Germanfest countdown begins

Looking forward to another outstanding festival, the committee of Germanfest along with concession operators are moving into the final preparations of the grand old party which will open at 4 p.m. Friday, April 27 with a formal presentation of flags.

The event, sponsored by Muenster Chamber of Commerce with Wayne Klement and Alvin Fuhrman as co-chairman, is the ninth of a series which grew steadily to an expected attendance of more than 50,000. It reached that total last year, and the usual gain is anticipated if weather permits.

With that goal in mind the Chamber has introduced a number of improvements and changes. The first is a re-arrangement of concessions to spread the crowds to more areas and avoid the discomfort of being confined to limited space. Additionally more effort was made to achieve improvement and uniformity of concessions with emphasis on German decor and costume.

One of the improvements is addition of electric lines for the double purpose of adding lights and increasing power. In addition security personnel have been increased for the sake of crowd behavior as well as traffic control.

Principal activity again will be the German Fun Run, rated last year as the second largest in Texas. More than 4200 participated then and this year's total is estimated at 4500, possibly 5000 if the weather is right. Ronnie Hess, chairman, said that more than 2000 are entered now, a good gain over the early sign-ups of 1983 and an encouraging sign of a larger number. A year of publicity on the race as well as increasing recommendation year after year have had a good effect. Other good factors are the festival atmosphere and hospitality and efficient procedure. The fun run will be held in 15 k and 5 k divisions.

Another attraction getting more popular every year is the bicycle rally. In 1983, its second year, it had 425 entries, and 700 are expected this year. It is divided into three courses with distances of 35 K, 65K and 100K. The total route which is marked for all of the distance includes the towns of Rosston, Forestburg, Saint Jo, Bulcher and Muenster. Persons who travel the road after 11 a.m. Saturday are asked to be alert to the cyclists.

Along with these major contests there will be many others such as a tug of war, motorcycle and 3-wheeler TT races, pretty baby contest, pretty eyes contest, ladies smile contest, tobacco spitting contest, beard contest, pretty feet contest, beer belly contest, German costume contest, crazy legs contest and so on and on, some new, some repeats from last year.

Equal variety applies to entertainment, which returns many that were favorites of recent years. Among them are the Coors one man band, the Brave Combo polka band, CCC jazz combo, a jazzercise demonstration, a belly dance, the Carl Jones orchestra, talent show, Helga and the Bavarian Woodchoppers, Sonny and Norma accordions and 49ers Square Dance Club. Some of the shows will be in the pavilion, some on the Coors stage and several will appear more than once.

Dancing? Of course, lots of it. The starter is a free street dance Friday night 8 to midnight with Otts disco music. Saturday 9 to 1 the VFW will have a dance with country and western music. And another free street dance is booked 8:30 to 10 Sunday. Besides lots of folks will dance in the pavilion as musical shows are presented.

In spite of all those attractions the main attractions will be cats and drinks. There will be food galore featuring the German dishes, tons of sausage, kegs and kegs of beer, barbecue, fried chicken and a great variety of pies, cakes and snacks.

Preparing for the big event, the city and the Chamber ask all to pitch in and help slick up the town. The city is repairing freeze damage caused to the park pavement by the winter's severe weather and is trimming all the city lawns. Besides the city is running its street sweeper and offering pick up service next Wednesday. Please see Germanfest pg. 3

COR-FETTE

One of the senatorial candidates on TV Sunday stated that the answer to federal deficits was not to raise taxes but to reduce spending. His idea is that the nation cannot get out of financial troubles by continuing the policy which caused the problems in the first place. The increase of tax revenue is a tempting short term solution to take care of immediate needs, but it imposes a burden leading to a decline of the economy and widespread decline of ability to pay the tax.

Borrowing brings on a similar result. A fresh supply of money can rejuvenate the economy temporarily but it also adds to the total debt and the total tax load. In the end either of those solutions only adds to the trouble we already have.

Failure of the easy solutions to do the job inevitably leads to the tougher but more effective way. That is to trim down our spending to match the size of our purse. There are endless ways whereby the government can save. If congress will take up its budget duties with that thought in mind and stubbornly insist on tackling all waste and inefficiency as well as graft and needless grants it can, little by little, and often in big chunks, gradually balance demand with supply in the federal treasury.

One proposal was to slash every federal agency by at least five percent. That kind of reduction in every government expenditure would be an enormous step in the right direction. Considering recently revealed rip-offs in government spending the savings could be sensational. And the savings could be substantially increased by paring down the salaries of workers who are already overpaid for their soft jobs. Somewhere the federal employees got the notion they deserve as much pay as the private sector people, but they refer to the upper level of the private sector. On an average they get much more and do less. So as an item of economy why not trim them to the level of the taxpayers who pay them.

Another suggestion is to reduce the pay of elected officials many of whom retire from office as millionaires and get a fat retirement pay to boot. It seems those fellows should be willing to make a few sacrifices when we others have to tighten our belts.

A good example of the congressional attitude was revealed a few days ago when Congress quietly voted itself another raise. Earlier it had helped itself to a 3.5 percent raise and later the Senate voted to cancel the raise, but the House declined and the higher pay remained for both houses in spite of favorable publicity on the Senate's apparent generosity. And now both houses take another increase...while making a big issue over the nation's deficit.

Another matter that irks us is the government's generous use of taxpayer money to guarantee loans to foreign countries, often Third World and Communists, dedicated enemies whose primary goal is to destroy us. Those countries, especially USSR and its allies of Africa, can't exist on their miserable unproductive red economy, so they come to us begging to buy food, and they finance the deal with loans from the big American Banks. The same applies to power companies, factories, etc. They buy in US with loans from the US big banks who are more concerned with the money than the principle.

Considering the integrity of those countries and their unreliability of their economy, one would think Please see Confetti, page 2

Sales tax brings $5,099 to city

The city of Muenster has received a check in amount of $5,099.02 from State Comptroller Bob Bullock as a rebate for city sales tax remitted by local business during the period ending March 27, 1984.

It is a part of $46.3 million paid by the state to 985 cities which levy the one percent city tax, however it lags behind the 16 percent gain shown by other cities over last year's collections. The total of rebates here to date is $29,871, which is only 4.79 percent higher than last year at this date. April checks reflect sales made in February and reported to the Comptroller in late March.

Checks to a number of other North Texas cities as well as reports on total received to date and the gain or loss since last year were listed as follows in Bullock's statement.

Gainesville, $37,724, to date $254,660, down 1.30%.

Lindsay, $2,898, to date $14,012, down 9.88%. Valley View, $820., to date $2,423, up 6.63%. Pilot Point, $5,010, to date $26,374, up 48.63%.

Sanger, $3,856, to date $18,488, up 47.16%. Whitesboro, $3,116, to date $35,716, up 11.18%. Bowie, $23,719, to date $130,657, down 1.74%. Nocona, $9,815, to date $47,879, up 14.69%. Saint Jo, $1,075, to date $5,857, down 2.60%.

Unauthorized ads being sold

Business people of Muenster are alerted this week to an unauthorized advertising campaign currently under way in town. It concerns a project of supplying school materials to Sacred Heart School. Since the school is adequately supplied it declined to sponsor the customary arrangement. Nevertheless salesmen are out soliciting ads for it as usual.

Accordingly, anyone approached to help as usual is reminded by the school and the city that Sacred Heart is not participating.

Buckle-up, it saves lives

Governor Mark White has declared April "Buckle-Up" Month and urged all Texans to buckle-up themselves and their children whenever in motor vehicles. Citing an estimated 3,850 traffic deaths in Texas last year, White noted that traffic collisions are the leading cause of death by accident, especially for young people.

Safety belts can make a difference. Some 35,000 people die in the United States each year in vehicles equipped with seat belts. It is thought that at least half of these people could be saved if they would only buckle-up each time they occupy motor vehicles.

Travel by motor vehicles is dangerous at best. Some 50,000 people die because of motor vehicle accidents each year. Vehicle accidents are the leading cause of death among people aged 44 and younger and are the number one cause of on-the-job fatalities. Costs to the employer in on-the-job fatalities average $120,000 per employee death. Vehicle accidents produce fatalities ten times greater than fatalities caused by all other forms of transportation.

The need for a reduction in traffic fatalities is paramount and safety belts are an important factor in reducing our deaths in the U.S. Currently we are killing the equivalent of a 727 passenger jet plane crash each day, but we are killing our people on the ground, on our streets and highways.

Seat belts improve the odds against fatal injuries in vehicle crashes. Safety belts can cut fatalities by 60 to 70 percent if all drivers and all passengers of all vehicles would use them. And safety belts could cut the number of serious injuries by 50 percent.

It's April and it's time to take a serious approach to cutting our big record of fatalities and serious injuries...and one way is to BUCKLE-UP.

Jaycees sponsor Easter egg hunt

Children of the community up to age 12 will be guests of the Jaycees at their annual Easter egg hunt in the city park Sunday at 2 p.m. It will be held in two divisions: children 6 and under and children aged 7-12.

Gift prizes will be given in each division for the highest number of eggs found, as well as for second high and third high. In addition, special plastic eggs containing money will be found in each area.

Gripes invited at meeting on aircraft noise

Persons of this area who wish to discuss recent aircraft test flight noises over Muenster will have the opportunity to meet with a representative of the Air Force in the Muenster City Hall, April 30, 2 p.m. A similar meeting is being arranged for the people of Nocona.

A letter from Col. Bruce Williams to the City of Muenster explains: "As part of our review of noise generated in your area, I would like to have a representative of our Flight Operations Division and my Staff Judge Advocate, Major Michael Madrid, travel to Nocona and Muenster at a time which is mutually convenient to explain our flight procedures and answer any questions which the citizens of Nocona and Muenster may have. Major Madrid would also be available to provide information on how claims may be filed against the government in the event damage has been incurred."

April 23 and 24 were suggested for the two cities and both were asked to suggest an alternate date if they prefer. Muenster chose Saturday, April 30, 2 p.m. at the city hall.

Zwinggi asks for re-election

The following is a statement by Tax Assessor-Collector Joyce Zwinggi to the voters of Cooke County.

"I, Joyce Zwinggi, Tax Assessor-Collector for Cooke County would like to take this opportunity to announce for re-election in the May Primary.

Since my election in 1980, the State Legislature and the Texas Highway Dept. have made many changes that have affected this Office. Many of the changes have been an improvement, but some of the changes have not been to the better. We have to abide by the changes, and with your help and support we can make it work.

I would like to ask you for your confidence in the future, and thank you for your support in the past. Your vote for me on May 5th will be deeply appreciated.

Joyce Zwinggi"

Good News

Luke 23:46-49

Jesus uttered a loud cry and said, "Father, into your hands I commend my spirit." After he said this, he expired. The centurion, upon seeing what had happened, gave glory to God by saying, "Surely this was an innocent man." When the crowd which had assembled for this spectacle saw what had happened, they went home beating their breasts. All his friends and the women who had accompanied him from Galilee were standing at a distance watching everything.

Good Friday closing asked

Following a long standing custom of the community, business here will be suspended on Good Friday to commemorate the suffering and crucifixion of the Savior, Jesus Christ.

Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff asks local business firms to close their doors from 2:30 until 4 p.m. The end of this period is intended to coincide approximately with the end of Good Friday services in Sacred Heart church, which begin at 3 and end about an hour late

Easter weather

In a week of Spring weather Muenster has had moderate temperatures and no rain. The moisture situation continues below normal with a total measure of 8.60 in three and a half months, however crops are in good condition.

Low and high readings of the week were recorded as follows by Steve Mosler.

April 12	56 and 78
April 13	48 and 82
April 14	50 and 71
April 15	46 and 67
April 16	44 and 69

COMMENT

Larry Tisdale The Owner's Manual

House of the Lord

THIS WEEK we conclude our study of the 23rd Psalm which we began five weeks ago by looking at verse six: "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

In David's time the sheep dogs followed the sheep while the shepherd led them. One writer says that this verse reminds him of two sheep dogs, named Goodness and Mercy, which follow along with the believer. Goodness supplies our needs; Mercy blots out our sins. The fact that mercy and goodness do follow the believer is so indisputable and encouraging that the Psalmist begins verse 6 with the word "surely", as though to set a seal upon it.

We also see that goodness and mercy follow him always — "all the days of his life" — the black days as well as the bright days, the days of fasting as well as the days of feasting, the dreary days of winter as well as the bright days of summer.

We also notice that David sees himself not merely as a guest-for-a-day, but as a recipient of God's covenant — "And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." While I am here I will be a child at home with my God: "the house of the Lord" is the place where God is; the whole world shall be his house to me; and when I ascend into the upper chamber I shall not change my company, nor even change the house, for I shall only go to dwell in the upper story of the house of the Lord forever.

Now that we have completed the study of this beautiful Psalm, we need to note one important fact. This Psalm was written by David, a man who devoted his life to serving God and doing His will. The promises contained therein apply only to Christians who have likewise committed their lives to following God's will for their life. If you have never done this, then the Lord is not your shepherd and you would have to read this Psalm as follows: "The Lord is not my shepherd: I shall always want. He maketh me not to lie down in green pastures; he does not lead me beside the still waters. He does not restore my soul nor does he lead me in paths of righteousness for his names sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear evil: for thou art not with me; thy rod and thy staff do not comfort me. Thou dost not prepare a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou dost not anoint my head with oil; my cup does not run over. Surely goodness and mercy will never follow me any of the days of my life; and I will never dwell in the house of the Lord at all."

When read in this manner, the Psalm has lost its beauty and fills us with despair. If you cannot read it in its original context, then I pray that you will now turn to the Lord in prayer and trust Him as your Saviour in order that He can be your Shepherd also, and you too can dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Future of Texas bright

By John Tower

IN THE last several years, Texas has evolved into a virtual oasis for business and industry. Texas has emerged, especially in the last 10 years as a powerful business, political and social influence on the rest of the nation.

As we recognized Texas Business and Industry Week April 1-7, it was a time to applaud the many accomplishments of Texas business men and women. When business prospers, all Texans benefit in the form of jobs and increased business opportunities.

And the future for Texas business looks bright. Projections indicate Texas will continue to exceed the United States economic growth rate as a whole. Unemployment also is expected to continue to decrease.

This optimistic outlook is responsible for a mass immigration of people from other parts of the country. Our population is growing faster than that of California, and it has been predicted that one out of every 12 Americans will live in Texas by the year 2000.

A recent national study ranked Texas as having the second most favorable business climate in the nation. Several factors make Texas attractive to business and industry.

One is a relatively strong economy. Non-farm employment in the last 10 years has grown by more than twice the national average. Personal incomes have risen by 26 percent faster than the United States as a whole in the past decade.

Texas also has one of the lowest per capita tax burdens in America. We have no corporate or individual income tax. Taking into account all state and local taxes, the total tax burden per capita in Texas is about 80 percent of the national average.

Labor laws in Texas also are favorable for business investment. We have a right to work law that makes it illegal to force union membership on a worker as a condition for employment. Union membership extends to only about 12½ percent of the manufacturing workforce — about half of the national average. In many areas of Texas, there is almost no union activity.

Texas also is a transportation center. Houston ranks third among U.S. ports in its annual volume of business. There are 11 other deepwater ports in the state, and Texas handles more than an eighth of all U.S. foreign trade. To assist in the trade effort, there are seven foreign trade zones in Texas with an additional four awaiting approval. In terms of passenger traffic, Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport is the sixth busiest airport in the world and Houston is the 13th busiest.

Finally, the style of Texas life, coupled with a reasonable cost of living, makes Texas an attractive place for investors and employees to locate or relocate. We can look forward to Texas becoming the home of many emerging industries such as those in the field of high technology.

This continued business and industry boom in Texas will mean a better economy for our nation and a better life for Texans.

The big media buddy system

Richard A. Viguerie

THE WEEK after the 1980 election, I was invited to be a guest at a breakfast held for some of the leading journalists in Washington. A conservative tide had swept Democrats out of the Senate and put Ronald Reagan in the White House, and the members of the news media wanted to know what happened. They asked: why didn't we see it coming?

I told them: You didn't see it coming, but we've been telling you about it for a long time; you just didn't listen.

That's often the way it is, between conservatives and the national news media. The two groups have little in common, and that fact is reflected in the way the news covers conservative values. On abortion, big business, national defense, taxes, and other issues, the conservative position is habitually mis-reported, and the people get only one side.

Bias in the news media rarely stems from a conscious desire to distort the news. Instead, it is the result of ignorance. Most national reporters don't know what conservatives think because they have little contact with conservatives. But there is plenty of contact with liberals.

There are many liberal political activists who have joined prestigious news organizations. Most of them, like Ken Bode of NBC News (a former aide to Morris Udall) and Jeff Greenfield of ABC News (a former aide to John Lindsay and Robert Kennedy), do a good job.

The problem is not that there are liberals in the news media. The problem is that persons who hold traditional values are usually excluded from newsrooms in the same way that blacks and women were once excluded: editors and producers tend to hire and promote people like themselves.

The result is that basically the same attitudes are held by more than four-fifths of the most influential people in the news business. According to a 1980 survey of the decision-makers in our major national media, 91 percent voted for LBJ, 87 percent for Humphrey, 81 percent for McGovern, and 81 percent for Carter (in 1976). The picture is even worse among future journalists. A similar study of students at the nation's leading journalism school showed that 85 percent called themselves liberals; 59 percent voted for Carter in 1980, 29 percent for Anderson, and only four percent for Reagan.

Although there are very few identifiable conservatives in important positions in the major media, there are plenty of persons who have worked for liberals. Consider these examples from the electronic media alone:

John Kennedy's press secretary is now chief diplomatic correspondent for ABC News. Lyndon Johnson's press secretary is now the top commentator for CBS News. George McGovern's press secretary is now executive producer of ABC's evening newscast. Ted Kennedy's administrative assistant is now vice president of ABC News. The communications director for the Democratic National Committee (DNC) is now political assignment editor for ABC; her husband is political director for CBS. The deputy communications director at DNC is now researcher in the political unit of ABC News.

NBC's researcher on Latin America used to be researcher for Philip Agee, the former CIA agent who (according to Newsweek) "says he aspires to be a communist." The person who until recently was director of news information for ABC News is the wife of a liberal Democratic former senator. A reporter on the CBS Morning News and the new "American Parade" program worked for Ted Kennedy in 1980. The top commentator for NBC News served in the Johnson Administration. The man who until recently headed National Public Radio was a top aide to George McGovern.

How many conservatives are given the chance to report the news in the nation's top media? Occasionally conservatives like Pat Buchanan will be hired as "opinion journalists," but they are almost never hired for positions that involve making judgments on what is and is not newsworthy.

In fact, when a person associated with a non-liberal politician is hired, it causes an uproar. When CBS hired Diane Sawyer, Dan Rather complained because she had helped Richard Nixon write his memoirs. When The New York Times hired former Nixon staffer William Safire as a columnist, there were numerous complaints from other Times writers. I know of no instance in which reporters complained because a new staff member was too liberal.

News people, being human, usually judge the importance of ideas by the degree to which those ideas match their own beliefs and prejudices. Until persons with traditional values are given equal access to jobs in the national media, the American people will never get to see both sides.

that US banks would be cautious about risking loans on them. But that's not the way of this business. When a country cannot or will not pay its bill the US banks simply collect from the International Monetary Fund on their loan guarantee.

The procedure is that Congress approves billions of taxpayer money to the monetary fund as assurance to banks that their loans are safe. The result is that banks can't lose. They get their pay from the monetary fund if the borrower defaults. In that case, however, it is money the taxpayers have provided. Banks get the full amount of the debt, interest as well as principal, whereas government, meaning us taxpayers, lose the full amount of the debt, principal and interest.

It seems that the nation's deficit can be helped substantially by the proper adjustments in foreign financing.

Vocational ed importance backed

THE SELECT Committee on Public Education's proposal to cut state spending for vocational education would sentence thousands of Texas teenagers to unemployment and hurt small businesses, said Will Reece, executive director of the Advisory Council for Technical-Vocational Education in Texas.

The 24-member advisory council to the State Board of Education joint business people and legislators recently in a press conference (April 2) in Austin to launch a counterattack to select committee proposals to minimize vocational education in grades 7-12.

The select committee, headed by H. Ross Perot (Dallas), has recommended that the state slash spending for vocational education and focus instead on a single track academic college preparatory course of study.

The Perot committee, charged with making recommendations to improve the state's education system, estimates that the state could save between $100 and $250 million in state money by scaling back or eliminating support for vocational education in public schools.

These recommendations go contrary to the needs of the state's citizens and economy, said Sen. Bill Sarpalus, D-Amarillo, and Rep. Jerry Clark, D-Buna, who were among lawmakers appearing at the press conference to express concern.

"Any scaling back or reduction in state dollars for vocational training would force local school districts already strapped for funds, to choose between a local tax increase or elimination of programs," said Sarpalus. "Minimizing vocational training in public schools will increase the school dropout rate while driving up unemployment and welfare costs."

Reece said the following points stress the importance of increasing, not decreasing, state support for vocational education in the public schools: "7 out of 10 of the nearly 428,000 annual job openings in Texas require vocational-technical skills, based on Texas Employment Commission data.

"Small businesses (less than 100 employees), which employ one-half of all workers and generate over 60 percent of all jobs, must rely on job-ready applicants since they frequently have neither staff nor resources to train new employees.

"A 1983 Advisory Council survey of 5,000 Texas employers revealed that two-thirds had most, or some, entry level jobs in their company that required both occupational and academic skills.

*Nearly one-half of all 16-19 year olds in Texas enter the labor force upon or soon after graduating from high school. The unemployment rate among all 16-19 year olds in Texas is 19.4 percent, while the unemployment rate among young people in this age bracket who took vocational training in high school is less than one-half. Students who take vocational education are less likely to become unemployed.

*The select committee states that academic achievement levels must be raised. The Advisory Council concurs, but believes that the academic foundation must be laid at the elementary and junior high school levels, with the high school level providing options for students to prepare for work, to prepare for college, or to do both. The select committee wants to remove all options except preparation for college.

*In the 1981-82 school year, 72,000 high school students completed vocational training. One year later, 60 percent were in the labor force (another 32 percent were pursuing additional education). Of those working, two-thirds were employed in the fields for which they were trained.

"Not every student is going to be a college graduate," said Sarpalus, who called himself "a product of vocational educational training."

"But if we can teach kids how to write a check, how to buy an insurance policy, how to read and how to write, and teach them a skill and a trade, we can make productive citizens out of them," he said.

"What's the difference between training the mind and training the hand?" asked Rep. Jerry Clark. "Vocational education and academics are a compatible mixture. We're not talking about an oil-and-water situation."

Bob Tillman, a Dallas builder, said there already is a major shortage of "entry-level" craftsmen in construction and that the number will reach 2.4 million nationwide by 1990. Public school vocational programs currently provide one-half of the 30,000 entry-level construction industry workers required each year in Texas, he said.

In a meeting with Governor Mark White just prior to the press conference, Maurice Aresty, president of the Houston Retail Merchants Association, whose members employ 50,000 workers, said employers in his association are gravely alarmed at proposals to reduce support for vocational education in the public schools.

Rings blessed in CCD liturgy

Blessing of senior rings was held on April 11, included with the liturgy for the CCD Mass on Wednesday evening. The CCD class is taught by Sharon Felderhoff and the liturgy was prepared by the juniors. All members of the junior class marched in the entrance procession and placed their senior rings on a table near the altar. In the entrance procession also were Fr. Victor Gillespie, celebrant and Mass servers Troy Pagel and Justin Hartman.

Jana Hamilton gave the first reading and Donna Wolf responded with the Psalm. Following his homily, Fr. Victor blessed the senior rings and pronounced a special blessing for the juniors.

Jean Trubenbach and Pat Herr led prayers of the faithful and Jo Ell Hellman and Ronnie Fisher presented Offertory gifts at the altar.

Ruth Felderhoff and Eileen Fisher presented music for the special liturgy. The juniors retrieved their rings as they departed in the recessional.

The liturgy for the CCD Mass on April 4 was prepared by the 7th grade class taught by Sister Cecilia Marie.

Kim Hess gave the first reading and J. Shane Wimmer gave the responsorial psalm. Cheryl Bayer and Rhonda Stewart read prayers of the faithful. Staci Sicking, Tara Walterscheid and Deanna Bierschenk brought Offertory gifts to the altar.

Father Denis Soerries was celebrant and Mass servers were Eric Dankesreiter, Keith Klement, Weldon Hermes and Jeff Walterscheid. Song leaders with guitar accompaniment were Diane Grewing, Christi Klement and Denise Bayer.

Monsignor Arthur Hughes dies at 91

Funeral service for Msgr. Arthur Hughes, 91, of Dallas was held Monday at 10 in Holy Trinity Church with Bishop Thomas Tschoepe officiating at a Mass of Christian Burial and Rev. Gilbert Graham concelebrating. Interment was in Calvary Hill Cemetery. Among clergy attending were Bishop Dangelmayr, a lifetime friend, and Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel, both of Muenster. Rosary for Msgr. Hughes was recited Sunday at 8 in Holy Trinity Church.

Msgr. Hughes died Friday at his home ending a heart ailment of about two years. He was a native of Saint Jo, the youngest of nine children, a co-founder of SH Lynch and Co. the driving force behind founding St. Jude's Chapel in downtown Dallas. He was an exception in the priesthood when in 1968, he was ordained without college study or seminary training. He was 76 and had received special permission from Rome to be ordained by Bishop Gorman. He had joined the Catholic Church as a young man in 1913.

He was employed early in life as a telephone lineman until joining Silas Lynch in 1921 in founding the business which has grown into Schlitz and Adidas distributorships. Meanwhile he was also active at teaching Catholic doctrine, counseling married couples and youths and helping youngsters enter Boys Town and Notre Dame University. He was influential in establishing noon masses during Lent and later in raising funds for St. Jude's Chapel.

nesday for special disposal of limbs and other junk. Also Cub Scouts will clear trash along Highway 82 Thursday and Boy Scouts are available starting Monday to help the disabled mow and clear their premises. Along that line Henry Weinzapfel, the Chamber's cleanup chairman, urges all able residents to mow and clear yards and help a neighbor who needs help. The city and Chamber are eager to have Muenster show the neatness which is a part of German tradition.

A colony of bees which have long been at home in the attic of Sacred Heart elementary school, chose Tuesday as their moving day. They swarmed at the main entrance. Taking a look are Sister Cabrini, principal, with Anne Felderhoff, Gus Reiter, Neil Hesse and Jim Bartush. Pete Hellinger, Jr. of Lindsay came to their assistance, retrieved the bees and took them to one of his hives.

We wish to express sincere appreciation to all our wonderful brothers and sisters in Christ from Muenster, for the prayers, cards, flowers, food, kind words and help we received during our time of sorrow due to the loss of our beloved pastor, Rev. Anthony Gajda. A special "thank you" is offered to Father Denis and Father Victor for their continuing support, and to the members of the Catholic Daughters of America and St. Anne's Society for their special help in preparing the lovely meal following the funeral, for all our friends. Your kindness will never be forgotten.

CCC stats mini-semester signup

Cooke County College has good news for students who would like to: A. get a big head start on summer school registration, B. earn three hours of college credit in only three weeks, or C. do both.

Beginning Thursday (April 19), students may begin pre-registering for the first summer session at CCC, and at the same time they can enroll in a special three-week "mini-semester" which begins May 14.

Both the summer pre-registration and the mini-semester are being offered to students at CCC for the first time ever.

"Basically, they're just two new ways in which we're trying to improve services to students," comments Whitten Williams, dean of instruction. "We want to make getting enrolled in classes easier, faster and more convenient, and we want to give students wider options in regard to scheduling."

The pre-registration will be handled by appointment only, explains Bill Caver, CCC's director of counseling. Students may call the Counseling Center at 817-668-7731, Ext. 216, to set up an appointment, and they will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis.

"All enrollment will be done in the Counseling Center, where counselors will be on hand to help students decide on the proper courses to take, and once their schedule is made out they can go over to the Business Office, pay their tuition and fees and they'll be finished."

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bayer are shown on their wedding day, April 17, 1934.

Golden wedding celebration held for Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bayer

To celebrate 50 years together, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bayer observed the golden anniversary of their wedding day with a weekend family reunion, a reception and Open House for relatives and friends on Saturday evening, attendance at the 11 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart church on Sunday, surrounded by their children and grandchildren and a large number of friends and relatives. On Tuesday, their actual anniversary day they attended the 8 a.m. Mass offered for them by Father Victor Gillespie.

Martin Bayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bayer, and Louise Walterscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid, were married on April 17, 1934 in the old red brick, Gothic-steepled Sacred Heart Church by Father Frowin Koerd, O.S.B.

Traditionally, the wedding Mass was celebrated at 8 a.m., followed by a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's parents, a wedding dinner prepared by the bride's godmother and aunt, Mrs. Mary Hess, a trip to a Gainesville photographer to pose for wedding pictures, and in the evening, the traditional wedding dance at the bride's home, where a platform floor was constructed for the event.

Their first home was north of Muenster on the Andress estate farm. Ten years later they bought their first farm, the old Haverkamp estate and in the following years acquired two adjoining farms, the Endres and Luke estates and during the years they remodeled the Haverkamp house into a handsome, modern farm home. In 1982 they built a new home in town for their retirement years.

They became parents of eight children, Donald, Ernest, Nelda, Patsy, Tom, the twins, David and Dale, and Bill. In 1955 the family experienced the tragedy of Ernest's death.

Martin and Louise Bayer are now the proud grandparents of sixteen grandchildren, all of them attending the golden wedding celebration.

Annette Alexander of Gainesville.

Held in the Sacred Heart Community Center, the Open House began at 6 p.m. and was attended by 300 relatives and friends.

Sonda Luker and Leah Carol Bayer, granddaughters, presided at the guest registry at a table covered with crocheted white lace over gold, a gift from daughter-in-law, Sylvia. Displayed on the table were the anniversary portrait, the original wedding portrait and a duplicate of the bridal bouquet.

Other tables displayed family treasures and keepsakes; many dozens of family pictures, old photos and the newest; an eye-catching poster of a farm couple dressed for winter chores, with the honorees' pictures super-imposed. There was a memorial pillow designed and made by Ann Herr, with symbolism related to family events. Louise's original satin wedding dress was displayed with the wedding certificate.

Upon arrival, guests were greeted by the honor couple and family members and enjoyed visiting with friends, renewing acquaintances with former residents and guests from out of town, and viewing the many displays. There were tables set up, laden with choices of pick-up foods, cheeses, drinks and desserts. The buffet was catered by Nellie Martin and Hilda Sicking.

The three tiered anniversary cake was baked and decorated by a niece, Marge (Hesse) Devers of Valley View and served by granddaughters Melanie Bayer, Deann Bayer, Jennifer Bayer and Cheryl Bayer. The main table, holding the cake, was covered with a handmade cutwork cloth belonging to Mrs. Don Bayer. Guest tables were decorated with yellow and pink roses attached to candles, recalling that the bridesmaids at the wedding wore pink or yellow. All wedding attendants also attended the anniversary reception. They were the bride's sisters, Adelaide, Mrs. Johnny Bayer, and Elfreda, Mrs. Herman Dangelmayr; and the groom's brother George Bayer and a friend, Harry Otto.

Stereo background music added to the festivities and an informal program included music by Norma Jean Dowd, Sonny Walterscheid and Gene Pelzel. Fr. Denis Soerries spoke informally and Lawrence Wimmer and Johnny Wimmer led a sing-a-long of old favorite songs.

One of the family gifts was a leather-bound book: "Memories of Fifty Years" compiled by each of the seven surviving children and several of the older grandchildren. Some memories were humorous, some touching and emotional; some nostalgic and all deeply personal.

A take-home scroll tied with pink ribbon and prepared by Nelda Bayer, was presented to each guest. It gave a brief family history and also recalled interesting items in a lighter vein, telling that the original fabric for the wedding dress was ordered from Sears, and, with shoes and veil cost $13.00...Most of us could recall those Depression Days... Also mentioned was that wheat sold for 90 cents a bushel...The guests enjoyed the remark that the wedding party drove to Gainesville for portraits in Joe Walterscheid's new Model A sedan, so modern that it had windows...even new, it still had a flat tire enroute... Recalled also was the wedding dance with music by George Hartman and T. Walterscheid and tricks by Joe Henry Walterscheid and Arnie Hess. Recalled also were Louise's homemaking skills "she was the best cook in the county" said her grandchildren. Friends remember her talent for designing, finishing and firing her own ceramics. She eventually had her own kiln.

Grandchildren recalled their pleasure in "Grandpa's harmonica playing, folk songs and storytelling."

Dancing to music by the accordionists concluded the gala evening. Sunday morning the Bayer family attended Mass together and daughters Pat and Nelda presented the Offertory gifts. All gathered at the family home for the noon meal and spent the afternoon reminiscing.

Among out-of-town guests at the reception were John and Alice Schroeder of Arcadia, Iowa; Tia Amburn of Stephenville; Joe and Linda Bayer and Rebecca and Christy, Barbara Gordon, Lynn Van Meter, Mr. and Mrs. David Forgey, Leah Carol Bayer and a guest all of Dallas, Mrs. Norma Cain of Ardmore; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fette and Bob Girard all of Waco.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Block, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bayer and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pelzel all of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. James Bayer and Jim, and Mrs. Margie Devers all of Valley View.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Doug Reiter, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidkofer, Annette Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Schmitz, John and Charles Davis, Loretta and Debra Davis, Sonda Luker, Lanette Trammell, Gene Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman, Karen Walterscheid, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rivoire all of Gainesville.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. CHRISTIAN

James B. Christians observe 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Christian celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, April 8 in the Ross Point Community Center.

Hosting the reception were the couple's two daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Druss of Galveston and Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Hudspeth of Pilot Point. They were assisted by the couple's grandchildren, Vicki Hudspeth of Dallas, Paul Hudspeth of Denton and Dale Hudspeth of Lubbock.

Brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews of the honored couple attended the barbecue lunch. The community room was beautifully decorated in a garden theme, with yellow begonias and baskets of greenery.

The two-tiered anniversary cake made by Betty Rose Walterscheid, the white, milk-glass service, and gold appointments were placed on a linen cut work table cloth with a centerpiece of white, yellow and gold spring flowers. The cake was served by Vicki Hudspeth, granddaughter.

Covered with a gold lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow begonias, the registration table was the vantage point for the display of the couple's anniversary picture.

The invocation was led by Paul Hudspeth, a grandson, giving thanks for having both grandparents during the many years. Pictures were made by Dale Hudspeth, a grandson.

Guests attended from Dallas, Kernes, Stephenville, Tolar, Houston, Galveston, Springtown, Pilot Point, Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Lubbock, Denton and Rosston.

James B. Christian was born at Rosston and has spent all of his life there. He is the son of the late Hill and Launis Christian and is a farmer and rancher.

His wife was born in Kiowa, Oklahoma, the daughter of the late Tom and Dora Savage. She moved to Gainesville in her teens with her family. She holds a master's degree in Education from North Texas State University in Denton and was a teacher in several Cooke County schools for 35 years. She is now retired.

Her first teaching position was Rosston, where she met Mr. Christian. They were married on April 7, 1934 and they have lived in the Rosston Community all their married life.

She is a former elementary teacher in Muenster Public School and is remembered lovingly by her many pupils. The couple has innumerable friends in this area.

Mrs. R. Sicking hosts Garden club

Mrs. Ray Sicking of Myra was hostess to the Muenster Garden Club for the April 9 meeting in her home. She used the Easter theme in decorations and several centerpieces.

Mrs. Wadie McCain of Lake Kiowa presented a most interesting program on the use of dried flowers and grasses in arrangements, bringing with her a vast assortment of materials she gathered or prepared. She told members that now is the time to start hunting, selecting, planting and preparing in order to have a wide selection of materials for experimenting with arrangements. She said: "You'll find this a year-round activity."

Mrs. Fern Biffle of Gainesville accompanied Mrs. McCain.

Fourteen members attended the meeting conducted by Mrs. Marcie Wilde. Mrs. Eileen Luke read an appeal from the Cooke County development Center for aid in sending students to summer camp for two weeks. Members complied.

It was reported that the redwood planters on Main St. have been refinished. Mrs. Sue Endres, a member of the Park Board said she will request help from the city crew to fertilize the memorial Live Oak trees in the ball park which are in need of attention.

Mrs. Loretta Felderhoff reported that medals were presented to 9th grade essay contest winners and certificates were given to poster contest winners. She also told about new equipment for the Mini-Park.

Mrs. Daryl Ferber announced the selection of the Henry Starke home for Yard of the Month honors.

The May meeting will include installation of new officers and a covered dish supper, to be held in the home of Mrs. Eileen Luke.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sharon Ann, to David Lee Shallenberger of De Soto, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yarwood of Youngstown, Ohio. The couple has chosen May 26 for their wedding day. Their Nuptial Mass will be celebrated by Father Gale White of Dallas at 5 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster. The bride-elect is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, attended North Texas State University in Denton and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas. She is a physical therapist at Charlton Methodist Hospital in Dallas. The future groom is a graduate of Boardman High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical Engineering from Youngstown State University. He is a Process Engineer for Owens Corning Fiberglas in Waxahachie. They will reside in De Soto.

News of St. Richard's Villa

On Monday, March 21 Mary Griffin had morning and afternoon visitors. The residents enjoyed a movie shown by Betty Felderhoff on Tuesday afternoon. And they played bingo on Wednesday morning after an exercise period and Bible study.

Louise Fisher played the piano on Thursday, March 29 and Joe Hoenig led singing with residents. At 10 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller came to meet Carl Smith, Jr., Bertha Bewley and Lillian Penton, and Anna Herr took Buck Ware, Paul Thornberry, Edgar Linn, Barney Barnett and together they all went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Valley View who hosted a pizza lunch. Carl Jr. stayed with them to visit until Saturday.

On Friday, March 30, ladies of St. Richard's Villa enjoyed hair styling and manicures. On Saturday Ken Lewis of De Soto and Pearl Lewis of Dallas visited a relative, Dena Howell.

Residents enjoyed an April Fool's party on Sunday, April 1. They played bingo with Caroline Hess calling the game. She also served ice cream later in the afternoon.

Neny Alvarez of Baton Rouge, La. spent the week visiting her mother, Mrs. Rosa Diaz.

Residents enjoyed a movie again on Tuesday afternoon, and a number of visitors. They played bingo on Wednesday April 4 and Mrs. Earl Fisher visited her mother, Mrs. Rose Evers. Residents and family members celebrated the April birthdays of Rose Evers and Paul Thornberry. Mrs. Earl Fisher brought a decorated birthday cake and an angel food cake and beautiful trays of fresh fruit. St. Richard's Villa provided punch to serve with the cakes. Lori Lee Klement, granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Herr helped serve. Lori also played the piano and sang for the residents. With Doug Martin playing the guitar, Lori danced the "Cotton Eyed Joe" to the delight of residents. Doug Martin also furnished music for the group singing.

On Friday, April 6, Anna

Herr, activity director at St. Richard's Villa took Paul Thornberry and Buck Ware to Lindsay for haircuts, and then to The Center in Muenster for lunch.

John Schmitz enjoyed having his great-grandchildren from Dallas come for a visit. Bringing them were his son, daughter-in-law Leonard and Jenny Schmitz and another daughter, Rosalie Cox all of Dallas. Accompanying them were Loren and Maegan Schmitz, children of Bobby Schmitz. They told their great grandfather about their new baby brother. The group also visited the Al Horns and the Ray Wildes.

Mrs. Rose Evers was visited Sunday, April 8 by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Relf Halter of Wichita Falls.

On April 9 two new residents came to St. Richard's Villa. They are Mrs. Frances Reiter and Mrs. Evelyn Schilling. And Dell Thompson of Saint Jo visited Mary Griffin.

Shawna Cain visited her grandmother Mrs. Edna Hogan on Tuesday; and Robynn Walterscheid came to see Evelyn Schilling; Tina Tolbert of Dallas visited her grandmother Lucy McKinzie. Guests of Mrs. Rose Evers on Tuesday and Wednesday were Mrs. Anna Evers of Canyon and son Allen Evers of Hereford. A movie was shown to residents on Tuesday.

Louise Fisher came to see Aunt Bess Barr on Wednesday and Mrs. Anna Evers, Allen Evers and Mrs. Earl Fisher returned for another visit with Mrs. Rose Evers. Residents enjoyed bingo games also on Wednesday.

Many residents had guests Thursday morning. In the afternoon Dean Hirner and Mrs. Anna Herr, activity director took Carl Smith Jr., Buck Ware, Edgar Linn, Barney Barnett, Bertha Bewley, Cora Teague, Jewell Jones and Lillian Penton to the Morton Museum in Gainesville and then drove out to Wes Fuson's farm to see the horses and new colts. Lucy McKinzie went to her home in Myra and returned Friday.

Residents enjoyed morning visitors and Cortese Cecchini had guests from Dallas. Angeline Barnhill visited all the residents in the afternoon.

Shower Sunday honors Colleen Fette

Colleen Fette was the honoree at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon when hostesses were Gina Walterscheid and Janelle Lutkenhaus. They entertained a group of friends, former classmates, cousins and aunts in the reception room of the TP&L Building from 2:00 until 4:00.

Refreshments included punch and a decorated cake. After the honoree opened and displayed her gifts, the guests enjoyed informal visiting and viewing pictures brought by several. Attending from out of town was the honoree's mother, Mrs. Frank Cardwell of Crowley.

Colleen Fette is the bride-elect of Eladio Garcia, Jr. They will be married on Saturday, May 12 in St. Ann's Church in Burleson.

Please continue to send in news of family gatherings held to honor First Communicants.

Kristin is two

Kristin Growing celebrated her second birthday on April 15 with a party hosted by her parents, Donnie and Kellye Growing in their home.

A hamburger supper was served to Kristin's guests, gifts were opened, and punch and birthday cake were served.

Decorations included balloons and streamers in the Sesame Street theme. Guests included Kristin's brother Brandon, the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Martin Klement and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Growing; uncles, aunts and cousins Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hermes and Jeffrey and Loren, Kirk Klement, Linda Growing, Bill Growing; and neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Kim Nix and Kimberly, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vogel and Shawn, Misty and Tracey, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Biffle II, Mr. and Mrs. Smoke Koelzer. A special guest was Kristin's great-grandmother, Mrs. Laura Haverkamp.

The decorated birthday cake was baked by Mrs. Sue Oakley.

Returns from Ca.

Mrs. Florence Fisher returned April 11 from a five-week stay in Seal Beach, California with her daughter and son-in-law, Mildred and David Shenk, while Mrs. Shenk was recuperating from back surgery.

While there Mrs. Fisher made a side trip to San Diego and a brief visit to Tijuana, Mexico. She also accompanied the Shenks for a visit to their weekend home at Rancho Mirage and took a tour of Palm Springs.

Juanita Bright explains "Color Coding Yourself" to members of YHT on April 12.

YHT has color program

Juanita Bright presented an informative, educational program on "Color Coding Yourself" to members of the Muenster Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, on Thursday, April 12.

She explained to members that an individual's hair and eye color and skin tones determine if warm or cool colors will be most complimentary.

Demonstrating by holding a color arch around each individual's face she explained how one color range brings a face forward with highlights, while another color range causes shadows.

She also demonstrated how specific body structures may be complimented by certain style of clothing and jewelry.

During the business meeting conducted by YHT President Janie Hartman in the Public School Home Economics room, Debbie Fisher reported on gifts to the new Outstanding Young Homemaker and FHA student Jana Hamilton and runner-up Trisha Reiter, at the Mother-Daughter Banquet on April 10.

Members voted to hold a bake sale on Germanfest Saturday, April 28, at the Arts and Crafts location on Main Street. A price list was drawn up and a work schedule started.

The May program will be presented by Mrs. Jean Troop of Gainesville. She is the remedial reading instructor of Muenster Public School. The program will be on learning disabilities. Because of a schedule conflict, the meeting date is pending, and will be announced later. Mrs. Ross Felderhoff is reporter for YHT.

SCHOOL NEWS

From the Principal's office

by Eddie L. Green

All school districts, school boards, and administrators should cast their eyes toward the Supreme Court soon. A nearby school district, Irving ISD, is involved in a case which could reverberate all through public education. You may or may not be aware or familiar with the case. In either situation, I will give you a thumbnail brief.

About four years ago, Amber Tatro was enrolling in pre-school in Irving. Amber was born with a disease called Spina Bifida which, among other things, prevented her from being able to empty her bladder normally. This problem necessitated the use of C.I.C. (Clean Intermittent Catheterization), which used a steel catheter every few hours to empty her bladder. Irving successfully completed her IEP (Individual Education Plan) as required by law, but balked at performing the catheterization. According to the Education For All Handicapped Children Act of 1975, all schools must provide the educational services for handicapped students. Irving school officials thought that CIC would fall under the aura of a medical service and as such would not be mandated under this law. Irving also felt that it would be exposed to a possible lawsuit if the CIC were done improperly by teachers who were untrained medically. The Tattros appealed to the Texas Education Agency and the State Board of Education who subsequently upheld Irving's stance. However a Federal District Court and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in favor of the Tattros. Now the U.S. Supreme Court is going to hear the case.

Needless to say I am frightened for public education. My faith in the sanity of our Supreme Court has been well documented in previous articles. All I can say is that I can be sure that the court will make the wrong decision. (Why break a long-standing track record) Why does it frighten me and probably every other school official? The Supreme Court has already pushed education aside in our schools by trying to get us in the sociological business. We are now asked to solve all the social ills of our nation in our schools. We have been placed in the law enforcement business since we have to be as informed as lawyers just to discipline our students. Now, if the Irving case is lost, we will be forced into the medical business. Not only will we have to take kids who are illegal aliens (according to one more idiotic court decision), we will have to provide and pay for any medical service they may desire.

In many peoples' eyes, Irving ISD may seem a cruel, heartless, and unfeeling bunch of people with no sympathy for little Amber's plight. This just is not so. They are just saying that there has to be a line drawn somewhere by someone. The courts push all these extraneous things on the schools' shoulders and then the public screams at our graduates' lack of achievement and falling test scores. We can't do it all. Either let us be in the education business only or don't expect much. Oh, by the way, if Irving loses, open your pocket-books. The cost of running schools will rise dramatically if we have to open a hospital wing on each school building and hire a full-time medical staff.

I certainly feel that handicapped students have a right to the best education possible. No one could say to the contrary. But we should not be expected to perform anything that could be placed in the medical area. The same people who want us to provide children like Amber with medical services would be the first to sue if something went wrong. Just remember that schools are fighting for their lives now anyway and do not need any more obstacles thrown in their path.

SH Senior Class in Stock Market competition

The Sacred Heart senior Economics class is participating in the Kansas State Stock Market competition. Each year some 20 states across the U.S. sponsor such competition to foster understanding of the Stock Market.

The students are divided into teams of three investors. For the ten week competition, they are given a fictitious portfolio of $100,000.00, and an equivalent margin credit.

They then buy and sell stocks (or sell short) on the NYSE or AMEX. Their transactions are submitted on IBM cards, and a record of their transactions and portfolio values are recorded weekly, as well as a ranking of the top forty investment teams in the state, and their regional placing.

There are over 200 teams in the statewide competition, and fifty teams in the regional groupings. Currently, the top investments team at Sacred Heart is team 500 consisting of Neil Hesse, Troy Yosten and Duane Haverkamp which ranks 20th statewide, and 3rd in the region, having amassed a $7,000.00 profit, the first six weeks of the competition. The competition ends April 27th with top teams in state and region receiving awards.

Sponsor and coordinator of Sacred Heart's entries is Joe Caserta, Economics teacher.

Mashelle Hudspeth wins at state

Representatives of the Forestburg FHA chapter attended the 1984 state meeting of the Texas Association of FHA-HERO along with 7,000 members and advisers from Texas.

FHA-HERO: "A Step Into The Future" was the theme of the 1984 meeting held in San Antonio Convention Center, April 12-13.

Attending from Forestburg were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dill, Mashelle Hudspeth, Christy Reed, Lorene Romine and Page Sirman.

Keynote speakers and presentations by Future Homemakers highlighted the two-day conference.

Mashelle Hudspeth competed at the State level in the proficiency event, illustrated talk division, in competition with 39 other FHA contestants representing every area of Texas.

After completing the first round of preliminaries, Mashelle advanced to the final round of competition. Out of 6 finalists, she was selected as the Number One State Achiever in the Illustrated Talks division.

Each state's top achiever will advance to national competition at the National FHA-HERO meeting in Chicago, July 16-19. There Mashelle Hudspeth will compete in the proficiency event illustrated talk division with a limited 5 minute speech on "Child Abuse, the Silent Crisis." The illustrated talk consists of the speech itself, visual aids and outline with references submitted to the judges.

This is the first year Texas FHA-HERO has participated in proficiency events and the Forestburg FHA chapter has the first winner in the division in Texas. The Forestburg FHA, Area 4, and the Texas Association of FHA-HERO support Mashelle's endeavor to win the National Competition. She is the daughter of Dale and Linda Hudspeth, residents of Forestburg. Her teacher and FHA adviser is Beth Dill.

Darwin Sicking wins in district 4-H

Darwin Sicking was one of many contestants entering Method Demonstrations at TWU in Denton on Saturday, April 14 in 4-H Club district competition.

His demonstration was on Energy Resources of the Future; and he obtained his information from the 4-H Electricity Lab that he attended at Trinidad last summer. The lab was sponsored by Texas Power and Light Co.

Darwin Sicking won a blue ribbon and rosette, placing second, and will advance to state competition at College Station in June. He is the son of Jerry and Evelyn Sicking and a student at Muenster Public School.

The first place in this category was won by Jim Fleitman, son of the Herbie Fleitmans of Denison and grandson of Mrs. Millie Fleitman of Muenster.

MHS attends FHA convention

Representatives of the Muenster Future Homemakers of America Chapter attended the 1984 state meeting of the Texas Association of FHA/HERO, along with the 7000 members and advisers from Texas. "FHA/HERO: A Step into the Future" was the theme of the 1984 meeting, held in the San Antonio Convention Center, April 12-13.

Attending from Muenster Public School were Tricia Reiter, Jackie Farrell and Angie Oakley, who earned the most participation points in their Chapter this year. Mrs. Joni Sturm, adviser of Muenster FHA, accompanied the students on the trip.

Keynote speakers and presentations by Future Homemakers highlighted the two-day conference. Interest sessions on family crisis, leadership skills, nutrition, and employability were held.

The business of the Texas Association was conducted at the House of Delegates session Thursday evening. Angie Oakley represented Muenster as the voting delegate. Installation of the 1984-85 state officers climaxed the Friday evening session.

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization sponsored by vocational Home Economics Education, Texas Education Agency, with Ms. Judith Heatherly, Director and Miss Sharon Reddell, State Adviser.

Fun Time Blue Birds complete projects

The second grade Fun Time girls have completed their Starbird project entitled Save the Family. The activities accomplished throughout this project are as follows:

Each girl made and studied her own family tree, parents had shared with the girls some of their favorite childhood memories. The members acted out different Parent/Child roles in everyday situations, and acted out jobs of each parent.

The girls gave to 3 families a set of Parent/Child wishes. Each girl signed a letter written to the mayor asking if there's a holiday to celebrate the family and family life here in Muenster and if not would the City Council consider making one.

The project has been entered in the Colgate

Palmolive, Help Young America contest.

The following girls are now eligible to receive the Star Bird Emblem, representing a year of second grade level achievements: Amy Fette, Misty Gieb, DeAnna Hess, Misty Knabe, Gina Pels.

Spotlight on the Seniors

Stephen Vogel

Stephen Vogel, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogel is a senior at Muenster High.

His favorite subject is Wood Shop. He played football for four years, was a member of the student council and vice president of the Ag club during his junior year, and also won the Agriculture Award that year. During his high school years he raised club calves and in 1983 received the Grand Champion Award.

He said that he enjoyed school during these years and is also looking forward to the future. "I feel I learned a lot from high school and that it has a lot to offer." After graduation he said he plans to attend either Cooke County College or North Texas State University.

Jeannene Voth

Jeannene Voth, 18, of Route 2, is the daughter of Ray and Lou Voth.

Jeannene was named National Honor Society President one year, and was an A student four years. She was a member of the drill team four years and drill and drill team leader three years. She was a class officer two years, student council co-president, and voted "most dependable" one year. She was a member of the track team one year.

Jeannene said the teachers at Sacred Heart have been an inspiration to her during her schooling, and that she was extremely proud to have received a Catholic education. She is uncertain about college at the present, but hopes to attend and work toward a major in business.

Jim Bartush

Jim Bartush, 18, of Route 1, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartush.

Jim has been a member of the Lettermen's Club four years, and Spanish Club two years. He was on the track squad four years, and a member of the football team two years.

Jim said he felt his high school years at Sacred Heart have been a great help in preparing for the future. He plans to attend the University of Wyoming in Laramie, where he will work toward a degree in Wildlife Conservation.

Jill Wimmer

Jill Wimmer, 17, is the daughter of Gertie and Arnie Wimmer and a student at Muenster Public School.

Her favorite subjects during her high school years have been Homemaking, Anatomy and English IV.

She participated in basketball four years, in volleyball two years and in track two years, and was a member of FHA four years and the Hornet Marching Band for three years.

Jill served the Student Council of MHS as secretary for one year. She won third place in the Voice of Democracy Essay Contest sponsored by the VFW.

"I have enjoyed my high school years," she said "and I am going to miss all the activities that high school offers."

After graduation, Jill plans to attend CCC and then Texas Woman's University in Denton, studying to become a Kindergarten teacher, and majoring in Kindergarten or Nursery Education.

Musical presented by grades 3 and 4

Thursday evening was a "big night" for the third and fourth graders of Muenster Public School when they performed for a large crowd of parents, relatives and friends in the Muenster High School auditorium.

Third graders presented "Pioneer Pete" starring Darren Bindel as Pete, Justin Hartman as Mr. Smiley, and Toni Shotwell as Miss Honeywell. The setting was the Sunnyvale

Senior Citizens' Home. Narrated by Pioneer Pete, the story told how the early settlers struggled to make a home in the early days of the West. A delightful feature was a square dance.

Children performing the square dance were Chad Chaney, Brian Knabe, Daniel Proffer, Harvey Hubbard, Leslie Perkins, Bri Miller, Staci Whittington and Lori Klement.

Solos were performed by Lori Graham, Daniel Proffer, Harvey Hubbard and Darren Bindel. The class sang western and American folk songs.

Fourth graders presented "A Surprise from Outer Space." The play featured two green space travelers, Nicki Shotwell and Michael Gobble from the planet "Oops."

The play featured favorite songs. There were solos by

Amy Dankesreiter and Justin Ramsey; a duet by Julie Hess and Tina Klement. Polka dancers were Kelly Jean Wimmer, Kelli Ford, Leslie Klement, Kristi Bierschen, Sam Walterscheid, Chris Kubis, Tommy Teafatiller, and Bill

Park. Hawaiian girls were Alicia Ladd, Misty Vogel, Tonya Knabe, Charity Gilbreath, Elizabeth Paulsen, Cheryl Hacker and Jennifer Lippe. The classes sang to the piano accompaniment of Rosemary Dankesreiter, elementary music director. Mrs. Dankesreiter welcomed the audience before beginning the show, and at the end gave special thanks to all who contributed to the successful performance. She received a surprise presentation of a bouquet of spring flowers by her daughter, Dana Dankesreiter.

"Scratch, Scratch" is the song presented by Ryan Sicking, Michael Vogel and Leslie Klement, fourth graders, during a musical program by Rosemary Dankesreiter's students.

SPORTS

Sacred Heart is first and second in TCIL district track

Sacred Heart Tigerettes were big winners and the Tigers missed the top spot by a single point in the TCIL district track meet sponsored by SHHS on the Muenster High field Saturday.

Scores in the girls division were Sacred Heart 222, Tyler Gorman 184, Ennis St. John's 34, and Amarillo Alamo 2. Boys totals were Gorman 155, Sacred Heart 154, Alamo 52, St. John's 29. Notre Dame of Wichita Falls did not participate in either division.

Next and final action for the teams will be at the state finals in which all who finished first or second are qualified to compete.

Because of the limited participation here the two leading teams of each division had many first and second finishers and will be well represented at Austin.

Sacred Heart girls will be Sharon Henscheld, Rose Felderhoff, Gail Fisher, Sally Stoffels, Kerry Haverkamp, Sandy Taylor, Sondra Hess, Anne Felderhoff, Leslie Hess, Marilyn Hartman and Carmen Sicking.

The Tigers are Neil Hesse, Jim Bartush, Steven Schmitt, Kyle Walterscheid, Ron Dangelmayr, Chris Dangelmayr, and Bret Walterscheid.

The SH teams earned their points as follows.

"Marathon was great", Darlene

Along with the distinction of being the third member of a family, and third of a community to be entered in the Boston Marathon, Darlene Hess was thrilled beyond words by her participation Monday. She loved it and wants to go back, possibly to improve on a good record.

In a phone call to her brother, Ronnie, she said she finished in 3 hours 24 minutes as one of the top 3 women of the Dallas area. The time was 10 minutes more than her qualifying time of 3:14, but there was the problem of wind and rain. Still it was only 4 minutes over the qualifying requirement of 3:20.

She added that a German-fest friend, Juan Zetina was No. 4 in the race. He was the winner here last year and second the year before and is expected back this year.

By way of seeking information, the Enterprise make a claim that the Ray Hess family, with three Boston marathon participants, has a record far and wide, possibly nation wide. They are Tom, Ronnie and Darlene. Can someone name as many or more of another family?

Bud Light starts softball season

Bud Light, a softball team sponsored by Gilbert Endres Distributing Co., began its season in Gainesville's Knights of Columbus tournament May 12-14. While winning 2 and losing 2, the team averaged more than 11 runs a game and held the deficits to only 1 and 2 runs in the losses.

Adam Wolf is the coach and players are Monte Endres, David Felderhoff, Kenny Hartman, Darrell Herr, Mike Hesse, Neil Hesse, Jack Leaton, Kirk Mollenkopf, John Monday, Angelo Nasche Jr., Joe Reeves, Todd Richey, Craig Walterscheid, Mel Walterscheid, Neil Walterscheid and Phil Wolf. Ronnie finishes near the top

Being number 30 finisher in a field of 23000 runners, and number 7 of the 30-39 age division was rare experience for Rumpy Hess on March 18. He competed in the Capital 10,000 race at Austin, rated as the second biggest race of the nation. Other local entries were Dale Schilling, Janet Hess, Darlene Hess, Glenn Felderhoff and Mike Siegal. Dan and Faye Hamric were there to boost the German Fun Run.

The Sensation of Suzuki.

With the introduction of the new 1984 Suzuki RM-80, the best bike in the class just got a whole lot better. The potent Power Reed engine is stronger across the entire powerband, with an especially big boost in bottom-end and mid-range torque. Throttle response is lightning quick thanks to a new flat-slide carb and a new expansion chamber with a lightweight aluminum silencer. A beefed-up clutch transfers the power through a 6-speed transmission with new close-ratio gears.

$895⁰⁰

For 1984, the RM-125 is totally new and unbelievably fast. It's super-strong down the straights, propelled by an all-new Power Reed engine with a higher, wider powerband. A flat-slide carburetor provides quicker response, assisted by a new high-flow single air cleaner and new expansion chamber with a lightweight aluminum silencer. Dual radiators keep the temperature down and the power up, even through the longest, hottest races.

Lindsay is first, Muenster second in district track meet

Lindsay was champ and Muenster was runner up in the varsity division of the 31-A district track meet held Tuesday on the MHS field, and Muenster was the camp of the meet's junior division.

After the meet Muenster's proud coaches were lavish in their praise of the Hornets. Coach Peters said he was never more pleased with a bunch of kids. They gave 100 percent and more in earning a good score which is especially impressive in this talented district, which he regards as one of the best of the state.

Team totals in the senior division were Lindsay 137, Muenster 104, Perrin 67, Era 56, Paradise 55, Brock 41, Slidell 21, Graford 16, Alvord 10, Poolville 10, Peaster 6, Forestburg 4.

Franciscans hold April meeting

Members of the Secular Franciscans held their regular monthly meeting on April 13 in the afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lena Zimmerer. Meeting opened with prayer for the Franciscan Ritual.

Mrs. Tony Hermes led the prayers and presided at the meeting.

Minutes and financial report were given and approved as read.

Mrs. Veronica Klement read from Scripture: Romans Chapter 12 Verses 1-13. "Offer your bodies as a living, holy sacrifice, truly pleasing to God."

The president read several letters received from the Sacred Heart Province Oak Brook, Illinois, one in acknowledgement of the pre-capita contribution and also the Visitation spend. A letter with some specific recommendations for the Fraternity to share with the members which is found in the S.F.O. Pauline Rule. "Fulfilling the Characteristics of Fraternal Life and Preserving the Vitality of Membership."

The President announced that on Sunday March 25 she received a telephone call from Linda Stone from Norman, Oklahoma telling that they are interested in the Life of Saint Francis and are starting a new Fraternity there. She asked for information and support from the Fraternities in the North Texas District. Mrs. Marie Badgett volunteered to send her some information. They are planning to have a quarterly news letter and would appreciate some items of interest from this area about four times a year.

Mrs. Elvira Flusche read from the New Vision - Issue No. 9 - "Missions and Leadership".

The president reminded the members that the Holy Year will come to a close on Easter Sunday. Therefore plans were made to go in a group to the Sacred Heart Church in Muenster which was privileged to be selected a Pilgrimage church in this North Texas Diocese at 2 p.m. April 15 for an hour of prayer.

The Franciscan Herald and New Vision Issue No. 10 were distributed to members present.

The meeting was adjourned with the closing prayer from the Franciscan Ritual, and St. Francis Prayer. After adjournment Mrs. Lena Zimmerer served brownies and coffee.

First Realty, champs of the Lindsay volleyball tournament, are: front, Kathy Barton, Myrt Vannoy, Peggy Sparkman; back, Jonna Blain, Nancy Sicking and Johanna Westbrook.

Lindsay's John Dieter (left) is second and Doug Anderle is first in the 400 m dash of the district meet.

Zoning policy stays

Present zoning policy in the city of Lindsay will continue as it is, according to a decision by the planning and zoning commission on April 5.

The commission met in response to a request that certain residential areas along Highway 82 be rezoned to allow occupation by light industry. A number of homeowners at the meeting objected strongly to the proposal.

Commission members attending were Henry Fleitman, Tom Eberhart, Raymond Hermes and Bill Dulock along with Mayor Norbert Mages and a number of concerned individuals. Dulock announced his resignation at the meeting.

Lindsay qualifies for regional track are: front, Gayle Hermes, Beverly Neu, Brenda Haverkamp, Gina Hellman; back, Cindy Neu, Beverly Hermes, Shannon Fleitman, Anita Fangman.

The Aliens, champs of the Lindsay volleyball tournament are: front, Bo Skipworth, George Nado, Joe Hoedebeck; back, Mel Walterscheid, Ken Fox, Donnie Edge.

YHT makes Easter plans

The Lindsay Young Homemakers held their monthly meeting on April 17 at 7:00 p.m. in Charlotte Sicking's home.

Marta Kashadi of the Cooke County Mental Health Clinic gave the program on Child Abuse and Positive Parenting.

The meeting followed the program, with members deciding to meet at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 21 to assemble and deliver the Easter baskets in the community. They will meet in the homemaking room.

The club voted not to have a bake sale since the homemaking room received new shades. Proceeds from the bake sale were to go for new draperies in the homemaking room.

Diane Hermes asked for volunteers to help collect for the cancer drive. The club donated $50.00 for the drive.

Offers for next year were nominated. They include president, Carol Luttmir; vice president, Becky Benzer; secretary, treasurer, reporter, Peggy Kasparek. The nominees are unopposed but it is open for any one else to run before the May meeting.

The last meeting of the year will be held on May 15 at 7:00 p.m. in Claudia Zimmerer's home. A Mexican theme will carry out the meal. Senior members of the FHA and contestants in the essay contest "How FHA will help me in the future" are invited to attend in May.

BUSINESS

Electric Co-op meeting hears progress report for 1983

Member-consumers of Cooke County Electric Cooperative at their annual meeting April 16 in the Muenster High School auditorium heard pleasing reports of last year's business.

Michael Sloan, general manager, said the 1983 operation of the association reflects a continued recovery from the decline of kilowatt hour sales and net margins which occurred in the late seventies. He added that an extremely high inflation rate along with high cost of labor and material also contributed to the drop in margin at that time.

He continued by stating that KWH sales in '83 totaled 226,000,000, a 3.3 percent gain over 1982, which compares favorably with the industry as a whole. Also 380 meters were added to the system bringing the total to 8508 at the end of 1982.

Next he stated that gross revenue was up 14.5 percent for the year as a result of two factors: the increase in KWH Use plus an 11.28 increase in cost of purchased power. The gross increase of '82 was 17.4 percent.

The largest item of operating expense, he said, is the cost of purchased power, which amounted to $12,950,232 in 1983. It represented 89.7 percent of the total cost of electric service or 86.9 cents of each dollar of revenue from sales.

Operation, maintenance and administration totaled $969,627, a reduction of some $14,000 from the previous year. And the cost of depreciation, interest and tax amounted to $453,731, a gain of $35,637.

Continuity of service was 99.98 percent, well over the five year average and amounting to an average of 1 hour per customer for the year.

Sloan said that tree trimming probably explains some of the reduction of outage time and urged consumers to continue cooperating with the trimmers.

He brought member consumers up to date by stating "I have previously reported that your cooperative is one of the few, if not the only electric system, rural or otherwise, under the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission which has not been before the Commission seeking a base rate increase since the Commission assumed jurisdiction over rates in 1976. Also it has been reported to you over the past several months that the staff and directors, assisted by C.H. Guernsey of Oklahoma City, were in the process of conducting studies to assess the co-op's need to file a rate increase request with PUC. The staff and directors have determined from this study that such rate increase request can be delayed at least until 1985, and hopefully longer."

The manager also said that half of the accrued capital gains for 1984 total $154,340, which will be paid by the co-op on July 1.

He concluded his report by thanking member-consumers, fellow employees and directors for cooperation, help and guidance.

Another item of business was the election of directors in which Wendell Proffer was returned to District 1 and Jimmy Jack Biffle to District 5 for three year terms.

The meeting, with President Robert T. Lewis presiding opened with an invocation by Rev. Keith Thomas of the First Baptist Church, Muenster, and a welcome by Lewis along with comments on the importance of member-consumer attendance.

Entertainment was twofold. The Billy Curtis Band of Hirschi High, Wichita Falls, provided music from 7:15 until the meeting opened at 8 p.m. And later Leonard Passmore of the Texas Bankers Association as guest speaker presented a talk featuring East Texas humor.

The final event on the program was the ever popular drawing for 28 attendance prizes, all electrical. And after adjournment refreshments were served by the Muenster High FHA chapter and their adviser, Joni Sturm.

The 28 prize winners were Mrs. Ben Davis, Mrs. Leonard Bengfort, Faye Brown and Jerry Lewis of Gainesville; Eula Parker and Mrs. Coy Mosley of Saint Jo; Dean West of Callisburg; Bear Head Baptist Church and Murrell Hickman of Sivelis Bend; Cleo Hagerla and Robert J. Brown of Nocona Hills; Mrs. Louis Maxwell of OakShores; Ray Durham of Nocona;

Also Juanita Ford of Forestburg; Bill Biffle of Era; Jerry Balthrop Jr. and Ross Point Home Demonstration Club of Rosston; Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay; Bill Thompson of Spanish Fort; O.C. Ingram and Mildred Cooley of Pilot Point; Mrs. Raymond Davidson, Dale Klement, Ed Knauf, Paul Fetsch, Tony Hess, John Streng and Wm. Lutkenhaus of Muenster.

'Preserving Grandma's Treasures' highlights meeting

Evelyn Yeatts speaks on "Preserving Grandma's Treasures"

Election of officers and a program by Evelyn Yeatts, home extension agent for Cooke County, were highlights of the April 11 meeting of Muenster Extension Homemakers hosted by Liz Koesler in her home.

Named to serve the club for the next year were Lucille Lutkenhaus president, Mable Sicking vice president, Jacqui Bilderback council delegate, and Agatha Wolf alternate following the fall resignation of Mrs. Alice Hellman. Olivia Wimmer is secretary, treasurer.

Evelyn Yeatts spoke on "Preserving Grandma's Treasures" and 19 members answered roll call by showing a family keepsake and relating an interesting item. Examples were a boat-shaped dish; an antique kitchen gadget designed to hold a slice of bread above hot coals for toasting; crocheted decorative door hangings; grandmother's fan; costume pins and jewelry, etc.

Rose Rohmer, president opened the meeting with prayer, and members gave the pledge to the Flag. The hostess gave the inspiration: "It Sure Ain't Worth It." Marie Walter read minutes of the March meeting; Alice Hellman gave the council report.

All county clubs will participate in the annual May 8 covered dish luncheon to be held at noon at Lindsay Parish Hall, themed: "A Little Bit of Germany." The Lindsay Club will give the program.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Koesler served angel food cake, Watergate salad and coffee.

The May 9 meeting will be held in the home of Sue Wieler.

CCC sponsors special workshop April 26th

Having more month than money? Or wondering whether to rent or invest in a house? Or how to better your investments? If so, come to an informal workshop on "How to Make Your Money Work For You". It will be conducted by Richard La Barbera on Thursday, April 26, 7-9 p.m. at Cooke County College. We'll begin with refreshments at 7 for an informal get acquainted session before the meeting.

Mr. LaBarbera has had extensive experience with finances and investing; he also heads the Financial Aid Office at Cooke County College and is a member of Immaculate Conception Parish in Denton. This will be sponsored by the Catholic Campus Community. The public is invited. For more information call Barbara Fuhrmann, 817-387-1755, Campus Ministry.

Helmut wins at meat show

Helmut Hanss of Fischer's Meat Market, was a winner in the Cured Meat Product Show held in conjunction with the Oklahoma-Texas Meat Processors Convention at Oklahoma City, March 20-April 1, 1984. Over 100 meat products were entered in the competition. Mr. Hanss was winner of the Reserve Grand Champion plaque in the Smoked Salami and Summer Sausage class.

Local group tours 4 states

Six Muenster residents, two from Lindsay and one from Gainesville are telling local friends glowing reports of their most recent ten-day vacation trip with Nocona Fun Tours, directed by Weldon Cowan.

They are Mmes. Lucille Hess, Bonnie Hess, Agnes Owen and Catherine Hermes and Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Reiter all of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Fuhrmann of Lindsay and Mrs. Catherine Luttmer of Gainesville.

Departing from Nocona in the early morning of March 31 and returning on April 8, the tour made its first stop, reaching Gallup, New Mexico, after passing through a heavy snow storm near Albuquerque early in the afternoon. Before reaching Las Cruces they enjoyed views of the White Sands Dunes.

Enroute to Las Vegas, Nevada they saw the Petrified Forest and Painted Desert. They spent from Saturday night until Monday morning in Las Vegas and then left for Los Angeles. There they toured the Universal Studios, went to Disneyland, and with a tour guide saw Beverly Hills and Hollywood.

They spent three days and three nights in Los Angeles. In Hollywood they visited "The Price Is Right." One of their tour group was on the show. It will be televised on April 30 at 10 a.m. on Channel 4 TV.

In San Diego they visited the famous San Diego Zoo and with a guide, toured the city, an old mission church and saw the beautiful beaches.

Their return trip to Texas began with rain that was all too frequent. During their overnight stop in Tucson, Arizona, Mrs. Owen phoned her cousins the Pat McCallions who came in the rain to visit with the tour group. Mrs. McCallion is the former Agnes Rohmer, daughter of the late Leo Rohmers.

The tour group continued through Roswell, New Mexico, enroute to Texas, driving much of the way in rain.

Cancer Society announces drive

With a goal of $20,000, Cooke County's unit of the American Cancer Society will launch its annual education and fund raising crusade during the week of April 23.

Volunteers, whose aim is to reach every household of the county, will accept donations and also distribute literature to help people detect cancer and begin treatment in its early stages. This will be the only solicitation of homes during the year, however, there will be opportunities for memorials or other contributions throughout the year at First State Bank.

Volunteers include members of the Key Club, Health Careers Club, Future Homemakers and Torch Club.

NOTICE

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR OIL AND GAS WASTE DISPOSAL PERMIT

Henry Energy Corporation, 1201 N. Watson Rd., Suite 145, Arlington, TX 76011 has applied to the Railroad Commission of Texas for a permit to dispose of produced salt water by well injection into a porous formation not productive of oil or gas. The applicant proposes to dispose of salt water into the Strawn Sand formation Harris Ranch No. 8 well. The proposed disposal well location is 2 mi. NW from Bulcher in the Mountain Creek (Ellenburger) field, in Cooke County. The waste water will be injected into a strata in the subsurface depth interval from 1387 to 1406 feet.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: Chapter 27 of the Texas Water Code, as amended. Title 3 of the Natural Resources Code, as amended, and the Statewide Rules of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Requests for a public hearing from persons who can show they are adversely affected, or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing, within fifteen days of publication, to the Underground Injection Control Section, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 (Telephone 512/445-1373).

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF COOKE SHERIFF'S SALE

WHEREAS, on the 30th day of Jan. 1984, in Cause No. 2309 in the District Court of Cooke County, Texas wherein The City of Gainesville, Texas and Gainesville Independent School District recovered judgment against Ollie Pettigrew, K.K. Pettigrew; Unknown Owners, Defendant, for taxes, penalty, interest and cost against the hereinafter described property; whereas, on the 3rd day of April, 1984, by virtue of said judgment and the mandates thereof the Clerk of the above mentioned District Court of said county did cause to be issued an Order of Sale commanding me as Sheriff of said county to seize, levy upon, and sell in the manner and form as required by law the hereinafter described property;

WHEREAS, by virtue of said judgment and said Order of Sale and the mandates thereof I did on the 4th day of April, 1984, seize and levy upon as the property of the above defendant the following described property, situated in Cooke County, Texas, to-wit: W 1/2 of Lot 3, Block 2, McCain Addition to the City of Gainesville, with a city address of 720 Myrtle St., Gainesville, Cooke County, Texas.

And I will on the first Tuesday in the month of June, 1984, the same being the 5th day of said month, proceed to sell all the right, title, and interest of the Defendant in and to said property at the Court House door of said county in the city or town of Gainesville, Texas at 10:05 a.m. of said day, to the highest bidder for cash, provided, however, that none of said property shall be sold to the owner of said property directly or indirectly or to anyone having an interest therein or to any party other than a taxing unit which is a party to this suit for less than the amount of the adjudged value of said property or the aggregate amount of judgments against said property in said suit, which ever is lower, subject also to the right of the Defendant to redeem same in the time and manner provided by law and subject also to the right of the Defendant to have said property divided and sold in less divisions than the whole.

DATED at Gainesville, Texas, this 4th day of April, 1984.

Craig Rosenbaum

County Agent's Report

The other day we had a good visit with a friend over at Muenster, and he expressed a concern about the brush coming in his pastures. In many instances, large mechanical means would be too expensive for control of the regrowth and on the other hand, an ax didn't thrill him much either. So chemical control spot or individual treatment will work best in this maintenance brush control.

Several methods are available for maintenance brush control. Most of these methods are suitable for use during the winter months. Maintenance control measures include both mechanical and chemical treatments.

One of the oldest methods of brush control is suitable for use during the winter months. Basal treatment with kerosene or diesel, alone or in a mixture with 2, 4, 5-T has been used for many years. The herbicide solution should be applied to the trunk from a height of 12 inches to the soil surface. Enough of the mixture should be applied to each trunk so it runs down to the soil surface and soaks down around the root crown. This method works best when soil is dried and pulled away from the trunk of the plant. Although basal treatment is time consuming, it provides excellent control.

The 10 percent picloram pellet has been available for several years. It has been marketed under the trade name Tordon 10K until recently. In 1982 Dow Chemical introduced the trade name Grazon 10K for the 10 percent picloram pellet. Now the herbicide is available under both trade names. The 10 percent picloram pellets are useful for maintenance control of pricklypear, huisache (small undisturbed plants), red-berry juniper (cedar), Macartney rose, hawthorne, sumac, willow baccharis and whitebrush. The pellets are applied to the soil surface. Moisture is necessary to move the herbicide into the soil.

In early 1983 DuPont Chemical Company received a label for use of the liquid formulation of hexazinone on rangeland. The herbicide has the trade name Velpar L. It is labeled for individual plant treatment using an exact delivery spot gun for application. Velpar L is useful for control of oaks, hackberry, elm, mesquite, willow, tallow tree, whitebrush and juniper (cedar). 2-8 milliliters of Velpar L per 1 inch stem diameter or 3 feet of canopy diameter are required to control these plants. The Velpar L label prohibits use of the herbicide on marshy or poorly drained sites or on clay soils. Also no more than 2 gallons of Velpar L should be applied to an acre per season. Velpar L is applied undiluted to the soil surface.

Elanco Products Company has obtained a label for another formulation containing tebuthiuron. The new formulation has the trade name Graslan Brush Bullet 250. The Brush Bullet is a small briquette about 3/4 inch long. Each bullet contains 0.25 gram of tebuthiuron. This formulation will be available for ranchers to purchase and apply. An announcement on marketing of Graslan Brush Bullet 250 is expected in the near future. The bullet will be useful for individual plant treatment for maintenance control for oaks, elm, blackbrush, whitebrush, tarbush, several acacias, tallow tree and hackberry. The bullets are placed on the soil around the plant to be controlled.

Moisture is needed to move the soil applied herbicides into the soil and for uptake of the herbicides by plants. Therefore application during late winter and early spring is considered optimum for most of the state, because spring is the peak period of rainfall and the period of most active plant growth.

Pesticide training set

Many pesticides sold on the market today are on a restricted list and if you wish to purchase and legally use these products in Texas you must have a certified pesticide applicator number, according to H.A. Turney, entomologist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Anyone who wishes to become certified to apply restricted use chemicals should mark their calendar for April 25 and 26. A training session will be held at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Dallas, 17360 Coit Road, to help people who would like to prepare to take the test to become certified pesticide applicators.

In order to become certified, you must take a test given by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The cost of the test is $10.00 per category of certification. There are at least 22 categories in which a person can become certified.

Study material can be obtained in each of these categories by calling Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center, 214/231-5362.

If you would like to attend the training session and take the test given immediately following the training session, please call the above number and reserve a space for the training, Turney said.

It pays to topdress pastures.

Pastures are too often overlooked in an otherwise comprehensive fertility program. The fact is, proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. It can also dramatically increase your milk production. Begin with a soil test. Then apply the fertilizer shown to be needed. Add lime, if your soil is found high in acidity. Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. Forestburg homemaker club sponsors auction

The Forestburg Homemakers Club will sponsor an Auction on Saturday, May 5 beginning at 11 a.m. It will be located on Highway 455 in Forestburg, between the Fire Hall and the Scales. Concessions will be open for lunch.

Many antiques will be offered for sale, including antique radio, dishes, bedstead and carnivalware.

Other items include house furniture, refrigerators, lawn furniture, lawnmowers, farm equipment, small appliances, baked goods and a great variety of other items.

The Forestburg Homemakers are accepting all donations of items for the Auction except clothing. They will also welcome donations of money most gratefully. Profits from the Auction will be matched in order to help with the building of the new Community Center at Forestburg. Bud Ford is auctioneer and is donating his services to assist the building fund.

The Community Center will soon be built, but much inside work will still be needed. Restrooms are included; and a new kitchen will occupy one end of the building. The remainder of the building will offer ample space for seating and meetings.

Officers of the Forestburg Homemakers are Diane Huckabay president; Carla Evans vice president; Liz Johnson treasurer; and Debra Dill reporter. More information may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Dill at 964-2483.

The big sign shows results of their fund raising efforts to benefit a new community center. Auction co-chairman are Debra Dill reported, Diane Huckabay president and Carla Evans vice president of Homemakers club.

Cunninghams honor Holland birthdays

Ileen and Red Cunningham hosted a dinner Saturday night, April 14 in their Prairie Valley home honoring four children of Mrs. Nina Holland and the late John Holland, who observe birthdays in April. The honorees and their birth dates are: Ileen, April 8; James April 13; Weldon April 14; and Imogene April 22.

Nina Holland, of Horizon Manor in Nocona, was pleased to have eight of her nine children present. After a delicious meal the group of 38 enjoyed visiting, picture taking and remembering scenes from their childhood and growing-up years.

Grandparents attend First Communions

Mr. and Mrs. John Hacker of Muenster and Mrs. Elmo Wilson of Gainesville attended the First Communion of their granddaughter, Tammy Rose Wilson in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville on Sunday, April 15, in a Mass at noon. Tammy is the daughter of Jerry and Shirley Wilson of Gainesville.

Fr. Nicholas Fuhrmann was celebrant of the Mass for twenty First Communicants.

Also attending were Tammy's parents and her sister Jennifer and brother Jeffrey and an aunt, Patsy Wilson of Gainesville, and Tammy's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurus Hacker and children Cheryl, Michael and Maurus, Jr. of Myra.

A dinner followed at 2 p.m. in the Jerry Wilson home, with pictures and presents honoring Tammy.

Also attending the Mass were Michael's parents and his sister, Julie, his uncles Johnny and Glen DiStefano of Alexandria; Jim and Cheryl Drozd and children Amy, Chad and Nathan of Austin; and Paul and LuAnn Kubis and son Toby of Houston.

A dinner in Michael's honor followed in the family home, attended by all the guests. The table centerpiece was a First Communion cake decorated with a kneeling little boy figurine.

Enroute to Houston on Friday, the Reiters stopped in Bryan to visit with another daughter and family, Sandy and Chris Felderhoff and children Lydia and Kelly Lynn. They helped celebrate Kelly Lynn's first birthday with gifts and birthday cake, four days in advance of her April 16 birthday. The Reiters returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lutkenhaus of Muenster and Mrs. Nick Block of Lindsay attended the First Communion of their granddaughter Charlene Lutkenhaus in St. Mary's Church of Gainesville on Sunday. Mass was celebrated at noon by Fr. Nicholas Fuhrmann. Charlene is the daughter of Dennis and Carolyn Lutkenhaus of Callisburg. Also attending were Charlene's brothers, Clifford, Robert and Mark, and an uncle, aunt and cousin, Leo and Peggy Lutkenhaus and Kristie of Lindsay. All were guests for dinner following, in the Dennis Lutkenhaus home.

Mrs. Ida Mae Herr and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid were in Gainesville Sunday to attend the First Communion at St. Mary's Church of a great-grandchild, Toby Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rice of Gainesville.

Also attending were Toby's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Denis Walterscheid and all members of their family.

The First Communion Mass, at 12:00 noon was celebrated by Father Nicholas Fuhrmann.

Debbie and Don Rice and daughter Amanda hosted a dinner in their home in Toby's honor and attended by the above guests. The table centerpiece was a beautifully decorated cake made for Toby by his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Sam DiStefano of Alexandria, Louisiana were weekend guests of Charlie and Peggy Jo DiStefano of Missouri City, attending the First Communion of a grandson, Michael DiStefano on Saturday, April 14 at 10 a.m. in St. Thomas Moore Catholic Church in Houston.

Tracey Vogel was guest of honor at a family gathering following her First Communion in Sacred Heart Church Sunday afternoon. The party was hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Vogel in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Vogel.

Attending the First Communion liturgy at 2 p.m. were her parents, her sister Misty and brother Shawn; also Billy and Marge Fuhrmann and Julie and Janelle of Lindsay; Dink and Rose Hudspeth and Francine, Alan Scott and Brian of Myra; also Mrs. Theresa Vogel, and a grand-aunt Lu Vogel.

In the grandmother's home a First Communion cake was served; it was baked in the shape of a cross and decorated with pink roses and a kneeling First Communion little girl figurine. The cake was served with ice cream. Tracey opened and displayed her gifts.

Later that evening the James Vogels took Tracey, Misty and Shawn, Mrs. Ray Vogel and Lu Vogel to have supper at The Center, as a special treat for Tracey's special day.

Helping Jerry Reed, Jr. celebrate his First Communion Day were his parents, Jerry and Joie Reed, his brother Jonathan, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling and his godparents Wayne and Mary Kay Trubenbach.

All attended the 2 p.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday and then were together to have dinner out at The Center. Later in the evening the honoree and his family were guests of his godparents for a special cake and opening of gifts.

Joining them were another aunt, uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hermes and son Brian; also Ronnie and Rhonda Trubenbach.
