NUMBER 44

Something for which we taxpayers should be grateful to Senator Lloyd Bentsen is his constant effort to relieve us of some of the paperwork burden imposed by the Federal Government.

Bentsen quotes the Office of Management and Budget as claiming that it takes the equivalent of 393,000 full time workers to fill out all of the forms that government sends out. This figure is based on the estimate of OMB that individuals and business firms of the nation work 786 million hours a year to fill out tax forms, business census forms, farm forms and what not.

Assuming that an average work year is 2000 hours (40 hours for 50 weeks) the total number of full time jobs figures to 393,000. And assuming that normal pay for that kind of work should no less than $150 a week, this means that form fillers as a whole contribute almost $59 million worth of their time in a week, or about $3 billion worth in a year.

Making the situation worse, as Bentsen sees it, is the fact that no one can say precisely how heavy a paperwork burden the government imposes. And ironically, there's also the fact that no one can say what use government makes of all the forms it demands. In fact, lots of people suspect that no use at all is made of much of it. Imagine just storing the stuff after millions of hours were used to prepare it.

The bureaucrats like to have us brush off these facts lightly because few of us can visualize ourselves as being involved. Business, especially big business, has to provide those forms, so we don't have to pay. Wrong! The cost of paper work is a business expense, which has to be a part of production cost, which has to be recovered by adding to the selling price. A primary law of economics is that business does not pay tax or other charges imposed by government. In the end the customers have to pay. That's we.

Most of us realize, of course, that our closest involvement with federal forms is the income tax report. Estimates from IRS tell us that 577 million hours a year are used to fill out the forms, which amounts to some 288,500 full time workers. This agrees with a guess that 80 per cent of all federal forms are filled out for IRS. We resent the thought of doing that much gratis work for the feds in addition to kicking in the tax.

Senator Bentsen has hopes that he and a pair of colleagues will be able to promote legislation that can monitor the paperwork churned out by the federal agencies and especially to reduce its volume. The method is to require all the feds, including IRS, to clear all proposed forms with OMB. And the purpose is to set paperwork reduction targets for each agency as well as to review each agency's management efforts every three years.

Two of the senator's anti-paperwork bills were signed into law last year. One eliminates overlapping demands made by individual federal housing agencies, the other reduces demands on local government under the Comprehensive Education and Training Act.

We wish Bentsen every success in his anti-paperwork crusade. We heartily endorse every effort to leave unneeded information off the reports, even to the extent of eliminating the agencies whose services to the public are trifling or excessively expensive, as well as to discover and eliminate personnel or practices that are plundering the useful agencies.

An old slogan says that least governed is best governed. We'd like very much to see reform based on this slogan...to get the bureaucrats off our backs and to eliminate the colossal expense of paying thousands of paper fumbler who process or stash away the reports we have to send in, and weed out the programs of doubtful merit.

Harvest Hoe Down Plans Are Shaping

In a joint effort to promote Muenster, the Chamber of Commerce and a number of business people are currently working on a special bargain and fun day next week Saturday, Sept. 27.

They will call it a Harvest Hoe Down featuring harvest attire and harvest decorations at the stores, a scattering of hay bales for atmosphere and seating, and entertainment, either live or tape player. And the big attraction is a town-ful of specials. Some 15 stores have agreed to participate and

Tigers Will Meet Lindsay Saturday At 8 on SH Field

Sacred Heart Tigers, with their confidence definitely strengthened by last week's victory over Alvord, will try to improve their record to 3-0 when they take on Lindsay's Knights Saturday night at 8 on the Tiger field.

At the same time they are aware of taking on a big assignment. Lindsay, too, has started the season with a bang, counting Era and Saint Jo as its victims to date.

Coach Virgil Henscheid feels that the Knights are due respect in every department. Defense has been tough, holding the opposition to only three touchdowns. And the offense, featuring Jeff McCord at quarterback, has been moving the ball with authority by hard rushing and precision passing.

However strong points can be listed for the Tigers as well. Defense was stout throughout last week's clash, holding Alvord to a total of only 100 yards. On the other hands SH offense was better than the scoreboard showed because of costly first half mistakes. But Tigers had full control in the second half.

Like their foes, the Sacred Heart boys have been doing fine in both rushing and continued on page 8...

more are expected. Their plan is to cooperate in a special advertising program and to feature a big part or all of their sale display by bringing it up front to the sidewalk.

As an extra feature the participating merchants will treat their visitors to about a thousand barbecue sandwiches, the tickets to be available at all of the participating stores. The Chamber of Commerce will barbecue 250 pounds of brisket for the occasion and will serve it on the vacant lot diagonally across from the bank.

Muenster and Era Hornets to Clash There Friday Night

Notwithstanding their setback last week by the Kennedale Wildcats, the MHS Hornets are confident of getting back in the win column when they meet Era's Hornets Friday night at 8 in Era. They are convinced that their effort last week was better than indicated by the 21-6 score, and that two big plays accounted for the big difference.

The important consideration, according to Coach Jerry Stinson is that his boys gained over 200 yards against a big and speedy team. It shows potential, on which the boys are working hard, and hopefully will show improvement this week. Defensively too the outlook is encouraging. Kennedale's sharp attack rolled up good yardage but the breaks yielded most of the points.

A problem will be the punting, which turned out bad after Todd Richey's injury last week. His broken little finger will keep him out this week, perhaps also next week.

Era, the other Hornet team, comes to the game with a poorer record than MHS. It lost 32-20 to Lin- continued on page 8...

Health Department Region 5 To Immunize Here Wednesday

The Texas Department of Health Region 5 office in Arlington announces an Immunization Clinic to be held in Muenster at the Sacred Heart Community Center Meeting Room from 10 am till 12 noon, on Wednesday, Sept. 26 1979.

The Clinic will provide immunization against diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP), Polio, rubeola (red measles) and rubella (German measles), for infants 2 months through 18 years. (Exception: Females over age 12 will not receive rubella vaccine without physician's consultation and prescription.) Precautions must be taken with females in the 12-18 age group to insure that they are not pregnant when they are immunized with measles vaccine, and that they do not become pregnant for 3 months following immunization.

Immunizations are incomplete if a child has not received three (3) doses of DTP and polio vaccine with at least one dose administered past the fourth birthday. All children under 18 years must have an informed consent form read and signed by a parent or legal guardian. If possible the parent should accompany the child to the clinic. Immunization records should accompany the child to the clinic and be examined by the Public Health Nurse who will answer any questions. The following children would have immunizations deferred:

- (1) Those acutely ill and with fever;

- (2) Those taking antibiotic treatment for an acute illness; and
- (3) Those who have completed antibiotic treatment for an acute illness, but have not been pronounced well by their physician.

"Persons who have private physicians, should consult with them for advice," stated Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

Good Show!

People who came to the Tiger-Bulldog game last week expected to see lots of football, and they were not disappointed. But that was not all of the show, not by a long shot. The half time performance by the Tigerette drill team was really special, a delight to the eye.

The girls were neat and colorful in their bright costumes of red and white and they had a lively routine of movements in flawless coordination. Nobody missed a step or a gesture. They had precision and spirit like we used to admire in famous choruses like the Kilgore Rangerettes.

Don't be surprised if these girls bring a new dimension to Sacred Heart football. It used to be that fans headed for the concession stand at half time, but more and more will stay for the performance before going for coffee and snacks. They may even give up some game time rather than the drill team.

New Road Opened

The new road replacing Muenster's former overpass is in use even though the job is not finished. Barricades which blocked the two south lanes were removed at 6:15 p.m. last Friday, and the portion which will become the eastbound lanes was opened to two way traffic.

Completion of the project is expected about the end of the month, according to Tom Carey, superintendent for Orval Hall Excavating, general contractor. He said the current job is removing the hump of Maple Street where it crosses the west bound portion of the road. Originally that portion of Maple was built up some 8 inches to avoid a dip in the detour. After the proper level is established the westbound lanes will get a seal coat like that already applied on the two other lanes. Finally hot mix will be applied over all and the highway department will paint stripes.

However that is not the end of the project. The portion of Maple which is being trimmed down will be resurfaced and the portion of detour from Maple to the Elm Creek will be narrowed to a width of 8 feet, providing a paved bike and pedestrian trail routed under the bridge to an entrance at the west side of the park. Its purpose is to avoid the highway traffic at Maple for kids going to and from the park.

City Gets $10,062 Sales Tax Check

The City of Muenster has received a check for $10,062.11 from State Comptroller Bob Bullock as a rebate for one per cent city sales taxes collected by his office during the pay period ending August 23, 1979, on taxable sales made in Muenster. The state tax office serves as a collecting agency and receives a 2 per cent commission for its service.

The check was one of more than 900 sent to Texas cities for a total of $73.4 million which is just under the record payments of $74.9 million in December 1978. Bullock said that the state's strong economy and the comptroller's ability to rapidly process the tax returns helped to produce the peak rebates.

Bullock also stated that payments in the quarter of continued on page 12...

A Bit of Rain

So far it's far from adequate, but it's wet. Long delayed rain finally arrived Wednesday, measuring .03 at the 7 a.m. reading and adding .61 for a 5 p.m. reading. It was the first for September the previous measure being .03 on August 25. The total for the year to date is 30.26 inches. Low and high temperatures for the week were recorded as follows by Steve Mosler. Sept. 13, 65 and 88; 14th, 58 and 80; 15th, 56 and 84; 16th, 63 and 86; 17th, 53 and 86; 18th, 53 and 80; 19th, 67 and 72.

After a frustrating first half, which was featured mostly by mistakes spoiling their own efforts, the Sacred Heart Tigers put it together in the second half and beat Alvord's Bulldogs 14-0.

Nice gains were wiped out on four occasions by the first half miscues. A touchdown was nullified because an illegal receiver was down the field. Two good runs were set back by clipping penalties and a pass gain inside the 10 was wasted on an offensive interference ruling.

In spite of the confusion, however, the Tigers had a lead of 90-44 yards in total gains, wasted a touchdown, and got close to scoring twice. Alvord led 4-3 in first downs. Fumbles and penalties hampered both teams at the start and SH had to kick on second possession. Alvord responded with a short drive that gained 33 before being stopped by a fumble. Kirk Mollenkopf recovered for the Tigers.

Next, Mark Nasche's good gain on a screen pass was nullified by a clipping penalty and moments later Alvord intercepted. However three plays later Teddy Walterscheid recovered a fumble putting SH in business 21 yards from the goal. On the following series Kenny Hartman's pass to Brian Bednorz in the end zone was fine until an official ruled that an illegal receiver was down field.

On its turn Alvord failed to gain and kicked, and Bert Miller's good return got the wrong kind of help. Officials called it clipping.

The Tigers punted on their next series and shortly after they appeared to have their game going.

Bednorz intercepted after which passes to Mel Walterscheid picked up 8 and 14 to the 16 yard line. Then the jinx returned. SH was penalized for offensive interference at the 9 and the ball went back to the 24. On next play, 4th down, Hartman's pass to Mollenkopf was inches short of making first and ten at the 6. The teams were tied 0 to 0 at half time.

Whatever bugged the Tigers was brushed off during the intermission. After the kickoff they set sail on a 79 yard scoring drive that used eleven plays. Big gains were a 37 yard pass to Mel Walterscheid, and runs of 14 by Mollenkopf and 9 by Mike Hesse. Kenny Hartman scored from the 1 on a quarter- continued on page 9...

Muenster Loses to Kennedale 21-6

Muenster's handsome new football field was christened with a loss last week as Kennedale High's big and speedy Wildcats rolled over the Hornets by a score of 21-6.

It might have been more if the visitors had been able to avoid the fumbles. Their quarterback's razzle dazzle ball handling was helpful in zipping into the line but it also had its hazards. At times the scatbacks were not able to get a firm hold on the handle and the ball got away. On five of those occasions a Hornet came up with it.

Nevertheless the Wildcats kept slashing away at the short gains and rolled up a total of 246. Meanwhile the Hornets got only 78, and after deducting setbacks they came out with a net of only 25. A high snapback for punt lost 32 yards in a bunch and there were short losses and quarterback sacks as well.

Hornet passing was more successful, 9 of 18 for 131 yards. Kennedale passed only once, and it was a dandy, 37 yards for a touchdown. Muenster's touchdown used a pair of big plays for a total of 68. Phil Wolf passed to Floyd Felderhoff for 31 and again for 37. Adding 4 yards by Kevin Klement accounts for 72 yards in 6 plays, including three incomplete passes.

Kenedale's final TD was mostly the benefit of a big break. Muenster was forced to punt at its own 44 and the snap back sailed some 2 feet over the reach of Dale Swirczynski. He tried to scramble out of trouble but was nailed on the 12 yard line. From there Kennedale made it in four plays.

Starting the game, Muenster made a pair of first downs and had to punt on the third series. Kennedale also made a pair of first downs, then fumbled on the third series. Rusty Serna made the recovery for MHS.

severely handicapped Muenster punting for the balance of the game.

The standoff continued into the third period. Until near the end of it the only first down was awarded to Muenster on a pass interference ruling. After four exchanges Kennedale was 32 yards away and two tries lost 5 to the 37. From there Mayse heaved the bomb and Rich was waiting for it in the end zone. The PAT by Mayse made the count 14-0 at 1:32.

A good kickoff return by Tim Hermes gave the Hornets good field position at their 40. But they could not keep going and had to punt on fourth down. That was on first play of the fourth period, a tough break re- continued on page 8...

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It has long been popular belief that to eliminate crime, society must eliminate the causes; poverty, unemployment, and social disadvantages. But even when the U.S. was pouring billions into social welfare programs during the 60's and 70's violent crime was booming.

I, myself, am skeptical about the need to spend more money or pass more laws in Washington to solve our problem with crime. Our first step should be to make our system of laws function effectively. If our citizens do not respect our laws by demanding punishment, then it will always be impossible to enforce our criminal code. Until more of us are willing to participate in the criminal justice system by serving on juries and administering the punishment that fits the crime, our problems with misconduct will grow.

Lack of respect for our criminal justice system is caused, in part, because there is no effective method of insuring that a person who has committed a crime will actually serve time in prison. Statistics show there is only a 2 percent probability of conviction if a person commits a crime. First, the likelihood of being arrested is minimal. Secondly, even if arrested, the chances of being prosecuted are slim. Third, conviction can be complicated because of the rules of evidence. Fourth, even after conviction, probation is often likely. Fifth, the appeals process can delay or reverse execution of a sentence. Lastly, felons can be paroled from prison before serving the full sentence.

In recent years we have literally tied the hands of our law enforcement officials and thus have made the arrest and prosecution of criminals even more difficult if not impossible. Their frustrations are self-evident when you talk to law enforcement officials. Too often the courts have demanded perfect trials instead of just trials and the result has been in favor of the criminal and against the victim and disheartening to our law officers.

It is my belief that fair, swift, and sure punishment would do much to establish respect for our system of equal justice under the law. In a recent study at the State University of New York, researchers found that a 10 percent increase in the probability of imprisonment reduces the crime rate by 5 percent. It is logical to assume that criminals would be less willing to commit illegal acts if the chance of punishment is high.

We must remember that crime is a reflection of the level of morality in our society. Governments can do very little to curb criminal activity if the laws and institutions are not respected by the citizens. Therefore the major effort towards crime control should be to strengthen our basic American institutions. A recommitment to traditional family values would instill a sense of civic responsibility among our nation's youth; the reestablishment of discipline in the classroom, supported by parents, would help train students for productive employment and the reinvigoration of community spirit in jury service and public backing of the law for the common good would foster a sense of cooperation between individuals. A commitment to these goals would do more for crime control than any legislation Congress could ever pass.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Officials for SEDCO, Inc., the Dallas-based oil well drilling firm founded by Gov. Bill Clements, started a congressional committee last week when they revealed that Mexican oil company officials failed to heed advice which might have prevented the massive oil spill still blackening the Texas coastline.

SEDCO had leased the oil rig to a Mexican drilling firm, Pemargo, which had the contract from the Mexican government-owned oil company, PEMEX.

Stephen Mahood, SEDCO vice president and general counsel, testified the company advised against the drilling practice but were ignored by Pemargo and PEMEX officials.

Specifically, they were advised by SEDCO men to pump seawater into the well to prevent the oil blowout, and later, were advised against removing the drill pipe from the well, Mahood testified.

Seeks Immunity

Three days following the congressional committee hearing, SEDCO attorneys asked a Galveston federal judge to declare the drilling firm free from liability for damages from the oil spill.

The company also asked as an alternative that the judge limit any liability for damages against SEDCO to $300,000, the amount the firm would have earned from the lease of the rig to Mexico.

U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor signed an interim order protecting the company from any liability and set Oct. 23 as the deadline for filing any claims against the company.

SEDCO's request surprised Texas Attorney General Mark White, who is investigating the cause of the spill. White said he has stronger suspicious that the company ordered the drilling rig scuttled a month after the blowout to destroy evidence.

Emergency Appropriations

Meanwhile, at a Capitol press conference last week a Texas coastline legislator announced he will ask Clements to include an emergency appropriation for revitalizing the weakened Texas tourist economy caused by the oil spill, should the governor decide to call a promised special session.

State Rep. Hector Uribe, a Brownsville attorney, said he will ask for $1 million in emergency funds for advertising to counteract the bad publicity that tourism has received from the news coverage of the oil spill.

Foreign-Owned

Since March foreigners have bought 53,002 acres of Texas farmland valued at nearly $27.3 million, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture report.

Five of the transactions ranged from $1.2 million to nearly $3.5 million.

During the last session the Texas House of Representatives narrowly rejected a proposal that would have required more accurate registration of foreign-owned agricultural land in the state.

Garcia Named

Last week Speaker of the House Bill Clayton named San Antonio representative Matt Garcia to the Appropriations Committee. Garcia, a member of the Mexican-American caucus, replaces former State Rep. Jim Clark who resigned in the spring to become mayor of Pasadena.

McKnight Vs. Hobby?

Tyler State Sen. Peyton

McKnight announced he will be a candidate for statewide office in 1982, probably for Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby's seat.

Hobby, who would face election to a fourth term if he runs, has made no comment.

McKnight did not commit himself only to running for Hobby's office, but made it clear Hobby was his main target.

Unions Holding

Meanwhile, Texas AFL-CIO president Harry Hubbard told a Nederland audience that unions will push to retain their foothold in state government.

Hubbard said unionization of state workers was one goal; another was financial commitments to candidates in senate and house races.

DETENTE AND SALT

In dealing with Communists, as we are in the SALT II negotiations, it is vitally important to know what they really think, what they say among themselves, not just what they say to us for propaganda purposes.

The Soviet leader of the late 50's and early 60's, Nikita Khrushchev once stated: "But of course we must realize that we cannot co-exist eternally. One of us must go to his grave. We do not want to go to the grave. They (the Western powers) don't want to go to their graves either. So what must be done? We must push them to their graves."

From Lenin to Khrushchev to the present Soviet dictator, the line expressing the goal of international Communism has never changed. In 1973, speaking at a meeting in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Leonid Brezhnev stated: "We are achieving with detente what our predecessors have been unable to achieve with the mailed fist. Trust us comrades, for by 1985 as a consequence of what we are now achieving with detente, we will have achieved most of our objectives in Western Europe. We will have consolidated our position. We will have improved our economy. And a decisive shift in the corollation of forces will be such that, come 1985, we will be able to exert our will wherever we need to."

It should be clear from the previous statement by the highest official of the Soviet Union that the Communists approve of detente, that they are achieving their goals by means of detente. To quote Dr. Fred Schwarz in his Christian Anti-Communism Crusade newsletter of April 15: "To the Soviet Communists, Detente means that the military forces of the U.S.A. and its allies must remain immobilized and inactive while the Communists gobble up country after country throughout the world."

Detente is a term used to define a foreign policy designed by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger during the Nixon administration. It was constructed to end the policy of confrontation which existed beforehand and replace it with one of toleration and accommodation. The Soviets were quick to realize that detente was synonymous with their policy of "peaceful coexistence."

Under detente the Communists have taken Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, Ethiopia, Afghanistan, Mozambique and Angola. From bases in Angola and Mozambique the Communists carry on their guerrilla war against Southwest Africa, South Africa and Rhodesia.

The Soviet viewpoint on detente is made crystal clear by the following comments of Deputy of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., published in the U.S. Communist newspaper, "The Daily Worker," March 13:

"... detente, far from holding back the development of the national-liberation movement, has actually provided it with fresh opportunities in the struggle for independence and early abolition of the remnants of the colonial regimes and racist dictatorships." In other words, in the spirit of detente as we understand it, we do nothing to interfere with the Communists, who, in the spirit of detente as they understand it, carry on their wars of national liberation in their drive for world domination.

Detente is a foreign policy philosophy which includes disarmament. SALT I was called the "capstone of Detente" by President Nixon. SALT II has been characterized as the "centerpiece of Detente" by President Carter. Thus we see the interrelationship of the SALT agreements within the philosophy of detente.

Four Weeks Tour of China Was Filled with Eye Openers

A four week tour of the Peoples Republic of China was the culmination of a dream Mrs. Alice Hellman had treasured for years. In July she was a member of a tour group that obtained visas to spend about a month.

Mrs. Hellman said that most of her pre-conceived notions of China and the Chinese changed as rapidly as the tour progressed. Everywhere, she says, she saw evidence that China was as Westernized in 30 years as it claims.

She saw no baggy, black mono-color pants and quilted tops; occasionally there were women in black fitted slacks and brightly colored tops.

She also noted that half of China's 900 million residents do not have the families Oriental eyes. Minorities, including Huns, Tibetans, Mongolians, Cossacks, etc. have characteristics of the Eskimos and American Indians.

Chinese food there has no resemblance to our Chinese food. Suckling pig, with the skin cooked so crisp it cracks into pieces, may be served with a soy sauce mixed with sugar and peanut oil. Lean meat is served with vegetables seasoned with chicken. There is, of course, rice. Soup is the last course served. A soup example: the top was cut from a watermelon, then the whole dunked in boiling water. The resulting white watermelon fruit was dipped out with the soup that was seasoned with pork, chicken or duck and black mushrooms.

Camel meat, as well as the hooves, was another delicacy somewhat like our pigs feet. Vegetables are like ours. Eggplant, 18 inch green beans, onions, peas, dozens of squash varieties, cucumbers and potatoes, were just blooming. They were served quail eggs and Mrs. Hellman said they wondered if these were aged eggs, like they used to read about, because the eggs were surely black. She also said she preferred tea to the coffee that was offered.

Food could be a very lengthy topic, since many dinners were served in 18-21 courses.

Official governmental policy, she said, definitely favors birth control; the government supports the first child through kindergarten, primary, high school and college, paying also for clothing. The second child is tolerated but less financially endowed, but the third brings on severe government interference. That's in the cities, where groundwork is getting started for records and statistics. But there are vast reaches of China where no one knows the average death age of senior citizens, the number of births each year, number of children's deaths, number of marriages, nor the number of children in schools.

The tour group visited a number of Textile mills. In one, built in 1954, there were 4,300 workers, many women. Living quarters were provided nearby for minimal rent. A home usually had two rooms—the kitchenette with a two burner gas stove. Some kitchens were shared by several families; usually bathrooms by several families. Chinese men usually showered at the factory; toilets were similar to pit toilets.

Mothers of new babies are granted 56 days off from factory work. Then if there is no grandmother in the home, the infant goes to the nursery. All industries have nurseries, kindergarten and primary schools open 6 days a week, the obligatory work week.

Every industry has an emergency hospital. The tour group saw acupuncture practiced when visiting one hospital.

Children are taught Maoism from birth and it is obvious in their dances as well as tributes to the new Premier.

Wages are calculated on a standard differing from the West. A doctor may get less pay than a bus driver because of the driver's responsibility for the "government-owned vehicle."

The group visited a plant where 300 steam engines were built each year—used because trains are the mode of travel.

Irrigation is general, from the Pearl, Yantes, and Yellow rivers as well as water wells. They even saw irrigation in the Gobi Desert. Farm products are wheat, oats, rice, maize, sorghum, millet. There were combines on large farms, but even on every square inch of tiny patches of soil where seeds were planted, grain was cut by hand, tied with straw, dried, and the bundles placed on canvas sheets on roads, for vehicles to run over. It was then stirred, more vehicles ran over it and finally the wind blew the straw and chaff away.

The group visited one city near the Inner Mongolian border that is 1700 meters above sea level where the highest temperature is 30 degrees above Centigrade and the coldest is 30 degrees below C. In that area they also saw a horse show and noted that Mongolian ponies are beautiful. Later they rode in army jeeps (that seemed remarkably like our Army surplus especially since China is buying many of our used cars.) In the jeeps the tour group went up over the Yenshaw Mts. to the Grasslands where they stayed in yurts, which are tent-like structures, and slept in sleeping bags. Here they also visited a commune with horses, cows and sheep. Electric fences, controlled grazing of the prairie. Electricity was generated by windmills—but there was not a single light bulb in the huts. Horses and bicycles were the only means of transportation or communications between neighbors.

A tree planting program was underway there—millions had already been planted, presumably by an organization similar to our soil conservation service.

Communication between guide and tour group was difficult and "something was lost in the translation," according to Mrs. Hellman, when after several attempts, a certain guide, telling that there were cucumbers in a salad, told the group they were eating cucumbers; another time when a guide confused "menu" and "manure".

They also visited a synthetic rubber and plastic fiber factory, where, as usual living quarters and schools were furnished. It employed 34,000 workers and provided a 600 bed hospital.

Archaeological finds are uncovered almost every time a water well is drilled. China's history dates back to Before Christ—with as much mystery as history. Peking, the traditional capital for almost 700 years, is the seat of the strongest central government in China's history and its age is estimated to be 500,000 years. It is known for the magnificent Summer Palace, Imperial Palace (Forbidden City) Great Hall of the People and now the Mao Tse-tung Memorial Hall.

About 20 kilometers from Peking is the Great Wall of China. It rises and falls with the crest of the mountain range. It exceeds all expectations of visitors and is the only object visible from orbital flight. The amount of brick and stone used to construct the Great Wall could be used to surround the earth with a dike 8 feet high. It is 31,000 miles in length and very hard to climb, since the grade of the ramp is so severe. It is wide enough for two car traffic. Only five-eighths mile is completed for walking.

Mrs. Hellman said they saw no green lawns anywhere—too many feet. People will brush off a small area at the street curb—put a newspaper down, sit on the curb and play dominos, checkers or chess. At night the seats in the People's Square are filled with young people courting on the steps.

In Peking they saw a movie made in Mexico, and dubbed in Chinese. The theatre was full but many missed the show, watching the American tourists. "If I ever felt for monkeys in the zoo, I do now" said Mrs. Hellman. "We could hardly get from the hotel doors to our bus, for the crowds pushing to see us. Mothers held children on their shoulders to wave to us. Once we were re-routed by bus through a small town, because an earthquake had destroyed the railroad; we were the first Americans ever to be seen there."

There is one Catholic Church in Peking. One of the tour group, Agnes Baker, knew about it so she and Mrs. Hellman looked for it. The pastor was a little Chinese man who said hopefully "Speak Latin? Speak Latin?" But they could not carry on the conversation.

Mrs. Hellman said they entered China at Canton, took a boat up to Pearl River to Luichow; went by train to Tuyun, Chung King, Chengtu, Lanchow, Yinchuan, Paotow, Huhhot, Tatung, Kaigan and PeKING. At times they traveled by bus and sometimes in army jeeps.

Mrs. Hellman said she has recounted only a portion of her experiences, there are truly many more, and of her impressions of the huge country of China and its millions of people.

SS Pay Reduced by

Early Retirement

Mrs. Vera Mae McGee reports that her son-in-law Gordon Hill of Bowie is very ill these days.

Just may get my head "lobed-off" for what I am about to say—BUT—then say it I will. It is absolutely ridiculous and dangerous how fast some people drive on these narrow and crooked farm-to-market roads around the burg. I say drive—actually, they are flying low and that is putting it mildly. They are a menace to themselves and everyone else. Seems they all must have alot of money to "burn up" plus getting a "kick" out of breaking speed laws, etc. Now those dirt roads are something else. We have us some real "dust-raisers" that rip by our house and when they top these hills one sees daylight between the vehicle and the ground. No wonder their made of transportation ends up a pile of junk before it's time and they have to "hock-their-pouls" for several years to pay for another gas guzzler.

I must "tip my hat" to our neighbor—Lester W. Boyd, Jr. He drives at a very moderate speed up and down these dirt roads, never a cloud of dust follows him, he stays on his side of the road, and he sure doesn't waste gasoline either. Nor does anyone have to worry that he will end up in your pasture or perhaps stride your vehicle if you should meet him.

Bess Orrell underwent eye surgery in the Gainesville Hospital Tuesday Sept. 11 and that night she fell breaking her wrist. Bess has now been transferred to the Muenster Hospital.

A question that has been coming up frequently these days concerns what effect retirement before age 62 or 65 has on a person's future social security retirement payment.

This increased interest seems to stem from the greater number of people who retire from private industry well before the age at which social security benefits can be paid. In some cases, people can retire as early as 55.

It is difficult to tell exactly how early retirement will affect payments in specific cases unless all the facts are known, including a person's annual earnings for each year since 1950.

In figuring a person's benefit, 5 years of the lowest earnings since 1950 can be disregarded. In most cases, these "dropout" years are from the early 1950's when average earnings were much lower than they are now. Earnings for the remaining years, after adjustment for increases in wages over the years, are averaged and the benefit rate is figured from this average.

If a person retires from work covered by social security at 55, seven years before age 62, then, not only must lower earnings from the past be included, but two years of zero earnings be figured in.

As a result, a worker who retires well before the normal age could generally expect to receive a significantly lower benefit than would a worker who continues working up until age 62 or 65.

People who want more information about their own situation can get answers to their questions at your local social security office. Their telephone number can be found in your directory under, "Social Security Administration."

Texas Power & Light Company began a massive program back in 1968 to reduce its dependency on natural gas and oil by using lignite coal as a generating plant fuel. The first lignite-fueled generating unit began operation in 1971. Today, there are eight lignite units in service and five others are under construction or being planned. In 1978, we used 9 million tons of lignite coal to produce electricity. Had we used oil to generate the same amount of electricity, it would have required 882 million gallons... that's 21 million barrels... and that can make a lot of gasoline. We're working hard to do our part to help ease the energy crisis.

LAST YEAR, INSTEAD OF USING 882 MILLION GALLONS OF OIL...

Applicants Invited For Nominees to Service Academies

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has announced the final request for applicants who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies for the class entering July, 1980. A competitive nomination procedure will be used to select the nominees in order to give all interested young persons who meet the requirements an equal opportunity.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

"These institutions offer a fine education and a great opportunity for service to their country by young persons who wish to follow a military career," Stenholm said.

In order for Congressman Stenholm to consider applicants, a candidate must meet the following requirements: (1) Must be a U.S. citizen; (2) Must be over 17, and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) Must be under 22 years of age on July 1, 1980; (4) Must never have been married; (5) Must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) Must have a good high school record.

Stenholm stressed that political influence is not a factor in his nomination to the academies. Nominations are based on the individual's mental and physical abilities.

Interested young persons who meet the requirements should write to Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, no later than October 15.

Congressman Stenholm emphasized that all young persons who are genuinely interested in a military career have the opportunity to compete for nomination and he will consider all qualified applicants fully.

She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grewing, Sr. of Lindsay and Mrs. Marie Reiter of Muenster and the late Albert Reiter. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Gilbreath of Rt. 3, Highway 82, Gainesville.

She is a graduate of Era High School, and in August received her degree in Fashion Design from North Texas State University, Denton. She is employed by the Denton Record-Chronicle. He is a graduate of Callisburg High School and is an electrician employed by King's Electric.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal white wedding gown of her own design and creation, featuring a V-neck halter bodice and an A-line skirt. An attached jacket of white lace was high-necked and had long puffed sleeves. It was tied at the waist with a satin ribbon bow, and streamers reaching the hemline. Hand-sewn pearls were sprinkled on the lace. She wore a matching pillbox hat, with a wisp of veiling tied in a pouf in the back. The bride carried two white roses tied with silver ribbon. Traditionally "something old" was a 1955 penny, "something borrowed" was a hairpin, and "something blue" was a garter.

Attendants
Kathy Grewing of Denton was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a blue long dress of blouson design, V-necked, with spaghetti straps and she carried two white roses tied with royal blue ribbon.

Donnie Gilbreath of Muenster was his brother's best man. Mike Grewing and Troy Grewing, bride's brothers, and Jim King were ushers.

Karen House sang her original composition and three favorites for wedding music.

Reception
A reception followed in the Parish Center for 125 guests. Carol Grewing and Kim Gilbreath, sister of the couple, secured signatures of guests for the bride's book. The bride's table held a blue cover with white lace table skirts. Silver candelabra, blue candles, a set of white doves, and bell decorations enhanced the setting. The three tiered white bride's cake was decorated with blue roses, silver bells and white doves. An archway decorated with greenery, blue ribbons, white bells and doves, stood behind the bride's table.

Guest tables were covered in blue and held centerpieces of blue candles, white doves and silver bells. There was a buffet of finger foods, various beverages, wedding cake and groom's cake.

Among guests attending from Muenster were Mrs. Marie Reiter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Walterscheid and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walterscheid, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Reiter and Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilbreath, all of Muenster.

Also the Henry Grewing Jr. family and Mr. and Mrs. Red Zwinggi of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kupper, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bierschenk all of Valley View; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grewing, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Zwinggi, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beyer, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Grewing and Danny Hess all of Lindsay.

A Billion Quality Tests a Year

When you sell the equivalent of more than 1.1 billion cans of beer a year from Longview to Lubbock, you want to be sure your brew is of high and—considering the way Texans get around—consistent quality.

Three and a half million barrels is a lot of beer, but inspecting that amount is all in a year's work for Melvin Feil, manager of quality assurance of Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company's Longview brewery, and his staff of 33.

"Beer is delicate. Our brewery here in Texas takes pains in brewing it and then really takes good care of it," says Feil. To be sure of that, he and his experts tap into each Longview brew kettle and fermentation tank at least once daily and reach into retail stores across Texas hundreds of times a year. They thoroughly examine cans, bottles and kegs, and the beer that goes into them.

Feil and his counterparts at the six other Schlitz breweries see product quality and consistency as their major responsibility. After all, when a vacationer on Texas Gulf coast beach orders a Schlitz, he or she wants it to taste the way it should. When a worker moves to Houston, his life may change, but his Old Milwaukee had better not.

Feil's group works on both brewing and packaging operations at the Schlitz Longview plant. Beer leaves the brewery only after they have given it the seal of approval.

"Mel doesn't answer to me, but to the corporate quality assurance department in Milwaukee," says Longview brewery manager Peter Schoenster. "I think things work great this way. It's good to know Mel and his people are here to work with me," he continues.

Feil feels the same way. "We are the last check on quality, and we find, to our satisfaction, that there are very few problems. Which tells me that our purchasing agents, our brewery staff and our container plant employees do their jobs well. We are 34 among more than 800 Longview employees, and our job is to be absolutely certain things continue to be done right."

"In a nutshell," he says, "the brewery staff tests the grains, yeast, hops and water that go into our beer. Once brewing begins, my people analyze and test each batch of beer at each step as final assurance that it meets rigorous specifications."

Find It Fast in the Enterprise Classified Ads, 759-4311

Mel Feil, manager of quality assurance for Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company's Longview plant, selects a bottle of beer from coded stock for scrutiny in the Longview container testing laboratory. His staff makes sure cans and bottles meet rigid specifications before they get to the consumer.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 6, 1979

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 108)

House Joint Resolution 108 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution relating to the appointment and terms of notaries public. The proposed amendment would: —Require the Secretary of State to appoint a convenient number of Notaries Public for the state; and —Authorize terms of office of Notaries Public of not less than two years nor more than four years.

A temporary provision of the proposed constitutional amendment provides that the amendment would take effect January 1, 1980; that each person who was appointed a notary public before January 1, 1980, would continue to serve as a notary public for the term for which the person was appointed; and that this temporary provision would expire January 1, 1982.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the appointment of notaries public for the state and for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years as provided by law."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 133)

House Joint Resolution 133 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to provide for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by agencies in the executive department. The proposed amendment would allow the Legislature to enact laws:

- To provide for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by agencies in the executive department;
- To prescribe conditions for rules to take effect;
- To provide for suspension, repeal, or expiration of rules;
- To prescribe procedures; and
- To delegate powers to either or both houses or to committees of either or both houses.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by agencies in the executive department."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 13)

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution authorizing the Legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans used to purchase farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers. The proposed amendment would allow the Legislature to provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds called "Farm and Ranch Loan Security Bonds" of the State of Texas not to exceed 10 million dollars. All money received from the sale of such bonds would be deposited in a separate fund with the State Treasurer and administered by the commissioner of agriculture without further appropriations. These funds would be used to guarantee loans for the purchase of farm and ranch real estate. The commissioner of agriculture would use these funds, under provisions to be prescribed by the Legislature for the purpose of guaranteeing loans used for the purchase of farm and ranch real estate, to acquire real estate mortgages or deeds of trust on lands purchased with guaranteed loans. These funds would also be used to advance to the borrower a percentage of the principal and interest due. The Legislature may also authorize the commissioner of agriculture to sell at foreclosure any land acquired in the manner authorized by this amendment. The commissioner of agriculture would be required to charge at least 6 percent interest on such loans. The proposed amendment appropriates an amount that is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds that mature or become due during the fiscal year less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans for purchase of farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers by the sale of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas."

Trailing by three touchdowns, Muenster turned to the long pass strategy. Out of five tries two were good, and Floyd Felderhoff made a determined run of 20 yards to reach the goal after his second catch. The try for extra points failed.

Remaining time was 9:04, and the visitors were on their way again. They powered 38 yards in nine plays to reach the 15 before being stopped on the fourth series by a holding penalty. They failed by three yards to keep going. Muenster took possession on the 8 and got back to the 28 before failing by 1 yard. Then Kennedale ran out the clock.

PP&K Competition Scheduled Saturday, 1:30 at MHS Field

Registrations are still being accepted for the 1979 Punt, Pass and Kick competition which will be held Saturday Sept. 22, at 1:30 p.m. on Muenster High School's new football field.

The contest is sponsored jointly by Endres Motor Company, the local Ford dealer, and the Muenster Jaycees. Nationally it is sponsored by Ford Motor Company and the National Football League.

The contest is open to boys and girls in ages 9 through 13 inclusive, and participants will compete only in their own age group. First place winners of the six age groups will receive trophies and advance to the next higher level of competition in the national program, which leads to the national championship contest in the Super Bowl.

When signing up, contestants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and the cards they receive will be used as admission tickets and score cards. They will also receive free PP&K tips books from the pros which are recommended reading on rules and procedure as well as helpful hints on improving one's score.

terback sneak. A pass to Bednorz added 2 points. Score was 8-0 at 7:19 in the third.

Shortly thereafter Bednorz made his second interception of the game, however he was bested in that category by Howerton who picked off three for the Bulldogs. A third interception for SH was made by Mollenkopf. Another record setter of the game was Mel Walterscheid who caught five passes, including one for a touch-down.

For the balance of the quarter the Tigers were stopped once by an interception and once by a fumble, but successive penalties on the Bulldogs gave SH a set up on the 14 early in the fourth.

Howerton's interception stopped a score there, however Alvord had to kick on first series and SH had another chance starting from the 35. Nine plays did it from there, the pay off being a 5 yard pass to Mel Walterscheid. A run for bonus points failed leaving the count at 14-0 as the clock read 4:46.

A final scoring opportunity followed an interception by Mollenkopf after the last kickoff. SH was on the 16 and failed by a yard to make 10 yards on the next series.

Sacred Heart JV Ties Valley View

Junior High youngsters of Sacred Heart and Valley View battled to a scoreless tie here last Thursday, but on the basis of penetrations and first downs the Tigers can claim a win.

Starting the second quarter Sacred Heart got started on the Green 41, and with timely help of a big and a little penalty advanced to first and goal on the 2. But a most untimely fumble on the next play spoiled the golden opportunity. Neither team got inside the other's 20 during the rest of the game.

In first downs, likewise Sacred Heart had the better record by a count of 10 to 9.

Turnovers were stacked in favor of the green. Sacred Heart recovered two fumbles. Valley View recovered four fumbles and intercepted twice.

Involved in a serious conference during the Tiger-Trinity Valley game on September 8 are l. to r. Quarterback Kenny Hartman, and coaches Mike Stoffels, Virgil Henscheid, and Fr. Stephen Eckart.

An Alvord Bulldog holds on to the ball—player numbers are undistinguishable. The Tigers won 14-0.

SH Juniors Sponsor Bike or Hike-athon

Junior class members of Sacred Heart High this week are organizing a combination bike or hike-athon on Sunday September 30. It's a benefit event with proceeds to be shared equally by the Cooke County Child Development Center and the junior class.

It doesn't matter whether participants walk or ride bikes so long as they complete the 6 mile course as their part of the deal. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of money collected by participants.

The event will begin at SH school at 2 p.m.

Junior Games

Junior varsity and junior high teams of both Muenster schools will have games Thursday night.

Public School kids will be at home for an 8th grade game with Era and a JV game with S&S. The first game starts at 6.

Sacred Heart will be at Lindsay for a 6 p.m. junior high game followed by a JV game.

Monday of next week Sacred Heart JV will host Fort Worth Country Day at 5 and Tuesday SH junior high will play at Saint Jo.

MHS kids will be in Lindsay for junior high and junior varsity games on Thursday, the 27th.

Buy, Rent, Sell in the Enterprise

CCC Outlines HS Equivalency Program

"Lack of a high school diploma can be a serious obstacle to getting a job and to future advancement," says Dr. Eddie Hadlock of Cooke County College, "but it doesn't have to be."

Dr. Hadlock, dean of CCC's Division of Continuing Education, explains that persons who weren't able to finish high school are usually surprised to learn how easy it is to erase this educational deficiency.

Thanks to the General Education Development (GED) equivalency program, he says, all it takes is the desire and a small investment of time.

The GED program basically consists of a battery of tests in certain fundamental skill areas such as English math and social studies. Successful passing of these tests earns the students a certificate of proficiency that is almost universally accepted by employers and colleges in lieu of a high school diploma.

"Understandably, many persons may be a little reluctant or scared to face such tests," Dr. Hadlock observes, "simply because it may have been a long time since they were in school."

He adds, however, that CCC has some good news for such persons.

"We offer a regular program of classes for people to help them prepare for the GED tests," he explains. "The classes are designed to allow each student to study at his or her own pace and to concentrate on whatever specific area they need the most work in."

Moreover, the classes are offered completely free of charge, and all books and other study materials are furnished.

Dr. Hadlock points out that instruction is handled by certified teachers and that instructional assistance is completely individualized. For this reason, students may attend classes at their convenience.

"Students may come to these classes as often as they want," he says. "In other words, they may study at their own pace until such time as they themselves feel they are ready to take the GED tests."

He points to another special feature of the program which appeals to many persons: Students don't have to take the entire battery of tests at one time. They may prepare for and take the English portion of the test, for example, and then begin studying in some other area.

In addition, students who do not pass the tests may continue studying and take them again as many times as they want.

To help students even further, practice tests are available.

"Again, this program of classes is completely free."

Dr. Hadlock stresses, "The only cost involved in getting this GED equivalency certificate is a $10 fee charged when the student actually takes the test."

When they are ready, students may also take the tests at CCC. Appointments for taking the test may be arranged through the CCC Counseling Center.

GED preparation classes meet two evenings each week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 8 p.m.

Students may begin classes at any time during the year.

Interested persons who are eligible (residents of Texas for past six months, at least 18 years old) may enroll by calling the CCC Division of Continuing Education at 668-7731, extension 220.

12 Page Catalog on Texas Wildflowers Available for Free

COMPLETE FUNERAL SERVICE

Nick Miller Funeral Home
759-4422

A colorful, 12-page catalog on Texas wildflowers, which lists 100 species and varieties of native plants, is now available—free!

All you have to do is send a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope to Green Horizons, 500 Thompson Drive, Kerrville TX 78028.

The mail-order firm owned by Carroll Abbott is the only one in Texas which deals exclusively in native plants.

The free catalog also lists 20 books concerning wildflowers.

One page is filled entirely with Texas Bluebonnets, including four steps for successfully growing our state flower.

The simple steps are: Pre-soak the seeds; cover them with soil; firm the seedbed by tamping or walking on it; water gently, but well.

But, you need to plant Bluebonnets now if you want Spring blooms.

Green Horizons offers Bluebonnets in packages ranging from 1,000 seeds up to 50 pounds, all of which contain full growing instructions.

More than two dozen other wildflowers are offered in ounces and pounds, a boon for wildflower enthusiasts who want to naturalize large areas. The catalog gives the sowing rate for each of these species, plus the number of seeds per ounce—an invaluable growing aid.

In addition to the popular old favorites, such as Firewheel, Golden Wave and Paintbrushes, the catalog introduces dozens of rare plants which have never been offered before.

Besides annual and perennial wildflowers, the catalog also lists seeds of trees, shrubs and vines.

And, maybe best of all, it's free—for just a stamped envelope.

The following patients were dismissed during the past week at Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Tuesday, Sept. 11: Leo Hesse, Muenster; Mrs. Doria Miller and Mrs. Barry Morgan and baby girl, Gainesville.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

Increasing concern with family finances quite naturally follows a parallel course with constantly rising costs.

As more and more adopt family budgeting as a way of life, it becomes quickly apparent that we must have a method of determining where every dollar goes... when it was spent and for what it was spent.

Since most people are too busy to stop and make notations after every purchase, the best way of keeping this record is your personal bank checking account. Because your returned checks and check book stubs give you a permanent and detailed record of expenditures, this can be an almost perfect method of recording the information needed for future budgeting. Your cancelled checks are also automatic and indisputable receipts for each purchase you make. The back of your monthly bank statement is a handy place for not only balancing your checking account but also for making notes about changes needed to bring your budget into line with what you want it to be.

Sacred Heart Students Take Part In National Scholarship Program

by Daniel K. Morse
Seniors from Sacred Heart High School are buckling down to take full advantage of an opportunity to win local, state and national awards by demonstrating their awareness, concern, and knowledgeability about the needs and challenges that are expected to face the nation in the future.

One enterprising high school senior in the nation will win a $11,500 scholarship as the top national prize in the Century III Leaders Scholarship Program. Two students from each state and the District of Columbia will win $1,500 scholarships and the opportunity to talk with national leaders in a conference at historic Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

And, before the national winner is announced in Williamsburg, nine finalists will have earned $500 awards on top of their $1,500 scholarships. Two state alternates from each state will receive $500 scholarships.

We feel the program is very worthwhile for reasons in addition to the scholarships and the Williamsburg trip. We are encouraging seniors to participate because the Century III competition is a fine way for youngsters to become more involved with the community and social issues.

The Century III Leaders is a national scholarship program open to high school seniors which emphasizes the future concerns of America. Students are initially judged on their leadership abilities, community involvement and current events awareness. The school winner is also required to write a brief projection outlining what he thinks is a particular issue America is likely to confront in the future and how such a challenge should be met.

The Century III program, which offers $218,500 in scholarships, is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by the Shell Oil Company.

Deadline for student submission of applications is October 10.
