NUMBER 10

The first benefit from the reduction of speed limit is, of course, the saving in fuel. But let's not overlook another big benefit, which is a sharp reduction in traffic injuries and deaths. DPS is confident that the toll will be sharply reduced.

Of course it's not a good idea to abandon caution just because conditions are so much more favorable. We can imagine that lots of people cruising along at 55 will be inclined to relax, not exercising as much alertness as they did at 70. If so, they can still get into serious trouble. Nevertheless, it's a fact that trouble at 55 is preferable to trouble at 70. There's a better chance of getting the car back under control. And in case of a collision the impact is less severe.

As a warning, let's recall that it still takes over 400 feet to stop a car from a speed of 55 miles per hour. That is under ideal conditions which include good tires and brakes on dry pavement. Even so, it is a fact that we have a blessing in disguise. America has a great opportunity to reduce its terrible record of traffic slaughter.

In case you did not know, the change of speed limit is the state's fifth since the Department of Public Safety was organized in 1917. The allowable then was the blazing speed of 25 miles per hour. In 1923 it went to 35 m.p.h., in 1928 to 45, in 1941 to 60 m.p.h. and in 1963 to 70. Each change until '63 was an increase, and now we have the first decrease in 57 years.

Official deafness to two other recommended improvements makes us wonder whether the men in Washington are actually serious about the crisis. Thousands of gallons of fuel are wasted every day for forced bussing of school children and the use of anti pollution devices on cars. Scratching both of those regulations off the books would eliminate some very unpopular bureaucracy as well as saving lots of energy.

If you think times are getting tougher, you're right. That's how it's figured by Tax Foundation, Inc., which says that a family of four with an income of $13,500 is less well off today than it would have been on $10,000 in 1966. Income tax on the respective amounts are up from $945 to $1,401, and Social Security jumped from $277 to $632 while inflation has undercut the money's value by 37 per cent.

Putting figures together, take-home pay from $13,500 in 1973 amounted to $11,255. Adjusting for inflation it was equivalent to $8,239 in 1966 money. On the other hand, the take home pay from $10,000 in '66 amounted to $8,705.

The talk about things getting tougher isn't just idle chatter. We're paying through the nose as our federal government makes a great show of all it does for us. But the fact, as always, is that people are getting a lot less out of the federal program than they put in. Revenue Sharing and Social Security are two well known programs that shrink considerably between the time they are collected by the government and handed out to the public.

Along with that we have countless other programs that plunge the country farther into debt every year. We've reached the point where interest on the national debt has become one of the country's biggest budget items.

This month's issue of Petroleum Today has an interesting suggestion for architects, based on the energy shortage. It calls attention to the huge areas of glass found in the modern highrise buildings and to the fact that enormous quantities of energy are consumed in heating and air conditioning. All of us know from experience that walls of glass let in lots of heat or cold. Whatever the season, it costs to make them comfortable.

Ironically, the article points to the primitive adobe huts of Indians as the most efficient idea yet in heating and cooling. The thick mud walls of the pueblo soak up heat from the sun all day as the interior remains cool. During the night, as outside temperature drops, the walls release their heat, warming the inside.

ARBOR DAY PLANTING. Muenster Garden Club members planted two Red Bud trees in City Park Friday in observance of Arbor Day. The camera caught some of the group as Mrs. Tony Gremminger turned the soil. Others include Mmes. Victor Hartman, John Mosman, Leonard Endres, Arthur Endes, Frank Yosten, Steve Moster, Albert Stoffels and Paul Endres. With them are Shirley Becker, Susie Moster, Mary Hoedebeck, Gloria Hess and Marlene Pagel, some of the SHH World Geography students who presented a program on the importance of conserving natural resources.

Garden Club Observes Arbor Day With Tree Planting in City Park

Muenster Garden Club observed Arbor Day Friday by planting two Red Bud trees in City Park. Red Buds were selected because they are native trees and are the first planted in an area of the park to be developed and reserved for native plants and flowers. The program opened with prayer followed by a reading of the poem "Only God Can Make a Tree." The World Geography class of Sacred Heart School presented the program.

Local Bells Toll On Anniversary of Abortion Decision

The toll of bells at Sacred Heart Church at noon Tuesday was most unusual in that it departed from the long time custom of announcing the death of a member of the parish. This time the toll was not for a local individual but for an estimated million and a half unborn children whose lives were terminated by abortion during the past year.

Tuesday was chosen as the date of the toll because it is the first anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision legalizing abortion. On that date also, special liturgy for the occasion was included in local masses.

Likewise the sermons at last Sunday's services observed the anniversary of the Supreme Court's regrettable decision. Responding to a request from Bishop Cassata of the Fort Worth diocese, the local pastors denounced abortion as a violation of the law of God, which says "thou shalt not kill," and of the constitution, which guarantees a person's right to "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness."

Father Placidus Eckart observed also that this can lead to justification of other murder, like the wartime executions of Jews in Germany, or disposing of helpless old people. If one class of unwanted people can be legally exterminated, why not other classes?

Rain Measures .36

Until now the moisture of 1974 has been mostly in the air, but little has come down to earth. Out of a number of damp dreary days last Friday's measure of .30 was the best so far. During the week preceding there were three measures of .02, including the trace of snow on the 10th. Total for the month and the year to date .36 inch.

In spite of the below normal .63 in December the moisture condition of local soil is still fair, probably because of more than 12 inches in the preceding three months.

Council Agrees to Cut Garbage Rate For Needy People

The first steps toward arranging specially reduced garbage rates for low income customers was taken by the city council at its Monday night meeting. The members agreed on an application form on which the person can specify his or her income and the amount of service to be expected. The patron will be asked to fill out the application and submit it to the council. Each application is to be considered on its own merits and adjustments will be made where they are justified.

Council members made a point of specifying that reduction will be based on financial condition only. They were not willing to adjust for someone who is satisfied with little or no service, or who wants to combine with a neighbor to save money. They said that the system as set up requires payment by all in order to make ends meet.

As a special consideration to patrons, the council has ordered the old city dump to be open as usual on Wednesday and Saturday of next week. The purpose is to provide opportunity for hauling away old trash barrels and incinerators, or any other bulky items that they want to dispose of. Persons who need to haul things away are urged to take special notice of these last chance dates.

First day of garbage collection on Monday was reported as generally satisfactory — except that Tate and Yosten had to double back for a number of people who failed to get their bags out on time. The council pointed out that the city cannot adopt a policy of going back over the route, so people are urged to have bags at the curb early in the morning.

Regarding bag holders and stands, it was reported that bad weather delayed last Saturday's sales efforts by the Boy Scouts. They expect to be back on the job Saturday.

In the meantime, persons who wish to get their orders on record may phone the city hall, 759-2236.

Appointment of a board of directors for the Muenster Water District was postponed again, principally because the council thinks it is unwise to rush into a program that is not urgently needed. Council members were given a list of nominees for the board and asked to study it for selection at an early meeting.

In other action the council considered the problem involved with oil field rod lines when it builds Ash Street at the west city limit. Sidney Rainey and Felix Wylie, operators of the oil lease, were at the meeting to discuss financial responsibility of themselves and the city when changes have to be made.

Needlepoint Will Be Shown Feb. 7 In Workshop Here

Plans have been completed for a needlepoint workshop to be conducted here on February 7 by Mrs. Bernice Thurman in Cooke County Electric Co-op building.

The workshop will start at 9:30, have a break for a sack lunch, and will conclude at 3 in the afternoon.

Registration is $1.00 and those who plan to attend are being asked to notify Mrs. Thurman at once by phoning or sending word to her at the Extension agent's office in the courthouse.

Suggestions to take to the meeting in addition to a sack lunch, include scraps of yarn, scissors, thimble, tapestry needle and felt tipped pen (if on hand), ruler, pencil. A needlepoint kit is optional.

This workshop is open to all who are interested. In case of icy weather it will be postponed to a later date.

Exchange Student Of Brazil Enrolls At Sacred Heart

Paulo Luz, an exchange student from Curitiba, Brazil, is a new member of the junior class at Sacred Heart School.

He arrived in Muenster last Thursday as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartush and enrolled at Sacred Heart the following Monday. His major subjects are math and biology.

Paulo comes from a family of five. His father is a civil engineer and a teacher at a university. His mother is a housewife, and he has two sisters. His favorite sports are volleyball, soccer and handball.

Entries Invited to Volley Tournament Feb. 3 in SH Gym

The first volleyball tournament of this year is booked for Sunday, February 3, in Sacred Heart gym under sponsorship of the Sacred Heart senior class.

It will be a one-day event in both men's and ladies' divisions and trophies are to be awarded to the champ, the runner-up and the consolation winner.

Entries are urged to get their names in as soon as possible, preferably by next Wednesday to allow ample time for arranging the brackets. The entries may be phoned to Steve Taylor, 759-2968.

Vandal Hits Fisher's

Fisher's Market & Grocery was the target for vandalism sometime during the night last Saturday. Butch Fisher said that a hole through the front plate glass window was discovered early Sunday and a rock weighing about a half pound was found inside on the floor. The glass, measuring about 8x8 has been replaced but the identity of the rock thrower is still unknown.

Soil District Publishes Annual Progress Report

Another year of outstanding achievement features the 32nd annual progress report which has just been published by directors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District. It presents a long list of conservation practices established in the district plus special recognition earned by the district.

Principal district prize was $1000 first place award for the state's outstanding district in the year 1973. Also, the district's absentee conservation farmer, Warren Donaldson of Fort Worth, received a silver tray for the best in Zone 5, and the Gainesville Register was named the top conservation newspaper of Zone 5. And, as a winner in the Goodyear conservation contest, the district won paid trips for four to the Goodyear tour in Florida. Director J. H. Bayer and Champ Farmer Arthur Bayer and their wives made the trip.

One of the district's leading projects is a re-shaping and treating job on 3,700 acres of badly gullied land in Montague County. The work is being done under provisions of the Great Plains Conservation Program, which has 262 participating landowners out of 366 applicants.

Along with all that, the district continues expanding the over-all program which got its start with the first cooperative agreement in February 1942. During 1973 it has prepared 194 conservation plans on 39,986 acres and revised 233 plans on 88,958 acres. That brings the program to date to 4,565 plans on 1,106,535 acres. Potential of the district is 6311 cooperators on 1,597,089 acres.

A summary of practices applied in 1973 includes 7,922 acres of brush management; 12,724 acres of conservation cropping; 1,990 acres of con-

Burial Friday at 3 For Mrs. Zipper, 73

Mrs. R. M. Zipper, 73, native of Muenster, died Tuesday at 11:40 p.m. in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, after an extended illness.

Funeral services with Mass will be held in Sacred Heart Church Friday at 3 p.m. with

MHS Teams Drop Two Close Games To Petrolia High

Coach Bill Moore's Muenster High Hornets did a terrific job last Friday night in holding the loop leading defending champs of Petrolia to a margin of 15 points.

After falling behind 9 points in the first period, the MHS boys were in hot pursuit and allowed the champs gains of only 3, 2, and 1 in the next three quarters. For a short time in the last period the Hornets had the margin down to 7 points. Scores by quarters were 17-8, 33-21, 49-35 and 72-57.

Lyle Klement and Ronnie Felderhoff shared Muenster's scoring honors with 18 points each. Tim Felderhoff hit 11, Randy Wolf 6 and Curtis Klement 4.

Muenster girls likewise did a good job in holding the strong Petrolia girls to a 10 point win. The Hornets fell back 14-9 in the first quarter and held the margin for the 22-17 half time score. Then they were outscored by 6 in the third period and gained back one point in the fourth for counts of 40-29 and 53-43.

Deb Schneider's big 27 points led the way in MHS scoring. Sandy Dittfurth got 14 and Becky Fields 2.

Father Placidus Eckart officiating and burial will follow in Sacred Heart Cemetery under direction of Nick Miller Funeral Home.

Rosary services are set for 4 and 8 p.m. Thursday in Nick Miller Chapel.

The former Frances Wiesman was born July 28, 1901, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiesman, pioneer residents. She was the widow of Rudolph M. Zipper who died in 1965. They were married here on April 20, 1926, and lived in Pilot Point the first year of their marriage.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Jim Stockman of Kansas City, Kansas, Miss Joan Zipper of Dallas, and Sister Zita Zipper of New Iberia, La.; two brothers, Henry and Alois Wiesman of Muenster, a sister Mrs. C. J. Kaiser of Muenster; and six grandchildren.

Induction Rites At SH Admit 13 To Honor Society

Sacred Heart School held induction for new members of the National Honor Society January 17 in Sacred Heart Church with induction proceedings conducted by Father Placidus Eckart, local chapter sponsor.

Following a brief summary of the purpose and aims of the society Father Placidus presented new members with the Honor Society stole. New members then signed themselves officially into the society and recited the National Honor Society Pledge.

Inducted were Seniors Jeff Fette, David Krahl, Estelle Martin and Doreen Pels, Juniors Garry Fettsch, Barbie Hess, Mary Hess, Lynda Klement, Laura Kralicke, Kathy Luke, Karen Luttmier, Linda Miller and Sandy Reiter.

The faculty found the following sophomores as qualified for provisional membership: Cindy Bartush, Sharon Rohmer, Darell Walterscheid and Arnold Yosten.

Following the ceremony, faculty and parents were invited to a brunch in the Sacred Heart gym. Over 40 persons attended the brunch sponsored by the society.

America Program, Fun Skit Given At Cub Scout Meet

Monthly pack meeting for Muenster's six dens of Cub Scouts was held Jan. 15 in the KC Hall where the boys displayed their projects and collections before the meeting.

The bugle call to order was followed by the flag ceremony and a special tribute was given to America. A Scout from each den represented a letter of the word America and told what it stands for. Pledge of allegiance was given and "God Bless America" was sung.

Den 5 presented a skit, "The Moon Crawler." Participating in the action were Kevin Felderhoff, Steven Fisher, Ricky Hennigan, Marcus and Garland Tate and Kevin Wolf. Den mothers who helped get the skit together are Mmes. Henry Felderhoff, Butch Fisher, and Billy Don Wolf.

Afterward games were played, songs were sung and refreshments were served by Den 4.

Cub master Bobby Walterscheid reminded the boys and parents that the next meeting will be the Blue and Gold Banquet on Feb. 19.

Morris Runs for County Treasurer

Mrs. Rose Marie Morris of Gainesville this week authorizes The Enterprise to announce that she will be a candidate for county treasurer in this year's political race. She is a long time employee of Frank Dustin School and Office Supply.

Her formal statement to county voters will be published in a later issue of The Enterprise.

Few of us have the opportunity to do great things, but most of us can do small things in a great way.

Price of Oil

The Arabs, it seems, are going to keep on raising the price of oil. There are hints that the recent doubling of the price per barrel to over $11.00 will be followed by still further hikes next spring. The Arabs coupled the price hike with an announcement that they will increase production by 10% in January to those nations "friendly" to their cause. Nations like Germany and Japan, where the boost will raise gasoline prices to catastrophic levels ($1.68 per gallon in Japan), nevertheless expressed their gratitude for the increased supplies. There seems no limit to what those dependent on Arab oil will pay for it.

As far as the United States is concerned, we think that Dr. William Johnson, of the energy office in Washington, put his finger on the solution when he said: "This whole thing shows the utter foolishness of relying on foreign oil. The only way we're going to get away from foreign blackmail is to go to our own sources, and that means the Alaskan pipeline, drilling off the continental shelf, strip mining coal and so forth. If we're going to be a sovereign state, we'll have to be sovereign in energy as well."

Correct, but the economic incentive must be present. The free market law of supply and demand must be allowed to operate without government interference. If demand is curtailed by taxing and rationing, while the price to the producer is held at artificially low levels, we will be stimulating the essential supply side of the equation. Currently, for example, there is a two tier pricing method in operation, with "old oil" still selling for $5.25 or less per barrel, while "new oil" has been freed from controls and sells for about $7.00 per barrel. This is causing some older and marginal wells to be capped as owners await a price rise.

Everything should be done to encourage and not discourage production. Prices of all oil should be allowed to seek their economic level. It has been estimated that a few dollars per barrel price increase would have the effect of tripling U.S. oil reserves.

If the profit system is allowed to work, we will not only maximize oil production; we will also encourage the exploitation of alternative sources of energy which will eventually produce the self-sufficiency which this country must have.

Money Not The Cure

"Surely it ought to be apparent by now, billions upon billions of dollars later, that throwing the taxpayers' money — scatter-gun fashion — at one problem after another doesn't guarantee solutions; that a poultice of money doesn't cure a social boil; that often there's little correlation between dollars spent and results achieved; that too many government dollars are going into the pockets of those who are handing out the handouts; that government can't better fight poverty, or educate backward kids, or build model cities or mass housing, or rid the ghettos of rats; that no matter their noble intent, laws can — and do — many times create at least as many problems as they solve, and that there are those in Congress, even today, who are evidently unaware — or unconvinced — that we can no more spend ourselves rich than we can drink ourselves sober." — Mr. Ed Grady, director of information, Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

There is an air of impermanence about a government job these days. As one White House aide expressed it, "I really don't mind having my name written on the door in chalk. What bugs me is the big wet sponge hanging beside it."

Shellfish and Power Plants

Abalone, clams, oysters and scallops are not something one normally associates with electric generating plants. However, in the future, such plants are likely to play an important role in bringing shellfish to market in record time. Research studies have shown that these delicacies, while sacrificing none of their size, flavor and texture, thrive and develop faster in the warmed water discharged from power plant steam condensers.

As a result of this research, a California company has already contracted with a major West Coast utility to use its slightly warmed sea water discharges in its production process. The firm expects to market five million oysters and one and a half million clams by the end of 1974. The first major crop of scallops will follow in 1975. Generally, it takes clams and scallops four to five years to reach maturity under normal ocean water temperatures, whereas they mature in about 18 months in warmer water. Oysters will be ready for consumption in a year to 15 months, as opposed to three or four years under natural conditions.

Frequently, we find the development of one technology benefiting a completely unrelated industry and enabling it to perform its functions more efficiently and effectively. In this particular case, technology has also made it possible to meet man's basic needs for heat, power and food more efficiently. Once more we see by a clear-cut example that mankind's needs are best served not by halting all progress, but by using more technology, more research and by pursuing many diverse lines of development.

Petropolitcs In Middle East

In judging what the prospects may be for peace in the Middle East we ought to take off the blinders about the real Soviet intentions in the area.

A key to these intentions lies in the Soviet propaganda calls during the recent war for Arab nationalization of Western oil holdings. Even before the Yom Kippur War, Iraq had largely replaced Western technicians and know-how with their Soviet counterparts. And at the start of the war Iraq nationalized the last Western oil companies. If this were to happen throughout the area the Soviets would move in with their own people and obtain effective control of the oil. They could then assure their own supply, while cutting off the Western nations at their pleasure. Soviet political control and eventual military control of the area would follow as more radical elements increased their influence in Arab societies and governments and as Soviet naval power continued to grow in the Mediterranean and Indian Oceans.

This Soviet long-range objective is best achieved by continued Arab-Israeli tension, not by real peace. A genuine settlement that satisfied the Arabs might cause them to expect Soviet influence and revert to their basic anti-Communist and pro-U.S. attitudes. For this reason we should not expect the Soviets to be really helpful at the forthcoming Geneva peace conference.

As long as there are final examinations, there will be prayers in public schools.

Even a new broom won't sweep clean unless someone uses it.

Pollution Control

A logger operating in the Mt. Hood National Forest in Oregon has been using horses to haul logs and thus reduce the damage to the environment that his big trucks had been causing. However, much of his logging work has been taking place above a water reservoir that serves the City of Portland. Some time back he was ordered to remove either the horses or the pollution they were causing. His solution: horse diapers. That's right, the lumberman outfitted each of his nags with nappies — actually a canvas bag that hooks onto the harness and under the horse's tail. Again, somebody has to do the dirty work — in this case, emptying the 'diapers.' But they're saving the forest trails from ruination and it's safe to drink the water in Portland. And organic gardeners in the area are delighted.

Pro Life Liturgy Features Mass for Abortion Victims

As a special memorial to unborn infants who were murdered since abortions were legalized by the Supreme Court one year ago, a Pro Life Liturgy was offered at the 8:30 Mass on January 22 in Sacred Heart Church.

The service opened with singing of the third verse of "Alle, Alle." Teddy Walterscheid gave the first and second scriptural readings and Donna Hess led the responsorial psalm. Kirk Mollenkopf recited the gospel acclamation: "Blessed are You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth; You have revealed to little ones the mysteries of the kingdom." Father Placidus, celebrant, in gospel reading and homily stressed life as God's gift to all. The theme was also carried out on a pastel, rainbow, antependium created by the sophomore girls art class and their instructor, Mrs. Joy Sanders.

Petitions, also dealing with life, were recited by Steve Schmitt, Sherie Felderhoff, Angela Bartush, Colleen Fette, Tammy Henscheid and Steve Hennigan. And "The Ballad of the Unborn" was read before Offertory by Brenda Henscheid.

Symbolic in the offertory procession were Mrs. Ervin Henscheid, mother of three, carrying the Christ candle; Kyle Walterscheid, youngest SH pupil, with a book "Belief in Life"; and Joe Swirczynski, 93, who has 15 children plus many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, with the chalice. The three were followed by Giles Trubenbach, Monte Endres, Janet Dangelmayr and Margie Knabe with other offerings of the mass.

The Communion Hymn was "God of My Life" and the recessional was "I Am the Resurrection and the Life."

Kathy Knabe, Carla Otto and Mary Lin Koesler led the singing. Sister Yvonne, Laurie Walterscheid and Kenny Hartman accompanied on guitars, and Sister Yvonne also played the organ. Sister Lenore had charge of the ceremony.

Altar boys were Wayne Richards, Jamie Moser, Donnie Fleitman, Phil Wolf and Mark Felderhoff.

Donna Rohmer and Olon McClendon to Wed Here Feb. 23

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rohmer announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Marie, and Olon McClendon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClendon of El Paso.

Wedding plans are being made for February 23 at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church with Father Placidus Eckart celebrating the nuptial Mass.

Miss Linda Rohmer of Fort Worth will be her sister's maid of honor and Misses Karolyin Schoech, Commerce, Marla Smith, Denton, and Rosie Sausser, Dallas, will be bridesmaids.

David Lucky of Lubbock will be best man, Larry Hicks, also of Lubbock, William Pope of El Paso and Martin Washburn of Dallas will be groomsmen.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and both she and her fiance attended the University of Dallas and the University of Dallas in Rome, Italy. She will continue at the University of Texas in El Paso and they will reside in that city where he is employed.

At Round Table Meet

On January 8 Cub master and Mrs. Bobby Walterscheid, Mrs. David Bright and Mrs. Billy Don Wolf attended a round table meeting in Gainesville. They heard officers from the Longhorn Council in Fort Worth report on the 1974 budget. And a report was given on the Scout-A-Rama set for February 23 in the National Guard Armory in Gainesville from 7 to 9 p.m.

Contented Living
According to the German philosopher, Goethe, these are the nine requisites for contented living:
1. Health enough to make work a pleasure.
2. Wealth enough to support your needs.
3. Strength enough to battle difficulties and overcome them.
4. Grace enough to confess your sins and forsake them.
5. Patience enough to toil until some good is accomplished.
6. Charity enough to see good in your neighbor.
7. Love enough to be useful and helpful to others.
8. Faith enough to make real the things of God.

Former Pastor Is Back to Visit at Marysville Church

MARYSVILLE — Former pastor of Marysville Baptist Church, the Rev. Delbert Taylor, and his wife were back for a visit with the congregation Friday evening. They are on a year's furlough from Neiva, Columbia, S. A., where he has been in missionary work the past four and a half years. They came from Mangum, Okla., where they are presently residing and showed slides and souvenirs. Some 30 people were present for the get-together and women of the church served refreshments. The Taylors spent overnight with Mr. and Mrs. Grady McElreath and Brent.

Hillcrest Manor News

Father Placidus conducted Sunday afternoon services at the Home reading from Scripture and giving a short sermon. Sister Yvonne and a group of young singers provided the musical portion. After finishing in the lobby where ambulatory residents gathered, the group sang from room to room for shut-ins.

Wanda Bunch is a new staff aide at the Home. She commutes from Saint Jo.

Mrs. H. C. Billingsley of Ardmore, Okla., was a visitor Tuesday with her sister Mrs. Mary E. Felderhoff. She was joined on the visit by their brother John Wieler.

Mrs. Ina Fielder is expected back at the Home this week-end after being a patient in a Sherman Hospital.

Visiting Charles Newland Monday and having dinner at the Home was his sister Mary, Mrs. W. C. Lyons of Gainesville.

Mrs. Ena Mitchel had as visitors Sunday her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burns and son of Gainesville.

Last Wednesday's bingo party conducted by Hillcrest Auxiliary members ended with Jake Pagel being the big winner. Conducting the games and serving homemade cookies and lemonade were Mrs. Ted Voth, Mrs. Mildred Cantu, Mrs. Leonard Endres and Mrs. Harold Knabe. Mrs. Knabe is a new Auxiliary member. Others are welcomed.

Two dual purpose lakes are now furnishing city water east of Dallas. The cities of Kaufman and Terrell have joined with the Kaufman-Van Zandt SWCD and the SCS in constructing one lake each for water supply and flood control. Canton, also east of Dallas, is nearing the construction stage of a multiple purpose lake. Anna and Van Alstyne are jointly working with the Collin County SWCD in planning a flood control - water supply - recreation structure.

The Upper Elm-Red SWCD has not been idle in planning this type program. The Choctaw Creek Watershed plan originally contained plans for four flood control and city water supply lakes: one for water supply, recreation and flood control; and two for recreation and flood control. Muenster is now in the preliminary process of planning a flood control - water supply - recreation project in the Elm Fork Watershed. Bowie is also planning a multiple purpose dam in the Big Sandy Creek Watershed.

Three Share in Birthday Honors at Hillcrest Manor

Three residents of Hillcrest Manor shared honors at the January birthday party Friday night. Honored were Mrs. C. J. Wimmer for her 87th, Ed Eberhart for his 80th and Mrs. Jewel Jones for her 73rd. They received gifts from the staff and from their relatives.

Birthday cakes were provided by Mrs. Vincent Reinart and Mrs. Leo J. Haverkamp, Mrs. William Flusche and Mrs. Ray Sicking and Mrs. Sue Branyan. They were served with punch by the Home's staff.

Musical entertainment was by Doug Martin, electric guitar; Ernie Martin, drums; Jack Hogan, violin; and Mrs. Jack Hogan, piano. Mrs. Herman Eberhart was vocalist.

About 65 relatives and friends of the honorees attended. Younger couples danced in the hall.

Ed Eberhart's family to the fourth generation was present and Mrs. Wimmer's family was well represented. Guests attended from Muenster, Lindsay, Myra, Gainesville, Valley View and Whitesboro.

Flood Prevention Programs Helpful To Small Cities

Almost everyone in the Trinity River Watershed and in areas where Public Law 566 Watersheds are active is familiar with the upstream or small watershed flood prevention program. Over 1500 flood-water retarding dams have been built in Texas. These structures have a tremendous impact on the economy and environment of each area.

One part of the flood prevention program that is less publicized and, at the same time very important, is planning and construction of multiple purpose structures or dams. Small municipalities can enter into agreements with Soil and Water Conservation Districts, or water improvement districts and the Soil Conservation Service, for the planning and construction of dual or multiple purpose lakes.

Generally, these lakes serve as flood control lakes and store water for municipal use. As a rule, SCS pays for the cost related to flood control, and the involved city pays for additional costs entailed in adding water storage for its use. Cooperative efforts of this type result in considerable dollar savings to the city since it pays only a share of the total cost and usually benefits from both the flood control and water usage. Some multiple purpose structures may also include recreation facilities as a part of the project.

Former staff aides back for visits during the week have been Annette Leverett of Gainesville and Hattie Jetzelsberger.

4-H Club News

Approximately 150 4-Hers, parents, and friends participated in the 4-H Activity night held January 12 at the National Guard Armory in Gainesville. It was an evening of fun for all with folk dancing, games and refreshments.

This event was planned by the 4-H County Council made up of representatives from every club in Cooke County. David Nortman, secretary of the council welcomed the group, and John Schumacher, president, made announcements. Barbie Davidson & Mary Lou Fleitman, council delegates, led the games which included a scavenger hunt, orange hop, life savor passing & orange roll.

Jamai Pybas, Grace Pybas, Denise Martin, and Rudy Schumacher greeted the guests and divided them into teams or games. Because of its great success, more such activity nights are planned for the future. It offers a great opportunity for 4-Hers and parents throughout the country to get to know each other and have a lot of fun. — Ava Knapp, assistant County Extension agent.

The Men In Service

Weekend in Paris, France

Sgt. and Mrs. Tom Trachta have written their parents, the Dave Trachtas and the J. P. Flusches, about their four-day trip to Paris, France, while he was on leave during the New Year weekend from Army duty in Germany. Highlights included a cruise on the Seine River, sightseeing included the Champ Elysees, Boulevard, the Arch of Triumph, the Louvre where they viewed the Mona Lisa and the Regent Diamond (186 karats), the Versailles, the Eiffel Tower, the Invalides, and the Cathedral of Notre Dame. They spent New Year's Eve on the Champs Elysees and had their first American hamburger since leaving the states at McDonald's.

SH Students Have Arbor Observance

Members of Sacred Heart World Geography class observed Arbor Day by planting trees at their homes. Most of the trees were planted before or on Arbor Day, January 18.

Seven students also attended the Garden Club's tree planting ceremony in the city park, where they presented a short program on the importance of conserving natural resources.

Attending the Garden Club ceremony were Shirley Becker, Cheryl Bayer, Cathy Bartush, Susan Moster, Gloria Hess, Mary Hoedebeck, and Marlene Pagel.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

AS HEARD BY HEARD

Futility of Fanfare

A substantial number of independent business people complain to the National Federation of Independent Business that the televised hearings on the Watergate scandals have gone far enough.

The basis of these comments appears to be that they are not accomplishing any worthwhile reforms. In this respect, they apparently have a point.

Perhaps the chief lesson of Watergate is the assumption of vast powers over the people of the United States by non-elected, and at times almost anonymous bureaucrats.

A case in point is the recent declaration by one Richard O. Simpson, chairman of the new U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. He has announced that he is contemplating an edict prohibiting sale of all, or some brands of cigarettes.

This is not to be construed as a defense of cigarettes, but rather a defense of liberty.

There is probably not a man, woman, or child alive in these United States who are not conscious of the fact that cigarettes may be harmful to health. But so can sky-diving, skin-diving, driving on a freeway on a holiday, swimming in the surf, or eating mushrooms involve danger to health.

The fact remains that millions of people do smoke cigarettes, and are fully conscious that they are perhaps running a health risk.

To make this pronouncement even more chilling, the bureaucrat takes the position that he can issue such a ban without the consent of Congress.

So now we get to the nubbin of the problem. In all the rhetoric about the transgressions of Watergate on the part of the administrative branch of the government, little, if any, is said about the transgressions of the Congress.

In other words, the question is this. How does it happen that the Congress passes laws that permit the setting up of totalitarian minded bureaucrats?

Thus, the great tragedy of Watergate is not what was done, but what is not being done from the lessons learned from this most unhappy event in the history of this Republic.

If the Congress properly learned the right lesson from Watergate, it would be aggressively engaged today in passing legislation dismantling a vast sector of the Federal bureaucracy with its powers to meddle in the lives of the citizens. It should be borne in mind that in his climb to eventual power, Adolf Hitler scrupulously observed the Constitution of the Weimar Republic. It was not until laws had been passed, and bureaucratic edicts issued that were "good for the people" was it possible for him to take over with unchallenged naked power.

Mosmans Hosts at Family Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman were hosts for an all-day gathering of members of the family who were guests for dinner and supper and helped Mrs. Mosman celebrate her birthday Sunday.

Present were Father Jerry Mosman and Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hope of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mosman of Garland, Mrs. Terrell Johnson, Bennie and Valerie of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Lutkenhaus. Planning to attend but unable to do so were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hennigan of St. Francis Village and Sister Mary John Seyler.

Final Rites Held For F. A. Wiese, 73

Final rites were held Friday, Jan. 18, in St. Mary's Church, Gainesville, for Frank A. Wiese, 73, who died the preceding Wednesday in Gainesville Hospital. He was a retired telegraph operator for the MKT Railroad.

Father James Gillespie officiated at Mass and at graveside rites in Rest Haven Memorial Park. George J. Carroll & Son directed arrangements.

Surviving are his wife, Clara; four sons, Francis, Leonard and Paul Wiese of Gainesville and Bobby Wiese of Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Jake Bezner and Mrs. William Schwegel; Lindsay; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

BIRTHS

Former Muenster residents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Klement of Richardson have welcomed a nine pound eight ounce son born Thursday, Jan. 17, 9 a.m. in a Dallas Hospital. He's a brother for Mindy, a grandchild for the Ray Klements of Muenster and Mrs. Herbie Herr of Gainesville. While her mother was in the hospital Mindy was here with her aunt and family, the Gerald Hesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hess joyously announce their daughter, Dana Marie, born at Muenster Hospital Friday, Jan. 18, 1:37 p.m. weighing seven pounds seven and a half ounces. Now Sammy and Nicky have a baby sister. Mrs. Joe Bengtson of Lindsay is the maternal grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Watts of Sanger welcomed a son, eight pounds four ounces, Saturday, Jan. 19, 9:43 a.m. at Muenster Hospital.

Will Rogers on the American spirit: "If you can start arguing over something, and get enough publicity, and keep the argument going, you can divide our nation overnight as to whether spinach or broccoli are the most nutritious. "We can get hot and bothered quicker over nothing, and cool off faster than any nation in the world."

Tigers, Tigerettes Lose 2 at Lindsay

Sacred Heart High's basketball teams ran into too much power at Lindsay last Friday night. In the opener, Tigerettes were swamped 72-28 by the District 30-B title contenders, and after that the Tigers went down for a count of 74-61.

The Sacred Heart boys got a good start and moved to a 20-16 first quarter lead, but the Knights were in charge the rest of the way. By half time they had tied the score at 34 and following a strong third quarter period they led 55-46. Continued gaining in fourth period gave Lindsay the final lead of 13 points.

Tiger scorers were Roger Endres 27, Ricky Walterscheid 18, Kevin Pels 5, John Bartush 4, Phil Endres 4, Mark Hess 3.

And Lindsay's were Ronnie Hermes 38, Jerry Metzler 14, Harry Owen 9, Ronnie Felderhoff 7, Johnny Metzler 6.

There was no contest in the first game as Lindsay's hot shot girls dominated both the offensive and defensive departments. They gained big in every quarter to scores of 16-6, 30-12, 58-16 and 72-28. Point makers for the Tigerettes were Mary Hess 8, Laura Kralieck 8, Peggy Hoedebeck 8, Cindy Bartush 2, Sharlene Pagel 2. For Lindsay Sharon Metzler scorched the net with 52 points while Cindy Felderhoff added 12, Carol Zimmerer 4 and Lisa Magas 4.

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Wickliffe, Rhonda, Dana, Lisa, Jeffrey, and Lana of Irving were weekend guests of parents and grandparents, the Alois Haverkamp. Also present for Sunday dinner were the Bud Boydstuns, Sherri and Donnie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Felderhoff, Chad and Larry of Dallas were weekend guests of his parents the Tony Felderhoffs. Other members of the family were visitors throughout Sunday afternoon.

A supper party for the family observed the birthday of Bill Lutkenhaus Friday evening. A birthday cake and gifts added a festive touch to the family affair. Joining the honoree and his wife and daughters Judy and Connie were another daughter Mrs. Gene Hoening and children Bryan, Mark, Greg and Amy.

David and Danny Fette are back at A&M University after spending the mid-year holidays with their parents, the R. N. Fettes.

FHA Reveals New Federal Program For Rural Loans

A new federal program to finance local businesses or industrial development will help improve the economic climate in rural areas of Texas, according to Mr. J. Lynn Futch, State Director of Farmers Home Administration, Temple.

Already letters of pre-application are being received, Mr. Futch said, requesting financial assistance to develop businesses under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act. The Farmers Home Administration, a rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, oversees the program.

"Submitting a letter of pre-application is the first step in this program," Futch explained. "Any individual or group that needs financing for industry or business in Texas should summarize his ideas in a proposal and submit it to the FHA county office in the area, or to a private lender. Priority will be given to projects that strengthen rural communities by improving economic and employment conditions as outlined in the Rural Development Act."

If the prospective business meets eligibility requirements, Futch said, the applicant will be requested to submit a formal application. Major projects will be cleared with appropriate local and state officials to assure compliance with development plans for the area.

In addition to individuals, eligible applicants may include partnerships, cooperatives, and corporations.

Most borrowers will receive loans advanced by private lenders guaranteed up to 90 percent by FHA in rural areas and cities not over 50,000 population. Loan funds may be used to purchase machinery and equipment, to buy land, buildings and permanent fixtures, and for working capital.

Public bodies also are eligible for grants to finance industrial sites that will result in development of private business enterprises.

Blue Birds Earn Pins, Make Plans For Coming Year

Muenster's First Grade Loving, Sharing Blue Birds have received their Blue Bird Pins for learning the Blue Bird wish and promise.

Pinned are Tammie Sue Grewing, Kim Eldred, Tonya Fisher, Carmen Flusche, Jana Kay Hamilton, Patricia Herr, Cindy and Sandy Ramsey, Glenda Richardson, Patricia Reiter, Amy Reiter, and Jean Trubenbach.

The group ended 1973 with a wiener roast. Food was furnished by the group's sponsor Fisher's Market. Mrs. Loyd Trubenbach and Camp Fire daughters Lisa and Bev assisted.

The cook out was held at the creek on the Trubenbach farm and all Blue Birds attended with their leader Mrs. Butch Fisher and temporary leader Mrs. John Eldred.

The girls are now preparing for the Valentine season and are deciding on a service project for the community which first graders will be able to accomplish. The group has welcomed back their assistant leader Mrs. Eddie Ramsey and are moving their meetings back to the Camp Fire Room at Sacred Heart. Their thanks go to TP&L people for housing them while the gas was off.

A winter project is to complete Book I of the Camp Fire Blue Bird Series — "It's All About Me." Purpose of the book is to impress upon each Blue Bird that she is an individual and an important and vital person.

A man was filling out a form for a medical clinic when he came to the question, "Who, would you say, is the head of your house?"

The man said he would have to answer that question later and left without finishing the form.

He came back a few days later to say: "My wife says it's all right to say I'm the head of the house."

A man whose ship comes in usually finds most of his relatives at the dock.

The ice box melted from the scene when electric refrigerators appeared. The kerosene lamp faded into the past when electric lights began brightening every home. Other electric appliances replaced the wash tub and scrub board, the flatiron and the wood-burning cookstove and eliminated the tiresome chore of hand-washing dishes, pots and pans. Electricity. A vital part of everyday living in so many ways. And Texas Power and Light Company is doing its utmost to assure an adequate supply for essential needs. Electricity. Still one of the biggest bargains in your budget.

Lindsay News

LINDSAY — Henry Zimmerman is on crutches since a fall resulted in a hairline fracture to his left leg just below the knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Damond Fuhrmann and family had a happy visit with their son and brother, James Fuhrmann who surprised them with a phone call from Heilbronn, Germany, where he is stationed with the Army. Everybody talked, exchanging news. It was when Lindsay was having 15 degree weather and James was enjoying a 47 degree day.

Lindsay Gun Club members re-elected their officers at their January meeting, heard a financial report, and voted to promote a foreign priest through the Catholic Near East Welfare Association by financing his six years' of education.

This is being done in memory of the club's deceased members. Continuing in office are President Kenneth Zwinggi, Secretary Bill Fleitman and Treasurer Ed Schad.

Bethany Krebs, one year old Jan 9, had her first party on Jan. 13 when her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Krebs were hosts in their home. A paper doll theme was used. Birthday cake, ice cream and other party refreshments were served to ten guests including paternal grandmother Mrs. A. C. Krebs, maternal grandparents M. and Mrs. Robert Bauer and great-grandfather Joe Bauer.

Home Ec students have started on a new phase in their work. They have begun cooking after sewing the first half of the year. Before actually cooking the girls are learning about food and nutrition and correct methods of meal service. Tulu Hickerson of Cooke County Electric Co-op, met with the group one day and prepared a variety of foods in demonstrating the uses of a microwave oven.

Superintendent Glenn Hellman attended a meeting for school administrators in Austin, sitting in on several sessions on public school financing and on a meeting explaining new laws that affect schools. With him were area superintendents including L. B. Bruns of Muenster.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Block hosted a Saturday night party in their home for the "lake going group." Pick up foods were served and colored slides taken on vacations to the Rocky and Smoky Mountains were shown. Guests were the Bob Bauers, Freddie Dulocks, Lee Mosser, Pat Dulock and Glenn Crutsinger of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Krebs, Bill Dulock and the Johnnie Arendts of Lindsay, Messrs. and Mmes. Dennis Lutkenhaus of Callisburg and Tony Dulock and Joe of Arlington, and Renee Holmes of Dallas.

It is colder at the Antarctic than at the Arctic.

Interesting Facts Are Discovered in St. Peter's Church

LINDSAY — Father Bede Mitchel, assistant pastor at St. Peter's Church, has discovered a number of interesting facts about Lindsay's 55-year-old Catholic Church.

He found a total of 294 representations of persons in statues, on windows and on wall paintings. There are 19 statues, and 83 windows or apertures most of them stained glass windows. There are 43 stained glass portraits.

Father Bede counted 232 pictures of heavenly creatures on the walls and the stations of the cross plus ten drawings of animals.

Father Bede believes most people do not know there are that many windows since many are located in the tall steeple and in the sanctuary. He also believes most of the parishioners do not realize there are almost 300 pictures on the church walls and windows.

The present church was built in 1918 after a cyclone destroyed the previous one in 1917. St. Peter's Parish however was established in 1892 only one year after the town was colonized.

St. Peter's Church received a Texas Historical Building Medallion in ceremony on June 28, 1970. This marker signifies that St. Peter's has been named a Recorded Texas Historical Landmark, significant to the history of the community, county and state, and worthy of preservation. Such designation is granted by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Lindsay FFA Chapter's Sweetheart Melinda Bezner was a finalist in the district FFA Sweetheart contest held at Gainesville High School auditorium. She was one of 22 girls competing for the district title.

The darkest hour in the history of any man is when he sits down to study how to get money without honestly earning it.

Miss Schmidkofer Earl Brinkley to Marry February 9

LINDSAY — Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidkofer, Rt. 2, Gainesville, announced the approaching marriage of their daughter Polly and Earl Lee Brinkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brinkley of Gainesville.

The couple will exchange vows Saturday, February 9, in St. Mary's Church, Gainesville, with Father James J. Gillespie officiating.

A graduate of Lindsay High School, the bride-to-be has attended Cooke County Junior College. The future groom is a Gainesville High graduate and is working at Club 60 in Lindsay.

They plan to make their home in Gainesville.

Chosen as wedding attendants are Miss Donna Schmidkofer and Miss Sue Brinkley, sisters of the couple, with Kenny Schmidkofer, brother of the bride, best man and Kenny Krebs groomsman.

People hate to see a poor loser or a rich winner and sometimes both.

Little Tom had just been vaccinated. When the doctor tried to put a bandage over the spot, Tom insisted that he wanted the bandage on the other arm.

"Why Tom, the bandage should be put on the sore arm so that boys at school won't hit it," the doctor said.

"Put it on the other arm, Doc," Tom replied. "You don't know those guys."

It's fine to believe in yourself, but don't be too easily convinced.

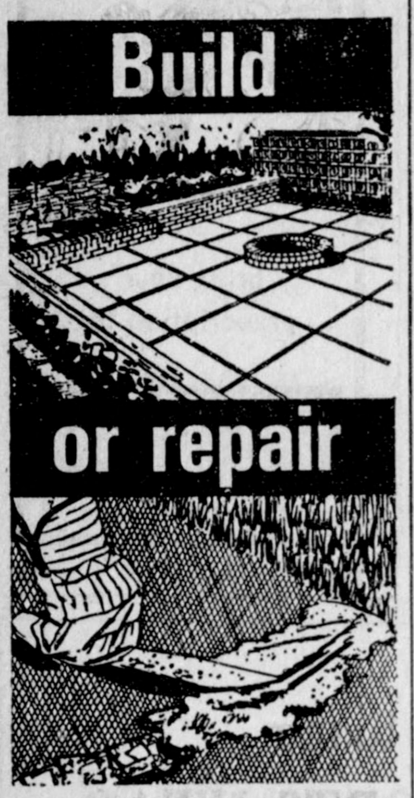

Mrs. Spaeth Ends Visit with Kin

Mrs. Rose Spaeth has returned to her home in Harlingen after a round of visiting with relatives. She was with her son and family, the L. A. Spaeths in Houston for Christmas. While there she made a side trip to College Station to visit a granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coufal. For New Year's she traveled to San Antonio in company of Sallie and Lucky Spaeth and Sister Madeleine Zimmerer, a niece also of Houston, to visit Sister Edna at Our Lady of the Lake Convent.

From there Mrs. Spaeth and her son Buddy drove to Gainesville, Pilot Point, Lindsay and Muenster to visit nephews and nieces and especially a sister-in-law Mrs. Ed Blumberg in Pilot Point. Mrs. Spaeth reports having many happy memories of her visits and thanks everyone for making her stay so enjoyable.

BANKING IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Presented in the public interest by the American Bankers Association

A Safe Deposit Box—Your Personal Vault

Birth certificates, insurance policies, wills, contracts and other legal documents aren't needed very often, but when they are — nothing else will take their place. One of the easiest ways to make sure you can locate important papers when you need them is to rent a bank safe deposit box, the American Bankers Association (ABA) points out.

Not only will you know where these irreplaceable items are, you'll also be assured they have the best fire and burglar protection available.

The first safe deposit box as it is known today appeared in 1865. When the Safe Deposit Co. of New York opened its doors, the sales pitch included a new wrinkle. Not only was the customer offered the latest in security, but he was also guaranteed individual privacy and exclusive control of his own property.

At the heart of the "exclusive control" feature was a two-key system still in use today. When you rent a bank safe deposit box, you are given a set of keys to open one lock, and a bank vault attendant retains another to open a second lock. Consequently, you know (unlike your ancestor who may have kept his valuables in the town goldsmith's strong box) that no one can get into your box without your permission.

If you lose your duplicate key, you should notify the bank immediately, and an officer will have the lock changed in your presence. But, in the meantime, protection continues. The vault attendant requires a signature check before allowing anyone with a key into the area, and generally he has a physical description of the legal box holder.

When you rent a safe deposit box, you are required to sign a rental contract, for your own protection and the bank's. Once signed, the bank is held responsible for the exercise of "reasonable care" in providing protection for your property, but it is not normally considered a guarantor or insurer of the box contents.

Although total security is an impossibility, the chances of loss from a safe deposit box are certainly far less than from your own home. Every possible safeguard is considered. The use of a heavy steel vault, the two-key system, careful identification checks and elaborate alarm devices are all combined for the best protection available.

For the protection and convenience provided, the cost of renting a safe deposit box is amazingly low. The annual charge runs from around $5 for a small size to perhaps $50 for a much larger one. And, it's tax deductible as long as an earning asset (such as a stock certificate or bond) is kept in the box, the ABA notes.

Forestburg News

By Myrt Denham
FORESTBURG — As most of us know Willie and Elizabeth Orrell will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, January 27. When they married fifty years ago Elizabeth wore a dress made by Mrs. Tina Brewer. The dress Elizabeth will be wearing for the celebration Sunday will also be one made by Mrs. Tina Brewer.

Ted and Laura Belle Jackson have leased the "Old Bird place" from Wyonna Riddles. Haven't seen any action there since Charlie Sessums got himself married to Lulu Freeland a few years ago and moved away. Now we will see some action going on there again. Ted and Laura Belle are two of the best gardeners in this area. They will make that place shine like a mirror and produce like everything.

Wonder how many folks hereabouts saw "Music Country U.S.A." at 9:00 p.m. Thursday Jan. 17 on channel 5. One of the featured artists on the program was "Red" Steagall. "Red" is the son of the late George Steagall long-time resident of Forestburg. "Red" is also a nephew of Mrs. Meh (Roxie) Dunn. For those of you who like country music, this is a fine program.

Sounds like there will be wedding bells ringing around the Burg come spring. Pamela Lillie Barnes, daughter of the Elmer T. Barnes of Forestburg, has gotten herself engaged to Robert (Tuck) Scott, son of Mrs. Roberta Scott of Forestburg.

We have another birthday to report. Ruth Smith, "jack-of-all-trades" lady, out Free-mound way celebrated her birthday Saturday Jan. 19. We certainly wish Ruth many happy returns of the day. Rev. Laura Kapka honored Ruth with a birthday supper Friday night Jan. 18.

Jack and Jewell Dill bundled daughter Vatori up Tuesday night and took in the movie "Vanishing Wilderness" in Gainesville. Am told the Clifford Hudspeths took in the same movie one night while it was showing there.

Mrs. Cecil (Dorothy) Foster has returned to work at a lunch room at North Texas State. This time she was made supervisor of the sandwich line — her first go at that. Never see much of Dorothy but she is one nice lady.

Met up with the former Retha Riddles — now Mrs. William Laine of Bowie. Was over in Bowie in Griffin's Drug and Retha was in there. She finally told me she had started to work there that day. We wish her luck.

Wylie Edwards decided that being a cobbler just wasn't his cup of tea. He has now gone to work at the Bowie Machine Works. Wylie says it pays better too.

The Jerry Orrells took in the Second Monday grounds Sunday Jan. 13. If we just but knew it, there were probably many more Forestburg folks over there looking around.

On Tuesday night Jan. 15 Laura Belle Jackson had a phone call from her brother J. D. Hunter of Paterson, New Jersey. What's so strange about that? Well, she hadn't seen or heard anything of him in 24 years. Laura Belle had no idea where he was or what had happened to him until he called her Tuesday night. Naturally she was most surprised and very pleased indeed.

Comings and goings in and around Forestburg:

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Alber of Blue Hill, Nebraska, Waymon Turner and Ray Pelton from Dallas have been visiting June Eldridge and Connie the past few days. Mrs. Alber is June's sister.

The David Brewer family of Denton visited David's mother Mrs. Frances Brewer Saturday Jan. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Foster of Fort Worth visited the Blake Freeman's Sunday Jan. 13. Mrs. Foster is the Freeman's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Young of Saint Jo visited the Charles Edwards family Sunday, Jan. 13.

Mrs. Decie Ellzey, Mrs. Vera Mae McGee and Mrs. Lizzie Gardner visited folks in the Yes-Ter-Yer Rest Home in Saint Jo. Also visiting there were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Tom English.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Walker of Alvord visited with the Willie Orrells Monday night Jan. 14. The Walkers and Orrells are long time friends.

Visiting in the Cecil Foster home Sunday Jan. 13 were Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Gresham and family, also Mr. and Mrs. Tim Beavers and family all of Denton. Mrs. Gresham is Cecil's cousin and the daughter of the late George Volkman.

News concerning the sick: At this writing Mrs. Bill (Beverly) Scott is still on the sick list. Mrs. Millie Reynolds returned home from Bethania Hospital Tuesday Jan. 15. Millie seems to be doing fine.

Mrs. Louise Covington was dismissed from Bowie hospital Tuesday.

Saw Roe Sledge sitting on the Mercy Bench chatting with Willie Kuykendall. This was Friday Jan. 18 before the cooler weather moved in. Roe is on the mend — not up to par though.

Lester W. Boyd, Sr. is in Bowie hospital — returned there the last part of the week.

Mrs. Grace Scott had the 42 party in her home last Thursday night Jan. 17. Those present were Veda and Barney Brogdon, Mr. and Mrs. Tom English, Meh Dunn, Frances Brewer, Velma Freeman, Clea Reynolds, and Decie Ellzey.

I mentioned seeing Roe Sledge and Willie Kuykendall on the Mercy Bench Friday. Well, I stopped to chat with them on my way home from the local "hair house." Willie remarked how women wasted money on their hair and other beauty aids, etc. He said he was sure glad that the Good Lord gave him and most other men enough natural beauty that they did not have to seek outside aid.

We have discovered another millionaire in the Forestburg community. None other than Charlie Barclay. He is like some of our other millionaires — you'd never know it being around him. Well, anyway, this is how it is: Charlie figured out that at the present price of firewood he has about a million dollars worth of firewood on his place — now all he has to do is just cut it.

Barney Brogdon has himself a good start on his first million dollars worth of cut firewood. He has about 15 ricks. If this nice weather holds, Barney, you may not be able to find a market for it.

Mr. Burl Gregg of Alvord passed away and was buried there Tuesday p.m. Jan. 15. He died in Breckenridge and would have been 95 years of age in June. Mr. Gregg was Mrs. Bertha Covington's uncle.

Only one week of January is left. Employers are reminded that employees W-2 forms, last quarter social security and with holding deposits, State unemployment tax, Federal unemployment tax and state sales tax reports and payments are all due in January. It's again time to check the date on your safety sticker.

Have you seen a Western on TV lately? It's surprising how much they leave to the imagination. When a cowboy goes to the corral to get his horse you never see feed or water, in fact a cowboy can travel for days and never stops for water for himself or his horse. He only eats at night and has his horse on a short rope so the horse can't eat. After days of traveling the cowboy is still clean shaven and his clothes look like they did when he started.

Matt Dillon has worn the same hat and clothes and ridden the same horse for nine years. Altho Kitty shows her affection for him, his most romantic gesture is patting her on the hand.

Most cowboys drink beer but occasionally a tough one will drink whiskey. The only time they smoke is when they play cards yet the bar room is always full of smoke. No one is in the bar unless he has on western boots, no town people or farmers go to those places. Those pretty girls dressed in satin dresses are there to keep the cowboys from getting lonesome. Sometimes they will dance a bit but they are modest and only tease by wearing low neck dresses.

When traveling cross country a cowboy has a small roll on the back of his saddle yet when he stops for the night he has a bed roll, frying pan, coffee pot and food. He may change saddles on the way and if there is a dance he shows up looking like Porter Waggoner. He could not get all those things in a U-Haul yet he carries it behind his saddle.

When they show a farmer on TV he is always wearing overalls a floppy hat and work shoes. His woman regardless of age wears a long gingham dress, a bonnet, button shoes and her hair rolled up on top of her head. She wears no make up and seldom talks.

A cowboy's woman has just been to the beauty parlor, wears a tailor made shirt, tight fitting jeans, playtex & maiden form, and expensive Nocona boots. She is witty, talks educated, and looks trim at every age.

The gun fights are puzzling. Can't figure out how to shoot a cowboy so he and his horse both fall. They down many horses but none stay down. Most gun fights use 95 bullets per man shot or else the fast gunman shoots three bad men with two bullets.

And we wonder why Monday night football became so popular.

Occasionally we are asked why we have not printed something about a birth, baptism or family gatherings. It's because we don't know about all those things unless you tell us. When you have out of town visitors, a reunion or some other interesting news — call Rosa or Shirley and they'll be happy to publish the news.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I just finished reading the book "Green Olive Branch" by Sister Agnes Voth. Having received a good solid Christian education by the Benedictine Sisters, I naturally found this book very interesting and would look forward to the next chapter with anticipation. The book was a Christmas gift. What better gift could one receive?

16 Muenster 4-Hers Win Ribbons in County Food Show; 2 Go to District

Fifty-six Cooke County 4-Hers competed in the annual Food Show Saturday at Gainesville and 16 of them were ribbon winners from Muenster.

Two of them are top winners and advance to district competition and two are district alternates.

Food was judged at CCJC for taste, color, attractiveness and appearance. Contestants also were judged on their knowledge of steps taken in preparing their food, on their table settings and on good food-buying. Seniors were required to take a nutrition quiz. And all contestants were scored on their menu, recipe and knowledge of the four basic food groups.

Top winners in four categories will compete in the district contest on March 9 in Town Hall Mall at Dallas.

These include Sandy Reiter in the senior division of the Main Dish category and Christy Felderhoff in the junior division of Breads and Desserts. Her sister Rose Felderhoff is alternate in the Main Dish group and Barbie Hess is senior alternate in Breads and Desserts.

Other blue ribbon winners in the Main Dish category are Brenda Voth, Dona Swirczynski, and Carolyn Luke with Mary Luke a red ribbon winner.

Also blue ribbon winners are Mary Margaret Rohmer,

Side Dish; Sharon Rohmer, Nancy Luke, Monica Gehrig, Debbie Zimmerer, Marlene Swirczynski, Cheryl Luke in Breads and Desserts and Elaine Walterscheid in the Snacks and Beverages division.

In addition three Muenster 4-H girls were chosen to receive the "Most Appropriate Table Award" which went to Carolyn Luke, Sharon Rohmer and Debbie Zimmerer.

Kim Reiter, former county Gold Star Girl and now a freshman at NTSU, was there to lead games and assist while judging was going on.

Police Officer Quotes from New Texas Penal Code

The following section of the Texas Penal Code relative to DWI or reckless driving is quoted by James L. McDonald Sr. of Muenster Police Department.

Title 5, Chapter 19, Section 19.05 on Criminal Homicide, entitled "Offenses Against the Person," in violated if a person:

1. Recklessly causes the death of an individual, or
2. By accident or mistake when operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and, reason of such intoxication, causes the death of an individual. For purpose of this section "Intoxication" means that the offender does not have the normal use of his (her) mental or physical faculties by reason of the voluntary introduction of any substance into his (her) body.

Violation under this section is a felony of the third degree, subject to confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections for a term of not more than ten years or less than two years. In addition to imprisonment an offender can be fined not to exceed $5,000.

Boy Scouts Elect Patrol Leaders

Muenster Boy Scout troop at its meeting Monday night elected patrol leaders and patrol names and leaders named their assistants.

Thomas Bright was elected senior patrol leader. Ronnie Weinzapfel heads the Rat Patrol with Billy Rohmer as assistant. Mike Richardson is Flaming Arrow Patrol leader assisted by Sam Bright.

Billy Phillips heads "F" Troop Patrol with Joey Sicking as assistant, Damian Luke is Squirrel Patrol leader with Lloyd Reiter as assistant.

Jimmy Luke was elected scribe, Bernie Fette librarian and Ray Luke quartermaster. Scout Master Wilfred Reiter met with the troop.

Hornets Split Two With Pilot Point

The MHS Hornets won 2-0 and the Homettes lost 32-23 in games with Pilot Point here Tuesday. The boys game was a forfeit a half minute into the fourth quarter after the visiting coach declared he wanted no more of the officials. And Muenster's coach, Bill Moore, was sympathetic because his Ronnie Felderhoff left the game in the first period with four fouls hanging over him.

Otherwise the game started as a hot streak by Pilot Point and ended with Muenster going strong. The visitors jumped to an early 10-1 lead and were ahead 17-9 at the quarter. The Hornets started clicking in the second and gained to a 22-21 half time lead. A great third period, due partly to Pilot Point's foul troubles, saw the Hornets surge to a 43-27 lead, which was still the count when the game was stopped. Lyle Klement went on a scoring spree for 29 points. Randy Wolf hit 5, Terry Walterscheid 4, Tim Felderhoff 3 and Ronnie Felderhoff 2.

In the girls game both sides were in a slump for three quarters after which the visitors improved but Muenster did not. Scores for the three fumbling quarters were 8-1, 10-8 and 18-16. Pilot Point leading all the way. Then Pilot Point took the final period by 14-7 and the score was 32-23. Free throws made the difference, the visitors scoring 16 and Muenster 7. Hornette scorers were Sandy Dittfurth 9, Deb. Schneider 7, Tracy Klement 7, Becky Fields 1.

MHS teams will meet Callisburg Friday night on the local court and Sanger there next Tuesday.

The Hornets now have a loop standing of 4-3 and the girls a standing of 3-6.

principle might very well be applied to some of our modern structures. There's little doubt that modern genius can find a way to use the day's warm or the night's cool like the Indians used to. Or possibly they can manage other ways to use natural temperature to eliminate the need of so much heating or air conditioning. Architecture, it seems, faces revolutionary changes because of the energy crisis.
