

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XVII

MUENSTER, COOKE, COUNTY, TEXAS,

SEPTEMBER 18, 1953

NO. 43

Indications are that there is enough money on deposit to give Muenster a good start on a paving project . . . and enough interest around town to keep the job going until a good percentage of the streets have been surfaced.

If we want to take up this program as a matter of civic pride we certainly have a good record to strive for. Our neighbors at Saint Jo got started on a project of only a few blocks, but before they let their contractor get away they had a total of about thirty blocks. This column can't give the exact score on that deal as of now. All it can say is that the contract had increased to twenty eight blocks a few weeks ago, and the work isn't finished yet. At the rate the spirit caught on it has probably added a few more blocks.

It's hardly necessary to point out that a system of nicely paved streets is one of the finest assets a city can have. Actually it rates next to water, light, gas, and sewage which have long been regarded as essentials rather than conveniences in the modern home or business house. Pavement is becoming more and more appreciated, not only for its value to car drivers but also for its value to housekeepers. Homes along paved streets are relieved of very much of the dust nuisance that people of Muenster know so well.

We wonder how many home owners around here would not be willing to spend a hundred dollars for an improvement which would keep most of the dust out of their houses. Many have spent that much for electric sweepers just to ease the monotonous task of gathering dust after it has come in. And they would gladly pay as much more for some contraption to catch the dust before it gets in. Amounts we would pay vary of course, but there isn't a shadow of doubt that every one of us would be ready to invest a fair figure for such additional comfort and cleanliness, probably more than the price of a paving job. Well, here's a chance to eliminate a lot of dust and get other benefits besides.

Any way we figure it, the deal which the city has made available to us looks like a bargain. For driving comfort, for later reduction in street maintenance expense, as well as for reduction of the dust nuisance.

The home owner not living on a corner is especially lucky. On an average he has a 75 foot property front and his paving expense comes to only $37.50. The man on the corner is stuck with an additional 140 feet, or an additional cost of $70, which is still a trifle compared to the value of his home improvement.

The deal is equally attractive considering the individual's small share in the total cost of the work. In the end the city will be paying as much or more than the property owners, meaning that you and I are getting the pavement for about half of its actual cost.

The way that figures out is this. The property owner pays for the top surface only at the rate of $1 per running foot for a strip 18 feet wide. Divided between owners on each side the price comes to 50 cents per running foot to each. However the city stands the expense of shaping and working the street base, and of adding gravel if it is needed. Besides it pays the full cost of paving the 20 foot gaps at alleys and the 80 foot gaps at street intersections. Counting it all, the city is going a long way to make a bargain possible for us.

Want to know how the city comes out on this arrangement? It gets its money back over a period of several years on reduced maintenance cost. It doesn't have to haul any more gravel and it doesn't have to stand expense of grader work. Eventually it will have to do patchwork on the surface but even that is less than normal maintenance on gravel streets.

Figuring in all the angles, it's hard to imagine a better bargain than we have offered to us. Cleaner houses, better driving and a more attractive town along

FMA Deal Awaits Decision at Parley Of NTPA Directors

The next few days are expected to reveal whether the North Texas Milk Producers Association will buy the FMA property.

Since Monday of last week, when the FMA members authorized their directors to consider the organization's offer, and to sell if they considered it advisable, officials of the North Texas Producers have been gathering facts and figures to present in a meeting of directors the latter part of this week.

That meeting is expected to decide whether the NTPA will buy the facilities available here or will locate in some other city.

Fort Worth Man Will Give Program On Fire Prevention

Firemen especially, and any others who wish to attend, are invited to a program and demonstration on fire hazards and what to do in case of fire next Monday night, Sept. 21, in the city hall.

Both the program and the demonstration will be presented by W. S. Pierce, inspector of the Fort Worth Fire Department, at the request of Muenster firemen. His show and talk has been developed by insurance companies and fire departments for presentation before school assemblies and civic groups in the interest of fire prevention.

Because of his duties with the Fort Worth fire department Pierce cannot arrange appearances outside Fort Worth except at night, hence is not available for a school assembly here. He especially urges teachers to attend the program for material for a fire prevention lecture.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Ferd Luttmer is recovering splendidly from an eye operation performed at Gainesville Tuesday. She had a cataract removed from her right eye.

Ricky Huchton, seven-week-old son of the A. J. Huchtons, is a patient at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, where he underwent surgery last Thursday. He is making a satisfactory recovery according to family members who visited him during the week.

C. L. Williams suffered painful, but not serious, injuries in an oil rig accident Friday afternoon while working for A. D. McDuffie northwest of Muenster. A gash on the back of his head and body bruises were inflicted when a hose hit him. Four stitches were needed to close the cut on his head. He was treated at Gainesville Sanitarium and remained there until Saturday afternoon.

FFA Chapter Elects W. Richey President

Wendell Richey is the 1953-54 president of the Muenster chapter of Future Farmers of America. He was elected at the chapter's first meeting of the school year in the public school last Wednesday night.

Other officers elected are Donny Whitt, 1st vice-president; Alvin Fleitman, 2nd vice-president; Lloyd Trubenchbach, 3rd vice-president; Billy Ben Boyles, reporter; Eugene Walter, treasurer; Don Ray Moon, secretary; Joe Noggler, sentinel; Fred Knabe, parliamentarian; and Wilmer Walterscheid, historian.

The group also elected Virginia Otto as chapter sweetheart for the year.

Another matter decided was the designation of the first Wednesday of each month as regular meeting night. FFA girls will hold their meetings at the same time and the two groups will have joint socials afterward.

Reports at the meeting revealed that the chapter now has a class membership of 42 and a total membership of 53. At the end of its first year the chapter membership was 18. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $220 on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher are Muenster residents now. They arrived Wednesday night after a one month vacation trip following their discharge from the Marine Corps and are at home in Charlie Schmitt's house a mile east of town.

Era High Cancels Game With Tigers

The first game on the Sacred Heart High Tigers' 1953 football schedule has been cancelled. Father Christopher Paladino, Tiger Coach, announced Wednesday that Era High had cancelled the contest which was to be played there Thursday night of this week.

The cancellation is a result of a recent decision by members of the 10-B District not to play teams which are not members of the Texas Interscholastic League. The decision also applies to the Tigers' game with Valley View scheduled for Oct. 16.

Owners Urged to Come Early for Car Safety Inspections

It's car inspection time again and each of Muenster's four inspection stations are hoping that their customers will arrange to come in early and avoid a rush just before the deadline April 15, 1954. According to state law, an owner not having the inspection sticker on his car is liable to a fine not exceeding $200.

The law, which went into effect Tuesday is considerably more lenient than the old safety inspection law. It applies to headlights, tail lights, brakes, horns, mirrors and windshield wipers. Mufflers, steering systems and windshields are no longer subject to inspection.

The new inspection stickers, shaped like the map of Texas, are easily distinguished from the old rectangular stickers. The fee for inspection is still $1.00.

Authorized inspection stations in Muenster are Endres Motor Company, Lambert Benzner Motor Company, J. B. Wilde and Ed's Automotive Shop.

Civic League and Garden Club Has Meeting, Program

Installation of officers, committee reports and a program hour highlighted the meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club Monday night when members re-organized for a new year after being disbanded during July and August.

Retiring president Mrs. Steve Mosler opened the meeting for a discussion of old business, then installed Mrs. Tony Gremminger as new president. Other officers are Mrs. F. J. Yosten, vice president, and Mrs. Joe Luke, secretary by re-elections. The new president then installed Mrs. Mosler as treasurer.

In appreciation for her fine leadership while she headed the organization Mrs. Mosler was presented with a gift, a Lazy Susan, from the members. She expressed her thanks for the gift and her appreciation for the loyal support and cooperation she received during her term of office.

President Mrs. Gremminger announced chairmen of standing committees. They are Mrs. Tony Otto, cemetery; Mrs. Lee Toothaker, conservation; Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, highway; Mrs. F. J. Yosten, park; Mrs. T. S. Myrick, school flower beds; Miss Olivia Stock, program and yearbook; Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, sanitation. The flower show and pilgrimage

Hornet Gridders to Tackle Pilot Point There Friday Night

The Muenster High Hornets, wiser and better organized since their lop-sided loss to Whitesboro will make their second bid for their first season's victory at Pilot Point Friday night.

After a week of working on the weaknesses that showed up in his opening tussle, Coach Stewart is confident of a more efficient performance from his boys.

At the same time he is hoping that the Pointers will not have as much power as the Bearcats did. However he has no advance information on the number of 1952 regulars back in the lineup nor a scout report on the team. This will be Pilot Point's opening game. All that he can go by is the fact the Pointers are in Class A competition and they bested the Hornets by one touchdown last year.

Mrs. Stormer also served Uncle Sam during the war as a member of the WAVES. Until they get settled in a place of their own they are guests of her parents, the C. J. Fettes. Their oldest daughter, Karen, has enrolled as a second grade student at the parochial school.

Mary Nell Hellman Elected Band Prexy

Mary Nell Hellman was elected president of the Muenster Band in an election of officers Tuesday afternoon.

Others elected were Joyce Wiesman, vice president; Gretchen Hellman, secretary and librarian; Juanita Wieler, assistant librarian; Dan Hamric and Vernon Clayton, property managers; Louise Butner, flag bearer; Terry Jane Lehnertz and Peggy Hellman, mascots.

City Installs Three Mercury Lights; One Broken by Vandals

Three additional mercury vapor street lights were installed in the city Tuesday. The locations are on the highway near the Telephone office, on Sixth in front of the parochial school and on Seventh in front of the public school. In accordance with an agreement with TP&L the lights belong to the power company but the city pays for current and maintenance.

The first maintenance charge on one of the lights came before it was in use 24 hours. Some vandal shattered the bulb, outside globe and reflector of the light at the public school. According to a TP&L inspector the blame doing the damage apparently was a fairly large stone.

City Manager Steve Mosler said Wednesday that the city and TP&L are working together on an investigation which they hope will lead to discovery of the guilty person's identity, after which they intend to prosecute to the limit of the law.

Both are getting impatient over the destruction of street lights. The city doesn't like the idea of paying unnecessary bills, and TP&L doesn't like the nuisance of answering that kind of service calls.

Hornets Lose 31-6 In Season Opener With Whitesboro

Coach Stewart's Muenster High Hornets discovered in just a little while that they were playing outside their class when they took on the Whitesboro Bearcats in Leeper Stadium Friday night. When the game ended they found themselves trailing 31-6 behind their Class A opponents who the week before had tied Bonham High 13-13 in a practice tussle.

Both offensively and defensively the Bearcats, regarded as major contenders for the title in their district, showed a decided advantage over the lighter, less experienced Hornets. Their line-men had little trouble plunging through to smear a Hornet play before it was well started and they had equally little trouble providing an opening for their hard running backs.

The net result was that the progress of the game was as one sided as the final score. Whitesboro led in first downs 16-4 and in total running gains 261-45. It completed 3 of 7 passes for 27 yards while Muenster completed 1 of 5 for 7. It fumbled the ball away twice and Muenster lost the ball on fumbles five times.

Preceding his address Mrs. Ervin Hamric P-TA president, conducted a brief business session.

7 Blocks Waiting For Pavement Job; More Developing

Prospects for a good paving project at Muenster are looking good, but the starting time still is not definitely known.

Mayor Urban Endres said Wednesday that according to reports which have reached him the owners along seven blocks are ready and waiting and chances of adding ten or twelve more blocks to the project seem very favorable.

Continued growth of the Saint Jo job was given as the reason for the contractor's delay in arriving here. Two weeks ago he expected to finish there in a few days, but several more blocks were added to the job since then.

Endres pointed out again that persons interested in paving should see their neighbors and try to complete their block. The city is not contacting individual residents to sell the pavement but only cooperating to make it possible for those who want it. He said also that persons wanting the pavement should deposit their money in escrow in the bank. To avoid misunderstandings and collection problems the contractor has a policy of starting only the jobs that are assured by the deposit.

The city's share in cooperating with property owners will consist of furnishing a grader for shaping the road bed and the water for packing, along with additional gravel where it is needed. That cooperation enables the contractor to offer an attractive price.

An equally important detail is the city's agreement to stand the cost of paving street and alley crossings.

The job consists of tearing up the existing gravel and adding more gravel if needed to provide a base of 6 inches. The base is then shaped, soaked and packed. Topping consists of a primer coat followed by tar and coarse rock and the final coat of tar and fine rock.

The cost is $1.00 per foot for a strip 18 feet wide. Divided between property owners on both sides the cost to each is 50 cents per running foot.

FFA Favorite in Iowa Park Contest

Rose Marie Walterscheid, FFA sweetheart during the past school year, has been selected by the chapter as Muenster's nominee for queen of the Silver Anniversary Texas-Oklahoma Fair to be held at Iowa Park Sept. 28 to Oct. 3.

The young lady who receives the coveted title will also receive a scholarship to Midwestern University, a $250 cash scholarship award, and other awards. All nominees will participate in the coronation at the opening night of the fair.

Competition for the title is on the basis of advance ticket sales, proceeds of which will finance the junior livestock show and other youth events at the fair.

To equalize contestants' chances fair officials have set up a handicap system based on population of the city represented by the nominee. The nominee selling tickets to the largest percentage of her town's population is the winner.

New Street to Park Planned by Council

An extension of about three blocks on Maple street, three blocks west of Main opens possibilities for better traffic arrangements in the west part of town. The street has been opened and graded from Fourth to the Katy right of way.

The railroad company has been asked for a crossing over its tracks, which when completed will complete a direct drive to the city park.

At this time the new street serves principally as an approach to the new water well. Gravel surfacing will wait until traffic is heavy enough to justify it.

Miss Viola Mae Flusche, daughter of the Conrad Flusches of Decatur, is attending Lindsay school this term and is living with her grandparents, the John P. Neus.

Jeanette Meurer, Kenneth Wiesman Say Vows Tuesday

Miss Jeanette Meurer and Kenneth Wiesman exchanged marriage vows Tuesday during an evening mass at 8:30 in Sacred Heart church. Rev. Louis Deuster officiated at the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meurer and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman.

Pink asters and silver king adorned the altar and baskets of the same flowers held vantage spots in the sanctuary. Anthony Luke, organist, played the wedding marches and other nuptial selections.

Mr. Meurer gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a Cahill Original model of blush French lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep portrait neckline and drop shoulders. The bouffant skirt, triple layers of tulle, had wide panels of lace falling to the waltz length hemline.

Her French illusion circular blush veil was attached to a Juliet cap edged in seed pearls. She carried her flowers, white rose buds and stephanotis on top of a white prayer book belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Fette, who carried it at her golden wedding. The bride also carried a sterling and crystal rosary, a gift from the groom.

Miss Joyce Wiesman, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and the bride's brother, John David Meurer was best man. Damien Hellman and Roger Wolf were ushers.

Miss Wiesman's frock of mist green taffeta and tulle was designed with a fitted staples bodice topped with a shrug cape. The apron front skirt was accented with bustle ruffles of tulle at the back and was waltz length. She wore a matching taffeta cap and carried an arm bouquet of pink asters.

Acolytes for the mass were Robert Meurer, brother of the bride, and Kenny Fette and Johnny Fette, the bride's cousins.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Meurer wore a charcoal grey coat dress with a lavender hat. Mrs. Wiesman wore a gun-metal dress with a pale blue hat. They had pink carnation corsages, as did the grandmothers of the couple, Mmes. John Fette, I. A. Schoech and John Meurer.

After the services, the bride's parents were hosts in their home for a reception for about 100 guests. Miss Marie Trubench presided at the guest book.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of white roses and silver king and held the three-tier wedding cake and silver coffee service. Mrs. Herman Fette presided at the cake and Mrs. Lambert Bezner poured coffee.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Wiesman left on a short wedding trip that will take them to Houston where both are students at the University of Houston. For traveling the bride wore a navy two-piece dress with matching accessories and the rose corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Both young people are graduates of Sacred Heart High school. He served four years in the army air force with duty in Alaska, receiving his discharge in July 1952.

Out Of Town Guests

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. C. W. Ratliff of Lubbock, Mrs. Ben Seyler of Midland, and the Ferd Yostens and children of Fort Worth.

Pre-nuptial Courtesies

As a pre-nuptial courtesy the couple was honored with a buffet supper Thursday, Sept. 10, with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bernauer as hosts in their home. Guests were Muenster State Bank personnel, their wives and husbands and Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman. The bride worked in the bank during summer vacations.

BACK FROM SIGHT-SEEING TRIP TO FOUR STATES

Joe Weinzapfel and his mother, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, returned Friday night from a trip to Florida, taking their sister and daughter, Mrs. David Bright to her home in Cocoa. Going the trio stopped at Vicksburg, Miss., to see places of historic interest, then visited in St. Augustine, Fla., where they inspected the Wax Museum, visited the Cathedral, and drank from the famous Fountain of Youth. Their next stop was at Daytona Beach. While they were in Cocoa, the Brights took them sight-seeing to all the places of interest and they went swimming in the Atlantic Ocean.

On Sept. 6, at Lake Wales, they saw an open air pageant, "Florida Aflame", depicting the state's early history, and viewed the original painting of "The Last Supper" by Leonardo De Vinci.

On their way home Mrs. Weinzapfel and Joe visited in Pensacola. Their main interest there was the Naval Training Station where the late Robert Weinzapfel trained in 1939-1940. In Mobile, Ala., they stopped at the docks to see the big ships come in and go out. In New Orleans they went on a conducted tour to places of outstanding interest and on Thursday they visited in Baton Rouge where they saw the capitol and a beautiful old church erected in 1850.

Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel of Dallas and his sister, Mary of Fort Worth, came home for a weekend visit, and Joe left Sunday to resume his studies at St. John's Seminary in San Antonio.

with a McCormick MF drill. Low, rubber-tired wheels make possible much smoother, faster travel in the field and on the highway.

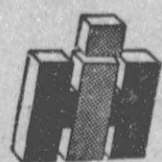

You can do three different jobs at once with a McCormick MF drill

1. Seed grain, soybeans, and other crops with yield-boosting accuracy. The McCormick MF drill sows both large and small seeds in any desired quantity per acre. Furrow openers, built for your soil, place seed at uniform depth for even germination and uniform ripening of the crop.

2. Distribute commercial fertilizer in any quantity from 30 to 1,135 pounds per acre as you seed. The MF drill ordinarily places fertilizer in the row with the seed, but it can be equipped to distribute fertilizer separately. Big capacity fertilizer hopper lets you work longer between refills.

3. Seed grass, clover, or alfalfa at the same time you sow and fertilize the nurse crop. The grass seed attachment for the MF drill lets you vary the seeding rate as little as one quart per acre. Grass seed can be released through the grain tubes or sown broadcast.

We'll be glad to give you complete details on how this drill helps crops grow faster — how it makes fertilizer go farther by placing all plant food within easy reach of the plants. A wide range of sizes and equipment enables you to select a McCormick MF drill that's tailor-made for your needs. See us for more facts when you're in town.

HOW TO STOP WASTE
 By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

We know that government spending and waste are dire threats to the life of our nation. Lenin, and Stalin after him, confidently expected to see the United States destroyed through her own spending, inflation and ultimate exhaustion of resources. And it was not an idle hope, for we have gone far down the road toward governmental insolvency and ultimate dictatorship.

That was a reason why the Republican party platform of 1952 promised reduction of government spending, to stop inflation and to reduce the enormous federal debt. That promise won hundreds of thousands of votes for General Eisenhower, including votes of Democrats as well as Republicans.

The victorious Republican Administration, heir to the leftovers and spending commitments of the Truman Administration, continued the spending and even increased it in some directions. The promised and hoped-for reduction of spending did not materialize, although valiant efforts were made to cut down or entirely eliminate some of the less justifiable expenditures or commitments.

Close to the end of the recently terminated session of Congress, came a request to raise the debt limit from the present $275 billion to $290 billion. It appeared that the falling-off in certain revenues as well as continuing high cost of government would force the Administration to borrow several billion dollars and go over the present debt limit.

The House of Representatives acceded to the President's wishes and approved the increase. Then, and I am among those who are grateful, the committee of the Senate refused to approve the request, and let the Congress adjourn without raising the debt limit.

This action, or rather failure to act, left the President with several alternatives.

He could call a special session of Congress to raise the debt limit, which might be exceedingly unpopular and even fail of its purpose.

He could use special powers at his disposal.

He could do the eminently sensible thing of cutting the cost of government.

According to press dispatches the President decided to cut the cost of government. On August 11 he sent letters to the heads of all departments and principal agencies, warning them that it is "absolutely essential" that they produce progressive reductions in their spending for the remainder of the present fiscal year.

Thus, the President, with "renewed vigor," has ordered that government expenses be cut, in the hope that the resulting economies will relieve him of the necessity of calling a special session of Congress.

That is encouraging, but it is more significant than that. For the President has placed his finger on exactly the answer to the question of how we can stop the wild spending and growth of power in Washington that ultimately spell socialism and communism.

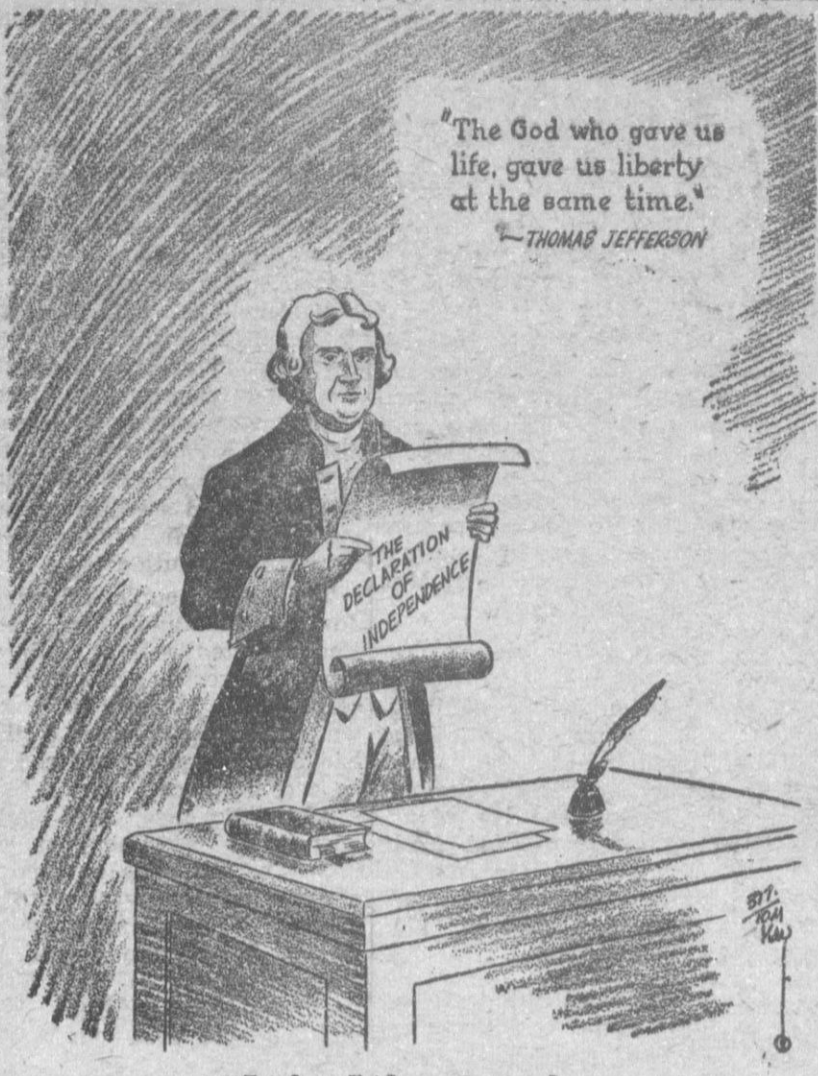

The answer is simple. It is to give the administrations less money to spend. Congress can stop the waste and deterioration by refusing to appropriate the money. We can adopt one of the oldest and most effective fiscal principles in the world. It works in private life, it works in business—it will work in government if administrations have the wisdom and courage to use it.

It is: LIVE ON YOUR INCOME. If we as individuals do not have enough money to buy everything we want, we do without the less essential things, and through savings of odds and ends, bits here and there that slip so easily through our fingers, we can do a much better job with a given number of dollars.

This writer would undertake to cut at least ten billion dollars from our federal budget and get better results with the reduced amount of money left to spend.

We simply must learn to live on our income.

It is very nice for people to tell you how smart you are, but the test of their faith is whether they take your advice.

COUNTRY WEEKLY

There's a little country weekly that I love to sit and read—a paper queerly printed and behind the times indeed, with pages small and narrow and ink inclined to spread, and here and there a letter gravely standing on its head. Or quads, a bit erratic, boldly popping into view in unexpected places, and knocking things askew. A real old-fashioned paper from my little town. Each week I hail its coming, and never put it down 'til I've read in every column all the local news, you know, about the dear old 'country folks I lived with long ago. I note whose barn is painted, whose cattle took the prize, and how Uriah Potts has raised a squash of wondrous size. How Farmer Martin's daughter takes the school another year—at this I pause and smile a bit and feel a trifle queer, remembering how in bygone days when life seemed made for mirth, I thought this schoolma'am's mother was the sweetest girl on earth. And now and then, perchance, I read that one I knew is dead, or find, again, some boyhood chum—the second time is wed. And so it goes, and none can know what memories sad and sweet come back to me when'er I read this homely little sheet.—Author Unknown.

Our Spiritual Heritage Needs Defenders

By Rev. James Keller

JUST TWENTY-FIVE years ago the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism protested against the films "King of Kings" and "Ten Commandments" because they paid tribute to God. The Association urged Cecil B. deto guard the spiritual truths insisted upon by the founders of our country, they might have done much to prevent the moral deterioration, intellectual confusion, and vagueness of purpose that have weakened our country.

Fr. Keller

Mille, producer of these films, to eliminate God from his future pictures. But he rejected its demands and courageously continued to use positive spiritual themes for many of his pictures.

If the atheists failed with Mr. deMille, they nevertheless persuaded others to help them banish God from many American institutions and traditions. These latter little realized they were thus promoting not only atheism but Communism.

The approach of the apostles of atheism was shrewd. They knew they could not immediately persuade Americans to eliminate God from education and other phases of public life. So they adopted a long-range program of removing, one by one, seemingly insignificant reminders of God. They got into jobs of influence where they could shape policies.

DECEIVED, MOST MEN of good will merely looked on. Meanwhile, these few atheists subtly imposed on Americans a philosophy opposed to the sublime truth upon which our nation is founded—that every person derives his rights from God.

If twenty-five years ago a few people had formed a group

Happily, a few, for love of God and country, are regaining some lost ground. Their accomplishments may seem small, but they are a beginning.

RECENTLY THE New York City Board of Education directed all public schools to begin each day by singing the fourth stanza of the patriotic hymn, "America":

"Our fathers' God, to Thee, Author of Liberty, To Thee we sing: Long may our land be bright With freedom's holy light; Protect us by Thy might, Great God, our King."

The Board also ordered "programs of instruction emphasizing the spiritual interest and patriotic motivations of our pioneering ancestors..." Similarly, the Armed Forces and the State of New York also stress programs to meet spiritual needs.

THIS TREND CAN grow quickly if enough persons like you show a personal responsibility in re-introducing into public life the spiritual element necessary for our Nation's survival. Our country's future depends much on your acting promptly and persistently. Do not underestimate your individual power for good.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Cream Whips Main Street Traffic
 Big traffic jam in front of the office last week. Thought everybody in the county was coming in to buy The Clarion, but they weren't.
 Seems a 5-gallon can fell off Whitey Fisher's truck, spilling cream all over the street. Our cop on duty, Tiny Fields, halted traffic so Whitey could pick up the can. Tiny was about to wave the cars on when a kitten ran out and started lapping up the cream.
 Well, traffic piled up, but Tiny paid no heed. Light changed green three times. After the kitten had enough, Tiny waved the traffic through.
 From where I sit, this was just a "Tiny" demonstration of the way people in our town are. They're usually pretty considerate and tolerant. If one of our neighbors prefers a good glass of beer to his friend's coffee at dinnertime, it's just each to his own taste and everything's "smooth as cream" between them.

Soil Conservation Notes

Would you like to improve fertility and increase production on your land? Do you have some lazy acres that haven't been producing as well as they should? Are you wondering what is most profitable to plant on those acres that have been taken out of wheat? If these questions are bothering you, the technicians of the Muenster SCS has this suggestion: Plant vetch or winter peas for soil improvement and protection.

These winter cover crops are a many-handed servant that will gladly work for you to protect and build up the fertility of those lazy acres.

A vetch and rye combination or a seeding of winter peas will throw a cover of green foliage over the soil to protect it against the splash erosion of driving rains. The carpet of green also slows down running water so that there is less erosion and more water intake into the soil where it can be used for plant growth.

Both vetch and Austrian winter peas add nitrogen to the soil through the action of bacteria that attach themselves to the roots and form nodules. The bacteria on properly inoculated legumes take nitrogen out of the air and convert it to a form that plants can use. A good growth of legumes returned to the soil will add about 70 pounds of nitrogen per acre to the soil. This is more nitrogen than is contained in a 200 pound application of ammonium nitrate. This increase in nitrogen in the soil is one reason that yields on crops following legumes are often double what the land usually produces.

Another reason for increased yields following legume crops is the increase in organic matter in the soil and the resulting increase in water intake and storage in the soil. Clipping of vetch near Muenster last May showed the green weight to be 15,000 pounds per acre. A green manure crop of residue remaining after a seed crop is taken can add tons of organic fertility to the soil.

Give the soil a "shot in the arm" for its protection and improvement—plant a legume on it this fall.

In the terrace building department Joe Swirczynski has just completed about 3,000 feet of channel type terraces and Hugo Lutkenhaus has finished nearly 4,000 feet of terraces on his farm west of Muenster. These terraces were built with tractor and plow and empty into a waterway sodded to Bermuda grass to provide a safe outlet for excess water.

Grady McElreath has constructed a diversion terrace on the farm he operates near Bulcher. It cuts water out of a gully that was eating back into a cultivated field. The water is diverted to a safe outlet on pasture grass.

Terraces being built by these cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district represent another step toward completion of conservation farm plans on these farms. These plans are designed to use the land within its capabilities and to treat it according to its needs for protection and improvement.

Why the Banker Asks Questions

A business man contemplating an important trip would carefully map out his itinerary. He would consult time tables to find out when he could leave and when he could expect to get back. Nothing in these sensible preparations would indicate that he did not want to go.

Yet many borrowers assume that the banker does not want to lend because he asks for facts and figures before he sends any of his depositors' dollars on a trip. The banker, too, is merely following a policy of conservatism for the service and protection of all concerned.

Hornets Lose

The only incident to break the Bearcats' monotonously consistent control over the situation, and the only thrill for Hornet fans, was Joe Noggler's 60 yard touch-down sprint after intercepting a pass. Joe was his old self as he swept around four would be tacklers and sidestepped two others in his dash to the goal.

Scorers for the Bearcats were all four of the backs who took turns at reeling off substantial yardage. Dennis crossed twice. Winchester, Sapp and Pilcher each crossed once.

In spite of the defeat Coach Stewart is far from disappointed over the showing of his charges. Considering their general performance and the odds they encountered he is confident they will develop sufficiently to give a good account of themselves in Class B competition. His line composed mostly of last year's reserves definitely showed possibilities of shaping into a coordinated unit, after which his backs will have a better chance to cut loose. Among other things the game indicated Don Moon as a strong contender for the steady job of helping Noggler, Richey and Whitt in the backfield.

SOCIAL SESSION HELD BY MARYSVILLE CLUB

At their regular meeting last week members of the Marysville Progress Club enjoyed a social session featuring movies and a musical program.

Douglas Robison showed scenes of the Government Bureau Land Management Range at Rawlins, Wyo., where he worked during the summer, and Clyde Stiles, violinist, and his daughter, Vellora, pianist, both of Gainesville, presented the musical program. Also present from Gainesville were Mrs. Stiles and Miss Bonnie Hammer.

Hostesses for the evening served refreshments of ice cream and cookies to 76 persons.

SHANE, starring Alan Ladd in the title role, with Jean Arthur, Van Heflin and young Brandon de Wilde, is a new outdoor action film of homesteaders vs. cattlemen in the old West. In technicolor, it's a sure fire hit. SHANE will be at the Relax Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The resourceful girl of today knows a good many answers—and many of them are patterned after the one advanced by their parents. For example: The angry dad went to his daughter's room after she got in from a late date, and is reported to have said:
Well, young lady, explain your coming home at an hour as late as this!
The answer was, Oh, daddy, I was sitting up with the sick son of the sick man you always tell Mom you sit up with!

chairman is to be named later. Members voted to have day lilies as their horticultural project and to build the yearbook program around them. It was announced that Mrs. Joe Luke will be the club's delegate to the annual Fall board meeting in Alpine on Sept. 21 and 22. Mrs. Toothaker reported on the Surrat Survey, released recently, on North Central Texas, in comparison with Iowa which has the highest conservation rating in the U.S.A. This area, comprising 70 counties, rates one-fifth lower than Iowa, but two cities, Muenster and Nocona, when studied, were found to rate as high as Iowa. Muenster's credit in the survey is accounted for by its bank, two schools, two churches, a well kept cemetery which is a Garden Club project, a progressive doctor and clinic, in addition to its program of conserving soil and water. "Flowers I Saw on my Vacation" was the subject for the program hour and proved entertaining and informative. Mrs. Ralph Maglaughlin vacationed in South Carolina and told about flowers she saw there. Mrs. Mosler who was in Colorado told about the Columbine, the state flower, then in bloom. Mrs. T. S. Myrick told about trees and flowers she saw on her trip to Tennessee, especially the Paulownia tree, the goldenrod and iron weed. Mrs. Joe Swirczynski brought to the meeting an arrangement of Anthurium sent from Hawaii by the Alfred Walters to the Al Walters on their 25th wedding anniversary; and commented on flowers she saw on her trip to Iowa, especially the beautiful bleeding hearts. Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel told about tropical flowers she saw in Florida, explaining about the hibiscus. In the Orlando flower show there were displayed 153 varieties of this flower. Mrs. Toothaker presented to the club her very interesting collection of preserved wild flowers native to this area. Mrs. Maglaughlin and Mrs. Toothaker were hostesses for the meeting in the city hall which they had transformed into a wild flower exhibit. Displayed were baskets of Snow on the Mountain, Purple Thistle, Spotted Gay Feather, and many others. The hostesses served refreshments to 13 members including Mrs. Byron Sears, who was welcomed as a new member.

Sale Starting Time Advanced 2 Hours

Regular Saturday sales at the Muenster Livestock Auction will start at 11 a.m. in the future. Dick Cain this week announced the two hour advance in starting time as a means of ending the sale before dark and allowing customers to return home at an earlier hour.

Another accommodation, especially for those bringing fewer cattle, is an arrangement to handle singles and small groups at the opening of the sale. A person who delivers one animal or a few before 11 can complete his deal and be gone in a short time.

Send the Firemen, Quick!

We hope this misfortune will not happen to you. But if and when it does you'll be thankful there is a fire department and adequate fire fighting equipment to help you save your home.

But did you ever stop to think why these facilities are available in Muenster?

BECAUSE You and your neighbors, including retail merchants, pay city taxes . . . and because a group of unselfish citizens are willing to serve on the volunteer fire department.
