Ross Point judged one of State's top communities

This year again millions of Americans enjoyed the long Memorial weekend, regarding it primarily as an occasion to get away from work and start their summer recreation. Lakes were crowded; so were the highways leading to and from them.

It was a good occasion to live up the freedom and abundance which bless our nation. And it was an occasion to recall that the blessings had their origin in the sacrifices of men who served their country in war. First there were those of the Revolutionary War, who paid a great price for our freedom from England. Also the Civil War soldiers of both sides whose bloody conflict eventually determined that the Union would endure and without slavery. Our relatives of previous generations also put their lives on the line in two World Wars and lesser other wars to help make the world safe for democracy.

In all of those conflicts our fighting men were honored as our representatives in a noble cause, and the public cooperated completely in supplying all their needs.

But attitudes changed in the Korean War. Millions objected to the government's involvement and allowed their resentment to spill over on the unfortunate soldiers who had the misfortune to be ordered into a no-win situation. That conflict was the first in which American attitude was divided toward both the government and its fighting men.

The same attitude prevailed in the Vietnam War, only more so. The media was more hostile, the demonstrating was more vocal, more rebellious, more destructive, and often actually sympathetic to the enemy. These characters were equally insulting to the soldiers, denouncing their methods but cheering the enemy's method, constantly belittling US success in the fighting but exaggerating enemy success.

Our country cannot deny that these periods were about the most shameful of its history. It faced the spectacle of millions of dissenters many demonstrating destructively, many in actual revolt, and the entire bunch scorning the patriotic young men who lived up to their duty in spite of the unpopular cause.

Then came an unfortunate circumstance in a very unfortunate situation. When it became apparent that US politicians abandoned their original purpose of helping a free people and switched to the no-win policy, a reasonable public could not fault the soldiers. They were only following orders. Any fair minded person should have known during the war and after that the soldiers deserved a better attitude than they received. In the years since then the veterans still have not lived down the ill feeling of their many antagonistic critics.

This Memorial Day, we can proudly observe, the attitude seems to be changing. TV news showed a Washington event which specially honored the Vietnam veterans. Meanwhile the American Legion and VFW are featuring these previously forgotten men in Memorial services. Concerned people are getting the word around that Viet veterans, though they did not return as winners are heroes as much as anyone else. Or perhaps more so. They did their job in a savage war in spite of hostility from the folks back home.

This welcome change can be credited partly to President Reagan. During his campaign he pledged that "never again will

The Ross Point Community is exceedingly proud and $300 richer since last Friday when it was judged one of the four regional winners in a state-wide community improvement program. Since the competition advances only to regional, Rosston has the distinction of being officially declared one of the top four communities of Texas.

The rating was announced Friday after a panel of judges had completed its visits to the four contestants of Region 2. The other three were May of Brown County, East Sweden of McCulloch County and Dessau of Travis County. The judges visiting Ross Point Wednesday found the community enthusiastically showing the features which had won the district title earlier in the month plus more points of interest, such as a skit presenting accomplishments of the year and a display of craft work.

This year's contest marks the end of the improvement program of recent years. Reasons given are that this kind of contest is losing interest after many years, and also that previous sponsors are withdrawing because IRS no longer permits the expenditure as tax deductible. Along with this problem of vanishing funds the program is concerned with expenses such as prize awards and travel.

However Neil Tibbets, county extension agent, expects another program serving the same purpose. Probably judging would be based on records rather than tours and competition would be only county wide rather than district or regional.

The Ross Point Community wishes to thank Donnie Hess of H&W Meat Co. of Muenster, Mrs. Bernice Sicking of Jr. Elite of Muenster, Mrs. Elvis Dustin and John Leftwich of Dustins' the Gainesville National Bank of Gainesville and Herkey Biffle of Biffle Oil Co. and everyone else who had any part or helped in any way to make the event a success and win the first place in Region 2.

One of the community's grain fields, looking fine a few days ago, was transformed into a crop failure during Tuesday night's downpour and high wind. The Muenster grain outlook is deteriorating rapidly. Gary Rainwater Photo

Rain delays bumper crop harvest

The important news of this week is what is not happening. A bumper grain crop is in the fields but all combines are idle. Presently the community is a week behind and it will be delayed several more days before machinery can get on the saturated ground.

First grain delivered here came to Muenster Mill during the weekend. It had a high moisture content but signs were good to have combines in full swing early this week. Ground had firmed up sufficiently since .91 inch of rain on the 16th and 17th. But the situation changed Sunday with 1.20 inches, plus .90 on Monday and 1.65 on Wednesday, a total of 3.75 inches. Land is soaked and the forecast is discouraging.

At the same time the drying situation is not good. Matured grain uses no moisture and it also shades the ground, both retarding the drying. The best to hope for now is an extended drying period with no hard wind to topple the grain. Some grain damage is already reported from the high wind and heavy downpour of Tuesday night. Ideal conditions from now on, however, will make it possible to salvage a good crop from the discouraging outlook. A good yield is still there but it has a long wait before it can be gathered in, perhaps a week if drying weather prevails.

Until the wet spell the season outlook was somewhat better than last year. Yield was higher than the 1980 surprise crop and prices are about the same, at $3.80 to $3.85 per bushel.

Following Tuesday's rain the local moisture measure is 7.43 for May and 17.40 for the year, slightly above normal after lagging behind for almost a year and a half. With an average of 36 inches per year the five month average figures to 15 inches.

Reports from the rural area are that Tuesday's rain topped 2 inches in many locations. Jim Penton of Rosston says this is the first time in 15 years that Clear Creek has been over the banks. In this area creeks are controlled by detention lakes, all of which are far above the spillway level.

Temperature readings have been mild, according to Steve Mosler's low and high readings of the week. They were May 21, 56 and 80; May 22, 67 and 81; May 23, 66 and 90; May 24, 62 and 84; May 25, 60 and 82; May 26, 65 and 86; May 27, 64 and 86.

Two arrests disturb holiday

In police activity on Friday, May 22, two Oklahoma men were arrested for possession of marijuana. The driver of the vehicle was driving with a suspended driver's license. Pleading out on Tuesday, May 26, the driver of the vehicle received a one year probation and a $350 fine. The other received a 6 month probation and a $200 fine for possession of marijuana. According to Police Chief Helen Tompkins, it was a quiet Memorial weekend with only a few minor fender benders. Other than the Friday arrests, no other arrests were made.

Rene Stelzer advances to State UIL voice competition

Rene Stelzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Stelzer, will compete in the State UIL Voice competition in Austin on June 2. In regional competition in Denton, earlier, she received a rating of Superior (1), which qualified her to advance to the State level.

During the past few years, Rene has won several awards for singing. In 1980 she was named the Music Teachers National Association State winner in its annual competition, and represented the state of Texas in San Antonio. In 1980 she also received a rating of I in the Cooke County Music Teachers Association competition. This year she again made a rating of I in the CCMTA contest and was named top singer and received a $75 Scholarship award. At the recent Muenster High School All Awards Banquet she received an award for being named to Who's Who in the Hornet Band.

Rene Stelzer has been a voice student of Mrs. Harold (Cecilia) Kafer for the past three years. Mrs. Kafer will be unable to attend the state contest, therefore Ms. Annetta Earle of Gainesville will accompany Rene on the piano. Rene will sing "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" for her vocal selection.

Swim season opens Saturday

Swimming season at Muenster will begin Saturday at 1 p.m. following a delay of about a week for a general fix-up and paint-up program. Joe Bartush, pool manager, said the improvements have given a fresh, bright look to the place.

The main project was paint for all of the interior, and the quality of that job was enhanced by sand blasting all of it to provide a good surface. It should last longer as well as look better. Another addition was a coat of non-skid paint on the sidewalk surrounding the pool, also paint and non-skid at the children's pool. More improvements were made in showers and dressing rooms.

As in previous years, the pool will be open daily except Monday, the hours will be 7 to 9 p.m. and the charge is 75 cents per person regardless of age.

Also as before, the pool will be available for special occasions any time it is not officially open, that is on Monday and before 1 and after 7 on other days. The

MHS grads told persistence is first essential to success

Persistence and determination were highly recommended to Muenster High School graduates as the way to a happy and successful life. The advice was given by Dr. Alton Laird, president of Cooke County College at his graduation address Friday night in MHS auditorium.

Dr. Laird named a long list of eminently successful people, persons who had a great impact on history or on social and economic conditions, but only after they had endured a long series of disappointments. The story of this country, and other countries as well, was created by men who overcame early failures and kept trying. Even when they reached a goal they kept driving on to more success.

One of those men was Abraham Lincoln. His life was crowded with disappointments, a long list of defeats in the struggle with eventually ended in 1860 with his election to the presidency. Without his persistence and intense dedication to his high ideals, our nation would not have experienced the benefit of his great leadership during the agony of its civil war. Dr. Laird told about a number of others who are world famous because they refused to give up when the going was tough. Such men as Churchill, the free world's inspiration during World War II, and Einstein and Edison, and Admiral Perry. They all had discouraging beginnings but are rated now among the all time greats. On one occasion Edison and his associates saw years of their accomplishment destroyed in a fire, and while it was still burning he said "We start building tomorrow."

Likewise in the field of sports, the records are crowded with men who had to overcome physical hardships and advanced by sheer determination to eminence in their field... Like Lee Trevino and Lou Brock and Tom Dempsey. Also like a number of runners who started as cripples and became champions.

Along with persistence the grads were reminded not to overlook the smaller details. Michael Angelo was quoted as saying that perfection is no trifle, but trifles make perfection.

As a parting thought Dr. Laird urged aiming for the top and keeping trying. "You'll be surprised what you can do. Persistence makes dreams come true."

Urban Endres, president of the school board, assisted by Dick Winn, principal, presented diplomas to twenty six graduates. At the same time Joni Sturm and Edgar Dyer, class sponsors performed the traditional courtesies of changing rings and tassels.

Mr. Winn also made several other presentations. To Valedictorian, John Zimmerer and Salutatorian, Barbara Wimmer he gave statuettes as trophies for their leading grades, and scholarships from state colleges and church related colleges. To five National Honor Society students, Steve Luke, Benji Luke, Glenn Fisher, John Zimmerer and Judy Dittfurth, he gave scholarships from West Texas State University. And to Judy Dittfurth he presented an award for perfect attendance.

Father Denis honored on silver jubilee of ordination

A Mass and reception Sunday honored Father Denis Soerries, OSB, on the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Participating with him in the 5 p.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church were seven clergymen as concelebrants along with members of his family and the parish.

The speaker was Father Edward Chrisman of the Amarillo diocese, an old friend and former teacher at Subiaco Academy. He asked his hearers to meditate on a priest's calling, which is primarily to serve God and save his own soul, like everyone else. However, his service to God leads to another concern, which is to serve the flock to which he is assigned as a shepherd. His purpose is to guide and lead with special emphasis on kindness as an expression of the Christian love. He related short anecdotes as illustrations of pleasant ways to do the work of the Lord.

The service opened with an introductory reading by Dan Luke on the honoree's biography plus a welcome to his family and visiting clergy. The opening procession, led by local members of the K of C Fourth Degree, included the priests and family members and the altar boys.

Letter to the Editor...

My very dear friends,
The proverb says that: "shared joys are double joys and shared sorrows are half sorrows." Consequently I would like to share the following with you.

On the twentieth, Mother Julia, Sr. M. Bernadette and I went to the airport in Memphis to meet Father Johannes Föhn, a nephew of the late, well known music teacher of Muenster. Father Föhn had spent a week with the Oblates of St. Francis de Sales in Philadelphia. He belongs to that Congregation. The latter is not the same as the "Salesians" from whom many of you get "begging letters", as I did when I had the Mission Club at SHHS. Father Johannes Föhn will visit Holy Angels till June first. Then he will leave from Memphis airport for Philadelphia where the Oblates conduct three large schools. Having bid farewell to that historic place, he will spend a few days at one of their houses on the coast and finally fly to Zurich. Prior to his visit here, Father Föhn visited practically all the relatives of us Swiss Sisters - ten in number. He will bring a personal report to them on his return.

Father Föhn remembers Muenster very well, because Sr. M. Leonarda was not only an ardent music teacher, but also a great letter writer and distributor of photos of all the activities she carried on. Who could have forgotten those recitals on the flower-decked stage in the old hall, at school close? By and by it was even two- the beginners and the advanced. Moreover, the parents of each student were expected to be present. Father Föhn got this extended permission for travel as a gift for his Silver Jubilee as a priest.

I think this will suffice, but I had to share my joy with you, my dear friends, down here in Texas. Always your friend, Sister M. Theresina Grob, OSB

American soldiers be called upon to fight a no-win war." The quote is satisfying also in that it assures us there will be no more national humiliations like Korea or Vietnam. Herafter the country as well as its fighting men can hold heads high like they used to.

About Memorial Day, it is 113 years old this year. It originated during the Civil War when Southern women began decorating the graves of both Confederate and Union soldiers who died in the conflict. May 30 came to be the day informally chosen for this tradition. In 1868, four years after the war ended, Major General John A. Logan of the Grand Old Army of the Republic officially designated May 30 as Memorial Day "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country in the late rebellion...with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year."

After World War I the American Legion took over the duties of maintaining Memorial Day, honoring those who died not only in the Civil War, but also in the Spanish American War and World War I.

In 1971 a federal law was passed declaring the fourth Monday of May as Memorial Day, honoring the soldiers who died in all of the nation's wars.

Locally the day honors not only those who died in war but also the veterans who died after returning from war.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Members of Congress have been patting themselves on the back all week, sharing congratulations for having passed a really tight federal budget resolution that is the first step toward putting this country back on sound financial footing.

I supported passage of that budget, but I can't help but believe that we should have put our own House in order before we began our attempt to put the rest of the country straight. It's true we finally voted to forego a personal salary increase and trim some committee activities. But while wielding a heavy axe when dealing with other federal departments, we failed to fully recognize the extent of the malaise of waste that infected many areas of our own Congressional budget.

An article in U.S. News and World Report this month brought many such spending blunders to my attention. I'll have to admit that many items that appear on a formal budget as reasonable sounding line items, in practical use turn out to be perfect examples of the type of waste that we have felt so free to preach against when spotted in someone else's house.

I certainly cannot defend $16,000 worth of new furniture to decorate three Republican and Democratic leaders' offices in the House, while the furniture used by their predecessors sits in storage.

Nor can I defend or justify the cost of maintaining a private gymnasium, swimming pool and attendants for Congressmen and I can't seem to find a Congressman who will admit to having time to ever use the facilities anyway.

There are many, many other individual items that I cannot and will not defend. There are others that may sound excessive, but are necessary to meet accepted constituent services needs. The costs of the 70,000 flags flown over the Capitol, for instance, and requested by (and paid for by) many schools, civic organizations and individuals. A long-standing House tradition, but one that now costs $22,000 just for the personnel needed to fly the flags. Printing costs and radio and TV studio costs are debatable, perhaps, but play an important role in my attempts to keep in constant communication with the people I serve. These programs, by the way, are discontinued during election periods to avoid charges of political use of the services.

The largest single expense item in my Congressional budget is travel. Even though I continue to believe that frequent contact with people I serve is absolutely essential (and it's cheaper for me to come to see them, than to expect large numbers of them to come to Washington), I have been making fewer trips back to the District and crowding more and more visits into each trip. Inflation has hit Congress, too, don't forget. The cost of airline tickets alone has almost doubled since I've been in office.

I'd also point out that I have returned a total of $58,625.12 to the U.S. Treasury from my allowed Congressional budget during 1979 and 1980 in a continuing personal effort to economize. I assure you that I will continue that effort and do whatever necessary to see that similar economies are spread over the entire future House budgets.

$150,000 GOLD

When President Reagan made his first television speech to the people, he illustrated the inflation part of our "economic mess" by holding a dollar bill in one hand and a quarter, dime and penny in the other. He explained that the purchasing power of a 1960 dollar is now 36 cents and if current inflation rates continue, in three years it will be only a quarter.

Inflation became a problem commensurate with Lyndon Johnson's "Great Society" welfare programs which affected the purchasing power of our money after 1965.

The American Institute of Economic Research has completed a detailed analysis of inflation for the period 1965 through 1980. Their studies demonstrated "that the purchasing power of the dollar is decreasing 4 cents (in 1965 dollars) per year. In 1965, this was only a 4 percent loss of purchasing power. But after 15 years, in 1980, only 40 cents remained of the 1965 dollar's 100 cents of purchasing power; thus the loss of 4 more cents of purchasing power was a 10 percent loss in 1980. At this rate (and, remember, it is the actual trend), and only 4 cents in purchasing power of the 1965 dollar would remain in 1989. "That would be gone," reports the Institute, "by 1990, when prices would tend to infinity and the dollar would become worthless."

Now what does this mean to Mr. and Mrs. Average American? Well, for instance, let's say an average couple worked hard and saved their money so that by 1965 at age 40 they had accumulated $10,000 in United States Savings Bonds. They planned so that by 1990, when the husband reached age 65, they would have a nice nest egg to help them in their retirement years. If inflation continues at the same average rate that it has since 1965, by 1990 the $10,000 in bonds would be essentially worthless. Right now they are only worth $4,000 in 1965 purchasing power.

As the value of our money, its purchasing power decreases, prices increase and tremendously so. If present policies continue the Institute estimates that the price of gold by 1990 would exceed $150,000 an ounce. Prices, it must be remembered, are simply exchange ratios between various goods and/or goods and a medium of exchange. Our medium of exchange, the dollar, will have lost all its value, all its purchasing power in terms of 1965 by 1990, if present trends continue.

When it is recalled that in 1965, 35 dollars would purchase an ounce of gold, but if trends continue as they have for the last 15 years, in just 25 years, by 1990, it will require 150,000 dollars to buy an ounce of gold, it should be clear what is meant by the dollar becoming essentially worthless.

It is true, of course, these trends may not continue. But that is the whole point of what President Reagan is attempting to do. In order to halt these trends, it will require tremendous support from the American people for the programs of the President. The lesson of history is clear. We can ignore the warnings of President Reagan, and continue our profligate ways, buying votes with welfare money, or we can "bite the bullet" and make the necessary reforms.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

A great deal of attention has been focused recently on the problems of maintaining an adequate state of military readiness. The dangers inherent in letting this shield of readiness slip can all too easily be monitored.

There has been some effort underway to bridge this dangerous gap, notably through trying to increase the number of military personnel that we can move into the world's trouble spots. But there is another, less noticed but more severe problem hampering our efforts to attain military readiness and that is the sagging capability of our nation's defense industrial base.

After being churned up to provide much of the winning margin in past wars, our industrial base that supplies the tanks, ships, guns and other war material vital to any defense effort has been allowed to sink to a dangerous state of inadequacy. And, what's worse, there's no quick-fix, easy solution in sight.

The key to rapid mobilization is the availability of weapons and equipment. It is more important to have material in being than to have large, but unequipped forces.

Throughout most of our history, Americans have put manpower mobilization ahead of material mobilization, both in time and in emphasis, and in doing so, we have put the cart before the horse. This has resulted in leaving us in their situation where strategic decision-making has frequently been limited by the availability of material.

Rising costs and progressively longer acquisition process are now forcing us to focus our attention on industrial base issues. Both of these factors seriously impair effective execution of the defense budget, and annoy our allies who must wait several years before military assistance agreements with the U.S. can be fulfilled due to long lead times.

A look at a few of our shortcomings is alarming.

The Army (taking into account the Army Guard which accounts for 50 percent of our projected ground combat forces) has only 65 percent of authorized levels of tanks and armored personnel carriers, and only 50 percent of self-propelled artillery, helicopters and radios.

Current stocks of air to air missiles would provide Air Force and Navy pilots only a few days worth of combat.

Inventories of spare parts for some key aircraft and ground equipment are sufficient for only 30 days for sustained operations.

And the defense industrial base is not capable of redressing these shortfalls within any relevant time frame.

We now face the worst of both worlds—chronically underfunded and dangerously low war reserve inventories increase the demand on an already weakened industrial base to eliminate shortages overnight in the event of mobilization. Yet, when we don't produce military hardware at efficient rates, greater industrial capacity is discouraged, costs rise and inventories remain low.

One answer to this question lies in stretching our defense contracting by moving toward more multi-year contracts. In the past, Congress has been reluctant to authorize contracts that stretch over several years, but this is vital if we are to capitalize on the economies of scale and provide the stable defense market that will lure contractors back into the industry.

This will also help reduce the long lead times that encumber development of so many weapons systems.

Without streamlining our defense procurement system, our other defense initiatives will have been for naught. Whatever other good intentions we might have for strengthening our defense posture will have gone down the drain.

Kathy Knabe Weds Darell Sicking

Kathy Knabe became the bride of Darell Sicking on Saturday, May 23 in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony officiated by Father Denis Soerries in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Knabe and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sicking.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal wedding gown of French organza, designed with a Queen Anne neckline, fitted bodice embellished with re-embroidered Chantilly lace that carried a tracery of seed pearls and aurora boreales. Sheer bishop sleeves were caught to a double ruffled lace cuff. The elegant bouffant skirt was tiered on tier of lace, falling to a cathedral length train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a brimmed garden hat of embroidered tulle. Narrow lace softened the edge of the hat and a band of bridal ribbon surrounded the crown; it was tied in a bow in back, with streamers the length of the veil.

Her bridal flowers were arranged in a white lace doily, in a cascade of white roses and sweetheart roses with chosen colors of forget me nots encircling.

In keeping with tradition, she wore a ring formerly belonging to her late great-grandmother, Mrs. Leo Rohmer; and she borrowed her mother's rosary. Her jewelry was a gold chain with a heart-shaped opal and matching earrings, gift from the groom.

Attendants

The bride's cousin, Mary Lin Koesler was her maid of honor and Bernadette

Knabe, Reneta Walterscheid, Glenda Sicking and LaNell Sicking, were bridesmaids, wearing formal gowns of crepe de chine in pastel rainbow shades of orchid, pink, blue, apricot and green respectively. All were identical, with skirts tiered to the floor. They wore fresh flowers in their hair and carried baskets of flowers in the chosen rainbow colors.

Allison Knabe, a cousin was flower girl, wearing a pale green dress and Jeremy Johnston, a cousin was ring bearer.

Ronnie Sicking of Muenster was his brother's best man. Carl Sicking of Muenster, a brother and Weldon Sicking, groom's cousin and Phil Walterscheid a friend were groomsmen. Steven Knabe, bride's brother was junior groomsmen.

Joe Koesler and Herbie Knabe, both cousins of the bride, Steve Hennigan, groom's cousin and Dwayne Knabe, a friend, were ushers. Craig Voth and Max Koesler, cousins of the bride were Mass servers.

Wedding music was presented by Werner Becker, Sr. and his daughter, Theresa Krebs, vocalists and Ruth Felderhoff, organist.

Altar decorations included arrangements of mixed spring flowers and lighted candles.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance, hosted by parents of the couple, followed in the Community Center. Cathy Creed of Gainesville, groom's sister and Susan Yosten, bride's cousin registered 400 guests in the bride's book. Reception assistants were LeAnn and Carmen Sicking, Sue Yosten and Rhonda Endres.

The buffet dinner was catered by the Schneiders and Backroads played for dancing. Decorations in the reception rooms were created by Mrs. Aileen Knabe, with spring flowers dominating. A large hanging basket of white flowers was suspended from a central point over the dance floor. Natural wicker pieces held flowers and doves in a wall arrangement behind the bride's table. Guest tables held arrangements featuring white lace fans with spring flowers.

The three tiered wedding cake stood over a fountain and two heart shaped cakes were to each side. Flower decorations on individual layers emphasized the pastels of delicate rainbow colors. It was cut and served by Betty Rose Walterscheid. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart School and is a Cosmetology student at Cooke County College. The groom is a graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by Biffle Drilling Co.

When the couple returns from a trip to the Gulf Coast of Texas they will be at home in Muenster.

The Executive Committee and Board of Directors of District II, Texas Garden

Jobs depend on energy...

let's keep on working.

We Americans have always understood that we can't get something for nothing. We're hard-working people.

One of the things that has kept us working, and kept our standard of living climbing here in the Southwest, has been a ready supply of reasonably priced electric energy. It makes our labor more productive, and helps hold down the cost of the goods we produce. It helps keep our industries competitive, and that enables them to grow and employ more people.

The costs of energy everywhere keep rising. But an even bigger problem is making sure we have enough electric energy here.

At your electric company, we're working to keep this area attractive by supplying the electricity we all need at reasonable cost. We're planning ahead to keep our supply abreast of the need, so business and industry can plan confidently for their future here.

Because that means jobs here.

CCD observes close of year

The closing liturgy for 1981 CCD classes was held on Wednesday, May 13. Father Stephen Eckart was celebrant of the Mass and Samuel Fleitman, Michael Pagel, Weldon Hermes, Chris Klement, Jon Fleitman and Bubba Klement were Mass Servers.

A special privilege for CCD students observing the close of the school year was receiving Holy Communion under both species. Eucharistic ministers were James and Theresa Walterscheid, Dorothy Fisher, Mike Kleiss, Jerry and Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Eileen Fisher led the singing and Ruth Felderhoff accompanied on the organ. Terry Edmunds gave the First Reading, Doug Walterscheid read the Response and Gospel acclamation and Charlotte Fleitman gave the meditation: "Friendship" after Communion.

Father Stephen blessed the senior rings and the senior CCD teacher, Mrs. Mary Ann Fleitman presented them to the students. Following the ring presentation, Sr. Romana Rohmer announced the perfect attendance record for 1980-81. Sixty nine students earlier received perfect attendance records in their classrooms. A number of students had been absent only once. Sister Romana commended all students for attendance at the 33 religion classes.

Betty Rose Walterscheid thanked all who participated in the parish religion program and all who helped in its success. She led the congregation in the prayer for vocations as she has done each week during the school year.

After Mass all of the group were guests for a wiener roast on the parish parking lot.

Heads of 5 farm groups endorse voluntary beef promotion plan

On July 1, 1981, the Texas cattle industry will implement a voluntary 25-cent-per-head beef promotion investment program.

Under the new system, 25 cents will be collected on cattle and calves sold through participating markets, packers, dealers and order buyers. The funds will be remitted entirely to the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board for use in national programs of research, education and promotion.

Indorsed recently by five Texas organizations, the investment plan is designed to generate additional funding needed for aggressive beef market development.

The organizations initiating the 25-cent investment are the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., Texas Cattle Feeders Assn., Texas Farm Bureau, the Independent Cattlemen's Assn. and the Livestock Marketing Assn. of Texas.

At a meeting May 6 in Irving, Tex., these groups agreed to put the investment program in motion and also to form a beef promotion coordinating committee which will oversee the implementation of the entire effort.

The presidents of five Texas agricultural organizations and a representative from the National Livestock and Meat Board met recently to give final approval of plans for implementing a voluntary 25-cent-per-head beef promotion program in Texas, beginning July 1. The leaders (left to right) are Joe Hathoot of Texarkana, Livestock Marketing Association of Texas; R.L. Bliss of Tullia, Texas Cattle Feeders Association; Roy Wheeler of Pleasanton, Independent Cattlemen of Texas; James Mullins of Corwith, Iowa, chairman of the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board; John Cargile of San Angelo, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers; and Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, Texas Farm Bureau.

John attends Forestburg High School, where he has been vice-president, and secretary of the FFA Chapter, voted most congenial and participated in basketball and UIL events. He received his Lone Star Farmer last year from the Texas FFA. His agricultural program consists of stocker beef cows.

Forestburg News by Myrt Denham

The annual Perryman cemetery association fund raising supper will be held Thursday June 4 from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. At the Forestburg Community Center. The price per person will be $2.50 so make your plans to attend as there is always much good food at these affairs.

Mrs. Alice Shears and Angie Ward along with Mrs. Elva Carter spent Sunday p.m. May 17 visiting with Mrs. Martilla Brewer and other residents of the Yes-ter-Home in Saint Jo. Several folks have asked me who Elva Carter is-so for the records: Mrs. Elva Carter is the former Elva Whitesidesister to Mmes. Alice and Esther Shears. Mrs. Carter has purchased and lives in the house of the late Ollie and Audra Coleman.

Mrs. Louise Shults accompanied Mr. and Mrs. H.K. Iund of Chico to Lubbock for graduation exercises at Texas Tech. The Iund's daughter and Louise's granddaughter Miss Sherri Iund was a member of the graduating class whose exercises were held Fri. May 15. Our congratulations and best wishes to Sherri.

The Forestburg United Methodist Women's Group met Wed. p.m. May 20 at 2 o'clock in the annex of the local United Methodist Church. Mrs. Alice Shears, president, called the meeting to order and then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Laura Belle Jackson. The program "Children Without Homes: Exploring Their Problems" was the program for the day. After the program there was a very nice period of fellowship with fine refreshments served by Mrs. Jackson. Others present were: Mmes. Cleo Lanier, Decie Ellzey, Vera Mae McGee. Dorothy Thompson, Marion Sockwell and Myrt Denham.

We have a little more information for our readers on Myrtle McMillion - she is now a resident of the Bellmire Home in Bowie. Her address there is PO Box 1227, Bowie, Texas 76230. Am sure she would enjoy hearing from her many friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Vera Mae McGee had herself a very busy and enjoyable weekend May 16-18. She spent the weekend in Bowie with daughter Mrs. Edna Merle Hill. On Saturday the two ladies attended a wedding shower in Wichita Falls for Vera Mae's grandson Scott McGee and wife Lou. The Scott McGees now reside in Denton. On Sunday p.m. Vera Mae and Edna Merle attended a piano recital at United Methodist Church in Bowie for Julia Campbell's music class. Julia is a niece of Edna Merles. Monday night May 18 found Vera Mae and Edna Merle at Midway High School for the graduation exercises of the senior class of which Vera Mae's grandson Darryn McGee was a member. Darryn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris McGee.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wilson of Odessa visited with Mrs. Decie Ellzey Tues, May 19. Mrs. Wilson is Decie's granddaughter and the daughter of Decie's son Jerry.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Littell on Wed. May 20 were Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Box of Healdton, Okla. and Steve White of Dallas. Mr. Box and Ross are cousins and Steve is a brother to Mmes. Littell and Gretell Fanning.

Saturday evening May 23rd Ted Jackson's cousin Jerry Jackson of Hemphill, Texas visited with Ted and wife Laura Belle. Jerry says that Hemphill is about as close to Louisiana as you can get. Sunday May 24th visitors in the home of the Ted Jacksons were Bill and Virginia Eason of Era. Later that day Ted and spouse visited with Ted's sister Mrs. Eula Steen and other residents of the Yes-ter-Home in Saint Jo.

Mrs. Raymond Wood and Mrs. Gerold O'Brien and sons Tim and Collin of Wichita Falls spent the weekend of May 23rd - 24th with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hudspeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Eds, Mmes. Quilda Beavers and Alice Vonree all of Saint Jo visited with Mrs. Mollie Moore Sun. p.m. May 24th. Mmes. Beavers and Vonree also visited with Mrs. Decie Ellzey.

Keith Brewer of Dallas visited his mother Mrs. Frances Brewer Sunday May 24th.

Perryman Denham motored to Bowie on business Tuesday May 19 and then spent the afternoon visiting with his mother, Mrs. Joe Denham of the Bellmire home.

Mrs. Veda Brogdon and daughter Mrs. Becky Scott were in Wichita Falls Mon. May 25th where they visited with Veda's sister Mrs. Nina Eavenson and Veda's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Steadham.

Mmes. Vera Mae McGee, Decie Ellzey, Laura Belle Jackson and Gayle Edwards and daughter Veronica all attended the bridal shower honoring Miss Nancy Francis. This special occasion took place Sun. p.m. May 23rd in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Saint Jo. Food for thought: In China the older a person is the more respect he receives BUT in the USA the older a person gets the less respect he receives. In China is a HONOR to be old but in the USA it is a disgrace to be old.

The Forestburg Area has been blessed with some very nice rains here of late. It got a little rough for awhile Saturday May 23rd with some high winds, hail in some areas and good rains. Sunday night the 24th was a repeat performance except the wind was not as high but both nights provided us with a lot of thunder and lightning to say the least. Rain fall was varied over the area. Forestburgers report from 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches Saturday and about 1/2 inch Sunday. That's our weather report for this week.

Big league needs another ball team

Last chance for the Big League boys to have a baseball program this summer. That's the situation pointed out this week by Gary Rainwater of the Muenster Jaycees.

He says that the sign-ups at this time are sufficient to complete two teams, however it would be tiresome for a team to go through the season with only one opponent. So, there will be no Big League program unless at least one more team is organized.

Last chance to form that team is a meeting Sunday, 1:30, in the KC Hall. All

First Texas Savings to install ATM service

First Texas Savings Association, one of the state's largest financial institutions, and the Kroger Company, a major national supermarket chain, are teaming up to provide Texas consumers with the broadest range of off-site financial services possible--right in the store.

First Texas and Kroger announce they have formalized plans to provide automatic teller machine (ATM) service, with the first installations to be at selected Kroger stores in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. With this agreement, First Texas becomes the largest savings association in the state with a proprietary off-site ATM network. In addition, the system has been designed to offer First Texas customers statewide services not provided by other ATM networks, such as cash withdrawals from and deposits to checking and regular savings accounts, balance inquiries, and account transfers between checking, savings, mortgage and installment loan accounts.

The agreement marks a major breakthrough for First Texas into the electronic teller field, while for Kroger the arrangement is viewed as a significant step toward providing customers with total "one-stop" shopping.
