

WAYNE ROMO, EMCEE OF "Celebrate '87," provided musical entertainment and led enthusiastic singing that the youth at the convention enjoyed.

Good News!

I plead with you, then, as a prisoner of the Lord, to live a life worthy of the calling you have received, with perfect humility, meekness and patience, bearing with one another lovingly.

Future of EMS in Muenster remains hanging in balance

Muenster's EMS station is not closed.

Neither is it assured of extended life.

Muenster Mayor Ted Henscheid welcomed the entire Cooke County Commissioners' Court and about 40 local residents to the public meeting Monday night at the K of C Hall to discuss the future of the ambulance substation. Judge Jim Robertson and the four precinct commissioners are studying the county emergency medical service in depth to give the best service with little or no increase in the budget and resultant taxes. Although precinct four commissioner Rosalie Bayer wants to keep the Muenster location in operation, the prevailing attitude on the court has been that better service to the county as a whole will result by locating all personnel and vehicles centrally in Gainesville.

Wes Fuson of St. Richard's Villa expressed his view, which seems that of most Muenster residents. "Muenster has medical facilities that do not exist in the eastern part of the county. It is important to have ambulance support nearby. We are going to be adversely affected if we lose this station and you just can't place a price on a human life."

Commissioner Danny Knight pointed out that Muenster should have less need of ambulance support since the hospital is so near. He and commissioner Kenneth Alexander repeatedly expressed their view that keeping service in Muenster was not fair to the eastern and southern parts of the county.

There was considerable discussion over the budget and proposed budgets. EMS head David Cleveland estimated that the new annual budget was looking like $475,000.00, increased from $406,000.00 for the current period. The proposed figure is subject to many possible changes in the system, some of which are only in the idea stage.

Concern was voiced about the effort and money committed by Muenster to the substation. "We've put $30,000.00 into this station. Muenster has a lot to lose and there have been a lot of calls to this station in the past. It is not being fully or efficiently used now."

Former EMS head Don Rice listed several points in favor of the Muenster substation:

- * Response time to Muenster from Gainesville is 15 minutes, only eight minutes to Callisburg.

- * Any other comparable county has at least four units in operation compared to two in Cooke County. (One Cooke County ambulance is kept in back-up status without a 24-hour crew)

- * The county will soon have to have more emergency medical service.

- * The commissioners have established a standard of care which should not be reduced and probably needs to be increased.

Rice's comments tended to change the direction of the meeting. Many expressed the opinion that if more service is truly needed and it costs more, "let's pay for it."

EMT Sharon Grewing said we need to look at more and better services in the future, not to cut-backs. "We're spread pretty thin now," she said. Ronnie Felderhoff asked for the opinion or vote of each commissioner. Judge Robertson and Mrs. Bayer indicated their wishes to keep the station open if the funding could be founded. Knight, Alexander and Jerry Lewis voted to centralize in Gainesville.

That will not be a reality yet. After more discussion everyone agreed to study further and allow David Cleveland to get detailed information out to the public on the alternatives and current status. Cleveland is new to the job and many are looking to him for an innovative solution to the problem. Such helpful measures as a volunteer study committee and a public opinion poll were discussed.

Judge Robertson appealed to the public. "If I had 500 letters or phone calls saying, 'I'm willing to pay increased taxes on rates in order to have better ambulance service,' I'd be much better able to decide what to do for the good of the people." He spoke of a countywide response on emergency medical service in general. All present more or less agreed that educating the public on this and other matters of government, services and taxes would help the decision making process. The commissioners seemed committed to gathering information and public opinion before acting definitely.

Convention a true celebration

"Christ Alive in Youth" was the theme of "Celebrate '87," the annual Catholic youth convention, held July 18-19 at Sacred Heart Parish in Muenster. Over 600 high school students and adult sponsors representing 40 parishes of the Diocese of Fort Worth gathered in Muenster for the event.

This year marked the first time that the convention was held in a parish instead of on a college campus. Muenster facilities used were the Community Center for group sessions, meals and the dance; S.H. High School for workshops; S.H. Gym for girls' sleeping; and M.H.S. Gym and football field for guys' sleeping.

T-shirts, buttons, workshops and general and special sessions all carried out the convention's theme. Also, the walls of the Community Center's Main Hall were lined with festive banners brought by each parish.

Emcee Wayne Romo began Saturday's activities with an opening session. Wayne is studying for the seminary and working as a chaplain at Parkland Hospital in Dallas this summer. He is the grandson of Mrs. Clarence (Mary) Owen of Fort Worth, formerly of Muenster.

Wayne introduced guest speaker Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro who told the youth, "Always ask questions, and always try to make a difference. You can do this by thinking small things to accomplish larger things." He then opened the floor for questions from the youth which ranged in topic from national and state to local.

The youth then attended workshops on various subjects such as "How to Raise Your Parents," Silkscreening - Banner Making, "Addictions - How to Help Your Friends," Fundraising and Music and Meditational Prayer. These workshops were given by members of the Diocesan Youth Ministry Team and visiting lecturers.

A general session for a meditational Journey followed.

The teenagers were reminded during the weekend of another group of youngsters whose youth camp ended in tragedy only one day before "Celebrate '87." A poster reading "Our prayers are with you in this time of grief; May the Peace & Love of Christ Be With You All; 1987 Catholic Youth Convention" was signed by everyone at this time. The poster has been sent to the Seagoville Road Baptist Church in Balch Springs.

After a sumptuous banquet of spaghetti served by Nellie Martin and her crew, the youth heard Fr. Vincente Lopez tell them, "We

Muenster wants chance to show off

Tourism is the second biggest industry in Texas. Millions of dollars are spent each year across the state as vacationers travel about, seeking a change of pace or maybe just something a little different. And some local residents feel that the time is ideal for Muenster to get in on the action.

For this reason, the Chamber of Commerce in Muenster is establishing a council on tourism.

Maudine Griffin, Executive Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the council already had a few members. "We're just setting it up," she stated. "Eventually, it will consist of representatives from all phases of life in our community - church, schools, merchants, finance."

New dentist arrives in Muenster

Dr. Christopher L. Bean will bring his dentistry practice to Muenster when his office opens in the Medical Center Building on Aug. 3.

Dr. Bean is 28 years old and attended North Texas State University. He received his Doctor of Dental Surgery from the University of Texas Dental School at San Antonio, and he is certified to practice dentistry in the state of Texas.

His office hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. He will also be open some evenings. The telephone number at his office is 759-4736.

"Everyone is encouraged to call with any questions they have concerning dental problems," he said. "I believe in treating people right and doing a good job."

Laurie Flusche has been hired as a dental assistant/receptionist.

Born in Fort Worth and raised in Richardson, Dr. Bean is planning to move to Muenster at the end of July. He enjoys hunting, fishing and other sports.

Mrs. Griffin revealed that the purpose of the council is "to promote Muenster as a tourist attraction and to educate the local public of the advantages of tourism to the local economy."

But the idea of luring tourists to Muenster is not a new one. "The consensus of people at a town hall meeting last year was that tourism is an economic possibility for Muenster," she noted.

Several members of the Chamber have already gone to various conventions on developing the business of tourism. They, and others, have come up with innovative ideas on how to make Muenster more attractive to vacationers.

"Play up what we already have," suggests Chamber President Monica Hess. "Through things such as Clean Sweep, we are getting our name before the public. Now we need to get our name before the tourists."

Industrial Board member Chas Bayer pointed out that at past meetings of the Chamber, suggestions were made about the decor of the town, including buildings and landscape. "We want to stress ethnic," he said.

Mrs. Griffin called Germanfest "a good tool and a good basis to start building tourism on." She also brought up the fact that lots of Germanfest visitors come back to Muenster at other times of the year.

"Many people come down I-35 for vacations. If they knew there was a German community 13 miles off I-35, they would come." She indicated that this money would disperse throughout the whole town when the tourists bought gas, meals, and even overnight motel stays.

Sausages, cheeses and strudel, along with the Red River Motorcycle Park, and the agricultural nature and scenery surrounding Muenster head the list of this town's attractions.

According to Mrs. Griffin, one possibility that has been mentioned is bus tours of places such as scenic wildflower areas, farms, dairies, or horse ranches. "Most Muenster people don't realize that city people are interested in dairies," she laughed.

Ben Bindel, member of the Board of Directors, added that travelers through Muenster think that the town is unique. "They tell me there's something different about this town," he commented. "They say that everyone's so friendly, they greet you - it's got a neat atmosphere."

Chas Bayer believes that increased tourism is possible, but "it will take a unified effort from the community." And in the words of Chamber President Monica Hess, increased tourism "darn sure won't hurt us."

For more information on the council on tourism, contact the Chamber of Commerce office.

Street paving progresses

Tar on newly-paved Main Street glistened under the hot sun this week as paving crews continued to work. This section of Hwy. 373 is one of four paving projects underway in the Muenster area.

"The Texas Highway Department told me several months back that it was going to be done," City Manager Joe Fenton said.

Done by contract and inspected by the state, the Hwy. 373 project extends 13 miles north from Hwy. 82. Charles Moore of the Highway Dept. said that the job was completed using shots of asphalt and a sealcoat of rocks that were then rolled. "As far as I know," he stated, "the job isn't finished on the north end because they ran out of gravel."

Another paving project is the area of the Hillcrest edition. South Mesquite, East Eddy, Hillcrest, Endres and Cross Streets are currently being prepared for paving. After bids are studied, a contractor will be hired for the job.

Precinct Three is also moving toward preparing South Ash and West Eddy Streets for paving. This job will be paid for by the property owners along the two streets. The city and county will do the work.

The fourth paving project in the area is Picnic Grounds Road. It is being readied for paving under the direction of Precinct Four.

Tan-Fastic opens

Tan-Fastic, a new and unique business to Muenster, offers beauty care in many forms. Not only does the shop boast tanning beds, but the wide array of Mary Kay skin and hair products as well.

Owned and operated by Chris and Jan Cain, Tan-Fastic is located in the Old Theatre Mall. Business hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and on Saturdays and after hours by appointment. The phone number is 759-4408.

"The original idea was for me to have an office," Jan said, explaining this venture. She is an Independent Sales Director for Mary Kay Cosmetics. "It was Chris' idea to add the tan beds."

"So," she continued, "we searched around and found the best quality beds." They are two UVA Alisun "Super Beds," seven feet long and three feet wide. The tanning rooms are private and comfortable, with music provided.

An extra attraction to the tanning facilities is that a person's first visit is free.

Jan now conducts all of her Mary Kay business from Tan-Fastic instead of her home. She offers color awareness consultation and free makeovers in front of her 10-foot-long mirror with professional lighting, adding that her products "are for men, too."

"I just want people to know that I'm here to help with their skin. The Old Theatre Mall is very attractive, and I think people would enjoy the relaxed atmosphere," Jan remarked.

DR. CHRISTOPHER BEAN stands by the door of his new office in the Medical Center Building. He brings his dentistry practice to Muenster on Monday, Aug. 3.

Letters to the Editor

My very dear friends,

Gruss Gott!
The time has arrived to have a chat with you. My only trouble is that I have so much to write about, that I don't know where to start. I don't want to bore you either with too long a message.

My heartfelt thanks to the classes 1967 and 1977 of Sacred Heart School for their invitations to their Class Reunions. How very happy I would have been to be in your midst to celebrate with you. The very, very best to each one of you until your next reunions. On July 18, I went through such a joyful event, when I was hand greeted, hugged and kissed by Alumni of Holy Angels Academy of Jonesboro and of St. Paul's High School of Pochantas. It was an extremely happy afternoon.

It was great to have all that company from Muenster and other places in Texas! It is always a great delight for me. So, just keep on coming!!

Our Centennial Year with all its celebration is already going downhill. It will close on Dec. 13, and that will be just fine with me. I wonder how it will feel to live in the year 101 of Holy Angels Convent.

I was very much grieved over the destructive storms you experienced lately. Really unbelievable! What an unforgettable event you agonized through! My heartfelt sympathy to all who suffered material losses.

After her return from Muenster, Sister Clara Myers said one day to me that she had a book which she knew I would like to read. Naturally I wondered what book this might be. It turned out to be her personal copy of "Sacs Report of Visiting Committee of Sacred Heart School." Eagerly I read every word of it. It was certainly an extremely interesting Evaluation Document. Much accomplished - much to be accomplished! Congratulations and Encouragement!

The school year 1987-1988 is rapidly approaching. I am very grateful to The Muenster Enterprise that I have a chance to wish the administration, the Faculty and the Students of Sacred Heart School and Muenster Public School a very successful year in every regard.

We are having very hot, sultry, rainless weather. Absolutely no walking outdoors for me! It is a good thing that I don't miss it at all. The Convent, being so far flung, gives me plenty chance for walking.

Through the windows of my air conditioned room I see woods, meadows, the driveway, cats, dogs and birds. On my route from my room to the mailboxes I see indoors my greatest pets, the parakeets in their cage; much further on I see outdoors an immense water basin, the playground of a duck and her four ducklings, and finally, I pay a visit to the goldfish in a large aquarium in the library. To think I stop my letter with a fish story! Well, my very dear friends, may God bless all of you, and remember I love all of you, and best of all, I pray for all of you and share every sentiment with you.

Forever your friend,
Sister M. Theresina Grob, O.S.B.

To the Publisher and Staff:

Enclosed is a check of $20.00 for my renewal to The Muenster Enterprise.

I look forward to receiving this paper of my hometown. It helps me keep in touch with friends and people that I know as well as other news of interest along with the photos.

I want to personally thank you and the staff of The Muenster Enterprise for your excellent work.

I am looking forward again to receiving my next copy of July 17 Enterprise.

Thank you kindly,
Mrs. Rosi Reaux
(formerly Rose Margaret Zipper)

Dear Editor:

Enclosed you will find an item which we request that you place in The Enterprise. July 11 was a wonderful, happy day for the descendants of Franz Dudenhofer, an early day Cooke County settler.

And will you please list the names of the people who attended? Many of them at one time lived in Cooke County. Some of them were surprised that Muenster has a newspaper and showed an interest in subscribing. We appreciate your efforts in publishing reunions and other social events in your publication.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Henry A. Luebbert

'End of Session Retrospect'

By Richard F. Williamson,
State Representative and Gregory D. Watson,
Administrative Assistant

AUSTIN - The future course of the state economy can follow the road of moderation if the viewpoint of the House of Representatives is accepted. While the Governor prefers the status quo, the Lieutenant Governor advocates an expansion of our higher education effort and, indeed, a growing role for State government in almost every aspect of our lives.

When you have a bicameral legislature and one chamber takes a particular position on a specific issue while the other chamber takes a markedly different position on that very same issue, which chamber of the legislature is assumed to reflect the wishes of the public?

As discussed in previous installments, the Senate has consistently voted for increased taxation to pay not just for the current level of services, but for even higher expenditures. The House of Representatives, by contrast, has advocated budget cuts, albeit modest ones, and a small increase in the tax burden. Which chamber of the legislature - if either - reflects the will of the people in this situation? And what of the Governor and his role in creating a vision of Texas, say, 20 years into the future?

In raw numbers, the Senate, during the Regular Session of the 70th Legislature which ended this past June 1, adopted a spending plan that called for $39.9 billion in spending for the 1987-89 biennium and the House of Representatives that same session passed a budget of $39.6 billion. Since neither proposal was approved by both chambers, nothing ever materialized during the Regular Session and Governor Clements was never presented with a budget bill for his consideration.

On June 22, the Legislature reconvened in Second Called Session. Thus far, the Senate has passed a total biennial budget of $39.3 billion for the 1987-89 biennium. The House whittled that figure down to $38.3 billion. Because of the difference, a House-Senate conference committee was appointed by the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House to "iron out" that difference.

House Speaker Gib Lewis (D-Fort Worth) embodies the very essence and will of the House of Representatives. Like the House itself as a whole, Speaker Lewis believes that State spending is simply out of control and must be curtailed. At the same time, however, he sees a need for additional revenue from a modest tax increase only to the extent necessary to replace the revenue lost due to the downturn in oil prices. This position also recognizes that some areas of the budget are beyond the control of the legislature such as the number of youngsters attending public school.

The House position strongly supports continued funding levels for public education, but is less expansionary on issues of highway construction, business regulation, welfare and higher education. In fact, many House members, including myself, strongly believe that spending levels in higher education are out of control. Campus expansion, new facilities and unchecked administration growth are starting to cost the taxpayers dearly in terms of revenue demand. The position of the House suggests a minimal tax increase, but a major redirection of existing revenue away from duplication and unnecessary services and towards public education instead.

It is important to bear in mind that a tax bill must accompany a budget bill under both the House's and the Senate's respective scenarios. According to the Texas

Constitution, any tax bill must originate in the House of Representatives and since the House has a stronger position opposing additional taxes, it is likely that the House plan will prevail over the Senate plan in this conflict. Of course, a spending plan may not exceed the revenues derived from a tax bill.

What are the other priorities of the House in its spending plan? Well, the House has made health/human services a priority. Law Enforcement, Transportation and the Court system all enjoy priority status in the House budget, although less so than public education.

Perceiving duplication, waste and declining student enrollment, the House has made cuts in higher education. In the estimation of the House, higher education has far too long been a guarded sacred cow. And while higher education is clearly indispensable to our society, there is little justification for pouring money into post-secondary institutions that have declining enrollment, are located in very close proximity (in one particular case, across the street) to other State-supported facilities with the same or similar course offerings, or are even located in very remote, little-populated areas of the state.

The road preferred by the Speaker and the House will suggest a limited-growth pattern focusing on better public education and minimal tax increases. The next and final installment will discuss my thoughts on the State budget as well as specific steps that can be taken to improve the functioning of State government.

$54 million available to Texas small cities

WASHINGTON - The Department of Housing and Urban Development has earmarked $54 million for Community Development Block Grants to small cities in Texas, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has announced.

The senator said the decision will provide funding for a broad range of projects for cities and towns which choose to participate in the program. Grants made under the small cities program may be used, for instance, for housing rehabilitation, improvements to water and sewer facilities, street paving and lighting, and construction of community centers.

Cities and towns with a population of 50,000 or less are eligible. Each participating city designs a program tailored to meet local needs.

"I am pleased that some of the tax dollars sent by Texans to Washington are being returned to benefit area citizens by financing improvements to the areas where we work and live every day," Gramm said in making the announcement.

"My strong commitment is to assure a fair return to Texas taxpayers on the money we pay in federal taxes," the senator said. Cities should make applications for funding to the Texas Department of Community Affairs in Austin, which will administer the program in Texas.

The Community Development Block Grant program, one of HUD's largest, is designed to assist communities in carrying out a wide range of development activities aimed at neighborhood revitalization, economic development and improved community facilities and services.

Stenholm joins budget cutting task force

Congressman Charles Stenholm has joined forces with an informal, budget-cutting task force to keep the U.S. House of Representatives committed to its April resolution calling for $18 billion in 1988 deficit reductions.

Congressman Stenholm said, "We have deficits so large that we are borrowing every dollar of new spending. Congress has got to cut new spending."

The House reneged on its April resolution in late June when it passed a House-Senate compromise budget resolution that claimed an $18 billion deficit reduction but included real spending cuts of only $11 billion. The other $7 billion was comprised of sales of loan portfolios, which is an accounting maneuver that produces a short-term cash flow into the U.S. Treasury but does not genuinely reduce spending.

Getting back the $7 billion in spending reductions lost in June and holding Congress to its original target of $18 billion in cuts is the immediate goal of the bi-partisan budget task force, organized by Congressman Tom Tauke (R-IA) and Tim Penny (D-MN). Congressman Stenholm and other task force members are reviewing each appropriation bill that comes to the House floor and offering amendments to cut the House Appropriations Committee's proposed increases in next year's spending.

The group's first major success came with the recent adoption, on a 228-166 vote, of an amendment by Congressman Dick Armye (R-Denton) to reduce spending across-the-board by $279 million in the Commerce-Justice-State appropriation bill. The House also adopted a Stenholm amendment to the Army amendment to shift priority funding within the bill to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA), and the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

Congressman Stenholm said, "If we don't fight the deficit using real money rather than smoke and mirrors, the battle for deficit control will never amount to more than meaningless rhetoric."

Mr. David Fette,

I saw this article in the Lawton Constitution. Seeing it was from the fatherland of Muenster, Texas I thought that it may be of interest to you.

You probably don't know me, but I knew your father well.

I miss the article "Con" Fette wrote weekly in The Enterprise. That was the first to be read when receiving the paper. I am employed by one of your citizens, Clyde D. Fisher, who is the owner of the Miller Distributorship here in Lawton. Clyde visits with me at least once a week and keeps me informed on what is happening in Muenster. I really enjoy The Muenster Enterprise and look forward to receiving it each week.

Sincerely,

Truck slides into ditch with missiles

MUESTER, West Germany (AP) - A U.S. military truck carrying four Patriot conventional missiles slid into a ditch off a small road today, but caused no injuries or damage, a military spokesman said.

"It was a very minor mishap and the missiles were secured in such a way that they could not go off by accident," Maj. David Hartman of the 32nd Air Defense Command in Darmstadt told The Associated Press.

Patriot missiles are conventional weapons used in air defense. Hartman said the missiles are secured in such a way during transport that there could be no accidental firing.

He said the 10-ton missile transporter was on a routine training mission when it slid into a ditch on a small road leading away from a U.S. military ammunition depot in Muenster, 15 miles south of Frankfurt.

The vehicle was part of a convoy, Hartman said.

IRS offers new problem solver office

Been back and forth through normal channels trying to get a knotty tax problem resolved? If so, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) says, you ought to know about a special office that can help.

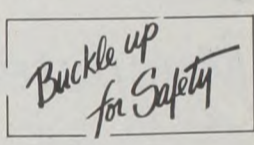

The Problem Resolution Program (PRP) Office is set up to cut through barriers and help taxpayers with chronic tax problems.

The most common problems brought to the PRP office, the IRS says, are complaints about missing refunds, mixed up social security numbers, and incorrect billings by IRS. IRS cautions, however, that Problem Resolution is not a substitute for normal procedures.

For example, persons who have not received their refunds should first call the IRS tax information number 1-800-424-1040 to seek help. Then, if the refund is still not sent, the taxpayer should contact the IRS and ask to be referred to the Problem Resolution office.

Although most taxpayers will never need the services of PRP, those with a persistent tax problem will find PRP willing and able to help.

Harry Bomar retires from TP&L Co.

Harry Bomar, Manager at Texas Power & Light, a Division of TU Electric, was given a retirement reception Friday, July 17, to honor his 33 years of loyal and faithful service with TP&L.

Mr. John Hendrick, Northern Division Manager in Sherman, presented Harry with a Retirement Album which stated his name was placed on the Honor Roll of the Company.

Mr. Gordon Adair reflected the feelings of the employees in the Gainesville District when he stated "Harry is a very fair, honest Manager who will be missed by all in the Gainesville District."

Harry has several projects he has been putting off until after retiring. He plans to play a lot of golf, continue his woodworking, do some traveling and build a new home in Gainesville.

Approximately 150 friends and relatives attended from as far away as Edinberg and Houston.

30th annual Saint Jo Rodeo slated for this weekend

Rodeo fans and cowboys of all sorts will ride into Saint Jo for the festivities held during the 30th Annual Saint Jo Rodeo July 30 through Aug. 1.

Sponsored by the Saint Jo Riding Club, the event grows larger each year. On the schedule for this year is bareback riding, bull riding, wild cow milking, calf roping and girls' barrel racing. The site of the rodeo is the Riding Club Arena one mile east of town.

The 20th Century Club gets in on the action Thursday afternoon with an Arts and Crafts Show on the square from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. The organization is also sponsoring a bake sale at the same time.

A parade through downtown Saint Jo will begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Bea Tucker, parade chairman, says that there will be approximately 40 entries in the parade. Kacey Roof, six months old, was selected as Grand Marshal of the parade, and three year old Keisha Avens, on her own horse, will be mascot. Charles Finell, Representative of the 13th District, will also be on hand. A barbecue at the Riding Club Arena will be held following the parade. The cost is $3.00 per plate. The rodeo will begin there at 8:30 p.m. with opening ceremonies.

In addition to rodeo events on Saturday, there will be a new event, Horse Olympics, at 3 p.m.

"I think that it's all going to be real good, and I'd like to invite everyone to come out," encouraged Bea Tucker.

Advance tickets can be purchased from riding club members for $4.00. Gate price is $5.00, but children ages 12 and under will be admitted without charge.

Bill Bibby named new TP&L manager

Bill Bibby of Bonham has been named district manager in Gainesville for Texas Power & Light, according to TP&L Northern Region Manager John Hendrick.

Bibby succeeds Harry Bomar who announced his retirement in July.

A native of Savoy, Bibby received his education at North Texas State University at Denton. He joined TP&L in 1953 in Bonham where he worked with a meter test crew. Bibby has held accounting positions in Denison, Killen, Waco, Gainesville and McKinney. In 1981, he was named TP&L Bonham Manager.

While in Bonham, Bibby has served as president of the Bonham Chamber of Commerce for 1987. He is president-elect of the Bonham Rotary Club and he has served on the Bonham Industrial Foundation Board.

Bibby and his wife, JoAnn, have two children: David and Elaine. The Bibbys are members of the First Baptist Church.

Free conservation brochure available

The National Arbor Day Foundation has published a Conservation Trees brochure which is available to the public free of charge.

The Conservation Trees brochure uses colorful photos and illustrations and easy-to-understand descriptions to help people plant and care for conservation trees.

The contents of the guide include:

- *How to use shade trees and windbreaks to save energy in your home.
- *How to attract songbirds to your yard.
- *How to save trees during construction.
- *How to save topsoil and help farm profits with shelterbelts.
- *The right way to plant trees.
- *The right way to prune trees.

The National Arbor Day Foundation's Conservation Trees

program encourages Americans to plant, manage and preserve trees to conserve soil, energy, water and wildlife," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

Hunter Education course offered

A complete course in hunter education will be offered by Cooke County College's Division of Continuing Education beginning Aug. 3 in Gainesville and Aug. 17 in Bowie.

Required in some states in order to secure a hunting license, the course will meet six times. Dates for the Gainesville class are Aug. 3, 5, 6, 10, 12 and 15. All classes will last from 7 to 10 p.m. except the Saturday, Aug. 15, class which will meet from 1 to 4 p.m.

Gainesville classes will meet on campus at CCC.

Dates for the Bowie class, to meet at Bowie High School, are Aug. 17, 19, 20, 24, 26 and 29. Meeting times are the same, including the 1 to 4 p.m. schedule for the final class on Saturday, Aug. 29.

Certified instructor for the class will be Ricky Tuggle who points out that persons successfully completing the course of study will be issued hunter safety cards from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

More than 100,000 Texans have already been certified as safe hunters.

"It's not yet mandatory to complete this course to hunt in Texas," Tuggle reports, "but it is mandatory in 34 other states, including Colorado, before a hunting license can be purchased."

"But there's a much more important reason to take the class than just to satisfy a requirement for a license. Hunting can be a very dangerous sport when the participants aren't safety conscious. Even experienced hunters will benefit. The course involves more than just safety training."

Tuggle says the course is open to both adults and youngsters and will include instructions in rifle, shotgun and bowhunting handling and safety, outdoor ethics, laws and regulations, conservation, hunting traditions, wildlife identification, field care of game, wilderness first aid and survival.

Youngsters participating in the course must be at least age 12 or older.

Cost of the course is $7 per person to cover costs of registration and materials. Space is limited, so interested persons should enroll as soon as possible.

To register, come by the CCC Continuing Education Office in Room 109 on campus. For more information, contact Cathy Keeler at 817/668-7731, Ext. 272.

Celebration held for hunter education bill

Texans for Wildlife Conservation (TWC) presented a special ceremony celebrating hunter education legislation passed recently by the Texas Legislature. The ceremony was held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. July 23 in the Lieutenant Governor's reception room at the State Capitol.

Charles D. Travis, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said Senate Bill 504 is important because it authorizes the agency to require hunters of selected age groups to complete a hunter safety training class before hunting in Texas. "The legislature is to be commended for adopting this bill, since it will help youngsters learn more about the outdoors as well as reducing the number of deaths and injuries from hunting-related accidents," Travis said.

TWC member and Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman, Edwin L. Cox, Jr., extended a vote of thanks to all who assisted in the passage of this landmark legislation. "We want to pay special tribute to bill sponsors and authors, Sen. Ted Lyons, Reps. Phyllis Robinson and Rick Perry," said Cox.

The bill, signed by Gov. Bill Clements on June 11, will be implemented Sept. 1, 1988. The Texas hunter education course will recognize equivalent courses taken by nonresidents in other states as being valid in Texas. The Texas course, now conducted by the department on a voluntary basis, already is recognized in other states that require nonresident hunters to complete a hunting safety course before being issued a hunting license.

The department is authorized to utilize volunteer instructors to minimize costs of the program, and to charge a fee not to exceed $15 to defray administrative costs. Fees collected will be deposited in the game, fish and water safety fund (Fund 9).

The department will determine qualifications for instructors and will recruit, train and certify them. It also may cooperate with educational institutions, local governments, individuals or organizations interested in hunter education, and accept gifts, grants and donations to be used in administering the program.

Telethon, 7-Eleven join fight with MDA

Employees of the 7-Eleven stores in the Red River district will join the Muscular Dystrophy Association to combat 40 crippling neuromuscular diseases.

7-Eleven is in its 12th year as a national corporate sponsor for MDA. Last year 7-Eleven stores and the Southland Corporation raised more than $5 million for Jerry's kids, bringing their total to more than $49 million since 1976.

Customers can leave their change for "Jerry's kids" in special canisters in 7-Eleven stores in our area or participate in special fundraising events planned this summer.

Funds raised by 7-Eleven efforts will directly benefit the children and adults served by MDA in our community.

Income raised by 7-Eleven will allow MDA to continue its program of patient services, summer camp for children, adult retreat, and all-important research for the cures and treatments for 40 neuromuscular diseases.

MRS. RICHARD M. HENNIGAN
...nee Carla Williams...

Hennigan, Williams united July 11

Carla Williams of Saint Jo became the bride of Richard M. (Ricky) Hennigan of Muenster on Saturday, July 11, in a Nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony in Sacred Heart Church, officiated by Father Victor Gillespie.

The bride is the daughter of Westall and Joan Williams of Saint Jo and the groom is the son of Larry and Mary Lee Hennigan of Muenster.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a tea-length, white taffeta dress designed with a V-neckline. Sleeves were short, very full and puffed and gathered at the shoulders with silk roses and pearls.

She carried a bridal nosegay of silk flowers in her chosen colors of white, dusty rose and royal blue; and wore white elbow-length lace gauntlets.

To accent her dress and for tradition, she wore a pearl necklace borrowed from the groom's aunt, Brenda Lawson of Gainesville.

Attending the bride were matron of honor Bonnie Schumacher, a friend, of Gainesville; and bridesmaids Terri Williams and Stephanie Williams, her sisters, of Saint Jo, and Ann Hamilton, her cousin of Gainesville.

They wore tea-length dresses in lovely shades of dusty rose and royal blue and carried flowers repeating the bride's chosen colors.

The best man was Curtis Henscheid of Muenster. Groomsmen were Ted Walterscheid of Muenster; Steve Eckart of Denton and Monte Reiter of Lewisville, all friends of the groom.

Ushers were Paul Pollard, bride's cousin, John Williams, bride's brother, Steven Hennigan and Keith Hennigan, groom's brothers.

Ruth Felderhoff and Christy Felderhoff provided traditional organ and vocal wedding music.

A wedding reception followed the church service and was held in the Sacred Heart Community Center. Attending the guest book was the groom's niece, Tammy Hennigan of Muenster, at a table decorated with the bride's bouquet.

Rohmer's Restaurant catered the dinner and Danny Wolf Disco provided music for dancing.

The tiered wedding cake was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. It was served by friends of the couple.

Granny's Flowers of Nocona decorated the cake table. The groom's mother designed a screen decoration on the wall behind the dinner table for the wedding party, using a blue background, pink fans, tall candelabra and pink and white flowers. She made floral arrangements for the gift table and dinner tables.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Saint Jo High School and is employed by Nocona Boot Company.

The groom is a 1983 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1985 graduate of TSTI in Waco, and is self-employed in Gainesville where the couple will live. He is owner of Ricky's Audio and Video.

Muenster centennial is nearing, prepare!

The Muenster City Council meeting on Monday, Aug. 3, at 7:30 p.m. will include on its agenda the issue of the Muenster Centennial and formation of a steering committee to plan for the observance.

Citizens of Muenster are urged to attend to indicate their interest in this milestone and to demonstrate that interest by being present to voice opinions and to offer help.

The date, marking Muenster's 100th birthday and entry into its second century, scarcely 18 months away, needs major emphasis. The City Council therefore has asked volunteers to come forward at this meeting to discuss the centennial and accept jobs.

Elsie Fuhrman hosts 2 guests from Germany

Mrs. Elsie Fuhrman is enjoying the visit of two guests from Germany. One is her cousin, Hildegard Koslowsky of Attendorf, Westphalia, West Germany and the other is Hildegard's granddaughter, Claudia Koslowsky, also of Attendorf. They arrived on July 17 and will be guests of relatives until Aug. 15.

Mrs. Koslowsky is a houseguest of her cousin and Claudia is Alvin and Gracie Fuhrman's houseguest. A number of events are arranged for their entertainment.

On July 19, a reunion of the Loerwald, Wiese and Flusche families was held in the Bud Warehouse Hospitality Room in Muenster, with more than 100 attending. This group traces its kinship through the four late Steinmetz sisters: Mrs. Augusta Flusche, mother of Elsie Fuhrman; Mrs. Philomena Haverkamp, grandmother of Hildegard Koslowsky; Mrs. Frank (Mary) Loerwald and Mrs. Paul (Anna) Wiese. Three are buried in St. Peter's Parish Cemetery in Lindsay.

A Kaffee-Klatch on Sunday afternoon, July 26, in Elsie Fuhrman's home was hosted by her daughters, Rosalie Bayer and Coralee Pulte. Guests were local friends, fluent in both German and English. These included Theresa Hesse, Dora Henscheid, Anna Henscheid, Katie Swirczynski, the honoree Mrs. Koslowsky and Claudia, and Mmes. Fuhrman, Bayer and Pulte.

Before coming to Muenster, the German ladies were guests of the Bill Fuhrman family in Fort Worth. They visited Six Flags and several theater events. With the Alvin Fuhrmans they attended TEXAS!, the Palo Duro Canyon spectacular presentation. They will also go to Lindsay and Austin to visit relatives and will return to Muenster prior to the Aug. 15 departure for Germany. They are being royally entertained in Texas, but admit to missing their much cooler climate "at home," which compares, they said, "to Iowa."

Three Koeslers visit kin

Sister Mary Lin Koesler of Floresville, Sister Corrine Koesler of San Antonio and Father Leo Koesler of Subiaco Abbey were recent guests of their brothers and sisters here, spending their week's vacation in Lindsay and Muenster.

Several family get-togethers honored them. One evening family members were together for a covered dish dinner in Muenster City Park. Another evening Lindsay and Muenster cousins met in the Lindsay Park for a picnic supper and a German sing-along. A special guest was H.S. Fuhrmann of Lindsay, the only surviving uncle.

Lindsay CYC set plans

The Lindsay CYC met on July 11, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On July 12, following the 10 a.m. Sunday Mass, the CYC went to Frontier Manor to visit residents and bring contributions for the Country Store. Members also planned the CYC Weekend for August and will announce the date. The meeting was adjourned at 8:20 p.m.

Koelzers win trophy

Victor and Marie Koelzer and a group of Wichita Falls friends drove their special antique prize car, a 1965 Studebaker Commander to Estes Park, Colorado recently.

They attended a National Studebaker Drivers Club Meet and won a second place trophy in the show.

Included in the enjoyable week were conducted tours, sightseeing and an awards banquet.

Babies

Sicking

Aaron, Dillon and Nathan Sicking proudly welcomed their new sister, Cassandra (Cassie) Ann upon her arrival Wednesday, July 15, 1987. Their parents are Mark and Mary Sicking of Muenster. Cassie was delivered by Dr. John Kozura at Flow Memorial Hospital at 8:48 a.m. She weighed 7 lb. 7 oz. and was 19 1/4 inches long. Grandparents are Paul and Bernice Sicking of Myra and Richard and Florence Grewing of Muenster. Hilda Reiter and Theresa Moster, both of Muenster, are great-grandmothers.

Landers

It's twins for James and Denise Landers of Saint Jo. Their son, Justin Lee, was born Tuesday, July 21, 1987 at 9:06 p.m. and weighed 6 lb. 11 oz. Their daughter, Whitney Marie, was born at 9:16 p.m. July 21, 1987, weighing 5 lb. 12 oz. in Flow Memorial Hospital of Denton. The twins join a sister, Amber, age 2. Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sicking of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. William Landers, Jr. of Forestburg. The great-grandfather is William Landers, Sr., also of Forestburg.

Reed

Rusty and Donna Reed of Gainesville became parents at the arrival of their first child, a daughter, Randi Leigh, on Wednesday, July 22, 1987. She was born at 6:41 a.m. in Gainesville Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lb. 1 1/2 oz. and measuring 20 inches in length. Randi Leigh's grandparents are Andy and Mary Ann Arendt of Lindsay, Jerrell Reed of Gainesville and Margaret Fleitman of Nocona. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Frances Reiter of Muenster and Elmo Reed of Montague. Mrs. Rusty Reed is the former Donna Arendt.

Nuptial Mass unites couple

Christy Felderhoff and Bert Hesse were married in a Nuptial Mass in Sacred Heart Church, in a candlelight setting enhanced with spiral candelabra and arrangements of white gladioli on the high altar, the Unity candle on the front altar, and amber vigil candles with ivy on the communion rail.

Father Victor Gillespie officiated the double ring ceremony and Mass on Saturday, July 25, at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Joe and Ruth Felderhoff and the granddaughter of Mrs. Tony Felderhoff of Muenster and Mrs. William Frazier of Orlando, Fla., and is a teacher in Sacred Heart School. She is a 1980 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1984 graduate of Midwestern State University.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Ethel Hesse and the late Leo Hesse and the grandson of Mrs. Gertrude Bayer. He is employed by Peterbilt of Denton. He is a 1979 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and attended Cooke County College.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal white satin wedding gown. Its design was accented with Schiffl embroidery and Venise lace. The fitted bodice was heavily beaded with bridal jewels. It featured a scooped neckline and window-pane ballroom sleeves which were appliqued with lace and bridal beads. From the basque waist the A-line skirt fell to slipper length in front and flowed gracefully into a chapel train.

Her chapel length illusion veil was decorated with pearls and iridescent sequins.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white camellias, tiny roses, aqua flowers and white pearls, entwined with a pearl rosary.

For sentiment, she wore her Grandmother Felderhoff's pearl necklace and borrowed her sister Anne's pearl rosary.

ATTENDANTS

The bride was attended by her three sisters, all of Muenster. Jenny Felderhoff was her maid of honor. Anne Felderhoff and Rose Felderhoff were her bridesmaids.

They wore identical tea length dresses of aqua moire taffeta designed with fitted bodices, sweetheart necklines, short puff sleeves and basque waistlines.

Each wore white lace gloves and an aqua floral headpiece. They carried miniature copies of the bridal bouquet.

Holly Hartman, the bride's cousin, was flower girl and Lee Golaz, the groom's nephew, was ring bearer.

Mark Hesse of Muenster was his brother's best man. Jesse Walterscheid of Muenster, a friend of the groom, and Mike Bayer of Krum, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen. Bobby Hartman, a cousin of the bride, Dale Schilling and Angleo Nasche, Jr., friends of the groom, and Ken Hesse, a cousin of the groom, were ushers.

Chris Pagel, Jordan and Jeremy Bayer, groom's cousins; and Chad Bayer were Mass servers.

Wedding music was presented by organist Anetta Earle of Gainesville and vocalists Sandi Carpenter of Gainesville and Wendell Black of Muenster. Special selections were offered while guests were being seated, when Sandi and Wendell sang "I Owe You" and "Surround Me With Love." The four Felderhoff sisters sang "Edelweiss" to honor their grandmothers. The bride sang the mothers' entry song, "You Are The Wind Beneath My Wings."

Bridesmaids, flower girl and ring bearer entered to "Pachelbel," and the wedding march was Clarke's "Trumpet Voluntary." During Mass, songs included "Beginning Today," "One Hand, One Heart," "Wedding Song," and "Hail Mary," which was written by the bride's mother and sung by the bride. The recessional was Mouret's "Rondo."

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center for 350 guests. Monica LeBrasseur and Laurie Walterscheid presided at the guest book, where the table was covered with an aqua cloth made by the bride, overlaid with a sheer lace cloth belonging to the bride's Grandmother Felderhoff.

The three-tier white wedding cake, decorated with soft pink roses, was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid. Layers were separated by pillars. A lighted aqua fountain, candles and flowers adorned the base. The groom's cake was made by Marge Devers of Valley View, sister of the groom.

Cake servers were Amy Walterscheid and Kristine Hartman of Muenster, Celia Felderhoff of Lewisville, Charlene Golaz of Paradise and Barbara Devers of Valley View.

The dinner table for the bridal party was decorated with silver candelabra and bouquets of aqua and white flowers, hurricane globes with lighted candles on Grandmother Felderhoff's lace tablecloth.

Guest tables held white wooden hearts made by Chris Pagel, aqua flowers with satin ribbons alternating pink and aqua.

Guests danced to music by Johnny Reed.

The rehearsal dinner for 33 guests was hosted by the groom at The Center.

A surprise shower was given in June by the bride's fellow teachers in the Sacred Heart High Home Ec room. The groom's mother and sisters hosted an around-the-clock shower at the future home of the couple on June 28. Many relatives attended. The bride's sisters hosted a personal shower for the bride on July 18 in the home of Mrs. Tony Felderhoff.

The couple is at home in Muenster since returning from a trip to Florida and cruise to the Bahamas. In Florida they visited her maternal grandmother, Mrs. William Frazier.

Dudenhoeffer relatives hold reunion July 11

Descendants of the 11 children born to Franz and Dora Dudenhoeffer held their first family reunion at St. Peter's Parish Hall in Lindsay on July 11, 1987.

Franz Dudenhoeffer, his wife and one son came to Texas in 1877. The Dudenhoeffer, Castor and Pulite families welcomed the first settlers to the area, which became Lindsay in 1891.

The reunion on July 11 was a happy occasion, highlighted by the presence of Dan Dudenhoeffer Jr. and his son, Gunnar of Alberta, Canada. Dan's father left Texas in 1912 and never returned.

The noon meal on Sunday was catered by Louise Schad and Mary Hundt of Lindsay. Following the dinner, each family was introduced and Henry Luebbert of Fort Worth gave a brief commentary, recalling memories of his pioneer grandparents. He invited others in the family to speak, including Dora Maloney of Grandfield, Oklahoma.

Gifts were presented to the oldest, youngest and those who traveled the greatest distance to attend the reunion.

There were many visits to the beautifully refurbished St. Peter's Catholic Church and the parish cemetery, where the Franz Dudenhoeffers, their son William and daughter Anna Luebbert are buried.

Those attending the reunion were the Bud Dudenhoeffers; the Mike Dudenhoeffers; the Melvin Ottos and Alfred Dudenhoeffer, all of Gainesville.

Diane Dudenhoeffer Smith and daughter of Fort Worth; the Daniel Dudenhoeffers and children of Lindsay; the Isadore Bauers; the Jerry Bauers; Mrs. Carl Bauer; Ann Bauer and children, all of La Feria; the Jim Garzas and children of Houston; the Dan Dowdys of Austin; the Justin Dowdys of Carthage; the Mike Hilschers and children of Weimar.

The Mike Hudson family of San Marcos; the Michael Browns of Denton; the Ronnie Ramseys of Decatur; the Henry Luebberts; the Don Christians; Heather, Chris, Jon and Judge Christian and the Trey Mosiers, all of Fort Worth.

The Paul Dudenhoeffers of Amarillo; the Joe Dudenhoeffer family of Lampasas; the Harold Dudenhoeffers of Archer City.

Bessie Mundkowsky and Mike Maloney of Wichita Falls; the Ernest Mundkowskis; Thelma Dudenhoeffer; Dora Maloney and son Jack; Philip Dudenhoeffer; Derek Davidson; Aimee Watson and the Joe Mundkowskis, all of Grandfield, Okla.

The Lee Allen Smiths and daughters; and Kay Lewis and Juanita Goddard, all of Oklahoma City; David Dudenhoeffer of El Reno, Okla.; the Arthur Dudenhoeffers of Las Cruces, N.M.; the Jack Woods of Devol, Okla.; and Daniel Dudenhoeffer, Jr. and Gunnar Dudenhoeffer, both of Alberta, Canada.

JOE APPEL of Houston was a guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Appel, recently. He spent time visiting relatives, and fishing, swimming and enjoying smalltown freedom. He is proudly showing this 6 1/2 lb. catfish, one of several large ones he caught in Weinzapfel Lake. Photo courtesy Lillian Appel

Jamie Walterscheid attends seminar

Making a TV commercial for Whirlpool refrigerators and touring displays of appliances that were on space missions were only a few of the activities that Jamie Walterscheid participated in at the Sons/Daughters of Whirlpool Dealers Seminar July 13-17. Jamie was one of 26 students from around the U.S. who attended the event held in Benton Harbor, Michigan, Whirlpool's head-quartercity. The students were lectured by company experts on such subjects as advertising, sales technique, management and knowledge of products. They were also allowed to visit the Whirlpool Research Center.

Jamie is the daughter of James and Theresa Walterscheid, and she is a senior at Muenster High School.

Women and men compete at N.T. Fair

The North Texas State Fair in Denton will be held Aug. 21-29. The Women and Men's Department divisions are open to anyone living in Texas and all items entered must be made within the last year.

There are seven divisions: Needlework, Clothing, Arts and Crafts, Home Canned Food, Antiques, Junior Individual Entries, and 4-H, FHA and HERO Exhibits. No entry fees or entry blanks are required. In each division that are several classifications, so contact the Fair office at 817-387-2632 for more information.

All entries must be checked in between 1 and 6 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 20, the afternoon before the opening day of the Fair. Judging will be done on Friday, Aug. 21. All entries must be checked out between 9 and 10 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Musical in Mountain Springs will be great summer treat

The Mountain Springs Community Center will present its fourth annual summer musical, "Put On Your Travelin' Shoes," Friday and Saturday, July 31 and Aug. 1, and Aug. 7 and 8.

Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. each evening at the Mountain Springs Community Center at the intersection of FM 922 and FM 372 (Burns City Road).

Over 50 performers from the surrounding areas will present a variety of musical selections, dances and skits. Sue Viktor is director of the musical and Ray Dane is pianist.

Proceeds from the ticket sales go toward upkeep and improvement of the community center.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children. Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling Brenda Sparkman, 637-2463, or Sandy Yanez, 637-2511, of Valley View, Evelyn Sicking, 759-4388 in Muenster, or Virginia Proffer in Myra, 736-2341.

Thanks to all who helped to make the Red Cross Swim Program a success this year.

Juanita Knabe presents cancer support program

Juanita Knabe presented a program on "I Can Cope," a support program for cancer patients and their families, on Sunday, July 12, when she spoke to members of St. Anne's Societies and St. Joseph's Societies at 7 p.m. in the Community Center meeting room.

Mrs. Knabe played a tape that dealt with cancer treatments, side effects, nutrition, activity, stress and emotions. In her own comments she told of her interest in forming a support group for area cancer patients and their families. She welcomed anyone interested to her home for these therapy sessions. She told about completing six weekly meetings in Lewisville on the program and then she displayed books and literature.

Following her presentation, members of the two societies held separate business meetings. Della Walterscheid, president, called the women's meeting to order and conducted regular business.

Marie Henschel read the treasurer's report and read the inspiration "Finding God." She reported "get-well" cards sent to Philomena Vogel, Theresa Moster, Caroline Schilling and Julia Cunningham.

In the absence of Tillie Otto, leader of the society's rosary makers, Mrs. Walterscheid read her report. It included 275 rosaries sent to missions in Mexico; 110 to the Prison Rosary Gang in Stillwater, Minnesota; 120 to the Central Bureau in St. Louis and tagged for Nicaragua and 110 to Cambodian missionaries. Total number of rosaries made and distributed to date is 7,275.

Also shipped were four packages of literature and prayer cards to Catholic prison chaplains for distribution to inmates.

Letters of thanks were read from the chaplains at the Texas Department of Corrections; Tennessee Valley, Tex., the Cambodian Mission Center in Cincinnati and the Prison Rosary Gang for this ministry.

Excerpts read from the Newsletter from the Catholic State League Women's Union listed a total number of prayers, Masses, Communions, rosaries, Ways of the Cross and other devotions, number several thousands. This list made up a spiritual bouquet in which local membership participated, for Pope John Paul II as a gift from the league's affiliates on the occasion of the Holy Father's visit to Texas in September.

Members discussed the state convention of the Catholic State League at Sandia July 18-19 and made plans to attend. Mention was made of the need for small items for the flea market there. Ida Mae Herr volunteered her home as a collection area.

In other business, members discussed the Saragosa Stroll and Supper sponsored by the J.A.M. youth group and voted a $50 donation from treasury funds for the cause.

Ida Mae Bindel told of being a participant in the Bowlathon in Gainesville on July 25 for muscular dystrophy and accepted pledges from members.

Announcement was made of having no meeting in August and of setting the next meeting for Sept. 6 when the annual supper honoring local Benedictine Sisters and the pastors will be held.

Marie Walterscheid won the door prize and St. Anne's and St. Joseph's Societies rejoiced for a social hour and refreshments.

News of the Sick

Stuart Hess is recuperating this week from an injury he received on Monday while playing basketball. Stuart had come down on his left foot while his ankle was twisted, resulting in a chipped bone, torn ligament and a joint almost knocked out of socket. The MHS Senior Tackle hopes that his knee-length cast is removed before football two-a-days begin on Aug. 10.

Henry Pautler was transferred from the Veterans Hospital in Dallas, where he was a patient from June 14 to July 22, to Chapel U.S. Care Nursing Home, 1518 S. Sam Rayburn Freeway, Sherman, Texas 75090, according to information from his sister, Mrs. Agnes Owen.

Saturday at 6 p.m....

Appreciation party!

The hard work of volunteers at Germanfest didn't go unnoticed by the Muenster Jaycees. The organization now wants to recognize and reward these workers with a party of their own.

The annual Germanfest Appreciation Party will be held on Saturday, Aug. 1, at 6 p.m. in the VFW Hall in Muenster. There will be a dinner, followed by a dance by Mike Otts Disco. Everyone who helped out at Germanfest is encouraged to come.

Trust Fund committee plan upcoming dinner

Sacred Heart Trust Fund committee met Wednesday evening, July 22, 1987 at Sacred Heart Rectory. Members present were Fr. Denis Soerries, Ray Voth and Don Hess. Attorney Chuck Bartush, Jr. presented information to be used for the upcoming fundraising dinner and information meeting. Date for dinner was set for Sunday, Aug. 15, 1987 at 6 p.m. at Sacred Heart Community Center with Mr. Bob Allen, Diocesan Development Officer as guest speaker.

Past Trust Fund Dinner speakers were Bishop John Cassata of the Diocese of Fort Worth, and Abbot Raphael DeSalvo of the Benedictine Monastery in Subiaco, Arkansas.

Homemakers Club has embroidery demonstration

Muenster Extension Homemakers were hosted by Elizabeth Koesler in her home for the club's July 8 meeting.

An inspirational, "The World Needs You," was read by Mrs. Koesler, and a second inspirational, "Do Not Complain About Old Age," was given by co-hostess Ann Herr.

Jacki Bilderback, president, opened the business meeting, and also presented a program on "Embroidery Stitch Variations." She showed her beautiful work done on a dress and a T-shirt.

Members discussed their preferences of programs for the coming year's yearbook. Florence Williams, a former member, was welcomed back to active membership.

The hostesses, with the help of Mrs. Koesler's granddaughters Melissa and Denise Bayer, served angel food cake and homemade ice cream to 18 members. Dorothy Yosten will host the August meeting.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary have busy agenda

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW gathered for their monthly meeting on July 20.

A report on the State Convention began the business, and those present viewed a display of certificates of merit. These certificates were earned during the past year by members of the organization for program participation. Frances Bayer, president, had brought the awards from Dallas where she had attended sessions of the State Convention.

In other action at the meeting, members voted contributions from the treasury funds for the VFW Medical Center and the Gainesville Bowl-A-Thon for Muscular Dystrophy. One local member of the organization bowled in the event.

A Love Gift for a local hospitalized veteran was also decided upon.

Ida Mae Bindel then served refreshments to 17 members, and a door prize was won by Frances Bayer.

Prior to the business conducted, at this meeting, Juanita Knabe had presented an informative program to the group on cancer. The tape she played dealt with normal and cancerous cells, uncontrolled cell growth, the body's defense system, self-examination and prompt treatment.

BUY A NEW HEATING AND COOLING SYSTEM AT OUR EXPENSE.

It's not often a company encourages you to use less of its product.

But if you buy Energy Action-approved heating and cooling equipment, you'll get more than encouragement.

Because we'll pay you a cash rebate based on the efficiency rating of the unit you buy.

You see, high efficiency, Energy Action-approved central and room air conditioning systems, heat pumps and assist devices for electric water heaters help reduce the demand on our generating systems. And the need to build new generating plants.

Which not only means we save money, but you'll save, too, with lower monthly electric bills.

To find out more about the rebates and the savings, contact a recognized Energy Action contractor/dealer. Or call us for more information.

Energy Action saves money. And that's the best deal for both of us.

The graduating classes of 1977 of Muenster High School and Sacred Heart High School hosted their 10-year class reunion Saturday, July 11, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Muenster.

The reunion's red and white theme was carried out in the decorating of the hall. A First Communion Dress and Jacket; first grade uniforms; and cheerleading, drill team, band and football uniforms were on display. Annuals and a cut-out collage were also exhibited. A special display was set up and included trophies, ribbons, pictures, signs and scrapbooks recognizing the Hornets' outstanding year in football.

The evening began for the classmates and their spouses with a social hour from six until seven o'clock. Each classmate and honored guest was given a gift book which included pictures, addresses and job locations of the 65 graduates.

The program started with an invocation given by George Luke. A catered dinner, prepared by Rohmer's Restaurant and served by classmate Troy Sicking and Dina, followed.

Chuck Koessler and Judy (Fisher) Newell proceeded with the program by recognizing the teachers who were honored guests.

Pat (Davidson) Gilliland then sang "Morning Has Broken." She was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Felderhoff, an honored guest.

A humorous summation of each of the classmates was given at this time by Steve Henscheid and Jim Koelzer.

Trophies made by Dianne Walterscheid were awarded to classmates in several categories: Most Changed - Julie (Bayer) Rogers and Chris Schilling (SHHS), Calvin Otto and Dr. Susan Moster (MHS); Least Changed - Ramona (Walterscheid) Felderhoff and Steve Henscheid (SHHS), Pat (Davidson) Gilliland and Glenn Hess (MHS); Traveled the Farthest Distance - Craig Sangster from Pleasanton, CA (SHHS), Becky (Douglas) Rappeleye from Port Orchard, WA (MHS); Most Children - Billy Felderhoff, Brenda (Barnhill) Walterscheid.

Each classmate had been asked earlier to record their most memorable event of high school, and these remembrances were read at this time by Mrs. Newell and Mr. Koessler.

Ben Bindel then presented flowers to chairpersons Doris (Clark) Koessler and Mary (Hoedebeck) Hess. Pictures of each of the classes followed the program.

An enlarged First Communion portrait was given away in a drawing won by Mary Hess.

Glenn Block of Lindsay was Disc Jockey for the dance after the program. A surprise showing of the MHS-Holiday football game was shown during the dance.

4-H Club member does well

Eight award winning teenagers in the 18-county District 4 Fashion Show held July 13 will advance to Statewide competition in August.

Donna Lutkenhaus, from the Lindsay Senior 4-H Club, was one of the winners who will participate in the State Fashion Show. Donna entered in the Buying Division of the Fashion Show in the Evening Dress Category. Placing second and serving as alternate to the State Fashion Show in the Non Tailored Division was Kristen McKown of the Valley View 4-H Club. Both Donna and Kristen received blue ribbons for their award winning entries.

One hundred forty-four 4-H club members from over the 18 counties competed at the district level including seven other representatives from Cooke County. These 4-H'ers and their ribbons were:

More than 11,000 Texas youth participated in 4-H clothing projects to learn about the apparel and textile industries and develop consumer buying and sewing skills. Contest entrants are judged on the skills they learned and the overall appearance of their clothing creations. They select and coordinate fabric, patterns and accessories as they interpret today's fashions.

Donna will be traveling to the State Fashion Show in Amarillo along with the seven other district winners on Aug. 17-18.

Muenster Girl Scouts attend summer camp

Muenster Girl Scouts are enjoying a week of summer camp at Camp Gambill near Paris, Texas this week.

The girls are taking part in songs and games, learning outdoor and camping skills and participating in water activities such as swimming, canoeing and sailing. They will also have cookouts, hikes and campfires.

Each girl may take part in activities which will count toward the completion of her badge work.

Attending the camp are Karrie Endres, Vanessa Felderhoff, Misty Knabe, Julie Walterscheid and Rae Ann Walterscheid.

aren't the church of the Future ... we're the church Now."

More workshops were then attended, and following the workshops the students were treated to a concert and dance by Christian rock artist Tom Franzak. Tom tours the country praising God and spreading the Good News through his music. Rock group ON-N-ON also played for the dance.

Following a bountiful snack, served by Lucille Hess and crew, the youth danced more and played "New Games."

Sunday's sessions began with Morning Worship followed by a delicious brunch of homemade cinnamon rolls, sausages and fresh fruits.

A presentation entitled "Give Me Wings" was given for Sunday's general session by Wayne Romo. He said, "God gives us wings to fly to be the person we can be" and that "Together we can fly; together we can love."

Following Wayne was the closing liturgy celebrated by Rev. Denis Soerries, and each parish had a representative participating. Homily was given by Wayne, who told the group that "The reign of God at present is here in the over 500 people gathered at 'Celebrate

'87.'" He challenged the group, "Can you continue the reign of God?"

The video "Spirit In The Sky," made by St. John the Apostle youth group and shown after the Mass, delighted the students. Also, a slide show made during the weekend was viewed before everyone bid goodbye to new and old friends and departed for home.

Sacred Heart Parish representatives were Denise Anderle, Curt Bayer, Kim Bayer, Troy Berres, Deanna Bierschenk, Michael Bierschenk, Donnie Boydston, Alethea Brawner, Jerry Brawner, Dana Dankesreiter, Eric Dankesreiter, Angela Endres, Murlin Evans, Janie and Laurie Fisher, Janel Flusche, Donna Jennifer and Richard Fuhrmann, Jason Gehrig, LaBeccah Hess, Lisa Hamric, Jeff Hellman, James Hennigan, Tracey Henscheid, Kim Hess, Stuart Hess, Renee Klement, David Rohmer, Tina Schilling, Russell Simmons, Rhonda Stewart, Glen Swirczynski, Dyann Vogel, Scott Vogel, Michele and Michael Walter, Amy, Donna, Ricky, Rita, Ronnie, Jason and Jeff Walterscheid, Joe Weinzapfel, Dana, Jenny and Shayne Wimmer, Kerri Yosten and sponsors Greg Luke, Ben Luke, Don Hellman, Barbara Fuhrmann, John Walterscheid, Kaye Wimmer, Paulette Swirczynski, Anne Poole and Linda Knabe.

Women attend Dallas seminar

Jan Cain of Muenster, an independent Sales Director for Mary Kay Cosmetics, has just returned home from three days of intensive sales and product training in Dallas as a participant in Mary Kay's 1987 National Seminar.

More than 25,000 independent beauty consultants and sales directors flocked to Dallas between July 16 and July 29 to attend one of four consecutive three-day meetings. In keeping with the company's commitment to recognize outstanding business women, this year's multi-million dollar seminar was appropriately entitled "Success Express!"

To enable Jan, who joined Mary Kay in October 1972, to build her Mary Kay business in the months ahead, dozens of specialized classes were held each day in product knowledge, Color Awareness, sales training, business management, goal setting and other valuable tools for business success.

Besides intensive training, company founder and Chairman of the Board Mary Kay Ash also uses the annual meeting to personally reward and recognize the outstanding achievers of the past year.

Cain Celebrities Unit Members attending with Jan were: Brenda Richey of Muenster, Beauty Consultant, who began in December 1984; Awards - No. 6 in Retail Sales, No. 8 in Wholesale Orders.

Terrye Felderhoff of Denton, Beauty Consultant, who began in January 1987; Awards - No. 9

YTD Average, No. 5 in Retail Sales, and No. 9 in Wholesale Orders.

Robin Braden of Gainesville, Beauty Consultant, who began in April 1986; Awards - Runner-up in Recruiting, No. 4 in Retail Sales, and No. 7 in Wholesale Orders.

Brenda Cherry of Van, Beauty Consultant, who began in April 1982; Awards - No. 7 YTD Average, No. 1 in Retail Sales and No. 3 in Wholesale Orders.

Jan achieved Queens Directors Court of Sales in her Sapphire Area. The Cain Celebrities Unit was honored with No. 3 in Recruiting and No. 4 in the future LaQueta McCollum Area.

Mary Kay Cosmetics, Inc. is an international manufacturer and distributor of premium skin, hair and body care products, cosmetics, toiletries and fragrances.

Luke family reunion held

The Ben Luke family reunion was held in Arlington this year, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Luke and family.

Brothers, sisters, nieces, nephews and cousins gathered about noon in the home. Dinner was served in mid-afternoon.

Together for the day were Father Eugene Luke of Subiaco; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Luke, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Luke, Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Luke, Mrs. R.N. Fette, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hartman and children, all of Muenster; Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Luke and Stuart Luke of Irving; Dr. and Mrs. Gene Luke of Holbrook, Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Al Kuhn of Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luke and children of Keller; Mr. and Mrs.

Fray Webster and children of Hurst; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Powell of Arlington; Mary Luke of Bedford and Doug King of Terrell, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Luke and son of Grapevine; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Luke of Farmers Branch; Peggy Luke and Katie Luke, and the hosts, Harold and Pat Luke, all of Arlington. Bob and Dorothy Mae Henderson of San Antonio were prevented from attending by illness.

Father Eugene had a weekend guest of the Tony Lukes; and Gene and Edie Luke were weekend guests of Mrs. R.N. Fette.

Returning to Muenster, family members were guests of Tony and Leona Luke for an evening of visiting and a midnight snack.

Kiwanis extend Swim Night

The Muenster Kiwanis have again extended their Family Swim Night Program. Anyone may swim for free on Friday nights through August from 7 until 10 p.m. As a feature of this Friday's swim night, there will be a father/son water volleyball game. The game will start at 8:30 p.m. and the shallow end of the city pool will be closed at that time to accommodate. Everyone is welcome to play or watch. The diving end will remain open to swimmers.

Also, at their regular Wednesday luncheon meeting at The Center, the Kiwanis also heard a program presented by Barbara Fellows Nix of the Texoma Contract Procurement Center (CPC). Members learned how they can go after extra sales in the world's largest market: government procurement, with one-on-one help from the CPC.

MEN'S SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT

A slow-pitch softball tournament for men, sponsored by the Muenster Jaycees and the beer distributors, will be held in Muenster this weekend. According to coordinator Nick Walterscheid, the action will possibly begin on Thursday, July 30, depending upon the number of teams entered. The tournament will continue on Friday and finish late on Saturday.

So far, about 12 teams representing Denton, Gainesville and Muenster are entered.

Proceeds from the $110 entry fee will go to benefit Cystic Fibrosis research. Trophies and T-shirts will be awarded to winning teams.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Wild second and third innings doomed the All-Stars at the final Little League game played on July 20.

During these two innings, the season champion Budweiser team chalked up eight points while preventing the All-Stars from scoring. The final outcome, after 5½ innings, was 9-4 in favor of Bud.

Highlights of the game included a homerun by All-Star Harvey Hubbard and Bud player Brian Rohmer's homerun resulting from defensive errors. Bud's Kody Trubenbach pitched for a 6 hit, 11 strikeout performance in the game.

Members of Bud's team are Darren Bindel, Cory Cain, Maurus Hacker, Jr., Michael Hacker, Toby Hess, Cody Klement, Eddie Lamkin, Charlie Luttmner, C.J. Muller, Jerry Reed, Brian Rohmer, Chris Pagel, Kody Trubenbach and Jeff Walterscheid. They were coached by Don Hess.

Players from the other two Little League teams, Bayers and Rangers, made up the All-Stars. They were Aaron Berres, Neil Berres, Jeff Flusche, Scott Frost, Jamie Hellman, Jason Hess, Brandon Walterscheid, Michael Gehrig, Harvey Hubbard, Jason Hubbard, Jason Huchton, A.J. Knabe, Brian Knabe, Cory Knabe and Trent Trubenbach. Chas Bayer and Tom Flusche were coaches.

TEE-BALL

Concentration and effort showed on the sweat- and dirt-streaked faces of young athletes playing in the T-Ball All-Star game on July 21.

The Tom Cats, coming from a winning season, put forth a gallant effort against the All-Star team but couldn't quite get past their contenders. Although it's certain that the All-Stars won, there is a small dispute over the final score of the game - either 16-13 or 14-13.

The score controversy didn't bother the players, however. The dust from the game had barely begun to settle before they marched across the street together to purchase Sno-Cones.

Tom Cats are Adam Barnhill, Shauna Endres, James Felderhoff, Brandon Grewing, Chrisyon Harris, Jessie Ray Harris, Aaron Hess, LeAnn Klement, Jacob Luke, Jesse Luke, Amanda Mollenkopf, Jonathan Otto, Erik Walterscheid, Jeremy Walterscheid, and Jeffrey Wilde. The team was coached by Billy and Sandi Harris and Barbie Walterscheid.

All-Star players were Cory Anderle, Becky Fette, Greg Flusche, Matthew Fuhrmann, Billy Hellman, Scott Hermes, Crystal Klement, Royce Knabe, Angela Matthews, Jeremy Matthews, Eric Miller, Cory Russell, Jennifer Sicking, Shane Sparkman, Kimberly Sturm and Paul Swirczynski.

Unforgettable trip for local speedster

Only a short while before Molly Koelzer shaved yet another second off her best 400m time, she and five other representatives of the United States stood in the spotlight before a packed, cheering stadium at the Sports Center in Sittard, Holland. In their dazzling blue and white uniforms, these six Americans were major participants in the Opening Ceremonies of the Jr. Olympic Jamboree held July 18.

Sponsored by International Sports Exchange, the competition involves track and field athletes from Holland, Belgium and the U.S. Muenster's young speed-star, Molly, earned the invitation to attend this meet because of her impressive collection of personal times. Not to worry though: Molly's overseas performance made both her town and her country proud.

The memorable trip began for Molly on Wednesday, July 15, with a rather negative note - this was her first experience with flying, and many delays made her flight even longer. But, the group finally made it to their dorm at Sittard's Sport Center.

One of Molly's favorite remembrances of the trip were all of the new acquaintances she made. There were 177 American teenagers on the tour, and Molly acknowledged that "that's too many people to meet." She did become good friends with her roommate, Jill, from Emory, Texas, against whom she ran in the 800m.

MOLLY KOELZER

"We were all a team," Molly said in reference to the U.S. group. "We supported one another."

The next day, a practice meet was held at the track among the U.S. competitors only. Molly explained that only three runners from each country could race in each event, and there were too many American runners there. "We had to have a track meet to see who got to race," she told.

Molly concedes, "I was scared, and tired too, from the trip." Nevertheless, she placed first in her heat of the 400m and was second in her 800m heat.

"Rubbery, all-weather," were words Molly used to describe Sittard's track. She admitted not liking the track's giant clock that displayed the time during each race.

On Friday, the day before the big event, the athletes relaxed with sightseeing and shopping in Brussels, Belgium before a track workout back in Sittard. Molly commented that this workout was "not hard, just strides and jogging."

The pouring rain of a booming thunderstorm filled the skies early Saturday morning. However, the rain stopped just before the meet was scheduled to begin, leaving a windy, humid day.

Opening ceremonies held on a platform in the center of the stadium began the meet. Six representatives from each of the countries exchanged flags and handshakes during the ceremony. Molly was picked by the U.S. coaches to be one of the six Americans participating.

Molly mentioned that coaches couldn't go into the infield during the meet. "They figured that if we didn't know by then what to do they couldn't help us much," she laughed.

Besides stretching, Molly added that before she raced, she did some heavy thinking. "I kept thinking how hard I worked and I didn't want to mess it up."

Her first race, the 400m, was the third event on the schedule. Nine girls ran, and Molly placed first from the U.S. with her best time ever, 58.3.

Molly was "more worried about the 800m" which came at about the middle of the meet. Her time of 2:27 was good enough, though, to place her third among U.S. competitors and ninth overall. Her best record in the 800m, scored this summer, is 2:23.6.

She was also privileged to race as anchor leg on the U.S. mile relay team which won third. But, she never found out what her split was on this last event.

"It was an honor to run with all of those people because they're so talented," Molly remarked. "The people we were running against from Holland will probably go to the Olympics for them."

A recognition banquet was held for the Jr. Olympians two days later during which "we dressed up and had good food." The Americans also went to a "disco" that evening.

Molly and her group didn't return to the U.S. until Friday, July 24. During the rest of their overseas stay, they toured many attractions in Holland, Belgium and West Germany from castles and cathedrals to caves and a "Dutch Disneyland." They rode boats on the Rhine and through canals and visited a diamond factory and a cheese farm, among other sights. Molly observed that "everything was beautiful and the people were nice."

She noted that the foreign food was about the same as food in America. However, she didn't like the sausage she ate in Germany.

What's next for the trackster? Molly plans to still run and keep in shape but not do workouts. She returned to Muenster thankful for her marvelous experience and "ready to do it all again."

"She just did tremendous," Coach Ronnie Hess said in congratulations. "She went over there unsure and found out that she could run with the best of them."

Muenster's newest golf pro??

Judy Flusche surprised everyone, including herself, when she golfed in Nocona recently. Only her third attempt ever at golfing, Judy hit an Eagle on the second hole.

According to her husband, Tom, she used a 5-iron and shot the ball 125 yards from the green. "It rolled right in," Tom laughed.

Other witnesses of Judy's sharp shot were golfing partners Willie and Margie Wimmer and Larry and Peggy Gobble.

Golf tourney set for Aug. 2

The Muenster Golf Association will have their regular monthly tournament on Sunday, Aug. 2, at Nocona Municipal Golf Course. Tee-off is 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Carol Jakse and children of Montague visited the Hansons Wednesday.

Evelyn Brown has busy week

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Florida of Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Rosie Belknap of Decatur stopped by for a visit with Mrs. Evelyn Brown Wednesday, July 15.

Saturday, the 18th, Mrs. Brown drove over to Forestburg and then on to Muenster and had four stops to make.

The Exxon station was first. Got the car filled with gas and no checkbook. She told the station attendant she would be right back. So she went home, got a checkbook and paid for the gas. Then on to the drug store, grocery store and the lumber yard, but it had been closed about 30 minutes. By then she was too flustered to make Sam Bass Day and attend Kathleen Livingston's birthday party.

So she went to Alvord to her son, Larry Brown's family. His wife Joyce and daughter Carol and Mrs. Brown went to Wichita Falls to attend the wedding of her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Teakell's grandson, Chris Harris of Walters, Okla. The wedding was in the First Baptist Church at 7 p.m. with the reception across the street.

Early Sunday morning, July 19, she left Alvord for home and when she drove up to her driveway there was a huge limb from an old hackberry tree on the ground to greet her. She went on to church. Monday and Tuesday she was busy sawing off limbs and dragging them away.

Wednesday, Jerry Kindiger and Butch Brown stopped by and did what she couldn't do with a hand saw. The Lord blessed them!

Leo, her dog, and she killed a copperhead snake Wednesday. In the wee hours of the morning Thursday, Leo and Evelyn killed their first skunk.

Richardsons attend reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Richardson and Chari attended the Fortenberry reunion at the City Hall in Decatur Sunday.

Rhoda Elam celebrates 99th

Mrs. Norma White returned Sunday from Roswell, N.M. where she visited her aunt, Rhoda Elam, and helped her celebrate her 99th birthday. Aunt Rhoda's birthday is Tuesday, July 28. Norma accompanied some other relatives as they left Friday.

Fire Dept. responds quickly

While George Morby was burning trash Sunday afternoon, the fire accidentally got out of control and set other grass afire. So the Rosston Volunteer Fire Dept. was called and Fire Chief Eddie Rainey and his staff quickly responded and got the fire under control without much damage.

Morbys have guests

Mr. and Mrs. George Morby had as their guests during the weekend his sister and husband, Eleanor and Harry Roberson of North Fort Worth, and Bill Hill.

W.C. English to be honored on birthday

W.C. ENGLISH

W.C. English will be honored on Sunday, Aug. 2, with a party at the Holiday Inn in Gainesville, in the Santa Fe Room, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. in observance of his 90th birthday. Hosting the event will be his daughters, Mrs. Ann Knight of Era and Mrs. Kay Aldridge of Duncanville, and his son, W.B. English of Rosston.

W.C. (Petie) English was born Aug. 6, 1897 on the English Ranch about a mile west of the Bailey English home place on Williams Creek. The son of Bailey and Eppie Berry English, he was the great-grandson of the Bailey English and the Bailey Anderson who came to Texas area in 1817.

He has lived in Cooke County all of his 90 years except for two years in Archer County and two years in Young County. He holds a longtime record of having helped to drive cattle to Muenster to load on the train for shipment to Kansas City.

In about 1914, they shipped 1260 steers, which was a full train load. Loading them took all day and all night. Some of the men helping with that particular project were Russ Linn, Pete Linn and Boog Grant.

W.C. English enjoyed "rodeoing" and was an expert calf roper. His other great interest was baseball. He has been a dedicated farmer and rancher. He was married to Myrtle Meyer on Feb. 20, 1918. She died in May of 1978. Included in his family are six grandchildren, who will be in attendance at the birthday party.

RUTH SMITH draws another winner during Rosston's Sam Bass celebration.

Sam Bass Day is nostalgic feast

by Pat Bell

There was a cool breeze blowing Saturday, July 18, 1987 as we sat under the old oak trees in Rosston, Texas. With every passing of the stagecoach, we felt the presence of the "Spirit" of Sam Bass. We listened to the country music and remembered how he had come to Rosston to the Saturday night dances many years ago.

The Rosston Volunteer Fire Department appreciates all the performers who donated their time and talent in providing entertainment for Sam Bass Day visitors. We were especially proud to have the help of a young man by the name of Brian Sutton, son of Ross and Brenda Sutton of Arlington. He played the drums for about eight hours without stopping and the visitors really enjoyed him. Others who helped and were very much appreciated were: Kenneth Ford, J.C. Maughan, Pat Patrick, Larry Eldridge, Gean and Yvonne Scott, Roy Wilson, Ernest Muller, G.A. Maughan, Jerry Smith, Lynn Wadley, Mike Hogan, Mary Francis, Holland Mohon, Lester Ots, Anthony Wilson, Mark Hayes, Pat Bell and others, as well as Doug Martin, who played for the dance.

We had the Fiddler's Contest at 2 p.m. There were three divisions for competition and trophies were awarded. The judges were Roy Wilson, Brian Sutton and Jerry Smith. Winners were as follows:

First Division - 1st place, Red Jones; 2nd place, Pete Phelps.

Second Division - 1st place, Ernest Muller; 2nd place, Gean Scott.

Third Division - 1st place, James Shannon; 2nd place, Tommy Reed.

Hearing Loss Is Not A Sign Of Old Age.

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 78018, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Friends and Relatives of W.C. (Petie) English of Rosston are invited to a 90th Birthday Celebration! on Sunday, August 2, 1987, 2 p.m.-4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Gainesville, TX in the Santa Fe Room. No Gifts, Please

Begin Preparations for First Masses at Lindsay And Muenster Next May

Plans are already under way for the solemnization of first Masses at Muenster and Lindsay next May following the ordination of Fraters Alfred Hoenic, Sylvester Schad, and Herman Laux. All three are now entering their last year of study at Subiaco Abbey in Arkansas.

It has been revealed that clusters of grapes and sheaves of wheat have already been parafined by sisters of the local convent for preservation until next May, when they will be borne in procession as symbols of powers received by the newly ordained men. The grain and fruit are symbols of bread and wine which are changed into the sacred Body and Blood at Mass.

Early this week some of the swimming pool enthusiasts were out scouting around for materials and ideas to be used in Muenster's contemplated pool. No progress, pro or con, has been revealed as a result of their efforts.

One of the outstanding improvements anticipated since the visit of Mr. Surratt is a park on the slope west of the business district. The task consists chiefly in plowing the entire strip, then planting Bermuda grass, trees, and shrubs. By placing a swimming pool at the north end of the park the drainage could be used to water the entire park.

Herman Martin Slowly Recovers from Effects Of Rattlesnake Bite

According to reports received Wednesday, Herman Martin of the Hays community is making slow progress in recovery from effects of a rattlesnake bite received early Saturday morning. Dr. T. B. Myrick stated that his arm is badly swollen but he apparently has passed the critical stage.

While engaged on fence repair work Herman was surprised by the reptile which succeeded in sinking one fang in his right arm above the wrist. He hurried home to be rushed to the Muenster Clinic where Dr. Myrick gave first aid treatments.

An anti-venom serum was administered as soon as it arrived Sunday morning.

Fred Herr was lucky to escape without serious injury a few days ago when a young horse he was breaking decided to show a will of his own. Fred gave up to nurse a wound after the horse had pawed a glancing blow that laid open a triangular patch of skin on his forehead.

Anthony Luke is the new bookkeeper selected to fill the vacancy created by Wayne Deitfield's resignation at Herr Motor Co. last week. Wayne is now employed by Woolbridge Lumber Co., at Gainesville.

Parish Responds to Plea For Clean-up in Cemetery

Responding to an appeal from Father Frowin in last Sunday's announcements, about two dozen persons reported at the cemetery on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week to get the weeds and grass under control. An equally good response is expected on Thursday and Friday, the last two days of the clean-up campaign, Father Frowin stated.

The greater number of graves have been rid of their wild growth flowers were watered and the open lots as well as pathways were mowed.

The joke was on M. J. Endres, Muenster's premier bunny-raiser, when he received a letter advising that the fancy blue ribbon buck he bought from a Fort Worth breeder only a few days before wasn't that kind of a rabbit.

In an effort to keep its surplus of whey under control the cheese factory brought in two new 86-barrel tanks. Plans for their installation are now under way.

A short time spent with a hoe and rake made a vast improvement in the appearance of the small plot south of the hotel.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Early calvers are better rebreeders, study shows

Conservation tillage gaining acceptance

Big cows may not be the most efficient producers in a beef cattle herd.

Although big cows generally produce the heaviest calves, their maintenance costs may outweigh the benefits of the extra pounds of beef.

A recent demonstration in South Central Texas showed that cow maintenance costs need to be considered along with the age of cows in coming up with an efficient herd.

Some 200 Santa Gertrudis cows aged two to 12 years were used in the study. Both cow weights and calf weaning weights were recorded and compared between cows of different age and weight groups.

The heaviest cows (1201 to 1700 pounds) weaned the heaviest calves at an average of 552 pounds. Medium-weight cows (1000 to 1200 pounds) weaned calves that averaged 539 pounds while the smallest cows (less than 1000 pounds) weaned calves averaging 506 pounds.

These figures show that the medium-weight cows produced calves 33 pounds heavier than calves from the smallest cows but only 13 pounds lighter than calves from the heaviest cows. This indicates that the medium-weight cows outperformed the smallest cows and did almost as well as the heavy cows.

Furthermore, the heavy cows required about 18 percent more energy and 13 percent more protein on a daily basis than did the medium-weight cows. This extra input yielded only 2 percent more beef in the form of the weaned calf.

Thus a cattleman must decide whether or not he wants to maintain a cow that needs that much extra input for such a meager increase in calf weaning weight.

Records from the study also show that as cow age increased, calf weaning weight decreased. The youngest cows weaned calves at 548 pounds while the oldest ones weaned calves weighing only 517 pounds. This points out the importance of keeping younger cows and culling older ones.

All in all, cattlemen should make good use of records in determining the weaning weights of calves from various classes of cows and should use this information to make management decisions to increase herd efficiency.

Early calving cows have a much greater chance of rebreeding than do later calving cows in the same herd.

Part of this is due to the fact that earlier calvers have more time and thus more chances to rebreed, points out Dr. L.R. Spratt, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Also, later calving cows generally have a lower fertility level. Furthermore, later calving cows often calve during the hot summer months, and high temperatures can reduce fertility in beef cows.

In a recent study on three ranches in the Gulf Coast area, pregnancy rates in early calving cows were compared to those of late calving cows. This trial was part of the Extension Service's effort in Integrated Resource Management, notes Spratt. Cooperating county Extension agents were Larry Allen, Jefferson County; Brian Weiss, Calhoun County; and Bill McCutchen, Milam County; Bruce Carpenter, Extension assistant in beef cattle, also helped with the study.

where the breeding season lasted for five months or longer."

The specialist recommends these steps to solve late calving problems. First, cull all open and late calving cows and replace them with replacement heifers bred to calve as early as possible. These females will remain early calvers throughout their lives and contribute to higher, more efficient production in the future.

Second, try to time the breeding season so that it occurs during the cooler months. A summer breeding season presents problems due to the hot weather.

Finally, continue culling and replacing on an annual basis. Over time, the incidence of culling and need for replacements will decrease because of the increasing fertility level of the overall herd.

"These recommendations for improving herd fertility levels were implemented on the three ranches in the study, and in all cases, pregnancy rates have increased from an average of 79 percent to as high as 97 percent," Spratt points out. "So such practices are definitely a way to improve herd efficiency."

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Conservation tillage is gaining gradual acceptance by Texas farmers, with about 14 percent of the state's cultivated land now under this practice, according to Dr. Billy Harris.

Harris, a soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said that the trend toward conservation tillage in Texas "is up."

He addressed about 165 producers, researchers, Extension specialists and soil conservationists attending the 10th annual Southern Regional No-till Conference here July 1-2. Participants registered from 11 states.

There are approximately 30 million acres under cultivation in Texas this year and about 86 percent of that is under conventional tillage methods, he noted.

In 1974, only a little over a million acres were farmed with conservation tillage, but that amount has risen to four million acres, Harris said.

Conservation tillage has great potential for areas in Texas with wind and water erosion problems, he pointed out.

Researchers and farmers have been experimenting with the practice and found that it does work well in grain sorghum, corn, cotton, soybeans and even peanuts. Some vegetable production in the state's Rio Grande Valley region is under conservation tillage, Harris said.

There are, however, some drawbacks to the practice, he said.

Specialized planting equipment is required and some crops don't grow well under this practice, since timing is important.

Weed control is another problem that researchers are having to tackle, Harris said. Weeds can multiply easily in some fields under conservation tillage and herbicide effectiveness varies with the region of the state and weather conditions, he said.

Attitudes toward this fairly new practice also will have to change before it finds acceptance, Harris added. Landowners may not want to see their leased land under conservation tillage and bankers are cautious about a practice they feel is not "proven."

Additionally, it is "almost a religion" with farmers to have rows clean and free of stubble in fields, he noted.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station along with the Extension Service and various soil and water conservation agencies and organizations cooperated in hosting the conference.

Family farms in Texas fall by 14,000

(AUSTIN)--The number of full-time commercial farmers and ranchers in Texas dropped by over 14,000 last year--from 49,600 producers in 1986 to 35,200 in 1987, according to figures released by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The 1987 Survey of Agricultural Financial Conditions shows that, as a percentage, the number of commercial family farm and ranch operations in Texas dropped from 31 percent of all producers in 1986 to 22 percent at present.

Commercial family farm and ranch operators are defined as those with gross sales of $40,000 to $500,000 and who are most likely to be full-time operators. As full-time agricultural producers, they generally have few off-farm income sources to cushion the ongoing depression in Texas agriculture.

"We will continue to lose our best, most productive farmers who are the backbone of our family farm system, unless current federal farm policies are changed," said Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

"The survey also reveals that if the current disastrous economic price structure in agriculture continues, another one out of every eight Texas producers (12 percent) does not expect to last beyond 1987," said Hightower. "These are the very farmers and ranchers we count on to provide 57 percent of all food and fiber production in the state, according to the 1982 Census of Agriculture," Hightower said.

"Sixty-eight percent of farm operators surveyed in Texas said they didn't even bother to make a loan application in 1987. It's not that they don't need credit--they just can't get it. Just two years ago, that percentage was down around 52 percent."

"One key factor accounting for both the decline in family farmers and the reduced loan application numbers is the severe shortage of credit available for commercial farmers and ranchers. The U.S. Farmers Home Administration, the agency established by Congress to provide credit to family farmers, cut direct loan funds to Texas producers from $206 million in 1986 to $120 million this year. Then they sent back to their Washington bureaucracy another $15.3 million, making the total cutback in Texas this year 51 percent," Hightower said.

"Unless we want to experience a near-monopoly pricing structure in our food system, the consumers of this country must demand from our leaders in Washington a farm program that preserves rather than destroys our independent, competitive family farm system," Hightower said.

For comparison purposes, cows were classed as early, middle or late calvers based on whether they calved in the first, middle or last third of the calving period. During the two-year study, late calving cows consistently had the lowest rebreeding rates - 53 percent. Early calving cows had a rebreeding rate of 92 percent closely followed by middle calvers with a pregnancy rate of 83 percent.

"These findings support the conclusion that fertility in late calving cows is notoriously low," says Spratt. "Producers often think that an extension to the breeding season will correct this problem by allowing cows more chances to breed. That was not the case in these herds since all three were in management programs

Failed acreage

If you have failed program acreage due to flooding, hail, freezing, etc., report such acreage to this office as soon as you decide what you are going to do with the crop, so you will receive history credit for it.

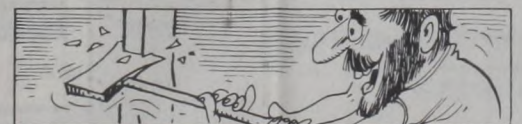

1987/92 wheat program

There have been several changes in this program since possible eligible producers were notified earlier. We feel that there could be more. Some of the changes are more restrictive, some are not.

Due to the late announcement of this program it will probably benefit only a small number of producers. If you have any questions about this program, you should contact this office.

PROCESS OF CANNING
(Bernice Carter, Ass't. State Agent in Charge of Girl's Club Work, offers these tips on canning June 16, 1914)
I. Preparation of Vegetables: (a) Select only sound ripe tomatoes. Dip tomatoes in boiling water for a few minutes then plunge in cold water to keep them firm. Remove core and skins and drop tomatoes in cans as nearly whole as possible.
(b) Peaches should be well ripened but still firm. Remove skins with sharp straight-backed knife, care being taken to remove only a very thin even peeling.
II. Filling Cans: Sterilize can and all utensils in boiling water. Pack cans well until they are full. Be careful not to let the contents touch the top of the cans as there will be difficulty in sealing if too full. Cover the peaches with syrup made by dissolving two cups sugar in three cups water. A better flavor will be added to tomatoes by using one teaspoonful of a mixture of 2 parts sugar to 1 part salt to the can. No. 3 cans of tomatoes should weigh 38 oz. and No. 2 cans 24 oz.
III. Tinning the Irons: To tin means to coat the capping steel and tipping copper with solder to prevent the solder already on the caps of the cans from adhering to the steel and copper. To tin, take one teaspoonful of powdered sal ammoniac, place in a baking powder can or tin can with top removed. Melt solder about the size of a silver dollar into cup, place hot irons in same and turn until the edges or parts that come in contact with the cans are bright.
IV. Capping: To cap means to fasten the caps on cans by melting the solder with a capping steel. A liquid flux is used on the caps to cut off all impurities and to make the solder stick. Fluxing fluid may be made by using 2 tablespoonfuls of commercial muriatic acid placed in a granite or earthenware vessel, drop in a piece of zinc about the size of a silver dollar and let it remain as about 15 minutes, then add two tablespoonfuls of water. This is placed with a small brush or cloth around the hem of cap. Precaution: Be careful not get flux in the cans, and do not get it on the hands.
V. Exhaust: To exhaust means to heat the cans after they have been filled and capped and before they have been tipped. This drives out the air and keeps the cans from bulging at the end. Exhaust tomatoes and peaches five minutes in boiling water.
VI. Process: To process means to cook in the cans after they have been filled, capped and tipped. Boiling water in an open or closed vessel may be used. Process tomatoes and peaches twenty-five minutes in an open vessel or twelve minutes in a closed vessel at 240 degrees.
VII. Labeling: Place the label on the can with the smooth end of the can up.
