Church dedication set Sunday

When the attempt was made to assassinate Pope John Paul the report went out in minutes that it was done by a right wing extremist. Likewise when President Kennedy was killed the first reports were that his assailant was a right wing extremist. By an odd coincidence the Communist propaganda machine was so prompt with its explanation on each occasion as to make it suspect of waiting for each incident to happen, with its version of the answer ready for instant publication.

However, as the story unravels in both cases it appears that the criminal had strong pro-Soviet connections identifying him with the pro left extremists more than the right. Regarding Lee Harvey Oswald, there are still many Americans claiming that he was a tool of world communism assigned to the job of murdering Kennedy. It's further claimed that, true or false, it was more expedient for our government to let the subject remain a mystery.

A similarity exists in the case of Mehmet Ali Agca, the Pope's would-be assassin. Reportedly he has been linked to a right-wing extremist group of Turkey, but Italian police have quoted him as saying "I am a Palestinian Communist comrade and friend of George Habash." Habash is the Marxist leader of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a faction of the Soviet-backed PLO. Another consideration is that Agca's extensive traveling throughout the world prior to the assassination attempt has led investigators to suspect he was involved with an international terrorist network. Some people have said that Agca is a fanatic hater of Christianity acting on his own in the assassination attempt, but it seems more likely that he was under the influence of the world wide pro-Soviet terrorist groups.

In her recent book "The Terror Network," Claire Sterling points out that the Soviets are supporting terrorists all over the world, some of which have operated close to us. For instance the Puerto Rican Armed Resistance claims responsibility for bombings at Kennedy Airport, the Honduran consulate and at the US Mission in the UN. Reasons given were to support jailed Puerto Rican terrorists in Chicago and the Marxist revolutionaries in El Salvador. The group also denounced Argentina, Guatemala, Honduras and US for supporting the "Fascist dictatorial government of El Salvador." According to the New York Daily News, the group threatened "Our next move will be to eliminate President Reagan."

Such threats and abundant evidence on the nature of terrorists ought to be taken as strong warnings that it's time for our country to go on the offensive. We can no longer afford to wait passively until the criminals commit their violence, but start an active campaign to bring them under control. By their own admission these outfits are sworn enemies. This is war, and the only reasonable way to deal with them is by the methods of war.

The FBI, CIA, police departments, military intelligence and other sources of information, doubtless have a long list of affiliations and personal records and identities on these enemies with sufficient reason for arresting them. They need to be taken out of circulation on whatever charges the evidence justifies. This means tough justice: execution for killings or attempted killing, and permanent imprisonment for destruction, etc.

Nearly forty years have passed since the first Protestant church was established in Muenster when, in October 1941, nineteen people organized and attended the Baptist Church.

In the beginning of the Baptist Church's ministry, the services were held in the old public school. In 1943, the Bright Gable Inn was purchased and moved to the church's present location. It served as the center of worship until, in 1951, the present church was constructed. Much of the work was done by the members.

Sunday, June 7, will mark another step in the Baptist Church's physical and spiritual growth, as members and guests gather for the dedication of the new sanctuary.

The day of worship will begin with Sunday School at 10:00 a.m., followed by the dedication worship service at 11:00 a.m. in the new church. There will be an open house from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m., and evening worship and praise will begin at 7:00 p.m.

It was decided in early 1980 that more space was desperately needed to meet the demands of the fast growing church. Sunday School rooms were over crowded. There was no fellowship hall, no room for the pastor to have an office, and the auditorium was becoming crowded as well.

The building objectives were to construct a new worship center that would meet the needs of the present and future growth and expansion of the church, and would provide, with the new worship center, adequate space and facilities for educational programs.

On October 26, 1980, the building campaign was begun, and on November 23, canvassing for pledges of the membership was started.

The primary goal of the building campaign was to raise $100,000 over a three year period by pledges from the membership. With ONLY 35% of the pledges in, there was a total of over $92,000 pledged -- before canvassing of pledges was even started.

Dr. Charles A. Tidwell, building consultant, had nothing short of praise at the kick-off banquet in October, for the congregation's unequalled effort in getting the needed funds by individual sacrificial pledges.

Avis Robertson of Nocona was hired as the construction superintendent. A groundbreaking ceremony took place at the church following the Sunday morning worship service on January 11, 1981. On the following day, the construction began.

In less than 5 months, a vacant lot was dug up, leveled out, build on and has become the site of a beautiful new center of worship and education.

Many in the community made the remark, during January and February, that Muenster has never been blessed with such beautiful weather that time of the year. It seemed ideal for construction; there were no delays because of bad weather. As one church member said, "There is no doubt that the Lord supervised the construction of the church, right down to providing the perfect weather!"

Keith Thomas, the first full-time pastor of the church, was born in Pasadena, Continued on page 4...

Rain still halts harvest

The community wheat harvest, already two weeks behind schedule, is still proceeding at a snail's pace. Of some 20,000 bushels delivered to date to the two local grain dealers, almost all has been from Lindsay, Hood, Era and Myra areas.

Though rain has been relentless, a few fields dried sufficiently in spots to allow combines. Also a number of the harvesters have been equipped with dual wheels or rice tires to better carry the machines on the soft ground. Another aid is a sort of pickup attachment which lifts heads as much as three inches to the combine's cutting level. With this limited success farmers have brought in about ten per cent of their crop.

During the delay their loss from fallen grain, shattering, deterioration, etc., is estimated at near ten per cent. Nevertheless, prospects for a fair crop are still considered favorable...if good weather will take over soon and allow steady work until the end of the season. Fields that were extra good two weeks ago are still estimated at 50 bushels per acre. The best yield reported to Muenster Mill was 63 bushels after an estimate of over 70. Considering near equal price, at $3.90 a bushel, the harvest return can still be near equal to last year's.

However, moisture is due to be a problem. The longer the delay continues the more grain will be dampened by green vegetation passing through the machine. Most of the grain now has to be dried because of dampness in the air.

Last week's rain measure was 1.09 inch, .94 of which completed the May total of 8.37 inches...and the greater part of it came on the past two weeks while grain was mature and awaiting harvest-continued on page 3...

Good News

1 Corinthians 3: 9-11
For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building.

According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder, I laid a foundation, and another is building upon it. But let each man be careful how he builds upon it.

For no man can lay a foundation other than the one which is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

City starts soon on water well

Drilling for the city's new No. 6 water well is due to get under way promptly even though no shortage is presently in sight, and even though the pipe line for delivering water to the city's system is not ready.

At its Monday meeting the council decided to have the new well in operation this summer to avoid the possibility of an emergency. Recalling the heat and drought of last year, it is concerned about rationing. At the same time it wants to be ready in case of a breakdown. A well failure would have been critical during last year's severe weather.

Two drainage problems received the city's attention. An area east and south of the Seyler home, and leading to Main Street, has had standing water after the rains, so the city approved a concrete channel to drain the water away.

Another problem was at Oak and Ninth. Run-off water from several blocks north was gushing down Oak and causing trouble. The city's solution is to develop Ninth sufficiently to divert water to the east allowing it to flow to a drainage ditch several hundred feet east.

The council also voted favorable following a third reading on the amendment to change an ordinance regarding delivery of Lone Star Gas to city customers. The change favors the consumer. Formerly he had to furnish a line to the company's main. Hereafter the company will deliver the gas to the customer's meter.

Also, the city appointed Mike Frost as assistant fire marshal in keeping with a state provision whereby the city can earn a key rate reduction by sending a fire marshal or assistant marshal to the annual firemen's school at Texas A&M. Mike Frost and Don Abney will attend the school with the city as their sponsor.

Regarding a recent city audit, Earl Husfeldt of Whaley and Thomas, Auditors, was present to give a complimentary report on the record. He said it was correct and neat and orderly.

Rene Stelzer rated No. 1

Rene Stelzer received a Division 1 (superior) rating and a gold medal at her participation in the UIL state vocal competition held June 1 at the University of Texas campus. Some 600 to 700 students were in the auditions and 80 were in the section judged that day by Robert Klimash who awarded only two of the Division 1, gold medal ratings.

A junior at Muenster High, Rene is the first MHS student to receive a Division 1 rating at a state solo and ensemble contest. Her accompanist was Anetta Earle of Gainesville. Her selection was a number by Scarlatti.

Deceased service men honored at memorial

Sixty seven deceased service men of the Muenster community were remembered Sunday in memorial ceremonies conducted by the VFW Post and Auxiliary in cooperation with Sacred Heart parish.

The service, following the 7 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church, started with a procession to the cemetery.

It was headed by the Post's color guard and rifle squad along with color bearers and flower bearers of the Auxiliary, children with flowers and Cub Scouts.

Their first stop was the Crucifixion scene at the center of the cemetery where Auxiliary chaplain Flora Mae Knabe placed a floral arrangement in front of the statues and Father Stephen led in prayers for all departed members of the community.

Then the procession moved to the servicemen's area where Auxiliary President Linda Knabe and Jr Vice President Hilda Sicking placed a floral wreath and a Buddy Poppy wreath in front of the monument and children placed individual red carnations on the graves of the departed service men. Father Stephen then conducted prayers for the honored men and Post Commander Gilbert Knabe recited a memorial poem. A VFW district officer who was expected to deliver the memorial address was not able to attend.

Ceremonies ended with the traditional military honor of a three-volley rifle salute by the VFW rifle detail and taps by Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Weinzapfel.

Four gold star parents received special flowers for the occasion from the VFW Auxiliary, corsages to the mothers and boutonnieres to the fathers. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bayer, Mrs. Theresa Mosler and J.M. Weinzapfel.

Uniformed VFW personnel participating as color bearers and rifle squad Art Bayer, Leo Becker, David Fisher, Bernard Hesse, Dink Hudspeth, Pat Knabe, Dickie Pagel, Maurus Rohmer, Ray and Theo Voth, Herbert and Meinrad Up-Herbert and Meinrad Yosten.

Auxiliary members, in addition to the flower bearers, were Conductress Frances Bayer, Banner

Muenster assigned, 65th state legislative district

Boundaries of the state's legislative districts have been changed and State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday said Saturday he has been given the opportunity to serve additional communities in his revised legislative district.

The new 65th District will include, Archer, Clay, Montague, and Young counties; the rural portion of Wichita County; and the north Gainesville-Muenster area of Cooke County.

"I am proud of this district," Finnell said, "because I shall be representing people with like concerns, thus ensuring the continuity of North Texas interests. I welcome the areas added to the district and look forward to meeting and working together."

The Texas Legislature, finishing its regular session in Austin, completed the changes this week. Reapportionment of districts is required by law every ten years after federal census figures are completed. The new district has approximately 96,500 persons, compared with 83,000 in the present district.

Rep. Finnell, a life-long resident of Holliday, currently ranks eighth in seniority among the 150 members of the House of Representatives.

He is Chairman of the House General Investigating Committee, which has authority to investigate all matters deemed of importance to the Legislature and the people of Texas. The committee has broad subpoena powers and the full resources of state investigative officers and agencies at its disposal.

Finnell is also Chairman of Budget and Oversight for the Health Services Committee, which has jurisdiction over matters involving the protection of public health, including the supervision of the practice of medicine, dentistry, nursing, and pharmacy.

Previously he has served on the House Agriculture, Appropriations, Oil and Gas, and Transportation committees. He is the author of the Red River Compact, dividing the waters of the Red River without federal court intervention. Finnell also serves as an elected director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The 37-year old Archer County businessman and attorney is married to the former Kay Fitzpatrick. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Finnell, Sr., of Holliday.

Letters to the Editor

Sunday morning, June 7, 1981, will be an exciting time in the life of the First Baptist Church family. It will be so because it will be a day of worship and dedication in the new worship center of First Baptist. It is the culmination of a dream of ministry that the membership of the church has long envisioned. This beautiful structure will serve as means to accomplish the three priorities of a New Testament Church—to Exalt the Savior, Equip the Saints, and Evangelize the Sinner. It has been built not as a monument to men but as a ministering agent to aid in the worship of God and the growth of God's people. The building grew out of the deep sense of concern and care of this membership to minister more effectively to the people of Muenster. The beauty of the building is a reminder of the beauty of God's love and redemption to which our membership is committed to share.

The membership of our church sacrificially committed themselves to the construction of these new facilities. Their faith in a great God expressed itself through patience, sacrifice, dedication and vision. Their cooperation, compassion and concern leave no doubts in the heart of this pastor that this is one of the finest of all God's congregations throughout this world.

The building committee elected by the church to oversee and plan this building have worked long and hard planning, praying and sacrificially giving themselves to the culmination of the church's dream. This committee was composed of Robert Russell, chairman; Joe Powell, Jim Robison, David Lively, Jerry Stinson, and Rita Russell. There are a multitude of others too numerous to mention name by name who worked in many different capacities to accomplish this task, from the fund raising committee to building and grounds. Suffice it to say that the entire church family at First Baptist has been vital to the construction of these new facilities.

Ultimately our praise and thanksgiving go to the Lord Jesus Christ who has made it all possible. It is to Him we give praise for placing our church here in Muenster to minister to the citizens of this city so that we might be a part in helping them to be fit citizens of that eternal and spiritual city that is to come. We are here to minister to you and your family—to serve, not to be served. It is to that end that this beautiful building stands. Its presence serves as a reminder to the people of Muenster that God loves, God gives, and God saves, and we, as a part of His people, are here to share that message.

Sincerely in Christ,
Keith Thomas, Pastor
First Baptist Church,
Muenster

SPENDING CUTS
President Ronald Reagan campaigned on a pledge to cut federal spending and thus make it possible to cut taxes. Long before the last election a group of distinguished American leaders, including Dr. Arthur F. Burns and William Simon, formed the Committee to Fight Inflation to suggest measures to cure America's number one economic problem.

In their second annual report, released in January, the committee recommends revising the federal budget process to require by law a balanced budget. In order to run a deficit both houses of Congress would have to authorize it by a substantial majority, such as two-thirds. This would provide a safety-valve for periods when it might not be politically possible for the government to operate entirely from tax income, such as during a war or catastrophic depression.

One of the causes of escalating federal spending is that so-called "entitlement" programs have grown so rapidly. They have experienced a 700 percent increase over 1965. These are payments to individuals and include Social Security, unemployment assistance, Medicare and Medicaid, housing and student assistance, food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children and Supplemental Security Income.

Aside from spending for national defense and interest on the national debt, payments to individuals amounted to 70 percent of the fiscal 1980 budget. We know that interest on the debt cannot be reduced; we are pledged to increase defense spending in order to bolster our weakened posture with respect to the Soviet Union, consequently it is in this area of welfare spending where reductions will have to be made since most of the other 30 percent is wages and salaries of federal employees and costs of operating the government.

Many of these "entitlement" programs are tied to the consumer price index, thus escalating federal spending as the CPI increases. There are a number of things wrong with this, including the fact that the CPI is highly inaccurate as an indicator of the cost of living for people receiving aid from the government.

The committee recommends appointment of a "high-level commission to explore ways of reducing the effects of entitlement programs on the growth of federal spending."

Inflation is, by definition, an increase in the quantity of money and credit. Dr. Burns and his colleagues have recommended "support by the President and Congress of monetary policies designed to reduce over the next three years the growth of the money supply and of bank credit to rates that are consistent with a stable consumer price level."

What this means is that the quantity of money and credit must not be allowed to increase more than the increase in production of goods and services. Since for 67 years (1914-1981) the Federal Reserve System has been either unwilling or unable to control the money supply, this will take some readjustments in central bank policies. Nevertheless, it is absolutely mandatory that the President and the Congress take the necessary measures to bring this off.

We have been fifty years creating the economic mess we are in. We won't get out of it by an overnight miracle. It will require broad-based measures supported by all citizens. Anything less will only make matters worse.

Mary Fuhrmann Of Lindsay Dies

Funeral service for Mary Christine Fuhrmann, 89, was held Thursday, June 4, at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's Church, Lindsay, with her son Father Bruno Fuhrmann of Subiaco Abbey, Ark. officiating at the Mass of Christian Burial.

Burial was in the Lindsay Cemetery directed by Geo. J. Carroll and Sun Funeral Home. Pallbearers were grandsons;

A prior service was arosary at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Carroll chapel.

Mrs. Fuhrmann, a member of the Lindsay St. Anne Society, died Monday in Gainesville Memorial Hospital.

She was a native of Iowa, born August 26, 1891, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Orth, who moved to Muenster when she was a child and to Lindsay several years later. She was married to Joe Fuhrmann on April 27, 1915, and lived on a farm north of Lindsay until they retired in Lindsay in 1949. Mr. Fuhrmann died in 1964, a year before their golden wedding.

AN ENERGY-EFFICIENT AIR CONDITIONER WILL GIVE YOU A COOL BONUS ON OPERATING COSTS!

If you're planning to replace or install a central air conditioning unit, remember that how much it will cost to operate is just as important as the purchase price of the unit. That's where you get a bonus with an energy-efficient air conditioner. An energy-efficient unit is designed to use less electricity. Even though the purchase price can be higher, an efficient unit is more economical in the long run because the money you save on operating costs will far outweigh the price difference. Before you buy, get some free help from the TP&L Customer Service Representative...he's the Electric Energy Expert. Since TP&L doesn't sell or install air conditioners, he can give you impartial advice on what to look for and how much you can expect to save.

*Operating cost comparison based on three-ton, 36,000 BTUH (British Thermal Units per Hour) operating 1,700 hours per cooling season at $4 per kilowatt-hour. Operating cost for a unit with 6.5 E.E.R. (Seasonal Energy Efficiency Rating) would be $550 per season. For a unit with 8.5 E.E.R., operating cost would be only $350.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Texans have a long tradition of pride in their state, and recent government studies confirm our right to be proud.

The state's population grew by some 27 percent in the 10-year period from 1970 to 1980, to a total of 14,228,000 - compared to an 11 percent average growth rate for the nation as a whole.

The Texas share of the national paycheck grew last year faster than any other state's, placing per capita earnings in 1980 at $55 more than the U.S. average.

These figures prove what we had already observed, that Texas is experiencing rapid growth in both population and prosperity.

A recent study by two Texas A&M University sociologists concluded Texas could surpass New York in its population by 1990. "Texas can now be compared to a giant magnet, drawing increasingly more people from other regions and states," the A&M researchers noted.

These impressive gains are no accident. The quality of life in Texas is good enough to draw people and business from more stagnant areas of the country. And this quality of life has been made possible by the friendly and hardworking people of Texas, along with reasoned and responsive state and local governments.

For example, I have been impressed by the way our governor and state legislature have reacted to cuts in federal programs which feed money into state coffers. While other states have complained loudly, Texas has shown its self-reliant spirit and concern for the national good by making the necessary adjustments at the state level.

The balanced-budget approach of Texas state government has made for a fiscally sound treasury which is able to meet present needs without being hamstrung by past budgetary indiscretions.

The progressive attitude of both state government and that of the cities in Texas has created a business climate second to none. I have been impressed by the approach of Texas cities to seeking new industry, but with an eye to attracting businesses which will allow both city and company to benefit from the new site.

The management-labor climate in Texas also has proved an asset in encouraging industrial expansion and relocation. The growing personal income level for Texans illustrates the benefit to individual workers of Texas' right-to-work approach to organized labor.

Our vast natural resources, and the willingness to use them in a responsible way, also have contributed to our growing prosperity.

In short, Texas has presented a good model to the rest of the nation looking for ways to increase economic activity and employment levels.

The next ten years will provide renewed challenges and opportunities. Providing necessary government services to our growing population without onerous taxation will call for careful planning.

Keeping population levels and employment opportunities increasing at about the same rate also will challenge the ingenuity Texans historically have demonstrated.

But I am confident Texans are more than capable of handling any situation presented to them. Texas will continue to be a land of opportunity for its present and future citizens.

An issue that has puzzled us for some time is the abusive opposition to the Administration for its stand on the El Salvador situation. First of all, how about those reports of right-wing murder and atrocity? Are they really true or are they the accusations of red propaganda sources? As news is customarily manipulated by communists, and so often favorably accepted by the American media, one has to wonder who are really the villains. Also, from what the world has learned about red procedure in other countries, one can reasonably assume that leftists are out-doing rightists in all the horrors of war. Without attempting to analyze the why and wherefore leading up to present strife, let's simply acknowledge rights and lefts are warring, with Russia and Cuba helping the lefts and US helping the rights. The objection, apparently, is that rights are violating human rights and should not be given our help. Though this may seem like sufficient reason, the end result is that the rights, without our help, cannot survive, and another country becomes communist. Of course it's obvious that after this happens a few times our own survival will be in jeopardy.

People who mean mouth President Reagan for our involvement in El Salvador need to understand that we can't afford to be fussy about whether it is a dictatorship. The real concern is that there will eventually be a right-dictator or a left-dictator, and we have a chance to come out of this with a friend rather than an enemy.

Considering how our foreign policy of recent decades has permitted, and actually aided, the spread of communism, we have to be aware that it's high time to call a halt. Reagan chose wisely in drawing the line now.

room was extended to the Jaycees. It will be erected on the concrete slab previously intended for a log-house clubroom. The Jaycees have offered to make their building available to other clubs.

On request from First Baptist Church the city rezoned the space occupied by the pastor's mobile home. It had been identified as residential whereas it should be designated as commercial for mobile home. Robert Miller is a new member of the zoning board.

Finally, the city approved another person for its police department. This will provide three patrolmen, each on 8-hour duty.

City announces plans for street paving

An extensive paving project is in sight for the city during the coming summer. Noting that they have $87,000 on hand for the purpose, the city councilmen decided Monday night to do repair and resurface work work in several areas and also invite new pavement jobs.

One new project, on Cherry Lane, was reported as signed up and awaiting work and a number of other areas were listed as physically qualified for a project to be developed. The requirement is that curb and gutter must be installed before June 1 to minimize the danger of damage by settling after pavement is installed. Persons who don't have curb now can not get the new pavement this year.

However projects are welcomed wherever the curb exists. Residents are invited to develop a project and submit it to the city, after which the city will determine each owner's dimensions and notify the cost of his share of the job. Payments will then be placed in escrow awaiting the work.

Requests for bids are due to go out soon so that the city can determine the contractor's identity and charge for the paving project.

City will update ballpark lights

A vast improvement in the lighting system at the city baseball park was approved by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

The change will result in brighter lights at a lower cost. Whereas the present system yields 1,584,000 lumens from 72 kw of current the new one will produce 3,410,000 lumens from 33 kw. Furthermore, life of a light unit is extended from 1000 hours to 3000 hours.

Cost of the project, including poles and lights, is $9,000, half of which is to be paid by the city. Of the remainder, the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce have each pledged $2,000 and the Muenster Beer Distributors have pledged $500.

John Pagel and Jack Flusche will have charge of the installation.

Summer baseball schedule listed

The big league of Muenster's baseball program still has only two teams, but it has hopes that out of town teams will show up occasionally to add spice to their season. Their schedule at this time consists of four games with each other, to be played on the remaining four Mondays of June. Meanwhile the invitation is out to kids of neighboring cities. If games can be matched they will be scheduled where convenient.

The combined schedule announced this week by the Jaycees, program sponsor, is as follows.

- The first action was Monday night, resulting in an 8-4 win by DAiry Inn over Budweiser. Others are:
June 5, 7:00 (LL) DI-Rangers
June 8, 6:30 (LL) Rangers - Bud
8:00 (BL) H&W- Endres
June 10, 7:00 (LL) Bud-DI
June 12, 7:00 (LL) Bud-Rangers
June 15, 7:00 (BL) Endres-H&W

July 15, 7:00 (LL) Rangers-DI
July 17, 7:00 Play off or makeup

After June 8 until July 1, no little league games are scheduled because a number of the players will be at summer camp.

Big league games may be inserted into the schedule as they are arranged with other towns. All inserted games played here will be at 8, and a little league game scheduled for that date will be at 6:30.

Players of the big league rosters are: H&W. Cory Klement, Craig Bell, Steven Vogel, Kevin Switzer, John Eldred, Darren Walterscheid, Steven Schmitt, Duane Haverkamp, Ryan Klement, John Anderle, Kevin Anderle, Ken Hess and Damian Hollman.

First Baptist expansion dedicated...

Texas and graduated from Pasadena High. On May 26, 1976, he was licensed to preach at Thomas Avenue Baptist Church in Pasadena.

Rev. Thomas married Karen Whitfield, his high school sweetheart, in 1977. Karen is employed as a teacher with the Saint Jo Independent School District.

After attending San Jacinto College, in Pasadena, and the University of Houston, Rev. Thomas received his B.A. degree from Howard Payne University in May 1978 majoring in Bible with a minor in Greek. He served as pastor in the South Leon Baptist Church of Comanche, Texas from 1977 to 1979. He was ordained in December 1979 and came to Muenster in April 1979.

Presently, Rev. Thomas is working on a Master of Divinity degree from Southwestern Theological Baptist Seminary.

In describing the programs and projects of the church, Rev. Thomas stressed that the ministry emphasis at First Baptist is to the youth and families. One of the projects planned for the near future is a Pastor's Bible Class for persons of any religious affiliation.

In September 1980, Andy Cherry was called to be the church's first associate pastor in charge of music and youth.

After graduating from Pasadena High in Pasadena, Texas, Rev. Cherry attended San Jacinto Junior College, Howard Payne University, and graduated from Houston Baptist University with a B.A. in Christianity and speech. He was ordained to preach on June 22, 1980.

He has had numerous experiences to prepare him for his ministry including singing with the Sounds of Salvation; being music minister at Calvary Baptist in May, Texas; serving as a summer missionary to Chicago, preaching revivals and leading Vacation Bible Schools.

As the minister of youth and activities at Clay Road Baptist Church in Houston, Rev. Cherry met and married Brenda Gayle Collins. They have resided in Muenster since January of this year.

Rev. Cherry said that the main goal for his youth ministry is "to teach and disciple the youth that they may grow in knowledge of the Lord, and that they may disciple others."

Some ways he teaches the youth about God's love and nature and characteristics are through Sunday Schools, training time, fellowships and mission activities.

To teach fellow believers the importance of music in worship is the goal in his music ministry.

Among ways to reach that goal, Rev. Cherry plans to concentrate on the adult and youth choirs; to implement a children's choir and a preschool choir along with small ensembles (duets, trios and quartets), in order to "praise the Lord through song."

Many immediate plans are included in the church's ministry. The Deacons of the church have recently implemented the Family Ministry Plan after many hours of training and study. It will be a way to reach out to the families, ministering to the physical, spiritual and emotional needs of each church member and family.

A "Mothers' Day Out" program is being organized that will provide children ages 1 through 5 a place to learn, share and play with others their own ages in a Christian environment. It will be offered one day a week for children of all denominations.

First Baptist will also hold Vacation Bible School for children of all ages the week of June 22-26.

An important part of the church's multiple ministry is the nursing home visitation. The Deacons of First Baptist visit St. Richard's Villa on Sundays to share the Gospel and visit.

Another of the church's ministries is broadcasting the Sunday morning worship service on Channel 2 T.V. at 11:00 a.m. for those unable to attend.

When one enters the new sanctuary, the initial impression could very well be, "it must be like heaven."

The sunlight shining through the blue-stained glass windows, the cloud-blue carpet, the total atmosphere gives an aura of heavenly peace.

The new $100,000 worship center was begun as an act of faith by the members.

The staggering costs of building a new church, the high interest rates, and other obstacles did not deter the determination of the Baptist congregation to meet the needs of the growing church.

Everyone "pitched in" — time, efforts, money, prayers — and what was a vision a few months ago, has become a reality, an answer to many prayers.

With present membership of approximately 65 families, the First Baptist Church is indeed growing. The goals of the church, as any member can affirm, are to "exalt the Savior, equip the saints, evangelize the sinner." With these priorities in the lives of so many, the growth will continue, both physically and spiritually.

Other churches undergoing building programs have been referred to the First Baptist Church of Muenster as an example...not of what men can do, but of what GOD can do.

Call 736-2288 to contact police after 5 p.m.

According to Police Chief Helen Tompkins, many do not know the way to get in touch with a police officer after 5:00 p.m. when City Hall is closed.

There is a toll-free telephone number, 736-2288, that can quickly relay a call to her. The number belongs to the County Sheriff's Department. "They know where I am at

Estelle Martin and Stephen Wood exchange vows in 2-ring nuptial

Estelle Marie Martin became the bride of Stephen Wesley Wood in a Nuptial High Mass in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, May 30 at 2 p.m. with Father Stephen Eckart officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin of Muenster and the groom is the son of Mrs. Edna Adcock of Gainesville and Weldon Wood of Collinsville.

Before an altar decorated with arrangements of white glads and greenery, with lighted candles, the bride was presented by her father. She wore a formal wedding gown of white silk organza lined with taffeta. Appliques of lace traced a design on the bodice and formed a tiny self collar. Sleeves were sheer and full and were gathered to bracelet cuffs of matching lace. The A line skirt extended into a chapel train. The floor length illusion veil, attached to a lace caplet, was finished with a delicate scalloped edge and had appliques of matching lace medallions.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of yellow and white roses, stephanotis and gypsophila. For sentiment and in keeping with tradition, the bride wore the same gold necklace her mother wore at her wedding.

Attendants

Bridal attendants were the maid-of-honor Heather Ward of Lake Kiowa; and matrons-of-honor, Mrs. Ernest (Laneta) Martin and Mrs. Doug (Phyllis) Martin, both sisters-in-law of the bride. They wore identical dresses of pale yellow, with full pleated skirts and chiffon capelets. They carried the white lace fans accented with yellow roses and gypsophila.

Heather Stogner of Gainesville and Joe Martin of Muenster, nephew of the bride were flower girl and ring bearer. The heart shaped satin ring pillow edged and covered with lace, had satin streamers entwined with tiny flowers and was made by the bride's cousin, Annette Walterscheid.

Randy Dennis of Arlington was the groom's best man and Justin Dennis of Arlington and Guy Spencer were groomsmen. Ushers were Doug Martin of Myra and Lyndell Wood of Sherman. Mass servers were David Muller and Brian Hess.

Following the ceremony, the bride placed a long stemmed yellow rose on the Blessed Virgin's altar, while Mrs. Patsy Henry accompanied Darlene Stogner who sang "Mother, At Your Feet We're Kneeling." Other wedding music by the soloist, with organ or guitar accompaniment, included "Sunrise, Sunset", "One Hand, One Heart", "Light On the Water" as the couple lit their memory candle, and the traditional march and recessional.

Reception

The parents of the bride hosted a reception, dinner and dance in the cafeteria of the Sacred Heart Community Center for about 200 guests.

Rose Sicking of Arlington and Roselle Nixon of Denton presided at the guest registry, at a table covered with a family heirloom cloth used on the wedding days of both of the bride's brothers and received by their parents on their wedding day.

The bride's table was centered by the wedding cake, and also held arrangements of yellow carnations and floating candles. The three tiered wedding cake stood over a lighted fountain. It was cut and served by Mrs. Imogene Zimmerman. Also used was a silver coffee service borrowed from the bride's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knauf.

Louise Webster and Clova Davis, sisters of the groom and Kay Wood, groom's sister-in-law served punch, assisted by Sherri Muller and Rita Pels, cousins of the bride.

The couple is at home in Gainesville, since return from a trip to Galveston and San Antonio. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Cooke County College where she received an associate degree in Applied Science in Secretarial Science. She is employed as a secretary in the School of Nursing at Cooke County College. The groom is a graduate of Gainesville High School and is employed as the Youth Activity Supervisor at the Gainesville State School.

Rehearsal Dinner

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents in their home for the wedding party and members of both families.

A shower on April 24 at Cooke County College was hosted by Marcene Gardner, Heather Ward, Nancy Herrington, Kay Evans and Rebecca McClelland, co-workers of the bride. Another shower on May 10 was held at the TP&L Building, given by Laneta and Phyllis Martin. Another shower honoring the couple was held in the home of Curtis and Darlene Stogner on May 16, when fellow-members of the Martial Arts class attended. Another shower on May 26 was held in Tabernacle Baptist Church when members of the church attended.

Microwave program planned

The microwave is becoming increasingly popular as a major cooking appliance. It has been estimated that by 1985 half of the families in the United States will own a microwave oven. Considering they have only become available to the consumer in the last ten years this is certainly a large percentage. Because of this increased use of the microwave and since there is a change in cooking procedure, two microwave programs are planned soon for interested homemakers.

Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, and Jill Bleiker, Home Service Advisor for Texas Power and Light Company, will present microwave demonstrations and programs at the TP&L meeting room in Gainesville. They will be on Monday night, June 15 at 7 p.m. and a repeat program on Tuesday morning, June 16 at 10 a.m.

Included in the programs will be information on how the microwave oven works, the advantages of microwave cooking, and a comparison of conventional and microwave cooking. Utensils to use in cooking in the microwave will be included as well as converting conventional recipes to microwave cooking. How a variety of food cooks in the microwave will also be demonstrated.

Since the room is limited in size, reservations should be made by calling Evelyn Yeatts' office, 665-4931 or 665-1966.

Consumers who are interested in learning more about the microwave, even though they may not own one, are invited to attend. Also, owners who still have questions about their microwave are invited to come and learn from other users.

Microwave ovens are popular due to changing lifestyles, the energy crisis, public education and awareness and continual new improvements on the microwave.

Bluebirds Head Aluminum Drive

The Butterfly Bluebirds were awarded the trophy for contributing the most aluminum cans to the Cooke County Ambulance Service. All proceeds from the drive went to purchase a Jaws of Life machine which is used to get patients out of wrecked cars.

The Butterfly Bluebirds collected 460 pounds of cans and won first place in Cooke County. According to Peggy Walter, leader of the group, "No one else came close."

The Cooke County Campfire Office brought in over $900. Local organizations that helped by donating cans to the Bluebirds were the Knights of Columbus, The Center, The Ranch, Mrs. Earl Fisher and Bayer's Kolonialwaren. The girls also collected and contributed cans along with those donated by others.

The Butterfly Bluebirds are Jennifer Walter, Misty Vogel, Cheramie Mosier, Melanie Wilde, Jamie Flusche, Kristin Klement, and Cindy Barreau. Peggy Walter is their leader, and Linda Vogel and Lou Mosier are her assistants. Urban Endres is sponsor of the group.

Garden Club hears talk on birds

Mrs. Bea Young was hostess to the Muenster Garden Club for its April meeting, when the group met in the Cooke County Co-op.

Mrs. Helen Horn of Gainesville, the program leader, used as her theme "All About Birds." She discussed bird migration, feeding habits, value to homeowners and need for protection. She singled out for discussion; cardinals, robins, mockingbirds, flickers, finches, hummingbirds, juncos, red wing blackbirds, blue birds, scissor-tails, and purple martins.

Mrs. Horn suggested the following proportion for hummingbird syrup: 1 c. sugar, 3 c. water, red food coloring and she said it is best to hang feeder in an open place, on an open limb, on a clothes line, etc., so hummingbirds can dart in.

Also suggested was a bird table; a flat board, edged with a narrow, shallow border allowing space at each corner to prevent rain from collecting. She gave informal notes including the following:

A ground feeder can be made from an inverted old garbage can lid. Use suet in winter - birds need it. All birds need drinking water.

Mockingbirds eat insects, fruits, crumbs, apples, doughnuts - out of a ground feeder only; mockingbirds are dainty eaters.

Robins need water all year, eat off the ground, especially insects and worms.

Finches enjoy feeders of sunflower seeds, nuts, suet. Cardinals stay within 10 miles of their birthplace.

Mrs. Alice Roark conducted the business meeting. Fourteen members attended. Members voted to make a donation to the District II

Scholarship fund, acknowledging the orchid presented to Sue Endres. She then reported on the convention in Waco. She also accepted awards won by the garden club.

Members also discussed the state conservation projects. The Tri-dent Pasture project is now completed. The new project is a 200 acre plot near Austin, where great numbers of wild animals and birds find a natural habitat. Also announced was the fact that there are 907 garden clubs in Texas, with 24,000 members.

The home of J.M. Weinzapfel was named for Yard of the Month honors in April. June McDougle reported that crape myrtle bushes have been planted at the mini-park, by Mrs. Roark, Loretta Felderhoff, Marie Endres and Mr. and Mrs. McDougle.

Coming events announced included a plant exchange at Leonard Park and the Muenster Flower Show at the SHH Gym. Mrs. Daryl Ferber and Mrs. Eileen Luke reported on plans for the show. Also planned was the covered dish supper at the home of Holly and King Kich, when new garden club officers will be installed and the club year will be completed.

Mrs. Bea Young served assorted pick-up foods and punch to 14 members and two guests. An arrangement of iris in a tall container was the table centerpiece.

Ben Bindel and Tina Garrett united in Arlington

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bindel have returned from a wedding trip to Corpus Christi and are at home in Gainesville. They were married in Sacred Heart Church on May 16 in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony.

Msgr. Hubert Neu, uncle of the groom and pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church in Arlington officiated in a setting carrying out the bride's chosen colors, with altar arrangements of yellow gladioli, blue and yellow carnations and orchid daisies. Floor candelabra with lighted candles, entwined with greenery and yellow ribbon, were on either side of the altar. The communion rail held votive candles and greenery. Yellow satin bows, with complementary flowers marked pews for family members. An archway of yellow roses and greenery enhanced the setting.

The bride is the former Tina Danette Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny D. Garrett of Gainesville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bindel of Muenster.

For her wedding the bride chose a white satin and chantilly lace formal gown, designed with a Victorian neckline, with a satin bow at the collar above the sheer yoke. A triple ruffle of lace marked the edge of the yoke. Sheer sleeves were gathered to lace cuffs. Three tiers of matching lace on the skirt descended to form a chapel train. A chantilly illusion blush veil was attached to a Juliet cap embellished with delicate lace flowers and pearls.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis butterfly orchids surrounded by stephanotis and English ivy. She also carried a white bridal Bible, a gift from her parents, and she wore an antique gold brooch that formerly belonged to her great-grandmother; and she carried a white lace handkerchief from her grandmother.

Attendants

Cindy Walker of Gainesville was the maid of honor. Martha Coker of Gainesville and Holly Roberson of Denton were bridesmaids. They were dressed in lilac, yellow and blue voile formal sun dresses, respectively, designed with spaghetti straps, tiered skirts with white lace trim. They wore matching shawls, and pastel picture hats matching their dresses, with flower bands. Their bouquets were spring clusters of yellow and blue daisies and lilac asters, with matching satin ribbons. Sharon Renee Garrett, bride's sister was junior bridesmaid of honor, wearing a yellow batiste dress with white eyelet overlay and a ruffled hem. She wore a wreath of yellow and white daisies in her hair and carried flowers similar to the bridesmaids.

Misty Dawn Deatherage bride's cousin, was flower girl, in a pinafore effect dress, carrying a wicker basket of flowers. Jimmy

Don Fisher was the ring bearer, carrying a heart-shaped, eyelet embroidered ring pillow made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Billie Deatherage of Merkel. Darell Walterscheid of Muenster was best man. Chris Schilling and Brian Bindel, groom's brother, and both of Muenster were groomsmen. Guy Bindel of Wichita Falls, groom's brother, Benny Mack Garrett of Gainesville, bride's brother, and Joe decorated with a spray of fresh flowers in the center, and clusters of fresh flowers and yellow bows scattered about. Guest tables held doily baskets of spring flowers and lilac floating candles. A central arrangement featured a hanging basket of paper doves and flowers, with suspended hearts bearing the honor couple's names. All decorations were done by Mrs. Arnold Knabe.

Securing guest signatures as they arrived were Tricia Corley and Ruth Muller. Guests danced to music by Johnny Reed's Country and Western Band. Among guests from out of town were the groom's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu of Lindsay and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Billie Deatherage of Merkel; and Pete Vinson and Billy Don Deatherage also of Merkel; and Messrs. and Mmes. Joel Epps of Denton, Malcolm Denis and Lionel Garcia of Wichita Falls and William Koerner of Pilot Point.

The bride is a graduate of Gainesville High School and Cooke County College and is employed by Dr. J. Wellington Truitt II as a chairside dental assistant. The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and Cooke County College and is the store manager for H & W Country Korner in Muenster.

Among pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple was the rehearsal dinner hosted by parents of the groom, in their home, assisted by Dan Haverkamp who prepared the fried chicken menu to serve to members of the wedding party and their guests.

Reception
A reception for 400 guests followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center. A buffet of pick up foods was served with a punch fountain. The three tiered white bride's cake was over a lighted yellow fountain and was decorated with the bride's chosen colors. Yellow ribbons were draped from the tiered cake to adjoining heart shaped cakes. A ceramic wedding figurine under a flower arch adorned the top layer. The chocolate groom's cake was the traditional horseshoe shape, with chocolate roses atop. Both were cut and served by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Reception assistants were Melia Neu, Carla Haverkamp, Susan Cook and Sandy Schroeder. The bride's table was

Extension Service schedules food preservation meeting

Many people over the county are busy with some form of food preservation. Several meetings are being offered by the County Extension Service to assist people who haven't preserved food before or in a long time, and for those who have had problems in the past.

The first programs will be given on Home Canning and Pickling. A night program will be given on Tuesday night, June 2 from 7-9 p.m. with the same programs being given on Wednesday morning, June 3 from 9:30 until 11:30. Both meetings will be in the Texas Power and Light Company Meeting Room in Gainesville. Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, will demonstrate home canning of vegetables and fruits and Mary Charlotte Casteel, Consumer Information Specialist with Lone Star Gas Company, will give the programs on pickling.

To register for either of these free meetings, call the County Extension Office at 665-1966.

It is recommended that pressure canner gauges be checked for accuracy on an annual basis. Friday morning, June 5 from 8:30 to 11:30, has been set aside for testing of gauges in the County Extension Office in the Courthouse basement.

It only takes a few moments to test a pressure canner gauge, and people only need to bring the lid of the canner to be checked. If this date is not convenient, people may leave their canner lids at the Extension Office earlier and pick them up at their convenience.

Another program which is also open to anyone interested will be on Food Drying and Freezing. The first meeting will be on Tuesday night, June 9 from 7 to 9 p.m. and will be repeated Wednesday morning June 10 from 9:30 - 11:30 at TP&L in Gainesville.

Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, will demonstrate Food Drying and Jill Bleiker, Home Service Advisor from TP&L will demonstrate freezing of fruits and vegetables.

It is also requested that interested people call and make a reservation at 665-1966.

All of the programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are open to people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

When preserving food, a high-quality product is one that is good to the taste and appearance, is safe and free from dangerous spoilage, and has retained as much of the nutrients as possible as compared with the fresh product.

To get this high-quality product, there are some controls that must be attained.

The causes of spoilage and poor quality are: the growth of yeasts, molds and bacteria; changes caused by enzymes; and the presence of foreign materials which may make the product unsafe or unappetizing.

To control the factors, high temperatures are used in canning; cold temperatures in freezing and cold storage of foods; moisture is removed by drying; high concentrations of sugar are used in jams, preserves and jelly; and acid is added in pickle making.

The microorganisms that cause spoilage are molds, yeasts and bacteria. They are living organisms. Common characteristics of these organisms that occur or appear in different ways are the ability to reproduce, to ingest food, to excrete waste products, to react to the environment (irritability) and the ability to change (mutation).

The importance of proper food preservation to provide a top quality, safe product will be demonstrated at each of the scheduled meetings.

Black Willow (Salix nigra)

Cooke County Blooms!

By Gary Rainwater
District Conservationist

for artificial limbs, charcoal, toys, doors, fuel, cheap furniture, and box-wood. Young shoots are sometimes browsed by livestock.

Black Willow is a rapidly growing tree, sometimes attaining a height of 125 feet. It flowers from April to May. The blooms are borne in many-flowered catkins, are cylindrical, slender, one to three inches long and yellow in color. Seeds are on slender spreading pedicels, light brown in color, sharp-pointed and 1/4 to 1/8 inch long.

The leaves are simple, alternate and deciduous, 3/4 to 1 1/4 inch wide. They are green on top and paler below. The twigs are slender, brittle and reddish brown. The wood is light brown, soft, weak, and not durable.

Black willow is found in wet soils throughout Texas. It reaches its largest size on the banks of the Brazos, Colorado, and Guadalupe Rivers.

Seed-bearing can be from 10 to 75 years. There are two million seeds per pound. No dormancy occurs and the seeds may germinate 12 to 24 hours after falling.

The bark was formerly used as a home remedy for fever ailments. Wood is used

IRS Extension Expires June 15

Taxpayers who asked for an automatic extension to file their Federal income tax returns must file the complete return and pay any remaining tax due by midnight, June 15, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The taxpayer must attach a copy of the extension request, Form 4868, to the completed return. If a taxpayer is entitled to the automatic extension because he or she was outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico on April 15, a statement to that effect must be attached to the return, the IRS adds.

For additional information regarding the filing extension, taxpayers may call the IRS toll-free: in Dallas, 742-2440; in Ft. Worth, 335-1370; elsewhere in Texas, 1-800-492-4830.

PERFORMANCE PROFILE

Select the right 40-hp performance with a John Deere 2040

The John Deere 2040 will show you just how much work a 40-hp tractor can get done around your farm. And now you can increase that performance by adding the mechanical front-wheel-drive-assist option. Plus, when you order MFWD, you also get John Deere's TSS synchronized transmission. As with the standard collar-shift transmission, you get 8 forward, 4 reverse speeds. Along with these options, the 2040 offers larger fuel tank capacity, a 3-cylinder diesel engine, toughened-up drive train, electronic instrument panel, and a completely adjustable seat. Performance packaged with fit-your-needs options — that's why you should stop in soon to learn more about the John Deere 2040 Tractor.

Faster, more accurate test detects urinary infections

A faster, more accurate method of detecting urinary infections has been developed by Baylor College of Medicine virologists, a research team reported today.

The new test can be done in one minute and at one twentieth the cost of conventional procedures that usually require at least a full day for analysis.

Joseph L. Melnick, Ph.D., Craig Wallis and Carol J. Longoria outlined the new method for detecting bacteria in urine (bacteriuria) at the Third International Symposium on Rapid Methods and Automation in Microbiology held in Washington, D.C.

Bacteria in urine indicates urinary tract infection, which is common in women but often has no symptoms. If prolonged, these infections can develop into kidney disease.

The Baylor method is different from the conventional bacteriuria detection test because it does not require the growth of bacteria.

In addition, the conventional method relies on highly technical personnel and equipment, and each test costs approximately $18. The simpler Baylor technique can be done for less than $1, said Melnick, who is chairman of the Department of Virology and Epidemiology at Baylor.

The low cost, simplicity and speed of the test could make it possible for mass screening of persons most susceptible to urinary tract infections.

The conventional method used to detect bacteriuria begins with culturing a urine sample, which requires 20 to 40 hours for bacteria growth. If the culture has grown bacteria in large quantities, a urinary infection is present. Some tests can be shortened to two to four hours, but with a loss of accuracy.

The conventional method is sometimes inaccurate, Melnick said, because it may not detect bacteria if a patient is on antibiotics, which may suppress the growth of bacteria but may not kill them. The Baylor technique is more accurate than the conventional technique because residual antibiotics in urine do not influence its results, he said.

In the Baylor bacteriuria-detection technique, a urine sample is passed through a filter fitted into a small card. Any bacteria is trapped in the filter. A dye is passed through the filter and then a decolorizer, which removes the dye from the filter's fibers, but not from bacteria.

If bacteria are present in high levels (100,000 bacteria or more per milliliter of urine) the filter turns pink to red.

It's such a simple test; a person doesn't have to be skilled to carry it out. For example, it can be easily used in high schools and colleges for periodically screening young women in large numbers at minimal cost and time," Melnick said.

Wallis is professor of virology and epidemiology and Longoria is research assistant in the department of virology and epidemiology.

Construction equipment training available free at A&M Center

"I'm sorry, but you don't have any skills. We're looking for experience."

Most job applicants have been told this at least once in their quest for employment. It can be very devastating to the unskilled person. Finding skills training can sometimes be as difficult as finding that first job.

Recognizing the need for skills training in an area with abundant job opportunities, the Construction Equipment Training Division of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System, initiated a heavy equipment operators training program. Students in the program spend eight weeks learning to operate crawler tractors, motor graders, motor scrapers, draglines and hydraulic backhoes. In the classroom, they study such subjects as basic surveying, soil mechanics, and gasoline and diesel engines. All of this training is tuition-free to the student through a grant by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Prerequisites are that applicants must be U.S. citizens and Texas residents, must be at least 18 years old, and must have had a recent physical examination by a physician.

The course is taught at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center in Bryan, Texas. Classes are limited to 36 students on a first-come basis. There is a charge for room and board. Classes are scheduled to begin on June 1, August 3 and October 5.

For further information or to fill out an application, contact the Texas Engineering Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, F.E. Drawer K, College Station, Texas 77843 or call (713) 779-3880, Extension 372.

SCS distributes fish for local ponds, lakes

These are a few of almost 29000 fish distributed Tuesday at Muenster Livestock Auction in the 1981 fish stocking program sponsored by Upper Elm Red Soil and Water Conservation District. Dub Rolands of Whitesboro, who supplied the fish, is seen packaging one order for delivery. Gary Rainwater of the SCS office is in the background. The space above the water in the plastic bag is filled with oxygen to keep the fish in better condition. The catfish, averaging 4 inches, sold for 30 cents each and the fathead minnows, about 300 per pound, sold at $6 a pound. Forty five local landowners bought almost 4,700 catfish and 24,000 minnows. The two varieties of fish are sold together so that catfish can feed on the minnows. While some minnows are eaten some survive and multiply keeping a steady supply of feed for the catfish. Hundreds of ponds and lakes need restocking this year after going dry or almost dry in last year's drought. Similar fish stocking programs are sponsored by SCS in other areas of the Elm-Red District. They are at Gainesville, Nocona, Bowie, Sherman and Denison.

Muenster Baptist loses opening game, 13-7

Muenster's First Baptist Church men's team played its first game Tuesday night, June 2, in the church softball league at Smith Field in Gainesville against First Baptist of Gainesville. The league consists of 34 teams from all denominations.

Gainesville was leading 8-0 in the third inning, but by the fourth, Muenster had scored two runs. Going into the fifth, Muenster made a strong comeback, making the score 8-7.

Keith Thomas, Muenster pastor, hit a grand slam--but only 3 runs counted. It is a rule in the church league that no more than 5 runs may count in any one inning, and two runs had already been scored. Gainesville won the game 13-7.
