

One of the first jobs awaiting the new senate is to decide for or against confirmation of Peter J. Brennan as the new secretary of Labor. It's going to be a tough choice, considering that lawmakers will be subject to lots of pressure from both sides.

The president's nomination, though possibly explainable in the game of politics, is a mystery from the standpoint of fair representation. The man cannot be identified with the majority of workers.

Regardless of all that, politics should not be the big consideration. It's the principle of the thing, supporting a system of industrial slavery in which workers have to pay tribute to industrial dictators.

Those are the people who keep agitating for high unearned wages — to increase their dues income — and snarl the economy by nudging the inflation spiral constantly higher.

Considering all that, one is baffled by the president's nomination — but not by the current movement to block the confirmation. The National Right to Work Committee reports this week that grassroots opposition is picking up.

Street Becomes Kids' Playground In Wet Weather

Elementary children of Muenster Public School for the first time Monday exercised their new privilege of playing in the street at recess. It was their first occasion since the city council recently granted permission to block the street for the youngsters in wet weather.

The area concerned is the north half of the paved street west of the lunch room and elementary building. When the playground is muddy it may be barricaded during school hours.

Teachers Adopt Qualification List For Honor Society

Members of the Muenster Classroom Teachers Organization in their special meeting last Friday discussed and adopted a set of qualifications required for admission of Muenster Public School students in the National Honor Society.

Separate qualifications for the senior and junior divisions of the society were drawn up and posted in accordance with recommendations of the national council. Also included were conditions which are regarded as grounds for dismissal from either division.

The teachers decided that requirement for selection to the honor society is a grade of 85 or more plus high standards of character, service, leadership and citizenship. Based on those qualities, the candidate must have the recommendation of the principal and the approval of at least 80 per cent of his or her current teachers.

Students selected for the society will be admitted at an assembly of the student body, the induction ceremony being conducted by another chapter, and the students' parents being honored along with them.

Gary Chisam, president, presided at the teachers meeting in the TP&L Building and Principal Charles Cash attended as a guest.

Twins Could Not Wait For Birth at Hospital

Twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williams of Krum are doing fine at Muenster Hospital after their parents lost the race with the stork because their car ran out of gas.

The chain of events that started early Saturday morning also brought surprises. The couple was not expecting twins. Each was born in a different car and in a different town.

Rita Williams woke her husband early in the morning and told him she thought it was time to go to the hospital even though it supposedly was two more months before the couple expected their first child.

Larry's father, Alvin Williams, who lives behind the young couple joined them on the trip. He picked up a blanket and sterilized a scissors — just in case.

The 45-minute drive to the hospital was proceeding well when the car ran out of gas at

Muenster Teams Take All in Two Double Headers

Coach Charles Cash and his MHS basketballers made a clean sweep of their two double headers during the past week. They bested Sanger for the 14-A record and they took two easy ones from Prairie Valley for practice.

In the local gym last Friday Doris Felderhoff and associates poured in the points at one end of the court while teammates Lenora Fleitman, Lisa Mollenkopf and Kimberly Klement held a tight rein on visiting forwards.

The result was a comfortable lead of 37-13 at the half and coasting to a 71-48 win. Doris ran up a big total of 49. Deb Schneider added 14. Becky Fields 7 and Janet Swirczynski 1.

The boys game was a fast moving contest in which the Hornets played one of their better games and avenged a former loss 62-52. They started slow, falling behind 19-14 the first period but followed up with a strong second quarter in which they gained 13 for a 35-27 half time lead.

They gained 4 more in the third making the count 47-35 and finished with a lead of 62-52. Four boys scored in two figures: Tom Otto 20, Lyle Klement 13, Mark Lippe 12, Ronnie Felderhoff 10. Also Randy Wolf made 3, Joe Bright and Robert Johnson each 2.

Playing Prairie Valley the MHS girls ran away with an 85-33 decision as Doris Felderhoff ran up 59, Deb Schneider 16, Becky Fields 8 and Joyce Swirczynski 2.

The boys contest made the Hornets hustle but gave them no serious problems. After a 16-10 first quarter lead the Hornets held their 6 point margin through the next period and led 30-24. They got organized in the third surging to a comfortable 51-33 lead then ended with a 65-45 win.

Five Hornets scored in the double figures for that one: Tom Otto led with 15, Lyle Klement and Mark Lippe each made 11, Ronnie Felderhoff and Robert Johnson hit 10 each. Also Randy Wolf scored 6 and Joe Bright 2.

The 14-A season is rushing to an early end for both of the MHS teams. Muenster girls will have their final action Friday night with Nocona on the local court. They have a present record of 8-3 and appear to be headed for second spot in the final 14-A standing. Muenster boys have three more games, all tough, with Nocona here Friday, Frisco here Tuesday and Petrolia here next Friday. Presently they have a 3-6 record and are tied with Sanger for fifth and sixth in the race.

Lindsay shortly before 4 a.m. Larry ran to a nearby mobile home to borrow some gasoline while his father tried to flag down a passing motorist. Reportedly three cars passed without stopping. Then Miss Carol Benzer, 19, and her brother Jay, 17, returning to their home in Lindsay after work in a Gainesville restaurant, stopped to see if they could help. Williams asked if they would rush Rita to the hospital.

But before the transfer could be made, a baby was on its way and the grandfather calmly delivered the three pound 10 ounce boy.

Miss Benzer helped the new mother into the back seat of her car and Williams and the baby got in the front seat. Jay stayed at the Williams car to tell Larry he was a new father when he returned with the gas.

Miss Benzer reportedly broke some speed records in getting the mother to the hospital and the baby to the nursery. Just before reaching their destination the car hit a large hole in the street and seconds later Rita announced, "Pop, I've got another one!"

The surprised grandfather carefully added the new baby to the blanket bundle. Clint Anthony, two pounds eight ounces was born in Muenster to join his brother, Craig Andrew, who was born in Lindsay.

The twins were placed in the same incubator and are reported doing well. They will not be released until they gain to five pounds.

In the meantime Larry had roused Robert Gruber at his mobile home and told him about having to get his wife to the hospital. Gruber went to the car with him and Larry learned that his wife and his new son were already on their way. Gruber then drove Larry to the hospital where he learned he had two sons instead of one.

The young couple has been married only eleven months. She was born in Guam but spent most of her life in California where she met Larry when he was in the Marines. They married in February and left for Larry's home in Texas. He is employed at Moore's in Denton.

The 19-year-old mother surprised everyone including her doctor by having twins. Only one heart beat had been heard and no one was prepared for twins. Showers are planned when she returns home.

Later, Larry and his father, still excited over events, forgot that only a few gallons of gas had been added to their car. They ran out of gas again on the way home.

Anniversary of Scouting

Sometimes we shudder at the thought of today's youth becoming tomorrow's leaders. However, it is reassuring to recall that youth organizations such as the Boy Scouts of America are working to develop future leaders of strong moral character and sound convictions, capable of carrying forward in strength and freedom the traditions of the United States.

It is appropriate that we give special recognition to the Boy Scouts of America this February 8, as they celebrate the 63rd Anniversary of the founding of Scouting in America. During the month of February, the over 6 million Boy Scouts will be exhibiting for the public the many Scouting skills which lead to the development of good character traits, attitudes and self-reliance. Their theme this Anniversary is: "Scouting Today Is More Than You Think," and truly it is just that because Scouting is engaged in an assortment of programs and projects which make the organization more relevant than ever before to the needs and concerns of today's youth. One example is Operation Reach, an action plan to help curb drug abuse.

This Anniversary Celebration of the Boy Scouts of America should remind us that with organizations such as the Boy Scouts we can, indeed, entrust tomorrow's well-being of our great nation to a well-qualified and responsible younger generation.

The Mind of a Murderer

Lawmakers, who are themselves law-abiding citizens, presume that if a law were passed taking guns away from the people it would be obeyed — and it would be so far as law-abiding citizens are concerned. But neither party in this case really understands the mental processes of the criminal, and here is the great weakness of gun controls.

A shocking illustration of how wide of the mark gun control laws are when it comes to curbing the criminal is described in "The American Rifleman". The story tells of a 31-year-old man who is a professional killer. He came from a family of lawbreakers. Un-

MAN'S FIRST STEPS IN RUBBER FOOTWEAR:

IN 1731 A FRENCH EXPEDITION IN BRAZIL, STUDYING THE SHAPE OF THE EARTH, REPORTED THAT THE NATIVES USED STRANGE WATERPROOF FOOTWEAR MADE OF A CRUDE RESINOUS SUBSTANCE... EARLY TRADERS CALLED THESE PROTECTIVE SHOES "GUM BOOTS."

PRIOR TO 1844, WHEN A CHEMICAL PROCESS GIVING ELASTICITY, STRENGTH AND STABILITY TO THIS CRUDE MATERIAL WAS DISCOVERED, THE U.S. IMPORTED OVER 400,000 PAIRS OF NATIVE "GUM BOOTS" A YEAR.

THE NAME "KEDS" FOR CANVAS RUBBER-SOLED FOOTWEAR WAS FIRST USED IN 1917. IT WAS SUGGESTED BY THE LATIN WORD "PED" REFERRING TO FOOT... TODAY, THERE ARE OVER 1,500 VARIETIES OF KEDS BEING WORN IN AMERICA FOR SPORT AND LEISURE WEAR.

til he was jailed, he and a partner were highly successful in their profession. During a killing spree, they murdered six people in Salt Lake City with a knife and a pistol. The two murderers were saved from the official Utah firing squad by the generous mercy of the Supreme Court of the United States. Discussing murder was like a baseball game to them. One of them remarked, "You're born to die. There's no way you can escape it. All I did was help it." On the subject of gun controls, he said, "Now you take the guns away from the citizen, it'll make it a little harder for us to get them, but it'll make it a damn sight harder on the citizens because they want to go about it legally. We'll just go steal it..."

This is the mind of a murderer at work. It remained untouched by laws restricting the freedom of the law-abiding to bear arms.

Dangerous Ignorance

A survey of the editors of 21 major magazines with a combined circulation of over 50 million reveals an amazing lack of understanding of the U. S. timber industry, timber management and the forest resources of the nation. By the same token, the public is even more confused on these important matters.

Many think the U.S. is exhausting its forests. The fact is that 75 percent of the continent's original forest land is still growing trees. A good share of editors and the public believe that trees can be "saved" in perpetuity by simply tightening controls over harvesting. A great many people apparently feel that we could do without wood entirely. Clearly, there is a great dearth of information on facts concerning the forest products industry. Trees are this country's largest renewable natural resource. For many years — thanks to the advancing science of forestry practiced by timber companies — timber growth, harvesting and utilization has steadily improved.

Trees, like other crops, grow to maturity and die. In the course of their growth, they contribute in manifold ways to the preservation of wildlife and to the health and recreational needs of man. That is why timber companies have evolved a multiple-use conservation philosophy in the management of forest lands. This philosophy is consistent with the necessity of harvesting as well as utilizing America's trees. The greatest threat to the perpetuation of forests is sheer public ignorance as reflected in the recent poll.

Men Without a Country

Now that Congress is back in business, and the war in Vietnam fading into history, the cry is again being raised to grant "amnesty" to the deserters, the draft dodgers and the traitors who fled the United States in order not to serve their country in time of need.

The amnesty issue brings to mind the classic story of Philip Nolan, immortalized by Edward Everett Hale in "The Man Without A Country." Nolan, a young West Point lieutenant, fell under the spell of Aaron Burr in 1807 and was court-martialed for plotting to seize control over United States territory in the Southwest. When he was asked, at the close of his trial, if he had anything to say, he cried out in a way akin to the "new left" today:

"D--- the United States! I wish I may never hear of the United States again!"

Nolan got his wish. Ordered to sea on an American warship, and from that time on, transferred from one vessel to another, he never again set foot on United States soil. No one aboard ship was allowed to speak to him about America. All conversation about our country stopped when he appeared.

Before his death Nolan had a change of heart, and he died in remorse. Not so most of the present-day turncoats. They have been consistently used for the Communist propaganda mill and still spout their hatred of America. And even if they may have a change of heart, the die has been cast. They cannot return. While they lived in comfort and safety, over 40,000 brave Americans gave their lives in the hope that freedom might live in one other small, unconquered corner of the globe. Many thousands of others risked death, and suffered injury, and spent agonizing years away from home and loved ones. America is for those who love America. Let the others stay where they are. Who needs them?

If You're Suddenly Left Alone a Will Is a Great Help

"Have you ever thought about what you would do if suddenly left alone?" It's not a happy thought — but happens to more and more women each year.

Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, stressed the importance of recording your wishes in a will.

"Unfortunately, many women fail to do so.

"Statistically, most married women become widows sooner or later. Of course, sometimes the men are left alone instead. Still another situation involves the single and unmarried woman.

"Whatever the case, eventually the time will come when someone else will handle your affairs. When that time comes, can important papers be found designating your wishes?"

To insure they are followed as desired, Mrs. Myers stressed becoming familiar with the state laws concerning wills.

"After learning the proper procedures and forms, put personal and business affairs in order immediately.

"First, take an inventory of what you have.

"Also, check with insurance policies to make sure beneficiaries are up to date.

"Get your business center in order, talking over all business matters with your spouse, next of kin or a very close friend," the specialist continued.

"Consult your attorney about the inventory and your plans to determine what must be done to protect loved ones.

"Making a will while your spouse is alive has a definite advantage — plans can be jointly discussed and made concerning disposition of the estate and plans for the children and grandchildren. Decision-making is more difficult when alone."

Unavoidable hardships can come about without a will, Mrs. Myers emphasized.

"For example, if the husband dies leaving the wife everything, what happens if she dies shortly afterwards, leaving no will? If they had small children, serious consequences could result involving a guardian. Without a will, guardianship may be left for strangers to decide.

"Also, without a will, the couple's joint plans could be defeated. Their property would be disposed of by a court-appointed administrator according to state law.

"Thus, chances are the property won't be distributed as they desired. In addition, the estate might be reduced since probate and administrative expenses would be deducted."

Mrs. Myers also noted a will assures that an unmarried woman's wishes will be carried out in disposing her estate.

Without one, her property would revert to relations — no matter how distant or unknown.

Since a will is so important, why don't more women prepare one?

"Part of the problem revolves around the idea that the husband's will is sufficient for the family.

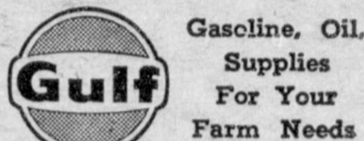

"Also, in many cases women feel their property isn't worth drawing up a will. Nevertheless, their estates often include valuable jewelry, paintings, antiques, stocks, bonds, life insurance and real estate," Mrs. Myers contended.

"Hence, the wise family plans together for the future of those left when death claims adult members," she said.

Teresa Hoedebeck
And Chris Cagle
Say Vows at Mass

Miss Teresa Hoedebeck became the bride of Chris Cagle in a double ring ceremony during Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 5 p.m. The Rev. Arthur C. Hughes, pastor of St. Jude's Catholic Church in Dallas, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoedebeck and Mrs. Donald Huffman of Lawton, Okla., and the late Adford Cagle.

The bride, a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, had been employed by Jr. Elite Dress Factory here. Her husband, a graduate of Saint Jo High and Cooke County Junior College is employed by R&R Excavating Company in Dallas and the couple will make their home in that city.

Presented by her father for marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over taffeta. Imported Chantilly lace embroidered with hand-beaded pearls covered the closely fitted empire bodice. The lace also edged the scalloped neckline and cuffed the sheer organza sleeves from elbow to wrist. The full skirt formed a chapel-length train held by a detachable bow.

Her lace-edged mantilla-type veil extended to chapel-length from a Juliet cap. Her flowers were purple orchids surrounded by feathered white carnations and orchid hyacinths.

Adding sentiment she carried a blue rosary carried by her mother at her wedding, wore a silver locket a gift from the groom and had a 1953 penny, the year she was born, in her shoe.

Bride's attendants were Misses Linda Voth of Denton, maid of honor and Peggy Hoedebeck, a sister, Yvonne Gehrig of Denison, and Roberta Sanchez of Derby, Kansas, a cousin, bridesmaids. Toni Hoedebeck, another sister, was flower girl.

They wore identically designed gowns, the maid of honor in lavender velvet and the others in deep purple velvet. The empire waists and long puffed sleeves were emphasized with satin braid and they had purple and lavender flowers and velvet streamers in their hair.

Their flowers were nosegays of purple feathered carnations, pink sweetheart roses and purple violets. Each wore a white ivory rose necklace, gift from the bride.

Lee Roy Hess of Dallas was best man, Eddie Hellman of Dallas, Sammy Sparkman of Gainesville and Steve Hess were groomsmen. Fred Hoedebeck, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Ushers were Gilbert Knabe, brother-in-law of the bride, Jim Moore, cousin of the groom, and Stanley Endres.

Acolytes were Joe Hoedebeck, brother of the bride, Charles Hoedebeck and Steve Arendt, cousins, Mark Klement and Chris Stoffels.

The altar before which the couple pledged vows was banked with red poinsettias and flanked by candelabra entwined with greenery and lilies of the valley.

Wedding music was by Miss Mary Lou Kralicke, organist and Misses Debbie Yosten, Cheryl Otto and Laurie Wimmer, vocalists.

Before Mass they sang "Let It Be Me." The organ bridal march was "One Love," with the "Wedding Song" at the offertory and "The First Time" at the communion. After Mass when the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine and the bride placed two long-stemmed purple carnations on the altar the trio sang "Peace, Joy and Happiness." For the recessional the organ number was "One Hand, One Heart."

Wedding reception and dinner were held in the KC Hall where Misses Mary Hoedebeck, bride's sister, and Dianne Hoedebeck, a cousin, of Denison, registered guests. Bride's portrait was on the registration table.

Shades of lavender and purple predominated on the bride's table which held the three-tier cake, made and cut by Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid and served by Mrs. Gilbert Knabe, bride's sister and Mrs. Butch Hendricks, Lawton, Okla., sister of the groom.

Pre-Nuptial Parties
A kitchen shower and a dinner party were pre-nuptial courtesies. Misses Linda Voth, Yvonne Gehrig and Peggy Hoedebeck were co-hostesses for the gift party in the TP&L community room. Mothers of the couple and the honoree received corsages of purple feathered carnations. Refreshment table carried out the chosen colors of white, lavender and purple and held a heart-shaped cake which was served with punch to 20 guests.

A small dinner party was held on Jan. 20 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoedebeck at Gainesville for the couple. Dinner for eight was served from tables covered with lavender and white gingham cloths with purple and white candles and flowers as a centerpiece. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Sparkman, Lee Roy Hess and Miss Debbie Yosten.

Fisher and Hess Win Betty Crocker Homemaker Award

For the first time this year competition for the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow was open also to boys and the winner at Sacred Heart High for the 1973 award is Myron Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hess.

Muenster Public School's 1973 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Janice Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher.

Both were selected by score in a written knowledge and attitude examination open to senior girls and boys.

Both will receive a specially designed award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker Search for American Homemaker of Tomorrow and are eligible for state and national honors.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be chosen from all school winners in the state in judging centering on performance in the Dec. 5 test, will receive a $1,500 college scholarship. A 20-volume reference book, "The Annals of America," will also be presented to the state winner's school by Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. The second-ranking student in the state will receive a $500 scholarship.

In late April, the 51 state winners, representing every state and the District of Columbia — each accompanied by a faculty adviser — will gather in Washington, D. C., for an expense-paid tour of the capital city and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

Culminating the tour will be announcement of the 1973 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up. They will be awarded increases in their scholarships to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

A total of 665,600 seniors were enrolled in this year's Search, the first in which boys were eligible to participate. Since the program began in the 1954-55 school year, approximately nine million students have taken part.

Societies to Meet

St. Joseph's Society will meet Sunday, Feb. 4, in the Club at 8 p.m. At the same time St. Anne's Society will meet in SHH Library. After business the two groups will join in the Club for a fried chicken buffet and table games.

20,000 Texans Are Enrolled in DDC Driving Courses

An estimated 20,000 Texans are enrolled in 700 Defensive Driving Courses being offered this month in all sections of the state, according to information released today by the Texas Safety Association. "These Texans should become better drivers and, at the same time, save 10% on the major portion of their automobile insurance," J. U. Parker, TSA president, said, in releasing the information.

"A study conducted by the National Safety Council shows that DDC graduates have 32.8% fewer accidents in the year after taking DDC. We expect a half million Texans to complete the DDC course during 1973 and, if the National Safety Council's study holds good in Texas, we can look forward to a significant reduction in the Texas traffic crash rate," Parker stated.

The Defensive Driving Course, designed for persons who already have their driver's license, consists of eight hours class study and discussion. The State Board of Insurance has directed insurance companies whose rates they set to give a 10% reduction on automobile liability, collision, and medical payments insurance to certified graduates of the training program.

A spot check conducted by TSA shows that 99% of all Texas DDC graduates report the course improved their driving habits. Some drivers responding to the questionnaire had driven for more than fifty years.

The Texas Safety Association predicts that more than a thousand classes will be offered throughout the state in February and that this number will increase to two thousand in April.

Information about local DDC classes can be obtained by contacting local schools, universities, colleges, safety councils, or the Texas Safety Association, P. O. Box 3138, Austin, Texas 78764.

A newlywed sought valiantly to console his little bride. "Darling, believe me. I never said you were a terrible cook. I merely pointed out that our garbage disposal has developed an ulcer."

An assembly will be held at 10:30, on February 2, to start the month's activities. Mrs. Martin Kralicke will be guest speaker. She will talk on first aid practices that can be used in case of an accident. Activities for the rest of the month will be explained by one of the Student Council members.

SH Junior Teams Lose 2 to Lindsay

Junior basketball teams of Sacred Heart went down in a double loss in their encounter with Lindsay Monday.

The girls game featured a strong second half rally in which Lindsay overcame a 20-7 halftime deficit and nudged ahead 26-24 in the last half minute. A contributing factor, of course, was the fact that Sacred Heart scored only 4 in the second half, and Janet Henscheid fouled out. SH scorers were Janet Henscheid 11, Sharlene Pagel 8 and Marlene Pagel 5.

The boys game was a matter of Sacred Heart getting the lesser of two low scores. The count was 14-9. Kenny Felderhoff led the Sacred Heart effort with 4.

Students Remember Nicaragua's Needy

Sacred Heart students remembered Nicaragua's earthquake victims in a special way on January 24 at a special Mass in Sacred Heart Church.

Sophomore class members planned the liturgy with readings by Carol Knabe and music conducted by Sister Yvonne Lerner.

In an offertory collection students donated thirty-five dollars for survivors of the disaster. The money will join other contributions going to the country's relief.

Kindness to Birds
Is Rewarded by Winter Pleasure

Winter feeding of birds can create a natural laboratory just outside your window, providing an opportunity to observe some of nature's most beautiful creatures.

Charles Ramsey, wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests feeding birds especially during the winter months when ice storms or heavy snows seal up the food supply on the ground for days or even weeks.

Birds can stand frigid sub-zero weather if they can eat enough food to keep up their body temperatures, points out the Texas A&M University specialist.

With the inquisitive chickadees usually the first to discover the where-abouts of generous handouts, birds readily accept any hospitality they can find during cold weather.

Once suet and seed are put out, Ramsey advises against discontinuing feeding later in the winter because the birds will come to depend on this regular supply of food.

Winter feeding is sometimes complicated by problem guests such as English sparrows, starlings and squirrels. English sparrows and starlings are introduced species that should be out their native competitors. They are not protected by law so they may be trapped and disposed of. There are several live-traps available commercially that are suitable, points out Ramsey.

Since trapping may not be feasible, the specialist suggests scattering scraps of bread on the ground in the open for sparrows and starlings while feeding grain to the more timid birds in a sheltered spot among trees or bushes.

Squirrels are sometimes troublesome, but they are also interesting to observe. Bird feeders suspended by small wires several feet from anything which squirrels might climb usually solves the problem.

Although some people object to the bullying ways of jays, these birds are beautiful creatures, which, like squirrels, are part of the native wildlife population. Jays like the larger seeds such as sunflower and will scatter a seed mixture with smaller seeds. So, Ramsey suggests feeding large seed in a separate feeder for jays.

Birds that would ordinarily eat insects must be fed animal food entirely; in other words, suet, beef fat or chopped meat. Seed-eating birds will eat little except vegetable food. Some birds such as nuthatches and chickadees, will eat both suet and seeds. A minimum variety of feed should include suet, sunflower seed, millet and cracked corn, suggests the specialist.

As far as feeding devices are concerned, many are available commercially. But a small shelf tacked to a tree to hold seeds and a small piece of hardware cloth to hold suet will be sufficient.

"Would you hire yourself?" asks the National Association of Manufacturers. The Association then continues, "This was the provocative headline on an editorial we ran across recently in a company house organ. It's a good question. The editorial seems worthy of a wider audience, and so here are a few quotes from it. 'If you were your boss and needed someone to fill your present position, would you hire yourself? If you had the choice of a dozen people you presently work with, would you be the first choice to fill your position? Or would you have to look around for someone with more initiative, interest in the job, and a better attitude toward the work and fellow employees?' Then the editorial goes on to point out that if we are honest with ourselves, we are each the best judge of our weaknesses and strengths. It's worth thinking about — would you hire yourself?"

Facts do not cease to exist because they are ignored.

Three World Nonstop Records

New Long Range Jet Links Continents

Latest advances in aviation technology are bringing faraway places ever closer to home, as was dramatized when one of the world's newest jetliners, the McDonnell Douglas DC-10, recently set three world nonstop flight records in a single week. In a dramatic demonstration of its long range capabilities, the first intercontinental model of the wide-cabin tri-jet spanned 7,677 miles from Los Angeles to Hong Kong in 14 hours, 44 minutes. Three days later, the huge, quiet plane flew 7,800 miles from the Pacific island city of Honolulu to Buenos Aires, Argentina, far below the equator, in 14 hours and 18 minutes. To end the week, the new DC-10 took less than 12 hours, to fly the 6,300 miles from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil to Long Beach, California — where McDonnell Douglas produces the 250 to 380 passenger jetliner.

In one week's flying — more than 30,000 miles in 57½ hours — the far ranging DC-10 spanned the far Pacific, crossed the equator, soared over the Andes mountains and Amazon jungle, then cruised over Central America and up the length of Mexico to touch down in Southern California — and proved the world will never be as large again.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke

Let's talk about books on drug abuse. We have a new one, "Go Ask Alice," by an anonymous author. Every teenager should read this book. Really it should be read by parents first to give them a first hand account of what can happen to their children so easily. It is really nightmarish.

It is written as a diary of a 15-year-old girl becoming a drug addict and a pusher, and as she fought back. It was on television Wednesday night, Jan. 24.

We have two other books on drug abuse. "Mind Drugs" by Margaret Hyde and "Pleasure Seekers, the Drug Crisis, Youth and Society."

In the former, experts from several fields including medicine, psychiatry, social, psychology and public health write about the effects of mind drugs.

In the latter book, Joel Fort, M.D., describes all the different drugs and their effects. It is a very interesting study of all the problems.

Come and read with us.

State FB Meeting Launches Program On Proposed Bills

Texas Farm Bureau will kick off its state legislative program with a conference and banquet in Austin Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 30-31, according to an announcement by J. T. (Red) Woodson of Gober, president of the state farm organization.

Primary purpose of the meeting, Woodson said, will be "to provide county Legislative Committee Chairman and members information, techniques and contacts necessary to carry out their responsibilities for successful implementation of Farm Bureau's legislative program in the 63rd Regular Session of the Texas Legislature." Invited are county Farm Bureau Legislative Committee chairmen and members, and county presidents. Also invited are county FB Membership Committee chairmen who will meet separately for a session on membership acquisition.

A highlight of the two-day conference will be the Legislative Banquet on Tuesday evening, Jan. 30. The county leaders will be hosts to their respective legislators who have received invitations from the state organization and from county Farm Bureaus in their districts. Also invited to attend the banquet are Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker of the House Price Daniel, Jr., and Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White.

Registration for the conference will begin at 11 a.m. Jan. 30, and adjournment is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Jan. 31. The program will include discussions of critical issues and legislative procedures by key Legislators and a tour of the state capitol where the county leaders will visit with their State Representatives and Senators.

Medicare Extends Coverage to New Group of People

People 65 and older who did not qualify before for Medicare hospital insurance coverage will be able to get this protection starting in July by paying a monthly premium, according to Gus Jones, social security district manager in Sherman.

Coverage under this new provision can begin on July 1, 1973. Initially, the premium will be $33 a month for Medicare hospital insurance protection. The premium may be increased later as hospital costs rise. "People buying hospital insurance under this new provision also will be required to enroll for medical insurance coverage," Jones said. The basic premium for medical insurance is now $5.80 a month. That amount will increase to $6.30 July 1.

People who have worked enough to receive social security or railroad retirement benefits when they reach 65 — as most people have today — are covered automatically by hospital insurance. These people don't pay hospital insurance premiums, because costs of the program are paid from social security payroll contributions of employees, their employers, and self-employed people during their working years.

"The new provision on hospital insurance is designed to extend this coverage to people 65 or older who have little or no work credit under social security and are unable to obtain comparable insurance through private companies," Jones said.

The office in Sherman is located at 810 N. Travis. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. A representative is in Gainesville each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon in the Federal Building.

SH Library Adds Reading Service And Memory Books

Donation of a beautiful reading service to Sacred Heart High School by Bob Pels of Muenster Pharmacy has provided students with a magazine rack and plastic covers for the ten periodicals included.

Binders for the magazines have special vinyl inserts containing messages on drug abuse. These messages are replaced periodically with new messages. Ebsco Industries has provided the second set of messages.

Bell & Howell also has added to the wealth of SH library by contributing the colorfully illustrated "Man In His World Library." Donation labels have been inserted in each volume. The collection is worth about $150.

Other recent donations include Memory Books. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bezner and the Ben Seyler estate have made gifts of two books on geology in memory of Alex Lutkenhaus. "The Story of Josh" has been dedicated to Mrs. Joe Swirczynski by Mrs. Seyler, and "Our Lady of Guadalupe" has been given in memory of Mrs. Luke Tempel by the Lambert Bezners.

Mrs. Johnny Pagel Birthday Honoree

Birthday surprises greeted Mrs. Johnny Pagel, physical education teacher at Sacred Heart High, Friday.

Faculty joined to help her eat birthday-cake at a gathering of the entire teaching staff.

Next surprise was later in the afternoon by her P. E. class. Senior class members planned the party and served refreshments in the student lounge.

SH High Students Have Fire Drill

First fire drill of the school term for SHH students had all the earmarks of the real thing last Wednesday. Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe had blocked one of the exits with smoke.

Following the drill the fire chief gave a brief talk on fire safety and stressed the importance of keeping calm in case of a fire.

Sister Mary John, principal, gave students pointers on necessity of observing all fire safety rules.

Lens-View

The coffee break subject this week was the cost of meat. With the price of cattle and hogs at or near record high levels, meat prices had to follow. When meat prices rise as they have in the past three months, those of us who do not own any livestock, either pay the price grudgingly, buy the cheaper cuts, or change our eating habits to more poultry or non-meat meals. Those who own cattle and hogs naturally love those high prices so they can have a better profit for their efforts.

The remark was made that a professor from A&M had made the statement that no one had yet determined the cost of raising a calf. A young man neatly dressed in western clothes joined the discussion and said he could tell us how much it cost to raise a calf and could prove that still higher prices were needed for cattlemen to make a profit.

Taking a paper napkin and pencil he started listing expenses. First was the land, six percent interest could be obtained if the value of his land was invested in saving accounts. The next item was feed. The amount he had for cake, hay and protein indicated he would feed all year as he did in January. That seemed a little high because there should be a cheaper way to feed sometime during the year. Then came the cost of veterinary, medicine, fence, association fee etc. etc.

After that came personal expense. Groceries for his family of four came to an amount that would make a store owner like to have him as a regular customer, but then, he may have a lot of company or relatives to feed.

The amount he and his wife spent on clothes was an interesting figure and he admitted they both took pride in their appearance. Vacation this past year was three weeks of Las Vegas, California and the northwest. The three long weekends in Monterrey, Mexico were incidental as he was looking at cattle (tax deductible). The family car which is replaced every two or three years when it needs tires and a battery was next, then came his pickup. He remarked that the new pickup had cost about twice as much as his last one several years previous. A look at it explained a lot. It had two tone paint with racing stripe, chrome railings, extra gas tank, power steering and brakes, air conditioned, AM-FM radio with tape player, bucket seats, tilt steering wheel, cruise control, gun rack, attached tool box (or beer cooler) white side wall tires and a trailer hitch.

The next item was miscellaneous and included the children's activities, clothes, schooling and also included utilities. Then there was the hired hand. He should have been called foreman, manager or anything but hired hand for that salary. He borrowed the restaurant owner's adding machine to get the total. This total was divided by the number of calves he had raised this past year. This man, born in the past knicker-bloomer era, did know what he was talking about. The price of cattle will have to advance quite a bit more to make raising them profitable.

No letters received this week. Every one is satisfied with things as they are or are just too busy.

Hoelker Grocery Is Sold; Porters Take Over Feb. 1

Hoelker Grocery, one of Lindsay's oldest businesses, owned and operated by two generations of family, has been sold and is under new management since Feb. 1.

The Hoelker Brothers, Ewald A. and Albert sold the store to Howard Porter of Gainesville who, with his wife Joyce and their sons Ralph and John, has assumed duties of owner and manager. The Porters formerly were with 12 Oaks Motel Inn.

Hoelker Grocery was started by the late Casper Hoelker in 1918. His son Ewald (Turkey) Hoelker took over in 1927 and his brother Albert joined him soon thereafter.

During the past half century the business has grown with the community. Ten years ago the brothers erected a modern new store building.

Americans spent more than $20 billion for new cars in 1971 — and will spend about $40 billion more over the next 10 years to operate and maintain them, according to a study made by the Federal Highway Administration. The study further reports that the suburban resident who owns a standard size car will pay $2,787 for some 7,350 gallons of gasoline over a 10-year period, it is estimated, as well as $2,147 for maintenance and repairs, $1,350 for insurance, $1,800 for parking and tolls, and $1,319 for state and federal automotive taxes.

SH Teams Drop Double Headers to Lindsay, Saint Jo

The jinx continued to hang over Sacred Heart High basketball teams in their games the past week with Lindsay and Saint Jo. Boys' and girls' both lost a pair and B teams each lost one.

At Saint Jo they had three good games all ending in close counts favoring the hosts. B string Tigers went down by a close 47-44 count, the girls A team lost 40-37 and the Tigers lost 64-52.

The Bees trailed 29-15 the first half, gained to 41-28 in the third quarter and put on a fine fourth quarter rally wiping out 10 more points of their deficit, but the splurge came too late. Roger Endres scored 31 and John Bartush 7.

The girls did a great job considering that Peg Hoedebeck did not play, Susie Endres went out with an injury and Linda Miller and Mary Hess fouled out. They led 8-7 at the first quarter and tailed 16-15, 28-25 and 40-37 ending the other three. Nanci Fuhrman had a big night for 34 points and Carla Yosten added 2.

The Tigers fell behind 29-17 at halftime and held their own the rest of the way for the final count of 64-52. Gary Endres scored 20, Phil Endres 17 and Ricky Walterscheid 11.

The three games with Lindsay, played here Tuesday night, were more decisive losses. B girls went down by a 29-12 count in the opener as enough congressional support to bring about the nomination and confirmation of someone who represents the majority of workers.

All of us have been disappointed since Saturday's signing of the peace to learn that peace was not achieved after all. Troops of North and South Vietnam have been slugging it out as viciously as ever.

The situation directs our thought to misgivings that were expressed when conditions of peace were first listed. And it makes us feel rather guilty about America's failure to insist on realistic terms. We've been outfoxed again by the Reds, otherwise we are guilty of deliberate betrayal.

We agreed to leave South Vietnam without insisting that North Vietnamese do likewise. We know as well as the enemy that such an arrangement does not work. And the obvious result happened the very first day. South Vietnamese did what honor told them to do. They tried to chase out the invaders who made an unjust claim on some of their land. News stories say that South Vietnam is violating the peace but everyone knows that they are fully justified.

It seems that everyone who commented on the peace treaty had misgivings. As Americans we were happy to get back our troops and POWs, and feel relieved at not having to return to battle. But we weren't really satisfied. We knew that trouble would come from the presence of enemy troops in the South. We feared that the same old conflict would break out as soon as our troops were gone. We even wondered whether our prisoners will still be used to blackmail more concessions out of us.

It all goes to show that MacArthur was right in saying there is no substitute for victory. This settlement doesn't stop the trouble, it just leaves an explosive situation waiting to be touched off.

But it could have been different if U.S. had observed the centuries old code of warfare. North Vietnam was the aggressor attempting to take over its neighbor to the south. As such it became fair game for conquest — by all standards of civilized society. The correct solution would have been to back South Vietnamese in defeating the North. Kick out the Reds and let the people have free elections.

As matters stand now the war is where it started, except that South Vietnamese are more capable. Reds are still trying to take charge and the conflict will not end until one side or the other is the winner.
