"The killing of Small Business" is the title of an article in this month's Conservative Digest explaining that independent business is not only burdened with the very real problem of making ends meet but also is loaded down by government regulation, taxation harassment and the futility of receiving inadequate help in presenting its problems before their government.

It's estimated that 12 to 14 million such enterprises are active in the country. They are operating stores, service stations, oil rigs, restaurants, car agencies, repair shops, publishing, manufacturing, etc., etc. They produce nearly half of the country's goods and services and employ more than half of its workers. More important, they are believed to be the source of 50 to 86.7 percent of the new jobs of America.

However this economic dynamo is being ignored and abused by our inconsiderate and short sighted government, which should know that small business is getting a bum deal and the nation itself is an eventual loser in the decline of prosperity.

In the first place, the small business tax burden has grown incredibly during the past 15 years. Because 9 million are proprietorships rather than corporations, they have to pay personal rather than corporate income tax, which has been hard hit by bracket creep. Their rate has gone up and up as inflation upped income.

An even greater burden is the flood of forms poured down on the little guy by Washington. Big operators receive them too but they have the legal staffs and special departments to do the forms as a part of routine work whereas small business people get stuck with extra work. They have to give up time from the business or their personal interests.

Since 1960 regulatory agencies have increased from 150 to 1500. This year, experts say, regulations will have an impact of $135 billion on the American economy. Needless to say, the nation's standard of living might have been that much higher. To put it another way, the White House Commission on Small Business states that small business is annually forced by federal regulators to answer 575 questions on 24 forms at a cost to each business of more than $1000. This means the firm has had that amount taken out of its net income.

Then there are such matters as interest rates which strongly favor big business, or the futility of seeking help in state or federal government, or favoritism in procurement. The big outfits, when seeking loans, have the volume inducement to make the banks bid competitively. Small business has to just settle for the prime rate or higher. Likewise big business can afford lobbyists to get legislative consideration or government contracts, but the small firms don't have such connections.

Ironically, while small business in general is struggling and thousands of individuals are finding it next to impossible to get help from the government, a

In a downtown game of musical stores, three Main Street businesses will change locations in about a week, but none of the three merchants plan to be closed for business any more than usual to accommodate the moves.

The switch is scheduled to go something like this:

LaVerna Nasche plans to have Modern Floors Home Decorating and Gifts moved across the street into the former Palace Cafe location. After they're moved, Mike Fuhrmann plans to move Fuhrmann's Jewelry into the space now used by Modern Floors. While that move is taking place, Lupe Evans will be close behind, moving merchandise next door, from the Hut, expanding to take over the space now utilized by Fuhrmann's Jewelry.

Nasche said the move for Modern Floors, scheduled for next weekend, is intended to give the business a little more exposure and provide what she thinks may be a slightly better location. Modern Floors will continue to deal in the same merchandise as before.

The remodeling in the former cafe includes removing the wall which had separated the dining room from the kitchen and will also include new lights, paneling, carpet and repainting the outside of the building.

Fuhrmann said he's moving his jewelry store across the street because he plans to expand the business and needs the extra room. He said he's planning his move as soon as Modern Floors finishes theirs.

CCEMS open house planned

The Cooke County Emergency Medical Service will hold an all-day open house Saturday at its newest station, the corner of Oak and Third Streets in Muenster.

Don Rice, CCEMS administrator, says the purpose of the open house, scheduled for 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., is to offer residents the chance to become acquainted with the station and crew and their capabilities.

"We don't want people to think we're just a machine," he said. "It will also be an opportunity for us to say 'thank you' to the people of Muenster who supported us."

All equipment used by the emergency teams will be on display at the open house and emergency technicians will be on hand for any questions people may have. Refreshments will also be served.

Rice said the Muenster station has stayed relatively busy since it began operation, averaging one call per day. In their first week of operation here, the local unit received as many calls at it usually gets in a month, he said.

In reporting emergencies, people should call only the dispatcher in Gainesville, who will return to the Muenster station. Rice said this is very important because only the Gainesville station has a qualified dispatcher on duty 24 hours a day to receive calls. If a person calls the Muenster Station while the crew is on another call, such a situation could cause even greater panic. The number for the Gainesville dispatcher is 665-1724.

For messages other than emergencies, persons are welcome to phone the Muenster station directly at 759-4991.

Rice has said before that basing an ambulance in Muenster has been one of his biggest goals since he became CCEMS administrator more than two years ago.

The project of basing an ambulance station in Muenster actually began more than a year ago, but it only began making considerable progress about two months ago.

ISD trustees begin work on 5-year plan

In keeping with recommendations of the Texas Education Agency, the trustees of Muenster Independent School District are in the process of drawing up a five year program for continued expansion and development of their school system. Their aim applies to academic as well as physical achievements in line with those of the previous program which was highly rated by the TEA. The program's starting date is July 1, 1983.

Superintendent Charles Coffey said this five year program is tailored to community needs which were determined by a survey of 30 students, 30 teachers and 60 adults representing all ages, occupations and professions of the community. Opinions of all these were considered in compiling a program of higher standards, better service and favorable image.

Scholastically the goal is to start with emphasis on the basics of language and math so that students will be more able not only to express themselves but also to deal with new technical and scientific ideas. The school's aim is to give its students the best possible foundation for their jobs or college.

Health is another consideration, with CPR and first aid being vital additions to classroom and PE classes. Students will be expected to be able to apply good health practice to others as well as themselves.

A related teacher aid in health and a variety of other subjects is video taping equipment, which can be used also for taping historical events, permanent recording of special programs and athletic events. The proposal includes a

Voting scene quiet

With voting day in Muenster still six weeks away, as would be expected, all is relatively quiet on the election front.

On April 2, Muenster voters will choose from a list of candidates to determine who will fill expiring terms on the Muenster School Board, Muenster Hospital Board and Muenster City Council. But so far, almost no candidates have filed for the positions.

On the school board, Gerald Walterscheid has filed for re-election to the Place 1 seat he now fills and Dennis Hess has filed for election to Place 2, the position now filled by Eddie Fleitman. Deadline to file for election is March 2.

Concerning the City Council, no one has filed for any of the three positions now filled by persons whose terms expire this year. Those include: Mayor, now filled by Leo Hess; Councilman Place 3, now filled by Ronnie Felderhoff; and Councilman Place 5, now filled by Ted Henscheid. Filing deadline is March 2. No one has yet filed for the Hospital Board positions currently being filled by Al Trubebach, Al Felderhoff, Jimmy Jack Biffle, and Paul Fetsch. Filing deadline is March 7.

Court discusses fire protection

Cooke County Commissioners at their regular meeting Monday morning heard complaints from a Callisburg resident who said considerable fire damage to her pastureland sustained during a recent fire was largely due to inadequate fire protection in the county. But the court was able to do little more than discuss the incident and suggest further discussion among area fire departments to insure the problem doesn't happen again.

Mrs. Jackie Newton, who lives near Callisburg, and Gainesville Fire Chief Charlie Brown both described the fire in this way:

The Gainesville Fire Department was notified of a fire north of Callisburg and notified the Callisburg Volunteer Fire Department, who sent a truck to the scene. When the fire grew out of control and further assistance was needed, the Callisburg fire truck driver told someone at the scene to phone Gainesville for more help because the truck's radio was not working. When the call was made, problems in communications resulted in the Gainesville Fire Department arriving one hour and 50 minutes after the fire started.

Glenn Scott, president of the Cooke County Firefighters Association told members of the court and Mrs. Newton the problem stemmed from what was simply an unfortunate breakdown in communication. Newton told the court she felt something ought to be done to insure enough help is on the way in the event of a fire.

Some 200 to 300 acres were damaged in the fire and Mrs. Newton told commissioners her only concern in coming to them was to insure the situation doesn't occur again. Commissioners suggested the best way to deal with the problem is through the cooperation of the ten area fire departments and Scott said it would be something that would be discussed at future meetings of the firefighters association. Commissioners also decided not to devote any operating funds for an office for Precinct 3 justice of the Peace Bob Gray. Commissioners told Gray the request could not be honored because the expenditure hadn't been planned in the budget for this fiscal year.

Gray was seeking funds for utilities and phone service for a building near Lake Kiowa which was to be offered to the county rent-free. Commissioners told Gray his request would have to wait until October, when other budget requests would also be considered.

If you obey the commandments of the Lord, your God, which I enjoin on you today, loving him, and walking in his ways, and keeping his commandments, statutes and decrees, you will live and grow numerous, and the Lord, your God, will bless you in the land you are entering to occupy."

Water board to meet

The board of directors of the Muenster Water District will hold a meeting Wednesday, March 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall to consider a resolution authorizing the annexation of certain tracts of land within the corporate limits of the City of Muenster into the Muenster Water District.

The territories to be annexed are described in two ordinances adopted by the city — one adopted Aug. 2, 1982 and the other on Dec. 6, 1982. The meeting has been called because the two territories need water services.

The Owner's Manual

Last week we studied how Jesus has gone to heaven ahead of us to prepare a mansion for us there. Another kind of preparation took place here on earth before Jesus began his earthly ministry. The Bible tells us that John the Baptist fulfilled Old Testament prophecy by preparing the way for Jesus. This is what Jesus refers to when he says in Matthew 11:10, "This is the one about whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you."

As I thought about how Jesus and John the Baptist prepared a way for others, I began to realize how much time we sometimes spend in preparing to bring a newborn loved one into this world, but how all too often we spend too little time in preparing a loved one to enter the next world. Before a baby is born, there usually is at least one baby shower, a room is prepared, a baby bed is fixed up, baby clothes and diapers are obtained; but how much time do we spend making sure that a loved one is prepared to meet death by knowing of the saving knowledge and grace of Jesus Christ our Lord?

A beautiful illustration of a woman who did know how to prepare her son to meet our saviour is given by Joyce Landorf in her book, "Mourning Song." The following excerpt is taken from this book and tells of this woman:

"She was a large, black woman, as picturesque as the plantation mummies of years ago. She came every day to the hospital to visit her little five-year-old son who was dying of the painful disease of lung cancer."

One morning, before the mother got there, a nurse heard the little boy saying, "I hear the bells! I hear the bells! They're ringing!" Over and over that morning nurses and staff heard him.

When the mother arrived she asked one of the nurses how her son had been that day, and the nurse replied, "Oh, he's hallucinating today - it's probably the medication, but he's not making any sense. He keeps on saying he hears bells."

Then that beautiful mother's face came alive with understanding, and she shook her finger at the nurse and said, "You listen to me. He is not hallucinating and he's not out of his head because of any medicine. I told him weeks ago that when the pain in his chest got bad and it was hard to breathe, it meant he was going to leave us. It meant he was going to heaven — and that when the pain got really bad he was to look up into the corner of his room — towards heaven — and listen for the bells of heaven — because they'd be ringing for him!" With that, she marched down the hall, swept into her little son's room, swooped him out of his bed, and rocked him in her arms until the sounds of ringing bells were only quiet echoes, and he was gone."

Dear reader, if you were to die today, would you hear the bells of heaven calling you?

Do you have a mother, father, brother, sister, son or daughter who might not hear the bells if they were to die today? If so, you need to pray for them and tell them how belief in Jesus will assure them of a mansion in heaven that He has prepared for them.

Looking Ahead

It is an amazing but true fact that the American system of government has no organizational structure — or even a mandate — to preserve and defend the economic system which undergirds the entire foundation of the nation.

In a Socialist or Communist system, the state has many organs and institutions which are responsible for the protection of the ideology, including the economic philosophy. Not so in America. Here that vital task is left to the private sector — to individuals or voluntary associations.

A marvelous new institution has just arrived on the scene and assumed some of this responsibility. This is ENTERPRISE SQUARE, USA.

On the campus of Oklahoma Christian College in Oklahoma City, in the heartland of the nation, this $15 million national learning center has been created to combine the dazzle of the entertainment world with some old-fashioned economic truths in a 60,000-square foot educational extravaganza to awaken interest in economics, stimulate understanding about the importance of a free market, and to explain away some popular myths about the world of business.

While Enterprise Square, USA, is a fantasy world, unlike any yet created for education, there is no mistaking the serious intent — in two and one-half hours visitors receive plain talk in a glittering setting about the hard facts of supply and demand, profit and loss and the risks and rewards of modern business.

Six years in planning and construction, the project has not only drawn on the talents of leading educators and economists, but also on names better known to Broadway, Hollywood or Disney than to a college campus.

These exhibition designers, art designers, computer games specialists and script writers were paced by mandates from economists to develop vehicles to erase economic myths which endanger the nation's free enterprise tradition.

Business is betting some big dollars that the project will succeed where other attempts have failed at popularizing economics within a free enterprise banner.

Perspectives

It's obvious that for the past few weeks, something just hasn't been right. But only recently, it seems, has it become apparent just what is wrong.

Football season is over. And the withdrawal pains are getting worse.

Football Withdrawal Syndrome is a very serious affliction that, unfortunately, nobody knows much about. It's rumored to affect almost as many poor souls each year as heartburn does. Probably because the physical effects of both are strangely similar.

Granted, treatment is available for this awful condition. But that treatment exists only in inadequate substitutes like basketball and baseball. They may be substitutes, but then so are light beer and skim milk.

Oh, there is one other hope — shallow as it seems — in the new United States Football League. But like the Canadian Football League's debut of several years ago, it just won't do.

Besides, that's professional football. What really matters is the NCAA, sports fans. Not the NFL, the CFL, or the USFL, but the NCAA. Professionals play for money. College players play for pride more than money. Well... maybe they're playing for money on occasion, but at least it's kept under the table. There's something completely different motivating a player who's working toward a Cotton Bowl berth and a player who makes more than $30,000 as a loser in the super bowl.

But whatever your brand of football, there's little help in sight until late August. College recruiting kept our interest for a short while, but now even that's over.

I miss it.
I miss football because it's an exciting game. Baseball is boring. Basketball, though it's fast-paced, is just as boring, because the players don't hit each other and try to knock each other's heads off (at least they're not supposed to). I miss the kind of hit you not only see and hear, but the kind you feel all the way up to the stadium's top row.

I miss studying team statistics before a game and feeling certain that my team has it in the bag — only to see my team get whipped by some nobody 35-16.

When that happens, I miss being able to scream uselessly at the officials, questioning everything from their sanity to their heritage.

Speaking of screaming, I miss screaming at the opposing school's team, coaches, fans and arrogant cheerleaders, not to mention the dummy in the owl suit or eagle suit, whatever it is.

I miss the marching bands at halftime. You don't see marching bands at basketball games because you can't get them on the court. And you don't get marching bands at baseball games, either. You don't even get halftimes at baseball games.

I miss buying a watered-down Coke for $1.50, drinking half of it, and spilling the other half all over the poor woman in front of me when I jump up to see a fabulous touchdown pass. But that's OK, she doesn't mind. She's happy for the touchdown, too. And besides, she spilled her watered-down Coke all over the poor fool in front of her. We're talkin' real fun, sports fans.

I miss fried chicken and cold beer at a picnic before the game as much as I miss cold, stale hot dogs with the watered-down Cokes during the games.

All of it's gone. Gone until August. Football Withdrawal Syndrome has claimed another victim.

special federal agency is goofing off billions which are specifically intended for small business. Since its inception nearly 30 years ago the Small Business Administration has made 417,488 small business loans at a net cost to taxpayers of $5 billion. Besides, the SBA employs 4,400 people in 103 offices around the country.

It sounds like being helpful, but the nature of the loans is the big shocker. For instance, A $345,000 loan guarantee to Tom Brokaw, who earns roughly a half million a year from NBC News, was intended to help him buy a South Dakota radio station under a program whose main purpose was to assist "minority" business.

Two loan guarantees amounting to $1 million to a California aquatic park were earmarked for a gigantic water slide and other construction.

And a $65,000 loan through an investment corporation subsidized by SBA was handed to a New York pornography palace "engaged in the sale of X-rated books, magazines, sex aids and stimulants, showcasing X-rated films, live sex acts, nude dancers, etc."

A total of $14 million on terms up to 10 years and interest rates as low as 8.4 percent below prime to a company formed by Paul Newman, Burt Reynolds, Norman Lear and 50 other show business people.

So it goes, on and on. Millions more to investment companies backing such enterprises as rock concert promotion, X-rated movie houses and a chain of homosexually oriented Turkish bathhouses.

This kind of shabby record leaves no doubt that SBA, like lots of other federal agencies need to be eliminated or at least monitored to get rid of the graft and wickedness. Taxes could be reduced enormously if US would quit funding crookedness and sin.

Heritage News Forum

Even though Captain Kirk and his crewmates on the Starship Enterprise seemed light years ahead of us in scientific advances, they still fell prey, on occasion, to the unexplainable: venturing into black holes in the universe or tumbling through time warps. The results were always entertaining, and in an hour's time, the ingenious Mr. Spock — through the marriage of science and logic that only his mind seemed capable of — invariably had trekkers happily on their way again.

Without taking anything away from the White House Office of Science and Technology, let me argue that what America needs today is its own Mr. Spock. Absent such an individual, let me suggest that the time has come for policy-makers in the nation's capital to stop playing political football with the many scientific questions they are faced with and find some sort of mechanism that can provide them with the kind of confident guidance they need to do their jobs.

We have relied too long on the scientific expertise of Ralph Nader clones and GS-11 bureaucrats... and it has cost us plenty: putting a severe strain on the economy, sapping our confidence in government, and unnecessarily alarming the public as everything from smokestacks to sex to saccharin has been declared harmful to our health — maybe, sometimes, somebody somewhere said today. If you're anything like me, you're confused. And fed up.

A group of U.S. scientists headed by Dr. John Higginson, former Director of the World Health Organization's International Agency for Research on Cancer, and Dr. Tom S. Miya, Past President of the Society of Toxicology, recently endorsed a proposal that makes so much sense — it is perhaps understandable why the dreamers in Washington never thought of it.

The idea is to establish a Central Science Panel, under the auspices of the National Academy of Sciences. The panel would be charged with providing Congress and the regulatory agencies with expert guidance on government decisions involving alleged health hazards. The panel would be very small and very select: men and women who are recognized by their peers as leaders in their fields. Not lawyers. Not paper shufflers. And not self-proclaimed public health experts whose published work consists of writing press releases quoting themselves.

As Dr. Miya, Dean of the School of Pharmacy at the University of North Carolina, explains, the idea is to eliminate — to the extent possible — much of the guesswork that policy-makers and the public must face every day.

In an article for Pharmaceutical Technology magazine, Dr. Miya cites numerous public policy decisions that have been mucked up by Washington because of poor scientific data: the decision to ban, and then ban, saccharin; the decision to ban, and then not to ban, nitrites; the Love Canal scare; former HEW Secretary Joseph Califano's ludicrous charge that America is in the midst of a cancer epidemic, while in fact cancer rates are falling; the decision by one government agency to ban formaldehyde home insulation because it might cause cancer, while another government agency says there is no evidence that is so. The list goes on and on, and involves all of us...

"There are almost daily reports from one group or another about the dangers we face from the time we get up in the morning until we nod off at night — and even while we sleep. As a result, neither the public, nor government officials charged with protecting the public health, can confidently distinguish between proven dangers, alleged dangers, hypothetical dangers and bunkum," Dr. Miya says.

"If we believed all of the reports about the substances in our diet and environment that will cause us bodily harm, we would have no place to live, nothing to eat, and dare not work."

Something has to be done about it. And while I might prefer hiring Dr. Spock to lead us through these troubled, uncharted regulatory seas, the proposed Science Panel might be a good substitute.

Accident hazard recognized

In years past, motorists involved in accidents have been told to leave their vehicles at the scene of the accident until a law enforcement officer arrives to investigate...these instructions no longer apply to certain accidents because leaving the vehicles at the scene often creates an even greater hazard.

According to the Texas Motor Vehicle Laws Uniform Act, of 1981-82, Article IV, Section 39, "The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting only in damage to a vehicle which is driven or attended by any person shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of such accident or as close thereto as possible without obstructing traffic more than is necessary but shall forthwith return to and in every event shall remain at the scene of such accident until he has fulfilled the requirements of Section 40." Section 40 pertains to giving information and rendering aid.

The law continues, "...when an accident occurs on a main lane, ramp, shoulder, median or adjacent area of a freeway in a metropolitan area and each vehicle involved can be normally and safely driven, each driver shall move his vehicle as soon as possible off the freeway main lanes, ramps, shoulders, medians and adjacent areas to a designated accident investigation site, if available, a location on the frontage road, the nearest suitable cross street or other suitable location to complete the requirements of Section 40, so as to minimize interference with freeway traffic. Any person failing to stop to comply with said requirements under such circumstances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

In a nutshell, when an accident involves only damage to the vehicles and there are no injuries, it is advisable to move the vehicles off the roadway, if possible, to a place nearby where the investigation can be made. In the case of freeway accidents, law requires vehicles involved in damage only accidents to be moved after determining there are no injuries.

If all motorists involved in damage only accidents will follow these guidelines, they will help prevent subsequent accidents in the same location caused by the first accident and make the roadways safer for the investigating officers and other people involved.

The community's newest business is Muenster Auto Parts owned and operated by Mike Sturm, left and Larry Gobble at 711 East Highway 82. The store will provide a complete line of auto parts featuring C&G mufflers and muffler service.

Also a proposed library feature is a separate K-4 children's library in an area of the kindergarten department. Its purpose is to make the specialized books and aids more accessible to the little ones.

The entire program is accompanied by greater emphasis on public relations. The board intends to keep the community informed on what is happening in all areas of school activity, especially the kind of news that reflects new subjects, new techniques and new policies.

Other projects in the plan refer mostly to physical improvements. For instance, a continuing program of lawn work and landscaping including a schedule of adding trees and shrubs. Also planned is playground changes enlarging area and facilities for the little ones while moving area and facilities to better accommodate the older students. Special goal in this regard is an outdoor court to be used in good weather for a variety of gym activity such as PE and basketball as well as baseball, football, track, etc. when the ground is muddy. The arrangement will relieve much of the present crowding in the gym.

Probably the most popular of the program is additions of central air conditioning and occasional single units to the original part of the school, including high school and former elementary wing and the cafeteria. Present elementary and the new science and junior high building have central or unit cooling. One of the more expensive parts of the program, the air conditioning will be installed as the budget permits.

Nuptial at Sacred Heart unites Gina Hofbauer, Daniel Walterscheid

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sylvan Walterscheid are on a wedding trip and Caribbean cruise following their marriage in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, Feb. 12, and when they return they will be at home in Muenster.

Father Victor Gillespie officiated for the Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony at 5 p.m.

The bride is the former Gina Marie Hofbauer, daughter of Mrs. Norma Dowd of Cherry Lane, Muenster and Denis Hofbauer of Fisher Road, Muenster. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid of Muenster.

In a setting created by altar decorations of fan-shaped arrangements of white gladioli in white containers and accents of blue satin bows; tall floor candelabra with white candles in pyramid form, entwined with greenery and bows of the bride's chosen blue; and an entry to the sanctuary steps through a white wrought iron arch decorated with greenery and blue bows, the bride was presented at the altar by her father, Denis Hofbauer.

For her wedding she chose a formal gown of white silk organza with a Queen Anne neckline and old fashioned Leg o' Mutton sleeves, puffed and lace-appliqued in the upper part, and entirely of French Alencon lace to the wrists. The fitted bodice was enhanced with matching lace appliques traced with designs of tiny pearls. The A-line skirt was similarly appliqued, with rosettes added, and its attached chapel-length train was edged with scalloped Alencon lace medallions and tiny pearls.

She wore a picturesque, Mademoiselle-style hat made of Chantilly lace covered with seed pearls and sequins. Her two-tiered fingertip length tulle veil with blusher was attached to the hat in front and caught up in back with a cascade of bows.

Her bridal bouquet, made by her mother, was a long cascade of sea pearls surrounded by white baby's breath and miniature red roses, with baby white silk bows and long streamers.

For sentiment the bride wore a gold cross and chain that her mother wore on her wedding day, that formerly belonged to her late maternal Great-Grandmother Mrs. Tony Fuhrmann. She carried her mother's crystal rosary and in keeping with tradition had a new penny that was a gift from her little sister, J.J.

Attendants

Shellie Hoedebeck of Muenster was her cousin's matron of honor. Carol Henscheid, a second-cousin, Laurie Walterscheid, groom's sister, and Tammy

MRS. DANIEL S. WALTERScheid

Henscheid, Janelle Hellman and Kyla Hale were bridesmaids. J.J. Dowd, sister of the bride and Amy Walterscheid sister of the groom were junior bridesmaids. All wore identical dresses of Royal Blue, Christmas taffeta, designed with Queen Anne necklines, long sleeves puffed to the elbow and fitted to the wrist. The full, long skirts were edged with a ruffle at the hemline tapering up at the instep, to be held by a rosette. Three small rosettes adorned the neckline and one rosette rested at the tip of the petal-point sleeves. The dresses were designed by the bride and her mother and were made by Loveda Lane of Gainesville. Baskets carried by the bridesmaids held light and royal blue flowers, with a small white dove on the handle. The bride's mother made all flower arrangements, corsages and bridesmaids' baskets.

Ringbearers were Jake Hofbauer and John Hofbauer, nephews of the bride, of Spanish Fort. They carried ring pillows made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Annette Walterscheid.

Kenneth Felderhoff, a friend of the groom was best man. Greg Walterscheid, groom's brother, Bobby Hartman, Kenny Hartman and Jesse Walterscheid, groom's cousins all of Muenster, and Mike Hofbauer, bride's brother of Spanish Fort, Texas were groomsmen.

Fred Koesler, Steve Henscheid of Muenster, friends, and Ronnie Felderhoff of Gainesville and Teddy Walterscheid of Muenster, both cousins of the groom were ushers.

Curtis Henscheid, T.J. Walterscheid, bride's cousin, and Wade Walterscheid and Bret Walterscheid groom's cousins were Mass servers.

Pinning corsages at church were Annette Walterscheid, bride's aunt, and Jo Ann Berend of Friona, bride's cousin, and Peggy Jirasek of Gainesville.

Following the Mass, the couple placed tributes on the Blessed Virgin's altar; the bride offered a cream colored rose and the groom lit a candle.

Wedding music was presented by Janice Bayer, organist; Roger Endres and Stephen Beyer, guitarists; and Christy, Jenny, Anne and Rose Felderhoff vocalists during Mass. In addition Endres sang as guests assembled and Beyer gave a trumpet selection at Offertory. Traditional organ selections were played for the processional and recessional.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed, and were hosted by parents of the couple in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Reneta Walterscheid, bride's cousin and Monica Hartman, groom's cousin, registered about 700 guests in the bride's book. The guest registry held a floral arrangement and three brass candleholders with blue candles, also blue doilies with flowers and ribbons. The table, made by Herbie Walterscheid was loaned to the couple especially for the reception.

A table for display of pictures held the bridal portrait, engagement pictures, a collage made by the bride's mother of pictures of the couple from childhood to their wedding day; also a gold plate engraved with names and wedding date, gift from J.J.

Three wicker rounds, designed with flowers and ribbons, were wall decorations. A special decoration was the archway under which the wedding party and guests entered the reception rooms. It was made by the groom's uncle Julian Walterscheid, for his daughter's wedding and offered for use in this wedding.

Another table held the three tiered wedding cake, over a candle-lit fountain, two additional heart-shaped cakes, all by Betty Rose Walterscheid, and the groom's cake made by Laurie Walterscheid, groom's sister. Other decorations were a pair of branched candelabra, also the eternity candle made by the groom's grandmother Mrs. Tony Felderhoff.

Assisting with serving the cakes were Donna Hess, Terry Flusche, Amy Henscheid, Lydia Walterscheid, Laurie Rohmer and Kelly Hennigan.

The dinner was catered by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schneider. Hard Times played for dancing.

Guests attended from Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Lewisville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Friona, Saint Jo, Wichita Falls, Colorado Springs, Myra, Iowa Park.

The rehearsal dinner was held in the home of the groom's parents for the wedding party and parents and grandparents.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is owner and instructor of Gina's School of Dance in Muenster. The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High and attended Cooke County College for two years. He is a roughneck for Felderhoff Bros. Drilling Co.

Garden Club hears talk on cacti

Mrs. Paul Endres spoke to fellow-members of the Muenster Garden Club Monday evening on "Cactus - A Prickly Subject." She showed a number of brightly colored pictures on posters, displayed about a dozen potted varieties of true cacti and succulents, shared a number of small plants, and included care and culture. She told that there are at least 2,000 known varieties, and she discussed benefits in relation to use as food, fiber and medicines.

The program was the sixth in a series of monthly themes of the year; "Take Time To..." in September the program urged: "Take Time to Plan"; October "Take Time to Practice"; November "Take Time to Grow"; December "Take Time to Celebrate"; January "Take Time to Care"; February "Take Time to Learn." In March the series will develop "Take Time to Prune"; in April "Take Time to Arrange"; in May "Take Time to Welcome."

Mrs. Al Hess was hostess in her home and Mrs. Ray Wilde conducted the business meeting.

Roll call was answered by 13 members who named a state or area where they have observed cactus growing or in bloom.

Mrs. Arthur Endres reported on the County Council meeting and announced coming events, including the Spring District meeting in Mineral Wells on March 9-10; the Flower Show School in Gainesville on March 23, 24, 25; and the Plant Exchange in Gainesville on April 8.

Mrs. Ed Knauf announced that the Muenster Garden Club has received a new rating from the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. advancing from a "bronze" to a "gold" rating.

Mrs. August Felderhoff told about the essay and poster contests sponsored for the schools. Mrs. Herb Miller and Mrs. James Roark led a discussion in which all members participated, in preparations for the club's booth at Germanfest.

The hostess served dessert and hot and cold drinks following adjournment.

Next month's meeting will be in the home of Mrs. R.N. Fette and the program will be given by Craig Rosenbaum, County Agent, who will speak on "The How, When, and Where of Pruning."

Luke Baptism

Emalee Nicole Luke, infant daughter of Jim and Liz Luke was baptised during the 9:30 a.m. Mass, Jan. 30, at St. Michael's Catholic Church of Bedford. The entire liturgy was based on the baptismal theme during which the parents and godparents, Eileen Luke and Bill Green took part. After the baptism ceremony, Father James Hanlon raised the newly baptised baby high above his head and introduced her as the newest member of their parish. Following, a solo by a friend was sung to the parents and baby, entitled "Baptism Prayer". After Mass, the maternal grandparents, Bill and Shirley Green of North Richland Hills were hosts at dinner in their home. Also attending were Bill and Eileen Luke, paternal grandparents of Muenster, Carolyn Luke of Dallas and Don and Kathy Hartman of Muenster, and the baby's parents and her brother, Preston.

Father Denis Soerries officiated for the sacrament, assisted by the baptismal sponsors, Mrs. Lucille Hess, paternal grandmother and Kenny Hess, an uncle.

The christening robe was a family treasure, worn by his father and all other children of the Ray Hess family and handmade by Lucille.

WITH YOUR ENERGY AID CONTRIBUTION,
YOU CAN GET A WARM FEELING IN YOUR HEART.
SHE CAN GET WARM.

Right now across Texas there are people who, for whatever reason, are having a hard time heating their homes. But now there's a program where you can help.

What we're talking about is the Energy Aid Program. It's sponsored by your electric company and this is how it works. You'll get a pledge card in this month's electric service bill. Make your pledge and send it in with your bill. Your tax-deductible contribution will be collected by the electric company and sent to us and other charitable agencies in the area.

When we get the money, we'll give it to those who need it most. To pay for natural gas, propane, electricity or even a cord of wood if that's the only means of heating. The funds may even be used to make emergency minor repairs to heating and cooling systems.

So you see how much your contribution could do. Pledge today. Someone needs your help. And you could probably use the warm feeling it will give you.

Resident of Munster, Germany looks for pen pals

The following letter was received by Mayor Leo Hess who uses this means to bring it to the attention of persons who might wish to reply.
Hello!
Maybe you wonder why you'll receive a letter from me. But I have a question and maybe you can help me. In the newspaper I read that in Texas exists a town with name Münster too. And I would like to have now some pen-pals from your town, so from Münster/Germany to Münster/Texas, I thought.

Can you help me? Have you got some addresses? Where can I find some? Who wants to correspond with me? To my person: I am 36 years old (almost), female, divorced, 2 children, now housewoman, but my profession is office-clerk.

Now I hope for your friendly answer. And I want to say thank you for your kindness.
With kind regards

THIS WEEK'S SPECIAL!

Knackwurst - a mild seasoned, lightly smoked beef and pork link. It has its name from the German word "Knackig", meaning in English "Snappy". It should be properly heated in water to approx. 130 degrees F. for 10 minutes. It will taste its best with hot German potato salad for lunch or with cold potato salad and mustard for supper. For your children, you can put it on a hot dog bun with all the trimmings. Because of its mild seasoning and moderately fine emulsion, it is very good for small children.

All our products are all-meat - no cereals or other fillers added. We are state inspected. If you have any questions about our products, how to prepare them or what to serve them with, just ask for Helmut, our German sausage maker at the meat market. He will be more than happy to assist you.

County Agent's Report

Weeds and annual grasses rob producers of valuable forage in improved bermuda grass pastures and meadows containing Coastal or Midland bermuda grass. Farmers and ranchers have a variety of herbicide choices that give both pre and post emergence control of these problem plants.

The first group are considered pre-emerge herbicides and work in inhibiting germination of annual weed and grass seeds. But, they have no effect on perennials. Princep is a pre-emerge herbicide and should be applied from fall to spring depending on the type of grass or weed problem. In any situation they must be applied before seed germination.

Some herbicides have both pre and post activity. Karmex and Aatrec fit in this category and kill both grasses and broadleaves. It should be noted that many herbicides have label restrictions on grazing and harvest of forage. Be sure and read and follow label instructions. Paraquat is such a product and must be used when bermudas are dormant. Paraquat does a good job in killing cheat or ryegrass in hay meadows.

The last category would be considered broadleaf weed killers. 2-4-D, Banvel, or combinations of the two do an excellent job on most broadleaf weeds. One key is spray early when weeds are young and growing for good control.

All of these materials work well in different situations. Producers again should always follow label restrictions before using any of these products.

Wheat Field Meeting - three wheat meetings are scheduled for Monday, February 28, in Cooke County. They will be held at the Result Demonstration Plots at Era, Hood and Lindsay.

8:30 a.m. - William Hermes Farm - Hood
10:00 a.m. - Parker Yarbrough Farm - Hwy. 51 - Era
1:00 p.m. - Henry Popp Farm - Hwy. 82 at Sivells Bend Road

Jim Blalock, Agronomist; H.A. Turney, Entomologist; and Norman McCoy, Pathologist; with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be at the meetings. Wheat producers are urged to attend. The result demonstrations being conducted at these locations include varieties, seeding rate studies, and herbicide studies.

Grain Sorghum Herbicide meeting - Producers in Cooke County are faced with many decisions on herbicide application times, rates, and recropping restrictions when planting milo. A meeting is scheduled for 3:00 p.m., Monday, February 28, at the Cooke County Electric Co-op in Muenster. Jim Blalock, Area Agronomist with the Agricultural Extension Service, will present a program on use of the many herbicides available. Plan now to attend.

Tigerettes try for state title

Sacred Heart Tigerettes and their coach, Jon LeBrasseur, have that confident feeling as they head for their third state playoff this weekend at San Antonio's Hemisfair. As seen by Coach Jon, this team is the best to date and they have the experience of two trips to the TCIL shoot-out...and the outlook is brighter than ever before.

Nevertheless he has great respect for the competition, starting with Incarnate Word of Corpus Christi, who will be the opponent for Sacred Heart's opener Friday at 9. The game will be aired here over KGAF. The Corpus girls have a record of 23-7 and Sacred Heart has 23-5.

The other preliminary matches St. Pius of Houston (25-3) and St. Joseph of Victoria (23-4), after which the two winners will play for the champ title and the two losers will play for No. 3. The two losers meet at 8 a.m. Saturday, the two winners at 4 p.m.

The team left here early Thursday, expects to arrive in San Antonio about 3 p.m. and practice at the Hemisfair about 5.

During the past week the Tigerettes won a pair of practice games with Bells, champ of its UIL district. At Bells last Friday SH started with an 11-9 first quarter lead and gained to 27-19 at the half. The lead dropped back to 37-33 in the third and it gained to 55-43 in Sacred Heart's strong fourth quarter. Susan Walterscheid led the effort with 32 points and 15 rebounds. Anne Felderhoff scored 13, Marilynn Hartman 4, Sandra Walterscheid 4, and Sondra Hess 2.

In the SH gym Tuesday the Tigerettes had it all their way as they rolled up leads of 19-6, 37-16 and 51-22 and coasted to a win of 61-37. Susan Walterscheid scored 19, Marilynn Hartman 18, Anne Felderhoff 12 and Laurie Endres 6.

MHS eliminated in 31-A tourney

The sleeping giant of District 31-A closed its season in glory at the district tournament last week. Lindsay's Knights with a round robin record of 2-8 blew the tourney wide open and came away as the champ plus eligibility to participate as No. 2 in the playoffs. Slidell is No. 1 with a perfect 10-0 standing in the regular schedule.

The Knights started the tournament with a 43-34 win over Forestburg, then clobbered Muenster 57-39 in the semifinal and finished by beating Alvord.

In the girls division Forestburg emerged as the No. 2 representative of 31-A in the playoff by defeating Alvord. In preliminaries Era and Alvord eliminated Muenster and Slidell, then Alvord eliminated Era advancing to the final with Forestburg.

Muenster Hornets started the tournament playing Era and led 16-4 and 25-19 at the quarter and half before zooming to 48-31 and 69-40 in the next two periods. Top scorers for MHS were Kevin Felderhoff 20, Wayne Carroll 12, Steven Fisher 11, Kevin Wolf 9.

Then came the Knights, who poured in the points for leads of 19-5, 33-12 and 49-23 before coasting to a 57-39 win.

The Hornets were ice cold in their opener with Era. For instance, they hit only 3 of 18 free shots, and field goal shooting was about the same as Era, 0-10 in regular schedule, dumped Muenster 6-4 in regular schedule, by a count of 27-25. Era held a short lead all the way by scores of 8-6, 16-10, 21-18 and 27-25. Leading MHS scorers were Stephanie Riches 11 and Rita Walterscheid 5.

Knights sweeps 31-A tournament

Lindsay Knights ended their 31-A season during the weekend with a dramatic 3-game sweep of the district tournament to qualify as the No. 2 team of the playoffs. The Knights' winning streak thereby stretches to 6, matching a losing streak of 6 earlier in the season.

Furthermore it gives Lindsay a pair of play-off entries. The Knightettes, with a perfect 10-0 standing are No. 1 in the girls division.

The Knights at the Slidell tournament started with a come-from-behind win over Forestburg. After three periods Lindsay trailed 28-26, then caught fire and roared to a 44-43 win. Top scorers were Greg Haverkamp 12, Glenn Hermes 12 and Mike Hermes 10.

The hot streak seemed to get hotter when the Knights took on the Muenster Hornets. They gained and gained for three quarters in piling up a 49-23 lead, then gave up some of the margin in a 57-39 win.

They were busy paying Alvord with leads of 11-10 and 34-33 at the first and third then rallied for a 49-41 decision. Doug Anderle hit 21 points and Greg Haverkamp 9.

Meanwhile the Lindsay girls, not in the tournament, looked for other action to keep in condition for the playoffs. Their first encounter was with Byers, which is also looking forward to play-off action. It was a see-saw game, Lindsay leading 47-44 at the third period but finally bowing 67-60 to a Byers rally. Bridget Fangman led Lindsay serving with 19, Shannon Fleitman made 14 and Gina Hellman 10.

They were back on track Monday beating Olney 49-39 at Nocona. After leading the first half they see-sawed in the third quarter before taking a 33-29 lead and continued gaining in the fourth. Gina Hellman scored 15, Bridget Fangman and Shanna Hellman 8 each.

The Cooke County Commissioners Court, presented the court with a statement of support accompanied by the signatures of more than 500 residents of western Cooke County, requesting that an ambulance service be based here. TP&L plans tree-trimming Tree-trimming crews will be at work along Texas Power & Light Company facilities in Gainesville for the next eight months. TP&L Manager Mike Murphy said a tree-trimming crew from McCoy Tree Surgeons has been hired to trim excess growth that could come in contact with electrical facilities and endanger people and electric service. Murphy said the McCoy crew has been trained in the most modern techniques of tree-trimming. He said the object of the crews is to ensure safety and to promote the well-being of trees along TP&L right-of-way. New trimming techniques now being practiced within the TP&L system are expected to cut costs of line-clearing significantly over the coming years. Murphy said.

Our next issue of BEST VALUES will be published on March 9th, advertising deadline is Thurs. March 3.

Members of the Court also decided to raise the amount of money paid by the county for pauper's funerals from $250 to $475 after finding out local funeral homes were losing money on such burials. Law requires such funerals to be paid for by the county. The $250 formerly provided by the county covered the average cost of a casket, but not the $175 burial fee paid to the city for the grave. Earl Clement, representing the Vernie Keel Funeral Home, told the court that funeral homes aren't interested at all in making a profit on such funerals. They are willing to donate the necessary services and are only interested in recovering their actual costs, which they aren't doing now. The commissioners then voted unanimously to raise the amount paid to $475, with each bill to be considered separately with itemized deductions. In other action, the court also: — approved the installation of underground cables for both Southwestern Bell and General Telephone. — set April 15 as the date for the annual employees banquet. — established a juvenile board to work with the Cooke County Juvenile Probation Department.

A First Texas 80's Report: On Investment Options.

"Will interest rates go up or down? Either way, First Texas has the right plan now."

Plan One:
Take advantage of rising interest rates with the escalating-rate Money Maker Plus.

If you think the interest rates will rise, you'll want the First Texas Money Maker Plus account. This short-term investment gives you the high interest of a money market fund. Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate.

Under

Deposits:	$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
Rates:	5.25%	9.00%	9.25%	9.50%	9.75%

These sample rates illustrate the increments of this investment. Actual interest rates will probably differ and may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. There's a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks and make deposits of $500 or more. You also have no activity or management fees. Plus, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year.

Plan Two:
Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And your investment is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Also, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now.

Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open the account that's right for you. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

First Texas. They can make the most of your money. And that's what beating the 80's is all about.
