Dr. Walter H. Judd, former U.S. Senator and former missionary to China, presented a number of good solid ideas Sunday night during his appearance on the Face to Face TV program. One of them, suggesting that we Americans give more attention to the good points about our country, was especially appropriate for the Fourth of July. We ought to emphasize what's right in America more than what's wrong. We have much more reason to be proud than to be ashamed.

On this anniversary of the nation's declaration of independence we recall the sacred principles proclaimed in that document, equality of all before God and the right of all to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. No other national proclamation before or since has been so closely in harmony with the dignity of man or the purpose of God. No other has ever merited so much praise from other nations or so much gratitude from its own people.

Moreover the country's history has matched its ideals. The spirit of freedom and opportunity has enabled its people to enjoy the greatest era of progress in all history. Regard for other people's rights and dignity has inspired Americans to set an all time record of help to other countries of the world. We joined in two world wars to save others from totalitarian dictatorship and came out as winners without claiming any territorial gains. We fought again in Korea and now in Vietnam only to preserve the independence of other people. We have shared our abundance with all parts of the world through the voluntary charity of our people and the government's foreign aid program.

Americans have every reason to be proud and loyal and patriotic. Their country has a glorious record. It continues to operate on the original set of principles which deserve everyone's dedicated support. Of course, we have to admit that the country is not perfect. Society is made up of human beings with their typical human failings. Inevitably some mistakes have to be made. Inevitably there are people who cheat on the system for their personal gain, either exceeding their rights or shirking their responsibilities. So the country has problems. But the point to bear in mind is that the fault is in people, not the system.

In line with this thought, July the Fourth still inspires the old time spirit of patriotism, which still exists to a much greater degree than our loud mouth critics admit. Dr. Judd touched on that subject Sunday night. In his opinion we have less flag waving than before, but the vast majority of Americans are still dedicated to the original principles, confident that we can work out our problems within the provisions of our system. In fact, they know very well that our way is our only hope, and that radicals who want to wreck the establishment are actually asking for chaos or tyranny.

To appreciate our country we need to follow Dr. Judd's advice and accentuate the positive. When critics complain that fifteen per cent of us are below the poverty level we are reminded that 85 per cent are not poor. This indicates marvelous progress since 1900 when half of us were poor. It also indicates marvelous achievement by comparison with other countries.

We ought to remember also that the American idea of poverty is based on comparison with American standards. Poverty, according to current guidelines, means people with inferior housing and diet, using second hand cars and appliances. It's not the affluence usually associated with Americans. Nevertheless those people are rich compared with millions in undeveloped countries.

July Fourth Dance
A dance for teenagers will be held in Muenster Parish Hall Saturday in observance of July Fourth. Sponsor is the local court Catholic Daughters of America who in recent years have provided local entertainment to keep the young people at home. Other events previously on the program will not be held this year. Truth from Decatur, a four piece band with a vocalist will play for the dance.

"And the Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave."

Lindsay Church Historic Marker Unveiled Sunday

In ceremonies held at 11:30 o'clock Sunday, St. Peter's Church of Lindsay was marked with an aluminum medallion and descriptive plate identifying it as a recorded historic landmark of Texas.

Horace Lesley, county chairman of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, unveiled the marker beside the building's main entrance and Father Damian Wevers acknowledged the presentation in the name of the parish. Miss Mary McCain, vice-president of the Cooke County Heritage Society, addressed an audience of about 100 persons on "A Heritage to Cherish." She said that the community can be proud of the medallion and the attention it draws to their town but they can be more proud of the dedication, sacrifice and deep faith which inspired the erection of such architectural and artistic excellence.

Visiting clergymen participating in the ceremony were Bishop Augustine Danglmayr and Father Bede Mitchell of Muenster, The Reverend Russell Clapp of Gainesville, Father Alcuin Kubis of Little Rock, Ark., and Father John Walbe of Fort Worth. Gene Pelzel, warden of St. Peter's Parish, was master of ceremonies.

The Lindsay church was built in 1918 to replace a church which was destroyed by tornado in 1917.

TGRA Re-elects Weinzapfel on Directors Board

Joe M. Weinzapfel, chairman of the board of the Muenster State Bank, has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Texas Good Roads Association. His re-election came at the annual meeting of the organization in Austin last week.

Discussions focused on environmental problems related to the construction of highways highlighted the annual Convention.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall promised delegates that the Highway Department was doing everything possible to meet today's environmental demands — and that within a few months the Department would add an archeologist, a sociologist, and an ecologist.

Resolutions adopted by the TGRA, whose mission is to promote the construction and maintenance of an adequate highway system to meet the transportation needs of the people of the State, included: (1) Endorsement of a Constitutional Amendment, to be voted on in November, that would lower to a simple majority rather than a two-thirds approval, in road bond elections; (2) continuation of the present Federal Highway Trust Fund System so that Texas can complete the Interstate system on schedule. (Unless Congress acts, the trust fund will run out in 1972, and the Interstate system in Texas will not be completed before 1975).

June Moisture Measured 1.09 In.

The drought is on at Muenster. As July arrived the community was near the end of its third week without a trace of moisture.

Steve Moster's Weather Bureau record shows that the last rain fell on June 12 and measured .97 inch. Three other readings for a total of .12 earlier in the month combines with that to bring the June measure up to 1.09 inches.

Before that, however the moisture condition here was excellent. May's total measure was 4.05 and 3.54 of that came between the 24th and the end of the month.

Total moisture ending the first half of the year is 16.73 inches, which is considerably behind the measure at similar dates the last two years, but it is near the 10 year average. Normal measure here for the past decade was 35.47 1/2 inches per year.

Special Caution Urged by DPS for July 4 Weekend

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today cautioned motorists that traffic accidents during the Independence Day period from 6 p.m. Thursday, July 2, to midnight Sunday, July 5 may claim as many as 46 lives in Texas. Last year's toll was 56. "I am urging all Texans to adopt the 'Drive Friendly' theme during this holiday and to avoid practices which contribute to accidents," Speir said.

The DPS director listed the chief factors contributing to traffic crashes as speed too fast for conditions, driving while drinking, and driving on the wrong side of the road, often as the result of fatigue. Speir said all available Highway Patrolmen will be on duty during the holiday period, augmented by uniformed officers from other DPS services. Also, the DPS will conduct its "Operation Motorcide" program of tabulating and announcing traffic accidents three times daily in an effort to bring about increased awareness of the added dangers of holiday travel.

In addition to Department of Public Safety efforts, trained truck and bus industry safety men will take to the roads to participate in a unique Holiday Road Patrol.

Some 45 to 50 road patrol cars manned by experienced members of the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors will be on the highways to aid motorists in trouble. The program is sponsored by the Texas Motor Transportation Association, a statewide organization representing the motor carrier industry.

Junior Chamber of Commerce organizations in many parts of the state will operate rest stops for motorists along heavily traveled highways.

He and another Indian conservationist are currently studying and observing in this country. The visitor showed slides of Indian scenes and commented on them.

Historians tell us about the past and economists about the future. Thus, only the present is confusing.

Local Firemen Had Light Duty First Six Months

The past half year has been one of the easy ones in the Muenster Fire Department's history. A six months report by the department indicates fewer calls as well as easier jobs.

Total number of calls was 22, and one of those turned out to be a false alarm as dust was mistaken for smoke. Other calls were for five automobile fires and 16 grass fires, but not one for a house or any other kind of building.

Worst of the period was a grass and brush fire which cleared off about 3000 acres in the Caps Corner area near Red River. Muenster firemen were there April 6 and again April 7 helping Nocona and Saint Jo firemen get the blaze under control. The firemen have lost their best grass fire customer since MK&T discontinued its service through Muenster. Sparks from locomotives often set off a right of way blaze. This time there were two calls only, and the second was a revival of the first, which seemed to be under control when it was left.

Another switch: the town had more calls than the county, the count being 22 and 7. By comparison the full year of 1969 had 54 fires, 30 being rural and 24 urban.

Firemen are aware, however, that the hazardous part of the year is still coming and they may see more action than before. Dryness of summer and early fall is specially suited for quick starting and fast spreading. Folks are asked to keep that fact in mind and to be especially careful.

Farmers are asked also to keep another thing in mind. When they call the firemen they should, if possible, have someone meet the truck and serve as guide. Lots of valuable time can be saved by showing the way to gates or crossings.

Teacher Roster Is Complete at Public School

The faculty roster for the coming school year is complete at the Muenster Public School. Superintendent L. B. Bruns said this week that the three faculty vacancies existing shortly after school ended have all been filled.

Two of them are members of last year's faculty. Barbara Robison will return to the elementary department and Juanita Bright, former band director, will join the elementary.

The new band director is Ronald Lee Smith, a native of Fort Worth and a graduate of Texas Christian University. He was the Celina Hi band director the past two years.

Lights Going Up On Tennis Courts

Local tennis players will soon be able to play at night in the city park. City Superintendent Steve Moster said the city has started installation of a set of lights for each court.

At this time the job is slightly delayed while the city decides how many light clusters to use and where to place them for best effect. The plan is to finish the project soon so that it can still get lots of use this summer.

Lights will be controlled by coin operated meters, one for each court. A 25 cent deposit will provide an hour of light for one court.

Changes Indicated In Election Laws

Pressure from the courts may move the Legislature to massive election law reforms next year.

At least two major Texas cases which could have far-reaching consequences for the state election processes and political system are pending in three-judge federal courts.

In one, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and San Marcos plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of the annual voter registration requirement and the January 31 registration deadline. They ask reopening of registration after the June runoff primaries to allow voters until October to qualify for the November general election. More than 30 states already have a general election sign-up extension, and no state requires as early a close-off of registrations as Texas.

A second case tests validity of the candidates' filing fee system. An El Paso candidate for county commissioner and a Tarrant County candidate for county judge won places on the May primary ballot through court action when they pleaded they could not afford to pay the stiff filing fee.

A third case attacks the constitutionality of the statute denying aid to illiterate voters in marking ballots.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. acknowledges a great many changes are needed in the state election code. He is compiling a list of needs with an eye on court decisions and plans to contact legislators about them soon.

Dies indicates he is inclined to favor the recommendation that May-June primary dates be shoved back until August and September (as some 14 states now provide).

He also tentatively likes the idea of making voter registrations good for four years.

And the state, believes Dies, "is going to have to reach the conclusion candidates cannot continue to completely finance primaries."

In a midwest town a man was on trial for a traffic violation. When the judge asked if anyone present could testify to his character, he said, "Sure, your Honor, there's the Sheriff."

When the Sheriff was called, he answered in surprise, "Why, I don't know the man at all."

The accused replied, "Isn't that a character for you, your Honor? I've lived in this town for twelve years and the sheriff doesn't know me yet."

The Conscience of America

Every now and then someone comes up with a distinctly new idea, and one of the latest to achieve such status is Robert Pearson, a contractor in Honolulu. He proposes to set up a national cemetery for aborted children.

Well, why not? We have cemeteries for cats, and dogs, and paupers and prisoners — why should the unborn be neglected?

Mr. Pearson says of his proposed graveyard, "It will be similar to the cemetery for unknown soldiers, only it will be for unknown souls. I think it is about time we regard aborted children the same as any human being who dies. They shouldn't end up in incinerators or disposals."

Pearson said that he is working with an attorney and others to set up the cemetery, but that it hasn't been decided whether it will be located in Hawaii or on mainland America.

What with our busy lives in the most affluent nation in the world, we sometimes tend to get a little careless about such things. It is good to have the Robert Pearsons to every now and then prick the conscience of America.

New Law to Add 395,000 Under 21 Voters in Texas

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. calculates there could be as many as 395,000 voters under 21 added to Texas registration rolls if the federal 18-year-old vote act stands.

State's chief election officer cited the Bureau of Census and University of Texas studies estimating there are approximately 594,000 Texans who are over 18 and under 21. About 66 per cent of eligible voters of all ages now register and in general elections about 75 per cent of those registered actually vote.

Dies predicted the U. S. Supreme Court will rule on the constitutionality of the new federal act before January 1, its effective date. He said he hopes the ruling will be before October 1, start of the state's voter registration period for the 1971 voting year.

If there is no decision by that time, Dies said, problems will be created for registrars. In event the statute is ruled unconstitutional after October, tax-assessors would have to go back and remove newly-added names of 18 to 21-year-olds.

ONWARD—THE AMERICAN WAY

The Spirit of Liberty

"The name of America must always exalt the just pride of patriotism." What better words than these to commemorate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence!

From the lips of George Washington came many admonitions and statements of faith that all of us would do well to recall on this Fourth of July when our nation is fraught with dissension. As for example: "While we are contending for our own liberty, we should be very cautious not to violate rights in conscience in others."

And to those who resort to violence to force their viewpoints upon others, or to voice their displeasure by destroying property, we commend these words of General Washington: "The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government presupposed the duty of every individual to obey the established government. . . . Every valuable end of government is best answered by the enlightened confidence of the people, and by teaching the people themselves to know and to value their own rights. . . . to discriminate the spirit of liberty from that of licentiousness — cherishing the first, avoiding the last — and uniting a speedy but temperate vigilance against encroachment, with an inviolable respect to the laws."

Today the President of the United States is seeking to end dissension in this nation — to bring peace and harmony both within and without our borders. May the American eagle proudly soar aloft — a symbol of "liberty and justice for all." And may that phrase become a living reality!

A Great Nation

This week is our Nation's birthday. If you are pessimistic, and look at the fraction of one percent of Americans who act like idiots on the college campuses instead of pursuing their education, or those who try to reason with us with riots over every imaginable cause, you will probably conclude that our country has had it.

If, on the other hand, you remember our government's Astronauts' accuracy, if you remember the wide margin we have in education over every other nation (in spite of the present college ruckus) and if you remember our fabulous economic power, you recognize that in spite of thousands of defects, we have national, state and local governments that have unequalled capability. (In spite of the overemphasis of nonsense by loudmouths, we are a people of unequalled ability.)

However, the best proof that our Nation will be around for a few more birthdays is demonstrated by Internal Revenue Service's continuing to collect 97% of our Federal taxes through voluntary compliance. Our people have unequalled morality. The average American may gripe a great deal about the shortcomings of our governments and of our officials, and is sure we need to reform, but he is still willing to contribute his fair share of almost $200 billion in Federal taxes. Apparently he thinks more of the establishment and the results he gets from it than the annihilist minded students that belong to the SDS.

Restructure Public Education

Jenkin Lloyd Jones had many wise things to say as a newspaperman, and his election to the post of President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce hasn't detracted from that ability one bit. Recently he pointed out that "during the past two decades of unparalleled prosperity, we have seen a shocking rise in dependency."

"The easier it has been for the man or woman of energy and good intentions to make the grade of self support, the harder the hard-core has grown and the most devastating the displays of individual irresponsibility."

A big part of the reason, Mr. Jones believes, is because the average high school is now geared to "turn out the uneducated and unskilled" — an exercise, he says, in futility. "Our high schools are still oriented, as they were sixty years ago, to the production of future clerks and white-collar workers on the low end of the scale, and college-entrance material on the upper end. We have the silly idea that vocational training is degrading."

He is convinced, said Mr. Jones, that "much of America's public education is going to have to be restructured. We must junk the sentimental but utterly unrealistic idea that everybody is 'college material.'"

We could not agree more. There are thousands of examples to show that good vocational training — the teaching of actual working skills — usually provided by business firms, since the schools don't teach such things — has provided the knowledge, and ability, and pride of accomplishment which has in turn enabled people to live entire happy, productive, financially secure, and by every measurement, very successful lives.

Little Tom had just been vaccinated. When the doctor tried to put a bandage over the spot, Tom insisted that he wanted the bandage on the other arm.

"Why Tom, the bandage should be put on the sore arm so that the boys at school won't hit it," the doctor said. "Put it on the other arm, Doc," Tom replied. "You don't know those guys."

Vivian Yosten in Ranger Two Weeks For CCD Project

Two weeks, June 6-19, provided interesting experiences for Vivian Yosten who helped with CCD classes at Ranger. She was a member of a team consisting of Sisters Joel, Agnes Ann and Marie Therese Sisters of St. Mary, Fort Worth, and a companion teenager Paula Doty of Dallas.

Joining them to help in the religious instruction program were ten other teenagers and women from four parishes in the Ranger area. The class consisted of 125 children who came by bus from Ranger, Cisco, Strawn and Eastland.

Classes were held each day from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Included in the CCD program was daily Mass by Father Scantlin who serves the four towns as pastor. All the children attended Mass.

The teaching team had lunch together every day and stayed at the Ranger rectory. Parishioners provided their meals. Part of the afternoon was spent preparing the next day's lessons and evenings were filled with meetings for adults and teenagers. Film strips were shown and discussions held. The program concluded with Mass and a covered dish supper on June 18.

Vivian trained for this program last year when she attended Project Involvement, a workshop for teenagers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Yosten.

Swimming Meet Gets Few Entries

David Krahl was the big winner in the swimming meet held at the Muenster pool Saturday night. Along with sweeping the three events for his age group he took first in the 10-lap race, which was open to everyone.

Four other contestants did next best by winning all three events in their age groups. They were Bernie Fette, Cindy Eberhart, Fred Lippe and Janel Stoffels. In other action Mark Hess and Connie Yosten got two blue ribbons each, Cheryl Luke and Bruce Fuhrman got one each. The events were 1 lap free style, 2 laps free style, and 1 lap breast stroke for boys and girls in five age divisions.

Participation in the meet was disappointing. Thirty three events had been planned. Eleven had no entries and the others had just a few each.

Hawaiian Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoenig returned Sunday from a flying four-day Hawaiian holiday in Honolulu where they saw the sights on conducted tours and visited one evening with Alfred Walter. Their air travel was through courtesy of their son Rupert Hoenig of Carrollton, a Braniff employee.

Insulin Enables People to Live With Diabetes

If you had diabetes before 1921, you didn't give too much thought to leading a normal life -- you worried about death. Then, researchers discovered insulin -- a protein hormone -- and a daily shot helped keep you alive.

Although the discovery of insulin was a major scientific discovery, the search continued for an orally active anti-diabetes medication. Such a medication has now been found and your doctor or local health department can discuss it with you. Some diabetics are able to control the disease with the new oral medication. Those able to do this are no longer a slave to the needle, which is used when injecting insulin. And, hopefully, those who are treated early enough seem to have fewer complications later in life -- problems with sight, kidneys, heart, circulation or nerves.

Diabetes is your body's inability to use food properly -- especially sugars and starches. Diabetics have difficulty turning these sugars and starches into energy, which the body must have to operate normally.

Insulin affects the body's use of food by regulating the use of sugar, which in turn supplies the energy that keeps our bodies going.

Half the people who have diabetes don't know it. They need to find out. Here are some of the symptoms which may mean you have diabetes: Excessive thirst, frequent urination, excessive hunger, weight loss, failing eyesight, intense itching, pain in fingers and toes, weakness, tiredness and drowsiness.

Not all these symptoms are present in every diabetic. Some diabetics have only one or two symptoms. Others don't have any apparent symptoms and are called "hidden" diabetics.

Periodic blood tests can uncover hidden diabetics. In addition, Texas and other states, participate periodically in diabetic detection programs, whereby the local health department and migrant health program personnel screen what is known as "high risk groups." In Texas these groups include: close blood relatives, at 45 years of age and older, of diabetics; persons 45 years of age or over, particularly; obese persons, 45 years of age or older; and parents of large babies (nine pounds or more at birth) when the parent is 45 years of age or older.

The Texas State Department of Health stresses the importance of finding hidden diabetics for three reasons: one, the earlier diabetes is detected, the easier you can control it; two, the more healthy you can stay; and three, the more normal life you can lead.

No matter how great a man is, the size of his funeral usually depends on the weather.

TEXAS GOVERNOR Preston Smith discusses safety afloat with boating enthusiasts and state safety leaders as he proclaims June 28-July 4 Texas Safe Boating Week. J. M. Beall, left, Austin, Water Safety Services, Texas Parks and Wildlife, shows a coast guard approved life vest, as the Governor signs the official proclamation. Lloyd F. Palmer, second from right, Austin, General Manager, Texas Safety Association, watches as Jack Ezell, Austin, Commander Austin Power Squadron, exhibits another of the required life saving items for boat owners in Texas, the fire extinguisher. Texas Safe Boating Week is part of a nationwide campaign to call attention to need for increased safety on the nation's rivers, lakes, and other waterways.

Did you ever hear of em-

The problem of chronic ob-

Pulmonary diseases are sec-

 Health.

And here's another fact given by Dr. Randall: In the past 10 years the gross mortality from emphysema and chronic bronchitis has more than quadrupled in the United States and continues to grow faster than for any other disease.
 Put another way, deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis in this country have just about doubled every five years since 1952.

Why should this be of importance to you? You may be a candidate for a pulmonary disease even though you think you have no problem. Statistics gathered during a National Health Survey indicate that some three million Americans have limited activities due to emphysema and chronic bronchitis. And . . . the number is growing annually.

It has been estimated that some 25 per cent of those over age 40 have abnormal lung function. Although women and younger people suffer from emphysema, there are 10 men victims for every woman.

Tuggle Motor had no trouble trimming Wilde Chevrolet million victims are men past 40. And here's another shocker for you who haven't concerned yourself before with emphysema: There are more sufferers from emphysema in the United States than from lung cancer and tuberculosis combined, according to one estimate.

What marks you as a candidate for diagnosis as a sufferer with emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Frequent colds
 . . . a lingering cough . . . increasing shortness of breath with normal activities . . .
 frequent respiratory infections
 . . . general weakness and a tendency to tire easily . . . a feeling of tightness in the chest. These are signs which shouldn't be ignored but all too often are ignored until serious problems develop.

Hitchhikers are crowding America's highways in unprecedented numbers. They're also beating, killing and robbing motorists at a higher rate than ever before. While precise statistics on crimes by hitchhikers are not available, a survey made a few years ago is eye-opening. Of 100 hitchhikers questioned by officers, no less than 83 had criminal records! IRS Has Form to Claim Exemption From Withholding

Students working for the summer, and retired persons and other part-time workers may be entitled to exemption from income tax withholding under the Tax Reform Act of 1969. Forms for claiming this exemption are available from Internal Revenue Service offices in North Texas.

Any employee who had no income tax liability last year and anticipates none for this year should use Withholding Exemption Certificate, Form W-4E, to claim the exemption, stated Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for North Texas.

For 1970, a single person who makes less than $1,725 owes no tax. This is based on the $1,100 low income allowance and a personal exemption of $625. A taxpayer over 65 can earn wages up to $2,350 without incurring a tax liability, Mr. Campbell explained.

Anyone who qualifies can fill out the form and give it to his employer to claim exemption from income tax withholding on his wages.

Employers needing quantities of the new Form W-4E may obtain them from their IRS District Office.

Schedule A (Form W-4), revised to reflect the liberalized rules that were also provided in the Tax Reform Act of 1969 for claiming additional withholding exemptions based on large itemized deductions, are also available from IRS offices.

Dr. Schmitt Will Close Saint Jo Office July 15

Dr. Allen Dean Schmitt has announced that as of July 15 his office in Saint Jo will be closed for patient care due to lack of hospital facilities in this area.

The office will be open a few weeks for payment of accounts.

Dr. Schmitt, who practiced in Saint Jo in the late 40s, returned to practice in offices at the Head of Elm Hospital there in September of 1968. The hospital closed December 15, 1969. Dr. Schmitt maintained his offices in the west wing of the building since that time.

Health Hints
FROM BLUE SHIELD

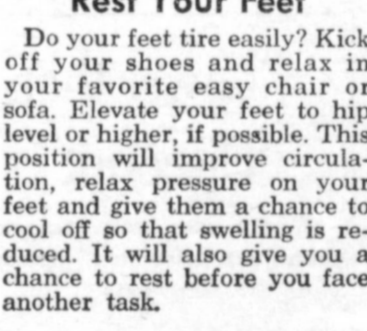

Soap and Water

Soap and water is the best antiseptic treatment for small cuts and wounds. You don't need strong antiseptics to cleanse minor cuts. In fact, strong antiseptics sometimes cause chemical burns that may aggravate the wound. Wash minor cuts and wounds with plenty of soap and water and apply a sterile bandage to keep the wound area clean. Also, remember to keep a cut finger out of your mouth. Your mouth contains bacteria that may cause infection.

Rest Your Feet

Do your feet tire easily? Kick off your shoes and relax in your favorite easy chair or sofa. Elevate your feet to hip level or higher, if possible. This position will improve circulation, relax pressure on your feet and give them a chance to cool off so that swelling is reduced. It will also give you a chance to rest before you face another task.

Safety Pins

Mothers, do you hold safety pins in your mouth while changing baby's diaper? If so, you're courting trouble. Babies love to imitate and when they see their mother put safety pins in her mouth, they assume that's what they are for. For your child's sake, avoid holding pins in your mouth. Instead, keep a small pin cushion near the crib and use the cushion to hold the pins. Be sure that the pin cushion and pins are out of the baby's reach at all times.

County College To Offer Course In Nurse Training

Plans for a two year nurse training program have been initiated at Cooke County Junior College, with a target date of July, 1971 set for the beginning of classes.

The project comes as a result of extensive public demand for such a program. In recent years the college has received numerous communications from individuals in the North Texas area concerning the possibility of establishing a nursing program. A recent survey conducted by Dr. A. E. Shasteen, Dean of Instruction, and Walter S. DeLany, Jr., Assistant Dean, revealed a severe shortage of registered nurses in hospitals and clinics throughout the North Texas area.

Laboratory facilities, classrooms, and the instructional staff will be provided by CCJC. Gainesville Memorial Hospital, Muenster Memorial Hospital, and Flow Memorial Hospital of Denton have offered their cooperation in providing additional clinical and laboratory experiences for nursing students. Staff members at each of the above hospitals have expressed a willingness to provide professional services in classroom training sessions.

According to Dr. A. E.

Shasteen, the ultimate purpose of the nursing program is to prepare students to successfully pass the examination given by the Board of Nurse Examiners and to function safely, effectively and confidently as responsible members of the registered nursing profession.

Tentative time tables established for the nursing school, subject to approval by the call for a survey to be conducted and reported upon by the board in June, July, and August of 1970, a Director of Nursing to be appointed in January of 1971, and the beginning of the first class with the second session of the summer semester, July, 1971.

Original plans call for the initial class to be limited to 50 students, with students from Cooke County, out-of-county, and out-of-state eligible for enrollment.

"The Director of Nursing will be a departmental chairman on an organizational level with other department chairmen at the college, and will report directly to the academic dean," Dr. Shasteen said.

Sharon Bauer and Ronald Krebs Are Married at Mass

Miss Sharon Ann Bauer and Ronald Krebs pledged wedding vows Saturday afternoon in St. Mary's Church at Gainesville with the pastor, Father Robert Grant officiating at the nuptial Mass and double ring service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Bauer of Gainesville and Mrs. Henry Krebs of Lindsay and the late Mr. Krebs.

Wedding music was by Miss Marlene Baker, organist, and Mrs. Troy Gilbert, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown designed by herself and fashioned by her mother. The gown was of silk organza over ivory peau de soie with a wide ruffle at the hemline and an apron effect with wide ruffles finished in lace. Hand clipped lace flower appliques adorned the bodice and wide ruffles at the back as the organza gathered fullness to form an aisle-wide chapel-length train.

A camelot headpiece covered with pearl-embroidered lace held her fingertip length veil and her flowers were white glamelias in a cascade of English ivy and stephanotis, carried with a crystal rosary, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marshall. Adding sentiment she wore a diamond and pearl lavalier which her mother and grandmother wore in their weddings.

Miss Helen Marshall was maid of honor and Mrs. Tommy Ballinger and Mrs. Werner Becker Jr., sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They wore olive green Empire dresses of peau de soie designed with an overdress of yellow organdy also featuring an apron effect with ruffles. They wore Colonial picture hats of yellow with green bands. Each carried a white woven basket of yellow and white Fiji mums, gladioli and English ivy.

Kenneth James Krebs of Lindsay was his brother's best man. Bobby Bauer, brother of the bride, and Ronnie Zimmerer of Lindsay were groomsman. Milton Krebs, a brother, and Werner Becker Jr. were ushers.

Wedding reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville. The tiered wedding cake's ornamental top was the same one used at the bride's parents' wedding.

After their honeymoon to Lake Travis near Austin the newlyweds will be at home in Gainesville at 345 N. Taylor St.

The bride is a graduate of Gainesville High School and CCJC. The groom also attended CCJC and is a graduate of Lindsay High School.

tries, who have no homes, no comforts or conveniences, no relief ever from the pangs of hunger.

Fault finding radicals never seem to tire of telling us what's wrong with the country. In reply we can tell them that we're free to speak, do and go as we please, to live in comfort and peace, to achieve as much as our ability allows. We know in our hearts that there's a lot more good than bad in our country. Our purpose is to preserve what's good while striving constantly, by the American way, to overcome the evils.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pelzel and children were among family members at a gathering honoring her father Joe Mage's of Muenster on Father's Day. The group enjoyed a picnic dinner, swimming and boat riding at Sycamore Lake.
