Wilson said that an American would have to have an annual income of $3,500,000 to live like the first family. He said the President's "take home" pay is $110,000 a year (after deducting taxes from the annual salary of $100,000 and adding tax-free expense allowance of $50,000 and travel and entertainment allowance of $40,000).

"All this, plus a personal staff of 225 people (drawing $1,000,000 of public money in salaries), plus a yacht, airplane and automobiles, plus a home in Florida, a wilderness ledge in Maryland, the Blair House and the White House ought to make life pretty cozy for the first family," Wilson said.

Hard Work

"Have you ever done a lick of work?" demanded the angry housewife of the tramp.

"Lady," he retorted, "if you think asking dames like you for a bite to eat ain't work you's don't know what work is."

Refreshment Center At Fair to Feature Gay Nineties Color

The Diamond Garter—a new refreshment center for quaffing and chaffing which will offer continuous entertainment—will be a feature of the 1950 State Fair of Texas Mid-Century Exposition, Oct. 7-22.

With the atmosphere of an oldtime music hall of the Gay Nineties, the Diamond Garter will present thrice nightly performances of "The Drunkard's Daughter," new but nostalgic comical preachment against sin and gin.

From the time the theater-restaurant opens at 11 a.m. until it closes around midnight, patrons will be entertained by singing waiters and handle-bar mustaches, piano players with a "backroom" touch and top talent doubling actors in the old-fashioned melodrama and as entertainers.

Located at the "top of the Midway," directly across from the sensational new Sky Wheels thrill ride, the spacious Diamond Garter will contain 400 tables accommodating 1600 patrons. From the 100-foot bar, sandwiches, soft drinks and other beverages will be served at reasonable prices.

KENTUCKIANS HONORED DURING VISIT HERE

During their stay here they were honored with a series of dinner parties and other social events in the homes of various relatives, and in addition two all-day family reunions were held in their honor. One, on Wednesday, was given at Katy

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
 President—Harding College
 Searcy, Arkansas

Some readers may have wondered from time to time why this column has so persistently warned of the danger of a prolonged practice of deficit financing (operating on borrowed money) by our Federal government. The reason is that runaway inflation is disastrous, and if there is a single economic law on which virtually all economists can agree it is the one that says government deficit spending inevitably brings on and feeds inflation.

In Asia, in the Orient, and in Europe I have had personal contact with the havoc wrought by inflation. For a number of years I've carried a $10,000 currency bill in my wallet. In 1936, when we left Hong Kong to return to America, this Chinese money would have bought a very nice home anywhere in the Orient. Today the $10,000 bill would be just enough to pay for one slice of bread.

It's Destructive

Inflation can be as destructive as defeat in war. Lenin, the father of international Communism, said: "We must force the United States to spend itself into destruction." In opening the nationwide Crusade for Freedom with a radio address early this month, General Eisenhower pondered the possibility that present Russian strategy may be calculated to force us into ruinous financial practices. Earl Browder, the Communist, says in his new book that Socialism is inevitable in the United States. He gives as the foremost reason "Government deficit financing."

In its full, runaway stage, inflation creates panic and sometimes anarchy results; but in its first, insidious stages it is not likely to generate alarm among the people. That's another reason this column has frequently pointed out the danger. Conditions which led to the French revolution were set into motion by the Finance Ministry's heavy deficit financing and resultant runaway inflation. Hitler's National Socialism took root in a post war Germany prostrated by currency inflation.

Loss: 50 Per Cent

The higher our national debt goes, due to government borrowing and deficit spending, the less value our dollars will have. The debt has been increased during 18 of the past 20 years. Today it amounts to $258 billion. The dollars in my billfold haven't shrunk in value like the $10,000 Chinese currency has, but just since 1940 they have lost nearly 50 per cent of their purchasing power. And the future income of our 150,000,000 citizens, young and old, is already mortgaged to the extent of $1,800 each by the national debt.

Besides being a danger to our national security, inflation is a hidden parasite feeding on the bank account, the savings, the insurance policy, the annuity, the pension. It hits everybody's earnings, everybody's savings, everybody's future plans. For instance, about $5 billion worth of Defense Bonds were bought by citizens in 1940 and this year they are redeemable. The bond bought for $75 in 1940 and now redeemable for $100 is now worth actually only $63. In 1940 dollars, inflation has robbed the purchaser of $25 interest and has eaten up $12 of the principal he invested 10 years ago.

"The Greatest Danger"

The 80 million Americans who own insurance policies are being highjacked by inflation every year the government spends more than it receives. More than $50 billion in savings bonds are owned by citizens and every day inflation continues their value is sapped. The average industrial wage was $23.86 in 1939. By May of this year it was $57.50, or an increase of $33.64. But inflation already had taken $23.40 worth of purchasing power from this increase.

People working to change our American way of life to Socialism or any other form of regimenting government gain head-

Hush Money

A Basic Example Of Federal Waste

A basic example of Federal extravagance is the handling of food and food surpluses. Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan has spent $75-million to buy up surplus potatoes in order to make them scarce and to keep prices high. He is now selling those potatoes back to the farmers for fertilizer or livestock feed at 1 cent per hundred pounds. In the meantime, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is buying potatoes for Korea in the open market for $2.95 per hundred pounds. The Department of Agriculture owns approximately 192,000,000 pounds of butter, and is accumulating more at the rate of about 9,000,000 pounds a week. This butter was purchased at 60 cents a pound. Some of it is spoiling and going to waste. However, in a four-week period, the Department of Defense purchased 4,131,022 pounds in the open market at 60.7 cents a pound. Mr. Brannan is the custodian of 80,000,000 pounds of cheese, acquired at 31 cents a pound. Mr. Johnson has bought 954,664 pounds at 34.8 cents a pound. Mr. Brannan is in possession of 321,000,000 dozen eggs which he bought at 32 cents a dozen, and now must dispose of. Yet, as Congressman Ralph W. Gwinn recently pointed out, Mr. Johnson will not buy from Mr. Brannan. He prefers to buy 4,910,350 dozen eggs at 40 cents a dozen in the open market. It is not surprising to learn, therefore, that way by encouraging deficit spending, inflation, constantly mounting national debt. Thomas Jefferson viewed public debt as "the greatest danger to be feared." He said, "We must make our choice between economy and liberty or profusion and servitude." Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch recently spotlighted the danger. "What could make people more dependent on government," he asked a Senate committee, "than inflation?"

during the past four weeks the Department of Defense has spent $6,000,000 on potatoes, butter, cheese, eggs, while in the meantime these same items are accumulating in embarrassing supply in the coffers of the Department of Agriculture to await eventual spoilage and destruction.

The reason for his gross extravagance and wanton waste is all too clear. Mr. Brannan has been buying up the so-called surpluses in order to create a false shortage and to assure thereby high market prices. Mr. Johnson's practice of buying in the open market runs prices still higher and assures the farmer of even greater profits. It is good politics, and Mr. Truman is deeply indebted to the mid-Western farm bloc for his unexpected victory two years ago. But the maneuver means that the taxpayer is nicked twice not to mention the outrageous price it is forcing him to pay for his own food in this day of plenty.

Sunday evening guests in the J. W. Fletcher home were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brisco, Nancy Stanford and Jack Fletcher, all of Wichita Falls.

For The Record

The following letter was addressed to Hon. Earl Wilson, Congressman from Indiana. He immediately had it placed in the Congressional Record where it appears on Page A2775.

Seymour, Indiana
March 25, 1950

Dear Mr. Wilson:

I am in the furniture business and am writing this letter to request that you obtain for me a subsidy on our platform rockers. We are now making about a thousand a year and are eager to step this production up to 50,000 as soon as possible. With so many people in this country getting rocking chair money, we feel that the market is unlimited for our product. Since you are voting money for potatoes, cotton, tobacco, railroads, aviation, and many other industries, I see no reason why we in the furniture business should be slighted.

Now, we would like a guaranteed price of $50 each for these rockers. In the event that we are unable to sell all of them, we will arrange to burn them right here at the factory rather than go to the expense of shipping them somewhere else to be destroyed. I notice that you paid $2.90 a bag for potatoes in Maine and then shipped them to Chicago, which raised the cost to $4 a bag, and then sold them to farmers for 1 cent a bag. That sort of thing is pretty expensive, so we will gladly arrange to destroy any surplus of our rockers right at the factory.

Please let me hear from you

Rheumatic Fever May Have Serious Effect on Heart

AUSTIN Texas, — While the specific cause of rheumatic fever has not been discovered, several factors associated with it and its onset and recurrence are now generally recognized, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

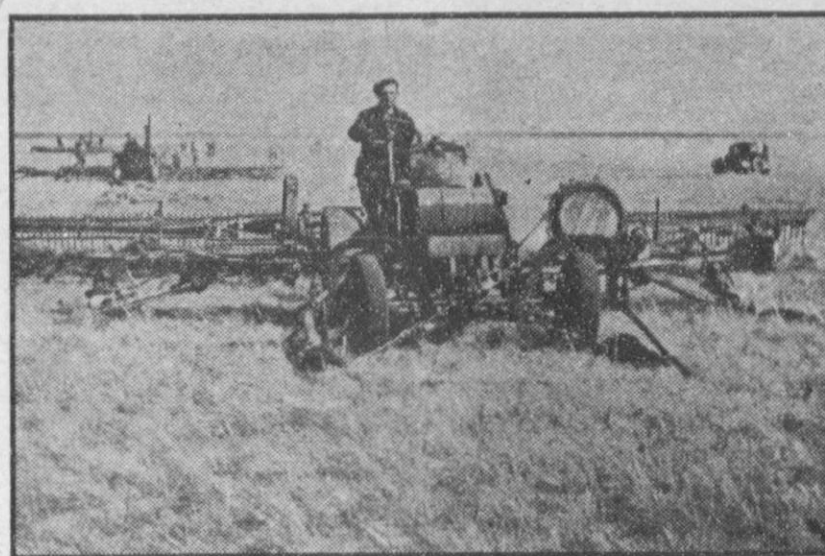

Rheumatic fever is serious because it may affect the heart. Age is important. Rheumatic fever usually begins in childhood at about 5 or 6, although adults may have it. There is a susceptibility to the disease which causes rheumatic fever to be more common in some families than others. The other factors which may favor its onset, combined with an individual's susceptibility, are frequent chilling, damp or over crowded living quarters and a poor diet.

The early signs and symptoms may be slight. Some of them, which may occur singly or in combination are: failure to gain weight, poor appetite, pallor, repeated nosebleeds, low persistent fever, and frequent complaints of pain in the arms, legs or abdomen. These symptoms do not necessarily mean that child has rheumatic fever, but they do indicate that he is below par and should be examined by a physician and his advice followed.

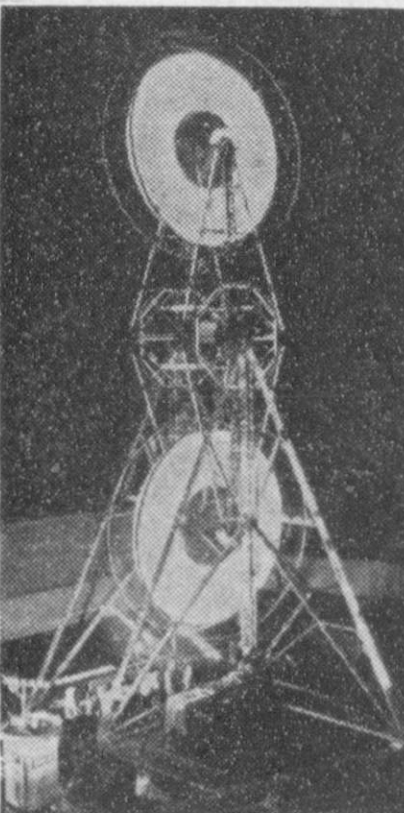

The more characteristic signs include painful, inflamed joints. The child may be irritable without good reason, cry easily, or develop other nervous habits.

It is vitally important to spare the heart unnecessary work for as long as the disease is active and for a period of convalescence afterwards. A child with rheumatic fever should remain in bed until, in the physician's opinion, it is safe for him to get up.

Some children recover from rheumatic fever without developing heart trouble, or the damage to the heart may be so slight that the child can live a normal life. In other cases, the child recovers from the acute attack but is left with an impaired heart.

THE RUSSIANS WORK FOR HAY—A photo released by an official Soviet agency reveals Russian farm workers harvesting hay in the Kherson region with self-propelled mowers. The farmers are members of the Kolkhoz, the common enterprise of collective farms. Their output, buildings and some of their equipment is the common socialist property of the Kolkhoz.

STATE FAIR FEATURE—The "Sky Wheels," futuristic new thrill ride, will be the Mid-Century Midway feature of the 1950 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22. Built at a cost of $135,000, the amazing device is actually two giant ferris wheels, towering one above the other, both majestically turning while the entire mechanism also revolves. At night, the brilliantly-lighted wheels make fantastic patterns of fire in the sky, as shown.

No Exception

The late columnist, Heywood Broun, was one of Manhattan's most notable trenchermen. He could put away more food than a blacksmith at a barbecue.

One day, at a favorite restaurant, the waiter handed Broun a lengthy menu and waited for his order. The big columnist perused with care the countless items listed, and, handing the bill of fare back to the waiter, genially exclaimed, "I see nothing to object to."

The colors in the Flag of Texas mean Courage (red) Purity and Liberty (white), and Loyalty (blue).

Texas highest county, judged by average elevation, is Jeff Davis, a little less than a mile above the sea level.

First Stop, Then Drive Slow Past Parked School Bus

Did you know that you are required to stop your car immediately before passing a school bus which is discharging children, if that bus is on a highway outside of a business or residence district? After having stopped, you may then proceed at a prudent speed not to exceed 10 miles per hour, until you are safely beyond the bus. This is required of you whether you are meeting or overtaking the school bus. This Law was passed in 1947 by the 50th. Texas Legislature as a part of the Uniform Act of Traffic Laws.

If you will notice, you will see in operation some of the approximately 6,000 school-buses which carry tens of thousands of Texas children to and from school every day. The Law stated in this Article is one of several which have to do with the operation of a motor vehicle in the vicinity of a school bus which is loading or discharging children.

Each year a number of accidents occur which usually involve a passing car and one of the children getting off of the bus. These accidents are of the most heart-breaking kind because they usually mean that some young, happy school child has either been killed or possibly maimed for life.

While working . . . most Dearborn Implements become almost literally a part of the Ford Tractor.

In spite of the weather conditions some of the farmers are preparing to start seeding vetch. Of course, they will have to limit the seeding to pastures or old needle grass fields that will be seeded later to various grasses.

A. F. Griffin is ready to overseed his bermuda grass pasture to vetch. This will give him good winter grazing and at the same time will add needed nitrogen to the soil. He also has his pasture overseeded with Lespedeza for a summer grazing legume.

Ralph Donnell of the Saint Jo soil conservation group intends to put out a mixture of two year clover and vetch on an old field area that was seeded to native grass last year.

Grady McElreath has just finished building a farm pond and R. M. Davidson is in the process of building one with a yardage of over four thousand yards. Davidson's pond has three springs feeding into it and in order not to harm his spillway he will use a draw down tube running through the dam to handle normal runoff water.

Harry Fisher is proud of his good crop of Chinese Red peas. They are a very good nitrogen fixing summer legume that in normal years can easily be put in after grain crops are harvested.

Price Hudspeth has just completed the development of a conservation plan on his ranch and signed a cooperative agreement with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. The plan is designed to maintain and increase a stand of desirable grasses by proper stocking and a six month deferred rotational grazing program.

The Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District has recently purchased a number of combination fertilizer-grain drills for use by cooperators of the district. The drill for the Muenster Work Unit area was delivered Tuesday and will be available for the seeding of winter cover crops. A small per acre rental fee will be charged for use of the drill. The drill puts fertilizer in the row with seed where it is readily available to the young plant.

Farm Living Costs Near All-Time High

WASHINGTON — The cost of being a farmer and living in rural U.S. areas is slowly edging toward the all-time high.

The Agriculture Department says that farm living costs are only 4 points off of the record high established in July 1948.

The parity index, the government's yardstick of rural living and production costs, presently is at 258 of the 1910-1914 base years. The record high is 262.

The index went up 7 points from July to August and indications—based on speeded-up military preparations—show it will go still higher before it thinks about easing off again.

Retail prices of food, clothing, shelter and transportation all are edging skyward. Not only did food prices rise in rural areas from July to August, but higher prices of fibers were reflected in upturns in prices farmers paid for clothing.

But while living costs continued their high ways, prices paid by farmers for most commodities used in production averaged out to about the same in August as they were in July.

Livestock premiums for the 1950 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22 total $72,659, largest in the history of the State Fair.

Sensational free acts by daring aerial performers will thrill visitors at 2 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. daily at the 1950 State Fair of Texas Mid-Century Exposition.

A PLANE COMES HOME— Lt. Leroy Mix of Oklahoma City, Okla., signals a plane returning from a mission over North Korea. ### What is The Answer?

The government has awarded a $286,000 contract for permanent visitors' facilities and exhibit building at Shasta Dam, California. The structure will contain an auditorium, observation decks and exhibit rooms. This is being done despite the fact that excellent accommodations now exist for those who wish to see the dam and the power plant.

This is just one minor example of the reckless waste of the taxpayers' money that is going on all over the country—in spite of deficits, in spite of the demand for higher taxes, and in spite of unpredictable expenditures for the military forces and for other purposes in connection with the international situation.

The most tragic part of it all is that political support and agitation for non-essential government spending does not seem to have abated one bit. This is particularly evident in the electric power field. The socialists in the government—much as they dislike that accurate label—are actually using the present crisis as an argument for going ahead with valley authorities throughout the country even though private enterprise has demonstrated that it can provide all the power we can use if given the opportunity. And it can do it without a nickel of tax subsidy and it will create important new sources of taxation while doing it.

On top of that, the advocates of the Brannan plan, compulsory health insurance, all-inclusive social security and the rest of the socialization program are still in full cry. No one can even estimate the cost of these schemes in billions of dollars.

The world may be in the gravest peril it has ever known. We need desperately to build our defenses in all ways—and one of those ways is rigorous state and Federal economy that will keep government out of any activity that can be handled by private enterprises. Governmental waste is always bad—at a time like this it is criminal.

It has been well asked, "Why are we fighting the Communists and at the same time setting up socialistic plans in this country?" The time is near when

Washington will have to answer. —Industrial News Review

Lindsay Boy's Hog Makes Record Gain

A two-and-one-half pound weight gain a day, for a Duroc boar has been accomplished by the owner, Robert Fuhrmann. Lindsay 4-H club boy. The pig won first place in a recent district Sears foundation contest, gained 221 pounds during an 86-day feeding period. One and a half pounds per day in feed lot is considered good, says H. W. (Dub) Schlittler, assistant county farm agent.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuhrmann, Robert saw his pig self-fed on shelled corn and a commercial protein supplement. A half-acre tract of alfalfa, available at all times, was also used. Robert feels that the alfalfa produced his swine feeding success. The alfalfa cut down feed costs and made the rapid rate of gain possible, he believes.

Robert received the pig last spring under the Sears foundation program.

A movie director was giving his final instructions for the filming of a jungle scene. Addressing the male lead, he said: "You tear through the jungle as if you were running for your life. This tiger here," and the director pointed toward a cage on the set, "will pursue you for exactly 300 feet. No more. Do you get that?"

"I do," nodded the actor dubiously, "but does the tiger?"

ed several of the drives to bog down, but on an average the boys justified Coach Hood's estimate that they would make a good showing. Alertness compensated to a great extent for the errors. They recovered every one of their own fumbles plus four of the Era fumbles.

Passes were feeble on both sides, and the advantage, if any, in that department was enjoyed by Era. Besides completing one of 8 attempts for a gain of 6 yards the visiting team intercepted 2 of Muenster's 6 attempts. Muenster completed no passes.

The home team's first counter came in a hurry as Damian Hellman romped 7 yards to pay dirt after Yosten and Walterscheid picked up 17 in 3 runs. Era's fumble on the 24 in the second play started the drive.

The next score came minutes later. Era kicked after failing to gain. Muenster started from Era's 39 and reached the goal in 5 plays, Walterscheid going over for the touchdown and Yosten accounting for most of the yardage on sprints for 20 and 9. The kick after this touchdown was the only successful try for extra point of the game.

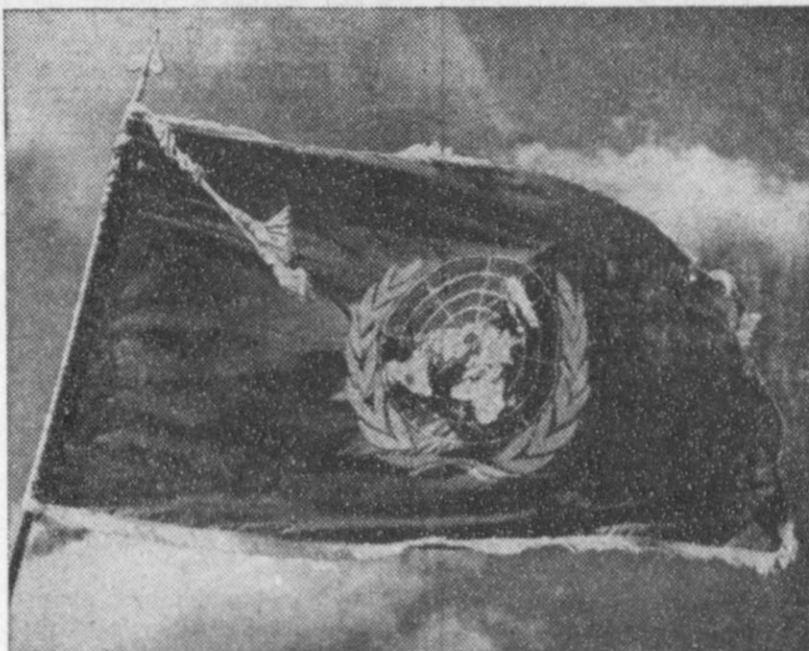

The second play of the second quarter Yosten dashed over for the third marker ending another 4-play drive for 25 yards after receiving Era's kick.

For the rest of the period Muenster made slow and erratic headway that ended just short of the goal as the half ended. Muenster recovered Era's fumble on the Muenster 47, lost the ball the next play on an interception on the 50, then recovered Era's fumble on the 50. Two first downs, mostly by Yosten reached the 15 but the drive bogged down and the ball went over on downs. After an exchange of kicks Era lost on downs on the 12 and Muenster's 2 plays before the whistle fell short of pay dirt.

The second half started like the first. Era received, fumbled on the second play and Muenster recovered on the 28. Runs by Hellman, Walterscheid and Yosten reached the 1 and Wylie went over on a quarterback sneak.

Era again failed to gain following the kickoff, booted the ball, and Muenster started its last scoring drive from the 48. Two short plunges and Yosten's 33 yard run reached the 12. Two plays netted 4 and Yosten went over from the 8.

Then came Era's turn. An inspired drive went 65 yards to the Muenster 14 before the ball went over on downs. Muenster made a first down but lost on an interception on the 45 Era kicked to Muenster on the 24. Muenster advanced to Era's 38 but after a penalty and a bad pass from center Era regained the ball on downs on Muenster's 25. From there Henderson and King did the heavy toting, Henderson going over for the visitors only score.

Most Car Crashes Blamed on Drivers Who Never Grew Up

HARRISBURG, Pa. — The Pennsylvania Medical Society blames most traffic accidents on drivers who "never grew up."

Marion Gleason, a research assistant at the University of Rochester, N.Y., pinpoints the types and their behavior patterns in the society's journal as follows:

1. The person who hasn't outgrown the childhood conviction that his wants come first. He wants the middle of the road, blows horns at intersections, and insists on double parking.
2. The person who was taught as a child to obey without thinking. He automatically obeys signals of other drivers regardless of the situation confronting him.
3. The pampered type. Frequently a well-groomed and charming woman who flutters her eyelashes at policemen when caught parked at a fire plug or when passing a red light. She ties up traffic and occasionally causes crashes.
4. This type was bullied by older brothers or sisters and is among the most dangerous drivers. He takes his resentments out by banging cars when parking, sideswiping others, and tearing madly down the highway.
5. The overprotected or dominated child. As soon as they get behind the wheel, they've got to take needless chances to prove their independence.
6. The child who got away with murder. Sometimes his me-first attitude leads him to committing highway homicide.
7. The child who had to settle for second-best. On the road he's got to prove to himself that his car is faster than any other.

Urban Rohmer, who will leave next Monday with a group of Cooke county inductees to begin training, was honor guest at a party given Tuesday night as a farewell tribute. For the party a group of about 30 young people from Muenster and Lindsay gathered at the Henry Voth home in Lindsay for dancing and refreshments.

Along with the prevailing opinion that the hoarder is a stinker, it is interesting to note that thinking churchmen regard him also as a sinner.

That opinion was presented quite forcibly last Sunday in the local Sacred Heart Church Bulletin which pointed out that hoarding is a sin and its malice is two-fold. The hoarder gives way to the vice of selfishness by providing for his own comfort without regard for the needs of others. Besides he injures society by indulging in a practice which forces up prices to the detriment of those who are not so well off as himself.

The article continues that hoarding is greedy, avaricious and covetous. The hoarder uses his wealth to buy in large quantities to the disadvantage of the poor fellow whose limited income forces him to buy by the day or week. He creates scarcity which results in higher prices which the poor man cannot pay. He violates justice and charity at the very time when he should be particularly considerate of his fellow man.

All of which seems to indicate that close relationship exists between economic and moral law. It goes back to the old principle that the Creator laid down the set of rules by which this world is to be run. By disregarding those rules we violate Divine Will as well as economic order. And that isn't just theory. It works out in practice.
