

Papers in towns which are served by the Texas and Pacific Railway last week carried an ad in which the railroad company made an inspiring departure from the usual form of advertising. This was not the usual attempt to sell the public on the merits of the company but rather an appeal for firmer belief and trust in Almighty God.

Obviously the men who guide the destiny of T&P are aware that the company's success depends upon the success of the nation, which in turn depends upon a general acceptance and observance of the fundamentals of religion. The things that have made our country great are ideals geared to the laws of God. By preserving and even strengthening those ideals it can continue and grow in greatness. By discarding them, it can drift into oblivion. T&P is showing rare judgment and far sightedness in asking people to get closer to God. Here is the message of the ad:

"In God We Trust . . . do we or don't we? Does it mean anything . . . or doesn't it?"

"Would another phrase do just as well? Our nation's founders didn't think so!"

"The men who signed the Constitution . . . the men—and women who braved the prairie and the mountain to pioneer our land . . . they didn't think so."

"But what about us? Does this motto on the coin in our pocket guide us . . . inspire us . . . strengthen us? Or have we forgotten the power of the faith expressed in these words?"

"If our country's future is uncertain . . . if we are worried about tomorrow . . . then perhaps the time has come to put aside small things and turn once more to the faiths which made our nation great."

"Our country's great leaders down through the years have shared a sure belief in God . . . in themselves . . . in their fellow men . . . and in freedom! In crisis and in peace they have placed their faith in God's wisdom . . . and in their own ability to work out their problems . . . and in the great justice of a free people."

"Let us do the same today. For these faiths will renew our strength."

Another notable message of a similar nature was that delivered by B. A. Stufflebeme at the district soil conservation awards banquet in Sherman last Thursday night. Stufflebeme is a member of the state prison board, and in speaking of the board's activities he proudly stated that it is the only one of the state boards that opens its meetings with prayer. In his opinion any group of persons will do better when it asks Almighty God to join as another member and guide its deliberations toward decisions that are in harmony with His will.

His statements rate an enthusiastic approval from every thinking man. Not only because things should be that way as a matter of principle but also because of the very obvious fact that results are better when people honestly strive to do things God's way. The effect is harmony with nature and humanity. When state and national boards generally adopt that attitude, and abide by it, we'll have a smoother operating society.

The speaker offered another gem of a thought in his remark that "Almighty God thinks just as much of prisoners as He does of the people outside, the difference is that the inmates do not think as much of God." He described the prisoners as prodigal sons and said it is the prison board's purpose to assist them in every way to return to Divine favor.

It is because of that policy, he thinks, that Texas now has about the highest prisoner morale of the 48 states. There are no riots. Men are well fed, well housed and well treated. More deserving prisoners enjoy the comparative freedom of the honor system . . . no guards, nothing to hold them but their own standards of honor . . . and they're

Soil Conservation Champs Honored At Awards Dinner

If farms of the Texas Prison System can increase their production through soil saving and soil building practices, counties and districts can do the same thing, B. A. Stufflebeme, Grand Prairie banker and member of the Texas Prison Board, told some 600 farmers and business men at the annual conservation awards banquet of the Upper Elm-Red District in Sherman last Thursday night.

Stufflebeme said that production on prison farms during the five years conservation practices have been in effect is equal to that of the previous 15 years. The job has been done entirely by carrying out the recommendations of experts from A and M College and technicians of the soil conservation service. Most of that advice, he said, pertained to soil treatment but some of it pertained also to changing from antiquated to modern farming methods.

Upon that record the speaker based his principal message of advice: "Work with the conser-

Audie Murphy Visit Thrills Teen-Agers

Sunday's ball game between the Tigers and Ranchers turned out to be quite a thrilling event for local teen agers when they discovered that Audie Murphy, movie star and most decorated hero of World War II, was one of the spectators. He accompanied the Boys Ranch team on its trip to Muenster.

The youngsters found Murphy a very pleasant visitor. He chatted freely and posed with several groups for snapshots. Murphy is a member of the Variety Club, which sponsors Boys' Ranch.

Tigers In Tourney For State Title of Academic League

The Tigers of Sacred Heart High are in Austin this weekend competing for the state baseball championship of the Texas Academic League.

Rev. Cletus Post revealed that the state title will be determined by an elimination tournament in which two teams from each district will compete. Boys' Ranch as winner and Sacred Heart as runner-up will represent this district. Two other teams in the tourney are St. Anthony of San Antonio and St. Edward's of Austin. Father Cletus had not been advised what teams will represent other districts.

The Tigers have won five out of their eight conference games with Boys' Ranch, Laneri and Greenhill. The schedule called for three games with each opponent but the last Greenhill game was rained out and has been cancelled since because the outcome would not affect the conference standing.

Last Sunday the local lads bested Boys' Ranch 8 to 5 on the off with a homer and held this local diamond. The visitors led until the sixth when Sacred Heart forged ahead and held the lead the rest of the way.

'53 Crop Prospect Further Improved By Timely Showers

Crop prospects in the Muenster area got another boost this week by timely rains on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The scattered showers came just in time to relieve the ill effects of hot, dry winds the latter part of last week, which were beginning to upset estimates that grain had enough moisture to carry through to maturity.

Ground was drying abnormally fast and grain was ripening too fast to fill out for a good test. All that has been improved, at least for the present by the extra moisture and a drop in temperature to the high forties.

According to scattered reports gathered by soil conservation technicians the outlook is fine, up to now. Grain is exceptionally thick on the ground, heads are well filled and kernels are developing nicely. Continued good weather will mean a bumper crop.

Likewise corn, hay and pastures are doing well, recovering wonderfully from the slow-down caused by last week's hot wind.

Rain measures were .05 Saturday, .44 Sunday, .24 Monday and .60 Tuesday. The month's total to date is 1.33, the year's total 9.71.

Stewart Resigns MHS Coaching Job

Troy Stewart this week announced his resignation as head coach at Muenster High School, effective at the end of the school year.

Had It Too Good!

Four zoo-reared timber wolves, members of a normally proud and resourceful species, were reduced to raiding garbage cans when released on a wooded island in Lake Superior recently. The security of life in the zoo apparently had deadened their initiative and they could no longer depend on their hunting instincts to provide food.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Do you ever kick about the high cost of food and other goods? You'd be wiser to kick about the high cost of government. Last year the average American family of four had an income of $3400. It paid out $1100 of it in direct and indirect taxes. That $1100 would have been enough to buy a $21 basket of groceries each and every week of the year.

4-H Club Members Elect New Officers

If Taxes Were Paid In Silver Dollars

Suppose the law provided that taxes must be paid in silver dollars. If that were the case, a California power and light utility* would need a fleet of 237 10-ton trucks to carry its 1952 tax payments to the offices of the federal, state and local collectors.

This company's total 1952 tax bill came to almost $79,000,000, which was $26,636,000 more than its payroll costs, and $32,810,000 more than it paid in dividends to its 198,300 stockholders—the people whose savings make the company's existence possible. Moreover, the taxes amounted to $5.87 per share of common stock outstanding—almost three times the $2-per-share dividend now paid on this stock. In short, when it comes to dividing company earnings the government does a whole lot better than either the owners or employes. Taxes constitute the largest single item in the utility's budget.

Rosalee Fuhrman And Robert Bayer Say Vows Thursday

Miss Rosalee Fuhrman became the bride of Robert J. Bayer in a double ring ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church at 8:30 Thursday morning, May 7. Rev. Louis Deuster directed the exchange of vows and officiated at the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman and the groom is the son of Mrs. Joe Bayer.

The couple recited their vows before the altar adorned with white gladioli, greenery and candles. Anthony Luke, church organist, presented the pre-nuptial music and remained at the console to assist the choir in rendering music for the mass.

The bride's lovely gown added sentiment to the wedding. Of Chantilly lace and candlelight satin, it had been worn by her twin sister, Mrs. Robert Pulte at her wedding.

The gown featured a lace bodice with scalloped neckline, scalloped cap sleeves and a wide satin skirt. Full length lace gauntlets formed petal points over the bride's hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a satin band adorned with orange blossoms. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of red roses. Mr. Fuhrman gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Pulte was her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Ethel Mae Bayer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore bouffant ballerina length frocks of net over taffeta in shades of yellow and green respectively with matching calots of shirred net and carried bouquets of tulle and roses.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Arthur Bayer, and the bride's brother, Alvin Fuhrman.

Alvin Hartman and Bill Fuhrman were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fuhrman wore a rose lace and linen dress with navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy and white bemberg sheer with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony the newlywed couple was honored with a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gilbert Endres where a tri-color scheme of white, yellow and green predominated. Other guests were members of the bridal party, parents of the couple, and the pastors.

In the afternoon the bride's parents were hosts for a reception, followed by a buffet supper, in the parish hall. Decorations here again repeated the wedding colors. The bride's table held an unusual three-tier cake, the tiers supported by colonnades and each deck adorned with sugar roses and gardenias. It was topped with a miniature bridal figurine.

Mrs. Angeline Shumaker and Miss Grace Friske presided at the bride's book.

A wedding dance in the VFW Hall concluded the day's festivities.

When the couple left on a wedding trip Mrs. Bayer wore a pink pique dress and a pink lace duster with light blue accessories.

When they return they will make their home here. He is employed with an oil drilling company.

Both are graduates of Sacred Heart High school and have been popular in the young social set.

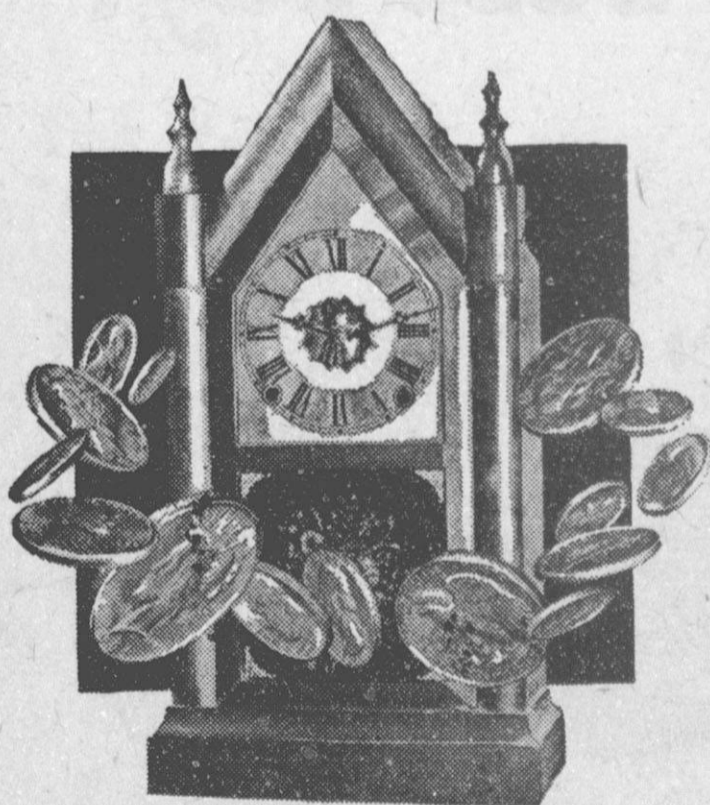

Both are active in parish work and Mrs. Bayer is president of the Sacred Heart Alumni association. She is an operator at the Muenster Beauty Shop. Mr. Bayer is a veteran of the Korean War having served there nine months of his two years in the army.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were the bride's brothers, Bill Fuhrman of Saint Louis, Mo., and Jerry Fuhrman of Subiaco, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison and other relatives from Lindsay and Gainesville.

The American Way

A GREATER GREATEST NATION

By George Peck

This year marks the 177th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. During those 177 years, America grew from a few sparsely-populated colonies along the middle-Atlantic Coast into the greatest nation in the world, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border.

What accounted for this extraordinary growth and development, such as the world had never before witnessed? How did such a great nation evolve from such a humble beginning in the short space of 177 years?

The answer is by DESIRE, COURAGE, and WORK.

The original colonists desired to get away from the tyranny and oppression which ground them down in Europe.

They had the courage to tear up stakes and risk a voyage over a vast uncharted sea to a strange land.

They had the will to work to hew a new civilization out of the American wilderness — and they builded, slowly but surely, an America that is now recognized by people everywhere as the world's greatest nation.

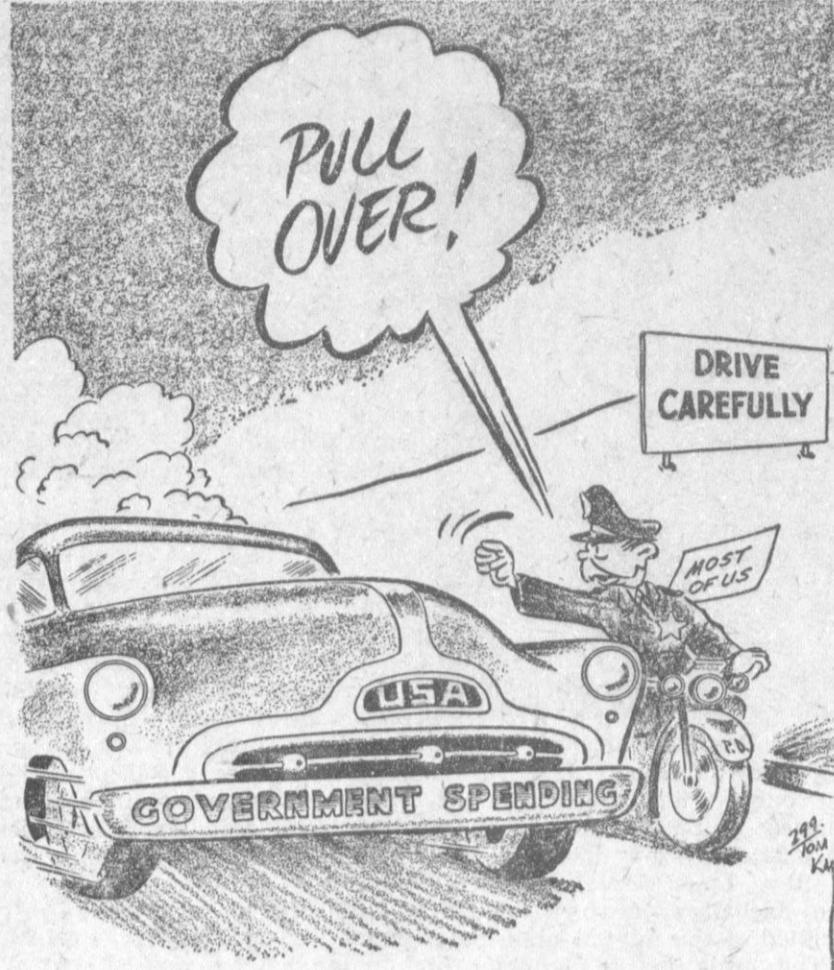

Our Founding Fathers had to fight a bloody war to throw off the yoke of an oppressive government which they had left behind them in Europe, but which insisted on following them here to America.

But, now, history is repeating itself. In recent years, many of the things because of which the early colonists fled from Europe and which the Founding Fathers drove out of the country, have reared their ugly heads again in this beloved America of ours. Bigotry, oppressive taxation and too much government, among other things, threaten to carry us back to a condition of servitude such as that from which our ancestors fled.

We seem to have forgotten how to do things for ourselves—we have come to lean on government to provide us with the good things of life. If we continue in this direction, one of these days we will awaken to find that government has become our master instead of our servant and that we have thrown away the freedom so dearly bought for us by the early colonists.

The sad part about this is that giving up our freedom will not bring us the economic security to which we aspire and which the planned economists promise us. All we have to do to recognize the truth of that is to look around the world, to see that free people eat better, dress better, live in better homes and enjoy greater educational, cultural and recreational advantages, than do the slaves of totalitarian nations.

As it enters its 178th year, America is at the crossroads.

"Wreck-less" Driving

This nation faces two alternatives. One is for us to go on as we have been doing—creating an all-powerful, paternalistic, totalitarian Federal Government. That will finish us—we will lose our place in the sun as the world's greatest nation. During recent years, we have seen the dire examples of what happened to Germany, Italy and even England, whose peoples made the grave error of letting government become their masters.

The other alternative is to do a right about-face, to get back to doing things for ourselves, to spurn government promises of security in exchange for freedom. Shorter working hours, paid vacations and holidays, pensions, higher wages, etc., are much to be desired goals, but the more important objective is to produce more, for only by increased production can there be more goods for each of use to share.

If we will return to doing things for ourselves, this nation will attain an even higher peak of well-being for all its citizens. The success achieved in the first 177 years since the signing of the Declaration of Independence, will have been only a humble beginning and America will go on to become a greater, greatest nation of the world.

"PROSPERITY IS THE FRUIT OF LABOR"

Every left-winger is adept in catch phrases. One standard example is the cry that "human rights" must be superior to "property rights."

This appeal to the unthinking evades the fact that the right to own property is one of the most basic and important of the human rights. That idea was powerfully expressed by Abraham Lin-

Charity Returns To Give One Hundredfold

IN DECEMBER, 1905, newly-married Solomon and Esther Ueberall opened a little dry-goods and notions store on Myrtle Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. Their first customer was Father George Caruana, the Catholic priest from nearby St. Lucy's Church. "Father," said Solomon Ueberall, "you look very sad today."

"I should be sad," the priest replied. "The building in which we worship is about to be closed." He then explained that unless he could obtain $500 by the following Monday, the mortgage on the building would be foreclosed.

"DON'T WORRY, Father," Solomon told his downcast customer. "We'll get the money somehow."

And Solomon did. Esther's wedding ring and their marriage gifts were pawned while their friends were exhorted. St. Lucy's was not closed and for four years Father Caruana appeared each Monday at the Ueberall's store to make a down payment on the loan.

Meanwhile the Ueberall's business prospered and grew. So did St. Lucy's Church. Years passed, but the young Jewish couple and the Catholic priest remained close friends.

THEN IN 1919 Father Caruana was called away. The following year Solomon Ueberall died. More years passed. Then World War II broke out. Hitler marched into Austria.

Ueberall's relatives and former townsmen besieged Esther with letters entreating her to assist them in escaping persecution by reaching America. She helped as many as she could, but soon immigration quotas were filled. Esther was told that the refugees could still enter Cuba if some prominent person would sign affidavits vouching for them.

SHE WENT to the priest then in charge of St. Lucy's. He gave her a letter of introduction to the Archbishop of Cuba and cabled ahead that she was coming. A bouquet of roses greeted her at the Havana airport and looking up she saw a Catholic prelate standing before her.

"Why Esther Ueberall," he said, "don't you remember me? I'm Father Caruana, the priest you knew in Brooklyn 20 years ago."

Archbishop Caruana signed affidavits for more than two dozen of Esther's friends and relatives, provided them with shelter, food, and clothing. "He is the most Godlike man I have ever known," Esther Ueberall said recently.

A MAGNIFICENT tribute, indeed. But perhaps no finer than the one that was inscribed years ago on the altar of St. Lucy's Church in Brooklyn: "In memory of our friend Solomon Ueberall," it read, "who saved this Church."—(By Rev. John A. O'Brien, University of Notre Dame.)

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Ask us about our Safe-T-Way SERVICE

A public service program to promote safer driving.

This year—for the 12th straight production year—truck users are buying more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That couldn't be true unless Chevrolet trucks offered more of what you want.

Already, 1953's official sales figures tell a remarkable story of clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. But, this is not surprising, for truck users everywhere are discovering how far ahead of all others Chevrolet trucks really are.

They are discovering things like the tremendous new power in advanced Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models... the remarkable gasoline economy... the extra ruggedness and strength of heavier, more rigid frame construction.

And, in addition to all these advantages, the Chevrolet line lists for less than any other trucks of comparable size and capacity. So, before you buy any truck, stop in and see us

Soil Conservation Notes

Waterway and pasture sodding have come to a stop for this year in the Muenster area. Best results from planting grass roots are obtained when grass is dormant. When grass gets too much green growth on it, it is difficult to plant and chances for a good stand become smaller and smaller. Operation waterway was halted by a combination of warm weather and dry seed beds this year.

Ed Sicking, 7 miles southwest of Muenster, was the last of the Muenster cooperators to plant grass roots on a waterway this year. He sodded a 3 acre waterway strip across his field to serve as a safe terrace outlet. When the grass is established the sloping field can be terraced to help prevent erosion.

Wilfred Reiter has finished planting Bermuda grass roots on 15 acres of old field area on the Meador farm he operates. The grass will serve as additional pasture and prevent soil loss on the formerly cultivated area.

Earthen tanks continue to be built to provide ample water for livestock on pasture and rangeland. Raymond Davidson has just finished a pond on his farm at Marysville. The pond will serve to keep hillside water from running across a cultivated field in addition to providing livestock water. Frank Trubenbach has finished construction of a pond on his farm 4 miles north of Muenster and Mrs. T. S. Cable of Saint Jo has a new pond on her farm.

Jimmy Cole of Marysville has built 800 feet of diversion terraces to divert water from gullies that were eating back into his pasture land. The terrace will cut all water out of the gullies and allow grasses to heal the raw ditches.

Weeds in the mind are like weeds in the garden—easiest to eliminate if caught young.

Start Fly Control Early, Says Dr. Cox

Early spring is the best time for a community to start a fly control program, declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. That is before the fly population has a chance to multiply. It is estimated that one pair of flies, under favorable conditions, could have countless ancestors before winter.

Every time you kill a fly early in the season, and destroy breeding places, you stop whole colonies of flies before they can start. The most effective way of preventing swarms of flies is to destroy or make inaccessible to flies the organic material which attract flies by their odors, and which are essential to them as food and breeding places.

Individual householders should make it their responsibility to clean up their own back yards. Garbage cans should have a tight fitting lid and they should be leak-proof. Inadequate facilities for storage of garbage and refuse usually result in widespread fly breeding. Uncovered or partially covered garbage containers produce odors that attract a large number of flies. Good window screens will do a lot to keep flies out of buildings, thereby protecting food from contamination by flyborne disease organisms.

There is no substitute for good sanitation in fly control. Every spot in town must be cleaned of garbage and trash. If a few dirty places are left, swarms of flies will breed. A neglected stable on the edge of town will furnish a plague of flies for the entire neighborhood. After garbage and trash have been removed, insecticides will help to reduce the fly population in local spots. It is a temporary protection, however, and should be regarded only as a supplemental or emergency means of control. Insecticides spraying will be effective only if sanitary conditions are maintained throughout the summer.

Four Months' Work For the Government

Whom did you work for during the first four months of this year?

You'll say that you worked for yourself, or for some business or other. But, in a very real sense, you worked for government! The nation's total 1953 tax bill will be as much as the wages, rents, interest and dividends received by all of us during the January 1 to April 22 period!

Read that again—and then decide whether economical government and eventual tax reduction are in your personal interest.

Accidents in and about the home kill about 28,000 persons each year, while at least 100,000 are permanently crippled, says the New York Journal of Commerce. Another 4,000,000 are injured severely enough in home accidents so that they are kept off the job for a day or more.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Sicking announce the arrival of an eight pound daughter Friday night, May 8, at 7 o'clock in Gainesville Sanitarium. Also welcoming the baby are her brother, her two sisters, and her grandparents, the Joe Krahlhs of Gainesville and Mrs. Will Sicking.

A son weighing eight pounds 10 ounces was born Sunday morning at 12:52 to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mosman. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mosman of Gainesville and Mrs. Will Sicking.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tuggle announce the arrival of Brenda's baby brother at 6:15 p.m. Sunday at the Muenster Clinic. The eight pound two ounce boy is the grandson of the Sam Tuggles and the R. N. Whitts.

Albert and Agnes Hess announce the arrival of their daughter at 11:30 Sunday morning at the local clinic. They have six other children, five boys and a girl. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Knabe are the maternal grandparents.

It's not surprising that the world is shrinking—anything in hot water all the time will shrink.

Sweet clover seed should be inoculated. Inoculant contains the organisms that remove nitrogen from the air and store it in the roots of the sweet clover plant.

What Makes One Job Better Than Another?

What if the tables were turned . . . and college graduates stopped filling out job applications, and instead, submitted questionnaires for companies to fill out? It might be they would ask:

"Why should I work for your company? . . . Is your bank balance healthy? . . . Are you expanding fast? . . . Will I get responsibility in a hurry? . . . Can I pick the type of work I like? . . . Are you fun to work with? . . . Do you have smart men I can learn from? . . . Free schooling to train me further? . . . Research and know-how? . . . Money for the finest equipment? . . . Will you recognize and utilize my talents?"

Isn't it a sign of a pretty good job when young men with talent can have a clear road ahead, can learn from people they respect and admire, and can work on projects of national importance?

From where we sit, we've been watching this happen. Teams of people at General Electric—in their twenties most often—are solving problems of jet plane engines, new chemicals, home appliances, guided missiles . . . everything from atomic power to air conditioning. And they're working in responsible jobs, with experts of recognized authority.

Maybe it's because we're growing fast that young men move into new and bigger jobs. Or because we've been lucky enough to hire the type of men who grab responsibility and work hard to achieve success. Whatever single factor or combination it is, young men and success do go together at General Electric.

You can put your confidence in—

Simons of Summerfield, brother of Mrs. Lee Morris of the community, was the principal speaker at the morning service, during which the oldest and youngest mothers and the oldest father present were recognized and presented gifts. Those honored were Mrs. Bill Kelley of Marysville, oldest mother, Mrs. Weldon Doughty and D. O. Robinson of Gainesville.

At the noon hour a basket lunch was served.

The afternoon program included singing and an address by Junior Dennis of Alabama, a recently ordained minister, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis of Gainesville.

PLANE PLANTS—Sowing wild oats by air is possible with the double-winged ship seen above ready to take off at the Balsdon ranch in Grimes, Calif. But no wild oats will fall from this single seater. Practical farmers use it to sow barley instead. With the plane, it is possible to seed 400 acres a day.

TEAMS OF SOLDIERS

The Army is gradually expanding its four-man team system of assigning soldiers for overseas duty. The plan is to form trainees in four-man teams, after basic training, and keep them together through advanced training, replacement centers, overseas shipment, and final assignment to overseas units together. This means that after the first eight weeks of basic training, the new soldier will never be without companionship of others he knows.

This is Welcome Week under the Humble sign in your neighborhood

No. 1 in Texas

More Texans use Humble Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline. It's No. 1 in sales among premium gasolines because it's No. 1 in quality.

Neighborly Service for Texans!

Are you planning to make your vacation trip in your car? Let your neighbor under the Humble sign introduce you to Humble Touring Service. This fine service provides you with clearly marked road maps to and from your destination, a trip log and other helpful information. Tell Humble Touring Service where you want to go—they do the rest.

This week the Humble dealer in your neighborhood invites you and your family to drive in and get acquainted.

He wants to show you the kind of welcome you can expect every time you stop for service under the Humble sign.

He wants you to find out for yourself the superior quality of Humble products.

He wants to show you how clean his station is, and how well equipped.

He wants to clean your windshield and sweep your floorboards; check your oil, your radiator, battery water, tires; he wants to give you personal proof that Humble service is complete, prompt, courteous.

Above all, he wants you to know that he is a neighbor you can depend on, that his station is equipped and staffed to keep your car running right and looking good.

So drive in, neighbor, and get acquainted—you're always welcome under the Humble sign.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

When was the last time you had your oil changed?

If your oil is 1000 to 1500 miles old, let your neighbor under the Humble sign drain your crankcase and refill it with either of two great oils: Esso Uniflo if your car is new and uses SAE 20 oil or lower; Esso Extra if your car uses SAE 30 or higher.

Miss Starke Gets Nursing Diploma

Miss LaVerna Starke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Starke, received her nursing diploma Monday in graduation exercises at St. Anthony's Hospital in Oklahoma City. There were 43 nurses in the class.

Mrs. Joe Starke, Joe Starke, Jr., Miss Ella Dell Starke and Bob Johnson of Gainesville, attended the exercises.

On Sunday Mrs. Starke also attended a Mother-Daughter banquet honoring the graduates and their mothers.

Mrs. Starke and Joe Jr. returned home Tuesday night after stopping enroute for a visit with her father, H. B. Shettler and her three brothers in Sterling, Okla.

Awards Dinner

vation technicians and other experts. Through study and experience they are much better qualified than the average farmer to conserve and improve the land.

The purpose of the banquet, sponsored by banks, newspapers and radio stations of the district, is to encourage continued conservation and give special recognition to the past year's conservation champions of the district.

Henry Corado of Montague received the award for outstanding come-back farmer of the district. Starting with a worn-out abandoned farm of 240 acres, he applied conservation practices and restored the land to a high level of productivity.

Awards for outstanding farmers in the five zones of the district were given to Alfred Bayer of Muenster, Lyle Sawyer of Nocona, Charles Howard of Spanish Fort, Carl Blount of Hood and Johnnie Schmitt of Dorchester.

An award for the outstanding conservation group of the district, neighborhood farmers who cooperate in applying soil saving practices, went to the Prairie View group of Southmayd.

Little Susan Bengfort is recovering from measles.

When a woman puts on a riding habit, that doesn't necessarily mean that she's going horeback riding. The same goes for a swimming suit. But when she puts on a wedding dress, she means business.

Mrs. Stelzer Hits Jackpot at Races

It's the luck of the Irish! Mrs. Matt Stelzer of Post, while visiting her son, Gerald, and family in Hollywood, Calif., lately went to the races and came away with the kind of jackpot that all betters yearn for.

In a letter to Gus Stelzer she simply said she was lucky playing the ponies, but a banner headline from a Hollywood paper says she won $9,000. No further details. The story below the headline had been clipped out. Now Gus and lots of others are awaiting more information such as how much she bet, how much she won and how much she expects to have left after Uncle Sam grabs his share.

Remember the headlines for the next crash may be your own.

Making a fool of yourself isn't such a bad mistake if you have sense enough to know who did it.

About 700 Attend Formal Opening of New Miller Building

The formal opening of Nick Miller's new building Sunday afternoon drew 500 adults and about 200 children between the hours of 2 and 8 p.m.

The beautiful new building was enhanced with about two dozen lovely floral tributes sent by friends and business associates of Nick and Adelina.

Upon entering, guests registered with Miss Marilyn Miller. They registered again with Miss Carrie Ann Gehrig for the door prize, a handsome hand tooled leather hand bag, which W. M. Trubench won.

In addition to the flowers another tribute was a large cake shaped like an open book, its white icing pages carrying the following messages in pink icing: "Welcome Visitors" on one side, and "Good Luck Nick and Adelina" on the other side. It was presented by Herb's Bakery.

All visitors received souvenirs and ladies also received potted Coleus plants.

After being shown through the building visitors were served cold drinks and cake squares.

Government in a democracy is the business of the whole people—not just the business of a few.

The future of our country is bright—history shows that nations produce their great men in times of adversity.

The New Holland Forage Harvester can chop and load up to 16 tons of grass silage an hour!

"My New Holland Forage Harvester saved me many hours of hard work!"

see Fred E. Lorenz, Inc., National Dairy Co.-op, Centuria, Wisconsin

"Last year I bought a New Holland Forage Harvester and put up grass silage for the first time and I'm sold on it. I also put up chopped hay for the first time. There's no question about it, my New Holland Forage Harvester saved me hours of hard work. What surprised me most was how easy it is to get in my hay and corn with one machine. Now, with my New Holland, I figure it takes less than half the time and labor to do the important jobs of haying and silo filling."

Here are features that make New Holland's Forage Harvester a great grassland machine:

- Improved Pick-Up—Long spring fingers on the new pick-up lift the windrows out of the stubble and leave the field clean. An auxiliary feeder speeds pick-up action.
- Reversible Feed—The feeder apron can be stopped, started or reversed from the tractor seat. Foreign objects can be backed out of the throat opening quickly before the knives are injured.
- Exclusive Flo-trac—The floating upper apron is a New Holland exclusive that keeps positive feed control of hay regardless of variations in windrow thickness. It handles windrows that would choke an ordinary harvester.

Veterans Ban Free Dances in VFW Hall ... Crowds too Large

Wedding dances at the VFW hall will be less crowded in the future, members of the Muenster VFW post decided at their meeting Tuesday night. The veterans took the action because of reports that the traditionally free dance was being jammed by strangers and casual acquaintances, and the newlyweds and their friends were finding themselves practically crowded out of their own party.

So the veterans decided on a charge as well as special accommodations to make the dances more pleasant for intended guests. Hereafter the post will charge for admission ... that's to discourage those who are primarily interested in something free ... and will turn over the receipts to the honor couple as a wedding present. The veterans believe that besides solving a problem the idea has special merit in that it offers an opportunity to help toward giving the couple a nice gift.

The special accommodation consists of relieving the newlyweds of all details connected with the dance. A committee of veterans will arrange for music and supervise the dance and make a unit charge for everything, including hall rent. Hereafter the couple just specifies the date and pays for the party, and if the attendance is good, perhaps realize a little profit to boot.

doing a magnificent job of it. All of that was a pleasant diversion from his subject, soil conservation. It seems he considers soil conservation as very closely associated with soil conservation.

The purpose of Stufflebeme's speech on the awards program was to present the facts proving that soil conservation practices have paid off in the Texas Prison System and they will pay off in other places. He quoted statistics showing what has been accomplished in raising various crops and livestock to take the system out of the red and put it on a paying basis. More important still, the land is being constantly improved. It's going to be an asset instead of a liability to future generations.

The same, he said, can apply to other lands of the state. It can be made more productive. It can be saved for posterity. On that point he was emphatic, stating that every farmer has a sacred obligation to leave his land as good as he found it, or better. To do otherwise is to be responsible for someone's hunger in future years.

Henry Weinzapfel narrowly escaped being one of the Waco casualties as he was passing through on his return to Saint Edward's University Monday afternoon. In a telephone conversation with his mother Tuesday he said that heavy side wind skidded his car on the pavement several times but he pulled through without an accident. He was circling the city on a by-pass route about the time the storm hit down-town.

Joe Noggler, winner of the 100 and 220 yard dashes at a recent regional track came out fifth and tenth respectively in those two events at the state track meet in Austin last Saturday. In qualifying runs for the final he came in second in each event.
