Graham crowned Queen

Members and friends of Hansford County Farm Bureau gathered Monday night at the United Methodist Church in Gruver to enjoy the crowning of the Miss Hansford County Farm Bureau Queen and the Hansford County Talent Find Contest winner.

Mechelle Graham finished first in both contests. She will go on to represent Hansford County in the district contest, to be held at the Texas A & M Extension Building in Amarillo on August 9.

In the queen contest there were five girls entered, three from Spearman and two from Gruver. The Spearman girls were Michelle Cook, Mechelle Graham and Kyla Nelson. The girls from Gruver were Marci Roberts and Amanda Hiller.

The girls were judged on their appearance and public speaking abilities. They appeared before an audience of 67 people in evening gowns and answered questions about their home lives and what it means to be an American. They then had to deliver a one- to two-minute memorized speech on a topic related to Farm Bureau.

First runner-up and second runner-up honors were taken by Michelle Cook and Kyla Nelson, respectively.

The talent search contest had five entrants as well. The Spearman entrants were Michelle Cook, Mechelle Graham and Ross Jarvis. From Gruver came Amanda Hiller and Chris Kauffman. All the talent contestants sang hymns except Jarvis, who played part of a classical piece by Beethoven. Graham's performance of "How Great Thou Art" was chosen as best by the judges, with Jarvis's piano solo finishing as runner-up.

There were three judges who judged both events. They were Jeanne Bennett of Stratford, Kara Dawn Macias of Stratford and Johnny Miller of Borger. The first two judges have years of experience in Farm Bureau projects. Miller is choral director for the Borger public schools and at the Methodist Church in Borger.

Also participating in the event was Billy Brown, president of the Hansford County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, who gave the welcoming speech to start the festivities. Glen Harris served as master of ceremonies for the night. Ross Jarvis provided background music for the queen contest. Brenda Dahl and Robin Castillo entertained the audience while the judges' ballots were being counted. Last year's queen, Ginger Pearson, was present to place the crown on the new queen's head. Finally Joan Brown, the organizer of the contests, closed out the evening by thanking all the people who made the evening possible.

FNB golf tourney held

Thirty-six two-man teams gathered at the Hansford Golf Course Saturday to play in the First National Bank Golf Tournament.

By the end of the day the team of Kurt Ashmore and Bob Hardy posted the lowest score to win the Championship flight of the tournament.

Golfers in the tournament played as two-man teams using a different scoring format in each of the three rounds of nine holes played to post a team score. The first nine holes were played as a scramble. The second nine were played as "low ball".

After the second nine, players broke for a dinner of barbecue catered by Ivey's Hungry Cowboy. During the dinner break teams were flighted into four groups based on the scores of the previous 18 holes. The teams then played a third nine holes of "scotch ball" to determine the winners of each flight.

The top three winners of each flight received gift certificates for merchandise at the golf pro shop.

Other prizes given away included gift certificates to any merchant in Hansford County. A $50 certificate was given to Linda Andrew for the longest drive on the fifth hole. Two $150 gift certificates were given to Verlan Winegarner and Jack Wolf for "closest to the hole" on the two par 3 holes.

Winners in each of the flights were as follows:

- Champion
Kurt Ashmore, Bob Hardy 101
- Bill Blankenship, Dwight Gillispie 103
- Bob and Eddie Clemmons 104
- 1st Flight
Stefan Dorman, Kyle Irwin 114
- Tindle and Serafin Ramon 115
- Melvin and Chris Bradley 115
- 2nd Flight
Frank Shieldknight, Gary Gregg 124
- Steven Dickson, Jimmy Shieldknight 124
- Damon Goodhart, Kelly Mahaney 126
- 3rd Flight
Don Townsen, David Boyd 129
- Linda and Andy Andrew 133
- Mike Hulett, Brian Watley 135

At the First National Bank golf tournament Linda Andrew (left) won the "longest drive" contest. Next to her is Verlan Winegarner, and standing behind is Jack Wolf. Wolf and Winegarner each won "closest to the hole" contests.

County commissioners discuss 1991 budget

County Commissioner Garland Head was absent from the regular meeting of the Hansford County Court on Monday, July 23.

County Judge R.L. McClellan opened the meeting by informing the other three commissioners that Head had been hospitalized on Saturday, July 21. Commissioner Head, according to Judge McClellan was doing fine in Hansford Hospital. The commissioners immediately voted to send flowers to Commissioner Head.

The 1991 budget for the county and refining the county's personnel policy were the two main topics of discussion and action during the rest of the county court meeting.

Harry Stumpf, representing the Stationmaster's House Museum, came before the commissioners to ask that some money for the museum be included in the 1991 county budget. He informed the court that money given to the museum by the state to pay the salary of a person to open the museum during the week and to act as caretaker, may be cut. Stumpf requested that the court include in the county budget a sum to help make up for this loss. Stumpf said unless the museum can come up with another source of funds, the hours the museum could be open would be reduced.

The court informed Stumpf that it would consider putting $1,200 in the budget for the museum. The money would be available if the museum needed it to stay open on a regular basis.

An increase in the fire protection fee charged to the county by the City of Spearman was another '91 budget item discussed by the court. In a letter read by Judge McClellan, Jim Murray, city manager, said the city needed to raise the fees charged to the county for rescue and fire calls the city personnel respond to outside the city limits. The letter informed the court that each rescue and fire call would cost the county $15 more. Fire calls would go up to $250 per call and rescue calls would increase to $150. After a brief discussion the court decided to consider the increases for the '91 budget.

Amelia Johnson, county clerk, came before the court to request that money for a part time employee to work in the county court office be added to the '91 budget. The clerk will be deputized and will work on updating the county court files. Commissioners indicated they would consider the addition to the budget.

Adding another $600 to the '91 budget, for maintenance of the arena end of the county barn in Spearman, was considered by the court. The funds would be under the control of Burt Williams, county Extension Agent. According to McClellan the funds are to be used to clean and maintain the arena and surrounding areas of the county barn. In other action relating to the county barn the court decided to release funds to build a pipe fence to stop traffic from driving around the county barn in Spearman. McClellan said he would contact local tradesmen to get estimates on what such a fence would cost to build.

The court granted an overhead road easement to North Plains Electric Cooperative. The easement was granted in the northeast corner of Section 126.

In a final piece of business the court fine-tuned its sick leave policy. The court decided not to grant accumulated sick leave days to employees who could not substantiate those days through written employment records. The county policy says that paid sick leave days are granted at a rate of one per month of full time employment. If the days are not used they can be accumulated, up to 60 days.

The court then adjourned until its next regular meeting on August 13.

Highway department has new foreman

The state's first female maintenance foreman for the Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is now working in Hansford County.

Sue Harrison came to Gruver from Pecos, Texas June 18 to begin her job as the Maintenance Construction Supervisor for the highway department in Hansford County. She has been in a supervisory position since 1985, working her way almost literally "from the ground up."

Harrison is a Panhandle native, reared in the Pampa area. She grew up in the community of Kellerville and attended schools in Lefors. After high school, she wanted to become a commercial airline stewardess. At that time, the U.S. Air Force was offering training in that field, so she enlisted and has three years military service to her credit. (She never became a stewardess.)

She worked for the highway department as a secretary in the Pampa area for five years, learning office procedures and highway department business, but it was after her marriage to Sidney Harrison that her career really took off.

The couple moved southward to McCamey, a small town 58 miles south of Odessa in the Permian Basin. "There weren't any jobs there to speak of. Then a position came open for a truck driver with the road crew, and I took it," she explained.

In January 1985 Harrison became a foreman - the first woman to ever hold that position in the state of Texas. "I had worked for a year on the road crew when I was promoted and went to work in Crane, which is about 30 miles south of Odessa," she continued.

Harrison admits she was a bit apprehensive about the reasons for her promotion. "You know, everyone has these 'Affirmative Action' programs. I sort of wondered if I was their 'token female.' So I just asked the gentleman who hired me for the job. He said my promotion had nothing to do with having a woman in a supervisory position - I was just the best qualified for the job. That made me feel good," she explained.

Her background knowledge of the workings of the highway department both in the office and in the field had served her well. That knowledge and experience continues to serve her well, especially since she supervises an all-male crew of 12.

"I'm able to get along well with the men," she said. "The men I work with (in Hansford County) know I have been a foreman for five years. I think they're aware of my field experience and they respect that. If I had just come in

No leads in tree theft

As of Friday, July 20 the Hansford County Sheriff's Office had "no new leads - nothing to go on" in the theft of cedar trees from the Gruver Cemetery, according to Deputy Jim Brown.

Sometime during the night of Tuesday, July 17 someone dug up and removed 36 small cedar trees from the north edge of the eastern portion of the cemetery. The Hansford County Sheriff's Office and other contributors are offering a reward of $1,500 for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of the culprit or culprits. The trees are approximately three feet tall, according to Sheriff R.L. McFarlin.

McFarlin said it was originally thought the trees were taken for resale. "But the roots aren't bagged. Since they are bare rooted, they'll have to be re-planted pretty soon. So we're changing our minds about that a little. It's possible someone just took them to plant. But I don't think it's anyone from around here," he commented.

Brown echoed that sentiment Friday, saying, "It doesn't look like they're around this country. We've looked - all around this area. There's been enough publicity about the theft that almost everyone in the county is aware of the trees, and is probably on the lookout for them."

Chief Deputy Gary Evans, who lives only a few miles from the cemetery, performed the initial investigation of the theft, according to Brown. Evans was unavailable for comment Friday, but Brown said it is thought a "sharpshooter" type shovel was used to dig next to the tree roots and "pop" the trees from the earth.

The trees, valued $95 each, were donated to the Gruver Cemetery and planted in March by Gruver resident Monte Cluck. Cluck declined to comment on the incident, except to say he is "very disappointed that anyone would stoop so low as to do something like that ... to the community. It's strictly vandalism as far as I'm concerned."

Hansford County cemeteries have been victimized on a fairly regular basis in recent months, with thefts of flowers and vases from grave sites and other vandalism occurring in both the Gruver Cemetery and Hansford Cemetery. The ongoing rash of thefts has outraged county residents, resulting in other rewards being offered in addition to the one announced last Wednesday.

My, weren't the showers last week refreshing to this dry earth? It was wonderful to hear the pitter pat of rain drops. Maybe it will give the gardens a new lease on life.

Things have been rather on the quiet side here at the Center. Everyone has been busy with yard work, reunions, and other things. Maybe now we can get going again.

We had several tables Tuesday evening enjoying games and a great meal. The First State Bank will treat us to bar-b-q chicken the 31st. So come and bring a covered dish to go with the chicken. On August 7th we will have a guest here from Amarillo. Mr. Ben Jones, who is a representative of the Texas Department On Aging, will be here to help you with your questions on Medicare Insurance or other problems you might have, you might want to bring your policies with you.

We're also continuing our ladies exercises on Monday and Thursday mornings at 9:00 a.m. so join us for some fun as well as doing something good for the old body. The arts & crafts ladies are going to Berger this Thursday to see if they can get some ideas and also see about some painting lessons.

Don't forget the 31st for bar-b-q chicken and the 7th for answers to your questions about Medicare and insurance. See you then.

Before eating, a racoon washes its food in the nearest available water. The animal is so fastidious about cleaning its food it will sometimes go through the washing motions even when no water is available.

Hansford Masonic Lodge No. 1040 played host Saturday night to a joint installation of new officers from six surrounding lodges. Hansford officers installed were (l-r) Mike Schnell, treasurer; R.L. McClellan, worshipful master; Roy Uptergrove, junior warden; James Lair, tiler; J.R. Collard, past grand master; and Loyall Turner, senior deacon. Not present is Dwayne Smith.

Lions sell golf tourney tickets

Tickets for the Ben Hogan Amarillo Open golf tournament are available from local Lions Club members, James Cunningham announced this week.

Cunningham is chairman for this project in Hansford County. The tournament will be at the Amarillo Country Club September 3-9.

Cunningham said volunteers to work during the tournament are also needed. He mentioned people are needed to sell refreshments, take tickets and to help with crowd control. He added some people are needed to be caddies for the golfers. Those interested in helping with the tournament should call Cunningham at 659-3549.

According to Cunningham the Hogan corporation is providing the expense money for the tournament, so that all monies from ticket sales will go to Lions Club projects and to the Ronald McDonald House.

The Lions Club projects include the Texas Crippled Children's and Diabetic Camp, the Leader Dog

Program for the Blind and the Lions High Plains Eye Bank for Cornea Transplants. Lions Club also contributes to Girlstown and provides eyeglasses for the local needy.

According to Cunningham, people who are interested in purchasing tickets or volunteering to work during the tournament can contact him at 659-3549. He added that tickets to the tournament will be available from any Lions Club member until the end of July.

Activity center has board meeting

The Hansford Activity Center held a board meeting Monday, July 23. Discussion was held on hiring a new employee for the center, with the hours being from 4:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Applications may be picked up at the Spearman Chamber of Commerce Office weekdays. Interested persons may also contact members of the board for further information.

It was also decided to discontinue

Skate Night for the month of August. Skate Night will start again September 8, when school starts. The activity will be moved to Saturday so as not to conflict with school activities.

The Activity Center will also be sponsoring a tennis tournament, with the proceeds to benefit starting a tennis booster club.

The Board then discussed renting the center for various activities. The rental fees will be $15/hour for childrens rentals and $25/hour for other uses. Persons interested may contact the center office or any board member.

Discussion was held concerning the aerobics classes. Interest has been shown in starting a weight class. As soon as more information on this has been made available, the public will be notified.

after being a secretary, without the field experience to go with it, the situation may have been different."

"Then, too, I like people in general. I want to get along with them, and they know that. I want to make their job easier and make their lives better - I'll work as hard for them as for anyone else," she asserts.

Proof of Harrison's hard work and expertise hangs on her office wall. She received the Lady Bird Johnson Highway Beautification Award in 1987 "For her contribution to the beauty of Texas highways by preserving and propagating vegetation for Fall Color." The citation was awarded because of her efforts in District 6.

"We allowed roadsides in that area to vegetate and delayed some mowing so that wildflowers could bloom and seed," she explained, adding that much of the area is almost desert-like and vegetation is welcome, especially along the roadsides. "I don't want to sound like I'm bragging, but I'm really kind of proud of that," she commented. Along with the citation hangs a photo of Harrison and Lady Bird Johnson at the award presentation.

Harrison said she was happy at being allowed to transfer back to the Panhandle area. "People down there asked me why I wanted to come up here, where you freeze in the winter and fry in the summer. The country is really beautiful down in the Permian Basin, but the Panhandle is and always will be home to me. There's a difference in the people up here. They're just so friendly."

She also has family ties here in the Panhandle - both her grown daughters live in Pampa. But she and her husband have what could almost be described as a "long distance marriage." He still lives in McCamey, where he is a lineman for West Texas Utility. So they commute back and forth to be together. "It works out wonderfully. We're happy to see one another when we can, and we spend quality time together. We get along beautifully," she said.

"There aren't many opportunities for Sidney to transfer - I think the closest West Texas Utility is in Wellington. He can retire in about a year or so, and he may decide to do that and move up here. But we don't know yet. In the meantime, I guess we'll just continue this way," she said.

Harrison said she thinks she will be happy doing her job here in Hansford County. Her primary objective, she explains, is "to see that the highways in Hansford County are well maintained, that they stay up to state standards." If past accomplishments are any indication, she will achieve her goal.

Bennett to direct TDA district

AMARILLO - Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower announced that Harold Bob Bennett, a lifelong resident of Hart, is the new director of the Texas Department of Agriculture's 26-county Panhandle district headquartered here.

"With Harold Bob Bennett, a lifelong Panhandle farmer, on board, TDA will be able to do even more in the Amarillo District. We'll be able to target our different marketing initiatives in areas where they can do the most to help the economic development of the Texas Panhandle. Our regulatory staff will also be able to respond more quickly and effectively to the problems of the region," Hightower said.

Hightower announced Bennett's appointment at a meeting of TDA's Amarillo District Advisory Board, which was held at the agency's district office located at 5408A South Bell Street.

Bennett succeeds Angela Lamb as TDA's Panhandle district director. Lamb, who had served in the position since February 1984, resigned recently to farm full-time with her husband.

After attending Texas Tech University, Bennett returned to Hart to continue farming the land he grew up on. Along with his father and brother, Bennett today produces corn, cotton and wheat on the family's 5,000-acre farm in Castro County.

The 38-year-old Bennett has been married for 19 years. He and his wife Ruth have two teenage daughters, April and Shea.

"I am eager to reach out to every member of the agricultural community in the Panhandle," Bennett said. "I hope the people of the Panhandle will feel free to convey their thoughts and needs to our office. We're here to listen and to help our constituents every way we can."

Also on the agenda for the Panhandle District Advisory Board meeting were discussions of the 1990 Farm Bill, pending disaster assistance legislation, and the outcome of the economic summit among world leaders meeting at Houston.

Vera Morris of Gruver is a member of the TDA's Panhandle District Advisory Board.

SPS responds to report

In response to a report published by the Albuquerque Tribune, Southwestern Public Service Company states its general policy is not to comment on matters such as possible acquisitions or mergers.

However, with respect to the article, SPS confirms holding preliminary discussions with Wheeler Peak Capital Corp., a recently formed New Mexico corporation, regarding a possible friendly acquisition by Wheeler Peak of Public Service Company of New Mexico.

SPS confirms no agreements have been reached.

W.R. Esler, SPS chairman of the board and chief executive officer, said, "We are interested in acquiring certain of the electric utility assets of PNM. Our service territories can be integrated easily, and the acquisition should be of benefit to the ratepayers and stockholders if an agreement can be reached on appropriate terms."

SPS primarily provides electric service to a population of about one million in a 52,000-square-mile area of eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and Southwestern Kansas. Corporate headquarters is in Amarillo, Texas.

On The Go With Joy

by Joy Henderson

I decided it was time to do another recipe since they are so popular. (Who am I kidding?) Anyhow, my squash is beginning to stack up and I thought I'd go through my files for another way to fix a squash casserole. I didn't find one, but I came across the primary recipe for "How to Cook Husbands" by Evalyn Peterson. She gives several tips on the proper way.

"A good many husbands are entirely spoiled by mismanagement in cooking and so are not tender and good. Some women keep them constantly in hot water, others freeze them, others put them in a stew, others roast them and others may keep them in a pickle.

"It cannot be supposed that any husband will become good and tender managed in this way, but they are really delicious when properly treated. In the selection of your husband, you should not be guided by the silvery appearance as in buying mackerel, nor by the golden tint as if you wanted salmon. Be sure and select him yourself as tastes differ. See that the linen in which he is wrapped is white and nicely mended with the required number of strings and buttons. Don't keep him in the kettle by force as he will stay there himself if proper care is taken. If he splutters, do not be anxious, some husbands do this.

"Add a little sugar in the form of what some confectioners call "kisses" but no pepper or vinegar on any account. A little spice improves them, but it must be used with judgment. Do not try them with anything sharp, to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently all the while lest he stay too long in the kettle and become flat and tasteless. If these directions are followed, you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely with you and he will keep as long as you want."

I found out when cooking M.H. (my husband) that I turned the stove up too high, which brought him to a quick boil and then I had to turn the stove off to bring him to a slow simmer. Adjust the heat to allow "letting off steam" occasionally.

Weldon and Elene Green have two of their granddaughters from Amarillo spending a few days with them. They are Rani and Michelle Dunlap. While here, they attended VBS at the Church of Christ.

Amy Burgoon visited parents Bob and Connie. Seems like there were some overtime hours put in on a sewing project.

Martha Coates with children Josh, Leigh Ann, and Mandy were guests in the home of Hugh and Marie Bell. Included were Glenda Steed and Kale. All were here for the 1-Day Vacation Bible School on Friday at the Church of Christ.

Guests of Tracy Reagan were her parents Roy Everett and Judy Hughes and Tracy's sisters Jeane and Pam Hughes. They are from Booker.

Opal and Hack Johnson had visits from Preston, Patsy and Matt Flaniken of Portland, Tex.

Dave and Dixie Karlin along with Randy Karlin's family are in Colorado for a few days of R & R. There may be others of the Karlin clan, but I didn't hear their names mentioned.

Steve and Charmain Gross and family with Charmain's sister were to attend the program "Texas." After a few hours sleep, they were to travel on to Red River for their vacation.

After settling into their new home in Gruver, the Lewis Hollands spent some time at Greenbelt Lake and then were to complete their vacation at Angel Fire.

In an attempt to get an update on Gary Doty, I learned that Judy and Jerry Virden made a trip to Denver the middle of June and were able to visit with him and Diane. He is still in the Rehab center there at Englewood. The Virdens flew to Denver in order to get their daughter Cindy. Also, included in this trip were Denise Doty and sons, and they were able to spend some time with her parents.

Hootie Cline is in the Oklahoma City Baptist hospital in serious condition.

We learned that R.D. (Doc) Tomlinson has suffered a stroke. I am unaware of his condition nor what hospital he was taken to.

Art on display at Spearman bank

by Jean Ann Behney

Hansford County art lovers can truly feast their eyes on several unusual paintings and two stunning sculptures currently on display at the First State Bank of Spearman.

As one enters the bank lobby, it is impossible not to be mesmerized by two lions on pedestals flanking the doors. These Chinese sculptures are intricately worked in brass and feature elephants at the bases supporting ferocious, open-mouthed lions, which in turn carry solemn three-eyed figures of Buddha.

First State Bank Vice President Verna Lee Shirley reveals that these matched works are on loan from an art collector friend. "They were purchased in a Palm Springs antique shop, but they are originally from China and they are 700 years old!" she reports.

The sculptures are called "Guardian Lions" and were long ago displayed outside a temple, it is believed, Shirley says. She first saw the lions in her friend's home several years ago. When he moved recently, Shirley arranged to borrow them to display in the bank.

"I wish I knew more about them because the bank customers have asked a lot of questions and really enjoyed them," Shirley says. She points out a mysterious bullet hole which pierces one of the sculptures, but confesses she and the owner have no idea how it came to be there.

If the sculptures are indeed 700 years old, they were undoubtedly crafted during China's Sung Dynasty. This period of Chinese history lasted from 960 to 1279 A.D. and is considered to be an era when "Chinese culture reached its highest point," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica's authors on East Asian Art.

Traditionally, lions and dogs were created by Chinese artisans to serve as "watch dogs" outside the entrances of homes and temples. These animals were invariably made to appear quite fierce, with teeth bared, so as to "frighten away marauding spirits." (Chinese Art, by Judith and Arthur Burling.) Other sources report the animals were to defend the house against robbers.

Perhaps a bank is just the place for "Guardian Lions" after all!

A few steps past these temporary guards at First State Bank of Spearman, the eye is again caught and held, this time by two huge painted canvas "cutouts" in bold colors. Both are works of the New York City artist Leon Polk Smith. The first painting is in brilliant red, green, black and white, on three oval shaped canvases. The second is gray and black on six tall geometric shapes, and is on loan to the bank.

In Shirley's office are two other "borrowed" paintings. The huge canvas on the wall to the right of her desk was done by the late Elaine de Kooning and is called "The Bull Fight." This contemporary oil painting contains wide, sweeping strokes of vivid colors contrasting with darker tones to generate a sense of urgent movement, particularly with the slashes of brilliant red in the center of the canvas.

Shirley explains that she has admired contemporary paintings for many years and collects them herself. "You can really interpret them a number of ways," she explains.

She first developed an interest in art when she accompanied her mother, the late Hazel Lowe Gibner, to classes taught locally by Dord Fitz. Fitz, a painter originally from Oklahoma, had a long career as an artist doing everything from teaching at a university in Kentucky to establishing his own gallery in Amarillo.

"Dord was a magnificent speaker as well as painter," Shirley recalls. "During his classes, he would give you positive critiques of your work but also discuss art and philosophy." She said the artist exposed amateur painters in towns all across the Panhandle to New York artists' work.

"He would bring some of these artists and their paintings to class, and he also took groups of us to New York to meet them," says Shirley. She adds that all of the paintings she herself owns were done by artists she has actually met.

"When you get to know the person who creates the work, it gives that painting a whole new dimension," Shirley comments. One of her favorite of such personally-owned works is on permanent display at the bank in the Board Room.

Titled "Taos," this canvas features a horizontal line of figures done in American Indian style and colors on a black background. From across the room, the figures could be anything—birds, or even cyclists viewed from behind. The closer one steps to the painting, the more Indian the repeated figures become in motif. Shirley says she has always been drawn to paintings like this one "with an Indian feel."

A glance behind the bank teller counter reveals Shirley's eclectic tastes in paintings, for the three works there are western in style. All were done on commission by her artist friend Jack Sorenson of Amarillo.

Sorenson was once a student of Dord Fitz's, reports Shirley, and she has seen his work mature over the past dozen or more years. "We commissioned him to do a picture of my brother Peyton's old paint horse after my brother died several years ago," says Shirley. (This painting currently hangs in her son Clay Schnell's office at the bank.) "Then when the new bank was being built six years ago, I commissioned him to do the three paintings hanging here," she continues, gesturing to the canvases behind the teller counter.

The first of these is of Old Hansford at the turn of the century and includes Irv Steele, the owner of the historical Steele ranch, sitting on his horse looking over some longhorn steers. Old Hansford is barely visible in the background and the breaks loom large on the painting's right side.

The second western by Sorenson depicts Spearman's Main Street of 1921. Shirley reveals that her friend Sorenson enjoys surprising her, so he painted a rainy evening scene with her father, Clay Gibner, behind the wheel of a car in the painting.

"That was the first thing I noticed when I saw this painting,"

Shirley says with a laugh. "Jack loves to do surprises like that!" Another aspect of this painting she enjoys is "the old dog cowering out there in the rain" in the painting's right foreground.

The third Sorenson painting shows many symbols of Hansford County's early days, including cattle and oil wells. Shirley's brother, again mounted on his beloved horse, is featured in this work.

Shirley has been displaying various artists' creations for over 25 years, first at the bank's former location (today's Spearman City Hall) and now at the bank's new building.

"We did shows of local artists as well as Dord and Jack's paintings for many years," she says. "And when we were building the new bank, as soon as the colors and fabrics and materials were decided on, I was thinking 'Hey, I'll put this painting here and that one there!'"

Shirley has an extensive personal art collection, and she enjoys displaying several of these works at the bank for others to see along with the items she has on loan at this time.

Those with an eye for color and an appreciation for beauty will find stopping by First State Bank a rewarding experience thanks to Verna Lee Shirley.

Verna Lee Shirley stands behind one of the two "Guardian Lions" believed to come from China, which are 700 years old.

Waterfield files report

State Representative Dick Waterfield announced that 87 percent of all the funds raised in his campaign for Congress were donated by people in the 13th District. Waterfield's Federal Election Commission Report, filed July 16, shows that $329,748 has been donated his campaign.

"I am delighted that hundreds of individuals across the district have supported my campaign," said Waterfield. "Those men and women have given their money because they want to be represented in Washington by a businessman who understands their problems."

The Waterfield FEC report also shows that only 5 percent of the total donations have come from political actions committees (PACs).

A fit person strains less to do the same task as a person who's not in shape. The same concept works in a Good Cents home. The Energy Fit features of a Good Cents home provide comfort with less strain on heating and cooling systems. For The Short Of It

Not enough was said this year about the coaches of the Gruver Little League All-Stars, and also the umpires who had the trying task of calling the games. Andy Hoel was Manager, from the league champions A's, but he had a lot of help. There was Robby Robinson, Mike Babbs, Dave Link, Ronnie and Johnnie Williams, and at times, Rick Barkley and David Armes. There was also Brian Hoel - he would never forgive me if I left him out!

The umpires who worked the Gruver Tournament - Fran Haefner, Mark Irwin, Davin Winger and Brad Johnson, did an outstanding job, and I hope I didn't leave anyone out. Also, the bat boys will be looking to attain all-star status next year - that is Clint Robinson and Jim Potts - and they also did a super job.

It will be another tough selection job next year for some of those people in choosing the 1991 all-stars. I do not envy decisions like that.

I will be curious to find out about next year's Texas State Tournament, as Gruver may be in it next year - I hope! They certainly won't be hurting for coaching, as this year's boys received as much one-on-one instruction as could be possible.

One added note - I hope I haven't jinxed any of our fine Little League players by suggesting last week that they should repeat next year as all-stars. All of the boys, of course, have to realize that they are at "square one" next June, and they will have to earn that honor all over again. Who knows what their competition might be. As I said, I'm glad it isn't me making those decisions.

This is indeed the "dead" time of the year for sports activities in Gruver. While it is true there will be some softball competition going on, the baseball season here has ended with the all-star games and now we are left to watching Major League Baseball on ESPN and waiting for August and the start of the football season. Tennis and golf are still hot items for the sports enthusiasts, though. But a majority of my attention will now be devoted to back-to-school activities and the 1990-91 GHS sports year.

PREDICTION: The Dallas Cowboys will open the NFL 1990 season on a great note, beating the San Diego Chargers in Irving. Then they will be massacred by the New York Giants, the Washington Redskins and the Giants again. But then...they will shockingly garner three straight victories over Tampa Bay, Phoenix and Tampa Bay again, to go 4-3 on the year. That is a huge improvement over last year's 1-15 record.

For those of you who are interested this early, the Gruver Greyhounds will scrimmage Boys Ranch at Boys Ranch on August 23

Hometown News

AMARILLO - Raquel Renteria of Gruver was recently named to Texas State Technical Institute's president's honor roll with a 4.0 grade point average for the spring quarter. Renteria is a student of computer science technology at TSTI-Amarillo.

The school is a non-profit technical college, created in 1970 by the Texas Legislature. It offers 16 technical programs ranging from laser electro-optics to welding.

(Thursday). Then on Friday, August 31 they will scrimmage Panhandle in Gruver. On September 7, they will open the season against Texhoma's Red Devils in Gruver at 8 p.m.

After a fantastic season last year, losing only one game, Texhoma will have a rookie coach this year. He is a Goodwell High and Panhandle State graduate, David Caffey. Caffey comes back to the Panhandle area from Royse City, Texas, just outside of Dallas.

Gruver played Texhoma 6 times in the '70s, (1972-77), splitting the six games. But in the '60s, Gruver played the Red Devils twice (1964-65), winning 24-0 and 22-0 under Coach Leon "Corky" Chapman. So Gruver leads the series 5-3.

Nevada-Las Vegas is only the second school, but the second in just three years, to not be able to defend their NCAA Basketball Championship. Like Kansas in 1988, UNLV has been hit hard by NCAA sanctions and banned from the playoffs. It is a shame.

The Goodwill Games kick off tonight (Friday) in Seattle. Like much that has to do with television entrepreneur Ted Turner of WTBS/CNN/TNT, the Goodwill Games are more hype than a bonafide major event. Many "stars" will not be there, some to rest for the upcoming European championships. I don't know how much of it I will watch, if any of it.

Representative Barney Frank of Massachusetts has been "officially reprimanded" by Congress. He should resign, or be kicked out. The full Congress will take it up this week. It is the House Ethics Committee that has recommended the reprimand. Frank is an admitted homosexual, who paid a gay prostitute while serving in Congress in Washington, D.C. Among other things, he fixed parking tickets for his gay lover while a Congressman, and this other man operated what amounted to a house of prostitution out of Frank's apartment. The really frightening thing is that he is expected to win re-election in his district in Massachusetts, if he is not expelled. It makes one wonder...

Supreme Court Justice William Brennan, after suffering a minor stroke at age 84, has sent a letter of resignation to President Bush.

Brennan was appointed by President Eisenhower, but he was considered to be among the most liberal justices. It is my opinion that after Bush replaces him with his first appointee, together with Ronald Reagan's three appointees, and possibly three more for Bush, that the Roe v. Wade abortion case will be overturned. Count on it.

Larry King, easily the world's top talk-show host, has been stuck with a "turkey." He is the anchor for WTBS in their Goodwill Games coverage. The U.S. has won the first two gold medals, in the men's and women's 50 meter freestyle swim competition, and already have stopped watching.

I think this column is really put together in a creative fashion. It is not just sports commentary from a sports nut - it is not just political commentary. I am, of course, one who has travelled to over 30 countries and who is very interested in world affairs, but one who just happens to also be a sports nut. Combine that with the fact that my family moved to Gruver from the San Francisco Bay Area in 1962, when I was in Junior High School, and this has always been my home since that time; thus, you have the makings of a really weird column! My thoughts and feelings have been molded over the years by an extremely diverse learning process. Most of the countries I have travelled to over the past 20 years have not just been countries where I have "visited" - they have been countries where I have lived, and earned my living. But Gruver has always been my home, since the eighth grade.

Brian Hoel, 1989 GHS graduate, will be departing Gruver and his summer job at the swimming pool for Lubbock and the Texas Tech football practices on August 13. Just knowing Brian will be a member of the Red Raiders this fall will make following that team so much more interesting to those of us who know Brian here in Gruver. Good luck, Brian!

Pete Rose has been sentenced to jail. His antics over the years have done Major League Baseball considerable harm, but it is my belief that someday, Peter Rose will be in the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York. But it won't be soon.

Gruver Masonic Lodge No. 1326 installed these new officers Saturday night in Spearman. They are (l-r) Wayne Schott, worshipful master; Ted Evans, senior warden; H.M. Frazier, secretary; Bill Been, senior deacon; and Dick Hintergardt, tyler and past master.

significant, look into other options such as exterior awnings. They are more expensive than interior shades, but would be a great way to shade your south and west windows.

Another alternative is awnings that operate like Venetian blinds. You automatically control them by turning a dial located inside your house. This method is more expensive than conventional awnings, but provides optimal shading on a day-to-day basis.

Natural shading also blocks heat gain in the summer. Plant deciduous trees on the south and west sides of your home. They shade your home in summer months and will let in sunlight during winter months when they have shed their leaves.

Certain steps taken to keep your home warm in the winter will help cool it during the summer. Insulated walls and roof reduce heat gain, just as they lower heat loss in the winter.

A light-colored roof decreases heat gain also. Reroofing means sacrificing more time, effort, and money than other cooling options - unless you need to reroof your home anyway.

Use the above suggestions, coupled with circulating fans inside your home, and your utility bills will be less than if air-conditioning was the only cooling source. In some cases, shading alone can achieve a comfort level that's suitable.

REFORM IS OUT RESTRUCTURING IS IN

by Roy Harris
Superintendent
Pringle-Morse CISD

I am sitting in the lobby of the Stoffer Hotel in Austin, reviewing the notes I have taken. Each July, superintendents from school districts across the state attend these workshops. We try to catch up on the latest developments in education.

"Restructuring" is the newest buzzword being touted by the experts. They define it as a complete building and rebuilding of the educational system. Deputy superintendent Rex Carr from Richardson described restructuring as "blowing up" the present organization and starting over.

In my opinion, this presents both opportunity and danger. I am amazed how "old" methods are packaged in new wrappers and sold as new ideas. Education in this country has gone through a decade of reform, most of which was imposed as "top down" reform (in Texas, House Bill 72). Senate Bill 1, just passed in the last special session of the Texas Legislature, removes many of the rules and regulations imposed by House Bill 72. School districts will be given freedom to use procedures and techniques of their choosing. They will, however, be held accountable for good results.

When I first started in education, teachers and principals had this kind of freedom. Restructuring is an old idea with a new name. We have come full circle - almost.

I am thankful for the new freedom but there is danger in the air. We are not living in the same world that we lived in 30 years ago. If we revert back to teaching students as we did then, we will become a second-class society. There are some hard realities with which educators must deal.

Most noticeable is the competition between American students and foreign students. Dr. Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers, pointed out some sobering statistics: A National Assessment of Educational Progress reveals that only three to five percent of American graduating seniors can read or write at the college entry level. Two percent are at college entry level in English, math and science. One percent indicate an interest in majoring in math, down from five percent last year. Yet, graduating seniors can find a college that will take them, regardless of their academic record.

By contrast, students in other world countries must meet strict high school standards before being allowed to enter college. Dr. Shanker stated they must meet standards equal to students entering "Harvard class" colleges in the United States. Germany is sending 28 percent of its high school graduates to college. We are losing 30 percent of our high school students - they are dropping out.

In foreign countries, students that do not go to college seek work. To get a job, they must present to their prospective employers academic records of their high school work and letters of reference from all of their teachers. Far too many American students have the attitude, "I will do only what I have to do to get by."

Educators, whether they like it or not, are in competition with new ways of educating young people. Private schools, religious schools, waiver systems, home schools and parental choice are all emerging as alternatives. Public education must do a better job or be replaced.

What are some of the ways to meet the challenges before us? Here are some of the ideas being offered in Austin today:

1. Allow local educators more freedom but hold them accountable for results.
2. Place students in more "hands on" work-related learning situations.
3. Provide learning incentives - both positive and negative.
4. Require stiffer college entrance requirements - math and science.
5. Set basic goals and measure progress better - less standardized testing, more essay and problem solving testing.
6. Have teachers talk less and supervise learning activities more.
7. Encourage students to learn from one another more - group learning activities.
8. Use new technology more.

SOME CALORIES COUNT MORE THAN OTHERS

If the number of calories consumed by Americans has dropped substantially since the early 1900's, why has the average weight in the United States continued to creep upward throughout the better part of this century?

For many years scientists thought that weight loss was simply a matter of mathematics. If we ate fewer calories than we burned for energy, we would lose weight. Today, scientists are finding some interesting things about calories. Not only do they all count, but calories from fat seem to count more than others. Canadian investigators found new reasons why fat, not carbohydrate, in the diet is a major villain in obesity. The researchers found that men who ate high-fat food in a sampling of their normal diets were fatter. When 244 healthy men ate whatever they liked and recorded their food consumption for three days, those who had eaten foods containing more fat had more body-fat mass and a higher percentage of body fat, and their skinfolds in all locations were thicker.

Researchers also found that when people ate a high-fat diet, they consumed more calories than on a low-fat diet. When eight men had all they wanted from choices of high-fat foods, they consumed about 4,100 calories a day. When the men ate all they wanted from the same menu items prepared so that they contained less fat, they consumed 3,000 calories a day.

At nine calories per gram, fat packs more than twice the calorie punch of carbohydrates and proteins (each with four calories per gram). Beyond that, researchers have learned that the body converts dietary fat to stored fat relatively easily. Fat ingested in the diet is converted into stored fat in the body at 97 percent efficiency compared to carbohydrate, which is converted into body fat with an efficiency of only 77 percent.

Simply put, dietary fat is much more likely to become body fat than dietary carbohydrate. Carbohydrates have always had a lot going for them nutritionally, so why are we only now getting around to recognizing their virtues?

One nutrition expert, Dr. Paul Saltman of the University of California, San Diego, thinks we may have backed into renewing our appreciation for carbohydrates.

"It's clear that people want to reduce the amount of fat in the diet," Saltman says. "It's also clear that we have adequate protein in the diet." This leaves carbohydrates with their many benefits as a food group whose consumption can be encouraged.

Carbohydrate foods provide the feeling of satiety or fullness that comes from eating foods containing starch and fiber. Fiber from grains, fruit and vegetables has added benefits for gastric processes, such as preventing constipation. And recent evidence suggests that some forms of fiber may be effective in reducing serum cholesterol.

The bottom line: Fat calories that come from butter, sour cream, cream sauces, oils, pastries, fatty meats, and whole milk and dairy products are much more likely to end up as body fat than the carbohydrate calories from foods like bread, potatoes and pasta—all the more reason to heed the call to limit fat in the diet and increase the consumption of complex carbohydrates for better health.

COOL YOUR HOME EFFICIENTLY THIS SUMMER

Now that summer is here, the solar gain will increase your air conditioner's load, thus driving up the utility bill. However, there are some inexpensive ways to cool the home without running the air conditioner constantly.

The simplest, least expensive method to keep your home cool is shading-of walls, windows and roof. Interior shades are inexpensive and easy to install. Use pull-down or Venetian blinds in addition to regular window coverings. Window coverings should be light-colored (white or beige).

Compare utility bills before and after you install shades. If you are satisfied with the savings, you can stop there, but if savings are not Hansford County has been approved to hay and graze ACR/CUPY (setaside) acreages. However, there are new rules to the haying and grazing provisions which will not allow producers to hay or graze land that has been irrigated since January 1, 1990 or will be irrigated before October 31, 1990. Producers who are interested in haying and grazing these setaside acres must contact the ASCS Office and sign a request to hay and graze before they take any other action. Producers must also certify that the land has not been watered since January 1, 1990 and will not be watered before October 31, 1990. Any questions should be directed to the Hansford County ASCS Office in Spearman at 659-3036.

Mark and Ruth Dersham will be in concert Friday, July 27 at 7 p.m. at the Community Bible Church in Gruver. There will be a time of fellowship after the concert. Zane Gray, pastor, said Ruth Dersham's musical ministry and testimony will be inspirational to all who attend. He said the public is welcome for the special event.

if you think you're having a Heart Attack!

Most victims of heart attack wait about three hours before they seek help. During this time, precious heart tissue can be permanently damaged, or worse, lives can be lost.

The first thing you can do is know the warning signs of heart attack:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest that lasts longer than two minutes.
2. Pain may spread to shoulders, neck and arms.
3. Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, or shortness of breath may also occur.
4. These symptoms may not always be present, or may subside for a while, then return.

If you feel any of the warning signs, don't wait. Time is critical. Call an ambulance or have someone take you to the emergency room at Hansford Hospital IMMEDIATELY!

Hansford Hospital is a member of the Saints' Emergency Heart Network. That means they have the newest drugs and treatments on hand — medicines that can actually stop a heart attack in progress. And Hansford Hospital has direct, 24-hour contact with cardiologists on the St. Anthony's Hospital staff. But to be effective, treatment must be administered during the heart attack. Otherwise, it may be too late to save your heart or your life.

What do you do if you think you're having a heart attack? Know the warning signals. Get to Hansford Hospital immediately. We want to see you recover, but we must have your help.

Among the Neighbors

by Helen Fisher

Spearman may not quite be ready to hang a "Hollywood" sign, but is mighty proud of Candy Boxwell.

The Thursday edition of the Amarillo newspaper reported on the awards made at the Amarillo Little Theater dinner at the Amarillo Country Club the previous Tuesday evening. The gala culminated the theater's 1989-90 season.

The winner of the Best Musical Performance Award was Candy Boxwell for her role in "The Quilters." She was also nominated for the Best Actress Award for her performance in "The Quilters," as well as Best Dramatic Performance in "The Quilters."

No doubt, husband Bob, modestly, will be claiming that he coached her. Another winner in which Spearman has pride was the winner in the Best Comic Performance, Kellie Sanders in "Social Security."

Kellie was nominated also for Best Supporting Actress for her role in "Social Security."

Kellie is the daughter of Emmett Sanders - so who could doubt that her acting ability is inherited.

Why and who could have stolen 36 young evergreen trees from the Gruver cemetery - that act is on a par with kicking the crutch from a handicapped person.

These trees were part of the trees donated last spring by Monte Cluck. Because of his interest in the cemetery, he not only donated twice that many trees, but planted them and installed a watering system.

A reward is being offered for information regarding this dastardly theft.

Michael and Patricia Quillin of Spearman announce the arrival of a new son on July 17, 1990. Kevin Matthew was born at the Ochiltree General Hospital in Perryton weighing 8 pounds, 5 1/4 ounces. He has two brothers and one sister. His grandparents are Faye and Bart McDonald; two great grandmothers are Mrs. Sarah Hamilton and Mrs. Nellie McDonald, all of Spearman.

Doris and T.C. Kitchens house guests for about ten days are her niece Joan and Larry Bush. They are from Wytheville, Virginia. During their stay here, both the Kitchens daughters and their families visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Nelson returned a few days ago from Greenridge, Missouri where they attended the Butcher family reunion - Mrs. Nelson's mother's family. They also visited other relatives while there.

The Nelson's daughter Rhonda Burruss and children had spent four weeks here earlier. Her husband, Jeff, came for them and stayed several days. It was during the school reunion as both had attended school here, and are now living in Evansville, Indiana.

During their time here they were called to Bentonville, Arkansas for the funeral of a relative.

The descendants of the W.J. and Marie Williams family held their reunion in the home of Marie Beck two weeks ago. It was held to coincide with the school reunion as many of the family had attended school here.

Olin Williams, the only surviving member of the original family, and his wife Ruby, came from Hondo.

Accompanying them from Hondo were Arla Jean and Juanita Zerr. Other out of town family members were Barbara and Byron Kenny, Texline; Lonnie and Ann Kenny with Ray, Umbargo; Helen Kenny, Albuquerque; Earl and Joy Kenny and Thadine Coop, Amarillo.

In addition to Marie and her family, the Verlin Beck family were all part of the reunion.

A number of old school friends of various family members called in the afternoon.

Rebecca Beck and two children left last week for a week or so visit with her brother and sisters in Dallas.

Mrs. Susie Woods of Odessa, accompanied by son Arthur, are spending this week with her mother, Mrs. Eva Adkison. Mrs. Adkison underwent cataract surgery in Pampa last week.

With a renewed sense of purpose and dedication, a group of young people of the First Baptist church returned from a week at Pan Fork Camp near Wellington. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Taylor were their sponsors.

The underlying theme of the camp studies and discussions was dealing with issues confronting the youth of today. To this purpose a well-qualified minister from Denver City presided over the sessions. Daily there were separate group discussions.

Swimming and diversified recreation were shared by all.

On Wednesday evening Don and Linda Cummings and Joe Garcia brought some members of the Air Jesus Mission Group down, other members were already in camp. This group was in several states last winter and presented their program, so they presented it to the retreat and it was well received.

The local youth were so impressed by the music director, Dana Graybeal of Phoenix, they brought him to Spearman so the local congregation could enjoy his talents. He is a composer as well as a versatile musician. In addition to entertaining at the Church School Sunday morning, he presented a mini-concert.

For the third time since April, Lucille Hagerman has had to undergo serious, major surgery.

On Sunday her friend and neighbor Doris Wilde took her to the emergency room at St. Anthony's Hospital. After some tests, surgery lasting 3 1/2 hours was performed Sunday night.

Her four daughters, Valerie, Paula, Kathy and Verla were with her during the surgery.

Tuesday morning Lucille seemed much improved but was still in ICU. The length of her hospitalization is undetermined.

Lucille has been working two jobs for a long time and her friends are aware of her situation.

Her address is in care of St. Anthony's Hospital, Box 950, Amarillo, 79176-001.

DPS gives June stats

Capt. Rusty Davis, district supervisor of the Amarillo Highway Patrol District comprised of 31 counties said, "For the month of June, our troopers investigated eight fatal accidents, 67 personal injury accidents and 75 property damage accidents. There were 11 persons killed and 112 persons injured in these accidents." Sgt. Timothy Thompson of Borger stated, "In Hansford County, our troopers investigated one fatal accident, one personal injury accident and one property damage accident in the month of June. One person was killed and one person was injured in these accidents."

Dyess to receive scholarship

Laura Frances Dyess of Spearman is one of 59 West Texas State University students selected to receive Mesa Scholarships for Academic Excellence. The awards, effective for the 1990-91 school year, total $35,750 and will be made in increments of $250, $500 or $1,000.

Established from funds provided by Mesa Limited Partnership, the scholarships were first awarded in 1987 and are intended to reward and recognize freshmen and continuing undergraduate students who promote and exemplify high academic standards.

A composite score of 23 or higher on the ACT or a combined verbal and math score of 950 or higher on the SAT and a top-quarter class ranking was required of all entering freshmen selected for the scholarships. A minimum grade point average of 3.40 on all college work attempted was required for continuing students.

Each candidate also submitted two letters of reference, a brief essay outlining educational plans, career objectives and personal goals, and a formal application.

Hall, Gibbs married

April Renee Hall and Robert Dale Gibbs exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 14. Officiating the ceremony at the Bible Baptist Church in Borger was the Rev. Lenard Fortythe.

The bride is the daughter of Shirley Love and Jim Hall, both of Borger. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibbs of Borger.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Sherri Byrd, and Bridesmaid was April Kesterson.

Flower girl was Lauren Jones. The attendants wore hot pink dresses.

Groomsman was Gary Gibbs, Bestman was David Fetteroff and Ring bearer was Jared Prock. Candle lighter was Michael Prock. Usher was Al Prock.

The groom is employed at Refinishing Systems. The bride is employed by United Supermarkets.

The couple will reside in Borger at the LaMarage Villa. The bride is the granddaughter of Lilly Love of Spearman.

Amanda Nichole Collins, daughter of Rick and Deborah Collins of Burlington, N.C. and granddaughter of Lewis and Veda Collins of Spearman, graduated with honors from Western Alamance High School on June 1. She was a member of the National Honor Society, SADD, Spanish Club, Future Business Leaders of America, Who's Who Among American High School Students and the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. She also received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award. Collins was the Spanish Club Homecoming Attendant, an NHS peer tutor, a Senior Superlative (Miss Courtesy), and Miss Congeniality and second runner-up in the Miss Western High School Pageant. She will attend the University of Central Florida in Orlando and major in business administration.
