MUENSTER, COOKE, COUNTY, TEXAS,

OCTOBER 15, 1954

After fine performances in four games the Sacred Heart Tigers have convinced the community and their coach that they definitely have something. Before the first game, most of us will admit, we did not expect much of the team. Our trouble was that we were thinking too much about losses from last year's champ outfit. By the time all those fellows were scratched off there was practically nothing left. We underestimated the kids coming up. Just assumed they would not be able to fill the others' shoes. To a great extent Father Christopher shared the same opinion. Said he expected to win a few games but did not have much hope for the season.

Well, the record shows that there was talent and skill in that group of up and coming youngsters. They can be proud of their achievements and the community can be proud of them. What's more they are beginning to look like worthy foes to any team on their schedule, including the few power-house outfits reported as being the big contenders for the champ title. Fact is they may slip past those formidable boys, as they have done a couple of times so far.

That makes two good teams at Muenster. Before the season started the Hornets were respected. Talk around the district was that it's the team to beat, and we local fans were very well pleased with the hold overs from last year's squad that made a late start but really got going toward the end of the season. Even so, we expected less in the opening clashes with Class A opponents. Until now the Hornets have measured up every inch to the high hopes that we had for them, perhaps even a little more. We have good reason to expect a lot more of them in the games coming up. Not that we or they can take anything for granted. Some of those teams have power, and every one will be pointing for Muenster. Possibilities are there, all right, but they will require sustained intensive effort from the boys... and fans should be giving the same kind of support.

In just a little more than a week voters of Muenster will approve or reject a $50,000 bond issue to finance improvements to the waterworks and sewer systems and build a swimming pool. Before they go to the ballot, however, it is well for them to know that the bond, if approved, will not make a penny of difference in the city's tax rate.

Unfortunately, a little misunderstanding has developed along that line. For one thing the election notice mentions the bonds for the waterworks and sewer projects and taxes to support them. This is a form required by law because a tax revenue must be assured before the bonds can be officially approved by the attorney general's office. However it can be pointed out that the notice does not say additional tax. And that's what is important in this case. The city already has tax revenue to support the bonds. And it proposes to support these bonds entirely out of that existing tax.

As a matter of fact, the city could not impose an additional tax if it wanted to, and if every person in town asked it to. The reason is that the present rate of $1.50 is the limit allowed under legal regulations. When a voter in the election favors the bond and the tax, he is authorizing the city only to make tax revenue provision out of the existing tax structure.

Of course some people are still puzzled. They wonder how the city can handle this obligation along with its regular operating expense without requiring more money. The answer is that other operating expense will be lower. For instance, about $6,000 have been spent so far this year on waterworks and sewer improvement. That will be eliminated as a current expense because the work is paid for out of the bond issue. Another sizeable expense this year is the pavement project, requiring about $12,000. More pavement is to be added, but obviously the remaining cost will be considerably smaller.

PRINCIPALS IN THE DEDICATION CEREMONIES for the new Sacred Heart church and the new Sacred Heart school are shown at the cornerstone of the church. Bishop Gorman Officiates At Dedication Service for New Church and High School

The Sacred Heart parish of Muenster witnessed the greatest event in its 65-year history last Thursday morning as the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman, bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese, dedicated the new parish church and the new parish high school.

The two ceremonies were followed by a pontifical high mass at which the Most Rev. Augustine Dangelmayr, auxiliary bishop of Dallas-Fort Worth and a native son of the parish, was celebrant and Bishop Gorman was participant. Bishop Dangelmayr was assisted by three other native sons, Father Henry Felderhoff of Denison and Fathers Thomas and Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas. The Sacred Heart men's choir sang at the mass.

As participant in the Divine Sacrifice, Bishop Gorman took part in opening prayers at the foot of the altar and the gospel and gave the "Pax Christi" greeting and the blessing.

Also present at the mass was the Rt. Rev. Paul Nahlen, abbot of Subiaco Abbey, Ark., and some twenty visiting priests and mon-signors from other parishes of North Texas. Members of the fourth degree Knights of Columbus in full dress served as an honor guard during the dedication and mass.

To Bishop Dangelmayr the day was an occasion for double celebration. It was the twelfth anniversary of his consecration as bishop in addition to a great milestone in the progress of his native parish.

About 1,000 persons attended the all day program commemorating the event. Included were scores of visitors from other parishes of North Texas, along with the contractor, Dave Cowdin of Dallas, the superintendent of construction, Floyd McAdam of Dallas, and the architect, Edward Schulte of Cincinnati.

The dedication and mass were followed by a parish dinner served in the Sacred Heart lunch room, a parish picnic for the remainder of the day and a dance at night.

Ceremonies started at 10 a.m. as Bishop Gorman made a trip through the high school building blessing each of its rooms. The group then proceeded to the corner stone and each bishop spread a trowel of mortar for setting the stone. Sealed against the wall behind the stone was an envelope containing data about the school and the celebration.

Then Bishop Gorman led in the prayers of dedication. Immediately afterward the group moved to the church corner stone. A large assortment of documents were sealed behind that stone and they were in a heavy gauge metal box which had been welded shut. Again both bishops put in a trowel of mortar to set the stone and (Continued on Page 2)

The principal thought in the speaker's inspiring address was rendering service to the order and the church by living in accordance with Christian ideals and also by assisting the clergy in its missionary work. In these days of materialism and widespread spiritual confusion, he said, it is important that knights practice their principles and help by their actions to lead humanity back to the standards of Christianity and common sense.

He urged also that members keep themselves informed on spiritual matters and be in a position to help those who are looking for the truth. He explained that very few outside the fold will take their questions or problems to a priest, so it is up to the laymen first to make a favorable impression, then to give information as the opportunity presents itself.

The speaker was introduced by Judge Frank O'Brien of Dallas, who is well known here as a frequent visitor for K of C events. J. W. Fisher, faithful navigator of the local fourth degree assembly was toastmaster. Others he called on for brief remarks were Fathers Louis and Christopher, Grand Knight Charley Hellman and District Deputy Arthur Endres.

Power Line Contact Knocks Out Phones

It was contact with a power line, not lightning, that wrecked telephone service here Monday night.

Alvin Fuhrmann, line foreman, explained Wednesday that high wind blew the cable into contact with the power line, or vice versa, and the heat melted off a spot of the cable's lead coating. Rain got through the hole and shorted out 35 circuits serving a total of 100 phones.

The damaged spot was found about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and service was restored about an hour later.

Similar trouble at that spot will be avoided in the future, Fuhrmann says. He is going to move the phone cable a few feet so that wind cannot bring the two lines in contact. The location is the first block of Oak street, near Clarence Wilson's home.

Mrs. Nora Enderby Pioneer Resident of Myra Dies Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Nora Enderby, 88, who passed away at about 10 o'clock Sunday morning at her home in Gainesville, were held Monday at 2 p.m. in the George J. Carroll and Son chapel.

Rev. J. H. Chism, Church of Christ minister, and Rev. W. D. Craig, pastor of the Whaley Memorial Methodist church, officiated and burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Enderby lived southeast of Myra for many years after moving to Cooke county in 1888, the year she married Charles Enderby. She was born at Richmond, Ind., and came to Cooke county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abner C. Beck, 80 years ago. The family later returned to Indiana and she married Mr. Enderby there. He died in 1912.

Survivors are two sons, Abner and Joe Enderby of route 6, Gainesville, a daughter, Mrs. Jack Proffer of Cross Roads, Calif., four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Nig Wilson had a lame, practically paralyzed, arm Tuesday as a result of a rough jolt by a flash of lightning during the electrical storm Monday night. He was closing a gate in the rain when the lightning hit the gate, or the fence connected to it, and knocked him to the ground.

Beverly Ann, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bruns, was dismissed from Wilson-Jones Hospital in Sherman Tuesday.

Weatherford Firm Gets Contract for Fields Reservoir

Roland L. Scherer of Weatherford has been named low bidder on a contract for construction of detention reservoir number five on the Elm Fork of the Trinity river.

The board of supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district said today that construction on the reservoir will start in the immediate future.

The reservoir will be located on the H. D. Fields place, just south of Saint Jo. It will control the runoff water from 8,000 acres in the upper reaches of Elm creek.

The earth fill will contain 282,000 cubic yards and the permanent pool area will be 45 surface acres. This reservoir will be considerably larger than any of the other four structures now under construction in the Saint Jo area and will be the largest one planned for the Elm fork watershed plan.

Tigers Hit Early, Coast to 19-6 Win Over Big D Team

Putting all they had in a vicious opening attack Father Christopher's Sacred Heart Tigers bewildered the huskies of St. Mark's last Friday afternoon and pushed over three touchdowns to ice the game away before the big boys had a chance to get organized. The final score was 19-6.

Noting the weight advantage of the opposition the Tiger coach advised his boys to start at top speed and keep up the pace as long as they could take it, hoping for a lead that would stand up the rest of the time. It worked. The hosts did not gain the initiative until the latter part of the game and then it was too late for them to overcome the Tiger lead.

Sacred Heart started by forcing St. Mark's to kick in the first series of downs then launching a scoring drive. Walter's 25 and Hofbauer's 30 featured the steady advance that ended with Walter's dive over from the one.

The next touchdown came in very much the same manner. The Tigers held on the first series of downs then pushed relentlessly on to pay dirt. There were no long gains but consistent jabs behind good blocking that netted (Continued on Page 10)

Jackie Reiter Hurt In Two-Car Crash

August J. (Jackie) Reiter, 24, received lacerations on his forehead and Dock McKnight, 60, of Pattonville received tongue lacerations and lost several teeth in a two car collision about 2:50 Wednesday morning on Highway 82 three miles west of Gainesville.

According to a report by Highway Patrolman Bill Gardner Reiter went to sleep at the wheel.

Both injured persons were taken to the Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment. Woodrow W. Humphrey of Paris, driver of the car in which McKnight was riding, escaped without injury. Damage to Reiter's car was estimated at $700, to the other car at $600.

Hornets Run Over Wildcats in First Conference Tussle

A run-away in the first quarter for a 3 touchdown lead netted the margin of victory for the Hornets in their first conference game here Friday night. After that the two teams battled it out on more even terms for a final score of 26-6.

The Muenster boys struck like a whirlwind at the opening kickoff. Noggler and Moon stepped off short yardage and on the third play Moon broke through for a 47 yard gallop before he was cut down on the 15. Six more plays produced the TD with Richey making the last yard. Noggler's kick for extra point was good.

After holding their visitors in the first series of downs the Hornets got going again from the Callisburg 39. Noggler's 7 and Moon's 9 reached the 23. Then Noggler took Richey's pitchout, and with the help of a timely block by Daugherty, went over for the second counter.

Again the Hornets held on the first series and returned the kick to the 50. Noggler hit the line on the first offensive play, squirmed away from three tacklers and sprinted to the goal. His kick was good for the second extra point, bringing the count to 20-0 less than a minute before the quarter ended.

Crowsey and Wilson, the Wildcat hot shots got into action after that and the one sidedness came to a sudden halt. Crowsey stepped off a pair of first downs before (Continued on Page 10)

Julius Hermes Jr.

Miss Clara Flusche and Julius Hermes Jr. were married here Tuesday during impressive nuptial rites performed at 4 p.m. in Sacred Heart church. Rev. Hubert Neu of Dallas, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony and read the wedding mass.

The musical setting was provided by Anthony Luke, organist, and Mrs. Randy Bayer, Miss Henrietta Mages, Miss Frankie Owen and Miss Alma Henscheid, vocalists, classmates of the bride.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche of Muenster. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes of Lindsay.

Clara wore a lovely gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice covered by a short bolero with a manderin collar and petal point sleeves. The wide skirt fell gracefully to waltz length. Her flowers were three large white mums, split chrysanthemums and variegated ivy in a cascading bouquet. And she carried a white prayerbook, a gift from the groom, and a crystal rosary.

In keeping with bridal tradition she borrowed a strand of pearls from her aunt, Mrs. Earle Otto, carried a lace handkerchief that her mother carried at her wedding 19 years ago, and had a penny in her shoe.

Wedding attendants were the couple's sisters and brothers. Misses Margie Flusche and Marcella Hermes attended the bride and Richard Hermes and Donald Flusche were the groom's attendants. David Flusche and William Hermes ushered.

Misses Flusche and Hermes wore identically designed dresses of gold taffeta with bronze net overskirts and matching mitts and headresses. Their flowers were bronze mums and their bronze necklaces and ear rings were gifts from the bride.

Kenneth Otto, Gene Hoenig and Richard Zimmerer, cousins of the bride, were acolytes.

After the mass the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where the bride placed a bouquet of white mums and glads after they recited an act of consecration and the vocalists presented the hymn, "Mother at Your Feet."

Mrs. Flusche attended her daughter's wedding in a brown faille dress with brown and gold accessories, and Mrs. Hermes, mother of the groom, wore a gun-metal dress with black accessories. Both had gold mum corsages.

Mrs. Tony Otto and Mrs. Joseph Flusche, grandmothers of the bride, and Mrs. Anna Loerwald, grandmother of the groom, had dark red mum corsages.

Immediately following the church services Mr. and Mrs. Flusche were hosts in the parish hall for a reception and buffet supper for about 225 guests.

Mrs. Ewald Fuhrmann of Lindsay and Mrs. William Hermes of Gainesville presided at the bride's book.

Decorations in the hall stressed the bride's colors and were repeated on the bride's table where the three-tier wedding cake was circled with fern and miniature wedding bells and flanked by tapers. Bronze mums further adorned the board.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hermes left on their wedding trip, not revealing their destination, she was wearing a powder blue suit with navy accessories and a mum corsage.

After the trip they will make their home in Muenster.

Mrs. Hermes is a graduate of Sacred Heart High school with the May 1954 class. Her husband attended St. Peter's school at Lindsay.

Among wedding guests in addition to those from Lindsay and Gainesville were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison, the Max Koeslers of Vinita, Okla., the L. W. Flusches and daughters, the Al Flusches and sons and the C. M. Flusches and family, all of Decatur, the Andy Flusches of Pilot Point, the Alphonse Fleitmans and the Henry Sandmanns of Valley View.

Dedication - - -

Bishop Gorman led at prayers of dedication. He then started the litany of the saints which was continued by the choir as all entered the church. Inside the bishop recited more prayers then walked around the interior blessing each of the walls.

After dedication and preceding the pontifical mass Bishop Gorman delivered the dedication sermon in which he referred to the magnificent new semi-Gothic edifice as a poem and a prayer in wood and stone, and to the dedication as a fulfillment of the fondest dreams of the devout pioneers who more than a half century before had dedicated the community to Christian ideals.

Bishop Gorman praised the architect and builder on their fine workmanship. He praised the parish on its vision and sacrifice. He also congratulated the parish on a job well done and urged it to persevere in the ideals that have made it a great parish where love of God and thirst for His truth dwells in the hearts and minds of its people.

He referred to the school as another great achievement and as a means of preserving and expanding Muenster's heritage of Christian education, which emphasizes religious as well as civil virtues, and also commended the Olivetan Benedictine sisters for their great contribution to that heritage in the past.

The purpose of a Catholic school, he said, is to carry on the spirit that begins in a Christian home, to emphasize man's eternal destiny as well as his temporal career. That must always be the uncompromising Catholic objective, he stated, the ideal that must not be sacrificed even though other adjustments may be made in harmony with the circumstances of the time.

Again, but in a less solemn manner, Bishop Gorman spoke at the dedication dinner. The occasion was on his acceptance of a $20,000 check, the parish's first payment toward retiring its obligation on the church and school. At that time he again praised the parish on its past achievements. He also took notice of difficulties that have been encountered in recent years and urged the parish to proceed, in accordance with civil and ecclesiastical regulations, toward greater achievements in the future. In this spirit, he predicted, Muenster will attain a measure of harmony and progress that was not dreamed of in the past.

Others who appeared briefly on the dinner program were Bishop Danglmayr, Abbot Nahlen, Father Louis and J. M. Weinzapfel, who presented the check in the name of the parish. Father Christopher, toastmaster, introduced native priests and sisters who returned for the dedication, the builders, and the local building committee.

SHERIFF AND MRS. MORRIS ATTEND SEYMOUR REUNION

Sheriff and Mrs. Bill Morris were among the more than 250 people who attended the annual family reunion of the Morris clan in Seymour Sunday. The all-day get-together was held in the Seymour park and featured a barbecue dinner, picture taking and visiting.

Oldest member of the family, Mrs. Dealey Morris, "close to a hundred" according to Sheriff Morris, was unable to attend this year's event for the first time since the reunion became an annual affair "way back in the covered wagon days." Folks visited her at her home.

Family members were present from several states and as far away as Canada. Four and five generations were in attendance. In the four generation groups the only direct Morris descendants living are John Morris of Sunset, Bill Morris of Muenster, Floyd Morris of Wichita Falls and his son, Bobby.

During a brief business session the group decided to have next year's reunion in Wichita Falls on the second Sunday in October.

Sheriff and Mrs. Morris were accompanied to Seymour by June and Jane Steadham of Saint Jo.

The Petroleum Age

Just a century ago, six years before the first oil well was drilled, a lumber company at Titusville, Pa., made an arrangement with a local citizen to gather the "rock oil" that seeped from a spring on their property and make it useful.

This first "oil operator" gathered three to four gallons of petroleum a day, and used it for lighting the saw mill and lubricating the machinery.

Today, when two million oil industry workers are providing America with more than seven million barrels of oil a day, petroleum is still used for lighting and lubrication. In addition, more than 53 million cars and trucks and busses burn up about 46 billion gallons of gasoline a year, household oil-burners consume more than 10 billion gallons of fuel oil, and our whole defense establishment, on land and sea and in the air, is petroleum-powered.

But there are a thousand other places where petroleum and its derivatives contribute to the needs of today's world. You would hardly expect, for instance, to find it in your telephone, the wrapper on your bread or the milk carton in your ice-box, in your lipstick and face-cream, as well as in your tires and the upholstery of that super-comfortable new furniture you're so proud of. Petroleum is also an ingredient of plastics of all sorts, and accounts for about 25 percent of all the organic chemicals in the United States.

Thus—in the sense of depending on petroleum for their jobs—millions of people are "oil-men" today without realizing it. And similarly, no one in all of America could list completely, ALL the ways in which this substance lubricates his life. But this week when the industry celebrates its annual "Oil Progress Week", you have plenty of reason yourself to throw your hat in the air too.

Competition in The Oil Industry

We've been told that the theme for Oil Progress Week this year is competition; more specifically, how oil industry competition serves us as consumers. It is a particularly appropriate theme, for the U. S. oil industry is one of the best examples we have of competition and service inspiring each other onward constantly—and all for the betterment of the general public.

All too often, the oil industry is thought of as a group of perhaps a dozen or more companies. The Oil Industry Information Committee knocked this myth on the head not too long ago by making an actual count of the number of businesses engaged in petroleum; and it used only accredited government figures for its tallying. This count showed there were more than 42,000 oil companies, ranging all the way from one-man firms to multi-million dollar organizations. That there are so many of them is proof in itself of the competitive nature of oil, for how could it be otherwise in this land of ours, where any enterprising man or company can set up shop and challenge the field?

As to the service, what better example can we cite than the service stations and fuel oil jobbers who take care of our cars and our home-heating requirements? Service stations in particular do an outstanding job, for in addition to filling our tanks and handling lubrication jobs, the busy attendants wipe our windshields, check our tires and batteries, make minor mechanical adjustments, give us reports on highway and route conditions, free road maps, and innumerable other things—all with a smile, because it's part of the job to keep ahead of the competition.

The same holds true for the oil distributors. Many use the "degree-day" system to keep our tanks filled, so that we never have to worry about this. Deliveries are made night and day, good weather or bad. And if the burner breaks down, the service man comes running to have it fixed in a jiffy. That's competition and service working together—and we are happy to salute this industry and its employees for living up to the spirit of Oil Progress Week, not only this week but all the year 'round.

Samuel P. Morse, who invented the telegraph, was also a famed portrait painter.

God Alone Knows the Future

By Rev. Joseph Manton

THIRTEEN MEN sat down to supper one night. The next day two of them, Jesus and Judas, were dead. This was the origin of the absurd superstition about the number thirteen. Because of a mere coincidence, that number has limped through history like a leper, ringing its out-cast bell and hoarsely warning everyone to keep away from it. However, thirteen is only the grand marshal in the parade of fantastic freaks called superstition. "Never walk under a ladder!" "Don't let a black cat cross your path!" "Carry a rabbit's foot for good luck!" But it wasn't such good luck for the rabbit—who once owned four of them—was it? And all the good-luck gimmicks are as foolish.

OF COURSE WE, in our superior fashion, smile at these silly practices. Or do we? In conversation or theory, we scorn them. But when we are alone and superstition shakes its Halloween mask, don't we often play the coward?

In such an offense it is true that Conscience in its role of District Attorney would not attempt to indict you for serious sin. But it is just as true that you are dethroning your God-given, mature common sense and for the moment placing on the dunce-stool of your mind a childish folly unworthy of a thinking man.

SEN IS NOT completely out of the picture either. As a matter of fact superstition is wrong, precisely because it pushes God out of the picture and presumes to take His place. For doesn't its frightening voice whisper that this four-leaf clover, this scared and scurrying cat, this amputated white rabbit's foot, this shattered mirror—that these things will actually influence your future? By some mysterious power within them, they will brighten or darken events to come, for good or for ill.

THE ONLY HAND, however, that throws the switch of the future is God. Only the All-knowing and Almighty God; nobody or nothing else. Because if anything else could, it would be independent of God, above God, greater than God. It would be God.

We talk so freely and so glibly of our luck, of good luck and of bad luck. There is no luck. Whatever happens, happens only because God wants it to happen, or because God (having given free will) at least permits it to happen. And no insignificant creature can trip the straight and lordly strides of the Creator.

SO THE SEN of superstition is that it gives to some ridiculous object the power that belongs only to God. "I am the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not have strange gods before Me."

Superstition is unworthy of man and insulting to God.

Soil Conservation Notes

Fall is officially here and recent rains have dampened the soils and revived the spirits of landowners in the Muenster area as prospects for winter grazing brightened.

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are busily sowing winter legumes for soil protection and improvement. The sowing of legumes had been postponed because the inoculant of nitrogen-fixing bacteria that is applied to legume seed at planting time cannot survive in dry hot soil and requires a moist seed bed for survival.

Winter legumes such as vetch, winter peas and button clover are planted for soil protection and improvement and also serve as early spring grazing. They produce a heavy green cover in the spring to blanket the soil against hard spring rains and enable the soil to absorb and store more of the rainfall.

They also add nitrogen to the soil through action of bacteria on the roots. Vetch or button clover are often used to overseed pasture grasses to provide additional cover and grazing and to improve the grass growth by adding nitrogen to the soil which is used by the grasses.

Hubert Felderhoff and sons have seeded over 50 acres to vetch on the Biffle Ranch at Myra. S. H. Hilburn has seeded some 200 acres of vetch and oats on the farms he leases north of Muenster, and B. C. Redman of Saint Jo has sown 20 acres of cropland to vetch and overseeded

20 acres of King Ranch Bluestem to vetch.

The vetch will furnish extra pasture at a time when the grass is dormant and add fertility to the soil so that the grass will make better growth. Paul Fisher has completed the planting of vetch and oats on his farm south of Muenster and Richard Grewing has a good stand of vetch on land where vetch seed was harvested this summer.

Now is the time to get waterways marked off and the land prepared for sodding or seeding of grasses. Better stands of grasses always result when waterways are prepared in the fall and competition of grain or other crops is eliminated. Waterways have been staked and the land prepared by plowing and harrowing on the farm operated by Paul Sicking south of Muenster. Leo Hesse, Andy Fleitman and Leo Mosman have prepared land that is ear-marked for grassed waterways. Eddie Fleitman has widened a lane and plans to plant it to Coastal Bermuda grass next spring. The lane will serve as a terrace outlet and as a passage way for cows.

Farm ponds to furnish water for livestock have recently been completed on the farms of Jake Biffle Sr. at Myra and on the Hubert Felderhoff ranch at Myra. Edgar Klement has a recently dug tank on his farm northeast of Muenster and Mrs. Addie Lou Garrett has recently constructed a pond on her ranch at Hardy. These ponds will furnish water for livestock and enable the landowners to improve their grasses by better distribution of grazing and by rotational grazing that will give the grasses a rest during the growing season.

PFC Donald N. Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Muller, recently returned to his regular Army duty station in Germany after "August Moon," the fall maneuvers of the 9th Infantry Division in southern Germany. Muller, a stenographer in the division's Headquarters Company, spent seven days training in the field to maintain his unit's combat readiness. He entered the Army in February 1953 and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., before arriving overseas in March of this year. (U.S. Army Photo)

5,524 Chest X-Rays Given in Survey

Tabulations made at the close of the free chest x-ray survey in Cooke County show a total of 5,524 x-rays given during the six days the mobile unit from Austin was in Gainesville.

In giving that information Mrs. Irene Frost, county health nurse, disclosed that this is a gain of almost 1,000 more than last year when 4,573 took advantage of the free examinations.

The survey was made through the efforts of the Cooke County Tuberculosis Association and the Gainesville-Cooke County Health Department, assisted by members of the R.N. Club and other women's clubs of Gainesville and a group of Muenster women.

The mobile unit was set up in the Hurley Motor Company building September 24 through 30.

Extension Assured For North F-M Road

Approval for construction of a 5.5 mile extension to F-M Road 373, north of Muenster, was reported last weekend by L. B. Dean, district highway engineer of Wichita Falls.

The project is one of three approved for Cooke County, the others being a 4 mile extension to the Burns City road and 7.7 mile road from the State Training School to Woodbine then north to Highway 82.

Construction on the roads is due to begin as soon as right of way is provided and necessary planning is completed.

Charm Shop Will Get New Building

A new home for the Charm Shop is the next building project in sight for Muenster. J. M. Weinzapfel, owner of the present location, indicated this week that he expects construction to begin in a few weeks.

He was not able to give more details, however. He still has not decided definitely on the size, design or kind of material to be used... although he seems to be interested in a new construction method whereby the roof is built at the floor level and lifted hydraulically to its place before the walls are built.

While building is in progress the Charm Shop will continue to operate in the present building. It will be skidded to another location, which has not been determined up to now.

VISITORS HONORED AT SUPPER PARTY THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski entertained with a supper party last Thursday evening in their home honoring their daughter Sister Helen, their granddaughter Sister Monica, and the Very Rev. Edwin Hemmen, all of Arkansas, who were here for the dedication ceremonies.

Other out of town guests present were the Bob Swirczynskis and family of Ardmore, the Ed Swirczynskis and children of Fort Worth and Mrs. Townsend Miller and children of Austin.

Mrs. Miller and three children are spending a few weeks here with her parents.

There is no second place in the Hall of Fame. Consider the case of Methuselah's grandfather, Jared. He lived to be 962 years old—just seven years less than his famous grandson. However, it wasn't good enough. He remains to this day unknown, unhonored, and unsung.

The city slicker halted his car at a desolate crossroads and yelled to a farmer driving a load of hay, "Hey, Cornsilk, is this the way to town?"

The farmer looked up in feigned astonishment. "By gum, stranger, how'd you know my name was Cornsilk?"

"I guessed it," answered the slicker.

"Then, by heck," snapped the farmer, "guess your way to town, too!"

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Klement announce the birth of an eight pound four ounce son at 2:10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 11, at the Muenster Clinic. The couple has four girls and three other boys. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klement of Muenster and Theo Schmitz of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Goin welcomed the arrival of their first child, an eight pound girl, on October 11 at 2:15 a.m. at a Sanger hospital. The baby's name is Debra Kay. Her daddy is an employee at North Texas Producers Association here and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cogburn of Pilot Point and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Goin of Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Aytes of Myra are the parents of a nine pound daughter born Monday afternoon at Gainesville Sanitarium and named Vivien. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williams of Bontia are the maternal grandparents.

Donna Marie is the name of the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Endres of Columbus, Ohio. She arrived on Sept. 27. Mrs. M. J. Endres of Muenster is the little girl's grandmother.

Just a Comma

A comma is a punctuation mark denoting the shortest pause in reading, and separating a sentence into divisions according to construction. The modern tendency is to limit the use of commas, and this is especially true of newspaper writers. However, the use of commas is at times extremely important as illustrated by the following 2 examples by Ripley.

A clerk in the U. S. Congress instead of writing, "All foreign fruit plants free from duty," wrote "All foreign fruit, plants free from duty." This error cost the government over $2,000,000 in duties as it was impossible to correct it until the next session of Congress.

The story is told that Maria Feodorewna accidentally caught sight of the following note appended to a death warrant. It was in the handwriting of her husband, Alexander III, Tzar of Russia. It read as follows: "Pardon impossible, to be sent to Siberia."

Maria transposed the comma so that it read: "Pardon, impossible to be sent to Siberia." Thereupon the convict was released a free man, saved by a comma.

NO DOZING ON THIS JOB—It takes a wide-awake operator to "dig" a bulldozer through an 11-story building from the roof to the basement. The 19,000-pound machine was assembled atop a building being wrecked in Kansas City, Mo., and used to push debris over the side of the structure as it was demolished, floor by floor.

The Harold Falcks See Lourdes, Paris, London on Leave

Captain and Mrs. Harold Falck have written her parents, the Jacob Pagels, interesting letters telling about their summer tours to places of interest including a pilgrimage to Lourdes and visits in Paris and London. The Falcks are living at LaRoche, France, while he is assigned to duty with the army overseas.

They were at Lourdes for the Labor Day weekend. The small town consisting almost entirely of hotels and souvenir shops, was crowded with large pilgrimages from Ireland, Switzerland and Italy. Saturday night at 8 the Falcks joined in a candle light procession. All the people lined up in threes and went up the Bacilicia steps and around the statue of the Blessed Virgin. An estimated 40 to 50,000 people all carrying candles and praying the rosary and singing hymns in their own languages was really impressive. It took an hour and a half for the entire group to file by. From the top of the Bacilicia looking down one was reminded of a mass of fireflies in summer, Mrs. Falck wrote. The next day they followed the way of the cross, portrayed by huge bronze statues, on a very steep hill. They attended mass there and visited the grotto again.

After that they were in England seven days. One of the nicest things was being able to read all the posters and understand the language. They were impressed by the English who are so polite and proper. No pushing on busses, trains or subways.

The Channel crossing was stormy and almost everyone was sea sick. In London they didn't miss a sight of interest. To mention a few of the more notable and famous: Buckingham Palace, London Bridge, Towers of London, Westminster Abbey, No. 10 Downing Street, Scotland Yard, Piccadilly Circus, Hyde Park, St. Paul's Cathedral, the Crown Jewels, Big Ben, the Parliament Building, Windsor Castle, and literally hundreds of other places of interest.

They spent three days in Paris seeing the Eiffel Tower, Cathedral of Notre Dame, the famous Champs-Elysees which leads to the Arc de Triomphe, Louvre Museum, the Bastille, the famous castle of Versailles, plus dozens of other things, and one night took in the famous Folies Bergere, a wonderful show lasting three hours. Mrs. Falck also told about window shopping in Paris.

The Falcks have almost another year overseas and are looking forward to more tours before returning to the states. Mrs. Falck does volunteer Gray Lady work at the LaRoche hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Gremminger, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. Joe Krahl of Gainesville were in Abilene to attend the NCCW diocesan convention last week. Tony visited with his brother and family, the Bill Gremmingers, while the women attended convention sessions.

Clarence Matula of Coleman was back in Muenster during the weekend for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sharp returned from their vacation trip Friday accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mary Stadalman. Saturday both Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Stadalman entered a Nocona hospital for medical care. Mrs. Sharp has a severe throat infection and her mother has pneumonia. Mrs. Stadalman annually spends the winter here with her daughter. Cheering the patients with bedside visits Sunday and Monday were the August Hymans, Mrs. R. V. Daffern, Mrs. Calip Cannon and Mrs. R. J. Samples.

Residents of the Bulcher community gathered, almost 100 per cent in the Bulcher Park Thursday night for a farewell party and wiener roast honoring Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie West and Patricia who moved to Gainesville during the weekend. Parting gifts were presented to the honorees who had spent most of their lives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Gid Prather attended the 70th wedding anniversary observance of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hale at Saint Jo Tuesday afternoon.

Guests in the Calip Cannon home Friday and over night were her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alexander of Drumright, Okla.

The E. L. Robisons had as guests Sunday their daughter and husband, the Bob Hutchinsons and son Bobby of McKinney, the R. L. Hutchinsons and grandson David, and Rev. Charles Milburn of Nocona.

Robert H. Cannon, son of the O. W. Cannons, is back at home with a discharge from the Navy after serving four years. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, most of the time.

The Bill Harrels and children spent the weekend visiting their parents, the C. J. Hinkles at Parnell and the Arthur Harrels at Foster, Okla.

Employees and their families were present from Bulcher, Odessa, Gladewater and Brown county districts in Texas and from Healdton and Walters, Okla. Representatives from the home office in Tulsa also attended.

Attending from Bulcher were the following and their families: J. M. Shields, Charles Crabtree, Dexter Dennis, E. L. Robison, R. J. Samples, Calip Cannon, R. V. Daffern, Bill Harrel, Jimmy Atteberry, August Hyman, Floyd Webb, and Harlan Shofner.

Retiring president Mrs. Gid Prather conducted the business session and members answered roll call with "One thing I have done to help my community."

Mrs. Bill Harrel was in charge of the program. She gave a demonstration on use of living room accessories, displaying charts and pictures as she talked on the subject.

After adjournment refreshments were served to 10 members by the hostess Mrs. West. Mrs. Jay Jones was welcomed as a new member. Others present were Mmes. Gid Prather, Bill Harrel, R. V. Daffern, R. J. Samples, E. L. Robison, August Hyman, J. M. Shields, Charles Crabtree and Dexter Dennis.

OIL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

The products of the petroleum industry are literally everywhere. Every hour of the day, oil or natural gas serves you and virtually every other American. Oil is indispensable to our way of life; it makes the United States a better, safer country to live in.

You may wake in the morning in a room warmed by a furnace burning fuel oil or natural gas.

You drive to work, and your car burns gasoline, uses petroleum oils and greases for lubricants, rolls on tires of synthetic rubber which had their beginning in an oil refinery.

The plant where you work may depend on oil or natural gas as the source of its power. The oil and gas industry supplies 65% of the nation's energy requirements.

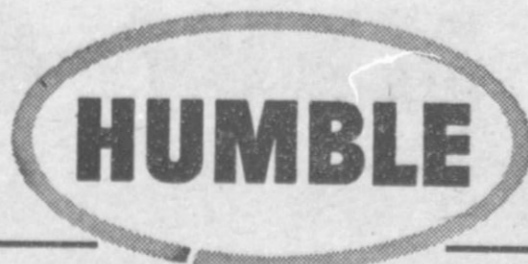

Meanwhile, if you live in Texas, your children are attending schools to the support of which the oil industry pays heavy production and ad valorem taxes. And your U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force plan the national defense with confidence that the oil industry has developed the proven reserves that can fuel their machines of war. Oil also supplies munitions — TNT for instance.

Finally, the lady of the house may prepare dinner on a stove fueled with natural gas, and you may go to bed in pajamas laundered with a petroleum detergent, after reading a newspaper printed with ink made from oil, in a room decorated with a paint manufactured from petroleum.

... And that's only a beginning.

The products of the petroleum industry, oil and natural gas, head the list of our most useful resources. A progressive, competitive oil industry, encouraged in the future as in the past, will undertake the further development that will keep them there.

LINDSAY FOUR-H CLUBS HAVE BUSINESS SESSIONS

Lindsay 4-H club boys and girls held regular meetings Thursday, Oct. 7, when Miss Bernice Puckett, county home demonstration agent, met with the girls and Gene Sears, assistant county agent, met with the boys.

Rachel Voth, president, conducted the girls' business session and Miss Puckett told about 4-H Club Day at the State Fair on Saturday, Oct. 16. She distributed tickets and badges and reminded members to see the State Dress Review at the auditorium that day. Six new members were welcomed at this meeting. Mrs. Nick Block, Mrs. Tony Voth and Mrs. Joe Bengfort, adult leaders, attended.

The boys also heard about 4-H day at the Fair and received tickets and badges. President Cyril Hermes presided and ten new members were added to the club roster.

Both groups discussed 4-H Achievement Week to be held November 7-14.

Tigers Win ---

one first down after another. Haverkamp was the best gainer on the march and Herr sneaked over from the one for the score.

Early in the second quarter a vicious tackle by Sylvan Walterscheid caused a Big D boy to fumble and the Tigers recovered on the 20 to set up their third scoring opportunity. Herr promptly dashed around end for 15 yards and three more plays were used in making the rest of the distance. Hofbauer went over from the three and Sylvan Walterscheid added the extra point from placement.

By that time the Tigers were beginning to feel the strain and the progress of the game showed it. Their drives did not hold out any more and their defense allowed the hosts to make fairly regular yardage.

St. Mark's score came in the last quarter about 5 minutes before the end of the game. Held for no gains at the 20 the Tigers kicked. Fleet footed Jim Aston took it in midfield and got loose on a scoring gallop.

Statistics on the game were not recorded but Father Christopher reports the Tigers definitely led in first downs and yards gained from rushing. Passing was weak on both sides, each team gaining short yardage on only a few completions.

Car Crash Speeds Job on Store Front

The unknown driver who jumped the curb and sidewalk and bashed in a part of Jake Pagel's store front doesn't have to worry about anyone being peeved at him. All he did was speed up an improvement that Jake had been considering anyway.

Splintered weather board has been removed and a new front of gray stone is on its way up. It will reach to the top of display windows and the space above will be covered with asbestos shingles of the same color.

No one seems to know who is entitled to the credit for sparking this improvement project. The report is that whoever did it just backed away and left his car parked at the curb while he went to the show. No one asked any questions and he did not offer any explanations.

calendar, it can hand the names and dates to any club members with fifty cents—no matter how many in the family—and be listed on the 1955 calendar. Corrections of names and dates can also be made by contacting a member of the club.

Families on this year's calendar do not contribute anything until the new calendars are sold for fifty cents.

Deadline for new names or corrections is November 1.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger conducted the meeting in the home of Mrs. Frank Yosten who was hostess for the evening. Other business consisted of committee reports.

Cemetery collections to date total $292.56.

Mrs. Lee Toothaker was in charge of the program. She talked on "Planting Bulbs for Succession of Blooms" and illustrated her lecture with pictures. The club welcomed Mrs. Jim Cook as a new member.

After adjournment the hostess served refreshments of Sunday pie and coffee to 13 members.

Hornets Win ---

the Hornets held and forced a kick.

Muenster apparently was on the go again as Noggler and Moon reeled off regular gains for 3 first downs and 50 yards but a bad hand off stopped the drive. A Wildcat pounced on the ball on the 35.

The visitors snapped back with a sustained drive featuring Crowsey on the heating end of 3 neat passes and two good runs. The Hornets finally stopped the assault and took the ball over on the 7 just before the half ended.

The deadlock continued into the next period. Callisburg moved the chain twice for 23 yards before heading the Hornet defense and kicking. Starting from their 49 Hosea's boys then pushed to the 26 but a holding penalty and 2 incomplete passes fouled them up. They lost the ball on downs on the visitors' 41.

Crowsey chalked up another first down before the Hornets forced a kick which Noggler returned 45 yards to the visitors' 46.

Four plays later Richey made the yardage for a first down but an offside penalty moved the ball back. Noggler, running from kick formation again went far enough for the first down but a 15 yard penalty forced a kick on the next play.

Back on the offense, Callisburg made short yardage and lost on a fourth down gamble, giving up the oval on their own 33.

Noggler broke loose from there and scored the fourth Hornet touchdown.

At that point, about 2 minutes into the last quarter, Hornet reserves took over and the Wildcats lost no time in taking advantage of the situation. Crowsey did most of the toting in a 56 yard drive to the goal. He carried the ball over and failed to connect on his pass for extra point.

Muenster kids, on the offense fumbled the ball away on the first series but got going a moment later as Biffle snared Crowsey's aerial on the 10 and returned it to the 30. Hellman's 18 and a 15 yard gift, on Callisburg's infraction, along with steady short gains moved to the visitors' 23 before the drive fizzled and the game ended.

A big loss to the Hornets for more than half the game was Daugherty, who went out with a sprained knee.

would amount to $2,500 on principal and $1,750 on interest. So it is easily apparent that the city can have ample funds to take care of the obligation without additional tax.

In fact, the revenue outlook is what convinces the council that a swimming pool can be built in the bargain. After bond obligations and current expenses are met there should be enough money left to finance the pool in about two years.

The next question that naturally arises is why do we need a bond if the city is able to operate this well on a pay as we go basis? The answer is that improvements are needed now and we cannot afford to wait several years for them.

For instance the sewer project. We've already outgrown our disposal plant. It can't handle the job when excessive volume is dumped into it. Some present homes and more potential homes cannot be served by the present line. We need a sewer main around the west side of town.

The same applies to the water system. Mains need to be extended in several places to provide needed fire protection. Another booster pump should be added to assure an adequate supply of water. We have plenty of water now but if one pump failed we could not maintain a safe pressure for fire protection.

So, it's a matter of making needed improvements promptly on a bond issue or dragging along for several years on a pay as we go basis. One way or the other we'll have the improvements, and they will cost about as much either way. If we vote a bond we'll pay interest. If we build as we can without the bond we'll sacrifice the savings that can be made by planning and completing in a single project, besides delaying for a few years the revenue that can be earned from more use of the systems . . . and depriving residents of the use of improved facilities.

When such facts as these are taken into consideration the bond issue looks like a good deal.
