

TURKEY DINNER WILL FEATURE PARISH PICNIC

Proceeds To Be Placed
In New Church Fund

Contests, Games, Dance and Refreshments Included
On List of Attractions

Following the local tradition of many years' standing, a noonday feast will again be the featured event at Muenster's parish picnic on Thanksgiving day. Plans made earlier this month not to serve meals until the evening were changed at a meeting of the Mothers' Society late last week.

The menu, however, remains unchanged. Turkey and fresh country sausage with all the vegetables, relishes, and deserts will be served family style under the supervision of Mrs. John Eberhart and her group of assistants. Dinner prices will be 15 cents and 35 cents.

Another definite announcement made Wednesday by Rev. Francis Zimmerer, was that concerning shooting contests. Both trapshooting and target shooting are being planned. Prizes will be solicited early next week by young men appointed by Father Francis.

The usual other picnic features, including tango, grab bag, card and domino games, iced drinks, sandwiches, candy and ice cream will be supervised by the several parish societies. Mrs. Felix Becker, as president of the Mothers' Society is general supervisor and will have charge of the dance that night.

"USUAL HIGH MARK" SOUGHT IN RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The annual financial drive of the Red Cross started in Cooke County Tuesday morning with membership committees working throughout the county. F. X. Schad, chairman of the Cooke County chapter announced that no quota has been set for the county, but "It is hoped that we attain the usual high mark."

Mrs. G. H. Hellman has been named solicitor for Muenster. She is to appoint an assistant to help her. The report of solicitors will be made to Miss Alice Rollins, secretary of the chapter, who maintains an office in the county superintendent's office during the roll call. A contribution of $1.00 entitles a person to full membership. However, lesser amounts are accepted.

Fifty cents of each dollar donated is sent to the national headquarters to help carry on work where emergencies arise, the remainder of the money is retained by the local chapter, and is used to pay for medicine and buy glasses for school children whose parents are not financially able to pay for them.

During the past year the chapter has paid for the filling of 261 prescriptions and fitted 41 children with glasses. In addition the chapter has given assistance to more than 200 ex-service men and civilians.

EX-SUMACS NOSE OUT DEXTER FOR FIRST VICTORY OF SEASON

The Ex-Sumacs barely nosed their way into the win column Tuesday night by a hard played, interesting game with an independent club from Dexter at the Whitesboro gymnasium. 28 to 25 was the final count. It was 19 to 17 at the half.

Neither team seemed to have an advantage as they swapped leads several times during the evening, then tied at 24 with only two minutes to go. A charity toss gave Dexter another point and two successive field goals by Flannery put the game on ice for Muenster.

JOHN MOSMAN OPENS CHEVROLET AGENCY AT SAINT JO, DEC. 1

John Mosman, bookkeeper at the Ben Seyler Motor Company, will open a garage and car agency in Saint Jo about December 1, he announced Wednesday after a telephone communication with officials of the Chevrolet district headquarters at Dallas confirming his appointment as their dealer.

Mosman's new business will occupy the former Aldridge garage. Paul Clayton, another employe at Ben Seyler's, will move to Saint Jo as manager of the garage's service department.

TWENTY ENTER RANKS OF KNIGHTHOOD AT DENISON INITIATION

Muenster was well represented Sunday when an impressive major degree initiation sponsored by this district admitted twenty new members into the ranks of the Knights of Columbus. The event took place in Denison under the direction of Francis J. Mooney, district deputy.

Opening the program was a parade of candidates and members from the K of C hall to St. Patrick's church, where Father Deeney, chaplain of the Denison council, celebrated the high mass and delivered the sermon.

Exemplification of the first degree took place at 11 o'clock. The second degree initiation began at 2 o'clock and was followed immediately by the third, which in turn was followed by a Dutch lunch open to wives and friends of the members.

Jerome Pagel, Herman Fette, and Richard Schmitz were Muenster's only candidates. John Sicking, another applicant for membership failed to return from his honeymoon in time to be included in the group. Muenster also had an attendance of about 35 members, including Ed and Tom Hennigan, who belong to the local council but live in Oklahoma. Five candidates and about 25 members constituted Gainesville's representation at the initiation.

State Deputy C. K. Walsh and District Deputy Francis Mooney had charge of conferring the degrees.

Listed among those present were Matt Theisen, formerly a resident of Muenster and now State Deputy of Oklahoma, District Deputies George Nicud of Dallas and Joe Hesse of Wichita Falls, Rev. Fathers Deeney of Denison, Caper of Sherman and Francis of Muenster.

About fifteen members of the Wichita Falls district, principally from Scotland, Windthorst, and Electra, also attended the degree work.

PAROCHIAL TEACHERS ATTEND EDUCATIONAL MEETING AT DALLAS

All teachers of the grade department of the Parochial school were in attendance Wednesday when the Diocese of Dallas sponsored its first Diocesan Institute, an instructive and inspirational series of lectures given by educational leaders of the Catholic church in America. The purpose of the meeting was to bring closer unity in method and aim among all schools of the diocese, and to give inspiration and direction to parochial teachers in their work. It was held at Ursuline Academy in Dallas.

Bishop Joseph P. Lynch officially opened the institute with a high mass and short address of welcome at 9 o'clock. Benediction at 5 o'clock ended the meeting. Ladies of the Parent Teachers' Association of Dallas Parochial schools were hostesses to the assembly at noon. Among the attendants were 170 sisters and 18 priests.

Almost every phase of Catholic education was touched in the series of lectures. In the discourse on Democracy and Catholicism, teachers were reminded that the church, like democracy, holds that the state exists for the welfare of the individual and not vice versa, and that Catholic schools have a mission of teaching those principles which safeguard the rights and emphasize the obligations of every individual.

Another address stressed the necessity of religion as the pervading influence in education. As the background of character, religion and morality are indispensable in the making of a good citizen they should become a part of him, they should be intimately related to all his knowledge. In a lecture on the Apostolate of Teachers the audience was told of its duty to carry on in word and deed the good work begun by the apostles.

Outstanding educators, all of them gifted speakers, appeared in the series of lectures. One was Father Roy of Loyola University, New Orleans, Director of the National Educational Association and also the National Catholic Educational Association. Mr. Cummings is Assistant director of the Department of Education of the National Catholic Welfare Council. Rev. Dr. Nold is a recognized leader in educational circles of Dallas.

Our Lady of Victory Academy at Fort Worth was named as the meeting place for next year's institute.

The day before the institute representatives of all diocesan schools were called to a supervisors' meeting to discuss text books and adopt a geography as standard for all parochial schools. A history text will be standardized next year. Some time was given to a discussion on free text books for parochial schools. Sisters Lucia and Francis represented the Muenster school at this meeting.

Men who accommodated the teachers with rides to Dallas were Clem Hoffbauer, M. J. Endres, and Ed Swirczynski.

ROYAL REUNION IN PARIS

PARIS, FRANCE.—The first public evidence of reconciliation between the Duke of Windsor and the British royal family was marked last week by the meeting here of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who are all shown above. The Gloucesters flew to Paris while enroute home from Kenya Colony in East Africa. The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester are at left; the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, at right. Rumor has it that the Windsors may go to England before the Duke's brother, King George, and Queen Elizabeth leave for their visit to Canada and the United States in the Spring of 1939.

80 MILES STAKED, CO-OP PREPARES TO BEGIN CONSTRUCTION

With the completion of 80 miles of staking, the Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association turned its attention Wednesday to arrangements for the beginning of actual construction. Staking sheets with data concerning building specifications are being prepared by resident engineer J. H. Flood to serve as a basis for the contractor's order for material.

Local Co-op officers are confident that construction will be under way on or before December 15. Superintendent J. W. Hess states that the contractor is estimated ten days to secure materials and move equipment to the job after he receives official notice. Flood expects to have his data prepared in time to submit an official notice Saturday, Nov. 19. Allowing for usual delays at REA headquarters in Washington, it is thought that construction can begin by December 15.

One hundred working days are permitted the contractor to finish his job. This change of the original contract specification received approval in Washington when it was explained that 160 calendar days during the winter might not be sufficient to finish the work. If fair weather prevails this agreement calls for completion of work in less than the previously specified time, with bad weather the time may be extended to more than 160.

One crew of surveyors under the direction of Weldon Blanton continues its staking activity while Flood's crew is resting temporarily. At the present time Blanton is working in the Marysville-Bulcher area. Staking in the Muenster and North Lindsay area is almost entirely completed.

The right of way along the stake line is almost 100 per cent complete. As the surveyors move along J. W. Hess checks every farm against his right of way records and secures signatures of the missing persons wherever possible.

Reports reaching the co-op office to date indicate that wiring is now in progress in several homes. Mr. Hess issues a special request that every person who has received wiring instructions make arrangements for wiring at the earliest possible date and avoid any further delay to line construction.

SHOT FAILS TO BRING OIL FROM GAS WELL, WAHM DRILLS AGAIN

Assuming that where there's gas there's bound to be oil, Wahm Brothers are making another attempt to get a producer on the Barney Voth lease. Their spudder has been moved two locations south and two east of the gasser they struck during the summer.

During recent weeks the well had been blowing out a slight amount of oil as its gas pressure decreased. In an effort to convert it into a producer Wahm gave it a charge of nitro-glycerine only to restore the original gas pressure, about 600 pounds, and eliminate what little oil he had. Now the gas has been piped to serve as fuel for drilling the next well.

Closing out his interests in a field east of Gainesville, Wahm has moved his rotary drilling equipment to the Voth lease. It will, however, be permitted to lie idle until the present spudder test indicates a profitable oil sand.

RECEIVES MEDAL

NOTRE DAME, Ind. Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of the university, is shown presenting the Laetare Medal to Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, Ky. Dr. Abell is president of the American Medical Association which has been threatened with action by the government under the Anti-Trust Laws.

GAINESVILLE C OF C INVITES CHOIRS FOR CHRISTMAS CAROLS

The ancient Yuletide spirit is due to fill the air of Gainesville for several nights during the Christmas season, from Nov. 25 to Christmas Day, according to present Chamber of Commerce plans as revealed by Secretary Clifford McMahon. Every choir of the county is invited to sing its Christmas Carols from a specially constructed platform on the courthouse lawn. Floodlights and gay Christmas decorations will provide an appropriate setting for the singing.

Each group will be permitted to present songs of its own choice. The time allotted to each will be determined to a great extent by the number of choirs appearing, but will probably be between 15 and 30 minutes, McMahon said.

He requests that the singers of each community organize and consult with him as to the time of their appearance.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS PLAYERS WILL ENTER INVITATION TOURNEY

Preparing for an invitation tournament sponsored by Gainesville Junior College on Tuesday evening November 22, the boys and girls of Muenster High School have been holding regular practice sessions in tennis this week.

The tourney has no connection with scholastic work in any way, it is sponsored with the sole purpose of creating greater interest in tennis in Cooke County. All games will be played in the new Junior High School gym from 7 to 10 p. m.

Muenster entries are: Girl's doubles, Bertha Jane Hoehn and Bernice Kathman, Marjorie Pagel and Anselma Pagel; Boys' doubles, Maurice Pagel and Louis Niehall; Boy's single, Maurice Pagel; Girl's single, Marjorie Pagel.

Muenster Ships 5 Carloads Of Thanksgiving Turkeys To Northeastern Markets

PROTECTION BROUGHT TO ALL HOMES OF CITY
BY LONGER FIRE HOSE

"Protection for every home within the city limits" will be a reality in the future, Fire Chief Ben Seyler said Tuesday after 200 additional feet of new Eureka fire hose had been ordered and three joints of defective hose were sent in for repair. The equipment was purchased for the fire department by the city.

The addition gives a total of 1140 feet of hose which is thought sufficient to reach any home from its nearest fire hydrant. It also provides the extra length without which it would be impossible to carry the nozzle on all sides of some homes or into them. The hose is expected to arrive this week-end.

CIVIC LEAGUE BEGINS ANOTHER DRIVE FOR CEMETERY DONATIONS

Another drive to secure cemetery maintenance funds is under way. Since an announcement at church services Sunday morning members of the Ladies Civic League are soliciting donations to defray their expense of buying plants and hiring workmen necessary for their renewed improvement program.

Much of their work has already been done. During the past week-end a hedge consisting of 600 plants was set out on the east, west, and north sides of the cemetery. A total of 115 flowering shrubs were set out at the same time.

The plants have been listed by the Cemetery Committee as follows: 550 Chinese Privet, 50 Privet, 46 Crepe Myrtle, 47 Salvia, 2 Vitex, 10 Athea and 10 Butterfly bushes.

Unfinished work still on the ladies' program is planting the east part of the cemetery in bermuda and replacing some forty trees that died after being set out last year. Bids for plowing and planting bermuda are now being accepted by members of the cemetery committee.

Those now soliciting donations for the cemetery fund are Mesdames J. B. Wilde, Oscar Walter, Nick Miller, Herbert Meurer, Stanley Yosten and Miss Dorothy Trachta.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS LOSE DOUBLE HEADER TO MYRA WEDNESDAY

A double program of both volley ball and basket ball went to the Myra High School boys and girls as the Muenster teams met them at Myra Wednesday afternoon.

Conceded as beaten by a substantial margin the boys staged a real surprise in their first appearance of the year and held Myra's club to a two point lead, 17 to 15. They started with a bang and led by two points at the half but weakened in the final quarters.

Muenster's victory in volley ball almost two weeks ago was avenged in this match with the Myra six. After dividing honors in the first two heats Muenster lost the deciding tilt 15 to 12.

Other games for the high school teams are a match with the parochial boys Thursday afternoon, and a double header at Hood Friday afternoon.

MUENSTER RECEIVES 3 CENT REDUCTION ON INSURANCE KEY RATE

New rate listings submitted this week by fire insurance commissioners of the state of Texas shows the key rate for Muenster reduced from 51 to 48 cents per $100 valuation.

Two cents of the reduction represents the elimination of a penalty that was imposed some time back because records of activities and meetings of the volunteer fire department were not properly kept nor properly submitted to the fire insurance commission. To Secretary Joe Horn for his thorough work, and to all firemen for holding regular and approved meetings goes all credit for the city's two cent reduction.

The additional one cent reduction was given for Muenster's representation at a firemen's drill school in College Station last summer. A. Walterscheid and Henry Luke were the delegates. The city paid their expenses.

Farmers Receive $18,000
For 10,000 Live Birds

Packing Program Employs
More than 100, Finished
In Record Time, Supervised by Wilson Co.

This year's Thanksgiving turkey packing program came to an end in record time last Sunday, when the fifth and last car was loaded. The complete duration of all work, from the time the representatives of Wilson and Company began buying until the last car was sealed, was ten days. Picking lasted only six days.

Though shipped in 5 cars the season's volume of business was equivalent to more than five and a half normal cars of 18,000 pounds. The total packed weight was about 103,000 pounds. The live weight was 115,000 pounds.

All the turkeys were sent to markets of the northeast. Two of the cars were consigned to Providence, R. I., two to Westchester, N. Y., and the other to Syracuse, N. Y.

$22,500 is the approximate volume of this year's business, Rudy Hellman, manager of the Farmers' Marketing Association, disclosed. Of that amount $18,000 was paid for the 10,000 birds. All labor amounted to $2,000 and prepaid freight amounted to $2,500.

An average of 110 persons were working during the six picking days. Normally eighty of those were engaged in picking while the remaining 30 were grading, cleaning, packing and hauling to freight cars. All work was supervised by Roy Callahan and "Spot" Minter, representatives of Wilson and Company of Oklahoma City, who leased local equipment and paid all bills. According to their account this year's record was far better than that of last year and the fastest time Wilson and Company has had to date for similar programs in small towns.

Favorable weather and working conditions were named as reasons for the record time. The temperature was usually cool but not cold, and there was no labor shortage or friction to delay steady progress. Refrigeration was also good so that the birds were chilled in less time than usual.

The number of turkeys from Muenster and surrounding communities was about the same as last year Rudy Hellman said. The increase of business came from buyers as far distant as Denton, Pilot Point, and Sanger. Most of those buyers are expected to continue getting birds for Muenster during the Christmas packing program, which begins early in December.

Before leaving Monday Minter and Callahan expressed the intention of returning on December 2 and resuming picking as soon as possible. They expect to pack three carloads for the Christmas market.

FEDERAL COURT GIVES FAVORABLE DECISION ON FMA TAX HEARING

Appearing in the Federal Court at Dallas last Thursday, Nov. 10, to fight an income tax assessment on interest paid on membership script, the Farmers Marketing Association received a reasonably certain assurance that it would be successful in its case, and in addition received an even greater concession than it sought.

In the future, it was decreed, the corporation would be permitted to deduct all membership business from its taxable income. That part of the business comes under the heading of strictly cooperative whereas dealings with non members are regarded as normal business subject to income tax. The decision cuts the FMA income tax in half.

The other bone of contention, which has not received a definite decision to date but seems favorable to the FMA, concerns interest paid on membership script during the past two years. Tax officials had ruled that the money was taxable as a dividend whereas the FMA, assisted by certified public accountants and tax consultants, contended that the payments were in the nature of interest on the company's indebtedness to its members and as such are classified as a regular expense rather than a profit.

By winning both cases, Rudy Hellman disclosed, the corporation can save about two thirds of its income tax, amounting to about $1,500 annually.

BEHIND THE SCENES
AMERICAN BUSINESS

By JOHN CRADDOCK

NEW YORK.—BUSINESS.—Accelerated by government spending, the 1938 industrial recovery continues to gain ground with experts predicting an even sharper upward movement in business indices after the elections. Evidences of better business is seen in many lines. Dealers in office equipment and supplies report improved sales, and expect fourth quarter volume to be 20 per cent over 1937. Helped by warm weather which has allowed new building to go ahead rapidly, plumbers and heating equipment salesmen say that business is about 15 per cent ahead of last year. During November department store sales will more closely approximate 1937 records than in any month since last April, according to present predictions.

WASHINGTON.—Last week's general elections had Capitol Hill's population and all the agencies in a dither, and discussion of national problems came to almost a complete standstill. When Washingtonians do get together to talk about subjects other than politics the gossip they circulate includes: U. S. retaliation against Japan's closing of the Open Door in China is indicated; increased taxes on business in the next session of Congress are inevitable, despite fast-rising business and trade indices; no railroad employ strike, but rather an exhaustive study of the whole national transportation problem.

BATTERY BONANZA.—Every shopowner would like to report that his sales are better than they were in 1929 and that is exactly what the battery merchant will be able to say this year, if he shares the increased business predicted last week by S. B. Robertson, president of the B. F. Goodrich Company. Mr. Robertson estimated that battery sales this year would exceed $92,000,000 or 18 per cent better than last year and 7 per cent more than 1929. For such a common every-day product as the electric storage battery, Mr. Robertson gave an interpretation which is astounding to those of us who think in terms of a single battery in our car. He pointed out that the 29,913,000 automobile batteries now in use produce fully one-sixth as much energy as turned out annually by the nation's powerful turbines. Research has made it possible to make a storage battery guaranteed to last as long as a motorist's car, Mr. Robertson added. This has been done by developing non-flood devices, cedar separators, and flexible, porous, sun glass retainer mats, one of which is now placed on each side of the positive plates.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR.—Moisture-proof face powder—A new electric shaver to sell for $20, including durable metal case, unbreakable glass mirror and a removable wall rack—A new movie cycle, following success of review of Irving Berlin's songs contained in "Alexander's Rag Time Band," already planned for early production is a George Gershwin cavalcade—Silver lining, not for clouds but for metal containers—low-priced cash register, with new safeguard against pilfering—Carnations of the icebox variety suitable for men and women, available in college colors, the florist's contribution to football gaiety.

CONSTRUCTION.—Working men and materials suppliers in the building trades heard good news last week. Although the nation's chain store companies plan few new units in 1939 in the face of generally unsatisfactory business conditions, they do plan extensive modernization of existing stores, according to a nation-wide survey just completed by Frank E. Landau, of Chain Store Age. Work will be carried forward at what may be a record-breaking pace, it is estimated, with construction expenditures equalling or surpassing those of 1937, when the all-time high of $124,536,000 was spent by the industry for this purpose.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK.—More than $100,000,000 will be invested in trucking equipment in 1939—Postage on books dropped to 1-2 cents a pound, may revolutionize publishing industry—Looking at the earnings reports: Holland Furnace and Bristol-Meyers above last year, while Chrysler, Electrolux and Standard Oil of California decline—Radio passes milestone; it was on November 2, 1920, that KDKA, Pittsburgh, made its first broadcast—Now, eighteen years later, there are 32,000,000 receiving sets—in that span of years more than 15,000,000 autos have been added to the

"BOYS TOWN" FILM IS FEATURE ATTRACTION OF BOYS' DAY PROGRAM

"Boys Town," starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, brings the most colorful, human and exciting of real life stories to the screen, proof again that "truth is stranger than fiction." The picture will appear at the State theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 25 and 26, as a feature attraction of the Cooke County Boys' Day program.

More than a year ago, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer became interested in Boys Town, the only incorporated village of its kind in the world. This city of little men has a population of 275, of which 200 are boys, and is situated on the main highway west of Omaha, Nebraska. It is 21 years old, a dream come true, the dream of one of the greatest and most kindly humanitarians of our time, Father Edward J. Flanagan.

To Boys Town come boys, a never ending parade of boys, who are made welcome irrespective of race or creed. Each of them has a problem, each of them a drama. Some were abandoned by their parents, others were neglected and many had criminal records. One boy was a bank robber at the age of seven, another an inveterate burglar at fifteen; but of the 4300 boys who have passed through Boys Town none has become involved with the police since graduation, while ninety-five per cent are now normal, respectable and responsible young men and citizens of the communities in which they have settled.

The fifteen-year-old incorrigible thief is now 25, happily married and owns a small farm. Mechanically minded, he has several inventions to his credit. The first was a burglar alarm. One graduate was the youngest attorney ever admitted to the bar in one state; one became a fly-weight boxing champion; one became a pitcher in the big leagues. These boys, and hundreds of others, are a tribute to Father Flanagan's firm conviction, which he expresses simply in these words, "There is no bad boy."

It was from Father Flanagan's files, the records left by his boys, that Director Norman Taurog and Scenarists John Meehan and Dore Schary found the rich material for "Boys Town." The script was ready-made. In the history of Boys Town and its boys, they uncovered every element of stirring entertainment, drama and comedy, despair and hope, tragedy and happiness.

Tracy's memorable performance as Father Tim in "San Francisco" made him the perfect choice to portray Father Flanagan on the screen. Father Flanagan thought so, too, and it was Tracy's selection for the role that influenced him to approve the filming of "Boys Town." This gives Tracy a distinction no other star has enjoyed, that of playing a living man as the leading character of a motion picture. In a featured supporting role is Henry Hull as Dave Morris. Hull is also playing a real person, the Jewish merchant, who financed Father Flanagan's first venture in founding a home for boys and became his greatest friend. In addition, the picture gives important parts to Leslie Fenton and Gene Reynolds.

STOVEPIPES CAN BE USED TO ELIMINATE GAS FIRE MOISTURE

COLLEGE STATION.—With winter comes the annual problem of moisture forming on the furniture and walls of heated rooms. Each year many letters come to Texas A. and M. College in this connection.

"When the air in a house contains as much moisture as it can carry at room temperature, some of the moisture condenses and settles on the cooler furniture and walls, just as dew forms outside," Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Extension Service home improvement specialist, explains.

This is especially true when the source of heat is natural gas, she said. The gas contains considerable hydrogen and when hydrogen burns it forms water, which is absorbed by the air until it reaches the saturation point. Without the hydrogen, the air would be too dry for comfort, and engineers carefully calculate the best proportion of hydrogen.

Dr. F. E. Gleeske, director of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station tells me that the natural gas of Texas contains enough hydrogen to form 6 gallons of water when 1,000 cubic feet is burned. Under some conditions, this overloads the air with moisture," Mrs. Claytor stated.

"The remedy is to attach stovepipes to gas heaters so that the products of combustion from the stove are carried outside through chimneys. If it is not convenient to have stovepipes, it may be advantageous to install a floor furnace of the type that has stovepipes under the floor."

A damper in the stovepipe may be used to regulate the moisture content of the air, she suggested.

It was from Father Flanagan's files, the records left by his boys, that Director Norman Taurog and Scenarists John Meehan and Dore

HORSE, MULE PRICES HIGH COMPARED WITH OTHER FARM PRICES

COLLEGE STATION.—Horse and mule prices reached the highest point in 17 years in 1937, but during the latter part of 1937 and well into 1938, prices dropped 10 to 15 percent below those of the previous year, according to figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

"Even so, prices of horses and mules, when compared with prices of all farm products, were higher during the first 8 months of 1938 than in any other period since 1916," Jack Shelton, vice-director and state agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, commented. "This price relationship is expected to encourage colt production for the next two years or so."

The 332,000 horse and mule colts produced in 1937 were about 400,000 head short of the number of work animals disappearing that year. The downward trend in horse and mule numbers probably will continue for several years, the outlook report stated.

"We can't help but think that the disappearance of work animals has gone on at a faster rate than would normally be expected," Shelton said. "The droughts of 1934 and 1936 forced the sale of horses and mules in some areas, and sleeping sickness and old age increased the death rate of workstock. For a number of years almost no colts were produced, and we must remember that this has resulted in most of our workstock being either very young or very old."

"No one can deny that power equipment is the thing for some farms and for some operations. At the same time, there is going to be a continuing demand for workstock, and our county agricultural agents are encouraging the production of colts in cases where farmers and ranchmen can raise them profitably," the state agent pointed out.

HARD WINTER AHEAD

Scientists predict this from studies of long range weather forecasting

so give heating equipment extra attention

Cold weather predictions warn us to shake the moth balls from our long underwear and give extra attention to heating equipment.

Employees of your gas company worked all year in preparing for your comfort this winter. They recognize their responsibility to you in providing dependable service under every possible condition. By checking the working efficiency of your own appliances you complete this field work in making your gas service the helpful, comforting, economical servant you desire.

This predicted hard winter is late in getting started. With October one of the warmest on record, you've saved enough in gas service charges to make substantial payment on improved gas heating equipment. See the new circulating room heaters and prepare for the treacherous months ahead.

EVILS IN DISGUISE

According to some political forecasters, last week's general election may be regarded as the handwriting on the wall for New Dealers. Seeing Republicans and Conservative Democrats increase their power in both State and Federal positions we have ample reason to believe the tide is turning, that current policies will find increased opposition until the tidal wave of 1940 completely submerges the present regime.

For our part there will be no regrets. We are entirely content with changes that will remove present day methods of forcing the common man to support others who lack the prudence or ambition to take care of themselves. We also resent the necessity of supporting the hordes of clerks and executives now engaged in unnecessary Federal red tape.

The normal man of the street may not be a famous economist with half an alphabet of degrees trailing behind his name, but he does have a definite conviction that no business or any other organization can survive the strain of top heavy liabilities and overhead expense. While probably not able to suggest a complete recovery plan he could at least suggest that our national leaders get down to basic principles and discard these artificial schemes which are, after all, no more than a futile effort to have the nation lift itself by its bootstraps.

While realizing that prosperity and welfare can be produced only by assets we are faced with hundreds of liabilities such as relief agencies and their administration officers. We know that we cannot go forward until we are relieved of some of this burden. We realize also that recovery would be simple if those now retarding progress would begin constructive work and help carry the load rather than add to it.

But what has been our system? To take from people who have earned and give to people who have not earned. It places a penalty on ambition and effort. It encourages men to loaf and give up the old notions of security upon which our nation prospered.

To say our government should not care for its aged and unemployed may seem harsh. On the other hand it is more sensible to begin charity at the other end of the social order and by all means let it be recognized as charity. There has never been a time when deserving people could not get help from members of their families or communities.

The family is the first unit of society, the next is the community. Work from that angle and the dishonest moochers will be promptly eliminated, the easy going ones will pick up a little ambition rather than ask their brothers and friends, all the expense of distributing Federal easy money will be eliminated. As for old folks, almost all are provided with comparative security. Most others can depend on their children, and the remaining few can be cared for in institutions as a last resort.

Other current practices are causing no less distress to our people. Politicians like to pose as benefactors while harnessing taxpayers with business, economic and social regulations. They demand that cotton and wheat acreage be cut down while thousands are cold and hungry. They say it will maintain a better market. Still the fact remains that small farmers cannot raise enough to make a living while millionaire ranch owners can lay off all hands, spend a year in idleness and receive more than $100,000 for not growing a crop. Is it fair?

Policies such as these are preparing our nation for a political upheaval, perhaps revolution. Let us hope that our people can avert the seemingly inevitable by a change within our own system. Too many of our social reforms are social evils in disguise.

A TASTE OF INDUSTRY

Another Thanksgiving Turkey packing program is history at Muenster. As a result many a farmer has a slight premium over any other price he could have secured and more than a hundred workers have extra money they would not have received.

That the turkey business is a valuable activity for Muenster is, without a doubt, conceded by everyone. One fact especially is significant, that more than a hundred were on hand when the time came to start. Does that fact suggest anything about the local supply of labor that could be secured in the event some sort of industry were begun here? Does it suggest anything that the electric co-op office already has more applications for jobs that it will be able to accommodate in the line construction?

It is our contention that our community has as fine a supply of efficient and substantial workers as are to be found in any place its size. There is a possibility of building a thriving industry here. To notice what happens to turkey pickers' pay checks will give some idea about the possibilities another payroll or two offers to local business.

The nature of the industry is not the important thing to consider now. Our first need is a favorable public opinion and some ambitious man's conviction that Muenster offers him the opportunity for a profitable living. Once the proper attitude has been secured the job is well started. Details as to the nature of the business and the removal of any obstacles will be comparatively simple when the entire community pulls in the same direction.

Parents who are concerned over their children's future ought to be the first to tackle this subject. Serious minded children should show some interest.

We must face it. Unless we provide for the future many a youngster will be forced to break away from his family and friends. Many a person remaining here will have a meager existence.

Our most important preparation is to improve the city so it will be accepted as a desirable home. Bouquets are in order again for the Civic League ladies for their renewed activity on the cemetery. Thanks to them, a former weed patch is being converted into a garden. We have no doubt that their beautification program will continue in other parts of the city.

It is also taken for granted that a modern sewer and complete educational facilities will eventually be realities.

We can hasten our welfare by accepting the facts and beginning to plan now for ways to get results.

What Others Say

EVEN MORE GENEROUS

It is hard to detect any flaw in the reasoning of Los Angeles college boys, that if $30-every-Thursday for each Californian over fifty will spread prosperity, $50 a week to people under 50 is bound to create even more of the same. The conclusion is as sound as the premise.

While waiting around for the half-century mark, $50 weekly would help to pass the time, and it is true, as the promoters aver, that the young are more prodigal than the old and settled. To them may safely be entrusted the task of spending us into prosperity. And it is only fair that they should, for a man at 50 has had a past even if he has no future, whereas many of our youth today complain that they have neither. Then, too, the plan would attract everybody to California and thus multiply the local purchasing power some 20 times.

It is hoped the young sponsors of $50-up-to-50 are wholehearted in the matter, and not poking fun at the messiahs that abound in the Golden State. It is an old tenet in the American credo that ridicule will pierce pretensions and fallacies invulnerable to all else. As to individuals this may be true, but where the object under fire embodies so much wishful thinking as $30-every-Thursday, we have our doubts. Old Doc Townsend himself has long been in eclipse, but his dream goes marching on, with candidates from coast to coast committed to it in the next election.

To reason with it is the one safe way, however ineffective so slender a weapon may seem against so formidable a delusion. If one tries to kid by promising more pensions to more people, he courts the danger of being taken quite literally. Before they know it, these Los Angeles college kids may have a serious movement on their hands.—Livestock Reporter.

LOSS THROUGH NEGLECT

A prominent produce buyer in Dallas, just returned from Eastern markets where he was arranging for the sale of his anticipated purchases of Texas turkeys for the Thanksgiving and Christmas market, paints a rather dismal picture of the reception received. It seems that Texas turkeys are being penalized on the larger markets because of the quality of the birds, in comparison with those of the Mid-Western States. This is because of the practice of feeding out turkeys in other heavy production centers, and the habit in Texas of leaving the birds on the range until market time.

Texas turkey growers, according to this buyer, have developed the habit of feeding their birds heavily the day of the sale, which makes it necessary for the dressing plant to draw grain from the craws, lose the weight and at the same time sell birds which do not match those from the Northwestern turkey centers. The situation may not be as gloomy as it is painted, but there can be no question that lack of feeding is causing an inferior bird to be shipped from Texas, which isn't helping the market for our turkeys in the least. Since it is growing near turkey selling time, this information is passed on for what it is worth—and if feed at this time can be turned into meat within the next few weeks, it would seem to be wise economy to start feeding.—Brownwood Banner.

DOES YOUR CHILD HAVE A BICYCLE?

There is a little girl (a very cute little girl) in Rising

Star and she has a new shiny bicycle.

If this little girl's mother and daddy had been standing on a certain street corner the other day when I almost ran over their little girl they would likely take her bicycle from her, or they would be very mad at me for almost taking the life of their child, which I would have done if I had hit her, for I was driving a loaded truck.

Would you like to see your child crippled or killed under the wheels of a car or truck?

I know the child does not think of the dangers that are always there when they are in heavy traffic and they do not look for the cars, therefore the drivers of the cars have to look out for them.

If your child owns a bicycle tell him, or her, to obey all the traffic laws and rules, just as the cars do; if they do not, how is the driver of the car to know what to do?

Tell them to stop, or at least slow down, at all street crossings, stay on the right hand side of the street and as close to the curb as possible.

If they ride at night, have a light in front and rear. Do not ride your wheel on the highway; the driver there does not have time to watch you and the traffic both.

Tell your child to help the car miss him by trying to miss the car.—By Calvin Foster in Rising Star Record.

A PRAYER THAT IS DANGEROUS

For the "Now-I-Never-Thought-Of-That" Department, we offer this excerpt from an editorial in "America," October 29, captioned "The Dangerous Prayer":

"When we pray, 'forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us,' we assuredly put ourselves in peril, if our hearts are cold and unfeeling. We actually challenge God to deal with us as we deal with our offending brethren. Do we really wish God to take up that challenge?

"When God forgives, He forgives and forgets. Our sin is as if it had never been. When we forgive, too often, alas, we remember! My sin ever rises up against me, mourned the Psalmist, but whatever rises up against us is our neighbor's sin. Outwardly we forgive, but not from our hearts. Of course, I'll speak to the fellow, we say; I won't cut him, but I haven't forgotten. And we await the day when we can repay evil, if evil it was, with evil.

"One whose heart is filled with wrath, one who is unwilling to forgive and to forget, should sedulously avoid saying 'Our Father,' As the words go, he calls down on himself God's wrath. What he should do, by the grace of God, is to put himself in a state in which he can say this dangerous prayer, and mean every word of it."—K. of C. News.

GALLANT TEXAS

For more than a century Moses Austin has slept well in Potosi, Mo., a town he himself founded. He had dreamed, in life, of colonizing the territory known as Texas. Death intervened, but the heritage was handed down to his son, Stephen, who faithfully kept the trust. Texas has honored the son. She has perpetuated his name in her capital city and marked his grave with a tall, proud shaft. Lately Texas planned for father and son to rest side by side forever in her soil. Potosi would not have it. The proposal was declined, and now Texas has come handsomely to Potosi with a contribution of $1,000 for a shrine to Moses Austin, to be erected in Potosi's cemetery. Missouri bows to Texas in grateful acknowledgment.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Confetti

By CON FETTE

All the encouraging reports about decreasing numbers of accidents fall to cheer the person who has just been run off the road by a gawky driver. Have you ever seen one who has the habit of inspecting all crops, buildings and other items of interest along the road? Do you happen to be one yourself? Or do you happen to be one of those worse offenders who turns and faces the person he is speaking to?

Don't dismiss this lightly as being meant for the other guy. Muenster has a generous supply of offenders and there's a fairly good chance that an examination of conscience will leave a guilty feeling. If it does, think of the probable consequences of a crash.

One of the best driving rules is to be prepared and alert not only to keep a car in its place but also to avoid some sightseer who doesn't watch his car.

General elections in non presidential years offer us Texans so very little of interest. While Kentucky had a shooting scrape, California got excited over its $30 every Thursday scheme, Wisconsin was throwing a has been out on his ear, and New York staged a gigantic governor's race, about half of us didn't know there was an election, and very little thought enough of it to go to the polls.

Our hats are off to the one paper in this state that conducted its trade at home campaign so thoroughly as to offer a three months subscription to every person who would submit, unused, a mail order catalogue.

From all indications every small town has that same mail order bugaboo to contend with, and every small town paper is faced with the task of trying to convince readers that in all fairness to themselves and their local merchant they should use the catalogue only as a last resort.

This paper happens to be one of the many. It believes that money kept at home will bring greater returns to the purchaser as well as the merchant. By making the rounds at home rather than elsewhere the dollar scatters its profits over the entire community—otherwise it scatters its profits where home folks can receive no return.

An interesting experiment would be that of a family buying everything it could from its home merchant for a period of several months and then determine whether it does not actually prefer to trade at home. The first reaction, which is quite pleasing, is the ability to see and speak to a merchant without a sort of guilty feeling. Another is that all the "price lure" of catalogues probably doesn't save anything in the long run, and if so the amount is poor compensation for the disappointment of not finding some items as expected or the trouble of returning others.

An amusing incident only a few days ago throws some light on the "price" angle. A lady looking at one item decided she would save by ordering, but, when questioned, agreed she would be willing to buy at home for the mail order price plus postage. Her purchase cost her one cent over the store's regular price—the stamp for submitting the order was not figured in.

It has often been said that a person gets exactly what he pays for. Competition exists in small towns also. Merchants have to cut their profits to a small figure in order to sell, and a class A item in one place will usually be the same price as the same quality in another. Mail order houses can shave prices because of quantity buying but not enough to offset the extra transportation expense. When the difference in price is big there will be a difference in quality.

Along with a nationally famous community circus Gainesville now has a football team to add renown to the city's fair name. Its people are even more excited over the Leopards than over the sawdust tricksters. One indication is the record sale of tickets for the Gainesville-Denison game. 'Tis said that the ducats were gone fifteen minutes after being placed on sale. A large portion were sold on a list of requests submitted days before the tickets were available.

Gainesvillites have every reason to be proud of their romping school-boys. It's a good club, won most games by long margins and permitted only a few opposing points. They are accepted as contenders for the state title.

In case the Leopards don't know it, some of the lusty cheers they've been getting originated out Muenster way. The only thing that would please us more is to have them bearing the Muenster standard.

While the Sumac cagers were going strong Gainesville supported 'em like their own. That left a feeling that sort of makes it come natural to back their gridders.

25 ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED SUNDAY BY FRANK YOSTENS

Celebrating 25 years of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yosten entertained in their home Sunday with a family dinner party and open house in the afternoon, when approximately 125 guests were present.

Attending the dinner, besides the immediate family of the couple, were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yosten and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fuhrmann, who had been attendants at the honor couple's wedding on November 13, twenty-five years ago when the rites were read in Sacred Heart Church with the late Father Joseph officiating. Mrs. Yosten was Miss Mary Henschel before her marriage.

The dining table was laid with a handsome linen cloth and silver that were gifts to Mrs. Yosten's parents on their silver wedding anniversary. The table was centered with a three-tiered cake decorated with 25 silver hearts. The cake stand was of crystal. It was a wedding gift to Mrs. Yosten's parents more than 54 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Yosten were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. During the afternoon program the guests enjoyed games and reminiscing. At 5 o'clock supper was served to the group.

The guest list for the affair included the honor couple and their family, Rev. Father Frowin, Messrs. and Mesdames John, Bob and Nick Yosten and their families, Joe Swirczynski and family, Albert and Leo Henschel and families, Joe Hesse, Matt Fuhrmann, John B. Klement and their families, J. S. Horn, Joe Horn, Bernard Sicking and Al and Stany Yosten, Herman Swirczynski and family and Mrs. Pete Walterscheid and sons, and Bill Henschel and family, Adolph Herr, Misses Bernice Miller and Isabel Trubebach, all of Muenster.

Mrs. Ben Derichsweller and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Giacomo of McAlester, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henschel and children of Myra, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yosten of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wiesman and family and Miss Ruth Deen of Gainesville, Mrs. Andrew Koriotoh and daughter, Mrs. Cooke, of Sherman, Miss Betty Mages of Era and John Swirczynski of Oklahoma City.

SEWING CLUB SENDS 200 POUNDS CLOTHING TO NEEDY MISSIONS

Saint Anne's Mission Sewing Circle met in regular monthly assembly last Thursday afternoon in the parochial school basement. Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, president, conducted the business session and stated that last week 150 pounds of new and remodeled clothes, quilts and hospital bandages had been shipped to the Central Bureau in Saint Louis and that a box of 50 pounds had been sent to a Mexican Mission in San Antonio some time before and that a letter of thanks and appreciation for it had been received.

Mrs. J. B. Wilde made a request for scraps of woolen yarn, which the ladies will use for making rugs. Mrs. John Eberhart, who is in charge of the quilting department of the circle, stated that outing flannel for quilt lining is needed and that a donation of some of the material would be appreciated. She stated that 5 yards of the goods, one yard wide, is sufficient for one quilt back. She added that she has at her home a large supply of scraps for quilting, and anyone wishing to make a quilt for the missions during spare time at home can secure the material from her. The ladies were also reminded to save all cancelled stamps and tin-foil.

During the period of sewing that followed the business session the ladies carried on their usual activity of quilting, sewing, and making altar linens. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served to 28 members.

Those present were Mesdames Weinzapfel, Eberhart, Wilde, Henry Fleitman, Henry Fette, Justin Hess, W. M. Trubebach, I. A. Schoech, John Walter, Joe Luke, Jake Pazel, John Yosten, W. H. Endres, Roy Endres, Wm. Walterscheid, Theo Wiesman, Felix Becker, Joe Walterscheid, Joe Swingler, Joe Swirczynski, Joe Fleitman, John Kathman and Misses Mary Becker, Olivia Stock, Lena Streng, Katie Hacker and Anna Hellman.

The meeting next month will not follow the usual schedule of which held on the second Thursday, which falls on December 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception and a Holy Day. The group will meet one week earlier, on December 1.

GAINESVILLE RITES UNITE TONY NEHIB ANNE SCHNIDERJAN

Miss Anne Schniderjan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schniderjan of Gainesville and Anton (Tony) Nehib, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nehib of Gainesville, were united in marriage at Saint Mary's Church in that city Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. John P. Brady, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony and at the nuptial high mass.

Preceding the rites, Miss Anna Gallagher, organist, gave pre-nuptial music and assisted the church choir in rendering music for the mass.

The bride wore a costume suit of Boy blue with accessories of wine. Her shoulder corsage was of white chrysanthemums. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Bernice Schniderjan, who was costumed in a beige frock with which she wore British tan accessories. She also wore a chrysanthemum corsage. Edward Nehib was best man for his brother.

A breakfast, in the home of the bride's parents, was held following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Nehib are making their home here on a farm 2 miles southeast of the city.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nehib are former Muensterites. They moved with their parents to Gainesville several years ago. For some time Mr. Nehib has been employed in this community.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wente and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Korte, of Teutopolis, Ill., Miss Veronica Schniderjan of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bergman, Mrs. Monte Blyin, Joe Fisher, Sr., Mrs. John Fisher and children, Mrs. Joe Fisher and son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Henry Pick, Pat and Harry Fisher, Mrs. Paul Fisher and Mrs. Frank Kathman, all of Muenster.

LOCAL WOMEN ARE FETED IN DENISON

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, Mrs. M. J. Endres, Mrs. Ben Luke and Miss Theresa Luke who accompanied their husbands and brother to Denison Sunday for the K. of C. initiation were delightfully entertained by wives of the Denison Knights.

The local group, Miss Mary Geray of Gainesville, and four other visiting ladies were dinner guests of Mrs. Francis Mooney. In the afternoon they attended a tea and open house at the home of Mrs. C. J. Corcoran along with a group of other visitors. In a clever "True or False" contest conducted by the hostess Miss Theresa Luke scored high and was presented with a lovely prize. Later in the afternoon the visitors were conducted on a sightseeing trip through the city and surrounding vicinity. In the evening they were all guests of Mrs. Mooney again for a buffet supper.

Misses Elfrieda and Dorothy Mae Luke who were also in Denison for the day were guests of the A. C. Flusche family.

OTTO-HOENIG NUPTIALS TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Choosing the silver wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. (Tony) Otto, as her own wedding day, Miss Aileen Otto will be married to A. J. (Tony) Hoenig Saturday morning in Sacred Heart Church at 8:30 o'clock.

Rev. Alfred Hoenig of Subiaco, brother of the bridegroom-elect, will officiate at the ceremony.

Miss Otto has chosen as her maid of honor Miss Marie Hoenig and John Otto will attend Mr. Hoenig as best man.

Out-of-town guests who will be here for the wedding include Miss Clara Hoenig of Wichita Falls, Miss Mathilda Hoenig of Fort Smith, Ark. and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche and children of Pilot Point.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS BEGIN STUDY HOUR

The Catholic Daughters of America held a regular monthly meeting last Friday evening in the K of C Hall with 22 members present.

Rev. Francis Zimmerer met with the group for their study hour and discussed the new text book "Sacramentals of the Church." Following the discussion of the sacramentals, Father Francis conducted a Question Box which proved both instructive and interesting.

Mrs. M. J. Endres, grand regent, was in charge of the business session that followed the study period. It was decided to postpone the reception of new members, scheduled for the 20th of this month, until January.

At the close of business Mrs. Jake Pazel, lecturer, served fruit rolls and coffee to the group.

BINGO FEATURES K-C SOCIAL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A pleasant session of penny ante bingo featured the social gathering sponsored by Knights of Columbus at their hall Wednesday night. Scoring honors were divided between Rudy Hellman and Jake Horn, Sr.

Joe Horn and Herman Swirczynski, as hosts of the evening, took charge of the game and served a refreshment course of coffee and doughnuts. About thirty guests were present.

8,892 BALES

A report from Edwin J. Huffaker, representing the Department of Commerce at Gainesville, discloses that the 1938 cotton crop for Cooke County prior to Nov. 1 is 8,892 bales. The number of bales ginned in 1937 up to the corresponding date was 11,866.

DEMONSTRATION CLUB AT LINN HAS PROGRAM FOR ACHIEVEMENT DAY

One of the most interesting meetings ever held by the Linn Home Demonstration Club was that of Wednesday, November 9, when the ladies held their Achievement Day program.

The club gathered in the home of Mrs. Ben Sicking where a brief business session began activities. The roll call was answered by each member telling how many years she had been in club work.

The group then went to the cellar of Mrs. Sicking, food demonstrator, to view her supply of canned foods. The cellar featured an attractive display of 1,120 quarts of canned goods Mrs. Sicking put up during the year for her family. Mrs. Sicking gave a brief talk on improvements in her cellar such as new shelves, new screens for outside openings and a coat of whitewash. She also had pictures of her garden and cellar before and after improvements had been made which showed how much she has accomplished.

From here the party moved to the home of Mrs. Adolph Waltersscheid to view her yard and home improvement. The next visit was at the home of Mrs. Darrell McCool, kitchen demonstrator, who lectured on her kitchen improvement. Out of a shabby back room she built a modern kitchen with running water, built-in cabinets and bright papered walls.

It was here that Mrs. Rosson displayed her complete set of aluminum ware and gave a talk on water-less cooking. In the living room was a display of antiques, made up by members of the club. Among interesting pieces were a dagger that went through the Civil War and tin-type pictures over a hundred years old.

Mrs. Bernard Sicking, a new member was introduced and was named kitchen demonstrator for the coming year. Mrs. Selby Fielder was appointed as food supply demonstrator for the ensuing year.

Refreshments of fruit punch and small cakes were served to 19 members and the following guests: Messdames John and Joe Felderhoff, William Wleier, and Miss Rita Felderhoff of Rosston, Mrs. Ratcliff of Gainesville, Mrs. Diamond King and Mrs. Charley Harrison of Linn and Miss Nettie Shultz, county Home Demonstration agent.

The next meeting will be held on November 22 at the home of Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid.

SCOUTS RETARDED BY LACK OF SUFFICIENT TOYS FOR REPAIRING

For lack of sufficient old toys the scouts were handicapped Monday night in the opening of their toy rebuilding program, however they expect to achieve considerably more at their next meeting with the array of playthings now awaiting their call at several homes in the city. People willing to donate toys are requested by Scoutmaster Welsh to notify him or one of the scouts as soon as possible so that the boys can be kept well supplied with repair work.

At a short business session the boys decided not to attend the Thanksgiving outing at Camp Chapman, Okla. They prefer to use their funds for buying troop equipment.
