The National Women's Organization, which appears to be the principal source of appointments to the White House Council on Families, has been bitterly critical of the fundamentalist movement, insisting that religion and morality must be kept out of politics.

Their attitude is not only ridiculous but ironic, because their criticism points squarely back to themselves. The fact is that our founding fathers clearly stated that morality is essential to good and stable government, a basic truth that is understood by a big majority of citizens.

So, morality and religion have been considered as basic to the American way ever since Washington, Jefferson and those other intellectual stalwarts of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. Those are the people who brought religion and morality into government, and the country has thrived on their idea for 200 years. Fundamentalists are not originators of the idea. Their only motive is to support the original idea and oppose the people who would banish it.

To look at this issue from the other side: The real intruders are those who try to impose their irreligion and immorality on the American way. They are the characters who try to change the established standards. Even though they have a negative approach they are actually guilty of the fault they blame on the people of solid principle.

Frankly speaking, there is substance to the NOW accusation. The fundamentalists are for changes, yes. But changes concerning evils that have wormed into government during the years, not the principles we started with. They oppose federal subsidy for abortion, banning prayers in school, leniency toward theft and graft and all kinds of dishonesty, acceptance of homosexuality and moral laxity as a normal way of life, leniency toward crime and criminals, and various other violations of the standards that used to apply. If the fundamentalist desire for changes is out of line with present government, it is only because the irreligious and immoral have been sneaked in.

During the past weekend NOW has made a big show of its intention to ruin Reagan because of his stand on the Equal Rights Amendment, and, unfortunately, the media gave good coverage. The implication always is that opponents of ERA are unreasonable. The answer, is that this does not cover the subject of equality for women. On the contrary normal courtesies and respect reveal a general regard of equality and then some for the ladies. About the only valid ERA demand is equal pay for equal work, which can be achieved without those other demands.

The trouble with ERA is that it supports abortion and homosexuality and sexual laxity and a breakdown of the privacy of the sexes. Perhaps they don't care if men and women are assigned the same rest rooms, but millions of other people do care. We don't think that the majority of Americans have given up their standards of decency, and are willing to have gutter morality established as their way of life.

In all of this controversy we invariably have to come back to the fact that America, and the rest of the world, is God's creation. He made us and the rules we have to follow and we are wrong whenever we violate the rules. Furthermore, history has shown many times that we make a real mess of things when we disregard the rules. It seems prudence would warn us not

Roark Is KC's Good Neighbor

James J. Roark is this year's selection by Muenster Knights of Columbus for their annual Good Neighbor Award. The presentation was made by Grand Knight Harold Flusche Sunday morning after the 9 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church.

As pointed out by the grand knight, the handsome engraved plaque is given to someone of another faith in the ecumenical spirit of harmony among the creeds. Flusche said that fame and fortune are not required for the honor, but only being a good neighbor, a person of good will and a helping hand, a friend when needed.

Roark is a self employed geophysicist with office and lab in Muenster since October 1973. He is a native of Oklahoma city, born June 12, 1916, received his high school diploma in Oklahoma City and a BS degree in electrical engineering from the University of Arkansas. He worked for Exxon from 1938 until 1965 when he started his own business. He and his wife, Alice, have two daughters, Jan in Tulsa, and Mary Ellen in Clearwater, Fla.

The church service and the communion breakfast which followed in the K of C Hall made up the council's special observance of Columbus Day, the feast of its patron.

Don Sauermann, past state deputy of the KCs, headed the breakfast program as speaker and Wayne Klement, past grand knight, was the master of ceremonies.

Sauermann referred to the Samaritan of the Bible as a good neighbor doing his utmost for another individual, and added that good neighbor can also imply doing things for the family, community and state. "So often it is said that somebody ought to do something about crime, poverty, inflation, energy shortage, immorality, etc. To start such movements and helping at them is being a good neighbor," he added. Another recommended good neighbor idea: Take God out of church with you...to your home, your business, your recreation, etc.

Grand Knight Flusche praised the members for their extra good attendance, and welcomed 21 widows of deceased KCs who responded to the council's invitation. Each of the ladies had received a corsage from the council for the occasion. Flusche added that the council has 36 widows.

Also Flusche congratulated Eddie Fleitman for a fine job as chairman and the Ed Schneiders for the catering and presented an appreciation gift from the council to Wayne Klement for two years as

St. Richard's Villa Asks for Annexation to City

A request for extension of the city boundary to include St. Richard's Villa was presented to the city council Monday night by the owner, W.D. Fuson. His purpose, he said, is to facilitate a planned expansion program and to comply with state and federal requirements on fire protection and garbage pickup.

Other requests for annexation were presented by Wendell Richey and Shirley Eldred whose property is situated between St. Richards and the city limit. Their property as well as an area owned by Paul Endres are needed to validate the request. The city's action was to refer the matter to Chuck Bartush Jr., city attorney, asking him to seek annexation of the four properties in a single transaction.

The meeting was Richard Grewing's first as mayor succeeding Leonard Endres, who resigned recently because of poor health. Other members of the council at that time elected Grewing as mayor, thereby leaving a vacancy in Grewing's former position. That opening was filled Monday by appointment of Leo Hess to complete the unexpired term.

The council also accepted an offer of $2250 from the Cooke County commissioners for a 1 year contract to fight rural fires in the county. The amount is the same as last year. And it voted to make its customary semi-annual contribution of $1850 to the Muenster Public Library.

A complaint from an inspection crew of Carswell Air Force Base stated that Muenster is not complying with maintenance requirements which were specified when a stripped down surplus airplane was erected for display in the city park. The letter said that such planes are subject to removal if their appearance is neglected.

The city council referred the problem to Muenster Jaycees who originally arranged for bringing the airplane to Muenster.

The council also heard a request by Jerry Wimmer for a paved loop around the city to reduce a dust nuisance. He said that Ash Street particularly has heavy traffic and a near constant dust cloud. The city agreed to ask for a survey by the Department of Highways and Public Transportation and a determination whether the loop qualifies for a FM road project. Streets on the route are Ash at the west, FM 373 and a continuation of it at the north, Mesquite at the east and Eddy at the south.

Another suggestion, presented by Dennis Hess, would ban beer and soft drink sales in throw-away bottles. He pointed out that the containers are being scattered all over town and, being fragile, a large percentage are broken. Hess suggested cans, which do not break and have a salvage value besides. Regular bottles also are preferred to the throw aways because they are more durable and less likely to break, also less likely to be thrown away because of salvage value.

The council asked Bartush to inquire whether other cities have such an ordinance, and if so to get a copy of it.

Muenster Will Host 14-A V'Ball Tourney

The serious part of Muenster High School's volleyball season arrives next week Tuesday, Oct. 14, when the Hornettes will host the District 14-A tournament. Participating schools are Muenster, Slidell and Alvord. Admission charges will be $2.00 and $1.00.

Action begins at 3 with Muenster and Slidell and the next match will be Alvord and Slidell. If the Hornettes win their opener they will meet Alvord in the third match, and can win the title by winning then. If a team wins twice it is the champ. However the procedure was not indicated in case each of the three wins once.

Whatever the end result, the champ of this district automatically becomes bi-district champ and advances to the regional. This is because the district bracketed with 14-A in UIL has no volleyball team.

A pleasing preliminary to the district tourney was last week's tourney in the company of AA teams at Howe. The girls lost their opener and got into the consolation bracket where they won twice for the trophy.

Bells was the first opponent, beating Muenster 15-1 and 15-11. Then, against Whitesboro the Hornettes won 15-12, lost 16-14 and got hot in the tie breaker for a 15-6 win. The third opponent was Callisburg, which was downed in straight sets 15-6 and 15-5.

Special on TV

PM Magazine will present a special program on Cook's Children's Hospital in Fort Worth (where Ronnie Knabe was a patient for 10 weeks). The film will be shown on Thursday, October 16 at 6:30 p.m. on Channel 8 TV.

JC's to Host District PP&K

It means nine entries from each age group will be eligible, a total of 54. And 18 trophies will be awarded...to the top 3 of each age group. The competition will advance no farther this year, however the Jaycees are considering state and national competition for the future, similar to the program sponsored before this year by Ford Motor Co. and the National Football League.

itation is extended to old Eagle Scouts, as judges, inspectors and honored visitors.

On the scout schedule, registration is the only activity listed for Friday. Saturday's full program, from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., includes a number of contests besides meals and recreation; and the Sunday schedule 7 to 10:30 includes breakfast and cleanup, church service, final assembly and awards and breaking camp.

Among award categories are best organized campsite, most eye appealing campsite, cleanest campsite, most patrol oriented and organized troop, troop with largest percentage of attending scouts in uniform.

Cubs and Webelos will register Saturday after which Cubs will spend the day mostly in recreation such as games, hikes, nature scavenger hunt, and cookout. Webelos will have a nature study, identifying plants, trees, birds, animals, rocks, fossils, etc., besides recreation and athletic activity. The Webelos will remain over night, having breakfast, assembly, church service and camp breaking on Sunday morning.

Poole said he expects some 20 scout troops of the two counties to bring 300 to 350 members, and the Cubs and Webelos to have a larger attendance.

House Approves Mennonite Bill

The U.S. House on Thursday approved and sent to the President a bill by Senator Lloyd Bentsen that would allow a community of Mennonite immigrants near Seminole, Texas, to remain in this country.

"The individuals covered by this legislation have made extraordinarily good faith efforts to comply with American law. They have in many cases invested their life savings in their journey to America and have the strong support of their neighbors in the Seminole area," Bentsen said following the action by the House.

The Bentsen bill grants permanent resident status to 653 members of the Mennonite community. The House approved it unanimously Thursday. The bill was passed by the Senate in 1979.

"Most of these immigrants fled to the United States from Mexico because of difficult economic conditions and the possibility that their land would be confiscated," Senator Bentsen said.

"The Mennonites entered the U.S. on temporary visitor visas in the spring of 1977 when—after numerous inquiries in this country—they came to believe that if they were to purchase land in the United States they would be allowed to remain here as permanent residents."

"Only after they made major investments in land and arrived here did they discover they might not be allowed to remain."

"My bill would remedy their plight by allowing them to stay in the United States as permanent residents. I am hopeful that the President will quickly sign this legislation into law," Bentsen said.

"This legislation would have absolutely no value as precedent for anyone other than this group of unfortunate immigrants, because only these people have made such extraordinary efforts to comply with American law. The unique situation they face applies to no others," Senator Bentsen said.

MAKING THE TOUGH DECISIONS

A budget-management report from United Way

By operating like any other modern, well-run business enterprise, United Way succeeds in delivering the maximum in human services for the dollars that are collected.

Volunteers carefully review the budgets, operating patterns and track record of agencies asking to become part of the United Way organization.

These volunteers scrutinize the various functions performed by the agency, look at the kinds of people it helps, and evaluate its success in delivering its services.

They look ahead, five or ten years down the road, and plan for what the community will need as people grow older, single parent families increase—as things change.

But there are some decisions that can't be made strictly on a dollars-and-cents basis.

For example, what happens when a new service agency wants to become a United Way organization—especially when there may be two or more equally qualified organizations equally in need of United Way support? Who chooses? And on what basis?

The answer to this question is often complex. And sometimes it can be an agonizing decision to admit one agency instead of another, because the final choice means one agency gets the added help it needs and the other agency (and the people it serves) has to go without.

The people decide

But the bottom line is that volunteers do make the decisions after carefully weighing all the pros and cons. It's sometimes a hard process, but it's as fair as we know how to make it.

And these are local volunteers, deciding how local funds are distributed. The United Way philosophy is based on the belief that local volunteer groups are in the best position to judge their community needs, so they should make the financial decisions.

Because volunteers work free of charge doing everything from collecting money to deciding how it will be used, administrative costs are kept low, and more can be spent on needed services.

And that's how United Way works so well. And why.

United Way
Thanks to you it works. For all of us.

dynamite HINTS FOR homemakers

Light Up Your Whites

It's a widely known fact that age, rust and the use of chlorine bleach on some fabrics can turn your washable whites yellowish or dingy gray. But did you know that all it takes to restore original whiteness of your favorite clothes and linens is RIT Color Remover? Even drab and worn looking sneakers turn bright again.

Along with whitening your washable whites, color remover removes transferred dye stains from white clothing washed by mistake with colored items, removes staining on white materials caused by hard water minerals and removes the yellowish or grayed discoloration on white fabrics caused by time during storage periods without use.

Using color remover in your washing machine is easy, safe and economical. Just place the clean article in washer at the hottest setting. Make sure the material is not crowded. For a small wash load, add one or two packages of RIT Color Remover to moving water (not directly on fabric) and agitate 2 to 3 minutes. Shut off machine and let stand for 30 to 60 minutes with lid closed. Agitate a few minutes; drain water, and then add detergent and re-wash and rinse thoroughly.

If you prefer, use a range top method. Fill a large stainless steel or enamel pot with hot water. Heat the water to a simmer and add one package of color remover. Immerse clean, wet article in pot, making sure the material is not crowded. Stir for 2 to 3 minutes and remove the pot from the heat and cover. Let stand for 30 to 60 minutes. Then, wash and rinse fabric thoroughly in hot tap water.

For more stubborn stains, especially rust, wet the article with hot water and immediately place some color remover powder directly on the stain. Rub in and proceed with either the washer or range top instructions.

Available where fabric dye is sold, Color Remover is safe for washable fabrics and will not weaken fibers. It's an easy way to brighten your favorite washable whites!

Pineapple adds zest to main course meals

Preparation of fresh pineapple is easy and elegant for entertaining either family or friends. The fruit is a tasty addition to breakfast, lunch or dinner.

To select a succulent pineapple in the supermarket, choose one that is plump and fresh looking. The body of the fruit should be firm, not soft.

The color of the pineapple's shell is not necessarily a sign of maturity or ripeness in the fruit. A pineapple shell may be practically all green on the outside and ripe on the inside.

Pulling out leaves from the crown, or top, of the pineapple does not indicate ripeness of the fruit inside. Leaves should be fresh-looking and green.

Fresh Del Monte pineapple adds special zest to this FRESH PINEAPPLE PORK recipe.

- FRESH PINEAPPLE PORK
- 2 Tbsp. cornstarch
 - 1 Tbsp. soy sauce
 - 1-1/2 lbs. lean pork, cut into 1-inch cubes
 - 2 Tbsp. salad oil
 - 3/4 cup water
 - 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 - 3 Tbsp. firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
 - 1/2 tsp. ground ginger
 - 3 cups cubed Del Monte Fresh Pineapple
 - Hot cooked rice or fried rice

Combine 1 tablespoon cornstarch and soy sauce. Toss with meat until well coated. Brown meat in hot oil. Add water, vinegar, sugar, garlic salt and ginger. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 40 to 45 minutes.

Dissolve remaining cornstarch in 2 tablespoons water, add to meat. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and translucent. Add pineapple; heat through.

Serve with rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

For an alternative serving suggestion, cut pineapple including crown in half. Using curven knife, scoop fruit out of halves, leaving a half-inch thick shell. Remove core. Cut fruit into chunks; set aside. Drain shells on paper towel. Serve pork in shells.

Housewarming Surprises

D. Moster Family

Forty fellow employees, friends and relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. Damian Moster and their children Cheramie and David, with a housewarming party in the new home they occupied about three weeks ago.

They all gathered about noon at their Willow Addition address bringing covered dishes for a bountiful buffet, and gifts, and remained to see the Cowboys on TV.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Ellis of Cobb Island, Maryland were overnight guests of the Paul Fishers Friday night. Joining them for a visit were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellis of Nocona and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kathman of Gainesville.

Nutrition and Cancer

There are no simple answers to the influence of diet on cancer, but there are a lot of intriguing questions.

For example, American Cancer Society's PI Chairman, Shirley Bianchi explained, "there is a very low rate of colon cancer in Japan, and a high one in our country. Yet when Japanese migrate let's say to Hawaii, their incidence of colon cancer rises—could it be because they adopt the American way of eating?"

"Or," she continued, "could diet play a role in the fact that there are different colon cancer rates among black Americans living in certain rural parts of the South, and those who live in industrialized Northern cities?"

The questions are so numerous and the research leads are so provocative that the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute held a special symposium on nutrition and cancer. "The main conclusion was the need for more research; the need for more understanding on just what constitutes normal diets and the need to recognize that this is a very complex problem," Mrs. Bianchi said.

To illustrate the point, she discusses a slice of bacon. "To preserve it, it's been treated with certain chemicals that are found in many foods as well as in saliva. These chemicals are not cancer-causing by themselves. But, when a slice of bacon is eaten, and the body's digestive process goes to work, intricate chemical reactions can take place that create substances that have caused cancer in laboratory animals."

In 1974, a "Diet, Nutrition and Cancer Program," was mandated by the Federal Government, and significant scientific gatherings like the symposium mentioned earlier, are bringing the subject to the attention of researchers around the world.

What about the public? "Many people in Cooke County are aware that the Food and Drug Administration is charged with banning any food additive that may be suspected of causing cancer. That's umbrella protection for all consumers. For the individual, at this point in time, some scientists believe that a diet low in saturated fats and cholesterol is "prudent." As one expert put it, "while all the evidence is not in, it is the cautious thing to do to modify one's diet." That means cutting down on fats and cholesterol. This kind of advice is already important in the fight against heart disease.

"The subject of diet and cancer is an open one," Mrs. Bianchi said, "and we are committed both to research and keeping the public informed as new information becomes available."

Common Sense Tips

Hints For Homeowners

REFRIGERATORS

An efficiently operating refrigerator can expand the life of many foods, help cut down on spoilage and food waste, and help you save money. Some older models may not keep foods as cold as they should be in some areas...especially in the door or at the bottom of the unit.

According to home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, a good way to determine if your refrigerator is maintaining proper temperatures is to check the milk. If the milk is chilled to your liking the refrigerator section is just about right. But don't check just one spot...move the milk around to be sure. If you have any doubts, place a glass of water in the refrigerator for 24 hours and then test with a thermometer. The recommended refrigerator temperature should be no higher than 40 degrees.

Most refrigerators have adjustable coldness settings, but this varies by brand. If you need to change the temperature of your refrigerator check your owner's manual for instructions.

Ancient History Lesson: The first automobile rear-view mirror was invented by race driver Ray Harroun at the Indianapolis 500 in 1911. Back then all the race drivers carried mechanics along to check equipment and watch out for overtaking cars. Harroun figured he'd save weight by driving alone. When other drivers complained that this was dangerous, he welded an eight inch by three inch mirror to his car. Thus was a revolution born.

Muenster PTO

The Parent-Teachers Organization of Muenster Public School is now holding its annual membership drive. Parents, relatives, friends and neighbors are invited to enroll.

Membership dues are five dollars per family per year. Parents of students will be receiving an invitation by mail including an envelope addressed to Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Jean McElreath for the convenience of returning dues. Anyone else who would like to join may do so by simply sending dues to Mrs. McElreath.

The money collected from the membership dues is used for a variety of needs and causes. The PTO annually sponsors the High School All Awards Banquet, the Jr. High Awards Banquet, the Arts and Crafts Show for all students. Last year the PTO initiated the Spinal Screening Program and PTO volunteers helped with the Eye and Ear tests. The PTO purchases teaching Aids requested by teachers, pays half of culture event fees attended by students and invites culture events and speakers to the school and accepts full responsibility for payment. The organization has purchased record players for individual rooms, equipment for the PE department and has donated a fixed sum to the School library each year. A laminating machine is now being purchased for school use. In addition to all of this and more the PTO has funds set aside to help with the landscaping of the campus. To do all of these things the PTO needs support.

Help may be given by enrolling families now. Meetings are scheduled for the third Monday of every other month with the next meeting scheduled for November. Please check the Muenster Enterprise for any change of date.

Nation's supply of engineers is falling short

COLLEGE STATION — The dean of the nation's largest college of engineering warned recently the nation's supply of engineers falls far short of industry demand and there is no sign of relief. Shortages have developed for petroleum, chemical, electrical, mechanical, aerospace, civil and safety engineers, said Dr. Robert H. Page of Texas A&M University. Although Texas A&M graduated a record 881 engineers in 1979, including 80 women, recruiters from industry and business still demand more.

Breakfast Eaters Make Better Grades

Children who eat nutritionally adequate breakfasts usually have significantly better total diets than children who don't eat breakfast. And, students who achieve higher scholastic levels have significantly better diets than children who are poorer students. These are among the findings of a doctoral thesis by Josephine Martin, former head of Georgia's school food service and past president of the American School Food Service Association. Her 1979 study of fourth grade students and their eating habits in Atlanta also shows that higher achievers obtain fewer calories from snacks and soft drinks.

This supports the thesis that children—rich or poor—who don't get breakfast before they come to school in the morning are likely to be sleepy, dull and hungry during morning classes. Students can be too hungry to concentrate on their class work.

However, school kids don't have to go to class hungry. Parents who don't have time in the morning to prepare a good breakfast can send their children to school for a meal of fruit or juice, cereal or toast, milk, and an additional protein food. Children may even have fresh breakfast rolls made in school cafeteria kitchen. That is, if their school participates in the School Breakfast Program.

This program is similar to the National School Lunch Program. Participating schools must serve nutritious meals every school morning. Both pupils and teachers can buy the breakfast at a reasonable price.

If children don't have the money for breakfast, schools can arrange to give them breakfast free, or at a reduced price. Children receiving free or reduced price breakfasts cannot be openly identified, or discriminated against in any way, and schools must offer the breakfast to all the children.

"Previously, I was opposed to the breakfast program," said one school superintendent. "I thought it was the parents' duty to feed their kids at home in the morning."

"But one day when one of the 'sick' kids at school asked for some crackers because he had a stomachache, I wondered how many in the classroom were feeling bad because they were hungry," he said. "We began a trial breakfast program in the district a few years ago, and everyone, especially the teachers, are supporting it one hundred percent."

Female Superiority??? Statistics indicate that in a strict, mile-for-mile comparison women drivers have ten percent fewer accidents than men. Women also have far fewer fatal accidents. Young male drivers have a fatality rate four times higher than females. Some psychologists speculate that this is because women, unlike men, have no compelling need to prove their "machismo" by acting out feelings of aggression and strength behind the wheel of a car. Any comments, men?

What's Adequate for Livestock Water?

by Gary Rainwater

The hot summer months are especially stressful to cattle in many different ways, but stock water management may be considered the most crucial in reducing potential problems in the cow herd.

Water is the most vital of all nutrients and is essential for all body processes such as digestion and absorption of food nutrients, the removal of waste, and in regulating body temperatures.

Most of the ponds in Cooke County were dry or very close to being that way before the rains came. Nearly all the springs had stopped flowing, and the water level on many of the wells were down. Providing adequate water for livestock on range and pasturelands is a must. Inadequate stock-water developments prevent profitable utilization of badly needed grazing areas and encourage destructive overgrazing in the vicinity of existing water supplies. The weather can't be controlled but adequate water supplies can be.

An understanding of stock-water requirements will assure water developments that more nearly serve the purpose for which they are intended, and it will make possible lower costs and fewer unsatisfactory supplies. It is important that watering places on range and pastureland be developed to meet the needs of the livestock that will use the grazing areas. The amount of water required, the frequency of watering, and the distances that livestock can travel for water without harmful effects are all important considerations.

It is important that the total expenditures for water developments be in line with the potential production of the land to which the water is supplied. Since most water developments are costly and since the return from most of our grazing land is low, care should be taken in deciding the best water development for your land.

The number of watering places necessary is variable and will depend on conditions of the land. The various kinds of livestock differ somewhat in the distances that they can travel from water, and these distances depend upon the lay of the land.

In steep and rough country cattle should not be forced to go more than 1/2 mile for water, though in more level areas this can be increased.

The advantages of better and more adequate watering facilities are evident. If animals are required, because of the scarcity of sufficient watering places, to travel long distances to and from water, gains and profits cannot be maximum.

SPORTS

Tigers Clobber Bulldogs 33-6

The SH Tigers had it all their way at Alvord last week and just kept going and going to a 26-6 half time lead, then coasted to their win of 33-6.

It was their best game of the season to date, according to the coaches, Father Stephen Eckart and Virgil Henscheid. The only blemish on their performance was 4 lost fumbles. About the only satisfaction in that regard was Alvord's worse record of seven turnovers, three interceptions and four fumbles.

In fact, the first period was a story of turnovers, a total of four. SH, on an apparently good start drove 68 yards...including a beautiful pass, Nash to Bednorz for 40 yards... to the 10 yard line, and then fumbled. Alvord fumbled on first series, giving the Tigers possession on the 22. SH lost ground on the next series, the Bulldogs kicked on their next, after which both teams fumbled again, and the Tigers were 20 yards away. Four plays later John Hartman scored from the 13 and Nash kicked the PAT. Tigers led 7-0 at 2:32. Dean Swirczynski and Curtis Henscheid recovered the fumbles for Sacred Heart.

That score broke the game wide open. On the Bulldogs' first possession after kickoff Brian Bednorz intercepted and broke away for a 40 yard TD gallop. A kick for extra point missed. SH led 13-0 with 1:05 on the clock.

The second quarter again featured fumbles. There were two by each team, Monte Endres and Teddy Walterscheid recovering for the Tigers, after which Alvord was in possession on the SH 26. First effort lost 5 yards and the next was a screen pass for 31 yards to Alvord's only score. Time remaining in the period was 5:50.

The Tigers snapped back with Ricky Hennigan's 50 yard kickoff return to the 30 and made the remaining distance in five plays. Kirk Mollenkopf scored from the 1, Nash kicked the bonus point, and Sacred Heart led 20-6 at 4:16.

Next score was another quickie, starting with Bednorz's interception on Alvord's second series. Two plays later Nash bootlegged around right end and raced 59 yards to pay dirt. A pass for extra points missed. The score was 26-6 at 1:41.

The second half started with a good drive by the Bulldogs, a total of 60 yards to the Tiger 12, and then SH defense refused to budge. Alvord lost 4 yards on the next series, giving up possession on the 16.

After that the Tigers drove 71 yards...including a pass to Bednorz for 43...reaching the 13 yard line, and likewise failed to keep going. After 4 tries they lost possession on the 9.

From there the Bulldogs gained a first down and tried a long pass on the second series. Brian Herr intercepted and SH was 45 yards away from its next TD. Eleven plays were enough and Hartman scored from the 5. The PAT kick by Nash added a point. The score was 33-6 with 9:03 remaining.

Most of the remaining time was taken up by Alvord's 52 yard drive reaching Sacred Heart's 12, and then a series losing one yard back to the 13. Sacred Heart kicked on the next series. Alvord tried for a field goal in its last series.

Cubs Beat Alvord on Two Big Plays

After playing all except the final few minutes in a scoreless standoff, the Sacred Heart Cubs made 2 big plays in the closing minutes to beat Alvord's youngsters 14-0.

The first one came a minute and 11 seconds from the end when Bret Walterscheid got around left end and dashed 66 yards to the score. Next he passed to Kenneth Hesse for bonus points.

And seconds later, on Alvord's first play after kickoff, Bret intercepted and raced 50 yards down the left sideline for the second TD. The try for bonus points failed leaving the score at 14-0.

The earlier part of the game was defensive. The little Tigers started the game with a drive that was stopped on the 11, and the visiting kids, starting at the 11 went almost all of the way on their drive. The Cubs stopped them at the 4 as the half ended.

Starting the third period Alvord made a good drive ending in Keith Hennigan's interception. And late in the game Dangelmayr intercepted, after which Bret Walterscheid made his big run.

Muenster Juniors Edged by S&S Kids

The points after touchdown were the deciding factor in last week's game by Muenster Junior High with the future Rams of S&S. Again, it was Muenster that missed, so it was the loser by a count of 8-6.

The Little Monsters were first on the scoreboard as David Winn sneaked over from the 1 following a first quarter drive of some 55 yards with Ronnie Fisher accounting for most of the yardage. The try for extra points failed.

S&S Lambs made their 50 yard scoring drive in their first possession of the second half and added the winning bonus points.

Another Muenster effort, late in the game, ended abruptly in a fumble at the 10 yard line.

Hornets Lose 7-6 to S&S Rams

For the second time of their pre-district schedule, the MHS Hustling Hornets played their foes an even game but came away one point short. They lost 7-6 to the S&S Rams, who had been favored by reason of a better record and weight advantage.

Nevertheless, the record on statistics is as close as the score. Muenster led 10-9 in the count of first downs, S&S led 198 to 189 in total yardage. Actually, the game rates as about par for the season. In their five games to date the record is 1-3-1 even though the opponents lead them by only a single point, 54-53.

As the game started it ran true to the odds. Muenster could not gain and kicked on first series. S&S lost possession trying a fourth down gamble and MHS again kicked on first series. Then the Rams got on the scoreboard in a hurry. From their 45 they moved to Muenster's 39 and Winborne broke through for a dash to the goal. O'Hanlon's kick added a point. The Rams led 7-0 at 4:35 in the first.

The score came too fast and easy for Muenster's comfort. The outlook was discouraging, but then the Hornets started clicking.

Following the kickoff Rusty Serna, Monte Wimmer and Gary Klement stepped off 41 yards to the 30 in 4 plays and Dale Swirczynski connected with Tim Schneider for 20 yards to the 10. But a fumble halted the drive three plays later at the 2. That tough break was matched by a good one two plays later, Rusty Serna recovering, and MHS was back in possession on the 6. Wimmer scored from there on the next play.

Then came the play which turned out to be the deciding factor. Swirczynski's PAT kick was blocked. Muenster was at the short end of 7-6 at 11:51 in the second period.

That's how the score remained, however lots of tense action was still coming. For instance a Hornet punt was blocked and the Rams were 29 yards away, and Woods' gain reached the 15. Then the drive stalled and O'Hanlon tried a field goal. It missed.

Moments later the visitors missed another good opportunity. O'Hanlon, from his 37, passed to Stanford who seemed to be headed for the goal, but Gary Klement ran him out of bounds on the 24, after a 39 yard gain.

Shortly after intermission the Rams missed another field goal try following recovery of Muenster's fumble on the 15. Then the Hornet offense got started on another drive. It gained 62 yards to the Ram 14, the big gains being passes to Schneider and Klement for 15 and 17, also runs by Klement and Serna for 15 and 11. The next three tries gained 6, leaving the Hornets' with a fourth and 4 situation. So, Swirczynski tried for the field goal which would have put MHS in front. His kick went wide. Muenster still trailed by a point.

Promptly after that MHS fumbled a punt and the Rams recovered at midfield, then advanced in three series of downs to the Hornet 14. For the third time Hornet goal line defense was solid and the Rams made their third try for a field goal...and missed again.

Muenster's final desperate effort came some four minutes before the end and faded out on an offensive pass interference ruling, a 15 yard penalty that spoiled the series. It was the Hornets' only penalty of the game.

CLOSED MONDAYS

Sacred Heart JV's Swamp S&S 36-6

Sacred Heart's junior varsity went on a scoring spree last week rolling over the young Rams of Sadler-Southmayd by a count of 36-6.

It started explosively as Darrell Herr had the benefit of good blocking in returning the kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown and Jim Bartush's run added 2 extra points.

A drive for the second TO started early in the second quarter with Neil Hesse's fumble recovery and Hesse's pass to Ronnie Dangelmayr gained 33 yards, but the drive was delayed by an exchange of kicks, after which SH continued. Jim Bartush scored from the 13 and went over again for extra points.

Again, just before half time S&S fumbled on a kick attempt and the Tigers were on the 12. Bartush scored from there. The score was 22-0 at half time.

Starting the third period, it was Sadler's turn. After kickoff it gained 27 to the Tiger 39, and the next play went all the way via left end. T.J. Walterscheid made two fumble recoveries before SH took charge again.

Following the second recovery the Tigers were on the 18 and made the distance in 5 plays. Hesse made the last yard.

Promptly after that a good kick return gave SH good position on the 30. Bartush scored on the sixth play and went over again for the extra points.

MHS Meets Era in District Opener

With a disappointing pre-district record of 1-3-1, which could read 4-1 if only 5 points had been added in the right places, the MHS Hornets will start their district schedule on the Muenster field Friday night.

A point for fans to remember is that it is the first of 7:30 kickoffs, which apply to the rest of the season.

Back to the 5-point difference: there were two 1-point losses that would have been turned around by two points each and a tie that could have been won by another point. The general idea, as pointed out by Coach Stinson, is that the Hornets have very nearly broken even in strong competition, actually more achievement than the record indicates.

The same applies to the other Hornets, he added. So prospects are good for lots of football. Era, too, did a big job in close losses to strong competition, for instance Lindsay's 6-0 win and Valley View's 28-13. In spite of a humble 1-4 standing, the visitors will be entitled to respect, and MHS has been warned accordingly.

Incidentally, the win on the record stands for a 57-0 runaway over Masonic Home, and Era definitely cannot be taken for granted.

Another factor having a possible bearing is Era muscle. As usual, MHS will be the smaller team. While taking nothing for granted, Coach Stinson feels that his boys are ready to turn things around. He has pleasant memories of a good game last week when his team, without four starters and with a weight disadvantage of about 15 pounds average, played the Rams on even terms. That applies particularly to the defense which halted thru S&S drives in front of the goal, forcing the visitors to try field goals.

Individual praise was in order to Dale Swirczynski for 13 tackles and Rusty Serna for 13 tackles, and a fumble recovery, and to David Flusche for constantly molesting the Ram backfield.

Likewise, the offense made lots of gains, particularly 75 yards by Gary Klement and 45 by Monte Wimmer. Tim Schneider caught three passes.

Another encouraging sign: John Walterscheid who missed all games to date, and Ricky Winn, who missed three, have recovered from injuries. They're expected back this week.

Dr. Knight on TV

Dr. Marvin Knight, team doctor of the Dallas Cowboys, member of the Muenster Hospital staff, and rancher-stockman of Era, will be featured on the next program of Tex. Schram's "Cowboy Weekly" on Channel 5 TV. He will be on at 6:30 p.m. Friday, following Action News, and again on a re-un of the film at 10 a.m. Sunday, preceding the Tom Landry Show.

Golf Tourney Postponed

The long awaited rain has caused a postponement of this month's golf tournament sponsored by Muenster Golf Association. Mark Hess explains that Monday's hard rain caused damage in several areas, and some repairs will not be complete by Sunday. The corrected date is Sunday, the 19th, 8:30 a.m. at Gainesville Municipal.

Solid Foe Awaits Tigers at Cowtown

The Tigers have their job cut out for them when they take on Fort Worth Country Day School Saturday at 3 in Fort Worth.

According to limited information received by the SH coaches, Father Stephen Eckart and Virgil Henschel, this one may be the toughest to date. Item 1: The quarterback was rated all-state last year and has added experience and growth. Item 2: They are big, averaging about 190 in both the backfield and the forward wall. Item 3: They lost by just one TD (20-14) to Pilot Point, which is rated as one of the top AA teams of the state. Those few facts, Henschel said, leave no doubt that the team is solid. His big concern is whether the Tigers are equally solid, and his answer to that question is that the team peaked last week in its game with Alvord, the only blemish on their performance being four fumbles. The Tigers romped to four touchdowns in the first half, then settled down to ball control in the second. Likewise their defense was generally in charge. The Tigers and their coaches feel confident of another win.

The following route has been suggested for Sacred Heart fans wishing to attend. Follow I-35 through Fort Worth to Loop 820 and turn right. Follow 820 about 7 miles and exit to the right on Country Day Lane, and follow about a block to the field.

Weather is Beautiful

Suddenly local weather is beautiful, meaning both the moisture and the temperature. The finishing touch was applied Monday in a moderate gully washer measuring 3.34 inches between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Following last week's 3-day soaker of 7.9 inches, this was just right. With the groundwell saturated, Monday's rain was mostly runoff heading for ponds, lakes and creeks. The result is that detention lakes are up to the permanent pool level and surplus water is draining through the draw down tube into the creek. Stock tanks too, have reached an adequate level. About the only complaint on ponds and lakes now is that lots of fish died. Many places need re-stocking plus a few years of growing time.

Land condition is equally pleasing. Fields are fine, waiting for sowing and a few that were sowed early in September are already thriving. At the same time range land is coming to life. Prospects are fair that winter grazing in the pastures and on the grain fields will compensate for the summer's disastrous hay crop.

This week's rain, following a total of 18.69 inches through September, ups the 1980 figure to 22.03 inches, which approaches normal for this time of the year.

Temperature readings are also pleasing. They are recorded as follows by Steve Moster for the past week: October 2, 59 and 82; Oct. 3, 54 and 82; Oct 4, 62 and 84; Oct 5, 56 and 82; Oct 6, 54 and 79; Oct 7, 57 and 87; Oct 8, 64 and 80.

Muenster Jaycees had a busy day Saturday including the PP&K events and a continuing single-handed effort to clean up and spruce up the park. But...not without a little break. Staff Photo

Den 1

Cub Scouts of Den 1 are James Hennigan, Jason Walterscheid, Michael Abney, Chris Tate, Marshall Smith, Bryan Kleiss, David Rohmer and Rodney Knabe. Den leader is Joyce Abney; assistant leader is Sandra Hennigan and den chief is Leroy Voth.

Their October 6 meeting was held in the VFW Hall, with the theme "Citizenship". The pledge of allegiance was led by David Rohmer. The boys learned to fold the Flag and then discussed campaigning and voting.

James Hennigan was elected denner and Marshall Smith assistant denner.

The group made plans to participate in the Camporee on Saturday, October 11. The next meeting will be on October 20 in the VFW Hall. Refreshments were provided by Bryan Kleiss.

Den 4

Den 4 made final plans to attend the Camporee on Saturday, October 11 at the new Camporee Site 2 1/2 miles out of Muenster, when their regular meeting was held on October 7 at the home of Den Leader Lupe Evans.

Included in the planning session was attendance at the Scout-A-Rama scheduled for November 15. They decided on their booth and were issued tickets to sell for $1.00 each. The den will earn a commission from sales and the boys will earn a patch and prizes. Extra tickets may be obtained at the Hut.

The boys learned to make a new tie slide in the shape of a Jack-o-Lantern, using balsa wood. Refreshments were served and then the boys played touch football. Members of Den 4 are Murlin Evans, Jeff Walterscheid, Johnny Herr, Joseph Shane Wimmer, Don Joe Park and Jason Brogdon.

to add ERA to the many evils we already have.

A discouraging development in this morality controversy is that a few timid evangelists are allowing themselves to be misled by that old church and state line, that morality should be confined to the pulpit...that religion and politics should not be mixed. The answer is that this does not involve the effort to establish a state religion, as over forefathers wisely avoided. This is a matter of being aware, as those forefathers were, that morality and religion belong in politics as basic principles of right and wrong. We can imagine what will happen to our civilization when there are no moral guidelines as a foundation of government.

Friday night at Era it was homecoming for Era and Miss Tracy York became the new queen, and was crowned by Miss Deean Roach. Don Fenley is the new king. The new king and queen were driven around the field in a pretty Trans Am.
