Electric Co-op Members Hear Report on Continued Progress

It's always been popular politics to propose looking for ways to legalize taking from the haves and giving to the have nots. And closely related to this way of thinking is the claim that rich people are evading taxes, thereby transferring some of their rightful obligation to us average taxpayers.

A well known gripe refers to certain millionaires who manage to pay no tax whatever. A well known method is to invest in tax free bonds, such as to finance public improvements. This kind of exemption is justified on grounds that these bonds sell much lower, hence the city or other governmental body will need less tax money to pay the debt. In the end it means that the rich man's tax advantage results in lower tax on the public to liquidate its obligations.

Or, considered from another angle, the fat cat investor doesn't really reap a windfall. His tax free bond actually nets about the same as a regular investment after tax has been paid.

Other complaints refer to handsome deductions claimed on charitable donations. Gifts of cash and property enable some taxpayers to make substantial savings. So, it's understandable that certain politicians are seeking to endear themselves to taxpayers by taking all possible deductions away from the rich guys. Very likely they will be able to find some loopholes that ought to be eliminated. If so, we too are eager for reforms. But we also hope the reformers will not get over-eager and eliminate too many tax benefits. If they do we can expect fewer donations from individuals and a higher burden on taxpayers as government takes over where private giving phases out. We have a two way problem here. Do we really want to transfer more of our charity from individuals to government?

Decades ago Alexis De Tocqueville wrote that private support of social services is a deeply rooted element of American life. History tells us that in colonial times it was customary for prominent people to promote private funding of many civic projects. For instance, Benjamin Franklin assisted in the foundation of a volunteer fire department, developed plans for lighting and paving Philadelphia streets, helped in financing a hospital and a university. In those times groups formed to promote many worthy causes: to assist widows, orphans, immigrants, Negroes, debtors, prisoners and old folks; to provide the poor with food, fuel, medicine and employment, to educate children and to reform gamblers, drunkards and delinquents.

As an old saying has it, charity begins at home. People who gave time and money to help the needy knew whom they were helping, and they were not patient about dealing with the undeserving. On the other hand, loafers and cheats, knowing they would be recognized were less inclined to ask for help.

Unfortunately, the nation has developed another system of philanthropy. Private giving has been gradually replaced by government programs. Federal agencies are set up to do the things that once continued on page 16...

Free Blood Pressure Check at SNAP

The free blood pressure check offered by SNAP for senior citizens will be held on Tuesday, April 29, beginning at 3 p.m. at the SNAP Center in Muenster, as announced by Gladys Lutkenhaus, SNAP director.

The annual meeting of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association, held Monday night, April 21, in the Muenster Public School auditorium, featured an informative, entertaining and exciting program. Those attending were treated to an evening of business, entertainment refreshments and prizes.

Member consumers listened intently to Manager Mike Sloan's report on the progress and problems of their rural electric system. He stated "The cost of purchased power continued to increase from an average of 2.70 c per kilowatt hour in 1978 to 2.96 c in 1979, an increase of 9.5%, all due to the increased cost of fuel used for generating. This resulted in an 8.5% increase in the kilowatt hour cost to consumers.

"Your cooperative in 1979 was again fortunate in that operating margins, plus non-operating margins, together with funds provided through capital recovery or depreciation, was sufficient to enable the Cooperative to invest $598,026 in plant additions and improvements, increase reserve funds by $4,831, invest an additional $30,409 in CFC capital term certificates, pay 1960 capital credits totaling $210,708 and increase working capital by $160,529. I might add that 1979 marks the 20th consecutive year that your Cooperative has operated without having to resort to outside borrowed capital, continued on page 5...

Historical Marker Dedication Opens 1980 Germanfest

This community's German heritage and traditions will be commemorated Friday with unveiling and dedication of a Texas Historical Marker as the opening event of the Fifth Annual Germanfest. It will be held at 4 p.m. at a special site beside the City Park fence on Highway 82 right of way.

The ceremony will include an invocation by Father Denis Soerries, a welcome by Henry Weinsapfel, unveiling the marker by Mayor Leonard Endres, a brief history by Ray Wilde, and the dedication by County Judge Greg Underwood. The public is invited to attend.

The marker, measuring 18 x 28 inches carries the following message in letters ranging from 1/4 to 3/4 inch: "Muenster. In 1889 Brothers Anton, August and Emil Flusche contracted to sell 22,000 acres of this land along the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad. Jot Gunter gave 25 acres for a school, church, cemetery and park. The first mass, celebrated Dec. 8, 1889, marked the official beginning of this German Catholic town. Despite drought, typhoid fever, and tornadoes destroying the first two church buildings, the area grew and farming and dairy business increased. Farmers established an insurance company and a marketing group for buying products in bulk. An oil boom in 1926 added to the prosperity. (1979)"

The historical marker was created for Muenster by the Texas Historical Commission on the recommendation of the Cooke County Historical Commission, Mrs. Bill R. Ried, chairman.

The project was funded by donations as follows: Felderhoff Bros. Drilling Co., $50; Muenster Jaycees, $50; Bill Reed Perforating, $25; Grewing Bros., $25; Flusche Enterprises, $25; Frank Hess Dozer Service, $25; Fischer Meat Market, $25; Bayer Concrete, $25; Rohmer's Restaurant $20; Jimmy Jack Biffle, $20; Voth Bros., $15; The Charm Shop, $10; The Center $10.

Others who had a part in the project are Sister Agnes Voth, who wrote the history, and the Muenster chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas for coordinating the dedication program.

The Cooke County Historical Commission extends its thanks to these and to others who helped in anyway.

New Record in Sight For German Fun Run

As the signs are reading now, participation in the 1980 German Fun Run should about match last year's, but co-chairmen Dan Hamric and Rumpy Hess have their sights set higher.

Up to Tuesday about 600 entries have signed up, which is comparable to last year's total at this stage, and the prospects are that last year's total of 1402 will be topped, and maybe even reach the optimistic goal of 2000.

Two factors are going for them in this respect. Changing the day back to Sunday from Saturday should help, because more people have the free time on Sunday. Also having two divisions of competition, for 15 km. and 5 km. runs, will appeal to a wider range of runners. Many are expected for the short run who would not be interested in the other. The right kind of weather can be another inducement, and the growing popularity of the fun run is still another factor. Runners have been spreading the word that Muenster is tops for hospitality and race management.

The 15 km. race, in men's and ladies' divisions, will have nine age groups from under 9 to over 50 and each group of each division will receive trophies for the first three places and medals for the next three. In addition there will be steins for the first 100 finishers.

The 5 km. race will be run in six age groups, under 10 to over 45 in both divisions, and the three top places of each division - group will receive medals. And finally all of the runners of both races will be treated to their fill of beer and soft drinks.

The two races will start simultaneously from the 300 block of Main Street and proceed north on FM 373.

At a point about 1 mile out the short race participants will turn to their respective route and the long race runners will follow their route. Both have the same finish line near the Muenster Medical Center, however all 5 km. finishers are expected to be cleared away before the 15 km. runners arrive.

Customary accommodations and precautions are provided for the runners. Aid stations and water stops will be located along the route and arrangements are made to reach medical facilities if necessary.

It's Germanfest Time

The countdown for 1980 Germanfest is in progress. It got started Tuesday with erection of the two tents which will provide shade, or perhaps shelter, for most activity of the big three day festival.

After enjoying very agreeable weather through the preceding four years of the fest, the Chamber of Commerce at last is better prepared just in case its luck no longer holds out. Rain this time would present less of a problem. There will be more canvas roofing overhead plus more pavement underfoot. And of course the spacious pavilion is also there as another refuge in a shower. Unless attendance is considerably larger than ever it will find adequate emergency coverage.

As usual, the 60 x 120 foot tent is the center of activity, including many of the event's 32 concessions. It is located on the tennis courts, and adjoining it is another tent, 40 x 60, on the paved surface east and north of the swimming pool. Most remaining concessions will be there, except the beer sales which again will be beside the Jaycee van. It is specially designed for storing and refrigerating as well as serving, has kegs inside connected with 32 outside spigots each identified by the brand of beer it dispenses. Beer will be served in 20 oz souvenir cups similar to last years, and also in buckets and pitchers.

The Jaycee pavilion will be entertainment headquarters throughout the three day event. Its schedule consists of a steady succession of vocal and instrumental selections during the day and dances at night.

Opens With Parade

Germanfest opens with a parade originating at the Community Center and proceeding down Main Street then west on Highway 82 to the site prepared for a recently awarded historical marker which will be dedicated as this year's first Germanfest activity.

The parade, organized by Bertha Hamric and Dolores Miller as co-chairmen, will assemble at 2:30 and start at 3 p.m. Units booked for it to date are the VFW color guard, Pearl Beer sound truck, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Bluebirds, Bluejays, Homecoming Queens Elaine Walterscheid and Lou Dyer, the Sacred Heart Drill Team, antique cars, The oldest couple Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Weinsapfel, Mayor Endres and Germanfest Committeemen, Dick Ferber and Monica Hess.

Preparations for the parade were still under way Tuesday with an understanding that more entries are welcome. Interested persons can contact either of the chairmen.

For convenience and comfort of the visitors, shuttle bus service from uptown will again be available. Persons who prefer can park uptown and ride the van which travels from Maple St. at the park, thence east on Cross, south on FM 373, east on Eddy, North on Walnut, west on Third, south on Oak, west on second, south on Main and west on Division to the park. Ample parking space will be available along or near the route, except on Maple and the highway where parking is prohibited. Persons wishing to park near the Germanfest can use the sizeable area across the street south of the park. A footbridge connects the areas. Another available area is north of the highway.

Also for convenience for the crowd is expanded rest room facilities. In addition to those built beside the swim pool last year, ten portable toilets will be located near the creek.

Friday Events

The Germanfest calendar is crowded with activity starting with opening parade Friday at 3 and leading to dedication of the historical marker.

The ceremony will be held at 3:30, after which the fest is in business from 4 until midnight. Features of the period are accordion numbers by Sonny and Norma, a talent show with a folk dance by Gina Hofbauer and a chug-a-lug contest. Between times Mike Otts will have his disco in operation at the pavilion, and a free street dance with music by Hay

Four Years of Germanfest

For the past several months, preparation for and anticipation of Germanfest has overshadowed most other activities and will continue to do so until after the big weekend.

Recalling the past four community celebrations, a look backward reveals the steady progress, improved handling, better entertainment, increased enthusiasm shown by sponsors and townspeople each succeeding year. In quality and quantity there has been a consistent upward trend. Each year was described in superlatives by guests and hosts. And each year, inevitable flaws were corrected and eliminated.

The first observance was a "German Week" during the Bicentennial Year, 1976, and called attention to rich local heritage and tradition. The first event of the week was an historical pageant in the MHS Auditorium, sponsored by the PTO on Wednesday evening April 28. A special flag which had flown over the United States Capitol was given by Congressman Omar Burleson and presented by Midshipman Ramon Luke to Bertha Hamric, C of C president.

The first "Miss Muenster Pageant" was held on Thursday, April 29 in the Community Center, sponsored by the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary. Barbie Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hess was the first festival queen, chosen to represent the community during the celebration and through the year.

Dances were held Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. There were food and drinks galore and varied entertainment in and out of a 60x100 foot tent on the Parish Parking lot and the nearby picnic area.

The first K of C German Fun Run on Sunday drew 251 runners in a 10 mile continued on page 11...

Another tent was added this year to expand accommodations for Germanfest. In the background is the 60x120 tent used for four years. In the foreground is the 40x60 addition. —Staff Photo

Muenster High School's two teams of golfers took first and second places in the District 14-A tournament held last Thursday on the Gainesville Municipal Course. Thereby both of the teams qualified for the regionals this week Wednesday and Thursday at Stephenville.

Despite the team wins, Muenster did not have the medalist, however. That honor was won by Tim Brown of Pottsboro with a score of 76, beating Rodd Richey by 2 strokes.

Muenster's individual scores and their ranking in the 10 team tournament were listed as follows. Todd Richey, 2nd, 78; Phil Wolf, 3rd, 83; Wylie Lewis, 4th, 86; Bob Hamric and Wayne Carroll, tie for 5th and 6th, Places of the remaining eight teams in the tournament were as follows: Pottsboro, 3rd; Sanger, 4th; Callisburg, 5th; Pilot Point A, 6th; Celina, 7th; Aubrey A, 8th; Aubrey B, 9th; Pilot Point B, 10th.

It's Time To Change Clocks

Its clock changing time again. Sunday morning the nation will officially return to Daylight Saving Time, which will be an hour ahead of sun time and our present time. According to the clocks, daylight will arrive an hour later but will also remain an hour longer in the evening. The official time of change over is 2 a.m. Sunday morning.

People are reminded to set clocks ahead one hour some time during the night Saturday. Failure to do so may result in being an hour behind the rest of the country on Sunday morning.

The year now is divided evenly into daylight saving and standard time. Next time to change clocks will be the last Sunday of October, when the setting will be back one hour to agree with the sun again.

Congressional Comment

CONGRESS COULD move closer to a solution of the age-old problem of predator control, with passage of recently introduced legislation which would give the Departments of Agriculture and Interior a clear mandate to settle the issue for once and for all.

I am a cosponsor of H.R. 6725, the Animal Damage Control Act, which would make that intent on the part of Congress unquestionable.

Hearings on the bill, held April 16 in Washington, drew a wide range of testimony from producer groups and from what one of my colleagues called "the marshalled generals" of the regulator agencies involved: The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Department of Interior and its Fish and Wildlife Division, and the Environmental Protection Agency.

It was interesting to note that support for continued research into chemical controls, most notably Compound 1080 for use in the toxic collar for coyote control, was expressed by all of the agency representatives — except the Department of Interior. Even the head of the Fish and Wildlife Division of Interior has recommended continuing research, only to be overruled by Secretary Cecil Andrus. Andrus' decision can only be described as a triumph of "politics" over scientific data, since the reasons he has given for halting 1080 research relate primarily to its unpopularity among environmentalists.

In my testimony before that hearing, I pointed out that one of the biggest losses to our state is an economic loss that can never be accurately calculated: The loss of a potential fiber industry to other areas not currently involved in sheep and goat production because of high predator populations.

I VOTED AGAINST passage of the Central Idaho Wilderness Act April 16, feeling that a state that is made up of 64 percent Federally-controlled land doesn't need the additional burden of 2.2 million acres of that land put into heavily-restricted Wilderness Designation.

Classifying an area as a wilderness area makes that land virtually inaccessible to the majority of citizens. I had supported an unsuccessful amendment which would have cut the wilderness acreage from 2.2 million to 1.4 million acres and would allow multiple use management, such as road-building, timber and mining activities on some of the land.

The bill, as passed, will hurt the economy of the entire nation by limiting domestic supplies of timber, minerals and oil, adding to the inflation rate.

While I concur with the principal idea of leaving areas of our country in their wild and natural state for the enjoyment of future generations, some common sense has to be used in making these designations. Multiple use management does not mean the indiscriminate destruction of the land that many would have us to believe.

I would point out, in both of these issues, most landowners and landusers were the very first "environmentalists," a fact that is often forgotten by today's young liberals.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — One of the toughest issues the Texas Legislature will face next spring is the permitting of wiretapping by law enforcement officers investigating narcotics trafficking.

Lawmakers failed last session to approve a wiretapping measure pushed by then newly-elected Gov. Bill Clements, but the issue will certainly re-appear for a second turn at bat.

This time Clements and his team will be better prepared. He has vowed to make anti-drug trafficking legislation a perennial issue of his administration—and included it as one of his "Super Issues" for the promised special session, now called off, in August-September.

He has appointed a Texas War on Drugs Committee and named H. Ross Perot, Dallas multimillionaire, as chairman. Perot, mastermind of the heroic mission which rescued several Americans from Iranian jails last year, lends the committee his expertise and get-tough charisma.

Why the wiretapping bill failed last session is a matter of controversy.

Clements pushed the bill hard, but many legislators who voted against it were unsure of the "safeguards" against abuses which he said it contained.

Safeguards: The Crucial

More than one lawmaker explained to the press then that he or she was not going to vote for a wiretapping bill which might lead to the invasion of privacy of law-abiding citizens. It's a tough issue to buck, because to the voters back home, it looks like their legislator is not getting tough on drug crimes.

Clements knows that, and he's going to put them on the spot again: vote for the bill or look bad to the voters back home.

He's not concerned about abuses because he thinks the safeguards are adequate. When asked at a press conference last week if he thought the bill would endanger the privacy of Texas citizens, he said: "I think that kind of sentiment is sheer nonsense. It's not invading anyone's privacy except the criminal's." Personally, it bores me to hear bleeding heart statements from those who oppose it."

The Bill's Intent

Clements and Perot have come up with a three-pronged program to curb drug use and traffic in Texas.

They want to allow wiretaps on the telephones of suspected drug dealers.

They want to educate parents and children to the dangers of drug use.

They want better cooperation among Texas law enforcement agencies in efforts to curb drug traffic and use.

Law enforcement officials who seek approval to use a wiretap will be forced to get approval from their superiors and the courts. Stiff penalties will be added for officers who misuse the wiretapping law.

New Federal Judge

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler was appointed chief federal judge of the Eastern District of Texas last week, succeeding retiring Judge Joe Fisher of Beaumont.

The judgeship, decided on seniority among the four federal judges in the district, means more administrative duties, but no more authority. Judge Justice will move the district headquarters from Beaumont to Tyler.

He was appointed to the federal bench in 1968 by President Lyndon Johnson.

Texan in Energy Post

An assistant attorney general in Texas has been chosen by President Carter to a post on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission which regulates natural gas.

The appointment of David Hughes, though not official, was announced last week by U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

Hughes is currently chief of the energy affairs division and has in the past year directed a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, a key law for the commission he will join.

He may face a tough confirmation fight in the Senate.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
 U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Our nation is in the same situation every family has experienced at one time or another: We must admit that we can't afford all of the worthwhile things we would like to do and buy.

Deciding how to divide a limited family budget among seemingly unlimited needs and desires is painful. It is equally painful to have to say as a nation that we can't do everything everyone would like us to. But making those tough decisions is the only way to pull our economy back from the brink of economic ruin.

I am pleased to see a growing realization in the Congress that we must balance our budget. Unfortunately, neither the President nor the Democrat leadership in Congress has been willing to go far enough. And their "balanced" budgets do not allow for enough defense spending to meet the minimum effort required to preserve our national security.

My staff and I have conducted a line-by-line analysis of the entire federal budget — hundreds of pages outlining hundreds of billions of dollars to be spent — and found close to $40 billion that can be cut from the Administration's original budget. That's enough to balance the budget and meet our defense needs.

Cutting that much from the non-defense budget is major surgery, without question. But we did it with a scalpel, not a hatchet. And I am convinced the plan would allow the federal government to meet its obligations — and the most pressing needs of our nation.

Some programs can be eliminated. Although I enjoy and support fine arts, I question whether the government has any business spending money in that area. So I would abolish the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities and the Commission on Fine Arts.

The Legal Services Corp. puts food on no one's table and clothes on no one's back. It can go.

But for the most part, I am recommending that program funding be kept at the same level as this year, or even a return to 1979 budget levels. In other words, my main concern is to stop the growth of government — its spending and its intrusion into our lives.

To do that, we are going to have to be more careful that our money is wisely spent. For instance, we must revise the Food Stamp regulations to get the middle class off the rolls so the truly needy can be assisted.

We should cut "categorical" federal grants that have strings attached and tend to be expensive to administer. Revenue sharing is more efficient, and allows decisions on how limited money should be spent to be made at the local level instead of in a bureaucracy hundreds of miles away.

Undoubtedly, there will be widespread resistance to making the sorts of cuts I've been talking about. My colleagues in the Congress will fear their constituents will rise in arms against them if they don't vote for the favored programs. But I think they are wrong. I believe the people of Texas are bigger than that, and will insist on responsible budget making.

Susan Koelsler and James Yosten Wed in Muenster

Susan Lin Koelsler became the bride of James Yosten in a Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony on Saturday, April 19 celebrated by the bride's great uncle, Father Stephen Eckart and another uncle, Father Leo Koelsler of Subiaco Abbey, at 4:30 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons N. Koelsler, is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed at Ben Franklin Store as a clerk. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Yosten and is a graduate of Muenster Public High School and is employed at Hofbauer's in the meat department.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a formal gown of sheer woven polyester lined in acetate taffeta. The fitted bodice was appliqued with bands of lace that extended into the skirt to define the edges of a sunburst of tiny pleats in a front inset. Long, sheer full sleeves were gathered to close fitting lace cuffs. The full length illusion veil extended to the edge of the chapel length train. The colonial bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis and blue tiger lilies, and forget-me-nots.

For "something old" she carried a mother-of-pearl rosary and prayer book which her mother carried on her wedding day, also a matching bracelet.

Attendants

The bridal attendants were friends Beverly Pels, maid of honor, Janette Yosten, Mary Luke and a sister, Mary Lin Koelsler, bridesmaids. They were identically dressed in blue polyester organza gowns, fully lined in acetate taffeta designed with flared skirts edged with a flounce. They wore hats to match their dresses and each carried a long stemmed blue rose with baby's breath, greenery and blue ribbons.

Carol Lin Koelsler was her sister's flower girl and Max Koelsler, was his sister's ring bearer.

Steve Eckart was best man and three brothers of the groom, Mark Yosten, Chris Yosten and Ronny Yosten were groomsmen and other brothers of the groom, Joey Yosten, Kenny Yosten and Danny Yosten and the bride's brother Joe Koelsler were ushers.

Mass servers were cousins of the bride Steve Knabe, Neil and Ken Hesse and Jeff Simmel.

Linda Flusche provided organ music and Christie Klement, a cousin of the bride, and Doug and Lynda Yosten sang as guests assembled; at Offertory; at Communion and when the couple placed a white rose on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Diane Grewing and Vickie Fisher sang when mothers of the couple were escorted to their places.

Jenny Marie Yosten, Wendi Yosten, Jeremy Yosten and Bradly Yosten, nieces and nephews of the groom, presented Offertory gifts.

Church decorations included altar arrangements of white pom-pom mums and blue carnations, and tall floor candelabra with lighted votive candles entwined with greenery.

Reception

A reception and dinner were held in the Sacred Heart Community Center. The bride's sister Barbara Koelsler and a cousin, Kathy Knabe presided at the bride's book, registering 325 guests.

The bride's cake and groom's cake were cut by Betty Rose Walterscheid and served by Lori Knabe, Mary Hoedebeck, Gay Mollenkopf and Janet Hesse.

Special guests at the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Voth and Mr. and Mrs. James Eckart. Also the bride's god-parents, Mrs.

Tony Hermes of Lindsay and Tony Koelsler of Muenster. Also Mr. Hermes and Mrs. Koelsler. The groom's god-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Yosten of Hereford were unable to attend but plan a visit with relatives later. The groom is also the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yosten and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bengfort.

Among guests attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Koelsler and Michael of Vinita, Okla. Mrs. Kunigunda Lodes of Vinita and Sister Mary Lin Koelsler of Floresville.

Other guests from out of town included Messrs. and Mmes. Robert Hale and James of Dallas; Walter Huchton of Bedford; John Huchton of Houston; Kevin Huchton of Fort Worth. Our state legislators have to accept the responsibility for what they do while in office. During the time my opponent served in the legislature, state spending increased by 250 percent—from $2,500,000,000 in 1968 to $8,400,000,000 in 1979—far outrunning even the pace of inflation.

Bob Glasgow knows that public officials have to put the brakes on state spending. He will fight to keep state spending to a level we can live with. He won't pass the buck.

and this has enabled you, as consumer-owners to increase your equity in the Cooperative to 95.4%, one of the highest in the nation."

A plaque was presented by Mr. Sloan to Leo Sicking for 41 years of service to the Cooperative. Inscribed on the plaque was "For outstanding service in the field of rural electrification, Leo Sicking, is recognized and honored for that service which has so greatly contributed to the success of this rural electric system in bringing the benefits of modern electric living to thousands of rural people."

Leona Eberhart, who is retiring after 23 years of excellent service to the Cooperative, was also recognized.

Following the annual meeting, the board elected Vincent Zimmerer as president, Robert Lewis as vice president, and Wendell Proffer as secretary-treasurer.

He also stated that the backbone of America is the free enterprise system. He concluded by encouraging personal commitments and taking full advantages of the opportunities we have.

Hornets Win Pair of Baseball Games

With the half way mark of the 14-A baseball season coming up Thursday, Muenster and Pottsboro are sharing the lead and waiting for the shoot-out. At the end of last Monday's games each had a record of 3-0, and the next will determine who has the head start for the second half of the double round robin. Muenster had two decisive wins in the past week, first a 15-1 run-away at Celina, then another one sided affair that almost went sour before ending 8-5.

The Celina game lasted only 5 innings after which the win was conceded on basis of the 10 point lead. Playing Callisburg at Muenster, the Hornets had an 8 point lead after 5 when Phil Wolf's no-hitter suddenly ended with 3 walks and 2 hits. Richey relieved him but the visitors came away with 5 runs, after which the scoring ended on both sides. Playing Celina, Richey and Dale Swirczynski combined 3 hits, no walks and 6 strikeouts while two opposing pitchers allowed 14 hits and 3 walks with 3 strikeouts. The Hornet hitters were Richey a double and 3 singles, Don Frazier a homer and a single, Phil Wolf and Dale Swirczynski, each a triple and a double, Floyd Felderhoff, Curtis

Against Callisburg, Wolf and Richey fanned 11 while giving up 2 hits and 4 walks whereas 2 Wildcat hurlers gave up 9 hits and 3 walks and struck out 6. The MHS hitters were Swirczynski a double and a single, Wolf 3 singles, Page 2 singles, Richey and Floyd Felderhoff each one single.

German Food Traditions Continue in Muenster

Editor's note: The following item was prepared especially for Germanfest by Hopkins and Associates, Inc., of Dallas, advertising agency for Anheuser Busch Brewery. The author is Barbara Hyman.

To think about the essentials of German life is to conjure up visions of hearty eating and drinking, of tables filled from end to end with plump sausages, steaming sauerkraut, chilled beer and creamy cheeses. To say "German" is to acknowledge gustatory traditions of the highest order -- and to recognize with reverence, somewhere in the background, a little old sausage-maker or a wizened brewmaster who made it all possible.

Modified only slightly in some cases, the time-honored tradition of producing fine German foods lives on in at least one town in the Lone Star State. Muenster, Texas, a North Texas community of 2,000, was founded in 1889 by a group of German settlers. Today it points with pride to three of its businesses, Fischer's Meat Market, H & W Meat Company, and Hofbauer's, all of which still make sausages according to old country recipes.

Fischer's, for example, has been producing homemade sausages from a family recipe for over 53 years. As their father and uncle did before them, Butthe cheese plant is a colorful mural depicting a typical German village at the foot of a mountain.

The idea for the painting originated with Monica Hess, whose relatives were early settlers. The project was sponsored by two community organizations which insured authenticity by borrowing old photographs of German towns from residents and consulting other residents who passed along descriptions from relatives.

ch and Johnny Fisher slaughter their own hogs to have the freshest pork possible. The meat is boned, ground and seasoned much as it was a half-century ago, but today the brothers have the assistance of refrigerated coolers.

"We had to haul ice in 300 pound blocks, nine at a time, from Gainesville to Muenster," recalls Joe Fisher, who retired in 1976 when his nephews bought the business. The younger Fishers have also changed the name back to its original spelling, Fischer's, to emphasize their German heritage.

Fischer's is now both grocery and meat market. Meat and sausage sales, however, constitute 80% of the store's total volume, even though the meat market fills much less than 50% of the floor space.

"Our smoked German sausage is the most popular," reports Butch Fisher, "but we make other kinds as well, including summer sausage and liverwurst. We make up several hundred pounds for the week on Monday, and I guess it takes two men two hours for each hundred pounds."

At the same time Muenster singles out its sausage-makers, it also recognizes, in a very different way, its cheesemaker; Associated Milk Producers Inc., Muenster's largest employer. Although the plant churns out millions of pounds of the famous Muenster cheese annually, the roots of this successful operation may be traced to a 1930 cooperative venture among several farmers, including some original settlers. They wanted to make a cheddar cheese like they remembered from Germany.

The plant can process over 500,000 pounds of milk daily, but even in the face of industrial automation, the old world ties are still evident. Gracing one wall of munity to share its heritage with others led to the development of an annual Germanfest, which may be traced to an old-country celebration known as Schuetzenfest. Held annually during the last weekend of April, Muenster's Germanfest is scheduled this year for April 15-27. During the celebration, visitors can expect to find hearty German singing and dancing, an almost inexhaustible supply of beer, and that wonderful German cooking -- strudels, sauerkraut, and of course, sausages and Muenster cheese.

Germanfest also offers many present-day attractions, like two fun runs and a disco dance. The main purpose, however, is never far from sight and this year organizers are expecting over 20,000 people to join in the salute to Muenster's German beginnings.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

Problems of operating within a budget are common to all of us. This year, however, the problems are more noticeable than ever because of the difficulty of estimating costs ahead of time. For instance, summer's just around the corner. If you're one of the fortunate ones able to plan a summer vacation, you're likely to encounter some unhappy surprises in trying to accurately budget your trip. Here are a few vacation budget tips that may help.

Although gasoline supplies appear to be ample for the summer, so is the price. With the new tax coming in effect just in time for summer, it would be wise to budget at least $1.50 per gallon in early summer ... late summer $1.65. Average motel prices for a family of four should be budgeted at $50 per night. Plan on meals costing about $4 per person per meal. In addition you have to make allowances for getting your car ready for the trip, plus admissions, side trips, etc.

Remember, it's always better to budget high rather than run out of money in the middle of a trip. So be generous with your planning, then be careful with your spending.

Beverly Brandon of Rosston and Charles Fleitman of Muenster were married Saturday, April 12 in a late afternoon, double ring ceremony in Sacred Heart Church, before an altar holding Easter lilies and lighted candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.Y. Brandon of Rosston and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fleitman, Sr. of Muenster.

Rev. Andy Stowe, pastor of Rosston Baptist Church and Father Denis Soerries, pastor of Sacred Heart Church officiated for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a gown of sheer woven polyester lined in acetate taffeta, with lace applique trim on the bodice front and back and at the empire waistline. A front pleated inset enhanced the full skirt which formed a chapel length train.

Her fingertip bridal veil of nylon net was lace edged, and fell from a Juliet cap of lace. Her bridal flowers were blue, peach and yellow carnations, white daisies and baby's breath, with white streamers.

Attendants

The bride's aunt, Debbie Brandon of Gainesville was matron of honor and two friends of the bride, Carol Maughan and Sharon Richardson of Rosston, were her bridesmaids. They were dressed in yellow and peach gowns of polyester organza, respectively, designed with double ruffle sleeves and V neckline. A flounce on the skirt formed a cascade of ruffles in back. Their bouquets of carnations matched their dresses.

Audrey Brandon, cousin of the bride was flower girl and Jay Prescher, nephew of the groom was ring bearer. Randy Fleitman and Bart Prescher, groom's nephews, were altar boys.

Kenneth Fleitman of Lindsay, brother of the groom was best man, and Stanley Brandon of Rosston and Ben Fleitman, Jr. of Myra, brothers of the couple were groomsmen.

Larry Brandon of Gainesville, bride's uncle and August Fleitman of Muenster, groom's brother were ushers.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. David Bright of Muenster, organist, and Karen House of Era, soloist, who accompanied herself on the guitar. Vocal selections were "I'll Follow Me", "Wedding Song" and "Love So Fine."

Reception

A reception and dinner followed in the VFW Hall, where Janice Lanier and Shelly Boggs registered guests. Assisting with the dinner were aunts of the bride, Anna Margaret Temple, Linda Hacker, Karen Hacker, Odessa Hacker, and Florence Hacker.

The wedding cake was cut by sisters of the groom Christine Fleitman and Helen Prescher, and served by nieces Jan Fleitman and Diane Prescher.

The bride is a graduate of Era High School, attended Cooke County College and is employed at Gainesville Dress Company.

The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by Tony's Seed and Feed. They will reside in Muenster.

Rehearsal Dinner

Among pre-nuptial parties was the rehearsal dinner on April 11 hosted by the groom's parents in their home. Also, a rice bag and recipe party was held at the Rosston Baptist Church, hosted by friends.

Debbie Brandon, Etta Boggs and Shelly Boggs were hostesses for a lingerie party. A miscellaneous shower in the Ross Point Community Center on March 29 was attended by 38 guests, including mothers of the couple. Hostesses were Wilma Richardson, Sharon Richardson, Doris Grewing, Carol Grewing, Maxine Griggs, Irene Harry and Sharon Durham.

They heard a report by guest speaker, John Maxwell, head of Civil Defense in Denton County. He also showed a film "Day of the Killer Tornado" (in Xenia, Ohio) telling about that day when the greatest number of tornadoes were sighted in the United States, tracked from the Canadian border to Alabama.

Maxwell was introduced by Mrs. Elizabeth Pels of Pilot Point. Mrs. Catherine Hamilton gave the welcoming address. Father Placidus led the opening prayer. Mrs. Clara Hermes gave the treasurer's report and Elizabeth Pels and Marie Zimmerer gave reports on Family Affairs, Church Affairs and Community Affairs.

Germanfest

race. There was an Arts and Crafts show in the SHH gym; an historical display in the Muenster Library. Estimates placed attendance at about 5,000, and guest book registrations indicated most of the towns within a 50 mile radius, dozens of distant towns, 12 distant states and Alaska, Austria and Germany. Leonard Endres was general chairman of the first German Week.

Germanfest plans for 1977 began almost immediately and the celebration was set for April 29, 30 and May 1. Alvin Fuhrman was general chairman and Frank Luke was entertainment director.

There was an abundance of German foods; and entertainment was spread over three days. The tent was placed on the newly paved parking lot and picnic tables and benches were between it and the Community Center.

Debbie Zimmerer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zimmerer, was crowned Miss Muenster of 1977. The pageant was sponsored by the Quarterback Club. There were 569 runners competing in the German Fun Run of 15 kilometers, hailed by both spectators and participants... a good show and an efficiently conducted contest.

The three day community party hosted an estimated 12,000 visitors. Estimates also included 179 kegs of beer, 3200 pounds of sausage, 160 gallons of German hot potato salad, 54 gallons of sauerkraut, 500 fryers for fried chicken, and quantities of baked goods brought from homes.

Special credits were accorded Edgar Dyer and the FFA chapter who served for the duration as clean-up crew.

In 1978, the third annual Germanfest celebration was held in Muenster City Park. Crowd guessers estimated Sunday's visitors at about 20,000 at the time of the Fun Run, and easily over 30,000 total for the weekend. Johnny Pagel was general chairman. Cooperative weather, a good program, good accommodations and a festive atmosphere combined to account for the huge success. It was agreed that obviously Germanfest and the Fun Run are becoming helpful to the success of the other. There were 1345 registered for the race and 1165 finished.

Along with customary efficient management, the race in 1978 was further improved by computerized timing. Participants say they like the cheerful atmosphere of the race and the presence of so much help along the way.

Cindy Sangster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sangster was named Miss Muenster of 1978. Beta Kappa Chapter of ESA was pageant sponsor.

Entertainment throughout the weekend included a concert-dinner dance, a succession of entertainment on the pavilion, a street dance, vocal concerts, band programs a German Band, instrumental groups, folk dancers, horseshoes, a skate board tournament, motorcycle Road-ee, ferris wheel, merry go round, a National Guard display and first aid station, a museum-like heritage van and a tank.

The guest book, supervised by Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman, revealed that guests came from afar... scores of Texas and Oklahoma towns, 27 other states and three foreign countries. Germany appeared in the addresses 23 times; Saudi Arabia and Guam each once.

As time for Germanfest approached in 1979, weather worries began to haunt the C of C and discussion was on problems that may be encountered unless ideal weather arrived soon.

Alvin Fuhrman, who was beginning his second time as general chairman, reported a number of subjects discussed by committeemen. Parking, they knew would be difficult unless good drying weather arrived. A shuttle bus service was discussed. And then there was the detour on Highway 82 while the old overpass was being removed. Dick Ferber was appointed traffic director.

Members discussed special community improvements for the big event ... fixing up and painting ... mowing and trimming ... special decorations... They pointed out that organizations should strive for an image of promoting Continued on Page 14...

LIGNITE COAL.

Saving TP&L customers millions of dollars each year.

In the late 1960's Texas Power & Light Company began reducing its dependence on natural gas and oil by planning and constructing generating plants that use lignite coal as fuel. Lignite is cheaper than gas or oil and it's readily available right here in Texas.

Today, TP&L has eight lignite-fueled generating units in operation and others are under construction.

For TP&L customers, this means that even though the fuel portion of electric bills has increased in recent years, bills would be millions of dollars higher each year if lignite were not being used.

Moreover, TP&L's use of lignite coal is helping reduce our national problem of dependence on foreign oil. Lignite now accounts for more than 50 per cent of the electricity TP&L generates for its customers. And, we plan to use more lignite in the future.

past 13 years. In 1976 I was made chief deputy, replacing Mrs. Nannie Montgomery who retired at that time. Being chief deputy, I had a lot of responsibilities, mostly seeing that all reports were done and balanced. We were audited once or twice a year. As far as I know there was never any discrepancy in the work I did, for I was never notified of anything wrong on any paperwork done during my 4 years as chief deputy. I believe that the elected official should be in the office at all times, just as any other county paid employee. I also believe it is important that the tax collector work closely with all employees in all departments. This is what makes a more courteous and most of all, a more efficient office for all concerned. With my knowledge and experience, I feel that I am well qualified for the job as Tax Assessor-Collector. I want to take this opportunity to thank all who are supporting me and working so hard for me. I appreciate each and every one of you. I know that it is nearly impossible to see every resident of Cooke County, but I will do my best and contact as many people as I can. Thank you for your support and vote on May 3rd. Pol. ad. pd. by Joyce Zwinggi 1902 Throckmorton, Gainesville

Kenneth English States Policy In Campaign for County Sheriff

The following is a statement by Kenneth English, candidate for sheriff of Cooke County.

For the last five years, I have been the law enforcement instructor at Cooke County College. I am a member of the Texas Junior College Law Enforcement Educators Association and the Masonic Lodge.

My reason for seeking the office of Sheriff is that I feel law enforcement should be more responsive to all the citizens of Cooke County. I feel that my experience in law enforcement and my education will bring improved and professional law enforcement to the citizens of Cooke County. I have no ax to grind with anyone, but I do believe in fairness, honesty, and integrity in law enforcement. I have been encouraged by many working people in the county to run for this office for some time.

I have a BS degree from Southwest Texas State University with a major in law enforcement including thirty seven semester hours in economics, business and personnel administration. And I have graduated from the Institute of Applied Science in Chicago with course work in fingerprinting and civil and criminal investigation.

I have more than twelve years experience in law enforcement including narcotics, detective work, crime prevention, fingerprinting and military police specialist in the Marines. In addition I have taught law enforcement for five years.

I have more than 1400 hours of police training in the following institutions: Two police academies; narcotics school of the Department of Justice, FBI courses in criminal investigation, hostage negotiations and bomb investigations; Federal law investigation training, and other schools. I have current advanced and educator certificates from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and Education.

My intention is to be a working sheriff for the citizens of Cooke County, on call 24 hours a day concerning all major crimes as well as other times when I can be of service. My priorities include complete and effective investigation of all crimes committed against the county, a constant campaign against narcotics, especially pushers, more and effective patrolling in rural areas, and work with young people to help them deal with problems of our complex society.

I sincerely ask for your support and votes in the upcoming primary.

Muenster Jaycees have set Saturday, May 10 as the date for their annual installation banquet. Officers to be installed will be elected Thursday May 1 in a special meeting at the Cooke County Electric Co-op. The meeting will start after May Day ceremonies in Sacred Heart Church. All members are urged to make a special effort to be there.

Sustaining members of the Jaycees will be guests at the installation banquet and the dance afterward.

JCs Need Help

After counting scheduled hours and list of workers at their Germanfest beer concession, the Jaycees this week issued a call for help. They'll welcome any volunteer, member or non-member, to help them keep the beer flowing. Whoever is willing is asked to pick his own time and notify a member.

city and community interests rather than just reaping profits. Special attention was planned for reception, parking, traffic assistance, fire safety and first aid.

As Germanfest neared, the big tent was erected on the tennis courts, 18 booths in the tent and 6 outside were erected including the Jaycees beer stand, actually a big refrigerated trailer truck with beer kegs inside connected to 16 spigots on each side on the outside, identified by brand names each dispensed ... improvements to facilitate service and avoid bottlenecks.

... And still the rainy weather hung on and the committee's weather worries were not eased.

Plans developed for a steady stream of entertainment in the Jaycee pavilion, three dances, beard and costume contests, horseshoe tournaments, skateboard contests, motorcycle road-co, a miniature railroad ride for children, etc. And many class reunions, the German Fun Run, the Miss Muenster Pageant. And the opening parade in which participants were the Germanfest committeemen and Chairman Alvin Fuhrman and co-chairmen Jane Monday and Johnny Fisher of the Chamber of Commerce. Also vehicles with music and PA equipment (Mike Otts) and the Anheuser Bush hospitality coach and any other vehicles appropriate for the occasion.

Luck held! The weather held!... except for a Saturday night shower and nippy weather requiring coats or jackets.

Cathy Flusche was named Miss Muenster at the Thursday night Pageant. The German Fun Run was expected to set a new record... with 1402 runners registered and 1066 completing the race. As for the preceding years, Dan Hamric and Ronnie Hess were co-directors.

The guest registry showed a marked increase. Names were listed from 31 other states, and 13 foreign countries.

As regards volume of food and drink served, there were about 3400 pounds of sausage, 500 pounds of sauerbraten, 475 pounds of barbecue, 400 fryers, 160 pounds of corned beef, and generous servings of traditional side dishes. About 250 kegs of beer were served from the van; 38 kegs following the Fun Run and more at two dances.

In the opening parade and ribbon cutting ceremony

Friday will be the football and homecoming queens of both Muenster schools, Lou Dyer of MHS and Elaine Walterscheid of SHHS who this year will share the honor of representing the community.

Be informed.

The Texas Railroad Commission is far too important to the proper conservation and management of Texas energy resources to elect a Commissioner on the basis of vague information and a general "feeling" about a candidate.

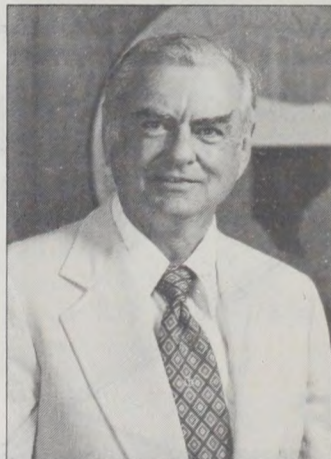

Make sure you know the facts before you cast your vote!

Did you know Jim Nugent:

- Is uniquely qualified to continue his service as a Commissioner, thanks to his background in law and engineering.
- Has almost 20 years of service to Texans, first as a State Representative, now, as our Railroad Commissioner.
- Is supported by a broad cross-section of conservative, moderate and liberal Democrats who know he's the best man for the job!
- As a member of the State Legislature and as a Railroad Commissioner is respected and known as a tough, independent and dedicated public servant who has consistently fought for the rights of Texas consumers.

Did you know that Jim Nugent's opponent:

- Has no qualifications to serve.
- His only background is to work as editor of a liberal newspaper (he calls himself an "investigative reporter") and working for former liberal Senator Ralph Yarborough.
- Has received the majority of his support from Ralph Nader, George McGovern, labor organizer Caesar Chavez and the liberal Northeastern Establishment who are desperately trying to buy a seat on the Railroad Commission so the Northeast can continue to have cheap energy from Texas.

Don't make a mistake.

Burglars Betrayed By Loafing Canine

A loafing canine companion brought bad luck to a pair of youthful burglars at Floyd's Bar about 12:15 Wednesday morning. The dog, seen with two young men earlier, aroused suspicion when seen hanging around shortly after closing time.

Officers Hudson and Poyner were alerted as they were talking to Deputy Sheriff Simmons, and he joined in the investigation. Simmons entered the front as the other two waited outside. The burglars dashed out the back door and were nabbed as they came out.

As explained by Police Chief Province, the burglars apparently unlocked the back door while the bar was open and came back after closing time. They had raided the cash register and cigarette machine before the officers got there.

Province identified the culprits as two 17 year-olds, one from Muenster and one from Gainesville. They have been arraigned in county court where bond was set at $5000 for each.

were done by home folks. Charity has become impersonal. The giver doesn't know the recipient and doesn't know whether he is deserving... and usually doesn't care. Cheats have more opportunity to get benefits.

Government people are less able to distinguish them, and millions of taxpayer funds are misappropriated.

This condition probably helps explain why a belief in private philanthropy is still strong in this country. A poll shows that about 70 per cent of the population opposes the trend toward use of tax money to finance activities previously funded by the private sector. The same proportion feels that private organizations have a better record than government in providing for the needy.

All of which makes us wonder: is it really a good idea for the feds to allow less deduction, thereby increasing its tax and making more money available for an unpopular cause? On the other hand, should the government be more generous, take less of the taxpayer's money and leave him gradually phase into the traditional idea of more giving by the private sector?

The latter idea would require a great deal of adjusting, but it seems like a big improvement over the system we have.

Jimmie Lynn Harris and Lambert Walterscheid of Denton, his mother Mrs. H.A. Walterscheid, and Mrs. Hermie Grewing and daughter Brandi all of Muenster, were Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Rainard Walterscheid and family of Jacksboro.
