

VISITORS SEE 5 YEAR PLAN AT MUENSTER

Kessler Secretary Commends Progress Since Last Summer

Though not a model town that can be pointed out as prominent for its development Muenster was recognized as the nucleus of a thriving prosperous city when a delegation of four visitors from Frisco and John E. Surratt, Secretary of the Kessler Plan Association of Dallas, were here last Thursday to consider progress made in Muenster's 5-year program and to study co-operative marketing methods as now employed by the Farmers Marketing Association. The Frisco visitors were Mack Fisher, C. C. Atchison, T. L. Nash, and J. F. Bickerstaff.

"I am encouraged by the progress Muenster has made," Mr. Surratt stated while in conference with several Muenster business men. He cited such apparent changes as the resurfacing of Main Street, gravel on side streets, trees for the cemetery, the lighted ball park and better appearance of several back yards. While the changes were not great he regarded them as a definite indication that Muenster is improvement conscious.

Of special interest was Mr. Surratt's statement to the effect that Muenster will be privileged to cooperate in the Kessler Plan Association's task of interesting other cities in a 5-year program. Arrangements have been made by the Kessler Association with radio station KRLD for each city following a plan to be represented in a brief program. The time for Muenster's appearance on a program is to be decided by local citizens.

One especially important detail that has been neglected to date, Mr. Surratt said, is the publication of some sort of pamphlet enumerating the contemplated changes. "To be boosters for the program, people must first become thoroughly familiar with it, they must know the plan in detail." As an instance to prove his point Mr. Surratt explained that the Kessler Plan for Dallas met with little response from its foundation in 1910 to 1927 when it was introduced as a course of study in city schools. Today the plan is making wonderful progress because it is known.

MUENSTER AVENGES FORMER DEFEAT BY 24-18 OVER SADLER

The Sumacs avenged a previous upset, Wednesday night at Sadler, when they swamped the flashy Sadler quintet in a fast and interesting game, 24 to 18.

They were off to a flying start with the opening whistle and before the first quarter ended had piled up a safe 9 to 0 score. Although the Sadler team scored only four field goals it remained in the running by converting numerous charity tosses. Of their 9 points scored in the last quarter seven were from the foul line.

Stelzer and Fette were ejected from the game because of four personal fouls.

Eugene Lehnertz with eight points and Green with six led the scoring for their teams.

MUENSTER PLAYERS APPEAR IN LINDSAY SUNDAY JANUARY 23

Returning the favor to the Lindsay Dramatic Club, which presented "Done In Oil" in the Muenster parish hall Sunday night, Father Francis Zimmerer will take his crowd of Thespians to Lindsay on Sunday, January 23, for the presentation of "Cheerio, My Dearie," a farce comedy that made a big hit with the local audience late in November. The information was given by Father Francis following a recent meeting of the Muenster players.

The Rev. Francis also advised that he is beginning this week on his next play, a three act comedy entitled "When a Woman Decides." It is his plan to select actors for this play from his wealth of reserve dramatists who were not privileged to appear in recent plays.

The cast of characters and the date of presentation will be released in a short time.

FATHER FROWIN LEAVES

Father Frowin will be gone from Muenster during all of next week. Late Sunday morning he will leave for Subiaco to attend the annual business meeting of his monastery, then he will go to Hartman, Ark., for a several days' visit with his family.

BANK'S PERSONNEL UNCHANGED AFTER TUESDAY ELECTION

The Muenster State Bank begins another year under the leadership of its same directors and officers as a result of stockholders' and directors' meetings Tuesday afternoon, January 11, in the bank building.

Directors elected to serve another year in guiding the destiny of the institution are J. W. Meurer, J. M. Weinzapfel, J. R. Danglmayr, Herbert Meurer, Joseph Kreitz, G. H. Hellman, J. W. Fisher, and J. W. Hess.

Following their re-election the directors held their annual meeting and re-elected the bank's officers as follows: J. W. Meurer, president; G. H. Hellman, vice-president; and J. M. Weinzapfel, Cashier.

The stability and progress of the Muenster bank was revealed in this, the 15th annual meeting, when directors of the bank again declared a dividend for the stockholders besides increasing the bank's surplus to a more substantial figure. Since its beginning the institution has never failed to declare a dividend.

Directors and stockholders expressed themselves as well satisfied with the bank's progress in the past year and optimistic over next year's prospects. Cited as the outstanding achievement of the year was the bank's joining the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation by which depositors' accounts are insured up to $5,000.

VOLLEY BALL TEAM DIVIDES HONORS IN MYRA SANGER TILTS

Muenster's Blue and Gold volley ball girls were mostly blue Thursday night after going down in two straight games before a snappy sextet of Sanger High girls. The first game was mere routine as the Muenster players failed to adjust themselves and Sanger coasted through to an easy 15 to 2 victory. The second and deciding contest was evenly matched. In it Muenster returned to the flashy performance that it exhibits only once in a while and really gave the Sanger team a tough tussle. It ended Sanger 18, Muenster 16.

On Monday night of this week the girls evened the score by taking the Myra girls at the Gainesville gym. They had no easy time, however. In the first frame they played hard to eke out a two point victory over a team that showed worlds of improvement since its last game with Muenster. The improvement became more apparent in the second heat when they played the Muenster ladies off their feet to the tune of 15 to 6. By pulling themselves together the Blue and Gold succeeded in winning the deciding tilt 15 to 10.

RETIREMENT ENDS STORE CAREER FOR JACOB PAGEL, SR.

A change of ownership became effective in the tow Pagel stores last week. On retiring from active business life Jacob Pagel Sr. sold all interest in his store to Jacob Pagel Jr. who in turn sold to Mrs. Carra Pagel all his interest in the store known as Charlie's place. As a result both the stores are now owned and operated solely by the persons occupying them.

In beginning his new business career Jacob Pagel Jr. opened a clearance sale on a large variety of old merchandise and many winter items.

MUENSTER DEALERS AT FEED COMPANY'S BIG BIRTHDAY PARTY

J. P. Flusche, Roy Endres and J. F. Herr were the guests of Universal Mills at that Company's colossal and elaborate 16th birthday party at Fort Worth on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Speaking of the party before his departure on Wednesday, Mr. Endres said that about 1,000 feed men were expected to attend the gala affair for which the entire Texas Hotel had been leased.

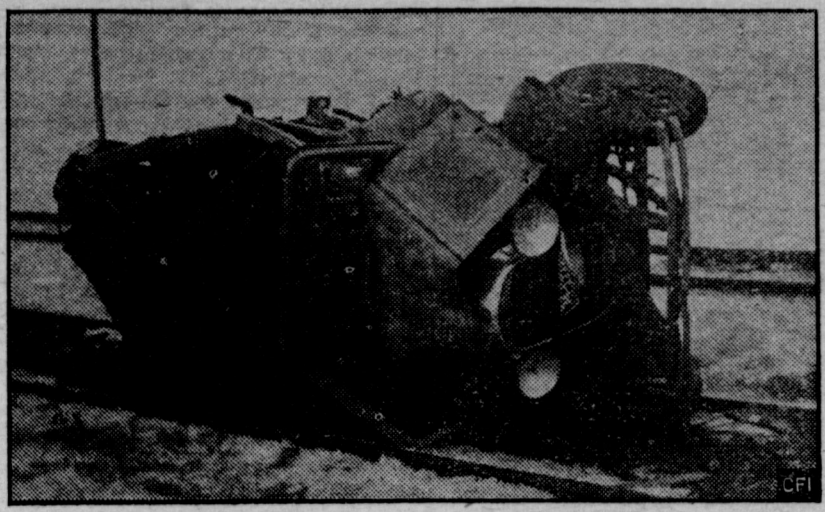

SUMACS RUN WILD IN 52-7 WIN OVER MYRA FREELANCERS

The Sumacs won victory number eight and nine in the consecutive win series when the reserves eeked a 12 to 9 victory over the Myra high team while the regulars trounced the Myra Independents 52 to 7. Monday night in a double bill at the Fair Park Gym in Gainesville.

TWO KILLED BY TRAIN

ROCKFORD, Iowa.—Pictured here is the remains of a two-door sedan after it had been struck by a fast Rock Island freight one mile north of Rockford, Iowa last week. The occupants, M. A. Tatum, 76, and adopted daughter, Mildred, 45, both of Rockford, were instantly killed. After hitting the car nearly in the center when it stalled on the tracks, the train traveled 1,500 feet before it could be stopped. Two inch flat spots were worn on each of the eight drive wheels on the engine as they slid along the rails when the brakes were applied.

MODERN EQUIPMENT WILL BE INSTALLED AT CHEESE FACTORY

In line with their resolution to add new and modern equipment, officials at the Muenster Cheese Factory placed orders last week for a new pasteurizer and a new cream separator, both of which machines are already in transit from the factory and will be installed here within the next week or two, R. J. Hellman, manager of the plant stated Wednesday.

Also under serious consideration is the installation of equipment for condensing surplus whey, which at the present time is going to waste, into a saleable by product. The equipment, Mr. Hellman said, will use steam to drive off as much surplus moisture as possible and the condensed liquid will be shipped to Kraft at Dennison for further condensation to the dry powder stage. This product is highly priced as a hog and poultry feed.

The new pasteurizer will be of stainless steel and completely modern in every detail. It will also be considerably larger than the one now in use, being able to pasteurize between 10,000 and 12,000 pounds per hour. Likewise the separator is a new model of greater size than the machine now in the plant. Its capacity is 16,000 pounds of milk per hour.

Another vital improvement in the plant is a new tinning job for all the cheese hoops. C. J. Fette, plant engineer, finished the work last week after spending about a month of spare time at it.

REORGANIZATION OF HYACINTH CLUB AT M. J. ENDRES HOME

Launching its annual program of religious study, the Hyacinth Study Club held its initial meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. M. J. Endres with Mrs. John Mosman directing the course of study.

In a short business session preceding the evening's work it was decided that the group will meet each Monday at 7:30 p. m. during the ensuing course and that the meetings will last for only one hour. During the previous course the meetings were held on alternate Mondays and lasted two hours.

The new textbook selected for this year is "The Mass and the Liturgical Year," the first chapter of which was accepted as the club's assignment for the next meeting.

The Hyacinth Study Club is a purely spiritual organization founded in response to a plea from the Catholic Hierarchy that "laymen become more familiar with their religion, and sponsors no social programs.

As hostess Mrs. Endres extends her invitation to everyone who can find time to join the club.

PETER'S TYROLERS WILL PLAY AT K-C DANCE JANUARY 18

Muenster people who remember Peter's Tyrolers, the accordion artists from Germany, the group that offers something really different in concert and dance numbers, are beginning now to make plans for the program next Tuesday night at the K of C hall.

In its selections the band leans strongly to old German folk songs, and adds variety to its program by bringing in occasional popular numbers of the day. The Tyrolers' only instruments are accordions, and only one of the men, who is gifted with an excellent voice, takes part in the vocal numbers.

The admission price, good for both concert and dance, has been set at 30 cents per person and 10 cents for children.

SANITATION NAMED AS WATCHWORD AT LOCAL HATCHERY

Sanitation has been adopted as the watchword at the Muenster Hatchery. As a supplement to radical changes in the building to avoid the possibility of exposing baby chicks to contaminated air, Felix Becker has just secured a spray tank and a supply of disinfectant with which he plans to wage successful war on all injurious germs.

This year all walls of the hatchery will be sprayed and all the egg trays will be washed in water that contains a disinfectant. "Our baby chicks will have every chance to make a good start," Mr. Becker said. "When they break the shell in the incubator they will be in fresh air, when they get to the brooder room they will be in fresh air, and they will be in contact with clean, germ free equipment at all times."

Confident of favorable results from the new high standard of sanitation Mr. Becker looks forward to a much better record than the hatchery enjoyed in its first season last year. That the volume of business will be greater seems an assured fact in view of the limited sizes of flocks last year and the interest already shown in his year's poultry program. Before he had made his first setting, Mr. Becker had sold all the heavy breed chickens that would hatch from it. Almost all the light breed chicks were sold the following day. Interest in the heavy breeds now is explained by the fact that they are probably destined for an early broiler market.

Mr. Becker intends to preach what he practices at the hatchery this year. Customers who receive chicks will be reminded that cleanliness is the best assurance of poultry profits.

Almost 3,000 eggs were set last Monday to make the hatchery's opening day. During the three weeks that the eggs are hatching, Mr. Becker expects to complete his remodeling work and to set up his stock of feeds, poultry remedies and disinfectants, which are being carried as a sideline of the business.

SODALITY ELECTION GIVES MISS TRACHTA PRESIDENCY FOR '38

Miss Dorothy Trachta was honored with the privilege of leading the Blessed Virgin Sodality for the coming year when that group met Sunday afternoon in the Parish hall for its annual election of officers. She replaces Alvina Fette who automatically withdrew from the Sodality on her marriage the preceding Monday.

Another change in the personnel of officers is the election of Miss Irene Walterscheid as vice-president to replace Miss Irene Sicking.

As secretary-treasurer Miss Marie Hoenig was re-elected to her former position as a mark of esteem for her conspicuous work during the past year.

In launching their annual drive for candidates the members of the Sodality decided to tackle their problem as a contest. According to names they divided themselves into two groups, one from A to M, the other from N to Z, for the two opposing sides. The nature of the prize to be received by the winning group has not been revealed, however.

The spiritual part of the meeting was featured by a general resolution to recite ten times daily the following prayer to the Blessed Virgin "Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee."

Another resolution was to have the sodality recognized by its official name of Blessed Virgin Sodality. Being composed of young ladies of the parish it had come to be known as the Young Ladies' Sodality.

MUENSTER, SLIDELL ARE FAVORITES IN WHITESBORO MEET

The eyes of North Texas basketball fans will be focused on the Whitesboro Invitation Tournament where the Sumacs are doped to meet the strong Slidell High team in the finals, Saturday night, providing these two power houses of basketball can plod to the apex of a bracket consisting of 14 selected teams.

The upper, or Muenster bracket contains Van Alstyne, the Sumacs' first opponent, Tioga, Valley Creek, Sadler, Anna, Southmayd and Dorchester.

The lower, or Slidell bracket contains Whitesboro, Pilot Point, Slidell, Whitewright, Tom Bean and Collinsville.

Slidell, which has defeated Muenster twice this season, 17-15 (overtime) and 14 to 9 is a slight favorite to win.

While using his reserves against High School teams, Coach Burger has been sending his Sumac five against independent outfits in hopes of finding better competition. To his surprise the Blue and Gold have defeated three such teams in the past two weeks by overwhelming scores. They defeated Valley View 25 to 10; Bonita 36 to 20 and Myra 52 to 7 and should be ready to give the strong Slidell team a real battle.

BAD WEATHER MARS SUCCESS OF LINDSAY PLAY HERE SUNDAY

It was a discouragingly small crowd that ventured out over slick treacherous roads Sunday night to attend the presentation of "Done in Oil" by the Lindsay dramatic club under the direction of Ray Kupper.

A farce comedy, the play scored its purpose perfectly by provoking a steady roar of laughter over the two old German partners in their constant bickering. Herbert Hundt and Vincent Zimmerer in the leading roles accounted almost completely for the show's success.

As a means of continuity for the deluge of wisecracks were a clever plot unfolding the story of a foolish investment by the partners and the eventual arrest of a pair of swindlers by a pestiferous book agent who finally identified himself as a Federal agent, the humorous complications of social aspirations, and three budding romances.

Interludes were provided by Leo Henscheid's orchestra.

The cast of characters in the order of their appearance is as follows: Fred Mosman, Jr., Herbert Hundt, Lonja Gieb, Zita Flusche, Regina Fuhrmann, Antonia Hundt, Vincent Zimmerer, John Fuhrmann, Rosalie Schmitz, Joe Bezer, Jr., Norbert Koehler, Bruno Zimmerer.

CITY MANAGER OF GAINESVILLE WILL SPEAK AT MEETING

At their regular meeting today in the public school building members of the Ladies Civic League will hear an address by E. J. Lacour, City Manager of Gainesville on a subject of his own choice, probably one concerning some phase of civic interest and development.

His appearance at the meeting is being made in response to an invitation extended after the ladies had decided in their last meeting to have a guest speaker appear at each meeting in the future. The idea was adopted in order to add both interest and ideas to the club.

MORE TREES AND SHRUBS

The urge to plant trees and shrubs is becoming more and more prevalent among Muenster people. Nursery men brought a truck load of plants to Doc Myrick's place Wednesday. Digging at M. J. Endres' home seems to indicate more planting there, and the rumor is that more plants are destined for the Herbert Meurer, Mrs. Joe Felderhoff and Rudy Hellman homes.

BURGER TEAM COPS 2 DECISIVE GAMES FROM BONITA FIVES

Dedicating the evening's play to their new mascot, Coach Burger's recent daughter Helen Carolyn, the Sumacs held a field day, Friday night at Bonita, by swamping the Bonita High Team 58 to 13 and the Bonita Independents 36 to 20.

Against their High School opponents the Sumacs hit the goal frequently from all angles of the floor to set a new Muenster High School scoring record of 58 points. The previous high mark of 48 points was made against Callisburg last season.

The Sumacs had little more respect for their next opponents in the final game as they collected 36

CIVIC LEAGUE SETS SHRUBS IN CEMETERY

Also Complete Planting of Hackberries Along Sidewalk

The first major step in the Muenster cemetery improvement project was completed last Saturday when men from the Highway 5 Nursery at Gainesville set out 161 evergreen shrubs within the cemetery and volunteer workmen of the community set out almost all the hackberry trees along the sidewalk leading to the cemetery.

On either side of the sidewalk leading to the crucifixion group is a row of Arbor Vitae in "two different sizes, the larger variety being used for every fourth plant. 150 of the shrubs are used along the sidewalk and five Ramsey hybrid cedars are used as a background for the crucifixion group. Near the gate are six Nandinas.

By an agreement reached with the nursery, all shrubs were set out at a total cost of $190. In the event that any of them fail to develop properly they will be replaced free of charge within a period of six months or at half price within a year.

All details regarding the cemetery improvement work were carried out according to plans of the cemetery committee of the Ladies Civic League. Mrs. Herbert Meurer as chairman directed the program and was assisted by Mesdames Nick Miller, J. B. Wilde, F. E. Schmitz, Andrew Hoffbauer, and R. J. Hellman. Through their efforts permission was first secured from Rev. Father Frowin, custodian of the cemetery, to make the desired changes, then the necessary funds were raised by a soliciting campaign amongst people of the community. At the last report the ladies were only a few dollars short of their goal and confident it could be reached before the end of this week.

Providing for proper care of the shrubs and trees is the ladies' next problem. It will be met, they hope, by a resolution at the next city council meeting to donate water for the plants during the summer or by a decision from Father Frowin to supply water from the well near school. In the event either of these plans is not successful they will attempt to raise funds by dances, card parties, etc.

Co-operating with the Civic League in the beautification work are Father Francis Zimmerer and several members of the Holy Name Society as well as some of the civic minded individuals of the city. They took charge of setting out the hackberry trees as well as digging the holes.

HUGE BOBCAT FALLS VICTIM TO DOGS AT DANGLMAYR RANCH

Quite a number of Muenster people got their first glimpse of a bobcat Tuesday afternoon when Joe Danglmayr came in with a good sized specimen that had fallen victim to Leonard Moon and his pack of hounds on Monday morning. The animal was only slightly smaller, Mr. Danglmayr said, than another cat that Moon and his pack had killed about a week before.

A thickly wooded spot known as Black Hollow on the Danglmayr ranch near Marysville was the scene of both the catches. It is identically the same wilderness that had been explored in vain on Wednesday night of last week by an ambitious hunting party consisting of Monsignor Danglmayr of Dallas, Father Francis, Joe, Albert, and Herman Danglmayr, Herbert Meurer, and Rudy Hellman. They were out after "possums until the wee hours and considered their luck as "lousy" when they returned empty handed. Joe agreed Tuesday that their luck might have been worse had they encountered a few of the bobcats.

FREE EXAMINATION OF TEETH GIVEN TO PAROCHIAL PUPILS

All children of the Parochial grade school were favored with a free dental examination Tuesday afternoon by Doctor Hardy of Gainesville, accompanied by County Health Nurse Jane Harris and Miss Lillian Fisher, student nurse at Gainesville Sanitarium.

Each child found to be in need of dental care was given a note for presentation to its parents with a request that the necessary work be done within a period of sixty days and the note be returned with the signature of the dentist doing the work.

IT'S POLL TAX TIME

Now is the time for all good citizens to remember that their poll tax payments cannot be postponed much longer. The deadline is only a few weeks off.

As citizens of a democratic nation that is being assailed from within and without, every last one of us must realize now more than ever before the importance of expressing our wishes at the ballot box. When democracy first broke its way through the stern shell of absolutism people began to regard voting as a sacred right and many continue to regard it in that light up to the present day.

But voting is more than a right, it is a duty, for by that means only is it possible to guarantee liberty and peace and many of the social and economic aspects of our present system.

For an idea of what can happen when people become careless with their right of citizenship we may glance back a few years through the bloody mist that now hangs over Spain. People there were much the same as some of our own people. They dismissed the warning about Communism as a mere bugaboo that could not happen. For, could Communism ever get a foothold? "Was not Spain all Christian? How then the tragic answer to their question came when they realized they had been too much off their guard. And they are now paying for their negligence with the most brutal slaughter the world has ever known. Franco and his patriots are paying an inestimable price for the freedom that would have been theirs had they only exercised their right at the polls.

Within our own nation there have been innumerable cases of graft and corruption that might have been avoided by proper attention from citizens. Politicians by the dozens have been exposed for their affiliation with criminals, or with business interests willing to pay handsomely for special concessions, or for outright stealing. We need not leave our own state or our own county to find evidence of such procedure.

Even in our small community we find one classic example of what happens when voters go to sleep on the job. All of us remember the narrow margin by which a local option election to legalize beer was defeated a few years ago. With the county almost evenly divided Muenster could have had it exercised its privilege to vote, swung the election. It was the failure of a few in this case that deprived hundreds of what they considered a right.

This year is another political year. As usual the field will contain an array of candidates, each giving promise of zealous, honest and tireless effort for the public welfare. As usual some of the candidates will be wolves in sheep's clothing, seeking the chance to betray a public trust for their personal gain.

A democracy, when it consists of an alert citizenship, is a safeguard against the success of dishonest politicians; but when composed of careless citizens, it is a smooth trail leading to the realization of their treacherous schemes.

We are highly privileged to be numbered among the citizens of America and permitted to share in our government. Our privilege, however is no greater than our duty to help protect Americans by voting properly, which assumes, of course, our obligation of seeking the best candidate or the best measure in an election.

Hostile systems and crooked political schemes make their progress while citizens are asleep. To avert later disastrous consequences the voting public must begin now to be alert.

CO-OPERATION

"In union there is strength." Here is a saying that, aside from its prominence in the list of maxims, is especially conspicuous for its application in our own community.

Only a few days ago a delegation from another city came here to study the methods of the Farmers' Marketing Association and the 5 year plan of civic development recently adopted in connection with the Kessler Plan Association. The former of these two was recognized as a tried and proven system of co-operative marketing dependent for success only on the willingness of people to stick together. The second was recognized as the beginning of a series of developments that will eventually result in a more profitable and more pleasant city.

Muenster's delegation of visitors took it for granted that a five year program would be a success because the spirit of co-operation is very evident in the success of one business. Had that group of men inquired further it might have found two more co-operative enterprises no less conspicuous for their success.

The German Farmers' Benevolent Association is a mutual insurance company founded by pioneers of this community 44 years ago and continued successfully with the lowest fire insurance rates in the state of Texas. It serves as an excellent example of what people can accomplish by pulling together in the right direction. At their average rate of 17 cents per $100 valuation in the past ten years, about 400 policy holders paid out slightly more than $25,000 on $1,500,000 worth of assessed property. Conservatively estimating other farm insurance at $2.00 per $100 valuation we find an expenditure of $300,000 in 10 years to show a saving of $275,000 to farmers of the community.

The same is true of Muenster's mutually owned telephone company. The success of that organization can be easily imagined in view of the fact that city telephone dues usually are about $3.00, whereas they are 75 cents at Muenster. A saving of $27 a year is more than ample payment for a spirit of co-operation.

Here are three outstanding business ventures successfully carried out for the mutual benefit of hundreds of persons through a spirit of co-operation that is already widely known as an outstanding characteristic of the community.

With such a background the people of Muenster launch their five year program. They realize from past experience that all will pull together for the realization of progressive changes once the necessity for those changes becomes generally known.

To make that necessity known is the first duty of Muenster people. Right now is the time to begin a crusade of progress and add the features that will make this city and its surrounding community a better place in which to live and to make a living. Some of the objectives are soil building and soil conserving programs, more industries for the city, a sewage disposal system, organized recreation, vocational courses for school children, beautification of homes and public property and dozens of others.

Taken all together the program seems gigantic, but one at a time the projects would almost seem to take care of themselves when spurred on by a spirit of community co-operation.

One thought worthy of thorough consideration now is that of Muenster's approach to the half century mark. People who see a promise in Muenster's future can begin their crusade now with a series of activities that promises greater progress for the next fifty years. In 1939 our people should say "We've just begun to grow."

with them were Oscar Gehring of Windthorst, Bill Clancy and Frank Darling of Dallas, Alfred Hoedebeck of Tishomingo and Leston Sacer and Joe Traplino of Denison.

C. D. OF A. AND K. OF C. TO HAVE JOINT SOCIAL

Reviving a custom that is almost "gone and forgotten" the Catholic Daughters of America and the Knights of Columbus are making plans for a joint social that will be bigger and better than any experienced by either of the groups for years, according to a statement by Roy Endres, lecturer of the local K of C council after consulting with Mrs. T. P. Frost, grand regent of the C. D. of A. court.

Tentatively the date has been set for next Wednesday night, the regular K of C social night, Mr. Endres said. Both he and Mrs. Frost, as program directors, had agreed on that night and are awaiting the approval of the date by C. D. of A. members in their regular meeting Friday.

The proposal for a joint social seems to have originated in the Catholic Daughters' Circle. A few of the Knights, hearing of the idea, discussed it at the last K of C meeting and found that other members accepted it eagerly. Mrs. Frost and Mr. Endres have made their plans since that time.

Row Crop "70" Brings Modern Power to Modern Harvesting

Roll easily and quickly through your harvest with an Oliver Row Crop "70" pulling and driving an Oliver Grain Master Combine. It's just one more job in the busy year-around schedule of the "70", and as the lucky owner of the outfit you'll know the "70" has everything, does everything and is a beauty to operate as well as to look at. You'll discover its great economy, easy handling and fast working speeds that get jobs done in a hurry at lowest cost.

Smooth, lively, 6-cylinder "70" power is ideal for operating small combines or similar power take-off jobs, and belt work such as driving a 22x36 thresher. The steady overlapping power of six cylinders means more effective delivered power for such work. Power take-off and belt pulley speeds depend directly on engine speed, and are independent of tractor travel. Finger-tip control of all operations, from the comfortable driver's seat, and automotive steering means easier driving, time-saving operation. The Oliver Variable Speed Governor Control enables you to use only the fuel needed for the work.

Oliver builds the "70" in two fuel types for maximum fuel economy—the "70" HC with high compression engine for gasoline, and the "70" KD with engine designed for kerosene or distillate. Pick your fuel and your "70". Get modern low-cost tractor power. See us today about a demonstration.

Confetti

By CON FETTE

Doubting Thomases who have to be shown can save some of their time by skipping over this little account of canine intelligence as submitted by one of our friends. It concerns one of his acquaintances who went bird hunting with a supposedly well trained dog that turned out to be quite a disappointment when it bolted away down a path and refused to return in spite of all his pleading. Even after he shot a rising quail the dog failed to come back and retrieve the game, but the man lost interest in the dog as bird after bird rose before him as fast as he could reload the gun. After shooting his quota, all the birds lying conveniently about himself, the man decided to investigate the phenomenon that made the quail act so strangely. It was then he discovered that his dog had herded a covey into a hollow log and was lying at the opening with his paw in front of the hole, pulling it away frequently enough to release one bird at a time and give his master just a few seconds to reload.

Necessity will bring out the resourcefulness in a man. We are thinking of the fellow who, when told that the dishwashing would be left to him, decided that he was going to use paper plates and clean them with erasers.

We are indebted to a radio program of not so long ago for this one. A cub reporter was sent out to cover the story of a wedding. When he returned empty handed a couple of hours later the city editor demanded an explanation, whereupon the youngster replied that there was no story, in fact there was no wedding because the groom failed to appear. It was then that the old timer burst into a rage and fired the rookie. Newspaper men are supposed to understand why he fired the boy but most others cannot see a good reason for doing it. Can you? Don't give up the answer is staring you in the face.

Some indication of the Sumacs' power is to be found in their decisive victory over a crowd of free lancers from Valley View at the Gainesville gym last Saturday night. The score of 25 to 10 gives very nearly the correct picture of the comparative strength of Toney's basketballers and the ex stars of Coach Brown's Eagle squad who have graduated themselves out of school competition. Except for an apparent lack of practice the Valley View independents can be considered a combination of the best high school talent Valley View has had for years. Beating that crowd by a decisive score, the Sumacs established themselves as top heavy favorites for another county title and fairly important contenders for a district title.

It is unfortunate that a team as good as Toney Burger's squad has to go unheralded and unsung in its own home town. There are people by the dozens around Muenster who would really enjoy being Sumac boosters but they can't get interested because they do not see the boys in action. Circumstances do not permit them to follow the boys on trips of anything from 30 to 100 miles. It is safe to say that the Sumacs have been seen in action by more people in any one town they visited than by their home town people.

Making the situation even worse is the fact that the boys have no place to practice unless the weather is favorable, and they never have a chance to play at home—they have no home. We like to look forward to the time when Muenster fans will have a place to see good games and our orphan athletes will have a gym to play in.

Another version of the story about the youngster who gave his dad a bright red tie for Christmas: One of our thoughtful, practical minded husbands presented his wife with a little fixture for their home, with the comment that he's always wanted one of those things in the house.

Very similar to the notices posted for escaped criminals is a sign in the Cheese Factory. According to the Bertillon system it shows front and profile photos of a young man and contains a message something like this "Wanted: Careful worker. Description: Height, average; Weight average. Identification marks: Scars, etc., none: Characteristics: Cautious, considerate of fellow employees and employer's property, doesn't take chances, uses good common sense." From reading the sign a person gets a vivid idea of what kind of service is in demand. An equally impressive slogan that deserves a place beside this Wanted sign is: "The human body is a machine with no replaceable parts. Be careful."

Just in case you still don't know why the young reporter was fired, here is the reason. It's news when a groom fails to show up for his wedding, a lot more so than if he were there. The youngster had passed up a much better story than the one he had been sent for.

If the athletic tradition in Coach Burger's family is carried on he can begin looking forward to the time when Danny will be strutting his stuff out on the court and Helen Carolyn will be a cheer leader on the sidelines. But the first few days since the little lady's arrival give little promise for such an outlook—she hasn't made enough noise. In spite of which we'll encourage Toney not to feel down hearted. We're still willing to risk a nickle wager that Helen will learn to say "Fight 'em Sumacs" before she says "Gimme."

Is it possible that the wedding next week can be termed as a "marriage of convenience?" As regards the change of name Agnes will certainly have a break. She won't even be bothered with the trouble of remembering that she did change her name—that is, when writing it. She can go on as she did before, spelling out W-a-l-t-e-r—and about that time she'll remember, and just leave off the "scheid." No erasing, no crossing out, no rewriting; it's all so very simple. But Agnes was not the first to wise up to that idea. It was first put into practice when her big sister Anne, married Oscar's big brother, Joe.

HOUSEWARMING PALS CALL ON MR. AND MRS. ED HESS

Giving Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess just enough time to get settled in their new home on the Natt Platt place northeast of Muenster, a crowd of their friends barged in Tuesday night for a housewarming party.

A delightful evening for about 25 persons resulted from an entertainment program of cards and dancing and a plentiful supply of refreshments.
