Altar Arrives for New Parish Church

Do you remember the words used by President Roosevelt in that historic speech urging Congress to declare war following the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor? "This is a day that will go down in infamy!"

People of the United States were completely aroused by that epic of treachery. Everyone demanded vengeance. The president had no trouble convincing the Congress or the nation that we must get into the world conflict. Our national honor demanded it. Everybody was ready to get into the fight.

Little did anyone suspect on that day that responsibility for the infamy of Pearl Harbor might eventually backfire on the President himself and that the most terrible phase of the treachery might be traced to Washington rather than Tokyo.

But this is the charge made by Former Rear Admiral Robert A. Theobald in a book to be published on April 28. U S News and World Report has secured the first serial rights to print it in advance of the publication date and reveals the whole shocking account in its issue of this week.

In the light of the extensive array of evidence presented by the retired naval officer it is extremely difficult to evade the conclusion that FDR, and possibly a few high ranking officers in Washington, are totally responsible for this country's tragic losses in the sneak attack at Pearl Harbor. Theobald claims that they had abundant information of the Japanese plan far in advance, but the president wished to permit the sneak attack as an incident to justify an immediate declaration of all-out war. He chose to let the thousands of men and the millions of dollars worth of ships, planes and other property remain as sitting ducks for the expected attack. The result of his decision is that 3,303 men died, 1,272 were wounded, 5 ships were destroyed, 13 were damaged, and 177 planes were lost in addition to all the damage to base installations.

One can hardly help wondering what would have happened the next day if the nation had heard the complete Pearl Harbor story as related by Theobald instead of just the part it was intended to hear. Would America have demanded to get into the war or would it have demanded the impeachment of its president, possibly also his punishment for responsibility in wholesale murder? Even today, more than twelve years after the tragedy, what can be the attitude of the thousands of parents, wives, children, relatives and friends who were bereaved by this colossal betrayal?

The charges made by Theobald are, without doubt, as serious as any that have ever been made against another human being. Tyrants of both ancient and modern times have been held accountable for more lives. But the victims were enemies. Never before has any man been accused of dooming thousands of his own loyal men as a sacrifice to his personal whims and ambitions.

The most appalling phase of the incident is that the dramatic betrayal was completely unnecessary, even as a means of attaining the president's purpose. If it was war he wanted the result would still have been the same if Pearl Harbor had been alerted to expect the attack. One can easily imagine the outcome if guns had been loaded and manned and several hundred planes had been ready for battle. We all know that our men would have given a good account of themselves if permitted to mix into a fight. It is even possible that the day would have gone down as a glorious day in our history instead of the very darkest, a day of infamy to our own country as well as Japan.

It has been said before that the great F.D.R., who was idolized in his day as a man to outshine Washington and Lincoln, may yet be recorded in history as the country's worst president of all time. He is the man who engineered the socialistic trends that plunged the nation into debt and deprived citizens of years of savings. He is the man who granted official recognition to the communist regime of Russia and Arrival of most of the main altar with the rest of it due to arrive in a few days, and promised delivery of the pews early next week, practically assures that the Sacred Heart Parish will get to use its new church for Easter services.

A workman accompanied the first shipment of altar parts and started promptly Wednesday morning on the job of assembling it. Several men of the parish are helping him with the work.

The same procedure is to be followed with respect to the pews. Installation will begin as soon as they get here.

Another detail in furnishing the church was completed Tuesday when a group of men moved the organ from the present church to the new church choir loft. That job was done now rather than later in order to avoid the inconvenience of having pews in the way later. A small organ was moved into the present church for the remaining few weeks.

The altar is two-toned, the predominating part being built of heavy slabs of dark green marble. Trimming consists of buff colored marble.

Tigers Face Micks In Season Opener

Father Christopher Paladino's Sacred Heart Tigers will open their 1954 Southwest Academic League baseball schedule here Friday of next week with the Laneri Micks as opponents.

An earlier report that the season would open on April 6 failed to materialize. When Father Christopher received his copy of the schedule Wednesday he discovered that the Tigers drew a bye for the opening date. He also learned that Buckner is not fielding a baseball team, cutting his schedule from the expected 9 down to 6 conference games.

Participating schools are Sacred Heart, Laneri and Boys Ranch each playing the other two three games. Highest ranking at the end of that series will play Catholic High of Texarkana two out of three for the district title.

The Tigers also have two non-conference games scheduled, with Saint Mark's of Dallas.

In his schedule Father Christopher found two problems. A conference date with Boys Ranch on May 4 conflicts with his scheduled game at St. Mark's on the same day. Also the schedule does not specify a place for two of the games.

The schedule, until corrected, is as follows:

- April 9, Laneri, here
- April 12, Boys Ranch, here
- April 20, St. Mark's, here
- April 23, Laneri, there
- April 26, Boys Ranch, here
- April 30, Bye
- May 4, St. Mark's, there
- May 4, Boys Ranch, here
- May 7, Laneri

GHS Leopards Beat Tigers In Practice

The Tigers went out of their class for their first baseball game of the season, but they were outclassed only a little in their 7-4 loss to the Gainesville High Leopards Friday afternoon on the local field. In hits and errors the visitors also held the better record with 5 and 2 as compared with the Tigers' 4 and 4.

After a scoreless first inning fireworks started in the second and continued into the third as the Leopards got to Mollenkopf's pitches and opened a slugging barrage. Their five blows in the two frames included a single, two doubles, a triple and a homer for all the 7 runs.

From there on William Walterscheid took over the pitching assignment and held the Leopards scoreless for the rest of the five inning game.

The Tigers snapped back promptly in their half of the second to trim down the margin stacked up by Gainesville. Hess singled and Bayer walked, then Mollenkopf whacked one over the fence for three tallies. In the fourth Gil Knabe hit a homer for the fourth and final Tiger score.

Pat told him that when he got to the Recruit Depot he got into several close up shots of "Battle Cry" being filmed by Warner Brothers studio. Maynard wrote that he (Maynard) was one of eight out of a group of 76 boys passing tests for a naval pilot and that he has a month to decide what to do. "Right now I can't see myself flying through the air in a plane making more than 700 miles an hour," he added.

Members of Cooke Electric Co-op Will Meet Here Tuesday

Members of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association will have their annual general meeting next Tuesday night, April 6, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the public school.

The purpose of the meeting is to present the annual report of officers, directors and committees, to elect two directors, and to consider any other business which is brought before the group.

Two directors are to be elected. This is a departure from the former custom in which all seven directors were elected each year. Now each man has a three year term. To put the new arrangement into effect last year's meeting elected J. A. Klement and J. C. O'Brien for one year, Joe Bengfort and Al Wiesman for two years, and R. M. Felty, T. P. Skinner and Jack Crownover for three years. Klement and O'Brien have been nominated for re-election, however members are free to make additional nominations at the meeting.

The special attraction at the meeting, as usual, is the drawing for some 15 attendance prizes with a total value of more than $400. Only members are eligible to participate in the drawing and the voting.

Because of the large membership, in excess of 3000, the management has adapted a special procedure to save time. Each member has been sent a statement of membership which he signs and presents at the meeting. In return he receives a slip which includes his ticket and stub for the drawing and also his ballot to be used in the election of directors. Members who cannot attend can arrange to be represented by a proxy at the election.

Henry Is Candidate For County Attorney

L. V. Henry, Gainesville attorney, authorized the Enterprise to announce this week that he will be a candidate for County Attorney in this year's Democratic primary election. He will submit his formal statement to county voters at a later date.

Up to now Henry is the only candidate for the County Attorney office. The incumbent, Carrol Sullivant, has announced his intention not to seek re-election. He will devote his full time to private practice.

2 Names on Ticket For City Election

The City of Muenster will go through the formality of a city election next Tuesday, April 6, with John Wieler and George Mollenkopf as the only candidates on the ballot. Both are unopposed... unless a write-in campaign develops... for re-election to their present positions on the council.

The election will be held in the city hall, starting 8 a.m. and closing 7 p.m. I. A. Schoech is the election judge.

Hidden Water Leak Was a Whopper

Repairs on a broken water pipe during the past weekend stopped a leak that has been wasting water for several weeks at a rate of about one third of a million gallons a month.

Water Commissioner Steve Moster said that the break was in a two-inch cast iron line near the J. B. Wilde home and water escaped through rock crevices to the nearby sewer ditch and flowed away along the sewer pipe. Records had showed a leak for several weeks and Moster was on the alert looking for a wet spot on his tours around town, but no water appeared on the surface. Someone heard a hissing noise while walking over the spot and reported it to him.

Hornets Win First Place In District Track-Field Meet

With Joe Noggler turning in a perfect record, Muenster High's Hornets copped the district track and field meet with plenty of points to spare on the NTSC field at Denton last Saturday.

Noggler went the limit to enter in five events and won first place in all... the 100 and 220 dashes, the broad jump and discus throw besides being a member of the winning 440 relay team... to account for 211-4 of the Hornets' 47 total points.

Other team scores were Callisburg 32, Era 26, Valley View 21, Saint Jo 21, and Sanger 7. Other top contenders for individual honors were Thompson of Saint Jo with two firsts and two seconds for 16 points and Lewis of Era with one first, two seconds and two thirds for 15 points.

In the junior division of the high school meet Callisburg led with 25 points, Muenster made 21.5, Era 10.5, Saint Jo 7 and Sanger 3.

In relation to the Interscholastic League Literary and Athletic meet team points were earned on the basis of 30, 15 and 10 in the senior high division of the meet and on the basis of 15, 10, and 5 in the junior high division. That gave Muenster 40 points, Callisburg 30 and Era 15.

Johnny Fisher Bags Rattler at Fort Hood

Cpl. Johnny Fisher of Fort Hood, attached to the First Armored Division, killed a five-foot rattlesnake at the camp last week.

The reptile, which apparently had been around before the military reservation was established, was three inches in diameter and had 13 rattles and a button. Cpl. Fisher dispatched the snake near the area where division headquarters had been set up on a field exercise.

Johnny, a veteran snake killer who has killed 12 rattlers in his 21 years, killed a nine-rattler snake here at Muenster not long ago when he was home on leave.

However, the latest is the largest, he claims.

Tech Predicts Big Season for Herr on 1954 Raider Team

Ronnie Herr, the powerhouse on the 1951 Sacred Heart Tigers grid squad is slated for a big season as a halfback on the Texas Tech team in 1954, according to a recent report from Tech published in the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Ronnie is rated in the publicity release as a worthy successor to Bob Cavazos, who was named on last year's second string All-American football team. Estimates of his prospects on the Red Raider squad are based mostly on his showing in spring training during the past several weeks.

To the general public Herr is an unknown because he was not listed on the Tech lineup any time during the 1953 season, but he is far from unknown to his Raider teammates. He was with the squad for every practice session, but by agreement with the coaches, skipped a season of competition in order to be eligible in his last year of scholastic work . . . he's taking a 4½ or 5 year course . . . and also to have three seasons after Cavazos graduated. He lettered in both football and track during his Freshman year.

While playing with the Tigers Ronnie lettered as a quarterback in his Freshman and Sophomore years and as a halfback in his Senior year. Sacred Heart did not have a football team in his Junior year.

After a very trying day at the office, the husband was enjoying his pipe and reading the evening paper. His wife who was working on a crossword puzzle suddenly called out: "Henry, what is a female sheep?"

"Ewe," replied her husband, and that's how the fight began.

Muenster Presents Mangel to Sisters

The new mangel for the convent laundry was installed last week and was in operation for the first time Saturday. It was bought with money given as free will offerings by local residents in a recent drive for funds for this purpose.

"We are grateful for this addition to our laundry and want to express our sincere thanks to all who helped make the new equipment possible," Sister Carmelita, local superior, said. She added, "We assure each one of you a generous remembrance in our prayers."

Strolling around a mental home, a visitor asked an inmate his name.

"George Washington," was the reply.

"But I seem to remember the last time I was here you were Abraham Lincoln," the visitor said.

"That," explained the man, "was by my first wife."

When anyone asked my grandfather the secret of his fifty years of serene married life, he always told this story:

"Right after our wedding, we started out to my ranch, with Jenny up behind me on the mare. Suddenly the mare stumbled. That's once," I said. After a while she stumbled again. "That's twice," I said. A few miles later on she stumbled the third time. "That's three times," I said, and I put Jenny down on the ground and pulled out my gun and shot the mare dead.

"Jenny got sore because I had killed a perfectly good horse and she read the riot act, real mad.

"I waited until she was completely unwound. Then I said, 'That's once'."

One stork said to the other, "There's a mean streak in you, brother, or you wouldn't leave three at the house where the washing machine is broken down."

"Somehow, neither Republicans nor Democrats ever put in a platform a plank praising the automobile. They should. The auto raised the nation; it made us one people. Before the automobile we were a group of regions and sections, but the auto and good roads have changed that forever."—Senator Dennis Chavez,

WHO CAN GIVE THIS ANSWER?

Just prior to last New Year's Eve, a friend informed his wife that he had invited a few relatives over to see the New Year in. Present for the evening, he said, would be one grandmother, one grandfather, two mothers, two fathers, four children, three grandchildren, one brother, two sisters, two daughters, two sons, one father-in-law, one mother-in-law and one daughter-in-law. These included, of course, our friend and his wife. He couldn't understand it when his wife threw up her hands and said it was impossible to entertain 23 people. He explained that there would be only seven people at the party. And he was right, of course, wasn't he?

You Are, Or You Aren't

Let us suppose that you are asked a simple, direct question—which can be answered with a simple, direct "Yes" or "No."

The question is this: "Are you a Communist?"

If you are not—and if you are a loyal American—your answer would be a resounding "NO!"

But suppose you say, "I refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it might incriminate me. I invoke the Fifth Amendment."

Are you a Red traitor to America, or are you not? It's as simple as that. If you are not, why shouldn't you say so?

By executive order, President Eisenhower has directed that any government employee who invokes the Fifth Amendment before a Congressional investigating committee runs the risk of losing his job. It would seem that Ike wants the Communist question answered by a straight "Yes" or "No."

Don't worry about the job you don't like; someone else will soon have it.

THE "REAL" COST OF MEAT

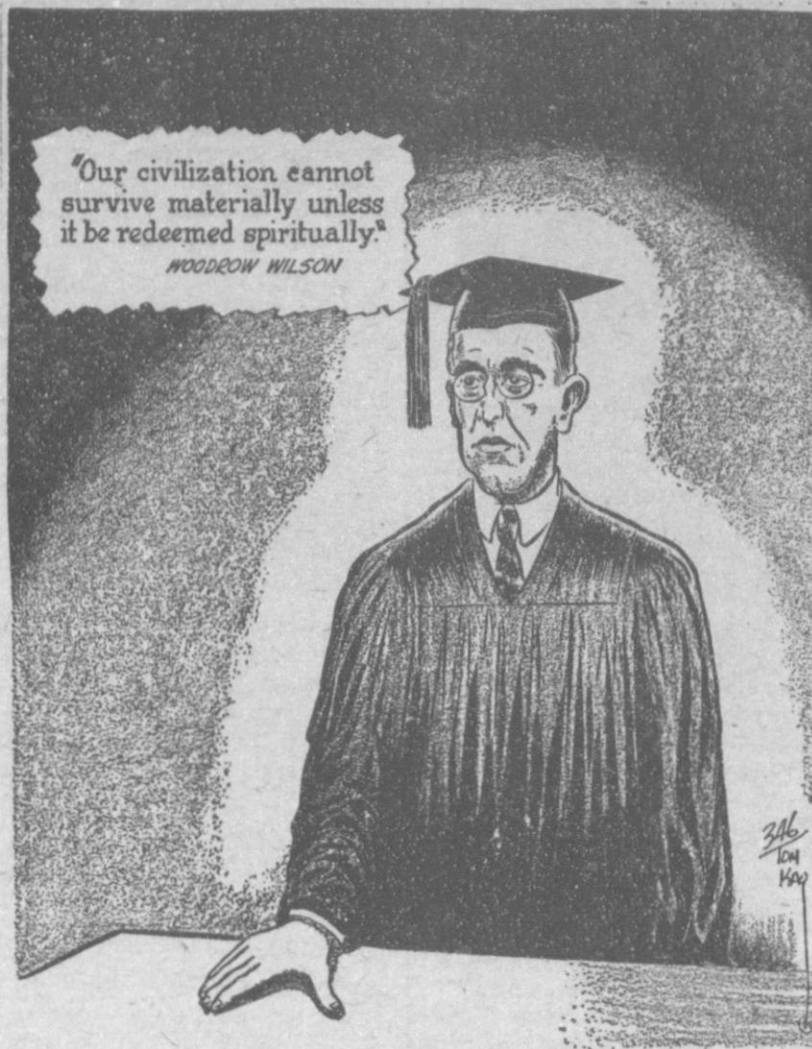

What is the outlook for this country's beef supply? According to an American Meat Institute forecast, based on an analysis of government figures, it is excellent. Even though there were record marketings of cattle during 1953, the cattle herd has continued to increase and plentiful quantities of beef and veal are on the way.

The Institute also made an interesting and important statement concerning prices. The "real" cost of beef—which means the number of minutes required by the average production worker to earn enough money to buy a pound of it—actually hit an all-time low last year. Only 23.6 minutes of work would earn him a pound of beef. During the depths of the depression, on the other hand, it took him 35 minutes. The situation was comparable for "all meat" prices, which are a composite of several cuts of all kinds of meat. What this proves is that quoting mere dollars-and-cents prices is meaningless, unless they are related to purchasing power. It also shows that even though meat prices have risen greatly since depression days, as have all other commodity prices, the typical worker's purchasing power has risen even more.

In the future, as in the past, meat prices will sometimes rise and sometimes fall—the natural law of supply and demand will see to that. But at all times they will be as low as the highly efficient, intensely competitive meat industry can make them.

CONSIDERATION

Before you repeat something that has been told you about another person, consider this: One word may lose a day; one falsely told tale may wreck a life. If you are tempted to reveal a tale told by another, make it pass three gates of gold: Is it true? Is it needful? Is it kind? If it can't pass these three tests, then forget it.

Limber Timber

You may be somewhat comforted, as we were, in knowing that America has an "Invisible Forest" that contributes nearly half as much raw material to our paper mills as do the forests where the axes ring and the saws scream and the crash of falling trees echoes through the columned corridors.

We are indebted to Mr. Stuart B. Sutphin, Jr., president of the Waste Paper Institute, for this information, and for some statistics that make this "Invisible Forest" sound like the fabulous Paul Bunyan's. From a sneak preview of what he will say to executives of the Graphic Arts Trade Association in Cincinnati this month, we learned that the invisible foresters of his industry processed and turned over to the mills eight million tons of waste paper in 1953.

In describing the forest that would be required to produce the equivalent in wood pulp, Mr. Sutphin says: "Let us assume that every industry and plant, every office building and every home in the six New England states were razed to the ground and the entire acreage of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island given over to the growing of timber. Let us further assume that we have waited anywhere from thirty to forty years for New England to become one massive forest. Then and then only, would the timber from this New England forest equal the amount of timber saved last year by the reconversion of waste-paper!"

Mr. Sutphin refers to Paul Bunyan and his blue ox, Babe, reminding us that they used to "cut down whole forests in a day", but he adds, today the waste-paper dealers, backed by the printers, newspapers and other sources of supply, "save America whole forests every day of the year." Which is probably a very good thing for all of us. Otherwise, we couldn't afford to buy paper to write on. And, to chisel out our remarks in stone, as our remote ancestors did, would be a nuisance and confusing too.

Especially when you consider how bad some people's handwriting is!

A man should keep both feet on the ground—but that doesn't mean he shouldn't move 'em around to get some place.

SHOPPING IN WARSAW

On occasion do you still feel aggrieved at the prices you must pay for foods and other commodities in our American retail stores?

If so, it would pay you to take a trip, in your imagination, to Warsaw and do some shopping under the communist system.

In Warsaw, as everywhere behind the Iron Curtain, the stores are run by the government, and so are non-competitive in any true sense of the word. According to the "Business Around the World" column of U. S. News & World Report, beef costs from $3 to $5 a pound in terms of U. S. money. Horse meat is $1.50 a pound and coffee $50! That last figure is particularly interesting in the light of the fact that there was a national uproar when the national drink passed $1 a pound here.

In the manufactured goods field, the situation is equally startling. Men's shoes are priced at $231.25 a pair, a girl's sweater at $187 and bathing trunks retail at $85. One wonders what, if anything the Polish swimmers wear. In any event, this is a pretty typical example of what inevitably happens when competitive free enterprise is outlawed and the state takes over.

How can an American think totalitarianism is the way to the more abundant life?

If we should repeal all the regulatory laws on our statute books and enforce only the Ten Commandments, in ten years we would become the most law-abiding nation on earth.—James R. Page.

Why Did Jesus Christ Die?

By Ellwood E. Kieser

THIS MAN WAS BORN to die. He worked miracles, healed the sick and preached God's kingdom. But these were only secondary works. He was first born to die.

But two questions come into our minds. Who is this man? Why must He die?

This man is Jesus Christ. He is human like us, but more than human. He is also divine. Jesus Christ is the God-man, the second Person of the Blessed Trinity.

WHY DID HE DIE? To answer that question, we must turn back the pages of history to the very beginning, when Adam and Eve broke a bargain with God. They refused to do their share. They told God they wanted to be independent. God respected their request.

What was the result? Adam and Eve were stricken with that misery and unhappiness which always follows separation from God. They realized their mistake. But the harm was done. God had been offended. Justice required that He be repaid.

THIS WAS AN INFINITE insult. And only an infinite person could repair it. That is why God became man and died on the Cross. Christ is an infinite person. And He loved us so much that He offered the infinite sacrifice—His own life—that we might be freed from our sins.

Listen to what He says of Himself: "The Son of Man has not come to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

NO ONE CAN FULLY understand what this means. The Creator of the universe is nailed to a Cross by the very men He created. Love itself is made the object of hatred and insult. The all-powerful God allows His human body to be drained of its precious blood.

There is only one explanation for such sacrifice and heroism. Christ loves us all with the depth and power of God's love. "Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends."

BUT WHAT DOES Christ's death mean to you and me? It means that our sins can be forgiven. It means that we can once again enjoy the friendship of God. It means that peace and happiness are once again within our reach.

But to reap these benefits, we must apply Christ's sacrifice to our souls. We do this by faith in Christ's divinity, by a love which unites us to the Crucified Christ, by a deep sorrow for our personal sins, and by receiving His sacraments. If we do these things, Christ will not have died in vain. His death will have saved our lives.

Soil Conservation Notes

When the rains come co-operators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district will be ready.

Many landowners in the Muenster area have planted deep rooted legumes and grasses to hold top soil at home and get more rainfall into the soil. The top growth of grasses and legumes act as a cushion for falling rain and slow down runoff water. The deep roots open up dense plow soles, add organic matter to the soil and see that more water can be taken into the soil for future plant use.

Some of the co-operators who have planted sweet clover for soil improvement and protection include J. W. Fleitman with 35 acres planted to Madrid sweet clover; Walter Klement with ten acres of Madrid; Buddy Reiter, 30 acres of this biennial clover, and C. A. Morris of Hood with 200 acres of Madrid.

Joe Starke of Muenster has seeded 100 acres of his farm to Hubam sweet clover. Hubam is a one-year fast growing sweet clover used widely as a soil building legume in short rotations.

Ed Eberhart plans to sow ten acres of Biennial White sweet clover on the farm he operates for Mrs. Joe Fleitman and Tony Fuhrman has planted seven acres of his farm to this clover. Biennial White is a 2-year blossomed clover used widely in this area for soil improvement and grazing. Tony Walterscheid and Tony Wimmer have sweet clover plantings up to a good stand.

Fred Williams of Forestburg has just completed sowing 15 acres of King Ranch Bluestem grass on land that was recently cleared of brush. This erosion resistant grass will hold the soil and provide excellent grazing. Brush sprouts will be controlled by mowing and spraying. Vetch will be seeded in the grass next fall to give extra grazing and add nitrogen to the soil to promote better grass growth.

In the earth moving department of conservation Roy Atteberry has completed a diversion terrace that keeps hill water from running across his cultivated fields. The terraces also cut water out of gullies that were eating back into pasture land.

Roy Davis has finished building an earthen tank for livestock water on his farm at Leo. Alfons Koesler has also built a tank on his farm one mile northeast of Muenster.

So, all in all, co-operators of the Soil Conservation district are ready and can take care of a good rain at this time.

TIRED OF DIGGING HOLES FOR FENCE POSTS?

Here's an easy way to get out of that work . . . to stop spending all that money. For fence repairs, make replacements with Koppers Pressure-Creosoted Posts — the posts that last for 30 years! Soon, you'll have a 100% pressure-creosoted post fence. Naturally, for new fencing, it pays to set only Koppers Posts, and forget about making replacements.

Koppers Posts, pressure-treated with creosote, are protected against termites and decay. They keep original size and strength at ground line; therefore, smaller treated posts can replace larger untreated posts. There are many other advantages. See us for fence posts.

Dairy Problems Will Arrive With Warmer Weather

COLLEGE STATION — Warm weather brings new problems to dairymen.

Higher bacteria counts in milk are sure to show up unless strict milking and sanitation practices are followed, says R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman.

Producers should make sure their cooling facilities are in top condition for rapid cooling.

Flies become more abundant with warm weather and should be controlled with approved insecticides, Burleson says. Eliminate all breeding places and remove all manures from the milking area, he adds.

The bothersome hornflies are readily controlled with sprays or washes containing five-tenths per cent methoxychlor. Such applications, he says, are usually effective for two to four weeks and, in most areas, two or three treatments in the Spring and one in the Fall will give ample control.

The entrances and interiors of barns may be sprayed with a mixture of two and one-half per cent DDT and two per cent chlordane as a means of controlling house flies.

Wash the walls of milking sheds occasionally before putting on the spray application. That's a good sanitation measure, too, he says.

Finally, it's time to plant sudangrass or a sudan-cowpea mixture for summer grazing. Plant at least one acre per cow and use plenty of fertilizers. July pastures depend upon action taken in April or May.

When Cardinal Spellman last visited Los Angeles, a 6-year-old girl was among those who met him. He smiled at her benignly and said, "God bless you."

Puzzled, she looked around, then demanded, "Who sneezed?"

In Pueblo, Colorado, there is one young boy at least who went "all out" for the March of Dimes.

After a heavy snowstorm, the people on one block in his town awoke to find that their sidewalks had been neatly cleaned off. Attached to the door of each home was a note written in a boyish scrawl. It read:

"Please donate the 50 cents or the dollar this job would have cost you to the March of Dimes."

The following is told about a woman who divorced her husband and obtained custody of their 12-year old son. When she remarried after a year or so, her ex-husband, being somewhat concerned about the boy, asked him the first chance he got, "How do you get along with your step-father?"

"Fine," said the youngster. "He takes me swimming every morning. We go out to the lake, and he rows me out to the middle, and then I swim back in."

"Isn't that a pretty long swim for a boy your age?" asked the father.

"Not too bad. Really, the only tough part of it is getting out of the sack he puts me in."

Immunize for Best Control of Disease

"Immunization is superior to all other means of communicable disease control because immunity becomes part of oneself and is always there as a defense against certain diseases."

This is the statement of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who adds: "Immunization is the best and most effective means of protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, whooping cough and typhoid fever." According to Dr. Cox the ages that are best for immunization of children are: for diphtheria and tetanus, 9 to 12 months; Schick test, 6 months later, re-immunize if immunity has not been established; smallpox, 6 to 12 months. Tetanus or lockjaw is not common; however, when it does occur it is usually fatal. The tetanus germ gets into cuts, scratches, abrasions and particularly deep wounds, so that it has always been an important problem of public health as well as military medicine.

Other ways to fight disease are through good sanitation measures. The provision of safe water supplies, the pasteurization of milk, the supervision of food and other precautions have in many communities reduced typhoid fever to a minimum. Isolation and quarantine have their place and are extremely valuable, but none of them has the quality of immunity, of being a part of oneself, and consequently always available.

NOTED IN PASSING

According to the New Mexico Miner, an Albuquerque lawyer was paying his very efficient secretary $170 a month. Albuquerque, not unlike the rest of the country, hadn't enough good secretaries to supply the demand, so in order to keep his girl the lawyer raised her to $225 a month. At this point the Wage Stabilization Board stepped in and told the lawyer he could not raise her above $190 a month, so he reduced the salary accordingly. Shortly thereafter the secretary went to work for the Stabilization Board for $250 a month.

There is dew in one flower and not in another, because one opens its cup and takes it in, while the other closes itself, and the dew-drops run off. God rains his goodness and mercy as widespread as the dew, and if we lack them, perhaps it is because we will not open our hearts to receive them.

LIFE AS A SENATOR—One of the most controversial figures in the government today, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, shakes hands with his police motorcycle escort as he returns to a Chicago hotel after a speaking engagement in that city. A recent anonymous threat against the senator has caused police to take extra security measures wherever he goes.

GET ON THE BALL

A Golfing beginner, taking a terrific cut at the ball, missed it entirely but annihilated a nearby anthill. An ant on a neighboring hill calmly observed "Pretty tough on those folks over there isn't it?"

Again the golfer took a tremendous swing. Again he demolished an anthill, strewing innocent ants over the fairway. This time the observant ant became quite excited. "Look fellows," he said, "This is getting too close to home. Let's get on the ball."

Many of us think we are over-worked because it takes us all day to do a three-hour job.

Only forty years have passed since February 1, 1914, when the first Red Cross Water Safety courses were introduced to the world by the "amiable whale," the late Commodore Wilbert E. Longfellow (on running board). And, though styles in bathing attire have changed drastically in that time, the principles of water safety which the Red Cross has taught to 9,300,000 persons have remained constant. Waterproofing America has paid big dividends; since 1914 the drowning rate per 100,000 population has been cut in half. Water Safety is one of the many Red Cross services you support by your contributions to the annual Red Cross Campaign in March.

Would we be patient about a plague of typhus in our milk? Allowing Communists to teach in our schools is like allowing typhus germs in our milk. Numbers don't count. Even a few are too many. Partial Relief for '54 Grain Storage Problem in Sight

Prospects for possible relief in Cooke County's 1954 wheat storage problem appeared to be in sight Monday as a group of Farm Bureau members meeting with the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce was told that the Fant Milling Company of Sherman expects to have about 270,000 bushels of available space in its Gainesville elevator.

Fred Honea, vice president of the company, said the elevator has a capacity of 550,000. The government is now using 180,000 bushels of that space and the company intends to reserve 100,000 bushels of space for itself.

More storage space which may possibly be available to the county is a new 150,000 bushel elevator built by Kimbell Milling Co. at Sanger. C of C President Leo Kuehn read a letter from Kimbell stating that the elevator may help to relieve the county storage problem.

H. B. Newberry, county ASC office manager stated that the possible space in sight still will not hold the county's average crop. There are 30,000 acres in wheat and if the yield is 10.6, the average during the past ten years, the crop will be about a third of a million bushels.

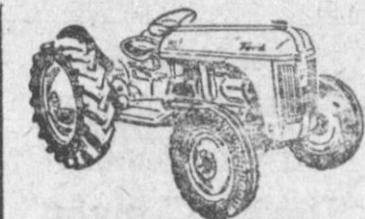

He also cautioned farmers to look into the problem before asking for on-the-farm storage. He said that farm facilities usually are not adequate because of the extreme care required in storing wheat.

In 1953, each man, woman and child in the U. S. ate an average of 35 pounds of poultry—75% above prewar average.

We lost that real good special last week—that '48 overhauled Ford for $595.00—a man came in to buy it and in spite of everything we could do he made us sell him that tractor at that real cheap price and on top of that he had us throwing in a seat cushion before we knew it—boy! he was really a trader.

Lets see now—we've still got this old '42 model Ford that has had the block sewed up. But now that's really a pretty good old tractor—has the new cast iron sleeves. Overhauled and painted of course.

The devil was always challenging St. Peter to a game of baseball, but St. Peter never took him up. Finally, the Dodgers, the Giants and the Yanks all went to heaven. So naturally St. Peter called up the devil.

"Now I'll play you that game of baseball," he said.

"You'll lose," said the devil, "You'll lose."

"Oh yeah?" replied St. Peter. "Right now I've got the greatest collection of baseball players you ever saw."

"You'll lose," said the devil. "You'll lose!"

"What makes you so sure we'll lose?"

"Because," laughed the devil, "we got all the umpires down here."

ORIGINAL SKIT GIVEN AT LINDSAY CLUB MEET

Enactment of an original skit based on the Hail Mary was a feature of the regular meeting of the General Business Club of St. Peter's school on Friday. Alcuin Paul Kubis and Melvin Kuhn prepared the sketch.

A panel discussion on vocations was led by Mary Jane Block and a round table discussion on improvement of conduct and keeping up Marian Year practices followed.

Members answered roll call by naming a state and its capital. Junior and senior class students and those from the third through the eighth grades were guests for the meeting.

Adjournment followed the group singing of Happy Birthday for Irene Block and Melvin Kuhn who were observing birthdays.

The priest at the microphone is Father Joaquin Salcedo whose broadcasts teach some 12,000 Colombian peasants how to read, write, and to improve their daily lives. To many of his avid listeners in remote receiving centers, his voice brings the first formal education they have ever known. Father Salcedo's idea has caught the interest of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (Unesco). Experts from the agency will join forces with him to expand the program and plan for an international center of education by radio in Colombia.

surrounded himself with reds, allowing many to worm their way into the government. He is the man who chose to assist Stalin in the war even though it was obvious at the time that the world would be better off if Germany and Russia had been allowed to fight to complete exhaustion so that either or both could be managed by the civilized world. He is the man responsible for the fiascos of Tehran and Yalta. And now we are told that he tricked us into the war through the infamy of Pearl Harbor.

Of course, one can never know the answers that might have been, but its easy to imagine that things might have been better if F.D.R. had not provoked and allowed the Pearl Harbor surprise. Doubtless we'd have become involved in the war anyway, but it could have been shorter with less cost in lives and money. Besides, with less abundant and less timely aid from us, Russia could have remained less of a world menace.

"Now," she said, "what is a number of camels called?" A nine-year-old ad reader had a quick answer: "A carton."
