MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE CO., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1942

NUMBER 14

By the time this gets into print it may be assumed that this columnist is getting settled down to the regular routine of army life. As the week draws to a close we are reminded that basic training sets under way next week.

This week has consisted principally of such preliminaries as more immunization shots, issue of more clothing, quizzes, interviews, repetition of rules and regulations and more drilling. Henceforth there will be even more drilling plus the serious training in what an engineer of this nation's fighting force is expected to know. We've been waiting for the completion of this company. Word has gone around that it will be filled in a day or two and everything will be ready to go by Monday.

In general a carefree attitude prevails even though a graver concern over recent developments is clearly evident. The war's trend on all fronts is accepted as an indication that today's rookies will be in it before long and will have a terrific job on their hands. Without exception, the men are determined to make the most of their training period because they appreciate how tremendously important it will be to work efficiently when the time comes.

Thinking of those fellows and the millions of others like them all over the country is enough to inspire confidence in the ultimate success of their venture. If the rest of the country will build the implements of war with the same self-sacrificing enthusiasm as these men develop the skill, everything's going to be all right and it won't require any five or ten years. American resourcefulness plus American resources makes a combination that tyrants cannot overcome.

Our platoon — all housed in the same building — is made up almost entirely of Texas and Oklahoma men, from reception centers at Camp Wolters and Fort Sill. In general, a very congenial gang. The only situation more desirable would be a crowd from our own county or community. They're on their way to make this the best unit of the company and battalion.

All of us had the laugh on one another the evening following issue of additional clothing. Yes, the long handed undies were given out, and most of the boys were sufficiently amused to call attention to their fit. Remember the pictures of John L. Sullivan in his fighting togs?

However, we were not slow in discovering the practical value of the extra clothing. The past week has been mighty chilly, mercury down to 10 and a nice blanket, of snow. Thawing was negligible until Friday. But the weather makes no difference after a soldier puts on the prescribed duds. The overcoat is the heaviest. Coats have ever worn. Danger of ill effects from exposure is held to a minimum.

Another good laugh for the fellows followed the soup bowl haircut. Like so many other things around here it is identified as G. I. (Government Issued) but for the life of me I can't understand how the term applies to a haircut. It's not issued, but costs 35 big pennies of very precious money. What grieves a person is the fact that the trimming isn't worth 15 cents. Judge for yourself from the fact that 4 barbers hacked the fuzz off of 10 men in an hour and a half. Mass production in a barber shop, I'd call it.

Except for the fact that we've seen mention of it in print, probably no one would be aware of the current Lenten season. Ash Wednesday came and went like any other day. Fasting is unknown. And so far as I've been able to discover, the only compromise with Friday regulations is fish at noon. Seems as though they've got it figured out about right. About one-third

BUY UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS AND STAMPS

Muenster Students Help Uncle Sam

Students of the eighth grade parochial school set a patriotic example recently when they purchased a $100 defense bond and two $25.00 bonds, made payable to the new church building fund. Money for the bonds was raised in a two-week drive by the students. Purchase of the bonds climaxed a parade and patriotic rally held Feb. 13. In the picture are Postmaster Arthur Endres, delivering a bond to Alphonse Koesler, representing Uncle Sam; Lillian Wimmer, who took the roll of the consoling angel in the parade; Laura Lee Wilde, representing Muenster's gold star mother, and Mary Nell Hennigan, as Miss Defense. The three girls in the picture raised the most money in the drive for funds in which Miss Wilde was the individual winner. Displayed is the Muenster Service Flag with 57 stars. A gold star in the center is for Ensign Robert Weinzapfel, dive bomber pilot with the Pacific fleet who was lost in action.

46 POUNDS SWEETS SENT TO SOLDIERS BY GARDEN CLUB

Forty-six pounds of candy and cookies were sent Saturday to Sheppard Field soldiers by the Civic League and Garden Club as a treat for Washington's birthday. Mrs. Jim Cook, chairman of the defense committee of the organization, disclosed Tuesday. At the same time Mrs. Cook offered her thanks, in the name of her committee, to members and to other local persons who contributed sweets to the shipment. A letter to Mrs. Cook from Lt. Ben Alberstein, Assistant Special Services Officer, Sheppard Field, expressed thanks for the box of goodies and assured her that it was enjoyed by the men, especially by those confined to the hospital. "It cheered them no end," the officer added.

DRAFT LOTTEY TO BE HELD MARCH 19

National selective service headquarters this week put the machinery in motion for the third draft lottery which will take place in Washington March 17 and will assign order numbers for men between the ages of 20 and 44 who registered last week.

Officials said that between 8,000 and 9,000 capsules will be drawn from the historic gold fish bowl in the first war time lottery since 1918, and the third since enactment of the selective service act in 1940.

It is not expected that many of the new registrants will be called in the immediate future as present plans of Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, are not to integrate the order number of the recent registrations into the existing lists. Serial numbers in the third draft will be marked T-1, T-2, etc., and the numbers in the capsules will begin with 10,001.

General Hershey has ruled that "publication of order numbers, or even names, in communities is authorized, as such publication will not reveal exactly the total number of registrants enrolled throughout the nation on Feb. 16—information which is still restricted by the war department."

Service Flag Blessed; To Remain in Church

Muenster's service flag was blessed by Rev. Frowin Koerdt, pastor of Sacred Heart church, Sunday preceding afternoon services, and was raised in the front of church, near St. Joseph's altar, where it will remain for the war's duration. It now displays 60 stars. An inspiring short sermon was given by Father Frowin before the blessing ceremony.

Boxes Placed to Collect Collapsible Tin Tubes

Receptacles for empty collapsible metal tubes were placed in the city's drug stores this week in an effort to save this metal which will be allocated by the War Production Board. Citizens are urged to save and deposit this metal in the boxes that have been set up for this purpose. All collapsible tubes, such as those that come with tooth paste, shave cream, face cream, etc., are valuable. They are needed in the national defense program.

Rooster "Mothers" Chicks

Ever hear of a rooster taking care of a brood of baby chicks? Well, Paul Nieball has one and it's saving him the expense of buying a brooder this year. The Jersey White Giant capon is on display at the Muenster Hatchery this week through Saturday. He clucks like a hen and is very solicitous of his charges.

Mrs. Price McCool Dies In Fort Worth Hospital Monday

Resident of County for 45 Years; Buried at Whitesboro Tuesday

Mrs. Price McCool, 67, a resident of Cooke county for 45 years, died in a Fort Worth hospital Monday at 7:10 p. m., following a year's illness.

The body was taken to Gainesville for funeral services held at the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. Rev. G. P. McCollum, the pastor, officiated, after which burial was in the cemetery at Whitesboro.

Mrs. McCool is survived by her husband; six sons, Jim of El Paso, Sloan of Grand Prairie; Sam and Sterling, Gainesville; George, Madeira, Calif., and Darrell, Muenster; and three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Wright, Madeira; Mrs. Clarence Hudspeth, Callisburg, and Mrs. R. O. Feares, Mansfield, and 19 grandchildren.

Mrs. McCool was born in Alabama on February 6, 1875, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spencer. She was Miss Josephine Spencer before her marriage to Mr. McCool.

Mr. and Mrs. McCool came to Muenster about 45 years ago, settling north of town on the farm now belonging to R. W. Trew, and later moving to the farm now occupied by Frank Trubench. They then moved to Myra where they resided several years and then settled south of Muenster in the Linn community where they spent 20 years. In January 1941, Mrs. McCool suffered a stroke and since that time she and her husband lived with their children.

FLIER WHO GAVE AERIAL FIRE ALARM IS STILL UNKNOWN

The unknown hero of Perrin Field has put the authorities, surrounding populace, and mainly the Public Relations Office into a "flat spin" as to his identity.

The flier, whoever he may be, deserves credit for his dives on the community of Marysville, which awakened the townspeople to the fact that their post office and general store were a-fire. His low-diving planes led to the discovery of the blaze which was put out without serious damage.

But, in aviation circles, the pilot was violating regulations since he was flying over a town at an altitude less than 1000 feet ("buzzing" the town as fliers call it) and is subject to punishment. Probably for this reason, the pilot is reluctant to make himself known and claim the glory. Army officials, however, promise that in this instance no action will be taken against the "offender" but plead for his identity to halt rumors that everybody from the commanding officer to Yehudi was the "buzzing pilot."

MUENSTER RED CROSS TOTAL IS $466.09

Seven dollars more has been added to Muenster's Red Cross purse it was revealed this week. This amount, added to that already tabulated brings this community's total to $466.09, instead of $459.09, as reported last week. The seven dollars represents pieces of scrap iron sold off the pile before it was bought last Wednesday. Through an error the Enterprise failed to include this amount and is glad to make the correction.

Charles Reiter, Jr., To Enter Baylor Med. School

Charles Reiter, Jr., now taking a pre-medical course at Saint Mary's University, San Antonio, has been accepted by Baylor Medical School in Dallas, where he will be a student next year. According to word received here he is the only member of his class qualifying for Baylor. Young Reiter is a son of Charles Reiter of Kerrville, former local resident and postmaster. Charles, Jr., was born here and received his early education at the parochial school.

Camp Wolters Soldiers Home For Sunday Visit

All the Muenster youths stationed at Camp Wolters were here Sunday to spend the day with relatives except Pvt. Frank J. Haverkamp and Pvt. Andy Yosten who were on guard duty. Those at home were Pvs. Pete Stoffels, Ted Voth, Walter Becker, Ed Swirczynski, Joe Sicking, Lawrence Felderhoff, Carl Schilling, Elmer Fette, Curley Fuhrmann, Dick Trachta and Pat Stelzer.

Car Accident Is Fatal To Luther Gentry

Blowout Cause of Wreck; Two Companions Escape Without Serious Injury

J. Luther Gentry, 52, was fatally injured Saturday shortly after 5 p. m., when the pickup in which he was driving with two companions, overturned just west of Bud's Cafe on U. S. Highway 82. Quay Roane and Griff Prather of Saint Jo, escaped serious injury. Roane, driver of the car, suffered minor head injuries and Prather sustained a back injury and broken ribs. The men were coming to Muenster from St. Jo.

It was said a blowout caused the car to swerve, hit two trees, and turn completely over before it came to rest on its side. Motorists on the highway and persons at Bud's Cafe rushed to the scene of the accident but Gentry was dead when they reached him.

Funeral services were held at the Hood Baptist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. E. G. Pennington and Rev. O. J. Robinson, Baptist ministers of Gainesville, officiating. Burial was in Fairview cemetery, Gainesville, under the direction of George J. Carrol and Son Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Charles Burk, Dude Rosson, Darrell McCool, Arthur Hellman, Robert Trew and Willie Griffin.

Mr. Gentry is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Kathryn Martin of Amarillo, and a son, J. L. Gentry, Jr., of Muenster. Also his mother, Mrs. J. O. Gentry of Albuquerque, N. M., and four sisters and one brother.

The deceased was born in Wise county. When he was a young man he was a locomotive fireman on a train. He spent some 20 years at this work and later settled on a farm in the Linn community. Four months ago he moved to town and resided with his son in the H. K. Kathman house in the west part of the city. He was employed in the local oil fields since that time.

Muenster people attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hellman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hellman, Al Eberhart, Joe Trachta, Ira Yeakley, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Andy O'Connor, Mrs. Matt Stelzer, Jake Papel and Frank Hess.

Tin Can Collection Campaign Underway, Will Sell as Scrap

Muenster has launched a local tin can collection campaign. Mayor Ben Seyler is supervising the work and has furnished a large truck as a receptacle for the tin. Any type of tin can is suitable for collection, the mayor said. The truck is parked back of the Seyler Motor company and remains in position day and night to receive cans. Persons are requested to dump their cans on the truck and not on the ground. Cooperation in this matter will save the services of a worker who would have to fill the truck from the ground heap.

The tin collected is to be sold to a plant in Fort Worth and money derived from the sale is turned over to the Red Cross.

"If possible, flatten the cans," Mayor Seyler said. "By having them flat a much heavier load can be hauled on each trip."

The campaign serves a two-fold purpose. Not only is money received from this scrap, but also many an unsightly pile of cans may be removed from city yards and alleys and serve a good purpose.

Parochial High Students To Take First Aid Course

A Red Cross First Aid Course will begin next Monday for pupils of the parochial high school, it has been announced. Vernie Keel of Gainesville will give the instructions. Lessons will take place each Monday afternoon at the school from 3 to 4:30.

This is the second Red Cross training course to be given here by Mr. Keel. Last Spring he instructed a group of adults, giving lessons in the Rural Electric office. Plans are also underway to have local firemen take the course in the near future if arrangements can be made with Mr. Keel.

Water Mains Repaired

Frank Hoedebeck, city water superintendent, and a crew of workers spent several days of this week repairing leaks in the water mains. Dallas Water Department men with their leak detector machine visited here Tuesday and discovered seven breaks. Approximately two million gallons of water was lost last month, "Hoedebeck

WRITE TO THE BOYS AT CAMP

Remember to write, and write often, to the boys at camp. Army life is strange and monotonous, especially at first. The boys look forward to letters from home. They have a yen for something, something that army regulated recreation cannot satisfy. That hunger is appeased with a letter from home.

Everything in the army is systematized. Marches are in formation and in step, dinner is the same for all campmates, bunks are exact duplicates of each other. Nothing is personal except letters. They are a soldier's own. They are as personal as a toothbrush.

The most important moment in a soldier's day, besides mess call, is when the mail pouch arrives. If his name isn't shouted, he feels left out and forgotten.

Write often, because a short note or a post card is better than nothing. Frequent short messages are better than an occasional ten-page letter. They fill the daily gaps of loneliness. They let him know you are thinking about him.

And never spill your troubles in a letter that goes to the khaki clad boy. Write cheerful stuff, even if your face is as long as a giraffe's neck. After all, he has plenty of troubles of his own, and besides he's out fighting a war. And don't expect an answer to every letter. Give him information on things that used to interest him when he was home. He's cut off from these things now, and must enjoy them through letters.

It is a job for us, one we can all take part in, to keep up our soldiers' ego and morale. Our boys will get the works many times before they are seasoned veterans. Imagine the balm of a cheery letter right after a bawling out from a leather-lipped first sergeant.

Those of us at home have an important place in our country's defense program. We must manufacture the morale that makes our buck privates into men we can be proud of. Uncle Sam expects us to do our duty.

So write to the boys. Not just to one, but to as many as you possibly can. Write especially to boys you think might be lonely or forgotten. Keep 'em cheered up with news from home.

Annual Pictures Taken:
 All of the student body who had not already done so, had pictures taken at the Breeding Studio Wednesday. They were accompanied by Sisters Agnes and Gerarda, who also underwent the ordeal. The prints of the snapshots taken a few weeks ago were also received. They will be sorted by the Annual's Picture Staff, and the favored ones will be printed in the Annual of 1942.

Red Cross:
 Beginning with next Monday, all of the students of Sacred Heart High will take part in a First Aid Course given by Vernie Keel of Gainesville. Classes will be given from 3:00 to 4:30 p. m. This course gives the students a splendid opportunity to become acquainted with the fundamentals so vital to American citizens at this time.

We are grateful to Mr. Keel for his willingness to conduct the classes. Thanks are also due Sister Gerarda whose initial idea is thus realized, and to Mrs. Gus Hellman who helped us to arrange for the course.

The returns of the sale of the scrap iron collected by Sacred Heart School were received during the past week and placed into the Red Cross Fund. The sum amounted to $39.00. The pupils of both the High School and the Grammar Grades are proud to have contributed their mite for the benefit of the Red Cross. We feel honored to have been able to contribute even in a small way to the defense of our Country.

Music in Typing:
 The typing class had a unique experience during its practice period. The students typed in rhythm to the accompaniment of Miss Rose Hennigan at the piano. All enjoyed the experience, not only because it was novel, but also because it added zest to the monotonousness of typing.

School Daze

MUENSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL

Edited this week by Bill Hamilton - Dossie Hamilton
 It's here again: That long dreaded day of six weeks exams, when all the guys and gals have to sit and wrack their brain to answer those long-drawn-out questions all teachers seem capable of asking. But we have done it before and we can and will do it again.

News while its hot: Gainesville Junior College is sponsoring a Gold

Cup tournament for the high schools near and far. The public school boys were invited, but since they have already discontinued basketball and have taken up other things it will be impossible to enter, much as they would like to. They will start their track activities as soon as the weather permits.

A stress of teaching fire prevention has been taken up in the school and all the students have been required to write fire prevention themes and to make a poster. They may choose any topic they wish to write on. Several of the students have entered the Annual Fire Prevention Poster Contest. Here's hoping they win. In addition, several improvements have been made over the building to improve the safety of the students.

Well, what's this? Something new? Well, well, well, it certainly is. A new linoleum has been purchased for the Home Economics Room and are we proud of it?

The high school has suffered considerable loss of students this last six weeks. Sam McDonald, Roy Schumacher, and Rosalie Lutkenhaus have withdrawn. We miss these students and would like very much to have them back. But wait, we have gained, too, because just this last Monday morning Bert Russell enrolled in the 10th grade. We welcome you to our school, Bert, and hope that you enjoy going here as much as we will enjoy having you.

Miss Wiedemann has been elected vice-president of the Exchange Club. Congratulations, Miss Wiedemann.

Mayor Proclaims Mar. 1 Through 6 As Texas Week

Designating March 1 Through March 6 As Texas Week
 WHEREAS, the approach of Texas Independence Day and Alamo Day herald a week of deep significance and profound meaning in the minds and hearts of all Texans; and

WHEREAS, I am prompted by the patriotic members of the Forty-second Legislature, as expressed in Senate Concurrent Resolution Number Eight, and by my own feelings of love, loyalty and patriotism toward my State:

NOW THEREFORE, I, Ben Seyler, Mayor of the City of Muenster, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of March 1 through March 6, 1942, as

TEXAS WEEK
 I urge all citizens of this municipality and of Texas to observe Texas Week in an appropriate manner. No one of us will fail to cherish the rich heritage which our founders and forefathers prepared for us of this generation.

During this week let us make much of the spiritual values of our history and of our traditions. Let us dedicate our lives afresh to ideals of statesmanship, character, leadership, and service. Let us make it possible, as did our forebears, for our own and for future generations to enjoy liberty of conscience, of speech, of the press, of worship, of public assembly, and all the other liberties which we cherish.

In this critical hour when democracy, even civilization itself, is at stake, it is more than ever fitting to commemorate the glorious deeds of those who laid the cornerstone of the Texas Empire. Let us prove ourselves not unworthy of the incomparable heritage left to us by pioneers and martyrs.

What they fought for in the past we are determined to hold. Remember Goliad, Remember the Alamo, REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of my

MARRIED MEN LIVE LONGER AFTER 40

NEW YORK—Get married, men if you want to increase your chances of living beyond 40. If you are a widower under 40, you'll have to get married again. As an example, the Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. says at age 40 the New York state death rate for males is 6.08 per 1,000 among the married.
 For bachelors it's more than double, 12.84. The widowers are still worse off, at 13.16.
 For women marriage doesn't make such a difference. At the same age—40—the married women have a death rate of 6.34; spinsters 6.07, and widows 6.70.

Knowing Your Groceries

"Cautious" Buying Should Be Unnecessary
 Here is a good rule to follow in selecting a grocery store: If you can send a child with your order and get good merchandise at a good price, you have a store where you can shop with confidence.
 Maybe you can save money by shopping where you must be "on your toes" all the time, but it is doubtful.
 The best system in the long run is to buy where you needn't be "careful", where quality merchandise is offered at correct prices.

MOSAICS of Sacred Heart High

Edited This Week By
 Rose Marie Endres - Marian Starke - Dolores Lehnertz
Notice:
 If any of our readers should happen to see a student or two walking around, surrounded by a halo, it's due to the fact that Lent has started. Resolutions have been made and everyone is, or should be, conscious of the Penitential Season. Father Frowin gave his usual Lenten sermonette to the students on Friday, and impressed upon us the thought of sacrifice and prayer.
New Schedule:

The past week marked the beginning of a six-day-a-week schedule for Sacred Heart High. The parents of the students were given questionnaires asking which they preferred, the six-day-a-week schedule or the same schedule that has been followed all the year. The majority favored the new arrangement, so classes were held on Saturday. Graduation exercises will probably be held about the first of May. However, the date has not been definitely set, for it is as yet unknown when the State tests will arrive, and all students will be given the opportunity to take these.

Six Weeks' Tests:
 The time for six-weeks' tests has called again. This accounts for seriousness and application of the pupils to their lessons. Everyone is studying late and worrying.

Seniors Receive Proofs:
 There was quite a bit of excitement among the Seniors last week

Vitamins aplenty here...

but do they ever reach your family table?

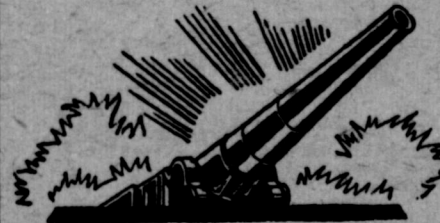

Vitamin-saving is easier with modern GAS cooking

THE FULL ENERGY of every American is necessary in this emergency and making America strong includes making Americans stronger.

Guns and Vitamins

... it takes both to win a war!

"AN ARMY TRAVELS ON ITS STOMACH"—this is one fundamental that has not been changed in the technique of war. Likewise our civilian defense cooperation can be no better than our physical ability to meet our wartime responsibilities. But all the food planning and careful marketing in the world cannot preserve healthful vitamins unless care is exercised in the preparation of the food for the table.

THE RIGHT KIND OF COOKING is especially important these days. It can mean the difference between giving your family foods rich in healthful vitamins—and serving meals that have very few vital elements. Vitamin saving is easier with modern gas cooking methods.

Be Alert, Don't Wait Be Prepared to Guard And Protect Property

Handling of Fires Set By Jap Raiders Told By Honolulu Fire Chief

The following account of the first American city to fight fires under an air attack is excerpted from a letter by Fire Chief W. W. Blaindel of Honolulu, to N. F. P. A., General Manager Bugbee.

"Surprise was the word for it. While certain plans to be followed in the event of an attack on this city had been made, more were in a formative condition.

"Within half an hour after the first attack, all off-duty firemen were called in by radio broadcasts from three stations, and all but a few who live in rural Oahu had reported within two hours. Scores of volunteers thronged the stations, and volunteer workmen from other city departments were assigned as emergency firemen.

"Thus it was possible to use each of our units as a company. In addition to this nine commercial trucks were commandeered; each was loaded with 1,200 feet of 2 1-2 inch hose and placed in strategic locations, each in charge of a trained fireman, whose position was filled by a volunteer. This was also done with our one reserve pumper and a Reo truck with booster equipment.

"During the 72 hour period following the first attack, one unit only was dispatched to each alarm. Boxes which came in were not transmitted, all assignments being made by telephone. During the height of the attack, no effort was made to mop up, it being felt that immediately after a fire had been extinguished enough to prevent its spread, apparatus should be returned to quarters in readiness for other fires.

"As near as we of the Fire Department can tell, there were no incendiary (Thermite) bombs dropped, all of them being demolition.

"Necessarily, our efforts were directed toward the best protection possible for the high value district and the waterfront. Three of our companies had been sent to Hickam Field where fires had been started in hangars, barracks and planes on the landing field. Hickam's apparatus had been put out of service by bombs.

"The men of these three companies stayed with their lines amid a hail of machine gun bullets from raiding planes and shrapnel from large demolition bombs. The hydrants were rendered useless when the main was broken by a bomb and our three pumps drew water from the bomb crater, pumping through 6,400 feet of 3-inch and 2 1-2 inch hose, the last apparatus returning to the city at midnight.

"Each piece of apparatus bears holes from bomb fragments and bullets. One pumper was put out of commission when machine gun fire demolished the ignition switch, and had to be towed back. One hose-wagon was set on fire, presumably by an incendiary bullet which pierced the gasoline tank. The motor, however, was not badly damaged and this piece will be put back into service soon, as repairs are being made on the body. The engine was put back into commission the same afternoon.

"Our greatest loss and the one most keenly felt was that of two captains, one with 34 years service and the other with 23 1-2 years, and a hoseman who had been in the department a little over three years. These men were killed by machine gun bullets from div. bombers and may God hasten the day when those treacherous Japs shall pay for this. Six other firemen were injured, one a lieutenant; one has returned to duty and the five are still in the hospital recuperating from wounds in various parts of their bodies.

"On December 7th we answered 39 alarms. Not all were caused by bombs, and not all the bombs that hit buildings started fires. The largest, in the semi-residential district, involved 13 buildings before it was brought under control with one hosewagon manned by a captain and six hosemen. This loss will approximate $165,000. The engine which ordinarily responds with this hosewagon confined another fire to the building of origin, scorching the walls and roofs of houses on either side.

"Simultaneously with the above mentioned fires, which were only a block apart and both started by bombs from the same plane, a large two-story wooden frame school, built in the shape of a U, caught fire, probably from sparks from one or both of the other two fires. Meanwhile a high wind had arisen, which prevented our streams from doing very effective work. Nevertheless this building was saved by the crews from the engine above mentioned, the lieutenant in charge having left two men at the dwelling fire using hydrant pressure and moving in on this fire, in conjunction with another engine which had been dispatched. Using four 2 1-2-inch lines they confined this fire to the second floor and roof of the bottom of the U.

"We have recently purchased seven small trucks without body, which our shop is rapidly converting into hosewagons. In the event of another air raid, we have made arrangements for nine other trucks and drivers to report at designated points, together with sufficient volunteers to man them. Our fire wardens (civilian volunteers) are constantly instructing our people how to handle incendiary bombs and continually warning them of the not remote possibility of other attacks.

"As for advice to Fire Chiefs in other cities, I can only say this. Prepare for the worst and insist on getting enough equipment on hand to handle the biggest fire they can imagine, in the most hazardous district of their cities."

of the soldiers are Catholic so they cut out the meat in a third of the Friday meals.

A correction is in order concerning this column's description of the camp last week. The enrollment is 40,000, not 60 or 70 thousand. And the location, more specifically is 40 miles from Rolla, 80 from Springfield, 140 from St. Louis and about 600 from God's country. Since the mist has cleared we also find rather attractive country. Nature's paint brush applied a few weeks hence will probably compensate to some degree for the comparative isolation.

Saturday brought our first experience of spending the day out with pack, mess kit, canteen, etc. To the novice getting all that kind of stuff together and properly strapped on is the worst kind of problem, especially in view of the fact that a person has such a limited time to do it.

This hurry up stuff is one angle of the service that's really irritating. A person can be loading for an hour and then get orders to change clothes, put on his pack and fall out right now. Seems unreasonable but the purpose, so they say, is to train men to have everything in order and learn to get out in the least possible time. Moments are precious in the battle zone.

Getting back to the pack, it's the most confusing array of canvas, straps, buckles, snaps, loops, etc., that I've ever encountered. But everything has its uses, and once the folding process is complete it includes an amazing quantity of equipment in a compact easily accessible arrangement.

All we packed for our first outing was canteen, mess kit and raincoat. Went out on a detail to clean up behind carpenters on a construction project—moving nail kegs, scrap lumber, cement, tools and what not, besides general housecleaning behind fellows who tramped about in muddy boots. Normally that job would have been a cinch but we were working in overshoes in sneaky, sticky clay mud. Imagine walking several hours with heavy shoes and overshoes over black plowed land after a rain. That's something like it.

At noon we ate like typical campaigners, in mess kits, and served from a truck. Not a bit different from eating in the field at harvest time.

More of that is coming soon. In fact, so we're told, the worst pe-
