Remodeling Starts At State Theatre

Beginning this week the State Theatre discontinued its week day matinees and before long it will discontinue all shows. The reason is that the long planned remodeling program is under way.

Work under way at this time does not affect screen, projection or the auditorium, hence the show can go on while men are not on the job. Soon however the work will crowd the show out of business.

Principal features planned for the complete remodeling job are a 36 foot Cinemascope screen and latest projection equipment, Kroehler push back chairs, control heating and cooling and an entire new front and auditorium.

Then there's the story of the baby sardine that was frightened by a submarine and went crying to its mother. "There, there, dear," soothed Mama Sardine. "Don't be upset. It's only a can of people!"

Betty Luttmer and Freddie Neu Wed in St. Mary's Church

In Saint Mary's church at Gainesville on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 24, Miss Betty Jean Luttmer became the bride of Freddie William Neu during a nuptial high mass at 4 o'clock.

Rev. William Lane, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luttmer and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Neu, all route 4, Gainesville.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of frost-white Chantilly lace over satin designed with a Queen Ann collar, sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice with petal point sleeves. The bouffant skirt of butterfly pleats extended over gathered tulle and satin.

A crown of seed pearls and silver bugle beads held the tiered veil of illusion and gardenias formed the bridal bouquet. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Dorothy Luttmer was her sister's maid of honor wearing pink antique taffeta fashioned with a velvet cummerbund. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Elroy Neu was best man for his brother and Gene Reiter and Paul Arendt Jr., cousins of the couple, ushered.

The couple recited their vows before an altar banked with greenery and adorned with sunburst arrangements of pink snapdragons. Richard Neu, Richard Klement and Michael Neu were mass servers and Miss Ann Gallagher and the church choir furnished the wedding music.

After the services a reception and buffet supper was held in the Lindsay hall where a color scheme of pink and white was stressed. Misses Patricia Neu of Gainesville and Ann Neu of Lindsay registered some 260 guests in the bride's book.

When Mr. and Mrs. Neu left on a wedding trip to the west coast she was wearing a charcoal grey suit with red and black accessories. They will make their home in Gainesville.

Mrs. Neu is a graduate of St.

Harold W. Reeves, Dorothy Gilliland Say Vows Thursday

A mid-afternoon home wedding on Thanksgiving day united in marriage Miss Dorothy Sue Gilliland of Gainesville and Harold W. (Shorty) Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reeves of Muenster. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. E. Gilliland in whose home the service took place.

Rev. John Stepp, pastor of the Grand Avenue Baptist church, read the double ring ceremony in a door arch decorated with white mums and greenery.

The bride wore a steel gray box suit with white and black accessories. Her hat of white satin was covered with pearls and rhinestones and held a small veil. She carried a white orchid with streamers on a white Bible.

Miss Peggy Hudspeth of Muenster was maid of honor. She wore a black velveteen suit with powder blue accessories and a corsage of powder-blue carnations.

James Hammer of Muenster was best man.

For the reception that followed the ceremony Mrs. J. D. Hott, sister of the bride, served wedding cake and Miss Ann Robertson poured punch. The table was covered with a white lace cloth over blue and held the three-tiered cake and punch service.

LAND OF MIGHT OR FREEDOM

Though a crust of bread must have tremendous appeal to the 500,000,000 Asians whose income has been estimated to be a stomach pinching $56 a year, more than material appeals are required to hold such a multitude together. Perhaps because these millions have never known the freedom of democracy, they fall ready victims to the slave state.

A very large part of our propaganda directed to these overrun countries concerns itself with describing the economic well-being of Americans.

In the minds of many people throughout the world America must have become a symbol of wealth and might instead of a symbol of the free and the brave. It takes very little imagination to figure out the intense envy and hate that such a distorted picture must invoke in the minds of people whose families must exist on a ration of a cup of rice a day.

Is it not time that we change our propaganda line? Is it not time that we emphasize the wholesale and healthy aspects of being an American? Let's tell the truth about American workers. Let's show them as family people enjoying the privacy of their homes, as lovers of the great outdoors, as men who feel free to speak and write what they believe, as people unafraid to assemble in political or union meetings, as folk quick to ask that wrong be righted, as men who cannot be kept in jail at another person's whim, as people who enjoy the protection of trial by jury and are considered innocent until proved guilty.

Let us show Americans as warm-hearted, generous and kindly. Let's tell the world about our chance to bargain in a free market for the things we need, the services we require. Let's show that we are free to contract about our own affairs and above all praise our Government's role as a protector and referee against which we can assert our freedom from "arbitrary" regulation and control. Exchange

HIS REAL FAULT

Read American history a little; scan some of the political biographies of the nineteenth century. Any American who pretends to know even the most elementary facts about this nation's past should be aware that the remarks attributed to Senator McCarthy do not constitute grounds for censure.

If they had, some of our greatest American leaders of the past 175 years would have been pilloried time and time again.

That is why Lehman and Ervin will not be censured for their brutal assaults upon the ability and integrity of a fellow senator. That is why Senator McCarthy should not be subjected to this "lynching bee."

But McCarthy has made the unforgivable mistake.

He has fought to expose Communists and perverts and wishy-washy, dewey-eyed, Russian-loving liberals responsible for the chartic condition of the world.

For that—hang the man! Who cares about methods now?

Ft. Lauderdale (Fla.) News

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

If you are a typical family man who earns $4500 a year and works the usual eight-hour day, the Tax Foundation has some news for you.

Two hours and thirty-five minutes of that day go to earn the money needed to pay your taxes, direct and indirect. That's much longer than you work to buy your food, almost twice as long as it takes to pay your housing costs, and four times as long as for your clothing or transportation.

It used to be argued that only wealthy people had any particular interest in the tax question, and that the way to meet government costs was to soak the rich. How times have change! There aren't enough rich people if you took their total income. Today everybody is soaked to the limit. It is the masses of people who have the greatest interest in cutting government spending and the tax bite.

Children Crusade for Christmas

By Joseph A. Breig

"Daddy," Betty says, "I can hardly wait for Christmas." "Same here, Dad," says Joe.

Huddled together for warmth, my children and I are standing looking up at the stars, like illuminated ice in the wintry night.

"I wish we could see the Star of Bethlehem," says Betty. "Same here," says Joe.

The words fall frozen from their lips, giving forth little white ghosts to vanish in the dark. The world which had teemed with life is hushed with cold. Gone are the birds with their cries, the insects with their shrilling. Frost has plucked the last of the flowers. Now the earth, virginal with snow, can bring forth nothing. Nothing? Nothing but Christmas!

"Daddy, I can hardly wait..." "I wish we could see the Star..." Children, children! If you but knew how long we waited, we of the family of mankind; through what agonizing ages we yearned; the countless prayers we sent up to the silent skies! Isaias the Prophet, lifting his arms, opening his hands under the Mediterranean sky which shimmers and blazes with stars just beyond reach, cried out, "Drop down dew, ye heavens!" What a great heart-rending cry Isaias must have sent forth to echo across the desolate world, bereft of its Redeemer, exiled from its God: "Let the clouds rain the Just; let the earth be opened and bud forth a Saviour!"

"Daddy," says Betty, "I can hardly wait for Christmas." Little one, who are you that you should have been showered with heaven's dew; that for you the earth has opened to bud forth the Saviour? You can hardly wait? Child, you have Christmas with you always. You are Christmas. Christ lives in you, and you in Him. Never for a moment need you know the homesickness which covered all the earth before the first Christmas.

"Betty and Joe," I say to them, holding their gloved hands in mine, "keep on wishing for Christmas. Keep on advertising Christmas. You are our John the Baptists." They look at me wonderingly in the starlight, their eyes shining and round.

"The world," I tell them, "is always trying to forget Christ. The schools try to forget Him. The scientists try. The rulers try. The United Nations try. But the children of this earth won't let them. Every year at this time there is a Children's Crusade. Hundreds of millions of boys and girls say over and over: 'Daddy... Mommy... Uncle... Aunt—we can hardly wait for Christmas; we wish we could see the Star of Bethlehem.'" I bend a little closer to them, and whisper: "I can see it. I see it in your eyes. As long as there are children, the Star of Bethlehem will shine, and Christ will never be forgotten. Betty, Joe, you are my John the Baptists; you are our herald angels, telling us each year that Christ is born."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Going—Going—
But Not Gone!

Saturday they got set to auction off "Sis" Brown's house for non-payment of taxes. Buck Stone was the auctioneer. Everybody who came to the auction knew that "Sis" is a war widow.

When Buck began the bidding he said, "Anybody can bid. Just remember 'Sis' and three nice kids live here. Now who's going to start the bidding?"

There was silence. "Sis," standing in back, got the point. She reached into her purse for just about all the money she had in the world. "I'll bid $75," she said.

"Sold," bellowed Buck and "Sis" had her home back.

From where I sit, Buck Stone used a helping hand instead of a gavel. It was real neighborliness. You know, even in something as small as respecting another's choice of beverage, a person can be neighborly. You might like buttermilk. I'm "sold" on a temperate glass of beer. And I can't "buy" anyone's telling me I'm wrong.

DHIA Report Shows Frasher Herd on Top

Richard Frasher's Holstein cows were the champs in producing both butterfat and milk in the DHIA during the month of October, according to a summary for that month, just released by Carl Kemplin, supervisor of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association in Cooke county.

The Frasher herd rang up an average of 38 pounds of butterfat and 1,140 pounds of milk to top the production of the 22 herds tested during the month.

Runnerup honors in butterfat production went to the Masten and Roane herd with a 36 pound average and Hoedebeck and Meyers had the second high average in milk production with a 1-110 pounds average. This herd was third in butterfat production with an average 35.

Other herds ranking among the top ten, in the order named, are those of Paul Fisher, Paul Fetsch, Joe Fisher, Alfred Bayer, Gainesville State School, Pete Prescher, Toney Nehib, Ben Sicking and C. A. Fisher.

Five hundred and three cows in the 22 herds were tested with 169 producing 40 pounds of butterfat or over. Average pounds of B.F. per cow was 26, and average milk production per cow was 670. There are 680 cows in the association.

Soil Conservation Notes

A well prepared seed-bed is necessary to obtain a good stand of any crop, and grass is no exception.

With that fact clearly in mind cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District around Muenster are preparing land for the seeding and sodding of grasses. Preparation now allows plenty of time for seed-beds to settle and store badly needed moisture before spring plantings.

Bruno Fleitman has prepared a seven acre seed-bed for King Ranch Bluestem on his Marysville farm. The planting will be managed for a seed plot in order to get seed to plant the oil field area on the farm. Once the area is established to KR Bluestem and overseeded to vetch it will yield more high quality forage for winter grazing.

Danglmayr Brothers are preparing a seed-bed on some 15 acres of land on their Marysville ranch for the planting of this grass next spring.

Andy Fleitman is making preparations to plant an eight acre waterway to KR Bluestem. The grass strip will follow a natural drain across the Fleitman farm and will act as a safe terrace outlet so that the cultivated land can be protected by terraces.

In the terracing department Arnold Wimmer has just completed 3000 feet of broad easy to cross terraces. Wimmer used a three-disc plow and the island method of construction to build the terraces. They outlet onto a Bermuda-Buffalo grass waterway that was put in to afford a safe terrace outlet.

Tanks for livestock water have recently been completed on the D. P. Wilson farm at Rosston, on the Jack O'Harrow farm at Saint Jo and on the M. J. Kirk farm at Freemound.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hamric drove to Ardmore Sunday afternoon for a visit with her sister and family, the H. C. Billingsleys.

Shepperd Launches Program Aimed at Crime Comic Sales

AUSTIN — Representatives of the major distribution outlets for comic magazines in Texas have pledged their cooperation in a program to halt the sale of comic booklets featuring crime, horror or sex.

Meeting in Austin at the invitation of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, leaders of four state-wide business organizations set up a committee which will begin immediate work to stop the sale of all objectionable comic books.

Shepperd said that he had called this meeting "to determine if a voluntary control program in Texas might substitute for State Legislation, at least until the Legislature has a chance to consider the problem."

The Attorney General pointed out that "bad comics are only a part of the filthy literature problem, and the filthy literature problem is only part of the juvenile delinquency picture in Texas, but this Texas Comics Evaluation Committee should make quick progress in eliminating a menace to our children."

Many an argument is sound—just sound and nothing else.

Tigerette Teams Win Double Header

Girls of Sacred Heart High made a clean sweep of their double header basketball program Monday night with first stringers swamping Slidell 52-20 and second stringers beating the Sacred Heart Alumni 29-21.

The curtain raiser with the Slidell sextette was a one sided contest from the opening play. The Tigerettes forged ahead steadily for counts of 15-4, 27-6, 40-15 and 52-20 at the end of the four periods. Theresa Mae Felderhoff was high scorer with exactly half of the Sacred Heart total, Francis Knabe was next with 16 and Delphene Derichsweiler had 10.

The second game offered more excitement as the school's former players kept the count comparatively close and put on a third quarter rally that almost overtook the B stringers. The count at the end of the quarters was 8-5, 16-9, 20-19 and 29-21. Nelda Bayer was top scorer with 11. Laverna Hess and Norma Jean Walterscheid had 6 each.

Next on the Tigerette schedule is a double header with first and second teams of Mary Immaculate Academy of Wichita Falls. On Thursday, Dec. 9 the girls will play at Slidell.

At 5 p.m. a reception and buffet supper was held in the Lindsay hall.

Among special guests were Mrs. Ted Neu of Gainesville and Nick Block of Lindsay who were best man and maid of honor at the couple's wedding in 1929.

A short after dinner program included a poem of congratulations by Rose Mary Hermes, niece of the honorees, a recitation in German by Mrs. Clara Dieter a life-long friend of the couple, and songs by St. Cecilia's choir of which Mrs. Hermes is a member.

A three-tiered cake decorated with silver icing was served to the guests. The table was adorned with silver wedding bells, mums and roses. Silvered corsages were worn by Mrs. Hermes and Mrs. Ted Neu and silvered boutonnieres were worn by Mr. Hermes and Nick Block.

repeated insults and sacrifice our citizens so that England can go on making a profit. What a humiliating thought!

The more proper attitude, it would seem, is to do what's right no matter who disapproves. After all what is our first concern, to protect our nationals or to guarantee England's trade? For that matter, should a self respecting ally value its profits above the lives of our men? We doubt that England would admit as much if it did.

So this column still chooses to go along with Senator Knowland and his supporters on the proposal to put real pressure on the reds until they learn to show us our due respect. It believes that the American fleet ought to stop every China-bound ship until the red bandits deliver their 13 hostage prisoners safe and sound to one of our warships.

Would such an act provoke a war? Anybody can guess on that, but the most likely answer is no. The reds will not attack unless they are ready. And when they get ready they'll attack whether they are provoked or not. Communism has served notice of that intention years ago.
