"To remain strong spiritually we must first remember that free government is the political expression of a deeply religious faith."

That statement made by General Eisenhower at his campaign opening speech in Abilene, Kansas, is especially worthy of notice because it contains the essence of every moral, economic and political principle to solve our nation's problems, foreign as well as domestic.

Of course it is true that candidates as a rule do not win votes on generalities, and there is serious doubt that any person, even one with Ike's tremendous personal appeal, can sell himself to the public on the strength of such remarks. People want something specific, like workable proposals to end corruption, extravagance, industrial and racial strife, diplomatic mollycoddling and creeping socialism. These are evils which the average person sees as stumbling blocks to national welfare and too few are analyzing the problems thoroughly enough to appreciate that the causes of present distress are themselves caused by lack of a deeply religious faith.

It is obvious of course, that every national issue in the presidential campaign has its moral and religious connections. In the last analysis they boil down to a question of right or wrong. Unfortunately, however, when discussing national issues, few people go all the way back to basic religious principles. We hear about laws of the land but not about the laws of God. We hear about human rights but are seldom reminded that God made us that way. We cherish our constitution and bill of rights as guarantees of freedom but we're not always aware that the principles in those documents are of Divine, not human origin.

Public officials and private citizens alike are guilty of that oversight, and therefrom stems the big reason for many of the evils existing today. Experience has shown that men can violate the law of the land and get away with it. But they've lost sight of the fact that God isn't permitting them to get away with it. As sure as pain follows injury, every misdeed has its ill effect, and the Creator does not neglect to file His charges.

It's gratifying, of course, to have a candidate acknowledge the importance of a deeply religious faith, but it is somewhat disappointing not to have him mention specific ideals and methods by which he proposes to apply a deeply religious faith to his administration. Along with remedies for political and economic maladjustment we'd like to have proposals to remedy the maladjustment of spirit which is the cause of other troubles.

There are plenty of spiritual planks to put into a good political platform. One is a proposal to put God back in public schools. Religion must again become an essential part of education and it can be done by having classes of the separate denominations conducted by their own ministers or laymen. Somebody has to have the courage to beat down modern fallacy that this violates the principle of separation of Church and State. It's high time to realize that suppression of all denominations is not necessary to avoid favoring any one denomination.

Another good plank is a pledge to put God into the U. N. This country should sponsor a move to open all meetings with prayer, also to put a chapel in the building. The most shameful episode in the entire U. N. history is our country's agreement to betray God in order to please the Reds. Let the Russians know that Christian representatives reserve the right to recognize and honor God whether other people like it or not.

In that regard it might be well to apply the principle even in the candidate's political campaign. An invocation at every political speech asking God's guidance to help people vote in accordance with His Will would be the best guarantee of a wise

Charter Presented To Muenster Lions In Formal Program

At a banquet held Thursday night of last week in the school lunch room, the recently organized Muenster Lion's Club received its charter as a unit of Lions International.

Presentation of the charter was made by Dr. R. A. Self of Dallas, governor of District 2X. In his presentation address he stated that the principal objectives of the organization are to lend a helping hand to distressed people and to work for the general welfare of the community. Then he urged the Muenster Club to distinguish itself as others have done by a record of generous help to those who need help and outstanding service to the community.

He also gave a brief history of the organization, saying that it was founded in Dallas in 1917 and has since spread all over the United States and most foreign countries. Latest nations on the membership roster he said are our new friends Germany and Japan.

M. D. Kaderli, president of the Muenster club accepted the charter in behalf of the 48 charter members and expressed the hope that the club will grow in both membership and achievement.

Clyde Golightly, president of the Gainesville Club, presented the Muenster unit with a gavel and a bell surmounted by the Lions' emblem. The Gainesville club sponsored Muenster in the organization of its unit and application for charter.

Ralph Maglaughlin was master of ceremonies for the program which opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and group singing. Rev. J. R. Smallwood gave the invocation and closed the program with benediction. Marcelene Wimmer, accompanied by LaQueta Cain, appeared in two vocal numbers.

The event was attended by about 140 Lions and their ladies from Muenster, Gainesville, Denison, Denton, Nocona, Bowie and Dallas.

Plans Shaping Up For July 4 Picnic

Committee assignments are practically complete and actual preparations are just getting under way for the annual community picnic to be sponsored by Sacred Heart Parish on July 4 as a benefit for the new church fund.

Chairman Arthur Endres said Tuesday the picnic will feature a boxed chicken dinner, a country store, sandwich and drink stands and a variety of games for youngsters and oldsters. There will also be favors for the kiddies.

Plans are to start the picnic shortly before noon and continue for the rest of the day. If lights can be installed in the picnic grove, it will probably extend into the night.

Beware of Imbecile Spreading Poison

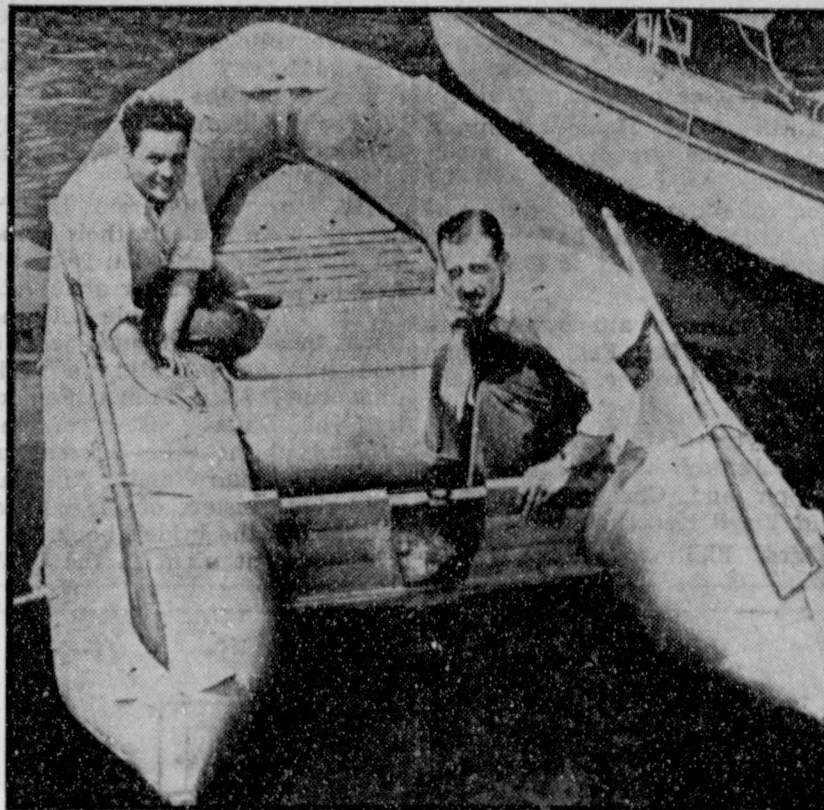

Babies and pets, look out! Some moron has been throwing strichyline dosed ham into people's yards.

At least three such doses of poison have been discovered recently, one at Ray Wilde's one at C. J. Kaiser's and another at Mrs. Catherine Gehrig's. In each case the bait was a slice of ham folded over several times and held together with a rubber band.

At two of the homes, unfortunately, dogs got to the poison before it was discovered, and both dogs died. Fortunately, however, none of the poison was picked up by children.

People around town are minding no words in expressing their contempt for the imbecile guilty of this outrage. They maintain that the inhuman way of disposing of a dog is a mere trifle compared to the risk of poisoning a baby. Tiny toddlers though old enough to be allowed in the yard may not have the judgment to keep away from food when they find it on the lawn or sidewalk.

Ray Wilde, commenting on the incident, said that if anyone had

MEN AGAINST THE SEA—In an effort to prove that shipwreck victims can live on the food and water of the sea exclusively, Dr. Alain Bombard, left, and Jack Palmer will try to cross the Atlantic Ocean in this rubber life raft equipped with a sail, oars, fishing gear and a radio transmitter. They are shown before leaving Monte Carlo, Monaco, and setting sail across the Mediterranean for Gibraltar from where they'll head for Florida.

News of Sick And Injured

Little Kathy McGowan, 4, had her appendix removed at M&S Hospital Saturday. She is the daughter of the Looney McGowans.

Mrs. Tony Hacker continues to improve from polio and is able to be up and around for short periods each day. She is still a patient at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Her husband spent Sunday with her and reported that she now has use of her fingers but that her arms are still paralyzed. She was being fitted for a special shoulder-to-hip brace and doctors did not say when she would be permitted to return home.

Leonard Walterscheid returned home Thursday evening from veterans hospital in McKinney where he was a patient for medical treatment. He says many thanks to all who remembered him with get-well wishes and other kindnesses while he was in the hospital.

H. J. Weinzapfel is still seriously ill in the Archer City hospital but was resting well this week, according to word from relatives. Mrs. Tony Gremminger who had been at his bedside returned home Saturday.

Shirley Horn, six year old daughter of the Jake Horns of Windthorst, formerly of Muenster, had her tonsils removed Monday morning at the Archer City hospital.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schmitz is recovering from illness.

Breaks Right Leg During Visit Here

Miss Alma Hennigan of Albuquerque N. M. will return next Sunday with a leg cast as a souvenir of her week's visit here.

An injury sustained Tuesday night, first thought to be a sprain, was x-rayed the following morning and showed up as a fracture. She was hurt while on a car ride with her sister Therese, their cousin Billy Seyler and Eddie Fette. The youngsters said they had bounced the car off a bridge railing. None of the others was hurt.

2 Local Men Join Knights at Denison

Two Muenster men were included in a class of about 40 candidates who joined the Knights of Columbus at a district initiation in Denison last Sunday.

Joe Weinzapfel, Jr., a student at St. John's Seminary, San Antonio, joined as a member of the Muenster council and Stanley Wylie former resident now living at Sanger, joined as a member of the Gainesville council.

DP Family Will Be Honored at Party

The "get-acquainted" party and gift shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wenk and children will be held Sunday night, members of the Saint Anne's Society, the sponsor group, announced Wednesday.

The Wenks and their children, Ferd, Maria and Emma, are newcomers to Muenster from Germany.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the party which will be held on the lawn at the Weinzapfel home beginning at 8 o'clock.

Bakery Expected to Open Early in July

A general repair and remodeling program is now under way at the bakery building preparatory to the opening of Herb's bakery, owned and operated by Russell Herb, some time between the first and fifteenth of July. Herb has purchased the bakery equipment and leased the building.

Work on the building includes asbestos siding outside, sheet-rock inside, remodeling the outside front, and removing a partition which formerly separated the sales and baking departments. Equipment is getting a general overhaul and painting. When completed walls and show cases will be finished in light gray and trimmed in chartreuse. Equipment will be white.

General repairs are also being made in the living quarters which the Herbs will occupy in the west half of the building.

Herb intends to produce a full line of bakery products including several varieties of specialty breads along with the regular loaf.

FFA to Plan Trip At Friday Meeting

Plans for the annual summer tour of seven FFA students will be made at a special FFA meeting Friday, 7:30 in school. The meeting precedes the regular semi-weekly teenage party sponsored by the P-TA.

Announcing the meeting Tuesday Ralph Maglaughlin urged all of this year's FFA graduates to attend so that they can decide when and where they are going and how many will go. Maglaughlin expects to make the trip about mid July.

Last year's group spent about a week on a round about tour to and from the Big Bend National Park.

Ferd Kinane, K of C State Officer, Dies

Ferd Kinane of Austin, a frequent visitor to Muenster in connection with Knights of Columbus activities, died suddenly at his home early Wednesday morning. The cause of his death was not revealed in a message received by District Deputy J. W. Fisher about 10 Wednesday morning. Plans are under way now for representatives of the Muenster and Gainesville Councils to attend his funeral in Austin Friday.

A former state deputy of the order, Kinane has served the past several years as K of C insurance chairman for Texas.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Don't Bite If This Deal Comes Around

In case the business men of Muenster are interested this article is intended to advise that they are not doing local school children nor teachers a favor when they advertise on the heavy paper folders, called Study Folders, which are distributed. . . in limited numbers. . . at the local schools.

The Enterprise has inquired about these folders at both schools and has learned: 1. that neither school has endorsed anyone to solicit ads for that purpose, 2. that neither school cares for the folders anyway.

Our interest in this subject originated some time ago when we first noticed one of the folders. On checking with an adviser and figuring other ads accordingly we estimated that some promoter had tapped Muenster and Gainesville merchants for about $200 on a job that the Enterprise would gladly produce for half that amount. So we were making plans to save local people some money and pick up a bit of extra business for ourselves.

Accordingly we saw authorities at both schools asking them to endorse us rather than some stranger to produce the folders. Then we discovered that no one has been endorsed in the past and schools actually do not care to bother with the folders.

Under the circumstances the Enterprise has dropped its plan on this promotion. If the folders are not wanted at school the deal certainly isn't worth the money to advertisers. . . not even the half price we intended to charge. . . and we don't care to have any part of it.

So we can assure you, Mr. Business Man, that we will not be around bothering you for ads on this promotion. But we want you to know what the score is

Favorable Weather Prevails as Bumper Harvest Nears End

Grain farmers of Muenster got the breaks this year. They have had exceptionally favorable weather for harvesting an exceptionally good crop, and up to Thursday they have about 90 per cent of their grain in the bin.

The season is in sharp contrast with that of 1950 when the wettest summer on record delayed local harvesting into late August. The only interruptions this year came early in the season. They amounted to only a few days and caused no damage.

With their grain well under control farmers now are eagerly awaiting the next rain. Corn is beginning to suffer, and the same applies to hay fields and pastures.

Reports gathered by local grain dealers indicate that combining is practically finished. Wheat should be finished by the end of this week and only a little oats awaits the combine. Threshing, too, is well under way. Grain now in shocks will probably be cleared away before the end of next week.

The total wheat crop taken in by local dealers is expected to reach about 50,000 bushels. Up to Wednesday the total was 45,000 bushels. Oats is estimated to run as high as 150,000 bushels, the figure being based on the fact that more land is planted in oats and yields average more than twice as high.

For the first time in many years practically all farmers are filling their oats bins. . . and the bins were empty at the beginning of the harvest. Arthur Felderhoff said that almost all oats he has received was from men who had no more storage space for it.

Yields have been good on both crops. The highest reported was 40 bushels per acre on small fields by H. N. Fuhrmann and John Voth. Several men averaged as high as 25 on their entire crops. According to reports from farmers, Arthur Felderhoff estimates the community average at about 22. Oats is proportionately good. Reports indicate a community average of about 45 bushels per acre.

Say Vows Tuesday

Miss Betty Jean Fleitman exchanged nuptial vows Tuesday morning with Henry A. Felderhoff in an impressive ceremony in Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Fleitman and he is the son of Mrs. Lena Felderhoff and the late John Felderhoff.

Rev. Henry Felderhoff of St. Joseph's parish, Cleburne, uncle of the groom, officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Anthony Luke, organist, played the traditional wedding processional and recessional and remained at the organ to assist the church choir in rendering the Gregorian chant Mass of the Angels.

White gladioli, daisies and greenery banked the altar and white satin bows marked pews in the center aisle.

Mr. Fleitman gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride presented a lovely picture in a gown of frosty white imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. It was designed with a princess bodice and scalloped neckline topped with a yoke of the tulle, and long fitted sleeves of the chosen lace that came to points over her hands.

The bouffant floor length skirt of accordin pleated tulle was topped with a shorter overskirt of the lace. The bride's veil of tulle netting cascaded from a Dutch cap of Chantilly lace edged with valley lilies. She carried an orchid showered with stephanotis on top of a white prayer book.

Her jewelry was "something old and borrowed". She wore a handsome antique gold cross and chain belonging to her mother and that formerly belonged to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Theodore Wiesman. She wore sapphire earrings for something blue, and completed the bridal tradition with a six-pence in her shoe.

Miss Eileen Fleitman of Dallas was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Celine Felderhoff, sister of the groom, also of Dallas, was bridesmaid. Their frocks of evening blue nylon net over taffeta were identically designed with fitted bodices and full ballerina length skirts. They wore matching half hats adorned with valley lilies and completed their costumes with nylon half gloves. Their flowers were bouquets of rose colored gladioli.

Little Miss Helen Jennings, niece of the groom, was flower girl wearing a bouffant dress of rose colored nylon net over taffeta with matching half hat and gloves and carried a basket of blue daisies.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Leo Felderhoff, and the bride's brother, Herbie Fleitman.

Acolytes of the wedding mass were Jimmy and C. J. Hellman, Joseph and Charles Felderhoff and Virgil Henscheid.

Mrs. Fleitman attended her daughter's wedding in an orchid nylon dress with white accessories and a corsage of white glads. The groom's mother wore a tan sheer bemberg dress with brown and white accessories and a corsage of yellow glads.

After the church services, members of the bridal party were guests for breakfast in the Alfons Felderhoff home. Floral arrangements in the home carried out the bride's tri-color scheme and the table, covered with white linen, was beautifully appointed with crystal, china and sterling.

At four o'clock the bride's parents were hosts in their home for a wedding reception followed by a buffet supper for about 125 guests. The bride's table held the triple tiered cake topped with a miniature dove holding a wedding ring. Miss Emma Felderhoff of Dallas, sister of the groom, cut the cake. Misses Lorine Fleitman and Anselma Felderhoff, sisters of the couple, presided at the bride's book.

A dance at night in the VFW

Hall concluded the day's festivities.

During the latter part of the dance the newlyweds left on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a white and black nylon dress with red and white accessories, and the orchid she carried at her wedding. When they return they will make their home here.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School with the class of 1949 and is employed at the FMA Store as book-keeper-clerk. Mr. Felderhoff is a driller for the F & M Drilling Company here.

Bishop Gives Advice To Heavy Drinkers

WORCHESTER, Mass.—To men who drink too much here's the advice of Catholic Bishop John J. Wright:

"First, build a bar in your own home and be the only customer. Then you have neither license nor protection to pay. Give your wife $6 to buy the first quart of liquor—remembering there should be at least 16 drinks in the quart.

"Buy the drinks from no one but your wife and pay at the rate a bar would charge. By the time the first quart is finished, she will have $6 to put in the bank and $6 to start business again.

"If you live 10 years and continue to buy from her, you can die of delirium tremens and she will have plenty to bury you, educate your children, marry a decent man and forget the misery you brought her."

Red Earns 1 Pound Of Tea In 2 Days

A pound of tea in Russia costs as much as a worker can earn in two 8-hour days, the U. S. Department of Labor has announced. An average American earns enough to buy a pound of tea in 49 minutes.

In general, the Department said, an hour's pay for the average American will buy five times more groceries than an hour's pay for a Russian, and 1½ times more than an hour's pay for the average Briton.

Careful There

The elderly lady eyed the drug clerk and said, "I assume you are a fully qualified druggist?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"You have passed all the required examinations?"

"Yes indeed."

"You have never poisoned anybody by mistake?"

"Why no, ma'am."

"Very well, then, please give me a box of cough drops."

"Intoxicating" Cow

An old man's cow got loose, visited a neighbor's still and ate so much sour mash that she died. The old man put in a claim against the neighbor for the cost of the cow.

"I'll never pay it," said the neighbor. "My whiskey mash didn't kill your cow. She gave eggnog, and you milked her to death."

INFLATION HITS THE GROCERY BASKET

At the recent Freedom Forum held on the Harding College campus we tried out a new illustration to get across the facts about the damage being done to the average man's income by inflation. It was a display of two piles of groceries, one bought with 1939 dollars and the other with 1952 dollars. The 135 people from 24 states who attended the Forum were amazed at what they saw.

To get the groceries for the display we sent two people to the food market. One took the equivalent of $3.50 in 1939 dollars, based on the Consumers Food Index as published by the U. S. Department of Labor. The other took $3.50 in today's dollars. To display the astonishing results, we placed the two piles of groceries on a table. With the small pile was a card reading "$3.50 - 1952" and with the larger pile a card reading "$3.50 - 1939." Here's what each pile contained:

$3.50 - 1952	$3.50 - 1939
1 loaf bread	2 loaves bread
1 can peas	2 cans peas
1 lb. coffee	2 lbs. coffee

Starting Again

Inflation slowed down and leveled off in recent months, but now it is on the move again, and everybody's living standard is affected. What causes inflation? It is caused by the existence on an undersupply of money, or an undersupply of goods or both. If there are only two loaves of bread each day on Grocer Brown's shelf and four of his customers want bread every day, and all of them have a pocketbook full of money, those two loaves of bread are going to be bid up higher than their normal selling price. That means that the purchasing power of the dollars in the customer's pocketbook shrinks when he is buying bread from Grocer Brown.

On National Scale

If everything is in short supply at Brown's grocery store, and there still is an abundance of dollars floating around, the whole scale of food prices rises and the purchasing power of the dollars thus shrinks. What you earn then won't buy as much as it normally would. When we expand this example to the nation as a whole the same causes and effects are applicable. And we call it inflation.

Our Federal Government's spending of borrowed money over the past 15 years has put into circulation billions upon billions of dollars in return for which there has been practically no additional goods and services available. In fact, the government has been borrowing money on scraps of paper—I.O.U.'s. Every dollar it thus puts in circulation takes a nip out of the value of every normal dollar earned by the wage and salary workers of the country.

Loss to Inflation

The Socialists and other brands of Economic Planners very effectively cite the terrible losses suffered by the big and little bank depositors during the depression of the early '30's. But inflation in recent years has made the depression losses seem like nothing. The total loss, because of inflation, to bank savings accounts, insurance policies and E, F, and G government savings bonds was $11,656,524,000 for the years 1941-1950, and this is 61 times the estimated loss to depositors in suspended banks during 1921-33, including the worst depression years!

Inflation is fed not only by government borrowing and spending but by any action putting more dollars into circulation without more goods being produced. It could be helped along, in the long run, by industry putting extra money into the pay envelopes of its workers without additional production, or by banks going overboard in making loans on notes.

History shows us that in nation after nation, despotic men have used inflation and its final destructive results as a means of gaining control over the lives of the people. In America inflation is a dangerous business. For inflation can be turned on or off through the manipulations and practices of a small group of individuals within our Federal government.

U. N. Won't Let God In!

NEW YORK HAS a new skyscraper. It's a mammoth 38-story building on the East Side, the home of the UN. Everyone working there is working for world peace.

That's a tough job in these days. You would think that in that giant building there would be room for a chapel where the peacemakers, exhausted by the double-talk of the diplomats, could go for a few minutes conference with the Prince of Peace.

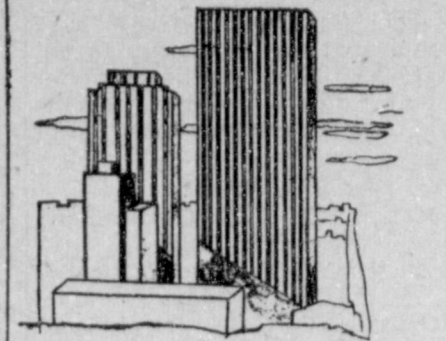

But no, plans to set aside a tiny room for prayer and meditation have recently been abandoned. The UN with its world-wide system of communications, feels it doesn't need a direct line to Heaven.

THOSE WHO run the UN ought to read our early American history. They would find there the basis for a strong government. They would find that we fought with guns for our freedom, but put our confidence in the God Who made us free. If the UN went and did likewise, it might succeed.

In the Declaration of Independence it is said that our rights and liberties come from God. If the UN states openly that its purpose is to secure the God-given rights and liberties of the people of the world, it might succeed.

UNFORTUNATELY there is a knot of atheists in the UN. They refuse to allow any work to proceed in the spirit of firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence. They really don't want peace on earth among men of good will, or any other blessing that comes from our Divine Lord Jesus Christ.

Hence it falls to our part to make the UN a success by placing it under the protection of God. We ought to pray that He will take a seat in the UN. We ought to beg Him to enlighten its deliberations, to guide its decisions, to execute its actions in the spirit of justice and charity. Under His care the UN cannot fail; without Him, it can do nothing.

THE JOB OF the UN is to transform this war-wasted world into a house of peace. Never before was it so urgent that the people of the world should live in harmony. But the UN will not succeed unless it uses every means at its disposal.

Somewhere in that vast 38-story building there ought to be engraved in large letters the words of the Sacred Scripture: "Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it." —John T. Carroll.

SOME SPENDER!

It takes the government exactly one second, according to Senator Byrd, of Virginia, to spend all the Federal taxes paid by a man with a wife and two children, earning $12,000 a year.

DOUBLE-TALK Is "Bafflegab"

The up-to-date word for bureaucratic double-talk in Washington is "bafflegab," which has replaced "gobbledygook" as the term for language that can mean anything or nothing.

Here's a sample line from an NPA release: "We now have a quantitative framework with marginal qualitative allocations to formalize the procedure for further refining and implementing of our objectives."

GOLDEN GLEAMS

Labor is the great producer of wealth; it moves all other causes.

The most skilful flattery is to let a person talk on and be a listener.

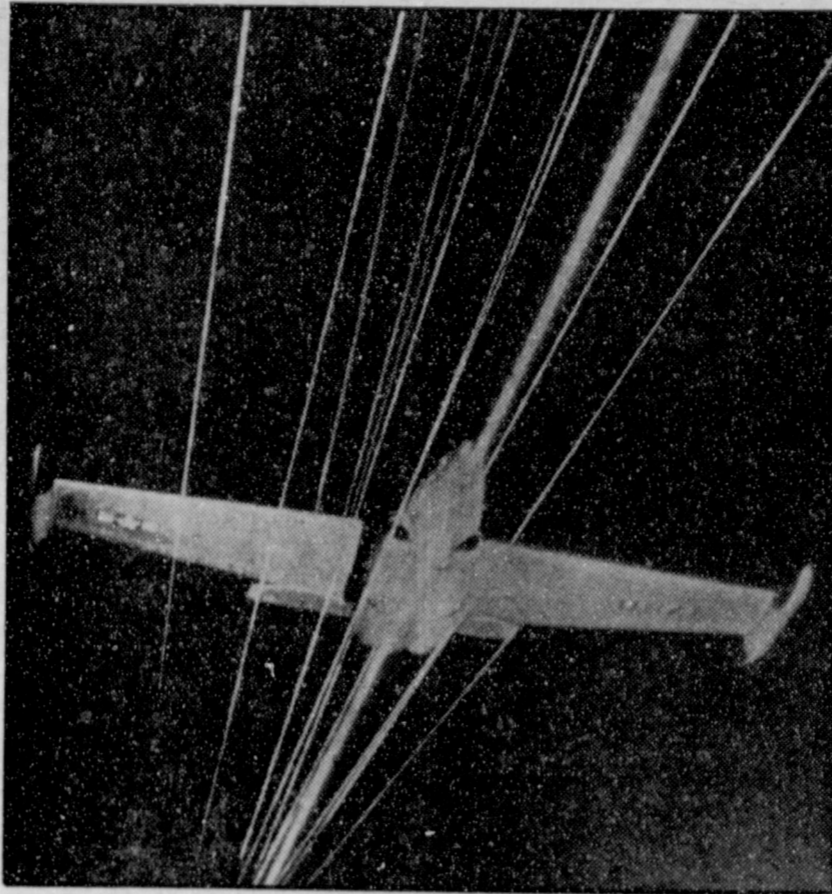

To God, thy country and thy friends be true, then thou'lt ne'er be false to any one.

The man who waits for things to turn up has his eyes fixed on his toes.

Money can't get you friends, but it can get you a better class of enemies.

He who seeks revenge digs two graves.

It is not enough to be busy; so are the ants. The question is: What are we busy about?

"FASTER" THAN ITS AMMO—Believed to be the first such night photograph ever taken, this picture shows an F-89 jet fighter apparently racing ahead of its own ammunition. Tracer streaks from six 20 millimeter cannons registered on the film before the plane was "frozen" by a powerful stroboscopic light flash which lasted less than 1/5000 of a second. The unusual picture was taken at Edwards Air Force base, Hawthorne, Calif.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I am out today to alert the 30 and 40 year old guys and dames of this land of fun and amusement that it may not be too wise to open the fun throttle no limit, expecting an inheritance from thrifty forebears.

Folks who think in such shallow fashion as to imagine that taxes taken from a corporation is the corporation's baby and no affair of theirs, are quite wet—confused. As corporation taxes soar, the times are in the offing when dividends paid the shareholder will dwindle. Estates dwindle next — inheritances become scanty. We need a season of pondering — a "pondering week" should pay dividends.

To get attention, a wallop in the pocket book works wonders most often. This Govt. we now have perched on our backs is nothings to be shrugged off — it is getting closer and closer home. When 2 million on the Govt. payroll produces nothing—raises no corn, builds no cars, mines no coal, just rides around and eats heartily on the rest of us — and we hardly chirp, we are the champion sucker country. We are the "backward" nation—and the greatest culprit in the lot is the younger voters who have not taken the time to ferret out what is cooking. I suggest for the first "pondering week" — "Socialism, is it hot stuff or is it a slickers game to nick the unwary — also am I one of 'em." Unwary, that is.

Yours with the low down,
Jo Serra

Soil Conservation Notes

Now, at the near conclusion of a good grain harvest, is a good time for farmers to start making plans to build terraces on land where grain has been harvested, say technicians of the Upper Em-Red Soil Conservation district.

Lawrence Sicking, whose farm is one mile south of Spring Creek, has had the lines run on one field of about 30 acres. He plans to use his tractor and disc plow in building the channel type terraces and will follow the island method as outlined by Hillard Hoffman, SCS technician, who assisted in laying out the terraces.

These terraces will protect cultivated land from runoff water and will empty on two waterways that have been sodded to bermuda grass. Both grassed areas have been fenced in with existing pastures and now serve a dual purpose . . . as terrace outlets and permanent pasture.

Terraces and waterways being established on the Sicking farm are only a part of the complete conservation plan drawn up on the farm two years ago. Other practices already installed include pasture soddings, cover crops, contour farming and stubble mulching. This year Sicking has several acres of Madrid clover which he plans to harvest for seed so that he may cover more of his cultivated land with this legume in a rotation of clover, small grain and row crops.

This deep-rooted legume, like alfalfa which he also grows, penetrates the plow pan which usually develops on prairie soils, thereby opening them up for better water storage and root penetration. In addition, clovers place nitrogen in the soil which with added water storage makes for increased yields on following crops.

Sicking is doing a good job of soil and water conservation on his farm—and has almost completed putting the conservation plan into effect. He is one of many district cooperators who has reached this stage in the program of combating the menace of soil erosion.

Most people would be kinder to birds if they would just stop and realize that the dove brings peace and the stork brings tax exemptions.

ENTWINED
Next to wages and prices, there's nothing as inseparable as a pair of wire coathangers in one of the darker recesses of a hall closet.

A reflecting glove—designed to make a motorist's hand signals visible at night—was patented recently. Except for the coating that reflects headlight beams, the glove is of conventional appearance.

Businessmen would get along fine if they could just get the government off their payrolls.

It's too bad that so many people have such a bright future behind them.

 White side-wall tires at extra cost.

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.

This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers... the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!

Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this... together with its unequalled response... the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

... and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!

But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier... and your control five times greater... than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved"... restful chair-high seats... big, wide-opening doors... big windows that let you see more.

It's true... until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

Magnificent State Fairgrounds Evolves From 'Hog Wallow' Site

THE GREAT state fairgrounds at Dallas didn't spring up overnight like a circus tent. A great state fair is an enduring institution that grows through the years. This has been especially true of the State Fair of Texas, with facilities now valued at $35 million, probably the most magnificent fairgrounds in the world.

The first fair had to start from scratch back in 1886. Some of the original planners of the fair were so discouraged with the 80-acre site, which they said was "the worst kind of hog wallow," that they withdrew and held a fair of their own. They returned to the fold the next year, however.

It may have been a hog wallow when work began in the spring of 1886. But 137 mule teams hauled gravel all summer to fill it in and build streets. Hundreds of shrubs were planted and two carloads of greenery were shipped in. It cost $177,000 to get the fairgrounds ready and put on the fair.

A grandstand and race course and frame exhibit buildings were constructed. Fires destroyed several buildings during the early years of the fair, but there was nearly always a new and bigger building to take the place of one that burned.

The city of Dallas agreed in 1904 to buy the fairgrounds for a city park and turn it over to the fair association for an exposition each fall. This plan worked out so well that the State Fair of Texas today is the only state fair in the nation that does not require taxpayer's money in the form of state funds for its operation.

The appearance of the grounds was changed completely in 1906. There was a new administration building and entrance gate of ornate stone and cement, flower beds interspersed with decorative fountains where the old Texas League baseball park had been, and a new exposition building and music hall.

A new amusement park a thousand feet long adjoined the grandstand, featuring a scenic railway and a "Shoot-the-Chute" that was "12 feet higher than any in the South." An electric railway rode visitors all over the fairgrounds and was almost as big a hit as the Shoot-the-Chute.

For the 1910 Silver Anniversary fair another building spree gave the fair a large coliseum, a ladies' textile and fine arts building, a huge manufacturers' building, a dairy building and other fireproof livestock facilities. The fair had built eleven buildings in five years. There were stalls for 500 head of cattle and 200 horses, pens for 700 head of swine and 300 head of sheep and goats. The electric railway line continued to be popular.

A precedent for World War I was set in 1918 when the fairgrounds were turned over to the army. Troops were quartered even in horse stalls at the installation known as Camp Dick.

A wooden football stadium seating 15,000 was built in 1921. Nine years later the original Cotton Bowl stadium was built, a "cut and fill" design holding 45,507 spectators. After World War II, football fever ran high and the stadium was rebuilt and enlarged twice, with a final capacity of 75,504.

State Fair Auditorium was built in 1925, taking the place of the old coliseum, which became an agricultural exhibit building.

The Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936 changed the face of the fairgrounds completely once more. It marked the 100th anniversary of the State Fair of Texas.

When the central Centennial celebration was awarded to Dallas the fairgrounds was valued at $4 million. Additional funds from municipal bonds, private subscription, exhibitors and state and federal governments made the Texas Centennial a $25-million exposition.

State Fair Park was enlarged to 187 acres and transformed into a beautifully landscaped park, studded with magnificent modern buildings. All the old exhibit buildings were modernized and new ones were built. The million-dollar Hall of State was built at one end of a wide Esplanade. Around a lagoon museum buildings were constructed.

The Texas Centennial was one of the four great world fairs of the 1930's, along with those at Chicago, San Francisco and New York. The other expositions came and went; on the site of the Dallas exposition a bigger fair grows each year. And the Centennial buildings are used every day in the year.

After World War II the fairgrounds continued to show impressive development. A huge Automobile Building was built to replace one dating from 1922 that burned during the war. The midway was relocated and enlarged. A new livestock judging pavilion went up; the old arena had become an ice rink. The old race track became a paved parking lot. The Auditorium was air-conditioned.

And this is only the beginning. The State Fair will continue to develop the fairgrounds to make it an even more impressive and useful facility for the people it was built to serve.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche are the parents of a daughter, Susan Marie, born at the local clinic on Saturday, June 14. The seven pound seven ounce girl was baptised Sunday afternoon with her uncle and aunt, the Ray Ottos as sponsors. Susan has five brothers and two sisters. Her grandparents are the Tony Ottos of Muenster and the Jos. Flusches of Lindsay.

THE NEW GENERATION
A father called in his six-year-old daughter and explained to her that the gardner had found a lovely little sister for her early that morning in the cabbage patch, and asked her to write her older brother at boarding school and tell him the news. Curiosity overtook the old man and he read the letter before the postman picked it up. It read: "Dear Jack, you owe me a buck. It's a girl."

Sisters Complete Class of Instructions at Henrietta

Sister Canisia and Sister Anna returned to Muenster Sunday night after spending two weeks in Henrietta where they conducted catechism classes and instructed children for the reception of their first and solemn Communions.

The Communion services were held Sunday in St. Mary's church with the pastor, Rev. John Mitchell officiating. There were six children in the first Communion class and 12 in the solemn Communion class. An outdoor Corpus Christi procession was also held Sunday for the first time in the history of the parish.

Saturday the Sisters and children of the parish enjoyed a picnic. In July the local Sisters will conduct catechism classes in Montague.

The taxes we pay in these days of enormous spending by the government are costing each of us more than the food we eat, according to the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc.

Last year, taxes are estimated to have approximated from 70 to 75 billion dollars while the total amount that the people of the U. S. were paying out for food came to a total of about 56 billion dollars.

Tax Causes Slump In Liquor Revenue

A slump in the returns from tax on distilled liquors, despite an increase of $1.50 per gallon in the tax rate, indicates that this levy is at the point of diminishing returns.

Returns for the period July 1, 1950 to February 28, 1951, were $1,231,000,000 compared with $933,000 for the period July 1, 1951 to February 29, 1952. Moonshining liquor to evade the tax is one reason for the diminishing returns. One 800-gallon still raided in Hardin County Ky., was said to have been evading about $2,500 in Federal taxes each day it operated.

Auctioneers Beat Lindsay; Will Play Windthorst Sunday

The Muenster Auctioneers, at their best so far this season, trimmed Lindsay 7 to 2 on the local diamond Sunday afternoon avenging the 13-12 defeat inflicted on them a week before.

Steady fielding behind Walterscheid's steady hurling held the visitors scoreless after the first inning. Meanwhile the Auctioneers cashed in on some well grouped walks and hits in three innings to bring in their total of 7 tallies.

Ronnie Herr led in the hitting with a 2-run homer, a double and a single. Richard Knabe and Jerry Henscheid helped with 3 and 2 hits respectively.

The Auctioneers' next game will be with Windthorst here at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. In two previous games the teams are tied with one each.

selection. Why isn't it being done? The public doesn't object. That's clearly evident at football games that begin with prayer.

Another good plank is a declaration that the Commandments of God will be enforced along with the law of the land. Let the principle apply to any law of God, whether or not the offense escapes the country's law. Crack down on corruption and graft of any kind, even include waste because it is a way of stealing from taxpayers. Do something also about blasphemy, cursing, lewdness and other offenses of a religious nature. Let the public know that any violation of the Diving law is also a violation of the civil law.

Another plank is a pledge to boot out every communist from a position of influence or trust. That includes government employes, teachers, editors, radio men, union members and what not. It's time we saw the absurdity of our position in this regard. They demand rights but we don't have sense enough to insist that no man has a right to corrupt other people or to violate the Divine law.

Suggestions like this are amusing to the worldly wise who consider themselves capable of getting along without God. Nevertheless this column still believes that the vast majority of Americans agree with these sentiments. It believes that a sincere crusade under God's banner would succeed, both in the election and the administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Trubebach and children were in Dallas Thursday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. G. Stewart and family.
