.73 Rain Too Late And Too Little to Help Local Crops

Practically every time the boys on the Potomac get a tax boosting urge somebody starts reminding us of the law of diminishing returns. It's an economic law, just as sound as any axiom in geometry, to the effect that taxes can get so high that they will bring in less revenue instead of more.

Various factors may be involved. Maybe people buy less of the highly taxed commodity. Maybe business suffers generally and people have less taxable income. Maybe as the stakes get higher a greater percentage of people take the risk of cheating on Uncle Sam.

Whatever the reasons, we've finally reached the point of diminishing returns on liquor revenue. The last increase in taxes has resulted in a decrease, not an increase, in tax income. Why? Very likely some people are drinking less. The more important reason, however is that moonshiners and bootleggers are getting a greater percentage of the liquor business. According to one of the big liquor executives, moonshine stills raided by the government during the past year have a larger total capacity than the entire legal distilling industry. Those stills have been captured in lots of places. In the hills, and in cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Saint Louis.

The stakes are high enough to make moonshining a big business . . . and also to induce a very large number of consumers to risk blindness and poisoning on inferior stuff in order to save some money. Who knows, the high liquor tax may even bring back gangsterism as we knew it in prohibition days. For the good of the country, as well as to recover lost revenue, it may be smart for the government to reduce liquor taxes.

While on the subject of diminishing returns, it's hard to overlook what President Truman's stand in the steel controversy is costing the government in taxes. Millions of dollars of revenue daily that should be taken out of steel profits are being goofed away. Other millions are lost because other industries have to shut down for lack of steel. Finally there's a loss in withholding tax from the millions of workers in steel and other industries who are out of a job.

It has been said that Truman is fanatically loyal to organized labor bosses on this issue. Certainly that point cannot be questioned. His opinion on the subject had to be strong to overcome his well known insatiable greed for tax money.

While all of us are deploring the ill effects of the steel strike, perhaps it is not too much to hope that sooner or later some good will come of the whole mess. The public is taking sides in this battle of giants, and indications now are that the struggle will continue until one or the other is licked. To our way of thinking Truman and the labor bosses will eventually lose out to industry and the American public.

This is the climax we've been working up to for the past several years. We've reached the point at which people will have to decide whether our economy will be controlled by a few labor bosses . . . with the help of sympathetic government officials . . . or whether industry and consumers . . . and even the rank and file of working people . . . will be permitted to have a part in determining the country's future.

There have been reports that the president's plan, in case he has to use the Taft Hartley law, is to time the injunction so that the 80 day cooling off period will expire just before the November general election, then use it to the limit as a campaign issue. If that is actually the case steel mills should be operating in a few more weeks. We have that satisfaction for the present. Then we also have the satisfaction of knowing that the public will have the opportunity to express its wish at the polls. And there

Though too late and too little to be of real value to farmers, the rain of Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning was most welcome in the Muenster Area. Monday's measure according to Steve Moser's official gauge was .62 and Tuesday's was .11. It settled the dust and ushered in a delightful drop in temperature of about 40 degrees. The reading fell from slightly over 100 to slightly over 60.

The rain was too late to be of value to corn crops. Most fields are already gone and farmers are salvaging what they can by cutting for feed. In a few cases ears were fairly well developed and are expected to make a partial crop of shriveled kernels. It likewise fell far short of hay and grass needs. Roots near the surface got a little moisture but deeper roots were left dry.

Juanita Weinzapfel Returns from Europe

Miss Juanita Weinzapfel, teacher in an American occupation school in Wiesbaden Germany the past year, is back home for a six weeks summer vacation. She will leave again about August 15 for another year of teaching in the American occupation system in Germany but does not know at this time whether she will be at the same school. Her pupils are dependents of American service men.

Coming home Miss Weinzapfel crossed the Atlantic by plane and came home from the East Coast by rail. She left Rhine-Main on July 2 and arrived here July 5. Prior to making her plane reservation Miss Weinzapfel had waited several weeks for a ship reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Walterscheid and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schneider and son returned Monday from a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Endres and the Frank Walterscheid family at Hereford.

News of the Sick and Injured

Bob Swirczynski of Ardmore underwent an operation for appendicitis at an Ardmore hospital at 8 o'clock Monday morning. According to reports Tuesday he is recovering nicely after a rough day Monday.

Mrs. Paul Fisher suffered considerable pain and discomfort part of last week after running a sewing machine needle through her finger.

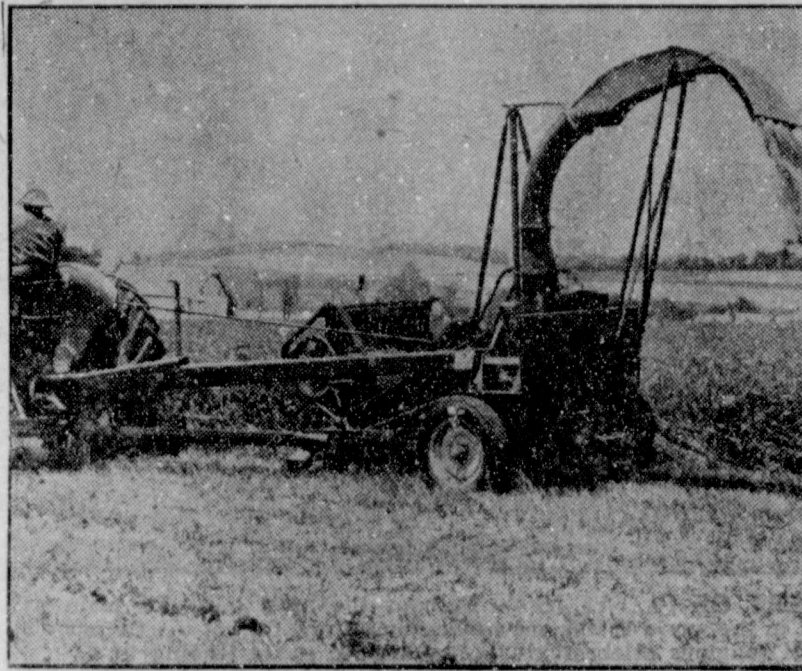

After about a week of treatments in a Wichita Falls hospital Mrs. Callie Baumhardt went to Devol, Okla., during the past week end. She is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. F. G. McClendon while recuperating.

Leo Hesse returned home Tuesday and is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation Tuesday of last week in the Veterans Hospital at McKinney.

Harry Armstrong of the Soil Conservation work unit failed to report to work Monday and Tuesday because of sickness.

O. W. Cannon Sr. of Bulcher is reported to be improving in Gainesville Sanitarium from an acute attack of diabetes. He was found in a coma early Friday and rushed to the hospital. His condition reminded critical all day but after that he began responding to treatment. Mr. Cannon has been suffering with diabetes for 14 years.

Mrs. J. E. Lane, former Muenster resident, appears to be recovering slowly in a Denton hospital from a heart attack suffered on Sunday, June 29. Returning from a visit, Mrs. Dick Cain said that the patient was critically ill for several days after the attack. During the week end Mrs. Lane's sons, Harry and Wesley and their wives and children visited her at the hospital. Both sons are now living in Phoenix, Ariz.

CHOPPED GRASS YIELDS MORE SPUDS? — Not satisfied with a three-year rotation of grain, alfalfa and potatoes because the preceding crop was hard to plow under, F. H. Krause of Germansville, Pa., decided that a shredder was what he needed. He went to a manufacturer in New Holland, Pa., and bought the machine, above, which was intended for mowing and chopping grass for silage. Rather than blow the chopped grass into a wagon Krause puts it back on the field as "green manure." He says it will increase potato production.

Florence Fette Is Stricken by Polio

Muenster's second case of Polio in recent weeks made its appearance Tuesday.

Miss Florence Fette, student nurse at St. Paul's Hospital, Dallas, at home on vacation, was admitted to the Polio ward of Dallas Parkland Hospital Tuesday night about 10. Doctors who diagnosed her case said that fortunately she had reported in the early stage of the disease.

Miss Fette first fell ill last Saturday and improved Sunday. Feeling worse again Monday and Tuesday she went to the Gainesville Sanitarium late Tuesday afternoon. Doctors there said that her symptoms seemed to indicate Polio and advised her to go to Dallas immediately. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fette and a sister, Mrs. Leonard Hartman.

They reported to her hospital, St. Paul's, and a member of the hospital staff accompanied them to Parkland.

Magazine Features Muenster 4-H Boys

Muenster boys who distinguished themselves in the State 4-H safety program have received recognition also in the July issue of the Farmer Stockman.

The boys appear in a series of pictures showing common farm hazards which can be eliminated by safety conscious people.

Local 4-H members featured are Billy Whitt, Larry Hofbauer, Virgil Henschel, Jimmy Hellman Billy Ben Boyles and Donald Bayer. Robert Fuhrmann of Lindsay, another standout in 4-H farm safety work, appears with the local lads. Adults shown are County Agent B. T. Haws, Mayor John Hoffman, Steve Moser, Herbert Meurer, and J. W. Fisher.

Funeral Rite for Mrs. M. H. Koelzer Friday at Hereford

Funeral services for Mrs. M. H. Koelzer, who passed away Tuesday, July 2 in a Hereford hospital, were held Friday, July 4, at St. Anthony's Church, Hereford, with Father Dominic as celebrant of the requiem high mass. Father Nathaniel Madden delivered the sermon, said final prayers and officiated at the burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery.

Muenster relatives in the large funeral crowd that paid final tribute to Mrs. Koelzer included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Herr and daughters, Therese Herr of Dallas and Mrs. Leonard Bengfort of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke, Ben Luke, Alphonse Luke, Theresa Luke and Bill Luke of Iraan. Mrs. Koelzer, the former Matilda Luke was born in Leopold, Mo. on June 17, 1883, and came to Muenster with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Luke in 1902. She married Mike Koelzer on Oct. 24, 1905, and the couple lived here until 1926 when they moved to Hereford.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, five daughters, six brothers, three sisters, eleven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yosten went to Waco Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. Julius Filer, who had been in a hospital five days. On arriving they found her ready to leave and took her to her home at Tours.

Building And Improvement Notes

Work started Tuesday on a 36 x 70 warehouse for the Muenster Milling Company. Built of clay tile, it will cover almost all the east end of the lot between the Mill and the Wolf Hotel.

R. P. Cain has just finished building a car-port at the west side of his home.

VFW Post Reveals Park Clean-up Plan

Members of the Muenster VFW Post decided to give the city park a general renovating as volunteer workers can conveniently get on the job. The work consists mostly of cleaning off rubbish and mowing. Plans for the fixing up were made at the regular VFW meeting Tuesday night.

Aside from their park work discussion, the meeting consisted principally of playing back a tape recording taken by Wimpy Kathman of high spots at the recent VFW state convention in Galveston.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Cpl. Henry "Curly" Pels of Robins AFB, Georgia, arrived Tuesday on a 30 day leave.

Pfc. Theodore Noggler, serving with the Marines in Arizona, is enjoying a 10 day leave with home folks.

Sgt. Alfons Koesler, who arrived on the west from Korea last week, made it home in time to spend the Fourth of July with his parents and family, the Alfons Koeslers. He is on leave until August 2 when he reports to Fort Sill, Okla., for a new assignment.

Cpl. Mike Luke is here since July 4 to spend a 15-day leave with his parents, the Henry Lukes. Stationed at Kirtland AFB, New Mexico, Mike spent the week before coming to Muenster in Denver, Colo., for special tests at Lowery AFB.

Joe Moser, apprentice airman, spent the holiday and weekend on leave from the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, visiting his mother, Mrs. Theresa Moser and family. Monday he resumed regular duty after being hospitalized since April 20 when he was in a car wreck. He has recovered from two major operations for internal injuries.

S. Sgt. Kenneth Wiesman has a discharge from the army air force after serving four years, two of them in Alaska. He was last stationed at Bellville, Ill, and came to Muenster from there Thursday. He visited his parents, the Al Wiesmans, until Monday when he joined Mitchell Wolf on a trip to Washington state where they will work during the grain harvest.

Reynold Reiter is back in Muenster as a civilian after serving in the army air force for the past four years. He came here from Fort Hamilton, Calif., where he was stationed, holding the rank of staff sergeant, and is visiting his parents, the Clem Reiters.

Sgt. Keith Tompkins and family spent July 4 with his parents at Ringgold.

Sgt. Ted Gremminger of Carswell AFB was home for July 4 and the week end.

Sgt. Norb Mages and a companion Sgt. John Zath, both of Lowry AFB, Denver, stopped here July 3 and 4 while enroute to San Antonio. They were on special assignment to return a prisoner from San Antonio to Denver.

Two of Ben Sicking's sons, Cpl. Ernest of Carswell AFB and Cpl. Alois of Fort Sill, were home with the family July 4 through Sunday.

Pvt. Anton Hess of Fort Sill spent the July 4th week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess.

Sgt. George Swirczynski of Waco visited with his parents from July 3 to 6.

Sgt. Robert Bayer's guest last Sunday was Sgt. Gene Bracken, an army pal stationed with Robert at Fort Sill. Bracken, of Wichita Falls, and Bayer have been together through basic training and overseas service and are still together at Fort Sill. Both are now on 30 days leave.

Muenster Spends Fourth at Benefit Picnic for Church

Muenster celebrated on July 4th and in the bargain made a nice addition to its fund for the new Sacred Heart Church. While some 2500 persons, visiting the parish picnic grounds during the day and night, mingled among the concessions they were dropping nickels, dimes and quarters into the church fund.

Father Louis Deuster said Wednesday that the exact net proceeds of the event have not been determined yet and cannot be determined until all outstanding bills are submitted. He estimates, however that the combined net of concessions will exceed $3000. In addition a current drive for funds has now passed $5000.

The picnic started early Friday and continued until midnight. Early birds arrived shortly after it opened. By noon several hundred were there and about 5 p.m. the place was jammed. Then, as farmers went home for chores, the crowd thinned for a while and started packing in again after dark.

Few if any members of the parish failed to show up at some time of the day or night and their number was easily offset by the large number of out of town friends and former residents.

The site was the church land about two miles west of town, property which had been given to the parish by a pioneer settler in the early days of the community.

Work toward making it into a picnic spot started before Easter with clearing brush and building latrines. Principal improvements before the Fourth were extension of a power line to the place and construction of a concrete platform for dancing. Next in line is additional brush clearance to allow more breeze through the park as well as to extend its area.

Attic Fire Razes Roof at Stelzer's

A fire believed to be caused by defective wiring completely destroyed the roof of the A. C. Stelzer home shortly before noon Wednesday.

Due to the efficient work of Muenster firemen and lots of other volunteers, all furnishings were moved out and the lower part of the house received little more than water damage.

When first discovered, about 11:30, the fire was raging in the attic. Moments after the alarm was given a crowd of people was moving furniture out of the house and went on to complete the job as firemen started to work on the roof. Shortly before noon firemen were putting away their hoses, and Mr. Stelzer was thanking his benefactors for their wonderful help. Later he asked the Enterprise to extend his thanks to any others that he did not see personally.

Asked what he intends to do about repairing, Stelzer said he will probably salvage the rest of the building and put up a new house. He intended to remodel anyway, so he'll start at the ground with plans he likes.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Swirczynski of Dallas were here Sunday visiting with her mother, Mrs. J. S. Horn and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski.

STREET OF FLOWERS — Perhaps the most beautiful main street in the world is this one in Genzano, Italy, during the Corpus Christi religious celebrations. On the main street leading to the church, a group of local citizens complete their flower decorations as spectators line the sidewalk. Hundreds of pounds of fresh petals are used and even the ropes holding back the crowd are covered with foliage.

THROUGH A CHILD'S EYES

Bobbie Louise Smith is a 10th grade student at City High School, Senatobia, Miss. One day not long ago a new girl came to school. She was Maija Jekabsons, a refugee from the tiny Baltic country, Latvia, which was overrun by the Germans in 1939 and then gobbled up in Joe Stalin's widening Communist empire. Warmhearted Bobbie was drawn to this Eastern European girl who spoke awkwardly in halting English.

When Maija had learned the language well enough she began to tell Bobbie her story. The American girl listened in stunned amazement. For five years Maija was a prisoner in a German concentration camp. And through all her life she and her family had never known real peace of mind, real freedom. Bobbie Smith had never before given "freedom" a thought. It was a birthright in America, too commonplace to be considered. But now this terrible story of Maija's focused a new light on freedom.

What Freedom Means

Last winter Bobbie read about an essay contest being conducted by Lion Oil Company, big petroleum and chemical manufacturers serving the Southern states. One of the four essay subjects listed was "What Freedom Means To Me." Bobbie entered. With Maija's life of fear and enslavement vividly in her mind, the Mississippi girl wrote:

I am an average 15 year old girl, the eldest of five children in a typical American family. My father is a linesman whose income provides comfort, but few luxuries. Even so, my opportunities are boundless, my heritage complete; for into freedom I was born, and through freedom I shall live.

In order that I may further express this feeling, let us imagine we are elevated high above the town in which I live. From this vantage point we can see how freedom works—in, around, and through us.

It is early morning. The sun is just tinting the horizon. Morning stars fade. Around us are cautious birdnotes, while in the distance a dog barks. We hear the clinking of milk bottles as a classmate works his way from door to door; close behind comes the thud of the morning paper tossed on the front porches by another whistling classmate—both of whom could become President of our country.

Opening the paper we would

Honor The Old Folks! It's Your Strict Duty

WHEN WE WERE kids, we learned the Ten Commandments. One of them said, "Honor thy father and thy mother!" And even though at times we grumbled and balked, we still could see it was reasonable.

To obey, well that was O. K., but when the lesson droned on that we were supposed to support our parents in their declining years, to provide them with food and clothing and shelter and medicine and spiritual assistance—why that went over our heads like the air mail.

But the obligation to support our parents, which we took so lightly when we were nine, binds us heavily now, when we are twenty-nine or thirty-nine.

AFTER ALL, they provided for us for many years when we could not provide for ourselves. Why shouldn't we do as much for them now? Maybe they upset our routine a little; we used to upset their whole house.

Do you remember the story of the sturdy Bavarian peasant who got disgusted with his father because the trembling old man, carrying his plate away from the table after dinner, had broken two plates in the last month? So this day when the old man dropped it, the farmer swore at him, and went out into a nearby forest, and began to carve a plate out of wood.

SEEMS HIS OWN little son had tagged along after him, and got interested and asked his Dad what he was making. "I'm making a plate that that clumsy old grandfather of yours won't be able to break!"

The boy watched his father

whittling away, and then he said, "Daddy, be sure you make that plate good and strong, because then when you are old, I can give it to you."

Daddy almost cut his finger when he heard that. He looked at the boy, looked into space, tossed the plate back into the woods, and said, "Come on, son, let's see how Grandpa's doing."

THERE ARE MANY old, forgotten mothers and fathers, living in little rooms, all alone. Well, in this situation, do you think it is enough if a son or daughter mail them a few dollars every month? Surely they deserve more than mere support.

They are not old police horses turned out to pasture. They are mothers and fathers. They are hungry for other things than food—hungry for a little affection, a little visit, a little remembrance, a little love.

AND MARK YOU, all this is not sentimental charity. This is our solemn duty before God. He will ask us how we have performed it. It is the adult part of God's Fourth Commandment—by Rev. Joseph Manton.

divisional and the Sweepstakes awards—$4000 in scholarships.) If this moving realization of freedom pouring out of the heart of a Mississippi schoolgirl could but reach the great heart of our nation her child's faith would be fulfilled. Men and women of America, we are challenged—to preserve freedom and extend it to all mankind!

How Nervy Can a "Tenant" Get?

"Harry the Hermit" dropped in to see Judge Cunningham the other day and started complaining about that dilapidated house he lives in over near Greenwood Lake.

"Who's my landlord?" Harry wanted to know. "Whoever you pay rent to," says the Judge. "Don't pay any rent," says Harry. "Moved into that house twelve years ago and nobody ever came to collect."

"Well," says the Judge, looking mystified, "what do you have to complain about?" "Plenty," replies Harry. "Rain's pouring in my living room and if someone doesn't fix that roof, I'm moving out!"

Now Harry was only having a little joke, but from where I sit I've seen people act just about as nervy as this sometimes—seriously. Like those who enjoy all the rights Americans have worked for, and yet would take away some of those freedoms from others—for example, our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. I say these "leaks of intolerance" have no place in the "home of liberty."

IF YOU WANT BIGGER PAYLOADS, YOU WANT A DODGE

"We solved our hauling problems with Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks"

... says BERNARD J. CARNEY, Manager, Weyerhaeuser & Denkmann Lumber Yard, Rock Island Lumber Co., Rock Island, Ill.

"Our business calls for trucks that can haul big loads day in and day out—and we like our trucks to last, too! That's why we prefer Dodge trucks that are 'Job-Rated' to fit our particular hauling job.

"We recently put in service two Dodge 'Job-Rated' 1½-ton models . . . and they sure haul big loads the way we want them to! For instance, the 170-inch wheelbase models allow for a 14-foot body, which is ideal for our business. And Dodge easy-handling advantages enable us to maneuver these trucks in the same space as some other trucks with 12-foot bodies."

For bigger payloads, choose from many Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks—½- through 4-ton.

"Job-Rated" engineering makes it possible for you to haul more with the right Dodge truck for your needs.

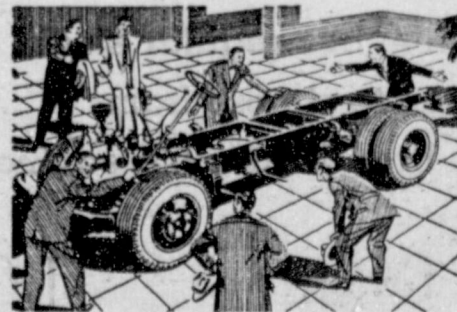

You haul more economically, because of advantages like lightweight aluminum-alloy pistons and others.

For smoother power and extra load protection, gyro Fluid Drive is available on ½-, ¾-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.

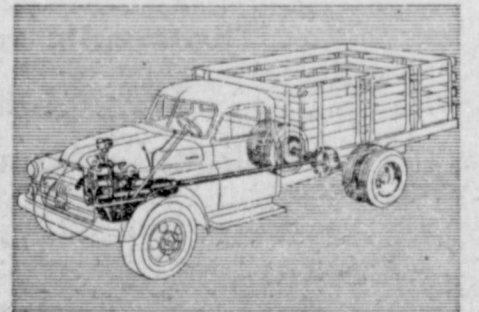

Come in for a demonstration—and an extra good deal!

Better weight distribution. The short wheelbase design of Dodge trucks allows more weight to be carried on the front axle. Because the engine is located farther forward and the front axle is moved back, you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

The right load-carrying units. The frame, axles, springs, and other units that carry the load are "Job-Rated" on Dodge trucks. Each is engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed to support your load. And all are "Job-Rated" to work together!

The right load-moving units. You get an engine that's "Job-Rated" with plenty of power to pull bigger loads at low cost. In fact, all load-moving units—such as clutch, transmission, rear axle—are engineered to move bigger loads.

Lee Morris Honored On 70th Birthday

Mr. Lee Morris retired Baptist minister serving the Bulcher community for many years, was honored with a dinner at his home Sunday celebrating his 70th birthday.

Mr. Morris was born at Bulcher on July 6, 1882 and spent all of his life there except 10 years in Plainview and 7 years in Gainesville. He was ordained minister on Jan. 24, 1921 and has spent his life in that service since.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris who came to Bulcher shortly after the end of the Civil War. The pioneer Mr. Morris served as a trail boss on three cattle drives to Kansas City, crossing Red River near the present ferry location and grazing the stock on open range all the way to market.

Lee Morris was married at Bulcher to Miss Maggie Simon on Oct. 22, 1899. They are the parents of 11 children, six still living, four of whom attended the birthday dinner Sunday. They are Charlie and General Morris of Gainesville, Mrs. Floyd Tucker of Hereford and Mrs. Morris Daniels of Plainview. Children not attending are Mrs. Janie Brown of Plainview and Mrs. Frank Hunter of Amarillo.

Others at the dinner were the families of Charlie and General Morris, Floyd Tucker, Morris Daniels and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Deward West and Children of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Dennis and daughter.

It took 1,000 artists three years to make the movie "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Shivers Campaign Reaches West Texas

Austin, July 10.—At the midway point of his two-week tour through the state, Governor Allan Shivers will make appearances in five West Texas cities and San Antonio during the remainder of the week.

The governor started his tour shortly after being named chairman of the National Governors' Conference by fellow chief executives at the Houston meeting. The honor in Houston, the highest that governors of the United States and its territories can pay an associate, climaxes a long string of achievements by Governor Shivers.

The Governor made appearances in Lubbock and Brownfield Wednesday, July 9, then divided time between Lubbock and Amarillo the following day.

From Amarillo he will go to San Angelo, then to Odessa, where his weekly broadcast will originate on Friday night, July 11. The broadcast may be heard over Radio Station KRLD in Dallas.

Price Control Was A Failure in 1788

After failure of attempts to regulate prices during the American Revolution, the Continental Congress decided in 1788 that price control laws did more harm than good.

"It hath been found by experience," said a resolution adopted by the Congress, "that limitation in the price of commodities is not only ineffective for the purpose proposed, but likewise productive of very evil consequences, to the great detriment of the public service and the grievous oppression of individuals."

Why Put a Limit On the Earnings Of Retired People?

(Saturday Evening Post)

Under the unique theory embodied in the Social Security Law, a single man or widower who has retired and is receiving a maximum of eighty dollars per month may not earn more than an additional fifty dollars per month. If he is paid more than that, he forfeits his eighty-dollar stipend. In fact, it is only slightly more than a year ago that Congress amended the law to permit beneficiaries to augment their Social Security income to the extent of fifty dollars. Before January 1, 1951, the limit was fifteen dollars a month.

Just how elderly people on small annuities are supposed to pay their bills in these inflationary times, the Social Security Act does not state. Neither does it explain the justice of restricting the amount which a retired man may earn by his own labor when no restriction is placed on what a more fortunate oldster may receive from investments, private pensions and annuities, or rich and grateful relatives. Another mystery is the provision in the law by which beneficiaries of Social Security who reach the age of seventy-five are permitted to earn as much as they like!

However, until he is too old to tear into an eight-hour day like a game cock, the retired man does well to play it safe. If he decides that it is ridiculous to try to live on $130 a month—his eighty dollars Social Security stipend plus the fifty dollars he is permitted to earn—and goes out and gets a job, the first $100 a month he earns, less income tax, makes it a stand-off between working and sitting quietly on the porch. The eighty dollar Social Security check which he forfeited was tax-free, but the $100 or more which he earns is taxable at the new high rate. Any normal annuitant would ask himself, "Why work for the price of loafing?"

On Page 18 of the 1951 booklet, Your New Social Security, if found a heading: Who Pays For It? The answer: "Federal old-age and survivors insurance is paid for by a contribution (or tax) on the employee's wage and the self-employed person's earnings from his trade or business." Well, if the retired worker has "paid for" his benefit, along with an equal contribution by his employer, what business is it of the Government what other income he has or how he earns it?

A man on a private retirement plan gets his pension without any strings attached as to the amount he may earn. The same is true of annuities from insurance companies, Social Security is described by the Federal wind machines as insurance for which the worker has paid with his own money along with a contribution by the boss. But if the worker at age sixty-five has bought no more than an obligation not to add to his small allowance by taking a job on the side, he has a right to ask, "Is this insurance or a dole?"

This restriction on the earnings of Social Security beneficiaries was tacked onto the law in 1934 because it was considered a good idea to discourage elderly people from entering the labor market. Unemployment was high when the law was passed. But, aside from economic hardships, the restriction discourages able and active men from utilizing their abilities at a time of life when they need all the help they can get. Retirement is tough going for most healthy men, and to force idleness on them is a cruel injustice. Social workers and business leaders who expected retirement plans to solve the problem, now hold conferences on how to reconcile people to retirement!

There is also the national angle. If the nation's defense industries demand more and more men, it is obvious that the abilities and skills of thousands of men who have reached their sixty-fifth birthdays can be used. It is a strange policy indeed which would suppress this available labor supply by bribing men not to take jobs that pay them more than twelve dollars a week. When this antisocial practice is carried on in the name of social insurance, to which all employed people are compelled to contribute out of their earnings, insult is added to injury.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole, of New York, has proposed an amendment to the Social Security Act, permitting people over sixty-five to earn $100 a month without losing their annuities. But why should there be any limit at all?

Each automobile spark plug fires about 15,000,000 times in 10,000 miles of driving.

Honey bees are sold by the pound with about 5,000 to the pound.

SOLDIER INHERITS CHURCH RETURNS IT TO THE PEOPLE

The people of a small Italian village were worshipping in their own church this month through the courtesy of a corporal in the 118th Medical Battalion of the 43rd Infantry Division. For many months the congregation had knelt in the pews of St. Vincent's Church in the village of Poerno di Buellemo, untroubled by the fact all traces of the church's owner had long been lost. Corporal

Joseph L. Vegliante, on a visit to the church, spied his last name engraved on the altar. An investigation was started by the priest and historian, with the corporal ending up as the owner. Now the congregation prays in peace... the corporal gave the church to them, valued at a billion lire.

AUSTIN, June—The Assistant Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game & Fish Commission counsels ranchers and sportsmen to guard against fish loss in shallow lakes and tanks during summer heat.
He said the extreme heat in small water areas sometimes exhausts the oxygen, with the result that the fish smother. The kill usually occurs during the early morning calm.
The Assistant Chief Aquatic Biologist said one means of helping prevent these losses is to stir up the water with an outboard motor.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dieter of Longview spent the holiday weekend visiting their parents, the Val Dieters and Joe Hundts.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermes are the parents of a son born at 6:55 Sunday morning in the Gainesville Sanitarium. The little fellow weighed in at 8 pounds 4 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Metzler and son, Dutch Metzler and Miss Lois McGowan of Dallas have returned from a vacation trip to Colorado. Among places visited was the Garden of the Gods, Pikes Peak, Estes Park and the John Lueb home at Boulder.

Guests in the Walter Nortman home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nortman and son, Jerome, of Alice, and Mrs. Lawrence Blumberg and sons, Melvin and Kenneth of Pilot Point.

Mrs. C. B. Falon and Mrs. Bonny Johnson of Sherman formerly Misses Rose Gieb and Bertha Faecke, visited with the Walter Nortmans last week.

Schmitz Hot Hurler On Air Force Team

Sgt. Walter Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitz of Lindsay is going places as a softball pitcher on the Air Force team at Coca Florida.

On a recent trip with his team to Nassau, Bahama Islands, he won two decisive games over the Bahama Air Force team. In the opener Walter allowed no hits, struck out 15 and permitted one runner to reach first, on a walk. In the second he pitched a 2 hitter.

City Buys Mower For Weed Control

A more through weed control program for the City of Muenster was indicated by the purchase of a Ford tractor and mower by the city council Tuesday. The machine will be used for mowing along the streets and will also be available for mowing lots.

Steve Moster is in charge of the equipment. He said that the City will charge 3.00 per hour for the mower and operator, with a minimum charge of $1.50.

He also said that property owners are urged to clear their lots of any rubbish that will foul the sickle before asking for mowing service. By doing that they can help avoid damage to the machine and also save themselves the extra expense of needless delays.

Grass Fire Sweeps 100 Acres Pasture

A grass fire of unknown origin Monday afternoon destroyed about 100 acres of pasture in the Marysville community. The loss was shared about 50-50 by Endres Brothers and Danglmayr Brothers.

Paul and Urban Endres discovered the blaze as they were driving to the place at 5 o'clock. Judging by its progress, to then they estimated it had got started 15 to 30 minutes earlier.

They spread an alarm promptly and in a short time there were about a dozen volunteers from the neighborhood and as many from Muenster fighting to check the spread of the flames. Using power sprayers and the Muenster fire truck they got it under control about 7:30 o'clock. After that the Endres and Danglmayr brothers patrolled the area most of the night in case the fire should break out again.

A light rain early Tuesday assured them that the danger of another outbreak was past. The area, unfortunately was beyond the area reached by Monday afternoon's shower. That rain fizzled out about five miles north of Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hoffman and her mother, Mrs. C. O. Simmons Sr., of Wichita Falls were guests of the Hoffmans Sunday.

Confetti

is reason to believe that the president's strategy will backfire.

Economic experts who should know the score say that the reason behind Truman's and Phil Murray's stubborn stand is their fear of the Taft Hartley law. They and their cohorts are scared stiff that when the cool-off time ends and individual workers are permitted to vote secretly on accepting or rejecting industry's best offer, the outcome will be a repudiation of the stand taken by Truman, Murray, et al. That's the reason behind the steel seizure. The president was trying an unlawful way, because he was afraid that labor boss domination would not stand up under the lawful way.

There has been lots of bally hoo about Taft-Hartley being a slave labor law, instigated, of course, by the president and labor bosses. But the public doesn't seem convinced that the charge is correct. In the first place we know that more than two thirds of both houses of Congress did not agree on that point. They passed the law over the president's veto. We know also that many working people do not agree on that point because Bob Taft, co-author of the bill, ran his last senatorial race mostly on that issue and polled heavy majorities in industrial centers of his state.

The real truth is that the slave labor charge applies instead to the condition that Phil Murray is attempting to establish. Under his arrangement the working man has no choice. He does as the labor boss says. If the boss and industry can't agree he goes on strike whether he and co-workers want to or not. He's the slave to his labor boss.

If there is any aspect of the law which deserves the slave labor charge, it is a clause which favors the union. That is the clause which permits establishing a union shop. When an industry can be coerced into that agreement every worker must be a union member in order to hold his job. Well, isn't it a form of slave labor when a person has to join an organization and pay dues against his will in order to stay on the payroll?

Auxiliary Listed on State Honor Roll for Charity, Civic Work

An object of pride at the VFW Auxiliary meeting Monday night was an honor roll certificate indicating that the Muenster post has been listed on the state organization's honor roll.

The honor was given the local unit in recognition of its activities in charity and community betterment. Presented the local delegates at the state convention, the certificate was the second received by the Muenster Auxiliary in the past two years.

The meeting Monday night was featured by interesting reports on the convention at Galveston, given by Mrs. Joaline Roberg and Mrs. Dorothy Kathman. Those reports were supplemented by a report on the district convention at Sherman, given by Mrs. Alta Swirczynski.

Under new business the group made plans for a dance to be sponsored late in July or early in August. If weather permits it will be on the concrete slab in the city park, otherwise it will be in the VFW home, Mrs. Carolyn Walterscheid heads the committee in charge of arrangements.

The meeting voted to donate all proceeds from their recently sponsored musical "Shooting Stars" to the two churches of Muenster, two thirds to the new Sacred Heart Church fund and one third to the Baptist church.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Frank Felderhoff and Mrs. Alphonse Felderhoff.

Visitors at the J. W. Fletcher home Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Redman and son and Rev. Ben Youngblood of Saint Jo.
