Jaycees complete memorial

The Muenster Jaycees have a new addition to the city park in the form of a memorial to the seven astronauts who gave their lives in the Challenger Space Shuttle accident in January 1986.

In the spring, seven oak trees were planted by David Bayer under the direction of the Jaycees. They included five red oaks for the five men and two live oaks for the two female astronauts. The trees adapted well and survived the hot summer months, thanks to Jim Vogel, park superintendent, and his family's help. The trees were also checked and sprayed by Roger Taylor.

They are located around the new restroom and storage facility, surrounding it on three sides. It was a bare section of the park that definitely has meaning now!

Recently, a marble monument was added just west of the building. It was built and erected by Richards

Monuments of Gainesville. It states:

A spotlight may be added in the near future along with an American flag which will be flown on state and national holidays. Other improvements to this area of the park are waiting for the new tennis courts which will be located just east of the restroom area.

Wayne Klement, project chairman, says the Jaycees hope that everyone respects this small area of the park in honor of our courageous astronauts.

MHS celebrates Homecoming this Friday and Saturday

Students and exes of Muenster Public School are ready for the 1986 homecoming activities, to be headlined by a football game with the MHS Hornets hosting the Nocona Indians on Friday, Sept. 19.

Friday's activities will be preceded Wednesday night at Sacred Heart Church with a special homecoming liturgy. That ceremony, beginning at 7:45, includes the coaches, football players, princesses and queen candidates.

Friday at approximately 3:10, there will be a pep rally in the high school auditorium, with everyone invited.

The last pre-game event will be a concert by the Hornet Band, starting at 7:15. The game's kickoff time is 8 p.m.

The formalities of presenting members of the royal party and announcing, and crowning, the queen will be held at halftime. The princesses are freshman Denise, daughter of John and Annette Anderle; sophomore Carrie, daughter of Robert and Rita Russell; junior Michelle, daughter of Roy and Janie Monday. The four candidates for queen, all seniors, are Angie Barr, daughter of Randy Barr and Barbara Nickels; Judy Biffle, daughter of Jimmy Jack and Collette Biffle; Kristi Pagel, daughter of Dick and Kay Pagel; and Melanie Richey, daughter of Wendell and Rita Richey.

The candidates and princesses were selected by their classmates; the queen will be selected by the football team. When the queen is named, she will receive her crown from Dolle Pagel, the 1985 homecoming queen.

Escorts of the princesses and queen candidates will be Muenster High graduates of the class of 1986. They are John Anderle, Darren Cheaney, Scott Klement, Doyle Lewis, Kenny Reiter, Dickie Trubenbach and Ron Trubenbach. Darren Walterscheid will escort last year's queen.

The final homecoming events will be a dance Saturday night from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Muenster VFW Hall.

Music will be provided by The Entertainer. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed in the dance.

Gracie Fuhrman heads local drive

A capacity crowd, attending the kick-off luncheon for United Way last Friday, enjoyed the talk by Dale Hansen of Channel 8 TV, delivered in his usual light humorous style.

Ending on a serious note, however, he encouraged his listeners to do as much as they can. "The less fortunate need help and a chance to have what Texans take for granted" ... "Texas is a special place where we live," Hansen emphasized.

Riley Peveto welcomed the large group and Mayor Harry Roark gave the invocation.

Guy Winstead, campaign chairman listed the 1987 goal at $147,500 and praised the Tom Thumb employees for raising $19,150 to open the campaign. They were awarded the Pace Setter plaque for their generosity.

Gracie Fuhrman is chairman of the United Way drive in Muenster. Assisting her will be the following solicitors:

Littering fine set at $100.00 plus

Municipal Judge Michael Farquhar has set the fine for littering in the city limits at $100.00 plus court costs of $13.50. Persons cited for littering may opt to go before the judge in Municipal Court. If he levies a fine, it could range from $25.00 to $1,000.00 at his discretion.

Local authorities addressed the legal drinking age increase. The law will be strictly enforced. Anyone underage observed breaking the law will be stopped. A first-time citation will cost $25.00 plus court cost of $13.50. The fine doubles with each citation. Repeat offenders will be referred to the Department of Corrections and probably will receive jail time.

Morton Museum presents "Art and culture" exhibit

The Morton Museum of Cooke County History is pleased to announce the opening of its new exhibits: "Art and Culture in Cooke County" featuring a traveling exhibit of Mrs. Wyvonne Lewis-Pharaoh's paintings of Victorian homes. The paintings will be for sale.

The exhibit will be open to the public beginning Sept. 16 from 12 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday through the middle of October.

There will be a special reception honoring Mrs. Pharaoh from 5 to 7 p.m., Monday, Sept. 22, at the Morton Museum. The public is invited to attend.

For more information, call the Museum at 668-8900.

Homecoming Oct. 4 at SHHS

The Sacred Heart Alumni Association has issued the invitations to attend the SHHS 1986 Homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 4.

Activities begin with Mass in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m., followed by a social at Sacred Heart Community Center. All graduates are invited to attend. Honor graduates of classes 1946, 1956, 1966 and 1976 will be present.

The football game between the Tigers and the Valley View Eagles will begin at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a dance at the Sacred Heart Community Center following the game. Snacks and set-ups will be available. Dance music will be provided by "The Entertainer."

Stolen money remains lost

The money stolen during the recent robbery of Red River Cut Rate Liquor has not been found. "I can't rule out the possibility that someone may have already found it (the money) and kept it," says Police Chief Helen Tompkins. "The bills are not traceable." The suspects admitted throwing the money out about two miles east of Henrietta. But an extensive search of the area, including pumping a nearby tank dry, has yielded nothing.

The suspects are positively identified as Larry Gene Robinson, 47, on parole from Dallas County and George Stevens, 27, on parole from Tarrant County.

The amount stolen is as yet undetermined and that amount has a bearing on whether or not the paroles are revoked.

THE MUENSTER VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT was called out Wednesday afternoon to water down an anhydrous ammonia leak at Tony's Seed & Feed storage tank 2.5 miles south of town. The rubber hose used to fill rental tanks broke allowing approximately 8000 gallons to escape before the valve could be closed. The water helped to keep the vapor from escaping over a larger area. Even so, the ammonia smell was evident in Muenster for a short time until the wind dissipated it. About 18,000 gallons of water was used during three hours of pumping.

COSELL HAS NO SEOUL

By Edwin Feulner

A few years back I had some fun at Howard Cosell's expense — writing down the name of each NFL player the "Motormouth" named during the season as the very best at his position. By the end of the year the list was long enough to fill a couple of team rosters, with several "bests" for each job.

I bring this up not because I miss in the least Cosell's rambling pontification on ABC's "Monday Night Football," but because Motormouth is back — writing a newspaper column for Tribune Media Services. And, true to form, he has much to say about nothing.

On the subject of the 1988 Olympics, for example, Cosell believes Seoul should be dropped as the site of the games because the city is too "controversial," located in a country (the Republic of Korea) that is not fully democratic.

Those who object to Seoul on political grounds might do well to remember the 1936 and 1980 summer Olympiads, held in Hitler's Munich and Moscow, respectively.

ROK President Chung Doo Hwan has on many occasions said he intends to step down at the end of his term in 1988, and the National Assembly recently announced a schedule of elections. I haven't heard anything like that out of Moscow lately.

But Seoul, like all Olympic sites, was chosen to host the games because the Olympic Committee was impressed with its ability to do the job. All of the physical facilities required for the games are already in place, as I saw on a recent trip there.

As sort of a warm-up, this fall Seoul will play host to the Asia Games, with large delegations from every Asian nation, save North Korea, participating. Even the People's Republic of China, which has no diplomatic relations with South Korea, is sending 515 athletes and staff to the Asia Games.

The organizing committee put out a call for some 120,000 volunteers to work for both the '86 Asia Games and the '88 Olympics, and were quickly swamped with applications. The volunteer recruiting office was closed because enthusiasm for the games was so great the organizers wound up with more volunteers than they could effectively use.

But wait, the critics complain, North Korea might try to disrupt an Olympics held in Seoul. This is always a possibility, as is another invasion of South Korea by its belligerent northern neighbor, but not likely for a couple of reasons. The Soviet Union and most of its East European client-states will be participating, as will a delegation from the People's Republic of China (PRC) — North Korea's prime backer during the Korean War. In addition, the Seoul organizers have extended an invitation to the North Koreans to participate in hosting the games by having some events in Pyongyang — without reply.

One final consideration for any Olympic site is security. Terrorism could raise its ugly head at almost any large international gathering, as we all so painfully witnessed at the 1972 Munich Games.

Security is one area where Seoul unquestionably outpaces almost any other possible Olympic site, something not to be taken lightly. Seoul has hosted more than a dozen major international competitions over the past several years, and these games have included delegations from Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union, and the PRC. Last year the International Monetary Fund/World Bank meetings were held in Seoul, with political leaders from all over the world in attendance. In a nutshell, Seoul has plenty of practice in providing top-notch security for large international gatherings.

As one South Korean official remarked to me on my most recent visit, "Seoul is probably the safest site for an Olympics ever, because of our continuing concern for physical security because of our proximity to North Korea."

But the main reason the games should be held in Seoul, as planned, is that the people of Seoul have not only shown their unbridled enthusiasm for the games, they are ready to back that up with the hard work and manpower necessary to successfully pull it off.

The only good thing I can say about Cosell's column is that it reminded me of how much more fun "Monday Night Football" is without him.

40 areas report summer water supply problems

At least 40 cities and other authorities serving more than 780,000 people in the state had experienced summertime water supply problems by Sept. 1, according to the Texas Water Development Board.

Many of the problems were caused by the inability to produce water from wells at a high enough rate to meet peak demand, while others involved inadequate water treatment and distribution capacity. However, most water utilities in the state reported that water levels in wells and lakes were adequate.

Of the 40 areas reporting problems, at least 15 had imposed mandatory water use restrictions and another 20 had put into effect voluntary restrictions.

Most of the areas were in North Texas near Dallas and Fort Worth and in Central Texas in and near Austin.

Texans are in spotlight for safety belt usage

AUSTIN - Texans, who were buckling up at the rate of 10 percent to 15 percent before the safety belt law, have earned the national spotlight by buckling up in record numbers and staying buckled up since the new law went into effect last September, according to George R. Gustafson, Texas Safety Association president and spokesperson for the Texas Coalition for Safety Belts.

Observations in 14 Texas cities show that 66 percent of drivers of passenger cars and light pickup trucks are buckling up, he said. "So far we are avoiding the national tendency of usage rates falling after the first initial public awareness of a new safety belt law," he said. Twenty-six states plus the District of Columbia have enacted safety belt mandatory use laws.

Dallas and Houston had the highest safety belt usage rates of drivers in 19 cities across the nation observed in a study by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) January through June, 1986.

In the NHTSA study, Dallas was number 1, with 70.9 percent usage, and Houston was second with 70.1 percent. In third place was San Francisco with 52.6 percent.

In Texas there were 217 fewer deaths in September, 1985, through May, 1986 (1,407), compared to September, 1984, through May, 1985 (1,624), relative to those positions covered by the law (Department of Public Safety, 1985 final data and 1986 preliminary data.)

"The only way to make that good news better is for more and more people to buckle up," Gustafson said.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor,

Today it's up to you and me to raise a national outcry and support the Reagan Administration Commission on Pornography report against obscenity. The report released in July draws the direct conclusion that pornography causes sexual violence and is particularly dangerous to women and especially children. The Commission made a list of many recommendations including additional get-tough laws as well as stricter enforcement of existing laws.

Incredibly, the Commission members are being sued by sex magazines for harassing their right to profit on the sex business. And, of course, the American Civil Liberties Union has launched a vicious attack as well, claiming pornography is a matter of freedom of speech and is guaranteed by the First Amendment.

The Pornography Commission and Attorney General Edwin Meese need our support and encouragement and should be commended for their courageous stand on pornography in America.

Parents and Grandparents, please don't hesitate to send a short letter of support to U.S. Attorney General Edwin Meese, U.S. Dept. of Justice, 10th and Constitution Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20530. Your letter can make a difference.

Texas Vet home loan interest rate drops

AUSTIN - Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has announced a reduction in the interest rate charged to Texas Veterans for home loans made through the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

"Today's action by the Texas Veterans Land Board lowers the interest rate on Texas VHAP loans from 9.5 percent to 9 percent effective immediately," Mauro said.

The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program provides a $20,000 long-term, low-interest loan to eligible Texas Veterans to apply toward the purchase of a home. More than 28,000 Texas Veterans have participated in the program since its beginning in 1983 by combining a Texas VHAP loan with a conventional private sector loan, an FHA, or a federal VA loan.

"This action is not only good news for our Texas Veterans, but is good economic news for all Texans because it means more jobs and greater economic activity at the local level. This program pumps millions of dollars into communities across the state - all at no cost to the taxpayer," Mauro said.

Mauro reminded Texas Veterans that recent action by the Texas Veterans Land Board allows Veterans multiple-eligibility to use all three special Texas Veterans benefits - the housing assistance program, the Texas Veterans Land Program, and the new Texas Veterans Home Improvement Program.

All three Texas Veterans benefit programs are funded by the sale of general obligation bonds that are repaid from fees charged to those using the program, at no cost to the taxpayer.

Veterans can receive information on all three programs by calling the Texas Veterans Land Board's free number 1-800-252-VETS.

Six Flags celebrates 25th

ARLINGTON - Six Flags Over Texas began its 25th anniversary fall season Saturday, Sept. 6.

The Arlington theme park will be open on Saturday and Sunday only through Nov. 2.

During the spring and summer seasons, Six Flags welcomed some two and a quarter million visitors from throughout the world.

General Manager Bob Bennett characterized the first two-thirds of the season as "outstanding." "After being rained out for seven weekends in the spring, attendance picked up steadily," he said. "Going into the fall season we find ourselves within one percentage point of last year's figures. That's outstanding."

During September, Six Flags will be open Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. and Sundays from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. In October, hours on both days will be 10 a.m. until 8 p.m.

The park will be closed the first three weeks of November as it is transformed into a winter wonderland for the second annual Holiday In The Park festival. It begins the day after Thanksgiving.

Last year the event, with its elaborate Christmas decorations and shows, drew more than 100,000 guests.

Finnell to co-sponsor 'Rainy Day Fund'

AUSTIN - State Rep. Charles Finnell said recently he is co-sponsoring legislation which would establish a "rainy day fund" for the State of Texas to avoid future budget shortfalls.

"House Joint Resolution 4 by Rep. Schlueter and myself would set aside a contingency fund to deal with projected state budget deficits in the future," Finnell said. "With our state budget so closely tied to the price of crude oil we need to provide some means of protecting ourselves from similar predicaments in the future. HJR4 would allow us to this." Finnell said the proposed rainy day fund has several advantages, including providing a more stable environment for business.

"Companies would be encouraged to locate here in Texas because they will not be subject to sudden new taxes or reductions in state services. Also, our bond rating would improve because we would be considered a more stable investment by financial institutions.

"But the real winners would be the people of the state of Texas," he added. "We would no longer be held hostage to the price of crude oil in financing the necessary operations of state government."

Finnell said it would take a two-thirds majority of both the House and Senate to release money from the proposed Texas Economic Stabilization Fund which would ensure the money would not be spent carelessly.

If the resolution passes the Legislature, it will provide for a referendum in November of 1987 on a constitutional amendment to establish the fund.

PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLAR - Tamatha Watkins of Denton accepts a check from Roger Martin, president of the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation, and becomes the Foundation's first Presidential Scholar. The special academic scholarship program for out-of-county students was established by the Foundation upon the recommendation of Dr. Bud Joyner, CCC president, left. Miss Watkins, niece of Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Kenemer of Denton, is a Denton High School graduate majoring in speech and drama at CCC and plans to become a drama teacher. The Presidential Scholarships will be awarded annually to students coming to CCC from outside Cooke County and those wishing to apply should contact the CCC Financial Aid Office at 817/668-7731.

Endowment Foundation set to help

GAINESVILLE - Up to now, according to its president Roger Martin, the existence of the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation, Inc., seems to have been one of the best kept secrets in the county.

"Now we're ready to change that in a big way," Martin said, "and much will be heard from and about the foundation in the coming months."

"Now that we have all of the organizational framework and so on in place, we're ready to get down to business in earnest. Our first step is to make as many people as possible aware of the existence of the foundation and of what we truly consider to be its critically important purpose."

That purpose, simply stated, is to solicit and accept gifts and bequests to the college from private donors, Martin explained, adding that this includes even comparatively small gifts such as memorials given in lieu of flowers.

"It should be clear up front that when we solicit such private financial support," Martin pointed out, "it is not the college itself, technically, that is doing the asking. The foundation is both fiscally and organizationally separate from the college."

He reported that it is a duly chartered non-profit corporation that has been granted full tax-exempt status by IRS. Therefore, all gifts given to the college through the foundation are totally tax deductible.

Currently, the foundation board totals 14 members and will be expanded eventually to a total of 30. None of the additional members, however, will represent either the college administration or trustees.

"Except for the small but obviously necessary college representation," Martin said, "the foundation board is and will continue to be made up of private citizens who voluntarily serve because they have a genuine interest in Cooke County College."

Rodger Boyce, CCC Director of Development and the Foundation's executive director, reported that the most recent statistics he has, from a report compiled in Austin two years ago, showed that some 60 percent of all college freshmen and sophomores enrolled in public state-supported Texas schools were attending two-year community colleges like CCC. He said indications are that this percentage has probably grown rather than declined since that report was issued.

"Still, Texas public community colleges have traditionally been short-changed," Boyce said, "when it comes to state funding for higher education."

"This is despite the fact that - completely unlike most state-supported senior colleges and universities - CCC and the state's other public two-year colleges built all their own buildings and must maintain them from local district taxes, bond issues and other local revenue sources rather than with state money."

Martin said that as the college's income from outside sources - particularly state funding - continues to dwindle, the more difficult it becomes for CCC even to maintain established programs and standards, let alone finance expansion and improvement.

"It's these 'extra' resources needed for growth that the foundation is out to help the college accumulate," he said. "It's a goal to which we're deeply committed because we see it as a very real investment in the future of our whole community."

For more information, contact any member of the CCC Endowment Foundation's board of directors or call Boyce at 817/668-7731, Ext. 255.

Cattlemen's Round-up on Sept. 29

ABILENE - Livestock pledges from as far as Eastern New Mexico to Southern Texas are arriving at the Texas Rehabilitation Center for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

"Eighty head of cattle and horses are among the first pledges for our kickoff sale Sept. 29 at Abilene Auction," says Jim Alexander, Abilene agribusinessman and CRCC general chairman.

Organized in 1953, West Texas Rehabilitation Center receives an important part of its operational expenses from the Round-Up which is now in its 27th year.

"Cattlemen's Round-Up is not only a needed fundraiser, but also a symbolic effort by Southwest livestock producers as they show their support of Rehab's cause despite problems of their own," adds Aubrey Stokes, San Angelo attorney and general co-chairman for CRCC.

In the next two weeks, stock will be coming in from the sprawling King Ranch as well as small operations of only a few head. Donated animals are collected at designated points in each community throughout Southwest Texas. Nearly 200 area chairmen give their support to the event by lining up donated livestock and coordinating auction arrangements.

Persons wanting to make a donation of livestock or cash should contact Cattlemen's Round-Up chairmen in their area or call the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene at (915) 692-1633.

Other scheduled sales include horse sale, Oct. 4, Abilene Auction; Junction sheep and goat sale, Oct. 13; Coleman special sale, Oct. 8; Stephenville special sale, Oct. 8; San Saba special sale, Oct. 16; and Brownwood special sale, Nov. 3.

WTRC has operated for more than 33 years without turning any patient away for financial reasons. This private, non-profit corporation provides rehabilitation services in the forms of physical, occupational and speech therapies and audiology.

Texas Pavilion to be featured at 1986 Fair

The 100-year-old State Fair of Texas will salute the Texas Sesquicentennial with a historical exhibit unmatched for its collection of rare documents.

Centerpiece for the Texas Pavilion presentation in the Hall of State will be "In the Name of Liberty: From Magna Carta to Texas Independence."

The documents on display will include a copy of the Magna Carta which dates to 1215 in England, a broadside of the U.S. Declaration of Independence printed the evening of July 4, 1776, the original of the Texas Declaration of Independence, adopted March 2, 1836, and the original of Col. William B. Travis' heroic letter from the Alamo.

The Texas Pavilion will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day of the Fair.

Other rare documents to be shown include the first book published about Texas (by Cabeza de Vaca, 1555), the first printed map of Texas (1826), and the personal papers of Stephen F. Austin and Col. William B. Travis.

In addition to the historical documents, the Texas Pavilion will feature photographic collections, paintings and reproductions of historic Texas flags. Memorabilia will range from the bed of Mexican General Santa Anna to a survey of Texas fashions.

One display will spotlight the 1936 Texas Centennial Exposition held at Fair Park, the home of the State Fair for 100 years. Photographs, souvenirs and memorabilia from the Centennial Exposition will be provided by the Dallas Historical Society. An adjacent pictorial display will depict the first 100 years of the State Fair.

Organizers of the Texas Pavilion utilized many sources for the extensive historical displays. Major contributors included the University of Texas at Austin and the Texas State Library and Archives.

The U.S. Declaration of Independence broadside is from the Chicago Historical Society, and the copy of the Magna Carta is from the personal collection of Ross Perot of Dallas.

Some of the items displayed at the Alamo and in this exhibit are being shown for the first time outside of that San Antonio landmark.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. Si usted no ha recibido una copia de los informes en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/258/8683 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12887, Austin, Texas 78711.

Cooke County's 1st Antique Farm Equipment Show

Janie Hartman

The Cooke County Antique Tractor and Farm Machinery Association held its First Antique Machinery Show Sunday, Sept. 14, in the Lindsay Arena. The show was postponed from Sunday, Sept. 7, because of rain and extremely muddy areas. But Sunday's sunshine brought out more than 400 people.

Over 50 pieces of antique farm equipment from the early 1900's to the 1930's, totally restored into working condition, were on display.

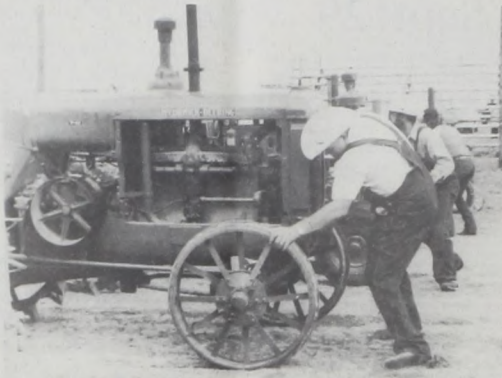

Several times throughout the day, demonstrations of old equipment were shown, including wheat threshing, hay baling, using two kinds of hay presses, corn grinding in a grist mill, old-time plowing, log sawing and corn shelling. There was also a small engine display of motors used for running washing machines, grinders, water wells, corn shellers and other small farm machinery.

During the parade in the arena, descriptions of the tractors and equipment were given. Also in the arena was a Kiddie Pedal Tractor Pull. Winners in the contest were: 60-80 lb. class - 1st, Chris Hill; 2nd Jerry Morrison; 40-60 lb. class - 1st, Isaac Zimmerer; 2nd, Mandy Schad; 40 and under class - 1st, Jennifer York.

Following the pull, John Corcoran won the "Kill Race" on his 1936 John Deere B tractor. This race required the driver to hand-crank-start the engine and race the tractor to the end of the arena. In the slow race, Paul Becker won on his late 1920's caterpillar-30 tractor, originally owned by his grandfather, Henry Voth, Sr.

The Association wishes to thank Mitchell & Clower, Inc. for their donation to the Kiddie Tractor Pull prizes and to the ladies who cooked and served the food.

Square dance lessons to be offered Sept. 22 in Myra

Square dance lessons will be made available to all area youth, age 9 through high school, in a fun project to be held in the Myra Community Building.

Those interested will meet Monday, Sept. 22, at 7 p.m. A parent must accompany students for the first meeting; after that they may carpool.

Days and times being considered for the square dance lessons are Monday evenings, 8 to 10 p.m. or Saturday afternoons, 2 to 4 p.m. If the decision is made to meet Mondays, the first lesson will begin on Monday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m. All students must begin classes the same day. No one may enter after the first day.

The cost will be $1.00 per lesson per person and there will be 20 lessons. Gene Murphy will be the caller.

After completion of the class, forming a youth square dance club will be considered. Only those who have completed the class will be eligible.

The classes will be well-supervised. For more information, call Evelyn Sicking, 759-4388 or Lupe Evans, 759-2520 or 759-2911.

Garden Club opens new year's meeting

Texas Xeriscape principles provided topics for Daryl Ferber's talk at the September meeting of the Muenster Garden Club. This is the use of low-water plantings in the landscape, as water conservation is becoming an all-important item in Texas.

Marie Endres, president, conducted the meeting in the home of Loretta Felderhoff. Eight members were served brunch. Marie Endres told about the wildflower, "Coreopsis," in introducing the yearly program theme, "Cherish Our Texas Heritage - Wildflowers."

The Pat Hennigan home was named by the Muenster Garden Club for "Yard of the Month" honors in September. Members noted that Muenster has many neat and beautiful yards.

A discussion of innovative possibilities for the club's Germanfest booth next April brought forth various ideas.

Dolores Miller was hostess a week earlier for a new-member-get-acquainted breakfast on Sept. 3 with 12 in attendance.

Loretta Felderhoff distributed programs for the coming year. She is 1986-87 program chairman.

The Oct. 10 meeting will be hosted by Louise Knauf. Eileen Luke will speak on "Shrubs In Our Texas Landscape," and Dolores Miller will discuss the Wildflower of the Month.

Hopes honored on 50th

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hope of Fort Worth was honored by their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hope and children, Steve, Doug and Pam, of Houston.

The 50-year bride is the former Rachel Seyler of Muenster, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seyler, and a sister of Mmes. Marie Mosman and Odilia Lutkenhaus of Muenster, Catherine Johnson of Dallas and Elise Hennigan of St. Francis Village, Fort Worth.

The Ronald Hope family hosted the reception and dinner at the Holiday Inn on Alta Mesa on Sept. 7, from noon until 4 p.m. A three-tiered anniversary cake was included, and served.

In attendance were Elwyn

Hope's two sisters, Mary Paniszczym and Bonita Menshau, and their husbands; also Rachel Hope's four sisters.

Others included Carol Hopfer of Keller, Valerie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Johnson, all of Dallas; Mrs. Virginia Gieb and children of Fort Worth; Mrs. Agnes Seyler of Muenster; Mrs. Johann Bezner of Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jackson of Fort Worth and other friends and neighbors.

Also observed were the birthdays of Odilia Lutkenhaus and Elwyn Hope. A display of pictures, of the past 50 years, was particularly enjoyable.

Swirczynskis attend son's Diaconate ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swirczynski of Fort Worth and their daughter, Debbie Maddox of Houston, spent a recent week in Oakland, California, and attended the Diaconate of their son and brother, Gary Swirczynski, at St. Francis De Sales Cathedral.

The service and Mass were officiated by Bishop John S. Cummins of Oakland, with a reception following.

During the week, Gary took his parents and sister sightseeing in the Oakland, San Francisco and Bay area. Gary will begin his work in the Diaconate at a Mission near San Diego.

This month's topic was on Language Development Component of the Preschool Curriculum. Presentations began with Bronte Gonsalves in a review of the Sensorial Component of the Preschool Curriculum. Kevin Kneupper (Kevin's mother) spoke on Language Development from a Parent's Perspective.

The meeting continued and concluded with business discussions conducted by President Jeanne Flusche.

members: Mary "Chetia" Whittington on Sandpaper Letters; Leann Mollenkopf on Red and Blue Alphabet; Patsy Bayer on the Colored Alphabet; and Bronte Gonsalves on the Integrative Approach to the Development of Language.

Shelly Kneupper (Kevin's mother) spoke on Language Development from a Parent's Perspective.

The meeting continued and concluded with business discussions conducted by President Jeanne Flusche.

Lindsay's St. Anne's Society welcomes 6 new members

The St. Anne Society of Lindsay's St. Peter Parish welcomed six new members to the organization during the Sept. 10 meeting that followed the 7 p.m. Mass.

They were Mrs. Albert Zimmerer, Jr. (Jackie); Mrs. Tommy Neu (Michelle); Mrs. Lynn Huchton (Jo Ann); Mrs. Michael Kendall (Alice); Mrs. Ricky Hess (Donna); and Mrs. Kathy Bowman.

Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer presided and Pam Hoberer gave minutes of the previous meeting. Jane Myrick gave the treasurer's report.

Judy Krahl reported on the Catholic State League convention held in July in Muenster.

Plans for the Country Store at Oktoberfest on Oct. 5 were discussed and worklists were available for volunteers' names. Chairmen are Judy Krahl and Pam Hoberer.

St. Anne's Society will enter a float in the parade, set for 11 a.m. on Oct. 5, with Marie Fuhrmann in charge.

Evelyn Fuhrmann reported for the sick committee.

Announcement was made of a clothing drive scheduled tentatively for November. Members were notified that gifts of lotion are acceptable as Christmas gifts for rest home patients. Refinishing of church candlesticks was also discussed.

The door prize was won by Sharon Loerwald.

Serving cake and tea to 26 members attending were hostesses, Jean Arendt, Sharon Arendt and Ann Bengfort.

Extension homemakers install new officers Sept. 10

New officers were installed to serve the Muenster Extension Homemakers Club for the coming year, when members held their Sept. 10 meeting in the home of Rose Rohmer.

Officers are Jaci Bilderback, president; Lucille Lutkenhaus, vice-president; Lillian Appel, secretary/treasurer; Dorothy Fisher, council delegate; Adeline Sicking, alternate delegate.

The hostess, Rose Rohmer, read the inspiration, "The Gardner."

Programs for the coming year were planned. A white elephant auction, with Bertha Pick as auctioneer, was enjoyable.

The hostess furnished her 19 guests with a number of recipes for Quick Bread Treats, from which she served several varieties, with coffee and tea. Centerpiece for the serving table was an assortment of fresh vegetables.

Baptisms

Felderhoff

Diana Marie Felderhoff was baptized in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, Sept. 14, 1986, during the 9 a.m. Mass. She is the daughter of Tom and Becky Felderhoff.

Father Victor Gillespie officiated for the sacrament and John and Rose Henscheid, an uncle and aunt, were baptismal sponsors. The baby wore a christening dress made especially for her by her Aunt Rose.

In the Sunday liturgy, Danny and Emily Felderhoff, brother and sister of Diana Marie, presented Offertory gifts at the altar. Susie Bezner, an aunt, gave the readings and Bill Felderhoff, an uncle, led petitions.

Special guests were the grandparents, Charles and Alice Davidson and Tom and Barbara Felderhoff, and the great-grandfather Theo Miller.

Also attending were Kathy Felderhoff and Keri, Bradley and Chelsea; Jackie Henscheid; Margie York and Matthew and Christopher.

Following the church service, the Tom Felderhoffs, Jr. hosted dinner in their new home.

Hoenig

Stephanie Marie Hoenig, infant daughter of William and Sharon Hoenig, was baptized in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on Sunday, Sept. 14, 1986 by Father Cletus Post, O.S.B.

Stephanie Marie was born on Aug. 29, 1986 at 3:43 a.m. in Gainesville Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lb. 4 1/2 oz. She joins a brother, Jeffrey Michael, and a sister, Sabrina Rose.

Her grandparents are Winston and Rose Mary Fangman of Lindsay and Mike and Lucy Westbrook of Moss Lake. Her great-grandparents are Sophie Stoffels of Lindsay, Ailene Fangman of Pilot Point and Joe Hoenig of Muenster. The Winston Fangmans hosted dinner in their home following the baptism.

Kasperek

The baptism of Lori Ann Kasperek was held in St. Peter's Church in Lindsay on Sunday, Aug. 24, 1986. Lori Ann is the infant daughter of John and Peggy Kasperek. Father Cletus Post officiated for the sacrament. Godparents were an uncle and aunt, Kenneth and Paula Hermes. The baby's parents hosted a dinner in their home, following the service. Attending were the baby's brother, Ryan, their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Popp and Mrs. Vivian Kasperek; the great-grandmother, Mrs. Lena Zimmerer; and uncles, aunts and cousins, Tom, Debbie, Tony and Craig Hartman; Kenneth, Paula, and Brad Hermes; Chuck, Patty and Jeremy Bone; Frank and Andy Popp.

Ladies who attended the NCCW meeting in Denton on Sept. 11 heard a program on Organ Transplants presented by a nurse from Westgate Hospital.

Following the meeting, the local group visited a quilt show in the mall. In the group were Mmes. Lucille Lutkenhaus, Dorothy Fisher, Lillian Appel, Bertha Pick, Ida Mae Herr, Armella Lutkenhaus, Toni Hess, Katie Swirczynski, Dorothy Yosten, Ursula Herr and Rose Klement.

Juniors elect officers

The Junior class of Muenster High School met on Sept. 11 to elect class officers and favorites for the year of 1986-87. Those elected for officers were:

President - Meredith McDaniel; Vice-President - Brian Hess; Secretary/Treasurer - Jamie Walterscheid; and Reporter - Darla Bindel. Class favorites are Kevin Anderle and Darla Bindel. Members set dues and voted on a fundraiser for later in the year.

Remember when cars had wings?

Times have changed... Not too many years ago our cars were great big and used a lot of gas. We loved them. Gasoline was cheap and we had never heard of environmental protection.

Today's cars are much more complex. They get a lot more miles per gallon and they have cut out most of the pollution. That's progress.

Times have changed for your cooperative, too.

The Brazos System used to build natural gas power plants. They were fairly simple and did not require special environmental equipment.

Today, we build lignite coal power plants. They are complicated, difficult to build and require a lot of environmental protection equipment to insure that we keep the air and water clean. Even so, we expect lignite will continue to be the most economical choice for making your electricity. Lignite costs considerably less than natural gas.

Your business, Cooke County Electric Cooperative, benefits from that choice, and so do you. The power of the kilowatt hour can do so much good... don't waste it.

Owls edge past Tigers

by Max Hastings

The Sacred Heart Tigers shut out Fort Worth Oakridge until only 40 seconds remained in the game, but left the Owls with 1 minute 29 seconds to score. And Fort Worth Oakridge did just that, edging the Tigers on a fourth down desperation play for a 7-6 victory. This left the Tigers 0-1 in district play and 0-2 for the year.

The game was mainly a defensive battle with both teams holding each other scoreless until 7:09 remained in the fourth quarter.

The Tigers had several scoring opportunities, taking the ball inside the Owls' 25-yard line five times in the first half. Coach Pasqua stated, "mistakes stopped our offense from scoring, but overall we moved the ball well." He also said, "the defense had a superb game."

Scott Taylor began the Tigers' scoring drive in the fourth quarter on an interception at midfield and returned it to the Owl 20-yard line. The next play, the Tigers got to the Owls' 10-yard line on a face mask penalty, but was then moved back to the 15 by a holding penalty. After a Dangelmayr to Voth incompleteness, Taylor went back in at quarterback and got to the Owl 5-yard line. Then he handed off to Steve Knabe, who in turn took the Tigers to the 3. Taylor then capped off the drive by scoring a quarterback keeper with 7:09 remaining in the game. The Tiger conversion failed and later came back to be a deciding factor in the game.

The Tigers then took over again with 2:39 remaining in the game after holding the Owls. They took another minute off the clock, but still left the Owls a 1:29 to work with. Then on fourth down, Owl quarterback Mark Henderson connected with tight-end Josh Boardus for the 29-yard pass reception for the touchdown. The extra point by Doug Cox gave the Owls their one-point victory.

Casey Houtchens again led the Tigers in the defensive department with 7 tackles and 8 assists. Mike Adair was next with 4 tackles and 5 assists. Steve Knabe had 3 tackles and 2 assists, and Donnie Knabe had 1 tackle and 4 assists.

Although Hastings was ejected from the game in the second quarter, he still managed to lead the Tigers in rushing with 13 carries for 69 yards and Taylor was second with 16 carries for 33 yards.

Dangelmayr went 4 of 16 for 38 yards passing with 1 interception.

Craig Voth had 2 catches for 36 yards.

Sacred Heart had 11 first downs to Oakridge's 7. The Tigers carried the ball 38 times for 145 yards rushing. Oakridge had 29 carries for 93 yards rushing. Oakridge had the passing, going 3 of 11 for 43 yards passing. The Tigers went 4 of 18 for 38 yards passing.

Penalties were a noticeable factor for both teams. Sacred Heart gave up 110 yards on 11 penalties and Oakridge gave up 90 on 10 penalties.

Both coaches praised the defense with the exception of the last few minutes. Offensive standouts were Scott Taylor and Steve Knabe.

Sacred Heart will travel to Dallas Temple Christian this Friday, Sept. 19. Kick-off is set for 7:30.

Dallas Temple Christian

Dallas Temple Christian returns 18 lettermen that lost only once last season and just finished a decisive 83-0 victory over Dallas Tyler Street Christian.

Temple runs a wishbone offense and a 4-3 defense. Quarterback Calvert Johnson and running back Mark Fuller will be names to look for on the offense.

Coach Clack also added, "The Blazers will have one of the best middle middle linebackers we'll see." Sacred Heart will come back with all their starters this week. Wayne Becker, however, will not start on defense.

Governor proclaims hunting and fishing day

AUSTIN - Gov. Mark White has signed a proclamation designating Saturday, Sept. 27, as Texas Hunting and Fishing Day.

The Texas observance is part of national Hunting and Fishing Day. The special day recognizes the role of hunters and fishermen in conservation.

"The conservation and wise use of Texas' wildlife resources is a job for all Texans to take seriously," White said. "The state's unprecedented growth during the past decade has placed additional pressures on habitats that support wildlife, making conservation an increasingly important matter for all who love the outdoors."

White said one group of Texans already has distinguished itself in this regard. "Hunters and fishermen have supported the work of federal and state conservation agencies by purchasing hunting and fishing licenses and stamps, and by assisting in countless other ways to ensure that our natural heritage can be enjoyed by future Texans," the governor said.

Those interested in participating in Hunting and Fishing Day activities should contact local hunting, fishing or conservation organizations, or National Hunting and Fishing Day headquarters, P.O. Box 1075, Riverside, CT 06878.

Dallas Safari Club pushes got mandatory hunter education bill

Dallas Safari Club (DSC) and Texans for Wildlife Conservation (TWC), two organizations with proven track records on conservation issues, are pushing for passage of a mandatory hunter education bill in the next legislative session.

"Texas is way behind the times on mandatory hunter education," noted DSC President Richard Allen. "There are 35 other states with similar laws. They have already proven that hunter education cuts down on firearms accidents."

"At Dallas Safari Club, one of our main focuses has been hunter education. We spend a lot of money each year on outdoors education. It's important that a mandatory hunter education bill stress conservation and ethics as well as safe handling of firearms and archery equipment."

Allen said the hunter education bill will include a "Grandfather clause" exempting sportsmen born in 1970 or before. If the law becomes effective in 1987, as the supporters hope, youngsters under 17 would have to take the course in order to qualify for a hunting license.

Texas began a voluntary hunter education program in 1972. In the five years prior to the voluntary program, the hunting accident rate stood at one firearms accident per 9,320 hunting licenses issued. The firearms accident rate has steadily declined since voluntary hunter education began. During the last five-year survey period, 1981-85, the accident rate was one per 15,630 hunting license issued.

"The voluntary program has certified over 141,000 hunters," reported Darrell Holt, hunter education coordinator for Texas Parks and Wildlife. "We average about 2,000 students per year. We think there are about 400,000 Texas kids, ages 12 to 17, who are interested in hunting and/or shooting."

Longterm statistics have shown that young sportsmen are most likely to be involved in firearm accidents. In 1985, 58.3 percent of Texas firearms-related hunting accidents involved hunters age nine to 29.

"Texas is no longer a rural society," explained Holt. "When families left the farms for the cities, they took with them hunting and conservation traditions that, in many cases, were not passed along to subsequent generations."

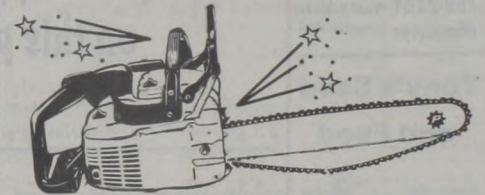

"In the past, opponents have argued that mandatory hunter education is a form of gun control. That's not the case at all. It's a form of education that will strengthen gun ownership and the hunting tradition by stressing conservation, ethics, game laws and firearms safety."

Early drafts of the hunter education bill are flexible in terms of allowing TP&W to implement mandatory education "if" funds are available. Under the voluntary program, students pay $1 to take the hunter education course. The current legislation would allow the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission to "charge a fee for the course of $5 or a greater amount set by the commission to defray administrative costs."

Hunter safety certificates are required for resident and non-resident hunters under a certain age to qualify for hunting licenses in 34 states. Oklahoma has passed legislation making hunter education mandatory in that neighboring state by 1987. Louisiana, Kansas, Arkansas and New Mexico all have mandatory programs, as do Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and other popular western big game states.

Hornets suffer second setback in Sadler

The Muenster Hornets suffered their second setback of the young season last Friday night when the Sadler-Southmayd Rams connected on a 90-yard scoring toss with only 2 minutes remaining in the game. For the second week in a row, the Hornets met an AA school and came away with only heartbreak to show for their effort.

Quarterback Ryan Klement couldn't answer the bell for the second half as he reinjured his back late in the second quarter. Second team running back Donnie Boyd-stun left the game on the second play of the game with a hyperextended knee. Injuries have decimated the Hornets' offensive backfield, leaving head coach Dewey Sims bewildered.

"Last year, we played 11 ballgames with almost no injuries. Minor injuries, if any. This year, we can't shake the jinx. We even had a running back turn an ankle in the ditch outside the locker room Friday night."

Murphy's Law may have found a temporary home. After Gary Grewing, who punted extremely well for the second week in a row, nailed a coffin corner kick at the Ram 5-yard line with less than 3 minutes left in the game, the Hornets got the short end of the yellow flag. On a third down play from the 10-yard line, safety Shawn Flusche broke up a short pass from Del Van Cox, intended for Kelly Meders. But after several seconds, or an eternity to diehard Hornet fans, an official dropped a penalty flag indicating interference and giving the Rams a first down. It turned out to be the key play of the game.

"We thought it was a clean hit. It happened right in front of the S & S stands, so our film crew couldn't get the angle to show the contact. But it seemed like a good defensive play when it happened," said a disappointed Sims.

With a first down and renewed spirit, the Rams struck for the big one when Cox faded back and hit Meders in full stride down the sideline for a 90-yard score. Muenster had 2:00 for one final effort, but an offense that sputtered for only 58 total yards on the night couldn't hit for a big play of their own.

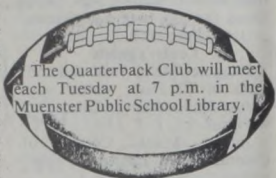

On a night of misfortune, Joe Pagel and Gary Grewing had good defensive ballgames, along with Drue Bynum, Stuart Hess, Travis Klement and Flusche. Flusche had 46 of the Hornets' 58 yards on offense.

Tomorrow night, the Hornets meet the Nocona Indians at Hornet Stadium with kickoff scheduled at 8 p.m. The annual Homecoming festivities will be held at halftime.

Nocona returns a veteran ballclub with 8 offensive and 6 defensive starters returning. First-year Indian coach Willie Brooks, a seasoned veteran himself, brings in a 1-1 club which equals the Indian win total of last season.

Three Hornets district foes remained undefeated after week two. Era blasted Alvord 29-0. Valley View destroyed Callisburg 59-0 after running to a 37-0 first quarter score, and Lindsay recorded a hard-fought 7-0 victory over Bells.

Undefeated JV faces test at Nocona Thurs.

The Muenster Hornet Junior Varsity football team ran their record to 2-0 last week with a 14-0 victory over S & S at Hornet Stadium. Freshman James Hennigan scored both touchdowns and sophomore Weldon Hermes kicked both extra points. It was the second straight outing that the young Hornet squad displayed a stiff defense along with a bruising ground game.

Teammate Keith Klement added 83 yards as the Hornets more than doubled the S & S offensive output. Huge holes were opened up by Hornet offensive linemen Mike Bierschenk, Shayne Wimmer, Hermes and Jeff Christian.

Muenster Junior High Hornets
The planned junior high game was not played due to lack of preparedness on both teams. They did, however, have a scrimmage which yielded a 0-0 tie. Coaches Gross and Heers were pleased since the S & S boys were considerably bigger. Offensively, Troy Pagel, Mike Gobble and Terry Felderhoff were standouts. Scott Hudspeth, Brad McDaniel and Jim Eckart led the defense to hold the opponents scoreless.

There will be a regular junior high game at 6 p.m. Thursday against Nocona.

Defensively, Bierschenk, Hennigan, Kevin Bell and Shawn Vogel kept the Rams from crossing the Muenster 30-yard line.

Tonight, the Hornets travel to Nocona for a 7:30 contest. The AA Indians will run their wishbone offense at the tough Hornet defense.

Hennigan rushed for 93 yards, scored on a 1-yard run, and scored on an 11-yard pass reception from quarterback Chris Klement.

Balanced diet gives fuel for fitness

AUSTIN - Exercise and nutrition go hand in hand in a good fitness program.

Yet, many people abandon the rules of good nutrition when they begin an exercise regime, according to Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the Texas Affiliate of the American Heart Association.

"Like a car, your body cannot function properly without a well-balanced mixture of fuel," Dr. Taylor advises. "Unfortunately, a number of misconceptions exist when it comes to the nutritional needs of physically active people."

Popular myths and the facts dispelling them include:

- 1. MYTH: You need more protein when you exercise.
FACT: Exercising on a regular basis does not increase your body's need for protein. On the contrary, active people require a fairly high carbohydrate diet to supply necessary energy for exercising. (Note: Carbohydrates also help you burn up fat.)
- 2. MYTH: Foods with sugar are a quick source of energy when you exercise or are engaged in sports.
FACT: Sugar is a source of fuel, but it takes 20 to 30 minutes before its energy becomes available to your muscles.
- 3. MYTH: Salt tablets are beneficial for replacing sodium lost in sweat.

FACT: Generally, sodium lost during exercise is best replaced at the next normal meal. Salt tablets are NOT recommended because excessive salt intake puts extra burden on your kidneys.

FURTHER: Commercial "thirst quenchers," which contain large amounts of both sodium and sugar generally are not recommended.

4. MYTH: You should restrict fluid intake when you exercise.

FACT: Water is essential to digestion, metabolism and waste removal and should not be restricted.

5. MYTH: Regular exercise increases your appetite and is not beneficial to weight loss.

FACT: Moderate exercise actually improves appetite in most people on low-calorie diets.

6. MYTH: When you exercise, you don't have to worry about cholesterol; exercise burns cholesterol.

FACT: Exercise may increase the level of "good" cholesterol, but it does not significantly lower total serum cholesterol. Low-fat, low-cholesterol diets are important in reducing the blood cholesterol of most people.

What you eat does enhance your fitness program. A nutritious and healthy "fuel mix," according to the AHA, is one that includes low-fat meats, fish and low-fat dairy products, combined with complex carbohydrates such as whole grain breads and cereals, starchy vegetables, and legumes; less sugar (and this from "natural" sugar, such as fruits); less salt; and adequate water (six to eight glasses per day).

This kind of balanced diet is your "fuel for fitness."

This event will take place on Friday night, Oct. 3, instead of the 1st Saturday. The Forestburg Community Center is booked for a family reunion on the 4th and 5th of October. So, see you Friday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

Ladies Luncheon

Once again 18 ladies gathered Thursday morning, Sept. 11, for the monthly Ladies Luncheon. As per usual, everyone had a great time and enjoyed a bountiful lunch of very delicious food. Present were Mag Huckabay, Gene Links, Nonnie Ensey, Vera Mae McGee, Marion Sockwell, Betty Jo Cook, Juanita Bailey, Millie Reynolds, Mary Etta Foster, Eula Fae Galmor, Wilma Moseley, Loveta Bewley, Wilma Thurman, Clea Reynolds, Geneva Volkman, Gladys Barclay, Dorothy Foster and Myrt Denham. The next luncheon is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 9, at 10 a.m. in the "old" Community building. So, mark your calendars and make your plans to attend.

Birthday celebration

There is to be a "come and go" birthday party on Saturday, Sept. 20, from 2 to 5 p.m. honoring Mrs. Eunice Griffin on her 90th birthday. The party will be Eunice's home and all her friends are invited.

Oklahoma trip

Ed and Nannie Bonner accompanied Mag Huckabay to Wapanucka, Okla. on Sunday, Aug. 24. There they visited with Mag's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Evans.

Houseguest

Mrs. Joe Denham was a houseguest of her son and wife, the Perryman Denhams, from Saturday, Aug. 31, to Tuesday morning, Sept. 2. While there, Joe helped Perryman celebrate his 70th birthday. She said she remembered that day 70 years ago very clearly.

Sampler reunion

"Dude" and Bula Mae Berry attended the Sampler family reunion at Greenwood on Sunday, Aug. 31. From there, they motored on to Alvord to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Paul White and Attie Scott.

Nice surprise

Vera Mae McGee was most pleasantly surprised on Saturday, Aug. 30, by a visit from Brad Lund and Jeff Carter. Brad lives in El Paso and Jeff is a local resident.

Parnell home leased

Beverly and Roy Parnell have leased their Forestburg home to Ray and Georgie Pylant of Cisco. We welcome the new folks to Forestburg.

Fort Worth guests

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kent and family of Fort Worth visited with Mag Huckabay Monday, Sept. 1.

Dill "pow-wow"

Every Labor Day weekend, the Jack C. Dills of the 'Burg, the Harold Dills of Saginaw, the Jerry Dills of Mt. Pleasant, the Kent Dills of Gainesville and Beulah Dill of Era have a family get-together at Pow-Wow Creek Campsite on Lake Texoma. They are joined by their respective children and grandchildren for a weekend of fishing, swimming, water skiing, boat riding and eating. Thus, this past Labor Day weekend was no different - except activities were hampered somewhat by the rainy weather.

Ardmore visitors

Mary and Hal Hays motored to Ardmore, Oklahoma Sunday, Aug. 31, to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Baker.

Gerry goes home

After spending nearly two weeks in the Dewey area, with sister Betty Reynolds and husband Bennett, Mrs. Gerry Priest returned home Monday night, Sept. 1. Gerry has been here helping sister, Betty, recuperate from major surgery.

Midland arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Midland arrived in the 'Burg the early part of last week. They are spending time here in their 'Burg home.

Vacation time

'Tis vacation time in the state of Washington for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hanson. We wish them a wonderful time.

Labor Day guests

Gaylord and Carol Thompson of Fort Worth spent Labor Day with Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Cook. Mrs. Cook reports that they were lunch guests of Clifton and Loveta Bewley Tuesday, Aug. 26, and had a wonderful visit.

Make a trip

Bert and Eula Fae Galmor were up early Saturday morning, Sept. 6, to catch a tour bus for Bossier City, La. on a sightseeing trip. They got to see their first-ever horse races and it was fun. They got to go to the races both days, returning home late Sunday evening. Eula Fae says "TEXAS" really is well-em. 'Tis just Texans keeping up the Louisiana state government. Soon they will be supporting the Louisiana state government. Soon they will be supporting the Oklahoma government.

Juanita's company

Juanita Bailey's nephew and wife, Les and Lorene Bonner of Fort Worth, were her guests Saturday, Sept. 6. Son Larry Bailey and wife Patsy of Denton spent the whole weekend with Juanita.

Parnell's visit

Jack Lane Parnell of Houston, Clinton Parnell of Monroe, La., and James Parnell of Shuderant, La. visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parnell the Sept. 6-8 weekend.

Daughter visits

Mrs. Angela Curren of Altus, Okla. spent from Wednesday, Sept. 3, to Sunday, Sept. 7, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ensey.

The Dawson Enseys have just recently returned home after spending most of the summer in cool Colorado.

Bula Mae's company

I suppose they visited with Dude also, but Bula Mae Berry's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Sampler, visited with them Sunday evening, Sept. 7.

Anniversary time

It was big doings at the H.D. Cook home Monday night, Sept. 8, as four couples got together to celebrate their Sept. wedding anniversaries. Those enjoying a beautifully decorated cake, coffee and tea in celebration were Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Walterscheid, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Bewley.

Have moved

The Hancock family has moved from the Larry Dill home to the J.C. Donnell house on the Saint Jo Highway. The move was due to the fact that the Larry Dills have their house in the 'Burg up for sale.

Johnsons make change

Bud and Ruby Johnson have left the Saint Jo Nursing Center and are now residing at the Bowie Manor

Nursing Home.

Jackson news

On Tuesday, Sept. 2, Ted and Laura Belle Jackson and their sidekicks, Mr. and Mrs. S.T. Warford of Slidell, packed their "gear" and headed for Pow-Wow Creek Campsite at Lake Texoma. They stayed until evening of Sept. 4 - got in fishing, boating, dominoes, etc. Had a very nice time.

On Saturday, Sept. 6, the Jacksons' son, Bill of Decatur, spent the day with them.

Then on Saturday, Sept. 13, they visited with Mrs. Eula Steen and Mrs. Lenora Moore in the Saint Jo Nursing Center. That night they were treated to dinner out at the Capitol Club in Montague by the Jack C. Dills.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. S.T. Warford of Slidell spent the day with the Jacksons. They had lunch, then helped the Dallas Cowboys defeat the Detroit Lions.

Okie time

Mrs. Mag Huckabay drove up to Wapanucka, Okla. Saturday evening, Sept. 13, to visit with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Evans. Another brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans of Denison, were also up there visiting - so they all got to be together. Mag made it home Sunday evening.

Freeman company

Barbara and "Doc" Phillips of Wichita Falls and Nonnie and Dawson Ensey of the 'Burg called on Mr. and Mrs. Vint Freeman Saturday, Sept. 13. Nonnie and Barbara are sisters and they are sisters to Charles and Clifford Hudspeth.

On Sunday, Sept. 14, Mrs. Jewel Freeman of Bowie visited her sister, Mrs. Lee Etta Freeman.

Dress factory reunion

Twenty ladies, all former employees of the Muenster Dress Factory, gathered at the Forestburg Community Center for their annual reunion on Saturday, Sept. 13. It was a day of visiting and "remembering when." Everyone enjoyed it so much they voted to do this on an annual basis - so next year it will be the second Saturday in September, same time and same place.

Brogdon doings

Veda gives the following report on their company last week, etc. Daughter, Mrs. Margie Long, of Plano spent Tuesday night, Sept. 9, with them.

Mrs. Nina Eavenson and daughter, Elizabeth Cox, both of Wichita Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Oran Steadham of Bowie were Wednesday visitors.

Lina Boggess of Saint Jo and Imogene Links of the 'Burg were there on Thursday. Loveta Bewley stopped by on Friday.

FFA resumes activities

The Forestburg FFA Chapter held its regular meeting Tuesday. During the business session, the following business items were conducted.

President Tommy Souther appointed the following standing committees: Creed Contest - Tracy Greenwood, chairman; Brent Holland, Mark Forrester; Program - Chad Hudspeth, chairman, Jaime Capuchina, Ricky Landers; Refreshment - Bart Sirman, chairman, Vernon Forrester, Dale Reed; Auditing - Shelle

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jackson and Charles Wilson dropped in Sunday evening.

Brazos River fun

Cecil and Dorothy Foster made it to the Brazos River at Granbury this past weekend, from Friday, Sept. 12, to Sunday, Sept. 14. Two of Dorothy's sisters have mobile homes down there, so they all get together every once in a while for visiting, fishing, boating and eating. They always have themselves a wonderful time.

39 and holding

Eldon Huckabay celebrated his "39th" and holding birthday on Saturday, Sept. 13.

Confirmation service

Garrett Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnson, and Keith Dill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dill confirmed and became full-fledged members of the Forestburg United Methodist Church during the worship service Sunday morning, Sept. 14. They are a tremendous addition to this church and we are all very proud of them.

Home on Sunday

Scott and Vaton Selby were up from Denton Sunday, Sept. 14, to spend the day with her parents, Jack and Jewell Dill.

Louise's guests

Daughter Melba Lund and son, Brad of El Paso, visited with Louise Shults over the Labor Day weekend.

Jimmy Frank Corbin of Colorado paid Louise a "pop" visit on Wednesday, Sept. 3.

John C. and Nelda Blankenship and their grandson, Kyle of Lindsay, Okla., were visitors with Nelda's mother, Louise Shults, over this past weekend. Then on Sunday, Louise's son, Bill, and wife of Denton were up for a visit.

Tyson service

Funeral services for Mrs. Bell Shults Tyson were held in Bellview Sunday evening, Sept. 14, with burial in the Rush Creek Cemetery, which is located between the New Harp and Greenwood communities. Attending the services from Forestburg were Louise Shults, Ola Mae Shults, Oma Wakeman and Mr. and Mrs. "Bo" Shults.

I am given to understand that Mrs. Tyson taught school here at the 'Burg many years back.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wood of Wichita Falls spent Saturday night, Sept. 13, and Sunday with her parents, Merle and Clifford Hudspeth.

Rocky and Joey Gates spent Friday night and Saturday at Eagle Mountain Lake with the A.G. Hollenstine family. The two really had themselves a good time.

Muenster time

Renee Gates and her aunt, Millie Reynolds, made a Muenster run

Saturday morning, Sept. 13, to get in some shopping.

Kuykendall funeral

Gladys and "charlie" Barclay attended funeral services for Kenneth Kuykendall in Carnegie, Okla. on Saturday, Sept. 13. Kenneth was the son of Bruce and Fannie Kuykendall and nephew of Claud Barclay.

Krystal is here

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Leeper of Fort Worth are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Friday, Sept. 12. Her name is Krystal Jaree. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leeper of Denton. Mrs. Charles Leeper is the former Joyce Echols. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Echols of Mallard.

Teachers in Vernon

Leo Orrell is now teaching Special Education classes in the Vernon School System.

Tracy, Kristie and Bonnie Greenwood accompanied their Aunt Wynona Riddles to Sunset on Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Burl Yarbro. The Yarbro's will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Sept. 21.

Holland doings

Mrs. Peggy Holland of Stoney Point was hostess to the Montague Baptist Church WMU in her home on Tuesday, Sept. 9, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It was their day of prayer for State Missions. At noon they all enjoyed a covered dish luncheon. Other members attending were Addie Mae Wood, Edith Richardson, Alma Cochran, Eva Crayton, Isleta Current. Guests were Brother Joel McCoy, wife Sherrie and baby Nathan, and Jackie Johnson and baby Colt of Abilene.

On Monday, Peggy and Kenneth Holland made a business and shopping trip to Wichita Falls.

Wednesday, Mrs. Eva Crayton of Montague and her daughter, Jackie Johnson, and Colt of Abilene visited with Peggy.

Then on Thursday evening, Kenneth Holland entered Nocona Medical Center where he underwent surgery on Friday morning, Sept. 12. He is doing very well and should be home by Tuesday, Sept. 16.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Farm and Ranch Safety Week slated for Sept. 21-27

County Judge Jim Robertson has proclaimed Sept. 21-27, 1986 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Cooke County, at the request of Leonard Hartman of Muenster, Cooke County Farm Bureau president. This year marks the 43rd annual observance of National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. "Be Protected From The Unexpected," the 1986 theme for the farm safety campaign, stresses the need for preventive safety measures. "People who operate and work on farms and ranches suffer more than their share of personal and economic loss from accidents and work-related illnesses," Hartman said. "Much of this loss could be avoided if people would not only work, play and drive safely, but also take the extra steps to protect themselves ahead of time from potential hazards. In other words, they should adopt the Scout motto: 'Be prepared.'"

In the proclamation, Judge Robertson said, "Accident prevention is often a matter of common sense and troubleshooting. Many lives and millions of dollars could be saved each year if more agricultural producers would take time to protect themselves, their families and their employees from the unexpected."

Though serious accidents are infrequent for most of us, they can be devastating when they happen. Therefore, can you afford not to be "protected from the unexpected" just in case? You can do much ahead of time to protect yourself from safety and health hazards you could meet during your day:

- ★ When driving or riding in a car or pickup truck, always wear your safety belt. Be sure to buckle small children into properly anchored auto child-restraint seats.
- ★ Equip your tractors (that can be fitted) with certified roll-over protection (ROPS) - cab or frame. Buckle your safety belt to keep yourself within the zone of protection in case of tipover.
- ★ Keep all machinery guards in place.

- ★ When the hazards of the job site dictate it, use the appropriate personal protective equipment (hardhat, safety eyewear, respirator, safety shoes, etc.) to help prevent injury or illness.
- ★ Take good care of your equipment and motor vehicles to reduce change of failure or breakdown, and perhaps an accident.
- ★ Be alert and prepared to act appropriately to unforeseen or sudden changes in the situation or conditions on the job or the roadway.
- ★ Train new and/or inexperienced workers.
- ★ Buy quality products and take proper care of them. Read and heed instructions in operator's manuals, on labels and containers.

Since motor vehicle collisions are the leading cause of accidental death, Texas Farm Bureau provides several safety education services for its members, including teaching Defensive Driving Courses and the auto child restraint seat sales program.

During the past three years, 3,641 drivers have graduated from 168 DDC classes taught in 81 different counties.

Some 178 county Farm Bureaus are participating in the Texas Farm Bureau Safety and Health Department's Child-Saver program. Farm Bureau members can purchase a child restraint seat for $20 from Cosco, a well-known baby furniture manufacturer, and when finished with it, can return the seat to the county office for a full refund. Farm Bureau members have purchased 980 Safety-T-Seats since the program was introduced in April.

The Texas Farm Bureau's Safety Resource Center is an audio-visual library containing subjects on safety in production agriculture (tractors, farm equipment, livestock, pesticides, etc.). Over 400 total mailings of free loan 16mm films, slide/tapes and 1/2-inch VHS tapes have been distributed to 120 different school/organizations in 90 different counties during the past three years.

Extension homemakers invite others to join

Extension Homemaker Club members over the county are currently reorganizing and inviting other homemakers to join them.

Extension Homemaker Clubs offer educational programs in all phases of home and family living. Some of the programs scheduled for 1986-87 include: Consumer Rights and Responsibilities, Understanding Family Changes, Nutrition and Your Health, Scherenschnitte (Folk Art of Paper Cutting), Quick Muffins for Every Occasion, Reverse Applique in Home Decorating and Clothing.

Extension Homemaker Clubs also offer fellowship with other women of similar interests plus providing leadership development and personal growth.

Club members also participate in a variety of club projects and activities. Each year the Extension Homemaker Council sponsors an Arts and Crafts Sell-O-Rama, provides 4-H Scholarships, and gives a Christmas Party for a cottage of boys at the Gainesville State School. Individual clubs also sponsor a variety of other service projects.

There are currently nine Extension Homemaker Clubs in the county with members of all ages. Some meet in the morning or afternoon while others meet at night to show the working homemakers to attend.

Three clubs meet in Gainesville: Liberty Belles on the 4th Monday at 7:30 p.m.; Daytimers on the 3rd Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.; Town and Country on the 3rd Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Two clubs meet in Muenster: Bluebonnets Club on the 2nd Monday at 7:30 p.m.; Muenster Club on the 2nd Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Other clubs over the county are: Downward-Fairplains on the 2nd and 4th Thursday at 2 p.m.; Lindsay on 2nd Thursday at 2 p.m.; Ross Point on 4th Tuesday at 2 p.m.; Sivells Bend on 1st and 3rd Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

All of these clubs invite homemakers in their areas to join them. Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, serves as advisor to the clubs. Call her at 668-5412 for more information on any of the Extension Homemaker Clubs.

If there is interest in a club where none exists, new clubs can be organized by calling Mrs. Yeatts.

Extension Homemaker Clubs have the largest membership of any women's club in the world with over 30,000 members in Texas.

Extension Homemaker Clubs are open to people of all ages, regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, religion, handicap or national origin.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Each year some of our fields become more infested with ryegrass. Tests over the county in years past have shown that severe infestations of ryegrass can reduce grain yields as much as 50 percent. Two products show good ryegrass control. These include Glean and Hoelon. Both have restrictions that producers need to realize before using either product. The main problem with Glean is in the recropping interval and the biggest problem with Hoelon is the restriction for grazing.

Sometimes we mistake ryegrass for cheat grass. Producers need to identify their grasses before selecting a herbicide. Young ryegrass leaves are smooth, flat and very shiny. Cheat grass will have leaves that are somewhat duller in appearance with very fine hairs on them.

For best results when using Glean for ryegrass control, producers should apply the herbicide early so that rains can activate the herbicide before ryegrass emergence. Once the ryegrass is beyond the two-to-three-leaf stage, the effectiveness of the Glean is greatly reduced. The recommended rate for ryegrass control is 1/2 ounce. Glean has no grazing restrictions but cattle should be removed during wet conditions so that the chemical barrier stays in effect for season-long ryegrass control. According to label recommendations, Glean should only be applied to soils with a pH of 7.9 or lower. Some label recommendations have been changed and recent research indicates that land treated with Glean can be rotated to sorghum within 14 months after treatment provided that you have had an accumulated rainfall of 25 inches or more.

In tests in the county last year, Postemerge Hoelon applications worked very well in ryegrass control. The basic problem that we have with Hoelon is the grazing restriction. Cattle cannot be grazed on fields that have been treated with Hoelon. If you have questions about any of these products for ryegrass control, give us a call.

Tilt profitability in your favor with preventive disease control

Pecans are a high-input, high-management crop; there's no question about that. As with any intensively managed crop, a thin line exists between profitability and loss. Which way the balance tilts is sometimes dependent on the weather; other times it can be weeds and insects. With pecans, there is another variable: scab.

Growers lose yields and the potential for profit to diseases. When disease, like scab, is controlled enough through the preventive use of fungicides, growers can recoup those yields they would have otherwise lost. The extra yields can mean the difference between profit and loss.

At Texas A&M, Dr. Jerral Johnson says nuts which have 11 to 25 of the surface of their shucks infected with scab can result in a 15 percent decrease in nut size at harvest time. To control disease and increase profit potential, growers need to combine fungicides with disease-resistant varieties. To protect the nut, the leaves must first be protected since spores produced on infected leaves can cause secondary infections on the nuts.

Disease control will soon become easier for pecan growers with Tilt (propiconazole), a systemic, broad-spectrum fungicide by Ciba-Geigy. The EPA label is expected before the end of the year. Tilt controls scab, downy spot, zonate and other diseases economically and without tank-mixing, resulting in a potential for higher yields.

According to Mac Hammond, researcher for the agricultural manufacturer, "Tilt will mean superior early-season disease control. Because of its broad-spectrum activity, the fungicide offers growers a more flexible and cost-efficient product. For the same dollar you spend controlling scab, you're also controlling several other diseases without worrying about scab resistance."

When it receives EPA registration, the product may be used in a preventive or curative treatment. Ciba-Geigy recommends a preventive approach, in order to take full advantage of its systemic action. "Preventive application is a grower's safest bet," Hammond notes. "But research does demonstrate superior curative activity if a grower is unable to apply preventive sprays."

It is necessary to use a fungicide that protects the crop before diseases establish themselves, Hammond notes. Tilt's broad-spectrum control, when used in a preventive treatment, gives superior disease control resulting in increased yields and profits. In these days of intensively managed pecan groves with increased fruit production, the profit balance then can be tilted in your favor.

4-H News

4-H steer deadline

Although the 1987 Cooke County Junior Livestock Show is six months away, certain requirements for exhibiting animals must be met real soon.

4-H'ers who plan on showing a Steer must have purchased the animal and have it on feed no later than Oct. 1, 1986. The Steer must also be entered in the Livestock Show by Oct. 3, 1986. Steer entry cards can be filled out at the County Extension Office located in the Basement of the Courthouse. No entry card will be accepted after 4 p.m. on the 3rd of October. The entry fee for registering a steer is $3 per animal.

All other Market Animals (including Broilers) and all Breeding Animals must be placed on record by Dec. 12, 1986, 4 p.m., and no animal will be added thereafter. All animals must be on feed on or before Dec. 12, 1986, except Broilers. Entry fee for each animal will be $3.

County Council to meet Sept. 22

The first meeting of the Cooke County 4-H Council will be Monday, Sept. 22, in Gainesville at the Courthouse, 3rd Floor in the Courthouse at 7 p.m.

There will be a lot of new business to attend to at this first meeting with 4-H Achievement Banquet, National 4-H Week, Community Service Activities and a program on Citizenship which will evolve into a year project for the entire 4-H Council.

It is important that every Council Delegate, Club President and 4-H Council Officers attend this first meeting.

If there are any questions, contact Lynn Goerke, County Extension Agent, at 668-5412.

1986 Leadership Workshop for Jrs.

There will be an excellent opportunity for Junior 4-H members to learn several basic leadership skills at the Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood, Texas during the 1986 Leadership Workshop for Junior 4-H'ers.

The workshop will take place on Nov. 7-9, 1986. Junior 4-H members between the ages of 11 and 13 (as of Jan. 1, 1986) will have the opportunity to participate in this excellent training.

The workshop sessions hope to teach leadership skills in relating to others, learning and sharing, communications, and understanding self. They will also learn about the opportunities 4-H has to offer and learn about the basics of recreation leadership. Other activities that will be included are dance and active games workshops, goal-setting workshops and a balloon send-off.

The cost of this year's Workshop will be $38.50 for Friday arrivals and $29.00 for Saturday arrivals. Participants can arrive between 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 7, and 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 8. The workshop will start at 11 a.m. on Saturday and end with the noon meal on Sunday. Friday arrivals should eat supper before arriving.

One adult chaperone is required for each of the five participants from Cooke County. Registration is limited to 180 youth from around Texas, on a first come, first serve basis.

To register, contact Lynn Goerke, 4-H Coordinator at 668-5412.

Create cleanness.
