VOLUME XVIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

JULY 16, 1954

NUMBER 34

According to commonly accepted standards of fairness it isn't considered quite cricket to lambast a person for a mistake or an oversight, or for a condition which comes only remotely under his jurisdiction. To most of us such things fit more or less in the category of accidents, regrettable things which simply happen, but for which no one really deserves harsh criticism.

Unfortunately, that attitude has been sadly lacking in the blistering publicity which followed the rampage of a mentally ill inmate in the county jail. Remarks that have been made are strong to the utmost in assessing guilt and equally weak in appraising extenuating circumstances and facts.

It was said the county commissioners court is aware of the situation but has made no effort to correct it.

In the first place, is it altogether true that the court was aware of the so-called shameful condition of the cell in which the mentally ill are kept? Perhaps it's more true to say that the court considered the jail to be a creditable institution in every respect. At least they had sufficient reason to think so. After a general repair and improvement job on the building last year there was plenty of favorable publicity on it. And, incidentally the court at that time approved the entire appropriation requested to bring the place up to standard. Furthermore the court has had no requests since that time for money to make additional improvements.

Until this blistering publicity exploded in their faces the commissioners had no more reason than any other person of the county to be aware that the jail is a "hell-hole". On the contrary, they had plenty of reason to be well pleased.

Furthermore, if a condition was bad at the jail, was it the commissioners responsibility to find it? The standard procedure, as most of us understand it, is that commissioners consider conditions which are brought to their attention, but the first responsibility rests with those in charge of the jail. Well, then, can they be blamed if they were not asked to correct anything?

To consider the subject farther, was anyone grossly at fault? Did anyone deliberately or negligently do anything to make the stay any more miserable for the unfortunate who are confined to the cell for the menally ill? Facts now disclose that the steel lining of the room intensifies summer heat and winter cold. But does anyone accuse that the steel was put there to add to the patient's discomfort? Or that it was left there for the same reason? It seems much more reasonable to assume that this condition was more mistake than malice. Now that we are convinced it does not belong something should be done, but can we justly point an accusing finger? As regards accommodations in the cell, we agree that a steel bed with feather mattress and a commode leave much to be desired... but, what more can be safely provided?

Boiling down the whole episode, it seems that this affair is a case of making a mountain out of a molehill. Somebody made a mistake long ago in lining the cell with steel. Suddenly the mistake is discovered and blown up as though it might have been a deliberately designed torture chamber. And to make things worse the blame, which did not exist in the first place, was directed at men who were conscientiously trying to do a good job.

While on the subject this column would like to call attention to the fact that no mention has been made of filth, mistreatment, or any of the other evils so often reported in jails. Just that the cell is miserably uncomfortable in extreme weather. Well, let's admit... and correct... that fault. But at the same time let's let it be known that the county, though overlooking an old mistake, has made a conscious effort to maintain a creditable standard in the jail.

Let's hope also that these facts will spread as far as the sour publicity that followed last week's unfortunate incident. The county's prestige took a beating in this affair.

37 Shower Brings Welcome Relief in Record Heat Wave

This community had its full quota of the record breaking heat wave which hit Midwestern and Southwestern states during the past week. For five days the mercury level hovered around the 105 mark and hit its peak Sunday with a sizzling 108.

But welcome, though only partial, relief came Wednesday in the refreshing 37 inch shower which cooled the air wonderfully during the morning and checked the afternoon rise at 100.

It settled surface dust, too, however it did little toward relieving the drought which has been hanging on since mid-June. It cannot go far in helping pastures and hay crops and was probably too late anyway to help corn, which has simmered down in recent weeks to a near normal crop after looking like a dandy in June.

The year's rainfall up to now is 14.52 inches. At the end of June it was 14.15.

Big First Inning Cinches Easy Win For Bezner Chicks

In a rugged first inning the Bezner Chicks mauled Muenster's VFW Softballers for an 8 run lead and then coasted on to a final count of 11-2.

The game strengthens the Chicks' hold on first place in the County softball league with a record of 11-1 while it weakens Muenster's grip on fourth place with a standing of 4-4.

Reynold Reiter had all the trouble as he took the mound as starting pitcher. An error, a bunt, a walk and a hit put 4 runners on before a strike out relieved pressure slightly. Two more walks and four more hits convinced him that it was not his night and he turned the job over to Hartman.

From there on the game was steady with the Chicks adding 3 runs on 6 hits while Muenster brought in 2 runs on 5 hits and a walk. Cain got the only homer of the game, scoring Mages ahead of him.

Next games on schedule for Muenster men are with TP&L Thursday night, with Schlumberger Sunday and with Shell next Wednesday.

City Tops Former Water Use Record By 78,000 Gallons

That new record in water consumption established by the city last week Monday did not stand long. Water Superintendent Steve Mosler says it fell with a bang Saturday when the town used a whopping total of 320,000 gallons, 78,000 over the previous high.

Heat and drought accounts for most of the use, but the volume was boosted considerably by sprinklers which were giving the football field a thorough soaking.

Most significant of all, Mosler says, is the fact that the water system was not in a strain at any time. Definitely, Muenster has no water worries.

Building And Improvement Notes

With harvest out of the way, building activity in the community is stepping up. Prospective builders and carpenters alike have come to the lull in their field work and have the time now to settle down with plans which were postponed during the rush season.

As of now Ed Hess is the only builder within the city limits. He has just finished foundation work on his new home on North Main. It will be a 3-bedroom house with attached garage.

North of town, painters have started on Leo Sickness' new 3-bedroom house. It should be ready for a housewarming in a few more weeks.

Two other houses are awaiting salvage jobs which have just begun. J. W. Fleitman is tearing down his home, meanwhile living in his other house about a half mile away. J. H. Bayer is also salvaging and living temporarily in his 2 car garage.

Earl Taylor has a good start on a new 5-room home with attached garage on his farm near Hood.

Improvement jobs include new roofs for Francis Wiese and Leonard Reynolds, new paint and interior decorating for Mrs. Joe Walterscheid, and a central air conditioning plant in the Weinzapfel home.

Leo Hesse has almost finished a 46 x 18 Grade A dairy barn and Tony Koesler has taken some of the heat off his chickens by painting his poultry house roof with aluminum paint.

J. B. Wilde has added two improvements to the business section of town. One is a coat of white paint for his main building, the other is asbestos siding for his warehouse.

At Firemen's School

Elmer Fette is representing the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department at the 25th annual Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M College this week.

Firemen, fire marshalls and instructors from Texas and several other states are learning how to fight all kinds of blazes and are seeing the latest in fire fighting equipment during the five-day course.

Henry Weinzapfel, Pioneer Settler of Windthorst, Dies

Henry J. Weinzapfel, 87, one of the original settlers of Windthorst, died Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock at the Archer City hospital where he had been confined for two years. He was the father of J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. Tony Gremminger of this city.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in St. Mary's Church at Windthorst at 9 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. Alphonse Bach, officiating at the solemn requiem mass assisted by Rev. Thomas and Rev. Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas, grandsons of the deceased. Hampton-Vaughan-Merkle of Wichita Falls directed arrangements and grandsons were bearers. Burial was in Windthorst parish cemetery.

Weinzapfel was born at St. Phillips, Ind., October 9, 1866, and settled in Windthorst in 1891, farming one year then establishing a general merchandise store in 1892. The store is still operated by his son, W. V. Weinzapfel.

In the early days Weinzapfel furnished credit to the settlers which was made possible by credit extended him by the late Joseph A. Kemp, Wichita Falls wholesale grocer. His store became a landmark of the parish through all the years.

He was always a leader in his community, served as postmaster for 23 years, was a church and a school trustee many times. He was manager and furnished the finances in the operation of the first creamery, installed the first telephone in 1902 that was connected with Archer City and later, with John W. Meurer, built the telephone system in Windthorst and a line to Scotland when that community was established in 1910. Many interests and activities in his community were inspired, encouraged, even supported by him and he remained interested and active until failing health sent him to the hospital.

His wife, the former Agnes Reisdorf whom he married in 1893, died in 1933.

Survivors are two sons, J. M. Weinzapfel of Muenster and W. V. Weinzapfel of Windthorst; four daughters, Mmes. Tony Gremminger of Muenster, Catherine Morbitzer of Fort Worth, Margaret Rasch of Houston and Alice Hemmi of Scotland; 26 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

In 1919 he became a member of the Knights of Columbus at Gainesville, was a charter member of the Scotland council and later Kettler council at Windthorst.

New Pastor Arrives At Baptist Church

Rev. Ed Pettijohn has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church here as resident, full-time pastor.

This week Rev. Pettijohn, his wife and their two daughters, aged 12 years and an infant, are moving to Muenster from Gainesville to make their home north of town. He was formerly connected with the Grand Avenue Baptist Church in Gainesville, and replaces Rev. C. C. Moody who resigned to return to his home in Florida.

The new pastor will conduct services every Sunday at 10 and 11 a.m. and again on Sunday night at 7:30.

Walterscheid Fans 17 As Local Boys Clobber Krum 10-0

Willie Walterscheid's pitching arm was as hot as the weather Sunday afternoon as he practically put his teammates out of business in shutting out the Krum nine 10-0 on the Krum diamond. Willie whiffed 17 of the opposing batters while allowing 2 hits and 3 walks, leaving only 4 put-outs for his 8 teammates to mark up in the 7-inning contest.

Both of the Krum bingles were slapped out by Parkey who made the home team's only scoring threat in the first inning. He was caught trying to steal home.

Gil Knabe and the Walterscheid brothers, Willie and Carl, did the heavy hitting for Muenster. Each got 2 out of the Muenster total of 9.

The win enabled Muenster to hold on to a second place tie with Pilot Point in the North Texas Summer League. Each of the teams now has a 3-2 record. Gainesville Hooters top the loop standing with a perfect record and Krum is at the bottom with all losses.

Whether or not Muenster has a chance to edge ahead of the Pointers depends to a great extent on what happens here Thursday night when the local boys clash with the Hooters. Manager Dick Cain and his charges are determined to break the Gainesville winning streak. The game, originally scheduled for next Sunday afternoon, has been changed by mutual agreement to avoid the afternoon heat.

Another win for the local schoolboys was their 6-0 decision over Marysville last Thursday night. Henschel was the heavy hitter, accounting for half of Muenster's 6 safe blows. Walterscheid pitched all the way and got 10 strike-outs.

Heart Attack Fatal To Rupert Wernet

The L. A. Bernauers received word Monday of the death of his nephew, Rupert Wernet, 49, on Sunday. He was employed in Dallas with the Cotton-belt Railroad in the freight department.

Funeral services were held Thursday from the Catholic church in Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernauer and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Flusche of Decatur attended the services.

Rupert was well known locally, as is his twin brother Adolph, through their frequent visits with the Bernauers.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Josephine Wernet, two brothers and five sisters.

Special Election On 30c Tax Raise Called for July 27

At a special election to be held on Tuesday, July 27, voters of Cooke County will express their approval or disapproval of a proposed 30 cent increase in the county ad valorem tax.

The election was called by unanimous vote of the Commissioners court in its regular session last Monday.

Funds raised by the additional tax are to be used for the purchase of right-of-way and the construction and maintenance of roads. The law also provides that counties having flood problems may use some of the money for flood control projects.

In calling the election the court pointed out that the proposed tax is not a new one but rather a transfer from state to county funds. The state dropped this 30 cent tax in 1951 following approval of an amendment in 1950 providing that counties rather than the state shall have jurisdiction over the fund. The commissioners' action leaves it up to county voters to decide whether the county shall have authority to re-instate the 30 cent rate which was in effect prior to 1951. Commissioners also explained that the proposed 30 cents is an authorized maximum and that the rate actually assessed is to be governed by the county's needs.

If passed the tax is to apply on all property within the county except the first $3,000 valuation of residential homesteads.

The purpose of picking up this former state tax is to provide urgently needed funds for the county's road program. At this time commissioners are paying toward the retirement of bonds of Highway 77, leaving their precinct funds badly depleted. At the same time they face the prospect of heavy expenditures on right-of-way for extensive improvement on Highway 82 from Gainesville to Whitesboro. The federal government has appropriated $900,000 to widen that highway and the county has the alternative of providing the right-of-way or losing the appropriation. Unless a tax is approved to provide the necessary funds the county will have to call special bond elections. Retiring those bonds then would leave the commissioners with hopelessly inadequate precinct funds.

The special tax also offers possibilities of more extensive road construction and maintenance in the precincts. By taking over the retirement of outstanding bonds it will allow commissioners to apply that much more to their precinct budgets.

Soil Conservation Notes

Soil saving practices went on as usual around Muenster even though the weather was hot and grasshoppers were eating everything that was green.

This is the time of year when sloping fields are given added protection of terraces to help stop soil and water losses. Terraces serve to shorten the slopes and make the water walk instead of run off the field. New terraces are being built. Old terraces are being plowed up to increase their effectiveness.

Tim Stormer has completed construction of 6000 feet of channel type terraces on his farm one mile north of Muenster. The terraces outlet onto pasture grasses and will aid in preventing soil losses on some 30 acres of sloping cropland.

Ray Sicking is working on 4-850 feet of field terraces on his farm near Myra. He is using a three-disc plow and the island method of construction to build wide, easy-to-cross terraces. The terraces outlet onto a wide Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded three years ago to afford a safe terrace outlet along a natural drain.

Meanwhile the combining of soil improving legume seed continued as cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district worked night and day to get the elusive clover and vetch seed into combine hoppers.

Richard Grewing reported a yield of over 200 pounds per acre of vetch from his farm near Bulcher. The vetch was planted on needle grass fields and on land cleared of brush last fall. In addition to the good seed yield Grewing benefitted by having early spring grazing and his soil has been protected and enriched by allowing the vetch to mature.

In the Dye Mound area, Lonnie Young, Wayne Thompson and J. P. Embry have all completed vetch harvest and report good seed yields. T. R. Settle of Freemound has harvested over 2000 pounds of vetch seed. Mrs. Tom Agee has also harvested vetch —about 1300 pounds.

Al Walter has combined 3500 pounds of Madrid sweet clover seed from the Rudy Hellman farm south of Muenster. Leo Rohmer has completed his harvest of Madrid clover seed and reports a good yield. Charlie Fisher has completed harvest of his 30 acre Biennial white clover field, and Joe and Al Hess have finished their clover seed harvest. Clyde Fisher is in the midst of combining his clover seed.

Yields of vetch and clover seed are running better than average

LESS MUSCLE, MORE MACHINES

Before the development of industrial machinery and equipment, the productivity of our factories depended 15 per cent on man's labor, 79 percent on animals', and 6 per cent upon machines. By 1960, it is estimated, human muscle will be doing only about 3 per cent, animals 1 per cent, while machine power will be doing 96 per cent of the work.

BEWARE OF ITINERANT SALESMEN

Your home may be your castle, but it also can be a paradise for gyps. Anyone who has signed an agreement with an itinerant salesman for roofing, siding or paint, and then discovered too late that he had paid too much for the job, or that the work wasn't done properly, knows what we mean.

Not so much locally, but in more populous areas, teams of canvassers go into a town calling on homeowners. They usually have no connection whatsoever. They work various rackets.

The Cleveland Better Business Bureau has produced a good warning pamphlet on such rackets that should have widespread distribution. It tells about various angles that the home improvement gyps are working in various places across the country.

An example is the model home "pitch." Flattery is usually the major weapon in selling such jobs. "We like the lines of your house," you will be told. "That's why it has been selected as a model home for our low-cost siding job."

"We've been checking around. You folks are looked up to on this street. People like you. That is why we want our new type roof to go on your home. Of course with the $25 we'll pay you for every prospect we bring around to look at the finished job, it won't cost a cent. You may even make money," the salesman says.

The trouble is no prospects are ever brought around after the job is completed. No $25 fees are paid.

One siding salesman offered to do a "model home" job for only $795 compared with the $1,122 regular cost. A check showed that $600 would have been a high price for the job.

Another "model home" siding installation cost $1,942.56. The victim was told that he would have to pay only $16.90 a month in finance charges, such a small sum when compared with the $50 bonus he was promised for each prospect who looked at the home. His monthly bill from the loan company turned out to be not $16.90 but $53.16 and he has been waiting two years to see the first prospect.

The moral of all this is to beware of itinerant salesmen who have no local connections.

A large-scale remodeling job calls for the services of an architect, who can probably more than save the cost of his fee. Also a local contractor should be consulted, or a local building material dealer. Such dealers are prepared to offer complete services, even including arranging for government insurance Title I loans. And, being local firms depending on local good will to succeed, they will guarantee satisfaction with the jobs they undertake.

The Cleveland pamphlet urges persons never to sign a contract unless the contract has been carefully read and is understood. It advises also that lawyers are handy people too, and should be

Don't Let George Do It --- You Do It

By Rev. James Keller

THE VAST MAJORITY of people have a healthy sense of decency. They have not dulled that correct sense of right and wrong which God has implanted in them through the Natural Law and the Ten Commandments. Aided by these guides, the individual can make sound judgements on decency and apply them without delay.

If members of the 42 million families in America determine to show as much initiative and daring in fighting for truth, goodness, and beauty in literature and entertainment, as advocates of crime, violence, and immorality display in pushing their wares, the good people can far outsmart the bad.

MERELY TAKING an attitude about immoral magazines, pocketbooks, movies, or television programs accomplishes little. Criticizing, scolding, or the passing of resolutions concerning evil is of little value unless backed up by positive and vigorous action in the right direction. Here are a few tips we can follow:

All channels of communication have a great power for good or evil. The more we see that they are devoted to the best interests of humanity, as God intended they should be, the less possibility there is for them to be instruments of evil.

WE SHOULD DISTINGUISH between wheat and chaff in literary and entertainment fields. In seeing abuses, we should not overlook the good that is being done. Give credit where credit is due.

Letters of congratulations can be written to those writers, producers, sponsors and editors who habitually provide good reading matter, programs, or movies. We assure them of our prayers for God's blessings on their efforts to fulfill their responsibility to the public. If our letters are of disapproval, they should be written in a friendly, helpful way. We can disagree without being disagreeable.

WE HAVE A RIGHT AND A DUTY to accept or reject. The same freedom we exercise when we attend a movie, we can put into practice by remaining away. We can buy a book or not buy it, turn on a television program or turn it off.

Above all, we should reserve a place in our prayers that our powerful American channels of communication can be used for the good of all and the detriment of none. If each one takes it upon himself to do what he can to elevate and enrich the lives of all, we will, according to the promise of Christ, be numbered among the blessed. "Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God."

What's New with Cows?

Catching up on my reading, I noticed three news items you might like to know about.

First, a farmer whose milk had a trace of garlic flavor is feeding his cows chlorophyll to sweeten their breaths.

Next, a college agricultural station has trained a herd to get milked when they are called by number. Seems 75 out of 80 cows learned their numbers in a few days. Guess the "dumb" five couldn't count that high. Final item—cows are getting "nose-printed" for identification.

From where I sit, I hope there is as much progress being made with humans ... especially in regard to tolerance. Whether it's a choice of a political party, a basketball team, or a favorite beverage, let's learn to live and let live more. You may ask for a soft drink after a hard day's work—I'll choose a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not try to "cow" the other fellow into our way of thinking!

consulted before form contracts are signed. Such a consultation may save a lot of money.

Bankers and Savings and Loan Associations have had extensive experience in talking with people who are remodeling or building homes. They offer sound advice along with loans made at reasonable cost.

So, to keep out of the clutches of the home improvement gyps, be wary of those who come knocking at your door. There are many local individuals and firms fully capable of doing anything that an itinerant can do and usually they can do it better and cheaper. Longview (Wash.) News

TWO CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

When you spend a dollar in a department store, how much of it is kept by the owners as profit? A new survey. Covering stores with an aggregate sales volume of $4,200,000,000, provides the answer—and it will be a highly surprising answer to many of us.

In each of the years 1952 and 1953, the profit was just 2.3 cents for each dollar of sales. That is the lowest level of earnings percentage-wise in more than 20 years, with the exception of 1938.

The reason for such small profits, the survey says, is found in soaring operating expenses, especially payroll.

If you think your shopping dollar doesn't go as far as it should, that's your right. But you certainly can't blame the situation on retail profits.

In announcing her candidacy for the Office of County Treasurer of Cooke County, subject to the forthcoming Democratic primary of July 24 Mrs. Ruby Davis of Gainesville offers the following as a brief summary of her background and qualifications:

Mrs. Davis was born in Cooke County four miles northeast of Gainesville, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Garvey. She attended Whaley 55 school, Gainesville public schools and is a graduate of Gainesville Business college.

Soon after finishing school she was married to A. S. (Dock) Davis. Eight years later her husband died, leaving her with two children to support. She has remained a widow to this day. Mrs. Davis was reared in a Christian home, and one of her chief aims in life has been to rear her two children in such a way as to keep them close to the church and the Christian way of life.

Mrs. Davis has been employed with a local insurance company during which time she has gained much experience in all the mechanical phases of office work as well as the ability to meet the public on a friendly and considerate basis.

To those of you who are acquainted with Mrs. Davis, the foregoing facts are known, and to those of you who do not know her, she invites your most careful interest and consideration.

Marine Recruiter Schedules Visit to Muenster Thursday

The Marines are landing and T. Sgt. Clapsaddle of the Marine Corps recruiting service will be in Muenster July 22, 1954, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Post Office to interview men and women interested in enlisting in the Marines.

Sergeant Clapsaddle stated that now is the time for high school seniors and graduates to start thinking about the future. The Marine recruiter pointed out that young men just out of school face eight years of military obligation.

In addition to interviewing interested applicants the sergeant said he would be happy to answer any questions about the famed Leathernecks.

Jay H. Riley Asks Support in Race For County Clerk

Jay H. Riley, of Gainesville, has authorized the Enterprise to announce formally his candidacy for County Clerk in the Democratic Primary July 24.

Mr. Riley is a lifelong resident of the county, and has lived in Gainesville for the past 19 years.

He has had plenty of experience in office work, including service in both the City and County Tax offices. He is fully qualified to fill the office he seeks, and his reputation for courtesy, fairness, and efficiency in public office is well established.

While he is making the race on his own qualifications and fitness for office, Mr. Riley points out that his opponent is now serving his fifth term as County Clerk and is asking for a sixth term.

He believes that Democratic principles call for passing public office along to other qualified persons after one has served a reasonable length of time in an office, and that his election at this time would be in keeping with these principles and in keeping with the spirit of fair play.

Mr. Riley is making an active campaign and will see as many voters as possible. It will, of course, be impossible to see everyone, but he urges the voters to give him their whole-hearted support for the office of County Clerk, and if elected, he assures them they will never have cause to regret having elected him.

JUST PIECES OF PAPER

Pieces of paper are one of the reasons why the cost of government has reached a statistical stratosphere. The paper in question consists of government records.

According to a Hoover Commission report, each year 9,800,000,000 pieces of paper are produced or accumulated by the federal government. Salaries and material costs for an estimated 485,000 clerical persons doing the producing and accumulating come to $2,800,000,000. To house the records, some 3,000,000 filing cabinets would be required. And it is estimated that as many as 250,000 clerks may be engaged in classifying, filing and searching these current records, at a cost of $1,170,000,000.

The Commission has established a new Task Force to deal with the problem of reducing the volume of pieces of paper so created.

The point is that, when it comes to trying to cut down government waste and non-essentials, even seemingly small things can be almighty important in the aggregate.

Wheat Referendum Brings Questions

COLLEGE STATION—The increase in the number of questions being asked about marketing quotas and related subjects by wheat growers indicates, according to the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, that growers are interested in the July 23 referendum.

Pointing out that county ASC office personnel and all county and community committeemen can answer program operation questions, the state committee lists a few of the most frequently asked questions.

The results of the July 23 referendum they point out, will determine whether or not marketing quotas, with penalties for overplanting acreage allotments, will be in effect for the 1955 crop and also the level of price support which will be available.

Growers have asked, "Who is eligible to vote?" the answer is, any farmer who would be subject to the quotas. Farms will be subject to the quotas if the wheat harvested for grain in 1955 is more than 15 acres.

"If quotas are in effect, what will be the penalty for failure to comply with acreage allotments?" The penalty on excess wheat will be the rate of 45 percent of the May 1, 1955, parity price.

A frequently asked question is, "How does the referendum affect 1955 price supports?" The answer: If two-thirds or more of the voting farmers favor quotas, the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop—apparently somewhere from 75 to 90 percent of parity—will be available for those who comply with their wheat and other acreage allotments. If less than two-thirds favor quotas, price support will be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments. No price support is available for those who fail to comply with acreage allotments, with or without the marketing quotas.

The state committee points out that the national acreage allotment is apportioned among the states, and then among the counties, according to the acreage seeded to wheat during the latest 10-year period, adjusted for weather trends and other factors. This year the national acreage allotment is 55 million acres, the level specified by law under present supply conditions. The Texas allotment is 4,203,735 acres. Allotments for individual farms are determined according to past wheat acreage, tillable acres on the farm, crop rotation practices, type of soil and topography.

The state committee suggests to wheat growers who may need additional information to clear up points dealing with the referendum or other phases of the program that they contact an ASC committeeman or the county office. They urge every eligible producer to vote in the July 23 referendum.

MORE MONEY for SCHOOLS

During Governor Allan Shivers' administration more money has been spent for schools than ever before. The result?—better schools, more and higher paid teachers, and better guidance for your children. Since Allan Shivers became your governor, school funds have increased from 145 million to 211 million dollars per year. Teachers get $1000 a year more. Your child receives individual attention from 15,000 more teachers.

This educational climb is your child's guarantee of a profitable and happy future. For you it means assurance about his growing-up years. It means a better Texas for everyone.

IN COOKE COUNTY

$555,100.50 was spent for your child's education during the last fiscal year. He got better teachers with higher salaries and an administration that had more money to spend for its needs. Texas veterans received more educational aid.

The money went for other—but mighty important—things too, like school buses and cafeterias with hot noontime lunches. It meant more vocational help for your child. It went for many things, all necessary for a better education for him.

From less than a million in use in the early 1930's, there are today more than 40,000,000 tractors on American farms—pulling everything from plows and harrows to cultivators and harvesters. They mean more manpower output, fewer backaches, and a rise in farm production of more than 40 per cent in the last 20 years.

Barnyard Briars Still Going Strong

More corn cob pipes than ever are being made this year, mostly by three firms in Washington, Mo., where the barnyard briar came into existence in 1869 when the idea of making and smoking one first occurred to a Missouri farmer. The three firms turned out better than 7 million "Missouri meerschaums" last year, plus 2 1/4 million of "fancy" ones—cob and hickory.

Among famed corn cob smokers—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the late F. H. LaGuardia, Mayor of New York, and H. L. Mencken, who made his name satirizing "the booboisie."

Soap Operas Are Different in Russia

Overhead there is a big, romantic moon. A boy and a girl stand in a field. Both work on the farm—she as the driver of a tractor which is nearby.

She says, "How wonderful it is to work on such a night, and to do everything to economize on gasoline."
He replies, "This night has given me the idea of working harder and harder to surpass the Plan."

"They fall into a tender clinch as he murmurs, 'From the very first moment I saw you, I was enraptured by your capacity for work.'"

Believe it or not (and if you were behind the Iron Curtain you'd believe it or else!), the above passage was part of a "soap opera" broadcast by Radio Moscow recently.

After the recording Mrs. Lehnertz gave a charming informal account of her experience in connection with the honor she received and expressed thanks to all who had part in making the occasion one of such great happiness for her.

Mrs. Pat Hennigan who represented the local organization at the convention as an official delegate also gave a report, principally on business sessions.

Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, president, conducted the meeting and informed members that Mrs. Pat Parker of Gainesville, District One president, will be in Münster during the weekend accompanied by the new department president, Mrs. Rosemary Smith of El Paso.

The ladies planned a gingham and overall dance to be held the last week in July and turned final arrangements and date over to the dance committee who will make announcement later.

Mrs. Richard Swirczynski won the attendance prize.

Women are said to be superior to men in spelling.
