Threatened with tough times...

CCC to receive help from Endowment Foundation

GAINESVILLE - Organizers of the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation say it is mostly coincidental that the foundation was formed at a time when the college faces perhaps the toughest financial sledding in its history.

"It's no secret that CCC is threatened with some tough times," said Roger Martin, foundation president. "As far as cutbacks in state fundings are concerned, it doesn't seem to be so much a question of if or when but of how much."

In any case, Martin added, the college's already tight budget will be stretched to its farthest limits and even beyond, quite possibly leaving no resources whatever for new program development, updating or expansion of facilities, acquisition of badly needed new equipment and the many other items essential to growth, improvement and staying current.

"Other critically important ingredients in that growth formula are resources to encourage outstanding scholarship among students and exemplary performance by teachers," said Martin, "not to mention maintaining salaries at a level that will attract and keep the best possible faculty."

Dr. Bud Joyner, CCC president, pointed to many cost-cutting measures already taken to lighten the college budget in the face of dwindling income and said: "We've long since gotten rid of the fat, and now we're beginning to cut into the muscle."

"There's a huge difference between getting ahead and just getting by. Even if we continue through this financial crisis to somehow make ends meet, so to speak, we'll still be losing ground in terms of program quality. I'm convinced the foundation can materially help us prevent such setbacks."

According to Ed Alexander, treasurer, a number of gifts have already been received. Most so far have been memorials given in lieu of flowers, but he reports that several larger gifts have come in as well.

"One type of gift we've received and hope to receive many more of," he said, "is a cash gift that is matched dollar for dollar by the company for whom the donor works. We know that several of the larger corporations have such a program specifically aimed at helping educational institutions."

"Some, we hear, will even match an employee's gift on a two for one basis, so we encourage potential donors to look into the possibility that their company may sponsor such a program."

Also received by the foundation recently was a major cash donation given to help fund academic scholarships for students coming to CCC from outside Cooke County. It was given by a member of the foundation board who wishes to remain anonymous and who pledged to renew the gift annually.

"This generous and timely gift was aimed at one of our most pressing areas of need right now," Dr. Joyner said, "and a buildup of resources in this area by the foundation is going to be of tremendous help to us in a number of ways."

He said that thanks to the Mary Josephine Cox estate, which for many years has provided scholarships for Cooke County students under age 21 - as well as to proceeds from a special trust set up by the late Pauline Pace for essentially the same purpose - CCC has fairly plentiful scholarship resources for younger in-county residents.

FOURTEEN GERMAN JOURNALISTS from West Germany who have been in Texas only four days visited in Muenster Wednesday afternoon as guests of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, with Gracie Fuhrman as their tour guide. They were accompanied to Muenster by Dr. Roy Busby, associate professor of Journalism, and Smith Kiker, assistant professor at North Texas State University, Denton.

Stopping first at the Chamber of Commerce office where Mrs. Fuhrman gave a brief history of Muenster and Germanfest, the group also visited The Muenster Enterprise, took their own pictures and told of their plans for the remainder of their American tour. At The Muenster Enterprise, they questioned the staff and examined presses, linotype and typesetters. Three are shown the Heidelberg press by Alvin Hartman in the above photo.

The tour of Muenster included the AMPI plant, Sacred Heart Church, Fischer's Meat Market and dinner at Fischerhaus followed by dessert at Bayer's Kolonialwaren. A visit to The Dallas Morning News and Channel 8 TV occurred early in the week.

After a week of orientation at NTSU the 14, whose interests include newspapers, radio and television, will visit 14 different cities for three weeks, return then to Washington, D.C. for another week and then depart for West Germany. They are members of the Young Journalists Exchange Program organized by the Phelps-Stokes Fund, sponsored by the U.S. Information Association and are associated with NTSU.

Souvenirs presented to the group in Muenster included Texas Sesquicentennial pins, miniature Muenster flags, Muenster and Germanfest brochures, tote bags and, to their delight, were given a supply of "Don't Mess With Texas" bumper stickers.

City trash collection charges increase

The average residential garbage pick-up fee recently was $5.25. Effective Oct. 1, 1986 that average resident should be charged $8.25 for the same service. The increase represents an increase in the minimum base fee from $3.00 to $6.00. The amount over that is a variable which is tied to the resident's water and sewer bill.

The increase was determined to be the fairest way to pay the costs of trash collection which have recently risen to over twice the amount charged to residents of Muenster. "With the increase in the minimum charge, we will still only break even on garbage collection," says City Manager Joe Fenton.

The minimum garbage fee for all business customers will increase from $6.00 to $9.00. A two-month survey has been conducted by the sanitation supervisor and city manager on every commercial customer. The charges for service to commercial and industrial users will be based on loading time and cubic yard volume per week.

The ordinance concerning these increases and all trash pick-up matters in entirety reprinted on page 12 of this issue of The Enterprise.

Evans presents Cub charter to VFW & Fisher

Presentation of the new year's charter was made at Monday's Pack meeting to the VFW representative, David Fisher, by Unit Commissioner Lupe Evans. The Charter cited 18 years of continual support from the VFW to Boy Scouts of America.

All present pack leaders were introduced as follows: Lou Moster, Committee Chairman; Kathy Sicking, Sharlene Hartman and Mary Lamkin as committee people; Den Leaders are Ernie Martin and Kathy Berres; Assistant Den Leader Karlyn Hermes; and Webelos Leader Gilbert Knabe. The new leaders from "School Nite for Scouting Rally" were also introduced and presented with their respective leadership patches.

An invitation was extended to all other parents present to get involved with their sons by volunteering for special projects.

"Don't Mess With Texas" reduces litter

Texas' new, sometimes controversial, program aimed at fighting the state's huge litter problem is producing some of the most positive results of any similar program in the nation.

A recent study showed that the DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS message is being heeded. During the last year, trash on Texas highways has decreased 29 percent.

"The 29 percent litter reduction achieved in one year is the largest measured in any survey performed by the Institute for Applied Research," said Dan Syrek, Institute director.

In August 1985, Syrek's firm was hired by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to measure the amount of trash on the state highways. At that time, Syrek estimated there were a half-billion pieces of trash along Texas' right-of-ways.

The study was the first step of a concentrated effort by the highway department to reverse the state's mammoth litter problem. In 1985, it cost Texas taxpayers a whopping $24 million for litter clean-up.

This year, when the study was repeated to measure the success of the program, Syrek reported that litter had declined 29 percent.

DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS is the cornerstone of the anti-litter program. Created by GSD&M, an Austin-based advertising firm, for the highway department, the program features Texas celebrities like rock guitarist Steve Ray Vaughan, Dallas Cowboys Ed "Too Tall" Jones and Randy White, and country star Johnny Rodriguez, urging "Don't Mess With Texas" on television and radio commercials.

Litter barrels, litterbags, bumper strips and highway signs also carry the message.

Just eight months after the commercials began airing, Syrek repeated his study to measure the success of the program and reported the significant reduction.

"The reduction is particularly remarkable when you consider that, until now, litter costs have been increasing at a rate of 15 to 20 percent annually," said Don Clark, director of Travel and Information Division of the highway department.

"At the beginning, some people complained that the slogan was too tough and aggressive. But we were convinced that a problem that costs taxpayers $24 million a year demands a bold message," Clark said.

"We thought it was a winner all along. We've known for several months that it was extremely popular. Now we have proof that it's setting records for effectiveness," Clark said.

Awareness surveys show the

DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS recognition factor to be 60.3 percent.

The message is directed primarily at young men between the ages of 18 and 34, who account for 70 percent of the deliberate litter in Texas, according to studies.

Major thefts occur during past weekend

Three major thefts occurred in Muenster Saturday night and Sunday as reported by Helen Tompkins, Muenster Chief of Police.

Sometime before dawn Sunday, possibly around 3 a.m., a four-wheeler was stolen from the Monte Barnhill residence on South Hickory Street and at approximately the same time another four-wheeler was stolen from the Tom Swirczynski's home on East Cross St. One vehicle was valued at about $2200 and the other about $1400.

Sunday afternoon in broad daylight, a number of tires were stolen from Wylie Lewis. The suspects, both from Oklahoma, were apprehended shortly after by Lindsay police. Lewis did not file charges, upon return of the tires.

Referring to the incidences of theft, Chief Tompkins urges residents to "chain your bicycles, three-wheelers, four-wheelers, tools, when not in use. Keep them locked up, out of sight, when not in use" ... "this is only the beginning of the theft cycle."

We request your help

The Muenster Enterprise will publish a special edition in observance of its fiftieth anniversary on Thanksgiving Day, 1986, including a complete copy of the first issue, Vol. 1, No. 1. Anticipating the event, we are requesting old pictures from the early '30s, approximately 1930 to 1940, for use in the special edition and possibly throughout the year. We will treat all pictures loaned to us with "tender, loving care"; we will give credits to the owners; and will return all pictures before publication. Because of the extra work involved, we must begin many weeks before publication. The first issue of The Muenster Enterprise reached the first subscribers on Thanksgiving Day, 1936, year of the Texas Centennial.

Good News!

Commit to the Lord your way; trust in him, and he will act. He will make justice dawn for you like the light; bright as the noonday shall be your vindication.

Leave it to the Lord, and wait for him; Be not vexed at the successful path of the man who does malicious deeds.

Gramm urges 15 point plan to aid industry

WASHINGTON - U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas, with strong support from the Secretary of Energy and the Secretary of Interior, has proposed a 15-point plan to lower taxes, reduce regulations and ease environmental controls on the oil and gas industry.

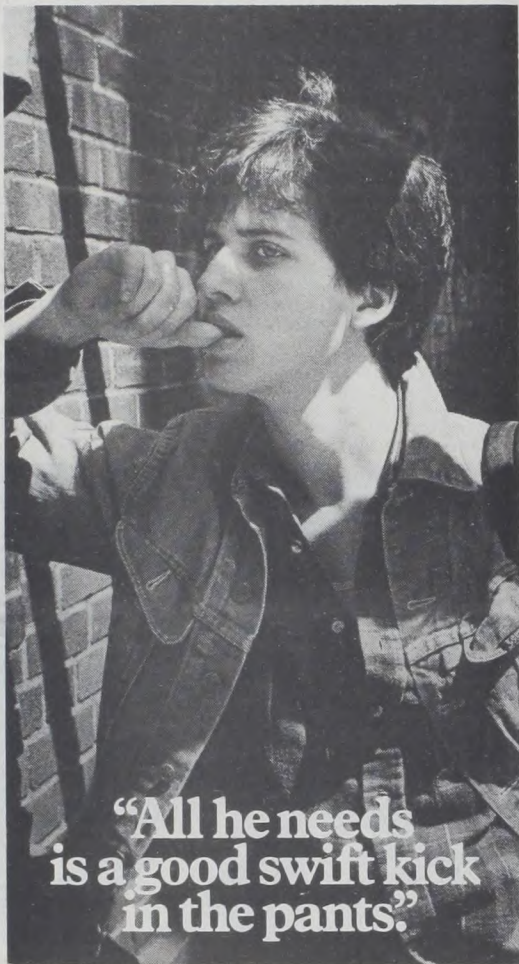

"The time is right, and the key officials of both the administration and the oil and gas industry are for the first time united in a commitment to win approval for a specific plan of action," Gramm said.

Major points of the proposal include:

- U.S. producers would supply at least half of the oil for the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.
- Elimination of discrimination in the transportation of natural gas.
- Restructure natural gas rates to eliminate current preferences for foreign producers.
- Repeal of the Windfall Profits Tax.
- Repeal of restraints on the industry contained in the Fuel Use Act.
- Repeal of incremental pricing requirements in the Natural Gas Policy Act.
- Easing the regulation of drilling under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act.
- Allow small producers to pool gas for sale.

The senator announced the proposal after a series of meetings with Energy Secretary James Herrington, Interior Secretary Donald Hodel and leaders from the energy industry, including the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners (TIPRO), the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA), the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association and the American Petroleum Institute (API).

"If adopted, the Oil and Gas Production Revitalization Act of 1986 will be the first positive action taken by Congress in response to the national crisis that has been produced in the petroleum industry by the collapse of prices," Gramm said.

"All he needs is a good swift kick in the pants."

How many times have we thought this about a loved one who isn't performing up to our expectations.

We see their depression as a bad attitude. Misread their self-centeredness as a personality problem. Believe their inability to cope with daily activities is laziness.

But sometimes inappropriate behavior may be a warning sign of something more serious. A mental illness. Mental illness is a medical illness—not a personal weakness. And learning to recognize its warning signs can be the first step to healing the sickness.

Oops!...

The early bird

by Richard A. Viguerie
WASHINGTON, VA. - There's one thing you can say for sure about blind, unthinking faith in the Darwinian theory of evolution: It makes monkeys out of men.

Don't get me wrong. I think Darwin's theory is worthy of study because 1) some aspects of it are true, as even Creationists concede, and 2) it has been the basis for some of the most important scientific and political theories of the last century. No one has a good education who does not know about Darwin's theory of evolution. But there's a difference between teaching Darwinism as theory and teaching it as fact.

Indeed, almost all biology textbooks published during the past century - even those that fail to mention Darwin or evolution by name - have included Darwinist "family trees" of animals, charts implying that the development of embryos "recapitulates" the evolutionary path, and drawings of ancient horses that, it turns out, may not have been horses at all. Even before the Scopes trial, Biology for Beginners featured Darwin in the illustration opposite the title page and declared: "The course emphasizes the fact that biology is a unit science, based on the fundamental idea of evolution..."

Yet virtually every bit of evidence offered as proof of Darwin's overall theory has been challenged in recent years. Consider: The "fact" that all life shares the same code was a cornerstone of the argument for evolution, because it was evidence that all lifeforms had a common ancestor. "All species, from bacteria to mammals and trees, use the same genetic code ... Where a Creator would have been free to use different biochemical building blocks for different species, evolution was not free: the history of the earliest organisms determined everything that happened thereafter." (Science on Trial: The Case for Evolution by Douglas Futuyma). Yet last year it was revealed that the tiny one-celled paramecium has a different genetic code from virtually all other lifeforms. Oops.

Consider Piltown Man, the fellow whose remains represented "more closely than any human form yet discovered the common ancestor" from which Neanderthal and modern man descended - in the words of England's top experts on ancient man. Four decades after Piltown Man found his place in the science texts, he was taken out ... victim of the discovery that his jaw belonged to an ape and his skull to a human, and that both parts had been artificially stained to create the appearance of age. As Stephen Jay Gould, the nation's leading Darwinist, put it, the Piltown Man hoax fooled "generations of professionals." Oops.

And consider the coelacanth, a bony fish abundant hundreds of millions of years ago. It was listed in textbooks as a likely missing link between fish and land animals. As Francis Hitching writes in The Neck of the Giraffe, it was believed that the primitive fish "was capable of lunging forward on land in search of food, eventually staying there for longer and longer periods until, seventy million years ago, it disappeared from the fossil record." But in 1938 a coelacanth was pulled out of the area near Madagascar, and it was alive - unchanged from ancient times, perfectly suited to its environment, and (it appeared) wanting nothing to do with life on land. Its historic status was "quietly dropped" from the textbooks. Oops.

Now from fossil fields in the Texas badlands comes the latest embarrassment. Archeopteryx, it seems, has been dethroned.

Having grown up reading textbooks that promoted Darwin's theory, most people have seen pictures of the fossil remains of Archeopteryx, reputedly the first bird. Its discovery was crucial to the success of Darwinism. As Newsweek put it: "When unearthed in 1861 from a German quarry, Archeopteryx seemed an ideal argument for the then new theories of evolution. Its reptilian brain and scaly head, combined with an avian [birdlike] wishbone and cloak of feathers, led many scientists to hail it as a missing link between reptiles and birds."

In each of three different books, Stephen Jay Gould refers to Archeopteryx as "the first bird," and in one book he adds, "This intermediate form with feathers and reptilian teeth had a brain that plots right in the middle of the unfilled area between modern reptiles and birds."

Ronald Clark, in his acclaimed biography of Darwin, writes that "Darwin himself was worried to the end of his life by the lack of intermediate fossil species [missing links]. 'The case at present,' he admitted in The Origin, 'must remain inexplicable; and may be truly urged as a valid argument against the views that have been entertained.'" But Archeopteryx changed that.

"Darwin's theory had maintained that birds had evolved from reptiles, an unlikely proposition to most laymen and one that had provided a convenient starting point for attack. But now ... there came the fossil of a creature that had clearly boasted feathers but whose vertebrae and tail were reptilian. ... [Archeopteryx and later fossil discoveries] made it increasingly difficult to criticize the idea of evolution as merely unsubstantiated theory."

You can imagine the consternation of the Darwinists when the announcement was made recently that a Texas Tech paleontologist had uncovered fossil skeletons of Protoavis (literally: first bird). Protoavis, you see, was flapping around 225 million years ago, 75 million years before Archeopteryx, and it is much more like a modern bird than its cousin. That means that it's virtually impossible for old Archie to have been the ancestor of modern birds; more likely it was just a degenerate bird with teeth. Oops.

As this is written, a judge is weighing arguments in a case in Greenville, Tennessee, where seven families sued to stop the state from indoctrinating their children with Darwin's theory of evolution to the exclusion of other ideas about the origin of life. Perhaps the judge will take into account the fact that, at various times, legions of scientists have joined together to protect the earth-centered universe theory, to oppose the theory of continental drift, and otherwise to prevent the consideration of radical ideas that turned out to be true. Who knows? - maybe the announcement of the discovery of the early bird was God's way of reminding us that only fools think they know it all.

Bullock gears up for slow pay

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last Tuesday he's preparing to take steps to keep the state's doors open if the Legislature fails to solve Texas' cash flow problems.

"I'm gearing up some bookkeeping maneuvers to get around the cash shortage this December. I'm not talking about 'no pay,' but I am talking about 'slow pay' to make sure the state has enough money to pay its bills," Bullock said.

He said a key element could include extensive use or borrowing the state's special funds which frequently earn from fees and taxes literally millions more than is needed to pay appropriations and expenses approved by the Legislature.

Bullock said such a slow pay policy might delay city and MTA tax rebates, payments to the retirement funds and local school districts.

Bullock also said the extraordinary bookkeeping measures would only put off the inevitable for a month or two at most by buying a little time to let tax collections catch up with expenses. It will give us a little breathing room until January.

The timing of General Revenue

Fund money to the state's highway fund is another issue that is being studied.

"I haven't ruled out any option, but I'm going to see that the state meets its payroll and pays its bills - a bit late, perhaps - despite the cash flow problems we expect."

Rt. 2 resident injured in one-vehicle accident

Cooke County EMS and the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call from a wreck scene one-half mile south of Muenster on FM 373 at 10:20 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 20.

Robert Riggs, 30, of Rt. 2, Muenster was the driver of a 1975 pickup, and was northbound when he lost control, crossed over and struck a culvert, flipped end over end, and came to rest on the left side against a utility pole.

Approximately $200 damage was done to the culvert and yard at the Gerald Hess home.

The accident was investigated by DPS officers, and Riggs was charged with driving at unsafe speed. He was transported by Cooke County EMS and admitted to Muenster Memorial Hospital.

State Fair: Something old, something new

DALLAS - The State Fair of Texas always offers a just-right combination of the old and the new - some crowd favorites that are brought back year after year, as well as an exciting array of first-time-ever events and activities.

The 1986 State Fair, set for Sept. 26-Oct. 26, will include the SMU-TCU football game, pig races, a Centennial Reunion Day and a number of special exhibits in its list of new or not-seen-in-a-long-time events.

With a theme of "Texas 150," this year's State Fair celebrates both the Lone Star State's Sesquicentennial and the 100th anniversary of the first state fair.

SMU and TCU will meet in the Cotton Bowl for the first time since 1978. The Sept. 27 game, called the Dr Pepper Classic, rekindles the excitement of the many years that the two private school rivals played here. It also marks the 75th anniversary of the founding of SMU.

Game time will be 2 p.m. Tickets are priced at $20 each and can be purchased through the two participating schools.

Pig races will take place each weekend except Oct. 10-12 at Porkchop Downs, an area behind the swine arena in the livestock complex. Times will be 6 p.m. on Fridays and 3 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Centennial Reunion Day on Thursday, Oct. 2, will honor all who took part in the 1936 Centennial Exposition at Fair Park.

Special activities are slated from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and will include prizes for those bringing the most unusual 1936 souvenir, traveling the longest distance and telling the biggest Texas yarn about the Centennial.

Several major exhibits are new at this year's Fair. The Texas Pavilion will be located in the Hall of State and will contain a number of rare historical documents, including a copy of the Magna Carta, dating to the 1200s in England; a broadside of the U.S. Declaration of Independence, printed on the evening of July 4, 1776; the original of the Texas Declaration of Independence, adopted March 2, 1836; and the original of Col. William B. Travis's heroic letter from the Alamo.

The Centennial Building will feature a 17,000-square-foot exhibit from the People's Republic of China. The China Pavilion will contain a replica of the Great Wall, artisans demonstrating traditional crafts of the country, numerous items for sale and daily performances by "The Incredible Acrobats of China."

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will present a 5,000-square-foot exhibit in the Centennial Building, including a 6-foot rotating model of the Shuttle Orbiter and a 16-foot model of the organization's next major project, the Space Station. A 100-person-capacity theater within the exhibit will show "Journey Into Space," a music video which highlights scenes from 24 shuttle missions.

Another special exhibit will be "Texas Twenty," a pictorial display of 20 places that have left their marks on the history of Texas architecture. "Texas Twenty" is sponsored by the Institute of Texan Cultures and will be set up in the rotunda of the Tower Building.

The Creative Arts Department will have several new contests this year, including a "Best of Texas Birthday Cake Competition" and a "Texas Heritage Recipe Contest."

The birthday cake contest had more than 350 entrants from around the state. The contestants have been narrowed to the top 32, who will participate in an Oct. 6 bake-off in the Creative Arts Competition Kitchen.

The Lone Star Music Fest will offer a group of concerts in the Band Shell on weekends during the State Fair. The series was organized by a coalition of Texas musicians to showcase the Lone Star State's music, ranging from gospel to rock and roll and from Hispanic to old-time radio singers.

Additional concerts, to be held on stages throughout the State Fair grounds, will feature Randy Travis, Exile, Hank Thompson, Steve Wariner and others.

Big Tex, the 52-foot-tall talking cowboy who greets Fair visitors each year with a cheery "Howdy, folks!" is sporting a new look this year. Tex has traded in his familiar burnt orange shirt for a new Sesquicentennial version in red, white and blue.

Fair Park also has a new look in time for the 1986 State Fair. The 277-acre City of Dallas-owned park has undergone an $18 million program of renovation and restoration.

Some of the structures originally built for the 1936 Centennial Exposition have had facelifts, and additional lighting and landscaping have been installed.

This year's new Fair attractions will join a traditional assortment which includes the Texas-Oklahoma football game, set for Oct. 11; the western hemisphere's tallest ferris wheel, the 212-foot Texas Star; the 1987 Automobile Show; daily entertainment which includes an ice show, high dive show, evening parade and fireworks display, and an array of rides, games and food.

Admission to the State Fair of Texas is $5 for adults and $2 for children aged 5 to 12, with a $1 discount off both prices on weekdays. Senior citizens are admitted free each Tuesday and children under 5 are admitted free at all times.

The Fairgrounds are open from 7 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. each day. Exhibit building hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Senior citizens are admitted free at Six Flags in October

ARLINGTON - Senior citizens will be admitted to Six Flags Over Texas free of charge on Sundays during the month of October.

The event, called "Silver Sundays," is part of the Arlington theme park's 25th Anniversary celebration.

The offer of free admission will be extended to all visitors age 55 or older.

"Folks in this age group have been among our regular visitors since Six Flags opened in 1961," said general manager Bob Bennett. "During our early years, many of these people came to the park with their children. Now they come with their grandchildren, and we appreciate that kind of loyalty."

Bennett continued, "In addition to a wide variety of rides, there are literally hours of live shows to be enjoyed. Our entertainment lineup includes something for everyone."

Senior citizens who visit during the Silver Sundays event are asked to bring their driver's license, or other identification showing their date of birth, to the park's main gate ticket booths. All persons 55 or over will be admitted free. The normal senior citizen discount price is $9.95. There is a $3.00 parking fee.

Silver Sundays will include all Sundays in October and the first Sunday in November, which will be the final day of Six Flags' 1986 season.

A safe start for the school year

For young children, the first weeks of school can be an exciting time - so exciting that they may entirely forget all the safety warnings you've been teaching them. The Texas Medical Association says there are ways to make sure your child is prepared for a safe journey to and from school.

The first step is to decide whether your child will walk or ride to school. Consider factors such as traffic, distance and your child's maturity. Is your child old enough to walk to school by himself? Does he or she know the rules of traffic and safe crossing? If you do decide to let your child walk, you may want to contact other parents in the area and find a "buddy" for your child to walk with.

Take the walk with your child at least a few times to let him learn familiar landmarks. Point out hazards along the way and explain the dangers to your child. Be sure to tell him not to talk to strangers or get into a stranger's car. Remind your child that crossing guards are there for children's safety and should be obeyed.

If your child is going to school by city bus, take a few rides beforehand so he can become familiar with the route. Make certain your child knows the name of his stop and what it looks like. Also, agree on a procedure to be followed if your child misses a bus, or gets lost.

If your child is traveling by school bus, find out the driver's name. It will make your child more comfortable if the driver is a "real person" to him.

Be sure you know the length of time it takes your child to get home so you'll know when to expect him. And remember that most children need reminders about safety particularly during those first few weeks of school.

MRS. KEVIN JOSEPH BLOCK
...nee Brenda Ann Mosier...

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Joseph Block have returned from their wedding trip to Arkansas and are at home in Lindsay. They were married in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Gainesville on Saturday, Sept. 20, with Father Cletus Post officiating for the Nuptial Mass and doubling ceremony at 5 p.m.

The lace and pearl design covered the entire bodice, falling to the flattering basque waistline. The sheer bishop sleeves were also adorned with Chantilly lace and pearl appliques.

Her three-tiered, fingertip-length veil with a Chantilly lace cap was also trimmed in pearls.

Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white daisies, yellow carnations and white roses with accents of orchid and lace ribbon. For sentiment, the bride carried a lace handkerchief made and given to her by her maternal grandmother.

RECEPTION

CYO gears up for ambitious program

St. Mary's Parish will spearhead a multifaceted Catholic Youth Organization program for Catholic high-school students this year. An adults' organizational meeting was held on Sept. 17, and another is planned in the next few weeks. The first official CYO meeting will be held on Sunday, Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. at the Parish Hall. Officers for the coming year will be elected, and the program planned further. Ice-cream making and home-made sundaes will top off the meeting.

One of the Parish Council goals is to transform the Parish Hall into a CYO teen center every Sunday afternoon, with adult supervision and a mix of casual and formal programs for the CYO and their teen-age guests. "Sunday afternoon is an empty time for many teens," said Fr. Nicholas Furhman. "We want the Parish Hall to be a place they can come, and find other young people their age." Programs suggested for Sunday afternoons include cooking and baking lessons, fundraising dinners, dances, sports and discussion groups.

The CYO actively participates in the religious life of the parish, organizing the liturgy for Masses at various times of the year. It also has educational and recreational trips for its members. Suggested activities for the coming year include ski trips, rafting expeditions, museum tours and dude ranching. More ideas are expected as the year progresses.

Janis Hesse is the Adult Leader for this year's CYO. Catholic High School Students, adults and any other interested people are invited to contact her at 665-1401 (days) or 665-6682 (nights).

Muenster Jr. High win season opener

The Muenster Junior High Hornets took on the Nocona 8th grade team last Thursday night and came away with a solid 32-6 win. Under threatening clouds and scattered lightning bolts, the Hornets thundered up and down the Indians home turf to a 20-0 halftime lead. The stingy Muenster defense held the Indians to only one first down until there were but 6 minutes left in the game.

Quarterback Mike Gobble hit Spencer McAden for a 20-yard scoring toss to put the Hornets ahead 6-0 in the first quarter. Muenster struck for two second quarter scores. The first came on an 11-yard run by McAden. Gobble ran in to tack on a 2-point conversion. Then on the last play of the first half, Troy Pagel threw an 8-yard scoring toss to Gobble for the 20-0 lead.

The Hornets drove their first possession of the second half to the Indian 2-yard line. Facing a second and goal, the Hornets fumbled the ball on the snap, but an alert Pagel recovered the fumble in the end zone for a 26-0 lead.

Nocona struck back for a 62-yard run and its only score of the game with just over six minutes remaining in the fourth quarter. The Hornet defense allowed the Indians to cross midfield only twice the entire evening.

The final Muenster score came on a Pagel to McAden 50-yard pass play.

Offensively, Brad McDaniel, Scott Hudspeth, Darrin Russell, Paul Black, Richard Tuggle, Tony Perryman and Terry Felderhoff opened up the holes. Ryan Sicking and Doug Hennigan also led the way for Pagel, Gobble and McAden.

Defensively, Hennigan intercepted a pass and came within 8 yards of returning it all the way. Rex Huchton, Perryman, Jim Eckart and Chris Reyling also made big plays for the Muenster defense.

Tonight, the Hornets take on the Callisburg 8th grade team here in Muenster at 6 p.m.

Hornets shut out Indians

With a beautiful, clear sky overhead Friday night, the Muenster Hornets shut down the Nocona Indians' wishbone attack to record a 14-0 victory. A capacity crowd was on hand for the annual homecoming festivities, and the Hornets rose to the occasion. Shawn Flusche, Gary Grewing and J. Shane Wimmer, Damie Hellman and Brian Hess made the big plays on the field, and senior Melanie Ritchey was crowned 1986 Homecoming Queen during the halftime ceremony.

Flusche carried 15 times for 88 yards on the night, helping the Hornets control the ball and the clock. Muenster mounted an 11-play, 70-yard drive in the second quarter that culminated in a one-yard plunge by Andy Burnette. Flusche kicked the extra point for a 7-0 halftime advantage. The drive set the tempo for the rest of the game as Muenster kept possession of the ball for nearly all of the second and fourth quarters.

With 1:44 left in the third quarter, Nocona set up to punt from their own 22-yard line. Senior defensive end Damie Hellman raced in from the right side to block the kick into the end zone, and Brian Hess outraced Stuart Hess to recover the ball for a Hornet touchdown. "I don't think that I've ever run any faster than that," said an elated Stuart Hess after the game. Junior Brian Hess added that it was his first touchdown as a member of the Hornet varsity.

Flusche again kicked the extra point and the Hornets had a 14-0 lead.

Nocona came back with their best drive of the night. After three first downs, a sack by Daniel Klement forced the drive to end, and the Hornets took over for a time-consuming 53-yard drive that ended with a Grewing punt going out of bounds at the Indian 8-yard line.

Grewing, Joe Pagel and Travis Klement were the defensive leaders up front. Flusche had several bone-jarring tackles and Wimmer made the key plays in the secondary to preserve the shut-out.

Friday night, the Hornets travel to Callisburg. Kick-off is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Callisburg is winless for the season while the Hornets are at 1-2. Friday night, Callisburg scored their first points of the season in a 34-6 loss to Aubrey. Muenster will be looking to even their record at 2-2.

Three district foes remained unbeaten after three weeks of the season. Lindsay shutout Chico 28-0; Era, behind 262 yards rushing from Kevin Ford, crushed Savoy 43-0; and Valley View easily disposed of Paradise 41-0.

Hornet JV scalped by Indians

The Muenster High School Junior Varsity suffered their first setback, after two wins, at the hands of the Nocona Indians last Thursday night, 15-0. It was a close game. It came down to the fact that the Hornets just couldn't get the ball into the end zone. Four times the Hornet offense got inside the Nocona 20-yard line, and four times the Hornets came away empty-handed.

James Hennigan, Shawn Vogel, Mike Pagel, Shayne Wimmer and Jeff Walterscheid led the offense. Hennigan, Vogel, Chris Klement and Weldon Hermes led the Muenster defense.

Tonight, the JV will play Callisburg here at Hornet Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

The Quarterback Club will meet each Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Muenster Public School Library.

KC Oilers 8, Olney 6, in game Sept. 23

The Muenster KC Oilers, fifth and sixth grade football team of the Boys' Club league, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, were winners of the game played Tuesday, Sept. 23, at 5:30 p.m. with the Olney Savings team, by a score of 8-6.

The Oilers scored first on a pass from Chad Cheaney to Jeremy Jones; the extra point failed. Oilers then scored two points on a touch-back. Olney Savings scored on a touchdown with 14 seconds left in the game, but the extra point failed.

Offensive standouts were Larry Switzer and Martin McCoy. The defense was led by Willie Hess, Rodney Vogel, Kody Truebenbach and Kenneth Walterscheid.

The Oilers are 1-0 for the season. Sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, the boys are coached by Cliff Sicking, Dale Swirczynski and David Flusche, Jr.

Hunting Leases can bag more $ for farmers

(AUSTIN)—Texas farmers and ranchers now have an opportunity to "bag" more of the $1 billion that hunters spend annually in the state by leasing their land to outdoor enthusiasts.

TDA, in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, has established a hunter/farmer clearinghouse that links hunters with farmers and ranchers who want to lease their land and provides information on location, airport distances, types of game, camping opportunities and other relevant data.

"Whether you're after dove, pheasant, white-tail deer or wild sheep, Texas offers some of the finest hunting in the nation," Hightower said. "With a little bit of marketing and more education on wildlife management, we can use hunting to help revitalize some rural areas of Texas that are threatened with extinction because of the crisis in agriculture and oil."

Joining Hightower to announce the new program was Parks and Wildlife Commissioner Bob Armstrong, who said, "This is one of those rare opportunities where everybody wins. If we save just one farm by this program that otherwise would have gone into default, then the entire program will have been worthwhile."

"Farmers in the Hereford area, the pheasant-hunting capital of Texas, are able to lease their land for $5,000 to $10,000 for two weekends. That may not sound like much until you consider that the typical farm operating loan for a commercial family farm on the High Plains is around $100,000. That extra income can mean the difference between making interest payments and going into default," Hightower said.

According to the most recent U. S. Department of Interior study, hunting expenditures in Texas were almost $1 billion. "That means that there will be more money circulating in local restaurants, gas stations and motels, as well as lease payments to farmers," Hightower said.

Since June, more than 1,000 farmers and ranchers have contacted TDA for information on leasing their land to hunters. Nearly 3.5 million acres are already listed with the clearinghouse.

For more information, farmers and ranchers can call TDA at (512) 463-7679. Interested hunters can call TDA or the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at 1-800-792-1112.

Tigers' defense prevails for first victory

After four quarters of hard-nosed football and clutch playing by both the defense and offense of the Sacred Heart Tigers, they took an impressive first victory of the year. While doing so, they handed the Dallas Temple Blazers their first loss of the year.

The Tigers were put in much the same situation as they were the week before against the Oakridge Owls, losing 7-6. However, the Tigers' defense held off the Blazers' 2-point conversion late in the fourth quarter to prevent another one point loss and salvage a 7-6 victory. The Tigers are now 1-2 for the season.

Both defenses came out fired up, keeping each other clear of the end zones in the first quarter. The second quarter was a different story with the Tigers' offense penetrating to the Blazer 13-yard line with only 1:20 off the clock.

Then the next play, quarterback Scott Taylor connected with Mike Adair for the first touchdown of the game. Frank Hastings finished the drive with the extra point, giving Sacred Heart a 7-0 edge at the half.

The third quarter saw no offensive action with both teams exchanging fumbles and interceptions most of the quarter.

The fourth quarter is when the Tigers' defense did their clutch playing. Temple's scoring drive was keyed by their quarterback Calvert Johnson, with his 40-yard run. The next play he pounded in for 6 with 3:17 remaining in the game. Now with only a one-point cushion, the Tigers had to stop the Blazers from scoring the conversion, and they did with the help of Mike Adair's quarterback sack. Temple got another chance to score, but it ended the same way as the conversion with Mike Adair on the quarterback sack again.

Mike Adair led the defense with 7 unassisted tackles and 2 assisted. Terry Bartel also had 7 tackles, four of them were for losses. Casey Houtchens had 5 tackles and 3 assists. Deano Bayer had 2 fumble recoveries and David Halley had one.

Wayne Becker was Sacred Heart's leading rusher with 61 yards on 18 carries. Steve Knabe also added 24 yards on 8 carries.

Scott Taylor went 4 of 7 for 19 yards, passing at quarterback, and Adair was his leading receiver with 2 catches for 25 yards.

Both teams had 8 first downs. Sacred Heart produced 71 yards on 40 carries, while the Blazers picked up 128 yards on 36 carries. Temple also led the passing, going 2 of 11 for 65 yards passing and 1 interception.

Sacred Heart went 5 of 9 with interceptions for 34 yards passing.

"Punting was a key factor in the game," said Coach Clack. Sacred Heart punted 7 times averaging 36 yards a punt. Penalties were cleared up this week by the Tigers, only giving up 25 yards on 3 penalties. Temple lost 60 yards on 8 penalties.

Defensive standouts included Darrell Dangelmayr, Terry Bartel, Casey Houtchens and Mike Adair. Offensive standouts were Wayne Becker, Scott Taylor, Mike Adair and Deano Bayer. Coach Pasqua added, "The whole team played well, both defense and offense."

Tigerette of the week for last week was Traci Henscheid. Sacred Heart will be home for the next two games, hosting Irving Cistercian this week Sept. 26. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

Tigers face tough team next week

Irving Cistercian will be counting on a solid passing game that earned them a 7-3 campaign last year. WR Fred Harnett will be back after catching 43 passes for 800 yards last year. RB Alex Lopez will also be a threat, gaining 1,026 yards last fall. He also scored 40 points last week in their 57-0 defeat against Tyler Street Christian. They run their offense out of the pro-set formation. The defense switches back and forth from a 5-2 to a 4-3.

This will be another non-district game. The Tigers will not go back to district play until Oct. 11.

Tourney to be held Sunday

Sacred Heart Alumni's eighth annual 18-hole, 2-man scramble will be held Sunday, Sept. 28, 1986 at Gainesville Municipal Golf Course.

Cubs lose to Era 20-6

Thursday, Sept. 18, at Era the Sacred Heart Cubs were defeated 20-6 for their second loss of the year. The game's scoring consisted of big plays by both teams.

The first half was scoreless, but Era changed that quickly in the second half by returning the opening kickoff 75 yards. The extra point failed, leaving the score 6-0. The next kickoff, the Cubs matched that by driving the ball 70 yards to tie the game at 6-6. Ryan Hess, Shawn Dangelmayr, Helmuth Koelzer and Ryan Gehrig all contributed to the Cubs' only scoring drive.

In the fourth quarter, Era took the lead back with another touchdown on a 50-yard pass reception. The conversion was good and put the score at 14-6 in Era's favor. Then in the last minutes, they put the game away, returning an intercepted Cub pass for 25 yards and a touchdown. That left the final score at 20-6. This will put the Cubs at 0-2 for the season.

Players noted for their offensive playing were Shawn Dangelmayr, Ryan Hess, John Schilling and Helmuth Koelzer. Defensive standouts were Sharon Fuhrmann, Darrell Mullins and Kelly Bell.

The Cubs' next game will be here against Irving Cistercian Preparatory Sept. 26 at 5:00 p.m.

Survey shows little improvement in physical fitness

The physical fitness of American public school children has shown virtually no improvement in the last 10 years and in some cases has greatly deteriorated, according to a nationwide survey conducted by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports recently released by PCPFS chairman George Allen.

The survey, designed by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan, consisted of a four-stage probability sampling of 18,857 boys and girls, ages six through 17, from 57 school districts and 187 schools. It was the largest school physical fitness survey of its kind ever undertaken in the United States.

Survey results

Some of the findings, Allen said, are cause for alarm:

- 40 percent of boys ages six to 12 cannot do more than one pullup. One out of four cannot do any.

- 70 percent of all girls tested cannot do more than one pullup, and 55 percent cannot do any.

- 45 percent of boys six to 14 and 55 percent of all girls cannot hold their chin over a raised bar for more than 10 seconds.

- In the 50-yard dash, girls 10, 11, 14 and 16 are significantly slower than they were in 1975.

- In a simple flexibility sit-test, 40 percent of boys ages six to 15 cannot reach beyond their toes.

- Approximately 50 percent of girls ages six to 17 and 30 percent of boys ages six to 12 cannot run a mile in less than 10 minutes.

"This survey shows there are some major problems in physical fitness among the youth of this country," said Allen. "Many children simply aren't getting the vigorous exercise they need to develop strong and healthy bodies."

"What's particularly distressing is that poor fitness now could have serious long-term medical consequences for a youngster later on. We hope these findings will serve as the impetus for families, schools and communities to work together, all with the goal of improving youth physical fitness in their area."

Such estimates shall be revised from time to time as conditions appear to warrant. The estimate made by the Superintendent of the City Sanitation Department shall be binding on all parties except in case of excessiveness, when an aggrieved customer being charged under said paragraph shall be entitled to an appeal to the City Council.

The fact that a public health hazard exists and that the City is now without sufficient regulation or police power to control and provide for the public health and safety of the City of Muenster, and the further condition that the Department of Health of the State of Texas, recommends and requires controlled disposal, creates an emergency, and the rules requiring the reading of an Ordinance several times is hereby suspended, and that after the reading of this Ordinance and the passing and adoption of the City Council of this Ordinance shall become in full force and effect.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Applications being accepted for farm and ranch finance program

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has announced that loan applications for the Texas Farm and Ranch Finance Program are now being accepted as of Sept. 1.

"I am pleased to announce we are now taking loan applications. The best part of the Texas Farm and Ranch Finance Program is it's entirely self-supporting since it won't cost the taxpayers a single penny," Mauro said.

The Texas Farm and Ranch Finance Program will provide up to $100,000 to qualified Texas farmers and ranchers for the purchase of 50 acres or more of land. Eligibility requires the applicant to be a Texas resident for at least five years. Also, 35 percent of their gross income in the previous three years must have come from a farm or ranch. The applicant's net worth must also be less than $250,000.

"The Texas Farm and Ranch Finance Program isn't an attempt to solve all the problems of the Texas farmer. A long-term, low-interest loan program like this will enable many young Texas farmers and ranchers to enter the business who otherwise might not be able to make the commitment," Mauro said.

"The Texas Farm and Ranch Finance Program will not solve all the problems facing those in agriculture today. But we hope that many producers who are wishing to purchase land will be able to use this new low-interest loan program as a partial solution in making agriculture profitable again," Mauro said.

Those interested in more information may call 1-800-292-FARM.

More Texas farmland accepted into conservation program in 1986

COLLEGE STATION - Another 819,308 acres of highly erodible Texas farmland have been accepted into the government's Conservation Reserve Program. The land is from 2,918 farms.

Combined with two earlier sign-up periods in the spring, more than 1,127,000 acres in Texas have been committed to the CRP, points out Dr. Bill Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Nationwide, 8,920,889 acres are now enrolled in the program, which evolved from the 1985 farm bill as an effort to curb erosion losses on fragile farmland and at the same time reduce the production of already surplus crops. Some 45 million acres are targeted for the program over a five-year sign-up period, with 11.5 million of those being in Texas, notes Harris.

To participate in the CRP, a farmer or landowner must first determine if his land is highly erodible as classified by the Soil Conservation Service. Then he must submit a bid to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service on the amount of payment he feels is justified based on the land's production history. The maximum bid price on land accepted into the CRP has varied across Texas, ranging from $40 per acre in the High Plains to $55 per acre in the Rio Grande Valley. During the most recent sign-up period, the average acceptable bid from Texas was $29.53 per acre.

If the bid is accepted, the farmer must agree to keep the land out of production for 10 years and to take steps to control wind and water erosion by planting grass or trees, says the soils specialist. Cost of establishing conservation measures are split 50-50 with the government.

In conjunction with the CRP, farmers now face additional provisions aimed at soil conservation practices, Harris points out. Rules have been proposed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture relating to the management of highly erodible lands and wetlands and to conservation compliance that ties conservation efforts to commodity programs.

This means that farmers cultivating highly erodible land or converting wetlands and not complying with locally approved conservation plans would be denied commodity program benefits such as price and income supports, disaster payments, crop insurance, FmHA loans, Commodity Credit Corporation storage payments, farm storage facility loans and related payments. In addition, cost-sharing funds for conservation practices would not be allowed on lands in violation, Harris points out.

Because of the far-reaching implications of these conservation measures, Harris encourages landowners to comment on the provisions as published in the June 27 Federal Register. The USDA recently extended the comment period another 60 days to Oct. 25. Comments should be sent to the Director of Cotton, Grain and Rice Support Division, USDA/ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Answers to your questions about $1 beef checkoff

AUSTIN - I want to introduce you to a cattleman who is not unique among cattlemen, but is one who does not believe in advertising. This cattleman wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised mattress, washes with advertised soap, shaves with an advertised razor, puts on advertised clothes, eats breakfast in an advertised restaurant, glances at his advertised watch, rides to work in an advertised car, writes with an advertised pen, drinks an advertised soft drink, but yet this same cattleman hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising does not pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will advertise it for sale.

Thanks to the Beef Promotion and Research Act, a part of the 1985 Farm Bill, this cattleman will join his colleagues in participating in a checkoff program which will catapult the faltering beef industry into the 21st century of advertising and promotion. This united effort by cattlemen to regain the market share that beef has been steadily losing to its competitors - poultry and seafood - will be targeted toward consumers who avoid beef either for reasons of health or because they do not perceive beef as a convenience food.

Plans for implementing the mandatory $1/head checkoff in Texas were recently shared with Keith Chapman, Executive Director of the Livestock Marketing Association of Texas. "It appears to me that the Texas Beef Industry Council is trying to do everything possible to make this program workable for the average cattleman. The simplified checkoff forms they have designed should help keep paper work to a minimum. I like the way things are progressing."

1. Who will be assessed this new mandatory $1/head checkoff? Each producer will pay at the time of sale. (A person acquiring ownership of cattle for 10 days or less to facilitate a transfer of ownership of such cattle from the seller to a third party is not considered a producer.)

2. Who collects the checkoff dollars from the producer? The purchaser, (including those in the country) are legally responsible for collecting the funds from the seller. When sales take place at auction markets or feedyards, these places of business will collect the funds.

3. Where can the necessary forms be obtained? Forms and information booklets will be sent to all livestock markets, feedyards, county Farm Bureau offices and county Extension Service offices.

4. When does the $1 checkoff begin? Oct. 1 is the beginning date for this new checkoff.

5. When does payment need to be made? All money collected during a month must be submitted to the Texas Beef Industry Council by the 15th of the following month.

6. Where are the dollars sent? All monies collected in Texas will be sent to the Texas Beef Industry Council.

7. What is the Texas Beef Industry Council? This newly-formed non-profit corporation was established to enable Texas cattlemen to collect their own checkoff dollars, to conduct programs of promotion and research, and to keep cattlemen informed on ways their dollars are used.

8. Who organized the Texas Beef Industry Council? Representatives from various beef organizations across our state met together to form this Council. These cattlemen and cattlewomen represented Independent Cattlemen's Association, Livestock Marketing Association of Texas, Texas Purebred Alliance, Southwestern Meat Packers Association, Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Texas CowBelles, Texas Farm Bureau and the dairy organizations.

9. How will checkoff dollars be spent? Our best estimates project that the largest portion of the dollar will go towards advertising - 54 cents. Other program areas such as research, communication and education will use 13 cents. Six cents will be set aside to keep Texas cattlemen informed about this new program and the various expenditures of their dollars. Administrative costs will be kept at a minimum - two cents for Texas and not more than five cents for the National Cattlemen's Promotion and Research Board. The remaining 20 cents will be set aside for possible refund requests.

10. Can refunds be obtained? Yes, producers will be entitled to a refund for assessments collected prior to the referendum. Refund forms, which must be requested from the Texas Beef Industry Council, must be submitted by mail to the TBIC within 60 days of the sale. (6504 Bridgepoint Parkway, Suite 400, Austin, TX 78730.) All requests will be held until after the referendum.

11. What assurances are there that everyone is paying? Computer software has been designed to cross-check all information to insure that all collections are made. The Texas Beef Industry Council will also employ a field staff to work with cattlemen although the integrity of Texas cattlemen is worth bragging about. Most contracts on cattle are conducted with the shake of a hand as "a cattleman's honor is as good as his word."

12. Is imported beef covered by this $1/head checkoff? Yes, the $1/head checkoff will be levied on imported cattle and on the equivalent number of pounds of imported beef products (509 lbs.). An estimated $5 million will be collected from importers.

13. What is the penalty for non-compliance? A restraining order may be issued, then a civil penalty of up to $5000 for violation of the order may be assessed.

14. Can we obtain a copy of the Beef Promotion and Research Order? Yes, you may obtain a copy by contacting the Texas Beef Industry Council at 6504 Bridgepoint Parkway, Suite 400, Austin, TX 78730.

15. When will the referendum be held? The referendum must be held no later than 22 months past July 18, 1986.

Beef producers will finally have an opportunity to witness the results of advertising dollars. Why have people been flocking to poultry this past decade? Perhaps their ability to spend $64 million compared to our $6 million had something to do with it! Beef will finally have an opportunity to flex its muscles.
