Religious emblems ceremony held Sun.

A special ceremony was held Sunday, Sept. 7, at Sacred Heart Church in Wichita Falls, where two Muenster Scouts received their religious award, the Ad Altare Dei. They were Jon Fleitman, Star Scout from Troop 664, chartered by the Knights of Columbus, and Douglas Evans, First Class Scout of Troop 659, chartered by the First United Methodist Church in Gainesville.

Jon and Douglas are both eighth graders at Muenster Public School. They have been meeting with Lupe Evans, Emblem Counselor, since early May. The latter part of August they were reviewed by members of the Catholic Committee on Scouting.

Bishop Joseph Delaney presented the boys with their awards and in his homily expressed his congratulations to the parents along with the Scouts. He reminded the Scouts of their promise of "Duty to God." There were nine Cub Scouts from the Seymour and Wichita Falls area who received their Parvuli Dei Emblem, along with four other Boy Scouts from Wichita Falls, who received their Ad Altare Dei emblem. A reception of punch and cake was held after the ceremony.

Jon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Fleitman and Douglas is the son of Mrs. Lupe Evans.

Red River Cut Rate Liquor store robbed

Tuesday night about 8:30, Margaret Tompkins was the only person on duty at the Red River Cut Rate Liquor store. Two men entered the store and asked for help with a seldom-requested product. While Tompkins and one of the men went to the far corner of the store, the other nonchalantly reached over the counter, opened a drawer and stuffed a money bag into his shirt. The two soon left after purchasing only some soft drinks.

Tompkins did not notice the theft immediately but being suspicious of the whole affair, called police and owner Herbie Miller. They soon discovered the theft, all of which was recorded on closed circuit television, and police in surrounding areas were notified. About one hour later, the suspects were stopped and identified just west of Henrietta, Texas. However, a search did not yield the money in question.

The men are currently in custody and a search is on for the missing funds. Miller said he's not getting his hopes up, but speaking of the local police, he stated, "If anyone can find it, Helen can."

Chief Tompkins and Officer Bob Stovall answered the call. Tompkins reported Wednesday evening that the two black males were in custody in the Clay County jail. Both had given false identifications so their fingerprints were sent to the FBI for positive identification. Margaret Tompkins has positively identified one man and police are hopeful that TV recordings will identify the other.

Rosalee Bayer is write-in candidate

The Cooke County precinct four commissioner's election is going to be a lot more interesting now. Although both major party primary elections are over, write-in candidates were still eligible to file for the November election. But, their name will not be printed on the ballot. Rosalee Bayer, wife of the late Robert Bayer, precinct four commissioner for 17 years, has done just that. She has filed for election to the job, but anyone wishing to vote for her must write on the ballot.

When asked why she had not entered the primary elections, yet now sought to oppose Democratic party nominee Wayne Trubenbach, she said, "I am familiar with the job and it's duties because of the 17 years my late husband Robert was in office. But, due to such a short period of time between the death of Robert and the filing deadline, I was undecided as to whether or not I wanted to run for commissioner. As the appointed commissioner for the last eight months of Robert's term, I know I am capable of handling the job."

Wayne Trubenbach, winner of a close primary election over Gerald Walterscheid and Dan Haverkamp was surprised by the announcement. He did not concede the contest in any way, however, saying, "I've worked hard to win their confidence and vote. I want to have a chance to serve the people of the precinct. Now I'll have to leave it up to them."

Nominations requested for "Good Neighbor"

The Knights of Columbus of the Muenster Council are asking for nominations for the annual "Good Neighbor Award."

Nominees must be non-Catholic who are active in the community and are ready and willing to give time and effort when needed for a good cause.

Nominations may be mailed to the Knights of Columbus Hall, P.O. Box 247, Muenster, or to Allen Sicking, Rt. 2, Box 138, Muenster, TX 76252 before Sept. 30, 1986.

Have a big time in Texas

AUSTIN - Perhaps Yogi Berra, the famous baseball phrase maker, said it best: "It ain't over 'til it's over."

Some think the travel season is over because summer vacation has ended, but actually many of the best times to travel still lie ahead, says Larry Todd, executive director of the Texas Tourist Development Agency (TTDA).

"The next few months is one of the best times to travel," Todd says. "It's cooler, there's less traffic and smaller crowds, and gasoline prices are still low."

More than 1,200 events remain in this Sesquicentennial year, including the expanded and enlarged State Fair of Texas, which will open a month-long run in Dallas on Sept. 26. Also travelers can see such things as the beautiful colors of fall foliage in the forests of East Texas and the secluded glens of the mountain country in the western part of the state and the sunny beaches and palm trees of the Gulf Coast and the Rio Grande Valley.

Bald eagles, the majestic symbols of the United States, winter along the Colorado River and can be seen from the excursion boats of the Vanishing Texas River Cruise. Also boat trips into the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge allow visitors glimpses of the rare whooping cranes that winter along the coast.

Texas wheat producers concerned

By Lloyd Bentsen
United States Senator

Last year, Texas was the third largest wheat producing state with a 187-million bushel crop.

According to the Texas Wheat Producers Association, our state has been exporting some 90 percent of its wheat, much higher than the 50 to 60 percent U.S. wheat growers as a whole are estimated to export.

It's easy to see then, why Texas wheat farmers are particularly concerned about decisions affecting U.S. wheat exports - such as the World Bank's recent $350 million low-interest loan to help Argentina boost its agriculture exports, including wheat.

Argentina already has doubled its share of world wheat exports in four years, while the U.S. share has decreased by 38 percent.

And the volume of our nation's wheat exports dropped some 43 percent between the 1981 and the 1985 marketing year, which ended in July.

Subsidized export sales - such as the recent shipment to Russia - will only be a limited help since the price of wheat has fallen from $3.91 a bushel in 1981 to $3.16 in 1985, and is projected to hit $2.25 to $2.50 in the new marketing year.

Our wheat farmers are in a tight spot, and their situation will be made even worse by such actions as that World Bank loan - 20 percent of which is funded by the U.S. government.

Our tax dollars are being used to help Argentina pay off its international debt by increasing its wheat export sales - in direct competition with American farmers.

That just doesn't make sense. While it's not a bad idea to help these countries find ways to pay their debts, we don't have to encourage competition in commodities - such as wheat - that U.S. producers already are struggling to sell in the world market.

Right now we have our own debt and an enormous trade deficit to reduce. And in agriculture trade, we have to turn the tide that - for the first time in 15 years - has us importing more farm products than we export.

I have joined in sponsoring legislation requiring U.S. representatives to international development banks to vote against loans that would create competition harmful to American producers of commodities or minerals already in world surplus.

If such a loan is approved over our objections, the U.S. government's contribution to that development bank would be reduced by an amount equal to our share of the loan.

The Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform (FAIR) bill has been approved by the Senate as an amendment to larger Export-Import Bank legislation.

I am one of 15 Senators who wrote to the chairman of the Senate Banking Committee requesting that the FAIR proposal be retained when members of a House-Senate conference committee meet on the overall legislation.

American farmers have enough problems without having U.S. taxpayers subsidizing their foreign competitors.

Good News!

For I know well the plans I have in mind for you, says the Lord, plans for your welfare, not for woe! plans to give you a future full of hope. When you call me, when you go to pray to me, I will listen to you.

Gramm outlines border anti-drug initiative

WASHINGTON - The Administration intends to invest a total of $265 million in manpower and equipment to halt the flow of drugs across the Southwest border, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm said recently.

Following a meeting with Assistant Secretary of Treasury for Enforcement Frank Keating on "Operation Alliance," Gramm outlined the administration's plans for the long-expected Southwest border initiative.

"A nine-member command group comprised of five federal agencies and four border state officials will supervise Operation Alliance," Gramm said. "The five federal agencies include the Drug Enforcement Agency, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Customs Service, the Coast Guard, and the FBI."

"Colonel Jim Adams, head of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will represent the State of Texas."

The senator said all operations except supervision of the Customs agents will be controlled from the El Paso Intelligence Center, which will be expanded. Customs operations will be handled from a control and communications center to be established at the Federal Aviation Administration office in Houston, he said.

Gramm said the project will involve substantial increases of law enforcement manpower on the border between the Texas Gulf Coast and San Diego.

"Among others, these will include 60 more federal prosecutors, 75 additional FBI agents and 100 new Internal Revenue Service investigators in addition to the 200 slots for U.S. Customs officers which were designated for Southwest border duty earlier this year," he said.

Gramm said the administration will request $265 million for fiscal year 1987 for manpower and new surveillance equipment.

Equipment to be requested includes surveillance aircraft and transport helicopters, aerostats - balloon-borne, long-range radar units - special radios, ground sensors and infrared night viewers.

The new project will allow the Customs Service to engage in follow-up drug investigation if a seizure has been made at a port of entry.

SHORT ATTENTION SPAN

By Edwin Feulner

One of the unfortunate byproducts of our instant-information culture is that yesterday's crisis is as easily forgotten as last night's ball scores.

When one considers its impact on U.S. policy, for example, the Soviet nuclear disaster at Chernobyl might just as well not have happened. The Washington establishment today is preoccupied with putting a happy face on U.S.-Soviet relations, a necessary palliative in the process that inevitably will bring us a Reagan-Gorbachev Encore Summit this fall. So what if the Kremlin tried to lie its way through the Chernobyl incident; that was yesterday.

The same scenario plays out on terrorism. Just a few months ago, in the days leading up to and immediately following the U.S. air strikes against Libya, terrorism was an every wagging tongue in the Nation's Capital. But our attention span is short. The dirtballs haven't blown up any little kids lately, or murdered any old men in wheelchairs.

So as if in some somnambulist trance, Washington forgets about terrorism. Today we have other concerns: the oppressive heat and humidity at the top of the list, followed by the equally repressive bad guys we can never forget: the South Africans.

Even the Israelis—who should know better—feed our complacency, making it sound, in some recent public statements, that the Bombs Over Tripoli have stricken terror into the terrorists.

President Jerry Ford, of course, tried the same approach with a nagging domestic problem, trying to defeat inflation with "WIN" (Whip Inflation Now) buttons.

But problems don't go away, just because our attention has been diverted elsewhere. The Soviet Union is still an evil empire.

And terrorism is still a problem, though the lack of fresh blood has our eyes turned momentarily.

Perhaps in our "Entertainment Tonight" version of world events, this is where the tough guy needs to step into the picture, and slap some sense into us.

The war against terrorism can be won, but only if the United States and its allies are prepared to use all of the means at their disposal—military, political, and diplomatic—to defeat this enemy.

Congress needs to untie the president's hands, and give him the authority to do what he feels is necessary the next time U.S. lives or property are held hostage. This could be done by amending the so-called War Powers Act, which limits presidential authority to employ military force.

It could also be done by declaring a moratorium on second-guessing the president in such emergencies.

Washington is the second-guess capital of the world. It is a game that is played with brilliance. But what we view as healthy debate is often viewed abroad as a country divided. We weaken our hand considerably in dealing with terrorists to let them think—for even one flinching moment—that on a subject of this gravity there is any difference between Democrats and Republicans.

Do we really need fresh blood to remind us that terrorism hasn't disappeared?

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

Red River Valley Artsfest Sept. 20

SHERMAN - Musical entertainment, the traditional and unusual in food, demonstrations and sales of unique handcrafts, expanded children's activities, as well as an art show and special museum exhibits will highlight the 1986 Red River Valley Artsfest on Sept. 20. The all-day festival, sponsored by the Sherman Council for the Arts and Humanities and the Sherman Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the grounds of the municipal building at Pecan and Rusk for the fourth year.

The continuous entertainment, featuring lots of local talent, will perform on the new Oliver Dewey Mayor outdoor stage now under construction, according to Sylvia Hitchcock, entertainment chairperson. Bill Collins and the Dixieland Band, which has performed at Artsfest for several years, will return by popular demand as the headliners, Mrs. Hitchcock said.

Milly Haring, in charge of crafts booths, is receiving applications from across a three-state area. Unique this year will be a special herb booth featuring wreaths and baskets. There will also be clothing booths - T-shirts, wrap-around skirts, hats - as well as woodcraft, country items, pottery and glassworks. Many of these craftspersons will be giving demonstrations.

"We are planning for twice as many booths this year," she said. To reserve a booth, contact Mrs. Haring at 892-3113 or the Chamber of Commerce.

SMALL BUSINESS ANGLE

by John Sloan

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO DICTATE EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

A working parent wants to spend time at home after the birth of a child. Should the government require that the employee's job be waiting when he or she returns, perhaps as long as 18 weeks later?

An employee who repeatedly reports late for work is fired and loses health benefits. Should the government require the dissatisfied employer to continue to include the discharged employee in the company health plan? And should the employer pay for the coverage or should the employer?

Such mandated employee benefits could soon be the law of the land, but will they accomplish what proponents say they will, or will they cause smaller employers to reduce the number of workers or, in some cases, go out of business?

The letters I've been receiving lately suggest that mandated benefits will hurt, not help, employees of most American businesses.

Most of the small-business owners I heard from stressed that employee benefit programs must be freely agreed upon between employer and employee — that government should have no role in this marketplace. A lady in Burlington, Wash., wrote, "I have in the past taken parental leave for the births of my children, but it was my choice to work in a small business and I knew that my job would be at jeopardy during my leaves. At no time did I feel that my employer owed me a job or that he could afford to keep my job available for me."

Yet liberal politicians in Washington and some state capitals insist on pushing legislation to force employers to offer 18 to 26 weeks of medical and parental leave — with some even favoring paid leave for the entire period. They push legislation requiring the continuation of medical benefits for employees who have been dismissed, to be administered by the former employer and in some cases paid by that employer.

Academics, labor leaders and liberal politicians complain that ours is the only industrialized nation in the world without many of these mandated benefits. But most of those countries which mandate benefits are lagging far behind the United States in economic growth. Sweden, for example, continues to experience rising unemployment while the U.S. economy, spurred by small, independent businesses produces record numbers of new jobs.

Executives for some larger U.S. companies have been quoted as saying that the parental leave plan now under consideration is a "modest proposal" and that such a program is "inevitable." The truth is, these larger firms are buying some good public relations at the expense of the consumer. The big corporations can hide the added costs in higher prices. Smaller firms cannot.

According to a survey by the National Federation of Independent Business, about one-third of small firms do not offer any health insurance to their employees. Why? Because they cannot afford it. Requiring businesses to provide a new tier of benefits will make it even more difficult for these firms to stay in business and for other entrepreneurs to start businesses.

If we as a nation decide that government must dictate the terms of the employee-employer relationship down to the specifics of the benefits package, we also should invite government to mandate that all businesses hire a certain number of individuals, that all businesses show a "fair" profit and that none fail! In so doing, we would simply be repealing what is left of the code that produced the economic marvel that is America: the free market and the laws of supply and demand.

John Sloan is President of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. Si usted no ha recibido una copia de los informes en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/858/8883 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12887, Austin, Texas 78711.

Myra BBQ proves to be a great success

Though the sun was shining Saturday evening, Myra held their annual Bar-B-Que Cookout in the old Myra school. Approximately 675 people packed into the old classrooms to enjoy BBQ brisket, Suzie-Q potatoes, beans, all the trimmings, plus homemade cakes and pies.

Doug Martin's Rustlers provided country and western music throughout the evening, and the Crossroads Square Dancers put on a show for those present.

Sacred Heart Book Fair Sept. 15-21

Sacred Heart's Home and School organization is sponsoring a book fair Sept. 15-21 in the reading room, ground floor, of the elementary building. Fair hours are from 2-4 p.m. Monday through Friday; Saturday from 4-6:30 p.m.; and Sunday from 10-11 a.m. and 12-2 p.m. Interested buyers should enter the building through the west door of the elementary building, go down the stairs and into the reading room.

Fair chairperson, Becky Fenton, said the book fair would offer both children and adults an opportunity to select and buy quality paperback books and take them home with them during the fair week.

"There will be books on many subjects, both fiction and nonfiction, and for all reading levels and ages. All of the books are quality and are offered at very reasonable prices. In addition, there will be books of interest to both parents and teachers included in the fair," Fenton said.

The school will earn a percentage of their sales, which they plan to put back into the school library.

Elementary students at Sacred Heart will have an opportunity to visit, by class, the fair on Tuesday and to make any book purchases then, if they choose. It is preferred that sales be made in cash, however, checks will be accepted and are to be made out to Sacred Heart School.

In addition to the books, items such as posters, bookmarks, book covers and related merchandise will be available at the fair, Fenton said.

Volunteers are needed to help with sales during the fair. Interested persons are asked to contact Becky Fenton at Sacred Heart or to call 759-2805 after 5 p.m. and before 8 p.m.

Couple exchange vows Aug. 30

MRS. BARTLEY BRUCE COFFEY
... nee Leslie Jeanne Bragg ...

Leslie Jeanne Bragg became the bride of Bartley Bruce Coffey in a traditional ceremony in the sanctuary of Temple Baptist Church on Aug. 30 at 4 p.m. The date of the wedding marked the second anniversary of their first date.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bragg of Gainesville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Coffey of Muenster. He is also the grandson of Mrs. Bruce Johnson of Marietta, Oklahoma and the late Bruce Johnson.

Rev. Charles W. McLain, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, officiated the double ring ceremony before an altar holding white candelabra and baskets of mauve chrysanthemums. White satin bows, centered with iris and tiny mauve flowers, were used to mark pews in the center aisle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white crystal sheer and Chantilly lace, featuring a portrait neckline formed by tiers of lace and sheer ruffles. The fitted bodice was accented with appliques of lace. Tiny satin bows caught up the hem of the bouffant skirt into elegant scallops of crystal sheer over cascading lace ruffles, forming a semi-cathedral train.

The bride's silk cascade bouquet, designed especially for her by a cousin, Jessie Pembroke, was of mauve and white miniature rosebuds, white tea roses and lavender daisies, pink and mauve double gypsophila and stephanotis enhanced with sprays of bridal pearls and flowering streamers. A matching garland held her fingertip veil of illusion.

ATTENDANTS

Kim Houghton served as maid of honor. She wore a tea-length dress of mauve chintz designed with a full skirt, ruffled portrait neckline and basque bodice. A wide sash tied in a soft bow in back.

Carolyn Bragg was her sister's bridesmaid, gowned in a dress of iris chintz fashioned identical to the maid of honor. Both wore garlands of silk flowers in their hair and carried matching hand bouquets.

David Haynes of Haltom City was best man; Howard Grove was groomsman and Roy McGaugh of Groesbeck and Aaron Chaffin of Gainesville were ushers.

The couple lit their memory candle at the foot of the altar, following their exchange of wedding vows.

Pre-nuptial music was presented by Roy McGaugh, who sang a medley of the couple's favorite songs, with accompaniment by guitarist Randy Stewart.

Gloria Elliot, organist, played Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" as parents of the couple were ushered to their pews. For the processional she played the traditional Wagner "Bridal March" and for the recessional Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church, following the wedding, with Jill Chaffin, sister of the bride, attending the guest book.

The traditional wedding cake, made by Mrs. Henry Spaeth, was served by Judith Banks, sister of the bride. Allyson Bragg, niece of the bride, distributed rice bags.

Since returning from a wedding trip to San Antonio and Austin, the couple is residing in Haltom City.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church in Muenster.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Gainesville High School and attended North Texas State University for two years. She was associated with K-Mart in the business office.

Ceramics course offered this fall at CCC

GAINESVILLE - Ceramics will again be a part of the credit curriculum in art this fall at Cooke County College, and Mary Frances VanPelt of the CCC Art Department says students still have time to enroll. She points out that there will be an entire week of late registration, from Monday through Friday (Sept. 1-5) and that the class will not actually begin until Monday, Sept. 8.

VanPelt says that one of the primary attractions of the class will be its instructor, Sylvia Deaver.

"Contrary to what George Bernard Shaw said about those who can do and those who can't teach," VanPelt says, "Sylvia Deaver has proven that she can both do and teach and that she's very good in both areas."

Deaver and her daughters won first, second and third place prizes in the ceramics division of this year's Cooke County Art Show. She has owned her own ceramic shop for four years and reports that she's been working with clay since age five. Having previously taught a non-credit course in pottery making at CCC, Deaver has 17 years experience teaching industrial arts in Fort Worth and holds a master's degree in art and industrial arts from North Texas State University.

"I'd have to say my greatest strength is in the area of designs on pottery," she observes. "I'm basically a painter who chooses to work in clay, but I won't require my students to add designs to their work."

The course will be taught at the Arts Activity building which is beneath the Butterfield Stage Playhouse at the corner of Denton and Main streets in Gainesville. Classes will meet Monday evenings from 5:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Rudy Koesler attends Int. Woodworking Fair

Mass and reunion observe anniversary

Observance of the 25th anniversary of ordination of Father Eugene Luke OSB was held in the same church where he celebrated his first Mass, two days after his ordination at Subiaco Abbey, 25 years ago by Bishop Fletcher of Little Rock.

FATHER EUGENE LUKE

Father Eugene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke, both now deceased. He is the youngest brother of Tony, Bill, Harold, Dan, Bernard and Gene Luke, and Dorothy Mae Denny, Marianne Kuhn and Elfreda Fette.

Also attending from Subiaco Abbey were Brother Thomas Moster, Brother Frank and Brother Eric.

Mass servers were Ben Luke,

A niece, Sharon (Denny) Root, of West Monroe, Louisiana presented special music before Mass, accompanied by a nephew, organist Frank Luke of Hallettsville.

Selections included "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee" - Charles Gounod; "Ave Maria" - Bach-Gounod; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" - J.S. Bach; "Edelweiss" - Rogers and Hammerstein; and "On Eagle's Wings" - Michael Joncas.

Readers for the liturgy were a nephew, Tim Luke of Houston, and nieces, Mary Nell (Denny) de la Garza of McAllen and Pam Fette of Muenster.

Father Victor Gillespie delivered the Homily and brothers and sisters of Father Eugene offered petitions.

A niece, Carolyn (Luke) Powell of Arlington narrated the Offertory procession. Nieces and nephews and symbolic gifts they presented were as follows: Laurie Kuhn of Houston, the stole; Melvin Luke of Muenster, the Breviary; Jim Luke of Keller and Stuart Luke of Irving, the First Mass Chalice and satin pillow; Katie Luke of Arlington, the pallette and brush (a hobby); Steven Luke of Irving, golf clubs and balls (a hobby); Dan Fette of College Station and Chris Luke of Fort Worth, welding tools and mechanics' wrenches; Kathy (Luke) Hartman, the jubilee candle; Mary Luke of Dallas and

For the recessional, Frank Luke played the organ solo "Fanfare" by Jacques Lemons.

The sanctuary banner was designed and made by Sister Carmelita Meyers, O.S.B.

A family dinner followed the church service, at the home of Bill and Eileen Luke. In addition to brothers and sisters, and their children, grandchildren and spouses, guests included the clergy, several Benedictine nuns from Jonesboro and Fort Smith, Arkansas, the only three remaining aunts, Katie Herr, Ida Mae Herr and Ursula Herr, all of Muenster, and another guest, Bob Henderson of Fredericksburg.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Sept. 30 is insurance deadline

by Craig Rosenbaum, County Agent

County farmers have until Sept. 30 to insure small grain crops. Producers who insured wheat, oats and barley last year will have their contracts renewed automatically unless they cancel them. However, those desiring to make changes in the level of coverage or price selection must do so by Sept. 30.

Crop insurance protects a farmer from large, unpredictable yield losses. It can assure a farmer a minimal cash flow in case of a major crop loss so that he will have a chance to farm the next year.

Multi-peril crop insurance for small grains will be available only under the Actual Production History (APH) program. Under APH, yield guarantees are based on actual production records of the insured or grower rather than on county average yields as was the case previously under the area coverage plan. Thus a farmer must provide evidence of previous year's production and acreages.

To select crop insurance, a farmer must choose a yield guarantee and a price. The yield guarantee is either 50, 65 or 75 percent of past production history. Price elections are $1.00, $1.25 or $1.50 a bushel for barley; 60 cents, 80 cents or $1.05 a bushel for oats; and $1.50, $2.00 or $2.60 a bushel for wheat.

The combination of yield guarantee and price election determines the level of insurance coverage and cost of the premium, which reflects a Federal subsidy. Interested producers can obtain additional information by contacting a local firm that offers multi-peril crop insurance.

Stocker Cattle Workshop Thursday, Sept. 18

The Annual Stocker Cattle Workshop sponsored by the Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association will be held on Thursday, Sept. 18. There will be a full evening of educational activities followed by refreshments, entertainment and food. A schedule follows:

5 p.m. - 7 p.m. - Live cattle demonstrations at the Hinton-Burford Ranch working facility on the South side of the ranch. Industry representatives, feedlot, forage, health and other topics.

7 p.m. - 8 p.m. - Refreshments and Entertainment by Don Edwards - Hinton-Burford Ranch Headquarters.

8 p.m. - Supper prepared by the Cooke County Beef Cattle Improvement Association - Ranch Headquarters.

7 p.m. - 10 p.m. - Livestock Industry Exhibits and Livestock and Crop Computer time.

There will be numerous activities that evening. Plan to bring your spouse.

To get to the 5 p.m. activities, go Highway 82 East and turn North at the Dairy Queen. Follow the blacktop to the first gravel road to the West. The working pens are on the North side of the road. The 7 p.m. session will be at the headquarters.

Sept. 14 is date for show

The Cooke County Antique Tractor and Farm Machinery Association has announced the rescheduled date for the Antique Machinery Show for Sunday, Sept. 14. The show was postponed from last Sunday because of rain and extremely muddy areas.

The show, the first of its kind in the area, will feature 40 pieces of antique farm equipment from the early 1900's, totally restored into working condition and painted in their original colors.

The day will start at 11 a.m. with a parade in the arena, featuring antique plows, tractors, threshers and more. A description of all the equipment and how it was used will be announced as they parade past the crowd.

Several times throughout the day wheat threshing, using a 1930 thrasher, and hay baling, using a 1905 horse-drawn hay baler, will be demonstrated. Other events include a small engine display, corn grinding in a grist mill, old-time plowing, antique tractor races and kiddie pedal tractor pull.

The Lindsay Arena is located north of Lindsay on FM 1199 3 miles. Watch for the signs. Admission is $2.00, with children under 12 admitted free. Lunch and refreshments will be available all day.

AG BRIEFS...

VOLUNTEER WHEAT CAN HURT NEW CROP - Farmers should plow up volunteer wheat in summer-fallowed fields before planting their new crop, advises an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Volunteer wheat hosts a growing number of insects and disease-causing organisms that reduce grain yields and frequently require one or more applications of expensive fungicides or insecticides. Such problems can be avoided or reduced by one or two light tillage operations or the use of an effective herbicide. Problems aggravated by volunteer wheat over-summering are rust disease, brown wheat mites, wheat curl mites, wheat streak mosaic virus and Russian wheat aphids.

HOME EC BRIEFS...

SNACKS IMPORTANT FOR SMALL CHILDREN - Snacks are important for babies and toddlers because their stomachs are small and they may not get enough nutrients by eating only at meals, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. Research studies show that nutritious snacks provide up to 20 percent of a child's food energy, explains Dr. Dymple Cooksey. They also supply much of the vitamin C-rich foods and liquids in the form of fruits, juices and drinks. Rather than deny young children snacks, parents should make sure the snacks are nutritious, advises Cooksey. Fruits, fruit juices, fresh vegetable pieces, cheese and crackers and egg custards are all examples of nutritious snacks. Sugary snack foods, including soda, candy, sweetened fruit drinks, cakes, pies and sugared cereals contain many calories but very few nutrients. So parents can justifiably limit these snacks, says the nutritionist.
