Final Rites for Bert Fuhrmann Held at Lindsay

In case you are worried about the health hazards you will encounter if and when smog is discovered in this area, cheer up. Everything is under control. Your good federal government is taking care of that problem for you.

An article in this week's Automotive News tells that 1968 automobiles and all cars thereafter will be equipped with a special device to reduce the smog-causing ingredient of engine exhaust — despite the fact that ninety percent of the car owners never have been and probably never will be exposed to smog. As the article puts it, "the American people will find that they are being victimized by a Multi-Billion Dollar Smog Hoax."

It all developed from the Clean Air Bill of 1965 which was passed in Congress largely through the efforts of Senator Muskie of Maine with strong backing of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Tooling up preparations for the installations are already being made, under vigorous protest, by all the car manufacturers. Unless by some near miracle they are permitted to disregard the order, the American public is simply going to be stuck with it.

The law does not specify use of the device only where it is needed. No sir! Our big and benevolent government, knowing what is best for us, says it must be on all new cars everywhere — probably a precaution in case some cars happen to go to Los Angeles or the half dozen other cities that have reported smog at one time or another.

Nor is the government concerned about the cost of the gadget, now estimated at $45. That's the buyer's headache. His car will just cost more. Likewise the government doesn't seem to mind what the device will do to a car. From what engineers know about it now the thing will cause a motor to use more gasoline and deliver less power. And they are further worried about the possible need of complex adjustments to compensate for the effects of the clutter of valves and pipes. No doubt the factories can turn out satisfactory adjustments, but how about later troubles when parts corrode or adjustments go bad? It looms as a big headache for service departments and additional unnecessary expense for owners.

Like many other laws enacted in recent years, here is a case of attempted hasty solution without considering related problems. One would think if the device is really effective its use might be made mandatory where it is needed. But why force its use — along with its expense and troubles — where it is not needed?

One even wonders whether it is needed in the so called smog areas. Studies reveal that other factors besides density of exhaust gasses are needed to cause smog. Various atmospheric conditions must prevail at the time. In Los Angeles, city of the greatest smog problem, there were 83 days in 1964 with sufficient exhaust gas density to cause smog, but there were only five or six smog alerts during the year. Other big cities had fewer alerts. Does such low frequency justify compulsory use of the gadget? Whatever the answer, doesn't it seem more proper to have the issue decided by the people concerned rather than by the federal government? The "smog cities" could have adopted the gadget by popular vote if they had seen a need of it.

But no stretch of the imagination can justify the gadget in the many and vast other areas of the country. There is no valid reason for forcing it on the American public. Not even on the premise that some cars will go to the smog cities. It seems that use of the gadget in those few big cities would clean exhaust gasses sufficiently that air could not be contaminated to the danger point by a relatively few cars from the outside.

Another point apparently not considered in passing the legislation is the possibility of engine improvements resulting in cleaner exhaust by more complete combustion. Progress is reported in that line. Obviously that's the best answer to the smog problem. If there must be a solution why not give it a chance before forcing the public to use an ex-

Medders' Horses Win Top Honors In National Show

Muenster and Colonial Acres Farm got on the map again — nationally this time — by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders' Appaloosa horses winning in the National Horse Show in Syracuse, N. Y., the biggest show of the year.

Ringo San Siemon, Appaloosa stallion, annexed three top honors to his already outstanding record. He was the blue ribbon winner in his class and junior grand champion of the show. And he won first in "bear step" the most coveted award among Appaloosa horse owners.

Another of the farm's horses, Little Speedy, took top honors in the gelding class.

And Bob Smith, the ranch's horse trainer, won the national showmanship award.

Mrs. Smith accompanied her husband and the horses. They started back to Muenster Monday ... telephoned the news about the wins as they happened.

Mr. and Mrs. Medders, as frequently happens, had conflicting schedules and instead of attending the show went to Fort Bliss, El Paso, over the weekend to see their son, Pvt. John Riggs, graduate from basic army training. Another son, Frank Medders, went with them. John accompanied them home on a two-week leave. He'll return to Fort Bliss for his new assignment as chaplain's assistant.

News of the Men in Service

Two Muenster soldiers have reported safe arrival in Germany and a surprise meeting in Frankfurt. They are Virgil Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hess, and Dickie Hesse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Hesse. The boys went overseas on different flights from McGuire AFB, New Jersey, and were happy to see each other before being assigned to different stations in Germany.

Finished With Basic

Pvt. John Riggs has finished basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso, where he was in graduation exercises Saturday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders and his brother Frank attended the ceremonies and he accompanied them home on a two-week leave. He will return to Fort Bliss for his new assignment as chaplain's assistant.

Civilian Again

Airman second class Gene Eberhart has returned to Muenster as a civilian, finished with four years of Air Force duty. He spent the past 16 months in Labrador and was separated from the service at McGuire AFB, N.J. He's visiting his mother, Mrs. Leona Eberhart.

On First Leave

At home on leave after finishing basic training at Fort Polk, La., is Pvt. Wayne Cler, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Cler. They met him at Dallas when he arrived there by plane Saturday. Wayne's next assignment will be at Huntsville, Alabama.

Catholic League State Convention Set for July 8-11

Scenic New Braunfels will be the host city and its Saint Peter and Paul Parish will be the host parish to the 68th annual convention of the Catholic State League of Texas on July 8 to 11.

Chairman of the convention is Charles Mergele, president of the parish's men's society which is now observing its 75th anniversary and is a charter member of the League. The first day of the convention will be taken up by a meeting of branch representatives of the Catholic Life Insurance Union, which is an affiliate of the League. The regular convention begins Saturday morning, the 9th with a welcome by Mayor Julius Schwandt. It will be held in four sections — for the men, ladies, youth and insurance groups — and all will combine for a general session. Among the speakers are Louis Lehman of Houston, state president of Citizens for Educational Freedom, and Dr. Robert E. Briety of Brooke Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston.

Principal meeting of the convention is the program for all sections of the League and the public at 8 o'clock Sunday night. Heading that program are Mrs. M. W. Carrico of the San Antonio Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women and Callan Graham, executive director of the Texas Catholic Conference. Their subjects are "Women in the Lay Apostolate" and "The Catholic and Social Action."

At a Pontifical Mass Sunday morning the celebrant will be the Most Reverend Thomas Tschoepe, recently consecrated bishop of San Angelo. Abbot Alfred Hoinig of Corpus Christi Abbey will also be there.

Little League

With two more games for each team to play, the favorites of the local Little League race are The Center and Muenster State Bank.

In the senior loop The Center now has a cinch to tie for the title, and can take the top spot by one more win. Or it can still win the title by losing the next two if Endres Motor fails to win two. Team standings as of June 24 are Center 5-1-1; Endres 3-3-1; Electric Co-op 3-4-0 and Muenster Mill 2-5-0.

In the junior loop the leader is not quite as comfortable. The Bank is being pushed by Tuggle Motor and needs as many wins as Tuggle to hold its top spot. Standings as of June 27 are Bank 4-2-1; Tuggle 3-2-2; Colonial Acres 2-3-2; Wilde Chevrolet 2-4-1.

The past week's senior loop program brought The Center's only loss to date, following a tie which spoiled a previous perfect record. Last Friday night Electric Coop started the game with one run and added 5 more in a big third inning. In the bottom of the same inning The Center got 2 and in the fourth it got 2 more, and it was still trailing 6-4 at the end. In the other senior game Endres had a 5-0 lead before the Mill put on a rally at the bottom of the fifth. The effort produced only 2 however and Endres added another in the sixth. Final count: 6-2.

Juniors had three double headers, two on regular schedule and one to make up a rained out night. Last Wednesday the Bank came from behind and tied the count twice but failed in the sixth inning. Ending the fourth it was 5-5. Ending the fifth it was 6-6. But the final count was Tuggle 7, Bank 6. The evening's other game was another close one. Wilde tied Colonial Acres 2-2 in the second and again 5-5 in the 5th but did not match Colonial Acres run in the sixth. The count: 6-5.

In the make-up games Tuggle had big third and sixth innings and Wilde scored only 2 and 1 in the fifth and sixth and the game ended 8-3. Next one the Bank got 1 each in the first and second, Colonial Acres got one each in the fourth and sixth for the 2-2 tie.

Monday night the Bank got 3 each in the third and fourth and 1 in the sixth. Wilde efforts fell short, 2, 1 and 1 in the third, fourth and fifth. And Colonial Acres had a big sixth tie after Tuggle took a 3-2 lead in the third and added 2 each in the next two innings.

Post Office to Close July 4

Monday, July 4, will be observed as a national legal holiday by the post office.

Post Office to Close July 4

No window service or dispatch services will be provided and no deliveries will be made by the rural carriers. However mail will be delivered to the lock boxes as usual. For faster dispatch, outgoing mail should be deposited in collection box outside for pick up by the star carrier.

4-H Clubs of 19 Counties Compete in Horse Show In Colonial Acres Barn

Plans are complete for the District 4 4-H Horse Show to be held here Saturday, July 2. The big event will take place in the spacious barn at the Colonial Acres Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders.

Four Cooke County youths will be in the ring competing against more than 130 other 4-H clubbers from 19 counties. Others attending will be sponsors, parents and horse enthusiasts.

Registrations will begin at 7 a.m.

Cooke County riders in the contest, eligible through wins in the county show, are Margaret Kralicke and Allen Fleitman of Muenster and Mike Graves and Louann Moody of Valley View.

Winners Saturday will advance to participation in the 1966 State 4-H Horse Show in San Antonio in August.

County Agent Neil Tibbetts said trophies will be awarded first place winners in each of 14 classes and ribbons will be presented to first ten places in each class.

E. H. Lynch of Tulsa, recognized by the American Quarter Horse Association, will judge ten halter classes and four performance classes — Western pleasure, reining, barrel racing and pole bending. Lynch, owner and breeder of horses has worked several years with Oklahoma 4-H boys and girls.

Show planners for the district event in addition to Tibbetts, include Bob Smith, horse trainer at Colonial Acres, Ted Martin, district agent from Denton, Herb Moody of Valley View and Weldon Dennis of Saint Jo.

The show is the second on a district level (District 4 in the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University).

Cooke County 4-H Club members will have a concession stand to serve lunches, drinks and snacks throughout the day. They'll sell hot dogs, barbecue sandwiches, homemade cake, etc. Mothers will be assisting the young people and they're preparing for a big crowd. Proceeds will go into the county 4-H club treasury.

Notes on Building and Improvement

Two commercial jobs, the A-OK Motel and Pagel's Store are heading the community's current building activity. The motel is almost finished, the store only has a good start.

At the motel finishing work in the rooms is expected to end this week and all units will be ready for use. Actually the place has been in business since last week Wednesday, when first patrons were accommodated after the first units were finished. Landscaping, now in progress, and paving, to be done next week, will complete the motel. It has twenty 12x24 units, all with carpet and electric heating and cooling.

Pagel's Store is just well started, with the brick walls about half finished. The 50x100 air conditioned building will be the new home of Muenster's oldest business, started by Maurice Pagel's grandfather in 1909, will have more than twice as much floor space as the present building.

The newest home in town is Bill Luke's, with the framework finished and walls under construction. Located in north Muenster, it has three bedrooms, two baths, central heat, brick veneering, double garage.

Practically a new home and nearing completion is Steve Moser's major remodeling job. He has converted the former garage into a bedroom and bath, added utility, den and carport, remodeled the kitchen and bath and refinished the other rooms.

Even more extensive remodeling is the former Frank Trubenbach home bought by Ernest Medders and just occupied by the Richard Blooms. About all that's left of the old building is the framework, and the result is three bedrooms, two baths, air conditioned, cable electric heating, brick veneering.

In Gainesville the Leo Lawson's are almost ready to move into their new home in the Bonner addition. It is brick veneered, has three bedrooms, two baths, double garage, central cooling and heating. When the Lawsons move their former home will be occupied by the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt.

At Lindsay Weldon Bezner is remodeling, adding a den with fireplace and brick exterior wainscoting. Some smaller jobs are new roofs for Richard Swirczynski and Emmet Fette, a new roof, interior paint and screens for Raymond Barnhill.

Thinking is the first requisite of any freedom.

A STATE DEPARTMENT SCHOLAR

Anyone who has had doubts about the wisdom of using tax dollars to bring foreign students to our crowded colleges in this country will be interested in the story of Tri Hai, a young Vietnamese woman who came to the U.S. in 1962 on a State Department scholarship. Like other government-run programs, State Department scholarships are intended to promote understanding abroad of our government and its policies—"build bridges" is the popular term.

Tri Hai returned to her native country where she blossomed out as a combination Buddhist nun and "aide and publicist" for the revolutionary Buddhist monk Trich Tri Quang. This is the fellow described in Marguerite Hizzins' book, "Our Vietnam Nightmare" as a major reason for the chaos in that country, "a Machiavelli with incense," who has played Americans, notably certain American diplomats, for fools.

For a Vietnamese demagog to have a press agent is probably not surprising. After all, nowadays every demonstrator and demagog finds it helpful to have some kind of "press representative," whether he's fired up with oratory or with matches, or strolling along a highway in some Southern state. But to have the beneficiary of a State Department scholarship turn flack for the likes of Tri Quang is a bitter pill to swallow. Recently the lady made clear just how much good this country has obtained from her expensive education here:

"I hate the United States President," she told an American reporter. She also told him that she now regards herself as an enemy of the U.S. State Department. Whether or not it had anything to do with her attitude, Tri Hai mentioned that all of her friends when she was in college in this country were "older—graduate students," and that her own classmates were "childish."

Tri Hai is "happy," or so she told the reporter. She says her family is happy, too, because she is happy in what she is doing, except that her father is afraid that she might burn herself. "It is my duty to tell him I will never do that," quoth Buddhist nun press agent Tri Hai, "but I don't know..."

And there stands one wobbly bridge of understanding built by our State Department scholarship program.

VOTING FOR IVAN

A certain metropolitan newspaper which does not give its readers the customary comic section recently provided an excellent substitute for one when it devoted a large section of its Sunday front page to an account of a national election in the Soviet Union. However, it was a strictly deadpan performance, not intended as humor.

Emphasis was placed on three characters photographed in the act of casting their ballots—Nikita Khrushchev, Semyon Budenny and Vyacheslav Molotov. Only one sentence in the lengthy piece described the weird mechanics of Communist election procedures: "Voters have the right to cross out the candidates' names but few do so."

To this, which rates a Pulitzer Prize for editorial understatement, we'd like to add a few more facts.

One is that, with customary efficiency, the politicians in the smoke-filled back rooms of the Kremlin have made voting so interesting to the Russians that 99 percent of them go to the polls. If a Russian hasn't checked in at his polling place by midday, some interested fellow-citizens come calling on him. Experienced Russians are firmly convinced that a trip to the polls will ward off a longer journey, to a slave labor camp.

Another incentive to easier voting is the Communist ballot, ready for casting. All candidates are so perfectly qualified that there are never confusing charges of "lunatic left" or "extremist right." Nor do they solicit the votes of minority blocs by chomping on pizza, blintzes and other national dishes.

With his pre-digested ballot in hand, the Soviet voter thus merely has to vote "da" as his counterpart in Hitler's Germany voted "ya." Theoretically, he may make changes in the ballot, but such a Russian is likely to have a hole in his head. Eventually if not now.

When the votes are in and counted, those elected to the Supreme Soviet start running the country. This they do by leaving everything to the Communist Party.

One final note: No Galluski Poll is necessary to tell who will win.

It would be interesting, however, to see a poll on how many Americans have been seduced by the Kremlin's propaganda about its "free elections."

WELFARE STATE FOR THE BIRDS

Over in Bonn, Germany, Prof. Otto Koenig recently completed a six-year experiment on the welfare state. The professor discovered some years ago that certain types of cranes react to society much as human beings do, so he imported a number of African egrets from Tunisia to begin his project.

The egrets were given all the benefits of welfare state living, including all the food they desired, water to drink and to bathe in, and an endless supply of nest-building supplies. Comfortably housed they lacked for nothing.

With all their creature comforts provided, the birds began to be bored, at the expense of their ordinary social structure.

Females began to fight over hatching privileges, often breaking the eggs, or pushing them from the nests.

The professor then noted unusual sexual deviation from the birds' normal patterns: The egrets began to indulge in rape, incest, and polygamy. A male bird wouldn't shrink at taking his sister or his daughter as a new wife. No female bird was safe if left unattended.

Young egrets, who ordinarily exhibit self-sufficiency at an early age, became dependent and lethargic. Even after they grew to maturity, they still relied on other birds to feed them.

The result of Professor Koenig's tests, if his thesis is valid that the breakdown in family and social structure among the egrets can be applied to human conditions, carries a strong warning for those who believe that the government should provide cradle-to-grave security.

But then, conservatives have been saying for a long time that the welfare state is for the birds.

DOG'S LIFE

The next time some disgruntled character tells you he's living a dog's life, congratulate him warmly. For there is reason to believe that our dogs may be achieving the Great Society faster than their masters. The American Pet Products Manufacturers Association reports that Americans are spending $530,000,000 a year to feed their dogs and another $250,000,000 for canine products and services.

BLOOD MONEY FOR CASTRO

This latest Cuban story, based on reports of escapees, told of more mass executions in the Red paradise to the south of Florida, but with a sickening touch. Before Castro's victims were shot they were drained of almost every drop of blood in their bodies. Then they were hauled off "to the wall," usually on stretchers, where they were propped up and executed.

To Castro, this was just good Communist business. Here's why, as told by Dr. Miguel Angel Olba Benito, secretary general of the Commission for Humane Treatment for Political Prisoners in Cuba:

"Seven pints of blood on the average, were extracted from the prisoners first. The blood is being sold to Communist Vietnam at $50 a pint."

This nauseating story is reminiscent of the horrible gas chambers of the Nazis, who did a thriving business in gold fillings extracted from the teeth of the unfortunates who perished there.

So far we have heard nothing that sounds like indignation in any quarters that are supposed to be opposed to atrocities. U Thant has been as mum as a gilded Buddha, and we've heard no complaints from our U.N. Ambassador Goldberg either.

Indeed, we're beginning to be afraid of the reaction we may get from some of our odd-ball politicians. They just may take it into their hands that it would be smart for the U.S. to buy this blood, at a higher price, of course. That would not only keep it out of Viet Cong hands, but would make Fidel love us.

The kid who got a nickle for taking out the ashes 30 years ago now has his own kid who gets two bits for turning up the thermostat.

LO, THE POOR FARMER

Charles B. Shuman, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is beginning to wonder if the Government has a grudge against farmers, and there certainly are reasons for his concern.

Take, for example, those Federal subsidies which for years have been used to prop up farm prices. Though it has been clear for a long time that most of the benefits go to big farmers who don't need any help, the Government persists with much the same programs.

Then there's the current general price inflation, stemming largely from Washington's continuing devotion to easy money and big budget deficits. Inflation is raising costs for everyone, including farmers, and to make matters worse the Administration is urging minimum-wage legislation that would lift farmers' payroll outlays.

And what is Washington doing about inflation? Well, for one thing, it's trying to knock down those farm prices which it has tried for so long to prop up. Despite rosy forecasts of farm income, the Federal tactics include dumping surplus grain and cutting military purchases of pork.

Mr. Shuman thus contends farm operators are getting the whammy from the Government, and it looks as if he's right. With all of those Federal planners fooling around with the rural economy, however, we're afraid the poor farmer was hexed from the start.

Law Should Make Criminal Respect Right of Victim

AUSTIN — Hang on, law-abiding citizens, there's help on the way.

It's in the form of Wick Fowler, a portly pundit who dabbles in war corresponding, chili making and after dinner speech making.

Fowler announced Saturday his own personal brand of war to help take the handcuffs—at least one of them—off the law enforcement officers and snap them back on the hands of the criminal element.

He proposed a new law to require a criminal to warn his intended victim of the crime he's about to commit or face a long term behind bars.

"And what's wrong with that?" asks the sly Fowler.

Fowler has hired an attorney to draw up a bill seeking to amend the new code of criminal procedure.

He proposes that the code require a lawbreaker to warn his victim of the intended crime "and give the offende sufficient time to defend himself against the unlawful act."

The law-abiding citizen who is about to fall victim to a criminal "would have ample opportunity to hire a lawyer and obtain the services of a police officer in order that his constitutional rights are preserved," said Fowler.

Any criminal who fails to warn his victims would be subject to a penalty equivalent to the maximum sentence provided for the crime he proposes to commit.

It would be a separate offense and any person sentenced under its provisions would not be subject to parole.

"The constitutions of our state and nation as written—and rewritten occasionally by the U.S. Supreme Court," says Fowler, "have jealously guarded the rights of criminals. I think it is time that the victim be recognized and at least offered an even break."

Let's make this clear... It's Real Draft Beer.

From the Falstaff Golden Tap comes draft beer in quart bottles with a twist-off cap. It's real draft beer, and it's new from Falstaff, where new ideas are a part of tradition. Falstaff... unmistakably, America's Premium Quality Beer.

Mrs. Voth Honoree At Shower Party

A gift party honored Mrs. James Voth Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 in the TP&L community room with Mrs. Bernard Hesse and Mrs. Leon Fleitman as co-hostesses for 22 guests.

Punch and cake were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink flowers flanked by pink candles. Appointments were in silver and crystal. Cake squares were decorated with American Beauty red booties. A stork held a vantage spot on the gift table.

The hostesses pinned a corsage of American Beauty roses on the honoree who received a shower of gifts wrapped in pink and blue from those attending.

Joe Starkes Host Grandchildren at Family Gathering

For the first time since they have grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Starke had all of them together at one time Sunday in their home at a family reunion. There are ten grandchildren now.

The gathering was held while out of town children were home on vacation. They included Mrs. Belden Snyder (JoAnn) and daughter Cheryl Ann who flew in from San Jose, Calif., for a week's visit; Mrs. Leonard Pfaff (LaVerna) and children David, Dale, Cindy and Greg of Denver, Colo., who also traveled by jet and had a two-week vacation.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Forrester and children Mona, Virgil and Michael of Forestburg and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gruber and daughters Annette and Alice of Lindsay.

Others at home on vacation were Joe Starke Jr. of Wichita Falls and Miss Mildred Starke of San Bernardino, Calif. She traveled with Mrs. Snyder and daughter but left earlier. By Friday this week all the visitors will be on their way home.

Gift Party Honors Mrs. Ronnye Russell

Mrs. Ronnye Russell was the honoree at a gift party Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. Dick Cain with Mrs. Aubrey Tuggle and Mrs. Edgar Dyer as co-hostesses. They presented her a corsage of pink carnations when she arrived.

Paper and pencil games entertained the group of 25 until a decorated bassinet filled with gifts was rolled in for the honoree to open.

Afterward individual small cakes iced in pink and blue were served with Hawaiian punch. Mrs. Jim Christian of Gainesville poured. Favors were three-cornered cups filled with nuts and mints and topped with a miniature baby doll.

Evelyn Hurley and Jerry Sicking Set Wedding July 16

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Evelyn Hurley and Jerry Sicking who have set their wedding for July 16.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad M. Flusche of Decatur and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sicking, Rt. 4, Gainesville.

The Nuptial Mass will be celebrated in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. Father Alcuin Kubis, pastor, will officiate.

The young couple has chosen Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grewing as honor attendants. Bridesmaids will be Miss Bernadette Mosman of Gainesville and Miss Norma Lutkenhaus of Muenster. Groomsmen will be brothers of the couple, Jerry Flusche of Decatur and David Sicking.

The future bride is a hair dresser operating Evelyn's Styleroom. The prospective bridegroom is in business as a member of Sicking Tractor Company in Gainesville.

Loretta Schmitt and Lt. Henry G. Victor Wed at Fort Hood

The wedding of Miss Loretta Schmitt and Lt. Henry Grant Victor was solemnized at Nuptial Mass Saturday, 11 a.m. in Chapel 2 at Fort Hood. Chaplain Smith officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al J. Schmitt of Muenster. Parents of the bridegroom are Col. and Mrs. H. G. Victor of Craig Air Force Base, Alabama.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of white satin adorned with lace appliques. It was designed with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and controlled front skirt sweeping to fullness in the back and falling in a chapel-length train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of white peau. She carried a crescent of white roses.

Adding sentiment to her wedding, the bride wore a diamond pendant that had been worn by her grandmother and mother at their weddings, and carried a lace handkerchief borrowed from her aunt, Mrs. Gene Fahey of San Antonio.

Sisters of the couple attended the bride. Miss Joyce Schmitt was maid of honor and Miss Katherine Ann Victor was bridesmaid. They were in ice blue floor-length gowns of peau de soie with fitted bodices and belled skirts. Their headpieces of blue peau de soie were covered with small veils of blue illusion. Each carried a single long-stemmed white carnation streamered with white satin.

Ralph Victor of San Antonio was his brother's best man and Tommy Schmitt of Amarillo, brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

The bridegroom was in full dress uniform.

Ushers were Thomas Duncan of San Antonio and Harvey Schmitt.

Reception and buffet were held in Fort Hood Officers' Club where guests were served champagne as they passed from the receiving line to the interior room. Finger foods were served from lace covered buffet boards and the three-tier wedding cake was served from the bride's table. Members of the house party included Mrs. Harvey Schmitt and Miss Barbara Schmitt who served punch, and Miss Judy Trubenbach of San Antonio who registered about 100 guests.

When the couple left on their wedding trip she was wearing a pink voile A-line costume with white linen accessories and a corsage of white rose buds.

They will be at home in Killeen while Lt. Victor is stationed at Fort Hood. He was graduated from St. Mary's University in San Antonio.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Our Lady of the Lake College. She taught English in Rhodes Junior High School in San Antonio the past year.

Among wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al J. Schmitt, daughters Misses Joyce and Doris Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher, Mrs. J. W. Fisher, Misses Barbara Schmitt and Nancy Fisher, all of Muenster.

Also the bride's grandfather Ben Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Otto of Gainesville, and Col. and Mrs. H. G. Victor and Miss Katherine Ann Victor and other family members of Craig AFB, Alabama.

Tips From Your Hatchery

Got some new items that should be fun to use. The Nut Grass Bomb: you can sit on a pillow, pick out the offender and "sink same", that is if you get good at pin point bombing. If Bermuda or other grass is invading your flower bed get a Dow Grass Bar. It looks like a trowel, you sit on the same pillow and rub the invader — he won't be back this year.

Better check your trees for bagworms, there sure is a bountiful crop of them. Watch your crepe myrtle for mildew.

The battle of the bugs seems to never end. Come and get more ammunition.

Birthday Honoree

New Ranch Hands
At Colonial Acres

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barger of Hereford are new residents of Muenster and he's a new employee at Colonial Acres Farm. He's a cattle feeder. The couple are at home at Fourth & Walnut Streets.

Other new employees — ranch hands for the summer — are Donald Lynskey of Chattanooga, Tenn., who is a guest in the Medders' home, and Melvin Ashley and Oliver Reed both of Saint Jo, Tommy Zimmerman of Lindsay and Jimmy Robison of Muenster. All are college students or getting ready to enter college.

Other employees are Joe Vogel and Pat Fisher, building fences. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bloom and children Paul, Susan and Charles have moved to the farm after living temporarily in the city while the former Frank Trubenbach Estate house was rebuilt and redecorated. Bloom is assistant farm manager.

"How was the wedding?" asked the preacher's wife. "It was fine 'til I asked the bride if she would 'obey' and she said, 'Do you think I'm crazy?' The Groom was in sort of a daze and mumbled, 'I do!' That was when things really began to happen."

5 YEARS AGO

June 30, 1961

Muenster is ready to welcome big attendance at July 4 homecoming. Two-year illness of Mrs. J. R. Winstead is ended by death. Plans are under way for completion of hospital drive. 175 children enroll in swim classes. Homecoming at Lindsay draws over 2000. Endres Motor Company receives award in driver training. Scout campout is rugged and rainy but fun; others join in field Mass for 115 present. Gremminger clan has annual reunion in Windthorst. Rebecca Mosman and John T. McDonnell marry here. Mrs. Leo Moster is given surprise housewarming. Florentine Tempel breaks left arm. New arrivals: boys for the Alfred Bayers and Gene Lukes, girls for the Bernard Haverkamps and Raymond Haverkamps.

An exasperated matron, being questioned about her deductions by an Internal Revenue Service agent, was heard to say:

"I wish the Government were half as fussy about how IT spends money as it is about how I spend it."

One or the Other

"Can I go out and play with the boy next door, Mummy?"
"No, You know I don't like him."
"Then can I go out and fight him?"

All Depends
A city boy on a night hike in the Rocky Mountains inquired of the guide: "Is it true that a grizzly bear won't attack you if you're carrying a flash light?"
"That depends," said the guide, "on how fast you're carrying it."

"It is appalling to see ruins of once great cities, ruins of civilization and flourishing cultures, strewn like weather beaten skeletons in the graveyard of their erosion destroyed lands, which today are stubbed with tombstone-like ruins of their irrigation and agricultural works." —W. C. Lowder-

Billy: "Daddy, why is the earth round?"
Father: "I'm not really sure."
Billy: "What makes an elephant so big?"
Father: "I don't know, son."
Billy: "Am I bothering you with my questions?"
Father: "Not at all. You never learn if you don't ask."

Wilde Chevrolet
Gives Free Corvair
Bumper Stickers

Responding to numerous requests from Corvair owners, Wilde Chevrolet Company is providing bumper stickers to help drivers of America's only rear-engine car tell how they feel about their automobile. "I Love My Corvair" the sticker proclaims in black letters on a bright orange background. It also glows at night. "The sticker reflects the sentiments of Corvair owners across the country who have written Chevrolet about their enthusiasm for their car," Wilde Chevrolet Company said.

"Nationally, the number of Corvair owners has now passed 1.5 million. This number will continue to grow because the car's distinctive features appeal to men and women who enjoy driving a sporty small car. They like it in 1966 and they'll like it even more in 1967."

In a recent survey of Corvair owners, 53 per cent listed "handling and roadability" as their favorite single Corvair feature.

Readers of Car and Driver Magazine have chosen Corvair as "best compact sedan" for the third consecutive year. It won over more than a dozen foreign and domestic entries.

During the reign of Julius Caesar, war cost 75 cents for every killed enemy ... In the Civil War, the expense was $5,000 a man ... In the First World War it was $50,000 ... In the Second World War it soared to more than $250,000 for each casualty.

Hesperian Assets
At All-Time High

After making an all time high interest payment in the period just ended, Hesperian Building and Savings Association of Gainesville is trying for new records for the second half of this year. It has raised its interest rate from 4.25 to 4.5 per cent per year.

The rate boost, following a nationwide trend, is intended to bring out more money for the building industry, which has slowed down in recent months.

Hesperian has just completed the biggest year in its career with an increase of $1,600,000 to its present total of $11,600,000 in assets. Interest payments for the past half year were over $212,000.

Established in 1890, Hesperian is the oldest building and savings institution of Texas. Only three firms received state charters before Hesperian and none of them remain in business.

Lindsay News

William Bezner Jr. was reported in satisfactory condition Wednesday at Gainesville Memorial Hospital after receiving head and chest injuries in a hay baler accident about 10:25 a.m. at the Gainesville Airport. According to report he fell from the tractor and was run over by the rear wheel of the tractor and a wheel of the baler.

Airman Larry Sandmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sandmann, is on duty in Vietnam. His new address is: A2C Larry B. Sandmann, AF 18-723 654; 14 CES, APO 96240; San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Sandmann have moved from Dallas to Howe. He was transferred by his company to Sherman and they bought a new home in Howe. Their little boy Steve is spending this week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Friske, who visited their daughter and family at their new home Monday and took Steve back with them.

Judy Schmidkofer returned home Sunday after a five-day visit with her grandparents, the Conrad Flusches at Decatur. She also visited her uncle James Flusche and family there. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Flusche returned Judy to her home when they came to Lindsay for the homecoming.

Hundreds of people flocked to Lindsay for the annual homecoming Sunday joining relatives and friends in the day's festivities. More than 700 dinners were served at noon. Recognition went to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison, former residents, who were the oldest married couple present — they were married in Lindsay in 1905 — and to Messrs. and Mmes. John Lueb and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lueb, all of Boulder, Colo., who traveled the farthest to attend.

The feast of Sts. Peter and Paul, patronal feast of Lindsay Parish, was observed Wednesday with a special evening Mass at 7:30.

Proud of their new boy are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zwinggi and four-year-old daughter Kim. The little brother was born June 23 at Gainesville Hospital and he and his mother were dismissed Monday. Christening services were held Monday afternoon in St. Peter's Church, Father John Walbe officiating, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Zwinggi of Tulsa attending as godparents for their nephew. His name is Kelley Eugene.

Ricky Bezner, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bezner, was dismissed from Gainesville Hospital Tuesday. He had an appendicitis operation.

Among those at the homecoming were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mosman of Gainesville and family members who visited them over the weekend: their daughter and husband, the Don Andersons and children Donna Kay, Gayle and Michael, and granddaughters Karen and Sharon Mosman, all of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Krebs of Kenefic, Okla.

Course for Teens On Personality to Open Next Tuesday

A teenage personal development course "All About You" will start next Tuesday afternoon, July 5. The course will be free for any teenage girl in Cooke County and surrounding areas and will be conducted each Tuesday afternoon in July.

Meetings will be from 1:30 to 4:00 at the Farm Bureau meeting room in Gainesville. The first of the four sessions will be on hair care and style, skin and make up and manicures. The following sessions will include posture and poise, "feeling pretty" and good manners, and clothing selection. All the programs will be conducted by out of county professionals.

The course has been planned by home demonstration agents in Cooke County and home economic teachers. All high school or older girls are urged to attend.

A chartered bus load of girls from Texas made the trip. They all wore cowboy hats and holsters. Confetti - - - pensive and troublesome gadget — and, to most people, an unnecessary gadget.
Other new automotive legislation, we are told, will force manufacturers to put more safety features on cars of the future. That's fine. No one can find fault with mechanical improvements that will reduce the number of accidents and the number of injuries sustained in accidents. But let's not forget that most accidents are caused by driver failure, not mechanical failure. So, though we'll be grateful for any decrease in mechanical failure, we're still very much aware that big improvements are needed in our drivers.

That fact doubtless will be presented to us again the coming holiday weekend. Department of Public Safety estimates tell us to expect 31 traffic deaths during the period. As usual, the reports will show that in most cases the drivers were at fault.
