

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 24, 1950

Once again it is the happy privilege of the column to call attention to a change in the Volume and Number of this paper. With this issue the Enterprise begins its 15th year of publication.

This day is another happy birthday, an occasion which we choose to observe by expressing our sincere thanks to every person and every organization of this community which contributed in any way to the 14 years of our modest but steady progress.

From a feeble and very insecure beginning the Enterprise advanced long ago to the status of an established Muenster business and has made every effort to measure up to the responsibilities that go with such a position. The staff has put in its full quota of hard work striving to keep the quality of this paper at a level which reflects the spirit of a fine community. However, no one can be more aware than we that our efforts account for a very small portion of the success we have enjoyed to date. Like a farmer located on exceptional good land the Enterprise has had the advantage of being located in an exceptionally industrious, progressive and cooperative community.

As we look back we see ever so many reasons to be grateful. The splendid cooperation of a large number of considerate people has enabled us to maintain a fair coverage of local news. The interest of a large percentage of local residents in our news columns has enabled us to maintain a circulation that is regarded as exceptionally high in relation to the size of the community. That fact in turn has had an important bearing on the generous advertising support the paper has enjoyed.

Another very important factor in advertising support is Muenster's record as an active and progressive city. Figured on a per capita basis there are few if any cities of the state that can claim a greater business volume or a better record for advertising.

Hence it is that on this anniversary the Enterprise is less proud of its achievements than of its community. We are humbly aware that our happy birthday is much less indebted to our own efforts than it is to the cooperation and support of our friends of Muenster.

And so, observing both our anniversary and this Thanksgiving day, we say thanks to our friends of Muenster for the generous help they have given us.

More especially we say thanks to Almighty God for the blessings and guidance that have sustained us through another useful year. In the long run that's the thing that really counts. The greatest purpose that this paper or any other institution can have in life is to take a part in making this a better world, for His honor and glory and the welfare of His creatures.

While on the subject of gratitude to Almighty God, this Thanksgiving is one on which our country ought to be profoundly thankful for Divine patience. As we notice some cannot but marvel at... and feel humbly grateful for... the infinite kindness which impels Him to restrain the terrible consequence of human folly.

For years now, international leaders have been trying to run the world without regard for His standards. Things have developed into a sorry mess, so sorry in fact that we cannot see how anything less than Divine intervention has kept them from drifting into complete chaos.

For just a rapid, bird's eye glance at the situation, consider a few of the prevailing conditions. One mighty nation lives by a policy of open defiance to God and enslavement of all humanity. Another, presumably Christian, goes off on a wild political theory that violates the basic Christian concept of the dignity of mankind. In this country we brazenly allow atheists to spew their insults to God on an absurd claim of academic

A. G. Hutton Dies Suddenly, Nov. 22

A. G. Hutton, resident of Muenster for many years while he operated the Muenster Refining Company died suddenly in Gainesville about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A heart attack is believed to be the cause of his death.

Up to late Wednesday no definite arrangement had been announced regarding funeral services.

Yosten, G. Hellman Selected on 13-B All-District Team

Coaches of the District 13-B football conference in a meeting at Wichita Falls Tuesday night, selected two Muenster Hornets Gilbert Yosten and Glenn Hellman for their all-conference first team, and three other Hornets, Damian Hellman, John Aytes and Pat Stelzer for their second team.

On the basis of votes cast Yosten was honored with the distinction of being the outstanding player of the conference. He was the only unanimous choice of the meeting for a place on the first string, polling a total of 25 votes out of a possible 25.

All selections on the mythical teams were made by ballot, first choice receiving 5 votes, second choice 4, and so on. Then at the close of balloting players for each position were selected on the basis of high count.

Valley View took top honors in the all district selections by placing 3 players on the first team and 4 on the second. Muenster was runnerup, placing 2 on the first string and 3 on the second. Saint Jo placed two one each team whereas Alvord and Bryson each placed 2 on the first team and 1 on the second.

First team selections as revealed Wednesday by Coach Doyle Hood, are as follows:

Ends: Roberts (SJ), King (B)
Tackles: Cobb (A), Wilson (VV)
Guards: Hellman (M), Carr (VV)
Center: Williams (SJ)
Backs: Yosten (M), Thomson (VV)
Parker (A) Spearman (B)

Second team selections are:

Ends: Aytes (M), Bush (VV)
Tackles: Stelzer (M), Hull (B)
Guards: Disney (VV), Talley (SJ)
Center: Raines (VV)
Backs: D. Hellman (M), Cox (A)
Reeves (SJ) Hacker (VV)

Muenster players who did well in the balloting but did not poll enough votes for the mythical teams were: Emmet Walterscheid, John Fisher and Roger Wolf.

Coaches also officially proclaimed the team standings as determined by conference games during the season. They were:

Alvord	2	1	1
Muenster	2	2	0
Saint Jo	1	2	1
Bryson	0	4	0

Grass Fire Clears 30 Acre Pasture at Tony Felderhoff's

A grass fire of undetermined origin cleared 30 acres of pasture for Tony Felderhoff Tuesday and threatened to burn a barn before Muenster firemen and several dozen volunteer fire fighters got it under control.

The city fire department's small tank truck, which carries its own water supply and does not depend on fire hydrants was especially valuable on the job, enabling firemen to save the barn in spite of a fanning breeze toward the building.

On the farm across the highway from Felderhoff's residence, the fire started near the creek and spread rapidly toward the group of farm buildings.

Miss Betty Lue Buckley arrived Thursday morning for the current holidays and is the guest of her parents, the E. P. Buckleys. She will resume studies at St. Louis university on Monday.

Parochial School Elementary Grades Present Minstrel

Pupils of the elementary grades of the parochial school presented a minstrel show and other entertainment features at a program Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the K of C hall. Directed by their teachers, each of the eight grades was represented on the program. It was a benefit affair attended by a large number of parents of the students. Proceeds went into the fund to help repair the grade school building.

In the minstrel Claude Lehnertz, Carl Walterscheid, Clifford Swirczynski and Melvin Schoech were cast as black-face end men and Denis Hofbauer was interlocutor.

The opening number was given by the first grade rhythm band followed by the second grade rhythm band in a song and dance number. The program continued with novelty numbers by third and fourth graders, songs and dances by fifth and sixth graders, a tap dance by seventh grade girls Dona Hofbauer, LaVerna Hess, Carol Ann Voth, Nelda Bayer, Caroline Hesse and Georgia Ann Owen, and a song and dance by the 8th grade girls with Therese Felderhoff and Joyce Wiesman playing accordion accompaniment.

Paul Hesse presented a novelty number, Norma Jean and Sonny Walterscheid gave a vocal and instrumental selection and the program closed with the group singing of "America".

Sacred Heart and St. Mary's Alumni To Tangle Sunday

A renewal of the old rivalry between St. Mary's and Sacred Heart high schools will bring down the final curtain on Muenster's football season next Sunday.

In a game which is expected to match any of the two schools' previous contests, the ex-students of both will clash on Hornet field Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Players from Muenster had their first work-out Tuesday night and expect to put in a few more practice sessions before the big tussle.

Those expected to be on the Sacred Heart Alumni roster are Teddy Gremminger, Julian Walterscheid, George Mollenkopf, Henry Pels, Rupert Hoenig, Arthur Bayer, Mike Luke, David Endres, Hugh Endres, Ernest Sicking, Ronald Herr, Gilbert Yosten and Gerald Bayer.

Names of players for the Saint Mary's Alumni have not been revealed here.

The Lonnie Long family will go to Kansas to spend this weekend with relatives.

Hornets Win 13-0 In Season Finale With Saint Jo Hi

The scrapping Hornets ended a successful football season in a flash of glory Friday night trimming their former invincible rivals of Saint Jo by a count of 13-0.

Besides breaking a jinx the Panthers held over the Hornets in three previous encounters, the triumph rounded out a season record of 7 wins against 3 losses and a conference percentage of 500. It promoted Muenster from fourth to third in district standing while demoting Saint Jo from third to fourth.

The victory also gave Muenster first claim on a roving trophy... a gilded horse shoe on a satin cushion... which in the future will be the prize to the winner of the annual Hornet-Panther game. Presented before the game by Muenster High as a roving trophy between the two schools, it was formally presented after the game in a mid-field ceremony by the homecoming queen and co-captains of Saint Jo to the homecoming queen and co-captains of Muenster.

Their honor in claiming the trophy was well earned by the hustling Hornets, who soundly outplayed the Panthers through all but the closing minutes of the game. As the last minutes ticked away Saint Jo made its only sustained drive, a 63 yard march that was ended by the final signal on the 12 yard line. In those few minutes the Panthers marked up almost half of their net yardage of the game. All the rest of the way the Hornets held a clear advantage.

Muenster's lads started strong pushing the Panthers back 6 yards in the first series of downs and forcing a kick from the 25. The kick went high and was permitted to fall dead on the 21 and Damian Hellman broke through for the first TD.

After the next kickoff Saint Jo, starting from its 41, reached first down on Muenster's 47

Santa Will Visit School Children

Kiddies of Muenster can expect a visit from Santa Claus next Monday, Nov. 27 or Tuesday, Nov. 28.

As yet the definite time of his arrival here has not been decided but a letter from County Superintendent Hubert Moss this week advises that he will be here on Monday or Tuesday and reminds childrens to have their letters to Santa ready if they wish to deliver them to him in person.

Santa's visit to all schools of the county is a feature of the annual program sponsored by the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce to usher in the Christmas season.

Another feature is the Santa Claus parade in Gainesville on Saturday Dec. 2. Santa is going all out for that event, bringing four of his reindeer into the parade for the first time in 17 years. All bands of the county have been invited to participate. Also invited to join in the Yuletide spirit are choirs of the county. Arrangements have been made for them to sing on the court house steps from 7 to 7:30 on Saturdays, Dec. 9, 16 and 23.

Mission Group Ships 450 Pounds Clothing

The mission Sewing Circle sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America recently shipped clothing, hospital bandages and magazines, Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, chairman, announced this week.

Two hundred pounds of clothing went to a Dallas mission, 200 pounds to an Indian mission in South Dakota, 50 pounds of rolled hospital bandages went to the central bureau in New York for re-shipment to a leper colony, and 30 pounds of Catholic literature went to the state penitentiary in Joliet, Ill.

Muenster Group Is Host for District Meeting of NCCW

The Very Rev. Dean Anthony Daly of Wichita Falls was the principal speaker here Tuesday afternoon when the Muenster unit National Council of Catholic Women was host for the regular quarterly meeting of NCCW of the Sherman deanery.

Using as his text, "The Moral Influence of Parents Over Children's Character", the speaker compared present day homes and teaching methods with those of yester years pointing out that most of the old time family atmosphere has disappeared from the home. Smaller living quarters, mothers working away from home, radio and television have contributed to the loss of family unity he said. Lack of parental guidance and love causes a child to lose faith in his parents, to develop a complex as a result of a feeling of insecurity and often leads to delinquency. The rest of his address concerned means and ways to improve home life and to remedy existing conditions.

Other guest speakers were Mrs. Charles King of Wichita Falls, diocesan chairman of Welfare and War Relief, Mrs. Howard Wiechram of Denton and Mrs. Koriath of Sherman. Mrs. King and Mrs. Koriath both attended the national convention in Cleveland, Ohio, and gave short reports on the sessions.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Rev. Joseph Erbrick of Denison, deanery moderator who later presided at the installation of deanery officers. Mrs. Carl Herr of Pilot Point served as temporary secretary. Roll call revealed the following affiliates represented: Denison, Denton, Gainesville, Pilot Point, Sherman, Valley View, Lindsay and Muenster.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger, immediate past president of the local unit, extended welcome and introduced the new officers.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder gave a short address and introduced the following clergy: Rev. Fathers Erbrick of Denison, Daly of Wichita Falls, Walter of Denton, Charcut of Pilot Point, DeCritz and Molloy of Gainesville.

Muenster High to Sponsor Basketball Tourney Dec. 14-16

District 13-B basketball competition will not get under way until January, but there will be plenty of activity for the boys and girls of Muenster High basketball teams in December.

The big event on the schedule is the invitation tournament to be played in the new Muenster gym on Dec. 14, 15, and 16. Coach Hood said Tuesday that to date his invitations have been accepted by Callisburg, Savoy and Era and he expects more than a dozen schools to send teams to both the boys' and the girls' tournament.

The local girls will see prior action at an invitation tourney to be held in Sanger on Dec. 8, 9 and 10.

JUST LOOKING—On the theory that every child is afraid of a new situation, experts on child dentistry suggest that youngsters be permitted to watch the dentist at work on their first visit. Above, three youngsters watch Billy Brotski get a going over from Chicago dentist Anthony Malone. On their next visit, the children will be less likely to cut loose with the anguished screams that unnerve patients in the waiting room.

but the next series failed and Muenster got the ball on a kick on its 26. The Hornets seemed touchdown bound again as a drive featured by Walterscheid's 15 and Yosten's 14 reached the Panther 36 but a fumble and recovery there lost yardage. Hellman booted on fourth down, a beauty going out of bounds on the 5.

In a brief comeback the Panthers completed 2 first downs to their 30 but a smeared play there lost 10 and they kicked. Starting again from the Panther 48, Muenster drove hard to the Panther 1 yard line, where with four downs to make the short distance, they fumbled on the first try and Saint Jo recovered on its 5.

A pass advanced the Panthers to their 16 but the next 3 tries failed and they kicked recovering the ball in midfield when a tackler shook Hellman loose from the ball as the half ended.

Another strong start in the second half netted the second touchdown almost as quickly as the first. After kicking off the Hornets held the Panthers for short yardage and returned the Panther kick 7 yards to the 33. A 15 yard penalty there imposed a heavy handicap but Yosten's 10, Hellman's 14 on a pass from Yosten, and Walterscheid's 3 made it first down on the 21. Yosten sprinted another 10, Hellman 8 and Wylie made the last 2 on a quarterback sneak. Yosten carried the ball over for an extra point making the score 13-0.

From then until the final but futile Panther drive both teams had the ball 3 times but failed to make effective progress. Taking the kickoff Saint Jo made 15 in 3 tries but not enough to offset a 15 yard penalty and chose to kick. From the 36 Walterscheid dashed to the 19, but a 5 yard penalty made the difference as 13 yards on the next 4 plays fell short by 2 and Saint Jo took the ball on downs on its 11.

Dennis broke loose for 17 to the Panther 28 but the Hornets braced and Saint Jo booted a long one to the Hornet 17.

On runs of 8 and 15, after a 5 yard penalty, Yosten reached the Panther 35 but the next 3 tries were short and the Hornets kicked. Blocking the punt the Panthers took over on the Hornet 31, losing the ball on downs four plays later with a net loss of 5.

Yosten romped back to midfield where the next series bogged down and the Hornets kicked again.

From then on the Panthers were on the march, with Redman, Castel and Reeves accounting for most of the gains in the team's 63 yard advance.

There were eleven stars on the Hornet team all through the game as every player did a marvelous job both offensively and defensively. Aggressiveness and coordination paid off handsomely in team gains while equal aggressiveness and alertness held the Panthers to few and scattered gains. In the first half they held the Panthers to a net gain of only 50 yards, 23 on the ground and 27 on passes. In the second half, until the late Panther drive they allowed a net yardage of only 38. Meanwhile they all had a part in the Hornets' net yardage of 123 in the first half and 11 in the second.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know folks—just between the two of us—I figure our beloved U.S.A. needs the Keeley Cure—needs to sober up—we been playing too far off first base. First thing we know, bailing out Sambo will cost a raft more than it has up to now, and do you know who I blame. I'll tell you. First, it is 1,000,000 more than needed people in the swivel chairs of Govt. To remain anchored there, they must think up hefty thoughts. They hand same to Uncle Harry—he hands 'em to congress. Congress hands us the bill.

Now, the sobering up, how about that. I will tell you about that, too. You know, at the school house at Hickory, the teacher, in my day, knew little and cared less about the social uplift of the natives in Abyssinia—he figured they savvyed their own problem, so he put in his effort trying to pound into our craniums, that keeping your nose out of other peoples' business lessened your likelihood of needing a beefsteak for a bruised eye. Also he figured we should know something about how nice it is to have a nest-egg for a squally day.

Our Govt.—if it would come on home from its ramblings—get a few bucks into the bank—we could have a sobering up. And congress, if it don't put its foot down, the "cure" may come too late, and old Sambo will be a gone-gosling. Us, likewise.

Yours with the low down,
Jo Serra

OF DRAGONFLY WINGS, BATS AND THINGS—Whoever said little girls are made "of sugar and spice and all things nice" should get a gander at the "beauty" masks Parisian face stylist Fernand Aubrey has designed for milady's wear at formal social functions. If Aubrey has his way, the well-dressed dam'selle will have a giant dragonfly perched on her proboscis or a gauze-winged vampire veiling her face. And with either mask, she'll run the risk of being caught on the wrong end of a fly-swatter.

Two Couples Share Anniversary Honors At Reunion Sunday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto was the scene of an all-day family reunion Sunday to observe their 37th wedding anniversary and the 12th wedding anniversary of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hoenig.

The home was adorned with chrysanthemums and a decorated cake formed a centerpiece for the table. Dinner at noon was followed by informal diversion, games and visiting during the afternoon and the celebration was concluded with supper.

Enjoying the affair were Messrs. and Mmes. Earl Otto, Ray Otto and son, J. P. Flusche and family, Tony Otto and Tony Hoenig and children of this city, the Sidney Ottos and daughter and the Ben Webers and daughter of Gainesville. Unable to join the family circle were the John Ottos who had children sick, and Sailor Thomas Otto who is on duty in France.

Mrs. Tony Otto was Miss Clara Martin before her marriage to Mr. Otto on Nov. 19 1913 in Scotland, Texas. They came to Muenster after their wedding trip and have resided here since. They have seven children and 18 grandchildren.

Mrs. Tony Hoenig, the former Miss Aileen Otto, chose her parents' silver anniversary date for her marriage to Mr. Hoenig. They lived in Gainesville for a short time and have made Muenster their home ever since. They have four children, Betty Ann, Gene, Danny and David.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE GREETES MRS. J. S. HORN SUNDAY

A surprise dinner and family party greeted Mrs. J. S. Horn in her home Sunday when her children and grandchildren gathered there in observance of her birthday. She was 75 years old on Nov. 21.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Al Schad and daughters of Gainesville, Mrs. Al Swirczynski and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doty of Dallas, the Jake Horns and children and the Joe Horns and daughters.

Mrs. Horn, who broke her hip last May, spends most of her time in a wheel chair from which she does most of her housework and cooking. Until her injury she was night operator for the Muenster Telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooke and children of Fort Worth spent Friday through Sunday afternoon as guests of his parents, the Don Cookes. Other Sunday guests in the Cooke home were the H. D. Connors and children of Grand Prairie.

Dollars . . . Sound And Otherwise

A group of distinguished American economists have become so concerned about our nation's deteriorating financial condition with its potentially grave consequences for every citizen that they have addressed an urgent statement of recommendation to the President and the Congress. The statement is entirely free of partisan political considerations. It deserves the most serious attention of those in Washington to whom the American electorate have entrusted the financial stability of the nation.

"Inflation, with its destructive consequences, can be stopped," says the statement to which 51 nationally-known economists have signed their names. "This nation can have monetary strength relatively free of the weaknesses inherent in a declining value of the currency. To help throw a road block against inflation and its evils, and to promote the strength and safety of the American people, we, the undersigned, members of the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy, make the following recommendation:"

the following recommendation:
 1. The Government should eliminate all non-essential and postponable expenditures as a first step toward meeting the new and unexpected demands arising from the present war.
 2. The people of the United States should have the benefits of a currency redeemable in gold; and the government should conduct its affairs within the desirable limits which a redeemable currency would impose upon it. (The U.S. currency was redeemable in gold until 1933, when the government threw off the restraint "temporarily.")

4. Our standard unit of $1 defined as 1.35th of an ounce of fine gold should not be altered. A nation cannot have the benefits of a fixed monetary standard if it is altered with changes in the prices of things it is designed to measure. We do not alter the size of the bushel because the peach or potato crops are large or small.

Without Restraint
 The purchasing power of the dollar is now lower than it has been since the establishment of the Federal Reserve System in 1914. And it continues to decrease. The Federal government's policy of borrowing money to spend—over and above the record-breaking income from taxes—has been a major factor in

The American Way

Joseph Stalin: American Version

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

The war with Korea and the possibility of war with Russia is making our collectivists almost impudent in their denial of freedom of expression to groups who oppose the administration ideas of what is best for us to know and have done for us.

The Buchanan Committee, allegedly having investigated lobbying in Washington, offers an apparently naive principle in the report which recently leaked out. It is this: that it is perfectly all right for New Dealers in employ of the Administration in Washington to lobby and spread propaganda for their pet political projects; but it is bad and wicked and certainly improper for mere citizens who oppose New Deal socialism to manifest their opposition.

The language of this doctrine is worth studying; let's look at it:

"So far as democratic responsibility is concerned, the pressure group and the executive agency live in different worlds . . . If we were living in blander times, if the responsibilities of government were not so large and difficult, one might argue for a more fully operative system of separation of powers checks and balances, and all the other textbook paraphernalia of negative government. But both our domestic society and our world position demand a government which is not afraid to speak its mind on those issues for which it has clear public support."

Believe it or not, you poor mere citizens who fail to agree with the bureaucrats who insist that Congress shall do as they want the Congress to do, are a "pressure group," or part thereof. Only the bureaucrats in the New Deal power machine are given the pure listing of "executive agency" with "demo-

o "face West"—away from Washington. We cannot have a "politically-managed Federal Handout State" spending beyond income and a sound, stable dollar too.

In the next place, the mere "textbook" views from the Constitution, which make it possible and legal for people to have ideas different from those of the New Dealers, must not stand in the way of anything the executive wants to do.

But, even more appalling is the impertinent inference that all the causes which are taken up by the executive through its executive agencies, or bureaucrats if you like plain English, already have "clear public support"—even before the executive agencies pour the weight of their propaganda on the Congress.

One is inclined to ask: "If the proposals of the executive agency already have 'clear public support,' why does the Buchanan Committee fear the information and 'pressure' of mere citizens who have to pay for the follies of those agencies?"

But, it is not proper, apparently, for mere citizens to insist on their rights. Mr. Truman and his mentors know what is best! If you do not like that arrangement, or do not believe that the remedy for too much power is still more power, why then you probably are part of "the forces of privilege . . . busily engaged in a relentless campaign to remake the world in their own image."

For sheer audacity, the report deserves a place among the somewhat less subtle pronouncements of such men as Mussolini, Goebbels, Hitler, Malik and Stalin. To them and their ilk, if you and I are sufficiently humble and grateful for the blessings of New Deal hypocrisy, belongs the right to lay down the law and way of life which only their supreme wisdom can conceive.

May I venture, humbly, a terrible warning? Whatever their intentions, or whatever the limits of their understanding, the bureaucrats with their mounting power are taking us down the road of socialism.

Taxing Your Teeth

Socialism is that part of the economic system under which the State imposes a heavy tax on all God-given teeth in order to supply everyone with State-given teeth, whether they are needed or not—and then rations everything that can be chewed.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. If you are healthy and of average size you have a trillion and a half platelets in your blood stream. They are tiny, colorless particles which help to coagulate the blood after an injury.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. A group of teachers in Baylor, Texas, persuaded the University Hospital in 1929 to provide 21 days of hospital care via a prepayment insurance plan. The name Blue Cross was given to this type of plan later. Now Blue Cross has approximately 38,000,000 members and millions more are protected by other health insurance plans.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. Well, look what has happened to smallpox. It has almost disappeared in the United States because of vaccination. The Armed Forces use preventive vaccines against typhoid, tetanus (lockjaw), typhus, yellow fever, cholera, plague and smallpox. Immunization agents also are useful against diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

Cattle Grubs Cost Texas Stockraisers $20 Million a Year

COLLEGE STATION, — The damage caused by grubs each year in Texas exceeds $20 million. Beef producers and dairymen can do something about these losses and this is the time of the year when control measures must be used.

According to J. A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A&M College, the cattle grub has a rather complicated life cycle. The heel fly which is the adult of the cattle grub emerges in the early spring. They lay eggs on the hair about the dew claws of cattle. The eggs hatch in a short time and the young grubs enter the skin then tunnel through the connective tissues of the animal's body until they reach the gullet of the animal. After spending some time in the gullet the grubs move again through the animal tissues up to the back of the animal and here they cut a hole through the skin and form a cyst.

The grubs move into the back of the animal late in the fall, from September to December and after about 30 days, completes its development, emerges and drops to the ground. The grub enters the ground where it undergoes the change from a grub to a heel fly. The only time, says Deer that effective control measures can be used are while the grubs are in the animal's back and rotenone is the only insecticide that is effective.

For the small herd owner, the dust method of application will probably prove to be the most practical. A five percent dust should be used. The backs of the animals should be scrubbed with a stiff brush to knock off the scabs that cover the grub cysts. Dust the powder over the animal's back and rub it in so the dust will get into the grub holes. Treatment should begin about two or three weeks after the first grubs appear and Deer says to repeat the treatments three times at intervals of three weeks.

For the large herds, dipping or spraying is the most practical method to use in applying the rotenone. The dip or spray should contain seven and one-half pounds of five percent rotenone for each 100 gallons of water. Deer says if you spray the cattle, use a cattle chute. The sprayer should deliver at least 200 pounds of pressure and the nozzle should be held within four inches of the animal's back. You should use approximately one gallon of spray per animal.

Regardless of whether the dipping or spraying method is used, Deer points out that three treatments should be used at three week intervals. Controlling the grubs now will break the life cycle of the parasite and thus will eliminate the egg laying heel flies next spring. The annual loss can be reduced and livestock producers will profit from marketing grub free cattle.

"WHAT D'YA MEAN... MORE PAYLOAD?"

DODGE "Job-Rated" trucks GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result: there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned. Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

- POWER:... 8 great truck engines—each "Job-Rated" for PLUS power.
- ECONOMY:... priced with the lowest "Job-Rated" for dependability and long life.

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

HADACOL Is So Different
Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... whose systems lack Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ—to every part of the body.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. Proper Handling of Manure Saves Soil
Building Elements

COLLEGE STATION — One of the advantages of livestock production is the improvement in soil fertility which results from the use of barnyard manure on the soil. When cows are fed for milk production, large quantities of feed concentrates are used and much of it must be purchased off the farm. A high percent of this feed however, remains on the farm as barnyard manure.

If the manure is not properly handled, it loses much of its value through leaching, and creates a sanitation problem. R. E. Bursleson, associate dairy husbandman for the Texas A. & M. Extension Service, suggests a program for utilizing the manure that allows nearly all of the valuable nutrients to be saved with a minimum of labor while maintaining high sanitation records.

First, he recommends loading all the droppings from the milking barn directly onto the manure spreader. Labor and manure can also be saved by picking up the droppings from the lanes, which lead to the milking barns and holding pens, and loading directly also. Hauling the manure to the fields and pastures and spreading it daily will prevent the nutrients from leaching out in the barnyard.

He suggests allowing the droppings to accumulate under the feeding sheds. The use of bedding during wet and cold weather will keep the cows more comfortable and reduce the loss of nutrients from the manure. The manure may be cleaned out and hauled to the field at three to six months intervals, or whenever necessary.

And he also advises permitting the cows to remain in the grazing fields and pastures as much as possible, thereby leaving the droppings on the land. Milk the cows early in the mornings and turn them out to pasture immediately. Turn them out to graze for a few hours after evening milking.

Ozone Lamp Brings
Outdoor Freshness
Into Your House

It won't be long before you can bring that fresh, clean smell which prevails outdoors during an electrical storm right into your living room.

Ozone, a form of oxygen produced when electricity is discharged into oxygen or air, is an efficient natural deodorizer. Now, it can be produced at the flick of a switch by a new, four-watt lamp which is designed to dispel unwanted odors.

A glass ball, less than an inch and a half in diameter, the new lamp bulb gives off just barely noticeable concentrations of ozone. It operates on household current, and is used with a ballast in a simple fixture which allows the free escape of ozone, but shields the eyes from the ultraviolet energy generated by the lamp.

Although they are expected to find wide acceptance in homes, and other living and working areas, the first ozone lamps to be produced are being acquired by manufacturers for use in automatic clothes dryers, refrigerators and beverage vending machines.

The lamps have a mild, germicidal effect. To help maintain the desired condition of sterility, they are expected to be used in Today, as our forefathers did, we celebrate Thanksgiving with a deep appreciation for His generosity. But now, as then, we are faced with the necessity of carrying arms to protect ourselves from forces of darkness that threaten to smother the light of liberty. Yet, with faith in Him we are certain that liberty will conquer, as it did then.

Terracing is man's oldest method of slowing down soil erosion in cultivated fields. Centuries ago man realized that in order to feed the increasing population he would have to cultivate more than the level lands. So he broke the sods from the hillsides and planted crops, but it soon became apparent that the slopes, even the long gentle slopes, suffered badly from water erosion. In order to save the precious soil, upon which he depends for his very existence, man devised a means of shortening the long slopes and either holding the water until it was absorbed by the soil or letting the water run off on grades so slight that very little erosion could occur. The device used was the terrace.

For thousands of years the hillsides of Asia have furnished food for generation after generation. These hillsides are protected by terraces that were built the hard way, by hand. Some of the soil was carried from the bottom of the slope to be put back where it belonged so it could produce food. Modern farming methods are quite different from the ancient methods still used in the Orient, but the soil conservation principle is the same. If man is to continue to cultivate slopes, then he must shorten and protect these slopes with properly constructed terraces and well maintained grassed terrace outlets.

The modern farmer with present day farming equipment is in a much better position to build and maintain terraces to protect his soil than were any of his ancestors. Many cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District have found that they can build broad based terraces that don't hinder the movement of farm machinery with ordinary farming equipment, such as moldboard plows, disc plows and oneways and with special plows such as the whirlwind terracing plow and the disc terracer.

Besides having his choice of tools for building the terrace, the farmer also can choose the type of terrace he wants. With his plow tools he can build either a modified channel type terrace or a ridge type terrace. Both types of terraces can be built by the island method of terrace construction. In this method an island of unplowed ground is left under the terrace ridge and the loose dirt is piled on it by successive steps in plowing from both sides. In the ridge type an equal amount of dirt is moved in from each side. The channel receives two plowings for every one on the back side. This gives a wide channel and a broader ridge making the modified channel type terrace easier to cross with all kinds of farming equipment and at the same time gives it more carrying capacity because of the wide channel.

NO TUNNEL OF LOVE—Moving cautiously through a dense curtain of smoke, American G.I.'s enter a railroad tunnel near Sinmak, North Korea, in which a Communist troop train has been trapped by strafing allied planes. With a machine gun mounted on their jeep, the Yanks were ready to take prisoners or trade bullets with the unseen enemy.

The ease of farming and the additional water carrying capacity realized from the modified channel type terrace has made it a favorite in the Muenster area when farm equipment is used for terrace construction.

Joe Mage has just completed the construction of half a mile of modified channel type terraces on his farm east of Muenster. He used the island method of terrace construction and a three disc plow to build the terraces. The terraces outlet onto Buffalograss pasture.

Andy Fleitman is building two thirds mile of terraces with a disc breaking plow and Alfred Sicking is building one and a quarter miles with the same type equipment. Alfred's terraces outlet onto a Bermudagrass waterway that was sodded last year. The waterway was sodded with a demonstration model of a Bermudagrass sprig sodding machine.

Eddie Schmitt is building three quarters of a mile of terraces with his breaking plow. These outlet onto a thick Bermudagrass sod in pasture.

Tony Fleitman has finished three quarters of a mile of channel type terraces with his disc breaking plow. These terraces outlet onto native grass pasture.

HIGH THERE!—Steelworkers, hanging from the highest point ever reached by a man-made structure, top off construction of the Empire State building's television tower with a flag-raising ceremony. The New York City skyscraper will now measure 1472 feet tall and accommodate five television antennas and three FM antennas.

In every case the runoff water from the completed terraces will empty onto good grass sod either in pasture or in the waterways that have been sodded to grass so that terrace runoff may be safely emptied onto them.

During this holiday season it is fitting and proper to be thankful that this area has many farmers who so love the land that they take the necessary measures to protect it from the ravages of erosion so that it will be saved to feed and clothe this and following generations.

Delaware takes its name from Lord De La Warr, who was Captain General over the Atlantic Seaboard possessions in the early days. But he never set foot on Delaware soil.

freedom. We permit Him to be banished from school because of the ridiculous and twisted interpretation of our constitution by a few nit-wit bigots. We consent to banish Him from U. N. deliberations in order to appease His greatest living enemy. We tolerate a standard of morality that is in constant conflict with His standards.

We've gone so far off the Divine course that we ourselves marvel that the explosion of our so-called civilization has not already taken place. Apparently there is only one explanation. God, in his infinite patience, must be intervening somehow, giving us blundering mortals more time for a peaceful and orderly clean-up of our mess. True, events in Korea are causing us a great deal of trouble now. But they are mere trifles compared with the caliber of troubles we have been inviting.

Yes, this nation has never had more reason to be thankful. Look what we deserve, and look what we have. Instead of the chaos we invite by our efforts to kick God out of our civilization, we're enjoying the world's greatest era of comfort and prosperity. On this Thanksgiving we ought to be profoundly thankful to Him for sticking with us in spite of our folly.
