Among the many activities of government recommended for elimination as ways of improving the nation's economy is that of government competition with the private sector. As viewed by Wilson S. Johnson, president of the National Federation of Independent Business, this competition is costly to the taxpayer and costly to the small business person.

According to Johnson, a recent study by the General Accounting Office for the US Congress shows just how serious is the matter of government competing with private business. GAO estimates that 400,000 federal employees are currently operating over 11,000 commercial and industrial activities at a cost to tax payers of about $19 billion annually.

A typical case is the National Guard opening its own tire retreading plant in Utah, depriving private operators of a substantial part of their livelihood as well as creating a burden for taxpayers.

Experience has shown many times that the government's way of doing business is more expensive, and taxpayers eventually have to make good when such business operates in the red.

Another case was reported in Kansas where county agents of USDA undercut small-business people by selling seeds, chemicals and other products at cost. In Indiana the Department of Energy horned into private business by selling insulation. And a small business man of Ohio who rents tools reported that HUD encroaches on his business by loaning tools free. No matter what kind of business is involved, the outcome is always the same. Taxpayers are the losers.

Those problems were recognized by President Eisenhower in 1952 and prompted him to emphasize the necessity for the private sector to provide goods and services to the government rather than having them produced by government at taxpayer expense. But the idea has eroded in recent years, resulting in unfair competition by the government, a loss of tax revenue from people and firms who were deprived of business, and the usual taxpayer cost because of inefficient government operation.

Hopefully the Reagan economic renaissance will include this matter in its recovery program. There are signs now that improvement can be expected. For instance, Arizona has a new law requiring a review of all projects for the purpose of contracting out wherever it is in the public interest to do so. The act also calls for a sales tax on all goods and services sold by state or local government, thereby removing a price advantage they had over private business.

Considering the thousands of things that need to be done...social, economic, military, moral and what not...we wonder when lawmakers will be able to take government out of competition with business, but other progress is already apparent. Despite what some critics have been saying, the country will not have to wait four years to see a difference. In fact, good signs are already apparent. For instance, the president inherited an inflation rate of 15.2 percent a year, and has lowered it to less than 9 percent. Also the unemployment rate has dropped from 7.4 to 7.2 percent. And the misery index (inflation plus unemployment) is 6 percent lower than when Reagan took office.

Agreement specifies SCS and city shares in land cost for lake

Members of the Muenster City Council in their meeting Monday night signed Soil Conservation Service's Supplemental Water Plan Agreement No. 3, which spells out the proportional cost to be borne by the water district and SCS in acquiring the site for Muenster's lake. Gary Rainwater of the SCS presented the proposed agreement as submitted by the SCS state office.

He pointed out that the water district will pay 65 percent and SCS 35 percent of the cost of 619 acres to be occupied by the permanent pool. The portion of land between permanent pool level and spillway level as well as legal fees and survey expense are charged to the water district, and appraisal fees are to be divided 50-50 between the water district and SCS.

Regarding the project's stage of progress, Rainwater said the ground work on metes and bounds is finished and the paper work is expected this week. As soon as it is received it will be submitted to three prospective appraisers for study in submitting their bids for the appraising job.

After the appraiser is named he will determine values to be used as a basis of negotiating, and if no sale price can be agreed upon the deal will go into condemnation proceedings.

According to Rainwater, condemnation is the usual way because of tax advantage. As a forced sale the income from the deal can be re-invested as much as two years later to avoid capital gains tax. When sold voluntarily the proceeds must be re-invested within 90 days to avoid the tax.

Blood collection nets 93 pints

People of Muenster reached 93 percent of their quota in last week's semi-annual Bloodmobile visit conducted by the Red Cross Blood Center of Wichita Falls. A goal of 100 units had been set on the basis of community capability, which is based on normal response.

Personnel of the blood center rated the turnout as excellent especially since the actual number reporting was 98. However five of those could not be accepted because of physical condition or medical history.

Eight of Wednesday's donors qualified for the

Fire destroys Saint Jo home

About a dozen Muenster firemen responded to a fire call some 3 miles north of Saint Jo Tuesday, but too late. Mrs. A.E. Leslie's home was destroyed while she was in a hospital.

The blaze was discovered by a passer by who notified Muenster after Saint Jo equipment was reported out of order. The firemen left here about 10:40 and found only the framework standing. They took the rural pumper and truck and were joined by a truck from Forestburg.

The home was completely destroyed. Burglary and arson are suspected.

Good News

gallon club. Wayne Klement completed his fourth gallon; Stephen Eckart, Dolphy Hellman and John Yosten completed their second gallon; Betty Henscheid, John Schneider, Mary Lee Hennigan and Milton Knauf completed their first gallon.

The Red Cross blood center program is regarded as a valued community asset with benefits available to the Muenster Hospital and to hospital district residents receiving blood transfusions in other hospitals. Patients are not charged for blood because it is donated. Their only cost is the related expense of packaging, transporting, storing, etc. The program extends its benefits to 42 communities of North Texas and South Oklahoma. Each area receives blood as needed from the Wichita Falls center and each in its turn donates to the system.

Local helpers at the collection included Registered Nurses Joan Walterscheid, Judy Flusche, Peggy Gobble, Carol Fuhrman, and Della Hellman; aides Lucille Hess and Theresa Muller; Technicians Bob LaCoe, Gwen Carroll and Herman Carroll; and Hospital Auxiliary members Carolyn Bayer, Kathy Berres, Betty Jean Bindel, Cecilia Wimmer, Frances Bayer, Mary Lee Hennigan, Loretta Wimmer, Margie Wimmer, Christi Klement and Harriet Pagel.

Getting ready for Christmas Chamber preparations start on Santa Parade and Germanfest

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce is looking ahead to a Christmas parade and Germanfest, the Santa welcome being set for Saturday, Dec. 12 and Germanfest for April 30 and May 1 and 2. Details of early planning were revealed at the Chamber meeting Tuesday.

Lupe Evans repeats as chairman of the parade, with visions of improving on the past events. She extends an invitation to local organizations and area bands and especially to promoters and sponsors of floats. She suggested that a few of last year's arrangements of a store or person sponsoring and school kids doing the work were very successful and it gets more interesting if a sponsor lets kids share in a prize, if won. Prizes for floats again are $100, $75, and $50. Lupe urges sponsors to look for school kid partners in the venture, or vice versa.

Other facts about the parade: Frances Bayer will get parade judges, Jayces will decorate the Christmas tree, Santa will entertain the little ones with goodies and Christmas talk.

Germanfest is headed again by Dick Ferber and Alvin Fuhrman as co-chairmen. They will be joined in an early meeting by the steering committee, which includes Monica Hess, David Fette, Johnny Pagel, Larry Kinard, John Fisher, Dan Hamric, Rumpy Hess and Harold Flusche.

It's homecoming at SHS

Spirits are high at Sacred Heart School awaiting homecoming festivities Friday night. The event will be featured by the Number 1 football game of the season as the Tigers battle with Notre Dame's Knights for the TCIL district championship, plus the formalities of queen crowning and a pair of after-games dances.

Actually, Friday is the climax of an all-week observance including decorations, a powder puff game, queen's court luncheon, and bon fire.

Friday is a red-white dress-up day with senior court at 1 and a biggie pep rally at 2. Next on the program are the night activities starting with introduction of queen candidates and princesses and their fathers before the 7:30 football game.

At half time the royal party will be escorted by football players for the crowning ceremony and identity of the queen will be revealed just before crowning by Shelly Walterscheid, last year's queen. The queen is one of four seniors selected as nominees by the football team and elected by the student body. They are Susie Felderhoff, Sharon Voth, Tina Hesse and Donna Trubenbach. Princesses of the court are Juniors Karla Joe Hartman, Sophomore Marilynn Hartmann and Freshman Rose Felderhoff.

Two dances are featured

Two dances will be held after the game, at VFW for students and at Community Center for alumni.

The football game is the headliner of the occasion, especially because it revives a long time intense rivalry and the stakes are the district championship, a dramatic gratifying finale to an otherwise disappointing 3-6 season. Two of the wins came in the last two games, a welcome boost to enthusiasm and momentum.

Father Stephen strongly hopes to have these two ingredients in effect as his Tigers square off with Notre Dame. He's eager to have the boys at their best, to give their fans a good show as well as put their claim on the district trophy.

On The basis of normal capability the game should be about evenly matched, according to the SH coach.

Game starts at 7:30

As he sees it, the records are similar and they are about even in size and speed. To that extent the game is up for grabs, but he's short of counting on help from such factors as home field and homecoming.

City snarled by tax boners

Before this week's city council meeting, relations between the city and the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District were showing signs of strain, and after the meeting the situation was worse. Conversation at the meeting went on and on concerning boners in the tax office which have thoroughly fouled up the city's tax collection.

In the first place the city is tired of pacifying irate non resident citizens demanding what right Muenster has to tax them. So the city has to expend time and patience explaining that the tax statement was a mistake.

The problem traces back to the fact that the tax appraisal district took over the assessing and billing for all taxing agencies of the county. In compiling the tax roll for Muenster, someone apparently was unaware that some people getting mail here may not be residents or taxpayers. For instance, rural boxholders. So complaints come in by the dozens. "I don't owe and I won't pay."

Excusing those people was no problem but the resulting decline of receipts is getting serious. It derives from the fact that many extra assessments were included in the city's total valuations and were accepted as the basis for setting the tax rate to produce needed revenue for the budget. The inflated valuation resulted in a lowered rate, and every excused mistake becomes a corresponding reduction of the city's budget.

At this stage the amount of loss is beyond estimate. No one knows how many mistaken charges are still unknown. And that's not all. Over charges and undercharges are showing up, and both cost the city. An adjustment satisfies the overcharged person, but the budget is reduced by the amount of adjustment. On the other hand the city loses again on undercharges. Total losses on all the boners are estimated at near $25,000.

The city considers the whole mess as inexcusable inefficiency and carelessness, especially since it originally submitted or carefully prepared tax roll of correct names and valuations. The multitude of mistakes as well as failure to check them has the city wondering if and how it can be compensated.

UIL changes move hornets into 16 team district

A number of changes in Muenster's football program became apparent this week with University Interscholastic League's changes in class and district assignments. It means that the Hornets are included in one of the state's larger Class A districts, total membership being 16 teams divided into west and east zones of 8 members each.

With Muenster in the west end are three old favorite rivals, Lindsay, Era and Valley View, plus Collinsville, Prosper, Gunter and Bells. Lindsay and Bells are moving down to Class A after having competed in 2-A.

The east zone of District 9-A includes Blue Ridge, Celeste, Cumby, Detroit, Fannindel, Lone Oak, Savoy and Caddo Mills.

Superintendents and coaches of the district met

Monday night to divide the 16-member district into two zones then to meet with zone members in setting dates for their district football games. The Hornet schedule will be announced when pre-district games are added.

In taking on seven district opponents, Muenster parts with four former contenders of 8-A. They are Saint Jo, Alvord, Paradise and Perrin who are now in a district with Bryson, Masonic Home, Godley, Meridian, Rio Vista, Santo, Throckmorton, Tolar, Valley Mills and Windthorst.

UIL classifications are determined by the following high school enrollments. Class A, up to 139; Class 2A, 140 to 269; Class 3A, 270 to 644; Class 4A, 645f to 1309; Class 5A, 1310 or more.

Letter to the Editor...

Dear Editor,
I was recently a patient in your little hospital. I was so overwhelmed by the excellent care I received that I felt compelled to write an open letter to the staff and personnel thanking them for it.

I have been a patient or had family in many hospitals, and never have I had the efficient, prompt, personal care that I received in Muenster. My husband and I discussed the evidence of pride which is probably felt by the entire community of Muenster. If that is the case, it is well warranted...you have a project to feel proud of.

The administrator deserves much credit for the efficiency of the hospital staff, but there is something to be said for the working man, too.

Not many housekeeping staffs are as devoted to doing a "job well done" as yours is, and I appreciate these people. The Dietitian and food staff served delicious meals, proven by the empty trays I sent back to the kitchen.

I cannot say enough about the devoted care I received from the medical staff... Doctors Knight, Kralicke, and Carroll as well as the lovely nurses. I never rang for help without getting an immediate answer and service...day or night. For this I am grateful. I am sorry that I do not remember the lovely R.N. who took time to explain answers to my questions and to just talk to me when I needed her, but she is a vital part of the success of your hospital.

All of these good feelings about your medical establishment were re-enforced by the courtesy and eagerness to serve shown by your clerical people. It is evident from the first step into your friendly, quiet, clean, proficient hospital that you people care.

Thank you, Muenster. You have every right to be proud of your medical facilities and the fine reputation it has earned.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Guy (Erma) Hester

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Recently I participated, for the second year, in the Canada-U.S. Interparliamentary Group on International Wheat Marketing, held here in Washington.

At the end of these discussions, attended by representatives from both Houses of Congress and their counterparts from our northern neighbor, I concluded that differences between Canadian and U.S. wheat growers are minimal; they share the same economic problems and frustrations and are hard-pressed to overcome continually rising production costs and make a reasonable profit.

I would have to add that the same frustrations are shared by those of us who represent those growers in our respective legislative bodies.

There were many areas of agreement between delegates to the conference, including the following:

- Very rapidly increasing costs of production faced by grain producers in both nations, including high interest rates, result in a critical loss of farm income;

- Both countries have the great potential to increase output as is necessary to nourish a hungry world;

- The present distortions in the international grain marketing system prevent Canadian and U.S. grain producers from achieving that potential;

- Finally, disastrous consequences for farmers in both nations are imminent unless measures are undertaken to improve farm incomes.

The participants also called upon their respective legislatures to establish committees in both countries with a mandate to develop specific proposals for improving producer returns, including a common floor price that, at a minimum, reflects the costs of production.

I'll be the first to admit that such a committee would have significant problems to deal with, particularly in trying to establish a policy setting a common floor price for both countries. But, I'd also stress that this would be an important beginning toward increased marketing cooperation between two of the world's largest grain producers. (Other key producing areas include Argentina and Australia.)

This cooperation would also go a long way toward improving general relations between governments in Canada and the U.S. Presently, the market price for grain is set by the U.S. market, even though some still refuse to accept that fact. In turn, by promoting policy that puts that price below the cost of production for grain growers in this country, we are similarly jeopardizing the economic future of the Canadian grower, who is eventually penalized by the same pricing system.

Conditions for farmers in both countries are reaching the critical point and other tensions between our two countries add to the complexity of the situation. We have an excellent opportunity, by following up on the spirit of cooperation evident at the Interparliamentary Conference to make significant progress in improving this vital foreign relations link.

The U.S. has not always been the best neighbor to the two countries sharing our northern and southern borders. The importance of agriculture to both Canada, as a co-exporter, and Mexico, as a large importer of agricultural goods, makes it apparent that it is in the best interest of every American citizen, not just grain farmers, to find reasonable solutions to these market problems.

SOCIAL SECURITY PROBLEMS

Perhaps there is no way in America today to stir up people's emotions more quickly than to mention Social Security. So powerful are the emotions evoked by the subject that most commentators steer away from it like the plague. Yet Social Security is a vitally important issue to many people, but about which there is great misunderstanding. To duck the issue because of its controversial nature is to court more serious problems on downstream.

We really need to understand the facts in the matter in order to know which course of action we should ask our representatives to pursue. Most people understand very little about the system itself and consequently are ill-prepared to understand the problem.

The Social Security System was established by Act of Congress in 1935 and went into effect in 1937. It was designed to supplement a person's retirement income, not be his retirement income. Unfortunately, millions of Americans have come to rely on Social Security as their only means of support in old age, hence the fierce emotionalism concerning the program. But this very fact points up the necessity of working to solve the problems in the system. There are two types of problems: short-range and long-range. The short-range involves fear of "bankruptcy" of the Old-Age and Survivors trust fund about November, 1982. The long-range problem involves the generation gap.

When Social Security was established there was an average of sixteen people paying taxes to support one beneficiary. Currently, three people pay taxes to support one, and by the year 2000, in only 20 years, there will be only two workers for each beneficiary.

Social Security has in effect been a "chain letter scheme," in which for forty years we send in our "contributions" and put our name at the bottom of the list in the hope that when our name reaches the top, at age 65, our pay-off will begin. Quite frankly the scheme has finally caught up with us.

Also, there is considerable concern that in twenty years the two workers who will be required to support the one single beneficiary may rebel at the heavy load required. Obviously, revisions are called for immediately.

Those concerned about the impending financial insolvency of the Social Security program, this forum included, are not hard-hearted individuals with no concern for the elderly and other dependents. It is a matter of how best to care for the needy and at the same time keep Social Security from going broke, and leaving them with nothing.

Most of the problems of Social Security have been generated by including within the retirement system beneficiaries by whom contributions were never made and at the same time awarding benefits far out of proportion to contributions. In other words, the system has been endangered by including other welfare features with the paid-for retirement program.

Demagogic politicians and media representatives have for partisan political purposes, played on the fears of older Americans in opposing President Reagan's initial proposals to remedy Social Security shortcomings, implying that needed revisions would really "destroy the Social Security System." Nothing could be further from the truth. Failure to do anything will certainly destroy the system.

Farm Bureau

adopts policies

Cooke County Farm Bureau members at their annual policy development meeting last week adopted three proposals to be presented to the organization's state convention. Two of those pertain to national issues and one to state issues.

National proposals are: "We recommend legislation which will prevent any official of the US government from granting foreign governments the power of veto over export sales or marketing of American farm and ranch produced commodities."

"We support the concept of allowing private industry to operate the Postal Service within the United States."

State proposal is: "We recommend legislation which will require the Texas Department of Weights and Measures to inspect and test for accuracy all grain moisture testers used by commercial grain handlers and dealers. In the event that a moisture tester is found to be inaccurate, such legislation should allow the Texas Department of Weights and Measures to adjust the moisture testers for accuracy."

Furthermore, such promotion could do wonders for national morale, especially if business people adopted the same principle, giving more value for lower price. The great majority of Americans would be deeply proud to be involved in it.

Regarding federal deficit, critics like to gloat that Reagan will not be able to reduce it, but supporters proudly point out that the 1982 deficit at least is not increasing. They expect it to be about the same as Carter's in 1980 and 81. And the real difference is that Carter's $200 billion deficit occurred while taxes were going up, whereas Reagan's is expected to stay at that level while taxes are going down. He is confident that lower tax along with lower budget will leave taxpayers with a larger portion of their income thereby stimulating greater business activity and actually a larger tax revenue.

With regard to cooperating with the recovery effort, it's pleasing to see that workers in a few of the big companies are offering to take less pay. This could be self interest, prompted by a desire to keep the plant going in order to keep their jobs. Regardless of that motive, however, the idea is good for all of the country. If everybody across the nation were willing to do a little more for a little less pay the entire economy would thrive, and the consumers' next reward would be a reduction in prices.

After the job Reagan did in selling the AWACS deal to the Senate, perhaps he ought to take up this idea of more work for less pay. He can do it, and the result would be at least as good for us as the AWACS deal was.

Furthermore, such promotion could do wonders for national morale, especially if business people adopted the same principle, giving more value for lower price. The great majority of Americans would be deeply proud to be involved in it.

Disabled American Veterans... They Paid the Price for Peace!

The screams of the wounded and the stench of gunpowder surrounded Robert Richardson, a private in America's Continental Army, but he fought on until a British cannonball struck his hand spike. It broke in two, one end tearing his belly open. The wind from the cannonball left his right arm useless. Richardson's blood had paid the price of peace and freedom. But, for the rest of his life, he was totally disabled.

For a while, the Continental Congress provided the Revolutionary War veteran a disability pension of half his military salary. It helped, but Richardson was unable to support himself on this meager allowance. Even this pittance ended shortly after the War of Independence when the new national government turned responsibility for disabled veterans over to the individual states and their Poor Law systems.

Life was tough--really tough--for Richardson and other patriots wounded in the struggle to free America from colonial chains. Many were reduced to begging.

Things are better for the 2½ million disabled veterans living in today's America. But, on Veterans Day this year, it's appropriate to recall what happened to the disabled veterans of our Revolutionary War. What happened to them established a pattern that has, to some extent, been played out after each of our country's nine wars--a pattern of forgetfulness that's playing itself out again today, just six years after the last American was killed in Vietnam, our most recent war.

Perhaps that's understandable. When wars end, people want to get back to normal, peacetime life, leaving the turmoil and anxiety of war behind. Following the Vietnam War--the most unpopular war in our nation's history with the single exception of the Civil War--the process of forgetting has been unusually rapid. People want to bury the bitter social division of the Vietnam years. That's good, but there's a tragedy in the way we're going about it: When people forget about wars, they tend to forget about the sacrifices that veterans, particularly disabled veterans, have made. And when the public forgets the needs of disabled veterans, so do their elected representatives.

Maybe that's why the Veterans Administration (VA) hospital system has been hit by one budget cut after another for the past five years, forcing the VA to turn thousands of eligible veterans away from the doors of its health care facilities. Maybe that explains why job programs for disabled and Vietnam era veterans have been kept too small to make a serious dent in the employment problems these veterans have experienced. Maybe that's why we've seen, for the first time this year, curtailments in GI Bill educational programs.

Maybe that's the reason veterans' preference in federal employment was attacked so viciously back in 1977 and 1978. Maybe that's why the VA and other federal agencies were so slow initially in recognizing the seriousness of such problems as the defoliant Agent Orange, the exposure of Cold War veterans to radiation in atomic weapons tests, and the post-traumatic stress difficulties of half a million or more Vietnam veterans.

Think about it. Could it be that the American people have forgotten the warriors as they went about the process of forgetting the trying times of war? The 700,000-member Disabled American Veterans (DAV) believes this is exactly what happened...not just after Vietnam, but after World War I, World War II, and the Korean War as well. But no veteran of any war should ever be forgotten. Without the sacrifices these men and women made, there would be no United States.

Back in 1903, Theodore Roosevelt said something that nearly every American would probably agree with. "A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to get a square deal afterward," he stated. Looking at veterans' programs realistically, it's unlikely that our country would ever let the plight of its disabled veterans get as bad as it was for Private Richardson and his disabled comrades following the American Revolution. But it would be a mistake to simply assume, without giving it much thought, that all of our political leaders are bending over backward to make sure veterans--even disabled veterans--are getting the kind of "square deal" Roosevelt was talking about.

On Veterans Day, 1981, we must ask ourselves a very basic question. Can we do too much to guarantee a square deal for a sailor whose arms were crushed when a Nazi torpedo smashed through the hull of his ship... for the pilot whose body was burned and disfigured when his plane was shot down over Korea...for the Marine whose legs were blown off by a Viet Cong booby trap in the Mekong Delta...or for the World War I soldier who lost his sight in the Battle of the Marne? Every American owes these people a debt that can never be repaid.

Instructions from the... Owners Manual

by Mark Emerson

Many assumptions were made on my part when starting to write this column a few months ago. Thinking that most of the readers had made a place for Christ and His Holy Spirit was an assumption that began to revisit me all too often.

Little comprehension can be expected by the readers of these volumes in months to come unless an attempt is made to establish a relationship with the Spirit of Our Lord Jesus Christ. Considering this, a decision has been made to give those readers still in limbo a little food for thought regarding any doubts that may be lurking about.

There may be those of us who have professed Jesus as our personal savior but continue to have doubts from time to time as to whether it really took.

The following are some major causes for these doubts. Some have, in their childhood years, been encouraged to receive Christ as Savior but for one reason or another never had the encouragement later on as a teenager to reaffirm that decision. When taking the childhood experience into retrospect an individual may begin to doubt salvation and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, not to mention doubt the existence of God.

Harboring resentments toward another for their offenses is often a major cause for doubting our salvation, for Jesus said in Matthew

6:15... "If you do not forgive men, then your Father will not forgive your transgressions."

Refusal to ask forgiveness and make restitution to someone we have wronged can bring a guilt that will make our union with Christ Jesus extremely difficult.

Not often, but on occasion, we will find an individual who has a wrong doing that we are unwilling to separate with. These persons may say they want to become a Christian but are unwilling to go through the surrender that's necessary to make Jesus the Master. As a result they are in bondage to the particular sin. This foundation is very weak and needless to say future doubts will prevail.

The last major cause for doubt is by no means the least. It is pride of becoming a Christian. These believe that their Christian commitment is bound by a previous attitude of self-sufficiency. They had seen in the past no need for the support of participation in a community of believers. This prideful arrogance was evidently present in the Corinthian church of the first century, for Paul in his first letter to them wrote specifically in Chapter 12 verse 14-29. Due to its length this scripture will be deleted.

May the Spirit of the Word instill in us the gift of wisdom so the errors of doubt might be bound and cast out from us all.

Hearing tests for newborn given at Muenster Hospital

Newborn infants are now being tested for hearing impairment in the nursery at Muenster Memorial Hospital because of the purchase of a Neo-Meter made possible through the generosity of the Texoma Land Club of the Telephone Pioneers of America. James Holt, president of the council, has worked through this organization, composed of active and retired employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to raise the money. Various methods, including box suppers, auction of a side of beef, and contributions made in the past year were used to obtain the $800 necessary to purchase the Neo-Meter for the two Cooke County hospitals and a pure-tone audio-meter for the Cooke County Special Education Cooperative.

The hearing test can be performed by the nurse in approximately five minutes. Results are recorded and kept as a permanent record.

With the use of the Neo-Meter in the hospital nurseries, early detection of hearing impairment can be detected and parents can be alerted to watch for signs that the infant is not responding appropriately to sound. Of 1000 newborn infants screened for hearing defects, approximately 99% will be judge normal. Only a small percentage of newborn infants have a hearing defect. If a child's hearing impairment is discovered early, within the first six months of life, he can be helped by audiological and rehabilitation techniques so he will not miss the important speech learning time in his life. Later in life, hearing defects can be corrected or assisted but the child is forced to try to catch up with his normal peers because of the early deprivation.

Dr. Robert R. McLeroy accepted the instrument on behalf of the Gainesville Memorial Hospital and the Muenster Memorial Hospital. It is small and easily portable so that it can be readily utilized in either location. The Neo-Meter will be based at the Gainesville Memorial Hospital and obtained for use at Muenster Memorial Hospital as needed.

Joan Walterscheid, head nurse of Muenster Memorial Hospital, said "WE FEEL MOST FORTUNATE IN BEING ABLE TO PROVIDE THIS SERVICE AT OUR HOSPITAL. I understand we are one of a very small number of hospitals performing these tests on a routine basis."

The FHA students prepared the cookies in class for the treat to take along to the residents. All enjoyed singing together, visiting with loved ones, and viewing the goblins.

Afterwards, YHT members met in the M.P.S. homemaking room and socialized while treating the kids to cookies and punch.

The next meeting will be held on November 5th, at the MPS homemaking room at 7:30 p.m. A representative from T.P.&L, Donna Gerlich will give the program.

SCHOOL NEWS

SACRED HEART SCHOOL NOVEMBER NEWSLETTER

BY STEPHEN BEYER
News from a close friend

Last year's yearbook was co-dedicated to Sister M. Theresina for her "loving generosity." Knowing how much Sister loves Sacred Heart we have included her on our newsletter mailing list. Recently, we received a letter from Sister Theresina that we would like to share with you.

"Dear Mr. Stephen Beyer, Principal, Just a day or two before the arrival of Sacred Heart School Nov. Newsletter, I had thought of the letter. Mental telepathy even with a paper! I suppose it is because I love Sacred Heart School and Muenster so much.

I thoroughly enjoyed this second Newsletter. The comparison by Dr. James Coleman between private and public schools was gratifying, although really nothing new and quite understandable. It should be so.

The article Tuition Tax Credits was also excellent. I always wished the Tigers good luck for their games which I never failed to attend when they were on the Tigers' football field. I wish the team hereby good luck with their Tyler Gorman game, October 30th.

I could place almost every child in the 1981 First Confession and Communion Class.

Fire Prevention Week! How many of them I lived through, and saw the immense usefulness of! Ah, yes the Roommothers, Roomcouples, Calendar of Events and the message from the principal and the fine lunchroom program, the precious drawings, the superior English employed and finally the precious drawings - the perfect typing! All these add up to make the Sacred Heart Newsletter really great.

I am very grateful to you, Mr. Beyer, that I am on the mailing list. That way I can relive all the events of the school I love so much. I wish you the very best for the months ahead.

Sincerely yours, Sister M. Theresina, O.S.B."

We thank you Sister, for your love and comments. Incidentally, we understand that Sister is spending a few months in Europe. Have fun Sister.

Cheerleader activities

As a part of money raising project Sacred Heart High School Cheerleaders are selling stocking caps, hats and scarves. They are made of knitted acrylic. Individual price is $6.50, two or more each is $6.00. If you would like to purchase one, they can be obtained at any home Tiger game. They are also available in the High School office. For more information call 759-2530.

The students of Forestburg High School will have an opportunity to see for themselves how fire can be man's best friend or his worst enemy by observing a graphically animated fire prevention demonstration to be presented at 1:30 on Friday, November 6, 1981, Dan Hamric, principal, announced today.

An assistant safety director for the Texas Farm Bureau, Waco, will make the seven part presentation.

He will discuss the three elements which are necessary to have fire, fire prevention, and fire control. His animated demonstration will involve actual flames of all classes of fire with an explanation of the recommended control of each fire.

The TFB Safety Department Personnel have presented this very educational fire prevention program over 1,632 time for some 385,266 people in 228 or more different Texas counties. This program is being brought to Forestburg under the sponsorship of the Montague County Farm Bureau. The public is invited to attend.

Thanksgiving holiday

Thanksgiving holiday begins Nov. 25 at 2:00 p.m. (we will dismiss early). Classes resume on Mon. Nov. 30 at 7:55 a.m.

Computer news

We are finally putting our computer to some good use. Some High School students are doing basic programming. (A skill, you might have noticed in the Texas Catholic, that all Nolan High School graduates will have to acquire.) Some grade school students are beginning remedial and enrichment programs in Math on the computer. We still desperately need more computers ($1500 apiece) and monitors ($400 apiece). The one computer we have is used, almost daily, into the late evenings and still some students are not able to find time to use it. You may have also noticed that the office is occasionally using the computer for bookkeeping.

We want to thank once again, those who helped bring the computer age to Sacred Heart High School. Below is a list of those who helped purchase the first computer. Thank you.

Butterfly bluebirds conduct get acquainted meeting

The Butterfly Bluebirds met at the Sacred Heart Homemaking Room at 3:30 on October 21, 1981.

Amy Danesreiter lit the Blue Bird candle; Tanya Knabe led the Pledge of Allegiance to the US flag. Melanie Wilde took roll call; Misty Vogel collected dues.

The meeting was a "get acquainted" gathering. Leader, Peggy Walter, explained to the girls that they have risen to Star Bird rank. She discussed camping activities and suggested ideas from the group.

The Bluebirds practiced on their "surprise dance." Jennifer Walter was absent, so her mother brought refreshments of snack and cakes and soda pop. Dian Fisher and Cheramie Moser helped with hostess duties.

Jami Flusche led the Bluebird wish within their friendship circle.

The next meeting will be held October 28, from 3:30 - 5:00. Cheramie Moser will bring refreshments.

Farm Bureau proposes free enterprise marketing program

In an effort to assure a more satisfactory market for farm and ranch products, the American Farm Bureau Federation proposes a program of marketing commodities in the same way as American Industry, that being supply and demand, orderly marketing, orderly production, free enterprise in a free market and utilization of government resources.

A commentary on the proposal is submitted here by Billy Bayer, second vice president of the Cooke County Farm Bureau.

The basic purpose of the program expressed in this policy is to provide the American farmer, rancher and farm and ranch landowners with a farm and ranch program based on the realities of American industry rather than on sympathy solutions offered by Government farm programs which carry the dominating influence of cheap food and fiber policy.

The program is based on coordination of supply and demand, profit, orderly marketing, orderly production and the utilization of the freedom of enterprise in the free market system, and provide for control of private industry by private industry.

The program is also based on agricultural utilization of the resources available within the American system of Government rather than on political manipulation and utilization of agricultural resources.

The program recognizes the need for economic opportunity which produces economic security and profitability.

The program also has potential to reduce federal spending for subsidies, deficiency payments, and government purchases of oversupplied commodities.

The idea is for the American farmer, rancher and farm and ranch landowners to administer their own farm and ranch program through the American Farm Bureau organization.

By administering a program through a farm organization as opposed to one which is administered by government, farmers and ranchers should then have a more readily available means of reacting to changes in cost of production, and adverse intervention by government. The program has a lot of potential for the producers to gain more control over the marketing and production of farm and ranch commodities.

We as farmers and ranchers represent 2.7 percent of the total population of the United States and have had limited success in bargaining with politicians who represent non-agricultural population, in view of the fact that the farm parity ratio is now at its lowest point since the 1930's.

 Costs of producing farm and ranch commodities have steadily increased in recent years. Prices for interest, feed, seed, fertilizer, fuel and machinery have increased dramatically.

We supposedly have a supply and demand economy in the United States. However, there is supposedly an oil glut in the world supply of oil, and we are forced to pay demand prices for fuel, and petroleum based fertilizers and chemicals.

There supposedly is a low money supply in the United States, thereby justifying high interest rates. It is of no wonder that the money supply is low when we pay open prices for oil, and sell our export commodities at prices which are much too cheap.

The purpose of government should be to provide for the people what they cannot willingly provide for themselves.

It is intended that the purpose of government in this program be to continue to provide marketing and production reports of farm and ranch produced commodities and police compliance with mandatory planted acreage reductions.

Forty-one farmers and ranchers will gather in Waco Nov. 9-11 to compile a set of policy recommendations from the 1,500 resolutions received from county Farm Bureaus. The tentative resolutions then will be presented to the voting delegates attending Texas Farm Bureau's 48th annual meeting in Corpus Christi Nov. 29 - Dec. 2.

Resolutions on state matters passed by the voting farmers and ranchers will be state policy for the general farm organization in 1982. Adopted resolutions pertaining to national policy will be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in San Diego Jan. 10-14, 1982.

The Texas Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee is composed of three leaders from each of the 13 Farm Bureau districts in Texas, the chairman of the TFB Young Farmer and Rancher Advisory Committee, and the vice president of the organization, who serves as chairman. The committee will meet at the Texas Farm Bureau state headquarters in Waco.

The 216 county Farm Bureaus in Texas decided on policy resolutions during their annual meetings during September and October. The issues covered deal with farm program provisions, balancing the federal budget, stopping inflation, property tax appraisal, illegal aliens, and immigration policies.

The committee's job is to study the resolutions sent in by county Farm Bureaus, and compile a comprehensive set of tentative resolutions to be submitted to the more than 1,200 delegates at the state convention.

Tigers nip Gorman for TCIL lead

In a dramatic, tense moment at Tyler last Friday night, the Crusaders of Thomas K. Gorman High chose to go for broke. They would win or lose the game by going for a 2-point PAT attempt rather than settling for a tie by an extra point kick.

The play failed and Sacred Heart became the 7-6 winner as well as the forerunner in the TCIL District 3-3A title race. It was a great feeling to the team which leaped from its former 2-6 standing to leading title contender. A showdown with Notre Dame of Wichita Falls remains as the only obstacle to the district championship.

For their moment of decision the Crusaders had selected a pass play. It developed as they had planned. The ball was on target. But it was slippery from the rain and the receiver failed to hang on.

Like the toss of a coin, it was the deciding factor for a remarkably even contest. The statistics showed Sacred Heart with 9 first downs, 110 yards rushing and 21 yards passing whereas Gorman had 9 first downs, 107 yards rushing and 37 yards passing.

Coach Father Stephen Eckart was profuse in his praise. "We played super, both offensively and defensively," he said. The good word also included cheerleaders and drill team and Tiger fans, who kept the support lively in spite of constant rain. It meant a lot to the team. So far we're No. 1. I hope we can stay that way."

The Tigers' score came about midway in the first quarter after the teams had spent opening minutes with near equal success. Following kickoff Sacred Heart made a first down and had to kick on second series. The Crusaders also had a punting situation on the second series but the play became a calamity when a high snap from center sailed over the kicker, Kevin Alford. He scrambled back and got the ball but was snared by Curtis Hesse on the 5, where possession went over to Sacred Heart. Neil Hesse made the distance in gains of 3 and 2 and Curtis Henseid kicked true for the PAT. Tigers led 7-0 at 6:14 in the first period.

Soon after it appeared SH was on the way to improving its score. Following one possession by each team they got started with benefit of a face mask penalty and later got an assist from a roughing penalty in moving 57 yards to the Tyler 16, then lost the opportunity in a fumble.

Major developments for the remainder of the second quarter were the Tigers' loss of possession by interception and Hal Mollenkopf's fumble recovery on the next play. Then, a deadlock of two possessions on each side and, finally, another lost opportunity for a Tiger score. Mollenkopf had intercepted and returned to the 10 with 34 seconds to go. Curtis Hesse gained 8 on the first carry and two busted plays squandered both time and opportunity.

The third period was featured by a rash of penalties, 15 yards on Gorman and 35 on Sacred Heart in one series, but no progress by either side.

The standoff continued until near midway in the last quarter when a 25 yard punt return by Alford ignited the Crusaders on their 47. From there they ground out a 53 yard drive in 16 plays. Two of the series required a fourth down effort. Two were kept alive by inches. Alford finished the drive with a 2 yard plunge as the scoreboard clock read 2:41.

Then, with an opportunity to break even at 7-7, The Crusaders decided to win or lose, with a 2 point PAT attempt. The pass failed to connect, leaving SH with its 7-6 lead.

Defensive standouts for Sacred Heart were Hal Mollenkopf with an interception and a fumble recovery, Greg Walterscheid with an interception and Mark Miller with a recovery.

Flood relief process under way

With the closing of disaster assistance centers in four Texas counties Oct. 29, relief agencies have turned their attention to processing applications received during the three days of center operations.

Federal Emergency Management Agency officials said today. Meanwhile, Robert Broussard, federal coordinating officer, cautioned that applicants should not expect long-term assistance immediately.

He estimated it may be eight to 10 weeks or more before federal and state recovery checks begin to flow from Austin and Washington in significant numbers.

Broussard also said that persons residing in Taylor, Cooke, Parker and Stephens counties -- declared major disaster areas by President Reagan Oct. 23 -- who failed to make applications in the centers have until Dec. 22 to do so.

"They will have to visit one of the recovery agency's office locations to obtain application forms," he said. "Those locations can be obtained by calling the FEMA toll-free information line at 1-800-772-5929 or by checking your newspaper."

Since the initial declaration, the FEMA added Palo Pinto, Grayson and Tarrant counties as major disaster areas Oct. 29 and established assistance centers in Sherman, Fort Worth, Haltom City and Mineral Wells.

The center in Mineral Wells closed Sunday night, Nov. 1; centers in Sherman, Fort Worth and Haltom City closed Nov. 3 after three days of operation.

Residents eligible for SBA loans in those counties must file applications with the SBA by Dec. 24, the agency said.

Hornets wallop Panthers 54-16

Muenster and Saint Jo had a wide open football game last week with the Hornets coming out at the long end of 54-16. The rushing play was especially active with more than 600 yards credited to the two teams. And that does not include the longest run of the night, a kickoff return of 82 yards by Chris Parker of the Panthers.

It was also another game in which the younger Hornets had a good share of the action. Starting in the second quarter, the junior varsity boys shared the lineup with the regulars for the balance of the game.

The win ups the Hornets' season record to 7-2 and their 8-A record to 3-1. Meanwhile Paradise clinched the North Zone title by slipping past Era 12-10. Even a loss next week, which is very unlikely, would not change the Paradise rating. However, the number 2 place is at stake Friday when Muenster and Alvord meet. At this time the Hornets are second and the Bulldogs third but an Alvord win would transpose the standings.

Big plays, which were habitual last Friday, started on the second scrimmage play when Chris Rohmer recovered Saint Jo's fumble on the 26. Then Gary Klement's slant into the left side of the line went all the way to pay dirt and Dale Swirczynski's PAT added a point.

The next Hornet score was delayed by a turnover, a Hornet fumble recovered by the Panthers in midfield. Six plays later Swirczynski's interception and 15 yard return gave Muenster a second chance from 31 yards away. Two tries reached the 19 where Klement took a pitchout and got around the left corner for his second TD. Swirczynski also got his second extra point. The score 14-0.

During the remainder of the quarter Muenster lost possession twice, on an interception and a fumble, and eventually got a sustained drive going after a Panther kick that rolled dead at the 1. Three runs by Flusche reached the 40 and Klement broke away for the remaining 60 and his third TD. And Swirczynski followed with his third extra point.

The next drive went 73 yards in ten plays, including a 19 yard pass, Kevin Felderhoff to Tim Schneider. Neil Flusche made the last 3 yards and Swirczynski booted another extra point. The score 28-0 at 4:18.

Juniors took over then and the Panthers responded with a 70 yard drive in 15 plays ending with a 25 yard field goal by Jim Dennis. Besides the 3-pointer, Dennis accounted for 25 yards in three carries. The score was 28-3 at the half.

The second half opened explosively with David Flusche's 25 yard kickoff return followed by his 68 yard sprint to the next TD, and Swirczynski's extra point kick. The scoreboard read 35-3 at 11:40.

Then suddenly Saint Jo got sensational. Chris Parker streaked 82 yards on the kickoff return for the Panthers second score, and Dennis upped the count to 10.

So Muenster launched another drive halted by a Hornet fumble but resumed three plays later when Doug Walterscheid recovered a Panther fumble. That was 28 yards away. Klement gained 18 and Flusche the remaining 10. The PAT effort missed. The score was 41-10 at 5:00 in the third.

Next score was Saint Jo's ending a 32 yard drive which started with a fumble recovery. The Panthers used nine plays ending with a 5 yard pass, Thurman to Wolfenbarger. After a blocked kick the score was 41-16 at 10:27 in the fourth.

The next drive started with Tim Schneider's interception and was delayed by an exchange of fumbles. Muenster lost possession at the Hornet 43 and James Huckaby got it back at the same place on the next play. Felderhoff's pass to Vance Wells made the remaining 57 yards. Swirczynski's kick made the score 48-16.

The final score was set up in the last minute as Huckaby blocked a Panther punt, setting up the Hornets on the 4. One try lost 4 yards and Winn scored from the 8 on the second try. The PAT attempt missed.

A great job by the the Hornet forwards cleared the way for Muenster backs to run up an outstanding rushing record of 444 yards, Flusche stepped off 209 of those yards in 12 carries and Klement 141 in 6 carries.

However Saint Jo backs also made lots of yards. They had 161 in rushing plus Parker's 82 yard kickoff return.

Twirlers get gold medals at UIL

7 Myra firemen complete 3-week training course

Seven members of the Myra Volunteer Fire Department have completed three 3 hour classes on "Fighting Basic Structure and Ground Cover Fires," and will receive certificates. They are Carroll Smith, Leon Fuhrmann, Ben Fleitman, Jr., Francis Fuhrmann, Kenneth Huddleston, Bob Powell and Maurus Hacker.

The classes were taught by Jim Nichols of the Texas Forest Service, in the Community Center of Gainesville. The men saw films and slides of fires, and also participated in lectures, discussions and demonstrations on the most advanced fire fighting techniques, and getting the maximum fire fighting effect from a minimum of water.

The Myra Volunteer Fire Dept. also received "on the spot" training for flood rescue when a car was washed off the road and downstream north of Myra. A volunteer fireman tied a hose around another fireman who waded out into the rushing water to rescue the lady driver.

Bowie came over Wed. Oct. 28 to stay with the Jack Carters so he could visit with his Aunt Janice and John while they were here. He returned home Sun. Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Hob Jackson of Fort Worth visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jackson Sun. Oct. 25. Hob and Ray are brothers.

Perryman Denham and wife Myrt drove up to Oklahoma City Fri. Oct. 23 to spend that weekend with some former Air Force friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gilbert. It was a fun-filled weekend for all. On Sat. Oct. 24 Perryman accompanied his host to the office where he works and as they stepped off the elevator they met Homer Arthur Littell getting on. He was heading for his offices in the same building. The three gents had a nice chat and Perryman says one can hardly go anywhere without bumping into someone from the Burg. Guess the reason for that is that so many people have left it and never came back. On our way home Mon. Oct. 26 we visited with two Perryman's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Helm in Paul's Valley, Okla. and the other Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helm of Wynnewood, Okla.

Mrs. Virginia (McGee) Wilkison and daughter Karen Collier spent Saturday night Oct. 24 with her mother Mrs. Vera Mae McGee. On Sunday the 25th of Oct. Vera Mae's house was filled to the hilt with children, grandchildren and other kin. Visitors were Mayo McGee of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Griffin and daughters Cheryl and Husband Lanny Gilley and Judy Young and son Brandon, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilkison and grandchildren Jason, Heather and Nathan all of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Edna Merle Hill of Bowie and Wanda Lee Perryman. They all had lunch with Vera Mae and an enjoyable day was had by all present.

Mrs. Jewell Dill is once again on the sick list - this young lady is having a difficult time getting over her health problems. Mrs. Bula Mae Berry has been under the weather also for the past week but reported feeling better on Monday Nov. 2.

Ray (Ted) Jackson and spouse Laura Bell were in Gainesville and Muenster Tues. Oct. 27 on shopping spree and business. On Fri. a.m. Oct. 30, the Jackson's son Bill of Decatur visited with them.

The Texas Alcoholism-Narcotic Education (TANE) will give a program at 9:15 a.m. Wed. Nov. 18 in the gym of Forestburg School.

Met up with Ern Umberston Fri. a.m. the 30th of Oct. at a Muenster grocery store. Ern told us that at today's food prices he had to sell one hog to pay for one sack of groceries. He is almost right - the cattle raiser sells his prime beef of r from 52 cents to 67 cents a lb. - and then has to pay from $2.00 to $3.00 per lb. to buy it back. Something bad wrong somewhere. That is what labor has done to the prices on everything. Tis a shame that everyone makes money on cattle and hogs except the feller that raises em.

DAR features Yorktown battle

Mrs. Rube Griggs was hostess to the Francis Lightfoot Lee chapter of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution on October 10.

Highlight of the meeting was a program presented by Regent, Mrs. Gordon B. Smith, observing the 200th anniversary of the "Victory at Yorktown, 1781." Mrs. Smith said that "The world turned upside down for British Lord Cornwallis and fell into place for the Colonial troops led by General George Washington. The surrender at Yorktown, Oct. 19, 1781 signaled an end to British rule and a bright, new beginning not only for the colonists but also for mankind.

Lafayette suggested the importance of the victory when he said that "Such a glorious cause has never before attracted the attention of mankind; it was the last struggle of liberty, and, had America then been vanquished, neither hope, nor asylum would have remained for her."

Mrs. Gordon Smith also read the official proclamation tracing the events surrounding the historic event with the resolution that the DAR commemorate the Yorktown Bicentennial in such a manner as to rekindle love of country and devotion to principles upon which our nation was founded.

The DAR's business meeting was conducted by Regent, Mrs. Smith who led the ritualistic opening; Mrs. Edward Dale who gave the prayer and pledge of allegiance; Mrs. John Balentine who led the American's Creed and Mrs. Betty Ann Gunter who read a message from the President General, Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby.

The hostess presented a National Defense report and Mrs. Bill basinger gave her special report. Members signed a message for Mrs. Ruby Davis, who was ill.

The November meeting will be a Thanksgiving observance in the home of Mrs. John Balentine when Mrs. Rube Griggs will be program leader, on November 21. The hostess served refreshments following close of the meeting.

Two groups bring halloween joy to St. Richard's

Ghosts and goblins walked the halls of St. Richard's Villa at Halloween, as two groups came to entertain the residents. Earlier in the week, Buck Ware, Joe Bauer and other residents prepared a jack-o-lantern, and decorated the halls with pumpkins, cats, witches, and bats.

Then, on Oct. 29th, members of the Young Homemakers of Texas and the FHA students, taught by Mrs. Joanie Sturm, dressed in their Halloween costumes to put on a party. Members of the FHA brought cookies and punch they made. The whole group sang to a piano accompaniment and visited with all the residents. Tiny spooks brought candy, songs, and smiles on Oct. 30. Mrs. Edna Williams, dressed as a witch, brought her morning kindergarten class dressed in their Halloween finery. The residents greeted the children in costumes of their own, including cowboys, ghosts, cops, and "geisha girls". Mr. A. Winn, principal drove the bus and several of the mothers made cupcakes and punch and helped with the party. They included Mrs. Gilbert Kubis, Mrs. Jerry Schmitz, Mrs. Gilbert Hess, and Mrs. Larry Vogel. The children made paper decorations and party favors for each resident. They sang Halloween songs and danced for the residents.

Junior garden club meets

The Muenster Junior Garden Club sponsored by the Muenster Garden Club met in October to discuss topics for the National Forest Service Poster contest. Smokey the Bear/fire prevention, Woodsy Owl/litter control, and general conservation were studied. Each member chose one topic to illustrate with a poster.

Some members participated in the Horticultural display sponsored by the Muenster Garden Club. Members had plants which they have been caring for since August. Those exhibiting were Mandy Barnhill, bromelaid; Toni Reiter, African violet; Michelle Hennigan, trailing violet; Martin McCoy, African violet; Julie Felderhoff, philodendron; Arpil Truebenbach, Christmas cactus; DeAnn Bayer, Christmas castus and begonia. Deann Bayer also exhibited a very nice specimen of a loblolly pine which was planted as a seed last January on Arbor Day and which she has cared for since then.

City qualifies for flood relief

The City of Muenster will receive federal disaster relief payments for losses sustained in the recent flood and it will also be able to qualify for flood insurance as protection against future flood losses.

The city was represented last week by Mayor Leo Hess, Ted Henscheid and Steve Moster in a meeting with federal officials in Mineral Wells on flood relief that is available to cities and counties. The message was that it can be compensated at 75 percent of damage sustained by city facilities, such as sewer, parks and streets.

The city council, in session Monday night voted in favor of the flood insurance. Hess explained that it is available also to other property in the flood prone area as well as to structures of the future. However an additional requirement is needed to qualify the future building for flood insurance. The city must have an ordinance specifying elevated construction if necessary to raise the ground floor above the flood plane of a 100 year rain. Applied to the local area, this could be somewhat lower than the level of the recent local flood, which was estimated as a 500 year rain.

In other business the council approved purchase of a new city pickup, approved passing an ordinance on returning books to the library, and announced that a requested paving project on Sycamore depends on completion of curb before May 1982.

Wettest month

A rainfall record topping all records of the past was established last week when October ended with a total measure of 20.86 inches. It more than doubles previous October records which were 9.28 in '74, 8.57 in '59 and 7.83 in '57. Furthermore it's far ahead of other wet months since local records were begun here in 1946. Some of those figure taken from Steve Moster's records are 12.43 in April '57 and again in April '57; 12.47 in August '50; 11.61 in September '51; 11.11 in September '62 and 11.12 in September '64.

Also last month's measure tops the full year total of 19.06 in 1956, and the present total of 48.52 inches is nearing the all-time year's total of 51.80 in 1957.

Temperature readings of the week were recorded as follows by Moster. Oct. 29, 52 and 74; Oct. 30, 57 and 72; Oct. 31, 67 and 68; Nov. 1, 47 and 64; Nov. 2, 45 and 64; Nov. 3, 44 and 63; Nov. 4, 45 and 68.
