It's politics as usual, or maybe more than usual, as Congress fusses over President Reagan's proposed improvements in the Social Security system. Liberal opponents, miffed by the President's recent budget victories, are going all out to deflate his soaring popularity by finding fault with the proposal and claiming to have a better idea.

Deciding on the details is a job for the congress, but the good news as of now is that something is being done to solve an intolerable problem. Experts tell us that the present operation will bankrupt the system in slightly more than a year. The same signs were evident four years ago, and Congress responded by adopting Carter's proposal for massive new Social Security taxes amounting to $227 billion in the next 10 years. But now, after only four years, outgo is exceeding income again. Reluctantly the liberals, whose methods are responsible for the red ink, have to acknowledge that it's time to come up with a cure rather than just treating the symptoms.

Possibly one reason that the Democrat leaders are complaining is that the administration's idea is too easy for all it proposes to do. It's embarrassing to have adopted Carter's high cost but ineffective solution when they could have adopted a permanent but cheaper way. The key to Reagan's suggestion is to discourage retirements before 65 by reducing benefits before that age.

Whereas people now can draw 80 percent of full benefit by applying at 62, the Reagan plan proposes a 55 percent benefit at the earlier age. This would have the double effect of reducing the benefit payments while increasing monthly total of input from employers and employees.

The combined gain from these two sources is estimated at $17.6 to $20.3 billions a year. This sizeable amount is considered sufficient not only to avoid the looming deficiency in the Social Security trust fund, but to put the system on a sound actuarial footing well into the next century.

In addition, the administration plan offers more attractions. One is to eliminate the so-called "double dipping" by retired government employees. Another is to require more specific evidence before workers would become eligible for disability payments. Other possibilities are in greater effort in seeking out fraud or more efficiency in management.

Legislature recently proposed by Congressman Collins of Dllas is another way to help the SS system. He wants to eliminate some 30,000 prisoners now receiving $60 million a year in benefits. These beneficiaries are criminals already being supported at public expense and certainly not deserving of any more taxpayer money. The same can be said of thousands of illegal aliens and their dependents. Billions can be trimmed off the out-go by more attention to eliminating beneficiaries who don't belong.

These and still more changes could reduce the future cost of Social Security by about 10 percent a year. As a result, the system would not only be put on a realistic pay-as-you-go basis, but scheduled tax increases enacted during the Carter administration could be eliminated.

To carry this subject further, our government ought to start thinking of phasing out the hand-to-mouth socialistic method we now have and replace it with an honest to goodness insurance plan with the cooperation continued on page 2...

First Baptist holds dedication, open house

By Teresa Rainwater
Enterprise Staff Writer

As the congregation sang, "To God Be The Glory, Great Things He Hath Done," it was evident that this truth applied at First Baptist Church of Muenster on Sunday when the dedication of the new worship center was held.

Andy Cherry, associate pastor, opened the 11:00 worship service singing, "Surely The Presence of the Lord Is In This Place," followed by the opening prayer.

Dr. Larry Tisdale, a deacon of the church, gave a testimony of how the building program was implemented based on Judges 6 and Gideon's seeking the Lord's will just as the congregation of First Baptist did before beginning the building program. He commented on the fact that because the people stepped out in faith against many odds and obstacles placing their trust in Him, it is truly God's church, not the people's.

"Jesus is the Cornerstone," sung by Andy Cherry, gave a beautiful picture of the principal foundation upon which the church is built.

Keith Thomas, pastor, explained in his children's sermon the purpose of dedicating a church, and said it is a place to worship the Lord, but still is only a building. "You are God's house. Jesus lives in each of you." The children were told to take care of their bodies just as he said he knew they would take care of the new church.

Rev. Thomas led the church in a responsive reading of the act of dedication stating that the church is dedicated to the preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ and to His worship; to evangelism; to the worldwide program of the church; to the purpose of Christian education, and to the service of Christian fellowship. The new church will serve as a means to accomplish the three priorities of a New Testament Church—to Exalt the Savior; Equip the Saints; Evangelize the Sinner.

In his message, Rev. Thomas expounded on the fact that the new church is not the house of God. "God lives in each of us, if only we let Him. You are God's house, God's temple." He quoted from Scripture, saying, "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God, and that you are not your own? For you have been bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body."

Special recognition was given to Robert Russell, a deacon of the church, for his chairmanship of the building committee, his long hours and many responsibilities in seeing the project through from start to finish; to Avis Robertson, the construction superintendent, for his hard work and dedication to get the job done so beautifully in such a short time; to Philip Russell who designed the cross pulpit, the choir chairs and is presently designing a large cross to be placed on the back wall of the new sanctuary; and to the congregation for their faith, cooperation, and love of God.

Ending the service, Jess Cason, charter member of the forty-year-old church, gave the benediction.

An open house was held Sunday afternoon. Many in the community and surrounding areas came to walk through the church, to see the new worship center and classrooms and to look at the plans for the remodeling of the old building. A fellowship dinner and evening worship service ended the day's celebration.

Many combines are specially equipped this season to pick up grain that was bent low by rain and wind. The device, replacing the standard reel, is set lower and has pick-up prongs rather than paddles to deliver straw to the platform. Its original use was for combining soy beans.

Mud hampers progress but...

Combines are running

Muenster is delighted this week at the sight of combines and grain trucks in action. After long delays and extensive losses from previous rains the harvest eventually got under way, but only to a limited extent. At this time farmers are still getting stuck in the field, and if they do not have dryer land to move to they simply continue waiting.

This applies especially to the Muenster area where harvesting is estimated at about one fourth finished. South and east conditions have been better and the job is about 40 percent finished. Over all, Muenster's two grain dealers estimate that about one third of the crop is delivered.

It's also estimated that the best part of the crop is in. Combines are operating in fields with better drainage and less fallen grain, but yields will drop when they get to the bad spots. Present crop estimates are mostly over 50 for soft wheat and are expected to drop well under that figure. Hard wheat is said to be running true to average, at some 10 bushels per acre less.

At this rate the soft wheat is the better money crop in spite of lower yield. Prices Wednesday were 3.95 per bushel for hard wheat, $3.25 for soft wheat.

The oats harvest is less favorable. Many farmers intending to cut for hay were interrupted by the rain. During the delay much of the straw is bent over and much of the grain is shattered out. Heavy losses have been sustained between maturity and cutting.

Encouraged by favorable weather forecasts, farmers are optimistic about the coming days, hoping to finish before more rain comes. They are busy whenever humidity permits. Most of them are crowding the limit, however, and the grain needs drying.

Rain measure during the past week, fortunately, was only .39 inch and the month's total is .64. It was a welcome decline since May's whopping total of 8.37 inches. The year's total now stands at 18.98. Considering more rainfall the first six months than the second, this is near normal on the way to a 36 inch total for the year.

Low and high temperature readings of the week were recorded as follows by Steve Mosler: June 4, 64 and 80; June 5, 70 and 82; June 6, 70 and 83; June 7, 68 and 90; June 8, 70 and 97; June 9, 77 and 96; June 10, 76 and 90.

Hebrews 12:1-2

Therefore, since we have so great a cloud of witnesses surrounding us, let us also lay aside every encumbrance, and the sin which so easily entangles us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, fixing our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of faith, who for the joy set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

2 Coaches named at Muenster High

Muenster High's Hornets will have a Windthorst connection this year. Their head coach will be Leonard Peters former coach of the Trojans and his assistant will be Charles Meurer, a native of Windthorst and a former Trojan under Peters. The third member of the coaching staff still has not been named. The two were here Wednesday looking for living quarters.

With the title of head coach and athletic director, Peters will be the coach in all Hornet sports and the two other coaches will assist him. They will start football practice as soon as UIL regulations permit and they encourage players to follow a conditioning program of roadwork and weight room work during the summer.

The weight room will be open at regular hours as soon as either coach returns.

Peters is a native of Seymour and a 1971 graduate of McMurray College. He was a junior high coach at Irving two years, an assistant at Mineral Wells one year, head coach at Shamrock two years and head coach at Windthorst four years. His Trojans advanced to state semifinals and he was named coach of the year of the Wichita Falls area. He is married, has three children.

Charles Meurer is a native and graduate of Windthorst and a 1980 graduate of McMurray College. He has had a year of coaching experience as an assistant at Weatherford. Meurer is married, has 1 child.

This harvest scene is different. Normally a truck travels beside the combine while grain is unloaded into it. Because of mud this truck did not venture on the field but combine came to it to unload. Combines from adjoining fields arrived together on this scene.

Chamber hears drug story

With a goal of making more people familiar with the evil of marijuana, and assisting with the establishment of a parent group in Muenster to oppose the use and spread of illegal drugs, three members of Families in Action of Cooke County presented their story at the Tuesday meeting of Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

Mary Jo Graham, Betty Buttolph and Dorothy Ehrig were introduced by Kathy Tate whose purpose is to help alert parents to the widespread use of drugs and the drug industry's efforts to promote its product.

Mrs. Graham told about the principal drugs in use with emphasis on marijuana as the most used drug and usually the addict's first used drug. She said that millions can be saved from the drug habit if concerned adult organizations will convince them in time of the tragedy awaiting them.

She quoted statistics by the dozens revealing that the racket is enormous, a formidable foe. The drug industry ranks in size with AT&T, General Motors and Exxon, a total of $50-$60 billion a year. The nation's total bill for pot alone exceeds the amount spent on foreign oil, $40 billion a year. The use of drugs is so widespread that more than $3 billion a year is spent just on the paraphernalia to use it.

This year, among American high school seniors, 11 percent are believed to be daily users of marijuana.

To make matters worse the potency of marijuana has been greatly increased in the past 20 years. It's about 16 times as strong. Its major psychoactive ingredient, THC, is known to remain at 30 to 50 percent strength for as much as a week after a single joint has been smoked. And reaction time for motor skills such as driving is reduced 41 percent after one joint, 63 percent after 2 joints. The sordid facts go on and on indicating that millions of lives are being wasted, parents hearts are being broken, the nation's human resource is being sabotaged.

Mrs. Buttolph talked about the paraphernalia. Such as clips to hold the joint while smoking it, paper for rolling the joint, a wide variety of pipes, and power devices with which smoke can be accumulated and forced in concentrated form into the lungs. There's also a big assortment of "stash cans" with well known name of products on the outside and false bottoms to carry the pot.

Paraphernalia also includes a vast assortment of magazines, pamphlets, records, music and many gadgets not recognized by average people for their real nature. These are things promoting pot, often found in family stores and not really known even to the store managers.

Being familiar with marijuana, its availability, its effects, and the sales force behind it is the real inducement for declaring war on drugs. It is vitally important to the future of individuals and the nation.

In other business John Pagel reported to the chamber on its very successful Germanfest which was good business to a number of local business people and to the chamber. He went on to say the chamber's fund is destined for various city improvements as well as a start on next year's festival.

As a member of the city park board he also stated that $2,000 of the chamber Continued on page 3...

Texas FB endorses tax cut proposal

The Texas Farm Bureau has told members of the Texas congressional delegation that a multi-year tax cut "is of tremendous importance as a second step in our national economic recovery program."

"As you know, we were and are in full support of congressional efforts to balance the budget, and we feel as strongly about the necessity of real tax cuts as an incentive for individuals, businesses, and industry to increase productivity," TFB President Carrol Chaloupka said in a letter to the 24 congressmen and two senators from Texas.

"We are deeply concerned about those in Congress who apparently do not feel tax cuts are necessary, or who believe that multi-year tax cuts would be inflationary," the Dalhart grain and livestock producer said.

"It seems to us that these people, for the most part, are those who are responsible for our current financial crisis," he said. "If tax cuts should prove to be inflationary, the obvious answer is to cut government spending even further to compensate for any inflation which may occur."

The state farm leader told the legislators that "inflation is still our greatest and most immediate problem."

of established business firms. The idea is based upon the fact that the ratio of payouts to premiums is so much better in regular insurance than in social security. It seems there ought to be a way whereby personal security can be assured at the free enterprise actuarial cost rather than our present socialistic cost.

In proposing this, it should be stated that a plan is advisable for a limited level of security coverage through insurance companies rather than the government, and that coverage should be available for benefits similar to our SS benefits. Furthermore, it seems advisable to make the plan mandatory so that every person could have coverage. Otherwise the less responsible people who fail to take care of their future might become wards of the government.

But once the minimum of mandated security is obtained individuals can be free to supplement it with private insurance policies as they do now.

Considering the obligations of the Social Security system and the many mistakes and abuses that have crept into it, the government has a clear obligation to give it a thorough clean-up, for benefit of both taxpayer and beneficiary. But it really has an added obligation as well...to change over to a complete new system harmonizing with our free enterprise kind of society. This kind of security fits the Reagan philosophy. Hopefully we'll see the day when our traditional Americanism recovers sufficiently to make room for that kind of arrangement.

Looking Ahead

WHY NOT WORKFARE?

There is considerable evidence to indicate that all that is necessary to cut government spending drastically is to use common sense and stand on principles. Several test programs involving food stamps and other types of welfare have proved fairly conclusively that this is the case.

In an editorial in the Washington Post, Congressman Paul Findley of Illinois told about experiments carried on for over a year in seven communities across the country. Able-bodied recipients of food stamps are required "to work off the value of the benefits they receive in public service jobs."

Findley states that, "According to USDA (Department of Agriculture) figures, 88 percent of the food stamp recipients obligated to work dropped food stamps rather than take a public service job. Only 12 percent actually worked the few days a month needed to continue receiving food stamps."

According to Review of the News, which quoted Congressman Daniel E. Crane of Illinois, the Department of Agriculture conducted a pilot study from July 1st, 1979 to the end of January 1980, in which "a total of 2,518 able-bodied food stamp recipients in five communities became subject to a requirement to work in public service jobs or lose their food stamps." Less than 10 percent worked for their food stamps which should prove to anyone that they did not need or deserve them.

Just think of the implications of these facts when applied to the national figure of 23 million individuals receiving food stamps. It means that less than 3 million would really need them. If such a reduction held nationwide, food stamps would cost the taxpayers slightly over $1 billion instead of nearly $11 billion as at present.

These experiments worked with food stamps. Why not apply them to all welfare programs? For too long our welfare system has been designed in such a way as to discourage work. There has been no incentive for low-income people to work because they have been provided free as much or more in welfare payments as they could earn if they worked.

Human nature is such that if a system permits an individual to live without work — without effort — he will do so. We must take a clue from the clear lessons in the above-mentioned food stamp experiments and reform our welfare system to require work in exchange for aid.

There are all kinds of jobs that need doing. Literally millions of them are advertised daily in the classified pages of our newspapers. But there are many millions more which need doing in every locality for the State, for the county, for the cities and towns, for the school districts, and for the charitable agencies, not make-work jobs but real jobs that would be done if there were sufficient funds to pay for them.

Such a program was installed by President Reagan when he was Governor of California. Not only were thousands qualified for jobs in private industry, but also, "Thousands of welfare recipients just disappeared — never reported when they were ordered to report. . . . And we shut off the money. They were never heard from again."

Let's support President Reagan in reducing unnecessary food stamps and other welfare spending!

Let's hear it for AMERICA

YOU MAY OWN A PIECE OF GENERAL MOTORS!

Who really owns American business? When you get right down to it, is it just a handful of very wealthy people — or is it millions of everyday Americans?

Despite the popular myth that a relatively few "fat cats" own and control most of American industry, the facts indicate that 150 million or more men and women are investors and owners of business — supply the financial capital to build and operate facilities and buy equipment and materials for U.S. manufacturing and commerce.

Do you have a savings account? Do you own shares of stock or life insurance? Are you in a pension fund? If the answer to any of those questions is Yes, you are helping to generate funds invested in business. It's not just the 25 million stockholders who own U.S. industry, it's also the 120 million savings account depositors, the 140 million life insurance policy holders and the 50 million members of pension funds.

Because the money that all these people put into their savings accounts, their insurance policies and pension funds does not just sit idle in vaults all over the country. That money is put to work — invested in business and industry to create jobs, expand and improve production facilities, increase productivity and thereby lift our living standard.

You may never have thought of it this way, but even if you don't own a single share of stock in a direct legal sense, very likely you indirectly own a piece of General Motors and other major American corporations — and the more profitable they are, the more you benefit.

Consider, for example, the fact that employee pension funds own 35% of all equity in U.S. business today, and could own 50-60% by 1985. As profits go up and down, pension fund income rises and falls, and it becomes easier or more difficult to pay benefits.

It's also true that industries with the highest profits generally pay the highest wages, and that as profits rise in the economy generally, so does employment, and that as profits fall, employment falls.

So Let's Hear It For America! — next time someone tells you that American business is OK except that it's owned by just a handful of "fat cats" — and that they alone benefit from profits — share with them some of these vital but little-understood "economic facts of life"!

Ken Floyd receives award

Kenneth Floyd, right, receives a plaque from John Bachmann, managing partner of Edward D. Jones and Co. for outstanding services in the firm's Cooke County office during 1980.

Edward D. Jones & Company is proud to announce that Kenneth Floyd has been formally recognized for his outstanding achievements in sales and service to his clients during 1980.

"Because of the hard work and dedication of people like Ken Floyd over the years, Edward D. Jones & Company has been able to build a tradition of excellent investment service to serious investors for more than 110 years," remarked John Bachmann, managing partner of the firm. "Our highest congratulations and best wishes to Ken Floyd on his fine achievement."

Presentation of this award took place at a special three day meeting held in St. Louis, Mo. The purpose of the meeting was to update salesmen on new company developments and procedures, as well as introduce new products to satisfy the serious investment needs of the conservative investor.

Ken Floyd began working for Edward D. Jones & Co. in 1980. Since then he has fostered the conservative investment philosophy of the firm to help him expand his service in the area of Cooke County.

"I have built my business over the years by treating everyone with a sincere concern for their welfare," said Ken Floyd. "Down through time I have watched customers grow and have helped them make the most of their investment dollars. In many instances, satisfied clients have told their relatives and friends about me."

For more than 110 years the people of Edward D. Jones & Co. have built a sound business based upon a conservative investment philosophy. The firm's registered representatives sell decidedly low-risk securities; including federal tax-exempt bonds, government bonds and trusts, corporate bonds and trusts, and common stock of companies with histories of solid growth and sound management.

The firm began in St. Louis, Mo., in 1871; and the home office today is located in Maryland Heights, Mo., about 20 miles northwest of St. Louis. In the late 1940's the firm evolved the concepts of opening offices in small towns, concentrating on those with a population of 10,000 to 25,000. The first branch office was opened in Mexico, Mo.; and later another office was opened in Pueblo, Co., 800 miles west of St. Louis. Over the years this network has extended to more than 350 branch offices in 29 states.

KC good neighbors take on yard job

A good neighbor work party of some fifteen volunteer Knights of Columbus did their good deed in a big way last Thursday night at the A.T. Dickerson home. Their project consisted of extensive work imparting a well cared for look on all of the yard.

The job originated at last Wednesday's K of C meeting when Joe Hoenic called attention to the Dickerson's financial problem, not being able to do their yard work or to afford having it done. He is an invalid and she is the family breadwinner. Hoenic said he has mowed the lawn before and wanted help to do a more complete job. Member response was immediate and the work party was organized for the next night.

The improvement consisted of trimming down rank shrubby growth and tree limbs and removing two diseased trees, along with lawn mowing and trimming. The pile of trash amounted to several pick-up loads.

Knights of Columbus re-elect officers

The annual officers election of the Muenster Knights of Columbus Council was mostly a re-election. Only two changes were made, Bob Knauf succeeding Dale Klement as trustee and Chris Walter succeeding Knauf as guard.

As a result Harold Flusche continues as grand knight and others continue as follows. Father Denis Soerries and Father Stephen Eckart, chaplains; Ben Fleitman Jr. deputy grand knight; Joe Hellman, recorder; Jerry Walterscheid, chancellor; Charley Hellman, treasurer; Joe Hoenic, warden; Ed Endres, financial secretary; Maurus Hacker, advocate; Harold Knauf, guard; Wilfred Bindel and Wayne Klement, trustees.

The members also voted to join in a state-wide movement assisting the Denton council in construction of a new K of C hall to replace the building which was destroyed by fire last year. Muenster members approved a gift of $100.

Germanfest rated as big business for Muenster

With an estimated attendance of 40,000 persons, Germanfest was big business to the people of Muenster. That is the essence of a report given last Friday night by John Pagel, treasurer, at a dinner meeting of the festival's steering committee in the Muenster Telephone Corp. building.

Pagel said that the 10 percent commission charge to concessions netted a total of $10,523.81, indicating that the income of those concessions was $105,238.10. Also the 1/2 commission on beer sales netted $16,003.72 indicating gross sales of $53,345. and the $1.00 admission charge to adults grossed a total of $16,037.

Those figures add to $174,620 as the estimated gross receipts of the festival. Pagel also said that commissions paid by non resident concession managers indicated an estimated $10,702 of gross income to them, hence the concessions of Muenster residents grossed $163,917.

And there was more in the community's share. Pagel said payment of various expenses amounted to $24,280.51, of which $10,491 was paid to Muenster people. That amount along with the $163,917 adds to a total of $174,409 for Muenster residents. Also $13,788 for expenses and $10,702 from concessions amounts to a gross of $24,490 to non residents.

Expenses were itemized as follows. Publicity and advertising $4241.21; entertainment $3008.97; maintenance and cleanup $2750.08; rent and utilities $3809.79; administration $447.67; miscellaneous, $10,024.59.

Alvin Fuhrman, Germanfest chairman, presided at the steering committee meeting and praised all of the workers for producing the biggest and best Germanfest to date. He said the crowd was orderly, concession service was good and prices reasonable, security was good, grounds were neat, entertainment was abundant. A complaint; some people prefer more polka and less country and western, and they would prefer a better view for the fireworks display, plus more areas of entertainment. However remarks from the committee indicated that praise far exceeds the criticism. Lots of people have said that Muenster can be proud of Germanfest.

Special recognitions at the party were plaques presented by Fuhrman for services to Germanfest in this and preceding years. Those receiving were Edgar Dyer, clean-up director; Pat Fisher, handyman; Al Walter, security director and Al Wiesman of the information and guest register booth. In addition, Dick Ferber received a fishing rod in appreciation of his services as assistant director of the festival.

Committee members also had a preview of identification labels they will receive for this and future years.

Nita Browning weds Rickie Jones

Nita Suzette Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Oakley of Muenster, became the bride of Rickie Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Gainesville, in a traditional Baptist wedding ceremony with double ring rites, on June 6 at 4 p.m. It was the first wedding held in the new Muenster First Baptist Church Sanctuary. Rev. Keith Thomas, pastor, was the officiating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white Qiana gown designed with empire waist, sheer dacron cape edged with a wide band of rose chantilly lace, and an A-line skirt. Her finger tip, two tiered illusion veil, edged with matching lace, fell from a Juliet cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried her bridal flowers in a cascade of white roses, feathered carnations and rosebuds of blue, pink and yellow, white stephanotis, white forget-me-nots and tiny white wedding flowers, with accents of lace netting and seed pearls, and a shower of white lace and silk ribbons.

For sentiment and "something old" she wore a wedding band belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Margarite Van Zandt; and she "borrowed" a pearl pendant from a friend, Mrs. Anna Herr.

Attendants

Melanie Browning was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a formal full length dress of blue, pink and yellow floral fabric; and carried three blue long stemmed silk roses, tied with bow and streamers of two toned blue ribbon.

The church was decorated with English ivy, roses and carnations in the bride's chosen pastels. White satin bows with carnations and ivy, marked pews for family members. Arrangements of candles with ivy, roses and carnations were placed before the blue stained glass windows.

Preceding the ceremony the bride presented a long stemmed red rose to her mother and following the ceremony she gave a similar rose to the groom's mother.

Reception

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Oakley, for 62 guests. Angela Oakley and Teddi Rae Oakley, sisters of the bride, registered guests in the bride's book.

A buffet of assorted pick up foods, punch, wedding cake, nuts and mints were served on tables covered with white lace cloths.

The bride's table, covered with white lace, held clusters of roses and carnations on each corner, also the bridal portrait, unity candle and bouquet.

The two tiered white wedding cake consisted of a round first layer, and a heart shaped second layer, with

Thin is better for more reasons

HOUSTON, TX. — Use that butter carefully. Scientists are studying a new way excessive fat in the diet may affect people's health — the link between fat and the development of cancer.

"The average American takes in 40 percent of his daily calories in the form of total fat in the diet," says Dr. Guy R. Newell, director of cancer prevention programs at The University of Texas — M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

Scientists think that excessive amounts of fat may contribute indirectly to the cause of cancer by somehow influencing metabolic processes of normal cells to make them more susceptible to cancer caused by other agents.

"Cutting back on fat in the diet may be helpful in minimizing the chances of developing breast or colon cancer," Dr. Newell suggests.

6 Hornets named on district team

Alvord's district champions dominated the selection of an all district team last week by coaches of the loop. At the same time Ponder, after a winless season, failed to get a representative on the dream team. Of the 24 named on first and second teams and honorable mention, Muenster had 6, Alvord 9 and Krum 9.

Hornets on No. 1 were Dale Swirczynski, infield and David Winn, outfield; on No. 2 were David Flusche catcher, Tim Schneider pitcher and Vance Wells, outfield. The Hornets' honorable mention was Benji Luke.

Alvord players on the first team were the pitcher and catcher, two infielders and one outfielder; and on the second team were two infielders and two outfielders.

Krum has two infielders and two outfielders on the first team, two infielders on the second team and three honorable mentions.

Girls respond to call for softball

A good response to the latest call for players apparently is resulting in a summer softball program in two divisions.

Wanda Flusche, director for the sponsoring Knights of Columbus, said there will probably be four junior teams and two senior teams. A meeting during the weekend with coaches and the Jaycees will determine the rosters and the schedule. Most likely the opening games can be played next week.

Mill, Bud winners

The first double header of summer baseball, played Monday night resulted in a pair of scoring sprees, especially the big boys' game in which Muenster Mill eventually nudged H&W 18-17.

Earlier, in the junior loop, Budweiser ran over the Rangers 16-4. In the season opener a week earlier Dairy Inn beat Bud 8-4. So league standings are Dairy Inn 1-0, Bud 1-1, Rangers 0-1.

Bud and Dairy Inn were scheduled Wednesday night; Bud and Rangers Friday, Mill and H&W next Monday.

Members of the H&W team as of Monday night were as follows. Front: Cory Klement, Steve Schmitt, Damian Hellman, Ryan Klement; back: Ken Hesse, Steve Vogel, Coach Don Hess, Duane Haverkamp, Kevin Switzer. The team borrowed a player from Muenster Mill for their first game and expect to have a full roster the next game.

Ponds need fertilizer for fish production

Ponds, as a rule, have low or moderate fertility. For good fish production, ponds usually need the addition of commercial fertilizer. Once started, fertilizing should be continued.

Fertilizer increases the growth of microscopic plants. Fish do not eat the fertilizer and most of them do not eat the tiny plants. But fish do eat the worms, insects, larvae, and other aquatic animals that feed on these tiny plants.

It takes 4 or 5 pounds of these aquatic animals to produce a pound of bluegill or redear sunfish, and it takes 4 or 5 pounds of small sunfish to grow a pound of bass. Thus the high production of microscopic plants in fertile water results in more pounds of fish.

Ponds that are not fertilized usually support about 150 pounds of bass and sunfish and yields only 15 to 35 pounds of usable fish per surface acre annually. A pond that is fertilized may support 400 pounds of bass and sunfish per surface acre and yield 150 pounds annually to the fisherman.

High fertility also prevents the growth of submersed waterweeds. With enough fertilizer, millions of microscopic plants color the water to a depth of 18 inches or more and prevent sunlight from reaching the pond bottom. Submersed waterweeds cannot grow without sunlight. Further, without weeds to harbor them, mosquito larvae are eaten by the bass and sunfish.

No one can predict exactly how much fertilizer a pond will require. Ponds need less fertilizer in dry years but need more if rains dilute the fertile waters. You can determine when to fertilize your pond by testing the water with a device you can make yourself.

Nail a white disk or coffee lid on the end of a stick. Mark the stick at 12 and 18 inches above the disk. Submerge the disk in the pond water. If the disk goes out of sight about 12 inches below the surface, the pond is fertile enough. If you can see the disk at a depth of 18 inches or more, you need to fertilize. The color of the water may be any shade of green or brown. Color depends on the number and kinds of the microscopic plants growing in the water.

A mineral fertilizer is best for fishponds. Organic materials such as cottonseed meal, blood meal, manure and leaves encourage undesirable filamentous algae (sometimes called pond scum). A good fertilizer analysis is 8-8-2. You may use a stronger fertilizer but be sure you use less. Also use as much nitrogen as phosphate.

At each application, use 100 pounds of 8-8-2 per surface acre, or 50 pounds of 16-16-4 etc.

Most ponds require an application about once a month. A pond that requires as few as two or three applications a year is unusual.

THE JOY OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

When you harvest homegrown vegetables and enjoy garden flowers you have grown from seeds you experience a deep and fundamental satisfaction, a joy of accomplishment.

You did it. You started from scratch and cooperated with Mother Nature to bring beauty and nourishing food out of the earth.

Every person needs that joy of accomplishment. Plant a food and flower garden this very year, and pat yourself on the back.

No one ever becomes blasé about the miracle of life. Even the old gardener, bowed and bent with time, thrills to the sight of strong flower and vegetable seedlings thrusting their way through the soil.

When you pour a packet of seeds into your hand and begin to place them the proper distance apart in the furrow, you become not just a participant, but a custodian of life.

You planted those seeds. You cared for them properly. You harvested the crop.

It is perfectly natural to be excited and thrilled with your success. Gardening is to enjoy!

Hartman families meet in Arlington

Mrs. Keith Tompkins of Arlington entertained members of her family and their Muenster relatives Sunday, to observe the vacation visit of her daughter Judy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Hernandez and Samuel and Keith of Virginia.

Attending the family gathering from Muenster were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt and family; and Mrs. Walter Wolf and children of Gainesville, Willard Hartman and children of Killen; also members of Mrs. Tompkins' family.

Joining them in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bayer and family of Arlington. The all-day party was an opportunity for family members to see 4 month old Keith Hernandez for the first time. They also observed Della Schmitt's birthday with gifts and a decorated cake.

Practice common sense with the sun

HOUSTON, TX. — Skin cancer, a type of cancer found most frequently in the Sunbelt, also is the cancer that is easiest to cure.

How can you protect yourself against skin cancer?

"Wear adequate clothing if you are exposed to excessive amounts of sunlight. A good sun screen lotion is a must if you sunbathe," says Dr. Guy R. Newell, director of cancer prevention programs at The University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute. "If you work with chemical irritants, make sure you follow prescribed safety precautions."

Dr. Newell also says, "See a physician about removing any questionable skin areas, such as moles, if they are subjected to repeated irritation or injuries. Changes in a mole, wart or sore should be reported immediately to your doctor."

CORRECTION!

The wedding of Ben and Tina Bindel was held in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster and not in Arlington as was mistakenly written in last week's Enterprise. Sorry!

In last week's account of the wedding of Estelle Martin to Stephen Wood, the story should have included that a dance followed the reception and dinner. Music was furnished by the bride's brothers Doug and Ernie Martin and the Rustlers.

Fr. Leon Flusche celebrates anniversary

Members of St. Ann's Parish, Burleson, hosted a 15th anniversary celebration for their pastor, Fr. Leon Flusche on May 28.

Mass was celebrated at 6:30 p.m. with Fr. Flusche's cousin, Msgr. Hubert Neu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu of Lindsay, concelebrating. Fr. Flusche is the son of Mrs. Andy Flusche and the late Mr. Flusche.

His mother and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Flusche, all of Dallas, presented the Offertory gifts.

After Mass a reception was held in the Parish Center. The parishioners prepared and served a covered dish meal for all members, relatives and friends.

The people of the parish presented Fr. Leon with a sum of money to almost cover the cost of a trip to Greece and Rome. Fr. Leon will also be the Spiritual Director on this trip.

Brenda Gremminger is honor graduate

Brenda Kay Gremminger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Gremminger of Denver, Colo., graduated from John F. Kennedy High School on June 2. She was one of six students nominated by their teachers for the Renaissance Award. This award honors the student who excelled particularly in athletics, academics, the arts, and school services. There were 363 students in the senior class.

Brenda was also a member of the National Honor Society and received the Cameo Award from the Drama Department and was the first alternate for the National Honor Society Scholarship.

She was vice president of the senior class and captain of the volleyball team that went to All-City and was chosen by the coaches to serve on the Athletic Board of Control. She plans to attend the University of Colorado in Boulder to study nursing.

Brenda Gremminger is the granddaughter of Ted Gremminger and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman.

Body needs water not salt for heat

Two of the main health problems of summer are dehydration and heat exposure, says Johannes Steenkamp, D.O., acting chairman of Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine's department of public health and preventive medicine.

"All of us are somewhat dehydrated in extremely hot weather," he said. "Our bodies perceive this need for liquids as a need for salt, a false perception. We all ought to drink more during the hot summer months than we think we need to."

That doesn't mean more beer, however. According to Dr. Steenkamp, two beers a day should be considered a maximum. Alcohol of any kind dehydrates the body's liquids instead of replenishing them.

Guarding against heat exhaustion is usually a matter of common sense. "Limit your exposure to high temperatures and the sun to an hour at a time at first," the TCOM faculty member advised, "or to half of that if your skin is very fair."

"Gradually get used to the heat before doing strenuous exercise in it. The old and the very young have less tolerance to heat and should limit their exposure even more."

Persons using certain drugs such as tetracycline expose themselves to the risk of sunburn and heat exhaustion because the drugs sensitize the skin, Dr. Steenkamp added. Amphetamines and drugs with drying effects alter the temperature-regulating mechanisms of the body. Check with a physician if you think your medication may expose you to greater risk of heat exhaustion.

There are approximately 13 million traffic accidents a year in the United States.

Why gas is plentiful:

Two New Sources

There's enough natural gas in proven and existing reserves to heat America's homes and run its factories for many years. And now gas is flowing in enormous volumes from two new sources: the tight basins and the deep basins right here in Texas and Oklahoma. Experts believe each of these sources could double the nation's proven supply. And our pipeline system will let us deliver your share of this gas efficiently and economically. It's another reason to be glad you're served by the Lone Star system.

Gas. It's plentiful, efficient and right for the times.

Msgr. Neu heads church groundbreaking

Groundbreaking for the new Blessed Sacrament Church of Arlington, where Msgr. Hubert Neu is pastor, was held on Sunday, June 7. Msgr. Neu is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu of Lindsay.

Mass at 11:30 a.m. Sunday was held near the site of the new church. A temporary altar was set up on an adjacent parking lot, with a P.A. system for the benefit of the many who attended. Msgr. Neu was celebrant and gave the homily.

Following the Mass, Bishop A. Dangelmayr spoke briefly, telling about Father Hubert Neu's ordination by the Bishop 30 years ago in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay.

Parishioners of Blessed Sacrament presented a plaque to observe his 30th anniversary, also a check, an anniversary cake and a birthday cake to mark his birthday of May 30. Parishioners also hosted a noon meal by preparing brisket and salads to serve with the cakes.

Among relatives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu of Lindsay, the Charles Neus, the Tommy Neus, the Leslie Sandmanns, the Michael Bengforts and the Ray Hoenig family, all of Lindsay. Also the James Bayers and Mrs. Jim Bayer of Gainesville, the Jeff Richesons of Grapevine, the Wilfred Bindels of Muenster, Father Leon Flusche of burleson came during the afternoon.

Bishop Dangelmayr returned to Muenster with the Bindels. He made the trip to Arlington with friends from Blessed Sacrament parish.

"My wife demands a printed correction! It was her chocolate souffle, not chocolate mousse she served her bridge club last Thursday."

Soup's On

Creamy Chowder, Cheese Biscuits

As food costs continue their relentless climb, few meals are as welcome as homemade soup. It's filling and satisfying both emotionally and economically.

Three bean salads and casseroles are popular. Why not soup? Triple Bean Chowder combines three types of beans often found in the other popular dishes, with other foods to make it a tempting combination.

Garbanzo and kidney beans are good, economical sources of plant protein, say Dairy Council, Inc. home economists. Their value is enhanced when combined in a meal with animal protein such as milk in the soup as well as cheese and buttermilk in the biscuits.

Cheesy Buttermilk Biscuits are an attractive accompaniment since they're light and fluffy, dotted with tiny pools of golden cheese.

Triple Bean Chowder

1/4 c. butter
1/2 c. chopped onion
1/2 c. chopped celery
6 T. all-purpose flour
2 teas. Worcestershire sauce
3/4 teas. salt
1/2 teas. paprika
1/4 teas. pepper
1/8 teas. garlic powder
4 c. milk

1 can condensed chicken broth
1 can garbanzo beans, rinsed and drained

1 can red kidney beans, rinsed and drained
1 pkg (9 oz.) frozen cut green beans, cooked and drained.

Saute onion and celery in butter in large saucepan until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour, Worcestershire and seasonings until smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk and condensed broth. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add beans; simmer, uncovered 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve with Cheesy Buttermilk Biscuits.

Cheesy Buttermilk Biscuits

2 c. all-purpose flour
2 teas. baking powder
3/4 teas. Italian seasoning
1/4 c. butter
1 1/4 c. buttermilk
1 c. shredded Cheddar Cheese

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Combine flour, baking powder, Italian seasoning and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in buttermilk and cheese just until all ingredients are moistened. Divide batter evenly between 12 buttered 2 1/4 inch muffin cups. (Cups will be about 3/4 full.) Bake 12 to 14 minutes or until golden and wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Let cool in pan 5 minutes. Remove. Serve warm with butter and Triple Bean Chowder.

Rehearsal Dinner

The rehearsal dinner was an informal party at the Muenster City Park. Henry Knabe and Tim Hess, brothers-in-law, prepared fried chicken and others brought covered dishes. There were 42 present. Following the rehearsal in Sacred Heart Church earlier, baptisms were held for several relatives. Robin Ann and Charlotte Hill, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hill; and Jason and Justin Britain, children of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Britain were baptized by Father Stephen Eckart. Mrs. Hill is the bride's sister and Mrs. Britain is the groom's sister. They were all included among guests at the rehearsal dinner.

Who Will Cut My Toenails?

by Mildred Rauschuber

They rub my back,
They crimp my hair,
They ease me in my old wheelchair,
But no one will cut my Toenails.
My back won't give,
I can't reach my feet,
When I ask for help they all retreat,
They will not cut my Toenails.
My poor ole husband,
Thought he'd give it a try,
Even though he has just one good eye,
He sliced my toe but couldn't cut my toenails.
I went to the hospital,
I saw this nurse,
She spoke to me in a manner terse,
"Its against the rules" I cannot cut your toenails.
My Toenails grow longer,
I can't wear one shoe,
They're bent back hard, a motley crew,
For no one will cut my Toenails.
Now when I die,
They'll fit me in a box,
And then I'll laugh just like a fox,
For then they'll have to cut my Toenails.

Spraying program for 'hoppers is under way now

An airborne spray program is under way right now to save farmers, ranchers and consumers money. The Rangeland Grasshopper Control Program has been initiated as part of an ongoing effort to combat this summer's heavy infestations of grasshoppers in cattle-producing areas.

According to Ron Johnson, staff officer with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, as many as 30 million acres of rangeland are infested with high levels of grasshoppers. The result is millions of dollars' worth of losses of valuable livestock forages.

Since 10 to 15 percent of infested acreage normally is treated, Johnson says five to seven million acres may have to be treated this summer. More than 5.3 million acres in 1980 and approximately 7.1 million in 1979 were treated as part of this program.

The spray program is organized on a local area basis and is required to meet certain criteria, including: An economic infestation of grasshoppers (usually eight per square yard) must be present; a proposed spray area must have at least 10,000 acres; everyone in the spray area must participate; and the landowner's money must be on deposit. The key to making the program work on a local level is spraying a large enough block to deter re-infestation of grasshoppers from untreated areas, according to Johnson.

VETERANS

All veterans discharged under conditions other than dishonorable are eligible for treatment of alcohol or drug dependence at any VA hospital and some outpatient care centers.

War-time veterans 65 or older are considered permanently and totally disabled under the terms of Veterans Administration programs. They may be admitted to a VA hospital if hospitalization is deemed necessary and beds are available. Younger veterans who apply for treatment of non-service-connected disabilities must state under oath that they are unable to pay for treatment elsewhere.

The Possum Kingdom Lake Home of Mrs. Ouida McCandless was the place of action for the birthday weekend celebration honoring Mrs. Laura Belle Jackson of Forestburg, whose birthday was Sat. May 30.

Those attending the gala affair were: Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Griffin of Arlington, Mrs. Billie Moon of Stephenville, Mrs. Faye Jones, Saginaw, Mrs. Ouida McCandless and Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCandless and girls and Laura Bondid all of Matodor, Chris McCandless of Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brogdon of Miami, Mrs. Pam (Brogdon) Williams and Kyle of Shamrock, Tim and Tad Terrell of Post, Bill Jackson of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Randy bird of Paradise, Scott Selby of Era, Jason Brogdon of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Dill and Vatoni,

The Forestburg young homemakers of Texas will sponsor a hamburger fry and dance Sat. nite June 13 at the Rodeo grounds. The menu includes: hamburger, french fries, baked beans, cake and tea for $3.00 per plate and serving starts at 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The dance starts at 8 p.m. with music furnished by Bodine Brothers. The proceeds from this affair will go towards a new community center for Forestburg.

As you read the following item please keep in mind that the man involved in it has not been grocery shopping in years thus had no idea how high they had become. So here is our little story: Recently one of our neighbor ladies gave her husband a grocery list for him to purchase at a store in a neighboring community which is known to be the most reasonable store in the area. Since the husband was going there on business the wife thought she'd get in on the bargains at the store. Well, the husband went and returned without any groceries - saying, "I went to the store but just didn't buy the groceries you sent for."

Why that is the highest place around." He didn't realize that one can't buy a 30 cent loaf of bread anymore.

Leave us not forget the Hamburger fry and dance that the Forestburg chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas are sponsoring Sat. P.m. June 13 at the local rodeo grounds. Serving will start at 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. with dance to follow. Proceeds to go towards a new community center.

AN ENERGY-EFFICIENT AIR CONDITIONER WILL GIVE YOU A COOL BONUS ON OPERATING COSTS!

If you're planning to replace or install a central air conditioning unit, remember that how much it will cost to operate is just as important as the purchase price of the unit. That's where you get a bonus with an energy-efficient air conditioner. An energy-efficient unit is designed to use less electricity. Even though the purchase price can be higher, an efficient unit is more economical in the long run because the money you save on operating costs will far outweigh the price difference. Before you buy, get some free help from the TP&L Customer Service Representative ... he's the Electric Energy Expert. Since TP&L doesn't sell or install air conditioners, he can give you impartial advice on what to look for and how much you can expect to save.

24 session. Parents who wish to send children are invited to contact Sylvia Bayer, 4868, or Kathy Berres, 2595. Children are accepted from 3 years of age through the 6th grade and may be of any religion.

A change in the method of packaging trash and garbage has been requested by the city. Celine Dittfurth, city secretary said this week that the collection personnel are having trouble with bags that are oversized, not properly closed, and not placed near the curb. Also, paper bags are preferred over plastic.

Objection to the big bags is that they are hard to lift and make the collection job needlessly difficult. The recommended weight is no more than 50 pounds. Bags not properly crimped are harder to handle because they are less compact. Besides loose bags are more likely to be opened by dogs or to spill their contents if knocked over.

Nearness to the curb is asked because it save time and steps.

The objection to plastic bags is that they do not disintegrate in the sanitary landfill. They last indefinitely under the ground and become a problem when dirt is turned later for future trash disposal. Paper was originally adopted as the trash and garbage container because it decays in the ground.

Another objection to plastic; it is subject to splitting in hot weather and contents may spill out when the bag is picked up.

STAYING HEALTHY

The Healthy Heart Test

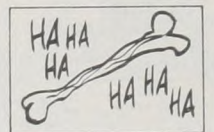

The world's longest-running large-scale investigation into the causes of heart-related diseases — the famous Framingham study — pinpointed six controllable factors that affect your risk of suffering a heart attack or stroke. They are: smoking, weight, blood pressure, cholesterol level, physical activity, and stress and tension.

Shown here is a self-scoring test to determine your degree of risk, based on your life style and physical characteristics. It's from a new book, "The Healthy Heart", ($12.95) to be published by Time-Life Books on April 1.

To use the test, find the number that fits your life style or physical makeup in each category. (You may have to ask your doctor for your cholesterol level and your blood pressure.) Then, at the end of the chart, add your numbers to gauge your total risk.

Risk Factor	Your Score (Circle)	Risk Factor	Your Score (Circle)
Smoking	0 Nonsmoker 2 Less than 20 cigarettes per day 4 One pack or more a day	Physical Activity	0 Regular vigorous exercise 2 Moderate exercise 4 Sedentary
Weight	0 Desirable for your height 2 Up to 10% over 4 More than 10% over	Stress and Tension	0 Rarely tense or anxious 2 Feel tense 2 or 3 times a day 4 Extremely tense
Systolic Blood Pressure	0 Less than 120 2 120 to 140 4 Over 140	Total Risk	0 - 4 Low 5 - 9 Below average 10 - 14 Average 15 - 20 High 21 - 24 Very high
Cholesterol Level	0 Less than 150 2 150 to 250 4 Over 250

Unlike age, sex, race and heredity — factors that also affect risk but cannot be modified — the factors listed here are all within your control. If the score shows an average or above-average risk, most physicians recommend a program of diet, exercise or medication. The best programs deal with all six categories.

Koch-Britton Low Voltage Electric Stimulation

... for tenderness gains in every beef carcass you process!

Checklist of Benefits

- Energy savings. Reach chill temperature 1-4 hours sooner.
- Less dripping.
- Less spoilage.
- Less shrink and trim loss.
- Shorten aging times up to 66%, less time in cooler.
- Improved quality and flavor.
- 25% increased tenderness.
- About 6% move up a grade, better color, more visible marbling, less heat ring, reduced re-grade.
- Lower the Ph level.
- Eliminate cold shortening and dark cutters.

When a carcass is stimulated, a lot of body heat is dissipated in a hurry. Extra bleeding occurs and reduces chances of spoilage and excessive trim loss. Once in the cooler, proper chill can be reached hours earlier, saving money and energy.

Next day a brighter cherry red color appears. At grading time, about 6% of the carcasses move up to a higher grade. Heat ring and cold shortening are negligible. Aging time is far less (3 days instead of 7, or 7 instead of 21).
