A political fact clearly demonstrated lately is that when the American people feel strongly enough about an issue, their voice will be heard. The bill requiring a withholding tax on interest and dividends was eventually killed after Congress became convinced that it was unfair to the taxpayers as well as a burden on persons doing the paper work plus an added government expense.

Of course the idea had some merit in order to get favorable consideration in the first place. It was somewhat similar to wage withholding and quarterly payments in that its foremost purpose was to increase current revenue rather than wait until the end of the year. The additional billions would decrease the amount the government needed to borrow for its operation. This had to be a reason behind President Reagan's support as he faced a difficult budget problem. As the issue ended Congress finally realized that withholding is a bad idea, the exceptions being Ted Kennedy and a few others who tried to convince the public that withholding demise is the result of an unsavory coalition between bankers and tax cheats.

As one considers the several factors in interest and dividend withholding, very little can actually be found in its favor. First there's the matter of quarterly remittance, a huge burden for every financial institution. That involves submitting the record and payment for each depositor and notifying the depositor four times a year, a job that can be done by the report and remittance only once a year at a proportional decrease in expense.

Another factor is the government's expense in processing all of the reports and payments. This requires additional payroll, costing the taxpayer just like extra work costs the bank and eventually the depositor.

In addition, the depositor gets stuck in another way. The tax represents an amount that is not available for reinvestment. It's a loss to the investor but a corresponding gain to the fed. In the case of large accounts the tax can be sizeable, meaning a sizeable amount taken by the government from the individual.

The next question is does the government gain enough by this procedure to pay for the extra cost of multiple handling? Coming to the bottom line, does the fed really gain by withholding quarterly?

On the subject of tax cheating it's hard to see how withholding would make a difference. That's because the amount of interest or dividend is a part of one's taxable income, which cannot be determined until all figures are available for the final report. So, if an estimated tax is paid quarterly an adjustment has to be made for underpayments or overpayments in the final payment. That being the case the tax cheat has the same opportunity one way or the other.

A puzzle in this matter is the manner in which the amount of withholding was to be determined. Was it an arbitrary percentage of the actual interest or a calculation based on the an-

Jaycees clean up at State

Muenster Jaycees returned from their annual state convention loaded with awards, five being earned on the division level and two at the state level.

A chapter's division level is determined by the population of the town in which it is located, Muenster being included in Division 11. In that division Dale Swirczynski was named outstanding state director, Wayne Klement the outstanding director, Mark Klement the outstanding treasurer, Claude Klement the outstanding president, and the chapter's fundraising project, the Germania beer concession, the outstanding project. As division winners all were qualified for competition at the state level at which Mark Klement and the fundraiser were repeat winners. Persons and projects were judged on the basis of record books.

The convention was held at Abilene last Friday and Saturday. Members representing the Muenster chapter, accompanied by their wives, were Claude Klement, Jim Endres, Terry Walterscheid, Mark Lippe and Wayne Klement.

Local students win essay awards

Each year the National Council of State Garden Clubs sponsors its Youth Communication Program. A new topic, chosen each year, reflects some aspects of conservation. In '82-'83 the topic was "Conservation — My View."

Students of the Freshman Class at Muenster Public School entered the essay contest sponsored by the Muenster Garden Club and received high honors from the local level to the South

Central Zone. Those essays chosen by the Muenster Garden Club at the local level to represent this community were written and won by the following students; first place Dana Dankesreiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dankesreiter; second place Amy Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davidson; third place Karen Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wolf and honorable mentions: Connie

Klement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klement, Jean Pagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pagel, Sharen Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wolf. Members of the Garden Club submitted these six essays to the regional level and Muenster's entries won again in this order: first place Amy Davidson's essay "Soil Conservation: One Person's View;" second

Muenster receives $13,514 sales tax rebate; slight decline from last year

The city of Muenster has received a check in the amount of $13,514.21 from Comptroller Bob Bullock as a rebate for city sales tax paid here during the period ending May 6, 1983. The amount increases 1983 payments to $42,019.28, a decline of 1.01 percent from last year's payment at this time. Bullock said this check is one of 974 to Texas cities for a total of 94.5 in local sales tax payments.

Bullock further stated that total payments in the state have reached $309.6 million which is still 2.7 percent below last year. However a slight improvement is evident in the past three months and if the trend continues the state should end the year with a slight increase over 1982.

Checks to other cities of North Texas along with a statement of total to date and percent of change since 1982 are reported as follows by the comptroller.

Gainesville, $110,482, to date $368,496, down 13.14%; Lindsay, $5,594, to date $21,142, down 5.78%;

Valley View, $1,136, to date $3,409, up 1.82%; Pilot Point, $8,263, to date $26,008, up 4.81%; Sanger $8,672, to date $21,236, up 16.14%; Whitesboro, $12,596, to date $44,721, down 8.23%; Nocona $23,567, to date $65,328 down 14.85%; Saint Jo, $3,164, to date $9,177, down 16.99%.

Good News

John 17: 20-23

I do not pray for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their word, that all may be one as you, Father, are in me, and I in you; I pray that they may be one in us, that the world may believe that you sent me. I have given them the glory you gave me that they may be one, as we are one — I living in them, you living in me — that their unity may be complete. So shall the world know that you sent me, and that you loved them as you loved me."

Yield change in Lindsay

Traffic control signs at Main and Ash Streets (FM1199) in Lindsay will be changed Friday, May 20, 1983.

The yield sign which has been located on the southeast corner of the intersection will be moved to the northeast corner. The yield sign on the southwest corner will remain unchanged.

The change will mean that westbound traffic on Main (FM1199) will need to yield to traffic in the intersection whereas, in the past, there was no yield sign there.

State maintenance forces will change the sign's location Friday. Northbound traffic on Ash (FM1199) will no longer have a yield sign.

Still mild and dry

While other areas are getting rain, some only a few miles from here, some more than they want, Muenster is still far below normal. With only .17 this week and .41 for May to date, the year's total is only 7.91. However temperature remains mild and the crop outlook is still encouraging.

The Owner's Manual

AS THE time of our church's revival draws near, I would like to discuss this week some of the reasons for having revivals and how God can use this special time of worship to draw us closer to Him. In Psalm 119:88 the Psalmist says, "Revive me according to Thy lovingkindness, so that I may keep the testimony of Thy mouth" (New American Standard Translation). This is a most wise and blessed prayer. If we are revived in our own personal relationship with God, we shall be out of reach of our assailants. Our best protection from tempters and persecutors is more life. Loving-kindness can do us no greater service than to make us to have life more abundantly. When our spirits are revived we are able to bear affliction, to baffle cunning, and to conquer sin. We look to the loving-kindness of God as the source of spiritual revival and we ask the Lord to revive us, not according to our deeds, but after the boundless energy of His grace.

Perhaps our need for revival is more clearly pointed out in Isaiah 42:18-20, where we read, "The Lord says, Listen you deaf people! Look closely, you that are blind! Is anyone more blind than my servant, more deaf than the messenger I send? Israel, you have seen so much, but what has it meant to you? You have ears to hear with, but what have you really heard?"

Although these verses are addressed to Israel as the servant people of the Lord, the message contained here is just as relevant to us today. As his chosen servant, Israel refused to serve, and as his chosen messenger refused to hear. What good is a servant who doesn't serve and a messenger who is stone deaf? As Christians, we too are called to be servants of God. How many times do we refuse to serve when the opportunity to do so presents itself?

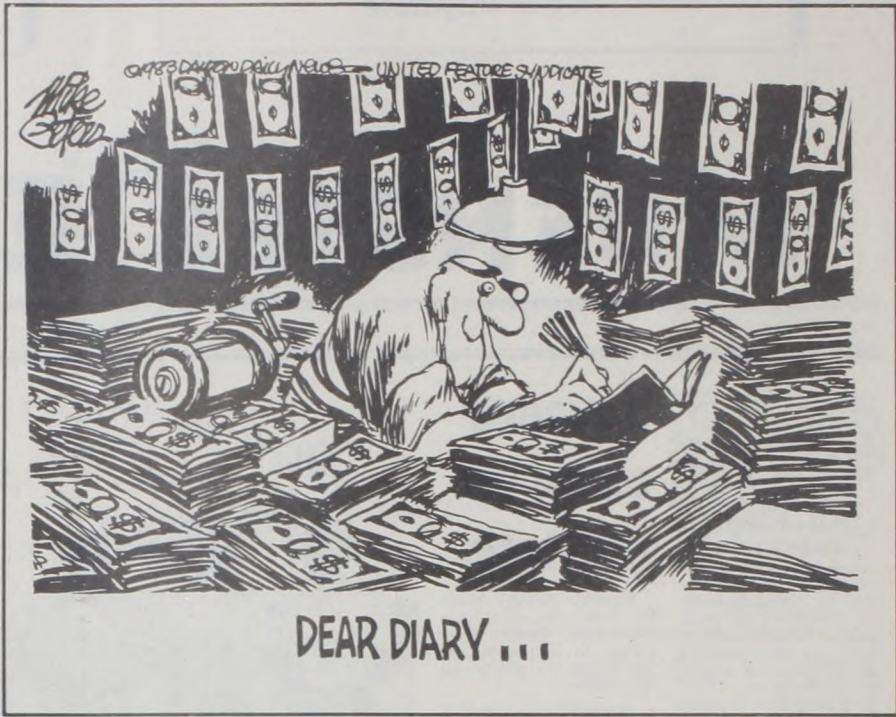

What good had it done Israel to see and to hear? The Israelites had seen many miracles, including their delivery from Egypt, the crossing of the Red Sea, manna in the wilderness, the crossing of the Jordan River, the defeat of their enemies who had greater military power than themselves, etc., but they did not understand the significance of God's mighty acts in their history. Most of us have also seen God at work in our own lives and the lives of others. We have seen healing take place that can only be explained as an act of God and have seen lifestyles changed by individuals who began to serve the Lord and try to live the kind of life He wanted them to.

The Israelites had heard the word of God through the prophets, but their words meant nothing to them. Most of us have not only heard numerous sermons preached and many of us read God's word daily, but how often do we fail to do as the Lord commands?

Revival is a time when we look back at what God has done in our lives and how patient He has been with us. It is a time when we rededicate our lives to serving Him in a worthy manner. Revival is a time when we open our eyes that we might see and our ears that we might hear in order that we might more readily understand the purpose which God has for our life and to receive new strength that we might strive harder to do His will.

On behalf of the First Baptist Church I would like to extend a personal invitation to all our readers to come and worship with us during our revival, which will be Sunday night through Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. You are always welcome.

Perspectives

ECONOMIC RECOVERY seems to have been one of the major topics in many circles of discussion for quite some time, which is nothing new, of course. What is new, on the other hand, is how it's being discussed. For much too long, dismal reports, comments and accusations made this nation's economic illness seem nothing less than terminal.

Fortunately, now, indications suggest that the patient is showing a recovery that is long overdue, but welcome, nonetheless. These indications are solid, and most look to be lasting. There are several of them, including interest rates, the consumer price index, and increased building activity. But two of the most recent examples concern the corporate sector.

The general health of corporate America has a great deal to do with that of the rest of America. For that reason, it should be quite comforting to know what Lee Iacocca and Chrysler have been up to lately.

Back when the auto maker was on its way down for what may well have been the last time, it was loaned more than $1 billion by the U.S. government. That transaction required two very significant elements (other than the billion dollars). First, it required the United States government to have almost unlimited faith in Chrysler and second, it required Chrysler to have almost unlimited faith in itself.

The government held up its end; and a couple of weeks ago, Chrysler did something to show the worth of that faith on both parts. The once-crippled auto manufacturer paid back one-third of the loan — seven years early. The story of another corporate resurrection may be in the making now.

On May 12, 1982, Braniff shut down its operations, leaving a lot of people collecting unemployment and a lot of planes collecting dust. What ensued was a full year of negotiations (almost all unsuccessful) to get the airline back in the air. But doing something like that takes a lot of money, so, whoever, would get this airline flying again would not only have to come up with many millions, but must also be able to withstand losing it, should the resurrection attempt go sour.

That's why the Hyatt Corporation's show of faith in Braniff means so much; $70 million worth of faith. The Braniff directors believe that's enough to get things working again, but the airline's creditors have to accept the proposal before it gets off the ground. Provided they do, Braniff may just become another chapter in this Cinderella story of brighter economic times; all because a healthy corporation had faith in an ill, but potentially healthy, corporation.

The Chrysler recovery and the Braniff rescue attempt are the stuff of which economic recoveries are made. Both involved a lot of money. But more important they both involved a lot of faith.

Looking Ahead

ANTHONY SHERMAN was an officer on the staff of General George Washington during the period the Revolutionary Army spent at Valley Forge. Late in the afternoon of a winter day in 1777, Sherman was present when Washington told of experiencing immediately beforehand a strange but foreboding vision.

Many years later, on the Fourth of July, 1859, ninety-nine year-old Anthony Sherman was taking part in national holiday observances at Independence Square in Philadelphia.

Suggesting that they step into Independence Hall, Sherman told Mr. Wesley Bradshaw of this incident in Washington's life. Bradshaw later wrote an article detailing Washington's vision as told to him by Sherman. Some years later it was reportedly published in the National Tribune, Vol. 4, No. 12 for December, 1880.

Washington in the vision predicted the victorious resolution of the Revolutionary War, some three years in the future.

The second peril characterized the great soul-wrenching division of the nation into warring factions over the issue of "State's Rights" in 1861. Even though this vision appeared to Washington 84 years before the fact, it correctly foretold the outcome.

We present-day Americans can verify these first two items revealed in the vision from the historical record. But the real value of the story of "Washington's Vision" lies in the prediction contained in the third peril.

This portion of the vision, embodying an attack on America by hordes from Europe, Asia and Africa, can be easily interpreted by anyone cognizant of contemporary world history.

From the very first, the forces of International Communism have made clear their major target is the United States of America, which must be overcome in their drive for control of the world.

But the reason for bringing "Washington's Vision" to your attention is its inherent encouragement when one recognizes that of the two perils faced thus far, both were resolved in fact precisely as the vision disclosed they would be.

We believe we should have faith that if we heed the final statement of the visiting angel in the vision we shall also prevail against the threat of International Communism. The mysterious visitor left with these words to General Washington:

"Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted. Three great perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful is the third passing which the whole world united shall not prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his land and Union."

Congressional Comment

OUR NATION'S public schools are threatened by a "rising tide of mediocrity" so serious that if an unfriendly foreign power had attempted to impose such a performance, "we might well have viewed it as an act of war." Such is the judgment recently issued by The National Commission on Excellence in Education in its report "A Nation At Risk: The Imperative For Educational Reform." Since the release of the report, there has been a flurry of news stories, editorials, analyses, criticisms and counter-criticisms from all sides of the ideological spectrum. If anything is obvious from this response, it is that there are no simple answers to this serious problem of mediocrity in our public schools.

First, what are the problems reported by the Commission? The quality of some teaching is not what it should be and there is a dire shortage of math and science teachers. In secondary schools, a "smorgasbord" of electives has subverted traditional academic standards. Only one year of math and one year of science are required for a high school diploma in 70 percent of the states. One-fifth of all four-year state colleges must admit anyone with a high school diploma. The report states "For the first time in the history of our country, the educational skills of one generation will not surpass, will not equal, will not even approach, those of their parents."

How could we possibly have allowed ourselves to get into such horrible shape? To begin with, many of these effects reported by the Commission result as side-effects from less obvious and less reported circumstances, not all of which are bad. For instance, the Commission's report indirectly compared British academic schools with American general curricula. Unless he or she passes the O-Level examination, the 16-year-old British youth's public education is terminated. While slow achievers may bring down national performance, I don't believe we are ready to deny any American youth the right to a high school education. Similarly, the report decried lowered SAT scores of the last 20 years, but the large increase in individuals taking the test was not mentioned. The slow learner, the minority student, the handicapped, the underprivileged and the immigrant taking today's tests may serve to lower national scores, but their greater assimilation into the mainstream is something we should applaud, not deplore.

Changes in the large society have an effect on the success of education as well. When I was a school boy, Mom and Dad worked as a back-up system in enforcing the discipline that kept me working on homework and away from more pleasant distractions. Furthermore, they took an active role in PTA, teacher visitations, school fundraisers, and many other aspects of my education. Many of today's children, however, grow up under circumstances far different from mine. With both parents working outside the home or with single parent homes, today it is far more likely that there will be less supervision in the evenings, time will allow less interaction between child and parent in general, and television and other distractions will play a more prominent role. Obviously, the children of these circumstances will have a far different education experience.

These factors, however, do not give us license to shrug our shoulders, saying it's not really a serious problem and we can't really do anything to help anyway. The Commission's report makes it clear that these real, present problems need solutions. But if we are going to point our fingers anywhere in this situation, we had better begin by pointing them at ourselves for not caring enough to maintain continual improvement in our public educational system. If we would have really cared, we would have voted to pay decent salaries to well-qualified teachers; we would have taken a lively interest in textbooks that would challenge our children; we would have given the support to teachers and administrators that would empower them to maintain discipline and authority in the classroom; we would have spent time with our children, trying to instill a respect for education.

The Commission has made some fine recommendations for ways we can begin improving our public education system, recommendations ranging from tougher standards for graduation to more homework to a longer school year to developing a system which rewards outstanding teachers and provides incentives for more quality individuals to enter the field. All of these things could help, but none of them have a chance unless you and I are willing to make education the priority that it should be. There are a few "pockets of excellence" already begun around the country that give us glimmers of hope and promise of what can be. But we all must share this responsibility. Otherwise, all that's at risk is the future of our nation.

annual estimate? Whatever the answer the end result has to be decided when the total taxable income is known. When supporters of the withholding bill complained about cheats, they missed the point. The only way to deal with the cheats is by individual prosecution of separate cases, the more the better. Obviously it's futile to try to outwit the cheats by legislative procedure. The practical way to deal with them, and the fair way to other taxpayers is to get tougher. It's meaningless for politicians to cite them as the reason for the withholding tax. On the other hand it makes good sense to avoid all the expense and hassle involved in withholding.

April accident statistics released by THD

Troopers in Cooke County investigate six accidents resulting in seven injuries with fifteen accidents causing only property damage. No fatalities were reported. Sergeant Charles Carey, area supervisor for Cooke and Grayson Counties, urges all motorists to use seat belts. In most severe accidents there is within the vehicle room to live if the driver and passengers are properly restrained.

Night time fatal accidents more than double the day time rate which should tell motorists to adjust their speed to driving conditions and avoid any alcohol impairment, Carey said. He also urges all motorists in the rural areas of Cooke County to adjust their speed to the conditions of the sometimes narrow roadways on which they must travel.

place Dana Dankesreiter's essay: "Wildlife Conservation," and chosen third place was Jean Pagel's entry "Fuels for the Future."

These three essays advanced to the state level and also won first, second and third in the same order as at the regional level. ## Immunization Clinic is May 25

The Texas Department of Health Region 5 Office in Arlington will sponsor an immunization clinic here at the Community Center Wednesday, May 25, 1983 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. The Clinic will provide immunization against Diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP), Polio, Rubella (red measles) and Rubella (German measles), for infants 2 months through 18 years. Precautions must be taken with females in the 12-18 age group to insure that they are not pregnant when they are immunized with measles and/or rubella vaccines, and that they do not become pregnant for 3 months following immunization. Immunizations are incomplete if a child has not received three (3) doses of DTP and Polio vaccine with at least one dose administered past the fourth birthday.

All children under 18 years must have an informed consent form read and signed by the parent or legal guardian. If possible, the parent should accompany the child to the clinic. Immunization records should accompany the child to the clinic and be examined by the Public Health Nurse who will answer any questions. The following children would have immunizations deferred: (1) Those acutely ill and with fever; (2) Those taking antibiotic treatment for an acute illness; and (3) Those who have completed an-antibiotic treatment for an acute illness, but have not been pronounced well by their physician.

The Department makes no charge for the immunizations. Since these diseases can be quite harmful, each parent or guardian is encouraged to protect their children from them. "Persons who have private physicians should consult with them for advice," state Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

Hospital participates in MOD perinatal education grant

Muenster Memorial Hospital recently hosted a special meeting to discuss the proposed March of Dimes (MOD) Perinatal Outreach Education Grant for 1983-84. The planning session was attended by representatives from a number of rural hospitals, Cooke County College and Ft. Worth Medical Center.

This will be the second grant made available by the MOD to the directors of small hospitals due to the success of last year's pilot project. Muenster Memorial was one of the seven participating hospitals last year. This following grant will include twelve rural hospitals, with MMH again participating.

Continuing education projects planned for the six month period include: two all-day workshops on perinatal care (pertaining to birth) to be held in Graham, and a 5 day perinatal preceptorship for 2 nurses from each of the 12 participating hospitals held at Harris Hospital and Ft. Worth Children's Hospital. During the preceptorships, there will be classroom and clinical time in the obstetrical and neonatal areas.

Physicians from the rural hospital will be invited to attend a one day session with specialists in Maternal - Fetal Medicine and Neonatology.

The director of nurses will spend one day in Ft. Worth at the end of the grant for follow-up and program evaluation.

Worth Medical Center; Dorothy Sanders, Clay County Memorial; Bonnie Robertson, Nocona General; Judy Murphy, Hamilton; Joyce Crumpler, Bowie Memorial; Jolene Jackson, Bowie Memorial; Judy Barnes, Gainesville Memorial; Patsy Jones, Seymour Hospital; Floydene Dunagan, Hamilton Hospital; Phyllis Kuykendall, Archer County Hospital; Eddie Hadlock, Cooke County College.

A First Texas 80's Report: On Investment Options.

"Will interest rates go up or down? Either way, First Texas has the right plan now."

Plan One:
Take advantage of rising interest rates with the escalating-rate Money Maker Plus.

If you think the interest rates will rise, you'll want the First Texas Money Maker Plus account. This short-term investment gives you the high interest of a money market fund. Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate.

Under Deposits:

$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
5.25%	8.15%	8.30%	8.50%	8.65%

These rates were effective May 5, 1983 and illustrate the increments of this investment. Interest rates may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. There's a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks and make deposits of $500 or more. You also have no activity or management fees. Plus, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year.

Plan Two:
Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And your investment is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Also, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now.

Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open the account that's right for you. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

Germanfest visitors came from all parts of the globe

This year's Germanfest, apparently matching last year's attendance of more than 50,000, again attracted visitors from the distant areas of the globe to mingle with the crowds from Texas and more than half the other states of the U.S.

The registration conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman has 49 pages with an average of 33 to 35 per page indicating a total of more than 1600 who signed, hopefully including most of those who came from afar even though the book shows a small percentage of the total attendance.

Some of the visitors are from the far side of the earth, for instance, China, Korea, Singapore and Australia (3 from there).

The biggest foreign representation was 17 from Germany. Others from beyond the US border were England, Holland, Italy, Belgium, Poland, Switzerland, Russia, Mexico, Canada, Dominican Republic and South America.

The most distant state was Alaska. Other states listed were Illinois, Idaho, Tennessee, Colorado, Washington, California, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Florida, Kansas, New Mexico, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, New Jersey, Montana, Arizona, Nevada, Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Oregon, Georgia, Minnesota, South Dakota and Connecticut.

Shower honors Kim Reilly

Mrs. Mike Reilly was honored with a surprise layette shower on March 21, hosted by five fellow-executive secretaries at Zocon Industries in Dallas.

The party was held over the noon lunch hours and attended by thirty guests, including the honoree's mother, Mrs. Marcie

Klement and her sister Tracey Klement of Denton.

The party centerpiece carried out a pastel Easter theme with tiny stuffed animals. Yellow and white cakes, decorated with tiny yellow booties, were served with punch. A shower of gifts, and picture taking added to the fun of the surprise event.

Students see demonstration on stopping distance

If a child suddenly dashed out into the street in front of your car, could you stop in time? Many people say they can stop on a dime, but how much space do they really need?

The answer was provided in a spectacular and very enlightening way on Sixth Street in front of Sacred Heart School on May 10 by Ben Bullard, safety representative of the Texas Farm Bureau.

In a specially equipped car the following persons drove tests to demonstrate the distance required to react (move foot from accelerator to brake pedal) and to brake (stopping the car after reaching brake pedal).

Greg Walterscheid, at 20 m.p.h.: reaction 15 ft., braking 27 ft., total 42 ft.; Karla Jo Hartman, at 20 m.p.h.: reaction 13 ft. 6 in., braking 27 ft., total 40 ft. 6 in.; Alric Gonsales, teacher, at 30 m.p.h.: reaction 15 ft. 6 in., braking 52 ft. total 67 ft. 6 in.; Helen Tompkins, officer, at 40 m.p.h.: reaction 15 ft., braking 94 ft., total 109 ft.

The safety engineer pointed out that stopping distance increases as speed increases, and also explained that the reaction distance is nearly twice as high when the driver is not aware that it will be necessary to stop at a given point.

The Safety Representative said that excessive speed is the greatest single cause of traffic accidents and that most drivers really believe that "they can stop on a dime". He pointed out that most makes and sizes of cars will require the same distance to brake whether small or large, when everything is equal; surface, brakes, tires, load, etc.

He also emphasized that a driver who observes speed laws but neglects other items of importance such as proper signaling, intersection approach, proper lane for turns, etc., is not a safe driver. He should drive near the speed limit to avoid the hazards of passing and of being passed, and give signals in plenty of time to better communicate his intentions to fellow drivers. The program was brought to Muenster under the sponsorship of Cooke County Farm Bureau and has been conducted since 1957 by the TFB Safety Department.

Several members of the Cooke County A&M Club take a short rest in the midst of preparing some 700 hamburgers last Friday at the Community Center in Gainesville, where the club held its annual fund raising event. The proceeds from the benefit supper will go toward a scholarship to be awarded to a student from Cooke County attending Texas A&M University. From left to right are: Gilda Paclik, Buff Marlin, Van Knight, Jr., Bernie Fette, Ike Barnes, John Pipes, Ronnie Clark, Ray Svacina and Harold Hatcher.

Carolyn Tischler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tischler of Southmayd and granddaughter of Mrs. Lawrence Vogel of Muenster, is the Valedictorian of the Sadler-Southmayd Junior High School graduating class. She maintained an academic average of 97.7 and was president of the 8th grade class at S&S. Mrs. Marvin Tischler is the former Shirley Vogel of Muenster.

Reiters see Confirmation

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter and son Roger spent the weekend in Houston as guests of a daughter and family, Lu Ann and Paul Kubis and their son Toby.

They went especially to attend Toby's Confirmation Saturday, May 14 during a 1 p.m. Mass in Christ, the Good Shepherd Church in Spring, Texas. A reception followed in the church activity center. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Kubis hosted dinner in their home in Houston.

Attending were Toby's Confirmation sponsor, Ed Szmonia, his wife Pat and their children Sara, Jennie and Mark of Houston; the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter, and Mrs. Albert Kubis of Lindsay; also Mrs. A.J. Felderhoff, Lloyd and Mary Lou Reiter all of Gainesville; Ronnie Felderhoff of Spring, accompanied by a friend; Lynn Joe and Cindy Klement of Houston; Charlie and Peggy Jo Di Stefano and children Julie and Michael of Missouri City, Texas. They also visited in the Di Stefanos' new home.

Lupe continues as PTO president

The emergency care field: challenge and job security

EMT career offers job security

Emergency care teams 'always in demand'

A busy summer could be worth a lifetime of job security for persons looking to begin a career in the opportunity-filled area of emergency medical care.

So says Glenn Pratt of Cooke County College in announcing that students can complete the school's program of training for emergency medical technicians (EMTs) this summer and be ready to go to work by the fall.

The basic EMT course involves 12 weeks of training, encompassing both sessions of the upcoming summer term at CCC. Registration for the first session of summer school is scheduled for May 30 on the CCC campus.

"We're taking a slightly different approach to the basic EMT program this year by accelerating it somewhat," Pratt says, explaining that the course normally is spread over 16 weeks, equal to a regular long semester in the spring or fall.

"Now students can complete the entire program in the summer, earning 11 hours of college credit, and qualifying to take state and national certification exams," he says.

Pratt, director of CCC's Paramedicine Department, says that certified EMTs are needed in a number of different areas, including ambulance services, fire departments, police departments and even in private industry.

"Also, the need for immediate emergency medical care is one thing that isn't affected by fluctuations in the national economy," he reports. "Trained emergency medical personnel will always be in demand."

Indications are strong that employment opportunities for qualified personnel in this highly specialized field will continue to grow because of increasing public demand that high quality emergency medical services be made available.

"One of the most beneficial aspects of our program here at CCC," Pratt says, "is that it's structured to offer students a practical progression in regard to acquiring skills for which they can be certified and qualify for employment while still working toward higher-level certification."

"For example, students who complete the basic EMT program this summer will have also completed the first semester of our two-year associate degree program in paramedicine."

Career-minded students, he adds, can be working as an EMT while continuing their studies to become certified paramedics. This additional training, plus the associate degree, can profoundly increase their earning potential as well as their demand in the job market.

Instruction for the basic EMT program this summer will be focused in three primary areas including paramedic theory and skills, paramedic practicum (skills practice) and medical terminology. Also included will be intensive sessions relating to disaster situations and extrication of victims from wrecked vehicles.

In addition, a clinical rotation will be required, with students gaining practical, on-the-job experience and training at ambulance services and hospital emergency rooms around the area.

Cost of participation in the program, including tuition (for Cooke County residents), books and assorted fees is approximately $170. For out-of-county Texas residents and for residents of

Careers in the Emergency Care Field offer a great deal of job security, and persons who may be interested in that field will have the opportunity to pursue it this summer as Cooke County College offers instruction toward certification as an

NTSU will repeat children's summer theater

Winnie the Pooh has had such fun at NTSU that he will make a return visit this summer.

"The House at Pooh Corner," a production of Children's Theater Company of the North Texas State University Drama Division, will be presented on two Saturday afternoons, June 18 and June 25, in the Studio Theater of the NTSU Speech and Drama Building.

Dr. Ralph Culp, director of the Children's Theater Company, which is a part of the NTSU Summer Repertory Company, said Tigger will join the same cast of characters featured in "Winnie the Pooh," a highly successful production two years ago.

During the week between the two productions, "The House at Pooh Corner" will go on the road, visiting day care centers, camps and other places where groups of children can be found during school vacation.

"With transportation costs what they are today, it is much cheaper and easier for us to go to our audience than for the children to come to us," said Culp. He asks that anyone interested in sponsoring a performance of "The House at Pooh Corner" call him at 817/565-2560.

"We will perform anywhere we can get to, perform, and get back from in time for rehearsals," he explained, noting the same actors in the children's theater group will be performing in works for older audiences at the same time at NTSU. Therefore, Culp asks that no performances be requested for later than 4 p.m.

Six Flags will feature Chicago

The musical group Chicago brings their jazzy rock sound to Six Flags Over Texas Sunday, May 29.

The seven-member band has been a fixture in contemporary music for more than a decade, having produced such classics as "Saturday In The Park," "Baby, What A Big Surprise," "Wishing You Were Here" and "Feelin' Stronger Every Day."

Their more recent successes have come from their single release "Hard To Say I'm Sorry" and the album "Chicago XVI."

Chicago's Six Flags performance is set for 8:30 p.m. in the theme park's Festival Concert Pavilion. Seating will be on a paved surface and park guests are encouraged to bring their own blankets or cushions for the show.

There will be a $2 extra charge for the concert over the standard park ticket price of $12.95. Children age five and under are not charged the additional concert fee.

Seating will be on a first-come-first-served basis.

Park operating hours will be 10 a.m. until 11 p.m.

Focus on the past

Mr. and Mrs. John Herr were early day residents of Muenster; they were parents of fourteen children, 13 shown in this Photo From The Past, shared with readers by Mrs. Arnold Schilling, a granddaughter. Encircling the parents, John and Barbara, beginning with the little girl at center from are Catherine, (Mrs. John Corcoran); Paul Herr; Joe Herr; Margaret (Mrs. Richard Hennigan); Rose (Mrs. Theo Miller); Angeline (Mrs. Matt Muller); Bertha (Mrs. Joe Schnitker); Frank Herr; Clara (Mrs. Ben Bengfort); Frances Herr; Leo Herr; Bill Herr; Mary (Mrs. Al Schnitker). Bertha Schnitker, an accomplished seamstress, sewed all of the dresses and shirts for this picture. Adolph Herr of Arlington, born several years after the portrait was made, and his brother Joe Herr also of Arlington, and their sisters Margaret of Oklahoma and Mary of Pottsboro are the only surviving family members. The annual Herr-Muller family reunion on May 29 is regularly attended by more than 150 descendants.

3rd, 4th graders give performance

Parents and friends had a great time watching a performance of songs, dances and antics presented Thursday, April 28 in the Muenster Public School Auditorium by 72 third and fourth grade students of Mrs. Rosemary Dankesreiter. The students of the Elementary Music Dept. enjoyed the show too, evidenced by their enthusiasm. Third graders: boys in western wear, boots and cowboy hats, and girls in prairie dresses and bonnets presented a Country/Western program. Fourth graders in native costumes of ten countries sang songs from around the world representing Jamaica, Israel, England, France, Czechoslovakia, Arabia, Denmark, Scotland, Germany and the United States of America. Students accompanied themselves with rhythm instruments and Mrs. Dankesreiter played the piano. In these pictures, from upper left, clockwise are 3rd graders Cheryl Hacker, Dee Ann Hamilton and Jennifer Lippe; and Chad Simmons, Kenneth Walterscheid and Chris Kubis. # Knackwurst LB. $1<sup>99</sup>

KNACKWURST: a mild seasoned, lightly smoked beef & pork link. It has its name from the German word "Knackig", meaning in English "Snappy". It should be properly heated in water to approx. 130 degree F. for 10 minutes. It will taste its best with hot German potato salad for lunch or with cold potato salad & mustard for supper. For your children you can put it on a hot dog bun with all the trimmings. Because of its mild seasoning & moderately fine emulsion, it is very good for small children. All our products are all-meat - no cereals or other fillers added. We are state inspected. If you have any questions about our products, how to prepare them or what to serve with them, just ask for Helmut, our German sausage maker at the meat market. He will be more than happy to assist you!

Forestburg News

By Kyura Orrell

Congratulations to Diane Steadham of Forestburg who graduated Saturday night with a Bachelor of Home Economics degree from North Texas State University in Denton. Diane majored in food and nutrition and is currently employed at the medical clinic in Denton.

Passing through the Burg on their way to Wyoming for the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grisham of Marble Falls spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ensey.

"Get well soon" are extended this week to Mollie Moore who is in the Gainesville hospital; Lizzie Gardener, Okla. and Irene Harry, Munster hospital. Our thoughts go out to these ladies in hopes that they will be up and around soon.

An auction is scheduled for next Saturday. Shirley Lanier is planning a sale and the homemakers will be selling goodies at their concession during the sale.

"Now begins the rest of our lives," the speaker said at the Forestburg FFA Chapter Parent-Member Banquet last Thursday night in the school gym. The program included awards for the year's service and a slide show of the activities and the students accomplishments. The speaker, Anthony O'Hanlan, Area V vice-president, emphasized the importance of youth in our society and spoke on the benefits of making the best out of a situation and taking it in stride to attain our goals.

Okay all you little longhorns, pre-registration for the 1983-84 kindergarten class will be held Wednesday and Thursday morning in the school.

Last week, Burg's Junior High boys were proclaimed county champs in a county volleyball tournament held in Prairie Valley.

Like they say, time flies when you're having fun! Best wishes to Jewel and Carroll Dill who will be celebrating their 31st wedding anniversary Tuesday May 17.

The Dawson Ensey's sister and her family Mr. and Mrs. Eldreth Landers of Altus, Okla. visited over the weekend.

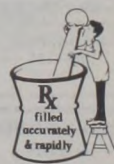

Myrt and Perryman Denham, Millie Reynolds of Dewey, Mrs. Joe Denham of Bowie all made a business trip Friday to Wichita Falls. Once in WF, Millie and Joe visited with their brother Bailey Perryman and his family.

May 11, Vera Mae McGee attended the funeral of Bill Magee in Nocona. Magee was the son of the late Bernam and Bill Magee of Montague.

Vera Mae was also visited by her granddaughter and her husband, Jeff and Christie McWilliams of Wichita Falls on the following Saturday.

Services for Joe Brown of Leo were held Monday afternoon in the Vernie Keel Funeral Chapel of Gainesville. Burial will be in the Rosston Cemetery. This is a great loss for both the Burg and Rosston communities.

IN THANKS

The family of Mrs. Angeline Muller thanks all who so kindly offered sympathetic words, sent cards, flowers and food following the funeral of our mother. We are deeply grateful for the skilled care she received during her long illness, especially we thank Dr. Antonetti, the priests who ministered to her, and the nursing staff at St. Richard's and the Muenster Hospital. Those who prepared and served the family meal and the Knights of Columbus who furnished the hall deserve special thanks.

Angeline's children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren

Thanks A Million! from my family and me to the many relatives and friends who remembered me with visits, flowers, cards and prayers during my four months of hospitalization. It is great to be home!

Gilbert Endres

To All My Friends and Relatives

Thank you for all the loving support and caring attitudes you have shown me through the years. God used you and your influences on my life to carry me a long way and make me what I am today. Because of your roles in my life, I want to extend to you a "most special welcome" to my wedding. If you are unable to attend, please be with Todd and me in thought and prayer. Thanks again, with all sincerity, for being who you are to me. I love you.

County Agent's Report

Cabbage loopers, cabbage worms, and other foliage eating worms are causing gardeners real problems this year just as they do every year. Loopers can be easily identified. The loopers are light green caterpillars with a few pale yellow stripes. They travel with a characteristic looping motion. Cabbage loopers are very destructive and can strip plants like cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, lettuce, and brussels sprouts in a short period of time. Look on the underside of cabbage leaves for worm presence if you suspect damage.

Gardeners needing an effective weapon in the war against these caterpillars have a good choice in B.T. B.T. (Bacillus thuringiensis) is a biological type of insecticide that only affects caterpillars. Only susceptible caterpillars have the necessary combination of high pH, salts and enzymes in their digestive system needed to activate B.T. When ingested, B.T. produces a toxic substance within the cells of its victim. Gut paralysis occurs and feeding stops immediately. Eventually, the bacteria breaks down the gut wall and contamination leaks into the caterpillar's body cavity, causing death of the loopers and worms.

Because caterpillars lack an effective immunity system, they will not develop resistance to B.T. Caterpillars that may survive usually starve, fail to pupate, become more susceptible to other pathogens or harsh climatic factors, and have trouble reproducing.

B.T. is biodegradable in the environment and is rapidly inactivated in soil below pH 5.1 and by rainfall, exposure to sunlight and, in some cases, the type of foliage on which it is sprayed. It may remain effective for as long as 22 days or as little as 24 hours, depending on the conditions mentioned.

B.T. is available in local nurseries as Thuricide, Dipel, Bactur, Biological Worm Control, Leptox, SOK, Novabac or Tribacture. Add a teaspoon of liquid soap per gallon of spray mix to allow the B.T. product to spread more evenly on plant surfaces. In comprehensive spray programs on some crops, repeat applications at regular intervals.

B.T. is a safe and effective insecticide. B.T. does not have any of the hazards normally associated with chemical insecticides.

This past week we were in some wheat and oat fields and noticed several problems. Some wheat and oat fields have dead or stunted areas. Greenbugs didn't cause us much damage this year in stress to plants that we usually associate with greenbug infestations. However, they did spread a disease that is showing up now in oat and wheat fields.

Barley Yellow Dwarf Virus is affecting both wheat and oats. It is characterized by stunted areas that are anywhere from the size of a pickup bed to 1/8 acre. The virus is transmitted by greenbugs and the random spotting in fields is due to hotspots of greenbugs that were in the fields. Control is difficult in that producers must control the insect populations. However, plants will produce grain, but the production is reduced.

Another disease that resembles the virus in first appearance is a fungal disease called foot rot or crown rot. In this disease the plant is killed due to the rotting of the stalk just above the root system. In most cases the head will appear but the grain will not develop. The fungus overwinters on straw, and residue. Management or rotation is the best control. This disease can be identified on plants by pulling up the plant and pull the old leaf sheaths away from the base of the plant. Look at the stem and if crown rot is the problem, the stem will appear black above the root system.

The Weedmaster® herbicide advantage: More grass for your cattle, without ragweed.

Put the power of your pasture into raising cattle, not weeds.

Cattle don't get the nutrition they need from weeds. Weeds are low in TDN. Some are poisonous. And some cause illness, even death. They're tough on your pasture too. Weeds take up space and sunlight. Rob valuable moisture and nutrients from high-energy forage grasses.

That's where Weedmaster® herbicide comes in. It penetrates weed leaves. Is absorbed by the roots. Moves throughout the plant for control of a wide spectrum of broadleaf weeds. Including annuals, biennials, perennials and woody species.

Used according to label directions, Weedmaster herbicide knocks out many of your toughest broadleaf weed problems in pasture: ragweed, broomweed and many more.

With weeds out of the way, forage grasses flourish. The carrying capacity of your pasture increases. And that means more beef production per acre.

Ask your ag chem dealer for effective pasture weed control. And increase the carrying capacity of your pasture. Ask for Weedmaster herbicide.

Achievers honored at MHS awards banquet

Excellence in studies and sports at Muenster High School during the past year was recognized last Friday in the school's annual awards banquet in the MHS gym sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization.

In the most eagerly awaited announcement of the event, Joe Hennigan received the Hornet Hustler award, the school's most coveted sports prize. He participated in football, track, baseball and golf. Coach Leonard Peters, in making the presentation, said the principal factors considered in the selection are attitude, dedication, hard work, cooperation, leadership and a willingness to give more than 100 percent toward the team effort. But those qualities apply also to a number of other athletes, hence the selection, as usual, was difficult.

Another high spot on the program was spontaneous, an all-around surprise, and a brand new departure from the traditional program. It was a message of recognition by Superintendent Charles Coffey citing R.N. Fette for many years of pleasant relations with the school. Mr. Coffey was generous in attributing merit and summarized that the person is a conservative, a perpetual optimist, a dedicated worker and a proud supporter of the community and the schools.

Concerning the athletic program, Coaches Peters, Gustine and Meurer introduced the players of their respective teams and individual and team records. In the latter respect their messages were similar ... that MHS teams, though mostly ignored in early ratings turned out to be competitive and a credit to the school.

Other introductions by teachers recognized organizations such as FFA, FFA, Band, Cheerleaders, National Honor Society, National Junior Honor Society, Los Jovenos Society and the class officers.

Also identified were all who participated in UIL literary activity with praise for students and teachers who gave generously of their time and energy, especially those who helped toward the school's rating.

As always, audience interest was high for the annual Who's Who presentations identifying the leading scholastic students. In the process Principal Green identified the three nominees for each department award and Superintendent Coffey named the award winner. In this listing the winners are named in capital letters and the other nominees in lower case.

The program opened with remarks by Lupe Evans, PTO president, then an invocation by Brent McElreath, music by the Hornet Band, a welcome message by Lupe Evans and response by Greg Luke, after which Mrs. Evans introduced Doris Felderhoff as mistress of ceremonies.

Miss Felderhoff, a graduate of MHS and Stephen F. Austin University, with an outstanding record as a basketball player and coach, said she knows from experience that success in sports as in other endeavors requires hard work and dedication plus more than 100 percent of effort. The same applies in studies and other interests. People who get ahead are those who really work at it.

Other speakers were Superintendent Coffey praising teachers and students for a gratifying and pleasant school year, and parents for their cooperation in the school program.

And D.J. Hellman as president of the school board expressed his pride in the overall record of the past year. He praised students for their academic and athletic achievements, the faculty for dedicated guidance and hard work. The PTO for full time cooperation and especially for the awards banquet, and all who had a part in the school's physical and curricular progress.

These eleven students were the winners of seventeen awards at the MHS awards banquet last week. They are: front, Kevin Felderhoff, Shelly Zimmerer (3 awards), Renate Hess, Connie Lutkenhaus and Tom Youngblood; back, Joe Hennigan, Jeff Fisher, Garland Tate, Stephen Vogel, Brent McElreath (3 awards) and Chris Rohmer (3 awards).

He intends to attend the Webelos day camp at Hills and Hollows June 13-17 as a staff member.

The Webelos stage of scouting is the step leading to Boy Scouts and the first change is a male leader. Mr. Parton said he will be working with the boys during the summer and the first meeting will be Thursday, May 26, 7 p.m.

The Webelos are Brad, son of Robert and Judy McDaniel; Terry, son of Frank and Eleanor Felderhoff; Ryan, son of Jim and Cindy Gehrig; Brian, son of Roy and Paula Reiter; Raymond, son of Rick and Laura Stewart; Kelly, son of Gerri Colwell; and Douglas son of Lupe Evans. ## Scout plans told for May, June

A week long summer camp tops the May and June activity scheduled for the Muenster Boy Scouts. It will be at Camp Grayson, Lake Texoma, which is operated by the Texoma Valley Boy Scout Council. Boys will leave here at noon on June 5 and return at noon June 11.

Before leaving boys must have medical exam reports from their doctors plus a complete uniform and two pairs shoes in addition to articles listed as necessary or desirable for camp.

An earlier event is a weekend camp out May 21 and 22 at Jimmy Jack Bif-file's place north of Saint Jo and a later event is a court of honor at the city park pavilion on June 27.

The Scout summer camp is funded in great part by proceeds earned by the boys at their Germanfest booth, which was again rated as a successful project. Some items of equipment and expense provided by the project are canoes, tents, cooking gear, bus maintenance and insurance, retreat registration and summer camp fees. Parents are expected to help generously with all projects.

IF IT'S TIME TO REPLACE YOUR CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONER, DON'T WASTE YOUR ENERGY.

Not all central air conditioners are energy efficient. Some are just as inefficient as the ones built twenty years ago. But if you buy a high efficiency air conditioner, you'll save money in the long run on operating costs.

And buying an energy efficient air conditioner could also earn you a bonus from Texas Power & Light. Just buy a central air conditioner with the qualifying SEER* and we'll send you a check worth at least $40 per ton of capacity.

So now, buying an energy efficient unit will save you money in two ways. First, with lower operating costs. And second, with TP&L's bonus check.

For more information about our Bonus Program, give the energy experts at TP&L a call. The sooner you do, the sooner you'll enjoy lower cooling costs and get a bonus check on top of it.

In March he participated in the Texas Junior College Speech and Theatre association State Forensic Meet in Athens, Texas and was awarded two certificates of merit: an "Excellent" for prose interpretation and a "Superior" for group improvisation. He also competed in Reader's Theatre and duet acting.

On March 28, Lyle Huchton performed at the Fine Arts Showcase, held in honor of students who showed outstanding achievement in speech, drama, music and art.

Lyle is a second semester freshman with a 3.0 grade point average in a possible 4.0 and is a graduate of Muenster High School. ## Future Homemakers complete year

Plans for activities nearing the close of the school year occupied members of the FHA during their meeting on April 26.

Items considered were the cost of the annual banquet planned for May 17, and the upcoming field trip, and officer elections.

Members were delighted by a program presented by Mrs. Juanita Bright, an independent color consultant. She explained and demonstrated how analysis is made of a person's skin tones, and hair and eye color, to determine where a person fits in nature's color scheme, to assist in creating a wardrobe that is both flattering and functional.

Dora Sicking presided for the business meeting and led the opening and closing ceremonies and Renate Hess gave the treasurer's report.
