MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

AUGUST 5, 1955

NUMBER 37

September 1 Set As Opening Date At Both Schools

If it weren't so tragic and exasperating it might be amusing the way so many of the wishful thinkers among the world's big shots become enthusiastic over the slightest pretense of friendship or humanitarianism by the communists.

This week the Chinese Reds dramatically announced that they were allowing the much discussed eleven American airmen to return home. They made a big propaganda project of it, endeavoring to convince the world that this sudden generous gesture sprang from the kindness of their hearts.

And Westerners, obligingly, welcomed the incident just as the Reds wanted them to. Statesmen, commentators and reporters promptly pointed to it as a sign that the communists were really trying to get along. Here was an indication of their sincere effort to come to reasonable agreements in that second Geneva conference. What rubbish!

Judging from the general world attitude a person wonders whether all those seemingly optimistic people are kidding themselves or trying to kid others. Surely they must remember that Reds have never been known to do what is right, only what best serves their purpose. Weeks ago some of our own news analysts predicted that something sensational would happen. Last year the Reds increased pressure in the Viet Nam conquest to convince another conference that they were truly formidable. This year their approach is different. They are using friendliness as a means of gaining concessions. So they allowed three turncoats, who changed back to sanity, to return home, and followed with the grand gesture of releasing eleven hostages.

For a moment let's consider the merit in that dramatic act. Those of us who haven't had our minds too much fogged by propaganda recall that the eleven men were held in violation of the Korean peace treaty. Instead of praising their release at this time we still have every right to condemn their unjust imprisonment until now. The Reds deserve no credit whatsoever for their action, only blame for not doing it before. Why this rash of enthusiasm? Have we reached the point at which we no longer resist mistreatment and must break out in craven gratitude every time the scoundrels relax their mistreatment? This is too much like the milquetoast who endures a bully and is so grateful when said bully quits picking on him.

But getting back to the significance of the Reds' apparent kind heartedness... does it really mean that they are trying to get along? Reports from Geneva reveal now that they will consider releasing more hostages if this country will send them a few hundred Chinese Nationalists now in this country. In plain words we can ransom our men by surrendering other free men to red torture. The proposition is an insult to anyone of principle but we don't treat it as such. We just stick around hoping that somehow we can work out an honorable deal, and knowing all along that the double crossers will have no respect for an agreement when they make one, unless it happens to serve their purpose.

And while we dilly dally, hoping for the impossible, the Reds continue their aggression and subversion under our noses. They are taking over Indonesia, Indo China and Malaya. They continue to bombard Nationalist offshore islands. They agitate troubles in North Africa. They tighten their grip in Europe. They continue expansion, destroying freedom wherever they can while talking about peace and co-existence.

What will be the final outcome? Will we call a halt before the red menace gets out of control? Or will we continue to abandon free people and eventually lose our own freedom?

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Denny and children of San Antonio arrived Wednesday night for a vacation visit with her parents and family, the Ben Lukes.

Mrs. Sid Huchton and sons left Friday to visit Mr. Huchton in Roscoe until school starts.

Muenster schools will open on Thursday, Sept. 1, according to a joint announcement made this week by Father Christopher Paladino and Superintendent Homsley.

The intention at both schools is to finish the preliminaries such as registrations, assignment of textbooks, and arrangement of schedules the last two days of the week and be ready to settle down to regular school routine on Monday. Neither school will observe Labor Day as a holiday.

As during the past scholastic year, the schools are cooperating closely for the mutual benefit of both. Class schedules are arranged so that a student of either school can take a special subject at the other. For instance bookkeeping class will be in Sacred Heart High and band class will be in Muenster High. The plan in general is to make courses in either school available to all the students of both schools.

The cooperative plan applies again to bus transportation, both schools contracting with the local bus company which was established last year to serve all children regardless of the school they attend.

The system was highly satisfactory in its first year of operation. By eliminating duplication of routes the busses reduced their total mileage by at least one-third, with corresponding savings in operation and depreciation besides shorter rides for the children.

The teaching staff at the parochial school has not been revealed up to this time. Father Christopher said Tuesday that Benedictine Convent of Jonesboro, Ark., which provides teachers for the parochial school, has not announced its assignments for the coming year.

At the public school Superintendent Homsley announces that an English teacher is needed to complete the faculty. Teachers (Continued on Page 10)

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Herbert McDaniel received a chest injury in an oil field accident Wednesday morning while he was working on a cleanout machine on the Hess lease. He was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium until Thursday when he was released after x-rays failed to find broken bones.

Joe Carroll McElreath underwent a tonsillectomy at Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday.

Miss Verna Lee Bridges, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bridges of Myra, had her tonsils removed at the Muenster Clinic Monday.

Ann Huchton is recovering normally at home from virus pneumonia that confined her to Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment. She was dismissed from the hospital last Friday.

C. F. Gobble is still a patient at Veterans Hospital in McKinney where he is undergoing x-rays and tests along with treatment. Mrs. Gobble and their son Larry and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher were in McKinney to visit him Sunday. They said his condition is about the same but that doctors hope to have a complete diagnosis of his trouble this week. Then they'll begin special treatments.

Muenster Mentioned In Jumble Contest

For what it's worth, Muenster got a mention in the "Tangle Towns" contest, jumbled names of Texas towns, which has been running recently in the Dallas News. It was included in a list of 20 puzzles published July 26 as a finale to the big prize affair.

At least two Dallas contestants have called here since that date to check their solution against the clue given with the puzzle: "This was named for a city in Germany. It was founded in 1889. A beautiful church of Gothic design is here."

KING-SIZE CHECK FOR TEXAS SCHOOLS — Attorney General John Ben Sheppard (right) presented a check for 1½ million dollars won by the State in a recent decision in the Texas Company case to Land Commissioner Earl Rudder (left). The money goes to the Permanent School Fund. Sheppard estimated that this court victory will ultimately mean an additional 9 million dollars in revenue for the school children of Texas.

Fence, Bath House Must Be Completed For Pool Opening

Hopes to the effect that the swimming pool can be opened in a week or two were deflated Tuesday night when the city council declared that they will not fill the pool until they have it completely closed in. Members said there is too much danger of drowning unless the place can be locked when not officially open.

In effect that means that there will be no swimming until the bath house is built, at least until the frame work is finished. According to the plan the bath house is part of the enclosure. The fence attaches to it at two sides, does not go completely around the pool.

Under the circumstances the pool is not likely to be used this year. There will be little if any of the swimming season left by the time fence and bath house are finished. Completed up to this time are the main pool, wading pool, sidewalks, ladders and diving boards.

Bombers Lose Four Straight to Chicks In Play-off Final

The rabbit's foot which served the B-29 Bombers through a sensational softball season of 18-1 plus three more wins in play off preliminaries, apparently gave out its last charm just before the play off finals.

Bomber performance was as poor in that series as it had been good before, and the boys went down with a count of 1 win and 4 losses. At that, the one win was not earned. Muenster got it on a forfeit after the ump got his fill of static from the Bezner Chicks.

The big reason for the final fizzle was an epidemic of fumbleitis in the team. The boys broke out with a rash of errors in the Chick series after playing three flawless games with VFW.

Following the forfeit in their favor and a 3-1 loss earlier last week the Bombers started their Thursday night game with the series tied at 1 each.

The Chicks took that contest with 3 un-earned runs. In the second an error followed by a sacrifice and a steal produced 1 and in the next inning two hits followed by an error brought in 2 more. The final count was 3-0. Bomber hitters were Mages, Melvin Herr and Coffman. The pitching record was Coffman: 3 hits, 0 walks and 4 strikeouts, Mosman: 3 hits, 3 walks and 7 strikeouts.

The next game was different as the Chicks earned all but one run, especially in the fifth when (Continued on Page 10)

Permanent Markers For Graves Is Next Cemetery Project

Placing permanent markers on all children's graves of the Sacred Heart cemetery is a new project announced this week by the cemetery committee of the Garden Club. The intention is to have the markers in place before the Catholic State League convention here at the end of this month.

Explaining the club's plan, Mrs. Tony Gremminger appealed to all the people concerned to help with the marking and identification of their family graves. She said that aluminum painted metal crosses are available at $2.00 each as permanent replacements for the original wooden crosses, some of which have disappeared long ago and others are badly deteriorated. In many cases graves cannot be identified without the help of family members.

Those who will cooperate are asked to report within the next two weeks. Starting on August 22 the club will begin placing the crosses on graves of children whose families are known to have moved away. It hopes that in the meantime local people will have marked and identified the graves of their kin.

Crosses to be used were made by A. A. Otto and J. P. Flusche. They are strong and durable and can be used as permanent markers if desired. They can also serve as temporary markers for those who wish to install a stone marker later.

Boring Equipment Simplifies Toughest Job on Sewer Line

One of the toughest jobs in the city's sewer extension project was completed with ease and speed Wednesday when City Manager Steve Mosier turned the work over to experts.

The job was tunneling under the Katy Railroad's roadbed and installing the pipe 12 feet below the track level.

With their special boring equipment the Road Boring and Tunneling Co. of Dallas cut a 14 inch tunnel 51 feet long after which the sewer installation crew pulled 60 feet of 8 inch cast iron pipe into place with a truck winch.

The boring crew did its job in two trips. First it drilled a 2 inch hole then followed with a tool that cut a 14 inch hole. Ahead of the larger bore tool was a length of pipe about three feet long which followed the smaller tunnel and kept the larger tool on course. The first operation, incidentally came out to the side of its mark by about 12 inches. The grade was perfect, however, assuring a tunnel that could be used without a bit of correction.

The outfit operates on the same principle as an oil drilling rig, except that it drills horizontally and is powered by compressed air. Drill stems two inches in diameter and six feet long are used both for original drilling and enlarging. It also uses water to make a soft mud of the dirt that is drilled out.

But it has an altogether different way of removing dirt from the hole. At intervals the water is disconnected and compressed air is blown through the drill stem. The pressure forces out about half the mud.

When the drilling is finished a cable is attached to the drill stem and pulled through as the (Continued on Page 10)

Nocona Will Open New Pool Saturday

Weldon Cowan, former superintendent of the Muenster Public School, has extended a general invitation to his Muenster friends for the formal opening and dedication of Nocona's new swimming pool Saturday night. Cowan is president of the Nocona Lions Club, which is in charge of the evening's program.

Featured events for the opening are a contest for the title of aquatic queen, an exhibition of diving and swimming by Wichita Falls YMCA members, an address by Dr. D. L. Ligon of Midwestern University, and a water safety talk by Jack Harris, superintendent of the Nocona pool.

Mrs. Mary Knauf, Muenster Pioneer, Claimed by Death

Mrs. Mary Knauf, member of a pioneer family that settled in Cooke County before Muenster was colonized, died Monday morning after several years of declining health. She was 85.

Funeral services with requiem high mass were held Wednesday at 9 a.m. in Sacred Heart church with Rev. Louis Deuster officiating. Burial in Sacred Heart cemetery was directed by Miller Funeral Home.

Rosary services were held at the funeral home Monday and Tuesday nights at 8:30 and Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 and 5 o'clock by St. Anne's Society and the Third Order of St. Francis of which she was a member.

Bearers were grandsons: Cyril, Gene, Gerald and Emmett Walterscheid, Alvin Knauf and Clifford Swirczynski.

Mrs. Knauf had lived with her son Joe Knauf and family for about a year. As the former Miss Mary Pulte she came to Cooke County 80 years ago with her parents, John August and Caroline Pulte from Michigan. Before Muenster was founded the family lived southwest of Gainesville. John August Pulte encouraged the early settlers to move to Muenster and worked with the Flusche brothers, original founders, in the colonizing of the community.

Mrs. Knauf and her husband, John Knauf, farmed until his death in May 1924. She was born Nov. 25, 1869, at Alpine, Mich., and married Mr. Knauf here Jan. 10, 1893.

Surviving her are four sons, Charles Knauf of Bahdera, Alex Knauf of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Joe and Edward Knauf of Muenster; three daughters, Mmes. Tony Walterscheid and Herman Swirczynski of Muenster, and Sister Agatha of Jonesboro, Ark.; five brothers, Joe, Charlie, Matt, Walter and Alex Pulte, all of Gainesville; 31 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

1 Year Limit Set For "Temporary" Buildings in City

The days are numbered for temporary buildings in Muenster's business area.

Members of the city council in their regular session Tuesday night decided that buildings moved to or constructed on locations within the area requiring fireproof masonry construction shall be allowed to remain for no more than one year.

The purpose, according to the council, is to end a practice which, in effect, has circumvented application of the city's building code. Some of the local "temporary" buildings have been on location for as long as ten years.

The occasion which brought on the decision is the moving of two buildings to clear space for the new Charm Shop and Variety Store buildings. According to past custom those old buildings might be left on location for years, offsetting the appearance of new buildings as well as penalizing insurance rates of the area. It is intended that an old building be removed as soon as the replacing permanent building is finished, and the period of one year was set as a reasonable deadline.

The council also declared that the new regulation will apply to all the other "temporary" buildings in the zone. All are to be removed within a year if they were built or moved in since the more rigid building code was adopted.

Charm Shop Moves, Awaits New Home

There's a different, though not a new, look on the main drag since Wednesday morning when the Charm Shop, including wares and personnel, took a ride to its new location.

It's set up for business now on the vacant lot north of Tuggle and Yosten Garage awaiting completion of its new home at the former location.

How to Live to 120

Most of us no doubt have, at one time or another, been subjected to doses of vitamin pills.

Some people believe in them. Some people discredit them. Some people laugh at them.

But there may be something to them.

We never had thought of vitamin pills in this light until we came across this recent story.

A country weekly editor in a remote North Carolina community called at the home of Uncle John Reynolds, the county's oldest resident, to interview him on the occasion of his 102nd birthday.

He asked the usual question: "To what do you attribute your great age?"

"It's very simple," said Uncle John. "I've been taking vitamin pills since I was 99." —Gaston (N. C.) Gazette.

Who's a Capitalist?

There are millions of them in America, for a capitalist is . . .

. . . every man and woman who has a savings account, a life insurance policy, or a share of stock . . .

. . . the families that are seeking to set aside something for their old age, the people who are looking beyond the mere desire for a shorter work week to the hope of providing a shorter working life for themselves, a better future for their children. . .

. . . the millions of people, in a word, who deny themselves the luxuries of today in order to provide the necessities of tomorrow.

THE STORY OF GRUMBLE TONE

There was a boy named Grumble Tone, who ran away to sea, "I'm sick of things on land," he said, "as sick as I can be. A life upon the bounding wave is just the life for me!"

But the seething ocean billows failed to stimulate his mirth, for he did not like the vessel or the dizzy, rolling berth, and he thought the sea was almost as unpleasant as the earth.

He wandered into foreign lands, he saw each wondrous sight, but nothing that he saw or heard seemed just exactly right. And so he journeyed on and on, still seeking for delight.

He talked with kings and ladies grand; he dined in courts, they say; but always found the people dull, and longed to get away to search for the mysterious land where he would want to stay.

He wandered over all the world, his hair grew white as snow. He reached that final bourne at last, where all of us must go, but never found the land he sought. The reason, would you know?

The reason was that north or south, where'er his steps were bent, on land or sea, in court or hall, he found but discontent. For he took his disposition with him everywhere he went. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

LOOKING AHEAD
 by Dr. George S. Benson
 DIRECTOR — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
 Searcy, Arkansas

CALLING ALL TAXPAYERS

If the Hoover Commission's specific recommendations for saving money were to be adopted tomorrow the Federal government's budget could be balanced, the towering $280 billion national debt could be reduced, and taxes could be trimmed substantially. And the action would be the healthiest thing that has happened to the American economy in a long, long time. It would strengthen the foundation of our prosperity at home and strengthen our hand in international affairs.

There are 350 specific recommendations in the Hoover Commission final report which former President Herbert Hoover formally presented to the Congress and the President on June 30. One hundred and forty-five of the recommendations could be adopted tomorrow without legislative or presidential action. The heads of the government agencies and departments have all the necessary authority to put them into force. Only about 166 of the recommendations would require legislation. A number of bills covering these already have been introduced.

Up To Citizens

A grass-roots demand for the adoption of the Hoover Commission recommendations is necessary if the department heads are to be moved to action and if Congress is to act favorably on the legislation which will be forthcoming. Therefore every taxpayer ought to adequately inform himself on the Hoover Commission findings and recommendations. Information can be obtained from the Senate Committee on Government Operations which is headed by Senator John L. McClellan or Arkansas. The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report was set up with a view of stimulating and directing grass-roots action on the recommendations. Its headquarters is in Washington.

The studies and recommendations were made by 20 Task Forces of from six to thirty men, each with research and clerical staffs. The Task Forces comprised more than 350 professional men and executives, most of whom had had previous experience in government activities. They were from both political parties.

Lists Savings

In his final formal report to the nation, Chairman Hoover noted that the various Task Forces had reported that the following savings were possible (annually!) if Task Forces recommendations were adopted: Budget and Accounting activities, $4 billion; Depot Utilization, $253 million; Federal Medical Services, $290 million; Lending, Guaranteeing and Insurance activities, $200 million; Overseas Economic Operations, $360 million; Paperwork management, $288 million; Personnel and Civil Service, $48 million; Real Property management, $185 million; Special Personnel Problems (Department of Defense), $388 million; Subsistence (food and clothing), $400 million; Transportation, $151 million; and Use and Disposal of Federal Surplus Property, $2 billion. Seven of the Task Forces did not make estimates of possible savings.

Mr. Hoover emphasized that adding up these sums would produce a misleading figure as some of the estimates are partially overlapping. "In any event," he said, "with all such discounts, there are enough possible savings left to enable the balancing of the budget and reduction of taxes, — without impairing services."

In The Pocketbook

Another source of substantial savings dealt with by the Commission was the Federal enterprises now producing goods and services in competition with private enterprises. "The Task Forces," said Mr. Hoover, "roughly estimate proceeds (from the sale of the real estate alone in enterprises which should be closed down) at $10 billion — to be returned over a number of years."

"Altogether," he said, "a strong drive to recover investment, unnecessary liabilities, liquidations, and the realization of property assets should expedite benefits to the Treasury of about $15 billion." It is the feeling of the Commission that this huge investment of tax money could be recovered and the efficiency and effectiveness of government improved thereby! Fifteen billion dollars in tax money means $300 to each of our nation's 50 million families. And that's just one item in the Hoover Commission's recommendations. Our pocket books have a big stake in what happens now with these recommendations.

You Can't Love The Cosmos

By Rev. John A. O'Brien, University of Notre Dame

TWO BOYS were passing a crucifix in a church grotto. "Who is that man hanging on that cross?" asked the younger boy. "Oh, that's some Jew the Communists killed in their big purge," replied the other.

There is a picture of young America today; they know more about Space Patrol and Davy Crockett than they do about God and Jesus Christ, their Divine Redeemer.

WE HEAR MUCH about a return to God today. But is this a return to a Person whom we must serve and adore? Unfortunately, for some people God is just the man in the sky who makes things come out right in the end. For others God is just some vague impersonal force like the Cosmos, or Nature, or the Transcendental Other.

But a man can't love a God like that, nor can he worship and honor Him as his personal Creator and Redeemer. With such a concept of God, religion can be only an ethical uplift of social and humanitarian values. In such a religion the stress is on what you can do for men instead of for God. It never tells you what God wants and orders you to do for Him.

ONE MAN who calls himself a theologian defined God as "that interaction between individuals

... a total system of patterns." What kind of religion will this nonsense produce? A man can admire a sky splashed with the colors of the setting sun; he can be awestruck by the Grand Canyon. He can love and worship only a personal God.

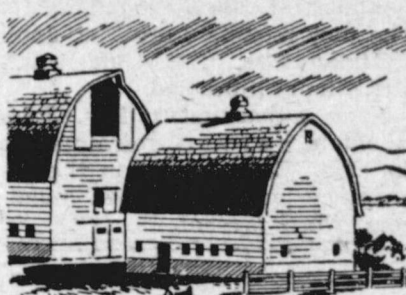

Few people call themselves atheists. Frank Sheed, the noted author and publisher, has said, "The modern world does not deny the existence of God. The trouble is that many people just don't know what God is!"

GOD IS the all-powerful Creator of the universe. He is our Heavenly Father, into whose arms we are destined to return. God dwells within our beating hearts. In Him we live and move and have our being. He orders us to do penance for our sins and to live holy lives. Some day He will judge all mankind: He will reward good men and punish the evil.

Without God morality is meaningless; immorality and crime are the natural result. But if we teach our children responsibility to God, our juvenile crime problem, among many others, would soon disappear. That is why some maintain religious schools — to make sure their children are not ignorant of the fundamental truths of religion.

TO SAVE AMERICA some way must be found to get the name of God and his truth to all our children. This is the only guarantee that God will never be unknown and that His law will never be a dead letter.

"But Can YOU Prove The Bible Is True?"

Suppose an unbeliever challenged you to do so.

Being a sincere Christian, you might reply: "I just know it is." But that wouldn't be proof. It would not be very convincing to the unbeliever. And what would a skeptic say if you told him you have the assurance of the Holy Spirit? He might well ask why so many Christians who claim this do not agree on the meaning of the Scriptures.

What real evidence could you produce? What facts could you present? Where could you find a logical convincing answer?

Christ, of course, wrote nothing, excepting on one occasion — and then only in dust. All the original manuscripts of the Bible have vanished. The Bible itself does not claim to be the Inspired and complete word of God. Our Lord did not say that His teachings would be found in a book. On what authority, then, can we be sure about the Bible?

The answer is, of course, that the only living authority is the Catholic Church... the Apostolic Church... the Church whose traditions, beginning with Peter, bear reliable witness down the pathway of time from Christ to this very moment. The Bible cannot prove by its own text that it is inspired. But the Catholic Church can prove this.

Out of the first century, the Church can call up such witnesses as Polycarp (80 A. D.), whose appointment as Bishop of Smyrna came personally from John the Apostle, or Ignatius of Antioch, who died about 107 A. D. It can present the testimony of such second-century writers as Clement of Alexandria, Irenaeus, Tertullian and Origen; and from the third and fourth centuries Cyprian and Ambrose and Eusebius and Cyril, and many others.

All these bear witness to the vital importance of the Apostolic tradition. All testify that the Scriptures were entrusted to the Church... that the Church is their preserver and interpreter... that they must, as Clement said, be interpreted "according to the Church's rule." Writing in the second century about Polycarp, who lived in the first, Irenaeus said: "The things which he had learned from the Apostles he uniformly taught and delivered to the Church, and these things alone are true."

The Catholic Church was preaching the Gospel of Christ years before the last book of the Bible was written... centuries before its writings were combined into a single book... nearly 1,500 years before the Bible gained worldwide distribution. If you want to know more about the Church and the earliest followers of Jesus Christ... if you want convincing proof to support your Christian convictions... write today for our free pamphlet giving a brief but dramatic story in the words of the fourth-century historian, Eusebius. It will be mailed to you in a plain wrapper; nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-45.

Ten Whacky Ways To Beat the Heat

2. Work correctly. Think! But don't make a move. Moving muscles produce heat. Thinking produces nothing.

3. Be calm. Swallow your anger. Temper breeds heat. You'll eventually develop ulcers from bottling up your temper during the summer, but they'll be a warming influence next winter.

4. Be clever. Insult your wife. For the next two days every word she utters will have icicles hanging from it. If you can keep her talking for a solid hour, you can surround yourself with enough cool words to withstand a week of torrid temperature.

5. Don't fight it, join it. Spread some heat yourself. Remember when Dizzy Dean and Pepper Martin built a fire at the Cardinal dugout on St. Louis' hottest day and warmed their hands? So, friends, turn on the heat in your house. The neighbors will notice. And the police will find a cooler for you.

6. Be scientific. Profanity turns the air blue. Blue is a cool color. So start swearing, in public. You'll feel the chill around you.

7. Drink properly. Alcohol and sunshine don't mix. Try alcohol and soda or ginger ale.

8. Eat properly. Some foods produce heat. Avoid meats, eggs, cheese vegetables, fruits, milk, salads sweet, nuts, fowl and fish. Hire a Chinese cook and have some bird's nest soup.

9. Be resourceful. Hold up an armored car. Nothing beats the heat—and soothes the fevered spirit—like a cool million bucks.

10. Be strong. Don't notice the heat. Pretend it's not there. If you pretend long enough, it'll go away—come October.

Boom in Newsprint

Remember when many folks were predicting that radio would put the newspapers out of business? Or when, just a few years ago, the same people were saying that television would make newspapers obsolete? Those forecasters will need some alibis after noting the latest production and use figures for newsprint. Although the production of newsprint in North America has been higher than ever in recent months, supplies on hand have diminished, threatening shortages in some places. That is because newspapers have been using more paper than at any time in history.

The figures show that more people want to read news, even though many of them have heard bulletins over the radio and seen bits pictured on a television screen. They also reveal that advertisers still regard daily and weekly newspapers as a prime medium for conveying their messages to potential customers.

Too, keeping a free press gives assurance that Americans will remain a free people.—Dallas News.

They crossed Huey Long bridge, visited in Mississippi and returned by ferry, went out in the Gulf of Mexico and Lake Pontchartrain and drove over the 11 mile bridge that spans it. From there they went to

"EYES OF TEXAS" ARE UPON THEM—This is a helicopter-eye view of a "Texas Tower" being floated into position near Georges Banks in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Cape Cod. It will serve as a man-made island to house radar equipment as part of the nation's air-raid warning net. Developed originally for use in drilling for off-shore Texas oil, the island is secured in position by jacking the smokestack-like tubes at each corner of the triangular island down to the sea floor.

Chicago and spent four days with their daughter Josephine and family, the Nick Mayers.

Returning to Texas, they were guests of Mr. Yosten's brother Matt Yosten in Snyder, Neb., where other family members gathered for a reunion, and at Dodge, Neb., where they visited his brother George and had another reunion.

Part of the time the weather was pleasant, but through Iowa and Nebraska it was very hot, they said.

RETURN FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Clayton and children Linda and Terry have returned from a two-week vacation trip. They visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fipps at Okmulgee, Okla. It was the first time in 16 years that they were together for a visit. They were also guests of her uncle Virgil Fipps and family at Enid, and stopped with her brother S.Sgt. and Mrs. Harold Joe Bishop and daughter Karen Sue at Vance AFB there. Their next stop was in Wellington, Kansas, to renew acquaintance with the Jess Daughertys. Charlie and Jess were buddies during world war II and were together overseas in Corsica. From Kansas they drove to Lefors, Texas, to visit her parents, the O. O. Bishops, and then concluded their vacation with two days at Lake Texoma.

They also saw places of interest and visited with relatives and friends going and returning. At Pueblo, Colo., they visited their nephew and cousin, Wayne Schmitt who is attending business college there, went on to see places of scenic beauty at Colorado Springs where they also visited the Alex Knaufs and Clarence Erpeldings. After that they were guests of John's sister Ida, Mrs. Clem Fladung and her husband at Longmont.

REAL, LIVE GAME—Chess comes to life in Helsinki, Finland, as a "dead" pawn is carted from the huge playing board by living chess pieces not yet in play, during an open-air exhibition game. "Revenooers" Use Walkie-Talkie, But So Do Moonshiners

WASHINGTON. — "Revenooers" are now using walkie-talkie sets to catch mountain moonshiners. But some of the moonshiners have walkie-talkies, too.

That, and the use of spotter planes in communication with two-way radio on patrol autos and the walkie-talkie ground men explain why the federal alcohol tax enforcement unit shows an increase in knocking off stills but a decrease in arrests. The 'shiners spot the planes that spot their stills and pass the word. They can't remove their distilleries in time—but they can take off to the woods.

Chief Enforcement Officer Thomas Bailey, a World War I hero and veteran of the Internal Revenue Service, says moonshining is a continuing headache.

But, Bailey asserts that the hoodlum syndicate production of illegal alcohol is pretty well under control.

Bailey has two corn licker headache areas—the Atlanta and Cincinnati offices. They include the southern mountain states and their local option counties where white mule sells for from $6 to $10 a gallon.

By contrast the federal tax alone on legal whisky is $10.50 a gallon.

The moonshine is not only cheaper than bonded stuff but there are perfectly respectable people who have a preference for white mule.

As long as that demand exists, the mountain boys are going to keep on trying to make it.

The Dallas region, which includes legally dry Oklahoma, is the third most troublesome moonshine area for the enforcement unit.

Ike's Answer to A Red's Question

President Eisenhower recently told a revealing anecdote about his war-time visit to Soviet Russia as the guest of then Marshal (now Red Minister of Defense) Zhukov.

The two military leaders went to visit one of the Communists' collectivized farms. Zhukov generally suggested to the Russian supervisor in charge that he might like to ask the American general a few questions.

"Yes, I would," said the supervisor. "General, in America, what pay would a man be getting if he was doing the same kind of work I am?"

"Well," said Ike, "our money is different from yours. But let's see, now.

"A man in the United States, doing your job, would own his own automobile. He'd probably own his own home, and probably would have electric refrigeration."

The Russian supervisor's eyes began to pop.

"If he worked more than eight hours a day," Gen. Eisenhower continued, "he would get overtime pay. He would have some savings in the bank, if he was the average American. He would have life insurance, and his son would be in a college or a state university."

Marshall Zhukov interrupted. Turning on the Russian, he said sharply, "Comrade, don't ask General Eisenhower silly questions!"

A man owes it to himself to become successful. Once successful, he owes it to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

NATURE STILL DOES IT BEST

It is intriguing to note that twentieth century Americans are discovering anew the beauty and utility of nature's materials. As we blossomed into the mechanical age—influenced, perhaps, by the automobile—Americans seemed inclined to believe that whatever was bright, shiny and metallic should be called modern, and, therefore, better.

Now we find the pendulum of taste swinging back again. Business men and homemakers are finding "new" uses and values in natural materials. In the more expensive modern homes, for example, we find more and more all-wood kitchens. Several large insurance firms have junked all their office equipment and switched to wood office desks and chairs. Efficiency studies proved that workers were more comfortable, illumination was more efficient, and acoustics were better with wood.

A similar trend is developing in heavy construction. A large New York investment firm is switching back to natural stone as the principal building material for a new $20 million skyscraper. Commenting on the recent fad for glass and metal buildings, one New York architectural writer observed sadly that "the new structures gleam with sudden shock of unpeeled tin cans and new bottles, strewn at random in a dull but well furnished room."

Still another demonstration of public discontent with what architect Frank Lloyd Wright has called the "sanitary" age was the storm of protest over plans to build the Air Force Academy of glass and metal. The Air Force is revising the design.

We appear to be re-learning what our forebears knew before us. Artificial products, regardless of the ingenuity of their creation, still cannot match the majesty of nature. Thus we witness the trend toward office furniture. We still haven't developed a better building material than the white marble of our Vermont quarries, or the clay from which the Romans fashioned bricks. It is significant that the bricks in the Roman Coliseum are still standing after 2,200 years of exposure.

Stamped-out decorations on aluminum wall panels seem gaudy in comparison to the limestone buildings of our state and national capitols. They are pathetic beside the timeless dignity of the great stone Pyramids. Nature, it would seem, still does it best.

Baby Sitters Welcome

The paternal grandmother was asked a question by her son: "Mother, I recall that during the first two years Mabel and I were married—before the baby came—you visited us once, and stayed only a half-day. Now, since the baby came, you visit us every week and sometimes you stay several days. How come?"

"It's something I remember my own mother said. Something like, 'mothers-in-law are less popular than grandmothers.'"

The award will be presented annually in recognition of constructive achievement of national importance.

Chicks Win Title

they scored 5 runs on as many hits and one error. A homer in the first and a double followed by an error produced the seventh run in the seventh. B-29 scored 2 on 3 hits in the fourth and 1 on 2 hits in the fifth. Hitters were Coffman and Mages, 2 each; and Hartman, Becker, Melvin Herr, Felderhoff and Reiter. Coffman fanned 2, walked 2 and gave up 8 hits. Mosman fanned 3, walked 1 and gave up 9 hits.

A run each in the first and sixth earned the league title for the Chicks Tuesday night. Wiese led off by taking base on an error, went to second on a wild pitch, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on a long fly. A single followed by a bunt and a double produced the other run. The Bombers' attempted comeback in the seventh fell short by a run. Hartman singled, took second on a wild pitch and came home on an overthrow following Herbie Herr's bunt. B-29 hitters were Mages, Coffman, Reiter, Felderhoff and Hartman. Coffman fanned 3, walked 2 and gave 4 hits. Mosman fanned 7, walked 2 and gave 5 hits.
