Notify Cowan if Child was Missed On School Census

If any school age child in the Muenster School District has not been enumerated in the 1952 scholastic census, its parents are urged to notify Superintendent Weldon Cowan at once.

Reporting on his progress in the census, Cowan said Tuesday that he expects to complete his calls on or before Thursday. In those calls he has accounted for every child on last year's report or now attending school locally. However, he still is not certain that he has accounted for all children on whom the district has no previous record. This applies especially to children who will have reached the age of six on or before Sept. 1, 1952.

If any such children have been overlooked, Cowan said, parents are urgently requested to notify him before the end of this month. It is important to have the list complete because state allotments to the district are made on the basis of scholastic population.

Whitt and Bayer Honored at Dallas Safety Conference

Three Cooke County residents, two of them from Muenster, received recognition for their safety programs at a meeting of the National Safety Council in Dallas-Jefferson Hotel Tuesday.

Billy Whitt, Muenster 4-H club boy, Martin Bayer, Muenster 4-H club leader, and Margaret Elkins, Downard-Fairplains 4-H club girl, were the three Cooke countians honored.

The two club members appeared on the program giving a safety demonstration consisting principally of first aid methods. Bayer received a safety certificate for his work in farm safety with 4-H club boys.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whitt, was a state and national winner in the 4-H farm safety contest in 1951. He was one of eight boys in the nation to receive a safety certificate from the Safety Council. It was presented at the Tuesday meeting.

County Agent B. T. Haws and Demonstration Agent Bernice Puckett accompanied the trio to Dallas.

"I AM A GENIUS"—Vladimir Levinski, who claims to be the reincarnation of Franz Liszt, admires a portrait of the great pianist-composer. Says the 21-year-old London pianist, "I am a genius. I only happen once in a hundred years. Only I can play Liszt the way it should be played." He, Vladimir that is, was born in Malta.

Red Cross Quota Lags; Fund is $91 Shy as End Nears

Prospects of topping the community Red Cross quota are somewhat dimmer this week but still not hopeless as the total of bank deposits to the fund reach $463.50. Only a few of the workers have not turned in their funds and it is doubtful whether their totals will cover the present quota shortage of $91.50.

A partial list of contributions as submitted this week by Chairman E. S. Lawson is as follows:

- $50.00 — R. W. Trew.
- $10.00 — Tony Trubenbach Sr., Muenster Enterprise.
- $9.00 — Palace Drug and Cafe.
- $5.00 — C. B. Fowler, Jim Cook, Fisher Market, Shamburg-er Lbr. Co., FMA Store, H. L. Herron, Dr. T. S. Myrick, A. C. MHS Wins 15-12 In Season Opener

In a high scoring contest here last Friday afternoon, Muenster High's baseball team opened its 1952 district race with a 15-12 triumph over Valley View. Wendell Richey hurled eight innings for the local team and Alvin Fleitman relieved him in the final frame.

The team's next game is at Whitesboro Friday afternoon.

Blount Announces For Re-election

Tom Blount this week authorized the Enterprise to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Clerk.

His formal statement to voters will appear in a later issue of this paper.

Building And Improvement Notes

Albert Henscheid started work this week on a 20x14 building at his home. It is to serve as the workshop and storeroom for his electrical business. Albert will discontinue his present business location in town.

Construction is well advanced on a 50x64 barn on J. B. Wilde's farm in the Hays community.

About a dozen members of the K of C Council are spending their spare evenings lately on a paint job for the interior of the K-C hall. Most work in the basement has been finished and upstairs work is off to a good start.

Another paint job currently under way is that at the Magnolia Station. Personnel are doing the work in their spare time.

City Will Elect Two Aldermen Tuesday

Present indications are that the city election next Tuesday, April 1, will be only a formality. The election ballot lists only Ben Seyler and John Wieler as uncontested candidates for re-election as city aldermen. Unless a strong write-in campaign develops there will be no contest.

I. A. Schoech will be election judge and Mrs. Ben Hellman and Mrs. Al Walterscheid will assist him.

1-Act Play Opens Scholastic Meet

As the opening event in this year's Interscholastic League district meet, dramatists of Muenster and Saint Jo high schools will present their one-act plays Thursday night, March 27 at the Saint Jo auditorium.

The title of Muenster's play is "Gratitude" and the title of Saint Jo's play is "The Valiant."

Other literary and athletic events in the meet will be held at Saint Jo on April 3 and 4. Schools eligible to participate are those which composed the local basketball conference: Muenster, Saint Jo, Callisburg, Forestburg and Prairie Valley. It is not known at this time whether all will send contestants to the meet.

According to Superintendent Cowan, the events scheduled for April 3 and 4 are debate, declamation, extemporaneous speech, ready writing, numbers sense, typing, spelling, softball, tennis, volley ball, broad jump, high jump, shot put, discus throw, and running events which will probably include 100, 220, 440 and 880 yard runs, the mile run, and the 440 and 880 relays. Plans at Muenster High are to compete in as many events as possible.

War Relief, Bauer Fund Receive $496

Members of Muenster's Sacred Heart Parish contributed almost $500 on two charity projects at the four masses last Sunday morning.

Father Cletus Post revealed that envelope donations to the Bishop's collection for war relief netted $335.06, and a basket collection at the church door for the hospitalization of Albert Bauer netted $161.44.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Theodore Noggler is receiving his basic army training at Camp Roberts, Calif., with a medium tank battalion. He was inducted February 28.

Clyde Fisher has been advanced to corporal, his parents, the John Fishers learned Friday. He is a member of the marine corps on duty at Santa Ana, Calif.

First Lieut. Bill Eberhart, who is spending a 30-day leave here since returning from Korea, received his new assignment Saturday. He will be stationed at Fort Hood, where he was on duty before going overseas.

Recently promoted to warrant officer and ordered to duty at Camp Stewart, Alabama, is John Janicki, husband of the former Miss Marcella Pagel of this city. The couple and their two daughters are here for a visit with her parents, the Jake Pagels, enroute to Alabama. For the past three years the family had been living in San Antonio while he was stationed at Fort Sam Houston. A graduate of the University of Illinois, Janicki is a food service specialist and will be assigned to Quartermaster service at his new station.

Arthur Hennigan left Wednesday after spending a week here with his parents and family, the Fred Hennigans. He came here from New London, Conn., where he completed submarine school and torpedo school and left for Mare Island, Calif., where he will receive his new assignment.

Pfc. Quintin Lehnertz of Fort Jackson, S. C., is on maneuvers at Camp Hood. He spent the weekend here with his parents.

Sgt. Norbert Mages left Tuesday, enroute to Lowry AFB, Colo., after spending two weeks of a 30-day leave here with his father, Joe Mages and family, following his return from Korea. He will visit his brother, Edgar Mages at Umbarger, and his uncle and aunt, the Charlie Berends, in Amarillo, before reporting for his new assignment.

Pfc. Jerry Pels arrived from Hawaii this week to spend a 10-day leave with his wife, the former Mary Ann Sicking, and his mother Mrs. Agnes Pels of Fort Worth. He has been in Hawaii since his induction in the army six months ago, and will go to Japan when he completes his leave.

Navy Lieut. Rita Voth left Wednesday morning by car for San Diego, Calif., after completing a 30-day leave here with her mother, Mrs. Barney Voth and other relatives, since her return from Japan. Accompanying her to San Diego was her sister, Mrs. Andrew Zimmerer of Gainesville who will return home after Rita is settled at her new station.

Paul R. Nieball has enlisted in the marines and leaves this weekend for San Diego, Calif. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nieball of this city, he had been employed in San Angelo. His wife will make her home with her parents in Odessa until she can join him.

Sgt. George Swirczynski has been transferred from Bartow AFB, Florida, to Waco, and is here since Tuesday on a 10-day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fisch of Fort Worth spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. M. J. Endres.

Parochial Hi Joins Athletic League of Private Academies

Sacred Heart High School and Saint Mary's of Gainesville are both members of a newly organized conference of private schools for participation in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Other members of the conference are Buckner Home of Dallas, Greenhill of Dallas, Laneri of Fort Worth, Boys' Ranch of Bedford and Catholic High of Texarkana.

The organization, to be known as the Northeast Academic League of Texas, was formed last Sunday in a meeting of representatives of the seven member schools at Buckner's Home in Dallas.

The Northeast League will follow the rules of the Texas Interscholastic League with one exception. Transfer students, if eligible otherwise, will be allowed to compete in the first year at their new school.

The new league hopes to affiliate with the Southwest Academic League, composed of teams in the San Antonio area. Winners in each sport in the two leagues will compete in play-offs.

Five of the seven league members will compete in baseball this spring, starting April 18. They are Sacred Heart, St. Mary's, Laneri, Greenhill and Boys' Ranch.

Trustee Election Interest Centers in Robison-Biffle Race

Signs this week are that principal interest in the school election on Saturday, April 5, will be centered on a county race rather than a local race.

Earl Robison is opposing Jake Biffle of Myra for the position of trustee at large on the county school board, whereas the local school ticket lists only three uncontested candidates. They are Arthur Hellman and Tony Walterscheid for re-election and Norbert Klement as a candidate to succeed J. H. Bayer.

The county school board consists of five members, one from each commissioner's precinct and the trustee at large to represent the entire county.

St. Joseph's Society Elects 1952 Officers

Members of the parish St. Joseph's Society reorganized for the coming year and elected officers during a meeting Wednesday afternoon, March 19, the feast day of their patron.

New officers are Al Hess, president, and Martin Bayer, vice president. Re-elected for another year are Al Kleiss, recording secretary; Meinrad Hesse, financial secretary; Frank Klement, treasurer.

Members of the sick committee were also re-elected. They are R. R. Endres, Hubert Felderhoff, Meinrad Hesse, Frank Bayer and Clem Hofbauer.

Father Louis met with the men and gave a short address. Forty members were present.

KC to Show Film On Life of Christ

A moving picture depicting the life story of Jesus Christ and emphasizing His passion and death will be shown Friday, April 4, at 8 o'clock at the auditorium of the public school.

Officers of the Knights of Columbus announced this week that they have booked the film and invite everyone in the community to come and see it.

Described as greater and more elaborate than the Oberammergau stage passion plays, the picture was filmed entirely in the Holy Land and Egypt.

It presents scenes depicting many of Christ's miraculous cures, also His passion, death, resurrection and ascension.

The picture is presented as a community service by the Muenster K of C Council. No charge will be made for admission.

A few years from now historians may refer to the present labor dispute in the steel industry as the critical point in our nation's economic history. It can easily develop that, depending on which way we go from here, this affair will be the beginning of run-away inflation or it will be the beginning of checking the inflationary trend that has already gone too far for comfort.

Returning from his conference with President Truman Defense Mobilizer Wilson touched off a high explosive in labor union circles by suggesting that the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendation for higher wages be disregarded. In Wilson's opinion the raise, if granted, will be a serious threat to efforts to stabilize the national economy.

For his effort Wilson draws the heavy fire of labor unions. Philip Murray is especially bitter and accuses Wilson of discriminating against the workers.

Murray's contention of course, is that men are underpaid, that their wage scale is falling behind the price scale, and that industry is very well able to give them a part of its big profits. Industry on the other hand insists that it must raise prices in order to raise wages.

It is not this column's purpose to determine who is at fault in this battle of giants. However, the column does feel qualified to say that if any adjustment is to be made it should be made in the opposite direction. Let's try to balance by taking away from one side rather than by adding to the other. If wages are too low let's correct the situation by demanding a reduction in the price of steel followed by other reductions as industries get the benefit of the decrease. Before long workers would feel the benefit in lower prices.

There's no reason why sensible and sincere men in labor and industry can't settle their dispute in a way to help rather than injure the country. We can excuse their fussing. We can excuse their driving a hard bargain. Each has a right to look after his own interest. But we cannot excuse a short sighted solution which jeopardizes the welfare of everyone in the country.

Anybody who thinks just a little bit knows that it is high time to stop our inflation spiral and start descending gradually to a sensible economic level. Not only because of the danger that inflation will be out of hand but also because the temporary advantage in a wage raise or increased profit is soon offset by the lost value of savings.

Judging by the attitude of some of this country's big shots, there can be no worse calamity that a lowering of price and wage levels. Nobody, it seems, is willing to make a temporary sacrifice to get back on an even keel. Labor will not hear of a cut unless prices are already down. Industry will not hear of less profit. Processors, wholesalers and retailers do not want to take a loss on their stock on hand. And our socialist minded politicians do not want a reduction in tax revenue. They'd rather go on flirting with chaos, even when they have reason to believe that a gradual working down of the spiral would eventually result in more stability and greater prosperity.

It's hard to understand why so many continue to shy away from a lower wage-price level. What's wrong with increasing the value of savings and fixed incomes while keeping current wages and prices in balance? There's every reason to think that as much or more merchandise will move. And that, after all, is the measure of prosperity. The more we are able to buy of necessities and luxuries, the higher our standard of living. Our volume of money doesn't mean a thing.

It is this column's sincere hope that those who are able to

SUBMERSIBLE BARGE USED IN MARSHLAND OIL PRODUCTION

An ingenious method for producing oil from wells drilled in the marshlands of the Lower Mississippi Delta has been developed by an oil company. The problem of producing from wells drilled in open shallow water has been met by a submersible tank battery barge. Its bottom section is actually a pontoon, by means of which the unit can be floated to the desired location. When the sea cocks are opened, the barge sinks to rest on the bottom of the bay. The upper section, above water however comprises a platform for the production equipment and for the tanks for storing oil from the wells connected to it. By solving such problems as this, the nation's oil men continue to break production records.

Air Force Told "Fly—Not Sit"
A House Armed Services subcommittee has administered a sharp rebuke to the Air Force for proposing to buy 20,156 "super de luxe" upholstered typist chairs for $200,000 more than the government pays for ordinary typist chairs.

The Air Force wanted the chairs for use at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, saying it had been testing them for 60 days for "safety and durability." The subcommittee demanded that the Air Force use its personnel "for testing aircraft, and leave the testing of chairs to the General Services Administration."

The American Way DOWN THE DRAIN

by Dr. Alfred P. Haake

These are the days of budget-making. In hundreds of communities, as well as in cities, states and the federal government, there is talk and argument on how much we want to spend and how we can get the money. It does not occur to the tax-makers that they could start with the income they have and figure out how much they could do with it if they used it wisely.

Only the taxpayer is inarticulate and waits in tremulous anxiety to learn what the legislators, from senators down to aldermen and selectmen, have done to his purse.

The taxpayer can be certain of one thing: that it will cost him more than before and much more than he can well afford. The next certain thing is that he is not likely to do anything about it.

Here is a typical answer to the objector who protests against the huge spending:

"All right, just what would you cut out, or where would you reduce?"

And when the question is asked, the objector usually and immediately has a picture of cutting down the defense effort or denying starving oldsters of their social security or some other horrible event that he does not dare propose. So he is silent.

But there IS an answer, and a good answer. It is this:

"Cut everything down to reasonable size, from a to izzard. Cut out the waste, the duplication, send home the people who are not needed on the honey roll and let them produce for a living at home. Stop the graft and corruption and set an example of economy in the effective use of funds for legitimate purposes — and let this example start right at the top!"

This writer knows it can be done. He has seen improved service built on reduced tax rate right in his own city of Park Ridge, Illinois. He would like to see the federal budget reduced by not less than five billions of dollars, and even as much as ten billions — without taking an iota of necessary effort out of the defense of our nation and, praise be, even doing a better job of national defense by spending less money where it will do more good.

I have heard the spenders exclaim:

"But we have a powerful economy. Look at our national income, and how government spending sends up the index of employment, wages and profits. Everybody is better off as we spend more and more and produce more and more. There is plenty there, and every dollar we spend is an investment to assure the well-being and security of our country."

We do have a tremendous piling up of dollars; sales, income and the rest in depreciated dollars, built up on a foundation of national debt, while savings, insurance policies and accumulated funds shrink to smaller and smaller dimensions in their purchasing power. We have even come to the point where debt is no longer viewed as bad, a liability that has to be paid off, even with sacrifice, but instead is viewed as an asset, a way to get more and more money into circulation.

The long-delayed collapse that is coming, as completely ignored now as was the collapse of 1929 before that arrived, will be a complete answer to the wild spenders and generous annexers of other people's money. But that it a tragic way to learn the lesson, horribly unfair to those who must suffer and who had not share in producing the wind which finally winds up as a whirlwind.

It were better to listen to one of America's immortal wise men, who once said, "... no revenue is sufficient without economy, and ... the most plentiful income of a whole people from the natural productions of their country may be dissipated in vain and needless expenses, and poverty be introduced in place of affluence."

Some of our shallow-pated geniuses may well give heed to these words of Benjamin Franklin. It is time we learn to live on our income, to make dollars we have do what is needful instead of merely appropriating dollars that must be created through debt to spend ourselves into destruction.

THE ESSENCE

"The essence of communism," said one man, discussing communism with another, "is to divide up with your neighbor."

"Not at all," said the other, who was a Communist. "The essence of communism is to make your neighbor divide up with you."

For Whom Sex Is Everything

by Bishop Fulton Sheen

MODERN MAN thinks of sex as a medium of pleasure to such a degree that it has become an obsession.

Just as a singer could go crazy by concentrating on his thorax instead of his song, and an orchestra conductor could become neurotic by concentrating on his baton instead of his score, so modern man can go crazy thinking about sex instead of about life.

Sex in other ages was physical; it resulted in new life. Today, because it often thwarts life, it is also psychic.

There are three reasons for this over-emphasis on sex in our contemporary civilization. The principal reason is loss of belief in God and the purpose of life. Man then tries to compensate for the meaninglessness of life by the intensity of a momentary experience. Sexuality becomes an ersatz and a substitute for love.

BECAUSE MAN cannot live in a vacuum, his starved soul pounces on the body as its god. It is no wonder that alcoholism, sleeping tablets, and frustration follow in the wake of those for whom sex is everything.

A second reason is a desire to escape from the responsibility and the unbearable repartee of an uneasy conscience. By concentration upon the unconscious, the animal, and primitive, and by stupidly calling God a projection of a father-complex, some feel that they can no longer be held responsible for their evil deeds.

Once God is denied, then everything is permissible. That is why an age of carnal license is always an age of political anarchy. Freud becomes the inspiration of chaos in the flesh as Marx becomes the inspiration of chaos in society. It is interesting how much the followers of the one are the followers of the other.

A THIRD REASON is denial of immortality. When men believe in immortality, they seek not only the continuance of their spirit in eternity, but also the continuance of their flesh in time, by the creation of families which meet the challenge of death. The denial of immortality gives death a double mastery: death of the soul, because no future life, and death of the body, because no family.

Like beasts trapped, not in cages, but in time, those who deny the spirit become furious with time for passing, because it diminishes their pleasures. Nothing irritates them more than to remind them of their age. But since they cannot escape it, the fear of death grows apace.

IT IS THEN, no accident that the present age which has over-emphasized sex lives in constant fear of death.

Tribute to a neighbor

We'd like you to meet a neighbor on whom both of us depend.

He's the man who operates the service station in your neighborhood.

You depend on him to take care of your car, to supply you with products of high quality at reasonable prices. You expect, and get, from him more free service than from any other merchant with whom you do business: whatever you spend, he cheerfully cleans your windshield, checks your oil and tires, furnishes you with free battery water, and renders special services as you need them.

The oil companies depend on him as the independent merchant who distributes their products. He demands, and receives, continuously improved products with which to compete with his business rivals. He insists on reasonable prices that will move his merchandise in volume. His progressive attitude is one of the chief reasons why the oil industry has supplied you with better products at about the same prices over a long period of years.

It's a pleasure to pay this tribute to a neighbor, to thank him publicly for being such a friendly, dependable contact between the oil industry and its millions of customers. He is not on our payroll, but we couldn't do business without him.

April 21 to 23 Set For Cooke 4-H-FFA Annual Stock Show

The annual Cooke county 4-H club, FFA Fat Stock show will be held April 21, 22 and 23 at the fair grounds in Gainesville.

Sponsored by the Circus roundup, the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce and Cooke county businessmen, the event is open for entries from members of any FFA chapter or 4-H club in the county.

In contrast to previous years, calves and pigs will be classified this year according to grade instead of each animal being pitted against the other for placement. A sheep division will also be held this year.

All animals entered in the show must be brought to the fair grounds on April 21. They will be judged at 10 a.m. April 22 by a packing house representative. All stock will then be sent to Fort Worth, where they will be sold. No local sale will be held as in other years. All boys entering animals and all committeemen will make the trip to Fort Worth April 23 where they will see the animals sold and will be the guests of a packing company for lunch and a conducted tour of the plant.

Prize money for the show will be raised from subscription from local merchants. The finance committee consists of Robert Myers, chairman; Bill Lewie, treasurer; William Pulte, Johnnie Wilson, and Ancil Smoot.

Arrangements for the Fort Worth trip will be made by William Bonner and Smoot.

Hill Campbell will serve as superintendent of the cattle division of the show with Elbridge Campbell as assistant. Jake Bezner will be superintendent of the hog and sheep divisions with assistance from David Smith, Jr.

Success is easy to applaud. Let's offer a few cheers for the rugged Joes who failed more than once, but wouldn't be counted out.

Low-Cost Process Purifies Seawater

A new, low-cost method of taking the salt out of sea water has been developed by industrial research.

The new process may provide almost unlimited supplies of fresh water for agriculture, industry, and homes in arid regions within pipeline range of the seashore. Engineers point out that use of such treated seawater by industrial plants which had been obtaining water from wells would give the underground water a chance to rise to its old-time levels, making plentiful supplies available for household and farm use.

Electricity Used

The new process—said to cost as little as one-third of the best previous methods—is based on the use of electrical energy in conjunction with synthetic membranes. When a stream of sea water is passed through a purifying unit, two-thirds of it comes out fresh, while the other third carries off the salt and minerals.

Sponsors of the process said it would provide relief in the near future for key areas in the United States. Later it may be used for opening up arid lands in this country as well as in Australia and the Middle East.

TP&L Announces New Plant Project

Plans for constructing a new 80,000-kilowatt, electric, power plant by Texas Power & Light Company in Red River County about 30 miles southeast of Paris and about 40 miles northeast of Sulphur Springs, were announced Saturday by TP&L president, W. W. Lynch.

"There is every indication that the next few years will see continued rapid industrial growth in the TP&L service area," said Mr. Lynch, "and it is in anticipation of this growth and its corresponding increase in electric service requirements that the Company is expanding its facilities. This new plant will bolster the transmission network of the entire TP&L system."

The plant will be the latest outdoor type station, consisting of one 80,000-kilowatt turbine generator. It will be designed to use gas, oil or solid fuel. The plant site is near large lignite reserves available to the Company Mr. Lynch said, and if this fuel is used, it will be processed according to the plan worked out for the Aluminum Company of America's plant at Sandow in Milam County.

Dallas Club Plans Huge Flower Show

Plans have been completed for the Gardens of the Southwest Flower Show, one of the most ambitious garden club projects to be launched in Texas in recent years, according to Mrs. Herbert Marcus, general chairman.

The show will be presented in the Science Building at State Fair Park, April 19 through 27, with the Dallas Garden Club Council and the State Fair of Texas as co-sponsors.

As the first full-scale flower show to be presented in Dallas since 1939, it will be produced in spectacular fashion with specific types of gardens to include a Garden for the Blind, Scent Garden, Mexican Garden, New Orleans Garden, Spring Garden, Snow Garden, Texas Patio Garden and others. In addition there will be hundreds of individual flower arrangements.

One highlight of the show will be an exotic orchid greenhouse. Exhibits will change every third day.

Tickets may be ordered by mail from: Gardens of the Southwest Flower Show, Box 7755, Fair Park Station, Dallas, Texas, at $1.20 each.

One Texan in Five Gyped On Short Weight or Measure

AUSTIN.—One Texan in five gets short measure on gasoline and groceries, State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said. His statement was based on inspection by his department during the past year of scales in grocery stores and gasoline pumps in service station.

His department checked 7,742 scales, found 20 requiring adjustment, and condemned 1,489 for repairs. Of 9,993 gasoline pumps, one was condemned and seized, 101 were adjusted and 2,911 were condemned for repairs.

"We find some instances of deliberate fraud," White said, "but most violations are the result of careless maintenance."

White said that faulty weighing and measuring devices were fewer in eight cities which had local inspectors.

He urged other cities and counties to set up local inspection arrangements in co-operation with the state to protect consumers.

White said these are a few things a housewife can be on the watch for herself:

A scale may be "fixed" so that the pointer is set "fast," or ahead of zero.

A clerk in a busy store may throw an item on the scale and snatch it off before the pointer comes to rest, falsely charging for a higher weight than would be registered if the pointer were allowed to come to rest.

If a fan is placed overhead, a housewife pays for currents of air hitting the scale.

"If any housewife has a reason to believe a grocery store scale is not showing correct weight, she can drop a postcard to the State Department of Agriculture in Austin and we will make a check at once," White advised.

40 to 50 Miles Per Gallon Expected of New Auto Engines

DETROIT. — Here comes another revolution—this time in automobile engines promising upwards of 40 to 50 miles to the high octane gasoline gallon, high compression engines, new continental body types.

Stand on any downtown street corner, here and watch the advance guard of the engineering revolution go by. You will see some of those XP (experimental models) that look like pint-sized rocket ships with enough power under the hoods to haul a couple of loaded trailer trucks.

And while you are there, listen to the buzz of curbstone conversation about "jet motors" that will eventually look like dwarfs, but pack the wallop of giants.

Some of those models rolling around the streets of Detroit contain the early prototypes of the "future" high compression engines being built to take the higher than 100 octane gasolines the oil companies are waiting to provide.

But Not for Sale

All of the big motor companies and some of the independents have them, XP models, that is. The powerpacked engines are encased in streamlined bodies that look like something that has just dropped down from another planet.

They are not for sale, only for the public to look at and the engineers to test. Offer the companies anywhere up to $100,000 for one of them and they will not take it. For these cars are herald of an advancing day when gasoline tanks will shrink to one-half of their present size — and so will the individual parts of the motor.

That car with the streamlined manifold and exhaust you see is undoubtedly the 310-horsepower Chrysler K-310. It looks like a limited version of jet propulsion. There is no other car like it in the Chrysler lines.

What is the engine like? It has a compression ratio of 8.1 to 1. Actually, it is the engineers' concept of what the present Chrysler V-8 may be like from five to ten years hence. And like a number of other XP models, and some already in production, the K-310 shows the gradual integration of American and European styling. It was designed by Carrozzeria Ghia of Turin, Italy.

Plastic Pipe Proves Boon to Oil Industry

Light weight of this new butyrate (Tenite) plastic pipe for the oil fields speeds installations, cuts costs. Worker in picture carries three 20-foot lengths—about 60 pounds—with ease. Equivalent in cement lined steel pipe would weigh approximately 720 pounds. The butyrate plastic pipe is corrosion resistant when used for oil gathering, salt water disposal and repressuring lines. Paraffin does not accumulate and obstruct passage of oil through the pipe according to Tennessee Eastman Company, manufacturer of the plastic.
