Muenster Memorial Hospital celebrates

Texas Hospital Week is being observed by Muenster Memorial Hospital all week long, highlighted by Open House on Tuesday, May 12, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

More than 100 friends came to visit Tuesday afternoon and view several displays of the very newest, most sophisticated medical and hospital equipment. Other displays, in glass cases, were antique treasures and keepsakes owned by individuals, whose assembled medical memorabilia will remain in place some time longer. More visitors are urged to come in to view the display.

For guests who know the late Dr. T.S. Myrick and the late Dr. Bohdan Hejduk the Tuesday afternoon visit was a nostalgic recall of the two who cared for many patients and generations during their years of practice. Their portraits were just above several glass cases of medical treasures, pictures, instruments and memorabilia and guests paused for a length of time to visit, view and recall.

Medical personnel and nursing staff members delighted in reminding guests that Dr. Myrick's granddaughter and infant granddaughter were patients in Muenster Memorial Hospital that same day.

The locked glass display case exhibited antique microscopes (1980) owned by Dr. Antonetti; antique medical instruments owned by Dr. Kralicke; old pharmaceutical equipment the property of Bob Pels, pharmacist, and Herman Carroll, hospital administrator; an 1871 medical book, property of Linda Walterscheid; surgical and orthopedic instruments designed or invented by Dr. Knight; and treasured keepsakes of nurses Dorothy Hartman, Mickey Haverkamp, Linda Walterscheid and Judy Flusche. A very large number of other items were also exhibited, and each piece was identified and described on an attached index card.

Several of the hospital personnel, including Joan Walterscheid, Mickey Haverkamp and Miriam Caplinger took guests on conducted tours to view certain pieces of the hospital's newest equipment, including an explanation of the new infant radiant warmer and its auxiliary equipment; the new defibrillator cardiac monitor; all new resuscitation equipment; new EKG machine and cardiogram

Charges of greed bring disbelief, indignation

Germanfest receipts indicate growth in attendance

The 1987 Germanfest attracted a larger crowd than previous 'Fests, as evidenced by gate receipts. Chamber of Commerce secretary, Maudine Griffin, reported to luncheon meeting attendees Tuesday that the Germanfest admission total was $51,374.30. This represents an increase of over $4,000.00 compared to 1986. Some Germanfest officials had been fearful that the depressed economic conditions combined with the increase in the legal drinking age would result in decreased attendance. Other income and expense figures are incomplete at present and will be reported later. Two expenses, however, do apply directly to the gate income: the Gainesville Kiwanis Club contracted to operate the gates for six percent of the take or $3,081.86. The city of Muenster receives five percent for park use, a total of $2,568.22.

Members also discussed a less-than-favorable letter to the editor which appeared in The Sherman Democrat and described their "horror at the rampant greed" displayed by Germanfest promoters and concessions. Most members found it difficult to believe the charge.

The Chamber will formulate a reply to explain some of the costs and benefits connected and repair some of the damaging publicity.

Special guests at the Tuesday meeting were Dr. Bud Joyner, president of Cooke County College, and Rodger Boyce, president of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce. They were present to promote the Cooke County Pep Rally to be staged at Cooke County College on Thursday, May 21. The program, sponsored jointly by Cooke County College, and the Chambers of Commerce of Gainesville and Muenster will start at 8 p.m. on the large grassy area south of the main front parking lot. Main feature of the rally will be a 90-minute performance by "Country Caravan" from South Plains College of Levelland, Texas. Dr. Joyner was previously with South Plains College and attests to the high quality of country and bluegrass music performed by the students and faculty in the show.

"Boyce said, 'We've all heard too much about all the problems in Cooke County. Now we want to promote the good points a little, and have a great evening with a great music show.' There is no charge for the event. Concessions will be available.

Muenster Chamber president, Monica Hess, applauded their efforts and encouraged everyone to attend and enjoy the evening and build a positive attitude in Cooke County.

Three cheers for Cooke County

Two bits ... four bits ... six bits, a dollar ... all for Cooke County, stand up and holler!

Rodger Boyce, president of the Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce, Muenster Chamber of Commerce president Monica Hess and Bud Joyner, president of Cooke County College, expect to do a lot of standing up and hollering come the evening of Thursday, May 21.

Lucy takes two firsts in Austin

Lucy Fuhrmann, daughter of Joe Paul and Marie Fuhrmann of Lindsay, placed first in Headline Writing and Science at the University Interscholastic Academic State Meet May 7-9 at the University of Texas at Austin. More than 2,000 students, competing in one or more of the 19 UIL academic contests, placed at district and regional competition to earn a berth in the state meet.

This makes the third visit to state for the Lindsay High junior. Her freshman year qualifying in Spelling, last year Editorial Writing, Science and Spelling took her to Austin, but she was unable to compete in Spelling because the Science contest was administered at the same time.

The Science test consists of 60 questions, 20 from each of the following categories: Biology, Chemistry and Physics. Grades were given in each category, and Lucy scored a state high of 92 on Biology and 64 in Chemistry, giving her 168 points.

A time limit of 30 minutes was set to complete headlines for six high school newspaper stories in her second competition. Headlines were judged on: catchy sayings, minimum-maximum word count, use of active verbs and accuracy to the story.

And they're inviting every resident of Cooke County, young and old, to come join in.

That Thursday evening, beginning about 8 o'clock, the two chambers and CCC will be staging one of the most special and unusual events ever to take place locally - a "Cooke County Pep Rally."

"We want everyone throughout the county to get the family together, bring some lawn chairs or blankets and come out to the CCC campus," Boyce says. "We'll have food and soft drink and ice cream concessions, so those who wish to can make it a family picnic."

Although the affair's purpose is not just to provide entertainment, that will definitely be an added incentive to attend.

"Folks who come to the pep rally will be treated, and I mean treated, to a two-hour show by an organization known as the Country Caravan," Boyce explains. "Many people here may already have heard about the group due to a lot of national media attention it has received lately, particularly on the Nashville Network on cable."

CCC chief administrator Joyner was instrumental in getting the group to come here from South Plains College, the Levelland school where he was on staff before taking over the presidency of the local college. The idea for staging the pep rally was also his.

"The Country Caravan puts on the finest show of its kind this side of Nashville," Joyner reports. "It has received all kinds of national acclaim and was even chosen by the State Department to represent the U.S. on a goodwill trip to Japan a couple of years ago. That's how good this group of singers, dancers and musicians is."

Boyce says the show is specially geared for outdoor performances and will be set up at the south end of CCC's main parking lot in front of the campus. Audience seating will be on the large grassy area in front of the Planetarium and Science Buildings.

"I'm so tired of hearing about what's wrong with our town and county, how nobody ever does anything to help revitalize the economy, how it's so-and-so's fault that we're in the shape we're in."

Boyce says the plain truth of the Bentsen working to aid rural doctors

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said May 9 he is considering several initiatives to help Texans in rural areas have immediate access, via satellite, to modern medical care.

"The legislation would set aside some of the money in the Medicare medical education fund and, perhaps, change some of the Medicare reimbursement arrangements so we can push development of this modern technology for the benefit of rural Texas," Bentsen said.

It would spur the use of satellites and computers in making the latest medical services available to doctors and patients in rural areas, as well as to different areas within cities. It could also help resolve some of the problems associated with Peer Review Organizations.

"The Texas Tech Medical School already is working on computer link-ups with some of the doctors in small towns to give them the advantages of the education and the training of its specialists in various lines of medicine - and they're going to improve on that with satellite connections," Bentsen said.

"Just imagine," he explained, "you're in a tiny town - you're a physician there - and all of a sudden you have access to all the things they have in the big cities. For example, you can have a pathologist looking at a microscope piece of tissue and making a diagnosis, via satellite. You can talk to a renowned heart surgeon about a very difficult operation you're going to have, get his counsel and advice and actually see it."

Bentsen said that when Congress considers a budget reconciliation bill later this year, he hopes to attach amendments that would aid projects such as this. A related initiative would allow the Secretary of Health and Human Services to determine whether, during the PRO appeal process, a doctor may continue treating patients or have those privileges terminated immediately.

"Some of the rural areas are having trouble nowadays with Peer Review. One thing these PROs have reminded us of is that it's a lot easier for doctors in cities to update their professional skills or to consult with a specialist than it is for their rural colleagues," Bentsen said.

"These new computers and satellite hookups can change all that, and I want to speed the process along," Senator Bentsen said.

IH speed limit is 65

At one minute past midnight Friday night, a new 65-mph speed limit went into effect on rural Interstate highways in Texas.

"The public is excited about this," said Byron Blaschke, deputy engineer-director of the highway department, "and we are doing all we can to make a smooth transition to the new speed limit."

On May 1, the highway commission established the new maximum speed limit of 65 mph for cars and light trucks on rural Interstate highways. In this context, "rural" means outside urban areas of 50,000 or more people.

The governor concurred May 6 with the new speed limit which became effective at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, May 9, where signs are posted.

Some rural Interstate sections will continue with speed limits posted lower than 65 mph for traffic and engineering reasons. These reduced speed zones existed before the 1974 federally mandated reduction to 55 mph. The department will examine each of these areas and determine the need to continue or discontinue the lower speeds.

Blaschke emphasized that the new speed limits apply only to rural highways with Interstate designation. The speed limit on all other roadways, including urban Interstate, remains 55 mph.

Governor proclaims Hospital Week

Gov. William P. Clements, Jr. has designated May 10-16 as Texas Hospital Week in recognition of Texas hospitals; their trustees, volunteers, employees and medical staffs; and the Texas Hospital Association (THA) membership for their efforts in providing and promoting better health care for all Texans.

This year's theme, "Texas Hospitals - Making You Feel Better," reflects hospitals' efforts to help you and your family feel better when an illness or injury occurs. Hospital employees are dedicated to their jobs, and are proud of their roles in contributing to the well-being of each community.

Texas Hospital Week is celebrated in conjunction with National Hospital Week, which originated in 1921. Matthew A. Foley, a hospital magazine editor, selected May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightingale, as a special day for hospitals "so that the community may know the hospital." In 1924 the American Hospital Association assumed sponsorship of National Hospital Day and expanded the celebration to National Hospital Week in 1953.

Texas Hospital Week is sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association (THA), the Austin-based trade association for hospitals. THA represents more than 800 institutional and 4,000 personal members.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wildo and son, Ray, and Miss Anne Wilde, spent last Friday on a fishing trip to Lake Bridgeport. Their luck netted them a dandy fish supper at the lake and another good meal at home the next day.

Muenster receives city tax rebate

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks last week totaling $97.9 million in local sales tax to 1,039 cities that levy the one-percent city tax. Bullock said 1987 payments were down 7 percent as compared to payments to date made in May of last year.

May checks represent taxes collected on sales made in March and reported to the Comptroller by April 20.

Payment made to the city of Muenster was $13,759.29, compared to $14,847.04 for the same period last year. Payments to the county in general were down by 11.58 percent.

Rain Fails to Dampen Enjoyment at Annual Parochial High Picnic

Monday's shower failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Sacred Heart High School students and their teachers who were determined to make the most of their annual picnic. After spending the greater part of the afternoon in the grove near the Reed cemetery south of Myra, the picnickers were sent scurrying for cover by a brief shower about 4 o'clock and were rather thoroughly drenched by the attack a few minutes later. But they all took it with a laugh as they rode through the rain on the back of Hennigan's truck.

On arriving at the grounds the boys built a bonfire to provide a bed of coals for their weiner roast. After a series of games and an apple ducking contest the fire had reached the stage that encouraged the serious part of the picnic—food. The roasted weiners, constituting the feature of the picnic menu, were supplemented with a splendid variety of tasty delicacies and followed by ice cream, cake, and candy.

Commenting on the picnic the Sisters remarked that they enjoyed the outing fully as much as the students and were delighted with their splendid conduct. They also expressed appreciation to Miss Ida Fisher and the parents who provided the fine lunches and so generously offered their services and their automobiles for the occasion.

Joe Fisher, Sr., will begin this year's harvest season with a new Avery thresher and an Avery combine. According to his son, Joe, Jr., both machines are being shipped from Peoria, Ill., this week.

Joe Fisher has just completed the installation of a new Kelsvator refrigerating unit in Joe Tracht's cooling vault.

SCHENK DISCOVERS OLD GASOLINE STILL HAS PLENTY OF PEP

F. J. Schenk is one of the persons willing to go on record as saying that gasoline does not necessarily need to be fresh to burn in an automobile. He made the test last Friday when he dug up the gasoline storage tank that has been in front of his business establishment since 1919. The last time gas had been put into that tank was nine or 10 years ago, Mr. Schenk said, and it seems to have as much vitality as the gas he buys today.

The tank had been purchased by Will Wages for use on the Robertson lease north of Muenster and was removed to the new location by his crew of helpers.

Recalling his experience as a petroleum dealer Mr. Schenk stated that he was one of the first Muenster men in the business. For some time he handled gas out of drums but sold most of it in drum lots directly to farmers of this community. When the pump was first set up in 1919 gasoline retailed at 33c a gallon and it was usually hauled from the depot to the pump on Mr. Steizer's dray wagon.

The parochial junior snailshotters upheld the athletic honor of their institution Friday by noosing out their public school rivals in a 15 to 16 scoring fest.

For Sale—2 or 3 nice farms within 1 mile of Muenster and other farms and grazing lands in Cooke County. J. M. Russell, Myra. (Advertisement, 25-26p.)

Coolie, Al, and Paul Walterscheid and Matt Schmitz spent last Thursday fishing at Lake Bridgeport. Combined the group caught about 15 pounds of fish but Al made the big catch in landing a six-pound channel cat.

4. Effective leadership by both principals.
5. Good community support obvious by the many joint accomplishments of community and staff.
6. Cleanliness of facilities and campus.

7. Pride and attitude displayed by students, faculty, and administration demonstrating a good environment for a successful academic-extra curricular program to succeed in.

The official written report will be mailed from the agency sometime in the next two or three weeks.

The 1987-88 school year calendar was also approved by the board. Fall classes will start on Monday, Aug. 31, 1987 and the school year will end on May 27, 1988.

The board approved renewal of a film contract with Region XI Education Service Center for the 1987-88 school year.

Superintendent Charles Coffey presented the board with a proposed financial condition of the district through the end of the fiscal year concluding Aug. 31, 1987. The board then approved nine summer maintenance items for Muenster I.S.D. buildings or equipment proposed by the administrative staff. The superintendent was authorized to advertise for bids on all-weather track repairs, a new water well, and one additional air conditioning-heating unit for the high school building to be considered at the June meeting of the trustees.

matter is that a large number of people are working very hard every day to help turn the economic situation in Cooke County around. Furthermore, they are making progress.

Boyce, Smith and Hess all point to the fact that Cooke County, despite recent economic setbacks, still has many more pluses than minuses.

"That, in a nutshell, is what this pep rally is all about - something to motivate us to begin focusing on what's right with our country rather than what's wrong." Joyner explains that the entertainment portion of the program will get started around 8:30 p.m.; however, the pep rally will begin about half an hour earlier, and those attending are urged to come even earlier for a good seating location and to enjoy the concessions.

"And, since a pep rally wouldn't be a pep rally without cheering," Boyce adds, "we'll have cheerleading squads from several county high schools there to help us in that department. It should be a lot of fun for the whole family, and remember that except for the concession, it's absolutely free."

program will be given at 7 p.m. also at Texas Power and Light Company for those who prefer an evening program.

Adult children of aging parents may also be interested in the program.

Church ceremony honors Mother of Jesus

The annual parish-wide ceremony honoring Mary, the mother of Jesus, was held in Sacred Heart Church on May 1.

The procession began at 7 p.m. as recorded hymns to the Blessed Mother were played.

As the congregation entered church, Mrs. Eileen Fisher led community singing, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Felderhoff, organist. Selections were "Immaculate Mary" and "Hail Mary, Gentle Woman." As the entry was completed, First Communicants walked up the center aisle to place flowers at the feet of the statue of the Blessed Mother.

Father Denis led recitation of the Rosary and the Litany of the Blessed Mother, followed by the hymn, "On This Day, Oh Blessed Mother."

Laura Hess gave a reading, "The Valiant Woman," with background music on the organ by Ruth Felderhoff.

Laura Schilling led the crowning ceremony as the congregation sang "Bring Flowers of the Rarest." Honor maids to Laura Schilling were Rhonda Bayer, crown bearer, and Judy Biffle, bouquet bearer. Statue bearers were senior students Stephen Knabe, Richard Fuhrmann, Craig Voth, Sam Fleitman, Ronnie Bayer and Shawn Flusche.

The Mass on May 1 honored the feast of St. Joseph, The Worker. Frank Hastings gave the first Reading; Eileen Fisher and the congregation sang the responses.

The Consecration to the Blessed Mother followed the homily. A hymn to honor St. Joseph was sung at Offertory and selections at Communion were "For You Are

My God" and "How Great Thou Art."

Stephen Becker read "Dedication to St. Joseph" and the congregation sang "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" as the recessional.

Floral arrangements, the floral crown and the arm bouquet were made and donated by Mrs. Nick Miller.

Muenster students do well at state UIL

Four Muenster School students competed at the State UIL Literary Tournament in Austin on May 8-9, 1987. For the second consecutive year, senior Drue Bynum competed in Persuasive Speaking. In the preliminary round, Drue spoke on the topic, "Did the movie Platoon show a true picture of the Vietnam War?" He was one of the six speakers selected to advance to the finals which were held on Saturday, May 9. In the final round, Drue selected the topic, "What would you do to clean up athletics in Texas universities?" and was given fourth place. At the state level, only the first three places are recognized with all other competitors given fourth place.

Juniors Meredith McDaniel and Jamie Walterscheid also advanced in Team Debate for the second consecutive year. In the preliminary rounds, each team debates three times with the four teams compiling the best record of wins and speaker points advancing to the finals. The magic number this year was 102 speaker points. Meredith and Jamie accumulated 98 speaker points after three rounds, thus barely missing the right to advance to the finals. Meredith and Jamie debated teams representing Tivoli-Autwell-Tivoli, Munday and Loop.

The fourth state qualifier, sophomore Kim Hess, competed in Editorial Writing. Her assigned topic was "Establishing pregnancy clinics at the high school level."

The "Today Show" will feature interviews with Nashville's politicians, businessmen, country music celebrities and a live performance of a band of Nashville's top country musicians, including Entertainer of the Year, Ricky Skaggs.

One segment of the show is dedicated to the people who have moved to "Music City" to seek their "fame and fortune" as singers, songwriters and musicians in country music. Such is the case with Charlotte Smith. She arrived in Nashville only two months ago to achieve her goal of becoming a singer and songwriter. While living in Nashville and working toward her "big break," Charlotte is a hairdresser at the Ritz Hair Salon in the prestigious Belle Meade area of Nashville. It was at the Ritz that the "Today Show" crew pretaped Charlotte at their work environment, playing and singing a song she co-wrote with Nashville songwriter, Ken Bloodworth.

Attend grandson's First Communion

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Reiter of Muenster were in Keller Sunday, May 10, to be with their grandson, Brody Kopenhafer as he celebrated his First Communion Day.

Also with him were his parents, Lynn and Tim Gibson of Keller and his other grandparents, Joe and Betty Kopenhafer of Euleus. Also his uncle Roger Reiter of Muenster and uncle, aunt and cousins, Don and Kim Wiese and children Bryan, David and Stephen of Gainesville.

Brody was one of 20 students who received First Holy Communion during the 10:30 a.m. service held in Florence Elementary School, officiated by Rev. Gerard Scholl. He and his parents are members of St. Elizabeth Seton Parish.

Brody was honored after the Mass when his parents hosted dinner in the family home, with all of the above attending.

Leslie Bezner is First Communicant

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Endres were in Kissimmee, Florida last week to attend the First Communion celebration of their granddaughter and niece, Leslie Bezner, daughter of Brian and Nancy Bezner.

Molly Koelzer to compete in Europe

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes' 1987 track season ended in a state championship, but not for Molly Koelzer.

The junior trackster will be racing in Amsterdam, Holland in July, competing against top European high school teams. Coach Jon LeBrasseur submitted several Tigerettes to the International Exchange Athletics program, and Molly's outstanding background in athletics and scholastics earned her the right to participate in the Junior Olympic-like Festival, competing in the 400 meter and 800 meter runs. Representing the United States, along with 90-100 other high school athletes, Molly will work out, travel and see the sights in Holland, Belgium and West Germany during her week's stay overseas.

Instead of slowing down and taking it easy this summer, Coach Ron Hess has his star training and working out daily in a one-on-one basis.

Molly holds the school record in the 100 meter, 12.4; 200 meter, 26.4; 400 meter, 59.6; and 800 meter, 2:27.6; also the TAPS state record in the 400 meter.

Car wash for Molly

Sacred Heart Letterman's Club will be sponsoring a car wash this Saturday at the Dairy Inn Car Wash to benefit Molly Koelzer's International trip. Molly will be representing Muenster and the United States in Europe this summer in International Track competition.

Cost of the wash and inside cleaning will be $7.00 per car and $20.00 for three cars. Bring your car in early as the mid-day is almost full. The car wash will begin at 7 a.m. and end at 5 p.m.

Longest day of golf to be held in June

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society announced that David Flusche, Jr. accepted the 1987 chairmanship for The Longest Day of Golf in Muenster.

During the month of June, golf foursome teams throughout the area will play their own "longest day" to raise funds for multiple sclerosis. Team members will play as many holes of golf as possible in one day and secure sponsors who pledge donations for each hole played. In addition to local support, a weekend package compliments of Garden Valley Resort in Lindale, Texas will be awarded to the top fund raiser.

Proceeds from this event will help further the research of MS and provide services for the approximately 4,000 people in North Texas who have this still incurable and often crippling disease.

"This is a community effort and everyone can help make our event the best one in the area," said Mr. Flusche. To participate as a golfer or sponsor, contact your local chairman.

State track meet this weekend

Competition will be tough for the local tracksters competing in the annual University Interscholastic League track and field meet this weekend at Austin Memorial Stadium.

Andy Burnette is entering with the second fastest regional time, 15.10 in the 110m hurdles, his personal best being 14.8. He'll have to beat Jeff Meyers of Irion Co.'s time of 14.74.

Stuart Hess' regional shot throw of 51'02" will need to stretch with five state qualifiers out-throwing him. Leading the event is Bubba Smith of Wheeler with a regional throw of 54'08.5". Hess' best toss measured 55'34".

The Lindsay girls' 1600 meter relay team of Lucy Fuhrmann, Amber Anderson, Gayle Hermes and Felicia Hellingner head for state with the slowest regional mark - 4:18.58. Knox City High School girls clocked the fastest regional line with 4:02.27. Lucy Fuhrmann's 2:29.65 time in the 800 meter dash keeps her competitive, with less than 5 seconds behind the fastest regional time.

Era's Kevin Ford will have to increase his high jump several inches to win a medal. The best height cleared is 6'8", 6 inches over Kevin's regional jump.

Stephanie Krahl, Valley View senior, is in tough competition in the girls' discus. Entering state with a 107'11" regional throw and a 109'6" season best, makes beating Aretha Lewis', of Aspermont, throw of 124'0" very tough.

John Grussel will be representing Valley View in the 200 meter dash. Finishing times are close with Grussel at 22.74 and the fastest qualifying time at 21.69. Grussel's clocked 22.15 for a personal best.

Valley View's boys' 1600 meter relay team, Robbie Morris, John Cope, Kenny Jackson and John Grussel, ran their best at regional, turning in the second fastest time, 3:24.22, and will once again try to beat Karnack, who won regional with a 3:23.97.

A top state contender will be Julie Dodd, the long distance runner from Prairie Valley. Dodd competed and won the gold in the 1600 and 3200 runs at local track meets this season. She clocked the fastest times in both events entering the state track meet - 5:27.12 in the mile and 12:16.07 in the 3200 meter.

Computer Club offered at CCC

If you're the owner of a microcomputer that isn't earning its keep in your home or business, Doug Lillard says, "Join the club!"

Lillard, computer science instructor at Cooke County College, says he's speaking both literally and figuratively.

"In one sense, I mean you're by no means alone if you're frustrated because you aren't getting everything out of that computer you want or need to," Lillard explains, "but I'm also offering a real invitation to join a new computer club."

The Cooke County Computer Club, he reports, is organized along the lines of a "users' group" - more and more of which are springing up all across the country. Some are highly specialized, restricting themselves to certain makes of hardware, such as IBM or Apple, or to certain applications, such as word processing or accounting.

"Our club is for owners of all kinds of different hardware makes and models ranging all the way from IBM and Apple to Commodore, Radio Shack, even Atari," says John Millichamp III, a CCC student who helped organize the group.

Millichamp says all a person needs to do to become involved in the club is come to one of the regular meetings held every other Tuesday in Room 520 (the CCC computer lab in the Business Building) beginning at 6:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Lillard at CCC at 817/668-7731, Ext. 263, or call Millichamp in Denton at 817/382-8126 after 5 p.m.

Irrigation workshop to be held May 22

Drip and trickle irrigation are a good method of water conservation in home landscapes and gardens. If you have ever considered establishing a drip irrigation system, a workshop has been scheduled for Friday, May 22, that will answer your questions. The workshop will be held at 5 p.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. Marty Baker, Extension Horticulturist, will discuss and have available many lines, emitters, micro-sprinklers, timers and other equipment available to homeowners. With the drought that we are experiencing, a small investment in a drip irrigation system could save a large water bill and the life of your plants this summer. The workshop is free and open to the public.

Farmers plan to cut 1987 crop plantings

Farmers intend to cut crop plantings substantially this year because of low prices and abundant supplies and to comply with the government's farm program.

According to a U.S. Department of Agriculture survey, farmers will reduce corn acreage by 12 percent from 1986; sorghum acreage, 23 percent; wheat acreage, 11 percent; and soybean acreage, 7 percent. However, cotton acreage is expected to be up 3 percent.

In Texas acreage cuts are expected as follows: sorghum, 31 percent; wheat, 16 percent; corn, 14 percent; and cotton, 3 percent. Soybean, sunflower and rice acreage will also be less. Hay and peanut acreage, however, is expected to increase slightly, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Because of depressed farm income, adverse weather and the resulting financial stress, Texas farmers plan to cut acreage much more than farmers across the nation," Anderson points out.

"It is estimated that about 2,900 Texas farmers were forced out of agriculture due to financial distress during 1986," he notes. "About half of those are in the most intensified farming areas of West Texas. The financial pressure is forcing a drop in cotton acreage in Texas, where half the nation's cotton acreage is usually planted. Texas is the only state across the Cotton Belt reporting a drop in acreage."

Most farmers are participating in the government acreage reduction program, notes the economist. The Conservation Reserve Program and the 50/92 Program are also contributing to fewer acres planted to crops.

"Despite the cutbacks in plantings, farm income in 1987 is expected to improve because of large government payments and slightly higher crop and livestock prices," Anderson points out.

4-H County Council met April 27

Countywide business discussed included Livestock Shows, Citizenship Projects, Share-the-Fun, Judging Activities, County Roundup, Project Show, Shooting Sports, County Camp, 4-H Congress and District Leadership Lab. New officers for 1987-88 were elected. They are: Debbie Nortman, chairman; Wayne Becker, 1st vice-chairman; Michael Lutkenhaus, 2nd vice-chairman; Amy Bartlett, secretary; John Krebs, treasurer; Eddie Krebs, reporter; Sherilyn Sicking and Werner Becker, recreation leaders.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

With all the problems we have seen in small grain this year, there is still more bad news. Loose smut, army worms, hail and freeze damage are just several of the negative factors we have seen in the last two weeks.

Loose smut has shown up in ever increasing amounts this year. This would partially be due to old infestations and the lack of seed treatment before planting. Producers should check their fields now if they plan to save seed to be used in this fall's plantings. Loose smut is a fungus that is seed-borne. Infestations of seed happens when infected heads shed spores during plant pollination. The infection then moves into the grain and infests fields the following year. Producers should look for the black head that has no green visible. These heads generally are shorter than other heads in the field and are easily noticed right now. Later field infestations when grain is turning and ripening will be difficult. The visible black fungus will either wash off or have been carried away during later maturing times.

Army worms have been showing up in increasing numbers over the county. This week we have been in fields in the Lindsay, Muenster, and Hood area and found army worm damage in most of the fields. Producers should look for the amount of damage and the stage of growth before considering chemical control. On fields that are turning and mature, foliar damage is not as severe. On late maturing fields, producers should look for the army worms eating on the flag leaf and any other green leaves. After they finish eating the leaves, they generally start cutting heads. Ten percent head lodging is a good economic threshold indicator. Worms usually run their cycle in 21 days. The larger worms which are an inch long or so will only be active for another three or four days. Check your fields for damage and worm size before considering control measures.

Hail has also been a severe factor in some fields in the county. Evidence of hail damage is not as great until you get out into the fields. If you think you have had severe damage on your acreage and want to consider alternate production practices, then check with the ASCS office. Tim Gilbert, ASCS Manager, has various choices for producers who have experienced severe crop failures this year.

It has always been said there is no average year in agriculture and certainly 1987 is shaping up to be another one of those non-average years.

Cooke and Montague Co. farmers invited to run for county committee Eligible farmers in Cooke and Montague Counties are invited to become nominees for the Farmers Home Administration area committee, FmHA County Supervisor James B. Murdock announced recently.

As a result of the 1985 farm bill, two of the three members of FmHA county committees must be elected. The third member is appointed by FmHA. The Cooke and Montague County committee assists the FmHA county office in reviewing applications for FmHA farm loans and on other farm credit matters.

Generally, farmers who are residents of the county but not FmHA borrowers are eligible to become nominees for the FmHA county committee.

"Farmers in this county, serving on the committee, can play an important role by assisting in the process of loan application and reviews," said James B. Murdock.

For this election only, one member will be elected at this time.

In the future, all terms of service will be for three years each on a staggered basis.

Nominating petitions must be returned to the FmHA Cooke County office by June 10, 1987.

Additional information and application forms for those who are interested in becoming nominees for the county committee are available at the FmHA county of-ice, Room 211, Federal Building, Gainesville, or by calling 1-817-668-7277.
