Mollenkopf Leads Cubs to 20-0 Win Over Cowtown Kids

Howard Mollenkopf was too much for the Saint Mary's Micks Sunday afternoon and Father Patrick Hannon's Sacred Heart Cubs sent their Fort Worth visitors home with a 20-0 defeat.

Little "Mully" was practically the whole show in the game. He went over for two of the touchdowns and an extra point and heaved the pass on which Fisher scored. Besides that he gave the fans a thrill on another scoring gallop that did not go down on the records. Officials ruled it invalid because the Cub backfield was illegally in motion as the ball was snapped.

The Cubs took the opening kick and on the second play Mollenkopf broke through on a 63 yard scoring sprint.

After a St. Mary's kick, a Sacred Heart fumble and another St. Mary's kick, the Cubs were on their way again. Mully stepped off 12, flipped a lateral to Johnie Fette for 20 and added another 14 before passing to Butch Fisher across the goal line.

Gene Hartman's interception started the next march. Mully made 8, passed to Fisher for 15 and pitched to Fette for 38, then went over from the 8. David Klement carried the extra point over, making the score 20-0 as the half ended.

That was the end of the game as far as the game was concerned. During most of the second half Father Pat had reserves in the game and the offense did not click as it did before. Except for the TD that did not count the contest was a see saw with neither team making any headway. The Micks got only one first down, the Cubs got none.

Tigers Win - - -

the last play of the same period Knight gathered in another Carmichael aerial and returned it about 65 yards to the 9 where Knabe cut him down.

Otherwise the game was a tight fight with neither team making much headway. Whether it was a case of weak offense or strong defense was hard to determine.

However, one thing was apparent. The little Tigers, outweighed an average about 15, turned in much the better record for gains from scrimmage. They had a net total of 79 yards as compared to their visitors' 19. The passing record, on the other hand was even more one sided in Greenhill's favor. Sacred Heart completed 4 of 9 for 8 yards. Greenhill completed 5 of 8 for 157. The Tigers led 7 to 3 in first downs.

Both teams lacked the punch to put the ball over from a good scoring position. Late in the second quarter Sacred Heart was on the 19 and lost the ball on downs 4 tries later on the 16. In the third quarter it fumbled the ball on the 15 one play after Knabe returned an intercepted pass to the 11.

Greenhill after reaching the 9 on a long pass likewise fumbled away its opportunity.

And about two minutes before their TD the Tigers missed a good chance to score. After blocking a kick they had the oval on the visitors' 2 and lost the ball two plays later on an interception. The kick following Greenhill's failure to gain set off the series of plays that ended in the Tiger score. Knabe returned the kick about 20 to the 23. Henscheid circled end for 17. Three line plays netted a yard and Henscheid's pass to Herr finished the job.

The Tigers were handicapped in their play by the absence of Albert Knabe who fractured his ankle Tuesday. Normally Rodney Walter would have replaced him, but he was out with a sprained ankle.

Greenhill's handicap was self imposed, the result of bad coordination and illegal procedure. They were penalized 14 times for 140 yards for offside, backfield in motion, clipping, and illegal use of hands on offense.

Pee Wees Gallop to Easy 20-0 Victory Over Saint Jo Cubs

The four Pee Wee horsemen of Muenster High galloped rough shod over Saint Jo's Panther Cubs Tuesday night for an easy 19-0 victory. Richey, Hellman, Wimmer and Reiter all were consistent in stepping off substantial gains which added to a total of about 170 yards and 9 first downs as compared to the visitors' total of 30 yards and one first down.

After a first quarter stalemate in which neither team made any progress the Pee Wees got their offense clicking and covered 52 yards in 10 plays. The payoff was a quarterback sneak by Jimmy Hellman from the 11. An attempted pass for extra point failed and the count stood at 6-0 as the half ended.

After losing the ball on a fumble and holding the visitors for downs the Pee Wees got going again from midfield with the four backs taking turns at ball toting. Hellman sneaked over from the 1 for a TD and repeated the play for an extra point.

The last quarter was more of the same story. The Pee Wees held the Cubs and again took the pigskin all the way from midfield. Wimmer scored from the 9.

Mrs. A. H. Rebirth returned Tuesday from a visit in Dallas and Fort Worth. Her niece Mrs. Charles Stelzer of Fort Worth brought her back to Muenster.

Homecoming Queen Candidates Named

Candidates are Carrie Ann Gehrig, senior; Theresa Mae Feiderhoff, junior; Caroline Hesse, sophomore; Carol Ann Miller, freshman.

Mrs. Dick Cain and children, Chris and Debby, and her mother, Mrs. J. S. Hogan of Burleson, have returned from a visit in Lubbock and Amarillo where they were guests of relatives for 10 days. Mrs. Hogan is here for a visit in the Cain home before returning to Burleson.

The American Way

RUSSIA COMES CLOSER
 By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

One of the most fatuous bromides is that, "It cannot happen here."

We could have won the war in Korea, on at least two occasions according to General Van Fleet, but our arm-chair collectivists and Russian lovers forbade our fighters to take advantage of the opportunities to defeat the communist forces in Korea. "We must not offend Russia," they exclaimed.

A long, abortive effort to bring about a truce several years ago, gave the enemy time to repair and strengthen their military position in Northern Korea, thus adding to our subsequent cost in lives and casualties, and cheating us of the victory we needed.

The recently concluded effort, also long drawn-out finally brought a truce that Russia needed and wanted even more than did we—and on terms favorable to the communist cause.

Now, relieved of our immediate attack in Korea, the Communist Cause is being consolidated and pushed forward with increased vigor and effectiveness in other directions as well.

It is a dangerous prediction to make, but one is constrained to recognize the possibility and even probability that if the policy of containment developed through previous administrations is now continued, the next phase of our war with Russia will be fought on American soil and will cost us terribly more in lives and treasure than the enormous cost already chalked up.

It CAN happen here—indeed, has already BEGUN to happen here!

The Lenin-Stalin policy of inducing the United States to destroy herself through vacillating and indecisive foreign policy, through dissensions at home, setting articulate agencies and fellow-fronts against the very people who should be supported in their efforts to save America, through huge spending, impossible debt, and betrayal of the very principles on which we built our nation—that policy has made alarming progress.

Our own stupidity and gullibility have led us deeper and deeper into the quicksands of communistic infiltration and encirclement.

At Yalta we sold an ally down the river and were subsequently rewarded with the loss of that ally, now desperately important to us, and the consequent war in Korea, a war that could have been avoided had we kept faith with nationalist China.

Nations we sought to bind to us with the baksheesh of the Marshall plan have rewarded us with fear, suspicion and even contempt. It has been said that only in Greece and Turkey have we won gratitude and cooperation we had hoped to receive elsewhere as well.

We still flounder, as a people, among the alternatives of policy, foreign and domestic, while the momentum of earlier mistakes carries us along. We still hesitate to take steps essential to insure economic survival and strength as a free nation. We seem not to be able to make up our minds whether we really want to be free and pay the price necessary to retain that freedom. We still welcome government doing for us what our individual and community self-respect and fitness for freedom demand we do for ourselves.

Meantime, the communist leaders of Russia, in spite of internal tensions, know exactly what they want and are implacable in pursuing it. They want nothing less than world domination for their godless ideas of government control of individual life. Christianity and other free institutions that stand in the way of that domination are marked for destruction.

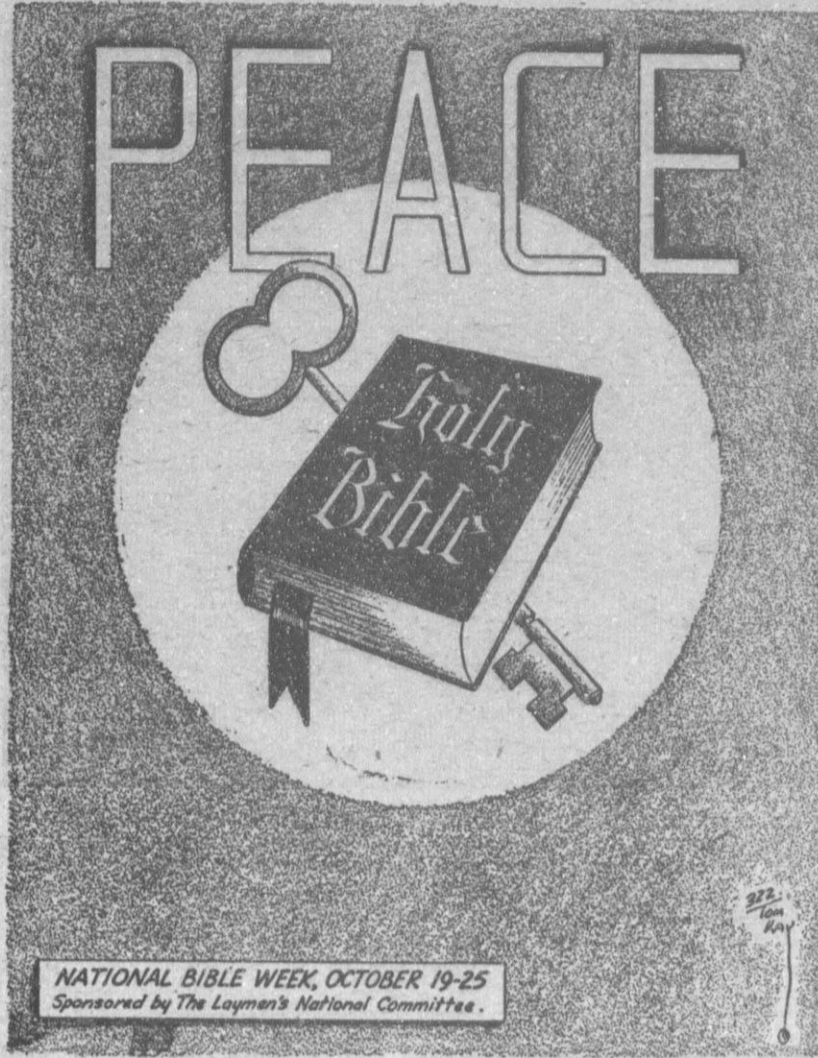

The irony is that many of our own people, innocently or otherwise, are sucked into the vortex of the conspiracy under cover of government responsibility for individual welfare of our citizens.

Russia comes closer and closer. The answer to the implacable menace is to implement the principles of Christianity among ourselves and to fight for those principles wherever and whenever they need defending, at once and vigorously.

Hank—My brother wants me to help him with his income tax.

Dank—But you can't read or write.

Hank—He doesn't want me to read or write, he wants me to pay it.

The Key To Peace

BIGGEST BITE

What takes the biggest bite out of your day's pay? The answer is taxes, direct and indirect, according to a novel chart issued by the Tax Foundation.

The Foundation took for its example a wage earner working eight hours a day and with an income of $4,500 a year, all of which he spends. Then it figured out just how much of his working time is needed to meet each category of expense.

The tax burden, it found, accounted for two hours and 34 minutes of each day's gainful work—far more than for food, housing, clothing, recreation, or any other item.

We all kick at the high cost of living. It would make more sense if we kicked at the high cost of government and demanded that something be done about it.

Phil—Why don't you like girls?

Abe—They're too biased.

Phil—Biased?

Abe—Yeah! Bias this and bias that—until I'm busted."

Recreation Should Begin At Home

YOUTH HAS a special right to recreation. Only a man with vinegar in his veins would deny this. But there is a difficulty. Too often teenagers seek passive entertainment; too seldom do they make its headquarters the home.

The center of gaiety seems to be shifting from the home to the place with the juke box. Home threatens to fade into the twilight of fine and forgotten things.

Gone are the days when young folks would gather round the family piano and sing singable songs or play hilarious games in the parlor. Parlor? Nowadays they call it the living room, but very little living is done there anymore. Now you could call it the leaving room. It is too often as empty as a politician's promise.

YOU FIND PARENTS who have not the vaguest notion where their young teenager is going when she gleefully slams the door. Who her companions are, what she intends to do, when she will return—these are minor matters blown away as casually as cigarette smoke.

Mind you, this is by parents who take a deep interest in their children physically. Their children will never lack vitamins. Actually they pay more attention to the youngster's carrots than to her character.

I wonder if this is not one of the saddest aftermaths of the war—the tendency to leave young people too much on their own. Maybe when it was necessary to build a battling America of copper and steel, we allowed another America—a more precious one, the living, breathing America of our children—to suffer through neglect.

AS A REMEDY, Old Doctor Experience has scribbled on the prescription pad, "Make your main interest your children. Make your main investment your home. Make your home the headquarters of your children. Make it 'the young folks at home'."

Their chatter may give you an earache, the peril to your furniture may give you a headache, the extra work may give you a backache; but won't it all be worth it if it saves you a heartache?

OUTSIDE ONE OF the largest nightclubs in New York a ten-foot sign shrieks: "Nowhere in the world can you enjoy so glorious an evening at so moderate a cost!" Those words would look better on a ten-inch wall-motto hanging in the place where they are true—the home. Let us put the emphasis on good times there. To make a better family is to make a better world.—(By Rev. Joseph Mantou.)

Modern Art Takes a Licking!

Did you know we had a real artist in town? Yes sir! Handy Jackson was a contributor to the Sculpture Exhibition at the Centerville Fair last week.

His work was streaky pink and curved all around—sort of streamlined. Caused quite a stir. Nobody was sure what it was supposed to represent, but some liked it and thought it was good art. Handy gave me the lowdown:

"Why, it was nothing but a piece of cattle salt our cows have been lickin' at for months. I just had it mounted. Fooled a lot of folks — one fellow even wanted to buy it!"

From where I sit, Handy's "modern art" just shows how some people can be led astray. Some even get to be "experts"—especially about the other fellow's business. Whether it's art or music, or a simple thing like choosing, say, beer or milk with a snack, we should live and let live. There's no call for either of us to set ourselves up as a "model" for the other!

The Moscow Radio announced that five million Russians filed past Josef Stalin's bier in 72 hours. That means, according to the calculations of Frank Baker, a Mangum, Okla., accountant, that the mourners, two abreast, three and one third feet apart, ran past the bier at 22 miles an hour. Twenty-two miles an hour is 9.3 seconds a hundred yards, which is the world's record for the 100-yard dash—heretofore recorded only by America's Mel Patton.

A group of Europeans, over here learning our production techniques, saw a long line of cars parked beside a road where men were working, and couldn't believe they belonged to the construction crew.

By way of explanation, the road foreman pointed to the huge bulldozer. "There's why," he said. "If we had to do all this work with hand shovels, we couldn't make enough money to afford to buy cars!"

Stark terror is sharply etched on the faces of these victims in the first battle of "The War of the Worlds," Paramount's brand new Technicolor thriller which opens Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the Relax Theatre. "The War of the Worlds" tells the astounding tale of an invasion of Earth by merciless marauders from outer space.

Soil Conservation Notes

The green carpet is being rolled out on the fields around Muenster these days. A carpet of winter legumes is being spread over the soil to cushion the effects of winter and spring rains and to build up the fertility and increase the production of the land.

Landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district are quickly taking advantage of improved moisture conditions to get vetch, alfalfa and winter peas into the ground to form a cover to protect and improve the soil.

With this early start in growth a vetch and grain combination can be expected to furnish a lot of grazing this winter to cut down expensive feed bills.

Leading the winter cover crop parade in acres planted is the old stand-by hairy vetch. The Dangelmayr brothers have seeded 100 acres of pasture and cultivated land to this soil building legume crop. Alfons Koesler has sown 15 acres of vetch on his farm near Muenster. At Myra Roy Townsley has seeded 25 acres to vetch and Emmet Sicking has planted 20 acres to vetch and oats mixture. LeRoy Porter has overseeded rye and vetch on 16 acres to provide needed winter grazing.

At Forestburg Johnny Moore has seeded 30 acres to vetch and rye mixture; Willie Kuykendall has planted some 20 acres, and Ollie Coleman has seeded part of his land in winter legumes.

Alfalfa is running a close second to vetch plantings. Bruno Fleitman has 65 acres of alfalfa up to a good stand. He has also planted some 20 acres of Austrian winter peas. Paul Endres has planted 20 acres to alfalfa on the land he operates for Dangelmayr brothers; Judge Howard Mays has just completed the seeding of 75 acres to this kind of forages on his farm south of Saint Jo.

Winter peas is one of the best crops that can be grown for a green manure crop. These peas grow fast and produce a lot of tonnage to turn under in the early spring. They are widely used ahead of corn and cotton plantings. Tony Walterscheid has 30 acres of Austrian winter peas up to a good stand. Andy Wimmer also has peas up and growing.

These plantings of cover crops on the land represent another step forward in the protection and improvement of the soil and bring each cooperator a little closer to completion of a plan to save his soil and water and keep the land productive.

Make Home Safe as First Step to Cut Fire's Tragic Toll

Texas' annual death toll from fire could be cut in half if home could be made the safe haven it's supposed to be.

At least 350 of the 542 Texans who died in Texas fires in 1952 were trapped inside their homes by the blaze, Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association said today. More than 150 of the victims were children who either couldn't escape because proper exits weren't available, or else had been left alone and were unable to escape without adult aid.

Clothing becoming ignited from too close contact with open fires was listed as the second major cause of fire deaths by the insurance trade association. Many of these deaths also involved small children whose clothing was ignited by open gas heaters and other heating devices.

Improper use of gasoline was third on the list, and the improper use of kerosene was fourth. Improper installation and maintenance of gas heaters, stoves and appliances was the fifth major cause of fire deaths.

Mr. Parker urged a careful inspection of homes by Texas householders as a part of National Fire Prevention Week, October 4-10. To help reduce Texas' fire death toll, he said that at least two means of exit should be available to every bedroom, the house should be ventilated properly both day and night and children and old people never left in the home alone.

He also urged that all open heaters be protected by screen guards, that gasoline never be used for any purpose except as a fuel and that kerosene be stored outside the house in approved containers. Only approved heating devices should be used, and these should be properly installed and vented.

Most-liked low-priced car

... among people who want more for their money when they buy ... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

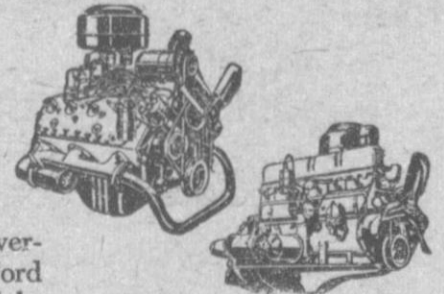

... more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its huiltight Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering... makes turning up to 75% easier.

See... Value Check... Test Drive Ford at your Ford Dealer's.

Ford's 110-h.p. V-8 is the same type of engine now powering America's finest (and costliest) cars. Ford's Mileage Maker is the most modern Six in the industry.

Ever see a White African Guinea Hen before? All that Jaques Makowsky (left) of Pomfret Center, Conn., knew about them five years ago was that they tasted good. Now he raises up to 200,000 a year of these and other exotic birds—worth $1.60 apiece or more. His birds are served in the best dining rooms around the world. One of the most famous is his Rock Cornish Game Hen, a unique strain of Malayan Fighting Cock and Rock Cornish Hen. He also raises wild turkeys. With $250,000 invested in developing and producing this high-strung poultry, Makowsky guards them against respiratory diseases (principal bugaboo) with a diet fortified with the antibiotic Aureomycin. It's still a risky business, mostly because of market problems, and quite a few who have tried to follow Makowsky have gone broke. Stick to ordinary poultry, he advises. You'll make more money and sleep better.

Gasoline
 for Sunday driving... or Natural Gas to cook next Sunday's roast?

Most people think only of gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils when the petroleum industry is mentioned. The fact is, practically all oil producers are also natural gas producers. So today the driller of a wildcat, or exploratory well, calls his venture successful if the well discovers either oil or gas.

If it is an oil well, then he has helped to supply the country's increasing needs for oil and oil products; if it is a gas well, he has discovered additional supplies of an efficient, economical fuel for household and industrial use.

The petroleum industry's development and conservation of the country's natural gas resources is a practical demonstration of the progress to which Oil Progress Week invites attention.

Beginning with the location of the well, advanced geological and geophysical studies of underground formations aid in the selection of likely oil or gas producing areas, but still the odds against a wildcat well producing either gas or oil are eight to one.

If a natural gas field is discovered, reservoir engineers immediately begin their studies to determine the best producing methods to conserve the underground energy and to obtain the maximum production for the longest possible time.

If the gas that is discovered is "wet," it is processed in gasoline plants which remove the liquid parts and send them to refineries for further processing into motor fuels and aviation gasolines, or to petrochemical plants to be converted into a long list of useful chemical products, among which are the plastics and synthetic fabrics with which you are so familiar. "Dry" gas, the residue from gasoline plants, and sometimes produced direct from the gas field, is the natural gas that burns in literally millions of homes throughout America and under the boilers of thousands of American industries.

So, whether a wildcat well discovers oil for gasoline or natural gas for the kitchen stove, it adds to the available energy resources of the most highly mechanized nation on earth; it supplies products essential for today's and tomorrow's high living standards; it gives additional strength to measures for National defense.

Kewanee Oil company employees of the Bulcher district joined the Community Club for their regular bi-monthly safety meeting at Bulcher Park on Thursday night, Oct. 8.

Fire Safety was the topic for the meeting and J. M. Shields, field superintendent for the company, talked on Fire Safety in the Home. He said that most home fires occur while the man of the house is away and showed the wives of employees how to operate fire extinguishers the company has placed in each employee's home.

Bailey Dennis, Community Club chairman, presided for the organization's business meeting. Members agreed to overhaul the flue and pipe for the stove that heats the community building, and to erect new steps at the back of the building. Calip Cannon was appointed chairman with Bob Samples and R. H. Sharp as helpers.

E. Newby gave a report on the purchase of a new electric motor for the water well.

Members decided to start a community singing, and set the first Tuesday night in November as the date.

After adjournment those present enjoyed a wiener roast.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Brown of Santa Ana, Calif., are in Cooke county for a visit. They are guests of their son, J. F. Brown and their granddaughter, Mrs. Jake Stewart at Gainesville, and their granddaughter, Mrs. Herman Fette and family here.

Freeman Re-elected Zone 5 Supervisor

Rush Freeman, prominent Southmayd farmer and cattleman, was re-elected Soil Conservation district supervisor for Zone 5 of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District last week in Sherman.

Mr. L. O. Gardner, Vice President of the Merchants & Planters National Bank of Sherman, acted as Chairman of the election which was held in the Grayson County Extension Conference room. In his closing remarks after the election Mr. Gardner commended Freeman and all other soil conservation district supervisors for the fine, unselfish service they are rendering to their respective districts.

Both Board Chairman J. W. Hess of Muenster and Board Secretary Willard Kemplin of Valley View were highly complimentary of Mr. Freeman's work as a member of the Board. Mr. Hess outlined Freeman's assistance in the past year in managing district equipment in his Zone. This, explained Hess, amounts to almost half of the total owned and operated by the District.

The Hull-Rust-Mahoning Open Pit Iron Ore Mine at Hibbing, Minnesota, is the biggest man-made hole on earth; more earth was removed to dig it than was excavated for the Panama Canal.

Fisher, Gimple on State Dairy Board

AUSTIN, TEX.—C. A. Fisher, dairyman from Muenster, has been elected a delegate to represent the 2500 dairy farms in the North Texas district of the American Dairy Association of Texas, Sam E. von Rosenberg, State ADA manager, has announced.

Another Cooke County dairyman serving as a delegate is Carl Gimple of Gainesville.

The State ADA has made much headway in the last 12 months in interesting both plants and dairymen in participating in the penny set-aside program. Participating dairymen have doubled, from 9,000 in 1952 to 18,000 this year.

The purpose of the program is to expand the market for milk and dairy foods, thus increasing the wealth of a dairy community and increasing the business of the dairymen. Money contributed by the dairymen and set-aside at the milk plant at the time the dairyman sells his milk is used to expand the market. Participating dairymen set-aside one cent per hundred weight of grade A milk sold, and one cent a pound of butterfat on ungraded milk and cream.

Building And Improvement Notes

Frank Schilling will be starting to build on a new home in the near future. At the present time he is well advanced on the job of tearing down the old house and salvaging materials for use in the new one.

Walter Klement is nearing completion on a two room addition and general repairs to his house.

Alvin Fuhrmann is having a curb installed in front of his recently completed home.

The booming poultry business continues to dominate other building of the community. Martin Bayer is putting up a 40 x 60 poultry house. Alfred Bayer's is 40 x 40. And Albert Henscheid is building an addition to his old poultry house.

Tony Koesler is building a 40 x 120 poultry house on a 4 acre tract he bought lately just north of the city limits.

Newly painted signs are dressing up three spots in town. Emil Rohmer has a snazzy junior sized billboard in front of the Ace Cafe. Endres Motor Company has two huge signs stretching across the building and used car lot along with three smaller signs. And the two sections of the city building are boldly identified as "City Hall" and "Fire Station".

John Hess is adding two new rooms and doing extensive remodeling on his home and has just finished a new barn on the farm he bought recently at Lindsay.

A new back porch is being built at Katie Hacker's and a new roof is under construction on one of J. C. Trachta's houses.

A 48-gun salute is fired at noon on July 4th at every army post provided with suitable artillery, to commemorate the Declaration of Independence.

Tigers Win ---

4 yards. A pass added a point bringing a count to 20-13.

Shortly afterward the Kittens headed for another TD after recovering a Tiger fumble on the 31. Short gains netted 2 first downs and a pass Mosley to Sexton for 7 yards reached pay dirt. Missing the try for extra point left the Kittens trailing 20-19.

Back on the offense again the Tigers were apparently headed for another score but the drive from their own 29 ended with a fumble on the Sherman 41. They recovered a Kitten fumble on the 40 two plays later but two attempts failed to click and Mollenkopf quick kicked to the 11. Sherman kicked back to the 44 and the Tigers got going again.

Knabe and Henscheid accounted for most gains on the drive and Knabe powered his way for 16 yards to the goal. Henscheid added another point with a quarterback sneak for the final tally of 27-19.

A 22 yard gain by Henscheid on a faked kick just before the end put the Tigers in scoring position again, but time ran out with the ball on the 30.

Hornets Lose ---

sitting out two games with a sprained ankle, Noggler was the big factor in the Hornets' fine showing against the Boyd huskies. His runs were the sensation of the game and his presence was an inspiration to his teammates.

At the same time all the Hornets lads were putting in their bid for glory, especially Eugene Walter who time after time matched his 155 pounds against the 205 and 185 of the charging Yellow-jacket powerhouses. Richey did a neat job of ball handling besides picking up lots of yardage.

Boyd lost little time getting into action. After holding Muenster for a short gain in the first series of downs it promptly started a scoring drive from its own 46. Bedford and Bassham put on most of the push that covered the distance in 9 plays and also shared honors on the pass which reached pay dirt. Arrington kicked the extra point.

The Hornets snapped back with a prompt first down followed by a touchdown pass from Richey to Noggler. Officials had other ideas however, and brought the ball back, ruling that both teams were offside on the play.

Two plays later Bassham took a kick and broke through for a beautiful 80 yard touchdown sprint.

Back on the offensive again the Hornets practically duplicated the first Yellowjacket feat, making the distance from their own 38 in 16 plays, including two fourth down gambles. Richey and Noggler did most of the gaining and Noggler went over from the 2 after receiving Richey's lateral. Richey passed to McCulley for the extra point.

The touchdown play cost the Hornets in one respect, however. Noggler was injured and was out of the game for the rest of the quarter, missing three good opportunities to help the Hornets put over another TD. First Richey intercepted in midfield but three tries added only 5 and the Hornets kicked. On their first scrimmage play the Yellowjackets fumbled and Knabe recovered on the 15. Four plays there netted 3 and Boyd claimed the ball on downs. The next play Richey intercepted again, and again the Hornets failed to gain.

The Yellowjackets started the second half very much like the first. Held for no gains on their own 30 they kicked and recovered a Hornet fumble on the 47. From there they headed for the goal, completing the job in 11 plays. Bedford went over.

Holding the Hornets again they took the ball in midfield and put on another scoring drive. Coffman hit pay dirt on the ninth play, just after the start of the last quarter.

Noggler put the Hornets back in threatening position in the first series of downs. From punt formation on fourth down he took a handoff from Fleitman and raced around right end for 26 yards to the Boyd 35. Three plays later he tore around right end again but ran into an official on the scrimmage line and was hauled down on the 20. The next series failed and Boyd took over.

From then on Boyd used the platoon system, allowing reserves to handle offense and the regulars on defense. Three times the reserves fumbled and twice the regulars held the Hornets. The third time the Hornets scored on 2 plays. Richey's pass to Noggler was good for 11 after which Richey squirmed and plowed 13 yards to the goal line. His pass to Noggler added another point.

Joyce has always helped her mother by doing her share of the washing, ironing, cleaning, cooking and baking. They have a spacious lawn which she has shared in keeping.

She has been the neighborhood baby sitter for about five years and enjoys this phase of her life.

This is her second year in the Muenster band playing clarinet and she also plays accordion which she has studied for a number of years.

Last year and this year she was elected cheer leader and has attended a special school each year at SMU in Dallas.

For the past two summers she has also attended FHA summer camp where they take turns planning and preparing meals. The group also made shelled earrings, aluminum candy dishes and ash trays. Joyce plans on getting her Chapter degree in FHA this year. Her mother is now an honorary member, having served her turn as chapter mother.

For that future dream Joyce plans to study nursing at St. Paul's hospital in Dallas when she finishes high school.

hearts many of us are aware that our public responsibilities are great enough to offset our personal wishes. Perhaps some of us as individuals do not agree that the pavement is worth as much to us as it costs. Bue are we considering the full extent of our civic obligation to others? Are we chiseling on our neighbors, driving over their safer, more comfortable streets without providing the same improvement on our own property? Are we enjoying their efforts to eliminate dust without also doing our part?

All these points are worthy of consideration now that our project is getting started. Here is an opportunity for each one individually to make an investment in better looks, higher value and greater cleanliness. It's an opportunity also to meet a very definite social and civic duty to neighbors and the community as a whole.

If that's not sufficient inducement we might realize that pavement costs no more than poor streets in the long run and the time will come when we'll have to pave whether we like it or not . . . so why not do it voluntarily now and enjoy the advantages that much longer?

Let's hope that our lagging citizens will think over these factors, then join whole heartedly in support of one of the finest improvements ever undertaken here.

Father Cletus accompanied the Fort Worth football team to Muenster Sunday afternoon and visited friends. With Father Meinrad he remained after the game for a visit with the local pastors and supper at the rectory.
