VOLUME XVII

MUENSTER, COOKE, COUNTY, TEXAS,

OCTOBER 9, 1953

NO. 46

As an introductory to this week's column your truly takes pleasure in offering a recent editorial comment released by the US Press Association. As a courageous and clear cut expression on a serious problem it deserves the attention of you and me and every other person in the country . . . and every person in the world as well.

Here it is:
Senator Joe McCarthy went up to New York the other day and made a speech to a convention of wholesale plumbing and heating supply people which drew a standing ovation from the 1,500 present. He demanded that President Eisenhower withdraw US aid to Great Britain and other allies so long as they continue to do business with the Chinese Communists, and that such a boycott be continued until a Korean peace treaty is in effect. The President, he pointed out, has ample power under the Battle Act to take such action immediately, and without further action by Congress.

Here is how the Red-baiting Senator would tell off those of our Allies who are trading with the common enemy who is still withholding American war prisoners:

"We have voted you billions of dollars to strengthen you to fight Communism. You are now using that money to strengthen Communism. You will not get one cent more, one farthing more, as long as you continue to build up the strength of our enemy."

The Senator knows, he said, that "the appeasers and the egg-heads will scream that this means we will have to go it alone. Now, we don't want to go it alone. We want allies. But . . . if you must fight in the dark, you do not want as your helper a man who is sticking a knife into your back and giving weapons to your enemy."

"A nation can not be half loyal to the free world. Those allies and alleged allies must be for us or against us. We can't take half-way. We do not want to go it alone. But if we are left on an island in a Communist sea, then we will go it alone, and so help us God, we will win alone."

We can add nothing but our thanks to the Senator for saying what needed to be said . . . in words that can not be misinterpreted.

That's the end of the editorial, but we hope it is only the beginning of serious thinking yet to be done along this line. The powers of this country ought to be realizing soon that we are playing a losing game the way we are going. Certainly it doesn't take a mental giant to figure out that the present procedure in the end amounts to nothing less than enabling the enemy to stock up our own products to use against us.

The situation simply boils down to this. Things Russia gets from our allies relieves that much production which in turn allows that much more production on war machines. The net result is the same as if the allies got guns from us and shipped them on to the Soviet.

George Sokolsky a short time ago offered an explanation of why some allies, especially the British, are acting that way. He says England is a sitting duck and knows it, and it has bitter memories of the pounding Hitler inflicted early in the last war, so it is trying to keep on friendly terms with the Kremlin boys.

To a desperate nation that very likely seems to be sufficient reason. After all, self preservation is a motive that cannot be ignored. But it does seem odd that England should fail to remember Munich along with the bombings. There was concrete evidence that appeasing a dictator is only an invitation to future trouble. If anything, England's present policy can do nothing more than hasten the day when Russia will be able to take over the island.

If the British are considering that possibility and hoping for gentler treatment at the hands of the Russians they are still wrong. Death is the only result when Communism takes over. People who are not liquidated early lead a life that is little better than

Deal Proceeds for Sale of FMA Plant To NT Milk Co-op

Present indications are that the Farmers Marketing Association will sell the cheese factory to the North Texas Producers Association. Negotiations to that end are under way at this time and should be completed in a few more weeks unless unexpected problems develop in the meantime.

J. O. Woodman, manager of the NTPA, said Friday that so far as he knows the final settlement awaits only the completion of detail work.

Local Plant Manager Rudy Hellman shares Woodman's opinion. He said that FMA directors have approved a preliminary sales agreement proposed by NTPA and have also submitted abstracts of title for examination by the association's legal representatives. After titles are found to be in order papers will be drawn up for sale of the property, which consists of all FMA holdings, including store, frozen locker and trucks.

Funds realized from the sale of FMA properties will be used to liquidate the script and interest claims of its members.

And as the new, larger cooperative takes over the plant's operation present FMA members will have an opportunity to join and share in the plant's profits as they did before. Woodman pointed out that the method of dividing may be different but the end result will be the same . . . the member shares in the profit in proportion to the volume of milk he brings in.

The NTPA's primary purpose in buying the plant is to have a means of processing its surplus Grade A milk. However it will also process Grade C milk, hence will continue to furnish a market for all the cheese plant's present producers.

Hornets Slip Twice In Defensive Duel, Lose to Era 12-0

On the record it goes down as another loss, but it was the kind of loss that Hornet fans could accept with a smile, and after which the vanquished could carry their heads every bit as high as the victors.

Era won 12-0 by a hard 11 yard drive after recovering a Muenster fumble and by breaking loose with an intercepted pass. Otherwise the game was a powerful defensive battle in which the Muenster boys did a magnificent job of stopping the Era huskies who enjoyed a decided weight advantage and were rated to romp away with a three or four touchdown margin.

With every one of the linemen playing alert and hard and Eugene Walter adding his usual quota of extra effort and skill, the forward wall grudgingly allowed Era's hard hitting backs a net gain of only 71 yards and 6 first downs. Meanwhile the secondary defense did equally well, stopping plays in a hurry when they did crack the line. One 9 yard advance by Christian was Era's biggest ground gainer of the game.

Era's Hornets however had the more effective defense, holding the smaller Hornets to a net gain of 41. In that they were somewhat favored by the absence of Joe Noggler, normally the most consistent ground gainer. As it was, Richey and Whitt accounted for most of the gains and Moon and McCulley broke about even on their tries. Considering the opposing power even that was a fair achievement.

One very noticeable improvement in the team was its ball handling. Fumbles were few and only one of those was recovered by the opposition. On the other hand the passing was weak. Out of 10 tries one was completed and three were intercepted.

Era's first score came about midway in the third quarter. Muenster had received a kick on its own 18. On the next play Richey was tackled as he at-

Hornets to Face More Tough Odds In Tussle at Boyd

The Hornets and Coach Stewart have plenty of respect for their next foe, the powerful, oversized Boyd Yellowjackets, whose strength can be indicated simply by mention of the fact that they toppled the mighty Sanger Indians 19-12 last week.

So once again the odds are stacked against the Hornets as they go in quest of their first victory out of five games so far this season.

Nevertheless there are a few redeeming factors to consider as the Hornets invade the Yellow-jacket domain. Their stand against Era last week indicates that they are fairly handy in coping with a weight disadvantage. Doing as well again and favored with a few breaks they could spring a surprise.

There's a chance also that Noggler will be back in the lineup after sitting out two games with a bad ankle. He's been working with the team lately, and is expected to be ready for at least some of the action.

Fire Damage Repair Started at Bakery

If all goes well Herb's Bakery will be back in business next Sunday morning.

That is the possibility mentioned Tuesday morning by Russell Herb as workmen started to repair the damage caused by fire two weeks ago. While the men are working on the building Herb is cleaning his equipment, which was not touched by the flames but was thoroughly messed up by water and smoke. At the same time he was to replace all supplies which were not in sealed containers.

Repair work consists principally in replacing rafters, ceiling joists, braces and walls above the ceiling level. The fire did not reach any of the rooms. Wiring also needs attention and is causing some delay in Herb's clean-up work. He cannot use any electrical equipment until that is finished.

Nevertheless he says that with a few lucky breaks he'll be offering rolls and pastries as usual for his Sunday morning customers.

Parochial Cubs Lick Cowtown Team 13-0

The little Sacred Heart Cubs, Father Patrick Hannon's team of 7th and 8th grade boys, played a lot of football Sunday afternoon at Fort Worth to topple the St. Thomas Wildcats 13-0.

After playing on even terms the first quarter the kiddies got going in the second and scored on Johnnie Fette's 25 yard dash around right end with the help of beautiful blocking. Aided by equally nice blocking on the next play David Klement added an extra point.

The rest of the quarter was featured by another Cub drive which ended on the 2 as time ran out.

The boys defensive play showed up best in the third period as they held the Wildcats for 2 yards on 4 downs at the edge of pay dirt. That achievement apparently inspired the second Cub touchdown which came a few moments later.

The Cubs took over on their 3 as the last quarter started. Mollenkopf took a lateral from Hartman and passed to Fisher for 15 yards. Then Mollenkopf uncorked the sensation of the game. Going around right end he cut back in a bit of beautiful broken field running, picked up plenty of interference and completed his 82 yard dash to the end zone.

All the way through the little fellows played a whale of a game. The line was fine offensively and defensively. Backs ran hard and did not fumble the ball once.

The Cubs next tussle will be with the St. Mary's Little Micks of Fort Worth here Sunday afternoon at 4.

Father Patrick, former coach of the Cowtown kiddies, says this is due to be a tough game for the Cubs. The Micks will probably have an advantage in weight, but they definitely have no cinch.

Drought Busted by Dandy 3.7 Soaker

A wonderful 3.7 inch soaker scattered over a 12 hour period fell here Saturday night and Sunday morning bringing a welcome break in the drought that has held on here through most of the summer and into the fall.

It was the heaviest rain since that exceptionally wet August in 1950 which included a downpour of more than 4 inches in the month's total of more than 10 inches.

The rain was also the first of any consequence here since the 1.9 which fell on August 12. That moisture brought welcome relief to the summer drought and gave growing crops a temporary lift but was not sufficient to meet sub soil needs.

Rains of .38 and .62 fell on August 17 and September 3, but they were too light to be of much help. General opinion lately was that the drought had become worse than it was during the summer.

According to scattered reports some parts of the community fared even better than the city of Muenster. Gauge readings west of town ran as high as 4 inches.

The total moisture measure for the year still lags far behind normal. At present it is 23.77. About 12 inches will be needed the rest of the year to bring the year's total up to normal.

Tigers Will Tangle With Greenhill Here Thursday at 8 p.m.

As far as Father Christopher is concerned, he's taking on an unknown power when he lines up his Sacred Heart Tigers opposite the Greenhill Hornets here Thursday night. All he knows about the team is that weights as listed on the official roster run somewhat heavier than those of his boys.

The team's record to date is a big question mark, so the Tiger coach is basing his comparison strictly on weights and assuming that his boys will have a full sized job.

Besides that he's making allowance for the fact that fleet-footed Albert Knabe will be sitting out the game with a broken ankle sustained in practice Tuesday.

Just the same he's confident that his Tigers are equal to a tough assignment. He is pleased with the showing they made in their first two tussles of the season.

County Trustees Re-Elect Officers

Hollis Berry of Era, Arthur Hellman of Muenster and J. E. Pybas of Sivelles Bend were re-elected as president, vice-president and secretary treasurer of the Cooke County School Trustees association at the group's meeting Tuesday night in Lindsay.

Their program for the evening consisted of a talk by Virgil Welch, Callisburg superintendent, on Gilmer-Aiken provisions followed by a discussion on the subject.

Welch explained the operation of the foundation aid program, the creation of a local fund assignment for the state and the method by which a county share in support of the fund is determined. The 254 counties raise $45 million for the fund.

SH Tigers Rack Up 39-0 Decision over Nocona "B" Squad

The Nocona B team did not have a chance here Thursday night as the Sacred Heart Tigers galloped merrily to an easy 39-0 triumph and their second victory in as many starts this season.

Father Christopher's boys took charge of the situation before the game was in progress a minute and were never in trouble after that. Even his reserves shared in the victory. Sent in with a two touchdown margin in their favor, the youngsters added points of their own and continued to hold the visitors helpless.

In statistics as well as score the final figure was one sided. First downs were 6 to 1. Net gains from scrimmage were 131 to 2. Gains on passes were 74 to 0. The Tigers completed 6 out of 9 passes and had 1 intercepted. Nocona completed none out of 4 and had 3 intercepted.

The game opened with Sacred Heart receiving and kicking after short gains. Then, on Nocona's first scrimmage play Ernest Bayer recovered a fumble and set his teammates up on the Nocona 33. On the fifth play after that Jerry Henscheid slipped through left tackle for 8 yards and the first TD. His pass to Albert Knabe added an extra point.

Three plays after the next kickoff Bayer repeated his former trick, punning on Nocona's fumble on the 12. Three ground plays added 9 and Henscheid's pass to Albert Knabe was good for another score. Henscheid went around end for another point as the quarter ended.

At that point Father Christopher sent in a new team of reserves, and they too contributed to the visitors' woes. On Nocona's first play Rodney Walter intercepted a pass and dashed 30 yards to pay dirt.

The rest of the period went scoreless but was featured by another interception, by Denis Hofbauer, and another fumble recovery, by Booby Walterscheid.

Things happened fast as the regulars returned to the field at the start of the third quarter. Albert Knabe recovered as Grant fumbled on the kickoff, and on

Mrs. John Schmitz, 63, Dies in Dallas, Burial at Lindsay

Mrs. John W. Schmitz, 63, formerly of Lindsay, passed away Sunday afternoon at her home in Dallas following a six-months illness.

Funeral services with requiem high mass were held at St. Peter's church in Lindsay Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. Conrad Herda officiating and George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home directing arrangements. Father Conrad also delivered the sermon and conducted the graveside rites.

His Excellency the Most Rev. Augustine Dangelmayr of Dallas gave a short address at the grave. Mrs. Schmitz was a member of his parish while she lived in Dallas.

Rosary was recited at the Carroll chapel Monday and Tuesday nights and the body remained there until time for the funeral services.

Bearers were Lawrence Schmitz, Walter Bezner and Clarence Metzler of Dallas, Diamond Fuhrman, Lambert Bezner and Joe Bezner Jr.

Mrs. Schmitz, the former Miss Mary Bezner, was born in Iowa on March 15, 1890, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob R. Bezner, and moved to Lindsay with them in the early days of the community. She married John Schmitz there on Nov. 21, 1911. They resided in Lindsay all of their married lives with the exception of a few years in Austin before moving to Dallas two years ago.

Mrs. Schmitz was a member of the Christian Mothers Society of Lindsay and was active in St. Peter's parish work.

She is survived by her husband; four sons, Freddie Schmitz of Gainesville, Cpl. Johnny Schmitz of Fort Bliss, Leonard Schmitz of Dallas, and A1C LeRoy Schmitz of Travis AFB, Calif.; four daughters, Mmes. M. B. Theimer of Oklahoma City, Al Horn of Dallas, Grant Cox of Odessa, and Ray Wilde of Muenster; eight grandchildren; two brothers, Jake and Albert Bezner of Lindsay; and two sisters, Mrs. Otto Schmitt of Lindsay and Sister M. Alban of Laredo.

Pee Wees Wallop Sanger Kids 32-13

With Clifford Swirczynski and Hubert Richey standing out as real midget stars and the rest of the kids showing up almost as well, the Muenster Pee Wees ran circles around the Sanger juniors Tuesday night for a 32-13 victory.

It was one of those games in which speed and scrappy determination more than offset the advantage of strength. Sanger's boys relied mostly on a power game, Muenster's went in for maneuverability and speed. The end result was that Muenster players got loose more often than Sanger players pushed through.

Swirczynski started the scoring by taking Hellman's pass on a 35 yard touchdown play and repeating the performance a moment later for an extra point.

Minutes later he intercepted a pass and raced 25 yards over the goal then took another pass for the extra point.

Right behind his heels for scoring honor was Hubert Richey. Two slashes off tackle, one for 40 and another for 8, produced

Irma Hofbauer and Ewald Fuhrmann are Married Wednesday

Miss Irma Hofbauer became the bride of Ewald Fuhrmann during a nuptial high mass here in Sacred Heart church Wednesday morning at 8:30. Rev. Louis Deuster officiated at the mass and directed the exchange of vows for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hofbauer of Muenster and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fuhrmann of Lindsay.

Mr. Hofbauer gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of crystal white chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin made with a fitted lace bodice and long petal point sleeves. Tiny lace covered buttons fastened the front and a small Peter Pan collar framed the neckline. The bouffant skirt of double layers of tulle swept into a fan-shaped cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a Christine bonnet of lace with seed pearl trim.

The bride's flowers were a white orchid and valley lilies carried on top of a white prayer book, a gift from the groom. She also carried a rosary which Mr. Fuhrmann brought back from Rome. For "something old" she wore her mother's engagement ring, given to her by Mr. Hofbauer almost 25 years ago. To complete bridal tradition she borrowed a pair of crown shaped earrings set with blue rhinestones from Miss Gladys Hoffman.

Mrs. William Hermes was her sister's maid of honor and Miss

Louise Ann Fuhrmann, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore identically designed frocks in shades of peacock blue and flamingo red, respectively, with fitted strapless bodices of lace topped by matching capes with Peter Pan collars, and full triple tiered skirts of net over hooped petticoats of taffeta. Both carried arm bouquets of white mums and completed their costumes with net bonnets to match their dresses. Their rhinestone earrings were gifts from the bride.

Bert Fuhrmann served his brother as best man, and Denis Hofbauer, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was adorned with white gladioli and fern. Anthony Luke, organist, presented the bridal processional and recessional and remained at the console to assist the church choir in singing the mass, "Missa Tertio".

Immediately following the services, the bridal party and minister were guests for breakfast in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, the Aloys Kleisses. Dinner was served in the Hofbauer home at noon to about 50 guests including immediate members of both families.

At 5:30 the bride's parents were hosts for a reception and a buffet supper in the parish hall for 180 guests. The hall stressed the colors chosen by the bride in floral arrangements and the bride's table held the tiered cake flanked by tapers.

Misses Gladys Hoffman and Henrietta Fuhrmann presided at the bride's book.

Mrs. Hofbauer attended her daughter's wedding in a black crepe dress with rhinestone trim and black velvet accessories. Mrs. Fuhrmann wore a navy blue dress with rhinestone trim and black accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of white mums.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a two-piece grey rayon and acetate suit with navy and light blue accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will make their home on a farm northeast of Lindsay.

Mrs. Fuhrmann graduated from Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1952. Her husband graduated from Lindsay High school in 1945 and served in the army two years with 18 months of duty in Germany.

Hornets Lose

tempted a lateral pass and the ball went wild, Era recovering on the 11. Four plays reached pay dirt. Reiter plunging for 2 yards on the payoff.

The other touchdown was midway in the fourth, breaking up what appeared to be Muenster's best chance to tie or win. Shortly before Richey had intercepted an Era aerial and returned it 20 yards to the 50. A penalty on Era along with short gains got to the 30. Then James Lewis snared a Richey pass, shook off a couple of tacklers and joined three teammates who did a beautiful job of clearing the way to the goal.

At one other time Era threatened. In the second quarter Durham intercepted and ran back about 30 yards to the 21. Short gains added 7 before Muenster recovered a fumble and broke the tension.

A tourist spending the night in a small Vermont town joined several men sitting on the porch of the general store. They were a taciturn bunch and, after several vain attempts to start a conversation, he finally asked, "Is there a law against talking in this town?"

"No law against it," answered one of the men, "but there's an understanding no one's to speak unless he's sure he can improve on silence."

Big "Tex" to Talk At '53 State Fair

Big "Tex", the 52-foot cowboy figure symbolic of the great State Fair of Texas, will speak for himself at the 1953 fair, Oct. 10 thru 25.

The giant statue has been equipped with an electronic voice that will enable him to outtalk anybody, General Manager James H. Stewart has revealed.

It required months of research, over 300 pounds of equipment and weeks of work to make the big man talk. His jaw will waggle in synchronization with his big talk as he announces the daily fair program.

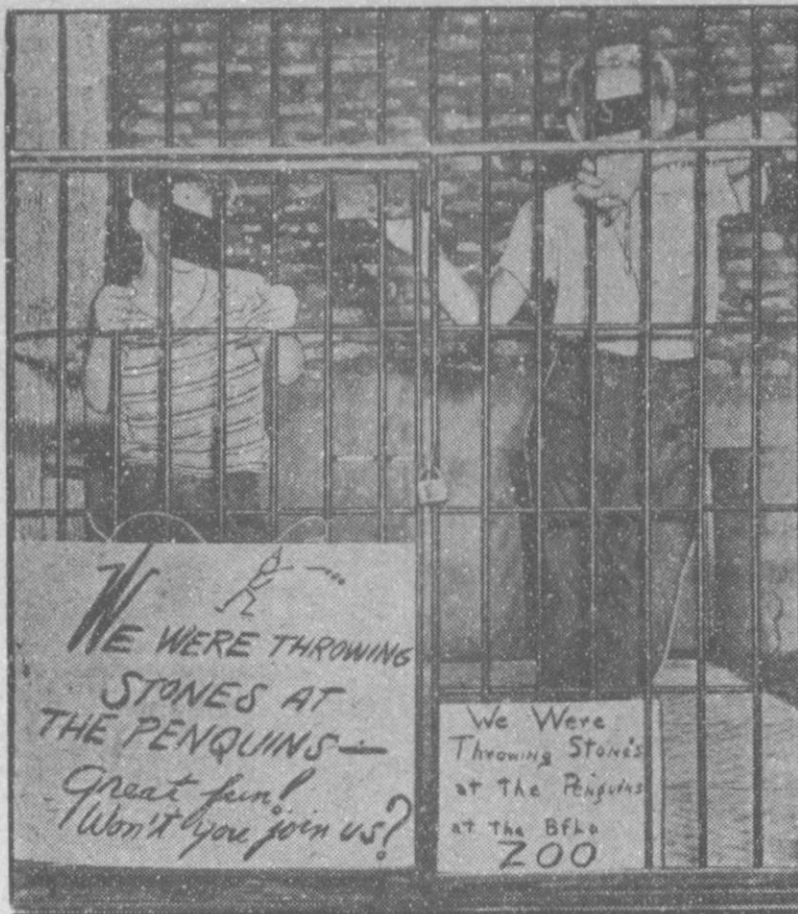

And he'll have plenty to talk about, for the 1953 edition of America's greatest and grandest annual fair looms as the whop-pingest one of 'em all.

THE DEEPEST HOLE

Two years ago a leading oil company began drilling a well in a California field. Late this August, the well became the deepest hole in the world when the drill-bit ground its way below the previous record of 20,521 feet—nearly four miles.

The well is a wildcat, which simply means that it is being sunk to test the possibility of oil and gas production from sands much lower than those now producing in the field. It is estimated the final cost of drilling and testing the well will exceed $1,300,000. Even so, there is absolutely no assurance that oil will be found in paying quantities. And, should the string of drill pipe become stuck, it might be necessary to abandon the project entirely.

What makes this well significant is that it is typical of the industry's increasingly greater effort, risk and expenditures in the search for new oil. And that, in turn, is the best answer to those who complain that the industry makes too much money in the way of profit. Actually, much of that profit goes, not to the people whose savings make the industry's very existence possible, but for wildcatting and all kinds of other activities which are absolutely necessary if we are to continue to meet today's huge demand for oil products—and at the same time maintain adequate known reserves for the future.

Oil is a business which involves long risks. Men take those risks for one primary reason—the hope of earning a profit if they succeed.

TOO MODEST

"Oil Progress Week", which takes place this year from October 11th to 17th, is, we think, a misnomer. It could be more accurately called "National Progress Week". A moment's thought will remind you that petroleum and its manifold products are basically responsible for the difference between your life and grandpa's... and he had coal-oil for his lamps, and petroleum grease for his wagon and buggy axles.

Or, if you're still not impressed, consider that American farmers used about ten billion gallons of motor fuel last year in their tractors, trucks, cars and stationary engines. And remember, too, that the basic difference between our economy and that of other nations is labor-saving, which makes one man many times more productive than he used to be... labor-saving that is largely powered by petroleum.

Speaking of petroleum industry, it has just completed a survey to find out how many members it has. If your guess is fifteen or twenty, or fifty or a hundred, you're a little low. There are 42,075 firms in the oil business, plus 190,000 service stations, of which ninety-five per cent are independent operations—run by local men.

To supply these service stations, there are 14,047 terminal and bulk station operators; 1,378 transporting firms, employing tankers, pipe-lines, tank cars and trucks; 12,010 organizations, large and small, engaged in finding and producing oil; 270 companies operating refineries and 240 additional manufacturers of lubricants. In addition, there are 11,127 fuel oil dealers and 3,000 liquified petroleum-gas companies.

There could hardly be a more impressive example of free enterprise at work than this petroleum industry of ours, when you consider that up to now, it has produced nearly two-thirds of the world's supply of oil! It isn't because we possess most of the world's oil, which we certainly don't. It's because a free industry, driven by competition and open to anyone who dares to take the risks, will always produce more... of anything!

As we said, Oil Progress Week should be called National Progress Week.

INFORMED PRESS, INFORMED PEOPLE

"An informed press means an informed people" is the slogan for National Newspaper Week, now being celebrated throughout the nation. The part the newspapers play in protecting the rights of the people is exemplified in the following statement by Senator Price Daniel.

One hundred thirty years ago, James Madison—who did so much to frame our Constitution—laid down this wise guide for preserving our form of government:

"A popular government, without popular information, or the means of acquiring it, is but a prologue to a farce or a tragedy; or, perhaps both... A people who mean to be their own governors, must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives."

Our nation today is strong—and free—because the press has been able to keep each generation of Americans informed, armed with the great power which knowledge and information gives. The press—more than any other force—has kept the government in the hands of the people, kept it out of the hands of tyrants.

Today, as always, those who would like to hold the power of government tightly in their own grasp still attempt to transact the public business behind closed doors. This is true on local levels just as it is true in Washington. An informed press means an informed people. Keeping the doors of public agencies open to the press is the best safeguard to our freedoms. The fight against

Psychiatrist Hits Kinsey Report

By Elwood Kieser
 Washington, D. C.—A psychiatrist here termed the Kinsey report "questionable" and "misleading".
 In an article written for the N. C. W. C. News Service, Dr. Robert P. Odenwald, practicing Washington psychiatrist and prominent author on sex education, stated, "the report will be entirely misleading and harmful in its emphasis upon the usualness of extra-marital relations." It implies that statistics make morality, that what many do is therefore morally right.

A LARGE PORTION of our population suffers from cancer, but we do not say that it is therefore natural or desirable. Because a portion of America's women fail in matters of purity, this failure does not make their impurity morally right. Right is right if no one is right. Wrong is wrong if everyone is wrong. Sexual infidelities debase the human person, pervert his noblest desires, wreak havoc with both soul and body.

Said Dr. Odenwald, "The God-given value of sex cannot be separated from the material aspects of sex behavior, as Dr. Kinsey has done." The sacredness of sex is lost in a maze of statistics. Sex, like everything natural, is good if used according to its purpose. Its purpose is to allow a husband and wife—and only them—to cooperate with God in bringing children into the world. Sex is among the holiest of human privileges. But its use outside marriage is a selfish mockery of a noble and sacred action.

DR. ODENWALD, like many scientists, also attacked the value of Dr. Kinsey's statistics, calling them "far from convincing or scientifically proved." Of America's 80 million women, Dr. Kinsey interviewed only 6,000. And these 6,000 were hardly representative of America's women. Women with strong religious convictions were not proportionately represented. Dr. Kinsey admits these shortcomings, but the average reader does not consider them. We can hardly judge America's 80 million women on the basis of a non-representative sampling of 6,000.

DESPITE ITS shortcomings, Dr. Kinsey's report has one value. It reminds us that we must restore God and His Law to our lives.

BRITISH WANT HAPPY HENS

The American battery system of egg production is causing a dispute in England.

A battery is a row of cages two feet square, floored with wire mesh for cleanliness, housing a hen with nothing to do but lay eggs. It produces 30 to 40 more eggs per hen annually.

The Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals insists that, to be happy, a hen needs more space. The Ministry of Agriculture and the National Union of Farmers think it more important to get extra eggs. The dispute may wind up in Parliament.

Soil Conservation Notes

Phosphate, inoculate, plant winter legumes now.

Old Man Weather has started the winter cover crop ball rolling with a lusty kick-off that put three inches of rainfall on the land. Farmers and ranchers now have a chance to get into the game by taking advantage of the moisture to get vetch, alfalfa and peas planted.

The star players that land owners can use in the clash against the devastating attack of hard hitting water and wind erosion are triple-threat winter legumes, hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas, and alfalfa.

This legume team serves to put a carpet of green over the playing field. This forage tent lets the rain drops fall gently to the soil and so stops the attack of splash erosion before they can get started. When soil bombardment and soil splashing is stopped more rain goes into the soil to grow crops and less is lost in run-off water to cause soil losses. While protecting the land the legumes are also improving the soil by adding nitrogen and organic matter.

These hard working winter legume crops not only protect and improve the soil; when properly managed they furnish high protein grazing at a time when it is badly needed; they can provide a green manure crop to be turned under ahead of spring planting; or they can produce a seed crop that rivals some of the other cash crops in returns per acre.

All across the board the winter legumes are good stars to have on your side in the battle to protect and improve your land. Manage them wisely, use them on more acres and when you count up the score you'll find you are out in front with more profit through soil protection, increased fertility and increased water intake.

Texas First Again, Most Newspapers

When it comes to newspapers it's another first for Texas.

The Lone Star State has more newspapers in its 250 counties than does any other single state in these United States. And, believe it or not—almost as many as the entire Dominion of Canada.

There are 656 daily and weekly newspapers in Texas. Of this group exactly 100 are daily newspaper establishments. The balance is composed of 543 weeklies, 12 semi-weeklies and one tri-weekly.

Five out of seven of the dailies, weeklies, semi-weeklies and tri-weeklies belong to the only statewide business organization representing both groups—the Texas Press Association. Headquarters of the TPA are in the capitol city, Austin.

Why didn't you marry? inquired the young man of the old bachelor.

Well, you see, replied the bachelor, when I was quite young I resolved that I wouldn't marry until I found the ideal woman. After many years I found her.

And then, She was looking for the ideal man, replied the bachelor, sadly.

Robert J. Samples In Auto Accident

Robert J. Samples, 19, route 3, Muenster, an A&M cadet, was injured in an automobile accident near Waco Saturday when he and four other cadets were enroute to Dallas to attend the A&M-Georgia football game.

Samples received a gash on the right side of his face requiring 16 stitches and suffered from bruises and shock. More seriously injured was Charles R. Arnold, 20, of Sherman, while the other three boys received only minor injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Samples and daughter, Belva, who went to Robert's bedside in a Waco hospital immediately after receiving word of the accident, returned home Monday night. They reported that Robert was dismissed from the hospital and they took him to A&M where he checked in at the college infirmary. Doctors there said he could attend classes but would not be permitted to participate in military drills for several days.

The car in which the youths were riding turned over several times after another car, crowded in trying to pass, pulled over hitting the front of the students' automobile. Driver of the passing car, apparently unaware of the accident, continued down the highway. Two miles later he crashed into another car but was thrown clear and received no injuries in the collision that demolished his automobile. According to reports he was a patient from a veterans hospital on a weekend leave.

Law Requires Full Stop Before Passing Halted School Bus

School busses over the state have now begun the task of carrying thousands of children to and from their studies. Soon to be expected are the inevitable tragic reports of deaths and injuries occurring when impatient youngsters dash across busy highways to greet their waiting parents or to board the bus. Most of such accidents could be avoided if motorists would adhere strictly to the letter of the law pertaining to the passing of school busses.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking or passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

COMMUNITY DOLLARS Sent into "Exile"

Home-born dollars are being sent into needless "exile" to work for the enrichment of strangers.

Many of us thoughtlessly deal more than we should with outside concerns whose products and services are no better or cheaper than those offered by local merchants.

Loyalty to our home town is more than a pretty sentiment; it is hardheaded common sense and good business. Let us all do our part by buying at home as much as possible.

'53 Gas Co. Exhibit Uses Perfume Lure

Perfume gift tubes, each containing a generous sample of the seven basic types of perfumes, and a copy of McCall's Magazine perfume guide will be presented to women visitors at the Lone Star Gas Company exhibit building during the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 10-25. This feature was arranged by Lone Star through McCall's beauty editor, Pegg Bell, and the Fragrance Foundation.

A perfume bar, staffed by an expert cosmetician who will assist visitors in determining the basic type perfume to suit individual personalities, will be a part of the mammoth exhibit featuring a preview of model all-gas kitchens which will appear in the November issue of McCall's Magazine. There will be numerous other gas appliance displays depicting the exhibit theme: "Gas Works Wonders in the Home."

The entire Lone Star Gas exhibit was planned and designed with the cooperation of the editors of McCall's. The theme or setting for each display was suggested or directly patterned after homemaking articles in the magazine and it is truly a display from the pages of McCall's, Lone Star officials point out.

Hunters Urged to Spare "Whoopers"

The pending fall parade of the majestic Whooping Crane prompted the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission to ask for "maximum protection" by Texans.

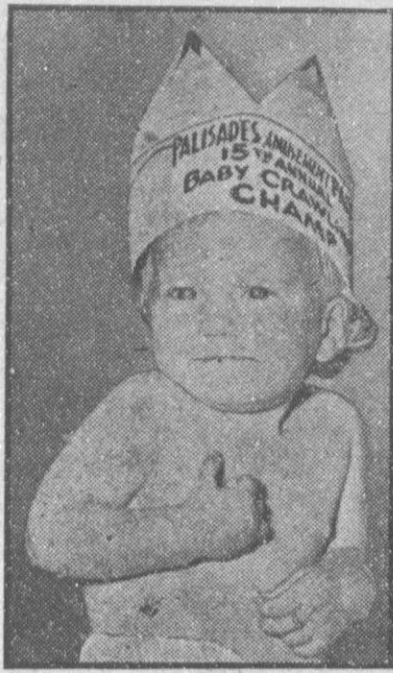

The Whoopers shortly will begin their annual fall migration from the Hudson Bay country in the far north to their wintering grounds on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge along the Texas Gulf Coast.

The extraordinary appeal for protection was made because only twenty-one of these giant birds remain. Their number was reduced by two last fall when two were killed by hunters.

The whooping crane is sometimes mistaken for a snow goose, white pelican, American egret, or whistling swan. Gunners, therefore, are urged to refrain from shooting at any large white bird and to report the sighting of birds that might be whooping cranes to the local game warden.

People have two ideas about a secret. It's either not worth keeping or it's too good to keep.

Forty-three storms causing more than $1,000,000 damage each were reported in the United States in the first six months of 1953.

SPEED DEMON—Winner of the 15th annual Palisades, N. J., Diaper Derby was Dawn Manzo, one-year-old speedster from Moonachie, N. J. "Champ" Manzo covered the 20-foot "crawling" course in 12 seconds. She'll retire with the title because old age is creeping up on her to take her out of the crawling stage.

What's all this about a FORD DIESEL?

Ever since we put a little bit in the paper last week about the new Ford Major, the big diesel tractor, everyone wants to know "What's this about a Ford Diesel?"

Well, here's the story:

Two years ago the Ford Motor Co. of England produced a tractor designed to be sold in every country in the world, from the African deserts and the South American jungles to the sub-zero Northlands of Canada.

This tractor was designed primarily for diesel fuel, which is the lowest priced throughout all countries. However, this diesel engine was adapted to gasoline and kerosene also.

At that time and for the past two years it was the decision of the Ford Motor Co. to sell this tractor, named the Major, only to the foreign trade and not on the American market. However, due to the outstanding performance of the tractor under all conditions and also to some change in company policy the Major will soon be available here in the United States.

The first few tractors have been received and we have had the opportunity of plowing with them. We saw this tractor very easily handle four lister bottoms, a ten foot one-way, a ten foot tandem disc and a four-disc lift plow. (Not all at the same time)

Then, just to show off, a Ford with a disc plow was chained behind the four disc plow and the Major was cranked up and plowed a round with all six discs about ten inches in the ground and the smaller Ford going along for the ride.

Well, that's all for now. We'll be telling you more next week about this Big Ford Major Diesel.

lingering death. All the red dominated countries offer evidence to that effect.

McCarthy is right. Appeasement is not the way to deal with the red menace. Nations that try it are fooling only themselves, and our country in permitting it is giving indirect help to the enemy.

Let's hope that something will be done about it, and soon. It can be done if we will issue an ultimatum and stick to it. The nations concerned all know a few things about freedom and human dignity. They have no doubts about the side they prefer when the chips are down. Well, why not tell them to take a stand now instead of giving comfort and support to the monster that is planning to gobble them up?

Maybe we too are suckers. Is there any chance that good can come out of the proposed four power conference? Consider the methods of the principals and answer that for yourself. We stick to agreements as a matter of principle. Russia disregards them any time she chooses. We'll be in the uncomfortable position of honoring an agreement even though it hurts. Russia will bolt when it serves her advantage. When an honest man deals with a scoundrel the odds are stacked against him.

After the program the group made plans to attend the State Fair.

touchdowns and a flock of other runs during the game were equally pretty.

Jimmy Hellman racked up the other six pointer on an end sweep good for 18 yards.

One of Sanger's touchdowns came as a payoff for a sustained hard drive for 45 yards. The other was on a 30 yard gallop following a 25 yard pass.

The Sanger game ended the Pee Wees' travels for the season. From now on they play at home, with Saint Jo as the opponent next Tuesday night. The kids romped over the little Panthers in their season opener but have lost some players to the A squad since. The next tussle should be closer.
