Milk Volume Here May Be Boosted by Oklahoma Surplus

In case you are one of the considerable number around here who thinks today's Halloween messer-uppers are tame compared to those of yester years it might be a good idea to revise that opinion slightly. Perhaps we are underestimating the imagination and energy of current pranksters.

The reason some of us were unimpressed by the mild disorder around town Sunday morning is that we did not get out early enough to see the clutter at its best. . . nor to see a certain group of cooperative fellows gathering just as diligently as they had scattered.

Rumor has it that Muenster was a sight to behold a short time after midnight, also that Sheriff Whisnand and a few deputies had been around considerably more than suspected while the mess was in the making. By the time Main Street was fairly well decorated with tin cans, rubbish and miscellaneous junk they had a fairly complete list of fellows engaged in the operation.

That's when they came forward and suggested that since Halloween was over it would be a good idea to start cleaning up. Some fellows didn't think much of the idea until reminded that the grand jury might become inquisitive if it learned that the usual peace and order of Muenster had been disturbed. They were more impressed than ever after a chance remark that the grand jury, if it considered the case, would likely be able to learn the identity of every person engaged in the pranks.

And that's how it happened that, come daylight, Muenster saw less evidence of Halloween than it had for years. We had Halloween, all right, but it was different. The spooks who brought the junk also took it away.

All of which helps to explain a big sign painted above the porch level of the old post office building. "Impeach Whiz Bang!" scrawled in bold black was plain for all to see the next morning. Whether it escaped the clean-up or went up afterward is anybody's guess. But one thing is certain. It was not long until some fellows took a sudden interest in obliterating the sign with a coat of paint.

It's hardly necessary to add that the city council was more than pleased with the unprecedented happy ending. In its meeting Monday night it voted unanimously to convey official thanks to Sheriff Whisnand and his deputies for persuading the boys to clean up. Heretofore there's been a lot of griping by victims along with a general unsightly appearance that inspired more unwelcome remarks, plus the trouble and expense of cleaning. This time it seems everybody is happy, including those who have no worries about the next grand jury meeting.

Coincidence: Two days after Halloween yours truly heard a really legitimate gripe about people who thoughtlessly duplicate Halloween shenanigans any time of the year! That's the practice of dumping trash beside rural roads instead of hauling it to the city dump. This beef comes from a resident along one of the roads, a resident who has had the exasperating experience of seeing fields cluttered with tin cans and bottles and all sorts of rubbish after the next rain.

People guilty of such unauthorized dumping might do well to realize that they are out of line every bit as much as the Halloween clutter-uppers, and also that according to law they would rate about the same consideration before a grand jury. If they want to get technical and claim that they did not throw trash on another's property they might still be held accountable first for dumping on the roadside, which is public property, and secondly for leaving it where rain can carry it to another's land. And if the law does not prosecute there's still the fact that it does not fit the golden rule. How would the guilty person feel if other people's rubbish were floated on his field or lawn?

That's enough about someone else's gripe. Now the column would like to air one of its own (Continued on page 10)

Development of a dairy industry that will serve Central Oklahoma as well as North Texas was seen as a good possibility Monday when representatives of the Central Oklahoma Milk Producers Association visited the local cheese factory and indicated their interest in having surplus milk processed here.

They expressed hopes of working out a cooperative arrangement with the North Texas Producers Association, which is expected to take over the FMA properties some time this month. Manager J. O. Woodman and Assistant Manager Bill McClain of the NTPA were in Muenster Monday and revealed that the association's lawyers have almost completed their job of examining titles and abstracts and preparing papers for the transfer of property. After that the sale is expected to go through without further delay.

The representatives of the Oklahoma Milk Producers Association said that they are very much interested in bringing their surplus to Muenster for processing. . . even to the extent of investing money to help NTPA provide the additional capacity that would be needed here.

If that develops, according to Plant Manager Rudy Hellman, the dairy industry will become big business at Muenster. The NTPA program already represents a big increase and the Oklahoma group's program will make it still larger.

Hornets - Panthers Renew Old Rivalry Here Friday Night

Statistics will not mean a thing Friday night when the Muenster Hornets and Saint Jo Panthers renew their traditional gridiron rivalry at 7:30 on the Muenster field. The only thing that counts is that both teams regard it as the game of the year, and both are anxious to claim the golden horseshoe, which is the annual trophy to the winner.

Since last year the horseshoe has been on display in the Saint Jo trophy case. For two years before it was at Muenster.

Each year the trophy presentation ceremony is held in mid field after the game, representatives of the losing team presenting it to representatives of the winning team. Hornet representatives Friday will be Co-Captains Gene Walter and Joe Noggler accompanied by the season's football sweetheart, whose identity will not be revealed until game time.

Something at stake besides the trophy is the team standing in the 10-B district race. As the game starts the teams are tied for second last spot on the list. When it ends one of them will rank a notch higher.

Hornets Dump 10-B Leaders for First Victory of Season

At long last, the Muenster Hornets got their first victory of the season Friday night. And they got it in a grand way, upsetting the undefeated and loop leading Wildcats of Callisburg 14-7.

Besides that they knotted the 10-B conference race in a three way tie with Era, Callisburg and Alvord all sharing the top spot. Each of them is now marked with a loss. Sanger rates the fourth position with one loss and a tie. Muenster and Saint Jo share the next place, each having one win and two losses and Muenster having a tie to boot. Valley View with all losses is in the cellar.

From the opening kick to the final whistle the Hornets dominated the field at Callisburg. They bested the Wildcats both offensively and defensively and actually had more trouble with their own errors than with the opposition. They kicked the ball only once and lost it on downs once but lost it three times on fumbles and twice on interceptions. The Wildcats kicked out of trouble three times and lost the oval on four interceptions. They did not fumble it away once.

5-Day Program to Observe FHA Week

A full week's program will mark the observance of Future Homemakers Week by girls of the Muenster FHA chapter.

The schedule of events as planned this week is as follows: Monday is general clean-up day at the school. Members will spend their Homemaking periods on clean-up, fix-up and decorations in the school building.

Tuesday is hobo day when the girls will be seeking jobs in the community to earn money for their chapter fund. Persons wishing to have the girls help with house or yard work can arrange for an early start by phoning Mrs. Searcy before Tuesday.

Wednesday the girls will sponsor a skating party honoring the FFA boys and inviting all high school students. Busses will take the group to the rink at Gainesville.

Thursday the chapter will give a tea party for the faculty and seniors. FHA juniors will be hostesses. That night each member will participate in some sort of activity with her family.

Friday is school Spirit Day in which the girls will take over a pre-game pep rally and conduct other activities to improve school spirit.

1.19 Soaker Helps Grain and Grazing

Moisture of this area, already in excellent condition since the heavy rain on October 25, was further improved Tuesday night and Wednesday by a slow soaking rain which measured 1.19 late in the afternoon.

At this time local grain has the best start it has had in years. Cattle by the hundreds were out grazing on it before this week's rain fell, and indications are that they will find abundant food there the rest of the winter, unless rough weather interferes. Meanwhile pastures seem to be headed for a temporary rest and a chance to recover from some of the damage caused by last summer's drought. The outlook is good for both grain and livestock. The year's total to date is 29.06 inches.

Muenster Donates $186 to Boy Scouts

Boy Scout supporters of Muenster kicked in $181.15 last week for the annual Circle 10 drive, and contributions sent through the mail will bring the community contribution to about $250.

Andy Hofbauer, chairman of the drive, said that 5 local persons are listed as sustaining members donating a minimum of $12 a year directly to the Dallas headquarters. Their minimum of $60 added to the local collection accounts for Hofbauer's estimate. Funds received in the drive are used to maintain three scout camps in the Dallas area and to meet the Circle 10 administrative expense.

Cubs and Cowtown Youngsters Tie 6-6

The Sacred Heart Cubs are still one up on the Saint Alice parochial team of Fort Worth. As a result of a 6-6 tie on the Saint Alice field last Sunday, Father Pat's kiddies are ahead by the 19-0 win which they marked up when the Cowtown youngsters came here in mid-October.

The game was tight all the way through and each team missed an opportunity to break the tie. In the first quarter Saint Alice, with first down on the 9 got as far as the 1 but the Cub defense broke through and smeared the fourth down attempt for a 12 yard loss.

On the last play of the game a pass from Mollenkopf to Hellman over the goal just failed to connect.

The host team scored first on a fine 59 yard gallop early in the second half.

The Cubs got their TD early in the third quarter on a pass from Mollenkopf to Hellman, the play originating on the 1 yard line. In seven plays before that they had moved the ball from their own 32 to the Saint Alice 1.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Evelyn Hess, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess, had her tonsils removed at M&S Hospital Wednesday.

Herbert McDaniel entered Gainesville Sanitarium Monday for x-rays and observation.

Ferd Luttmner was off from work several days this week after a hand injury. He caught his left hand in a v-belt on a water pump while he was working on an oil rig at Jacksboro.

Frederick Knabe was dismissed from Harris Hospital in Fort Worth Tuesday and was brought home by a Scott Brother ambulance. Jimmy Fisher accompanied him home. Fred's mother, Mrs. Joe Knabe and his brother, Harold, were at his bedside until the ambulance arrived. Fred had surgery on his broken leg last week Tuesday and will be confined to his home for some time.

Mrs. Kyle Waggoner is convalescing at her home from a recent illness of near pneumonia that kept her in the hospital three days last week. She spent several days with her parents, the Burl Williams in Saint Jo after she was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium.

Toughest Opponent Awaits Tigers at Texarkana Sunday

Whether or not the Sacred Heart Tigers will be able to go through an undefeated season depends mostly on their game Sunday afternoon with the Catholic High Eagles of Texarkana.

For the first time Father Christopher Paladino finds the odds stacked against his boys. The Eagles rate lots of respect since the 25-12 trimming they handed the Laneri Micks. Besides that the Tigers are at a disadvantage because of the long bus ride to Texarkana.

If the boys can win that one, Father Chris feels confident they can cop the district trophy a week later when they meet Laneri on the local field.

At the present time the Tigers and Eagles, each with a perfect record, are tied for first place in the North Texas District of the Southwest Academic League.

About the only information available on the team here is that it is strong and well balanced and has an outstanding end and an equally good back. Like Sacred Heart, it bested the Boys Ranch club by a two touchdown margin on the Ranchers' home field.

Players will leave here Saturday and will play their game Sunday after the host schools' homecoming ceremonies, which are due to start at 2 p.m.

Tigers Hold Tie for Loop Lead by 27-19 Win Over Buckner

At the expense of Buckner's Hornets the Sacred Heart Tigers maintained their hold on the Academic League's district race and extended their perfect season to six straight here Friday night.

The final tally was 27-19 in an action packed game which witnessed the Tigers romping to a first quarter lead of 20-6 and holding a comfortable margin the rest of the way.

Seven Volunteers Fill County Quota

Last week's group of seven young men leaving for duty with the armed services was the first completely volunteer draft quota in the history of Gainesville's Draft Board No. 135, it has been revealed. Gilbert C. Holman, board chairman, said the group represented the county's Selective Service quota for October.

Six of the quota of seven were inducted through the local board while the seventh volunteer asked to have his induction transferred from Vernon and credited to the Cooke County board. His home is in Gainesville. One from Muenster, one from Lindsay and four from Gainesville, in addition to the youth from Vernon made up the call.

Leaving were: Lawrence Dankesreiter of Muenster, Raymond Haverkamp of Lindsay, Elroy Neu, route 8, Leroy Wiesman, Willard Zimmerer, Jack Edward Stephens, all of Gainesville, and James Weston Selder transferee from Vernon.

According to word reaching family members this week the group went from Gainesville to Dallas and then directly to Fort Bliss, El Paso, for processing and basic training.

J & L Sends Bratcher To Colorado Store

Bill Bratcher has been transferred to Sterling, Colo., Leo Lawson succeeds him as local field man and D. C. Jones succeeds Lawson as local store manager in changes that became effective last week at the Jones and Laughlin Supply Co.

Jones moves here from the Wichita Falls J & L store, where he formerly worked as sales clerk. His wife and year old son will come to Muenster as soon as he locates living quarters.

Walter Yosten, 28, Dies Monday After 15 Years of Illness

Death Monday morning brought an end to 15 years of illness and 18 months of intense suffering for Walter Yosten, 28, who passed away at the home of his brother, Andrew, at 2.30.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart church with Rev. Patrick Hannon officiating at the requiem high mass, followed by burial in Sacred Heart cemetery under direction of Nick Miller.

Rosary services were held at the Miller Funeral Home on Monday and Tuesday nights at 8 o'clock.

Walter was born in Muenster on Feb. 3, 1925, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten. After attending school here he was employed by Magnolia Service Station and quit work there only when failing eye sight forced him to give it up. For the past year and a half he was ill at the home of his brother. The first signs of diabetes, which eventually caused his death, appeared when he was a boy of 13.

Survivors are three brothers, Andrew; Joe of Whitesboro, and Richard of Gainesville; five sisters, Mmes. Joe Horn, B. J. Sicking, Arnold Hess, and Ed Pels of Muenster, and Mrs. Leo Hoedebeck of Gainesville. One brother, Frank Yosten, lost his life during world war II as a member of the U. S. Navy. He served aboard the ill-fated ship, Jarvis.

Besides the Lions have designated it as their official dinner meeting for that date.

Featuring the menu will be turkey, dressing and country sausage.

Garden Club Date Changed to Tuesday

The regular November meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club, schedule for next Monday, Nov. 9, has been postponed until Tuesday, officers of the organization have announced. Change of date is made so as not to conflict with community concert night.

Mmes. M. J. Endres and R. N. Fette will be hostesses in the Endres home. The time is 8 p.m.

Program headliners include a talk by Mrs. T. S. Myrick on "Different Soils Suit Different Plants", an address by Mrs. Steve Mosler entitled "For Hemerocallis Lovers", and the distribution of the Hems (day lilies), the club's horticultural project for the year, which arrived this week. Members will answer roll call with "My Favorite Garden Tool".

Auxiliary Plans Coming Activity

At their meeting Monday night members of the VFW Auxiliary made plans for coming activity which includes an Armistice Day service, a candy sale, and shipment of Christmas packages to Muenster men overseas.

The Armistice Day service will be conducted at Sacred Heart cemetery on Wednesday, Nov. 11. Mrs. Ray Swirczynski was placed in charge of preparing wreaths for servicemen's graves. Members were also reminded of their regular hour of adoration on First Saturday, 6 to 7 p.m.

As a means to boost the club treasury members will conduct a boxed candy sale. Samples were distributed and arrangements completed.

A sliver drill was held and proceeds contributed to the Cooke County T. B. Association.

A report on the association's social and supper, set for next Sunday, revealed plans are complete and the committee in charge urged members to return their invitation cards immediately as they will be used for meal tickets.

Mrs. F. A. Kathman Jr., president, conducted the business session during which Mrs. Walter Rawley, Richard Swirczynski, John Huchton and Richard Grewing gave reports.

Miss Genevieve Noggler won the attendance prize.

MHS Homecoming - - -

The Halloween carnival Saturday night, and the four high school duchesses competed until Tuesday for the honor of queen.

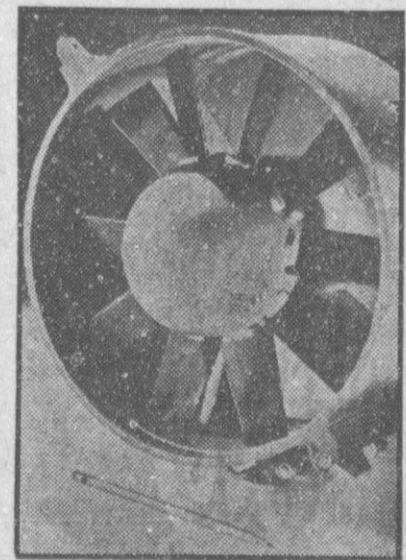

The contest was sponsored by the Mothers Athletic Club and the proceeds go into a fund to buy jackets for MHS lettermen. Other sources of revenue for the jackets are admission charges at games and profits at the Mothers Athletic Club concession stand.

Duchesses attending Queen Julia at homecoming festivities are Rebecca Williams, Sandra Cain, Bobby Tuggle, Maurice Kaderli, Linda Dickerson, Dianna Richey, Patsy Dennis, Mary Pick, Virginia Otto and Joyce Wiseman.

He was considered the village idiot. People liked particularly to place a dime and a nickel on the palm of a hand and invite him to take his pick of the two. In each case he would pick the nickel, and the person or persons present would laugh and make merry at his expense.

One day a kindhearted man asked him, "Don't you know the difference between a dime and a nickel. Don't you know a dime is worth twice as much as a nickel?"

Sure, I know it, was the answer. And I also know they wouldn't try me on it any more if I took the dime.

Tigers Win - - -

lateral from Henscheid and rambled 10 yards to the line.

The visitors were even more snappy in their comeback as White received the kickoff on his 15, and, helped along by fine blocking, galloped all the way to pay dirt. A try for extra point failed and the score was knotted at 6-6.

Sacred Heart's next score was slightly delayed by a pair of fumbles in midfield. Counting two plays originated by Buckner, it was the eighth following kickoff when Knabe took the pigskin on a delayed handoff and got loose for a 40 yard sprint to the goal. Henscheid added a point on a quarterback sneak.

More of the same followed as the Tigers held for 2 plays and received a quick kick on their 44. Mollenkopf's 9, Knabe's 16, Henscheid's 10 and a 4 yard loss put the ball on the 25 where Henscheid tossed to Herr for the third TD. "Mully" plowed over for an extra point.

The second period was a scoreless defensive battle with each team marking up three first downs. However the Tigers appeared to be on their way, having pushed from the visitors 46 to the 7 as the period ended.

After fumbling the ball way then forcing the Hornets to kick, Sacred Heart hit its stride again in the opening minutes of the third quarter. Starting from the Tiger 4 "Mully" gained 2 and Knabe shook off 4 or 5 tacklers in a sensational 62 yard romp to the Hornet 32. A pass Henscheid to Herr went the rest of the way for a total of 96 yards on 3 plays. Henscheid added a point on a quarterback sneak.

From then on the Hornets did the scoring, and they were not slow to start. Mabry returned the kickoff to the 41 and six plays netted three first downs to spot the ball on the Tiger 4. Adams went over and Mabry's kick was good for another point.

Again, in the final quarter the visitors recovered a Tiger fumble on the Buckner 40 and Mabry got loose on a fourth down gamble for a run to the Tiger 2. Two attempts from there netted a yard before Mabry crashed over on a quarterback sneak.

Hornets Win - - -

Noggler ripped off gain after gain where as Garner, though carrying the load of the Wildcat offense, was effectively held to short gains. Walter and McElreath gave him too much trouble.

The Hornets' first TD came early in the second quarter as Noggler took Richey's pitchout on the 30 and sprinted to the goal without being touched. Richey's pass to McElreath added an extra point.

The marker followed two fizzes which put abrupt stops to early Hornet drives. First Callisburg intercepted to halt a 31 yard march after the kickoff. Next it recovered a Hornet fumble, but Richey's interception stopped the Wildcats' 23 yard advance and started the Hornets 66 yard scoring push.

Callisburg was not slow in tying the count. Following the kickoff both teams held and both kicked once. Garner and Crowsey gained 13 to their 39, but their only penalty of the game followed by a 4 yard loss set the hosts back to the 30. Next Turner, fading back to pass, squirmed away from a Hornet tackler and heaved a wobbly desperation aerial. Wilson took it on the 40 and four other Wildcats farther down the field formed an escorting party as he headed for the goal. The group boxed Noggler out most of the way but he finally broke through in time to stop the play on the 7 for a net gain of 63. Crowsey added 2 and Garner 5 to finish the job and Crowsey went around right end for the extra point.

The Wildcats returned with fire in the second half, running back the kickoff to midfield and racking up consecutive first downs on the 36, 23 and 10. But the Hornets held there. After 3 tries failed to gain Turner heaved a fourth down pass which Richey intercepted on the goal line and returned to the 17.

From then on Muenster did all the gaining. However the first push ended with a fumble and another ended with an interception before Noggler's interception started the pay off drive. It was not easy, though. The Hornets had to win on two fourth down gambles in their 58 yard push to the goal. Richey went over from the 3 and passed to Noggler for the extra point.

Another TD for the Hornets failed in a fumble on the 2 after a 52 yard push just before the game ended.

SAINT JO FLOWER SHOW SET NOVEMBER 13-14
 Saint Jo's annual Community Fair and Flower Show will be held next Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13-14. Members of the Saint Jo Garden Club, sponsors of the event, this week extended a special invitation to Muenster Garden Club members, and a general invitation to everyone to attend the affair.

Theme of this year's show is "Mums—Texas Style".

Lake Superior is the largest fresh-water lake in the world.

"FOWL" BALL—There's always a fowl in this electric baseball game displayed recently at the Texas State Fair at Dallas. Action starts when the chicken in the "batting cage" pecks at a fake worm attached to the end of the electric bat. A good, firm peck means a clean hit and sets off a trigger which releases chicken feed as a reward to the "batter." Watching the game is Ponda Jansen, a "fair" visitor.

Observance Marks 25th Anniversary Of John Fishers

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher marked their silver wedding anniversary Friday with a full, enjoyable day. After attending mass at Sacred Heart church their parents joined them for breakfast which their children, Rosemary and Francis, served.

The Fishers then drove to Fort Worth for the day and brought their daughter, Jeanette, and Anna Grace Fette and Mary Weinzapfel back to Muenster with them.

In the evening their son and daughter-in-law, the Clyde Fishers, surprised them with a family gathering at their home east of town. All the Fisher and Schmitt families were present to help them celebrate.

A large decorated three tiered cake centered the refreshment table and was served with coffee to about 75 guests. The table also held an attractive arrangement of white mums with silver adornment and the silver service.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fisher opened and displayed a shower of gifts in keeping with the anniversary. Their children's gift was a set of silver for eight.

Only member of the family unable to be present was Miss Ruth Fisher who is teaching school in California. She sent congratulations.

Bernard Schmitz has gone to Brush, Colorado, to work on an oil rig.

BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY HONORS MRS. JAMES BEZNER

Guests were the James Bezners and children, the Rufus Bezners and children, the Ray Wildes and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhart and John Eberhart Jr.

The American Way

RED RAINBOW
 By George Peck

Another far more important battle was won and lost in New York City just prior to the World Series. This action did not take place at Yankee Stadium or Ebbets' Field—it was fought on and around the stage of the Royale Theater. It was won by the forces who would Sovietize the U.S.A., and lost by those of us who would save this nation from such a horrible fate.

Myron C. Fagan, no newcomer to Broadway, as he has written and produced many successful plays, on September 14th presented his latest—Red Rainbow. This play had been given a successful trial run in Los Angeles where two critics were negative but four gave high approval.

Playwright Fagan states that he wrote this play because he saw how completely Hollywood and Broadway have been permeated by leftwing and collectivist forces. Previously he had authored two books, Documentation of the Red Stars on Hollywood and Red Treason in Hollywood, which were a great aid to the Congressional Committees, the FBI and Army Intelligence in uncovering Communist infiltration of Hollywood.

The play Red Rainbow presented to the public the story of Communist methods of infiltration into the Federal Government, publishing, theater, movies, radio, television, in fact, into every medium for mass communication.

The critics of New York City's seven leading daily newspapers made a vicious assault on this play. Their reviews were devastating—their verbiage was so similar as to create the impression they were written by one man—perhaps they were. "Badly-written," "Poor theater," "Badly-cast," "Badly-acted," were among the mildest uncomplimentary comments.

Unfortunately, a previous engagement had prevented my attending Red Rainbow on opening night. It wasn't until its second-to-last performance that I caught up with it, quite prepared to spend a boring two hours—hadn't the critics panned the daylight out of it?

On the contrary. Here I must confess that I am not a drama critic. However for nigh unto 40 years I have been taking in Broadway productions—not all, but a goodly proportion of them. Red Rainbow was the 23rd Broadway production seen this year. From this long experience, I feel that I can detect the difference between good theater and bad.

In my humble opinion, Red Rainbow was good theater. Contrary to the critics, it was well-written, well-cast and well-acted.

THOU SHALT NOT FORGET

As a matter of fact, I rate it as the best drama it has been my pleasure to see this year, in fact, for many a year. I sent a letter expressing that opinion to the editors of the seven New York dailies. None, as far as I have been able to discover, printed my letter, and I am given to understand that the same discourteous and unfair treatment was accorded to letters written by several prominent people expressing their liking of the play.

Despite the violent attacks of the critics and the failure of the newspapers to print favorable letters, Red Rainbow would have had a long run. But someone gave orders to three of the principal actors to "quit or else." After a two-week run, Red Rainbow closed.

Space does not permit detailing here the many other despicable things that were done to sabotage this play. But one is forced to wonder what or who inspired this vitriolic attack on 1953's best dramatic production.

It seems to me that this theatrical mystery could well be investigated by Senator Joseph McCarthy and his Committee. It would be most interesting and revealing to put these seven newspaper critics on the witness stand—that is provided they didn't crawl behind the Fifth Amendment. Also, it would be enlightening to discover who gave the orders to the actors to quit the play.

It is mighty strange that plays which propagandize for Moscow invariably win high praise from the critics. Are we who believe in the American Way of Life to be denied an occasional day in the theater by these same critics? The real Red Rainbow hangs over our heads—the 64-million-dollar question is: shall we continue blissfully to ignore it or shall we do something to drive it away?

Armistice Day in 1918, if you remember, was a day of rejoicing. The fighting in Europe was stopped. The great war, involving the major powers of the earth; the great war that killed with poison gas and armored tanks, as well as with cannon and cold steel; the struggle that first gave war its third dimension of horror, the zeppelin raids on sleeping cities from the skies; was, we thought, forever ended.

But there has been a second world war on a far more colossal scale, and a stalemated Korean War and we know better now what "armistice" means. It is not for celebration, it is for prayer. It is to pay homage to those who have fought—those who have died fighting, and those who lived—perhaps to fight again. It is to recognize the debt we also owe to the thousands of soldiers and sailors and airmen who have not yet seen battle, but who have postponed their own careers for our protection—who have already given us of their youth, and stand ready to give all.

Arlington National Cemetery—where hundreds of veteran graves are still brown with fresh-turned earth, and more are dug each day—will be the scene of the traditional memorial services under the sponsorship of The American Legion. The nation's military leaders and highest dignitaries will pay solemn tribute at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and Americans everywhere will echo this reverence in their hearts.

California, with a population of 11 million, is bigger than all of Japan, which has 85 million people.

Jack: Makes light on his troubles, huh?

Armistice Day Recalls True Basis Of Peace

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

ARMISTICE DAY is a holiday dedicated to peace and international order. The basic moral principle of this international order is: The world is one because it was made by one Lord and is governed by His moral law. All men are one because God made man.

To unite men in the peace we seek there must be something outside men, just as to pack a bag one must be outside the bag. A moral law outside of nations to which all nations can appeal, and to which they must submit even when the decision goes against them, is the Bishop Sheen only sound basis of world peace. That is why we say there will never be "one world" until we all learn to pray "Our Father, who art in Heaven."

THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE to one world based on one Lord and one moral law is to have many worlds and many lords, where each nation is its own law, its own god.

Like the workers on the Tower of Babel, each of us will then speak a different language and live by a different code. Because we then will have nothing in common, the project of world peace must, like the Tower, be abandoned. IN THAT CASE, there would be no way to decide whether communist atrocities were wrong or right, except by a war in which might decides what is right. To all who have eyes, it should be as clear as the stones in the road that the day we make a Godless world, we make also a peaceless world.

We have had political expressions of the moral law in the Atlantic Charter, in the Four Freedoms, and in these magnificent words of our government, which make me feel proud of being an American:

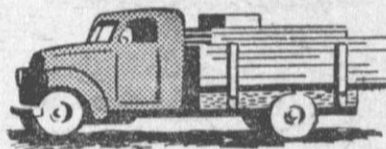

"THE UNITED STATES will continue to stand by these principles because of the conviction of the American people, that unless the doctrine in which these principles are inherent once again governs the relations between nations—the rule of reason, of justice, and of law—the basis of modern civilization cannot be preserved."

Dostoevsky, the Russian novelist, foretold of his own country, that after it has passed through a diabolical anti-God stage, it would sit at the feet of Christ and learn His gospel. On this Armistice Day we look to the dawn of that day wherein nations can live in one world because there is one moral law and one Lord.

Fluoridation Aids Dental Health in Fifteen Texas Cities

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Children in fifteen Texas cities are literally drinking their way to dental health through fluoridation of public water supplies, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Three other towns have approved the program and several other communities are seriously considering fluoridation.

The Texas State Department of Health approves fluoridation of public water supplies because it is the most practical and effective public health measure for partial prevention of tooth decay in children. Numerous studies have disclosed that one-half to two-thirds less dental decay is experienced by children who drink water containing one part fluoride to one million parts of water. Some cities in Texas have this amount naturally in their water supply.

It isn't known exactly just how fluoride acts in reducing tooth decay, but these ideas have been advanced. One is that fluoride makes the enamel of the teeth harder. Another is that fluoride reduces the growth of bacteria, or enzymes, and the acids that are believed to cause teeth to decay. But it will be some time before the final answer is found.

The most dramatic results from the use of fluoridation to prevent tooth decay are found among young children who begin drinking fluoridated water in babyhood and keep on drinking it until their adult teeth grow in. Therefore, it seems that the most important time for intake of fluorides is while the teeth are forming in the jaws.

Even though your child drinks from a fluoridated water supply, or even though his teeth have had topical applications of fluoride solution, he still may have some tooth decay. Fluoride does not prevent all decay, but rather reduces the amount of decay. Therefore, regular dental care is as necessary as it was before the value of the fluorides was discovered.

Experiments Show Progress in Control Of Cattle Parasites

JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner Texas Department of Agriculture

We are a long way from a cattleman's Utopia but recent experiments in Texas with a unique method of parasite control may be bringing it closer.

The method being studied involves the use of insecticides injected directly into cattle. Good preliminary results have been achieved but the work is still in the experimental stage.

Three chemicals have been tested—Aldrin, Dieldrin and Lindane. All three were effective in destroying the cattle grubs which spends much of its life inside the bodies of cattle.

Cattlemen would welcome such a measure if it eliminates the troublesome and costly grub. But there still are some knotty problems to be solved and a lot of unanswered questions. It must be determined whether or not these insecticides will prove both economical and safe to use over a period of time. Entomologists and veterinarians may come up with the answers when the study is completed at the U.S.D.A.'s Bureau of Entomology laboratory in Kerrville, Texas.

The insecticide solution has been injected under the skin of yearling cattle in one series of tests. Injections were made at the time when grubs began to appear as bumps under the skin and were repeated every 28 days.

The insecticides are carried by the bloodstream as systemic chemicals to all parts of the animal's body. As the grubs reach the animals back and begin to feed heavily on the flesh, they automatically dose themselves with insecticide.

Many of the larvae died soon after reaching the back. A few others continued their normal life cycle, cutting their way through the hide and dropping to the ground to pupate.

Other promising but preliminary research has shown that the screwworm fly, which lays eggs in open livestock wounds, could be controlled for as long as a month with this same method. Of the three chemicals, dieldrin proved most toxic to the screw-worm.

Continued progress along this line may eventually provide farmers and ranchers with healthier and higher meat producing animals. Cattle grubs, alone, have been estimated to cause a loss of $100 million each year through annoyance of animals and damage to meat and hides. Losses caused by screw-worms are estimated to be about $25 million each year.

Soil Conservation Notes

And the rains came. Ugly fingers of erosion point accusingly to sloping cropland around Muenster that did not have the protection of terraces to stop the heavy run-off from the down pour. Other signs of soil losses stand out where the landowner was caught with his terraces down and the water ran over the top. These soil losses point out the need for more terraces on cultivated fields and also show that once they are built the terraces must be maintained and kept plowed up in good condition to withstand all kinds of rains.

Waterways on the farms of landowners who are cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district have benefited greatly from fall rains and many of the grasses are making additional growth and are spreading rapidly.

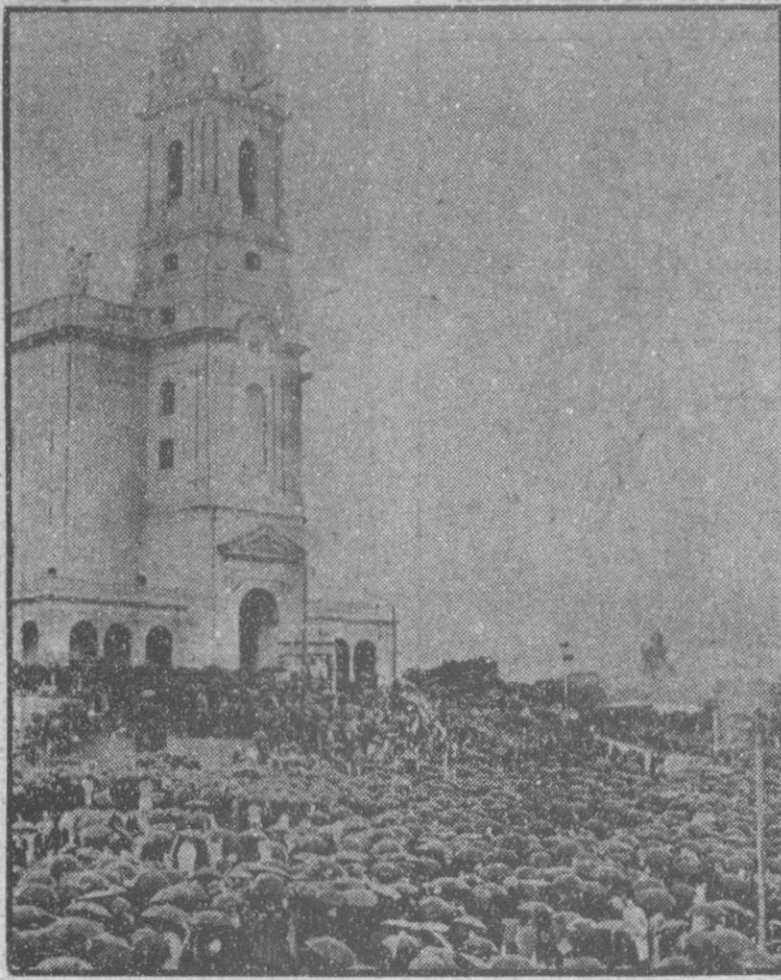

The addition of a legume to grassed waterways is playing a big role in faster and more vigorous growth of the grass. The legumes add nitrogen to the soil, and the grass greedily uses this nitrogen to make more growth faster.

Paul Fisher has vetch seeded into his Bermuda grass waterway again this year. Herman Zimmerer has overseeded his K. R. bluestem and Bermuda grass waterway to vetch to get increased grass growth and additional winter pasture. Joe Hoening has Madrid sweet clover in his K. R. waterway and it is making a fine cover of grass.

At Myra, T. F. McKenzie has sown vetch on some 15 acres of cropland and short grass pasture land. O. G. Rennels has 40 acres of alfalfa and 20 acres of vetch in the ground. B. C. Rosson has 15 acres of alfalfa up to a good stand.

North of Muenster, Urban and Paul Andres have a good stand of vetch in 30 acres of old field pasture grasses, and Richard Grewing is fertilizing and seeding vetch on 100 acres of cleared and old field land on the farm he bought recently.

A tank for livestock water has been staked on the H. E. McElreath farm and construction has started.

Safety Inspections Lag; 4 Per Cent of Cars Have Stickers

Automobile Safety inspection stations in this area are going to be jammed unless motorists begin having their vehicles inspected within the next few weeks.

This warning was issued this week in Austin by G. C. Morris, executive director of the Highway Safety Council. He said a cross-section survey of inspection stations, including those in this area, indicated only four cars of every hundred had been inspected.

The inspection period, under the new law, began Sept. 15 and will end April 15.

There are more than 3,000,000 vehicles to be inspected, and during the first 30 days of the seven-months period only a fraction of that number, roughly 125,000, were checked, Morris said. The proportion of cars inspected in this area is about the same as statewide, he said.

"There is almost certain to be a last-minute rush unless there is a speed-up in inspections," he said, urging motorists in this section to avoid the rush by having their cars examined now.

Morris said there was also the safety precaution to be considered.

"Most cars have not been inspected in more than a year and may have developed some mechanical defect," he said.

You may gamble with your life if you are operating a mechanically unsound vehicle. Accident figures show that one traffic death in every ten in Texas is caused by faulty mechanism."

The new law, Morris said, calls for the inspection of brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear view mirror and windshield wipers.

He urged motorists, however, to request that steering parts be also included in this inspection.

Safety experts agree that automobiles should be inspected at least once a year as insurance against mechanical defects. Morris said that if motorists wait until near the spring deadline to have their cars examined, it will mean that many cars will not have been inspected for 18 months, three times longer than practical.

Cubs Lose 13-7 to St. Mark's, Dallas

A year or two of age made too much difference for the little Sacred Heart Cubs Wednesday of last week, and they went down in a 13-7 defeat before St. Mark's Junior High of Dallas.

Only when the visitors arrived here did Father Pat Hannon realize that he had matched his seventh and eighth graders with a team outside their class. He had expected an elementary team.

Nevertheless the boys had a good game and the Cubs did a fine job in holding their much larger visitors to a one-touchdown lead.

As the contest started the Cubs looked especially good pushing 60 yards to the St. Mark's 10 before losing the ball on downs. Taking a kick on the 30 four plays later they again drove to the 8 before being held.

After that the visitors put on their power and marched across the field for the first counter, Higgins totting the ball over and Boren carrying for the extra point.

From then until early in the last quarter the teams were deadlocked. Then Mollenkopf's almost vertical kick bounced bad to set the visitors up on the 20. Another drive paid off with Boren going over for the TD.

That the Cubs were still very much in the game became evident two plays later as Mollenkopf got loose for a 63 yard dash to the goal and Hoberer ran over for the extra point.

The C. A. Fishers and daughters, Mildred, Clara and Emma spent Sunday in Sherman visiting old friends who formerly lived here, the Pete Myers family.

Pee Wees Wallop Callisburg 19-0 for Junior Loop Title

With a 19-0 decision over the Callisburg kids, Coach Bob Williams' Muenster High Pee Wees sacked up the junior championship of the district.

Little Hubert Richey reeling off one fancy gain after another and smaller "Skiz" Swirczynski smearing about half of the visitors' attempts, set the pace as the junior Hornets turned in a snappy performance that outclassed the young Wildcats for three quarters of the contest.

The opening period went to the visitors. From the kickoff until the second play of the second quarter they held the oval, advancing slowly but steadily from their own 30 to the Pee Wees' 14. Two smeared plays after that ended the threat and Muenster took over on its 23.

Seven plays including Reiter's 7, Wimmer's 9, Richey's 33 and 5, and Wimmer's 24 for the payoff produced the first 6-pointer and Biffle tossed to "Skiz" for an extra point.

On the first play following the kickoff Mobley put the visitors in a strain by smearing a play for a 9 yard loss. After 2 short gains Callisburg got off an almost vertical kick and the Pee Wees were on the offense again on the visitors 40. Biffle gained 6 on two bucks and Richey got loose for 17. Wimmer added 2 and Biffle circled right end for the rest of the distance.

Starting the second half was more of the same thing. The kids used 7 plays going 68 yards for the touchdown. Wimmer made 9 and 6. Richey made 13 then snared Biffle's pass for 19. Reiter went 9 and Richey plowed through the line for the remaining 10.

From then on Coach Williams kept a number of reserves on the field and the visitors made more progress. Three passes accounted for 34 of a 44 yard advance before Hamric intercepted to stop the threat on the Pee Wees 29. The Biffle, Wimmer, Hamric, Richey quartet again made the distance but Hamric's 4 yard scoring plunge was called back and two successive penalties stopped the kids. Callisburg took over on the 9.

After allowing the visitors two first downs the Pee Wees held and climaxed the defense by blocking a kick on the Callisburg 28. A few more plays got to the 9 as time ran out.

U. S. Editors Favor Private Mail System

A majority of country editors answering a questionnaire sent out by the magazine, American Press say the Post Office should be turned over to private business. A total of 73% expressed belief that private business could handle the Post Office better than the government has been doing.

The magazine sent out the questionnaire to test sentiment regarding an editorial which suggested the possibility of letting private business handle the mails. Of the 226 editors who filled out the questionnaire, only three thought the idea impractical.

Nearly twice as many workers die from off-the-job accidents as those that occur during working hours, according to the National Safety Council. Moreover, workers hurt on the job figure in less than 25 per cent of all the accidents in the United States.

END OF THE MIDDLE CLASS

Perle Mesta, formerly American minister to Luxembourg, recently made an extended visit to Russia, and wrote a series of articles about her experiences. In one of them, Mrs. Mesta said, "Wherever I moved I was amazed to see how Russia was divided so sharply into two broad classes—the rich who had much and the poor who had little. Everything in Moscow seemed to contradict the Communist stories of the classless society which the Russians were supposed to be building. About all they seem to have achieved has been to wipe out the middle class, leaving the two extremes as great or greater than ever."

At one extreme Mrs. Mesta saw legions of ragged peasants and workers, living at a bare subsistence level. At the other she saw luxury shops which can be patronized only by the elite, and a roof-top restaurant where a dinner for two cost 120 rubles. The average Russian worker earns 600 rubles a month!

All the fine-spun theories notwithstanding, there are more class distinctions and more social and economic oppression of the masses under communism and the other totalitarian systems than the world has known in centuries. The few have every luxury—and the many have barely enough for survival. Starvation, imprisonment and liquidation await those who protest. This is what always happens when a

Building And Improvement Notes

Frank Schilling has finished foundation work on a six room house with attached double garage on the location used by his former home. The old building has been torn down and materials salvaged for the new home.

August Walterscheid is getting started on a two bedroom house on East Sixth opposite the new parochial high school building. George Mollenkopf Jr., has a good start on his new house neighboring George Sr. It will have six rooms with attached double garage.

Most of the framework is up on a 3-room house being built by Mrs. M. J. Endres on her farm northeast of town. One of the community landmarks, built in the early nineties, was removed and materials salvaged from it, said to be in excellent condition, are being used in the new house.

At Lindsay Frank Kuhn has just finished building a new 6 room house.

Community Lumber Company has finished foundation and started framework on a 30 x 120 warehouse and lumber shed east of its present lumber shed.

Two new Grade A dairy barns: One measuring 25 x 30 has just been completed by Jack Biffle. The other, 18 x 50 is well under way at Tom Sicking's.

Fred Herr is giving his home a general overhaul including asbestos siding, outside paint and general remodeling inside.

Alphonse Walterscheid has just finished adding a room and remodeling the rest of his house. The same applies to Tom Hoover . . . a new room and remodeling elsewhere.

Walter Klement has added two rooms plus other interior work.

Alphonse Hoenig and John Fette have new wall paper and interior paint in their homes, and the Kaderlis are getting a new coat of outside paint on their house.

Recent cement work includes a curb at Ray Otto's and a sidewalk and driveway at John Bayer's.

Another improvement at John Bayer's is a metal support for a group of mail boxes. Postmaster Arthur Endres had it put in and hopes it will inspire a lot more mail box improvements in the community.

NEWLY MARRIED COUPLE AT HOME IN FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rainwater are making their home in Fort Worth since their recent marriage in that city. She is the former Miss Margaret Sicking, daughter of Gus Sicking of Muenster.

Honoring the newly married couple, her sister and brother-in-law, the Peter Preschers of Gainesville entertained with a reception in their home.

Among guests were Mrs. Lewis Ford and children of Gainesville, the Leo Preschers of Valley View, the Harvey Buttrills Jr. of Fort Worth, Cecile Sicking, the Andy Hackers and family, the Thomas Sicking's, and the Louis Sicking's of Muenster and Harry Pearman of Forestburg.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carver, route 3, have announced the birth of a daughter, weight seven pounds 13 ounces. Two brothers also welcome the little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoedebeck of Denison are the parents of a daughter born there Saturday. They have four other children, two boys and two girls. The Fred Hoedebecks of this city are the paternal grandparents.

About one third of the world's total coffee consumption is used by the people of the U. S.

Kiddies Have Fun, Classes Make Mon At Spook Carnival

Lots of people, especially kiddies, had lots of fun and the various school classes and organizations helped their funds considerably at the annual Halloween carnival held Saturday night in the public school.

Most prosperous of the dozen concessions was the Band Parents which netted $315 for the band uniform fund and reduced the uniform debt to about $1100. The suits, received less than a year ago cost about $2400.

Combined revenues at the carnival came to more than $600.

Prizes for best costumes were awarded to Peggy Branch, Angela Dern and Douglas Hellman.

Something new at the event was the four piece dance band playing for a dance sponsored by the sophomores. Members are Bill Searcy, Alice Brooks, Dan Hamric and Donald Wilson. The crowd liked them and seniors are regretting now that they made previous arrangements for other music at their homecoming dance.

Drinking drivers are involved in almost one-fifth of all fatal auto accidents. One-fourth of all adult pedestrians killed by automobiles were reported to have been drinking.

Then there was the musician who heard the girl singing in the shower and put his ear to the keyhole.

LINDSAY HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS HAVE MEETINGS

Members of the Sophomore-Freshmen club met recently for a program and business session, with Dorothy Geray, president, presiding.

Business consisted principally of making plans for the annual Halloween party to be held Friday, Oct. 30.

During the program hour each member gave a short life sketch of his or her patron saint, in preparation for the feast of All Saints. Study sessions for the club have been based on the Ten Commandments and Lucy Stofels read a poem on the Decalogue. It is an original poem that she composed during her freshman year.

The Senior-Junior club held its meeting Monday morning, Oct. 26. President Alta Louise Kuhn conducted the business session and members answered roll call by giving quotations from classical authors.

The next meeting will be held during National Education Week. The program will include appropriate readings by Stella Bengfort, Margaret Mary Hermes, Ethel Sandmann and Rachel Voth.

LINDSAY STUDENTS HAVE HALLOWEEN OBSERVANCE

Students of St. Peter's school were treated to a gala Halloween party with games, contests, favors and refreshments. Room-mothers arranged the affair and assumed hostess duties.

Prize winner in the high school division was Peggy Hermes, while in the sixth, seventh and eighth grade group award winners were William Flusche, David Lutkenhaus and Jimmy Zimmerer, and the class prize went to Rose Mary Hess.

Winners in the third, fourth and fifth grades were Patricia Hermes, Margie Fuhrmann and Paul Hess. First and second grade winners were Paul Hellinger and Billy Schmitz.

Hostessing the party were roommothers Mmes. Wm. Fleitman, T. Hermes, and J. Kuhn for the high school division; Mmes. W. Bezner, T. Voth and B. Zimmerer for the sixth, seventh and eighth grades; Mmes. J. Bengfort, P. Block and J. Hermes for the third, fourth and fifth grades; and Mmes. A. Fuhrmann and N. Zimmerer for the first and second grades.

Confetti ---

that should have been mentioned weeks ago. It concerns some of the belittling remarks that have been made, in print and otherwise, about the Hornet football team.

Back about midway in the season, as many of us recall, some folks apparently started considering the team as an athletic non-entity. Too much was said about its losses and too little about its troubles, the class of competition it met or the kind of game it played. Then came a tie with a stout Sanger team, and it was said that the Indians fizzled, not that the Hornets did a good job. Next the Callisburg game, followed by similar remarks. The inference was that the Wildcats weakened, not that they had met a good team.

Anyone who considers all the circumstances would be inclined to take the opposite view and claim that the Hornets need not be ashamed of their season. There was some early trouble getting men fitted into their best positions followed by an injury which added to the complication. They did not start hitting their stride until the fourth game. And the opposition has been tough all the way. Not a weak opponent on the schedule.

Fortunately the Tigers are enjoying a perfect season and are getting credit that is due them. That's as it should be. But it happens to cover the subject only half way as far as Muenster is concerned. There are two good teams here. Both are a credit to the community and both are worthy foes in the average class B competition.

Hornets-Panthers ---

be rated as a favorite. The Panthers did better against the Valley View Warriors, knotting the count at 6-6 whereas the Hornets lost 19-7. On the other hand Muenster bested Callisburg 14-7 after Saint Jo had lost 26-0 to the same team. And Muenster has the better record with Era, losing by two touchdowns while Saint Jo lost by four.

Regardless of figures or any other comparison, however, the plain fact is that this is the annual Hornet-Panther scramble. There's going to be a lot of football and neither team has even a near cinch.
