VOLUME XXXIX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 APRIL 25, 1975

NUMBER 22

The resignation of South Vietnam's President Thieu Monday ought to be the inducement to bring hostilities to a halt in that ill fated country. Viet Cong had said only a few days earlier that they would agree to a negotiated peace if Thieu would pull out, and now it should be interesting to see how they will settle the affair.

While we can pray that they will end the tragedy as they said, we certainly cannot bet that way. Even though the Reds are so close to victory that they can dictate all terms in a negotiated peace, we know from their previous performance that they will not quit until their victory is complete. That is until they have savored their savage taste for revenge and have, as completely as possible, liquidated every person who might later cause a political problem. The mop up of red victory still has a long way to go.

Judging from the pro-red bias of news that has been fed to us for a long time, we can be sure that we will not get an accurate account of the horror story, but there will still be plenty of tragedy to reveal the magnitude of our blunder in failing to resist communism years ago, when it could have been done so easily.

Most likely this picture was haunting President Ford as he made his eleventh hour plea for over $700 million of military aid to Vietnam. Elementary judgment told him it was too late, and he could be rhetorical without any risk of persuading Congress to waste the money, but he felt compelled to say that we ought to keep trying to make up for our previous faults.

The president was right, as a matter of principle, in saying all that. But Congress was equally right, as a matter of hard reality, in declining to give. The only possible result would have been a further tax burden on us to have more of our war equipment captured by the enemy.

It seems like an ironic coincidence that the Vietnam misfortune should arrive about the same time as Chiang Kai-shek's death. Asia's great personal symbol of resistance to communism over the past three decades held out almost exactly as long as Vietnam's national effort. In those two happenings freedom in Asia has sustained a very disheartening setback.

We recall Chiang's long time claim that Taiwan was a part of the mainland, and his long time aim of returning there and restoring the freedom of his people. Now we have reason to expect that Mao Tse-tung will repeat Chiang's claim as a pretext to annex Taiwan to the mainland. When he gets that idea we can write off the last of Southeast Asia's free people to the slavery of communism.

We have no idea how much the Nationalist Chinese can or will resist, but we have little doubt about the outcome. This is especially true now since Taiwan can expect no (Continued on Page 10)

Hooray for The Women!

We're glad to see some women standing up for their rights.

We mean those women who are proud and HAPPY to be housewives, to be mothers, to be homebuilders, good cooks and keepers of the hearth.

In other countries as well as in the United States, there is that militant minority of "women's rights" fanatics who are out to impose upon everyone else, whether they like it or not, THEIR version of what women's rights should be.

For example, in Australia the Socialist Premier Don Dunstan of South Australia has decided, without asking the Australian women, that ALL of the ladies from now on will be addressed, in all official government correspondence, as "Ms." He announced the change as part of "International Women's Year." This does not mean, he said, that "women can no longer call themselves Miss or Mrs. if they want." It's just that the socialist Government will no longer call them Miss or Mrs.

As it turned out, the dictatorial decision ran into a solid wall of opposition — from women. According to an Associated Press dispatch, even members of Dunstan's own government staff have objected. They say that the title Ms. has led to their being called lesbians, man-haters, and fanatics. Many other women have threatened to return unopened to the government any mail addressed as Ms. — and that would include water bills, tax forms, automobile licenses and everything else.

Hooray for the women! We're glad to see them standing up for their right to be called Miss or Mrs. if they so prefer. As a next step, how about removing male chauvinist Don Dunstan from office?

Energy Crisis Is Serious

Like it or not, the energy crisis is going to be with us from now on. With the Arab oil cartel "ripping us off" to the tune of millions of dollars a day — in spite of an oil surplus — it behooves every one of us, in our own self interest, to conserve every ounce of energy we can.

Thousands of barrels of oil could be cut from our overseas purchases right now if EVERY American would cooperate to trim energy demands. It can be done easily by saving a little bit here and a little bit there.

For example, if you are not already doing it, turn your house heat thermostat down to not more than 60 degrees at night. You'll sleep better, and you'll save a bundle of money on your fuel bill.

In the morning, don't turn up your heat higher than 68 degrees. In the hustle of the morning activities you won't even notice. Later on in the evening when it gets colder out and you are simply sitting around reading, then allow yourself the luxury of 70-72 degrees.

House lights: turn them off! Never leave a light burning in a room that is not being used. This does not mean that you have to switch all your light bulbs to lower wattage, especially in reading lamps; there is no sense (and no need) to ruin your eyesight. But, tremendous amounts of energy could be saved if EVERY household were to simply turn off all un-needed and unused lights.

To save gasoline, "gang" your trips, so that instead of making separate (and several) trips to the post office, bank, store and Susie's music lesson, you handle as many errands as possible in one journey. And, "car-pooling" with a neighbor for shopping trips can save much fuel, too.

There are, in fact, a hundred and one ways that folks can conserve energy. For example, if you have an automatic dishwasher, let your dishes "air dry" instead of using the automatic hot air drying. After the wash cycle is over, simply open the dishwasher and let the dishes dry themselves. In most models of dishwashers, it takes as much or more energy to dry the dishes as it does to wash them. Result: an energy saving of 50% or more.

In every home there are many ways to conserve fuel and energy. All it takes is a little persistence and perseverance to save, save, save and conserve, conserve, conserve.

And, in the meantime, we must bend every effort to develop our own oil and gas resources, to increase our use of coal, and to develop nuclear power so that we will no longer be dependent upon foreign sources for our energy needs.

Meeting Booked on Wheat Marketing April 28 at CCC

by Neil Tibbets
What will be the price for the 1975 wheat crop to the Cooke County farmer? How much does the producer need to make a fair margin of profit? Operating expenses have increased the same in agriculture as they have in other segments of the economy.

Will the wheat producer take his crop to the elevator and sell it or should he store it and bargain for a better price? If the grain is stored, will he make money or lose on the venture?

Do farmers need to consider the selling price of their product before they spend the money to produce it? Producing a crop that shows a net loss is poor business.

Agriculture production is an area in which normally the producer does not have a guaranteed price before the time for selling.

A good number of producers in past years have contracted their commodity for later delivery. Sometimes they lose and sometimes they realize a gain.

What does the individual need to know to make the decision to contract or to hedge to lock in a reasonable profit?

We have many questions on contracting and hedging and the answers are hard to come by. The producer needs to think of the problems and try to make the decision that will give him a fair return on his investment.

A meeting will be held Monday night, April 28, 8:00 p.m. in Room 412, Science Building, Cooke County College to discuss contracting and hedging in agriculture. Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist, Extension Service, Texas A&M University, will be the speaker.

We have some producers who have contracts for $5.00 per bushel for 1975 wheat and some that hope the market will be $3.00 at harvest time. This meeting should be of interest to all producers. Make plans to attend. Everyone is invited.

Instead of merely taking a weekend drive thru the countryside, why not stop at some public park, wooded ridge or meadow and take a brisk hike. The beauty of nature, close at hand, will do wonders for your spirit — and the stimulating walk will be most physically healthful. Live a little — it doesn't require a two week vacation. A weekend nature hike is most invigorating.

Burleson Bill Proposes Reform Of Estate Taxes

Representative Omar Burleson (D.) of Texas has reintroduced his federal estate tax reform bill in the new Congress. Its number is H.R. 1793. Several other prominent congressmen, members of both political parties, have introduced the same bill and more are expected to sponsor it.

The Burleson bill was described in Washington: Assignment Agriculture in September 1974. Briefly, the bill would:

(1) Raise the exemptions from the federal estate tax to $200,000 (from the present $60,000)

(2) Increase the maximum marital deduction available when a married person dies and leaves property to a surviving spouse.

(3) Provide a method for evaluating farms and woodland for estate tax purposes on the basis of their current use rather than potential higher value uses.

The Burleson bill provides one answer to the knotty problem of how to pass on a family farm from one generation to another.

Now is the time to let your congressmen and senators know of your support for the Burleson bill. Write to them now asking them to sponsor and support bills comparable to HR 1793.

What FB Delegates Said Voting delegates to the 1975 annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation said: "The exemptions from the federal estate and gift taxes should be increased substantially in recognition of the economic changes which have occurred since the present exemptions were provided."

The voting delegates also said that: "When estates are appraised for federal estate purposes, their value should be based on the use and productivity of the property at the time of appraisal."

Make-up was by Karen Luttmir and Vicky Haverkamp. Gayle Miller was in charge of publicity. Lighting was handled by Joe Koessler and tickets were handled by Barbie Grewing.

— Brother Thomas Mosier

We want to thank each of you at the First Baptist Church for your prayers, flowers and get well cards while in the Westgate Hospital in Denton and in St. Pauls in Dallas.

A very special "thank you, Father Placidus." Our thanks also to parishioners of Sacred Heart for prayers, flowers and get well cards.

Our gratitude goes to all who offered to replace blood at the Blood Bank in St. Paul's. Words cannot express our appreciation. Just knowing we were being remembered helped in those trying hours.

Dolly Bayer and Harold Owen United in Double Ring Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass at 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 12, Miss Dolly Bayer became the bride of Harold Owen of Lindsay. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bayer of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Owen of Lindsay.

Father Stephen Eckart officiated for the ceremony in Sacred Heart Church. The couple and their attendants walked down the aisle and approached the altar together.

The bride wore a yellow cotton and polyester daisy-flocked dotted Swiss dress designed with a square neckline, cap sleeves, Empire waist, tied at the back. The skirt was finished with a ruffle at the hem. She wore a picture hat with a matching bow and carried a single yellow rose.

Maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Bayer, sister of the bride wore pale green flocked dotted Swiss similar to the bride's dress. She also carried a single yellow rose. Both dresses were made by the bride's mother.

Diamond Sandmann of Lindsay, a friend of the couple, was best man and Mass servers were Bert Hesse, Kent and Gene Fuhrmann, cousins of the bride. Ushers were Allen and Carl Bayer, bride's brothers and Ronnie Hermes, a friend of the groom.

Wedding music was furnished by Donna Haverkamp, at the organ for the Wedding March. Other selections were "Wedding Song," "Love Story" and "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face".

Reception

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception at the VFW Hall. Bride's sisters Betty Bayer and Susan Bayer registered 75 guests. A two tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. Mrs. Charles Bayer baked the bride's cake and decorated it with tiny bows and flowers in colors of the bride's and honor maid's dresses. The cake was served by Mrs. Joe Henry Walterscheid and Mrs. Arnold Schilling. Guests helped themselves to an assortment of pick-up foods. Nancy Nance, friend of the bride made daisy flower arrangements for the bride's table and guests' tables.

The bride's mother wore a gold coat-dress trimmed with white collar and cuffs and had a daisy corsage. The groom's mother wore an orange double knit in a princess style and also had a daisy corsage.

The bride attended Sacred Heart School and is a graduate of Muenster High. She is employed at Jr. Elite Manufacturing Co. The groom graduated from Lindsay High School and is employed by Parkview Superette. They are at home in Lindsay.

2 Federal Grants Announced for CCC

Congressman Omar Burlison this week announces approval of two federal grants to educational programs at Cooke County College.

One is the grant of a $122,122 college work-study program for 254 student awards. The other is an educational opportunity grant of $24,973 for 36 students.

In the work-study program federal funds provide 80 per cent of student payrolls and a matching college or off-campus agency contribution provides the remaining 20 per cent.

Under the educational opportunity grant financial assistance to students ranges from $200 to $1500 for each academic year of undergraduate study awarded by participating institutions to students of exceptional financial need. Each federal grant requires an equal amount of local financing.

Forestburg News

By Myrt Denham

Ted and Laura Belle Jackson spent April 6 visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Steen and son and Mr. and Mrs. Garnett "Hob" Jackson all of Fort Worth.

April 6 visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Orrell were Leo Orrell and son Billy of Texarkana and George Morby and daughter Syretta of Rosston.

The Perryman Denham home was the scene of a birthday dinner and party April 8 at 6:30 p.m. honoring Bennett Reynolds. After dinner everyone enjoyed the evening playing Mexican dominoes, talking and much laughter. Other guests besides Bennett and wife Betty were Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barclay and Cleo Lanier. Don't know what number birthday this was for Bennett — he didn't offer that information and we didn't ask. After all one is just as old as one feels and Bennett seems to feel pretty young here of late. Hope we can honor him with many more birthday dinners and parties.

Mrs. Sharon Landers and children and Mrs. Jan Landers and son all of Dewey attended the circus at Nocona Thursday nite, April 10.

Mrs. Helen Ellzey, DeQuincey, La., has been visiting in Bowie and Forestburg this past week. Helen's mother Mrs. Odus Cook entered the Harris Hospital in Fort Worth April 12 and underwent surgery there Monday, April 14.

Young Tracey Lanier, Gerald and Olita's son, celebrated his sixth birthday April 9. Understand Grandma Cleo Lanier honored Tracey with a party at her home.

Mrs. Bertha Trout, sister of Mrs. Cona Freeman of Bowie and aunt of Houston Foster, Cecil Foster and Willard Freeman passed away Friday, April 11. Funeral services were held April 13 at 2:30 p.m. in the Loco, Oklahoma Church of Christ. Attending from this area were Mrs. Maryetta Foster and son Eugene and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Foster.

Here is a thought for you folks. Have you ever noticed how many people these days always want people to come and see them and are so happy to have company, but they themselves never seem to have time to visit in return? This one-sided visiting doesn't set well with the ones always expected to do all the visiting, etc. It is sorta like the saying: To get a letter one must write a letter!

Bride Elect Is Shower Honoree

On Sunday, March 30, Miss Lisa Borysowicz of Dallas, bride-elect of Billy Kupper of Valley View was honored with a personal shower in the home of Mrs. David Walter-scheid.

Special guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Paul Borysowicz and the future groom's mother, Mrs. John Kupper and his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph F. Neu, Becky Borysowicz of Commerce and Donna Blair of Bryan. Other guests were relatives from Valley View, Lewisville and Muenster.

Yellow and white, bride-elect's chosen colors were carried out in decorations, and punch and cake were served. A miniature bride centered the cake and four tiny bridesmaid dolls dressed in yellow completed the table centerpiece.

The couple has chosen June 6 for their wedding at St. Pius X Church in Dallas.

Open your purse and your mouth cautiously; and your stock of wealth and reputation shall, at least in repute, be great.

Texas FB Urges EPA to End Ban on Fire Ant Control

The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has asked members of the Texas Congressional delegation to urge the Environmental Protection Agency to relax restrictions affecting fire ant control. A telegram from Carrol G. Chaloupka to Texas congressmen follows a USDA announcement of plans to terminate the Fire Ant Control Program, effective June 30, 1975.

Chaloupka said that "termination of the program poses an increased threat to agricultural production and human health."

The fire ant is spreading across southern states, inhabiting about 60 counties in Texas, primarily in the eastern upper-coast area. The USDA says the pest could infest one-third of the United States if not controlled. The fire ant eats grain out of the ground before it germinates, has been known to sting new-born calves to death, and builds mounds which damage mowing and harvesting equipment.

Besides agricultural losses, the USDA says at least 10,000 people seek medical help each year as a result of the sting of the fire ant. At least seven deaths have been attributed to the fire ant.

The EPA permits only one application of the chemical mirex per year. The USDA says three treatments of less than one teaspoon of mirex per acre, spread over 10 to 15 months, would virtually eliminate the pest.

The Texas Farm Bureau president asked congressmen to urge the EPA to ease restrictions affecting fire ant control so that the USDA would reconsider its decision to terminate the Fire Ant Control Program.

A philosopher is a man giving other people advice about troubles he hasn't had.

Sullivant Objects To Court Decision On Farm Irrigation

Rep. Bill Sullivant of Gainesville is calling for the United States Congress to reopen the matter of requiring permits for irrigation return flow on farms throughout the country. He introduced a resolution to that effect in the Texas House of Representatives Friday.

Irrigation return flow refers to irrigation water which runs off the land to a water course. A recent District of Columbia federal court decision orders the Environmental Protection Agency to require permits from farms of all sizes, although the EPA had favored application only to units with 3,000 acres or more.

"It is unreasonable, in my opinion, that a farmer with only a small piece of land which he irrigates in order to grow crops in relatively small quantities should be required to go through extremely intricate procedures in applying for and receiving what is, in effect, a permit to irrigate his land," Sullivant stated. "I think the Congress, in the name of reason, needs to re-think this matter and I hope, also, that other states, which are as seriously involved in the matter as Texas is, would join us in our efforts to have this matter restudied and reasonable revisions made."

"In the same connection, I hope that Congress will look at similar provisions applicable to storm sewers and feed lots which would require vast amounts of money to cope with problems caused by natural rainfall," Sullivant concluded.

How to save electricity with refrigerator-freezers

1. Defrost regularly. More than 1/4" of frost will act as insulation and causes your refrigerator/freezer to work harder to maintain a proper temperature. Replace worn door gaskets to prevent cold air loss.
2. Keep refrigerator temperature setting between 35° and 40° - freezer setting at 0°. (Use thermometer to check.)
3. Adjust temperature up 2° or 3° if you'll be away several days.
4. Don't leave door open unnecessarily. Close quickly.
5. Avoid overcrowding. It restricts cold air flow around food and overworks unit.
6. Cover all liquids placed in frost-free units. (Moisture causes frost and needless defrosting.)
7. Keep condenser coils on back and bottom of your refrigerator/freezer free of dust for more efficient operation.
8. Cook double recipes and freeze half for future use.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it: natural gas, coal and oil. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.

When you pass a TP&L office, warehouse, generating plant or other facility, you'll see that we've turned off all non-essential lighting. And, in as many other ways as possible, TP&L is reducing its own uses of electricity.

If you would like additional information on conserving electricity, call or see the Customer Service Representative in the TP&L Office.

Windmills May Become Source of Electrical Power

If experiments conducted by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the National Science Foundation prove successful, electricity for your home may someday come from windmills.

NASA and NSF are working on a five-year program to study wind energy systems. This program is one aspect of Project Independence, designed to reduce U.S. dependence on foreign energy sources.

As part of the wind energy study, Lockheed Corp. has been awarded a $323,000 contract to design, develop and test a huge set of windmill blades. The blades will be used to power an experimental wind turbine generator at a NASA station in Ohio.

Two 60-foot-long blades, forming a rotor, will be mounted on a 100-foot tower. Transmission equipment will drive the generator at 1,800 rpm, generating 100 kilowatts of electricity—enough to power 1,000 100-watt bulbs. A NASA-supplied mechanism adjusts the blades to the speed of the wind, keeping them moving at a constant 40 rpm.

If the system proves practical and economically competitive, we may see a day when five to 10 per cent of our power will come from windmill farms, predicts Tom Higgins, Lockheed's manager from NASA programs.

Region Eliminates MHS in Literary And Girls Track

None of the Muenster High entries in the regional literary competition or in the girls track meet at Stephenville during the past weekend were able to advance to the state finals, which is limited to the first and second place regional winners.

Literary scoring by the Muenster entries went as follows. Lisa Mollenkopf, seventh in spelling; Becky Douglas, fifth in poetry; Ray Luke, sixth, and Kirk Johnson, ninth, in science; John Eckart, seventh in number sense.

In several events only the first three were listed and Muenster was not included in any of them. However in each of three events MHS students survived the preliminaries and were one of the eight entries qualified for the finals. Those were Debbie Reynolds in ready writing, Margie Wolf in informative speaking and Ray Luke in persuasive speaking.

Damian Luke and Doyle Klement were eliminated in their first debate. And Mary Lou Fleitman had to choose between persuasive speaking and the shot put because of a conflict of time. She decided in favor of the track meet.

Six girls of MHS were entered in the track meet. Mary Lou Fleitman was sixth in the shot put with a heave of 31'6". Gina Felderhoff was fourth in discus with 91'4". Also the 880 relay team set its best time of the season, 1:52.3, but that was good enough for only the fourth place. The runners were Becky Fields, Laura Sicking, Mary Lou Fleitman and Melissa Weinzapfel.

Mary Fisher, the entry for 80 yard hurdles was eliminated in the preliminary.

Medicare Declines Reimbursement For Acupuncture

"Although acupuncture has been used for thousands of years in China, and for decades in parts of Europe," stated Gus Jones, District Manager of the Sherman Social Security Office, "it is a new agent of unknown use and effectiveness in the United States. Even in those areas of the world where it has been widely used, its mechanism is not known."

According to Jones, "Until the pending scientific assessment of the technique and its effectiveness is established, Medicare reimbursement for acupuncture may not be made."

Gas Shortage at Irrigation Pumps Has FB Worried

Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka said scores of thousands of Texas irrigation farmers still don't know if they can depend on natural gas to fuel their pumps.

Chaloupka said the Federal Power Commission's handling of a curtailment plan for natural gas has created "uncertainty and confusion" among irrigation farmers.

He said the outcome of an FPC hearing, now underway in Washington, will determine whether irrigation has a No. 2 or No. 3 priority. A TFB staff member, Bill Wedemeyer, was in Washington earlier this week working with user groups that are presenting evidence at the hearing.

Chaloupka said there are 60,000 pumps in Texas fueled by natural gas which could be affected by a shortage of natural gas. He said this represents more than 40 percent of all irrigation pumps in the state.

"If farmers are shut down because of a low priority, it will severely cripple a large segment of agriculture and adversely affect other industries tied to agriculture," the farm leader said.

Forty Pounds of Cancelled Stamps Sent to Missions

Another shipment of cancelled stamps from Sister Theresina is on its way to assist in the good work of foreign missions. This shipment, weighing about 40 pounds, was packaged by George Luke and Chris Schilling and mailed from Denton by Melvin Herr. Postage was paid by St. Joseph's Society. Immediate destination was the Stamp Mission Center, Aurora, Ill.

Collection of stamps is a long time project of Sister Theresina, O.S.B., whose list of helpers runs into many hundreds, living in many places, both far and near. Most stamps are collected locally, and hardly a day passes without arrival of some. Packages range in size from the huge ones sent by Cooke County Electric Co-op., to a small plastic bag or envelope.

Another sizeable source is a trio at Hot Springs, Ark., Sister Vincent, Sister Mildred and Edith Campbell, who recently sent their accumulations here with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grewing.

Another distant and long time donor is Mary Frances Burke of Wauwatosa, Wis., a student of Sister Theresina when she taught at Holy Angels Academy in Jonesboro, Ark., in the forties. And friends back in Sister Theresina's native Switzerland also send stamps.

To all contributors Sister Theresina, in the name of Sacred Heart School, extends her sincere thanks. At the same time she asks all to keep the stamps coming "for the project never is complete as long as there are poor and needy people on earth".

Hornets Win 9-0 In 13-A Opener on Terry's No-Hitter

Terry Walterscheid, pitching a no-hit no-run game against Windthorst last week gave the MHS Hornets a great start in their 13-A district race. The loop this year has three contenders in baseball, and the Hornets' district season will consist of two games each with Callisburg and Windthorst.

While denying the Trojans a hit, Walterscheid struck out an even dozen and allowed a half dozen to walk. Meanwhile the Windthorst hurlers gave up seven hits and seven walks and fanned nine.

Muenster started its scoring with 1 in the third and added 1 in the fourth then put on a hitting spree for 4 in the fifth and brought in 3 more in the seventh.

Hitters were Mike Davidson and Tim Wolf, each two, and Randy Wolf, Danny Endres and Nick Walterscheid.

help from the US. In the first place our recent coldness toward Taiwan and our detente with Red China leaves us doubting whether Washington would help. Secondly, the attitude of Congress after one debacle is hardly favorable to supporting another nation in war. And, additionally, it is doubtful whether the US in its present state of decline can be an effective helper, or whether it can afford to risk its own security by over-reaching itself again.

Considering the complete control of communism in so much of the world, and its growing influence in so many more areas, one is haunted by the terrible thought that the reds can not be stopped any more. They are in a position now to wait until the time is right and then, as Lenin said, to let the remaining countries drop into their hands like ripe fruit.

Free countries have let this thing go too far. They can't stop it any more. About their only remaining hope is that red countries, will come to realize that freedom and free enterprise must be preserved to rescue the communists from their agricultural and industrial failures.

By way of wishful thinking one might expect the Reds to remember how often US has pulled them out of a crisis. It really would not be smart of the commies to take us over and foul up our amazing productive capacity. We can be more valuable to them as the goose that lays the golden egg.

Hornets Are 2-0 In 13-A Loop after Win over Wildcats

A good job of grouping hits in the fourth inning gave the MHS Hornets a 2-1 win over Callisburg here Tuesday afternoon.

Terry Walterscheid started the good work with a triple and scored when Danny Endres followed him with a single. Then Tim Wolf, the next batter slapped out a timely double bringing Endres in.

Aside from those three, Muenster had only one hit for the rest of the game, a single by Bobby Endres.

The pair of runs in the fourth were all that Muenster got, but they proved to be plenty. Callisburg managed for only one score in the fifth.

Tim Wolf and Terry Walterscheid shared the pitching as-ignment for Muenster. Together they allowed 1 hit and 5 walks and fanned 8. The Wildcat pitcher gave up 4 hits and 4 walks and struck out 3.

The win gave MHS a 2-0 standing in the district race, a win over both of the other contenders, Windthorst and Callisburg. Standing for the full season to date is 8-3.
