Lately reports seem to come more frequently that our country is on the verge of a sell-out of its good friend and valued ally, the Republic of China. This opinion is supported by assurances to Mainland China that US has adopted a One China policy, as if Taiwan is officially a part of Red China and has no independent status, and also by continued restrictions on the weapons this country will sell the ROC. As a starter, the weapons sold to Taiwan were to be strictly defensive and next were to be limited to the models in use up to 1978.

Meanwhile the Mainland Chinese are assured that there are no limits on the types of munitions they can get from us, offensive as well as defensive, all of any desired design.

The aim is unmistakable. Our country is systematically cooperating in a scheme whereby our friends will be weakened to the point whereby the Reds can take over with hardly any effort.

This is especially sad because the ROC has a proud history since it took refuge on Taiwan shortly after World War II. The tiny island republic repelled its big Red neighbor for more than 30 years and also developed a phenomenally successful economic system. And now it is haunted by the depressing thought that its once gallant defense may now end in helpless surrender and its economic excellence may become a gift to people who achieved little on their own. It's depressing to think that Taiwanese, after their inspiring success, see the kind of future that customarily follows "liberation" by the Communists.

It's depressing also to think that our country has a part in this tragedy...actually this second betrayal. We can never get over the guilt of delaying until it was too late for the Chinese Nationalists in their struggle with the Communists. This was our way of being grateful to the Nationalists for their valued help in our Pacific Campaign in World War II.

In the years since America became a strong supporter of ROC independence and a good commercial customer. But then came new tensions between US and USSR followed by development of an alliance between US and China in defense against Russia.

The idea made progress under President Carter, to the extent where China demanded we betray Taiwan as a condition of alliance with the Mainland. During his 1980 campaign Ronald Reagan refused to go along with the idea. He looked upon friendship with ROC as completely separate from the deal with China. He refused to buy the one alliance by stabbing another ally in the back.

However things changed after he became president, and it is hard to determine whether the pressures came from the administration or the Chinese. Did we decide this is the way to keep on good terms with China? Or did the Reds tell us bluntly that we'll have to toe the line or be left without an ally against the Red Bear?

The really disturbing thought about all this is that President Reagan seems to agree with boycott of an old and cherished friend after he

PUC okays TP&L hike

The city council in regular session Monday night learned that the day of reckoning has finally arrived in the rate dispute it has been delaying for months.

Larry Kinard, TP&L representative reported, that the Public Utilities Commission has granted the rate increase sought by the company and a number of changes will become effective on July 1. The amounts of increase vary for private, commercial, industrial and other customers, but the average for all will be 5.7%.

The rate increase had been requested of the city council several times, and each request was turned down on the grounds that the final decision will be made eventually by PUC and the city would have to comply then. The answer was received Monday.

Regarding efforts to locate one of the county ambulances in Muenster,

Ruth Kleiss is college graduate

Ruth Kleiss, daughter of Aloys and Esther Kleiss of Subiaco, graduated magna cum laude from the College of the Ozarks, Sunday, May 23. She received a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration.

While a student, her activities included membership in Phi Beta Lambda, serving as vice-president of business advocacy, 1982. She was named to the National Dean's List, 1981 and 1982; National Register of outstanding College Students, 1982; The College of the Ozarks Dean's List, 1981; and Honor Roll, 1981 and 1982. In 1982, Ruth Kleiss was selected for membership in Alpha Chi, a national honor scholarship society.

The College of the Ozarks is a four-year liberal arts Presbyterian college in Clarksville, Arkansas.

progress was indicated in an offer by the Boyles Estate to grant a two year lease and an option to buy the residence across Oak Street from the K of C hall. However, details on cost and renovating are not complete. The house would serve as headquarters for the medics operating the vehicle. Another consideration concerns a shelter for the ambulance when not in use. The Muenster Chamber of Commerce has offered to help in that respect with a donation toward purchase of a shed but declines to obligate future members with future payments.

Well No. 6 apparently will be in service in about a month. A progress report at the council meeting states that paper work is finished and the city expects next week to lay the water line from well to storage tank.

Likewise the city's lake project is making steady progress. Appraisal work is expected to end in about 60 days, after which the water district will be ready to start buying property.

Chamber blocks survey

A proposed survey on whether to continue or end the Germanfest was disapproved Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. The idea came up recently in response to critical comment which has been in circulation and has brought on a challenge to have a showdown of opinion to let the community decide.

After airing the subject in detail, members decided against the survey, saying they preferred to allow time for further consideration and also noting that the suggested choice places the Chamber in a situation of nothing to win but all to lose. The suggested survey proposed a yes-no answer on keeping the fest.

The Chamber also took the attitude that calm thought will bring out increasingly favorable opinion, as well as helpful suggestions. Also, under any circumstances, there must be abundant approval in the 50,000 who attended. Germanfest can still be a huge success if local critics choose to boycott it.

The comment included some factors making it difficult to understand now local people can disapprove. Besides entertainment and community prestige, the fest is a bonanza. Three groups of organizations private, civic, and church and school, made a gross profit of $154,695, much of which is spent on charity, scholarships, and improvements. Except for the once a year event most of the beneficiaries would operate on a low budget.

Then there's the Chamber of Commerce with gross income of $56,856, mostly on commissions and gate receipts. With an operation of that size the Chamber had expenses exceeding $30,000 and cleared $26,748. That too is committed to improvement of the community and business environment.

Chamber members have another idea favoring the fest. They intend to improve wherever possible. Hopefully their show will become more attractive, more appealing.

Another bit of Chamber business; President Dick Ferber said the organization office is moved to the former SCS office, in The Enterprise building.

Area starts poor harvest

There's good news and bad news about this year's grain harvest. First the good news. Weather has been a pleasant surprise in its favorable recovery from an excessively wet May, especially the early weeks. A drop to some 3.50 inches in the past four weeks, with breeze and sunshine between showers has prepared the land for the combines.

And now the bad news. The harvest is disappointing. The season so far indicates lower yields than last year, and lower prices besides. Farmers are squeezed from both sides. The market, which ended at $3.90 per bushel in 1981 is down to $3.50. This applies to hard wheat, but the price of soft wheat is down to $2.75.

At the same time yields are down to about half of last year's. Reports of 60 bushels per acre were frequent then, but now they are usually in the area of 30 per acre. At the same time soft wheat does not have the normal production lead over hard wheat. Usually the higher yield compensates for lower prices, but not this time.

Another disappointment is test which ranges from 52 to near 60 with a few exceptions going as high as 62.

The comparative crop failure apparently relates to wet weather at both ends of the season. Erosion during the 12 inch rain of October carried away grain with top-

Bishop Danglmayr combines anniversaries

When Bishop Augustine Danglmayr observes his double anniversary this week, he and his relatives will recall treasured memories of his ordination to the priesthood by Bishop

Lynch in Dallas on June 10, 1922; and his First Mass here that was celebrated in Sacred Heart Church; his appointment to the rank of Monsignor on October 11, 1934 and notice of appointment as Bishop in April, 1942.

Long service as chancellor in the Dallas diocese for 20 years won for him the high rank of Auxiliary Bishop of Dallas and titular Bishop of Olba, Turkey. At age 43, he was the first Texan to be appointed as Bishop Lynch; and the fifth native born Texan to be elevated to the Episcopacy. His consecration as Bishop occurred on Wednesday, October 7, 1942 in Sacred Heart Cathedral in Dallas. Dignitaries of the Catholic Church from all parts of the country gathered on that day, headed by Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, the Apostolic Delegate from Washington, D.C. who officiated at the consecration.

Bishop Danglmayr celebrated his first Pontifical high mass in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster and conferred the Sacrament of Confirmation for the first time on 145 candidates on Sunday, October 11, 1942, continuing a brilliant church career.

Good News

Psalm 51: 10-13

Create a pure heart in me, O God, and put a new and loyal spirit in me.

Do not banish me from your presence; do not take your holy spirit away from me.

Give me again the joy that comes from your salvation, and make me willing to obey you.

Then I will teach sinners your commands, and they will turn back to you.

Homecoming plans shape up

Plans are progressing smoothly for the Father's Day Picnic and Homecoming sponsored by Sacred Heart Parish, to be held Sunday, June 20 in the Community Center.

Traditional and familiar events will be included in the day's schedule beginning with the bountiful dinner and continuing throughout the Auction in the evening.

Another attractive feature added this week for a lucky winner is the use of a Van for two weeks, donated by Endres Motor Company. Chuck Bartush, Jr. is chairman of this project.

Also mentioned on Tuesday was the Country Store's need for baked foods of all kinds, breads, rolls, home-canned pickles and jellies, fresh garden vegetables, hand-made items, hobby and decorative items and good, usable clothing. Mrs. Paul Fisher is project chairman. Also requested by Mrs. Ronnie Hoagland Tuesday was cakes for the cake walk and pie for the community dinner.

Harvest weather

Harvest weather has arrived. As a welcome change from May's excessive moisture, rainfall has tapered off and a combination of sunshine and breeze has permitted fields to dry sufficiently for the combines. Rainfall for June to date is .62 inch, and for the last two weeks of May it was 3.94. Total rain through May was 17.48 and the total to now is 18.10, which is slightly above average.

Meanwhile temperature readings are moderate. Steve Moster records low and high figures as follows:

|        |           |
|--------|-----------|
| June 3 | 68 and 88 |
| June 4 | 63 and 80 |
| June 5 | 62 and 87 |
| June 6 | 64 and 89 |
| June 7 | 76 and 92 |
| June 8 | 73 and 91 |

Looking Ahead

by Dr. George S. Benson President

NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

LET'S USE THE CAPITAL WEAPON
It is sometimes difficult to maintain a calm, objective stance when we discover an incident where our government officials have acted in a manner that is clearly not in the best interest of the nation. Under such circumstances people are tempted to ask, "Why?" This entices us into the risky area of questioning motives. Motives concern us, of course, but it is the consequence that really matters, not the motivation. Such incidents have included trade with the Soviets, which has built up their military power, and the recent bail-out of Poland by the Reagan Administration. The American people deserve to know the facts in the hope that enlightened public opinion can prevent such incidents in the future. Communist Poland owes the West approximately $25 billion; $15 billion to the banks, much of which is guaranteed, and $10 billion to various governments. Here are the facts as reported by columnist George Will: "The American government has paid $71 million to U.S. banks in lieu of interest payments Poland owes on loans the U.S. government guarantees. The payment was contrary to the law, which requires prior notice of default. Indeed, the purpose of this surreptitious payment was to prevent Poland from being declared in default, which would disrupt East-West trade and efforts to resuscitate detente."

Will points out that the West has loaned the Communist Bloc in Europe four times as much as we sent to Western Europe in Marshall Plan aid after World War II. What goes on here? This hardly seems a prudent way to conduct affairs. How did this come about? It seems the U.S. government has encouraged the international banks to make loans to Communist countries and has even guaranteed many of them. Do you feel it is right to pledge your tax dollars to insure payment of Communist debts to U.S. banks?

We are confident such policies do not enjoy the support of the vast majority of the American people. We believe our people would agree with the statement of Mr. Felix Rohatyn, partner of Lazard Freres investment banking firm, and the man who reorganized the chaotic financial structure of New York City. In regard to this incident Mr. Rohatyn said:

"The Soviet Union exercises political and military control over Poland, so the Soviet Union should take the burden of financing Poland. . . . The West has been relieving the Soviet Union of what may be its greatest shortage — capital — at the cost of making bad loans while pretending to oppose Communism. That is bad business, bad policy, bad morality. . . . We should put the economic burden of the satellite states squarely on the Soviet Union and point up the bankruptcy of the Communist system by declaring bankrupt one of its largest units. . . ."

The weapon of capital is potentially one of the most powerful and least used in the Western world. Poland affords us a chance to use it. It might turn out to be our only effective way, in the long run, of bringing about change behind the Iron Curtain."

We agree. It is long past time to bring morality to U.S. foreign policy and business practices with the Soviets.

GOVERNOR'S REPORT

by William F. Clements Jr.

The Texas Legislature deserves great credit for prompt action addressing major issues in a highly-productive special session.

Within five days, lawmakers completed the emergency assignments for which I called them into session May 24.

The way finally has been cleared for relieving Texas property owners of a potential billion dollar tax liability. Voters will have an opportunity November 2 to adopt a constitutional amendment submitted to them by an overwhelming vote of the Legislature to abolish the 10 cent state ad valorem levy.

At the same time, $151.4 million was appropriated for construction at the 17 state universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M University systems. Revenue from the state property tax went to the 17 schools for their building programs until three years ago when the Legislature sought to repeal it. Some of the schools filed suit challenging constitutionality of the legislative act. The suit is pending.

Future building needs of these institutions will be considered in the regular session of the Legislature which convenes in just seven months. I am confident that a fair and equitable system will be developed for distributing available resources among these schools, some of which have been penalized by an outdated formula which fails to take into account recent enrollment growth.

In addition to providing for tax relief, the Legislature has appropriated more than $50 million to ease overcrowding in our state corrections system and insure that our prisons remain open, meeting the strict criteria set down by federal court mandates while accommodating an unforeseen increase in the number of inmates.

Bulk of the prison appropriation will go to accelerate building projects under way and adapt existing buildings for inmate housing. Funds further were provided to hire an additional 657 guards and staff members in the prisons, to employ more parole commissioners and parole officers and for the Texas Adult Probation Commission to increase intensive supervision and to operate an additional residential treatment center.

Overall problems of our Criminal Justice System will be studied in depth by a committee which I am naming. Recommendations of this committee to the Legislature next January will assure long term solutions to the challenges faced by the Department of Corrections and the Criminal Justice system.

The special session also approved these constitutional amendment proposals for submission to the voters in November:

—An exemption of farm and ranch tools and implements from property taxes.

—An increase in the maximum allowable interest rate on previously-authorized state general obligation water and student loan bonds from six to 12 per cent to make them marketable.

Legislators also corrected ambiguities and technical deficiencies in another proposed constitutional amendment to increase the ceiling on welfare payments to dependent children and those who care for them, from the current $80 million a year to one per cent of the total state budget.

I am proud of the work of the special session and of the speed with which it was accomplished.

As we have seen, there were those who resisted the session's being called and questioned whether its modest cost was worthwhile. These critics will have a difficult time supporting their position that a billion dollars in tax relief, major aid to our universities and prisons and the other matters given prompt attention during the last full week of May, 1982, were not suitable and justified subjects for a special session.

Small-business Angle

by Wilson S. Johnson

DISINFLATION: NEW PROBLEM FOR SMALL BUSINESS

It has been a long time since we heard the word "disinflation." Inflation has been the number one concern of most people for many years. But in the first quarter of 1982, small business reported disinflation.

In the quarterly economic survey conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), the percent of firms reporting price decreases from January through March rose five points. The Index of Reported Price Decreases rose more than 33 percent. According to economists, this means 5.3 percent annual deflation rate across the entire small business community. Wholesalers, manufacturers, and retailers were the leaders in lowering prices because of declining sales and the high cost of financing their inventories.

Those responding to the NFIB survey were ambivalent about the future of the economy. The data showed no evidence the economy will slump further, but neither were there any encouraging signs of an upturn. One analyst said the tenor of the survey results strongly resembled those of the late 70s. "Then, it was the recession that was just around the corner," he said. "Now it's recovery that is just around the corner, but there is still no evidence of recovery, at least among small business."

How will disinflation affect the small-business community? Professor William Dunkelberg of Purdue University says, "If you are a debtor — and many small firms (and consumers) are debtors — these days — you will find yourself repaying loans with dollars that are worth more than the dollars borrowed. That is a complete reversal of the situation over the last ten years, during which time lenders were repaid with dollars that were worth less and less. The result is that small firms will find the repayment burden growing more difficult as prices remain stable or decline, and that will make it much more difficult for those firms to get back on their feet financially. They will have to earn more than one dollar to repay a dollar in real terms."

This news comes at a time when the effects of slow sales and high interest rates have resulted in the greatest number of business failures since the Great Depression. And with those businesses go thousands of jobs.

The problem will not be solved until confidence is restored among those that put up the money for business to operate and expand. The key is some sign from Washington that Congress is ready to act responsibly to reduce the deficit — and not by huge tax increases. What are the chances of that happening soon? If the performance of the past two months is any indication, the situation shows little hope of early improvement.

Wilson S. Johnson is president of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.

had been so positive on the other side. It seems to indicate a belief that serious trouble is in sight unless he agrees with the betrayal.

Some weeks ago Dr. George Benson in his syndicated column referred to the dangers of alliance between ourselves and either China or Russia. While Russia covets a part of China the alliance with us is useful to China. But a point to be remembered is that the two Reds have more in common with each other than either has with US. What's to keep China from an ultimatum to switch sides unless US does as it is told? Does US see a danger of facing both of the Big Red powers?

That, of course, is only a possibility, but one is inclined to think that the Red threat has made progress toward world take-over. Taiwan under present handicap is helpless and China sees the opportunity of a big gain in civilization by just letting the prize fall in its hand. Meanwhile US continues as a part of the free world, which keeps on shrinking. It is somewhat like Taiwan, just declining until the time when we too are "liberated" from the good life and absorbed by totalitarianism.

However the outlook isn't quite hopeless. As Communism gains the free world will shrink and produce less to make up for Red shortages. Meanwhile there's a chance that billions of slaves will start a successful freedom movement. And there's even a remote chance that Reds will see the folly of their system and start changes on their own. Any of these ideas is good to pray for, but unfortunately a poor choice to bet on.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Robert Bernstein, M.D.,
Commissioner

Proper tooth care should start early

Toothbrushing and proper dental hygiene need to begin even before a baby has teeth.

"After each feeding, a baby's mouth should be wiped with a clean washcloth, a piece of gauze, or the gums should be gently brushed with a soft toothbrush even before the teeth erupt," says dental hygienist Mrs. Dee C. Salmon.

Mrs. Salmon is with the Bureau of Dental Health of the Texas Department of Health. She said brushing is necessary to remove dental plaque. Plaque is a sticky, colorless film of bacteria that attaches to teeth and gums and causes dental disease in both.

The primary (baby) teeth start to come in at about six to 12 months and flossing should begin as soon as two teeth are side by side. By the age of three, all 20 primary teeth have usually erupted. "Many parents think primary teeth are not worth being concerned about," Mrs. Salmon said. "That is a misconception. A child's primary teeth are important for chewing, speaking, appearance, and most importantly for saving space for permanent teeth."

"A child should never be put to bed with a bottle containing anything but plain water. Liquids such as milk, juices, sodas, and formulas pool around the new teeth and cause dental decay to start," Mrs. Salmon said. "This is called nursing bottle mouth."

If the parents are living in an area with fluoridated water, they may want to buy a concentrated formula that can be mixed with the fluoridated water, instead of buying one that is ready to use. Mrs. Salmon said thumb sucking is a natural reflex that may make a child feel secure and happy. "Thumb-sucking should gradually disappear after the age of two," she said. If it doesn't, see your family dentist. But don't scold the child since this may cause increased anxiety."

She said parents may want to provide an orthodontic pacifier. "Do not buy the long, firm pacifiers, because they will influence the shape of the mouth," she said. "Instead, shop around for the shorter and broader models."

U.N. FUNDS TERRORISTS

By Edwin Feulner

The United Nations has been giving a helping hand to terrorist groups and American taxpayers are helping to pay for it.

Yes, Pilgrim, $116 million has been spent or budgeted since 1975 on what the U.N. calls "national liberation movements" (NLMs), which in plain English means organized terror and violence. One out of every four dollars has come from the United States, according to an investigation by U.N. analyst Thomas Gulick.

The Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), one of the most ruthless and notorious guerrilla groups in the world, has been a major beneficiary of U.N. support. If that sounds outrageous, it is.

Only months after the PLO murders of Israeli Olympic athletes in Munich, the official PLO newspaper, the Spokesman, gave the world a clear picture of just how cold-blooded and sleazy this group is: "We have to kill the most famous," the paper said. "Since statesmen are difficult to kill as they are well protected, we have to kill artists and athletes."

Two years later, the PLO's chief headhunter, Yassar Arafat, was welcomed by the U.N. General Assembly as the one and only "representative of the Palestinian people." Following this outrage, full observer status was granted to the PLO by several other U.N. agencies — including the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO). The ICAO added insult to injury by inviting the PLO to meetings on "air security." Since the PLO has considerable experience in air security (as the pirates), the rationale was that they could provide valuable advice at these meetings!

There also is evidence that the PLO has infiltrated the United Nations Relief and Works Agency's (UNRWA) programs for Palestinian refugees. UNRWA's annual budget is $200 million. The United States contributed $62 million to UNRWA in 1981 while the oil rich Arab states contributed only $18 million. Whether or not the PLO directly gets any of the money is not the point; what's important is PLO access to refugee camps that Gulick says are being used as recruiting centers, and, according to some Lebanese officials, as actual military installations.

Another terrorist organization, the Southwest African Peoples Organization (SWAPO), was granted U.N. observer status in 1976. Closely tied to the Soviets, SWAPO has a well-documented history of terrorist attacks against civilians, which doesn't seem to faze the humanitarians at the U.N. Quite the contrary, the U.N. and its specialized agencies have allocated approximately $40 million in direct or indirect aid to SWAPO since 1977. The U.S. paid about 30 percent of this.

U.N. support of such groups — the PLO, SWAPO, African National Congress and the Pan-African Congress — comes mostly in the form of food, shelter, and access to propaganda channels. It also provides them with instant "credibility" by honoring them with diplomatic privileges, instead of the condemnation they deserve.

Since nobody really knows how much money and in-kind support terrorist groups get from the U.N. directly, and from the U.S. via the U.N., the General Accounting Office and the U.S. Congress should conduct a full investigation of the funding of all U.N. agencies.

At a time when the debate rages on how best to cut the federal budget, it wouldn't seem unreasonable to argue that we should stop our role in helping to bankroll terrorist operations.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

Agriculture is thriving in Texas. Farmers harvested crops valued at 4 billion dollars last year. These crops helped to feed and clothe the entire population of the United States and much of the world. Yet there is a prosperous crop in Texas that doesn't do anybody any good — it's marijuana, and last year alone 8 million dollars worth was seized in our state. Extensive land area, a sunny climate, and rich soil have made marijuana farming in Texas a profitable endeavor.

Chamber of Commerce hosts Germanfest appreciation dinner

More than 50 persons who assisted the Chamber of Commerce in conducting this year's Germanfest were guests of the Chamber Friday night at an appreciation dinner in the meeting room of Muenster Telephone Corporation.

Dick Ferber, Germanfest chairman, as master of ceremonies, commented briefly on the overall success of the event including record attendance and record receipts, and commended those present for great cooperation in their original preparations and in keeping the festival progressing smoothly.

Another report was that of John Pagel, finance chairman, who stressed that total income to private, civic, and church and school organizations amounted to $193,484. After commissions of $33,588 and reimbursements of $2200 for items furnished by the Chamber, the participants had a gross income of $157,695, most of which is channeled into charity and community improvement.

The Chamber's total income, including commissions, gate receipts, reimbursements and miscellaneous sales, added to $56,856. Deducting expenses of $30,108 the Chamber realized a net income of $26,787 most of which is destined to pay off the debt on the new rest rooms.

Along with verbal credits for a good job Ferber presented special plaques for a number of special services. Recipients were members of the steering committee: Alvin Fuhrman, co-chairman; David Fette, concessions; Monica Hess, entertainment; Larry Kinard, electric; Johnny Pagel, finance; special entertainment programs, Gina Hofbauer and Norma Jean Dowd; Fun Run directors, Ronnie Hess, Dan Hamric and Harold Flusche. Kinard also received a special award as the outstanding chairman.

Table decorations were featured by a dozen couples in a variety of colors provided by Mrs. Dick Ferber. All of them were given as door prizes in a drawing at the end of the program.

Estimated tax payments due

Tuesday, June 15, 1982 is the due date for the second payment of Individual Estimated Taxes (1045 ES). The Internal Revenue Service is currently mailing pre-printed vouchers to taxpayers who filed estimated tax declarations in April. These vouchers should be received no later than June 11, 1982.

Blood drive yields 69 pints

A gratifying turnout at Tuesday's emergency blood collection yielded a total of 69 pints for the Red River blood bank of Wichita Falls, which serves Muenster Hospital and the Muenster Hospital District. David Bright, local chairman, quoted the Red Cross personnel as saying the collection was great for being off schedule. Seventy five persons had registered.

The extra visit does not reflect abnormal demand for blood, Bright said, but abnormal problems of collecting in wet weather. Supply simply dwindled as new collections failed to come in.

Tuesday's collection was held at the KC hall, as usual, from 2 to 7 p.m., and the Red Cross personnel were assisted by hospital and auxiliary personnel and students. The hospital group included Nurses Della Hellman, Lynda Yosten, Peggy Gobble, Judy Flusche, Pauline Stelzer and Joan Walterscheid; also aide Terry Flusche, and Technicians Bob LaCoe and Herman Carroll.

Auxiliary members were Frances Bayer, Carol Henschel, Loretta Wimmer, Patsy Walterscheid, Harriet Pagel and Carolyn Bayer. Students were Cheryl Bayer, Janet Hesse, Sharon Voth, Carol Walterscheid and Tim Voth.

Three of Tuesday's donors were gallon clubbers. Pat Yosten, Claude Klement and Harvey Schmitt all completed their second gallon.

The last blood collection here was on March 17. The next is dated for October 20.

Muenster outdoes state in voting apathy

Muenster voters outdid the rest of the state in apathy last Saturday, turning out with a record of slightly more than 5 percent while the state average was near 8 percent.

The total number of qualified voters here is 1231 in Precinct 18 and 223 in Precinct 17. They had a turnout of 70 and 9 for Saturday's election.

The stronger vote in the North Box reflects a pair of contests which attracted the only local attention. Dorothy Smith opposed Steven Phelps for Justice of the Peace, Precinct, Place 2 and polled a strong majority of 54-13. Also Christi Klement outpolled John Pagel 42-25 for precinct chairman. Neither of the contests was on the Precinct 17 ballot.

Precinct wide, Smith outpolled Phelps 538 to 322 for the JP job.

In voting for state offices, Muenster kept pace with the rest of the county and state. Matox, the 38-26 winner here beat Hannah 295,170 to 279,966 for the Democratic nominee for attorney general. Also Maurs and Snelson tied here at 34-34 for land commissioner and the state winner was Maurs, 297,328 to 259,505.

In races for the courts Campbell, the 41-16 local winner, led 254,198 to 228,673 over Humphries. Black the 30-29 winner here, lost 254,793 to Miller in the state. In the race for associate justice, court of criminal appeals Burdock beat Atkins 37-25 at Muenster and 489,386 in the county.

Advanced swim class available June 21 to July 2 at city pool

Contrary to early reports, Muenster will have an advanced swim class this summer. The standard Red Cross course in Advanced Lifesaving will be taught at the Muenster pool from June 21 to July 2. It will be supervised by three persons with the Red Cross WSI rating; Kathy Hartman as director and Kathi Koch and Serena Wright as instructors.

Classes will be taught two weeks, starting daily at 9 and attendance at all ten sessions will qualify for a Red Cross certificate in advanced lifesaving. Requirement to enroll is 15 years of age, good physical condition and permission of a parent or guardian. Students are asked to come prepared to swim.

The class offers a double benefit. In addition to personal improvement it will qualify more persons as instructors for the beginners' swim classes in July.

An application for the convenience of students is available below.

Ben Fleitman Jr. heads KCs

Muenster Knights of Columbus at their annual election of officers last Wednesday night chose Ben Fleitman Jr. as grand knight to succeed Harold Flusche who had held the office two years. Also they chose Robert Knauf for deputy grand knight succeeding Ben Fleitman Jr. in that office.

In most of the other offices, however, there were no changes. Joe Hellman was re-elected as recorder; Jerry Walterscheid continues as chancellor, Charley Hellman as treasurer, Joe Hoenig as warden, Maures Hacker as advocate and Harold Knabe as inside guard. Also Gilbert Hess succeeds Chris Walter as outside guard. As retiring grand knight, Harold Flusche became a trustee and other trustees are Wayne Klement and Leon Knauf.

Appointive offices remain to be announced at the next regular meeting. At this time Ed Endres is financial secretary, Father Denis Soerries, the chaplain and the J.W. Fisher the lecturer. Another chaplain, Father Stephen Eckart left the council this week to return to his monastic home at Subiaco, Ark.

Also a part of the meeting was a report on the state K of C convention by Joe Hoenig. He and Ben Fleitman were the council's delegates to the convention.

City okays temporary building for First Texas Savings

A temporary building to serve as a study for an anticipated permanent building for First Texas Savings was approved by the city council at its Monday night meeting.

Fred Terrell, representing the company, told the council that the lease on its present location will expire soon and it wishes to build a temporary structure on Block 58, near Luke's Fina warehouse, to provide a location and especially to serve as a study for a permanent building to be constructed within two years. The council agreed on condition that the temporary site be cleared as soon as its time expires.

Regarding proposed paving on Mesquite, First and Third Streets, the council voted that the project is being delayed by failure to install curbs on First and Third. However, the city gave its okay on a proposal for improving existing curb at Gilbert Endres Distributing Company. Endres pointed out that his heavy Budweiser truck was destroying the regular curb and asked for permission to install heavier curb extending four feet into the street. The council approved.

Muenster firemen attending the fire fighting school at Texas A&M will again be sponsored by the city. Chris Sicking and Herbert Knabe will be the delegates representing the fire department.

Carol Yosten marries Gene Vogel

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Vogel are at home in Muenster since returning from a wedding trip that followed their marriage in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, June 5 at 10 a.m.

Father Stephen Eckart officiated for their vows in a double ring ceremony and Latin Mass sung by the Sacred Heart Men's Choir with Anthony Luke, organist. The bride's father is a member of the choir. Special hymns were "On This Day" and "This is the Day the Lord Has Made." Christi Klement and the bride's brother, Doug Hosten sang "A Time For Us" and "How Great Thou Art." "Sunrise, Sunset" was the selection as mothers of the couple entered the church.

The bride is the former Carol Yosten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yosten and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vogel.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal gown of bridal white chiffon designed with an empire waist, sheer sleeves and sheer, squared-effect yoke edged with wide Chantilly lace and a wedding ring collar of the same lace. A full chiffon overskirt was draped over a wide flounce of Chantilly lace and was caught up at intervals, with hand made white silk flowers, and swept into an aisle-wide chapel length train.

Her two tiered finger tip length veil of illusion was edged with a wide band of matching lace, and fell from a Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls. Her flowers were white glamelias, carnations and orange blossoms in a cascade. For sentiment she carried her mother's crystal rosary.

Attendants

Attendants were the bride's sister, Kathy, Mrs. Tom Bonner of Forestburg as matron of honor, and another sister, Janette, Mrs. Bobby Hess as bridesmatron. They wore gowns designed and made by Kathy Bonner of sea green silk, with empire waist and a capelet of sheer chiffon screen printed with a pale yellow and white floral. They carried cascades of white and pale yellow silk flowers.

Laura Lee Vogel was the flower girl, wearing a long dress with short puff sleeves and a full skirt caught up at intervals with ribbons, in the same floral chiffon as the attendants capelets. She carried a hand bouquet of silk roses and orange blossoms.

Rodney Vogel was the ring bearer. He carried a ring pillow made by the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Mel Yosten.

The groom's brother, Larry Vogel of Myra was his best man and another brother, David Vogel of Muenster was groomsman.

Ushers were the bride's brothers Doug Yosten and Mel Yosten and the groom's cousin Jim Vogel and a friend Joe Koessler.

Mass servers were the bride's cousin, Ray Stewart, and Scott Vogel.

Altar decorations included lighted candles and arrangements of white gladioli and yellow carnations.

Reception

A reception in the Community Center followed, with dinner served at noon. Parents of the couple were hosts to more than 340 guests.

Sisters-in-law of the bride, Lynda Yosten and Jo Ann Yosten secured signatures of guests in the bride's book.

The three tiered wedding cake, made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, stood over a lighted fountain, decorated with green and yellow flowers and topped with an arrangement of two white satin bells and a lace arch with green and yellow flowers. The groom's horseshoe shaped German chocolate cake was made by the bride's sister, Janette Hess.

Reception assistants were Amy Bonner, Carol Tischler, Rhonda Stewart and Paula Yosten.

The bride's table held the wedding cake with two arrangements of yellow and white flowers, and silver candelabra with pale green candles. The front of the white tablecloth was draped with net, caught up with clusters of light yellow and green flowers. Guest tables held white, yellow and green baskets of flowers, with small clusters of flowers on either side. A large wall hanging was displayed behind the bride's table, decorated with two lace hearts and the couple's names. Decorations were made by Mrs. Aileen Knabe.

Special guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Yosten and the bride's god-mother, Mrs. L.J. Yosten and Mr. Yosten.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and the groom is a graduate of Muenster High School and is employed by AMPI in Muenster.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the couple included the rehearsal dinner and John Cunningham on June 3. A Bachelorette dinner at the Pizza Inn in Gainesville, was given by the bride's sisters and sisters-in-law on May 28 for fourteen guests. A surprise lingerie shower was given in the bride's home by the groom's sisters and sisters-in-law, with mothers of the couple as special guests. The groom's Bachelor party on June 3 followed the rehearsal dinner.

hosted by the groom's parents in the home of Carla

This week's Photos From The Past show two portraits and two informal poses related to the career of Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr. On the left, in picture 1 are his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dangelmayr. Picture 2 was made at Kenrick Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. in 1919, of August, the Seminarian. Picture 3, a daily task for St. Monica's first pastor, who served the Dallas church from 1954-1961. Picture 4 in a formal portrait, resplendent in his sacred vestments, is Bishop Dangelmayr on the day of Consecration in Sacred Heart Cathedral, Dallas on October 7, 1942.

Anniversary event in Dallas honors Bishop Dangelmayr

A luncheon and reception in Dallas on Friday, June 4 honored Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr in anticipation of his 60th anniversary as a priest and 40th anniversary as a bishop. Both luncheon and reception were surprise events.

The luncheon was hosted by Ursuline nuns at Ursuline Academy in Dallas where he was a former chaplain. One of the treasured gifts presented to him was a leather bound album of photographs containing many old portraits, including his parents, the late Joseph and Theresa Dangelmayr, other family members, his boyhood home, school and seminary days and continuing to the present with newer pictures. The photo album was assembled and presented by Sister Lois Bannon.

Following the luncheon, a reception was hosted at the Chancery office by Most Rev. Thomas Tschoepe, Bishop of the Dallas diocese, where close friends greeted the bishop. The room was decorated with memoirs of various stations in his life. A congratulatory banner was displayed on one wall. A beautifully decorated cake was served. Friends represented many organizations he directed while he was in Dallas, including the Diocesan Youth Group; Sacred Heart Cathedral Sodality of Mary; Marillac Social Center; St. Anthony's Guild, and Little Flower Society.

Bishop Dangelmayr was surprised by the attendance of the first altar boys who served at his Mass of Ordination who were Bill and Joe Weaver of Dallas. Also by his secretary of 30 years, Catherine Reitz of Dallas, and Margaret O'Rourke, who represented the Society of the Little Flower.

A number of nuns from convents in the Dallas area also attended the reception.

Bishop Tschoepe was master of ceremonies for the program during the reception, mentioning also that Bishop Dangelmayr is Muenster's first native son to be so honored.

Bishop Dangelmayr was accompanied to the luncheon and reception by two nieces, Mrs. Charlotte Dangelmayr and Mrs. Pam Dangelmayr, who took him to Dallas.

Fun Run fund assists in replacing hearing aid lost

Money raised during Germanfest by the Knights of Columbus German Fun Run was put to good use Saturday night, May 22, when Dan Hamric and Ronnie Hess, co-chairmen of the fun run, presented Casey Jones with a check for $430.

Jones, a resident of the Muenster-Forestburg area for some 60 years, had his home and all belongings destroyed by fire in early May. Included in the loss were his hearing aids which, uninsured were valued at $800.

The Fun Run committee challenged the faculty and students of Forestburg school to come up with half of the amount ($400) and the Fun Run would match the amount. In four days the students, faculty and parents topped the challenge and raised $430.

Other money raised by the German Fun Run is being spent on the summer youth program in softball and Dates have not been set but members are reminded to watch for the announcements.

Walter Grewings observe 25th wedding anniversary

Mildred, Robert and Brian Grewing observed the silver anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grewing with a reception, dinner and dance on Sunday evening, June 6.

Beginning at 5 p.m. with a cocktail hour, the party hosted about 400 relatives, friends and neighbors. Dinner, catered by Rohmer's Restaurant, was served about 7 p.m. and dancing to music by Hard Times followed at 9:00.

The party also served as a farewell to Father Stephen Eckart who was transferred to Subiaco Abbey.

Introduced by the honorees, Father Stephen received a stand ovation as a huge banner on the north wall was spot-lighted. The banner was designed by Bert Hesse and was presented to Father Stephen.

The anniversary table, covered with a white cloth, held attractive arrangements of accordion-pleated silver foil fans, each tipped with pasted edges, accented with clusters of fresh ivy and flowers. Guest tables, also covered in white, had silver metallic bands along the centers and similar arrangements of foil fans and flowers. All decorations were made by Aileen Knabe.

The three tiered anniversary cake was designed by Carol Grewing, the honoree, with two additional cakes at the side. Two layers were similar to her wedding cake, in color and decoration and the middle layer was symbolic of the birthdays of their four children, Mildred, Robert, Brian and the late Curtis Grewing. The cakes were baked, decorated and cut by Charlotte Dangelmayr. Assisting with serving were nieces Tommy, Shawna, Julie, Amber and Elaine Grewing.

Special guests were Sister Victorine Klein of San Antonio, Miss Mary Klein, T/Sgt. ## Sign-ups invited in senior loop baseball

Little League baseball got started last Friday as Dairy Inn rolled over the Rangers 21 to 11, and a Big League program is waiting for a last chance sign-up following last week's change in eligibility requirement as well as adult interest.

Chuck Bartush, director for the sponsoring Muenster Jaycees, said that coaches and Jaycees have decided to abide by national Little League age requirements. That is, "any youngster who will attain the age of 9 years before August 1 and will not attain 13 before August 1 is eligible to compete in the little League."

Similarly, the rule specifies that boys who will reach the age of 13 before August 1 and will not reach 15 before August 1 are eligible to play in the senior league.

This new ruling advances the eligible age one year and includes players who were believed to have outgrown their eligibility last year.

This applies to both leagues. Boys who were thought to have finished in either loop last year now have another year to play. As a result those who will not reach 13 before August 1 are transferred back to the junior league...provided they were signed up for the program. The sponsors regret that rosters are full and no room is left for additions.

However additions are welcome in the 13 to 15 age loop, and a special reminder is sent out to boys who thought last year was their last. They have another year of eligibility, and the sponsors are eager to have a program, hopefully to include games with teams of surrounding areas. Interested boys may get more information from Chuck Bartush, 759-2800.

In the opener of kids baseball, Shawn Wimmer of the Rangers is set for slugging as Scott Taylor of Budweiser catches and Kim Walterscheid umpires.

Misty and Tracy Vogel show trophies and medals recently won in baton twirling competition.

Texas wheat industry united behind promotion plan

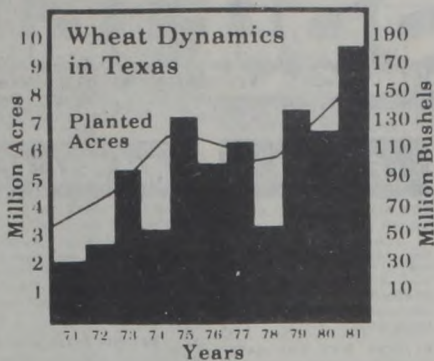

Grain elevator operators throughout the State of Texas will be deducting 1/2 cent per bushel from all farmer deliveries of wheat beginning with the 1982 harvest. The voluntary "Implied Consent" amassed funds will be expanded at the directed of the initiating organizations to strengthen the market demand, price and producers income for all classes of wheat in the State, according to a joint announcement made by Presidents of supporting organizations: Carrol Chaloupka, Dalhart, Texas Farm Bureau; Mike Moeller, Austin, Texas Farmers Union; Wiley Tabor, Quanah, Texas Wheat Producers Association; and W.H. (Diz) Ansel, Rosenberg, Texas Grain and Feed Association. The new "Texas Wheat Promotion Plan" will be administered by the farmer-elected Texas Wheat Producers Board, through its professional and technical staff headquartered in Amarillo, according to W.R. Moore, Jr., Monday, TWPB Chairman.

The dynamic change in wheat production and marketing within the State make such a bold self-help effort mandatory if any semblance of profit is to be maintainable, the AG-leaders say. They point to the fact that just ten years ago, in 1971, Texas ranked sixteenth among the states in production with only 31 million bushels. In 1981 it had leaped to third place nationally with 183 million bushels. During the same time, the acres planted in Texas jumped from 3.5 to 7.8 million while the harvested acres leaped from 1.6 to 6.6 million. This dynamic change in wheat production upped the producers' value of the crop and their spending power in taxes, goods, services and production inputs from $70 million to over $700 million. Even though during the same period, the farm price of wheat increased 172 percent, the big disappointment to farmers throughout the State is that demand has not been strong enough to overcome the increased production costs and strengthen farm prices to a profitable level.

Wheat production and marketing has also been dynamic in its shift within the State. In 1971, 85 percent of all wheat in Texas was produced in a 34-county North Texas, Panhandle-plains area. Today at least 55 percent is produced outside that former traditional area.

Wheat use in the United States during the past ten years, and in the foreseeable future, has been static in action and virtually unchanging. All the dynamics in wheat production—putting idle acres back into production, absorbing increased yields from research and technical advances, expansion into new areas, and all the price increase from $1.34 per bushel since 1971—has been made possible by increased exports. U.S. wheat exports go not only to big customers like Japan, China, the Soviet Union and Mexico—but to over 90 countries throughout the world. Exports reduce carryover stocks and help strengthen farm prices.

Wheat producers nationally work for export expansion through their boards and commissions with self-assessment programs ranging from 1/2 cent to 2 cents per bushel in the individual states. Their efforts are channeled through one producer-supported organization—U.S. Wheat Associates. It maintains a Washington, D.C. headquarters and twelve overseas offices administering on-going programs and activities throughout the world wheat markets. The Foreign Agricultural Service of USDA conducts its only overseas market promotion programs through producer-cooperator groups such as U.S. Wheat Associates. The traditional 34-county wheat area of Texas, acting through the Texas Wheat Producers Board, has been a partial supporting member of U.S. Wheat Associates for ten years and is closely identified with the export expansion that has taken place—600 million bu. to 1.75 billion bu. between 1971-82. "Increased support of U.S. Wheat Associates export market development, disease and insect control, transportation studies, and other activities that might enhance the value of wheat production and marketing in the State are the kind of projects that will be recommended to the directors of the Texas Wheat Promotion Plan", according to Bill Nelson, Amarillo, Executive Vice President and Administrator of TWPB. "The current rust and powdery mildew out-break in the East and Central areas, the continuing greenbug, mite and worm problems in the Rolling Plains and the state-wide freight rate study already being considered, are examples of immediate needs in enhancing wheat profit potential," Nelson pointed out. "The level of and extent to which these can be carried out will depend on the level of interest and support of the producers and the elevator operators in making this state-wide effort of 1/2 cent per bushel voluntary program effective in generating funds," the joint announcement of the organizations' Presidents indicated. It was also pointed out that while individual member-developed policies support this unified voluntary self-help program, this joint effort in no way affects the separate approaches to other farm policy issues of these groups.

Posters will be placed by the Texas Grain and Feed Association at each wheat receiving location in the state indicating the the 1/2 cent deduction will be made unless producers request exemption prior to settlement. Procedures in the 34-county traditional wheat areas operating under provisions of the Texas Commodity Referendum Law since 1971 will not be affected by the new program, other than have the assurance that now producers in the remainder of the State will have an opportunity to participate.

Jack Cross hoofs it over Texas

Jack Cross of Winnsboro is the first to admit that his job is unglamorous and at times unpleasant, but that's just fine with him.

What he does is give manicures to cows. Now, that might start a lot of folks scratching their heads and asking, "Why in the world would a cow need a manicure?" So let's just say right here and now that keeping a cow's hooves in shape is one of the most important things a cattleman can do for his herd, since cattle live as much by their feet as by their mouths.

"Come on, darlin', lay on over," he purrs to a fine purebred Simmental during his regular summer visit to the Miraflores Ranch in Washington County. With that, the animal is tilted on her side by a special hydraulic squeeze chute that is one of his few departures from hand labor.

Scarcely minutes later, Cross has trimmed excess nail from the cow's hooves, smoothed out all the rough edges, and ground the bottoms as flat as possible.

Though Cross now uses an electric grinder to trim and shape the hooves, he can still do the work in about the same time with old-fashioned knippers and a rasp. Occasionally, the grinder he uses will draw a few drops of blood. He calls this a "scuse me lick"—"Scuse me, darlin', if that hurt."

The most he's ever done in a week is 366 head (that's 1,464 hooves), but the average is about 200 head. His services are in demand, and he finds himself traveling throughout Texas and many surrounding states. As you might imagine, he has also made legions of friends during his years on the road.

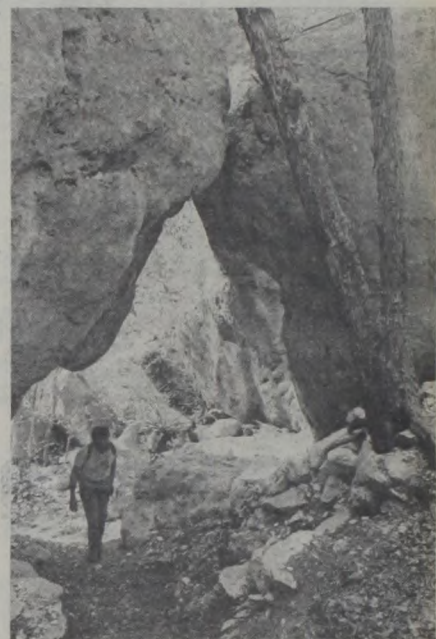

Jack's father and grandfather were blacksmiths, and he has the appearance of someone who has spent a lifetime working with his hands. But there's another side to Jack Cross that belies his tough outward manner: He adores young people, and has been actively involved in 4-H and FFA for as long as he can remember. His involvement has been so close, in fact, that he has become a sort of hero among the hundreds of children whose show animals he has helped groom. Needless to say, he has no trouble recruiting extra help wherever he happens to be working.

He recalls the time for years ago when his hand was almost severed by an electric winch. While he was recuperating in the hospital, he received dozens of young visitors. "The kids who came to see me said they would do anything to help me feel better, even share the pain if it was possible."

JACK CROSS OF WINNSBORO may not have a glamorous job, but he loves it anyway. Cross is in demand in and out of state as a foot trimmer. That is, he gives manicures to cattle.

Hikers in Guadalupe Mountains National Park can enjoy the gradual change from desert scenery to wooded, game-rich high country of great beauty as they progress along the trails. The park features four of the state's highest peaks, along with deep canyons and a rare mixture of plant and animal life. TTDA Photo by Michael Murphy.

Speaking to a crowd gathered for the ceremony, Brown explained that the purpose of Agriculture Day is to inform those not in agriculture of the importance of the industry and to solicit support from an increasingly urban population.

soil and left a shortage of dirt to sustain remaining seed. And again the rains of early May toppled the grain into the dirt.

The May rain also fouled up much of the oats harvest. Some farmers, farming the crop as hay, mowed the oats and waited and waited, for baling weather. Eventually the crop was unfit for feed.

Harvesting here has been under way for about a week, during which Muenster Mill estimates it has received about 15 percent of its total. The grain is coming mostly from the Lindsay, Myra, Hood area which is usually ahead of Muenster. Meanwhile Tony's Seed and Feed has started slow as most of the grain is being delivered to the firm's Gainesville elevator.

Elderly need to be on guard against mail theft

Theft of mail is a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1708, which carries a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and/or a $2000 fine. Unfortunately, criminals pay little attention to the consequences of their immediate actions.

The Postal Inspection Service is attempting to prevent theft of mail from all sources by informing and educating as many elements of society as possible. The United States Postal Service is a principal victim but the ultimate victim is a business or individual depending on mail for livelihood and existence. The loss of a social security or retirement check addressed to an elderly or retired person can have devastating emotional and financial significance.

Mail is most vulnerable at the point of delivery. An extra effort should be made by mail recipients to know their carrier's schedule and make every effort to be at home to personally accept delivery of valuable mail. Retirement and social security checks are delivered on a fixed schedule which is known by the addressee and criminals as well. Have a neighbor retrieve your mail if you cannot be available and do the same for your neighbor.

Also, deposit your mail for collection at a post office or collection box. If this is inconvenient, place letters in your house letterbox for collection shortly before your carrier arrives. Your personal mail can be used most effectively to defraud your bank, consequently creating a very inconvenient situation. Make every effort to protect your income as well as outgoing mail by using these common sense suggestions.

Crime prevention can be a community effort. Everyone receives mail almost on a daily basis. This provides common grounds for neighbors to become better acquainted and watch out for each others mail and mailbox. If a concentrated effort is made to protect your mail, potential mail thieves will not be given the opportunity to make you a victim.

If you have information regarding theft of mail, contact your local Postal Inspector or Postmaster.

Parish members attend diocesan lay assembly

The second annual Lay Assembly Convention of the Fort Worth Diocese was held on June 6 at the Immaculate Conception Parish Center in Denton.

Among delegates attending were these from Sacred Heart Parish: Mrs. Bill (Lucille) Lutkenhaus, Mrs. Ben (Carol) Fleitman, Jr., Mrs. Mike (Betty) Kleiss, Mrs. Lorena Taylor and Mrs. David (Juanita) Bright, Sr.

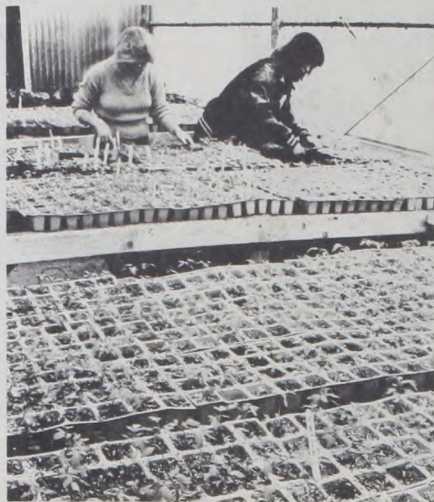

Prior to the Diocesan Convention, the delegates from the North Deanery met to consider the proposed North Deanery By-Laws and job descriptions, which were subsequently approved and adopted.

Election of a diocesan president of the Lay Assembly was the main business to come before the general assembly. Candidates for that position were the incumbent, Pete Hoffman, and Mrs. Martha Rosalez of the East Deanery.

Pete Hoffman was selected for a second term.

Guy Thompson of Fort Worth gave an inspiring keynote address on the theme of Ministry. Using the alphabet, he brought out possibilities and/or ideas wherein the true Christian can respond to the old, familiar question, voiced so often by mothers: "What On Earth Are You Doing?"

Following the general assembly, mini-workshops were conducted for the four committees: Administration, Formation, Service and Worship. All work shops were very beneficial and informative.

What to do when the freezer fails

When the freezer fails or power goes off, first try to find out how long it will be before your freezer is working again. A fully loaded freezer will stay cold enough to keep food frozen for two days while one half-full will only keep food cold for a day, notes a food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The main thing is to keep the freezer closed and not to check food regularly. If the delay will be longer than the times mentioned, put dry ice in the freezer. Twenty-five pounds will keep the temperature below freezing three to four days for a 10-cubic-foot freezer that is full.

Old and New in food preservation scheduled Friday

The oldest method and the newest method of food preservation of vegetables and fruits will be demonstrated at a special meeting this Friday, June 11. Food drying is one of the oldest methods of preserving food known to mankind. It had not been used in many years until recently when it was revised and changes made. Freezing is a simple and fast method of preserving foods at home which helps keep the natural color, fresh flavor and food value of most fruits and vegetables.

The Food Preservation Program will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Cooke County Electric Meeting Room. It is being jointly sponsored by Cooke County Electric and the County Extension Service. The program is open to anyone interested in learning more about food preservation. Tulu Hickerson, Cooke County Electric, and Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, will be presenting the program and answering questions on any form of food preservation.

At the meeting homemakers may also bring their pressure canner lids and have their gauges checked free. It is recommended that pressure canner gauges be checked for their accuracy annually.

Drying surplus fruit and vegetables is one way to preserve them for your family's future use. Successful drying involves removal of enough moisture from the food to prevent spoilage because both enzymes and microorganisms require moisture. The drying process requires enough heat to draw out moisture, but not enough to cook the food materials.

Freezing foods provides the convenience of having food products that can be prepared quickly and easily for serving daily meals and for emergencies.

By using some or all of the methods of preserving fruits and vegetables, homemakers can add zest, interest, variety, and nutritive value to family meals.

TAKE THE TP&L CONVENIENCE QUIZ:

1. Take a look at your last bill. Now divide the amount of that bill by the number of service days it represents. You come up with your Cost Per Day.

Amt. of last bill = $ _____
= 30 = $ _____
(Average Cost Per Day)

2. Now pick your appliances. Check the boxes beside those you have and use on a regular basis. Remember, these are the things that add convenience to your life every day.

First Texas Savings continues loan assistance program

Robin R. Glackin, President of First Texas Savings Association, confirmed today the continuation of the institution's long-standing policy of working with loan customers during difficult economic times. "The Loan Assistance Program provides guidelines for developing revised payment plans for loan customers who are anticipating short term payment interruptions due to circumstances beyond their control", stated Glackin. "We are ready, on a customer-by-customer basis, to help resolve individual financial problems by the use of deferment payments, rescheduling of terms for lower monthly payments, or, even by suspending payments for up to two years. The specific plan depends on the individual customer and the circumstances involved, such as the type of loan", Glackin said. "Although this announcement is in response to the situation that many Braniff employees find themselves in, our Loan Assistance Program is not limited to Braniff employees. Interested First Texas customers should contact their nearest office for details", concluded Glackin.

First Texas Savings Association, with assets in excess of $2.1 billion and 72 offices in 40 Texas cities, is one of the largest financial institutions in Texas. First Texas has over $1.7 billion of mortgage loans and $180 million of consumer installment loans outstanding among the institution's 225,000 customers.
