A meeting in Washington a few weeks ago under auspices of the Council for the Defense of Freedom expressed an urgent desire to promote the ideal of "a world without Communism." It would be a gratifying switch from the Red campaign which has been under way for 65 years constantly striving for "a world without capitalism."

The meeting was attended by a distinguished group of Americans and emigrants from other countries which now live under Communist tyranny. They agreed that the Red ideal has been successful in extending its domination over a vast area of the world, but they also agreed that the Soviet Union now appears on the verge of disintegration and the prospect of a world without Communism is not nearly as utopian as it might appear.

One of the council's spokesmen was Arkady Shevchenko, the highest ranking Soviet defector in history. Deploring America's hot and cold attitudes in dealings with the Soviets, he asks for a firm, comprehensive foreign policy that extends beyond a single administration. Let the US be as inflexible in favor of freedom and capitalism as Russia has been in favor of Communism. Let it be on guard against dealings that assist the Red Menace in any way, and let it be determined in promoting its own ideals in all countries including those now under Red rule.

In spite of reports of Red progress in many areas of the world, people attending the Council for Defense of Freedom were assured that Communist regimes are not as prosperous or as stable as they pretend. Alexander Shtromas, a Soviet dissident of the 50s, now a professor at the University of Chicago, said "it is only a matter of time before the Soviet Union is racked by strikes and boycotts as Poland is now." Another prominent dissident, Serge Soldatov, said there is growing disquiet and tension in the country. Living standards are declining, and there are severe shortages of food and consumer goods. Beyond this there is unhappiness with the Soviet foreign policy, particularly the invasion of Afghanistan, which has resulted in heavy casualties. And there were popular disturbances in the Caucasus, Georgia and Estonia. Communism's Big Red itself is far from immune to the appeal of freedom and capitalism.

A similar message comes from Communist China. Fox Butterfield, a former Mao supporter, says during his stay in Mainland China he hardly met a single individual who still favors Communism. He said control of the Chinese people is almost total, even to determining the number of children allowed in a family and demanding abortion as a control of the limit ordered. He was especially critical of American journalists and academics who take the government's official tour and then tell how happy the Chinese people are. What he found was far different.

Another revealing story comes from Cuba. It was told by Emilio Rivera, a Cuban journalist who originally had a part in the overthrow of Batista and was since imprisoned 17 years for opposing Castro's hunger and slavery. He urges US to recruit commandos from Cubans who Stephen Vogel recites the Eagle Pledge in the award ceremony admitting him to the rank of Eagle Scout.

Vogel attains Eagle rank

Stephen Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogel, attained the highest Boy Scout rank Sunday when he was formally received as an Eagle Scout following the 11 o'clock Mass at Sacred Heart Church.

The solemn ceremony before a background of flags borne by Kevin Wolf, Brian Hoeng and Ronnie Walterscheid, opened with a narration by Assistant Scoutmaster John Walterscheid tracing Stephen's progress through five stages of scouting prior to reaching the top honor. In each stage the narrator referred to the special ideals of the rank concerned, the goals, the activities in building skills and character, the joys of camp recreation, the satisfaction of earning merit badges and promotions, the basics of respect to God, country and family.

As the story progressed fellow Scouts appeared in the uniform of the rank concerned, signifying passage through each of the stages. Roen Serna was a Tender-foot, Allen Hudspeth a Second Class Scout, Mike Walter a First Class Scout, Ronnie Trubenbach a Star Scout, and Duane Walterscheid a Life Scout.

In the award ceremony Craig Stoffels and Ronnie Fisher were Eagle escorts and Keith Vogel, brother of Stephen was the emblem bearer. The Board of Review, which approved the candidate for his honor, were chairman Henry Weinzapfel, Butch Fisher and David Bright. They were followed by Robert Knauft and James Bright, both Eagle Scouts as Voices of the Eagle extending their welcome.

Scoutmaster J.W. Poole administered the Eagle pledge and assistant District Commissioner of Scouting in Cooke County, Hank Richroath of Gainesville administered the Eagle charge. Mrs. Bob Vogel pinned the Eagle emblem on her son's uniform and his father placed the Eagle neckerchief. Father Victor made closing remarks and led the closing prayer.

The Mass which preceded the Eagle ceremonies included special liturgy for the occasion. With Father Victor, celebrant, in the entrance procession were five Mass servers in Scout uniform with red berets. They were Keith Vogel, Michael Walter, Alan Hudspeth, Shawn Vogel and Jason Gehrig.

Scriptural readings were made by Eagle Scout James Bright in uniform, offertory gifts were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vogel and daughter, Valerie and son, Stephen. Debbie Hess was the vocalist and Juanita Bright the accompanist in musical selections emphasizing patriotic numbers.

Stephen Vogel is a junior at Muenster High School. Several of his classmates attended the ceremony.

Stephen's parents hosted a reception following the Eagle ceremony, in the new pavilion on the Church grounds. An informal lunch with hamburgers and trimmings was served to approximately 100 guests. A decorated cake made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, was designed with a reproduction of the Eagle insignia, and was served as dessert.

Assisting the Vogels in serving the lunch were Mr. and Mrs. Don Abney and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walterscheid and Mrs. Gary Walterscheid.

Stephen Vogel will attend the "All World Jamboree" as a member of the 4,000 Boy Scout contingent from the United States to the XV World Scout Jamboree in Alberta, Canada, July 4-14, 1983.

Fifteen thousand Scouts from all over the world will attend. Highlights will include rafting on the Kananaskis River, hiking in the Canadian Rockies, a visit to the Calgary Stampede and Chuckwagon Races, a visit to Banff, and swapping souvenirs with Scouts from many countries, in addition to the "once in a lifetime learning experience."

Boy Scouts rough it at Philmont

Scouting at its best was experienced by six members of the Muenster Boy Scout troop and Hank Richroath during the latter part of June. They thoroughly enjoyed the superb camping environment of nationally famous Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base in New Mexico.

The Muenster Scouts were Assistant Scoutmaster John Walterscheid, Duane Walterscheid, Kevin Wolf, Ronnie Trubenbach, Stephen Vogel and Ronnie Fisher.

Their outing can be summarized as eleven days of picturesque and rugged living on a 72 mile trail through the scenic beauty of New Mexico. They started the trip under two days of guidance from a ranch ranger, receiving tips on packing gear, making and breaking camp, observing safety, respecting nature, etc. After that they were on their own, partly backpacking, partly burro packing, riding horseback, exploring an old mine and ghost town, climbing rocks and rappelling (including 12,441 ft Mt. Baldy) and even competing in a burro race, which they won. That activity, incidentally, included saddling the donkey and unsaddling later. The old mine is recorded as the French Henry mine, a one time producer of gold, copper and turquoise. A glimmer of gold dust was still visible in a stream.

Philmont Ranch is a 214 square mile area between Cimmaron and Eagle's Nest, deeded to the Boy Scouts by Wade Phillips of Phillips Petroleum Co. Its program this year is set up for 17,000 visitors and is planned for 20,000 next year. Although more could easily be accommodated, the intention is to limit attendance to avoid environmental damage.

Full duration of the outing was 14 days, from departure to return at Muenster. To and from the ranch Muenster Scouts joined a group from Gainesville, riding by bus. The only bad feature of the adventure was the loss of one day of hiking time because of a virus attack.

CPR course has openings

Openings are still available for a course in cardiac pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) on Wednesday and Thursday, August 4 and 5, 6 to 10 pm at Muenster Memorial Hospital. The instructor will be Laura Yeargan, R.N. paramedic with the Cooke County Ambulance Service.

If the maximum enrollment of 12 is exceeded, another class will be scheduled on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 10 and 11. The fee is $5.00 per person.

Interested persons are invited to call Joan Walterscheid at the hospital, 759-2271, or at her home 759-4296 in the evenings.

Mrs. Walterscheid said CPR instructors are needed for Muenster. Requirement for that rating is to take the basic 8 hour CPR course which is available now, and then follow with the 16 hour instructors course which will be available soon.

Wisdom 9: 16-18

All we can do is make guesses about things on earth; we must struggle to learn about things that are close to us. Who, then, can ever hope to understand heavenly things? No one has ever learned your will, unless you first gave him Wisdom, and sent your holy spirit down to him. In this way people on earth have been set on the right path, have learned what pleases you, and have been kept safe by Wisdom.

All stars and champs to meet

Muenster's summer baseball program will end in a grand finale next Monday night at 7 o'clock when the champion Budweiser team will take on the all-stars of Dairy Inn and the Rangers. Six players have been chosen from each of those teams to make up the challenging team.

Regardless of who wins, the trophy awards are already determined. Each player of Budweiser and each member of the all-stars will receive an individual trophy.

DPS Report

A report from Harlan Sewell of the Sherman office of Department of Public Safety reveals that 29 rural motor vehicle traffic accidents were worked by DPS officers in June in Cooke County. Of those one was a fatal accident with one fatality, ten were injury accidents with 25 injuries, and 18 were property damage accidents.

As a means of improving highway safety, Sewell urges motorists to observe the speed limit, refrain from drinking alcoholic beverages while driving, and to use seat belts no matter how short the trip.

KCs entertain children

Ladies plan softball just for fun

This is exclusively for the ladies, age 18 and older, who want to have the pleasure of playing slow-pitch softball but none of the miseries. They can enjoy the game in the cool of the evening but will not have to sweat through practice sessions. Who cares who wins? This is strictly for fun and exercise, and games are to be played once a week, probably Tuesday or Thursday.

Whoever is interested is invited to contact Deb Klement at 759-2540 or 759-4579.

Calls will also be welcome from big hearted guys or gals who are willing to be referees.

AT SEA WITHOUT AN ANCHOR
As President Reagan and his advisors confront the Congress over the budget issue for fiscal 1983, one can easily become confused. The advocates of Socialism are skillful in presenting their arguments. They never speak of Socialism, escaped to US and send them back to Cuba to disrupt the country and eventually establish a free government.

Another statement indicates that the over-extended Cuba could possibly have an oversize job dealing with these Commandos. A nation of 10 million, Cuba has deployed 20,000 troops to Angola, 16,000 to Ethiopia and at least 2,500 to Nicaragua.

All of this seems like a great idea. Anywhere we see world communism we see civilization in decline; hungry people in economic failure, hoping vainly for the blessings which we take for granted.

As stated by Bernard Yoh of Accuracy in Media, there is a secret for these blessings so eagerly desired by the victims of Communism. "The secret can be found in the Declaration of Independence. Men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights. Man is born free. His freedom is not a gift from the state, but a gift from God. This is a revolutionary idea. This idea, not the materialism of communism, can sweep the world. Millions of men and women who live under communism are its firmest adherents. They are our secret allies."

Reports like these from the Council for Defense of Freedom ought to give the free world something to cheer about. The great enemy of civilization is showing itself to be a failure. With sagging economy and unhappy people, it is ready to fold up. But now comes an unhappy afterthought. Are we and the other free nations determined to strive constantly for a world without communism? Can we of this great nation expect to help in re-establishing God's world when we stray so far from God in public and private living? As we recognize one of civilization's great opportunities we need to realize that people of God are needed to lead others to God.

but of the tragedy of poverty, the unfairness of a situation where some people live well while others must do without. Such sophistry has been repeated endlessly for the last half-century until we are now at the point where the "have-nots" on food stamps are eating better than the "haves" who work for a living, and pay the majority of the taxes.

The food stamp fiasco will be dealt with at another time. It is mentioned simply to represent how Socialism, disguised as welfareism has gone wild. In 1964, food stamps cost $30 million for 360,000 people, today food stamps are given to 22 million people, almost one of every ten Americans, at a cost of $9.6 billion.

This same situation has developed all across the program of U.S. aid to the "poor." It has exploded in this manner as we have fallen prey to the emotional pleadings of the Socialists because we forgot about the basic principles upon which America was founded.

We forgot that America tried the welfare state at both Plymouth Colony and at Jamestown. Both colonies flourished because of their experiments in Socialism and the colonists were at the point of starvation until they resorted to individual responsibility and self-reliance.

Based upon these principles America prospered and grew wealthy and strong.

We forgot that man has been endowed by his Creator with certain inalienable rights. We have been seduced by sophisticated language to permit infringement on our right to property until today government is confiscating 46 percent of the fruits of our labor every year.

The Tax Foundation has calculated that on May 5 this year the average American completed working to pay his taxes. After that date he can work for himself.

When government was strictly limited to protecting life, liberty and property, and people were self-reliant and responsible for themselves, Americans could retain more of their earnings, could save and invest, and America prospered and grew.

We forgot that the whole reason why our Founders gave us the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights was to attempt to limit government, to keep it from interfering with the creative pursuits of each citizen.

When government was limited to keeping the peace, leaving each citizen responsible for caring for himself and his family, America prospered and grew.

The "mainspring of human progress" is freedom of choice. How much freedom of choice do you actually have now as a homeowner? A worker? A businessman? When we truly had freedom of choice America prospered and grew.

Our budget problems at all levels of government have been caused largely by our failure to stick to fundamental principles of Americanism: individual responsibility; protection of rights to liberty and property; limiting government to its only constitutional authority: keeping the peace; and granting the people freedom of choice in their creative pursuits.

Preparation Can Speed Application

People who plan to apply for Social Security monthly retirement, survivor, or disability benefits can help speed the process if they are well prepared at the time they apply, a Social Security spokesperson said recently.

The applications are designed to obtain information about the worker, spouse, children, work history, including military service and railroad employment. Applications for disability benefits also obtain information about the person's disabling condition.

A person will need certain documents to support his or her claim. Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency can be used. Some or all of the following documents may be required in a particular case: Birth certificate, proof of military service, W-2 forms or self-employment tax returns for the past 2 years, proof of marriage, proof of divorce, children's birth certificates, and death certificate, if applying for survivor benefits. People applying for disability benefits should also have information about the sources they were treated by for their medical condition.

A person should not delay applying for benefits because he or she does not have all the required documents. People at any Social Security office may be able to suggest alternatives.

Where possible, a person should apply 2 or 3 months before he or she wants benefits to begin. This will allow plenty of time to process the claim so that checks will start on time.

People do not have to visit the Social Security office to apply; they can take care of this by telephone. More information about Social Security applications and benefits can be obtained at any Social Security office. The address and telephone number of the nearest Social Security office can be found in the telephone directory.

Hypertension: a "silent" disease

Blood is moving through your vessels, performing its vital function without complaint. You probably feel fine. But, unknown to you, the blood may be pushing against the walls of the vessels with excessive pressure.

Doctors call this disease hypertension. Most people refer to it by its common name--high blood pressure. About 20 percent of adult Americans have it, according to the Texas Medical Association. But only half know they do.

The reason is that hypertension is a "silent" disease. It has no symptoms, and the person does not feel sick. But it is the major cause of strokes, heart failure and kidney failure. Each year in the U.S., high blood pressure is the primary cause of about 60,000 deaths and plays a role in the more than 1.5 million heart attacks and strokes. It also can lead to vision loss.

Most cases of high blood pressure are related in some way to the improper functioning of arterioles, muscular tubes that connect arteries and capillaries. (Arteries carry blood away from the heart to body organs, and capillaries then deliver the blood directly to the tissues.)

The arterioles regulate the blood pressure. When an arteriole contracts, the pressure of the blood against the vessel walls increases behind it. The higher the pressure, the harder the heart must work.

High blood pressure usually is detected during a routine examination by a physician. To control the disorder, the doctor may prescribe medication and urge the patient to lose weight, reduce salt consumption, cut back on smoking and alcohol, and adjust his lifestyle to reduce emotional strain.

High blood pressure usually begins in people about age 30 and becomes increasingly more common in higher age groups. Nonetheless, it can occur at any age and in anyone. The disorder occurs more often in men than women, more often in blacks than whites, in obese people, and in relatives of people with high blood pressure.

The only sure way to long-term recovery is to create real growth in our economy -- more investment to create more goods, and thus more jobs. Increasing the level of exports to other countries is essential if we are to create this real growth.

The Administration is pursuing aggressively trade negotiations to open world markets for more of our goods, and I have every expectation that we will see fewer barriers to our exports as agreements are reached.

However, we are not relying solely on reaching new agreements with foreign nations. Texas is participating in an exciting program to allow American producers to compete better in foreign markets. The program involves creation of U.S. "Foreign Trade Zones."

A Foreign Trade Zone is an area within the United States that is considered to be outside U.S. Customs territory. Foreign or domestic merchandise or raw materials may be brought in this enclave without payment of customs duties or excise taxes. These materials then can be assembled, used in a manufacturing process, stored, tested, repackaged and displayed. If the final product is exported from the United States, no U.S. Customs duty or excise tax is levied. If the final is shipped to another place within the United States, duty and excise taxes are due only at the time of its physical removal from the foreign-trade zone.

How does this benefit U.S. business? A business can use imported materials to construct a product and export it without having to factor import fees into the price he charges customers. Obviously, this makes his products more competitive.

Use of foreign trade zones creates jobs within the United States. Favorable tariff and Customs regulation treatment encourages investment in the U.S. instead of abroad. More than 11,000 people already are employed in Foreign Trade Zones. Indirectly, a domestic or foreign company operating in a U.S. zone is likely to substitute U.S. -- made components for foreign-built ones where possible -- creating still more jobs.

Since the companies within the trade zone pay the cost of operating the zone, the federal cost of the program is minimal.

Already five areas in Texas have foreign trade zones: Brownsville, Dallas-Fort Worth, El Paso, Galveston and McAllen. Houston and San Antonio have pending applications. I have urged prompt approval of these applications by the Foreign Trade Zones Board and anticipate no problem in obtaining the necessary permission.

I am pleased to see Texas participating so actively in this effort to boost U.S. international trade. Not only does export trade create jobs at home, but also it helps our balance of payments. As more Texas cities become more active in the foreign trade zone system, I believe we will see them become substantial contributors to an even healthier state economy.

Lightning is nature's most awesome multimedia show. While it is spectacular to watch lightning from a safe place, taking unnecessary risks in thunderstorms can be dangerous or even deadly.

Lightning kills about 125 people a year in the U.S. and injures nearly 500. Fortunately, two-thirds of those injured make full recoveries.

When a thunderstorm hits, heeding these few tips will dramatically reduce the chances of being hit by lightning:

- Keep from being the tallest point in the area. Stay away from the tallest trees, telephone poles, and other natural lightning rods.

- If caught in the woods, take shelter under a thick growth of short trees. Don't hide in small, isolated stacks or sheds.

- If swimming or boating, get out of the water. If a boat is your only recourse, stay in the cabin or crouch low in the boat.

- Get away from tractors and other metal farm equipment.

- If golfing, take off your cleated shoes, and don't go near your clubs, your golf cart, or the metal flagsticks.
- Stay away from motorcycles, ski lifts, and bicycles.

- Avoid wire fences, clothes lines, metal pipes, railroad tracks, and any other metal which could carry a remote charge to you.

- If possible, get inside a large building or an all-metal (not convertible) vehicle. While inside the building, do not take a shower or bath, unplug major appliances like your television set, and use the telephone only in emergencies.

- If you find yourself out in an open field or prairie and feel your hair stand on end, lightning may be about to strike you. Immediately drop to your knees, bend forward, and put your hands on your knees. That small change in your altitude may be just enough to ward off the potential lightning strike.

- Don't lie in a ditch or hollow, since surface water could conduct a nearby strike right to you.

BUNKER HILL: MONUMENT TO USW STUPIDITY?

By Edwin Feulner

While the automobile workers union has shown itself to be flexible and resilient in its dealings with the Big Three automakers during these hard times for the auto industry, another union — the United Steelworkers of America — has shown that there are still those in Big Labor who are willing to cut off their noses to spite their faces.

The setting: the closed Bunker Hill refining plant in Kellogg, Idaho, where lead, zinc and silver ore had been processed. The players: an investor group attempting to reopen the closed plant, 2,000 former employees (members of the steelworker union's rank-and-file), and union officials in Pittsburgh.

The plot: the investor group, as part of purchase negotiations, offers the out-of-work employees a contract which includes a 25-percent pay cut, a major overhaul of seniority practices, but jobs for 1,500 of the plant's original 2,000 employees. Swallowing hard, to be sure, the workers accepted the contract offer by a vote of 695 to 506. The terms are tough, the jobs real. Then there are none. Exercising true dictatorial power, USW bigwigs in Pittsburgh veto the proposal, claiming it is "just a big step backwards after 40 years of collective bargaining."

It's too bad the story isn't make-believe. It's the real thing, and Kellogg, Idaho, is turning into a ghost town as Bunker Hill's unemployed are flocking west, south, anywhere they can find work. The abandoned plant sits in the middle of town like an eyesore with its 715-foot smokestack atop rusting metal and black heaps of refinery leftovers.

The people who worked at Bunker Hill are now certain of one thing — the union can do as much harm as good. I am certain of another — the steelworkers' "leadership" has forgotten what it is supposed to be all about.

The irony of the situation is that the union axed these 1,500 jobs while more than 100,000 steelworkers are idle across the country, and another 25,000 are working less than 40-hour work weeks. Union membership has fallen from a one-time high of four million to less than a million in 1982.

And while it's true that the entire American labor movement is not having the best of times, the financial problems plaguing steel demand the kind of personal sacrifice the workers were willing to make, not the kind that was made for them.

Blue-collar steel employment has dropped 55 percent over the last 30 years. Mill after mill has closed and many remaining are antiquated. Many one-industry towns like Kellogg, Idaho, are living "on the edge, waiting for a decision on whether their mill ... can somehow survive or will be sold or closed by its owners," union President Lloyd McBride told The New York Times.

Perhaps McBride and his colleagues can rationally explain their actions. I can't imagine any words that would convince this cynic that their veto of the Bunker Hill agreement isn't a monument to collective stupidity.

Free clinics at Community Center July 28

The Texas Department of Health Region 5 Office in Arlington announces an immunization clinic to be held in Muenster at Sacred Heart Community Center, on Wednesday, July 28, 1982 from 10 to noon. The clinic will provide immunization against diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP) polio, rubeola (red measles) and rubella (German measles,) for infants 2 months through 18 years. (Exception: females over age 12 will not receive rubella vaccine without a physician's consultation and prescription).

Immunizations are incomplete if a child has not received three (3) doses of DTP and polio vaccine with at least one dose administered past the fourth birthday. All children under 18 years must have an informed consent form read and signed by the parent or legal guardian. If possible, the parent should accompany the child to the clinic. Immunization records should accompany the child to the clinic and be examined by the Public Health Nurse who will answer any questions.

Another free clinic at the Community Center will be conducted by the Health Department on July 28, 1 to 3 p.m. on hypertension.

Texas drivers appear to be slowing down

COLLEGE STATION — Compliance with the 55-mph-speed limit is moving at a snail's pace, but Texas drivers appear to be slowing down, report researchers at the Texas Transportation Institute.

"There's no great improvement, but year by year, we are seeing a trend in that direction," said Dr. Stephen Roop, who has been studying Texans' driving habits for several years.

Increased enforcement can bring down speeds, Roop says, but as recent stepped-up efforts have shown, it takes more than selective enforcement. Roop believes law enforcement agencies are most effective in bringing down speeds when they concentrate heavy patrols on roadways that serve repeat driving populations.

"Texas has many wide open, long stretches and a good roadway system. It has been a hard process to convince drivers to slow down," Roop said.

Peter J. Schleicher dies in Dallas

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 13 at Christ the King Church in Dallas for Peter J. Schleicher. Deanery group studies council guidelines

North Deanery Lay Assembly recommends revisions in proposed parish council guidelines.

At a meeting in the St. Phillip's parish center in Lewisville on July 17, the North Deanery Lay Assembly met to consider the provisions of the new diocesan parish council guidelines which are being prepared by Bishop Delaney's approval and ultimate use in all parishes of the Fort Worth Diocese.

The revisions recommended by the North Deanery Lay Assembly will be added to those of the other five Deaneries and submitted to a special committee of the Diocesan Pastoral Council which is preparing the document for publication.

The draft for diocesan approval procedure was also considered, and it was agreed no recommendation would be made until more in-depth study and consideration could be given to the document.

The four committee chairpersons appointed by North Deanery vice-president, Mac Dennis, were approved. They are: Administration, Joyce Deusman of Pilot Point; Worship, Mary Ann Patric of Denton; Service, Lucille Lutkenhaus of Muenster; and Formation, Betty Kleiss of Muenster.

Attending from Muenster were lay assembly delegates Carol Fleitman, Lucille Lutkenhaus, and Juanita Bright. Also attending were alternates Betty Kleiss and Lorena Taylor and the newly elected president of Sacred Heart Parish Council, Mike Kleiss.

MRS. JOHN DOMINIC KASPAREK

Peggy Ann Popp and John Dominic Kasperek were married in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville on Saturday, July 17 in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass celebrated by Father Placidus Eckart, with a double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Popp of Rt. 2, Gainesville and Mrs. Vivian Kasperek of Lindsay and the late Dominic D. Kasperek.

The bride was presented at the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a white silk organza gown designed with a combination of Chantilly and Venise lace trim. The bodice featured a high lace neckline above a sheer yoke that was edged with a wide lace flounce. Sleeves were sheer, long and fitted, with elegant deep cuffs of the two laces. The empire waisted skirt was accented with Venise appliques, and swept into a chapel length train.

Her bridal veil of English silk illusion was elbow length with an encircling lace edge trim, held in place by a headpiece of lace petals and seed pearls.

She carried a bridal arrangement of white roses and rosebuds, daisies, stephanotis, and yellow and white forget-me-nots, cascading from a lace holder, accented by white ribbon streamers, green leaves and an entwining crystal rosary.

Attendants

The bride's sister Debbie, Mrs. Tom Hartman of Muenster was matron of honor. Other sisters, Paula, Mrs. Kenneth Hermes of Lindsay and Patty Popp of Gainesville were bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in yellow eyelet with white lace trim and off-the-shoulder ruffles. Each carried a long stemmed yellow rose with white baby's breath and yellow ribbons, and each wore a comb of yellow for-get-me-nots and daisies in her hair.

The ring bearer was Tony Hartman, nephew of the bride.

Rick Arend of Gainesville, a friend of the groom was best man. Craig Nybro of Lindsay, a friend and Frank Popp of Gainesville, bride's brother were groomsmen.

Guests were seated by Tom Hartman and Kenneth Hermes, both brothers-in-law of the bride and Rickey Hess of Gainesville, a friend of the couple.

Andy Popp, bride's brother and Emily Corcoran, groom's cousin presented the Offertory gifts during the nuptial Mass.

Traditional wedding marches were played on the organ by Mrs. Patsy Henry, who also accompanied herself on the guitar, singing "You Needed Me," "If," "The Rose," "Season's," "That's the Way," "Wedding Song" and "Hail Mary."

The church altars were decorated with lighted candles and with yellow and white carnations and daisies. When the bride approached the sanctuary she paused to give her mother a yellow rose and after the ceremony, upon leaving the church, she gave the groom's mother a similar rose. Traditionally, the couple also placed a rose on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Reception

Following the church service, a reception and dinner in St. Mary's Parish Hall were hosted by the bride's parents. Guests danced to music by "Hard Times."

Sharon Hess of Gainesville and Mrs. Leo Lutkenhaus of Lindsay presided at the bride's book.

The chosen colors of yellow and white were used in decorations and floral arrangements. Hurricane lamps over yellow candles, were surrounded by yellow carnations and daisies.

The three tiered white bride's cake, decorated with yellow roses, and placed over a lighted yellow fountain, and the chocolate horseshoe shaped groom's cake were both designed by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Lisa Bezner of Lindsay cut the groom's cake and Mrs. Bob Stoffels of Lindsay and Mrs. Chris Metzler of Gainesville served the cakes.

A special guest at the wedding was Mrs. Lena Zimmerer, of Lindsay, grandmother of the bride. Relatives and friends attended from Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth and Cooke County.

Rehearsal Dinner

The rehearsal dinner at Rohmer's Restaurant in Muenster was hosted by the groom's mother. A First Texas 80's Report: On Investments.

First Six Months Comparison, 1982

- Average annual yield of First Texas Daily-Rate Money Maker Security
- Average annual yield of all national money market funds
- Average annual inflation rate

"Money Maker" Securities-They beat money market funds and inflation."

Some people think money market funds are the only way to beat the 80's. But at First Texas, they have better ways to make the most of your money.

Take their Fixed- and Daily-Rate Securities. Both are proven winners you can get only at First Texas, and both outperform the funds with the high interest you need today to beat inflation. In fact, in the first six months of 1982, the average annual yield of the First Texas Money Maker Daily-Rate Security was higher every quarter than the average annual yield of the money market funds. Plus, the First Texas yield also beat the 1981 inflation rate of 8.9% by 63%. That's right: 63%!

Not just a better investment. A safer investment.

The First Texas Money Maker Securities are also a safer investment than the funds, because both your principal and interest are backed by the strength of First Texas and a trust arrangement. So you know your money is secure. But with most money market funds, your entire principal is at risk.

Immediate access to your money.

With Money Maker Securities, you also have immediate access to your money. So if you should need your investment back quickly, for whatever reason, you can get it immediately with a cashier's check on the spot at over 70 locations statewide. Compare that to the funds. And with First Texas Daily-Rate Security, there's no penalty for early withdrawal.

So if you want to make a sound investment with high interest, see First Texas. They can make the most of your money. And that's what beating the 80's is all about.

Minimum deposit: $2,000. Money Maker Securities are repurchase agreements which are secured debts of First Texas, collateralized by government securities. However, these repurchase agreements are not insured or guaranteed by the federal government or its agencies.

Summer requires extra skin care

Our skin takes a beating. We scrape it, scratch it, cut it and bruise it accidentally but regularly. Worse yet, some of us even try to bake it.

The main problem with trying to get the perfect tan is that the sun damages the skin, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Some damage may be immediate—burning, blistering, skin rashes or eruptions, and eye injury. Later damage can include skin that sags and wrinkles prematurely. Finally, excessive exposure to the sun increases a person's chances of developing skin cancer.

The sun affects each person's skin differently. The main factor is the amount of melanin—a naturally occurring skin pigment—that the individual's system produces. Darker skin indicates larger amounts of melanin. These people tan quicker and easier than those with fair skin.

Most dermatologists believe the risk of developing skin cancer from ultraviolet radiation—from the sun, sunlamps or tanning salons—exists whether one is sunburned or suntanned. But people who freckle or sunburn easily are particularly susceptible.

Still, not more than 2 percent of all types of skin cancer are fatal. Although skin cancer seldom develops in people under 20, its incidence increases gradually with age and peaks at about 75.

Simple precautions will limit the sun's potentially harmful effects:

--Avoid sunbathing around noon. The sun is strongest and most harmful from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

--Use a sunscreen regularly. Some of the most effective ones contain para-aminobenzoic acid (PABA). Other effective sunscreen ingredients include titanium dioxide and benzophenone.

Re-apply the lotion every two hours or after swimming or perspiring heavily.

TP&L THINKS IT'S TIME YOU GOT EVEN WITH YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

It used to be your electric bill went up in the heat of the summer. And then next to nothing in spring and fall. Just trying to keep up with it was a full-time job. But it doesn't have to be, thanks to a plan from TP&L.

INTRODUCING THE EQUAL PAYMENT PLAN.

STAY COOL WHEN THINGS HEAT UP THIS SUMMER. It's a fact that energy costs aren't getting cheaper. And the cost of electricity is at its highest in the summer. So now is the best possible time to enroll in the Equal Payment Plan to keep your bills from getting out of hand.

To find out more about our Equal Payment Plan and what it could mean to you and your checkbook, just call your local TP&L office. Getting even was never so easy.

Self-employed persons have special tax concerns

If you're a wage earner, you probably pay most of your federal income tax and social security tax through the convenient, pay-as-you-go tax withholding system.

If you're self-employed, you still have income tax and social security tax obligations, but you don't have the convenience of the withholding system to help you meet those obligations.

Self-employed individuals are required to "pay as they go" just like wage earners, but instead of using the withholding system, self-employed persons file quarterly estimates of their income tax and social security tax liability, and pay their estimated tax four times a year.

Self-employed individuals pay their social security taxes at a different rate than wage earners, too. For the self-employed, social security is paid through the Self-Employment Tax at a rate of 9.35 percent. Wage earners pay social security tax of only 6.7 percent through withholdings, but that amount is matched by the employer. Whether you pay social security tax through wage withholdings or Self-Employment Tax, the maximum income on which you pay social security is $32,400.

Estimating requirements and self-employment tax provision apply to those who earn sideline income through self-employment to supplement wage income. Selling home care products in the evening and painting houses on weekends are two examples of part time self-employment income.

The IRS has two free publications that may be useful to you if you're self-employed or contemplating self-employment. Publication 533, "Self-Employment Tax," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," are available on request. Write: Internal Revenue Service Center, P.O. Box 2924, Austin, Tx. 78769 and ask for the publications by number.

The IRS also sponsors a free Small Business Tax Workshop each Wednesday in Room 10A7 of the Earle Cabell Building at 1100 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas. The 3-hour workshop begins at 9:45 a.m. and provides new business persons with information on business taxes, employer tax responsibilities and recordkeeping requirements. For more information on the Small Business Tax Workshops, call (214) 767-1428.

Fall gardening time is at hand

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests Cotner. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil, recommends the horticulturist. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. Cotner suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants. Or you may want to grow your own transplants, notes the horticulturist.

Smoke detectors save lives

Smoke detectors can provide an early warning of fire that could cut deaths in half.

Estimates show that an early-warning fire detection device could save from 40 to 50 percent of the people that die in home fires, points out Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Nearly 7,000 persons die each year in almost 700,000 home fires in the U.S. Since most of these deaths occur while people are asleep, an early-warning device such as a smoke detector can be a life-saver, contends Nelson.

The engineer believes a smoke detector is more suitable than a heat detector because most home fires start by smoldering. Thus smoke will likely be one of the first combustion products.

Smoke detectors are self-contained units that can run on batteries or can be plugged into existing electrical systems. Cost averages $20 to $50 per unit. Get two or three price estimates, and be sure the units bear UL or FM labels.

Text units as you install them or have the installer test them in your presence, suggest Nelson. Be sure you get an instruction booklet on their operation, testing and maintenance.

A single smoke detector installed outside the bedroom area on the ceiling or wall will provide minimum protection for the average home, says Nelson. For a two-story dwelling with bedrooms on both floors, he recommends two units -- one outside each bedroom area.

According to the engineer, ceiling-mounted units have proved superior to some mounted on walls because smoke rises and more readily enters the ceiling detection chamber.

Just as important as an early-warning fire detection device is an evacuation plan, emphasizes Nelson. Be sure there are alternate methods of escape in case doorways are blocked by fire.

1700 gather for Rosston's Sam Bass Day celebration

Rosston, with its population of 30 residents, hosted 1700 guests Saturday July 17, 1982, when the second annual Sam Bass Days celebration was held.

Delania Raney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Raney was crowned Queen of the Rosston Volunteer Fire Department, pageant sponsor. Karen Balthrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Balthrop was runner-up.

Norman Mills of Valley View was first place winner of the Old Fiddler's contest; Jerry Jones of Denton won second place; and Lester Haney of Pilot Point won third place.

The London Brothers won first place in the Floats on Parade contest, with a team of four mules pulling a wagon. JoAnn Sicking was second place winner with "Future Firemen of the Community," and The Gainesville Antique Car Club was third place winner.

The parade opening the event was remarkable. There were 158 entries, a sizable increase over 68 in 1981. The Muenster VFW Color Guard led, followed by the Gainesville Riding Club carrying the U.S. Flag, the Texas Flag and the riding club's banner. Two Army tanks were attention-getters. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ford were announcers, and Jim Penton was parade marshal.

Coming the greatest distance was a couple from Connecticut. Among special guests were two State Troopers, two County Sheriffs and one officer from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Assoc.

Best place to watch contests and the parade and to chat with home folks and out of town visitors was the huge old oak tree at the Community Center. Popular opinion selected the mule pullers contest as the favorite. Every where there was enough space for guests to wander around to see, because there was something going on all day.

Children's games were well represented. The big Dunking Pool was a fun place; Horseshoe tournaments, food concessions, crafts booths, the Video-taping of many activities, the raids, shoot-outs and hijinks filled the day. The "Legend of Sam Bass," the demise of Sam Bass, presented in a play at 6 p.m., was original and cleverly written, with children on stick horses portraying races between the Indians and Sam Bass.

Special credit should go to the wives of Rosston Volunteer Firemen who planned, provided and handled food service for the noon and evening meals. The Rosston Volunteer Fire Dept. requested that special thanks be offered to its Auxiliary for exemplary faith in the cause, and dedicated cooperation.

Providing music for the dance Saturday evening were Doug Martin and the Rustlers, who also offered programs during the day.

Something more to commemorate at the Sam Bass celebration was a horse race up the main street. These kids did not have horses but they found a way. They chose stick horses for their mounts.

Kids lean against the load at the tug-of-war, one of many features of Rosston's Sam Bass Day celebration.

Pulling demonstrations by horse and mule teams were popular attractions of the Sam Bass Day celebration at Rosston. This team was an entry of the heavyweight class. A team's record was determined by adding weights to the load sled until the team stalled. Carl Bayer and Herbert Richardson loaded the sled.

Carl Bayer was the catcher in this egg toss. Don't ask whether the egg remained intact.

88 year old Fred Hayne of Valley View was the champ fiddler at Rosston's Sam Bass Day.

This entry by Future Fire Fighters of Rosston was a winner of the Sam Bass parade. Float occupants are Brian Walterscheid, Bob Richardson and Kelly Ford.

Mule-headed mules declined the honors at Rosston's mule pull, but the wrangler, Joe Wilkerson of Denton, took first prize on a single performer.

Principals in Rosston's Sam Bass shootout and play were Mitchell Smith, Joe Evans, Doyle Gates, Tom Richardson, Ricky Huckabay and Herbert Richardson.
