MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XLVIII NOVEMBER 25, 1983 MUENSTER COOKE COUNTY TEXAS 76252 USPS 367-660 TWENTY CENTS NUMBER 1

As Americans and as members of the Enterprise staff, the arrival of Thanksgiving is a happy occasion for us. Not only is it a national holiday proclaiming our thanks to Almighty God for another year of spiritual and physical blessings, but it is also the anniversary of the nation's discovery that the key to its destiny was in adopting the free enterprise way of living.

As regards the Enterprise, this is a happy birthday. Volume 1, No. 1, was published on Thanksgiving day of the Texas Centennial Year, 1936. The beginning was humble in the latter days of the great depression, but despite economic woes, it persisted in its aim of publishing a paper which is a credit to the community. That standard of quality has continued through the years as the Enterprise was recognized as a worthy representative of Muenster.

For this blessing we are grateful again. We thank Almighty God for a vast assortment of favors, such as the privilege of living in a thriving community and the opportunity to live and advance with it. We appreciate our patrons who have been generous as subscribers, advertisers, and printing customers as well as cooperation in supplying news items. We are grateful for capable and dedicated employees through the years. And, as the founder, the writer now extends special thanks to family members whose talents and energies stand out as valued assets of the paper. Finally, thanks are especially due for God's sustaining personal help through the years. All of those factors combine in making this a happy birthday for us.

As regards the national occasion of Thanksgiving, our first thought is to be grateful for being the most fortunate people on earth. Primarily, we have freedom. Being responsible only to God, we can do as we wish, say what we wish, go as we wish and worship as we wish. No one anywhere enjoys a greater degree of personal freedom than we do. Furthermore, political bosses do not tell us how we have to make a living.

Unfortunately, that's not how it was in the early colonial days. Settlers coming to America in 1620 operated under an agreement known as the Mayflower Pact. Their system was that all would work together in providing necessities for the colony, and all would draw on the community for the items they needed. They were applying the well-known Marxist slogan "from each according to his ability and to each according to his need." The program worked fine for a while, but then some people got lazy, realizing they could shirk the job and still collect their share. Soon others discovered what was going on, and decided they too would claim their share without doing their part. Warehouse supplies failed to meet the area need. People were in severe economic distress.

Governor Bradford, aware of the socialistic nature of the problem, then proposed a solution. People were to go on producing as

LET US GIVE THANKS

Let us recall the spirit and meaning of earlier Thanksgivings. Their lives were much more difficult yet they were extremely thankful for their blessings. We join with earlier Americans and add our voices to theirs to give thanks for the abundance, good health and happiness we have received.

KC memorial set for Sunday

Annual memorial service for deceased members of the Muenster Knights of Columbus will be held next Sunday, November 27, in the KC hall beginning at 7:30 p.m. The service will include a Mass which can be regarded as meeting the regular Sunday obligation of attending Mass. The council invites widows and children of departed members to join the ceremony and especially urges the present membership to attend as a tribute to former brothers.

Plans complete for Thanksgiving service, picnic

Committees and workers have been buzzing for weeks getting set for the annual Thanksgiving dinner and picnic sponsored by Sacred Heart parish.

The Turkey Day observance begins with the traditional Mass and special Thanksgiving liturgy at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church.

It will be served at 11:30 to 2 o'clock at $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12. More food, snacks and drinks will be available the rest of the day: barbecue sandwiches, nachos, light supper, soft drinks and beer.

Other activity includes a wide range of entertainment and sales: games, arts and crafts, country store, cake walk, homemade candies and cakes, and hopefully the Cowboys on TV.

Co-chairmen of the big event are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hess and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knabe. Their assistants are Nellie Martin, Jim Gehrig, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Knabe, Janet Barnhill, Peggy Grewing, Mrs. Brent Hess, Carol Fleitman, KC Council, Angelo Nasche, Wilfred Bindel, Gertie Wimmer, Debbie Hess, Mary Bayer, Donna Bayer, Raymond Walterscheid, Hildegard Swirczynski, Monica Hartman, Mrs. Bobby Knauf, Alvin Fuhrman.

Saturday parade opens Christmasfest

Like the little elves bustling around Santa's workshop, Muensterites have been preparing for the Saturday opening of Christmasfest, the event billed by the local Chamber of Commerce as the Chamber's biggest undertaking of the year other than Germanfest.

Under leadership of David Fette, the Chamber committee has filled the Mid-Park with cedar trees that will sparkle during the holiday season. The Jaycees have set up their annual large Christmas tree and added a manger scene. On one of the special Thursday evenings, TIA will team up for a live nativity scene.

A large stage has been installed among the Christmas trees to be used for all the activities and entertainment, beginning Saturday and carried on each Thursday evening when stores will be open late for the convenience of Christmas shoppers. A stroll through the park will find a few large Christmas cards with seasonal greetings.

The big starting events Saturday, are the two parades — Mini-Parade at 11 a.m. on Main Street and R.N. Fette, editor of the Enterprise since 1936, was presented Tuesday with a ribbon signifying him as 1983 Christmas Parade Marshal. This is the first year local residents had the opportunity to cast votes to choose a parade marshal. The presentation was made by Daryl Ferber, parade chairman.

the Main Parade at 1 p.m.

Any children wishing to participate in the Mini-Parade must be on Main Street in the roped-off area between 10:30 and 10:45, ready to begin at 11 sharp.

The Main Parade lines up on Mesquite Street where floats will be judged by 12-12:30; others by 12:45 so the parade can begin by 1.

Those who have not registered as yet, are urged to call either the Chamber office at 759-2227 or Daryl Ferber at 759-2838.

The stage at Mid-Park will be the center of activity at 3 p.m. Saturday, when the first of several shopping spree drawings will be held. The first drawing will be for $500.

Christmas arts and crafts, like those pictured here, will be among the many attractions at this year's Thanksgiving picnic at the Sacred Heart Community Center.

United Way goal topped by $700

Muenster's United Way drive went over the top by more than $700, according to Community Chairman Sharon Wolf last week as she reported to Marsha Day, secretary of the county-wide drive. The community's goal was $6,000 and the amount donated was $6,733. The community's donation in 1982 was $5,071. In the name of UW, Sharon Wolf thanks all who gave and specially emphasized their generosity, "which speaks very well for the community." Local campaign helpers were Virgil Henscheid, Debbie Klement, Diane Walterscheid, Mark Klement, Dolphy Joe Hellman, Kenneth Selby and Rita Russell. Following receipt of remittances from other divisions of the county campaign, the UW headquarters reported it was nearing its goal and called a victory luncheon Friday to recognize the several campaign chairmen. At that time it was announced that the goal was $111,635, the total of funds allocated for participating agencies, and the amount turned in to date was $110,949.40. The goal was expected to be topped in a few days.

Of the county total Muenster Youth Council is due to receive $4,500 and it is also due to share in funds destined for other organizations such as Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, 4-H and FFA and Gainesville Boys Club.

After it sinks in

SATURDAY, AS I stood at the front door of the home where my grandparents used to live, I watched as the bulk of their worldly possessions were put up for sale to the highest bidder.

"Life goes on," my aunt said to me as we quietly watched the auction begin. "It sure does," was all I said, not thinking much. It takes some of us a bit longer for things to sink in.

Sunday, as I drove to church services, I stopped to buy a copy of the morning paper. This particular newspaper contained, among numerous other things, reviews of the highly-hyped ABC-TV production of "The Day After" and a huge special report on the events surrounding the assassination of the 35th president of the United States and the effects of the assassination.

I didn't make any immediate connection between the two, I just drove on to church.

During the services, the priest devoted nearly all of his sermon time to the subject of nuclear warfare.

Things were starting to sink in just a bit. I wasn't old enough to understand when JFK was murdered in Dallas twenty years ago last Tuesday, but like many others, my life was affected by the event. It remains affected to this day.

People have speculated ever since that day what this life, this country, this world would be like if Kennedy hadn't been killed. All the speculation doesn't mean much. We can never know what would have happened, we can only know what did happen — life did, in fact, go on.

But while Kennedy was, in fact, assassinated, Lawrence, Kansas was not destroyed by nuclear bombs. Was it mere coincidence that "The Day After" was presented on television at the same time the first part of a three-part series on JFK was shown?

Cities were leveled, human beings vaporized. Life was lost, love was lost. But while "The Day After" was dramatic, it was drama — not documentary.

I awoke Monday morning, looked out the window, and everything was still there — just as it had been before, more or less. Life was continuing; here, at least. The man on the morning radio show seemed to be going out of his way to play cheerful music, as if to say, "Everything's alright." The sun came up this morning and the smart money says it'll do the same thing tomorrow.

Not long ago, I remember, more than 250 U.S. Marines were killed in a suicide attack on their quarters in Lebanon. One of my best friends (whom I later learned was alright) was in Beirut at the time of the attack.

For him, it's back to business as usual these days, as it is for most of us. He still wears his Marine uniform; he still follows orders. We still get up in the mornings and go to our jobs. On the weekends, we go out for movies. We breathe, we eat, we watch TV and we exist.

"Life goes on," she told me.

Certainly, there must have been other times when three simple words combined for such a profound thought. But at the moment, I can't think of any.

What's going on here?

SYRIA IS on the verge of finishing off Yasir Arafat, politically if not physically, and of taking over the Palestine Liberation Organization. Syria last week shot at U.S. planes in Lebanon and bragged about it. And terrorists based in Syria tried to kill Jordanian diplomats in Italy, India and Athens. What's going on here?

What's going on is that Syrian President Hafez el-Assad is showing that his aims are not limited to protecting Syrian influence in neighboring Lebanon.

Assad wants Lebanon, politically if not physically. He apparently wants to occupy the eastern part of the country with his own troops, expel all other foreign forces, especially those of Israel and the United States, and install a government in Beirut that will pay obeisance to Damascus.

Beyond that, he apparently wants to make Syria the most powerful nation in the Arab world, forcing all others to follow his lead — or else.

One might argue, as Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak do, that Assad is a man to be respected and bargained with rather than scorned and encouraged to make alliances with Moscow.

Weinberger fought a furious battle in the National Security Council against his old Bechtel Corporation colleague, Secretary of State George Shultz, over the issue of re-establishing strategic ties with Israel as a response to Syrian expansion in the Mideast.

Publicly, Weinberger still denies that there has been any change in U.S. policy but, in fact, President Reagan sided with Shultz, who then sent Undersecretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger to Jerusalem to begin discussions on how to flesh out the idea of strategic cooperation.

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has recommended that the United States and Israel attack Syrian forces in Lebanon, or pull out, but White House officials say that President Reagan has decided neither to go to war with Syria nor to withdraw.

Instead, the president seems to have decided on a longer-term strategy of containing Syrian and Soviet power in the region by reassembling what's left of the "strategic consensus" policy of former Secretary of State Alexander Haig.

Syria would be on notice that if it goes too far, it will run up against the combined forces of Israel and the United States — as happened in 1970 when Assad's tanks were on the verge of invading Jordan during King Hussein's desperate war with the PLO. Israel massed its tanks as a warning and the United States put ships and planes on alert in Europe and the Mediterranean as a backup for Israel.

There ought to be a diplomatic response to the current Syrian drive for power, but it has to be backed up by the threat of countervailing power. President Assad is a man who understands force and its uses above all. He belongs to a tiny minority sect, the Alewites, yet has installed himself and his co-religionists in top positions by creating a military dictatorship.

When the Syrian city of Hama was the locus of an anti-Alewite uprising, he leveled the town, killing more than 10,000 of his own people.

Syria is now prepared to do the same to the Lebanese city of Tripoli if that is necessary to drive out Yasir Arafat and complete the takeover of the PLO. Americans who condemned Israel last year for hitting civilian targets in Beirut might notice on TV how PLO guns are located inside of and on top of civilian apartments in Tripoli and how Syrian and rebel PLO guns fire at them with impunity and without apology.

Besides the PLO, Syria has been willing to take on the United States and Jordan, too. U.S. reconnaissance planes were fired on and Syria claimed credit — but Defense Secretary Weinberger repeatedly said the United States could not tell who was responsible, so eager is he not to ruffle Assad. White House National Security Adviser Robert McFarlane finally made it clear over the weekend that if such an incident is repeated, the United States will hit back.

Earlier this month, Jordan's King Hussein publicly accused Syria of wanting to create instability in his country by inspiring riots and acts of terrorism. A Palestinian splinter group headquartered in Damascus claimed credit for attacks on Jordanian ambassadors in Europe and India and for planting a bomb in Jordan's capital city of Amman.

All these examples of Syria's aggressiveness offer opportunities to the Reagan administration. With Arafat's PLO about to pass from the scene, Palestinian leaders in the West Bank may be liberated from fear of reprisals for the moment and willing to consider some new arrangements for living with Israel, possibly through a revived Camp David negotiating process.

With Jordan under active threat from Syria, there may be an opening to persuade King Hussein to take advantage of Arafat's demise and reclaim responsibility for the welfare of the Palestinian people and for negotiations on the future of the West Bank. Egypt, Saudi Arabia and all other moderate Arabs are likewise endangered by the Syrian-Soviet axis and may be ready for cooperative moves with Israel.

The Reagan administration is right in responding to Syria by reviving military cooperation with Israel, but it ought to go beyond that and fashion an informal Western alliance grounded on the goals of peace, stability and self-protection.

Real Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING DAY is a national holiday in the United States commemorating the harvest of the Plymouth Colony in 1621. The event followed a winter of great hardship.

When it was first inaugurated, only a few eastern states participated. However, through the effort of Sarah Hale a change was effected. She was fired with the determination of having the whole nation join together in setting apart a national day for giving thanks "unto Him from whom all blessings flow". To this end she resolutely engaged the press with an endless flow of letters and articles to the various newspapers and journals of her time. In addition, she pleaded long and earnestly with three presidents: Fillmore, Pierce, and Buchanan during the period of 1846 through 1856. A small measure of triumph was granted in the year of 1852, when her campaign succeeded in uniting 29 states in marking the last Thursday of November as "Thanksgiving Day".

Then came the dark days of the Civil War. Who would listen to a lone woman with her persistent plea for "just one day of peace amidst the blood and the strife?" One man did; her entreaty won the ear of a great American and in 1863 President Abraham Lincoln officially proclaimed the last Thursday of November as a day set apart for the national giving of thanks unto Almighty God. Lincoln lived to see only two such occasions, but Sarah Hale lived well on into her late 90's, content that her long-cherished hope had at last become a reality.

By the tireless efforts of one person, therefore, the observance of Thanksgiving Day, as a national holiday, became a reality.

For the real meaning of the word Thanksgiving, Christians look to one person, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Because of Him, Thanksgiving is more than a day on a calendar, or more than a day with "turkey and trimmings."

Because of Him, we cry out with praise and worship, "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift" (II Cor. 9:15).

Thanksgiving Day owes much to the love, grace, and mercy of Him who gave Himself on Calvary. He gave up heaven for earth. He gave Himself into the hands of sinful men that He might give out His unfathomable love to all. He gave Himself for us, that there might be forgiveness for sin. He gave, and gave, and gave, and finally on the Cross He cried out, "It is finished" (John 19:30).

On this day of remembrance, do you know Him personally? His has been the "giving". Through repentance and faith in Christ's work on the Cross, you may become God's child and thereby be able to offer true thanks...giving. He is waiting for your word of thanks by your heartfelt confession, "God be merciful to me a sinner" (Luke 18:13).

Real Thanksgiving is to experience His salvation throughout all the days whatever be their substance or fortune. It is the person transformed by grace divine — who can be truly thankful.

The media earned it

I'M SORRY, but I just can't seem to fall into a paroxysm of anger over the Reagan administration's "censorship" of the invasion of Grenada. And, if the press is smart, it would cut out the grousing. Because all of the complaining just might cause people to begin asking themselves WHY the President refused to let reporters hit the beaches with our troops.

We've been hearing a lot about how the administration's "insidious" gag on press coverage runs contrary to a 200-year tradition of battle-front reporting by our media. Well, maybe it does. But the Reagan administration wasn't the first to rupture that noble tradition. The press was.

Quite frankly, I'm sure the President would have welcomed coverage by journalists of the calibre of those who covered World War II. People like Andy Tully, the first U.S. reporter to enter Berlin, and the incomparable Ernie Pyle. Good battlefront journalism can help short up the homefront during a crisis, and build the nation's morale and will to win.

But that kind of journalism is as dead as a doornail. I think a legitimate case can be made for excluding today's media from actions like the liberation of Grenada. And that reason is, quite frankly, that many of today's journalists appear not to be on the same side as our Marines.

Now, I'm not saying that they're siding with America's enemies. I'm just saying that network news reporters and most of the nation's prestige press don't side with the United States. They have opted instead for a queer "neutrality" which they believe is objectivity. They think this serves the cause of truth. But in reality, it undermines the cause of freedom.

This first surfaced in Vietnam. The end result was the defeat of the United States, not at the hands of a third-rate Asian power, but on the homefront. We lost our will.

We are seeing further manifestations of this neutrality mindset in the coverage of Central America, Lebanon, and most recently, Grenada.

The entire thrust of the coverage seems designed to cast mistrust on the pronouncements of the administration and military authorities, while often accepting at face value the claims of administration opponents, and the enemy nation and its supporters.

For example, throughout the entire Grenada operation, many in the media constantly referred to the Cubans fighting our troops as "workers," even though the organized resistance they mounted illustrated they were part of a military force. Rather than simply reporting that the administration considered the Cubans soldiers, they used terms like "the Reagan administration alleges..." to cast doubt.

In another instance, a network evening news broadcast contained a report on the Cuban and Soviet arms cache found on the island. While the camera panned a warehouse loaded with arms destined for Communist guerrillas in Central America, the correspondent took issue with the administration's phrase that the warehouse was "filled to the rafters" with arms. Though the warehouse contained a staggering amount of weapons, the correspondent quibbled, it wasn't "filled to the rafters" since the boxloads of arms didn't reach all the way to the roof. He didn't bother to touch on the real issue of the story — which was why the Cubans had stockpiled the arsenal in the first place.

The operational thought pattern at work among our media seems to be, "If it walks like a duck, quacks like a duck, and our government says it's a duck, it must be an oak tree."

Let Sam Donaldson, John Chancellor, and Dan Rather stew. They've earned it.

CCC looking to enroll older students

College isn't just for young people anymore — all ages are pouring into the classroom. And experience is showing that the older student may even have a better realization of the importance of the information learned and where to channel it.

"Becoming a student again: What You Need to Know About Going to College (even if you've been away from the classroom for years)" is the topic of discussion for a special workshop by Cooke County College (CCC) to be held in the Conference Room at CCC December 1 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., free of charge. CCC is located southwest of I-35 on Highway 51, Gainesville.

"It's never too late for a second chance" is the focus of the workshop for persons seeking a college education and professional career. "We're offering the program in response to a demand from people in our service area said Linda Mast, Outreach counselor at the college and speaker for the workshop. "It's important to give people, who are dissatisfied where they are, encouragement and support in making a (career) decision" said Mast. We are sometimes afraid to make a change even though we see the change as necessary."

Statements such as "If I'd only stayed in college," or "If only I'd gone on to college," are being heard more and more often from persons facing the harsh realities of today's increasingly competitive job market, according to sponsors of the workshop. Sponsors say landing a high-paying, satisfying career position is hard enough even for those who do have the right education and training, but for those who don't, the situation can seem hopeless.

The workshop will answer questions about how to work out conflicts between class schedules and family and parenting responsibilities, how to continue working while going to school, financial help and answers to fears about keeping up with younger classmates.

Topics covered will include career planning, student financial aid, college registration, personal and academic counseling, vocational-technical training, non-traditional career, stress management and others. "Pack Your Own Chute," a film about conquering fear, the greatest obstacle to decision-making and success, will be shown.

Three members of the Cooke County College professional staff will be conducting the workshop. They are Dr. Eddie C. Hadlock, Dean of Continuing Education; Linda Mast, Outreach Counselor; and Dorreice Leander, Counselor. The presentees are members of several professional education associations and are well known for their effective, entertaining and educational workshops for prospective college students.

Dr. Hadlock explains that too many persons who dropped out of either high school or college early feel they've missed their chance — that it's too late to make up for lost time. But he emphasizes that it doesn't make much difference how old a person may be or how long it has been since he or she was in school. According to the registrar at CCC in Gainesville, more than 40 percent of the students are over 25 years of age.

Ms. Leander says that women who are single may be particularly concerned about time for school and the consideration of cost. But the counselors want to relay a message at the workshop that returning to school is less stressful, less expensive and less of a hassle than most people fear.

Registration ahead time is not necessary, but interested persons may call (817) 668-7731, extension 215, for more information.

Hofbauer's, Fischer's to be serviced by new facility

Affiliated Food Stores, Inc. has announced the move of their warehouse and corporate offices to their new distribution center located near Keller, Texas, in December of 1983. The Affiliated warehouse is currently located at 9001 Ambassador Row, Dallas, and serves over 630 member stores from its present facility, including Hofbauer's and Fischer's Meat Market in Muenster.

Affiliated Food Stores began in 1946, as a retailer owned cooperative, founded by J.D. Simril, with a nucleus of fifty independent grocers. Affiliated has utilized its present facility since 1955. Nat Gibbs became general manager of the company in 1966, and is currently serving as general manager and chairman of the board.

The company purchased 300 acres of land at Highway 377 and Wall-Price-Keller Road near Keller. Construction is in its final stages on the 1,000,000 sq. ft. distribution center which is scheduled for completion in December. The new distribution center was designed to serve the firm's needs through 1997 by Food Plant Engineering, Inc., of Yakima, Washington.

The new facility will have several new features in concept and design. These features include the overall plant layout, new concepts of merchandise handling and a new energy management control system to utilize much of the normally wasted heat. The freezer area covers eighty-eight thousand sq. ft. and will be maintained at minus ten degrees. The meat room will cover 17,000 sq. ft. and will have floor racks that allow stacking on one side and selection on the other side.

The new facility has the most modern fire protection system in the area. Six-hundred and fifty thousand gallons of water are available to the system.

ting in the U.S. The continuing answer is that it continues failing whenever it is established anywhere on earth. The Reds aren't self supporting. Their way is to depend on free countries for billions of food needed annually to make up for their shortage.

Terrye Flusche, Mark Felderhoff exchange vows in 2-ring ceremony

Terrye Flusche became the bride of Mark Felderhoff in a formal, double ring recitation of vows with Nuptial Mass celebrated in Sacred Heart Church by Father Victor Gillespie on Saturday, Nov. 19 at 5 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. David A. Flusche, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Felderhoff, all of Muenster.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Sacred Heart High School, attended Grayson County College one year and is a student at Cooke County College and is employed at Muenster Memorial Hospital. The groom is a 1980 graduate of Muenster High School and is attending North Texas State University majoring in computer programming. He is also employed by Sulak Construction Co.

Presented by her father before an altar decorated with candelabra holding lighted tapers and burgundy bows, and altar arrangements of gladioli, the bride was wearing a formal gown designed with wedding ring collar over dropped shoulders and a deep yoke of embroidered Schiffli lace. The bodice was accented with a Chantilly lace ruffle edging the yoke and long, bishop sleeves of Chantilly lace. The fitted lace bodice met the four-tiered lace skirt at a natural waistline. An elegant detail of lace ruffles and a rosette of white satin ribbon accented the skirt above multi rows of lace, which swept into an aisle-wide train.

Her white lace hat held an illusion veil. The bridal bouquet held three white orchids, white rosebuds and tiny burgundy and rose carnations, entwined with a rosary.

The bride carried a handkerchief formerly belonging to her late great-grandmother Una Whitman of Garland, and she borrowed a diamond necklace from her mother.

Attendants

Missy Dangelmayr was her sister's matron of honor. Brenda Richey and Donna Biffle of Muenster, friends and classmates of the bride and Kami Whitman a cousin, of Rockwall were bridesmaids.

They wore burgundy chiffon full length dresses designed with drop shoulder bodices, fitted waistlines with burgundy ribbon sashes and four-tiered ruffled skirts. They carried white lace fans enhanced with burgundy flowers.

Holly Fuhrmann, niece of the groom was flower girl; Josh Trevathan and Ray Felderhoff, nephews of the groom were ring bearers.

Robert Weinzapfel, friend and classmate of the groom was his best man. John Klement and Tim Hermes, friends of the groom and David Flusche, Jr., brother of the bride, all of Muenster were groomsmen.

Neal Flusche and Shawn Flusche, bride's brothers of Muenster, John Felderhoff of Garland and Tim Felderhoff, both brothers of the groom, Kenny Felderhoff a cousin and Todd Richey a friend, all of Muenster were ushers.

Terry Felderhoff, groom's brother and Jeff Hellman were Mass servers and Reese Whitman carried the Unity candle.

Wedding music by Ruth Felderhoff organist, and Doug and Lynda Yosten, Christi Klement, Susan Metzler and Linda Flusche vocalists, included favorite selections chosen by the couple and traditional processional and recessional.

Reception

A reception followed in the Community Center, hosted by parents of the couple, Dave and Wanda Flusche, and Frank and Eleanore Felderhoff.

Janet Pagel of Valley View presided at the guest book. Dinner was catered by Ed and Ginny Schneider.

All flowers and decorations were made by the bride, her sister and her mother. The main table was covered with light burgundy cloths, and held two baskets of flowers in the bride's colors, and burgundy and pink candles. Guest tables held white cloths, baskets of burgundy, pink and blue flowers and white ceramic doves holding votive candles.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the home of Tim and Ramona Felderhoff.

Pre-nuptial parties included a shower hosted by Rita Whitman in Rockwall, a shower given by Judy Flusche at Muenster Memorial Hospital and a shower given by bridesmaids in the Ervin Henscheid home.

Heritage Society meets, reviews fund-raising

The board of directors of the Cooke County Heritage Society met at Morton Museum Monday, November 14, with President W.R. (Bill) Patterson, presiding. Patty Haayen, chairman of the Christmas Store committee, reported on progress being made by selling hand-made items at Morton Museum, adding that the gift-wrapping service would be started on November 25. The board approved the committee's recommendation that similar activities be planned for next year.

Margaret Hays, director of the society, reported that the Oral History Project, of which Mrs. Anne Woods is chairman, is making tape recordings of senior citizens in the community. She also reported that during the past month, two groups — senior citizens from Wichita Falls, and high school seniors from Aubrey — had toured the museum and that there is a possibility that an Intern from Texas Tech University may be available for work at Morton Museum sometime in 1984.

David Howeth, Chairman of the Fund-raising committee, reported that, of the $20,500 in additional funds needed this year, a total of $10,200 has been pledged and/or paid, leaving the rest to be raised by June 1984. He presented some proposed methods for fund-raising, and various other suggestions were discussed.

Juanita Bright presented some ideas for making the organization county-wide in fact as well as in name, and the group discussed the possibility of obtaining space needed in order that the history of the entire county can be adequately depicted.

In addition to those mentioned above, other Board members attending the meeting were; Secretary Jane McLeroy, Treasurer Beverly Graham, Bill Carroll, and Linda Draper, Jo Anne Cole, Kathy Gaitner and Judy Knight.

There were two appearances, a morning parade in downtown Fort Worth and the half-time show at the A&M - TCU football game.

Mike is a junior electrical engineering major and Don a sophomore civil engineer major and both are members of the Corps of Cadets at Aggieland. Mike plays the trumpet, Don the trombone. While in high school both were members of the Denison Yellowjacket marching band which consistently rated a superior and excellent.

Carla Haverkamp and Keith Rayborn wed at St. Peter's

Carla Ann Haverkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Haverkamp and Keith Randall Rayborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rayborn, recited solemn vows in a 5 p.m. Nuptial Mass on November 12.

Father Cletus Post officiated the double ring ceremony at St. Peter's Church in Lindsay.

The church altar was decorated with two arrangements of burgundy and white gladiolas. Tall candelabra entwined with ivy and flowers completed the altar decor.

Music for the wedding was provided by Patsy Henry, organist and guitarist. The wedding selections performed included "Evergreen", "If", "Theme from Ice Castles", "Eres Tu", "That's the Way", "First Corinthians", "Wedding Song", and "Hail Mary".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length bridal gown fashioned of silk and satin in candlelight white silk chiffon over taffeta which featured a Queen Anne neckline of re-embroidered Alecon lace adorned with bridal beads and pearls. The full bishop sleeves were caught at the wrist with wide cuffs of Venice lace edged with re-embroidered lace. The fitted bodice was made of Venice lace and re-embroidered Alecon lace. The full skirt was attached to a natural waist line, and was highlighted with re-embroidered Alecon lace motifs sprinkled with beads and pearls. Venice lace and satin encircled the entire skirt which swept into a Cathedral train.

The bride completed her attire with a head piece of Venice lace and pearls attached to a veil of bridal illusion adorned with Venice lace motifs. She carried a traditional nosegay of white silk roses and carnations accented with baby's breath. Satin and lace streamers tied in loveknots fell from the bouquet.

The bride presented a burgundy silk rose to her mother as she and her father walked up the aisle. Prior to the conclusion of the ceremony she placed a single rose at the feet of the Blessed Virgin's statue.

Attendants

Maid of honor for the ceremony was Sandy Haverkamp of Denton, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Sheila and Brenda Haverkamp of Lindsay, both sisters of the bride; Pam Rayborn of College Station, sister of the groom and Sandy Erwin of Austin.

Jaime Kulas, niece of the groom, of Panama City, Florida, was the flower girl.

The maid of honor, bridesmaids and flower girl were dressed identically in burgundy taffeta dresses made by the bride. The gowns were fashioned with scooped necklines, and elbow length sleeves, elasticized at the caps and lower edges to form self ruffles. Each gown further featured a fitted bodice and natural waistline with a full, tiered skirt. The skirt's tiers were trimmed in burgundy satin ribbon and bows. Each bridesmaid wore a burgundy cummerbund of taffeta and carried a silk nosegay of burgundy and complementing-colored flowers accented with baby's breath and netting and trimmed in satin ribbon. Each wore silk roses with ribbon trimming in her hair.

Jason Kulas of Panama City, Florida, nephew of the groom served as ringbearer for the ceremony. He carried a ring pillow made by the bride of satin and lace accented with burgundy ribbon.

Richard Baxter of Metairie, Louisiana, was best man. Groomsmen were Todd Palmer of Denton, Kurt Meister of College Station and Mike Kulas of Panama City, Florida and Joe Destefani of Peach Tree City, Georgia, both brother-in-laws of the groom.

Ushers were Steve Haverkamp of Lindsay, brother of the bride and David Kisel of San Antonio.

As the bride and groom walked down the aisle, they paused as the bride presented her new mother-in-law, Josephine Rayborn, with a silk rose.

Reception

A reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Michelle Neu and Lucy Stark registered guests. A catered meal was prepared and served by Mrs. Lorraine Wilson. Music for dancing was provided by Rosewood.

The bride and groom's cakes were designed and baked by Betty Rose Walter-scheid.

Reception assistants were Julie Dankesreiter of Lindsay, Mollie Koelzer of Muenster, Lori Blessing of Fort Worth and Debbie Bierschenk of Midwest City, Okla., all cousins of the bride.

The bride and groom are both graduates of North Texas State University. The groom is employed by the Army and Air Force Exchange Service as an assistant sales and merchandising manager.

Following a honeymoon trip touring the west coast, the couple will make their home in Tacoma, Washington.

Lay Franciscans receives thanks

The president read a letter of acknowledgement from the Sacred Heart Province in Chicago, Ill. for the special October contributions; also a letter from Fr. Phillip of St. Francis Village in Crowley, Texas. He expressed his appreciation for the large amount of cancelled stamps that were sent to them recently. of the resident etc. In his letter he stated that all cancelled stamps are of same value.

Mrs. Jean Haverkamp, gave an interesting reading on New Vision Issue No. 5.

In Issue 5, we are taught to reflect on Jesus Christ, He is the Way, the Truth and the Light. To live with the vision of our God as gracious, and to personally respond to the power or grace of the Vision, is to journey in faith. In this issue we are admonished to be ministers of harmony with all creatures and with one another.

The meeting closed with the St. Francis Peace Prayer. Mrs. Elvira Flusche brought and served cup cakes and coffee for refreshments. Immediately following the meeting a drawing was held for the raffle. ## energy answers from the Texas Energy Extension Service

Does Texas use biomass from plant wastes for fuel? B.R., Houston.

Biomass from plants is an important part of the lumber and paper industries in Texas and is used to fill a portion of the energy needs of several other businesses. Some forest industries have been using biomass for 30 years; others have just begun. Estimates are that half the lumber companies and 75 percent of the paper companies in Texas use wastes for energy generation.

Other businesses use biomass as well. A West Texas mill producing cotton seed oil burns the hulls to generate electricity. A South Texas sugar mill uses bagasse (sugar cane waste) in a similar way. In Houston, a rice processing company uses rice hulls for fuel, and the electric utility adds city tree trimmings to supplement its fuel supply.

For more information on biomass for fuels, ask for the Biomass Resource factsheet available free from the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University.

I am concerned about whether or not I have enough ventilation in my attic. I have insulation, but it gets pretty hot up there in the summer. Wouldn't adding powered ventilators be worthwhile to cool things off up there? H. V., McAllen.

The effects of attic ventilation are more noticeable when you have little or no insulation. As the amount of insulation increases, the need for additional attic ventilation decreases.

Tests conducted in Houston by the National Bureau of Standards showed that in well insulated attics, the power used by attic ventilation fans was never paid back in air conditioning savings. Of course a certain amount of attic ventilation is necessary to reduce the chance of moisture buildup in the winter.

CURE FOR THE COMMON CODE.

ADLER TEXTTRITER

Word Processing is easier than ever with the Texttriter. It completely eliminates two-key operation and the need to memorize the coded keys of an unfamiliar computer-like keypad. The big difference is the Texttriter's unique keypad. Each key spells out the function in easy-to-understand English, so you can become expert in minutes—not weeks. Color-coded keys in functional groups make jobs even simpler. Red for delete, blue for insert, white to move text, orange for text search and green for "Help" instructions which are displayed on the screen.

All text, which is typed quickly and quietly on the standard Adler electronic typewriter, is previewed on the big 12-inch screen for rapid editing, storage, letter/address merging, and crisp printout. Store text for future use in the 16K expandable memory and on optional floppy disks with up to 640K of permanent storage. The Texttriter does twice as much at half the cost of other Word Processors.

Lindsay Knight loses bi-district 30-0

The Lindsay Knights, champions of the 9-A west zone and co-champs of the district, met their Waterloo at Sulphur Springs last week in a bi-district contest with Overton, the champ of District 10-A. The score was a one-sided 30-0 as the Mustangs dominated the contest throughout with a rugged defense and a speedy offense featuring a 150 pound tailback, Weldon Kennedy whose 142 yards accounted for most of his team's 214 yard total.

On the other side the Knights' John Dieter again gave a good account of himself with 103 on 26 carries. That was more than the team's entire net yardage, which was reduced sharply by quarterback sacks and a busted play on an attempted punt. Another factor is that Lindsay passing was a disaster: only one completion for 6 yards out of 14 tries, and an interception besides.

The loss closes out Lindsay's season at 9-3 and a tie with Celeste for the 9-A title. On the other hand Celeste advanced a step last week by defeating Tenaha 13-0 in bi-district.

The game started as a defensive standoff with the action mostly in the middle of the field until near the end of the half.

At that time the Mustangs got a great break as Dankesreiter failed to get a punt away following a high snap from center. The play ended with the Mustangs in fine field position on the Lindsay 16. Six plays reached the end zone. The PAT try failed leaving the half time score at 6-0.

Lindsay troubles came first in the third period. On first play after kickoff return, Kennedy broke away on a 67 yard gallop to the end zone and a run for two extra points failed leaving the count at 12-0.

Even then the scrappy Knights were still trying. Dieter's kickoff return reaching a good field position at midfield, was followed by an inspired drive that stalled at the 2-yard line and left Lindsay empty handed.

Then Overton added insult to injury by moving 98 yards upfield in ten plays for its third TD. The drive itself was a frustrating experience for Lindsay. Three times they appeared to have the Mustangs stopped only to see them come up with big third-down plays...such as runs of 17 and 21 and a 44-yard pass. Kennedy scored from the 9.

With all the momentum on their side, the Mustangs proceeded to add a pair of touchdowns in the fourth quarter. The first one topped a 59-yard drive with a 26-yard pass play. And again with barely a minute left to play Stanger intercepted a Lindsay pass and returned it 25 yards to pay dirt. However the Overton record on bonus points continued at zero. The final PAT effort, like the other four, was a failure.

This display of posters is presented in Muenster State Bank by the Community 4-H Club and provided to each state 4-H program where members share a German ancestry. The set of posters, a limited edition was provided by the Presidential German Tricentennial Commission. 4-H members Darwin Sicking, Andy Burnette, Wayne Becker and Stephen Becker presented the posters to J.M. Weinzapfel on Thursday, November 17. They invite everyone to view the posters depicting German heritage.
On Oct. 6, 1683, the first 13 German families arrived aboard the small ship, "Concord," considered the "German Mayflower." They founded Germantown, Pennsylvania, and in 1688 issued the first manifesto against slavery. Over 7 million German immigrants followed eventually. Today more than one-fourth of the population of the United States has German ancestry.

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use.

But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem.

Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan.

And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

County Agent's Report

This fall's weather has certainly been beneficial to grain producers. Growth of small grain has been excellent. Those producers who graze small grain have benefited along with cattle producers who have seen an increase in calf prices going on grain pastures. The recent rains and temperatures have also curtailed any insect activity on small grains from red spiders and greenbugs.

Spider mites tend to multiply in dry soils. They seek refuge in the soil around the base of small grain crops, choosing oats as their first choice of a host plant. The wet weather has caused the ground to close and pack, thus reducing populations.

Greenbugs have also had their problems with beautiful weather this fall. Optimum temperatures for buildup of populations of greenbugs and other harmful cool season insects is about 40 degrees F. nights and 60 degrees days. We haven't experienced many of those type days this fall.

Population counts are the best method of determining economic control levels of insects. For spider mites, 200 per foot of drill row is a high enough count to justify control when plants are young and have started tillering. Oats will appear to have a gray tent to the field if spiders are working on the plants. For greenbugs 100 per foot of drill row during early tillering or 50 to 100 per foot will indicate control.

The following marketing outlooks on dairy and feed grains are reported by Dr. Bud Schwart, Dairy Specialist and Dr. Ed Smith, Grain Marketing Economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dairy Bill Update - The Dairy bill that passed the House will lower the support price 50 cents per hundred-weight, pay producers to reduce production, and include a 50 cent per hundredweight assessment. The bill is currently in a House-Senate Conference Committee. If it successfully clears both Houses, it will go to the President for his signature. If he signs it, the plan could begin during the first quarter of 1984. Milk producers should contact the County ASCS office for details.

Feedgrain stocks continue to tighten - USDA's 1983 corn production estimate continues to decline. The November estimate of 4.1 billion bushels would be the smallest crop since 1965, and carryover stocks will be cut significantly. In light of this, the market could show some moderate strength through the first of the year. Remember, however, that the total use projection continues to erode and any upward price movement could be shortlived. Should December '84 futures rebound above the $3.00 per bushel level, producers might consider pricing a portion of their 1984 corn and sorghum. The 1984 Feedgrain program should have little impact in reducing production and, assuming normal weather, feed grain prices by the 1984 harvest could plummet to loan levels.

Nov. 30 is insured crop planting deadline

Wheat growers are reminded that the final planting date for an insured crop is

November 30, 1983, in southern Oklahoma, and December 15, 1983, in Northern Texas, according to Bruce Hottel, District Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation

(FCIC). "Acres of wheat and other small grains, insured by FCIC private agents (or by a private company reinsured by FCIC), must be reported to their insurance agent no later than 15 days after the above dates to receive full crop insurance coverage", says Hottel.

"Producers should realize the importance of filing an accurate acreage report because this is what finalizes the insurance contract in terms of the protection offered and the premium charged. When reporting, the producer should have available his acreage planted by ASCS farm number, (and legal description where applicable), ownership share in the crop, dates planting completed, and where applicable, if the method of planting differs from being drill seeded. To estimate above or below the actual number of planted acres or the share in the crop would only cause problems for the FCIC policyholder in terms of being under or over insured", Hottel said.

Hottel added, "wheat growers should also make their agents aware of any farm participating in the USDA Payment-in-Kind program in order that any bonus guarantee be recorded on the acreage report".

Stenholm bill aims to simplify programs

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) today introduced a bill to make farm programs simpler, more predictable and fairer.

The legislation simplifies and standardizes the way acreage bases and yields are assigned to producers. Stenholm has been working on the project almost a year, along with the Texas Agricultural Forum, a coalition of farmers and agribusinessmen in the state.

An acreage base, or number of acres to be planted, is assigned to farmers who wish to take part in federal farm programs. A yield measure how many bushels or pounds per acre the farmer is assumed to produce. Both bases and yields are important when farmers decide whether to participate in the programs.

"Right now, our system of bases and yields is a mess," Stenholm said. "It's not fair to many farmers; it's unpredictable for the rest; and it leaves too much discretion to USDA's bureaucratic whims. It needs to be changed and put into permanent law."

Bases and yields are now set by four-year farm bills, Stenholm said, which makes them subject to the political winds every four years. If the base and yield formulas were in permanent law, they would stay there unless repealed, and farmers would have a better idea how many acres they can plant.

"When unpredictable programs keep farmers from planning ahead," Stenholm said, "they often decide not to bother with the programs at all. But this usually means more production and that lowers prices, which drives up taxpayer costs for the farm program."

Stenholm's proposal assigns bases for both overall farm acreage and individual crops.
