

FRIENDS SEND SR. BERTHA TO SWITZERLAND

Collection Now in Progress
Will Permit Her to Join
Companions on Voyage

Sister Bertha's many friends here are raising a purse that will permit her to join Sisters Anastasia and Terresina on a summer voyage to their native Switzerland.

At this writing, Thursday morning more than half the $350 for round trip passage has been raised, according to Dr. T. S. Myrick, leader of the collection campaign. Since only a small percentage of local residents have been contacted he feels confident that the money can be raised with little difficulty.

It is hoped that the collection will far exceed the required minimum for passage so that a generous purse of change can be given to make the trip more enjoyable for all three of the voyagers.

Persons interested in "kicking in" to show the sisters a grand time are requested to contact Doc Myrick, Mrs. Nick Miller, Mrs. L. A. Bernauer, or Mrs. G. H. Hellman.

WALSH RE-ELECTED AS STATE DEPUTY OF TEXAS KNIGHTS

Returning from the thirty-fifth annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus at Laredo, Henry Hennigan, grand knight of the local council, advised last Thursday night that C. K. Walsh of Wichita Falls was re-elected to another term as state deputy of the order, and that J. M. Weinzapfel of the Muenster council lost by a narrow margin to James Fisher of Corpus Christi for the office of state treasurer.

Other state officers elected at the convention are as follows: secretary F. J. Kinane of Austin; advocate, Elmore Borchers of Laredo; warden Gus Strauss of Hallettsville; chaplain, Very Rev. Patrick Hagerty, C. S. C., president of St. Edward's University of Austin.

Waco won over Galveston and Sherman in a hot contest to secure the honor as host to next year's convention.

Coadjutor-Bishop M. S. Garriga of Corpus Christi, state chaplain of the order, struck the keynote of the convention when, in speaking at the Pontifical Field Mass, he called upon knights to continue their struggle against "isms" of the day. Personal sanctification, by which men themselves become better and at the same time give good example to others, was named as the most effective means of securing the desired result. He also called upon knights to purify their home libraries and discourage the sale of filthy literature so commonly found on news stands.

One of the outstanding high-lights of State Deputy Walsh's report was the addition of six new councils and more than 600 members during the past year.

Muenster knights attending the convention were H. P. Hennigan, Herbert Meurer, J. M. Weinzapfel and Rudy Hellman.

SOLEMN COMMUNION CLASS INCLUDES 27 CHILDREN THIS YEAR

Twenty-seven boys and girls of Sacred Heart parish will solemnize their first reception of the Holy Eucharist at the 8 o'clock High Mass this Sunday.

Shortly before the Mass the children will line up at the school and march to church in a body. In keeping with their annual custom the Muenster Band will provide music for the children.

Members of the class this year are the following: Leo Felderhoff, Berthold Fuhrman, Frank Hennigan, Werner Henschel, Roman Klement, Earl Otto, Emmett Sicking, Meinrad Stoffles, Joseph Temple, Earl Walterscheid, Urban Rohmer, Arnold Wimmer, Anton Yosten, Imelda Felderhoff, Myrtle Friske, Cecilia Haverkamp, Clara Henschel, Lorine Knabe, Alma Marie Luke, Johnnie Anne Seyler, Marian Starke, Evelyn Strens, Juanita Weinzapfel, Evelyn Wiesman, Gladys Wilde, Lucille Wimmer and Dorothy Mae Yosten.

MILK RECEIPTS AT CHEESE PLANT FALL

Present indications are that milk receipts at the Muenster Cheese factory will not reach the anticipated record of 65,000 pounds a day.

Since the peak figure of 62,000 last week the production has been declining steadily, Rudy Hellman advised. Mentioned as chief causes for the drop are warmer weather and a marked increase in the number of flies.

GIRO LANDS ON POST OFFICE ROOF WITH MAIL

ATTORNEY'S LICENSE RECEIVED LAST WEEK BY HERBERT MEURER

Ending six years of patient study Herbert Meurer returned from Austin on Thursday of last week with his license to practice law in this state. Mr. Meurer received the license issued on May 3 by the Supreme Court of Texas, during a brief stop over while he was enroute to the K of C Convention at Laredo.

The license follows the successful completion of a bar examination held in Austin last February, which itself came as a grand finale to a series of about six other examinations taken as specified courses of study were finished. Mr. Meurer did all his studying during spare time at home, and is the first Muenster citizen to be admitted to the bar.

For the time being Herbert does not intend to set up his office nor to engage extensively in the practice of his new profession but will continue in his position of local postmaster and accept only a limited number of cases. He has accepted an offer to act as assistant attorney for the local rural electrification project provided his appointment is approved at REA headquarters.

PAROCHIAL BOYS WIN OVER LINDSAY IN HOT SOFTBALL CONTEST

The Muenster Parochial boys avenged last year's defeat when they met the Lindsay lads Friday afternoon in their annual blood and thunder softball game before 350 screaming spectators from both schools at the Muenster baseball park.

It was a game of slugging and scoring, Father Francis Zimmerer, mentor of the local team said, and ended at 15 to 13. The visitors' worst threat came in the fifth with a rally that made it necessary to change pitchers.

It has been charged that Lindsay's victory last year was due in part to the prayers of a crowd of fans who ran to church and called on supernatural help. Father Francis avoided a repetition of such tactics this year by playing the game as far as possible from a church.

MUENSTER PLAYERS APPEAR SUNDAY IN 3 ACT FARCE COMEDY

An unusually large audience, consisting of nearly 400 persons, was at the parish hall last Sunday night to witness "The Clay's the Thing" a farce comedy presented by the Muenster players under the direction of Father Francis Zimmerer.

The drama, an unusually long one and confused by a jumble of mixed identity failed to come up to the standard of the group's past performances.

Those taking part were Ray Hellman, Charles Hellman, Alfred Walter, Werner Becker, Ray Klement, Jerome Pagel and Misses Irene Walterscheid, Josephine Yosten, Dorothy Fette, Dorothy Trachta and Clara Lutkenhaus.

Musical numbers before and after the play and between the acts were given by the Sicking brothers and by Anthony Morzuch, the latter playing accordion selections of his native country, Germany.

MYRA HOME COMING DRAWS LARGE CROWD FORMER RESIDENTS

Approximately 250 people including former residents and friends of the Myra community were present for the annual Home Coming celebration at the Baptist Church Sunday.

G. C. Weatherby of Gainesville, former Sunday School superintendent, opened Sunday School. G. O. Renfro of Muenster welcomed the visitors and response was given by Jim Reese of Gainesville.

Rev. Roger Smith addressed the congregation and Rev. C. M. Thomas pastor, delivered the sermon. A musical program was then presented.

Dinner was served at the noon hour picnic style, each of the visitors having brought a well filled basket.

The afternoon service consisted of a special musical program and short talks from old timers. Brother Pennington of Gainesville was in charge of the latter feature.

The day closed with Benediction by Brother Smith at 3:30.

LONE THIEF FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO STEAL ANDY O'CONNOR'S CAR

The attempts of a lone bandit to steal the car belonging to Andy O'Connor of Myra were thwarted Sunday evening when Mr. O'Connor, alarmed by his dogs, awoke from his sleep in time to scare the would-be thief away.

According to Mr. O'Connor, the man was in the car ready to leave when he arrived at the scene. The emergency brake on the machine was released and in his hurry to get away the thief left it thus, permitting the car to roll backward into a ditch and become considerably dented.

No articles were stolen from the O'Connor farm and the identity of the would-be robber was not learned.

Grudge Battle of Muenster Teams Goes to Youngsters

With only the top heavy defeat inflicted by Leo's hot shots two weeks ago to mar their perfect record, Skipper Swirczynski's lads begin to loom up as the most formidable tribe in the local ball loop. In Wednesday's game with the big boys they again defended their record by turning in a neat 16 to 2 victory.

Fans are beginning to think now that the old heads, who organized principally with the intention of putting the group of school-boy upstarts in their places, do not have quite the power to carry out their proposed plan. In Wednesday's game the youngsters showed a decided advantage in every department. They slugged out 15 bingles as compared with 5 for the opponents and made very few errors while the big boys were missing 'em consistently.

Forestburg seems to be the next claimant for honors. Losing to the lads in their first game they came back with a bang to trim both Bulcher and Paul Walterscheid's crew. Their test comes next Wednesday when they meet Boss Swirczynski's charges again.

Judging from their 11 to 8 victory

GOLD STAR MOTHER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Mrs. Bess Duncan Wells of Portland, Oregon, was elected national president of the Gold Star Mothers at their national convention in the Walton Hotel here last week. She succeeds Mrs. Horace B. Blake of Philadelphia. The "War Mothers" hit "isms" as they urged in a resolution passed that aliens swearing allegiance to a foreign country's dictatorship be deported.

TRUMAN PACE ASKS RETURN TO OFFICE OF DISTRICT CLERK

Truman Pace, District Clerk of Cooke County, authorizes the Enterprise to publish this week his official statement as candidate for reelection to his present office.

Mr. Pace's record is irrefutable evidence that he is one of the most efficient public officials ever to serve Cooke County, and he is basing his request for reelection upon that record. As a deputy county clerk he gained valuable experience in handling legal records and merited a reputation that led to his appointment as district clerk to serve the unexpired term of the late Shearon A. Bryan. At the present time he is serving his first election term in the office.

Mr. Pace was reared and educated in the County, is held in high esteem by his many acquaintances, is regarded as a leader among the young men of the county. His friends point to the commendable manner in which he has administered the duties of his office. He has proven himself to be alert, efficient and tireless, keeping business of his office up to date and his records in excellent condition. His friends feel that his enviable record qualifies him for reelection and that voters would make no mistake in supporting him.

If re-elected, Mr. Pace pledges continued faithful and efficient service. He expects to make an active campaign and see as many voters personally as possible. In the meantime he takes this opportunity to solicit their support and votes.

Proceed With Organization Official Letter Instructs

Electric current for rural homes of Western Cooke County was practically assured last Friday when J. W. Hess, chairman of the local project received a letter from Rural Electrification headquarters instructing him to proceed with the organization of a local co-operative and collection of $5.00 membership fees.

TWO SISTERS LEAVE MONDAY FOR VISIT IN SWITZERLAND

Probably the most thrilling experience of their lives awaits Sisters Anastasia and Terresina during the next three months. They will take a vacation tour to Europe to visit friends and relatives they have not seen for years.

Both will leave Monday for the Motherhouse convent at Jonesboro, Ark., spend several days there, then proceed to New York where they will sail on the U. S. L. Washington on June 1 and arrive at Le Havre, France a week later.

Their first stop is Hermonville, near Paris, where the two sisters will spend a week as guests of Sister Anastasia's father. Thence they will go on to their native Switzerland where the two will separate, Sister Terresina to be a guest of her parents at St. Gaul and Sister Anastasia a guest of her brothers and sisters in the Schwyz Canton. The definite date for their return has not as yet been set but September 1 is the probable time. They expect to be back in Muenster for the opening of the school term next year.

For both sisters the trip is a gift from folks back in the homeland. Sister Anastasia received her ticket as a Christmas present from her brother and Sister Terresina had only to accept a standing offer from her parents. She had received a similar offer last year but could not accept it because she had no traveling companion. After Sister Anastasia received her ticket the two promptly secured the leave of absence from the Motherhouse and made plans for their trip.

This year's voyage will be the first return home for the sisters since they came across as young ladies to do missionary work in America. Sister Anastasia left in 1906 and Sister Terresina in 1924.

Thirty of Sister Anastasia's 32 years in the United States were spent at Muenster. Arriving in 1903 she began teaching the primary grades and has remained at her post uninterruptedly ever since. She has the distinction of teaching more children than any other Muenster teacher and probably more than any other of the county. Some of her present pupils are grandchildren of her first pupils, and the majority are children of earlier pupils.

Sister Terresina's experience here was less unique. Eleven years ago, the first year after her arrival in America, she came to Muenster for two consecutive years, then taught and studied elsewhere until the beginning of the present school year when she returned as Latin and science instructor in the Parochial High School.

For Parochial pupils also the sisters' voyage is quite an event. To permit their early departure the first grade classes and all high school classes are being dismissed on Friday, May 20. Other classes will continue for one more week.

PROGRESS NOTED IN BUILDING PROGRAM AT CHEESE FACTORY

Improvements at the cheese plant take on a more definite form at the end of this week's activity.

Bricklayers engaged in building the annex were nearing the completion of their wall Wednesday and in the opinion of J. W. Hess, superintendent of the building program, were due to finish the job sometime Friday.

Only the application of asbestos on the top remains to finish the boiler job. The brick work surrounding it had been finished for about a week and a small fire was maintained ever since to dry the mortar thoroughly. The boiler will probably be put into use Saturday.

Framework on the water cooling tower was also nearing completion Wednesday and building of water decks was to begin on Thursday.

An unusual feature in the tower is that it is constructed entirely of redwood and contains no steel or iron whatever. All nails have a heavy copper coating and all bolts and nuts are made of brass.

In the opinion of Mr. Hess, as explained in a special meeting of the REA committee Monday night, the message is equivalent to a definite statement that funds are now available and that they can be secured as soon as citizens in this and neighboring communities fulfill their part of the agreement.

Preliminary details to be completed before money is actually allotted include engaging an attorney acceptable to REA, securing a charter for the co-operative organization, and finally submitting the full list of co-operative members along with a map indicating their location along the proposed line.

On the advice of several men here Cecil Murphy of Gainesville was requested to file application for the position of the organization's attorney, and Herbert Meurer, who received his license only a few days before, was asked to serve as Mr. Murphy's assistant. Mr. Murphy's application was submitted to Washington via air mail.

As soon as an approval is received for the attorney's appointment twelve local men, as incorporators will secure a state charter of incorporation for the new business. Memberships, fees, and right of way easements will next be secured and the membership roll and map of proposed line submitted to REA headquarters.

There are two outstanding reasons for collecting membership fees before allotment is made. First it assures REA officials that the list contains only bona fide consumers. Secondly it provides a fund for payment of the many organizing expenses. No person sustains a loss, however, unless the project is turned down after final membership roll has been drawn up. In such an event the company is dissolved and all members receive their proportional share of the treasury balance. But if the project is approved each membership fee will serve as a meter deposit, and any person not included on the line will receive a full refund.

REA officials made another slight change in raising the minimum monthly rate to $3.00 for 35 kw. of current. That action was considered necessary because of the comparatively thin general settlement which barely reaches the required minimum of three consumers per mile, but is not considered a hardship because the majority of consumers are expected to use more than the 35 kw.

Mr. Hess expressed his hope that all organizing details can be completed promptly and membership secured in time to permit actual construction shortly after July 1.

Oil Field Notes

Another hope for renewed oil activity is the well recently begun by J. G. Richards and Son on the Dangelmayr farm occupied by Joe Voth. Drilling started there Monday.

On the Barney Voth farm Wham still continues on the jinx well that has required three starts to date. A report Wednesday is that a depth of 1500 feet has been reached.

In line with the general drilling slump, activity is slow in the fields north of town. Trummer moved Wednesday to No. 6 Stacy after declaring the Reiter No. 1 dry. At the same time Mudge was cementing its No. 26 Johnson with some hope of getting a producer.

Kingery put one of his rigs to work Tuesday drilling a contract well for Texas on the Johnson lease.

SERIES OF PRACTICE SESSIONS TO PREPARE BAND FOR PROGRAMS

Following several months of inactivity the Muenster band will meet tonight in an effort to arrange a convenient series of practice sessions, Leo Henschel director, stated Tuesday.

Mr. Henschel is especially anxious to get his band in the pink of condition because of several contemplated programs at which the band is expected to appear as well as the Golden Jubilee celebration planned here next year.

All who play band instruments, and especially the old timers, have been invited to get back in the fold and help make the best possible band for the community.

MISSION SEWING GROUP HAS REGULAR SESSION THURSDAY

Members of the Saint Anne's Mission Sewing Circle met Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium for the regular period devoted to sewing for the missions.

A wool quilt was completed and numerous articles of wearing apparel were mended.

During the absence of Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, president, the short business session was led by Miss Mary Becker. Plans were made to have all ladies who are capable of embroidering, tatting and making fancy work meet in the Becker home in the near future to begin a new line of work, that of making altar linens for poor churches.

Following the sewing, coffee and doughnuts were served to 28 ladies.

HOLY NAME GROUP HAS PEPPY SESSION MONDAY

Regarded as one of the most interesting outings in the history of the local Holy Name Society was that of last Monday, in the opinion of Father Francis, sponsor of the group.

Fifty-three members were in attendance and took active part in a discussion on problems of vital importance to their members and the society as a unit.

Another feature was a report from Walter Becker who had represented the society as one of its delegates to the Catholic State League district convention at Rhineland.

GAINESVILLE GROUP WILL PARADE HERE ON MONDAY, JUNE 6

Gainesville's good will delegation, consisting of the high school band, the Leopard pep squad and the Leopardettes, and a number of citizens will favor Muenster with a parade up Main Street on Monday, June 6. Arrangements for the event were made on last Saturday by "Cliff" McMahon, secretary of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, with permission of Mayor M. J. Endres.

Immediately after the parade Muenster people are invited to join the group and proceed to the highway opening celebration at Nocona. Another parade will feature a brief stop over at Saint Jo.

According to word received from Mr. McMahon the highway opening celebration at Nocona will be a momentous event. Representatives from Texarkana to Texline and every other city on Highway 5 have been invited. Prominent bands and pep squads from surrounding cities will compete for honors, and efforts are in progress to arrange for the appearance of the Gainesville Community Circus.

DR. JEKYLLS AND MR. HYDES OF HIGHWAYS ARE LOOSE AGAIN

CHICAGO.—The "Dr. Jekylls and Mr. Hydys" of the automotive world soon will be contributing more than their share to highway accidents now that warm, sunny days are here again, Dr. Robert McMurry, psychologist, said today.

Polite—even timid—in their drawing rooms or their favorite cocktail lounges, they become scofflaws on the highways, he asserted, because automobiles offer them their only outlet for pentup neurotic conditions of which they themselves may be entirely unconscious.

Physically they may be perfectly fit.

They may also be excellent drivers. Met in their homes or their offices the "Dr. Jekylls and Mr. Hydys" show no manifestations that would lead anyone to suspect their personalities will change once they get behind the wheel of an automobile.

Taking the neurotic drivers apart psychologically, Dr. McMurry, who is executive secretary of the Chicago office of the Psychological Corporation, said at least the more dangerous among them can be saved from themselves only by being forbidden to drive cars.

"It is interesting to note in this connection," he observed, "that probably 95 per cent of the driver-testing work now being done in this country overlooks the neurotic side of the accident picture, confining tests largely to vision and reaction."

"From a psychological point of view, the automobile offers a variety of possibilities for the expression of impulses which might otherwise be denied an outlet.

A person who has feelings of physical inadequacy may derive a great deal of pleasure from the feeling of power he gets when he sits behind the wheel of a big automobile and has command of 60, 80 or 100 horsepower. Naturally an individual of this sort may abuse this power by speeding and endeavoring to pass all others on the highways.

"Another way in which an automobile may satisfy these neurotic needs is an instrument of self-exhibition. The individual who feels a little doubtful of his appearance may take a great deal of satisfaction in having a large, sleek and powerful automobile as a means of compensation. This exhibitionistic tendency may also manifest itself in reckless driving. The person who cuts in and out of traffic, takes curves at high speeds and always comes to a flying stop, is probably showing off.

"Another type who is sometimes a menace is the individual who has an unstable temper and may be tempted to use his automobile as a weapon of assault, either on pedestrians or against other vehicles."

BARBER'S OFFER OF SHOP TO ANY PERSON ON RELIEF 4 YEARS FINDS NO TAKERS

PHOENIX, Ariz.—A year ago E. B. Bridgewater, Phoenix barber, offered to turn over his shop to any man who had been on relief four years.

Bridgewater said today he hadn't had a single applicant and concluded there must be "too much work" attached to his offer.

"My offer is still good," Bridgewater said as he kept busy in his little neighborhood shop. "I made it to prove that a man of initiative and energy can support himself and family in times like this. I still believe it."

When not busy barbering, Bridgewater gives violin lessons. He offered, too, to give his classes and loan his violin to a musician on relief four years. There was no response.

Souvenir tickets which are now being sold for three for $1.00, will be used to finance the rehabilitation of the grounds for presentation of the Golden Jubilee of the State Fair of Texas, and also to provide for the budget for various departments of the "World's Largest State Fair."

The campaign for disposal of the tickets got underway when the nineteen directors of the State Fair, subscribed for one book of tickets for each employe in their firm. Since the meeting when the original subscription was made, various business firms, civic organizations, fraternities and others have subscribed for one book of tickets for each employe or member of their organization.

Goal set for the sale of tickets is 100,000 books, of 300,000 tickets. President Otto Herold said here recently that he expected the issue to be oversubscribed.

The tickets come three in a book, and each book has a souvenir cover printed in five colors, with gold the predominant note, significant of the Golden Jubilee celebration. The ticket cover was so designed that purchasers may keep the cover as a memento of the Golden Jubilee Celebration of the State Fair of Texas. The above is a facsimile of the ticket and the same design is executed on the ticket in five colors.

water gives violin lessons. He offered, too, to give his classes and loan his violin to a musician on relief four years. There was no response.

"I made the offers," he explained, "because I wanted to prove to my sons that there still is plenty of opportunity in this country for a man who is willing to look for work."

AMAZING PREDICTIONS MADE IN 1886 FOUND IN ANCIENT CLIPPING

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Making prediction on events to occur within the next 100 years is, in a sense, a task comparatively free of danger since one would not be alive to hear taunts over errors.

But to indite forecasts so accurate that more than half of them have come true within a half century is nothing short of magic and such was the record of an anonymous writer in a St. Louis newspaper in 1886.

In dismantling an old home here the clipping bearing the predictions of "E. P. P." the otherwise anonymous St. Louis writer, came to light. It was from a newspaper published Feb. 19, 1886.

"I shall take the liberty of transporting you 100 years into the future. It is Jan. 1, 1986."

And then—well, here is what he predicted:

Formation of a league of nations, which he called by that very name.

Formation of a world court for settlement of international disputes.

Machines in which man would fly with ease, carrying heavy weights and freight.

Perfection of the "photophone," by means of which the world's news would be broadcast by sound and picture.

General knowledge of world events on the day they occur.

Reformation rather than penalization of criminals.

Increase in the span of human life.

So much for the predictions which already have come partly true, at least, 43 years after they were made. E. P. P. has still 57 years for his following predictions to materialize:

Roads to be given over to cultivation, having been made unnecessary by air transportation.

Abandonment of post offices with aerial mail delivery at each person's door by parachute.

A new United States stretching from Panama to Alaska, comprising 94 states.

Complete abolition of standing armies.

Congressional sessions only one in each 10 years and the passage of no laws which can not immediately be repealed.

Houses built of paper and equipped with aluminum and glass.

Powerful stations for the distribution of photophone news.

Easy communication with other planets.

Education of individuals rather than by platoons.

Extension of human life to an average span of 80 years; one out of every 200 persons to reach 125 years; one out of 1,000 to reach 150, and extraordinary cases 200 or more years.

Evolution of animals so that dogs may be made to think.

Elimination of vagabondage with everyone contributing to society.

Segregation of criminals and sterilization of the unfit.

(Note: The above clipping from a newspaper Oct. 2, 1929, was handed to the Leader-News by Mrs. Frank Miller, who had preserved it. The predictions were made Feb. 19, 1886, so see how right they are.)—Uvalde Lader-News.

SAVE AND BE SAFE!

LAST year more than 52,000 deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to smooth, worn, unsafe tires. A recent survey discloses that 59 million tires now in use are, or will become smooth during 1938. Protect yourself and family by making your car Tire-Safe with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires with this three-way protection —

- 1. Protection Against Blowouts. Firestone Tires run up to 28 degrees cooler, because every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. This counteracts the internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.
- 2. Protection Against Punctures. Two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread add strength to the tire and give extra protection against punctures.
- 3. Protection Against Skidding. The scientific tread design gives longer non-skid mileage and stops your car up to 25% quicker.

DOING OUR PART

The recent pre-allotment notice from Rural Electrification Administration headquarters is good news to almost every farmer of this and neighboring communities. It is an indication that our project has received official approval and will receive its loan as soon as we fulfill our part of the bargain.

Others who have had dealings with the REA advise that, once under way, a project is handled as efficiently and speedily as possible. Since Washington has given its approval to the application for loan there have already been several letters and telegrams instructing in the matters of forming an incorporated organization with approved legal representation and securing membership signatures and fees. The preliminary details of organization are well under way, the co-operation of all prospective customers will be requested in the very near future.

In co-operation with Chairman J. W. Hess, the Enterprise encourages and earnestly solicits a general helpful attitude on the part of the people. Washington desires speed, and our prospective consumers desire light at the earliest possible date. If everyone will acquaint himself with pertinent details and be ready to sign easements and membership certificates and remit the membership fee without delay, he will be doing his part toward bringing the project to a speedy and successful conclusion.

Those who are willing to do a little more will show some interest in making their neighbors thoroughly familiar with all details. They will boost the project at every opportunity, make REA their principal subject for discussion, influence men who are reluctant to fall in line so that the membership roll, when it is submitted, will include not only the quota but the complete list of residents along the proposed line.

From what little study we have found time to make on the project we can offer the following information. The project is assured if we do our part, but to have some people balk might result in its loss. How many could be missed without causing the loss is not known, but for the sake of receiving an allotment as well as for the sake of a more profitable line, the membership roll should include a hundred per cent of the possible consumers.

The purpose of requesting the membership fee now is two fold. REA authorities will know therefrom that each name represents a customer and not merely a prospect. Secondly the fees will provide a fund to cover expense of incorporation and other administrative costs of the local organization. It is also well for everyone to understand that the fee is not a cost but rather a deposit and will serve the same purpose as a meter deposit does for consumers on city power lines. Only in the remote possibility that the project would not be approved, after the expense of incorporation and other preliminary expenditures had been incurred, does the REA member sustain a loss. In that event, which we describe as remote because the preliminary survey has received official approval, all remaining money in the co-op treasury would be prorated back to its members.

Lest there be some who would decline to sign easements for building power lines on their property, we explain that no lines will be so placed as to detract from the value or productivity of anyone's land. Poles are placed along fence rows and sometimes through pastures, if the farmer's special consent has been secured, but not through cultivated fields. We would also discourage any attempt at demanding compensation for right of way. On its many projects to date REA has not been known to grant compensation and it will not change its rule for this project. The person who would entertain such a demand is asked to consider that the project is co-operative in which he and his neighbors are the owners. In fairness no one is entitled to compensation unless all are, and to pay all would make the cost prohibitive. He is also asked to realize that the line is built for his convenience and comfort, which in itself is more than sufficient compensation for the few square feet occupied by poles on his land.

No doubt the arguments in favor of this project can convince the most obstinate prospect. It is hoped, however, that no argument will be necessary, that people will co-operate in saving time and money for the new organization, which is their own. When approached by one of the co-op representatives they can best serve their own interests by signing up and paying up and speeding him on to the next member.

STOP AND LOOK

Few of us need to be told now that Highway 5 is open. Traffic is on it every day, many of us form a part of that traffic. But one important consideration relative to the road apparently hasn't made its impression.

Death lurks at the intersection of the highway and Main Street. Right now cars come breezing down the viaduct, and from the other direction too, constantly threatening the unwary driver who neglects to stop and look. And the danger will continue to increase with the inevitable increase of traffic.

Thanks to the city, prominent stop signs have been placed at the intersection. Their warning is so plain that an accident seems almost impossible. Still, if statistics hold their average, there will be casualties.

These remarks are not addressed to those who habitually disregard traffic regulations. When they deliberately drive through and take the chance they invite disaster. A crash on their part should be termed a form of suicide rather than an accident.

But to normal drivers, who try to observe traffic regulations and common sense driving habits, this is meant as a reminder. "Think of the danger at the intersection and make it one of your driving habits to stop and look. Remember! Death lurks at the intersection of the highway and Main Street."

CONSIDERATION PAYS

In his daily newspaper column Dale Carnegie recently told the success story of a man who rose from a penniless boy to one of the nation's most influential bankers through consideration and kindness. That man vividly remembers an incident when, as a boy of 13, he accompanied his widowed mother to a bank to seek a loan. The bank president, one of those self-styled important men, permitted the shabbily dressed woman to wait an hour before seeing her, and then refused the small loan she requested. Then and there the boy resolved to become a bank president and to do all in his power for those who needed consideration and help.

The rest is an inspiring biography. He secured a job of sweeping and other humble bank duties and by constant plugging worked himself into a place of importance and eventually became president of the bank. Instead of remaining in a room by himself he moved his desk to a conspicuous place in the lobby and greeted any and all comers with a smile. Regardless of shabby clothes he gave his immediate attention and, if the applicant seemed worthy, his immediate help. The popularity of this man and his bank grew until he now controls 480 banks, each one with its president in a conspicuous place ready to give instant, courteous attention to everyone.

That man, is typical of almost every great man. The ones who have been successful almost invariably were those popular for their pleasant dealings. Petty minded men who must seek means of impressing their importance are usually destined to remain of little importance.

Out of the kindness of his heart the man determined to be kind and helpful. He would have been satisfied with the appreciation of others but he received fame and fortune as well. Although not in the same measure, success awaits anyone who will adopt that man's attitude.

What Others Say

OPEN LETTER TO A DRUNKEN DRIVER

Sure, you can drive home a'right. Don't let 'em feed you any of that bunk about letting somebody else take the wheel. Any time old Pete can stand on his two feet he can drive an automobile, drunk or sober. What's a few drinks between friends, anyway. You show 'em who's going to drive.

Pile 'em into the car. That sweet little wife of yours, who's such a swell kid even if she does nag you about driving when you're drunk. And that funny couple with you who want to take a taxicab home. Imagine! Wanting to take a cab! Pile 'em in. Step on the gas. Whoop-pee! Go places.

Brother, you're not the big shot you think you are. You're just a fuzzy-brained, liquored-up, obstinate ass with about as much right to drive an automobile on the public highway as a monkey from the zoo would have.

I won't appeal to your reason because it's obvious that you haven't any. I won't appeal to your emotions because they're pickled.

I only hope you'll start to drive home some night, alone, when you've one too many under your belt. Then I hope some little emergency will arise which your addled brain and fumbling hands won't enable you to meet. I hope you'll have an encounter with a tree or a telephone pole that will land you in a police cell and your car on a junk heap. As you sober up I hope the baseness of your continued offenses against society will be borne in upon you with sickening clarity. I hope the newspapers headlines will scream out to all your relatives and friends and business acquaintances: PROMINENT LOCAL MAN GETS DRUNK AND LANDS IN JAIL.

Yes, I hope an All-Wise Providence will arrange this little lesson for you. And soon, before you kill somebody, as you surely will if you continue to drive when you are drunk.—Travelers Safety Service.

BEER STATESMANSHIP

It has become obvious ever since the repeal of prohibition that the American brewers were determined not to make the mistake that the brewers made in pre-prohibition days. Then they tied up tightly with the distillers and beer was classed indiscriminately with liquor. The brewers are now trying to get away from the distillers, and a year ago they adopted an independent code, pledged themselves to "conduct their business in conformity with established laws and in co-operation with the authorities." Further, they pledged themselves to support "duly constituted authorities for the elimination" of anti-social condition in the beer business. They pledged themselves to get behind the "great body of retailers who sell beer as law abiding citizens and also to back up authorities in preventing "beer sales to minors or persons who have drunk to excess." The code aimed high.

It was obvious that Kansas is the one place in the United States where the United Brewers' Foundation, which was back of the code, with offices in New York, could come and find a fertile field to try out the code. They sent a representative of the Foundation to Kansas. He went to work in a practical manner. He surveyed the beer business in the large counties of Kansas where, if anywhere, the code would crack. He went to the sheriffs and the county attorneys in these counties. He went to the Attorney General of Kansas and told the law enforcing officers everywhere that he wanted their help and he wanted to help them clean up questionable beer parlors, places where they sold beer to minors, to drunks, where they kept open after the hours set down by the local authorities, where the beer dealers permitted hard drinks to be sold or sold them, and in general, this agent of the brewers back of the code made a genuine and certainly an effective campaign in Kansas to weed out the bad practices which tend to grow up where hard liquor mixes itself with the sale of beer.

The Gazette knows definitely two cases where evidence was furnished by the Brewers' Foundation to close up certain whiskey joints. With the full co-operation of the local officers and the representatives of the Brewers' Foundation, public enforcement of the Kansas law controlling the sale of beer can be had. That co-operation should be given.

There is no reason why the beer business should not be conducted as any other commercial business—breakfast food, toothpaste, tenderized ham, packaged coffee or shoes. But it must get away and evidently is trying to get away from the stigma that always will rest upon hard liquor.

The representatives of the Brewers' Foundation in Kansas wrote to The Gazette:

"We stand ready to co-operate with Kansas officials in the enforcement of the law. We have laid before officials evidence of violations of the liquor laws and some definite results have been attained. We pledge our continued efforts."

This is not idle persiflage. Apparently the Brewers' Foundation means business.

WHAT MAKES A NEWSPAPER?

A mistaken idea with some people is that the newspaper is an individual proposition.

They do not realize that the local paper is as much a part of the community as the school, churches or anything else. The newspaper is different from any other business—it is a community affair. It is for the service of the people and not for any individual.

You may not like the editor and the editor may not love you any too well—but the paper he is responsible for does as much for you as the services rendered others. There is nothing personal with it. It is here for a purpose—to do what good it can in every way it can, and the greater the support of those it undertakes to serve, the better service it can render.

It takes the people to make a good newspaper, and without the help of the people no one can run a successful newspaper. It requires money to operate any kind of business—even the churches—and the papers are no exception, and for this reason they must have the financial support of the business interests as well as the good will.

Few newspapers make more than a comfortable living and scarcely any are reported rich from money made in the newspaper business. They deserve to be trusted and to be understood by the people, and a liberal patronage is necessary if the paper is to be a credit to the community.—Van Aalstyn Leader.

Some people do not believe in God because they can not understand God by human reason. They refuse to believe in what they can not understand. The wisest man can not understand the mysteries of a watermelon. But the most ignorant negro knows how to eat and enjoy it. If a man refuses to have anything to do with God because he can not understand the powers of God, to be consistent he should have nothing to do with a watermelon because he can't understand the mysteries of a watermelon, that came from a little seed through a small vine and stem, and became a melon weighing forty or fifty pounds. Man doesn't understand the mysteries of his own body, yet he believes in it. How foolish, then, for man to say he doesn't believe in God because he can't understand the mysteries of the creator of all things.—Williamson County Sun.

TODAY, industrial possibilities in Texas are being studied and analyzed as never before.

Farm products are being examined scientifically by industrial chemists to determine their usefulness as raw materials for industry. On every hand concerted efforts are being made by all manner of agencies to help Texans take full advantage of the industrial opportunities which are open to them.

There is sound reason for this industrial activity in Texas; for, while she is in second place among all the states in gross value of farm products, in first place in value of oil and mineral products, in fifth place in volume of retail sales... Texas is nevertheless in fifteenth place in manufacturing. Therefore, it is obvious there are ample opportunities here for industrialization.

How Texas has climbed from a frontier agricultural state to her present position industrially is a matter of history. The important thing now is for Texas to go forward, developing her industrial opportunities.

Twenty-five years ago the Texas Power & Light Company pioneered Transmission Line electric power. This type of power... abundant, flexible, dependable, and low in cost... has been a determining factor in the rapid strides Texas has made industrially.

The Texas Power & Light Company is ready for this new era in the balanced development of Texas' resources and industrial opportunities. Its management is ready and eager to work shoulder to shoulder with other Texans—finding, analyzing, and helping to shape local industries... ready to bring to each task that willingness to work, that engineering and technical skill, that spirit of ready co-operation which has been useful and helpful in the past.

Texans, Let's Talk Texas... Industrially, and act vigorously together for a Greater Industrial Texas!

*Industrial opportunities in Texas are limited only by the extent of concerted action which Texans take toward their development. The manner in which other states are working along these lines is a definite challenge to every thoughtful Texan!

MYRA COMMENCEMENT PRESENTED IN FORM OF RADIO BROADCAST

Myra.—Commencement exercises for the Myra School were held last Thursday evening in the school auditorium. The program was a clever presentation in the form of a radio broadcast with the stage encased in cellophane to resemble a broadcasting station and the class grouped around a long table enjoying a banquet.

J. A. Lucas, as master of ceremonies, acted as announcer and each senior had a turn at broadcasting. During the program the junior class presented the graduates with a garland of flowers that formed a fitting background for the program.

Ben Murry Fulton, valedictorian of the class, and Miss Marjorie Biffle, salutatorian, delivered their addresses in a commendable manner. Oleta Rosson, class president, spoke. Clyde Rosson presented the class will, Darrel Melton the prophecy, Horace Lee Townsley, the poem, and Dorothy Roewe the class history. Others in the class who were featured in the broadcast were Emma Bell Davidson, Addie Marie Robeson and Guy Rosson. Buddy Snuggs acted as page boy for the evening and brought in telegrams sent by former students of Myra High, as a part of the program.

A silver loving cup was presented to Ben Murry Fulton for being the best all around student and Miss Marjorie Biffle for second, there being only a few points difference in their grades.

a 5 pound son, James Richard, on May 12th in Jacksboro, where Mrs. Schmitz is visiting with her parents for several weeks.

Mrs. Albert Kubis Sr. is recovering from body bruises received Tuesday when she was knocked over by a frightened cow.

Hugo Bezner of Muleshoe visited here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner Tuesday afternoon.

The many friends of Joe Kupper were glad to see him around town Monday for the first time in two weeks. He had been confined to his bed because of several broken ribs caused by a fall from his home while he was putting new shingles on the roof.

Mrs. Frances Binz of Muenster spent last week here as a guest of Mrs. C. Hoelker. On her return Saturday she was accompanied by Mrs. Hoelker and son, Albert.

During the past week the pupils of the high school have been busy with final examinations. The school will close Thursday, the 19th. Prior to the final school exams fifteen of the students took the State College Entrance examinations.

LINDSAY JUNIOR CLASS FETES SENIORS AT PARTY

Lindsay.—The Juniors of Lindsay high school entertained the Seniors with a banquet last Thursday evening in the school auditorium. The entire student body of the high school was invited and Rev. Fathers John and Bonaventure were special guests.

The large table was placed in a U shape and was appointed in white. Vases of roses, the class flower, decorated the room and gay streamers of purple and gold, the class colors, further added to the attractiveness of the setting.

Places for each of the 60 guests were marked with hand painted place cards, and tiny rose shaped baskets were given as favors.

The class entered the auditorium to the strains of soft music given by Miss Regina Fuhrmann at the piano. Henry Spaeth, toastmaster for the occasion, gave clever toasts for the class, the school faculty and the class officers. Rev. Father John then addressed the graduates, complimenting them on their success in finishing their grades and wishing them success in their coming ventures.

At the same program Class Day exercises were held with Miss Genevieve Bengfort giving the class prophecy and Robert Kupper the class will.

Following the banquet, the crowd enjoyed games and music.

LINDSAY COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD NEXT SUNDAY

Lindsay.— Graduation exercises for the Lindsay school will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in the community hall.

Confetti

By CON FETTE

What is believed to be the first armadillo ever seen in this part of the state was captured last week by Buddy Fette with the aid of his trusty hounds. Bud could not identify his new pet, but since it was so very different he managed to sell it to Al Bayer for a dollar. "Al will buy anything," he said. But his face was plenty red when he discovered that Al sold the animal at a 50 cent profit.

All Buddy knew about his catch was that somewhere sometime he saw a basket that looked a lot like the animal. He was right. Down in South Texas where armadillos are quite plentiful they do make baskets out of the animal's armor. After removing all working parts they clamp the tail into the animal's mouth making a 4 or 6 quart basket with handle and all.

The most amazing coincidence ever brought to our attention was that of a man who on the same day received a letter from each of his six sisters, all of whom apparently wrote without any knowledge that any other was writing. It was not his birthday nor any other special event, just something that very seldom happens. That was more than a year ago and when brought to the attention of a large broadcasting company he was offered a free trip to Chicago to tell about the incident over the air. His answer was, "Thanks, boys, I don't care for the publicity." He still feels the same way, that's why we haven't mentioned his name. But, naturally, we couldn't pass up the story itself.

Since we're giving this Ripley stuff—Would you believe that a certain lady hereabouts saw her first talking picture only a few days ago. It had been ten years since she last went to a theatre and the feature then was silent. Says she just did not find it convenient to see a show and had no special desire to go anyway. But this picture changed things. Now she's just another flicker fan.

ROBIN HOOD GOES "UPRIGHT"

Errol Flynn, in the title role in "The Adventures of Robin Hood" and Patric Knowles, who appears as Will Scarlet, had to go exceedingly modern for bandits of ye merrie olde England and have an upright piano instead of an ancient harpsichord rolled onto the set at the Warner Studio while they learned the old ballads for the picture.

How time flies! It's been 15 years since the following item appeared in the Gainesville Register: "The State Banking board has granted final papers to J. W. Meurer and associates for organization of the Muenster State Bank at Muenster."

Remember "Trailer" Travelstead who moved a few years ago to a farm south of Gainesville? He was back to town last week telling more of his not quite so plausible yarns. Fishing seems to be his long suite now, and how he enjoys telling about it! South of Gainesville, you know the creek is a combination of all three in these parts with another small one added in. "Isaac Walton" Travelstead says that's plenty room for fish to grow in.

And how they do grow! The fellows down there go fishing with lariats, not the ordinary hook and line. They wade along the rocks and brush at the creek bank until they encounter a nice sized catfish then grab him by the gills and have some boy come dashing up with the rope, slip a loop through his gills and tow the victim out on land. Next the fish is hung up, slaughtered and skinned like a calf and a few dozen picnickers are invited to slice off their steaks. Anything from 30 to 50 pounds is considered a good sized fish, and legend has it that the best catch was a 92 pounder. Most unusual was a 27 pounder caught in a little puddle in a wheat field. It got there during a flood, he said.

Memories were revived Sunday by would-be astronomer who admitted he set the alarm for shortly after 1, got up to see the moon eclipse, and then missed the show. Wonder how many of a certain party about 21 or 22 years ago remember waiting until the wee hours to see an eclipse. All wives, so it seems, were sleepy and bored and constantly nagging to call it a night, but their hubbies were very hi-di-hi around a beer keg. Whether anyone got to see the phenom is not known, but some seem to remember that it was lots of fun waiting for it.

MISS SHULTZ-TALKS ON SANITATION AT CIVIC LEAGUE MEET

The Ladies' Civic League met in regular monthly session Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the public school with 17 members and one visitor in attendance. Miss Nettie Shultz of Gainesville, Cooke county home demonstration agent, was the guest speaker and gave an instructive talk on "Community Sanitation."

She discussed sanitation and good health which are closely allied. She stressed the importance of pure water and said that Muenster is fortunate in having a public water system, which is a great asset to any town. It is important, she further stated, that the water be checked at regular intervals to insure its purity.

She emphasized the need of keeping the premises clean and warned of the dangers of having tin cans and other refuse lying about the yards and highways which fill with water at the first rain and provide splendid breeding places for mosquitoes.

Several different types of sewage disposal for towns having no public sewer system were discussed, and illustrated pamphlets on this subject were distributed.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is an old saying but also a true one," said Miss Shultz in closing her talk.

A report from Mrs. Nick Miller of the cemetery committee was to the effect that the ground had been plowed and Bermuda sod is to be planted very soon.

It was voted to take some action regarding the weeds and grass in the alleys and on the vacant lots of the city. A committee of four, namely, Mesdames T. P. Frost, Jackie Pagle, John Fisher and Joe Wilde was appointed to meet with the city council to secure their co-operation in this project.

The educational committee, which is in charge of obtaining the guest speakers, announced that for the next meeting an interesting program has been arranged in which M. J. Endres, Mayor of Muenster and Lee Henschel, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will address the League. Also at that time Mrs. T. P. Frost will give an account of the garden pilgrimage in Dallas which she and several other local women made recently.

Next month's meeting will be held on June 10th.

RHINELAND DELEGATES HEARD SUNDAY P.M. AT PARISH MEETING

A joint meeting of the four local church societies was called Sunday afternoon for the purpose of hearing the reports of delegates to the North Texas District Convention of the Catholic State League held in Rhineland on May 3 and 4.

Rev. Father Frowin was in charge of the meeting and delivered a brief opening address. Miss Josephine Yosten representing the Blessed Virgin Sodality, and Werner Becker of the Holy Name Society, gave interesting accounts of the two-day event. Mrs. Henry Fleitman and Frank Klement of the Mothers' Society and Saint Joseph Society, respectively, spoke briefly, as the convention was thoroughly covered in the reports given by Miss Yosten and Mr. Becker.

Points mentioned as receiving special emphasis at the convention were the urgency of greater unity among Catholics and the need of young people's enrollment in Catholic societies. Pursuing this latter objective the convention resolved to admit the recently organized Catholic Youth Organization as a separate unit of

HOTEL MANAGEMENT RESUMED THIS WEEK BY MRS. HAVERKAMP

Since Monday of this week Mrs. Casper Haverkamp is back in the City Hotel as manager. She replaces Mrs. W. S. Haynes who was in charge for the past three months. Prior to that time Mrs. Haverkamp managed the place but due to illness was forced to retire and take a rest. Mrs. Haverkamp stated that she has recovered her good health and is glad to be back in her business. The Haynes family is occupying the Angela Furbach residence that the Haverkamps vacated.
