Transferred To France

Capt. and Mrs. Hal Falck are now living in France, at Fouras a small resort town about 13 miles from LaRoche. Capt. Falck had previously been on duty in Germany. A letter this week to Mrs. Falck's parents, the Jacob Pagels, tells about the couples' recent trip to Holland and Belgium and The Netherlands. Holland is almost like State-side, Mrs. Falck wrote, with beautiful homes and good roads. There are no remaining signs of war damage as in Germany. However Germany was very much like another U. S. state, but in France everything is different and they feel like they're really in a foreign country, in spite of the fact that they have a modern home with an electric refrigerator and gas range. The letter is filled with interesting and unusual bits of news about customs, etc. and mentions that gasoline is 60 cents a gallon. At the present time there are about 20,000 tourists at Fouras, but the population will go back to its original 4,000 after the middle of September. Hal is still on duty with a Military Police unit.

Miss Rita Dingman and Miss Fran McCarty of Dallas were guests in the Rudy Hellman home Sunday.

Work Starts Next Week on 32 x 100 School Cafeteria

Work on the new cafeteria for the Muenster Public School is due to begin early next week. Trustees of the school at a meeting Monday night decided on specifications for the building and awarded the construction contract to Community Lumber Company.

The building, measuring 100 ft. by 32 ft., will be located northwest of the elementary wing of the school, just north of the bus driveway, and will be connected to the elementary wing by a breezeway. Its brick will be the same as that used on the main building and its general design will harmonize with the building.

The inside walls will be knotty pine up to six feet and sheetrock the rest of the way up. The kitchen, which will occupy about 20 feet of the length will be designed by Mrs. Oneita Pierce, supervisor of Homemaking classes in the Denton area. Seating capacity of the dining hall will be about 300.

The new cafeteria will serve also as a band room.

Until the new building is finished children will continue to have their meals in the home-making department. 170 pupils were served there Tuesday in three shifts.

As in previous years the lunch room is operating as a federally subsidized project. The government gives surplus commodities to the program and also pays a small amount toward the cost of each meal, 5 cents if milk is served, 3 cents if milk is not served. The cost to the child is 20 cents a meal.

Personnel in charge of the program are Weldon Cowan, administrator; Mrs. Bill Searcy, dietitian; Mrs. Frank Kathman, kitchen supervisor.

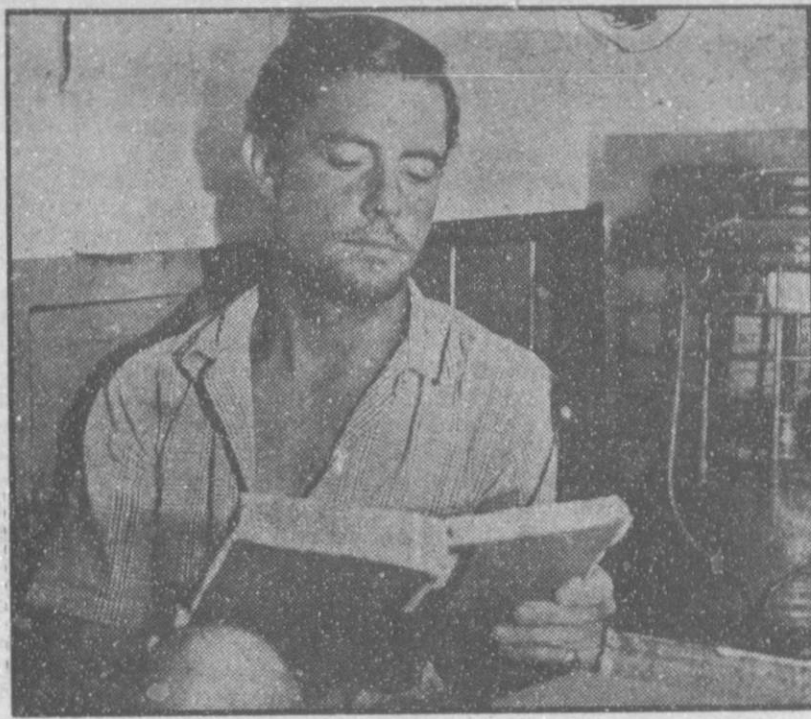

Auctioneers Lose 8-6 in Season Finale

Playing a group of fans again, the Auctioneers ended their baseball season Sunday by dropping an 8-6 thriller for a season record of 7 wins and 7 losses.

When the Tigers, a colored team of Gainesville, failed to show up the Auctioneers decided, as the Sunday before, to play a team picked from the crowd.

They started strong with 4 runs in the first but from then on the other fellows gained steadily and tied the score with a 3 run rally in the seventh, and pushed over the winning 2 tallies in the ninth.

Willie Walterscheid and Billy Zimmerer did all the pitching, Zimmerer helped win his game by slamming out a homer.

City Will Cooperate If Residents Want Street Paving Deal

Muenster residents who want pavement on streets fronting their property have another opportunity to make a deal.

Mayor Urban Endres disclosed Wednesday that a paving contractor now working at Saint Jo expects to finish his job this weekend and will move to Muenster immediately if he can get work here.

Persons interested are asked to see their neighbors and work out a project if possible. If pavement is desired the persons concerned are asked to deposit their money in escrow in the bank so the contractor will have a convenient means of collecting when he finishes the work.

The cost is 50 cents a running foot to the property owner on each side of the street. The contractor's price is $1.00 per running foot for the 18 ft. width of pavement. Anyone who desires additional pavement, to the curb or in the driveway, may get it at the same rate.

The city council has agreed to cooperate in the project by paying the pavement cost at street intersections and alley crossings, also furnishing the maintainer and materials to shape streets for the surface.

The Joe Starkes and children, Henry and Mildred, spent Sunday and Monday in Sterling, Okla., with Mrs. Starkes' father, Henry Schettler, and her brothers.

FMA Calls Meeting To Consider Sale Of Cheese Factory

Whether or not to sell the cheese factory is a question the Farmers Marketing Association membership will be called upon to consider at a special general meeting Monday night, Sept. 7, 7:30 in the auditorium of the public school.

Plant manager Rudy Hellman disclosed this week that the North Texas Milk Producers Association, with a membership of over 3500, is trying to buy the plant for use as a central Grade A distributing plant as well as a processing plant for surplus Grade A milk and Grade C milk.

The price offered is the inventory value of the plant plus an amount to cover dividends earned by members during the current year. That amount would liquidate all the scrip and interest claims now held by the members.

If the deal is approved by the membership Muenster will become the processing and distributing headquarters for the North Texas Milk Producers Association. The local plant would be considerably enlarged and its payroll would be considerably increased. At the same time local Grade C producers would be assured of a continuing market.

If members decide to turn down the deal they face a possible loss.

Barney Reid of Myra, an REA employee for the past seven years, died at a Gainesville hospital Saturday at 7:25 p.m. after being ill about two weeks. He was 47 years old.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the Myra Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. T. T. Walker, officiating, assisted by Rev. C. M. Thomas. Interment was in Starkey cemetery in Montague county under the direction of Vernie Keel Funeral Home.

He entered the hospital where his ailment was diagnosed as heart trouble.

He was born in Bonita on Sept. 13, 1905, and was married to Miss Hattie Blodgett in Saint Jo in 1925. They lived there until after Camp Howze was established and moved from there to Myra seven years ago when he became a member of the REA construction crew.

Practice Begins For MHS Hornets; To Play 10 Games

Coach Stewart isn't making any predictions... he's just hoping... as his 1953 Muenster High Hornets start practice for their 10 game schedule. He has 10 of last year's lettermen back in uniform, but several of them won their awards as reserves and Stewart is wondering-how they will do as regulars.

Most of his developing apparently will have to be done in the line, which was hardest hit by last year's graduation. The only backfield change is McElreath as Hamric's successor. Noggler, Richey and Whitt are back at their old positions.

The lettermen reporting back are Billy Boyles, Eugene Walter, Lloyd Trubenbach, Eddie Pick, Frederick Knabe, Alvin Fleitman, Donald Whitt, Wendell Richey, Joe Noggler and Joe McElreath.

Other players Stewart is depending on to help round out the team are Jerry Klement, Don Moon, Dee Kaderli, Lawrence Milner, Donald Flusche, Dick Cain, James McCulley, James Hellman, Wallace Dougherty, Hubert Richey and Tom and Donald Mobley.

Only three of the team's ten games will be played at home. Officially the Hornets are hosts for the Whitesboro game but in accordance with an agreement last year the game is being played at Gainesville.

Conference opponents in the order scheduled are Alvord, Era, Sanger, Callisburg, Saint Jo and Valley View.

The season schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 11, Whitesboro at Gainesville
- Sept. 18, Pilot Point, there
- Sept. 25, Alvord, there
- Oct. 1, Era, there
- Oct. 9, Boyd, there
- Oct. 16, Valley View (Wichita County) there
- Oct. 23, Sanger, here
- Oct. 30, Callisburg, there
- Nov. 6, Saint Jo, here
- Nov. 12, Valley View (Cooke County) here

Building And Improvement Notes

Work is moving along rapidly on two new homes in the community. Tony Wimmer, northeast of town is nearing completion on a 3-bedroom house with garage attached. Alvin Fuhrman in the west part of the city has almost three weeks of work on a 2-bedroom house with garage attached.

Meanwhile the popularity of curbs continues. Recent installations are at the homes of Gene Gieb, Mary Walterscheid, John Kathman, Victor Hartman, Joe Kathman and Joe Horn.

Additional work at Nick Miller's consists of a concrete floor for a car-port, concrete base for a fence and brick walls for flower beds at the front.

Considering the SCS men's progress in securing a system of detention dam sites in this area of the Trinity watershed, it is possible that a lot of our folks will be glad that Muenster did not succeed in promoting a swimming pool last summer. After all, it would be disappointing to spend thousands of dollars on such a project when a dozen or more good swimming sites are available for free.

As a recreational development, the proposed system of reservoirs is better by far than anything that has happened to the community up to now. Besides fine swimming they offer boating, fishing and a little duck hunting to boot. Assuming that the city can get the land owner's cooperation, it can develop one of those sites into a dandy park... at a mere fraction of what a good swimming pool would cost.

Recreation, however, constitutes only a small fraction of the value of such reservoirs. Flood prevention is the big consideration. Heavy rains which used to cause thousands of dollars worth of damage in lowlands along the creek banks could be held in check and released gradually so as not to exceed the capacity of the creek channel. Floods would be impossible except in the case of a general cloudburst over the area sending all or most of the reservoirs over their spillways. Even then damage would be considerably less because of the enormous volume of water held back.

It is gratifying to realize that, after all the big dam foolishness promoted in this country for flood control, the Soil Conservation Service is at last succeeding in selling its common sense theory that a flood should be controlled at its source.

Several years of experience have convinced thinking people that big reservoirs simply are not doing the job. One of the reasons is that the public power enthusiasts in our federal government could not resist the urge to slip in a socialistic power project, and the dams hailed as wonderful flood control projects became power dams instead.

There is a big difference between the two. To serve one purpose the reservoir has to be kept as low as possible. To serve the other it has to be kept as full as possible. Suppose the reservoir is almost full and a flood occurs. How much water can it hold back until it overflows? That, in a nutshell, is the reason why the nation has had many big floods in spite of big dams.

But even assuming that big reservoirs could have handled the job they were supposedly built for... that is of checking flood waters. The point to consider then is that they still give no protection up-stream. The huge Garza dam, for instance, might possibly prevent a flood at Fort Worth and Dallas but it would not help Gainesville nor the crops along Elm Creek, which actually get most of the damage in case of a flood.

In this connection the SCS men offer some very impressive figures. The waters that put a river on the rampage had to originate up stream, and they were on a rampage in creeks and branches before they reached the river. By actual study the SCS men have decided that 75 to 85 per cent of all agricultural damage occurs on the tributaries, not the main streams. Damage to cities is not mentioned in the estimate, but few will doubt that total rural damage is far greater than city damage in a normal flood.

The purpose of the system of small detention dams is to reduce, and possibly eliminate, that enormous damage along tributaries. In our case it is intended to keep water confined to the Elm Creek Channel, to let it flow slowly into the Trinity over a period of a week or more rather than gush there in a day or less.

The more a person considers the subject the more he is convinced that the little dams offer the country's only solution to the flood control problem. Not only do they protect the tributary lowlands but they feed the rivers more slowly and prevent the floods there as well. Considering our area, Dallas, Fort Worth and everything else along the Trinity

Emma Lou Gehrig
And Arthur Hess
Say Vows Tuesday

Miss Emma Lou Gehrig and Arthur Hess exchanged marriage vows during a nuptial high mass in Sacred Heart church on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Louis Deuster officiated at the services.

The bride, youngest daughter of Mrs. Catherine Gehrig, was given in marriage by her brother, George Gehrig. Cloud white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned the floor-length wedding gown. The moulded bodice of lace featured a deep portrait neckline with a rounded tulle yoke and short scalloped sleeves. Full length lace gauntlets were petal-pointed, and circular pom-poms cascaded down either side of the bouffant skirt. Her veil, two tiers of imported bridal illusion, fell from a crown of lace and seed pearls.

She carried her flowers, a single white orchid with a purple center and stephanotis, on top of a prayer book borrowed from Mrs. J. Vanderbeck of Gainesville. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Carrie Ann Gehrig, niece of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a pastel blue frock, designed similar to the bride's, with fitted lace bodice, and wide taffeta skirt topped with a net overskirt. She wore matching lace gauntlets and a hat of net and lace adorned with pink rose buds and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rose buds. She completed her costume with a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bride.

Wilfred Walterscheid was best man, and Raymond Walterscheid and Leo Felderhoff were ushers.

The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was banked with greenery and white carnations. Large potted ferns adorned the sanctuary space.

Servers for the mass were nephews of the couple: Allan Dale Eberhart, Jimmy Gehrig, Leo, Gerald and Richard Hess.

Anthony Luke, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and remained at the console to assist the church choir in singing the Gregorian chant mass.

Wedding day festivities included breakfast for the bridal party in the home of the groom's aunt and uncle, the John Kathmans; lunch at noon in the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, the Al Eberharts, a reception with a buffet supper in the parish hall for 250 guests, and a dance in the VFW Hall.

Decorations in the hall featured potted fern and seasonal flowers. The bride's table held the tiered cake on a mirror reflector, surrounded by fern and white pom-pom mums and pink rose buds. Streamers of fern and white wedding bells with tiny pom-pom mums centers adorned the board which also held white candles in crystal holders.

After the dance Mr. and Mrs. Hess left on a wedding trip after which they will make their home in Mrs. Frank Seyler's cottage. For traveling the bride wore a brown and white ensemble with braid trim and matching accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Hess is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and of St. Paul's School of Nursing in Dallas. She is now supervisor of nurses at M&S Hospital in Gainesville. The groom is the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess. He is in business here as a partner of Hess Brothers Drilling Contractors.

As a pre-nuptial courtesy, Miss Gehrig was honored with a miscellaneous gift party Friday night in the parish hall. Sharing hostess duties were Meses. Ed Hess, Arnold Hess, Charlie Hellman and George Gehrig, who served refreshments to 20 guests after a series of paper and pencil games. Miss Carrie Ann Gehrig helped the honoree open the gifts. White and blue tinted zinnias in an attractive arrangement, and a bride doll adorned the gift table.

Greeting cards arrived during the week from Harold Lutkenhaus who was vacationing in New Mexico.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski returned home Saturday evening after spending a month with her children. She visited in Emporia, Kansas, with the Alex Knaux family; then in Omaha, Neb., with relatives; and then in Bode, Iowa, where she spent two weeks with the Clarence Erpeldings and made the acquaintance of her new granddaughter, Dianna Marie. The baby was baptized on Aug. 9 with Alvin Erpelding and Mrs. Alex Knauf as sponsors. Mrs. Knauf had accompanied her mother on the trip to Iowa. On her return Mrs. Swirczynski visited in Fort Worth with her sons, Ed and George, and George brought her home. Mrs. George Swirczynski is visiting her parents in Bartow, Fla.

Giles Lehnertz of Tyler spent the weekend and Monday here with family members.

The Bill Beckers and the Felix Beckers returned Friday from a week's trip to Nebraska where they visited relatives and attended a cousin's silver wedding anniversary celebration in Hastings. Enroute home they visited the Carl Lukes and Frank Knabes in Hereford.

Mrs. Eva Gottlob and grandson, Frankie Gottlob, both of Azle, arrived Saturday for a several day's visit with relatives and attended the Gehrig-Hess wedding Tuesday.

Anna Grace Fette and Jeanette Fisher entered nurses training at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth Tuesday. Jeanette is a transfer from Providence Hospital, Waco. Meses. Herman and Kate Fette took them to Fort Worth.

Adolph Hellman of Jacksonville, Fla., visited during the weekend with the Hellman and Fette families.

Isn't it funny how women can talk on and on about things that left them speechless?

AUXILIARY PLANS TWO EVENTS FOR SEPTEMBER

At their meeting Monday night members of the VFW Auxiliary planned two coming events: a trip to Bonham to cheer VA Hospital patients on Sept. 18, and a social for members of the Auxiliary and the VFW Post on Sept. 12. Proceeds from the social will be used for a welcoming party to be given especially for new Auxiliary members after the October initiation. Mrs. David Trachta was appointed chairman.

Mrs. Frank Kathman, Jr., presided for the meeting and gave a report on the recent trip to the Bonham hospital. She also read a letter of thanks from the acting chief of special services there.

Members made plans to sell sandwiches at the VFW dance on Sept. 14 and appointed Mrs. John Huchton chairman.

Mention was made of the initiation to be held in October and all members were urged to secure candidates. They were also reminded of the First Saturday devotions on Sept. 5.

After business, a surprise shower greeted Mrs. Johnny Rohmer. She received a decorated bassinet filled with gifts tied with pink and blue ribbons.

Mrs. David Trachta won the attendance prize.

MHS Seniors Get Rings

Seniors of Muenster High lost no time in getting their class rings this year. All except three boys were wearing them Tuesday. Those boys had to send the rings back for enlarging. Their ring fingers had grown a half size since the rings were ordered last spring.

An argument is where two people are trying to get in the last word first.

The American Way

ALASKAN YOUTH SPEAKS
 By George Peck

From Douglas, Alaska, I have received a copy of a Valedictory Speech delivered by John Jensen to his High School Graduation Class this past Spring. This 18-year old lad shows such a grasp of public affairs and has expressed himself so aptly, that I can think of nothing better to pass on to my readers than to quote him. From here to the end of this article John Jensen speaks:

Friends, we are assembled here tonight as a free people. No one made us come; no one is forcing us to listen. Consider how different this same assembly would be in a communistic state. You would all be here under pain of demotion or exile. My talk would simply be a recording of today's party line. I could say nothing I actually thought unless it met with the approval of the authorities. However, in America, I'm free to talk, and I'll talk about the difference between our American Republic and a Communist State—their basic principles and their promises for the future.

True Communism is a method of life in which each person adds to the common storehouse according to his ability and takes from it according to his need. However—the Communism I'm referring to tonight is the Communism spreading and infecting the world at the present time.

The outstanding difference between Communism and our Republic is our belief in Divine guidance. Our belief in God is the spring from which our rights, liberties and strength flow. Through God we recognize the dignity and rights of man.

Communism preaches that religion is the opiate of the people—a mere delusion. Communists deny the soul, believing only in what they can see. The people are regarded as soil on which the state can grow. The state is everything, the people nothing.

The government of a Republic is for the people. It is created by the people to work in their interests. We believe that men are born free and that no man can alter that fact. History demonstrates to us that Dictators are driven off when they begin to infringe on the people's rights.

There are several ways in which a Republic is stronger than Communism. The first and most important of these is our free enterprise system. Free enterprise is the first result of a fundamental truth—a belief in Divine guidance. With the guidance of God, we realize that it is wrong to enslave a free man. Therefore, men are free to go their own ways, to make their fortunes as they will—to choose right or wrong as they wish. A man working in faith and freedom can accomplish things a slave could never approach.

Another practical principle that has made our Republic strong is the freedom to speak our minds. This includes freedom of the press, speech, assembly and of worship. It enables men to publicize wrong doing and to promote changes for the better. Free speech is the tool by which free enterprise works.

We know that nothing is permanently conquered by force. Christianity has not been killed by force and neither has Fascism. Therefore, we can be reasonably certain that the principles of Communism will not be destroyed simply by killing Communists.

How, then, can Communism be wiped out? It can be done only by education! Communism has gained ground because many who advocate a Republic are not willing to put it into practice. Being opposed to Communism is not enough. It is not what we're against that counts, but what we are for. We must be for our Republic.

The way to build a Republic is through education. We must teach the people of the world why a Republic will serve them better than Communism. We must begin with the children. Young people must be thoroughly trained in the practice and responsibilities of government. To leave the workings of government to other people will be fatal.

Now, A Vacation For Mama!

Merely voting every two years will not do. We must study the government—look for waste and inefficiency. If every person in the free world studies and works toward free government as zealously as an active Communist works for his cause, inefficiency would cease to exist. With an efficient, healthy Republic, Communism cannot win. Because the basis of Communism is weaker than the basis of a Republic and if both met, full strength, Communism would be eventually absorbed and would be no more. However, action cannot be left to other people. We must take it upon ourselves to make our Republic work.

I'll close with a quotation from Abraham Lincoln.

"Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to pray to the God that made us. It behooves us then, to humble ourselves before the Offended Power, to confess our national sins and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

Secretary Of Labor Stresses Man's Worth

By MARTIN P. DURKIN, Secretary of Labor.

LABOR DAY is an expression of American freedom and American progress.

It was created seventy-one years ago by a group of trade unionists seeking to give labor its true dignity. Their efforts succeeded. Labor Day has become a holiday of all the people, and an accepted symbol of the spirit of free working men and women.

American free labor has grown along with the American nation and its people, and it has used its strength to help the cause of freedom around the world.

On this first Monday in September, 1953's Labor Day, it is fitting and proper that American working people, those in white collars as well as those in overalls, extend again their thoughts and their greetings and well-wishes, to their brother workers in foreign lands.

OUR MESSAGE to the workers in free lands is one of fellowship. We are joined to oppose the ugly spectres of dictatorship and communism. Through our government, our churches, our labor unions, and other organizations, we have offered our help in the cold war that is being waged over the world for the minds and souls as well as the bodies of men and women.

For the oppressed workers behind the Iron Curtain, American workers send a message of hope and sympathy. Six thousand years of history have proved that no suppression, no oppression, can kill the desire of men and women for freedom and dignity, the yearning to build a better world for their children. We in America pray, and we know and we believe, that the workers in foreign lands will fight on as we have for freedom and progress, and that eventually they will win.

THE WORKERS of East Germany and of Czechoslovakia have struck out against the despots seeking to enslave them, in the world's most recent examples of man's long struggle for freedom. The June graves of their martyrs are already hallowed shrines in the minds of freedom-loving people everywhere.

On this Labor Day in America, we will pray for labor's strength and progress everywhere. We are firm in the knowledge and belief that if men and women are free they will work unceasingly to improve their lives and their homes, and to create a better future for their children.

WE WILL MAKE these prayers for ourselves and our children, and for the workers and the children of the free world and the slave world, in the firm conviction that the good in man is bound to triumph over evil deeds and devilish thoughts.

Parking's a pushover with Ford Power-Steering

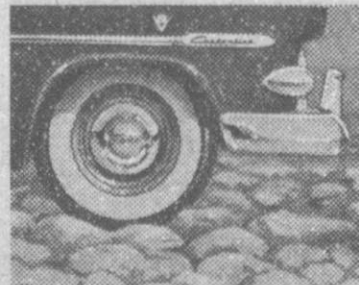

It's a brand new Ford "Worth More" feature—costs up to $40 less than any other power steering in its field and it's the newest and finest power steering.

With one finger, while the car is standing still, a woman can turn the steering wheel. No longer will rough road ruts "throw you". Should ever a tire blow out, power steering assistance helps you to keep safe straight-line control. Ford Power Steering does up to 75% of the work; and it has a more natural "feel" than many others. You don't have to change your driving habits radically. The steering gear ratio is the same as without power steering and the hydraulic system gives you just the right assistance when you need it.

No change in driving habits! You could drive off in a Ford with Power Steering with absolutely no radical change in the way you ordinarily drive a car... just a lot less effort!

"Wheel Shock" reduced! With a hydraulic "cushion" between your steering wheel and the front wheels, Ford Power Steering noticeably reduces "wheel shock" on rough roads.

Parking is a pushover with Ford Power Steering. In fact, all driving is a lot easier and so much more relaxing. You can easily turn the wheel with one finger while the car is standing still.

You're safer! Even if a front tire should blow out, Ford Power Steering comes to your assistance... gives you the "muscle" to keep the car under control. That's really extra security!

State Fair Expects 90,000 Guests for Rural Youth Day

Seven and one-half tons of king-size hot dogs will go into the world's biggest picnic lunch Saturday, Oct. 17, when 90,000 Texas farm and ranch boys and girls visit the 1953 State Fair of Texas on Rural Youth Day.

The youngsters will also consume approximately 11,250 gallons of lemonade, 17,000 pounds of potato chips and 7,500 boxes of candy bars, Ray W. Wilson, manager of the fair's youth activities program, has calculated.

Rural Youth Day is one of the fair's top annual events, Wilson said. The farm boys and girls are guests of the fair on that day. Dallas business leaders underwrite expenses for the picnic lunch.

The 90,000 Rural Youth Day guests will represent 4-H Clubs, Future Farmer and Future Home-maker chapters in at least 225 Texas counties. The annual gathering is the largest assemblage of farm and ranch youngsters in the world, Wilson said.

"The purpose of Rural Youth Day is to bring as many farm and ranch boys and girls as possible to the State Fair so they can profit from the thousands of agricultural, livestock and educational exhibits," Wilson said.

20,000,000 TAKING WEEKLIES

The paid circulation of weekly newspapers in the United States topped 20,000,000 in 1952 for the second straight year, says the latest directory of newspapers and periodicals.

There are 9,782 weekly newspapers in the country, according to N. W. Ayer & Sons, publisher of the directory. The circulation figures are based for the most part on affidavits supplied by the publishers to local post offices.

BIG ORDER
Herbert Hoover is head of a bipartisan commission appointed by President Eisenhower to study reorganization of the executive branch of the government.
Asked what he would seek to accomplish, the former President said he hoped that the commission would "contribute something to lessen what President Eisenhower has aptly described as our 'staggering economic burdens,' strengthen private enterprise, reduce the burden of taxation, lessen bureaucratic tyranny over our citizens and generally improve the efficiency of our government."
That is an enormous order. But it is an order that must be filled if we are to be saved from financial ruin as a nation, and from the destruction of freedom which is the tragic and inevitable result of ever-expanding, ever-more-costly government.

The best way to save face is to keep the lower part of it closed.

GOOSE BAY AIR BASE
When the Canadian government granted the United States a 20-year lease on 7,000 acres of the Goose Bay air base in Labrador late last year, it marked the first peace-time leasing of Canadian territory to a foreign government for defense purposes.

The Fifth Plate
By John C. White
Commissioner of Agriculture
The present birthrate in the United States indicates that one extra person will be sitting at every American table for four by 1975. People are now asking: "Where is the food coming from to fill this fifth plate?"
If population forecasters are right, our agricultural production will have to increase 20 percent to feed the next generation as well as we are eating now. This means a big demand for additional food.
In the past, such demands have led to drastic changes in the lives of many people. When the Irish potato crop failed in 1845, hundreds of thousands left their native country to find homes in the United States. As the population increased in the eastern states, people moved west, opening new land and advancing the frontier.
In World War I, American farmers expanded their production by putting vast acreages of land into cash crops. And you all know the years of distress that followed when the war-time market collapsed in the 20's.
When a second World War again demanded the utmost of farmers, they increased production by nearly one-third. This was about the limit of our production capacity at that time.
Today, each farmer now raises enough to feed himself and about 15 others. And there are 7,000 new babies to be fed in the United States every morning of the year. New farmers and new farms can't be created fast enough to keep the ratio balanced.
If we have to raise our sights to feed a permanently expanding population, where shall we turn this time? There are no new frontiers of first-rate land to be opened up. Only a little more than one-fifth of our land area is now being used for crops, so millions more acres could be put into cultivation—but the investment for irrigation alone would be staggering.

The problem is not a new one. About 150 years ago, Thomas Malthus, a brilliant but rather short-sighted English economist forecast starvation for the human race because the world population, he said, was outstripping agricultural production. But Malthus was wrong. He underestimated the farmer's ingenuity in constantly improving his crop raising methods.
The answer, then lies in a greater application of science to agriculture. We must find new ways to apply research to agricultural production and teach approximately the present number of farmers to use new scientific knowledge on approximately the present area of cropland.
We have nothing to fear from the "fifth plate" as long as the farmer continues to increase his per-acre yields, improve his soil conservation practices and work for better plant and animal breeding.

A life insurance company reports that nearly 75 per cent of policy-holders who died in 1952 were the victims of diseases of the heart, or blood vessels, or of cancer. The high toll of these diseases was declared due to reduced mortality from other diseases and to the fact that more policy-holders are living to an advanced age.

would get some benefit from our control.

Another fact is that the little dams are even essential to the practical use of big dams. Well filled power reservoirs and city reservoirs present less of a threat when water is checked up stream. Taking our own case again as an example, we see possibilities of better flood control at Lake Garza, Dallas, depending on that for its water supply, naturally wants to maintain a fairly high level. At the same time it knows that a heavy rain when the lake is high may cause a flood.

But if the flow of water is checked up here Dallas has time to release water and make room for more. There is a chance that Garza, under those conditions, could check a flood even though water went over local spillways. The same applies to power dams. While water is checked up stream a great deal of water could be drained to provide more flood control capacity.

From any angle it is figured, the small detention dam is a good deal, and there's reason to hope that before many years it will become the big favorite in flood control appropriations. The sooner that comes the better break it will be for the thousands of farmers whose crops heretofore have been wiped off the bottomlands along the tributaries.

sibility of rough going in the future. In that event the large association would set up its plant elsewhere and become a competitor of the local plant. Since it controls most of the Grade A surplus it would take over most of the processing business and leave Muenster with little if any more than its membership's Grade C milk, which now constitutes only about 40 per cent of the plant's volume.

If the deal goes through it will mean that local Grade C producers become members of the larger cooperative instead of the FMA. They will still share in profits made on their milk, however their dividends would be paid in cash rather than in scrip. Grade A and Grade C operations would be kept separate and profits from each division would be divided in proportion to volumes delivered among the producers supplying the division.
