Some senators think the position.

One can hardly blame the senators who oppose Johnson's appointment and threaten to filibuster if necessary to block it. Many are determined to reserve the choice for the next president. Others in their hearts know it ought to be that way.

And now comes Warren's next maneuver. He says he will not resign if the Senate refuses to approve LBJ's appointment. The implication apparently is that the country will be stuck with him a long time if the Senate does not go along with the scheme.

Will the Senate give in to the ultimatum? This column hopefully predicts it will stand pat. The new arrangement promoting Fortas to supreme justice and naming Thornberry to the vacancy is one that would probably be in as sweating out Warren's actual resignation should be con- Conservation Service office is siderably shorter. A disappointing sequel in events following Robert Kennedy's assassination is the abusive criticism directed at Mayor Yorty of Los Angeles for implying that a communist conspiracy may be involved. He remarked that Sirhan's notebooks showed him to be "influenced by contacts with the Communist Party and Communist fronts," an angle that has received scant attention in the deluge of comment on the tragedy. Monday Set for City Hearing on Tax Equalization

The annual hearing conducted by the board of equalization of the City of Muenster will be held next Monday night, July 15, at 7:30 p.m., just before the regular city council meeting. That is the time for taxpayers to voice their objections to increases of tax. Several changes were made recently as the board revised local tax renditions. In most cases the changes result from increased valuation due to new building or repairs during the past year. Some changes also are the annual corrections on valuations which have been rendered lower than last year. All who had their taxes raised have been notified by postals and advised of the hearing date. Only a few dozen persons are in the group. If a person is not notified it means that his assessment is the same as last year or as he rendered it.

ON NON-CONFORMITY

It seems that just about every generation in every society has its rebels. The current species is called the hippy. The breed varies but little from nation to nation. The teddy boys of England and the lipstick-wearing longhairs of the Scandanavian countries are the same, fundamentally, as the domestic oddballs of San Francisco, New York and Boston fame.

In bygone days they were known as Bohemians and later as beatniks, but they still conformed to set patterns of nonconformity. They are distinguished by a universal dislike for the establishment; they look down on the organization man, and try to organize a-gainst him. Yet they confirm more to a set pattern than he

For example, the organization man may live in an apartment, town house, hotel room, penthouse, coldwater flat, bungalow, farmhouse, or any one of dozens of other abodes. He may be Catholic, Protestant, Jew, agnostic or atheist, or any one of several less wellknown religious sects.

Not so, the hippy. His religion is the present fad. He may worship Timothy Leary this week, Mao Tse-tung the next, and Fidel Castro before the month is out. His abode is a kind of commune where he shares the dirt, disease and perhaps the various bodies as

Quacks Extort Millions With Phony Cure-alls and Gadgets, Says AMA

Today there are thousands of quacks promising quick cures for every disease known. They extort millions of dollars annually from their gullible patients. Yet, the quack's promises, cure-alls and gadgets are as phony as a fixed gambling wheel or a "con man's" schemes, said F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D., executive vice president of the American Medical Association. "Healthy people usually laugh at or ignore the quack," he said, "but sick people may grasp at anything that offers a quick cure. Indeed, almost anyone can be fooled unless he knows how quacks operate."

Machines can be a blessing or a curse to medicine. In the hands of a skilled physician, certain machines are useful in arriving at a diagnosis or charting a method of treatment.

But some machines are a threat to your health. Any quack who passes off his device or gadget or "system" as a cure-all is cashing in on your limited knowl-

Doctors of medicine are trained for years in reputable schools and hospitals. They are licensed only after they meet high medical standards. The legitimate doctor does not limit himself to a device or instrument or to any one "system." He does not limit himself to manipulations or adjustments.

Not so with the quacks. The quack pretends to medical skill. He invents a machine, device or scheme to defraud the public. He advertises that he has the one and only "cure." He may | even purchase a phony medical diploma. All the quack needs is someone to believe him. And some sick people are easily impressed.

One alleged "doctor" testified he received four degrees from a "drugless practitioners college" he said he had attended for one year. He claimed to be a doctor of chiropractic, naturopathy, herbal materia medica and electro-therapeutics.

Another "practitioner," who came here from India, advertised that he has at least 15 degrees including an "honorary M.D.".

The American Medical Association points out that emergencies are unpredictable and you should assemble materials now, before you need them. At home, keep them in a special cabinet or box beyond the reach of small children. When traveling, keep your supplies in a moisture-proof

The following items (labeled clearly and with instructions for use) should be included in your first aid kit-

· Individual package-type sterile dressings (2-inch by 2inch and 4-inch by 4-inch) for open wounds or burns.

· Roller bandages for finger bandages (1-inch by 5 yards) and for holding dressings in place (2-inch by 5 yards).

· Roll of adhesive tape to hold dressings in place. · Bath towels and bed sheets which can be cut into sizes necessary to cover wounds. • Triangular bandage (37-inch by 37-inch) for a sling, for a dressing, or as a covering.

· Safety pins, blunt-tip scissors, tweezers, measuring spoons, eye dropper, and wooden tongue blades.

suggests a payoff. Instead of exploring the possibility of red involvement following those three crimes government and news media have thrown up the same smoke screen. "We are a sick nation. We all share in the guilt of this terrible deed."

The big question in our minds is: why the objection when someone points the finger at communism? Why the failure by big people to see that the turmoil of the assassinations and dozens of riots is the very condition that communism thrives on?

We are concerned here with not only one event or a few, but dozens of them - all of them contributing directly to the communist goal of wrecking this country. Are we to believe that each has been mere coincidence favoring the reds? Or should we suspect that coincidence does not repeat so often, and it's high time to suspect conspiracy?
