

Crusade Lecture Urges Unity Based On Eternal Truths

Something new and inspiring in this community's religious activity started Wednesday night in a series of lectures intended to explain Catholicism to people not of the faith. The local series is part of a diocesan-wide movement known as a Crusade for Souls.

Bishop Gorman along with all the participating clergy and laymen have one primary purpose in mind, to bring new members into the church and to bring back former members who have drifted away. However, there is another purpose also, which in itself would be abundant reason for conducting the lectures. That is to create a better spirit of understanding and tolerance between Catholics and members of other creeds.

It is high time the Catholics of America take on such a project. Without doubt theirs is the most misunderstood of all the Christian denominations. And the fault is altogether their own. More than any other group they have maintained an attitude of smug satisfaction, seldom bothering to invite others to their services or making any effort to clear up misunderstandings. There were exceptions, of course, but the efforts of the comparative few were hardly noticeable among the many who did and said nothing.

An old Indian proverb says that no man is fit to judge another until he has walked a while in his moccasins. It is a fact that we understand a person better when we know more about his problems. The same applies in religion. The more we know about another's creed the more understanding we can be. So, it's just a matter of good judgment for Catholics to tell more about their religion.

Tolerance and understanding are not the only benefits to be derived. Nowadays especially it is equally important for all Christians to realize they are members of Christ's big spiritual family and must stand together against a world menace that threatens them all.

Fairly recent evidence of this fact appeared in a crackpot letter to a daily paper. The writer, who may have been more of a clever propagandist than a nut, raved that Catholicism is more of a threat to civilization than communism. Claimed that the pope is striving to dominate the world and has the support of all Catholics. And more such absurdity. Among informed people the guy's tirade cannot get far. But there are some Christians who can be impressed, perhaps even to the extent of throwing their support to the red side in its clashes with the church. It's both sad and alarming that Christians allow themselves to be split up in this manner. But it is happening, and it is helping to prolong the power of the red menace.

So, the series of crusade lectures offers great possibilities, temporarily as well as spiritually. Lives can be enriched by the tolerance and understanding it will impart. Personal and national welfare can be enhanced by the common aims it will reveal. Spiritual comfort can be substituted for the doubts and misconceptions it will remove.

Pleasing news is the report that US is ready to clobber the reds, and good, if they decide to start a war. That's almost an assurance that we will not have war. Reds will not try under that condition.

The big question, however, is how to get rid of communism. Just checking further conquest is not enough. It has to be wiped out before people can be free. So, do we just wait and hope that the oppressed countries can do the job themselves? Or do we encourage and support their campaign of liberation?

Nogger Places in Graham Track Meet

Joe Nogger started his 1955 track career with two second places last Saturday in competition with the top athletic talent of the Possum Kingdom area. He crowded the winner in photo finishes of the 100 and 220 sprints with official times of 10.1 and 22.9 seconds respectively.

The Possum Kingdom Relay at Graham was an open meet with entries from Class AA, A and B schools.

Speaking on "Religion in a Changing World" in the first of a series of lectures in the Crusade for Souls in Sacred Heart High School Wednesday night, Father Louis Deuster emphasized that truth goes on and on without changing even though conditions, customs and methods are changing every day.

Though man has advanced through many stages of progress he is still bound by the same eternal laws that applied thousands of years ago. It is still a sin to steal no matter how cleverly a man continues to take another's property. It is still wrong to transgress any law of God.

Because of their common belief in these eternal truths, Father Louis said, it behooves members of all denominations to live in harmony and understanding, united against the evils of false ideas and isms.

He explained that the purpose of the lectures is to present beliefs of the Catholic religion in order to attain a greater degree of mutual respect and understanding, not to lure anyone away from his chosen religion. He added, however, that more than 80 million people in this country have no definite religious beliefs, and any such are invited to inquire farther into the Catholic church. He also emphasized that all are welcome at any of the Catholic services.

He closed his talk with a 15 minute explanation of prayers and rituals in the Sacrifice of the Mass, which is the principal service in the Catholic church, as pictures were projected on a screen. His explanation reaching to the consecration, will be concluded at the next lecture.

He also announced that the next lecture, next Wednesday, will be preceded by a tour through the church.

Juanita Wieler is Area FHA Treasurer

Juanita Wieler, member of Muenster High school's Future Homemakers of America chapter, was elected treasurer of Area 5 FHA Saturday when more than 100 chapters of the sector were represented at an area meeting in Sherman.

She will be formally installed in office on March 26 at an area meeting in Denton and will be a guest at a special luncheon that day for incoming officers and their sponsors. Mrs. Ann Searcy will accompany her and help share honors of the occasion. Juanita is the first area officer from the Muenster FHA chapter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wieler.

Other members of the local chapter at the meeting in Sherman were Joyce Wiesman, president and voting delegate, and Gretchen Hellman. Mrs. Searcy accompanied them.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Leave Fort Training

Delbert Walterscheid and Wilmer Walterscheid left Sunday for San Antonio to begin Air Force training. They enlisted several weeks ago.

Stationed in Seoul

Lt. Virgil Walter writes from Seoul, Korea, where he is assigned since his recent arrival overseas. He wrote his parents the Al Walters, about his trip which began March 2 at Fort Lewis, Wash. His outfit left there by bus taking the Alcan Highway to Anchorage, where they boarded a plane for Tokyo. The flight took only 22 hours, including an hour stop-over in Cold Bay, Alaska. They were in Japan a few days before taking off for Korea. Aboard the plane from Anchorage to Tokyo the servicemen enjoyed professional entertainment provided by a group of entertainers enroute to Korea to entertain American troops. Virgil said they kept the group happy with their songs and instrumental numbers.

Team Organizes To Play in County Softball League

All but the schedule and team rosters is decided for the 1955 season of the Cooke County Softball League.

In a meeting of team managers at Gainesville last Thursday, twelve teams submitted their $25 entry fees, elected J. C. Sluder of Gainesville as their commissioner, set the season opening date, decided league regulations, agreed on a $100 award to the first place winner, and named official umpires and scorers. The season will consist of a double round robin, in which each club plays each other club twice.

League membership includes the B-29 Bombers, Bezner Chicks, National Supply, Cox Hammon, Sinclair, Schlumberger, Lindsay, Woodbine, Callisburg, TP&L, Era and Gainesville VFW. Each team is limited to a 16-player roster, however they can trade players during the first half of the season. After that no roster changes are allowed.

At another meeting Wednesday night National Guard was admitted as the thirteenth member and April 18 was set for the first league game.

Muenster's team will be the Bombers, sponsored by Johnny Schmitz of the B-29 Club across the River, and managed by Norbert Mages and Alvin Hartman.

Practice sessions for the Bombers started Tuesday and are scheduled for Thursday and next Tuesday before the first practice game, which will be with Lindsay on the Muenster diamond Thursday the 24th at 7:30 p.m.

Parish to Observe St. Joseph's Day in Traditional Manner

In keeping with a custom that originated during the community's pioneer era, the Sacred Heart parish will observe next Saturday as a holy day of obligation in honor of Saint Joseph, patron saint of the parish.

The schedule of services for the day, as announced by Father Louis Deuster, pastor, is as follows: Masses at 6, 7 and 7:45; afternoon services at 3 o'clock. Everyone is dispensed from the law of fast and abstinence on that day. The local pastors have a letter from Bishop Gorman stating that the entire Dallas-Fort Worth diocese is included in the dispensation.

Students to Stage Operetta Sunday

The stage is set, colorful student-designed costumes are finished, and players are ready to go through their song and dance routines in Gilbert and Sullivan's original operetta, "H. M.S. Pinafore," which comes to Muenster High school auditorium next Sunday night. Curtain time is 8:15.

The 42 member, all boy, cast is headed by Eddie Joe Schmitt who sings the role of Josephine, leading lady. Other solo singers are John Hosea Jr., Billy Joe Dangelmayr, Pat Hess, Jim Gehrig and John Hoberer. Seventeen boys appear in feminine roles. They are all students of the 7th and 8th grades Sacred Heart school. Girls of the same grades form the choral background.

Sister Carmelita is directing the production assisted by Sister Cecilia, pianist. Everyone is invited to attend. Admission prices are twenty-five and fifty cents.

Saturday 26th is City Clean-up Day

A pre-Easter city cleanup is being sponsored by the sanitation committee of the Civic League and Garden Club and all residents are urged to participate in the project.

Saturday, March 26, has been designated as trash hauling day. The sponsoring group asks that cans and other rubbish be boxed and placed in alleys or on curbs for quick pick-up that day.

Boy Scouts of Troop 664 and their Scoutmaster Father Patrick Hannon will take care of the hauling. There will be no charge for this service but the boys will solicit free will donations for their treasury.

Plans for the cleanup were made at Monday night's meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club.

$289 Reported to Date in Muenster Red Cross Drive

Indications this week are that the community is not likely to meet its $555 goal in the Red Cross drive. Chairman H. H. Homsley revealed Wednesday that four zone chairmen have turned in a total of $289 and each indicated that she expects to collect a little more.

He points out however that the money received is from areas which were expected to make the larger donations, principally the business section of town. The other four chairmen, soliciting in the rural areas are likely to submit less. So it will crowd Muenster to reach its quota.

Final results of the drive will probably be known next week.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Ronnie Hess, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hess has been confined to bed all week fighting the measles and mumps at the same time.

Doctors diagnosed her illness as rheumatic fever and she will have to spend the coming weeks in bed. She'll also have to return to the hospital for tests the latter part of this month.

Frank Klement was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium last Thursday following medical care and x-rays. He'll report back to the hospital for further observation this weekend.

A few bruises and bumps were the only injuries little Patricia Sicking received Friday when she opened the rear door of the family car while it was traveling down the highway and fell out. She is the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sicking.

Herman Eberhart underwent eye surgery in Sherman Thursday. It was a cataract operation. He is back at home but must remain indoors except for regular visits to his doctor.

P. J. Rollman returned home Wednesday afternoon from Veterans Hospital in McKinney where he was a patient several days for treatment and observation.

Building And Improvement Notes

A new home just started, three more progressing normally and lots of curbs feature building and improvement activity nowadays.

The new house is Alphonse and Theresa Luke's on North Main. It will have two bedrooms and attached garage. Farther along are the jobs for Donald Walterscheid, Lester Harris and Community Lumber Co. Leo Lawson has just moved in.

People getting the curbs are Bill Becker, Leo Lawson, Arnold Rohmer, Mrs. Joe Felderhoff, Community Lumber Co., Joe Lutkenhaus, Walter Rawley and the group occupying new homes built during the past year by R. M. Zipper. Zipper is installing on both sides of the street in the block north of the public school. Another concrete job is sidewalk at Victor Hartman's.

Other improvements include a new roof for the Herb Millers and a general inside overhaul in Dave Trachta's rent house. Jake Pagel has installed a new open-top frozen food cabinet in his store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swirczynski and children of Fort Worth spent Sunday here with homefolks.

Open House Held In Observance of Public School Week

The best PTA attendance of the year gathered at the public school Tuesday night for a combined program which included a business session and open house in observance of Public School Week. The open house, originally scheduled for last week, was postponed a few days for the convenience of the visitors.

Two periods of night classes set the stage for the open house as visitors went from one room to another observing teaching methods and seeing teaching aids. Classes were intended as a continuation of current daily work, however it developed that both students and teachers, spent more time explaining methods, technicalities and practical application of their courses. About 150 visitors attended.

A special event was a practice recital of declamations to be given Thursday night in the district declamation contest of the Interscholastic League spring meet. The speakers are coached by Mrs. H. H. Homsley.

The PTA business session featured discussion of a permanent fund to provide awards for school activities, but no decision. Members received mimeographed sheets suggesting methods of supporting the fund and activities to benefit from it, and were asked to think it over in preparation for further discussion and final action at the next meeting.

More business for the next meeting is an election of officers. The committee to make nominations for it consists of Mmes. Rudy Hellman, M. D. Kaderli and Jack Biffle.

Local Schools Name Queen Candidates In Roundup Contest

Georgia Ann Hartman, senior at Sacred Heart High, and Juanita Wieler, junior at Muenster High school, have been selected to represent Muenster at the annual Circus Roundup at Gainesville, April 20-22.

They are two of nine queen candidates participating in a contest which closes April 15. Contestants are securing votes at a penny each to run up their scores and help finance the Circus Roundup. High point winner at the close of the contest will reign as Roundup queen and the other girls will be duchesses in her court.

A new feature of the contest this year will allow the sponsoring group of the winning contestant to receive a $50 award, and the runner-up's sponsor will receive $25.

Candidates were honored last Thursday evening with a dinner in the Colonial Cafe and had contest rules explained to them. Cecil Gardner, chairman of the queen's contest, introduced the nine participants.

League, Garden Club Names Chairmen of Standing Committees

Chairmen of standing committees for the Civic League and Garden Club were announced at Monday night's meeting of the organization. There are three new appointments and six re-elections.

New committee heads are Mrs. Edd McGannon, Program and Yearbook; Mrs. H. H. Homsley, Flower Beds at School; and Mrs. T. S. Myrick, co-chairman with Mrs. Frank Yosten on the Park committee. Mrs. Yosten headed the committee alone last year.

At this meeting members answered roll call by identifying an evergreen sample they brought with them.

During the business session at which Mrs. Tony Gremminger, president, presided, members voted a five dollar donation to the Red Cross, and received information on the District Two zone meeting to be held in Denton on Tuesday, April 5. The program will begin at noon. A luncheon and lectures will be held in (Continued on Page 2)

Lions Will Install Three Spotlights On Church Steeple

Sacred Heart Church, Muenster's predominating landmark, will stand out conspicuously at night as well as in daylight within the next few weeks. Three powerful spotlights will be placed on the 70 foot tower will illuminate the 30 foot stone steeple and its 14 foot cross.

The floodlights are being installed as a community project by the Muenster Lions Club.

At Tuesday's meeting of the club M. D. Kaderli reported that he and an electrical supply representative had looked over the job and estimated the installation at slightly more than $100. That includes wiring, three 1,000-watt weatherproof spotlights and a device to turn lights on and off automatically.

The project was first proposed at the preceding Lions meeting. Membership agreed then to make the installation if it was agreeable with the pastors. Father Louis approved the idea enthusiastically and Kaderli found an opportunity to get his cost data shortly thereafter.

Literary Events of Scholastic Meet Set for This Week

Muenster Public School is off to a good start in this year's Interscholastic League spring meet. A tally of points up to now, according to Superintendent Homsley, shows 89 points for sure and possibly 94. Whether the lower or higher figure prevails will depend on the outcome of finals in Junior High Playground Ball with Saint Jo Friday. It will decide first and second places for 15 and 10 points respectively.

Events in which Muenster entries earned points were first in the four senior tennis matches . . . singles and doubles for both boys and girls . . . for 15 points each, first in senior boys volleyball for 15 points, second in junior high girls tennis singles and second in elementary girls tennis singles for 2 points each.

Homsley said he does not have an official list at this time of results in the playground events of the meet, hence does not know Muenster's standing as compared with other schools. Most of those events, consisting of playground ball, tennis and volleyball in senior high, junior high and elementary divisions for both boys and girls, were held at Valley View last Friday. In some cases finals were played at the convenience of the entries concerned.

Most other events of the meet are scheduled for this week. Declamation will be at Callisburg Thursday night. Literary events consisting of ready writing, arithmetic, spelling, typing, poetry reading, extemporaneous speech, shorthand, slide rule and picture memory will be in Valley View Friday. The one act play will be in Callisburg next week Friday afternoon and night. Homsley said Muenster will compete in all except slide rule and shorthand.

Track and field events, originally scheduled as the wind-up of the meet, have been advanced a day. The revised date is Thursday, the 24, on the NTSC field in Denton.

IGNORANCE SERVES COMMUNISM

"If we are to remain strong the American people must understand and appreciate the benefits which our competitive private enterprise system brings them," said G. Keith Funston, President of the New York Stock Exchange, a short time ago. "If our people are to see through the false propaganda directed against private enterprise they must have a better understanding of just how that system works."

Then Mr. Funston dealt with misconceptions with which he, by the nature of his position, is particularly familiar. He continued, "It is no news . . . that Wall Street for years has been the number one whipping boy for communist and fellow-traveler propaganda. And the factor which encourages this left-wing effort is the widespread lack of information among Americans as to the important role which the securities industry plays in our economy . . . Graphic evidence of this is provided by a public survey . . . Only 23 per cent of our people can accurately describe what common stock is. A mere 24 per cent know what the job of the New York Stock Exchange really is. Only 39 per cent are prepared to say that the Exchange does not itself own the shares which are bought there by the public. In other words, only a minor fraction of our people know that our Exchange serves as the auction marketplace where under conditions of full disclosure and high ethical standards all Americans can freely buy or sell corporate shares to other Americans."

Ignorance of this kind—and it extends to many areas of our economic life—plays into the devious hands and minds of the communists and all those who would destroy our freedoms. Every effort must be given to letting light into the darkness.

COSTLY CHICKEN-TRACKS

Readin' and Rithmetic have been pretty well drilled into most of us—but how about your Ritin'? If you're the average product of American schooling, it's pretty bad, and you probably wonder at times if others can read it.

In fact, neglect of the Second "R" has been so widespread over the years that a new organization has been set up in Washington, D.C. to improve the hieroglyphics of us moderns. According to this Handwriting Foundation, their efforts are primarily essential and incidentally cultural.

Illegible messages, they say, are costing business thousands of dollars every day. Illegible love-letters are blasting romances. Undecipherable shopping lists cause husbands to bring home butter when bread is wanted. Our failures at calligraphy cause young ladies to wait on the wrong corners for young men, and vice versa; greeters to turn up at the wrong railroad, bus or air terminals or on the wrong day; merchants to ship the wrong quantities of the wrong goods to the wrong customers, and pharmacists to spend hours on the phone asking doctors just what they want put in their prescriptions.

To cope with this formidable problem, the Foundation has announced a fourteen-point program aimed at working with three groups, educators, business-men

Marriage Is for Always

By Rev. John A. O'Brien, Ph. D., of the University of Notre Dame

IN CALIFORNIA a woman has filed suit for divorce because her husband "diagrammed the wing formation of the football team he coached on fluffy biscuits I made for his breakfast." This, she alleged, constituted "mental cruelty."

If the court follows the precedent set in many states of granting divorces for the flimsiest and silliest reasons, the sensitive spouse will receive her divorce. To such a degradation has sunk the sanctity of the most sacred vows ever pledged by husband and wife — the vows of deathless love and loyalty.

O'Brien

NOWADAYS PERSONS DIVORCED three, four, or more times attempt re-marriage with no apparent recollection of the stern warning of the Divine Founder of Christianity: "What therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder." The teachings of Christ concerning the holiness and permanence of marriage is torn into shreds and tatters. The thousand grounds on which divorces are granted practically annihilate the law of Christ concerning the sanctity and indissolubility of the marriage bond.

When a young couple enter into the holy state of matrimony, they vow to take each other as partners until death. The contract they make is unique. It solemnly binds both parties until death.

WHILE CLASPING THE RIGHT HAND of his bride, the groom solemnly vows before God and man: "I take thee for my lawful wife, to have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, until death do us part." A similar vow is repeated by the bride. The union forged before God's holy altar is beyond the power of mortal man to sever.

What a mockery these words would be if, while uttering them publicly, either one of the contracting parties was saying privately: "or until some prettier face comes within the range of my vision." The dread evil of divorce makes of these solemn words a hollow mockery.

THE STRONGEST BULWARK of the American way of life is an unswerving stand for the sanctity and indissolubility of marriage. By preserving the home intact, we are safeguarding not only the foundations of orderly government but we are also promoting the highest type of family life.

To those who seek to lower the lofty standards of Christian marriage, let the words of St. Paul be a timely warning: "Not I but the Lord commands, that the wife depart not from her husband. And if she depart that she remains unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband."

† Paullist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

and the general public . . . which would seem to mean US. Comprehensive script, if the Foundation can help us achieve it, will save millions of dollars, millions of hours, broken hearts, broken homes, perhaps even broken heads. Additionally, we expect life will be neater, we will organize our thoughts more logically in less time, enjoy greater success and suffer less frustration.

Maybe the best way to start is to take pen or pencil in hand and see just how bad our handwriting really is.

Wrinkles should merely indicate where smiles have been.

—Mark Twain

Abraham Lincoln insisted on facts when a case was being presented to him. One day a committee waited on him, setting forth a matter of public concern. Their case was built up largely on "supposings."

Mr. Lincoln asked them, "How many legs would a sheep have if you called its tail a leg?"

"Five," was the prompt answer. "That is what I thought you would say," declared Lincoln, "but that isn't true; the sheep would have only four legs. Calling a tail a leg doesn't make it one."

A wise man avoids witticisms at the expense of others.

Soil Conservation Notes

As the days get longer and warmer and things begin to green up, farmers who are working together in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District know that it is time to begin thinking of the health and safety of their pasture grasses.

Farmers and ranchers around Muenster have permitted their pastures to rest for some time while grain fields were being grazed, but most of this has stopped and cattle has been moved to let grain start making a seed crop.

Winter growing grasses in pastures have had a chance to grow and will furnish much needed grazing. Lack of moisture has kept these grasses from making large growth and will hold summer growing grasses back.

Farmers who have looked ahead are better prepared to handle both these problems. They have planted enough acreage of vetch or have enough second year clover to tide them over until summer grasses have had a chance to make some growth. By looking still farther ahead these same farmers can see that it is time to start resting a pasture to be used while they defer their summer growing grasses from grazing during the months of June, July and August and on until the first killing frost comes. By use of the vetch and clover and the pasture to be rested during summer and fall months they will have grazing from now until June.

Clover is still being planted around Muenster but is tapering off some because the most profitable planting dates—Feb. 15 to April 1—are rapidly running out. There is still time for farmers to have higher yields and improved soil condition if they hurry and jump on the clover band wagon. Grass planting still goes on. Al Trubenbach has seeded six acres to King Ranch Bluestem, five acres for pasture, and one acre as part of a waterway. Foster Davidson has sodded one waterway to Bermuda and re-sodded another that last year's drought killed.

A. V. Freeman of Forestburg has sodded a waterway to serve as an outlet for a diversion terrace which will protect bottomland fields from hillwater. Clifford Richardson of Freemound has sodded a waterway to Bermuda. Other waterways still remain to be sodded to Bermuda or seeded to K.R. and will be tended to soon.

Levi Busby of Saint Jo has two new farm ponds which will allow better grass management by distribution of water. J. A. Stovall recently completed a pond for livestock water on his farm at Leo.

A good rain now would speed up and help grass planting and other conservation measures.

"How can it take you three hours just to go to the store?" the minister's wife asked, annoyed.

"I met Mrs. Brown and asked how her married daughter was getting along," he sighed wearily, "so she told me."

Cattle prices have been in another slump lately and our prices have dropped accordingly. But we still manage to sell higher than the prevailing market. We're still proud of OUR market as compared with THE market.

Besides, there's the customary advantage of lower commission charge, less shrinkage and less hauling expense.
